AT THIRD LINE.

[Canadian Press.]

Saloniki, Oct. 20. — The Serbs have reached the third Bulgar line in the drive at Monastir.

SOFIA'S REPORT.

[Canadian Press.]

Sofia, Oct. 19—Via London, Oct. 20.—Heavy fighting in the Cerna bend is reported in an official statement issued by the war office today. The statement follows:

"Macedonian front: Between Lake Prespea and the Monastir-Florina Railway, there was the usual artillery fire. In the Cerna bend there was violent artillery fire and infantry action. The fighting continued. A weak enemy attack against Tarnova was repulsed.

"In the Moglenica valley and on both sides of the Vardar there is little artillery activity. The situation is calm at the foot of Butchitsea Mountains. On the Struma front there was much reconnoitring and weak artillery fire. On the Aegean coast the enemy bombarded without result the vicinity of Orfano. Nothing of importance has occurred on the Rumanian front."

AN IMPORTANT SUCCESS.

Saloniki, Oct. 20—Via London.—The capture of Brod and Velyeselo is reported by Serbian army headquarters as follows:

"On October 19 we continued our attacks on Sokol Mountain. The army of Gen. Mischitch met with an important success. It defeated the 44th and 28th Bulgarian regiments, occupied the villages of Brod and Velyeselo, two miles north of Brod, and captured four machine guns, three guns and 80 prisoners."

ON BRITISH FRONT.

London, Oct. 20.—Only minor operations along the British front in Macedonia are reported in today's official statement regarding operations in that war theatre. The statement reads:

"Two hostile patrols have been captured on the Struma front. North of Neohori damage was inflicted on the enemy's position by our fire.

"On the Doiran front there was artillery activity on both sides."

HALTED, SAYS BERLIN.

BERLIN BLUSTERING WITH THE NORWEGIANS OVER SUB DECREE

Charge That Rules Laid Down for Underseas Craft Is a Blow at Germany—Protest Is Ordered To Be Made.

[Canadian Press.]

Amsterdam, via London, Oct. 20.—An official communication published today in the Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung says in view of the Norwegian declaration with regard to submarines:

"It must be observed that the ordinance evidently is directed only against Germany, and thus is incompatible with the spirit of true neutrality. Consequently the German minister at Christiania has been instructed to protest energetically against the action of the Norwegian Government."

In responding to a memorandum of the Entente powers to neutrals suggesting that belligerent submarines should be excluded from neutral waters, Norway is understood to have informed the Entente governments that it considers that it has the right to prohibit submarines designed for war purposes and belonging to belligerents from passing through Norwegian territorial waters or sojourning in them, and to have made use of this right in issuing the royal decree of October 13 under which belligerent submarines are forbidden to traverse Norwegian waters except in cases of emergency when they must remain on the surface and fly the national flag. The decree also provided that mercantile submarines were to be allowed in Norwegian waters only in a surface position in full daylight, and when flying the national colors.

London, Oct. 20.—A dispatch from Berne, Switzerland, to the Wireless Press says:

"Four brigades mutinied at the beginning of October and they were disarmed and imprisoned in the Brest-Litovsk barracks. The remnants of the Legion were sent into the interior of Austria, the troops being considered unreliable."

[Canadian Press.]

THE DIARY OF MARS

Through Paris today comes official announcement of the capture of the village of Velyeselo, within the bend of the Cerna River, southwest of Monastir. The Bulgarians are said to have suffered heavy losses, including 100 men in prisoners and three cannon and to have been put to route.

The Serbians pushed two miles northward to Velyeselo after taking Brod, the capture of which was reported yesterday, forcing their way over the heights between the two places. They are now facing the third and final line of Bulgarian defences in this sector, on the western slopes of the Morshova ravine, according to unofficial reports, having pierced the second line in the taking of Brod and the Velyeselo positions.

The situation in Greece remains greatly confused. News dispatches from Athens, long delayed in transmission and recording the development of the situation there only up to Wednesday night, report turbulent conditions in the Greek capital. Greek reservists there are said to have taken the law into their own hands, despite the presence of strong contingents of Entente marines, with the Greek authorities doing virtually nothing to control them.

King Constantine is reported to have told the British minister at Athens that the Allies, having deprived him of all power and recognized the Provisional Government of Saloniki, had better address future proposals regarding the course of Greece to the Venizelos Revolutionary Government.

CANVASSERS HOPING TO COLLECT TOTAL GOOD AS LAST YEAR

No Report on Red Cross Funds at Noon.

SUBSCRIPTIONS DECREASE

Liquor Interests and Manufacturers Reported to Have Cut Down.

