MOSQUITO NUISANCE RECEIVES AN AIRING

In response to the notices sent out by the secretary a few days ago enough members of the Board of Trade gathered in Berquist's small hall on Tuesday evening to form a quorum. Considerable business had accumulated during the past month and was despatched with much speed, as the larger part of it was composed of correspondence.

Reports were received from the various standing committees and progress was reported in all instances.

The committee of one on the mosquito nuisance gave a very lengthy report on the work he had accomplished, and a much longer one on what he had not been able to do, owing to the fact that there were not sufficient funds at his disposal to carry the project through. The big slough to the south of the town was not the only breeding place for this pest, as stagnant water was to be found on nearly every street where there were ditches for drainage purposes. The committee of one seemed to be very much excited over a reference to this pest that appeared in a letter printed in the Review of last week, and asked the Board to withhold their judgment on his actions until authority could be obtained for the statement made therein that the present pest of mosquitoes are what are known as "grass mosquitoes." The committee stated that he had searched all the known authorities on this subject but had failed to find any reference to this particular brand of men-eaters.

The committee having the planting of trees on the main streets of the town in hand made their report also, and the chairman stated that he had forwarded a request to the agricultural department for aid in this respect, and had been informed that the department could not see their way to giving any assistance, as in the past they had not done so and did not wish to establish a precedent in this respect.

The publicity committee submitted a report on the publishing of a pamphlet setting forth the advantages of this district, but as it was not complete in some particulars it was referred back to them and they were instructed to bring in the complete report at the next meeting.

No further business offering the meeting then adjourned.

MARRIED VS. SINGLE.

A game of baseball was played between teams representing the married men and the single men of Sidney on Wednesday afternoon last on the local diamond. The game, which was supposed to go seven innings, ended in a victory for the benedicts by the score of eight to four, but out of pure good sportsmanship they allowed the single men another chance by playing two more innings, and also allowed their less fortunate brethren the privilege of having on their team a well known player from Victoria important for the occasion. This generosity on their part proved their undoing, for the single genits took on fresh courage and succeeded in tying the game up in the ninth and scored the winning run in the eleventh. The married men challenge the same team (less the imported star) to play again on Wednesday, July 8th, at 6.30 the game to go seven innings.

RATEPAYERS COULD NOT AGREE ON THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A CENTRALIZED SCHOOL FOR DISTRICTS OF SIDNEY AND NORTH SAANICH

The Public Meeting Called for Last Monday Evening Was Well Attended—Inspector May Placed the Department's Proposals in Regard to Matter Very Clearly Before the Ratepayers.

The meeting held in Berquist's hall on Monday last for the purpose of discussing the division of the school district and the establishment of a central school will long be remembered, if for nothing more than its non-production of any tangible result, for notwithstanding the fact that Inspector May, of the Educational Department, was there with full explanation of the action of his superiors, and representatives of the different districts were present to put forth their own pleas, the net result was worse than nil, for the meeting closed with the defeat of the motion to tender a vote of thanks to the department for the manner in which they had divided the school district.

Mr. R. N. Tester, one of the trustees, called the meeting to order, and in a few words explained the reason for calling the meeting and asked those present to look at the whole matter through what he termed the large telescope instead of through their own as in the past. He felt that could the ratepayers get together and reasonably discuss the situation from the point of what was best for all, that with the assistance of the educational department, an arrangement could be arrived at by which everybody would be satisfied. Mr. May had already been out to Sidney to talk things over, but as there had been feeling that only a few received word of the meeting, Mr. May had promised to come out again, and was prepared to answer any question regarding the schools and do all in his power towards an amicable settlement of the affair.

Mr. May went over the situation in exactly the same way as at the previous meeting and said that the method in vogue of running the schools was quite contrary to the Act, as each school district should be governed by one body of trustees, whereas in the present case there were three schools under the one body.

He further stated that after the proposal on the part of Sidney had fallen through, he had in conjunction with the trustees outlined the three districts of North Saanich, Deep Cove and Sidney. Since that time, added the speaker, there had been a call on the department from Bazan Bay, where there were sufficient children according to the Act to warrant the establishment of a school, and that this made the fourth district. In his report he had not recommended the school as he had thought they could come to some arrangement with the North Saanich district.

In reply to a question Mr. May here stated that the division of the district was in the hands of the department, but when, as in the present case, there was a difference of opinion among the ratepayers, they were quite willing to meet with suggestions towards a final satisfactory arrangement. There is no game on, said Mr. May, with some emphasis, as might be implied from the manner in which people had passed judgement on the action of the department.

Speaking of the advantage of the graded school, Mr. May emphasized the broadening out of the minds of the children by associating with a larger number and by the introduction of manual training and arts, and thought that if the graded school question materialized a teacher could be brought in from the larger schools in other districts for a day each week and give the children something along the line of plant and insect life. He strongly advised the people of Sidney to consider the building of this class of school, but added that while it was not the wish of the educational department to force anything down the necks of the people here or in any other part of B. C., it did, and always would try to show them what would be to their advantage.

In reply to the question by the chairman as to what would happen if no agreement was reached along the centralization scheme, Mr. May said that the division as outlined would take effect immediately, unless, of course, he could get the decision that evening.

