AUSTIN HODGINS ACQUITTED

Of the Charge of Attempted
Arson on Sept. 9.

Interesting Trial Yesterday Before
Judge McKenzie at Sarnia.

Austin D. Hodgins, formerly of this city, was tried before Judge Mackenzie at Sarnia, yesterday, on a charge of attempted arson, and was acquitted. George C. Gibbons, Q.C., of London, defended Hodgins, and J. C. Bucke, Q.C., crown attorney for Lambton county, conducted the prosecution.

The trial lasted four hours, and developed some peculiar and interesting features. About a dozen witnesses were called for the prosecution. Hodgins ran a bakery and confectionery store in Petrolia, renting a building for the purpose from William Pittman.

The evidence showed that Hodgins had left the store on the night of Sept. 9, leaving his clerk, Benjamin Pratt, in charge of the place. Pratt and his chain were spending the evening together in an upstairs room. Between 12 and 1 o'clock Pratt went downstairs to get some cigars. He noticed a light burning in a closet, and upon investigation found a candle burning, and piled around with dry clothes, and arranged so that when the candle burned down to a certain point it would set fire to the building. Pratt put out the candle and notified the police.

It was clearly shown that an attempt had been made to fire the building. But no satisfactory motive for the act was shown. Hodgins had only $475 insurance on the stock.

The principal witness for the prosecution was William Pittman, the owner of the building. He said he had been told by Pratt two weeks before the attempt was made to look out, as there was going to be a fire there. He also said that at 9 o'clock on the night in question the clerk told him Hodgins was going away and there was going to be a fire that night. Pittman said he had stayed up until 1 o'clock that night, waiting for the building to burn, but nothing happened.

Pratt went on the stand and denied having said anything to anybody about the probability of a fire. His evidence and Pittman's proved very conflicting.

Mr. Gibbons, for the defense, elicited the fact that Pittman had tried to injure Hodgins' credit for some time previous to the attempted firing of the building. Among other things he had warned salesmen that they had better get cash for any goods they sold Hodgins.

Mr. Gibbons contended that upon the evidence it would be as reasonable to believe that Pittman laid the train as that Hodgins did.

Judge Mackenzie, in reviewing the evidence, said Pittman had undoubtedly shown a great deal of bad feeling towards Hodgins. He could not, upon the evidence, find Hodgins guilty. The prisoner was accordingly acquitted and discharged.

POLICE BOARD IN SESSION

Charge Against P. C. Down Dismissed
—More Bus Licenses Granted.

The board of police commissioners met this morning with all the members present.

John Garnett, of the striking Street Railway Employees' Union, asked that four more licenses be granted them. The licenses were granted at $10 each. The men will now have eight busses in operation.

Alex. McLean, an engineer, living at 714 Dundas street, complained to the board that he had been struck in the face on the day of the riot, July 3, by P. C. Harry, without any provocation whatever. It occurred at the corner of Elizabeth and Dundas streets. McLean said he was in the crowd simply looking on. He had made no remarks to anyone, and he was suddenly struck him with his fist in the face, cutting his lip and causing his nose to bleed.

P. C. Down did not deny striking McLean. He said Constable Darville had arrested a man named Hayes for rioting, and the crowd were trying to get him away. He (Down), and Detective Nickle went to relieve Darville, when McLean caught his arm and tried to stop him. He pushed the complainant away, but he again caught him by the arm. He (Down) then turned and struck him in the face. McLean came back later with a huge cut in his hand and shook it in his face. The Constables Darville and Eggleton and Detective Nickle corroborated the story told by P. C. Down.

The charge was dismissed. Adjourned.

"In the Philippines the Bible will follow the sword," said the pious imperialist.

"I suppose so," assented the thoughtful citizen. "But do you think it will ever catch up?"

FOUNDER OF THE I. O. F.

In the United States Found a Cure for Kidney Ailments and Constipation in

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

Next to Dr. Cronhyatekha himself there is no member of the Independent Order of Foresters more favorably known than the venerable Col. A. B. Castwell, who founded the order in the United States and organized the National Guards under Gov. Seymour in 1862.

Col. Castwell lives at Syracuse, N. Y., and tells of his remarkable experience with Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in the following letter:

"For the good of the community I volunteer this testimonial to the wonderful value of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I used them for nearly one year for urinary troubles, kidney ailments, torpid liver and constipation. I never before met with such a mild and efficacious laxative. I take one pill a day before retiring, and the effect is wonderful in producing calm repose, excellent appetite and good digestion."

THE YACHTS START AGAIN

With Fine Weather and a Favoring Breeze.

Columbia the Favorite With the Betters, at Small Odds.

The American Crossed the Starting Line a Few Seconds in Advance of the Shamrock, but the British Overtook and Passed the White Boat.

