

ARCHBISHOP O'CONNOR RESIGNS STATEMENT IS NOW DEFINITE

Toronto Paper Contains a Story Which Is Practically Confirmed Today in a Dispatch From Queen City—Also Stated Positively That Bishop McEvay Will Be Made Archbishop.

At the Bishop's palace in this city The Advertiser was informed that absolutely nothing is known of the reported resignation of His Grace the Archbishop of Toronto, and the rumored succession of His Lordship Bishop McEvay to the archbishopric.

A dispatch from Toronto, however, states definitely that His Grace has resigned, and that within a month the Bishops will be called together to elect his successor.

The same dispatch also states that His Lordship Bishop McEvay will be the new Archbishop, and that while other names have been mentioned, it will be Bishop McEvay who will be chosen to go to Toronto.

STORY REITERATED.

The Toronto Star had the following article on Monday evening: Right Reverend Denis O'Connor, D. D., C. S. B., has resigned from the Archbishopric of Toronto.

The resignation was forwarded to Rome through the Papal Delegate at Ottawa, Most Rev. Donatus Sbarretti, D. D., and though no word has yet arrived stating it has been accepted, it is certain that such will take place, for so seldom is such a request made that it is done so for reasons so weighty that the Papal consent is invariably granted.

His Grace is at Collingwood today, where he administered confirmation Sunday.

When spoken to about the matter, Vicar-General McCann said he knew nothing of the resignation. It did not come as a surprise, however, and only confirmed the rumors which have been going around for some time.

HIS GRACE'S HEALTH POOR.

It is understood that poor health is the principal reason advanced by His Grace for liberation from the duties of Archbishop.

In addition His Grace advanced personal reasons. It is known that when he was appointed Bishop of London he wrote to Rome asking to be allowed to remain a priest, but the late Pope Leo XIII. replied that it was his desire that he accept the see.

Similarly, when he was appointed Archbishop of Toronto he did not desire to accept the further duties, and it has always been his desire to get away from the burdens the control of a diocese necessarily entails.

WHAT HIS GRACE MAY DO.

His Grace is a member of the Brazilian Order, and when his successor is appointed he may betake himself to one of the order's houses. It is possible that he may make his residence at the novitiate in Deer Park, or he may station himself at St. Michael's College, or at Assumption College, Sandwich.

He will retain his title of Archbishop, however. This will mean that he will be appointed titular Bishop of some European see, to which no duties are attached.

Those conversant with His Grace would not be surprised were he to enter one of the stricter orders of the church, such as the Franciscans or Dominicans.

It is well known that he most austere in his mode of living, is much given to prayer and study, and would welcome a retreat in a monastic order.

If he takes such a step it will mean his departure to Montreal, for none of the monastic orders have houses in Ontario.

WHO WILL SUCCEED?

Regarding his successor are mentioned the names of Right Reverend P. P. McEvay, D. D., Bishop of London, and Right Reverend D. J. Scollard, D. D., Bishop of Sault Ste. Marie.

It is worthy of note that both Archbishop O'Connor and his predecessor, Archbishop Walsh, came to this city from London, where they administered the diocese as bishop, and it would not be surprising if the next Archbishop of Toronto came from the same city.

The name of Bishop Scollard, however, is mentioned as a possible successor. He is the youngest bishop in Canada, having been appointed to the Diocese of Sault Ste. Marie in 1904. Though he is thoroughly conversant with the French language, it is said that the priests of the diocese, who are for the most part French, would prefer one of their own kind, and the raising of Bishop Scollard to the dignity of Archbishop would make way for such an appointment.

FATHER TEEFY AS BISHOP.

In either case a vacancy will take place in the Ontario hierarchy, and to fill it the name of Rev. J. R. Teefy is persistently mentioned. Dr. Teefy, who for years was president of St. Michael's College, is one of the best-known clergymen in Canada, and were he appointed Bishop of the See would be well taken care of. Before the installation of Archbishop O'Connor, Dr. Teefy's name was mentioned as his possible successor, and now that His Grace has resigned the same is taking place. It is unlikely, however, that Dr. Teefy will be raised to the Archbishopric without first having administered a diocese as bishop.

HIS GRACE IS SILENT.

Collingwood, April 27.—When your correspondent called upon His Grace Archbishop O'Connor he declined to be interviewed in regard to the report of his intended resignation. Rev. Father O'Leary, with whom he is staying while in Collingwood, stated that His Grace had nothing to say whatever in respect to the report. As far as he knew, the aged prelate was yet vigorous and full of enthusiasm for the work of his church, and he would undoubtedly continue in the work until the end.

Rev. D. C. Hossack On Whitney Gov't Says That Premier Has Been False

Points To Misrule, Denouncing Gerrymander and Mackenzie Guarantee.

Toronto, April 28.—The Globe today says: The Rev. D. C. Hossack, as an independent in politics, wrote a letter during the campaign of 1905 that was used to great advantage by the Whitney campaigners. Mr. Hossack, like thousands of other Independents and Liberals who favored a change of Government in 1905, has since learned that the Hon. James Pliny Whitney is a politician and not a statesman, Mr. Hossack has written another letter, which is published in this issue. It is well worth reading. Some of the points Mr. Hossack makes are as follows: "On Jan. 24, 1905, Mr. Whitney made a public appeal for aid, and declared that should his future conduct not be approved, the people might withdraw their confidence. Does Mr. Whitney feel that he has lost public confidence? He has so arranged many constituencies by having Liberals that the withdrawal of Liberal confidence will not affect the standing of the parties in the Legislature. On Jan. 26, 1905, Mr. Whitney published his 'glad appreciation' (Continued on Page Two.)

ASK FOR LEMIEUX ACT BENEFITS

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, April 28.—The boiler-makers, machinists and iron molders of the Canadian Pacific lines east and west, and the blacksmiths and helpers and boiler-makers' helpers on the C. P. R. western lines, have applied for the benefits of the Lemieux act, and have named James Somerville, of Toronto, as their representative on the board of conciliation, which they ask shall be named. The course of this application on the part of the men is a notice which the company gave on April 1, that on May 1 it would cancel its agreement with its mechanics in the west, and would reduce wages. The company will be asked to name a representative to the board.

SEEDING IN WESTERN ONTARIO

Seeding in Western Ontario is well along, fully seventy-five per cent of the grain being in the ground.

In the northern part of the Peninsula seeding is not so far advanced, but the lake counties are perhaps somewhat above the percentage.

The ground is in splendid condition for the seed, and if showers are at all as anticipated, there should be good crops this year.

The farmers are very hopeful, and in spite of the fact that the season has been somewhat cool so far, it has been excellent working weather. A few warm showers will overcome the difficulty.

Fall wheat is looking fine. Not for many years has there been so fine a prospect. Of course the acreage is not so large as formerly, but a fair acreage is sown. There are few bad spots and the grain is growing well.

The clover looks well—the best in four seasons. Little of it is winter killed, and most of it has a good start. Timothy is also looking first-class.

The pastures are coming along well. The grass has grown very fast during the past few days and there is now a good showing. Cattle will be turned out next week.

In Elgin County the corn land is being prepared, and the middle of May will see all that crop in. The ground is working splendidly for the crop.

If warm showers are at all frequent during the next month the farmers are assured of good crops.

HON. DR. WILLOUGHBY, Of the Ontario Cabinet, Who Died at Colborne, Ont., This Morning.

DEATH CALLS DR. WILLOUGHBY

Minister in Premier Whitney's Cabinet Died This Morning at Colborne, Ont.

(Special to The Advertiser.)

Toronto, April 28.—Hon. Dr. Willoughby, minister without portfolio in the Ontario cabinet, died at Colborne, Ont., this morning. He had been ill for some time.

Hon. Dr. Willoughby was born in Simcoe County, Ont., Feb. 2, 1844. He was educated at the Bradford Grammar School and graduated M. D. at Victoria College in 1867. After serving as a warden he was returned to the Legislature for East Northumberland in 1888 and has held the seat ever since. He entered the V. M. service as assistant surgeon, 40th Battalion, 1872, and was promoted surgeon 1888. Politically the late Dr. Willoughby has always been a Conservative, standing high in the councils of his party. In religion he was an Anglican. He had been a member of the Whitney Government for the last four years.

WILLIAM R. MILLER DIED IN TORONTO

Left London Three Years Ago—Was Well-Known Insurance Man.

Mr. William R. Miller, for three years manager of the North American Life Insurance Company in this city, died yesterday morning at his home in Toronto. He was 62 years old. Besides his wife, eight children survive. Mrs. C. H. Firth, of 419 King street, is a sister. The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon in Toronto.

NINE FRENCH BOATS GO TO THE BOTTOM

Fishing Season of 1908 Opens Disastrously for French Boat.

St. Pierre, Miquelon, April 28.—The fishing season of 1908 has opened disastrously for the French fishing fleet. Although the operations began only recently, nine vessels have been sunk between France and this port. So far as is known, no lives have been lost so far in spring. Last season 10 vessels sunk, 251 fishermen perishing.

FIFTEEN PASSENGERS PERISH AS RIVER BOAT OVERTURNS

A Mississippi River Steamer Near Helena, Ark., Capsized By Terrific Windstorm Two Hundred Yards From Shore With Theatrical Company on Board.

Helena, Ark., April 28.—Fifteen persons lost their lives and several others sustained serious injuries while several scores are suffering from exposure as the result of the capsizing of the river steamer Marion, having aboard members of a carnival company near the mouth of the St. Francis river, Sunday. The dead: Anna Golden, Albert Jordan, Blinker Dale, W. M. Berry, engineer; Irene Fleming, Frank Berg, A. Dutch, Dan Thomas, Tom Boyce, six negroes. The steamer, which was proceeding from Helena to Carruthersville, Mo., was caught in a windstorm and overturned when 200 yards from shore, and with the exception of several who were washed into the water, those aboard clung to the overturned boat and drifted for several hours, the waves from time to time washing one after another into the waters until, when rescued by a passing gasoline launch, fifteen of their number were missing. The Marion was a 65-ton boat.

PORT STANLEY IS BOOMING BEST IN TWENTY YEARS

Many Improvements Being Made To the Popular Resort This Spring and Business of All Kinds Flourishing—Cottages Going Up By Scores and Manufacturing Plants Erected.

Port Stanley is booming, and the present season from all standpoints is the most prosperous for twenty years. Real estate has advanced from 50 to 100 per cent during the past year, and business has rapidly increased in all directions. At present, work is being pushed forward on the new breakwater, Haney & Miller, the Toronto contractors, having about 100 men on the job, and there are two dredges in the harbor that will commence work soon. Several scows are unloading timber and material for the new breakwater, and all the docks are laden with material for the work.

A Good Catch. Over 100 fishermen are employed out of Port Stanley, and all report the best season's catch for the past five years.

On the beach there are six cottages in the course of construction, while orders have been placed for twenty more, and in the town itself, half a dozen houses are being built. Several families are living over stores or any place they can until houses can be obtained.

A New Station. As well the hotels are being remodelled, and the Southwestern Traction Company will erect a new station at once.