Mr. H. Brethour here produced data on the acreage of the three divisions and pointed out the unfair amount of land in the Sidney district, and called attention to the five mill tax as against the seven-eighths and nine-tenths of the North Saanich and Deep Cove districts, to which Mr. Munro replied to the effect that Sidney was looking for more responsibilities which in his opinion, from past knowledge, they were entirely unable to bear, and he further stated that the department had acted openly and above board with all parties.

The most disagreeable feature of the evening was the disconnected way in which the subjects were discussed. When one gentleman had delivered himself of his burden of thought and feeling, instead of his subject being discussed, somebody would spring an entirely different course of argument on the meeting, and this was the main cause for the barren result of the evening.

When Dr. Cumming stood up it looked at first as though he was to be guilty of changing the subject also, but let it be remembered that the doctor, after the chairman's opening remarks, was the first to try and bring the meeting to look at things in a cool light and to take one thing at a time, for, as he stated, the diversity of opinion seemed to be regarding the boundaries and not over the graded school proposition, for there appeared to be little disagreement over the matter. He fully agreed with the department as to having a graded school but thought they should be asked to reconsider the lines. This met with the approval of the meeting and was embodied in the form of a motion.

Mr. S. Spencer, while admitting he felt in the same spirit as Dr. Cumming, put special emphasis on the fact that the question of graded schools was not right, but the Bazan Bay people wanted to be partial. He thought that nine sensible gentlemen as trustees of the three districts would after a little while be able to get together and talk things over for the ultimate advantage of the district as a whole.

Here Mr. Munro jumped into the argument again and asked how the people of Sidney intended to regulate their schools when there would be a municipality. He contended that the department had taken the wisest stand and that so far as Mr. Brethour's statements on taxes were concerned, he said they had been paying the smallest tax in British Columbia for three years.

Capt. Byers having delivered himself of a few remarks as favoring a graded school, did not make himself famous for finding a solution of the boundary question, and while the meeting was waiting for more questions, quite an element of spice was added to the evening's entertainment by Mr. McKillican who came out flat footed with the charge that Mr. Samuel Spencer and his Bazan Bay school proposition was the cause of

FIRST GAME OF SERIES GOES TO VISITING TEAM

The Excelsiors, of Brampton, Ont., champions of the Ontario Amateur Lacrosse Association, played their first game against the V. A. C., of Vancouver, holders of the Mann cup, on Saturday, June 27th, at Vancouver, the challengers beating the V. A. C. out after a very close and exciting game by a score of 5 to 4. This is the first time that a team from the east of the prairie provinces faced the holders, let alone win out. The Excelsiors fielded a very fast team, close checkers on the defence and a home both heavy and willing enough to go in close on the nets. The game, which was refereed by Lester Patrick of Victoria, the well known hockey mogul, was most spectacular, the Vics getting one goal in the first quarter, two in the second, nil in the third and one in the fourth. The excelsiors were blanked in the first quarter, got one in the second, one in the third and three in the last quarter. The score was tied twice and the play and remarkably even contest brought forth the applause of the largest crowd that has appeared at any amateur game since the New Westminster team turned professional. Unless the V. A. C. field an improved team or the Vangers fall down in the next game, looks as if the Mann cup will take a trip to the east. The next game takes place on Saturday, July 4th, and a large crowd will be sure to turn out for the final game. Good clean lacrosse like the game played last Saturday will go a long way in putting the sport on the same popular plane that existed before the unfortunate trouble between the New Westminster Royals and the old Vancouver professional team. Lacrosse is due for a revival before long and it cannot come too soon.

The Mann cup was put up by Sir Donald D. Mann and represents the Dominion lacrosse championship, the champion team of any recognized district being eligible to challenge the holders of the trophy. The donor intended this cup to help develop the playing of good clean amateur lacrosse all over this fair Dominion and the V. A. C. made two trips to Toronto before winning out from the Young Torontos, at that time holders of the cup.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Now that the decision of the Department of Education has been handed out through their worthy representative, Inspector May, in regard to the division of North Saanich into three separate school districts, thereby necessitating the retirement of the present school board and the immediate selection of three new members to fill positions on the board to be formed to represent Sidney on July 11th, would it not be wise for the ratepayers to take some steps in regard to the selection of these men at once. It is hardly a fair proposition to the men who will fill these important positions to be called upon to do so without a moment's notice, as will altogether likely be the case if the matter is allowed to stand as it is until the public meeting is called for that purpose on July 11th. As we view the matter it is not fair to the men, neither is it fair to the district itself, as such a hasty selection is very likely to result in the best men for the positions not being obtained. It may be necessary to call a meeting of the ratepayers in order to discuss the matter, but even so would it not be of great advantage to this community to have three good men to represent them during the next year or two when the question of greater school facilities for Sidney will be under consideration.

CONSOLIDATION OF SCHOOLS IN MANITOBA ENDORSED.

That the consolidation of the rural schools of the province of Manitoba is receiving special attention by the Department of Education, is evidenced by the following article which appeared in last week's Winnipeg Telegram, and helps to throw some light on the many advantages of the new system.

"The need for consolidation is imperative, and may be considered from various sides," says John A. Beattie, special agent for consolidation of the Department of Education.

"Five per cent. of the pupils of Manitoba seek to qualify for professional life, and in order to so qualify they leave the home school and pursue their studies in the towns and cities. This migration is not desirable nor always profitable. It drains the community of the brightest and best of our boys and girls who, if they had been able to receive a better education at home, might have become the intellectual and moral leaders of the life of the community.