New York, Oct. 7.—A strong northeasterly breeze was stirring up the white caps on the upper bay at sunrise. The sky was absolutely clear, a light autumnal haze hung over the Long Island and Staten Island shores, and the air was crisp and invigorating. Briefly, it would have been impossible to imagine a morning more full of promise of a fine race between the Columbia and the Shamrock. The Associated Press correspondent at 7:02 a.m., reported that the north wind there was whistling down the coast at the rate of twenty miles an hour. He added the disquieting remark, however, that the breeze showed signs of moderating by noon. A very high sea was running at that time, and the observation limit was twelve miles.

The breeze was so fine and true off the Hook this morning that the Shamrock dispatched with the aid of the tug, and started out for the lightship under sail. The crew began getting up the mainsail about 8:30, and by 8:50 the big sail was up to the satisfaction of those on board.

The Columbia came down the channel from her anchorage over night at Bay Ridge, and rounded the southeast spit in tow of her tug. As on the two previous days the Shamrock was the first of the two racers to come out to sea for the start.

The old cup defender, Vigilant, had a little brush with the latest challenger went by her as if she were anchored. 8:30 a.m.—The weather bureau reports wind north northeast, 22 miles an hour, diminishing in velocity. Volunteer left the harbor once with a large party of Sir Thomas Lipton's guests, including Rear Admiral Selley, who was greeted by Capt. Robley Evans and Mr. David Barrie, the representative of Sir Thomas Lipton; the earl of Minto, governor-general of Canada; the Hon. Cecil Darling, R. H. Little, Q.C., Barclay Warburton, W. M. Mendel, Mrs. Mendel, C. G. Cary, F. M. McCarthy, Prince Leopold II. of Croix, Prince Kanjishiji, Rear Admiral Lord Charles Beresford and Lady Beresford, and many others.

THE PROGRAMME.

New York, Oct. 7.—The programme for today's race is as follows: Course fifteen miles to windward or leeward and return. Starting point, Sandy Hook lightship. Time of start, 10:45 a.m., unless postponement is ordered, but no later than 12:15 p.m. Time allowance, 6:31 seconds to the Shamrock. Time limit, 5½ hours exclusive of time allowance. The Columbia is the favorite in the betting again, and the ruling odds are 10 to 9 and 10 to 8 on her, though a few even money bets are being made.

THEY'RE OFF.

Highlands, Navesink, Race Run, 11:20. The has been run has been fixed. The Columbia crossed the line at 11:20:49. Wind has fallen to about 8 knots. Shamrock crossed the line at 11:20:59. The course is south, southwest, 15 miles and return.

OVER THE LINE.

Western Union Cable Boat.—The official starting time was 11:21:19. Columbia, 11:21:02; Shamrock, 11:21:19.

11:27 a.m.—The yachts are having a little luffing match, in which Shamrock seems to be getting the better of it, and appears to be drawing up on Columbia.

11:28 a.m.—Within a minute after the start the blanketed Columbia took her wind from her, and at 11:28½ was a length the best of her. At 11:30 the Shamrock was leading.

11:31 a.m.—The yachts have sailed about a mile on the course, and the Columbia is still ahead. Wind now north-northeast.

11:43 a.m.—Wind here is decreasing rapidly.

Western Union Cable Boat, 11:43 a.m.—Shamrock has much trouble with her spinaker; men aloft fixing it; Columbia gains each moment, and is about one-eighth of a mile in the lead. At 11:49 the wind was dying out fast, being about four miles an hour. At 11:55 the Columbia led by a minute and a half, and was pulling away from the Shamrock.

12:03 p.m.—During the past few minutes Shamrock has caught a better breeze, and seems to be gaining slightly on Columbia.

Navesink, 12:03½.—Columbia now leads by about an eighth of a mile.

12:10½ p.m.—Shamrock has blanketed Columbia, and is passing her on starboard side.

12:11½ p.m.—Shamrock is almost abreast of Columbia. Yachts are sailing side by side, and contest is exciting.

12:13½ p.m.—Shamrock has passed Columbia to starboard, and is now the leader.

12:13½ p.m.—The boats have sailed about five miles of the course, during which time the Shamrock has overtaken the Columbia's lead, which was at one time nearly a quarter of a mile.

Galilee, 12:33 p.m.—The Shamrock still seems to be outpacing the Columbia.

Associated Press Boat, off Highland Beach.—At 12:10 the Shamrock passed the Columbia about seven miles down the first leg to the start.

Long Branch, 12:45 p.m.—Shamrock passed here at 12:47; Columbia at 12:47:30.

Asbury Park, 1:07 p.m.—The Shamrock still holds the lead, and appears to be catching the wind finely, while the Columbia's sails appear to be flapping considerably.

Cable Boat, 1:05 p.m.—Both boats are now evidently running for the mark. With the wind at its present rate and direction, it appears from here that the boats cannot finish within the time limit. Wind three knots from north-northeast.

Asbury Park, 1:33 p.m.—The boats are not over 15 yards apart. The Columbia has blanketed the Shamrock.