The teams canvassing the city for Red Cross funds did not report at noon today at the headquarters in the Canada Trust Building, with the result that there is nothing to add to the total of last night, namely $34,000.

The men are working, and will report their results this evening. It looks as if $50,000 will be gathered.

The reasons for not reaching the amount of last year, $71,000 are many. The contributions of the hotelmen, liquor dealers, and cigar manufacturers, in addition to the donations of the Licensed Victuallers' Association, have fallen off greatly. Last year, it is stated, $10,000 came from these sources, and this year the contributions are cut to a few hundred dollars.

The large manufacturers, wholesale houses, etc., have cut their contributions in half. This, they say, is due to the fact that they are heavily taxed by the Dominion Government, and therefore do not give as liberally as heretofore.

"We are hoping to reach the same total as last year," said Gordon Philip, secretary of the committee. "We have done well, but we hope to do better."

The Collections.

The amounts collected yesterday were distributed as follows:

City council grant	$5,000
Board of Trade team, No. 1	7,600

Elks	1,050
Builders' Exchange	1,560
I. O. F.	800
Educational institutions	900
Contributed over the counter at the Canada Trust Co. building	320

The Rotary Club, consisting of A. E. Silverwood, Ald. E. S. Little, W. A. Martin, C. F. Stevens, C. R. May, W. G. Young, James Gray, W. J. Stewart and Peters, did exceptionally good work considering the fact that the team was only organized on Wednesday evening.

Did Great Work.

The Salvation Army team is deserving of the greatest credit in raising $2,600, and their efforts are deeply appreciated by the central committee.

The Ad. Club, which went in a campaign for the first time did remarkable service by collecting $2,800. All the teams worked hard and are entitled to the greatest praise for their work.

The objective is $71,000, and with two days' work yet to be done, the central committee is confident that the amount will be forthcoming before the fund is finally closed.

THE BERLIN REPORT.

[Canadian Press.]

Berlin, Oct. 20.—By Wireless to Sayville.—The greater part of the trenches on the road between Faucourt L'Abbaye and Le Barque which were captured by the British on October 18 were retaken yesterday by German troops in an attack, according to the official statement issued today at the German headquarters.

Attempts made by British detachments to advance last night north of Courcelette and east of Le Sars, the statement adds, failed. In the last great attack against the German positions in the Somme region the British used several tanks and three of them were destroyed by the German artillery fire, the statement declares.

GERMAN OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

[Canadian Press.]

Berlin, Oct. 20—Wireless.—The text of the German statement regarding the Somme front says:

"Western Theatre: Army Group of Crown Prince Rupprecht—During the rainy weather the mutual artillery duel on both sides of the Somme continued lively.

"The largest part of the trenches west of the road between Faucourt, L'Abbaye and Lebarque, taken by the English on October 18, was captured by an attack. In the evening hours advances of English detachments north of Courcelette and east of Le Sars failed.

"As only now reported, the English, during the last great attack, also used some of their much-trumpeted armored automobiles or so-called 'tanks.' Three of them are lying before our lines, having been destroyed by our artillery fire."

GERMANS ON THE RUN

[Canadian Press.]

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 20.—From the steamship that brought them safely through the war zone, there were landed here yesterday about eight hundred of all ranks from the battlefronts, from hospitals and discharge stations on the other side. About 600 of them were wounded and non-eligibles, a great many having turned out physically unfit, after they reached the other side.

They left for their destinations in two special trains in the afternoon.

More Men Needed.

"Canada will have to send more men, and yet more men. The boys over there are calling for them." Such were the words of Capt. H. Danzereau, a French-Canadian officer who landed with other wounded comrades. Capt. Danzereau, in the fighting at Courcelette, was what he described as "a lucky," for his only injury was a severe shrapnel wound on the knee. He has a furlough of two months, and hopes to be back in the trenches in time for Christmas dinner.

Moved to Somme.

In an interview he said: "We were stationed at the Ypres salient when the order came late in August that we must get ready to participate in a general attack on the Somme. There was not a man among us but what knew what such an order meant. We had been complaining more or less about periods of inactivity, but now we knew we would have action enough to suit the most adventurous.

Eleven-Day March.

"We started on an eleven-day tramp and placed in reserve. It was on the morning of the 16th of September that the Germans made an attack on the front line of the British forces and succeeded in gaining a foothold. We were sent in for a counter-attack, and then it was that our British comrades saw what stuff French-Canadians were made of. We dug in and held. Our artillery kept pounding away, and the way the boys with the big guns supported us made our hearts glad. Bit by bit, day by day, we fought on, losing many men every day, but constantly moving forward. Then came the rush for Courcelette, and you know what our boys did as well as I do, for I was soon out of it with this knee."