Many are Discouraged.

"Are the 95 per cent. who do not seek professional life getting an education suited to their needs? In the majority of cases they are not. Many are discouraged. The work in an up-to-date consolidated school is adapted to every pupil.

"Then, too, there is little or no competition in the average school. Often where there is an average attendance of ten pupils you will find that there are eight grades taught, with one pupil in a grade or two at most. Many clever pupils who could not perhaps make any headway in mathematics, might possibly excel in manual training, in domestic science, in agriculture. The 95 per cent. of the pupils are not less clever than the five per cent., but they have no course of study to suit their needs, or appeal to their tastes.

No Pleasure or Profit.

"Under such conditions, the child derives neither pleasure nor profit. There must be in a school a sufficient number of children to make interesting its activities. Sufficient money must be spent to provide a comfortable room, to employ efficient teachers, and to secure facilities for doing good work.

Consolidation Comforts.

"Rural school children require and are entitled to greater comforts. They should be comfortably transported to a comfortable school. Surely this is not too much to ask when we can find time to take pigs and cattle to our market. Poor roads do not prevent the operation of the milk route. The child at school has a better right to his drink of fresh, cold water than have the stock on the farm at home. Yet icicles and snow in winter and a bottle of warm water or nothing at all in summer are the portion of many of our children in rural schools. The schoolhouse is not always inviting. It should be as attractive as any parlor in the rural home.

Keeps Children at Home.

"Consolidation seeks to establish a system of education which will not drive our children from the farm, but will keep them on it. A system which will in every way meet with the needs and the conditions of our rural life. Perhaps the inefficient rural school may drive our children from the farm, but parents as well come in for a share of the blame. How often do we hear fathers and mothers talk before their children of the drudgery of the farm? Many parents have nothing good to say of it, despite the fact that they made their money there. You can discourage your children so that they will seek almost any other employment. You may so destroy rural school life as to embitter the child and drive him from your door. Consolidation aims to overcome all these things by setting up a new standard and new ideals for our rural children."

HINDU PUZZLE HAS OFFICIALS AT OTTAWA WORRYING

The Hindu problem on the Pacific coast is giving the immigration authorities at Ottawa no small amount of anxiety and there will be relief when the Komagata Maru sets sail from Vancouver with its load of trouble. It has been made abundantly clear that the government has no intention whatever of admitting them and the problem now is to get them back.

The news from Vancouver that there is apprehension lest the Hindus may commandeer the ship and go where they please is confirmed by official advice, and there may be something in the report that the Maru may be escorted across the Pacific by a Japanese cruiser now arriving at Vancouver.

It was rumored some time ago that another ship load was coming from India and this was received with alarm at the department, but there is really no foundation for the report.

While the situation gives concern it is believed here that there is a strong element of bluff in the threats of Gurdit Singh and his followers.

The upshot of the difficulty is likely to result in some kind of diplomatic arrangement to keep the Hindus at home.

SITE SELECTED FOR THE NEW COAST ELEVATOR

Will be Erected on Government Dock at Vancouver.

With a view to preparing for the trade expected to flow to Canada's shores through the opening of the Panama Canal, the Dominion Government has selected a site for a new $1,000,000 transfer elevator to be built in Vancouver.

The elevator is to be built on a site situated on the government dock in Vancouver harbor. It will furnish a facility much needed by the Pacific coast, but especially valuable in view of the opening of the Panama canal. The construction of this waterway has long been expected to prove one of the greatest factors in building up the Pacific coast trade of Canada, and it was this which influenced the government in construction of the elevator, which will complete a chain extending from east to west. Interiors for storage elevators are now being built, or under contract, in Calgary, Saskatoon, Moose Jaw and Fort William.

Tenders will be called for the structure within a couple of months, while plans will be prepared at once.

LONDON TAKES IT UP

London, June 20.—A message from Victoria, B. C., received a short time ago credited H. H. Stevens, federal member for Vancouver, with stating that the British government was being consulted on the subject of Hindu immigration. Inquiries go to show that the whole question of Asiatic immigration to Canada is being thoroughly gone into. Negotiations are proceeding between the home departments and the Canadian, Indian and Chinese governments with a view of arriving at some settlement under which the same conditions of admission to the Dominion will be made applicable to Asiatics of all nationalities.

It is understood that the Indian and Chinese authorities are agreeable to an arrangement on the lines of the Anglo-Japanese treaty of 1911.

A "BABY SERVICE."

On a recent Sunday afternoon a service of interest to mothers was held at Fernie Park Baptist school room, London, in connection with the "Cradle Roll."

The secretary sent out between fifty and sixty invitations to fathers and mothers whose baby's name was inscribed on the roll, asking them to bring the child into the primary school for half an hour, at a given time, for a "Baby Service."

The response was wonderful. Forty three babies, in very many cases accompanied by both parents, were present. The interest of the primary scholars, who most of them had a little brother or sister among the babies, was intense.