Highlands, 1:35½ p.m.—The boats turned the outer mark. The Shamrock seemed to be a length or two in the lead.

Asbury Park, 1:38½ p.m.—Both boats sailing abreast seemingly from here.

1:43 p.m.—The Shamrock appears to be gaining.

1:46 p.m.—The Columbia is gaining on the Shamrock, and they are now nearly on even terms again.

1:48 p.m.—The Shamrock is increasing her lead again. Both boats are heading off shore. Shamrock still holds the lead.

Asbury Park, 2:15 p.m.—Wind appears to be decreasing.

Asbury Park, 2:15 p.m.—The Columbia appears to have more mind than Shamrock, and from here seems to be gaining.

PARALYZED BY CHEWING GUM

Woman of Goshen, Ind., a Sufferer From the Habit.

Wabash, Ind., Oct. 7.—Miss Lettie Stushen, of Goshen, is suffering from a peculiar affliction due to chewing gum. The young woman, who is a student in the high school, was an inveterate chewer of gum, and a few days ago she was found lying on the floor of her room, drawing up towards the ear. The trouble grew, and a physician pronounced it a case of paralysis of the muscles of the mouth due to continual mastication.

According to the Sebastopol correspondent of the London Daily Graphic, the Russian naval credit for 1900 amounts to the enormous sum of $7,500,000 roubles.

The Paris correspondent of the Daily Mail says: I learn that Germany is about to hand over documents which will lead to the quashing of the Dreyfus verdict.

Obituary.

MRS. S. G. COOK.

The death occurred on Wednesday of Mrs. Laura Gray Cook, widow of the late John Cook, at the residence of her daughter Mrs. (Rev.) George Robertson, on Wednesday last, aged 66 years. The remains were taken to Ingersoll for interment. Deceased was the daughter of Michael Gray, of West Oxford, and was married to John Cook about 30 years ago. He died about three weeks ago, when she went to reside in Mount Forest, where their son, James J. Cook, resides. She became afflicted with dropsy, and her daughter, Mrs. Robertson, took her to her own home here to give her more personal care, but she succumbed to the malady with which she was afflicted, passing away peacefully. For many years she was an active member of the W. C. T. U., and took a deep interest in church work.

A LUCKLESS HONEYMOON

Bridegroom Visited His Wife's Relatives, Who Made a Meal of Him.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 7.—A story of cannibalism was brought to Sydney, Australia, just before the sailing of the steamer Aorangi to this port. The victim was a native of Hawaii, named Amaru, who had married a native woman of Aoba, in the new Hebrides group, and went to visit his wife's tribe. Amaru fell into the hands of savages, who, after torturing him, tore him to pieces and roasted him with two others.

Native riots have occurred at Braeside, West Australia, and it is believed that a Mr. Hodgson has been killed.

The Tivoli Theater, Sydney, was destroyed by fire. Loss, $25,000.

In Honolulu there is a likelihood of a serious water famine if rains do not come soon. The water in Nuuanu reservoir is lower than it has been in years.

IMPROVEMENT OF BUSINESS BLOCKS

Among the New Store Fronts Grafton Company's Is Prominent—Fine Suite and Overcoats.

London's business blocks have been greatly improved recently by a number of new store fronts, prominent among which is that of Grafton & Co. It is doubtful if there is a finer store front in Western Ontario than that at 158 Dundas street. Made entirely of glass, it shows off the ever-effective window-dressing in great advantage. The store is brilliantly illuminated by prism lights, and the fittings throughout are thoroughly up-to-date. Grafton & Co. have long since proven that their aim is to attend to the needs and comforts of man, especially those who desire to be well-dressed. At this season of the year they are to the front with a superb stock of light-weight overcoats. They also show a fine stock of heavy overcoats and every kind of suit in demand. With them the making of clothing is on a scientific basis, as correct as it is possible to be. Since Mr. J. M. Hickey has been appointed to the position of manager, Grafton & Co.'s business in this city has increased very materially.

Future of Palestine.

[A. C. Wheeler, in Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.]

It is very remarkable how persistently a large portion of mankind insist upon regarding the future of Palestine as in some mysterious way associated with the destiny of the race. The feeling is not confined to Christians, among whom the stupendous events enacted in that country have become the groundwork of faith; it is shared in by Jews and Mohammedans, both of whom alike regard that little strip of territory that has been under the heel of the Turk so long with a vague belief that at some time, in some way, it is to be the scene of tremendous events affecting both the religious and political well-being of all peoples.

The persistency of this belief is all the more remarkable because the material interests of the nations and the conditions of Palestine do not warrant it. The country itself is a small strip of land no larger than the state of Vermont, hemmed in on one side by an almost inaccessible coast, and on the other by the Syrian desert. Denuded of its timber and made and by tyranny and neglect, it offers little temptation to the territorial greed of Europe or the vast industrial schemes of modern enterprise. And yet, notwithstanding all this, the legendary interest of the domain for three vast divisions of the human family, and the profound conviction that somehow the memorable spot lies waiting either for a new evangel or a political crisis, have so entered into the minds of men that Palestine with each succeeding year becomes more and more the Mecca of civilization and the mystery of the ages.