The Port Stanley Amusement Company will commence work very soon, probably before the end of the week. As an instance of the increase in Continued on Page Ten.

British Destroyer Cut in Two During the Night Maneuvers

Harwich, England, April 28.—The British torpedo boat destroyer Gala was cut in two and sunk early this morning off Kentish Knock, in the North Sea, by the scout Attentive. The torpedo boat destroyer Ribble was also involved in the collision, and returned to Sheerness with two compartments full of water. The flotilla was engaged in night maneuvers, when the accident occurred. Engineer-Lieutenant Frank A. Fletcher, of the Gala, who was in his bunk at the point where the destroyer was struck, went down with the vessel. There was no other loss of life.

Omer Rochette Found Guilty Goes To the Gallows June 27

The Jury Decides That Quebecer Poisoned His Wife.

Quebec, April 28.—The verdict of the jury in the case of Omer Rochette was rendered at 10:30 o'clock this morning. Rochette was found guilty of having poisoned his wife on the 17th of November last and was immediately condemned to be hanged at the common goal of the district. Mr. Greenshields, who had objected to certain parts of the charge made to the jury yesterday by Judge Cross, made a motion for a suspension of the sentence, but did not succeed. Asked if he had anything to say against the verdict before sentence, Omer Rochette, who did not seem to be the least moved, replied that he had nothing to say. The court was crowded and the verdict was a surprise because the general opinion was that the jury would disagree. The case may go in appeal.

DOUKHOBORS ON WAY HOME

Carload From Port Arthur and Fort William Reaches Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Man., April 27.—A carload of about 60 Doukhobors, including a number who were released from the jail at Port Arthur and Fort William, reached the city tonight.

These Doukhobors are being shipped to Yorkton by the Government, and are in charge of Government Inspector Simser. They are in a colonist coach. They were not allowed to get off the train at Winnipeg, but remain over in their car until morning.

HURLED THROUGH WINDOWS

Acetylene Gas Explosion Destroys a Hotel Near Atlin, B. C.

Atlin, B. C., April 28.—The Gold House, the largest hotel at Discovery, three miles from here, was burned to the ground, early this morning. The loss is $10,000, outside of $2,500 in bank notes, which could not be saved.

It is considered a miracle that no one was killed. The fire was caused by an explosion of the acetylene gas plant. Guests who had just left the breakfast room were hurled through the windows by the impact of the explosion, but all were able to pick themselves up, little the worse for their exciting experience.

The fire spread with such rapidity through the frame structure that the building was wrapped in flames before any organized effort could be made to fight the blaze.

CHILDREN'S PARADES

Thousands of Little Ones Celebrate New York's Catholic Centenary.

New York, April 27.—Thousands of school children today took part in the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the New York diocese of the Catholic church. Children's parades were formed in most of the parishes within the confines of the greater city and marched with flying banners to the churches where special masses were held and sermons were preached to the children. There were 3,000 children in St. Patrick's Cathedral. Monsignor Falconio, the papal delegate, arrived today from Washington and will attend a reception to Cardinal Logue and other church dignitaries tonight.

NOT A SIGN OF PRIVATE MOIR EVEN DAME RUMOR IS SILENT

May Be Across the Line By This Time, Say the Detectives, and Runs Small Chance of Being Captured Unless a Reward Is Offered.

Dame Rumor is taking a rest, so far as the Moir case is concerned. Inquiry at the police station today elicited the fact that not a solitary rumor had been received there since the return of the local detectives from the hunt after the elusive one, and it is now the opinion that Moir is in hiding somewhere. In the country surrounding Berlin, but few of the farmers have heard of the murder, and if the man seen at Heidelberg and St. Jacobs was Moir it is possible that he has procured work with one of the farmers near there. May Be Across Line. If Moir has taken a freight across the line it is possible that he will never be taken unless a substantial reward is offered by the Canadian Government. One of the local detectives who was engaged in the futile chase after the murderer today said: "Certainly, the American officers will not bother their heads about Moir unless there is something in it for them. They have troubles enough of their own without taking up hunts after criminals from across the border. Of course, if one of the American detectives run across the fugitive they will keep tabs on him, but it is certain that they will not go out of their way to hunt him up unless the reward is well worth while." Stiff Sentences for Copper Thieves Who Robbed the Traction Company

Magistrate Love Is Determined To Wipe Out Such Crimes in London.

James Barclay, the leader of the gang of young men who were recently convicted for stealing copper and brass from the Southwestern Traction Company, was sentenced to two years in Kingston Penitentiary this morning by Magistrate Love. William Brooks and Fred Payne, two other members of the gang, were given six months each in the Central Prison.

Joseph Scott, the youngest of the quartette, who has hitherto borne a good reputation, was sent to jail for two months.

In sentencing the young men, Magistrate Love spoke of the prevalence of thefts of this nature, and it is his intention to stamp them out by giving all offenders severe sentences.

Out of Junk Area.

A peculiar case grew out of the charges against the young men. Abraham Rosenfelt, a Hebrew pedlar, purchased several hundred pounds of the stolen copper from the boys. They brought it to his house and the transaction took place in his yard. Chief Williams charged Rosenfelt with being a junk dealer without a license, maintaining that his house, which is on Hill street, is not in the limits prescribed by law for junk dealers.

Rosenfelt produced a license but the chief held and his opinion was sustained by Magistrate Love that it was only good for peddling and that the defendant could not legally buy junk at his home.

"Rosenfelt was fined $2 on this charge. The fine will be remitted if he agrees to move to some other place within the limits prescribed by the law, and, after moving, he takes out a license.

WIND TOPPLES FREIGHT CARS REMARKABLE WRECK ON C. P. R.

Eight Box Cars on the Siding at St. Joachim, Tossed in All Directions.

The local C. P. R. auxiliary was called to St. Joachim at 6:30 yesterday morning to clear up one of the most remarkable wrecks that has ever come under the notice of railroad men in this vicinity. In the siding at St. Joachim, a village a few miles west of Chatham, were between thirty and forty empty box cars. Early in the morning a terrific cyclone passed over the district, and when it struck the cars it swept a path clean through them for eight car lengths. The cars were lifted from the tracks and strewn about in all directions. Some were piled up on end, while others were twisted around and broken by the force of the wind. In one or two instances the body of the car was torn away leaving the trucks on the track. Conductor Short-hill of London, saw the cars a little while after they abandoned their pig-iron and states that it is one of the most remarkable occurrences that he has ever known. The crew from London were aided by the auxiliary from Windsor, and it took the combined forces several hours to replace the cars and reopen the line. The damage will amount to several hundred dollars, although in several cases the cars are simply turned over and not damaged at all. The cyclone seems to have spent its force on the cars for no damage is reported from the surrounding country.

RE-INSURANCE OF MUTUAL RESERVE

Toronto, April 27.—An agreement was consummated this morning between the National Life Insurance Company, of this city, and E. R. C. Clarkson, liquidator of the Mutual Reserve Life Insurance Company, of New York, whereby the National Life undertakes to reinsure the whole and limited pay policies of the Mutual Reserve Company, which have been issued in Canada since 1898, on medical examination, and give all the benefit of the usual commissions, which they otherwise would have to pay, on the consent of eighty per cent of their class. The total amount of insurance in force is $2,500,000. The reinsurance is made on a basis of the Mutual Reserve's charges as premiums on its best risks. The agreement is regarded as one of the best interests of all concerned, and has been approved by the official referee, Mr. McAndrews, at Montreal.

NEW CENTRAL AMERICAN CRISIS MEXICAN TROOPS ON THE MOVE

Hondurans Now Threaten the Frontier of Guatemala.

City of Mexico, April 27.—President Diaz and his Cabinet were in session for more than two hours today, and it reported that the Guatemalan crisis was under discussion. A dispatch received here says the Honduran troops are mobilizing on the Guatemalan frontier. Batteries of Mexican mounted artillery, under command of Col. Miguel Gil, have left this city for Tapachula, on the Guatemalan border, and it is reported that regiments from Mexico City, Vera Cruz, Oaxaca, and Yucatan are under orders to leave. Ambassador Enrique C. Creel, the Mexican commissioner who is to accompany the American envoy, W. I. Buchanan, on the cruiser Albany on a mission to Central and South American republics, has just arrived in this city from Chihuahua.

tion of the fact that Liberals in large numbers supported him. In 1903, apparently with the expectation of losing Liberal support, Mr. Whitney's appreciation is expressed by giving the Liberals. There were a grim humor in the situation did it not favor so strongly of the very ordinary, commonplace and tricky politician.

The Three-Fifths Clause.

"When the Government passed the three-fifths clause of the local option act they were guilty of reactionary legislation. Ever since Ontario became a Province the majority in a municipality has had the right to decide upon the granting of licenses. These rights were firmly established and founded upon a sense of British justice and equality. Why have the Government tampered with them?"

Suspicious Acts.

"A Judge only a few days ago declined to hear a case in which his son-in-law was a witness. In the La Rose case the brother-in-law of one of the ministers was a claimant, and $10,000 was given to him and his associates. The explanation is that the recipients of this large sum furnished valuable information to the Government. What was the information? The people paid for it and should know what it is."

"The close of the session witnessed a rapid degeneration in the Government. Their acts have been suspicious, and the Province should be on the watch."

"Every Liberal—and there are many—who from a sense of duty supported in the last campaign the party now in power, when he considers the present situation will perceive that the same sense of duty will compel him to labor for a strong and able Opposition."

Too Much Lobbying.

"The lobbying system has developed rapidly, and is now pernicious and dangerous. The Government alone can provide the remedy. The favorites of the Government—lawyers and others who trade on their ability to manipulate the members of the cabinet and their supporters—are the potent forces of the lobby. The Government are aware of this and should give redress."

"There has been a tendency to shirk responsibility and to conceal what should be public. Work for which the departments should be responsible has been handed over to commissions. By special statutes salaries of ministers increased as they have been, and other expenditures have been somewhat concealed. In this way the passing of appropriations is avoided."

The Mackenzie Guarantee.

"Perhaps the most conspicuous act of the recent session was the guarantee

RAISULI ASSASSINATED

Famous Bandit Ambushed By a Party of Leymes Tribesmen.

Paris, April 27.—A news agency here has what purports to be confirmation of the report of Raisuli's assassination. According to this information, the bandit was ambushed by a number of Leymes tribesmen while returning to his home from a native feast offered in his honor. Other reports express doubt as to the truth of the rumors.

LABOR INTERESTS A DANGER

Canadian Exclusiveness May Injure Country and Empire.

London, April 27.—The Morning Post criticizes the labor revolt in Canada against foreign emigration, and says there is real danger of sectional interests hindering not only the development of Canada, but also the development of closer bonds with different portions of the empire.

ACTION TO MITIGATE THE CIGARETTE EVIL

Dominion Government Is Considering Best Form of Legislation.

Ottawa, April 27.—In the House of Commons tonight, Hugh Blain (Peel) read a letter from President Brantford, of the W. C. T. U., stating that it was understood that a bill is being prepared by the Government to deal with the matter of the importation, manufacture and sale of cigarettes in Canada. He inquired if this statement was correct.