Special baby hymns were sung to a piano and chime of bells accompaniment. Each baby's name was called and the superintendent placed in each chubby hand a pretty picture card.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

COAL mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. No more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 per acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

CONCERT IN AID OF CHURCH SATURDAY, JULY EIGHTEEN

Negotiations regarding musical arrangements not being yet completed it is impossible to announce the date of the floral service to be held in the agricultural hall. It will probably be on the 19th of July. All those who are blessed with musical talent and willing to assist in the service are requested to communicate with the Rev. H. T. Archbold, Saanichton. A concert is to be held in the agricultural hall, Saanichton, on Saturday, July 18th, in aid of the funds for installing electric lights in St. Mary's church. Mrs. K. R. Streetfield, who has charge of the program has enlisted the services of some excellent talent in Victoria and a first class entertainment is promised.

DR. GRENFELL'S ADVICE TO BOYS.

the present situation, and he further requested of Mr. May the reason that the furniture for the Samuel Spencer institute had been lying on the wharf for some time previous to the announcement that a school was required at Bazan Bay.
Mr. Spencer, who had a few minutes previously to all intents and purposes left the hall, reappeared in a very sudden like manner and with indignation plainly written on his face, stoutly denied that the Bazan Bay school was being built for Samuel Spencer. It was, he said, for the loved ones of the men who while working on the farm had cleared for themselves a piece of ground and built thereon a place of habitation, and now that their offspring had reached the age when their education must be attended to, they had applied for what was their right, and it was for them and not for Samuel Spencer that the school was asked.
After considerable more discussion a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. May for the trouble he had taken to lay the matter before the ratepayers, the meeting then adjourned.

Here is a thing he says: "An over-fed body may be good for the beasts, but it is no use to God."
If you are to be plucky and brave, and worth while when trouble comes you must keep yourself hard and fit.

In Labrador we have no penny blood-curdling novels and five editions of a newspaper a day. Lots of our boys cannot read and write. But they can endure hardness, like good soldiers.

Last winter one boy of fifteen was left with two teams of huge wolfish Eskimo dogs, while the doctor and his men travelled off to kill some deer. He was warned not to move, or they would possibly be lost. As it happened the men got parted by heavy snow storms, and only found a house fifty miles away on the third day after. They at once sent a gang of men to look for the boy. Do you think he had run away in all that long time, and during those dark, cold nights? Not a bit of it! He was just where they had left him.

I have had to look death in the face once or twice, and there is nothing in the world that helps you to keep cool and give him the slip like not having the skeleton of an impure life to weaken you and trouble you. The best thing in the world is not gold and silver, or food and clothing—no not by a very long way.

If I left a watchword with you it would be: "Learn to keep your eyes open, and to see chances where you can be useful." You will live a life then and leave a career behind you that kings will envy.—Free Methodist

SPORTING EVENTS OF THE PAST WEEK

SIDNEY VS. FULFORD.

A game of baseball has been arranged with Fulford Harbor and will take place next Sunday afternoon at 2.30 on the grounds of the local athletic association. Sidney is going to field a strengthened and rejuvenated team and will endeavor to wipe out the unsavory memory of the game played here last Sunday.

TENNIS PLAYERS WIN.

On Sunday last four of the Sidney tennis players made the trip to James Island on the invitation of the members of that club. They had a most excellent time and were most hospitably entertained during the afternoon. Mr. Rommell acted as umpire in the matches that were played which resulted in a victory for the Sidney players by three rubbers to two, and 44 games to 39.

The James Island team was captained by Mr. Barclay, and Mr. Dennis acted in the same capacity for the Sidney players. Following are the results:

Dennis and Payton, Sidney, defeated Gamble and Barclay, James Island, 6-4, 6-3.

Grubb and Newton, James Island, defeated Dr. Cumming and Blason, Sidney, 6-1, 6-3.

Gamble and Barclay, James Island, defeated Dr. Cumming and Blason, Sidney, 6-1, 6-1.

Dennis and Payton defeated Grubb and Newton, 6-1, 6-1.

Dennis and Payton defeated Gamble and Barclay, 8-6, 6-0.

THE GUN CLUB.

On Friday evening, June 26, the Gun Club held their regular weekly shoot, the attendance being small owing to the disagreeable weather. The shooting for the Adamson and Roberts cups took place in a downpour of rain. Very keen interest is being taken in the contest for the above cups, one or two birds only separating a number of the shooters. July 3rd is the date set for the big shoot for the Sidney Trading Company's medal.

Following are the scores for last week in the fifty bird event.

LOCAL LACROSSE BOYS DEFEAT PROSPECT LAKE

The lacrosse game on Saturday, June 27th, between the Prospect Lake and Sidney teams on the grounds of the Sidney Amateur Athletic Association resulted in a win for the local lads by the close score of 4-2. Both teams surprised the spectators by their neat stick handling and the knowledge they had already gained of the game. They were both speedy in the field and the splendid passing close in by the homes was a feature of the game, as was also the checking of both defences. The game was very clean throughout, as the referee did not call a single foul. The sportsmanship of both clubs was excellent, each team giving the other three hearty cheers and a tiger, and all the players joined in three hearty cheers for the referee at the close of the game.

The game started promptly at three o'clock and Referee Tester lined up the teams as follows. On account of Prospect Lake being short two of their players it was decided to play ten men aside.

Prospect Lake—Horne, goal; Wilkinson, point; Pimlott, cover; Greig, 1st defence; Piercy, 2nd defence; Heal, centre; Campbell, 2nd home; Love, 1st home; McCullough, outside home; Reid (capt.) inside home.