Masters of the Air.

It was encouraging to hear Capt. Danzereau talk of the immense superiority of the Allies' air power. His eyes sparkled with the pride of his race, as he told of the dare-devil exploits of some of the French aviators. He did not belittle the bravery of the Germans, in the trenches they fought like demons, he said, but out in the open and away from their commanding officers they were greatly inferior to the fighting men of Canada, who never show to such great advantage as when given an opportunity to take individual initiative.

Germans On the Run.

The Germans, he added, were discouraged. They are really on the run. It will discourage them more, he said, when they learn that more and more Canadians are coming along to take the places of the boys who fell at Courcelette. Some day there will be a grand collapse, and they will be crying for mercy as a nation like so many of their individual soldiers now cry when they see our lads coming at them on the run.

[Canadian Press.]

Part of Athens Garrison Joins Venizelos' Forces; Turbulence at Capital

Twenty-Five Officers and 600 Men of Constantine's Army Leave for Saloniki to Give Services to National Party—Reservists Rioting Unchecked by Greek Authorities.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Oct. 20.—Twenty-five officers and 600 men of the Athens garrison have gone over to the national movement and left for Saloniki, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Athens.

Newspapers announce, adds the message, that Janina, in Greek Epirus, also has gone over to the revolutionists, but official confirmation of this is lacking.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Oct. 20.—11:05 a.m.—Extremely turbulent conditions in Athens on Wednesday night are reported in a dispatch from Reuter's correspondent at the Greek capital, sent that evening. Greek reservists have taken the law in their own hands despite the presence of stronge Entente detachments of marines, who are given virtually no assistance by the Greek authorities in maintaining order, the dispatch declares.

"Tonight," the message reads, "it is evident that the reservists are out of hand, for despite the fact that strong cavalry forces are supporting the French and Greek marines and soldiers spread about everywhere, the reservists, assembled in groups, have taken the law in their own hands, and the Greek forces for the maintenance of order do not dispose of them.

"The chief of the French police control has informed the editors of the anti-Venizelos press that beginning tomorrow the French will exercise a newspaper censorship, and that newspapers printing anti-Entente articles run the risk of suspension."

Tells British Minister To Go To Venizelos With Proposals.

The monarch made certain proposals which the British diplomat considered of no importance, and he recommended Constantine to change his entire policy.

[Canadian Press.]

On this basis the Westmount officials are noting, and today orders were issued in that municipality that every cat and dog belonging to any family that had been afflicted with infantile paralysis must be destroyed forthwith.

TECHNICAL SCHOOL TEACHES TOYMAKING IF MODELS USEFUL

But Value of Training in Work Is Essential.

PRINCIPAL GIVES VIEWS

Discusses Advisability of Letting Children Capture Old German Trade.

German toymakers are going to find it very difficult to market their goods when the war is ended, even in countries which are not directly interested in the struggle, for the simple reason that the United States and other lands are finding out the toys can be made equally well at home.

In Spokane, Washington, the boys in the manual training department of the schools are making Christmas toys by thousands, and last year they found a ready market for all their products.

"Has any move been made along the toy-making line in London?" An Advertiser reporter asked the question of H. B. Beal, principal of the Technical and Art School.

"Yes, to a limited extent. When the toy-making industry began to assume national importance, we took it up with the board of trade and picked out what we considered the most desirable models. When the exhibit of toys was shown here, Mr. Philip arranged for us to have an opportunity to make sample copies of some. This was done, not so much with the idea of making money for the schools as to promote the industry permanently.

"In selecting practical work for our students, the making of money has been secondary to the value of the training. We aim to teach the making of articles which will afford the best training for future usefulness, not of those which are just readily saleable.

"For instance, our pupils are taught the making of chairs, desks and other pieces of furniture for teachers' rooms. This is splendid training and enables us to have the best of furniture in the rooms at the cost of material. Did the pupils not do this work, the cost of buying the articles would be prohibitive.

"We never encouraged the making of miniatures, but always have insisted on making full-sized articles in order that they would be of real use.

"Prior to the war, we had no sympathy with toy-making in the schools, but now this work has taken on a more important aspect, and we have changed our views. Wherever we think the mood is such as to call for work which will be of value as training to the pupil, we will encourage the work. We certainly want to do all in our power to prevent Germany ever again capturing this part, or any other part, of Canada's business."

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

An Appeal for Blind Heroes.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

It is quite a long time since I wrote you about the work we are doing here in the way of training and educating soldiers and sailors who have lost their sight in the war.