Hon. W. S. Fielding replied that he was unable to give the House any definite information. The subject, he said, had been engaged the attention of the Government, and it was quite possible that before the end of the session some legislation would be introduced. If so it would not, however, be exactly along the lines indicated in the letter received.

SEIZED A STILL.

Quebec, Que., April 27.—Revenue Officer Edmund Trudel made a clever seizure of an illicit still a few days ago at St. Pamphile, county of L'Islet. The still was brought up to Quebec and the operator who had been carrying on his illicit work for some years past will have to stand trial at L'Islet.

FLOATED ON ICE FOR MANY HOURS

Terrible Suffering of Victims of the Notre Dame de la Salette Landslide.

Ottawa, April 27.—The full reports from the scene of the disaster at Notre Dame de la Salette cannot reach all the other passengers, being up to the axles in mud. The first newspaperman on the spot left his team seven miles from the scene to foot it. The next man saddled the best horse and rode on. The first communication today is from Poulapone, where they abandoned their pig-iron. The men got the first correct bulletin there of the stricken horses, which is as follows: In the Desjardins home, Mrs. Paul Desjardins and two boys dead, one girl, 14 years old, rescued.

Deslaurier home—Mrs. and Mrs. D. Deslaurier and five children dead, and one boy rescued.

Lapointe home—Mrs. Emmanuel Lapointe and seven grandchildren dead, Mrs. Lapointe, Jun., and two children saved.

Charron home—Mrs. Napoleon Charron and three children dead.

Morris home—One child of Mr. L. Morris killed, and the other family saved.

Murray home—Mrs. Joseph Murray and five children and Mr. Adelaide Murray dead.

There are still two English-speaking men, apparently travelers, who stayed at the Desjardins Hotel, who are reported missing. Eleven people occupied the Lapointe house, eight were killed and three rescued, as with all the other families they were asleep at the time of the disaster. This house on the west side of the Lievre River was the first to be crushed in the great onrush of ice forced by the mass of clay sliding into the river. When Mrs. Camille Lapointe came to herself she was on a large cake of ice on the river, formed by the damming of the river. She floated there for two hours in her night clothes, and was revived with difficulty. On a piece of ice near her were two children, one a boy of 14, but a haystack was on the same piece and they crept to it and did not suffer so much as his mother. The old Mrs. Lapointe was 80, she lies beneath the mass of clay with seven of her grandchildren.

PREMIER COURTS FULLEST INQUIRY

Names Committee To Deal With Charges Against N. T. R. Commission.

Ottawa, April 27.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier moved today in the House of Commons that a special committee, composed of Messrs. Carvell, MacDonald (Picou) and Geoffrion, Liberals, and Barker and Lennox, Conservatives, be named to investigate the charges made by Major Hodgins against the National Transcontinental Railway commissioners.

Mr. R. L. Borden said the memorandum in denial of Hon. S. N. Parent was based only on the statements made in the Manitoba Free Press and the Ottawa Citizen. He (Mr. Borden) suggested that the motion be changed so that the scope of inquiry would not be limited to the statements made in the two papers quoted.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said the intention of the motion was to have all the charges investigated. Mr. Parent's memorandum was based on all statements available at the time. He was willing, however, to let the motion go over till tomorrow, so that the other charges could be taken cognizance of. This was agreed to.

On the motion for the third reading of Hon. Sydney Fisher's bill to amend the meat and canned foods act, David Marshall (East Elgin), objected to the amendment of Mr. McPherson (Vancouver), permitting the first purchaser of canned goods to put his distinctive label on the packages instead of the label of the canner. There could be no object in the canner improving his goods, he contended, unless his name appeared on his product. He did not object to a special label for the wholesaler or the other first purchaser, providing the canner's name was retained.

This view was opposed by Messrs. Zimmerman (Hamilton) and McPherson (Vancouver), who held that when the wholesaler puts his distinctive label on the goods he assumes the responsibility for purity and quality. The bill was further discussed in committee of the whole, when Mr. McPherson's amendment was carried, and the bill was given a third reading.

H. S. Clements was told that the site for the new postoffice at Sandwick was bought from Tim Healy for $1,700.

Hon. L. P. Brodeur introduced a bill respecting the Meaford harbor, which formally declares the harbor vested in the town.

Sir Frederick Borden informed Mr. Worthington that the Government has paid $45,000 to the Ross Rifle Company since Jan. 1, 1908.

HANDING OUT DEGREES

Queen's Will Honor Number of Well-Known Men—Bust of Carnegie.

Kingston, April 28.—The honorary degree of LL.D. will be conferred upon Sir Sandford Fleming, C.M.G., the chancellor for 33 years, Dr. L. Barker, Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md., Milton T. Hersey, M. A., consulting chemist, Montreal, and Hon. John Charlton, ex-M. P., Lynedoch, Ont., at Queen's convocation on Wednesday.

It is also understood that a bust of Andrew Carnegie will be unveiled by the chancellor.

THE TEACHERS' TRIP

Special Rate Offered by Steamship Companies for Round Trip.

Toronto, April 27.—Mr. Alfred Mosely, C. M. G., who is endeavoring to arrange for the visit of a number of Canadian teachers to the old country, paid a flying visit to Toronto this morning, and accompanied by Inspector J. L. Hughes, called on the Hon. Dr. Pyne, minister of education. The object of his visit was to apprise the minister the arrangements for the visit.

While the education department will not have anything to do with the selection of the teachers, that work being entirely in the hands of local authorities, Dr. Pyne expressed his approval of the proposal. It is hoped that the various parties will leave Ontario on various dates between September and February.

Robbed Nine Women in An Hour

New York, April 27.—A 13-year-old girl succeeded in breaking all records for picking pockets in this city. Using a baby sister of five, carrying a Teddy Bear, as a shield, she opened the purses of nine shoppers and stole over $1,500 in cash and ten diamond rings, in a little less than sixty minutes. However, she was soon caught and is now in jail.

Mr. Mathias Dery, of Ottawa, also lost $175. He paid it out to doctors who failed to do him any good for indigestion and dyspepsia. "Hearing 'Fruit-a-lives' praised so highly," writes Mr. Dery, "I decided to try them. The result is, that I am completely cured after using only two boxes. I cannot praise 'Fruit-a-lives' too much, and I would not be without them in the house."

One dollar's worth of "Fruit-a-lives" cured him when $175 spent for doctors, failed. "Fruit-a-lives" are fruit juices and tonics in tablet form. Fifty cents a box—$2.50. At all dealers.

PREMIER COURTS FULLEST INQUIRY

Names Committee To Deal With Charges Against N. T. R. Commission.

Ottawa, April 27.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier moved today in the House of Commons that a special committee, composed of Messrs. Carvell, MacDonald (Picou) and Geoffrion, Liberals, and Barker and Lennox, Conservatives, be named to investigate the charges made by Major Hodgins against the National Transcontinental Railway commissioners.

Mr. R. L. Borden said the memorandum in denial of Hon. S. N. Parent was based only on the statements made in the Manitoba Free Press and the Ottawa Citizen. He (Mr. Borden) suggested that the motion be changed so that the scope of inquiry would not be limited to the statements made in the two papers quoted.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said the intention of the motion was to have all the charges investigated. Mr. Parent's memorandum was based on all statements available at the time. He was willing, however, to let the motion go over till tomorrow, so that the other charges could be taken cognizance of. This was agreed to.

On the motion for the third reading of Hon. Sydney Fisher's bill to amend the meat and canned foods act, David Marshall (East Elgin), objected to the amendment of Mr. McPherson (Vancouver), permitting the first purchaser of canned goods to put his distinctive label on the packages instead of the label of the canner. There could be no object in the canner improving his goods, he contended, unless his name appeared on his product. He did not object to a special label for the wholesaler or the other first purchaser, providing the canner's name was retained.

This view was opposed by Messrs. Zimmerman (Hamilton) and McPherson (Vancouver), who held that when the wholesaler puts his distinctive label on the goods he assumes the responsibility for purity and quality. The bill was further discussed in committee of the whole, when Mr. McPherson's amendment was carried, and the bill was given a third reading.

H. S. Clements was told that the site for the new postoffice at Sandwick was bought from Tim Healy for $1,700.

Hon. L. P. Brodeur introduced a bill respecting the Meaford harbor, which formally declares the harbor vested in the town.

Sir Frederick Borden informed Mr. Worthington that the Government has paid $45,000 to the Ross Rifle Company since Jan. 1, 1908.

MAIL SUBSIDIES TO BE REVISED

Hon. Mr. Lemieux Announces That Railways Have Asked for an Increase.

Ottawa, April 27.—A statement made by Hon. Mr. Fielding in the House tonight indicated that the Government may before the end of the session bring in a bill dealing with the postage rates to be carried by the railways for carrying mails should be increased. In dealing with the points raised as to the purchase and service of the Lady Evelyn as an Atlantic mail tender, he stated that the various parties will leave Ontario on various dates between September and February.

The Canadian steamship companies have consented to give a special rate to the visiting teachers of $25 for the round trip.

The Minister of Education will issue a circular on the matter, addressed to all local educational authorities.

LONDON, TUESDAY, APRIL 28 THE COMMISSIONERS' WATER SCHEME.

The scheme which the water commissioners will submit to the judgment of the ratepayers, combines the strong points in the plans advocated by Engineers Chipman and Maury, though differing from each in some details.

Mr. Chipman recommended, first, the addition of the Kilworth springs to the Springbank system; second, the metering of half the services of the city; third, the installation of a high-pressure system, using river water; fourth, the collection of the Cronyn and White springs when required.

Mr. Maury advised, first, the collection of the water from the Cronyn and White springs, and its storage in a five-million-gallon reservoir on the north branch; second, a pumping station adjacent to this reservoir; third, the erection of sedimentation and filtration plants at the same spot, so that filtered river water could be turned into the reservoir when the spring water supply was exhausted; fourth, the laying of a new main from Springbank to the city.

The scheme which the water commissioners will place before the public provides for the immediate addition of the Kilworth, the Cronyn and the White springs, yielding a minimum flow of 1,300,000 gallons. If the experience of the Springbank system is repeated this quantity will be considerably augmented by the flow of hidden springs when excavation begins and pipes are laid.

About ten miles of mains for a high-pressure service are to be laid in the business and manufacturing districts, as recommended by Mr. Chipman, but spring water will be used instead of unfiltered river water. The water from the Cronyn and White springs, pumped into these high-pressure mains, will flow into the low pressure mains for distribution to every part of the city, except when a fire occurs within the high-pressure area. In that event the pumps will immediately furnish high-pressure, which will be confined to the high-pressure mains by valves which close automatically when the pressure rises, thus cutting off connection with the low-pressure mains. The special mains will withstand a pressure of 200 pounds to the square inch, as called for by the fire underwriters.