Sidney—Reid, goal; McClure, point; McKillican, cover; Simpson, 1st defence; Robertson, 2nd defence; Seglelabra, centre; W. Simpson, 2nd home; Fairclough, 1st home; "Boots" McClure, outside home; Veitch, inside home.

The first game was scored by Sidney, Phillip Seglelabra doing the needful after five minutes play, while Prospect Lake got the next one just before the first quarter ended, McCullough putting the ball through. In the second quarter "Boots" McClure got another one for Sidney after about ten minutes play, the score standing at half time two to one in favor of Sidney. In the third quarter Walter Veitch tallied another one for the locals, and in the fourth stanza both teams scored one each, McClure again scoring for Sidney and Love for Prospect Lake. The combination of both teams at times was very good.

These teams will meet again in about two weeks, when another good game ought to take place.

P. E. Tester refereed the game while Capt. Byers and Archie Johns acted as goal umpires, and Messrs. Veitch, Joe Mason and Willie Veitch were the official time keepers.

THE JOHNSON-MORAN FIGHT

In a full twenty round contest in Paris last Saturday, June 27, Jack Johnson, the much advertised colored champion boxer, defeated another "white hope" for the heavyweight championship of the world and a purse of $35,000, of which Johnson got $30,000, win, lose or draw, and Morgan drew the other $5,000. The fight was very unsatisfactory, both Johnson and Moran seemingly making a poor exhibition. Some are of the opinion that the fight was faked and that Johnson allowed Moran to stay the route for the pictures. We think otherwise, however, for a fake fight generally brings out a fake knockout. Also Johnson's vanity would stand in the way of anything but a spectacular win if he felt himself to be in good enough condition to go the limit. Johnson, not having fought for two years, was not certain of himself and took no chances.

Moran, on the other hand, failed to show enough science to "boost" himself for a championship contest. Very little was known of him outside of his native town, and not much expected of him, but even at that he was hardly entitled to any fame for his attempt to annex the championship belt. One noteworthy incident was the number of titled and aristocratic personages who were spectators, included in the number being a considerable representation of the Paris society fair sex. All through the fight Johnson had the lead, using his old time cleverness, but did not attempt to mix as in the Jeffries or Flynn fights, and when the fight ended the referee had no option but to give Johnson the decision. One other point for consideration was the fact that this was the first big fight ever refereed by a Frenchman, or in fact by anyone outside of the British empire or the United States, and shows to the world that other nations besides these will soon be heard from in all classes of international sport. Georges Carpentier is now the heavyweight champion of Europe and will undoubtedly be in a few years, or even months, a contender in a battle for the world's heavyweight title.

Where can a man buy a cap for his knee?

Or a key for a lock of his hair? Can his eyes be called an academy, Because there are pupils there?

In the crown of his head what gems are set?

Who travels the bridge of his nose? Can he use when shingling the roof of his mouth,

The nails on the end of his toes?

What does he raise from a slip of his tongue?

Who plays on the drums of his ears? And who can tell the cut and style Of the coat his stomach wears?

Can the crook of his elbow be sent to jail, And if so, what did it do?

How does he sharpen his shoulder blades? I'd like to know, wouldn't you?

RHUBARB DAINTIES

Cloyed with a heavy winter's diet, the appetite is stimulated by the delicious acid of this first spring fruit. (By the way, is rhubarb a fruit?)

Old fashioned housekeepers seldom use it other than for plain sauce and pies, but the English housewife finds numerous ways of preparing it, that we would do well to follow:

Stewed Rhubarb.

Wipe the stalks with a damp cloth and cut into short lengths without peeling. (Do not peel pie plant unless it is late in the season and the skin is tough.) Add a very little water and stew slowly until tender, then add sugar to taste and a few drops of lemon extract, if you like it.

Baked Rhubarb.

Cut the stalks into inch pieces, pour boiling water over them, cover and let stand for five minutes. Pour off the water, put into a crock or jar and add a small cup of granulated sugar to every pint of rhubarb.

Let stand over night and then bake slowly until tender and jellied. If the stalks are very tender, it can be baked without standing over night.

Rhubarb Shortcake.

Bake a rich biscuit crust in two thin layers. Split open, butter and spread with hot stewed rhubarb. Or, two layers of cake can be used with the stewed fruit on top and between them. A meringue of egg whites adds to its attractiveness, or whipped cream can be used.

Rhubarb Folly

Beat the whites of two eggs stiff and add two tablespoonfuls of white sugar. Cook one quart of red stalked rhubarb until soft, press through a colander, sweeten and flavor with lemon or orange. When very cold, whip in the egg whites and beat until foamy.

Pile high upon slices of sponge cake to serve.

Rhubarb Pudding.

Three pints of rhubarb cut into inch lengths, half a teaspoon of grated nutmeg, and three cups of granulated nutmeg, mix thoroughly.

Butter a pudding dish generously, put into a layer of fine bread crumbs, dot with butter and sprinkle with sugar. Over this place a layer of the rhubarb, and so continue until all the rhubarb is used, and the last layer is crumbs.

Bake an hour in a rather slow oven and serve either hot or cold with whipped cream or butter sauce.

Butter Sauce.

Cream together one-third of a cupful each of sugar and soft butter, and add the juice of one lemon.

Rhubarb Pudding No 2.