The population of Jerusalem is now three times what it was thirty years ago, and a large proportion of this influx has been made up of Jews and Christians, who here bring their differences with a common veneration.

At the last annual meeting of the Palestine Exploring Fund in London, at which Lord Amhurst presided, the reports of this slow but steady growth occasioned considerable surprise. It was shown that in spite of the discouraging conditions of labor, and extortion generally, the Turkish tax-gatherer, there was a steady increase, not only of capital, intelligence and enterprise, but of the world's interest in the future of the country.

It is something quite independent of commercial attractiveness, and is changing the aspect of affairs along the Jordan Valley, where colonies of Jews are now planting olive gardens and vineyards side by side with Christians who are planting chapels and schools.

This growth and restitution of the Holy Land by agencies that elsewhere have been antagonistic, presents one of the most profound phenomena of our time, for in each of the sects is the same ineradicable belief that the territory that has been buried so long under the drums and trampings of a hundred conquests is once more to put on its beautiful garments. Such a sentiment, sturdy and growing despite the world-wide pressure of the world's activities, must in any aspect of it command our reverential attention.

Already Palestine is the center of a world-wide pilgrimage. Not only the Christian, but the Jew and the Mohammedan go there to muse amid its ruins, and, mayhap, if not like Kubla, who,

"Mid this tumult heard from far
Ancestral voices prophesying war," they may at least in the confraternity of interests be helping to realize one of the oldest prophecies of peace.

THE D. & L. EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL may be taken with most beneficial results by those who are run down, suffering from after-effects of la grippe. Made by Davis & Lawrence, Co., Ltd.

LIFE SAVED.—Mr. James Bryson writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice I procured the medicine, and less than half a bottle cured me. I certainly believe it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me good."

After all, there is no better test of an article than popularity. Ask your friends what they think of Blue Ribbon Ceylon Tea.

BACKING-UP

Not, Perhaps, the Principal Part of the Art of Driving, but an Important One.

Not all of the driver's skill is devoted to driving ahead; it takes a good driver to be able to back up in good shape. Not every driver, by any means, can halt and then back up to a curbstone and hit it square and true with both wheels the first clip. That is something that requires more skill than might be imagined by one who has never tried it.

But in backing up on the level, if a man fails to hit the curb exactly the first time, he can maneuver until he does. There are places where skill must be exercised and where a level head is called for, too. For instance, in backing up, or rather, backing down, into an excavation, on the inclined causeway left for that purpose. The excavation is begun at the rear of the lot, and the earth forming the causeway running up to the level of the street at the front, is left until the last. In the later stages of the excavating the causeway is left just wide enough at the top for the cars or wagons to move on, and its sides slope down perceptibly. The driver who backs down on one of these narrow cellar causeways, simply must hit it right.

When Postage Was Dear

Many Ingenious Ways of Beating the High Postal Rates.

You know how people used to evade and wriggle out of the old dear postal charges.

There were the franks of members of parliament, which merchants used to buy by the hundred; there was the favorite dodge of sending an addressed envelope, which meant "I am well and flourishing." The recipient refused to pay for the letter, but, you see, got the message by the simple demand for payment.

Once, however, an ingenious gentleman contrived a more excellent plan still. For he discovered that a hare might be dispatched for a charge which was enormously out of proportion to that made for the dispatch of a letter. He, therefore, bought a hare, addressed it to a friend in a certain town, or large business, went around among his friends, collected all their letters to this town, and stuffed the hare with them, forwarding a special letter to his correspondent, informing him of the new method.

Would you believe it? When the have arrived the cook opened it, and, finding the inside stuffed with papers, she threw them all into the fire. And so a most ingenious method was brought to nothing.

There was once a most ridiculous farce, called, I believe, "The Goose With the Golden Eggs" in which that bird was sent as a Christmas present. The recipient, finding it a little "advanced," sent it as a Christmas present to a friend; he, finding it also too high for a Christmas feast, handed it on, in the same loving spirit of the season, to another friend, and so on, until it was thrown into the yard with indignation and contempt.

And then it was discovered that the goose was stuffed with banknotes! And you may imagine the maddening anxiety of the first man to get back his goose—London Queen.

Hospital Trust Anxious That the Doctors Settle Their Own Differences—Regular Board Meeting.

A regular meeting of the hospital trust was held yesterday afternoon, and attended by all the members. Col. Lewis presiding. Superintendent Balfour reported that there were 60 patients now in the hospital. Since a month ago, 81 were admitted, and 25 were discharged. Of those remaining, 14 are typhoid fever patients. WHAT LONDON TALKS ABOUT

Scope of Britain's Military Preparations

For the Threatened Conflict in South Africa.