A filtration plant is to be installed on the north branch of the river, as an adjunct of the high-pressure service. In case of a conflagration which threatened to exhaust the reserve of spring water, the filtered river water would be turned into the high-pressure mains, but the check valves would prevent its entrance into the low-pressure mains, so that it would not mix with spring water for domestic use. When the spring water supply in the course of time became inadequate for the city's normal demands, the filtered water could be mixed with spring water for all purposes. The resort to filtered river water for household use, however, will be postponed for an indefinite period, certainly for many years, by the proposed additions to the spring water supply, and the saving effected by the extension of the meter system upon which the commissioners have wisely resolved.

ANGLO-AMERICAN ARBITRATION

In view of past experience the approval by the United States senate of the treaty of arbitration with Great Britain is not a little gratifying. In 1897 the Hay-Pauncefote treaty failed of ratification by that body. Three years ago a treaty similar to the present one failed because the senate so altered it as to destroy the object of the negotiations, and in the shape in which it emerged, it was no longer acceptable to the state department. It was feared up to a few days ago that a similar fate awaited the present treaty, which no one would have regretted more than President Roosevelt, who particularly desired to bring about the agreement before leaving office.

Undoubtedly the change in the senate's attitude on this occasion was due to a concession by the state department on an important point. The treaty of 1905 specified the main classes of international disputes to be submitted to arbitration after a special agreement between the two nations. The contention of the senate then was that there could not be an agreement, but there must be a treaty to cover each specific case, the treaty to be laid before the senate. It was here the hitch occurred.

The present treaty overcomes this difficulty by expressly stipulating that special agreements for arbitration are to be made by the President by and with the consent of the senate. While the admission of the senate as a party to the procedure is likely to weaken the principle of arbitration, the change left an opening for Ambassador Bryce to make a demand for recognition of Canada and the other self-governing colonies; the result being a provision granting Great Britain the right to refer to any self-governing dominion of the empire for its concurrence any special agreement in any way affecting its interests. This is not only a just recognition of the status of the colonies by the mother country, but greatly lessens the possibility of their interests being sacrificed in negotiations between the two great English-speaking nations.

It is true that the treaty binds neither nation to submit every question to arbitration, those affecting the "vital interests, independence or honor of the contracting states," being subjects beyond arbitration; but the fact that this treaty and similar conventions with France, Italy, Spain, Switzerland and Portugal have been ratified by the senate without the usual tail-twisting, may be regarded as an evidence of progress—that international arbitration, which a couple of decades ago was little more than a "dream, is now recognized as a wise international policy even by a body so jealous of its treaty-making powers as the United States senate.

CANADA BREAKS A RECORD.

The commerce of Canada in the fiscal year ending March 31 last, reached the record figure of $638,390,291, a gain of $25,818,940 over the preceding year.

The importations for the past year were $358,373,655, an increase of $18,008,940.

The exports for the past year were $280,016,606, an increase of $7,810,000.

The customs duties yielded in the past year $58,320,737, an increase of $5,314,281.

The following table shows that the foreign trade in this country has nearly trebled in the past twelve years:

Table with 2 columns: Year, Imports, Exports. 1896: $110,557,480; 1907-08: $358,373,655; 1908: $280,016,606.

Totals... $231,601,322; $638,390,291. There is no need for misgiving over the excess of imports. The term "an unfavorable balance of trade," is an absurd misnomer. In Canada's case the excess of imports over exports is balanced by the wealth brought into the country by newcomers; the inflow of capital for productive enterprises; and the sudden increase of purchasing power due to the rapid growth of the population.

Filtered river water may some day be a necessary evil, but sufficient unto the day, etc.

The C. P. R. machinists have turned to the Lemieux act for a solution of their troubles. As the dispute is not one of wages, but involves the question of the open shop, the act may receive its severest test.

The Ontario Conservatives hailed R. v. D. C. Hossack as a heaven-sent champion in 1905. This clerical polemic now jabs his sharp pen into the Whittier Government. He is one of many who have had their eyes opened by the gerrymander and the spoils system.

The United States Senate, like the other branch of Congress, has thrown out the President's programme of four new battleships per year. The Senate may have been actuated by dislike of the President, but in this case it is serving the cause of peace and civilization.

Our local contemporary is widely astray in saying that the combined yield of the Kilworth, Cronyn and White springs is 500,000 gallons daily. The minimum estimate is 1,300,000 gallons daily. The Kilworth springs alone will furnish 500,000 gallons, and one engineer went so far as to place the quantity at a million gallons.

A GOOD JOKE. [Windsor Record.] The Mall and Empire says that the licensing system has been taken out of the Conservative organ should have sprung that statement on April 1.

PATERNAL AMBITION. [Washington Star.] "Is your boy Josh going to study law?" "I don't know," answered Farmer Cornsoll. "I'm kind of hopin' that Josh'll develop financial energy enough to get to be one of the fellows that hires the lawyers."

WHEN IT RAINS. [New York Sun.] Stella—Got a Merry Widow hat? Bella—Yes, and now I am looking for a Merry Widow umbrella.

MR. CHURCHILL AND LIBERAL POLICY. [Windsor Record.] [Windsor Churchill, at Liverpool.] By following the principles of policy, economic and moral, discovered by the great men of the past, and bound to us more closely by the science of the present, the people will gradually surely arrive at better and brighter days. There is first the cause of peace among the nations; there is the cause of education—not that sectarian controversy of which a good many of us have heard enough, and which I trust is now approaching a harmonious conclusion—(cheers)—but the real cause of education, the instruction and disciplining and training of children and young persons to become successful citizens. (Hear, hear.) There is the constructive cause of social machinery which I have tried to indicate to you in speaking of unemployment; the necessary provision which we have got to try to make, and the insurance and curative machinery designed to correct and alleviate the consequences of a highly competitive system. There is the noble cause of temperance—(loud cheers)—well worth fighting for—(cheers)—well worth running risks for—(prolonged cheers). There is freedom of trade, which we have still to guard. There is the war, which we have yet to win. (Cheers.) Let us then march forward together in comradeship and faithfulness, and may we all have made enemies because of it, and my honorable friends opposite know. I know why some of these personal attacks were made on me. But these gentlemen opposite know they cannot touch a hair of my head; they know that they cannot make a charge against me, and so they have to indulge in insinuations.

REMEMBER. [Toronto News.] It is undoubtedly true that many Canadians are too critical in their attitude towards newly-arrived immigrants. As a member of Parliament has said, they should remember that their own fathers were immigrants, and be a little more sympathetic. But for settlers from the old land, British North America would still be wilderness, and there would be no such political factor in the world as Canada.

IN PRAISE OF AVOIRDUPOIS. [Chicago News.] There's some what like the tender kind that's graceful as the willow. But I prefer a woman with a form that's like a pillar.

The comfortable lumpy ones with china that's sorter double— A woman with a chin like that ain't never huntin' trouble.

You find, too, when they're good an' plump they're tender an' forgivin'. An' then their weight is vengeance they're fonder of good livin'.

I never did go much on bones, a'though I never tried 'em. I've seen a couple of 'em get two hundred pound or so of flesh to hide 'em.

I don't b'lieve so much in looks; these gals that's so good-lookin'. Ain't never with a hill o' beans when it comes down to cookin'.

Some likes 'em young, but me, I don't. I always did consider They're better middle-aged. I've no objections to a widdler.

Not too derned smart. The smartness in a woman ain't my idyl. Jest smart enough to cook good meals an' keep the house up tidy.

This marryin' is scarry work, but still if I should risk it I'd know that I was sartin of good pie an' decent biscuit.

Of pork and beans an' beef an' greens, cooked so a man could eat 'em. Them's two great combinations an' it's pretty hard to beat 'em.

You fill me up with beef an' greens—cooked right without no messin'—An' I'd hug my mummy an' give the beast my bressin'.

I ain't romantic that may be. I don't make no pretensions in the growin'. But when it comes to woman I will take the large dimensions.

MENTALLY UNBALANCED. [Judge.] "How is your little boy getting on at school?" "Fine. He simply loves his teacher." "Had him examined by a doctor yet, to see if there is anything the matter with him?"

GROWING INDEPENDENCE. [Toronto World.] One of the most encouraging things in Canadian life is the growing spirit of independence. There is still far too much of blind, unreasoning, conscience-deadening partisanship, but the independent spirit is abroad and is growing.

Even men not mentally strong enough or morally brave enough to take a manly stand themselves for principle, are yet glad to see evidence of courageous independence in others, and are ready, once the way is blazed, and the pathway made safe, to follow wherever men of robust honesty and forceful manhood may lead.

THE SCOTCH IN CANADA. [Toronto Star.] Canada will have an exhibit at Edinburgh. One of the most interesting exhibits for Scotsmen that Canada could have would be a booklet with the lives of Sir Oliver Mowat and Sir John Macdonald, showing the Scotchmen get along in this country.

THE USUAL RESULT. [Illustrated Bits.] Evelyn—He's a very learned man. You wouldn't think so, would you? Evyln—No, I suspected it at once. Evyln—Indeed? Naticca—Yes; he makes me so tired.

OUR GREAT COUNTRY. [Ottawa Citizen.] No Canadian can read the trade figures for the fiscal year ending last month without a thrill of pride, followed by a feeling of wonder as to what the progress of Canada will be in a quarter of a century hence. For the year 1907-08 our total trade reached the enormous figure of over $638,000,000. That is more than $100 for every man, woman and child in Canada, Eskimau and papoose, and more than that, it is an increase of nearly $25,000,000 over the former year. Some people, noting the trend of our conditions in these tries, speak of the possibility of hard times, but even if Canada simply held her own, instead of advancing with the wonderful strides of the past decade, she would be a wealthy and prosperous country in proportion to her population as compared with other lands.

CANNOT MAKE A CHARGE. [Hon. L. P. Brodeur.] I have a sense of honor which perhaps some gentlemen opposite don't understand. Since I have been in public life I defy anybody in the house or out of it to make any charge that may affect my honesty or my sense of duty in the administration of public affairs. I know what I owe to my country, and I can assure the House that so long as I occupy a position of trust in public life I will never be found not carrying out that trust in a proper way. That has been my policy in the past, that is my policy to-day, that will be always my policy. I may make enemies because of it. I know I have made enemies because of it, and my honorable friends opposite know. I know why some of these personal attacks were made on me. But these gentlemen opposite know they cannot touch a hair of my head; they know that they cannot make a charge against me, and so they have to indulge in insinuations.

A UNIQUE SENTENCE. [New York Tribune.] A sentence, probably unique in this country, was recently pronounced by a magistrate in Exeter. Two youngsters of 12 years had been convicted of throwing stones, to the destruction of property, and the perils of passers-by. Just how to deal with such youthful offenders was a puzzle for the court for a while, but after due thought the judge hit upon the happy thought of turning the youngsters "fun" into a penalty. He ordered a police sergeant to take the boys back to the lot where they had been captured, and make them spend a half-hour in throwing stones as fast as they could pick them up. The sergeant obeyed orders to the letter, and the youngsters got enough of the fun of throwing to last them the rest of their lives.

THE VALUE OF GOOD CHEER. [Chicago Record-Herald.] It matters little how you try, You'll not get far nor very high If you are striving sadly; You may attempt to do your best, But if forebodings fill your breast Things will keep going badly.