Steam finely cut rhubarb in a double boiler, allowing one cup of granulated sugar to each pint. When soft, put through a vegetable press, and for each cupful allow the well beaten yolk of one egg, then fold in the whites beaten to a stiff froth and sweetened. Bake in a buttered dish until the top begins to crack open. Serve alone or with whipped cream.

Rhubarb Cobbler.

Butter a deep dish and place in it a quart of rhubarb. Sprinkle on it one cup of sugar and dot with butter. Make a batter of one cup of sweet milk, two well beaten eggs, half a teaspoon salt, a heaping teaspoon of baking powder and two cups of flour. Pour over the rhubarb and bake until a golden brown. Turn out fruit side up upon a large plate and serve warm with any preferred sauce.

Rhubarb Custard Pie.

Stew a pint of finely cut rhubarb in very little water, until tender, put through a vegetable press, add one cupful of granulated sugar mixed with a tablespoonful of flour and two well beaten eggs. Line a plate with paste and brush over with egg white, pour in the mixture and bake quickly. Place a meringue of one egg white, beaten stiffly and sweetened or when cold cover with sweetened whipped cream.

A TRIP TO CANADA ON THE S. S.

By W. H. D.

Leaving Quebec at 4.15 the train passes through the city slowly, affording an opportunity to see, as far as possible what it is like. You are struck with the number of tumble-down wooden shanties, along side of which are some fine buildings. The appearance of the people, their dress and the place, remind you of the district of Whitechapel. After leaving Quebec the train proceeds at a much faster pace to Three Rivers, about half-way to Montreal, which is reached after several stops at 10.45. All change here and you learn that you can go no further to-night, as the last train left at 9 o'clock. You are greatly struck with the station buildings, in many respects the finest yet seen, with a magnificent spacious waiting room, marble with oak seating, and at one end a statue of Lord Mount Stephen; also in a case a very fine model of a steamer built for the C. P. R. service. Many of our passengers, who cannot afford a bed in a hotel, make themselves as comfortable as possible. During the night one poor fellow was taken very ill and was removed to the hospital with appendicitis. He was on his way to Regina with his wife and two children. It is to be hoped some one will take care of them until he comes out. The porters are black and look very smart in their grey uniform with red caps. The officials have little to say. A comfortable hotel is easily found; bed and breakfast at $1.50 is expensive compared with England, but you have now begun to learn the differences in prices. For instance oranges are five cents each, bananas four for twenty cents, apples twenty cents a dozen. The fruit is very good and better in quality than the English. After a good breakfast there is time for a short walk around the city. The Windsor Hotel is a fine building and there are many others including several churches. The shops are very mixed, and you enter the best looking provision store and learn that the greater part of the goods are English. You also notice a large drapery store and are struck with the style of window dressing which is very attractive. The roads are very rough and not in any way equal to the English roads. The trains are single deck long trolley cars. You are surprised at the number of ladies who are out shopping early, it being only 9 o'clock. How well it would be if their English sisters only copied this good example.

On arrival at the station you secure your baggage from the parcels office, where you left it the night before and were charged five cents for each. You cannot help but notice the splendid method adopted which enables them to be so easily found. You now take your seat in the train in which you will journey for the next few days, travelling night and day at varying speed with occasional stops. From Quebec to Montreal the country generally is flat, but the houses are better with plenty of trees principally pines and firs, with vast tracks of land unoccupied. After leaving Montreal the next important stop is Ottawa, the seat of government. A fairly large town, but as far as can be seen not very imposing. The appearance of the houses and homesteads improve considerably and the scenery also is very good. Water abounds on every hand, lakes, rivers, and streams. The land is being rapidly prepared for sowing and you can see the plowing, etc. Not many cattle are to be seen; just a few cows and pigs occasionally.

One thing that has struck you since your arrival in Canada is the style of carriage that abounds; a kind of half gig and half travelling car called a cateche. There are not many signs of manufacturing, farming and land cultivation being the chief industry. No work houses or poor laws. Canada believes in practically carrying out the Scripture, "If any would not work, neither should he eat." The trains are something of the Pullman type, being fairly comfortable and are converted into sleeping compartments at night. It is strange to you to see the people walking near the trains, and at stopping places one may get out and walk about. As you proceed the appearance of the country changes in every way. Settlements are larger, and lumber camps are constantly passed. Some of the stations are very small, consisting only of a wooden house. After you leave Montreal there is no sign of snow. Preparing for the meals on board train adds a good deal of interest to the journey. The travelling is fairly smooth, but stopping and starting causes a good deal of shaking, and if you are having a meal you have to keep a sharp lookout for your cups and plates.

The scenery has now become very interesting; rugged hills, mountain ranges and rising ground, all covered with forest. A valley with running streams and an expansive lake dotted with islands makes the picture of nature of great charm. The process of clearing the land can be seen in its several stages; the trees felled, then burning, the roots plowed out and burned, then the land being plowed and cleared of stones and boulders by the more diligent. Your first night aboard is very comfortable considering everything, as you are well provided with cushions, rugs and blankets. Some sheets act as a curtain and so makes a really good sleeping section.