Large Foreign Element Expected to Fight Under Boer Banners.

The Cape Squadron Will Include a Dozen Powerful Warships—Alaskan Boundary Question in Progress.

[Special Cable Letter.]

London, Oct. 7.—The scope of Great Britain's military preparations can scarcely be grasped by the mere reading of individual items as those which appear from day to day. A fair notion of their immensity can be gained from the semi-official statement, that for the transport of the army corps, about 70 ships of from 2,000 to 4,000 tons burden are required, not including a score or more of transports already on the way to the Cape. If these vessels effectively disembark their cargoes of men, horses and equipment within five weeks from their date of sailing, the programme will have fulfilled the forecasts of the most optimistic British military experts. If all the troops are able to take their places as component parts of the army corps by the end of November, they will have done, according to the best available opinion, remarkably well.

The disembarking of Gen. Shafter's army from its 37 transports is not forgotten by the British officers, although the vessels to be employed in the Cape service are of considerably larger tonnage than those which carried the Americans to Santiago de Cuba.

The Admiralty, in accordance with the existing regulations, is supplying them all and taking complete charge from water's edge to water's edge. This means a tremendous outlay of capital.

FAVORITISM ALLEGED.

Letters begin to appear in the newspapers alleging favoritism, and declaring that some of the transports are "rotten hulks." The recent breakdown of two vessels, with troops on board, is cited as substantiating this charge; but there does not seem to be any serious ground for supposing that the admiralty is actuated by wrong motives.

THE SOUTHAMPTON CONTINGENT

Although the impending army corps is a matter of pre-eminent military interest, the troops already on the scene of probable action constitute no insignificant body. The original Cape garrison was 9,000 men, and this has been increased by 4,500. There are 12,000 men at sea, on the way to the Cape, and their arrival will make the approximate total of British troops in South Africa, prior to the arrival of the army corps, 26,000. These troops do not include the irregular forces, the Cape Mounted Rifles, the Port Elizabeth and Grahamstown Volunteers, the Natal Police, the Durban Light Infantry, the Australian force, nor the regular naval brigade.

The Cape squadron now includes ten warships, all heavily manned, and the British first-class protected cruisers Terrible and Powerful will soon arrive, enabling the navy to land a brigade of about 2,000 men.

THE BOER FORCES.

Against this array are opposed the Transvaal and its ally, the Orange Free State, with perhaps a sprinkling of natives. This is about all that can be said regarding the Boer forces. They are virtually non-regulars; and attempts to estimate their fighting strength are hopeless, although various calculations appear daily in the English newspapers, ranging from 30,000 to 15,000, the latter figure being obviously very extravagant. The whole question was summed up today for the Associated Press by an influential member of the House of Commons, who said: "Before this is ended, Great Britain will have to face every Boer, man or boy, strong enough to fire a gun for the sake of his country."

FOREIGN HELP FOR AFRICA.

The part which the foreigners, who are volunteering under the Boer standard, especially Americans, will take, in the expected conflict, provokes much supposition and comment. The correspondent of the St. James' Gazette at Pietermaritzburg says: "American civil and mechanical engineers have been engaged by the Boers to dismantle the Netherlands Railway in the event of a Boer retrograde movement upon Pretoria. They will certainly not meet with too considerate treatment if taken prisoners. Something like a dozen of these adventurous Yankees are professional railroad wreckers, now living in comparative clover in Pretoria." The Boer ranks will certainly include a number of Irishmen and of former officers of the German army. It is said the Boers will adopt the policy they adopted in 1881, when ten sharpshooters were detailed out of each company to pick off the British officers.

ALASKAN NEGOTIATIONS.

The Alaskan negotiations proceed, although Sir Louis H. Davies, the Canadian minister of marine and fisheries, is taking a short vacation in Scotland with Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, the Canadian high commissioner. The Associated Press learns that there is a good prospect of a tentative settlement within a fortnight, although a definite arrangement apparently cannot be reached until the joint high commission ratifies the pending modus vivendi. It is understood that, if Sir Louis Davies expresses satisfaction on behalf of Canada regarding the present propositions, the whole question will be practically settled. All reports alleging to give details of the settlement are pronounced by the authorities here premature and without adequate basis.

MISCELLANEOUS MATTER.

The French navy is installing wireless telegraph between the light-houses along the French coast. Judging from the results of the preliminary experiments, the installation will prove of great value to shipping.

ON THE AWARD.