As the result of the recent heavy casualties, the numbers of these—the most pathetic victims of the struggle—are increasing with alarming rapidity. I am glad to say that we have just been most generously lent Regent's Park College, a very large establishment quite close to St. Dunstan's, which will enable us to adequately cope with the situation so far as housing is concerned, but I confess to anxiety with regard to the provision of sufficient means to enable us to care properly for these men after they have passed through their period of training. The National Institute for the Blind, of which I have the honor to be president, has taken upon itself the task of looking after them for the future, and has established an after-care branch which will, I believe, deal with this matter satisfactorily.

There is no point in training a blind man and setting him up in an industry unless one is prepared to supervise his work, to purchase for him his raw material, to assist in the marketing of his goods, or to help in securing him continuity of employment, should his work be such as that of the masseur or the cobbler.

Will you, I wonder, be so generous as to allow me to ask your readers for help in this important direction?

We have received a great deal of gratifying assistance from Britons overseas, not only in the matter of personal contributions, but as the result of entertainments of one kind or another which have been organized for the benefit of the men of St. Dunstan's.

We have, or have had, under our care ten blinded soldiers from the Dominion, and several more who are still in hospital will be with us shortly. Yours faithfully, ARTHUR PEARSON,

Chairman Blinded Soldiers' and Sailors' Care Committee, St. Dunstan's, Regent's Park, N. W., London, England.

G. T. R. Employee Pleads Guilty and Is Fined.

In police court this morning Antonio Bono, a G. T. R. employee, pleaded guilty to the theft of three bars of soap, the property of the Grand Trunk Railway. He was fined $5 and costs or 21 days in jail. Antonio stated that he had seen another employee of the Grand Trunk take a few cakes, and he did likewise when he found a soap box broken open.

The charge was laid by Special Grand Trunk Officer John Hughes, who stated that he had been forced to prosecute Bono because of the prevalence of petty thieving.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. William Moisse of 223 Grey street gave a very enjoyable surprise party in honor of Mr. Moisse's birthday which was attended by their friends of the Pass Time Euchre Club. Cards were one of the features of the evening, in which Frank B. Sharp won a beautiful piece of Crown Derby china as first prize, the booby prize being captured by Mrs. Wm. Bowman.

At the close of the cards, R. Robertson, in behalf of the club, presented Mr. Moisse with a beautiful fountain pen, which was a very appropriate gift owing to the fact that Mr. Moisse is a member of No. 1 Training Depot, A. M. C., and expects to leave soon for overseas.

At a late hour the party broke up, everyone wishing Mr. Moisse a safe return that he may spend many more happy birthdays with his friends.

MOTHER SEES HER SON LEAD ATTACK IN BATTLE FILMS

Toronto Lady Writes Spontaneous Tribute To Pictures.

UPLIFT FOR THE CINEMA

Such Scenes Prove Potentialities For Good of Animated Photography.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Ever since the advent of moving pictures I have never ceased to lament the fact that, with their magnificent potentialities for good, the proprietors of cameras and films have so frequently catered to low standards that cinemas and immorality have almost grown to be synonymous terms.

Twice only have I seen moving pictures, both occasions being in London, England, and each time I left the scene impressed with the film's great power in depicting for posterity the heroic doings of some of our noblest fellow beings whom to read of were in itself uplifting. But to witness their great deeds, to live with them as it were in actuality was to me a matter of deep thankfulness and I issued from the theatre both times with a thanksgiving for the cinema which hitherto I had deprecated, nay, even execrated; and I feel sure that the powers that wield the sceptre of the cinema world will purge their realm of much that can easily be elliminated, now that they find the public supporting that policy.

My first visit to the picture land enabled me to see into the life of the gallant Commander Scott and his companions in their voyage to the South Pole. The second brought me to scenes where matters vital to our national salvation are being enacted and I felt very near indeed to those cheery hearts when a weeping woman in front of me was pointed out as the mother of one of the attacking party. He was distinctly visible as he marched proudly and smilingly on with his men, but none (except perhaps the mother instinct) could recognize him amongst the mutilated forms later on being carried in on the stretchers.

I may add that I am totally unacquainted with anyone connected with the presentation of this film. My letter is simply a spontaneous tribute to a wonderful achievement. Yours truly,

ANNA MURPHY,

80 St. George street, Toronto.

The evening meeting at St. Thomas will be open to the public.

ANAEMIC PEOPLE

Need More Iron in the Blood.

If you are anaemic, you need more iron in your blood, and the tell-tale symptoms are a pale face—colorless lips, ashen fingernails, poor circulation and short breath, and more serious diseases are easily contracted when in this condition.