Learn how to do the best you may And while you labor day by day Let gladness fare beside you; With cheer upon your countenance You may triumphantly advance With few delights denied you.

WHAT IS THE DEFENSE? [Brantford Expositor.] The Conservative Government in this Province, after three short years of office, will soon be on trial. Among the features of its administration it will have difficulty in defending are: The administration of Justice in the Orangeville case. The exposures in the license investigation in Toronto. The dismissal of civil servants for partisan ends. The introduction of the odious system of investigation by Government commissioners.

The Canadian Northern guarantee of $2,500,000. The grant of $30,000 to the La Rose mine proprietors. These are all issues of moment, and are being urged by Liberal and Independent journals against the Government. No amount of explaining on the part of supporters of the administration can free it from responsibility in connection with these incidents. The Government must accept the situation with its attendant results.

JAPANESE COLONY FOR THE WEST Party of 200 Want To Locate as Agriculturists on the Irrigation Lands.

Ottawa, April 27.—The Postmaster-General and Minister of Labor, Hon. Mr. Lemieux, replying in the House today to a question by Ralph Smith (Nanaimo) gave particulars of the proposal recently made to the Government to establish a Japanese farming community on the irrigation lands in the west.

Mr. Lemieux read a letter received from the late Charles Drinkwater, of the C. P. R., dated March 25, 1908, in which Mr. Drinkwater said that the Japanese were willing to leave the Philippine Islands for Canada.

On March 30, Mr. Oliver replied that if the proposed arrangement was in the nature of a contract it could not be approved. A limited number of domestics or farm laborers could be admitted direct from Japan, but under the new regulation recently passed they could not be brought from the Philippines.

Mr. Lemieux added that this was the only application received by the Government.

ASK ARBITRATION RE C. P. R. SHOPS The Employees Desire To Take Advantage of Lemieux Act.

Winnipeg, April 27.—The employees of the C. P. R. who are engaged in the company's shops held a meeting here today and voted to apply to Ottawa for a board of arbitration under the Lemieux act, and have appointed Joseph Somerville as their representative.

The meeting was unanimous and the denunciation of the company's "open shop" movement were most strenuous.

The general feeling expressed was that the action of the railway companies toward the machinists' union is but the preliminary step in a general attempt to break up all of the unions, and that if the machinists are forced to accept new rules, other unions of railway employees will be attacked at a later date, when the companies feel strong enough to undertake such action. By breaking up the unions at a time the company might be able to get open shop in all departments of railway work.

The men say that so far as they are concerned they are not looking for a strike, and do not want to have any trouble with the company. Instead of the men having made any move in the matter, the company has taken initiative, and has served notice of withdrawal of certain concessions, taking advantage of the fact that there is a shortage of work at the present season due to a falling off in traffic.

Working from this standpoint the men feel that the company is preparing to force a number of unwelcome changes on the union, for, with the number of men thrown out of work by the slack season, there would not be the same difficulty in securing labor in the shops as there would have been last year, when everything was busy and men were scarce.

The shops are now closed until May 4, and 5,000 men are out of work.

THE CRIMSON BLIND

BY FRED M. WHITE

"In my pocket I have a cutting from the Times, which contains a chapter from the history of a medical student who is alone in London. It closely resembles my plot. He says he has no friends, and he deems it prudent for reasons we need not discuss to let the world assume that he is dead. The rest is tolerably easy. He disguises himself and goes to a doctor of repute, whom he asks to come and see his brother—i. e., himself—who is dangerously ill. The doctor goes later in the day and finds his patient in bed with severe internal inflammation. This is brought about by a free use of alcohol. I don't know what amount of alcohol one would take without extreme risk, but you could pump that information out of any doctor. Well, our medical man calls again and we are again, and finds his patient sinking. The next day the patient, disguised calls upon his doctor with the information that his brother is dead. The doctor is not in the least surprised, and without going to view the body gives a certificate of death. Now, I admit that all this sounds cheap and theatrical, but you can't get over facts. The thing actually happened a little time ago in London, and there is no reason why it shouldn't happen again."

"You suggest that I should do this thing?" the voice asked.

"Fardon me, I did nothing of the kind," Steel replied. "You asked me to show you how my heroine gets herself out of a terrible position, and I am doing it. You are not without friends. The way I was called up tonight and the way I was brought here prove that. With the aid of your friends the thing is possible to you. You have only to find a lodging where people are not too observant and a doctor who is too busy, or too careless, to look after dead patients, and the thing is done. If you desire to be looked upon as dead—especially by a powerful enemy—I cannot recommend a more natural, rational way than this. As to the details, they may be safely left to you. The clever manner in which you have kept up the mystery tonight convinces me that I have nothing to teach you in this direction. And if there is anything more I can do—"

"Thank you, thank you, thank you," the voice cried, passionately. "To be looked upon as 'dead,' to be near to the rascal who smiles to think that I am in my grave. . . . And everything so dull and prosaic on the surface! Yes, I have friends who will aid me in the business. Some day I may be able to thank you face to face, to tell you how I managed to see your plot. May I?"

The question came quite eagerly, almost impudently. In the darkness Steel felt a hand trembling on his breast, a cool, slim hand, with many rings on the fingers. Steel took the hand and carried it to his lips.

"Nothing would give me greater pleasure," he said. "And may you be successful. Good-night."

"Good-night, and God bless you for a real gentleman and a true friend. I will go out of the room first and put the lights up afterwards. You will walk away and close the door behind you. The newspaper cutting! Thanks. And once more good-night, but let us hope not good-bye."

She was gone. Steel could hear the distant dying swish of silk, the rustling of the portiere, and then, with a flick, the lights came up again. Half-blinded by the sudden illumination Steel followed his way to the door and into the street. As he did so Howe Town Hall clock chimed two. With a cigarette between his teeth David made his way home.

He could not think it all out yet; he would wait until he was in his own comfortable chair under the roses and palms leading from his study. A fine night of adventure, truly, and a paying one. He pressed the precious packet of notes to his side and his soul expanded.

He was home at last. But surely he had closed the door before he started? He remembered distinctly trying the latch. And here the latch was back and the door open. The quick snap of the electric light declared nobody in the dining-room. Beyond, the study was in darkness. Nobody there, but—

A stain on the carpet; another by the conservatory door. Pots of flowers scattered about, and a huddled mass like a litter of empty sacks in one corner. Then the huddled mass resolved itself into the figure of a man with a white face smeared with blood. Dead! Oh, yes, dead enough.

Steel flew to the telephone and rang furiously.

"Give me 52, Police Station," he cried. "Are you there? Send somebody at once up here—15, Dundas and Terrace. There has been murder done here. For heaven's sake come quickly."

Steel dropped the receiver and stared with strained eyes at the dreadful sight before him.

As possible. Steel, watching intently, fancied that he detected a slight flicker of the muscles of the white, stark face.

"Bring the ambulance here," Cross said, curtly. "If we can get this poor chap to the hospital there is just a chance for him. Fortunately, we have not many yards to go."

As far as elucidation went Marley naturally looked to Steel.

"I should have had your explanation, sir," he said, gravely.

"Possitively, I have no explanation to offer," David replied. "About midnight I let myself out to go for a stroll, carefully closing the door behind me. Naturally, the door was on the latch. When I came back an hour or so later, to my horror and surprise, I found those marks of a struggle yonder and that poor fellow lying on the floor of the conservatory."

"Um. Was the door fast on your return?"

"No. It was pulled to, but it was open all the same."

"You didn't happen to lose your latchkey during your midnight stroll, sir?"

"No. It was only when I put my key in the door that I discovered it to be open. I have a spare latchkey which I keep for emergencies, but when I went to look for it just now the key was not to be found. When I came back the house was perfectly quiet."

"What family have you, sir? And what kind of servants?"

"There is only myself and my mother, with three maids. You may dismiss any suspicion of the servants from your mind at once. My mother trained them all in the old vicarage where I was born, and not one of the trio has been with us less than twelve years."

"That simplifies matters somewhat," Marley said, thoughtfully. "Apparently your latchkey was stolen by somebody who has made careful study of your habits. Do you generally go for late walks after your household has gone to bed, sir?"

David replied somewhat grudgingly that he had never done such a thing before. He would like to have concealed the fact, but it was bound to come out sooner or later. He had strolled along the front and round Brunswick Square. Marley shrugged his shoulders.

"It's a bit of a puzzle to me," he admitted. "You go out for a midnight walk—a thing you have never done before—and when you come home you find somebody has got into your house by means of a stolen latchkey and murdered somebody else in your study. According to that, two people must have entered the house."

"That's logic," David admitted.

"There can be no murder without the slain and the slayer. My impression is that somebody who knows the ways of the house watched me depart. Then he lured his victim in here under pretense that it was his own house—the purloined latchkey—and murdered him. Aduciolos, but a far safer way than doing it out of doors."

But Marley's imagination refused to go so far. The theory was plausible enough, he pointed out respectfully, if the assassin had been assured that these midnight rambles were a matter of custom. The point was a shrewd one, and Steel had to admit it. He almost wished now that he had suggested that the often took these midnight strolls. He regretted the fiction still more when Marley asked if he had had some appointment elsewhere tonight.

"No," David said, promptly, "I had not."

He prevaricated without hesitation. His adventure in Brunswick Square could not possibly have anything to do with the tragedy, and nothing would be gained by betraying that trust.

"I'll run around to the hospital and come and see you again in the morning, sir," Marley said. "Whatever the nature of the crime, it wasn't robbery, or the criminal would have left that cigar case of yours behind. Sir James Lythen had one stolen like that at the last races, and he valued it at £80."

"I'll come as far as the hospital with you," said Steel.

At the bottom of the flight of steps they encountered Dr. Cross and the policeman. The former handed over to Marley a pocketbook and some papers, together with a watch and chain.

"Everything that he could find upon him," he explained.

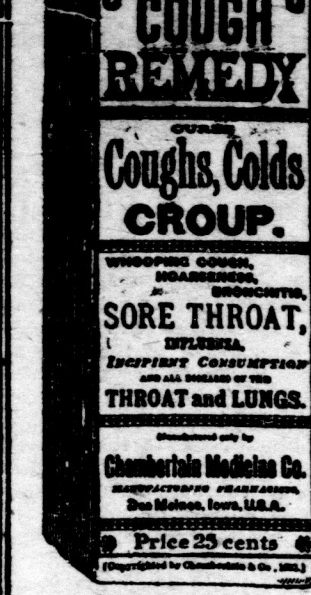

"Is the poor fellow dead yet?" David asked.

"No," Cross replied. "He was stabbed twice in the back in the region of the liver. I could not say for sure, but there is just a chance that he may recover. But one thing is pretty certain—it will be a good long time before he is in a position to say anything for himself. Good-night, Mr. Steel."

David went indoors thoughtfully, with a general feeling that his back like a hand had grasped his back and was squeezing it like a sponge. He was free from his carking anxiety now, but it seemed to him that he was paying a high price for his liberty. Mechanically, he counted the bank-notes, and almost as mechanically he put his initials on the gun-metal inside the cigar-case. He was one of the kind of men who like to have their initials everywhere.