London, Oct. 5.—The Times, this morning, referring to the Venezuelan arbitration award, says: "The award, on the whole, favors England, since, with trifling exceptions, which do not appear of material importance to us, it practically declares the Schomburgk line to be the true frontier. England has repeatedly offered to surrender the Barima point, with a much larger slice of territory than is now awarded, if Venezuela would abandon the more preposterous portion of her general claim. The monstrous nature of that claim is best shown by the text of the award. It includes 60,000 miles of territory, while the award gives her about 200 square miles of unsurveyed country and swamp, or very much less than any of the British ministries whose proposals for compromise she rejected were prepared to offer her out of friendly regard." Proceeding to argue that the award is a moral triumph and a justification of Great Britain's justice and moderation, the Times adds: "We must leave Mr. Harrison and Mr. Mallet-Prevost, if there is any truth in the attacks on the award attributed to them in interviews to settle the propriety of such utterances with Justice Fuller and Justice Brewer, the eminent American jurists, who joined in the decision."

TO A CLAM.

[Zion's Herald.]

O thou who dwellest in the mud
Down by the salty sea!
Thou clam, whom all the poets slight,
I'll sing a song to thee.

What a marvel is the palace
Which thy living home has been
Walled with granite on the outside,
And with polished pearl within!

All unconscious of the beauties
Which in thy home are rife,
Thou sojourner for a season
In the oozy depths of life.

To open thy fortress window,
Thrust out thy smelly head,
And seek the slimy morsel
Which is thy daily bread—

This alone is thy endeavor.
This is all thou hast to do;
Yet thou'rt happy, very happy,
If the ancient proverb's true.

Clam, thou'lt be among the missing
When the morrow's dinner's done,
And the ruins of thy dwelling
Will be whitening in the sun.

But perchance some poet silent
Wand'ring by the white foam,
Seeking some lost strain of music,
May espay thy vacant home.

And if in that shell's white hollow
He shall find the long-lost strain,
Then, O clam, down to the mud there,
Thou wilt not have lived in vain.

The Door Still Open

For Negotiations Between Britain and the Boers.

The British Liberal Leader Sees Hope for Peace.

An Evil Day When the Claim of Suzerainty Was Resurrected.

President Kruger Will Not Precipitate Hostilities.

Imperial Parliament to Meet in Ten Days—Reserves Likely to Be Summoned.

London, Oct. 7.—Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, speaking at Maidstone yesterday, at a luncheon specially arranged to give the leader of the opposition in the House of Commons an opportunity of expressing the view of official Liberalism regarding the Transvaal crisis, said that neither side had shut the door upon further negotiations. "Great Britain," he continued, "has not made her demands as suzerain power, but in virtue of international law and as the power responsible for the well-being of South Africa. If the Boer Government has refused the reasonable requests of the dispatch of the secretary of state for the colonies on Sept. 8 through fear and suspicion regarding a possible attack upon their independence, the speeches of the Duke of Devonshire (lord president of the council of ministers) and Sir Matthew White Ridley (secretary of state for the home department) constitute assurances which ought to EXTINGUISH SUSPICION AND FEAR.

These speeches are quite as authoritative as any dispatches, and bind the honor of the government and the country. They ought to open the way to an agreement. Early interests must stand aside at this juncture, as well as the reputation of ministers. I do not believe that diplomacy has said its last word, although the country is on the brink of war. It is a remarkable thing that, when the question is asked, 'What are we going to do about the Boers?' no answer can be given. This country has never yet gone into a great war in such a state of uncertainty. From patriotic motives Liberals cannot and should not embarrass the government, but the time for free speaking is come by and by. At the present moment the interests of party, the reputation of ministers and our estimate of the conduct of the government must all stand aside, as the only thing that matters is the question of peace or war."

THE CLAIM OF SUZERAINTY. Pointing out the absurdity of going into war for a difference of two years in the opposing franchise proposals, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman declared that the claim of suzerainty had been finally exploded by Sir William Vernon Harcourt and Sir Edward Clarke. "It was an evil day," he continued, "when this claim was dug from the grave in which it was decently buried in 1884 by the wise and experienced men who then conducted British affairs—the men who buried it because they knew it was devoid of efficacy and a fruitful source of difficulty. I believe the country has confounded the word 'suzerainty' which is valueless, with the great fact which is essential and cardinal—the predominance, supremacy, paramountcy or whatever you may wish to call it, of British power in South Africa, which is indisputable and founded on the necessary facts of the situation."

MR. MORLEY'S VIEWS. Addressing a peace meeting at Carnarvon, Mr. John Morley, Liberal member of parliament, asked the country to realize the predicament to which it has been brought by unhappy diplomacy and the Bedlamite action of the press and the war party. "If," said Mr. Morley, "President Kruger had accepted the franchise proposals of September, with reliance upon the convention of 1894, he would have been planted behind diplomatic entrenchments from which by fair and reasonable action he could not have been forced. Even as it is, there is still room for a satisfactory settlement; but just as the Transvaal made a mistake the government capitalized it, withdrawing the franchise proposals."