The train stops at North Bay, at which place there is a change of conductors, and not very long after you have to show your tickets again, which is not at all pleasant as it is nearly twelve o'clock, but fortunately yours are handy and then you are not disturbed again till the rising sun awakes you at about 5 o'clock and you have finished your first night on the train. The first morning stop is at a little place called Chapleau at 7.05 a. m., where you remain for ten minutes and so take the opportunity to stretch your legs, and this is repeated all along at intervals. It is wonderful how punctual the trains are run considering the great distance travelled. The country continues much the same, being very flat at times, then rugged with hill and forest. A small Indian settlement adds to the interest. Small stations are passed here and there, some just a hut, and you reach White River about 12.15. After this the next place of interest is Lake Superior, the largest of the Canadian lakes, a great inland sea, very beautiful with its islands rising here and there, inlets and coves, lovely blue water, and altogether a very charming picture. The train runs along the waterfront for many hours. In places the lake is covered with ice. Only last week the temperature was rather low, but to-day there is brilliant sunshine, a blue sky with a cool wind. The country round is very rugged—rocks, ravines and hills. You reach the lake at 3 o'clock and do not leave it until 10.20. At some parts large quantities of saw can yet be seen. You run through tunnels cut in the rock, sometimes at an altitude of 600 feet to 900 feet till you reach over 1,000 feet.

The names of the various stations are very interesting and descriptive. Heron Bay, Jack Fish, Rossport and Pearl being amongst them. Here is some of the grandest and most lovely scenery in Canada. The car in which you are riding holds forty passengers and is kept clean by the black porter sweeping occasionally. They are well ventilated and lighted and heated at night. During the day the news agent passes through selling various kinds of fruit, drinks and sweets, canned goods, papers, post cards, etc.

Fort William will be reached to-night and you will have completed nearly one thousand miles of your land journey. It stands at the head of Lake Superior and is reached at 10.20, and you leave at 9.50, central time. It is an important town of over 25,000 inhabitants. A fine station built of brick and stone, splendidly fitted up, the walls of the waiting room being panelled with oak wood. A short stay here enables you to look around and purchase any provisions required. The few stores are small, and some of the proprietors come out and ring bells to attract attention. You are now in the province of Manitoba and the scenery has quite changed. Great stretches of flat prairie land extend on every side. The long twilight evenings are very striking, it being now 8.30 and still light. Another night is passed and you wake early with the rising sun. After your breakfast you await with interest the arrival of the train at Winnipeg, which is reached at 11.00 o'clock on Wednesday, and as the train does not leave until 2.55 an opportunity is afforded of having a look around. The first thing is a good wash which is easily secured in the splendid waiting rooms, which are kept wonderfully clean. Hot and cold water, liquid soap and clean towels are provided free. Here again paintings hang around, principally views of the Rockies. The city has some fine buildings with wide streets, but one notices how many shops are small, not much more than shanties. Cars run in all directions. A very good lunch is obtained for 25c, and you greatly appreciate the comfort of a quiet meal. The largest store in Canada is to be found here. You now board the train that is to take you to the end of your journey at Vancouver, and you find with regret that it is not as comfortable as the one you left in the morning. Still one endeavors to make the best of it.

Stella Carlin, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Carlin, spent a few days this week in Sidney the guest of her friends, Lillian and Muriel Tester.

Sands Funeral Furnishing Company, Limited, funeral directors and licensed embalmers. Prompt and courteous services night or day. Phone 3306. 1515 Quadra street, Victoria. Lady attendant.

A telephone has been installed in the Methodist parsonage on Third street. The number is 20, and anyone wishing to speak to Rev. or Mrs. Miller can now do so by calling up that number.

The Gulf of Georgia fairly echoed with the chug, chug of gasoline motors on Wednesday, as upwards of one hundred boats thus propelled made their way north to the regatta at Cowichan Bay. As many as twenty at one time could be seen passing Sidney during the forenoon.

A patriotic service will be held in the Methodist church at North Saanich Sunday evening. The subject of the address will be "Canada, the Land of Promise." Suitable music will be given by the choir. The morning service in Wesley church, Sidney, will be arranged largely for the interest of the boys and girls.

No doubt the fine weather of last Saturday evening, was responsible for the members of the Conservative Association of North Saanich not turning out in sufficient numbers to hold their regular monthly meeting. A short session of the executive was held, however, and disposed of the most urgent business that was to have come before the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kelly and Mr. and Mrs. L. Adamson returned early in the week from a few days' cruise among the islands of the Gulf in the latter's splendid little gasoline launch. They went as far north as Comox and paid short visits to almost every point of interest on the route both going and coming. They report having had an excellent time.

Some two or three weeks ago the Review published an account of the marriage of Mr. Herman Shade, the popular young conductor of the V. & S. Railway, who is now back on his regular run. The announcement was published with the best possible intention, and on what we considered at the time, good authority. This statement, we regret to say, was incorrect and we hasten to extend our apologies to Mr. Shade, and wish to assure him that while regretting our mistake our best wishes were most sincere.

Fred W. Bowcott, one of our well known local citizens, left town this week for pastures new. It was his intention to go direct to Alberta to look into a business proposition there and if he finds it satisfactory he will take it over. Mr. Bowcott will be much missed in business and athletic circles here, having taken a keen interest in the workings of the local athletic association. Mr. Bowcott does not intend to move his family from Sidney for some little time. The Review wishes him the best of good luck in his new venture.