He snapped the lights out and went to bed at last. But not to sleep. The welcome dawn came at length and David took his bath gratefully. He would have to tell his mother what had happened, suppressing all reference to the Brunswick Square episode. It was not a pleasant story, but Mrs. Steel assimilated it at length over her early tea and toast.

A GOOD NAME

EVERY one desires to establish for himself a good name, but it takes time to win the confidence of your fellow men. Truth and perseverance are the alternate rungs on the ladder of success, and he who reaches the top must make no false step.

There are hundreds of cough medicines with all sorts of names, each claiming to be the best, but the test of time will prove whether or not they have established the right to be called the best.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has had thirty-five years of sale and use, and has cured coughs and colds under all conditions, in all countries and climates, and the verdict today is that it has no equal.

Careful selection of the drugs, intelligent and skillful compounding, the entire absence of opium, chloroform, or any other harmful ingredient, and the absolute purity of every article that goes into its composition, has built up and sustained its good name.

These are the things you should remember, and the next time you want a cough medicine, it is worth while to see that you get Chamberlain's and secure the virtues which a good name implies.

Every dealer who sells a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy guarantees it to give satisfaction or he will refund the money.

CHAPTER IV. In Extremis.

For some time—a minute, an hour—Steel stood over the dreadful thing huddled upon the floor of his conservatory. Just then he was incapable of consecutive ideas.

His mind began to move at length. The more he thought of it the more absolutely certain he was that he had fastened the door before leaving the house. True, the latch was only an ordinary one, and a key might easily have been made to fit it. As a matter of fact, David had two in reserve in case of accident. The other was usually kept in a jewel-drawer of the dressing-table. Perhaps—

David went quietly upstairs. It was just possible that the murderer was in the house. But the closest search brought nothing to light. He pulled out the jewel-drawer in the dressing-table. The spare latchkey had gone! Here was something to go upon.

Then there was a rumbling of an electric bell somewhere that set David's heart beating like a drum. The hall light streamed on a policeman in uniform and an inspector in a dark overcoat and a hard felt hat. On the pavement was a long shallow tray, which David recognized mechanically as the ambulance.

"Something very serious, sir?" Inspector Marley asked, quietly. "Two brought the doctor with me."

David nodded. Both the inspector and the doctor were acquaintances of his. He closed the door and led the conservatory and not far from the huddled figure lay David's new cigar case. Doubtless, without knowing it, the owner had whisked it off the table when he had sprung the telephone.

"Um," Marley muttered. "Is this a clue, your sir?"

He lifted the case with its diamonds gleaming like stars on the dark night. David had forgotten all about it. At the time, had forgotten where it came from, or that it contained £250 in bank-notes.

"No, mine," he said. "I mean to say, of course, it is mine. A recent present. The shock of this discovery has deprived me of my senses pretty well."

Marley laid the cigar case on the table. It seemed strange to him, who could follow a tragedy calmly, that a man should forget his own property. David could see a face smooth like that of a woman. A quick little exclamation came from the doctor.

"A drop of brandy here, and quick as possible," he commanded.

"You don't mean to say," Steel began, "you don't?"

Cross waved his arm, impatiently. The brandy was procured as speedily

PETER QUAKES ON HIS THRONE

Anti-Regicide Revolt Constantly Grows in Boldness and Activity in Servia.

London, April 27.—From time to time there comes news from Belgrade of such a nature as to force speculation as to how long King Peter will remain seated on his blood-stained throne.

Chafing under the court predominance of the regicides, their opponents seem daily to grow bolder in their expression of hatred and determination to rid the country of the men who are the cause of its practical boycott among the nations of Europe. Each time that the miserable monarch attempts some step to satisfy the anti-regicides it is evident that he is given a grim reminder that the men who murdered King Alexander would not shrink from the murder of King Peter.

The Servian king's latest experience of his humiliating position was on April 19, the Servian Palm Sunday, when he sat in the cathedral at Belgrade and was forced to hear himself publicly condemned by a crowd and congregation by a military chaplain. In addition to the king all the notabilities of the city were present in the church when the preacher's opening words aroused at once admiration and consternation.

Opposite Topic.

Taking advantage of the fact that the day was the anniversary of an event which happened a century ago, the preacher was able to speak directly to the king of the circumstances of his accession in words which nominally applied to events of a hundred years ago.

"My conscience," he said, "will not allow me to pass over the national importance of this date, which is so closely associated with the great Serbian dynasty." He then referred to the uprising against the Turks under Milosh Obrenovitch on Palm Sunday and the deliverance of the Belgrade fortress to Prince Michael Obrenovitch.

Pointing to the latter's tomb he cried: "There lies a ruler who, without shedding a drop of blood gave back to Servia her inheritance, and in return fell by the hands of a hired assassin. Shame on the miscreant who compassed the death of this patriot prince."

The preacher then extolled the Obrenovitch rulers and called on the congregation to join him in crying "Honor to them, honor."

King Peter sat rigid in his pew and stared fixedly before him while the excited congregation, which was at the moment silent, caught up the words and "honor to them, honor to them" to the roof, starting the crowds outside, while the hapless star of the Obrenovitch dynasty listened in impotent silence.

When the priest descended from the pulpit he was congratulated in the sacristy by all the priests present, who thanked him for his independence, offering him pecuniary aid as soon as his dismissal was decreed by the Government.

The deliverance of such a sermon in the presence of the metropolitan gives double significance to the daring policy of the clergy. The priest informed the metropolitan of his intention before hand. The metropolitan at first demurred, but finally consented with the words: "God bless you, my son, but the consequence will be on your own head."

CHARGED WITH VIOLATING RULES

Wabash Conductor Arrested in Connection With a Fatal Accident.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

St. Thomas, April 27.—Charged with violating rules of the railway company by taking a portion of his train from Corinth to Tillsonburg without orders, thereby causing a wreck which killed G. T. R. Engineer John J. Walker, St. Thomas, and brakeman John Cray, of Windsor, John Lawton, Wabash conductor of this city, was arrested today. Before Police Magistrate Hunt he was allowed bail of $2,000 to appear in a week.

The jury a few days ago in giving a verdict of $5,000 for Walker's death against the Wabash, blamed Lawton for not properly protecting half of the train left on Tillsonburg siding, Jan. 2nd last, and with running without orders.

ALLIANCE TO ACT

May Move Against Street Railway Because of Sunday Work.

It was stated yesterday that the Lord's Day Alliance intend taking action against the London Street Railway Company for allowing their men to work yesterday in connection with the moving of the tracks on Dundas street from Wellington street east. The company had a gang of men at work all day fixing the tracks and arranging the wires, and it is this work that the alliance so strongly objects to.

STRUCK BY LIGHTING

Walkerville Oarsmen Heavy Losers by Sunday Night's Electrical Storm.

Walkerville, Ont., April 27.—The building of the Tecumseh Boat Club was burned to the ground during the prevalence of a severe thunderstorm last night. Four racing shells, six rowboats, three canoes and two launches were lost in the fire, but the severest loss to the club is that of the ten-oared barge Elif, presented to the club by Mr. Frank Walker, of Walker & Sons, and valued at $1,000. The total loss approximates $8,000, with only $1,200 insurance. Coming as it does at the opening of the season, the loss is a bitter blow to the enthusiastic members of the club. The fire is supposed to have been caused by lightning. It burned so quickly that nothing could be done to stay it. One of the Detroit fire-teams came over, but the building was by this time wholly enveloped in flames.

A TRIBUTE TO "C. B."

London, April 27.—The House of Commons today reassembled after the Easter holidays. After listening to several speeches, in which tribute was paid to the late Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, whose funeral occurred today, the House adjourned until tomorrow out of respect to the memory of the late premier.

We have yet to hear of a case of catarrhal trouble, bronchitis or asthma that failed to yield to Catarrhazone; its success among the people of many nations has been phenomenal. No remedy could accomplish so much without true merit.

Miss Counter, of Windsor, Ont., says: "I contracted a heavy cold that settled on my lungs and resisted all treatment. After I had tried several doctors here and specialists in Detroit without benefit I went to my druggist Mr. D'Avignon, and asked him for the best remedy he had for cold on the lungs. He recommended Catarrhazone which cured my cold in one week. I brought back my voice, and I have ever since been free from my old trouble. For coughs, colds and lung trouble I am sure that Catarrhazone is the best remedy. It goes right to the sore spot, gives quick relief and makes a lasting cure."

Gas is liable to puff out of the front door of any furnace unprovided for gas escape.

"Sunshine" Furnace has Automatic Gas Damper directly connected with smoke-pipe. Gas pressure sways damper sufficiently for it to escape up chimney (see illustration), but heat doesn't escape.

What does "Sunshine" Gas Damper mean to "Sunshine" Furnace? Means protection to the furnace parts against evil effects of gas.

What does "Sunshine" Gas Damper mean to "Sunshine" household? Means furnace can be operated without fear as to "puffing" gas; furnace can be left without doubt as to whereabouts of gas.

What does "Sunshine" Gas Damper mean to "Sunshine" coal account? It means, instead of owner with "ordinary furnace" fear having to keep check-draft indefinitely closed to "let off" gas—when there's two-thirds parts of heat-energy to one part of gas passing up chimney—draft can with all safety be opened, and coal saved for another day's duty.

Debentures

More people would put their savings in the Debentures of this Company if they realized the simplicity and safety of this form of investment. It merely means that one deposits a certain amount—any sum over $100—with this Company for a period of time, not less than one year, preferably five years, or less if desired. The debenture form which the depositor receives is a promise of the Company to pay the sum mentioned, plus the interest, at 4 per cent. per annum at the time of expiration. This promise is secured by over $11,000,000 of assets. The interest coupons attached are the same as cash and can be deposited as such. Huron & Erie Debentures are an investment of the highest class, and the man with small savings can share in it equally as well as the capitalist. Write for full particulars.

was to have received $15 a week for her services. In recognition of the excellent work done by Miss Faulds, Mr. Trot was made a beneficiary under his will to the extent of a house and lot in Mount Brydges, valued at $1,500, but later revoked the will and left his second estate, valued at $12,000, to his second wife.

Fourth Resignation at the Hospital

Dr. John Adams, who has been house surgeon at Victoria Hospital for the last year, has resigned, and leaves shortly for Seattle, Washington, where he will practice.

Dr. Adams was to have been appointed chief in place of Dr. McGill.

A Successful Congregational Social

A good attendance, enjoyable games and a much appreciated musical and literary programme were features of a very successful social held under the auspices of the First Congregational

Guild in the school room of the church last evening. Mr. Alexander Beck presided in his usual happy manner, and introduced the following programme, which was enjoyed throughout: Read-

ISOLATION HOSPITAL PLANS APPROVED

By the Hospital Trust—Work Will Be Commenced Shortly.

The plans of the new isolation hospital will be presented to the special hospital committee at its meeting tonight.

"The plans have been approved by the hospital trust, and a number of physicians," said Ald. Stewart. "I think we will get the building under way very shortly. We want to get this work done as soon as possible, and are already a month behind, and it will keep us hustling to get the work done in time. However, we will do our best. I think the hospital can be built for less than $50,000."