M. L. Trotter of Toronto, Ont., says: "For nearly three years I suffered from anaemia, and doctored most of that time, but did not gain as I would like to. I had no ambition for anything and was afraid to go out alone, as I had such dizzy spells and would almost fall on the street. My mother wanted me to try Vinol, and three bottles built me up so I felt like a new creature, and I am gladly recommending Vinol to others because of the good it has done me."

The bad effects of poor, devitalized blood cannot be overestimated, and it is the beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptonates and glycerophosphates contained in Vinol that enriches the blood, improves the circulation and in this natural manner builds up health and strength. Try it on our guarantee.

ASQUITH'S COUSIN "SMUGGLED" IN TO HEAR SIR WILFRID

How Newspaperman Got Soldier to Great Banquet.

SIR WILFRID "HONORED"

Shakes Hands With Hero Outside Hall When Visiting London.

A delightful story of an incident in connection with the Federation of Liberal Club's banquet held in the city last week comes from the editorial columns of the Belleville Daily Ontario, and may doubtless be credited to the editor, J. O. Herity. Here it is in full:

"It was our pleasure last Wednesday night to attend the banquet at London held by the Federation of Liberal Clubs for Ontario. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Mr. N. W. Rowell, Hon. T. C. Norris, premier of Manitoba were the orators scheduled to fill the after-dinner program, but, as an added attraction, two other speakers, Hon. George P. Graham and Samuel W. Jacobs K.C., of Montreal made addresses after the star-performers had filled their parts.

"We had a few minutes to spare prior to the opening of the Princess Winter Garden where the banquet was to be held, and we took a seat upon a bench in the park and began to peruse the evening paper. We had scarcely begun our reading when a young soldier of pleasing appearance, pale complexion, and refined bearing walked slowly up and began to address us in a cultivated English accent in words somewhat like these:

'Excuse me, sir, but I see by your badge you are a delegate to the convention. Can you tell me how I might get in to hear Sir Wilfrid Laurier tonight. I am a stranger in London. I didn't know that tickets were required and it is now too late to get one for they were all sold a week ago. I have been in this country several years but I have never been able to hear Sir Wilfrid and I would like so much to listen to him tonight. I am just back from England and came here in charge of some returning wounded. I was myself wounded by shrapnel on Christmas Eve and lay with my throat torn by a shell fragment for several hours unconscious on the field of battle. The surgeons have patched me up and I hope after a while to be as good as ever again. Here is the mark on my sleeve that shows I have seen active service.'

His words and his manner indicated truth and sincerity. Would we assist him to gain admission to the banqueting hall? We guessed we would even to the extent of surrendering our own precious bit of pasteboard and the anticipated pleasure that we had traveled two hundered and fifty miles to enjoy. Tickets were really at a premium. One party in Woodstock offered $25 for four. Another gentleman refused $10 for the ticket he had purchased for $1. We made known our design but our new acquaintance refused to listen to our proposition. We then invited him to come along and we would see if some means could be devised to get him past the eagle-eyed sentries. He said he was in no condition to stand the jostling of a crowd, and his appearance indicated that his words were true.

'Whom have we the honor of addressing?' we inquired as we walked over to the Garden.

'My name is Asquith—Corporal Asquith—if you prefer to use my official name,' responded the soldier.

'Name seems familiar. Like the sound it,' we intimated.

'Yes, I am a cousin of the British Prime Minister, but I came out some years ago to try my fortune in Canada. Found my way to Edmonton and secured a position in the law office of Hon. C. W. Cross, attorney-general of Alberta. There I remained until the beginning of the war.'

By this time we had arrived at the Winter Garden and noticed that about a dozen concentric lines of Liberal stalwarts were trying to secure simultaneous admittance to a doorway only wide enogh to allow the passage of one stalwart at a time. Corporal Asquith was decidedly averse to any attempt to storm the citadel by that particular route. We then went over to another door where supplies were being taken in. As we looked around we discovered a man wearing a badge labeled "Committee" and we further recognized him as a brother journalist belonging to London. We explained matters to him and inquired if he knew of any underhand method of circumventing the doorkeepers. Being a newspaperman he could get past almost any doorkeeper in the business. And he dodged inside the building to see another member of the committee.

As we waited, a little, 5-passenger runabout drove rapidly up beside us. A tall, distinguished-appearing gentleman, with white flowing locks, sprang lightly out, and we stood in the presence of Canada's greatest statesman, the Grand Old Man of the Liberal party—Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He cast a keen glance in our direction and at once came forward with out-stretched hand to greet the soldier.

"Sir Wilfrid,' we said, 'permit us to introduce Corporal Asquith, a soldier who has been on active service and who has been wounded and has returned from the front.'