PAN-AFRICAN CONSPIRACY DISCREDITED. Mr. Morley dwelt upon the moderation and reasonableness of the recent speech of the Duke of Devonshire, which proved that Great Britain did not desire to interfere with the Transvaal's independence. The speaker said he had always pressed the urgency of the Transvaal meeting Great Britain halfway. He regretted the withdrawal of the five years' franchise. He dilated upon the eventual danger of having at the back of a strategic post like the Cape, a disaffected population, held down by force of arms, and said that he failed to see why the Transvaal and Great Britain were unable to come to terms. Mr. Morley spoke de-

Doctors now agree that consumption is curable. Three things, if taken together, will cure nearly every case in the first stages; the majority of cases more advanced; and a few of those far advanced.

relatively of the talk of a pan-African conspiracy in South Africa. PRESIDENT KRUGER HOLDS THE BOERS BACK.

There has been almost a complete dearth of news from South Africa for twenty-four hours. The few dispatches received recording military movements at various points, all tending to confirm the belief that President Kruger will restrain any forward movement by the Boers unless they are fired upon or war is actually declared. A Pretoria dispatch says President Kruger has disavowed any intention of forcing a conflict. The Boers, he said, would not attack until forced to do so, but the continued hostile movements of the British troops might provoke war.

It is stated that Right Hon. Harry Escombe, former premier of Natal, is going to Pretoria in the interest of peace. H. M. S. Philomel suddenly left Durban yesterday for Delagoa Bay. ARMY CHIEFS FOR AFRICA. The Daily News this morning asserts that an army corps will be mobilized today.

It is now practically certain that parliament will meet on Oct. 17. Reserves will be at once summoned in sufficient number to bring up to full strength the regiments warned to hold themselves in readiness for war in the Transvaal. It is estimated that one-sixth of the reserves will be required. Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain has received the offers of all the colonial governments which tendered the services of troops for South Africa.

THE EXODUS. A Johannesburg dispatch says: Thousands of people have desired to leave, and the government has decided to escort them out of the country. Last night two natives entered a clothing store kept by a Jew and stabbed the proprietor in the neck, severing his wind-pipe. Two Jewish store-keepers in the East Rand have been killed by robbers, and the Kafirs are searching the place where they think liquor is stored. The government, acting under the government's orders, will issue an order to shop-keepers to remove the barricades erected, declaring that the government's guarantee of protection ought to be sufficient.

KAFFIRS KICKED OUT. The government is ejecting thousands of Kafir miners from the Rand and sending them into the northern districts of the Transvaal, in order to avoid the dangers of a collision with the whites in the event of war. The Irish corps supporting the Boers has started for the frontier.

BOERS MASSING. A dispatch from Mafeking announces that Commandant Croude, of the Boer forces, has been promoted to the rank of general, and is massing 6,000 Boers with which to artillery Ramathabana, north of Mafeking. The dispatch announces that Gen. Croude has sent a message to the imperial troops that he will cross the border at the first shot fired in Natal.

A GROWL. Great surprise and dissatisfaction are expressed in commercial and political circles in Edinburgh at the news that the British war office has placed large orders for canned meats in the United States. As a matter of fact, the Queensland cannery anticipating a large demand, had prepared increased stocks, which will now possibly be a drug on their hands.

LOST FAITH IN STATEMEN. A private message from a high official in Pretoria, in reply to a friend in London, says: "We do not want any guarantee of independence. We stick to the London convention. We have lost all faith in British statesmen, and have nothing more to say."

The London Daily Mail's Rome correspondent says that the British Government has applied to Signor Mancini, with a view to using his wireless electricity in the Transvaal campaign. Mining shares had quite a boom in the street, owing to a report that the Portuguese Government had asked Great Britain to protect its frontier. Rand mines were nearly two points above the closing figures, and others from 1/4 to 3/4.

PLAGUE SPREAD BY RODENTS. A Universal Raid on Rats in Seaports Is Proposed. London, Oct. 6.—Dr. Manson, in the course of his address at the inauguration of the School of Tropical Medicine, caused a sensation by the emphasis he laid on the declaration that the ordinary rat is responsible for the majority of plague outbreaks. He says that in the fact that rats are peculiarly subject to this infection lies the present danger of the British Isles. If one rat, he says, arrives at the port of London on a ship hailing from a plague port, the rat would die; its body, teeming with plague bacilli, would be eaten by other rats, and so the plague would get a foothold. Or the fleas infecting the sick rodent would transfer themselves to other rats, which in turn, would become infected with the plague. Thus we would have, before long, an underground epidemic of the bubonic pest in London.

"At the present juncture," Dr. Manson continued, "were I the responsible sanitary head of any town in Europe, in anticipation of a possibility compared with which the horror and destructiveness of a general European war would be a trifle, I would do my utmost to have every rat—and, if possible, every mouse—in my district promptly exterminated."

In view of Dr. Manson's position and reputation for it was suggested that mosquitoes were responsible for malarial infection—the London papers seriously discuss the idea of starting a universal raid on the rats in all the large seaports.