NEW WATER SCHEME

(Continued From Page One.) "The filtration plant is a reserve plant. We have a storage basin at Springbank with a couple of millions of gallons in reserve."

Mayor Speaks. "The scheme we will submit is all right, and is the only solution," said Mayor Staley. "The flow of the Kilworth springs, and the Cronyn and White springs is 1,200,000 gallons, and not 500,000 gallons as the Free Press states."

NOT A SIGN OF PRIVATE MOIR

(Continued From Page One.) "Have" all the American cities along the lake been notified to be on the lookout?" was asked.

"Some of them have," was the answer, "but the matter has not been gone into thoroughly, and won't be until a reward is offered."

People Want Spring Water

"As Engineer Moore pointed out in the beginning, if filtration alone is wanted, the south branch was the place to go for the water. There is plenty of it there, and the cost would be so excessive as the north branch is said to be. However, the people of London want good water, and we went where the good water is. I think the scheme is all right. We have not put it up to be knocked down but we put it up because it is the best scheme, and settles the water problem for all time to come."

Commissioner Jones

"We all want spring water if we can get it," said Commissioner Jones, "but a number of us thought that it could not be obtained in large enough quantities. So we advocated filtration. However, we have now discovered a better scheme, I think."

Local Items

—Mr. Norman Lusher, Canadian passenger agent, London and North-western Railway, of England, called on P. B. Clarke, steamship agent, yesterday.

—Hewer's Male Quartet and Miss Isabelle Wilkie, contralto, are furnishing part of the programme at the Wellington Street Methodist Church concert tonight.

—Mrs. Charles Thorn and her daughter, after a three months' visit with Mrs. Thorn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Holmes, of Front street, left on Thursday for the West. They were accompanied by Mrs. Thomas Delaney and her daughter, also of Front street. Mrs. Delaney intends to visit her parents in Winnipeg, and Mr. and Mrs. Thorn intend to make their home in Durban, Man., where Mr. Thorn has been since the 1st of January.

Wedded in St. Peter's

A quiet wedding was solemnized in St. Peter's Cathedral this morning, when Miss Annie Fairbairn was married to Mr. Roland Insell, of this city.

Transferred to Toronto

Mr. D. E. Campbell, of the Bank of Toronto, here, has been transferred to the head office at Toronto, and leaves this evening for his new position.

Passed the Examinations

Among the students who passed the senior examinations at the Royal College of Dental Students, Toronto, was Mr. John Freeman Blair, of this city, who is connected with the dentistry firm of Windsor & Abbott.

Historical Society

The annual meeting of the Historical Society will be held in the rooms above the public library this evening. Mr. C. G. Jarvis will read a paper on the "History of the Beccoloni Club," and Mr. Henry Macklin will give an address on "The Seven Edwards of England." A large attendance is expected.

Auditorium Recital. The recital in the Auditorium tonight to be given by Mr. Maurice Poure, London's talented violinist, is attracting a great deal of attention, and it promises to be one of the musical events of the season. Mr. Poure will be assisted by Mr. Angelo Cortese, violinist; Miss Beatrice Hunt, soprano soloist, and Mr. A. D. Jordan, pianist.

Have Gone to Toronto

Mrs. T. H. Tennant and Mrs. Gordon Wright left for Toronto this morning to attend the board meeting of the Women's Missionary Society.

A Dutch Supper

A Dutch Supper, provided by the ladies' auxiliary, in the Y. M. C. A., proved a most enjoyable affair last evening for a number of the members who were present.

A Retail Store

It is understood that W. J. Reid & Co. have leased the building occupied by the Rogers Electric Company on Dundas street near Richmond, and will open a retail china and glassware store there shortly.

Nothing in Rumor

Mr. J. K. H. Pope, of the McClary Manufacturing Company, who is acting as manager in the absence of Col. Gartsch, stated to The Advertiser this afternoon that there is no truth whatever in the rumor that the firm is going to close down for three months after May 1. Mr. Pope states that there is plenty of work on hand.

All Hope Abandoned

All hope for the recovery of Mr. Duncan Gillies, a Nairn farmer who was recently stricken with paralysis while harnessing his horse in a hotel shed, has been given up, and yesterday Mr. Gillies made his will. Mr. Gillies is a well-to-do farmer, and prior to his recent misfortune had scarcely missed a day of illness. Mr. Gillies' father-in-law was stricken with paralysis last January in the same manner that he was, and died shortly afterward.

A GOOD MARKET DESPITE RAIN

LOCAL MARKET.
Tuesday, April 28.

The weather, though unpleasant, did not prevent a considerable number of farmers and buyers from attending the market today. Sales were quite brisk for everything offered, excepting hay.

Prices as a rule held firm.

Grain—Oats were the only kind of grain offered, and there was only three loads offered, which sold at $1.60 per cwt.

Hay and Straw—There were 40 loads of hay marketed today; sales were slow at $12 to $13.50 per ton. No straw offered.

Butter and Eggs—The supply of butter was smaller than was expected, and sales were brisk at 27c to 28c for pound rolls, and 25c to 27c for crocks. Eggs were in good demand, and more could have been sold without any trouble; sales were made at 16c per dozen, and 17c retail.

Vegetables—Potatoes sold at $1 per bushel, and $1.05 to $1.10 retail. Rhubarb, $1.00 at 80c per dozen. Lettuce and radishes, 40c per dozen. Green onions, 25c to 30c per dozen. Spinach, 75c per bushel.

Apples—The supply was small and prices steady at $1.75 to $2.25 per barrel, or 50c to 90c per bag.

There was no change in the prices of poultry. The supply was small.

The colder weather had an effect on the demand for dressed hogs, as sales were brisk and prices higher at $8.25 to $8.75 per cwt, more selling at $8.50 per cwt.

Butchers' Meat—Beef sold at $7.50 to $9 per cwt. Veal $5.50 to $7.50 per cwt. Spring lambs, $5.50 to $6.50 per cwt, and yearling 13c per pound.

MAYOR MOVES RE A GRAND STAND

For People Who Attend the East End Games.

The agitation for a grandstand for baseball fans in Queen's Park is still a live topic in the East End.

There are now several propositions being considered. This morning Mayor Stevely had a conference with a committee of the Fair board.

It was understood that the south "bleacher" was to be removed by the fair board, as it did not pay.

This, the mayor attempted to procure, but the committee of the board had decided that the stand should be left where it is.

If a stand was erected on the present diamond no admission could be charged, as it would be on city property. Neither could a collection be taken by anyone, although it would be permissible to place a plate at the entrance for voluntary contributions.

A proposition is now being considered to erect a stand and diamond within the race track ring. As that section of the park belongs to the Fair Association a collection or admission could be charged.

Another idea which is for a contract or is now figuring is for a stand built in sections.

Each section would have four rows of seats, and would be twelve feet long. A number of these sections could be placed around the diamond and could be easily removed.

It is understood that a stand of some kind will be erected before the close of the season.

MAY PROTEST RE "BILL" FLEMING PLAYING

Chance of a Row in East End Ball Circles.

It is understood among east end baseball fans that the North End Stars will protest against Bill Fleming playing with the Anchors this season. The only grounds for the protest is that Fleming was not in the city before April 1.

"The protest will undoubtedly be overruled by the executive," said an Anchor player. "At that time there was a rule compelling players to be in the city before April 1, but that has since been rescinded."

ALD. MOORHEAD HAS A GOOD PROPOSITION

Re the Providing of a Grandstand for East End Baseball Fans.

Ald. Moorhead, who generally holds his head pretty level, is out with a scheme to give East End baseball fans a grandstand without using the taxes of the people to provide the stand.

Ald. Moorhead points out that for 340 days in the year the grandstands at Queen's Park are idle.

He would ask the Western Fair board to be allowed to fit up a diamond on the park, immediately inside the ring and directly in front of the stands. The league games could be played there, and the people could enjoy themselves in thousands.

Were it not for the fact that the spectators are compelled to stand on the grass during the games, there would be hundreds of ladies who would attend the baseball games, as well as many men of mature years, for baseball is always interesting and exciting, and moreover, is the cleanest sport known today.

The cost of fitting up the diamond would not be very much, and it could remain for years. If a stand was erected, as has been suggested, on the outer grounds, it would have to be taken down every fair time, and would thus be not alone a nuisance, but a very considerable expense.

CHOIR CONCERT IN KING STREET CHURCH

Excellent Programme Carried Out by Local Artists.

The King Street Presbyterian choir held its annual concert at the church last night, and was very successful.

There was a large audience present and the programme was greatly enjoyed.

The choir was assisted by Miss Beatrice Hunt, soprano; Miss Ida Westman, violinist; Mr. H. St. George, cornetist; Mr. Ed. Webster, bass; and Mr. A. D. Jordan, organist of the First Methodist Church.

The choir was led by Mr. Roselle Pooecoe.

BOUQUETS PRESENTED TO CHOIR MEMBERS

Of All Saints' Church for Valuable Services Rendered.

At All Saints' Church the other evening, the choir held a supper in place of the regular practice. After the supper, the organist, Mr. A. D. Jordan, presented the members of the choir with bouquets, as a token of appreciation for their work during the services held in the church Holy week.

THREE DELIVERIES OF MAIL DAILY

Postmaster Denny Speaks of Alleged East End Agitation.

"The story published in an evening paper yesterday about an agitation for an extra mail delivery at 3:30 p.m. is absolutely ridiculous," said Mr. A. J. Denny, the East London postmaster, to the Advertiser today. "There is already a 3:30 delivery, besides a special delivery at 1:30 p.m. All factories and other large establishments are covered by this delivery. Everybody is served at 1:30, excepting a few people, and these do not have letters very frequently."

The East End has now three deliveries daily: one at 8:30 a.m. and two in the afternoon, 1:30 and 3:30.

All the East End is covered by the 1:30 delivery, excepting a few people, while all factories, such as Somerville's, the Lamb Fence Company, Columbia handle factory, Gorman, Eckert Company, the Canada Chemical works, etc., are supplied by the 1:30 p.m.

OFFICIAL INVESTIGATION OF LAMB SIDING

Is Being Conducted by the Grand Trunk Railway.

Mr. Long, of Toronto, is in the city looking after the interests of the Grand Trunk with regard to the Lamb Fence Company siding.

He is expected that a settlement will be reached in a few days.

The trouble arose through the G. T. R. refusing to place cars from the Pora Marquette on the Lamb Fence Company siding.

The G. T. R. Company claimed that it was a public siding, and it was contrary to the rules of that company to stand cars there.

GRAND TRUNK SHOPS WILL NOT CLOSE

Official Denies a Report in Circulation in the East End.

There was a rumor afloat in the East End this morning that the Grand Trunk carshops would close down for a month.

This was denied at the shop this morning by one of the officials.

The shops have been closed since Friday, but opened up again today.

YOUNG COUPLE WEDDED IN ST. MARY'S CHURCH

Miss Gertie Murray Is Now Mrs. John Collier.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized by Rev. Father McKeon at St. Mary's Church this morning, when Miss Gertie Murray, daughter of Mr. George Murray, of Wilton Grove, became the wife of Mr. John Collier, a prosperous farmer of Crumlin.