'Ah, that is good!' exclaimed the great leader, as he warmly gripped the hero's hand. 'It is indeed an honor!' And with this little act of courtesy and the smile that betokens sincerity and genuine kindness of heart the aged orator bestowed upon the young soldier-patriot a memory that he will treasure as long as he lives.

And just then the missing Committeeman returned with a ticket that he had procured in some mysterious manner. Corporal Asquith was spirited away through a side entrance and we saw him no more."

BURIAN TO RESIGN.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Oct. 20.—German newspapers say that the visit of Baron Burian, Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, to the German army headquarters may be his last as foreign minister, according to dispatches from Amsterdam to the Exchange Telegraph Company. The baron's resignation is impending, it is said, and his probable successor will be Baron von Macchio, Austro-Hungarian delegate at the second Hague peace conference, or Count Szecz von Temerin, who was the ambassador of Austria-Hungary to France at the outbreak of the war.

RAISES OBJECTION. — A soldier's wife sends to The Advertiser an illustration from a local paper showing four men. She raises strong objection to the prominence given to these "athletes," three of whom she says would be more entitled to have their likenesses brought to public notice if they were wearing khaki.

BACK FROM GUELPH.—Rev. Dr. Gustavus Munro of South London has returned from attending the Guelph Presbytery at Guelph last night, where he represented the London Presbytery in connection with the call extended to Rev. A. The unit presented a fine appearance and the citizens commented enthusiastically upon the good appearance of the men. Major McVicar is in charge, pending the appointment of an officer to take over the command.

CARS WERE STALLED.—Street railway traffic was completely disorganized last night about 10 o'clock by a Grand Trunk freight train, which stalled across Richmond street. About twenty cars were held up for nearly half an hour. A report is being made on the matter, it was stated, and police proceedings may be taken.

A GOOD SHOWING.—The weekly report of M. O. H. Dr. Hill shows that whooping-cough is the most prevalent of London's contagious diseases at the present time. There were eight new cases during the week, making 41 in all that are isolated. There are six new cases of typhoid fever, one of infantile paralysis, two of diphtheria and one of scarlet fever.

ADDRESSED SUFFRAGETTES. — Yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Mrs. L. A. Hamilton, president of the National Union Suffrage Association, met and addressed the executive of the London Equal Suffrage Society, outlining the plan of the Ontario equal franchise campaign now in progress. She also told of the speakers available, and of the great interest which the campaign is arousing throughout the province.

REFORM IS ORDERED.—Attention is directed in today's camp orders to the undesirability of enlisting men physically unfit on the promise that the authorities will have operations performed which will make such men fit. It is pointed out that the men may not become improved in health, but on the contrary may become charges on the department and claimants for pensions. The practice is ordered to cease.

Dr. W. N. Shoebotham leaves today for Philadelphia to attend the clinical congress of surgeons of America which opens there on October 23.

SASKATCHEWAN'S PREMIER, NATIVE OF WESTERN ONTARIO, HAS BRILLIANT LIFE HISTORY

W. M. Martin Won Honors at School and at Osgoode Hall Before Entering Politic al Life and Rising to His Present Eminence.

The appointment of William Melville Martin, M. P., of Regina, to succeed Hon. Walter Scott as premier of Saskatchewan, has given to the persistent rumors to this effect of the past six months the value of genuine prophecy.

As far back as early last winter it was whispered in political circles that should Mr. Scott resign owing to illhealth, and Hon. J. A. Calder, several times acting premier, decline the honor, the first position in the gift of the Province of Saskatchewan would be offered to the young member of the Dominion House.

One of the leading lawyers of the capital city of Saskatchewan, Mr. Martin is widely and favorably known throughout the province and the West, and commands the respect and confidence of both colleagues and opponents politically. An evidence of the estimation in which he is held lies in the fact that in the "Reciprocity" election of 1911, while the Liberal Government was overturned, and many men of the party met defeat for the first time, the member for Regina was returned with an overwhelming majority, which totalled 1,730.

It was characteristic of him, that even in the face of his personal triumph, he was entirely unelated and all his thoughts were with the country as a whole and especially the west country, to which the issue meant so much.

Western Ontario Man.

Western Ontario has a special interest in the new premier, even as in Hon. Walter Scott, from the fact that Western Ontario was his birthplace, and it was here he received his early education.

A son of Rev. W. M. Martin and Mrs. Martin, now of 268 Ridout street, South London, Melville Martin, as he is best known to his friends and the public, was born at Norwich, Oxford County, August 23, 1877, where his father was the Presbyterian minister.

While he was still quite young, Rev. Mr. Martin was called to Exeter, where he subsequently remained 26 years.