Mrs. B. S. 186 Queen street W., Toronto, gives this unsolicited testimony: "For a number of years I had been a great sufferer from heart troubles and had smothering sensations, palpitation, nervous thumping, was very easily fatigued. IRON ARTICLES COME HIGHER

Owing to Scarcity and a Big Increase in Cost of Raw Material.

Montreal, Oct. 7.—Within the next few weeks there will be an advance to the consumer in the price of the various manufactures of iron. This is due to the scarcity of the raw material, and the fact that since last October the price of iron in the pig has advanced about 125 per cent.

The first of the iron men to move in this matter are the nail manufacturers. At a meeting of the representatives of the Canadian Wire Drawers' Association held here there were present, in addition to the representatives of the local firms, the following gentlemen representing firms outside Montreal: W. H. Thorne, St. John, N. B.; Edward Staines, Halifax; Mr. Blesby, Yarmouth, N. S.; C. A. Birge, president of the American Screw Company; T. H. Whitten, president of the Ontario Tack Company, Hamilton; W. R. Hobbs, president of the Hobbs Hardware Company and president of the Western Wire Nail Company, of London. The whole question of the iron market was discussed, and it was decided that, owing to the enormous increase in the price of raw material and the great scarcity of iron, the prices of wire nails and wire of all kinds would have to be increased.

The members of the association, who were at the meeting, were very reticent as to what had taken place, and refused to say what had been decided upon. The representatives of the Nail Manufacturers' Association met at the Windsor for the purpose of discussing the question and deciding on a similar course of action. It is understood that the Manufacturers' Association, representing the various kinds of manufactures in iron, will follow the lead of the nail manufacturers, and increase the price of their goods to the trade. This, of course, will mean an advance in the price to the consumer of that class of articles into the manufacture of which iron enters largely.

A TIMELY LETTER.

Mr. Owen Byrne Writes of a Common Complaint.

Backache and Kidney Trouble Especially Prevalent in the Fall—Change of Weather and Damp Affects Kidneys—Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Perth, Oct. 6.—Mr. Owen Byrne, of this place, was troubled with backache and other kidney trouble a short time ago, but got over it. A great many people wished to know at the time how the cure was effected, and a signed statement of his case was published at the time. Mr. Byrne was cured simply and solely by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

At this season of the year when so many people are suffering from kidney troubles occasioned by changes in the weather and the dampness of the ways present in the fall, it is well to know exactly what to take, if a serious illness would be avoided. Dodd's Kidney Pills are conquerors of Bright's Disease, which no other medicine will cure, and which is the very last and worst stage of kidney disease. When Bright's Disease yields to Dodd's Kidney Pills, backache, one of the first stages is a comparatively simple matter.

Not only backache, but Diabetes, another formerly incurable disease, Rheumatism, Heart Disease, Dropsy, Bladder and Urinary Troubles, Women's Diseases, and all Disorders yield to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mr. Owen Byrne, Perth, says: "I was troubled with backache and kidney trouble for a long time. I procured four boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills from Mr. Kellogg's drug store, and they effected a complete cure in my case. I can recommend them highly to anyone. Dodd's Kidney Pills are fifty cents a box, at all druggists."

BROKEN NECK CURED

Marvelous Surgical Feat Performed for a Millionaire's Son.

New York, Oct. 7.—The two weeks of anxiety for Walter Duryea, the millionaire's son, who broke his neck, are over, and an apparent "miracle" has been worked by modern surgery. As a last resort—for death was staring the young man in the face—Duryea submitted to an operation in Roosevelt Hospital. It was apparently successful, but nothing certain was known until yesterday, which was the time for testing the operation. Without stopping to think what would happen, Duryea set in motion the machinery of the will that would turn his face to the left. It turned. In his exultation he forgot the pain, and turned his face to the right. He wagged his head from side to side until he was convinced that he had again established communication between his brain and that portion of his body below the nape of his neck.

HEINTZMAN & CO.

Richard Burmeister, Famed Austrian Pianist. "Your new scale Concert Grand Piano possesses unique musical characteristics that must give it a distinctive place among the great pianos of the world. I shall insist on having a Heintzman & Co. New Scale Grand Piano whenever I visit Canada."

Plunket Greene, Great English Ezzo Cantato. "A piano capable in the highest degree of the most delicate inflections and of the widest range, alternating from fine pianissimo effects to the most powerful manifestations of dramatic force. I can assure you that it was to me, an Englishman, the greatest pleasure to find so splendid a piano assisting in the musical prestige of her Majesty's foremost colony."

Li. Dan Godfrey, R. A. M. Bandmaster of Her Majesty's Grenadier Guards. "The pianos of Heintzman & Co. astonished me. The concert grand has a fine tone quality, being very full and powerful. The singing quality, especially in the treble part, is beautiful, and the instrument is well balanced throughout the whole scale. I am not surprised at the success these instruments have met with in England."

In all the great musical gatherings in the leading cities of Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific the Heintzman & Co. Piano is ever in evidence. In the homes of Canada's leading citizens—those of widest culture this piano is always found.