The bride was attired in a gray traveling suit, and was assisted by her sis-

FRED J. BULLOCK DIES IN THE WEST

Well-Known Former Londoner Has Passed Away.

Word was received in this city today of the death of Mr. Fred J. Bullock, late superintendent of J. R. Morrell's Pork Packing Company, in Ottumwa, Iowa.

Mr. Bullock left this city about 30 years ago, and he was a member of the London O'Learys.

He is survived by three sisters in this city: Mrs. Jas. Mann, Mrs. Wm. Gammage, and Mrs. Thos. Nickle, of the east end.

His mother and two sisters, Mrs. Henshaw and Mrs. Shortt, now reside in Ottumwa.

The funeral will be held in Ottumwa.

EAST END NOTES.

Members of the Anchor Baseball Club are requested to be present at Queen's Park for practice on Wednesday and Friday at 6:30 p.m.

Rev. Mr. Lowe, of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, conducted the services at Pottersburg Sunday afternoon. The church was crowded and many were unable to get in.

The funeral of the late Ed. O. Shaver was held from the family residence, 356 Rectory street, this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. It was conducted by the Masons, of which he was a member, to Woodland Cemetery.

Rev. Mr. Bowen, of Egerton Street Baptist Church, returned from Galt today. Mr. Bowen gave a lecture yesterday in the Galt Y. M. C. A. on "African Experiences," he having spent many years as missionary in the Congo.

Beginning Sunday, May 3, a missionary campaign will be held in the Church of England. On Sunday Rev. G. S. Davidson will preach at All Saints' Church in the morning, and in the evening Canon Craig will occupy the pulpit.

A pretty wedding was solemnized in Rodney on the 18th, when Miss Jean McNeil became the bride of Mr. R. B. Gladstone, of East London. The ceremony was performed at the manse by Rev. Dr. Barnette. When the young couple return from their honeymoon they will reside at 415 King street.

TWENTY-THREE THE DEATH LIST

Two More Bodies Are Recovered From the Wrecked British Cruiser Gladiator.

London, April 28.—Two more bodies have been recovered from the wrecked Gladiator or another of the twenty-three already given completes the list of the missing.

The St. Paul's cargo is being transferred to the White Star liner Teutonic, preparatory to placing her in drydock.

American line officers are preparing a statement of the disaster. The chief steward of the St. Paul has sent a magnificent wreath on behalf of the stewards of Fortmouth as a token of sympathy for the lost bluejackets. A rumor was circulated last night that the St. Paul had been arrested at the instance of the admiralty court but this proved untrue. It is doubtful if this will be done as the admiralty has always been chary of submitting itself to the jurisdiction of courts. Many knotty legal points would arise in the event of either party to the collision suing for damages, but the matter is still in abeyance.

ROOSEVELT JUBILANT

Asked for Four, But Gets Two Battleships and Is Happy.

Washington, April 27.—By an overwhelming vote President Roosevelt's four battleships programme failed today in the Senate just as it did in the House. The amendment for battleships was introduced by Senator Beveridge. But twenty-three votes were cast for the increased programme.

In spite of his defeat the President is jubilant.

Two battleships a year is what he has accomplished through his fight for his naval programme. Had he been victorious in having four such ships authorized at this session, the United States could have dictated terms of disarmament to the nations of the world. Furthermore, two ships a year to follow, which the President has accepted as a bona fide stipulation on the part of the Senate means simply a programme which will place the United States in the front rank of naval progression, but which falls to place it in the position of dictating a cessation of naval aggression.

That the President on the whole is pleased with the result of his efforts with Congress on this subject was made manifest tonight; that he firmly believes in the ability of the United States to dictate the naval policy of the world in the future, through demonstration of ability to overwhelmingly outstrip rival construction, is equally manifest.

GOING TO QUEBEC.

Quebec, April 27.—The Twenty-Fifth Regiment Essex Fusiliers will come to Quebec this summer with its full establishment to take part in the Quebec tercentenary celebration. Colonel Bartlett having decided to accept the alternative offered to city regiments of taking their full complement and getting transportation and subsistence but only four days' pay.

Peanuts Had Very Narrow Escape

Jacob Fox Fined in the Police Court for Becoming Obstreperous.

Jacob Fox, charged with being drunk and disorderly, was placed on the Indian list in the police court this morning, after acknowledging that he was an habitual drunkard.

Last night Fox imbibed too freely and started in to deplete the stock of Gus Lampotus, one of the Greek peanutees.

He snatched several bags of peanuts from the pushcart and when Lampotus remonstrated, what Fox said was told in very expressive Greek English to the intense amusement of the court.

When the fight was on a crowd of 200 or more people watched it on Clarence street and took sides by turns with the Hebrew and the Greek. At last the patrol arrived with several police, and Fox was taken into custody.

Fox Fined.
Fox was ordered to pay Lampotus $2.

The Work of the Victorian Nurse

A copy of the rules printed for the guidance of the nurse of the Victorian Order are given by way of giving some insight into the work.

For over two years a nurse of the order has done faithful service in our midst, and she has responded as far as possible to the many calls made upon her, no less than 144 in March alone. It is now recognised that the field is too large to be covered single-handed, and therefore an earnest appeal will be made to our citizens to mark the anniversary of Victoria Day by their gifts in support of a beneficent work begun upon the occasion of the diamond jubilee of our late honored Queen Victoria, named after her and following out the work on lines very dear to her heart, that of ministering amongst the sick and suffering.

At the meeting, advertised in another column, it will be seen that the public will be cordially welcomed, and several of our leading citizens, including the mayor, clergy and some of our medical men having promised to attend if possible with a view to support the special effort about to be made to expand this excellent work. Will the readers of The Advertiser make a note of Thursday evening, 8 p.m. at the large room, over the Public Library?

Epworth League Elects Their Officers

The annual meeting of the Dundas Center Epworth League was held on Monday evening. Reports of committees were most encouraging, and the enthusiasm of the members promises well for the coming year.

The league has subscribed $200 towards the support of Mr. and Mrs. Westaway, missionaries in West China, the balance of their support being guaranteed by the Sunday school. The other departments of league work have been equally active and the meetings are well attended.

Officers Elected.
Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

Honorary President — Rev. E. B. Lancelotti.
President — F. W. C. McCutcheon, B. A.
Secretary — Mr. James Mayne.
Treasurer — Mr. Clifford Richardson.
Missionary Treasurer — Mr. D. C. McNaughton.
Assistant Missionary Treasurer — Chas. Wortman.

Location of the Tuberculosis Tents

"I see no objection to locating the tuberculosis tents on the sewage farm," said Ald. Stewart, chairman of the special hospital committee. "The only objection that I have heard that is of any weight whatever is the name. The site selected by the city engineer and myself on the ridge east of the septic tanks is a very beautiful location. There is a fine clump of maple trees near it. There is abundance of room. It is high and dry and there is no malaria nor odor. There is also a splendid view of a quarter of a mile and a splendid view of the river. The situation is ideal, in my mind, and I see no reason why it should be objected. It belongs to the city, and no outlet is needed. The spot spoken of is large enough to build the tuberculosis hospital on. We will lay this matter before the committee at tonight's meeting and let the committee decide."

The Track Shifting Is Now Complete

The London street railway has removed the north track on Dundas street from Wellington street to Adelaide street.

This is a stretch of practically 4,000 feet, all of which was moved 13 feet.

The work was commenced on Saturday night at midnight and was only completed this morning.

A gang of over 50 men were employed, as the task was a very heavy one.

The new track was raised over a foot higher than the old track. The wires were strung last week.

The new "T" rails have arrived and nearly all of them have been laid on the ground ready for work.

Manager King informed The Advertiser that the steel would be stretched within a week, providing the ties come within a day or two.

When the steel is down the cement work will be commenced. This will take a couple of weeks to finish.

Assistant City Engineer Kirkpatrick is busy giving the street railway company the proper levels.

The Barber Company will commence work next week.

Tracks Superintendent Pratt, of the street railway, had charge of the work of lifting the track.

THE CIGARETTE AND THE MINOR

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ottawa, April 28.—It is not at present the intention of the Government to bring in during this session any legislation to prohibit the sale and importation of cigarettes as urged in the resolution presented to the House by Mr. Blain. The question of federal legislative action in regard to cigarettes has not been decided as yet by the Government, but it has been suggested that an amendment to the criminal code might be passed prohibiting the sale of cigarettes to minors. At present several of the provinces have statutes along this line but if the resolution were incorporated in the criminal code it is believed that it could be made much more effective than it is at present under the provincial laws. If any action is taken by the Government this session it will probably be along this line.

RICH AMERICANS BRUTAL

English Woman Cites Instances of Yankee Heartlessness.

New York, April 27.—The New York Press has received the following cable from London: In discussing the effect of prosperity on character, Mrs. Humphreys, a prominent social writer, declaims against the alleged brutalizing influence of wealth on American women.

As an example, she tells of an American girl in London who was starving and desperate, but deserving, and whose case she brought to the notice of two wealthy American women residents here. They did not send even postcards in reply, but ignored the matter.

"There they are," says Mrs. Humphreys, "wallowing in their wealth and letting a poor little compatriot suffer all the miseries of bitter poverty, including the bitterness of despair. But for kinder English friends she might have committed suicide. She is now rescued from her desperate position, and, being clever, will probably make her own way."

"Recently one gave a freak dinner party and engaged a number of artists, including one well-known artist of the English stage. After dinner the hostess put her hand over the banner and shouted to the footman to bring up the animals—the animals being the artists. Fortunately one heard the message and replied:

"The animals will not come up! They are going home. And home they went."

LAID OFF.
Ottawa, April 27.—Owing to lack of funds the Ottawa Improvement commission has laid off a large staff of men who usually work all summer on the Government system of beautifying the city.

William Henderson, an employee of the Canada Furniture Company of Seaford, was painfully injured while carrying a board through the work. It caught in a belt and Henderson was thrown forcibly against a lumber pile. His head was gashed in two places.

WEEKLY PARADE OF SEVENTH REGIMENT

Big Turnout Last Night—A Church Parade Next Sunday.

There was a good turnout of the Seventh Regiment last night at the Armouries. The men were put through an hour's drill. A very good showing was made.

Bible Class Services Next Sunday

The report that a deputation of Toronto preachers, consisting of Rev. Beverly Smith, Rev. Nathaniel Smith, Rev. D. H. Spence, George Cutler, well and Thomas Gibson are to speak in local pulpits Sunday next, in connection with prohibition and local option issues, is denied by Secretary McDermid, who stated to The Advertiser today that next Sunday will be devoted in many of the churches to the work of establishing Bible classes.

Plumbing Prices and Good Work

Some plumber living in Hamilton has written a letter to a plumber's trade journal, called the Steamfitter and Plumber, talking about the cheap and botched work being done in Hamilton and the need for a plumbing inspector there. The cases specified in the letter are cases where the price is so ridiculously low, according to the plumbers, that only a botched job would be made of it.