This is how it came about that Melville Martin received his public school education in Exeter. It is not on record that any of his early teachers predicted for him the brilliant career which has been his. Those who knew him at that time do not recall any characteristics of the infant prodigy. They do remember that he was always ready for any boyish prank that offered itself, and that he was a great enthusiast over baseball, lacrosse and, in fact, any kind of athletics.

Attended Clinton Collegiate.

It was when he entered the Clinton Collegiate Institute, of which John Houston was principal, that he began to take his first real interest in learning.

Latin, in connection with public school leaving work in the Exeter school, had brought to light a particular aptitude for languages, consequently it was on the advice of Principal Houston that he took up the classical courses. In less than two years he made record progress in Greek and entered Toronto University with first-class honors in Greek and Latin.

In the university he elected to take the Hebrew course, which was optional, and graduated with honors in classics.

He subsequently attended the Normal College at Hamilton, after which he taught for two years, from 1899 to 1901, in Harriston High School.

Enters Law.

It was then he decided to make law his profession and, with this in view, he entered Osgoode Hall.

Notwithstanding strenuous outside work, he took the second scholarships both years in Osgoode and the highest average standing for the whole time. This is explained by the fact that the man who took the first scholarship the first year was behind him the second year.

During his law course in Osgoode Hall he augmented his income by teaching three evenings a week in a night school and also by reporting the Osgoode Hall news for two Toronto papers.

All the time he was demonstrating that brain power cannot always be accurately gauged in early school days, he was keeping up his active interest in athletics and making it possible for himself to accomplish the maximum of work with the least strain.

In 1903 he responded to the call of the west, in this case an invitation from a cousin, James Balfour, a prominent lawyer with a rapidly growing connection, to become a member of the firm in Regina.

The partnership of Balfour & Martin was formed, which was subsequently extended to take in Avery Casey, formerly of this city.

Married in 1906.

On September 26, 1906, the marriage took place of the young lawyer, whose ability was already attracting much attention, to Violette Florence Thomson, daughter of the late Walter Thomson of Mitchell, Ontario, sister of Warren Thomson of Toronto, formerly of London, and a niece of Henry Thomson, 396 Burwell street.

They have three sons, Walter M., Douglas and a baby boy.

In January, 1906, Mr. Martin was offered the nomination for the constituency of Western Assiniboia, to succeed the Hon. Walter Scott, who had resigned to become premier of Saskatchewan. He declined, but ran for the House of Commons at the general election of 1908, and was elected by a majority of 760. His next successful campaign, to which reference has already been made, was in 1911.

In addition to many other talents, the new premier has developed an exceptional gift for public speaking. More than six feet tall, well built, and a noticeably handsome man, he has the advantage of an impressive presence, combined with a good voice of a confidence inspiring quality.

Popular Speaker.

In his utterances he is always dignified and logical, and an exceptionally modest man. For this reason he always gets a good hearing, even from those who are not in sympathy with his views.

The choice of William Melville Martin, M.P., for the premiership is likely to be a most popular one.

Mrs. Martin will grace with distinction the position of wife of the leader of the Government. Possessed of beauty, dignity and charm, she also has much ability as a speaker, revealed particularly in her office of regent first of the Forget Chapter, Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire, the first chapter to be formed in the Province of Saskatchewan, and later as president of the provincial chapter. Very talented musically, she is a graduate of Toronto Conservatory of Music in singing, and during her residence in Regina her services have been much in demand for musical entertainments.

When time permits, her compliance with requests is always gracious, especially when the object is a charitable or patriotic one. Mr. and Mrs. Martin are members of Knox Presbyterian Church, Regina.

CONDITIONS GOOD IN WESTERN PROVINCES, SAYS HUME CRONYN

SOME CROPS NOT GOOD

But Farmers Can Pay Their Way—Labor Problem Bothers.

Major Hume Cronyn, manager of the Huron & Erie Loan Corporation, has returned from an extensive trip through the Western Provinces and states that conditions are highly satisfactory there in almost every particular.

"Southern Alberta, as last year, drew the prize package out of the grab bag," said the major. "They have had immense crops there. In Centre Alberta, the wheat and barley were frosted, but as mixed farming is in vogue there the farmers will be able to pay their way.

"In Southern Saskatchewan and Manitoba, rust did a great deal of damage, and the crops there will not be good. In other sections the crops are satisfactory. Oats are universally good, and with the high prices prevailing the farmers will not be in a bad way. Of course, there is a serious shortage of labor. This is a problem, but it can be solved.

"Wholesalers and retailers are well pleased. They are doing as good business in some localities, possibly better, than during the best boom years. Immigration will make that country great, and we will have to wait until after the war for that.