Mr. William Shepherd, of South Salt Spring Island had the misfortune to meet with a very serious accident while engaged in logging on Monday last near Fulford Harbor, which resulted in his having his leg broken and being otherwise being badly injured. Mr. Shepherd, better known as "Billy," was a very creditable player of the South Salt Spring football team and had the honor of being their captain in 1913. In his dealings with the Sidney team he was always found to be a true sport and his many friends hope to see him around again in the near future.

Mrs. Jos. Patrick, of Victoria, spent Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. J. Wesley Miller, at the Methodist parsonage.

The next meeting of the Ladies' Guild of St. Andrew's church will be held at the home of Mrs. A. L. Wilson on Wednesday, July 22nd.

The big plant of the Sidney Rubber Roofing Company was in full operation for a short time on Tuesday of this week and several squares of builder's felt were turned out. Small alterations to the big machine, however, were found necessary and the plant was closed down until these could be effected.

Mr. J. Brennan met with a serious accident yesterday during blasting operations at the Bradley-Dyne farm where he was working. In some manner he got too close to the blast and was struck in the face by a shower of sand and clay which severely hurt his eyes. He was immediately taken to the hospital at Victoria for treatment.

The ladies committee in charge of the refreshments at the flower show on July 11th, desire aid in the way of eatables and would ask the ladies of the town to kindly not forget them on that date. During the morning of the day in question members of the committee will be in attendance at the tea rooms in connection with the hall, to the left of the stairs as you go up, in order to receive the supplies sent in, and again in the afternoon at two o'clock.

Mr. H. Finch announces through an advertisement in another column that the Standard Steam Laundry, for which he has been agent for the past ten months, has recently made a change in the days for collecting and delivering parcels of laundry. In the past the baskets have left on Thursday evening's train and were returned on the following Thursday, but by the new arrangement the baskets will leave Mr. Finch's barber shop, Beacon avenue, next door to the post office, on Monday morning and will be received back on Friday of the same week, a saving in time of two full days. The new schedule will be in every way much more convenient for the many patrons of this up-to-date laundry.

Sidney was practically deserted on Wednesday, July 1st, a large number of her residents having taken advantage of the beautiful weather and took in the big regatta at Cowichan Bay. Those who did not desire to make the journey to the northern port either organized picnic parties for themselves and their friends or spent the day quietly with their families on the beach at different points on the peninsula. The new tennis courts on Third street were the rendezvous for quite a number and during the afternoon and evening both courts were kept very busy. Two or three of the draws in the different tournaments were played off during the day. Some of the James Island players were expected over but they failed to put in an appearance.

AND HE LAUGHED!

A few days ago one of our most popular citizens, known far and wide for his jocose and sportive temperament, dropped into a local poolroom presumably for the purpose of having a game with anyone who happened to be there. No victim being in sight other than the proprietor of the establishment, this gentleman was perforce drawn into taking a cue. During the game our friend, who for convenience sake we will call Pete, allowed his eyes to dwell for a few moments on a notice conspicuously displayed in the room, and which intimated to frequenters of the establishment that if the looser of a game did not pay, the winner would be expected to foot the bill. Pete, whose ability to get "round" anything of that nature bore the hall-mark of fame, saw his opportunity and purposely played a losing game, allowing his opponent to win two games. While congratulating the proprietor on his prowess with the cue, Pete buttoned up his coat, then giving his hat the regulation tilt, stepped out into the sunlight, leaving the astonished purveyor of pool to figure out for himself where the joke came in.

LIEUT.-GOVERNOR WILL

The Big Event Takes Place in Berquist's Hall at Tables Will Be Judged

Word was received this week that His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Paterson would be present at the opening of the Flower Show to be held here to-morrow afternoon in Berquist's hall, commencing at 2 o'clock sharp. His Honor has kindly consented to perform the opening ceremony.

While this is the first venture on the part of the people of Sidney to hold an exhibition of this nature, the reputation of the district is nevertheless widely known, as testified by the success at other points of exhibits shown by local residents, and the impetus given the cult by these former successes will be plainly evidenced when the doors of Berquist's hall are thrown open to the public at two o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

During the week the committee in charge of the arrangements have been busy from morning till night erecting tables and decorating the hall in readiness for the show and now that all arrangements are complete it rests with the public to make a success of the event by making entries in one or more of the many sections open to competition.

In Mr. F. E. Buck, assistant to the Dominion Horticulturist, the committees in charge feel that they are more than lucky in the securing of a competent judge, and as a result they feel confident that the awards will meet with the approval of all.

Not the least of the many attractions to be seen at the show will be the exhibit of the Experimental Farm which, while not being entered for competition, will be none the less appreciated by the management and the visiting public. This exhibit is being put on chiefly from an educational point of view and will occupy the stage in the hall and no one should miss this opportunity of seeing what the government is doing towards the further education of the people along these lines.

While the general trend of the arrangements are for a good exhibition of flowers, the tired and hungry visitors will find rest rooms and refreshment booths in the tea rooms in connection with the hall, to the left of the stairs as one goes up, where at a reasonable charge tea will be served, and for the youngsters candy may be procured.

By way of a little diversion from the usual run of flower shows, it has been decided to have the judging of the decorated tables done by ballot. In order to do this each person, over twelve years of age, on entering the hall will be given a ballot on which the numbers of their choice for first and second prizes must be written. The ballot will then be placed in a box and at 8 o'clock in the evening