"I found optimism everywhere. Bills are being met promptly and conditions are satisfactory. Real estate is not booming now, but there are prospects of better days ahead."

RAIN SAVES BATTALION LONG TRAMP TO QUARTERS

153rd Goes to St. Thomas by Rail—Party Remains to Strike Camp.

This morning's rain saved the men of the 153rd Battalion a march to St. Thomas. At 8 o'clock the men vacated their camp on Carling Heights and marched to the L. and P. S. R. station, where they entrained for St. Thomas. The run was made in good time and the men were deposited at the front door of their winter home, the old Thomas Brothers factory.

A party was left in the camp on the heights to look after the canvas, which could not be struck while so thoroughly soaked with the rain. The party will remain at the camp until the weather improves and the tents have a chance to dry out.

Only the field hospital remains occupied on the heights now, and a start will be made towards the moving of the men to their quarters in the barracks on Monday next. Plenty of accommodation has been provided there for any probable number of sick.

FIFTEEN COLORED MEN ANSWER CALL AT EVENING RALLY

Enthusiasm Is Shown For Britain's Just Cause.

ADDRESSES DELIVERED

Fifteen of London's colored citizens, comprising every man of military age in the audience, volunteered for overseas service with No. 2 Construction Battalion at a most enthusiastic recruiting meeting held in Curnoe Hall last night. They will go before a medical board at once, and those who are not passed as "fit" will receive certificates showing that they have tried to enlist. Nearly a hundred were present at the meeting.

In the absence of Mayor Stevenson, Ald. Summers presided, and made the opening address. Professor Wallace then made an appeal to his countrymen to enlist. He was followed by Rev. H. F. Logan, who, in his address, touched on the fact that he had two sons already at the front. Rev. J. A. Rogers, who arrived in London recently from Chicago, also spoke. He said that although he had lived for a great while in the United States he was strongly pro-Ally. As a missionary in Africa, he had seen the treatment given to the natives there by the Huns, and that made him only more anxious that they and their cause should be defeated.

Commended by O. C.

Lieut.-Col. D. H. Sutherland, O. C., of the battalion, speaking for recruits, mentioned the excellent discipline the colored men already enlisted had shown, and commended them for their soldierly appearance. Four hundred of them were already training in Nova Scotia, and the men recruited here would go into training in the near future at Windsor, which was to be headquarters for Ontario and the West. Many colored men, he said, were dissatisfied because they had been refused admission to the battalions recruited at the beginning of the war. This, he said, had been due merely to prejudice on the part of a few officers, and was not general throughout the Dominion. This was evidenced by the number of men now in overseas battalions whom their commanders valued too much to allow them to transfer to No. 2 Construction Battalion, which is composed of colored men. "When the battalion proceeds overseas," said the colonel, "it will be capable of accepting any task, no matter how difficult, with the confidence that the work can be carried out satisfactorily."

Other Addresses.

Rev. R. W. Norwood of Cronyn Memorial Church, appealed to the colored men. He was the son, he said, of a man who had fought on the side of the North during the American civil war, and who had gone as a missionary to Africa. As such he had been brought up to look upon the colored men as his brothers.

J. L. Jenkins, a prominent colored citizen, gave a capable address on the history of the colored race, showing that they were natural warriors.

Patriotic solos were rendered by Mrs. W. F. Hungerford and Miss Patti MacLaren. The Forest City orchestra, under the leadership of George Fountaine and managed by Paul Lewis, added greatly to the success of the evening. Refreshments were served and the meeting was closed by singing the National Anthem.

Those who offered to enlist were: Eddie Harris, Leonard Berry, William Henderson, Hodge Duncan, E. Wilson, John Duncan, H. Anderson, J. L. Jenkins, Eph. Harris, Fred Campbell, John Lucas, Paul Lewis, Fred Ball, Frank Harris and Fred Fuller.

"Mistakes" By Germans Will No Longer Be Tolerated.

[Canadian Press.]

Amsterdam, via London, Oct. 20.—A demand for the stoppage of submarine warfare, coupled with an appeal to the United States to make the initiative toward that end is voiced by the Telegraaf says:

"Ten days have elapsed since the submarine war was carried to the doors of America and nothing has been done. Are we to understand that our ships are allowed to be torpedoed right on the American coast? We say in all frankness to America that the submarine war must be stopped, and Germany must be told that mistakes, which the world knows are no mistakes, will no longer be tolerated. Let America speak the redeeming word lest she rue deeply in the future having neglected a task plainly to be expected."

GERMANS NOW THINK BREMEN LOST LIKE MANY OTHER SUBS.

High Teutonic Diplomat Believes Commercial Sub Sunk or Captured.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Loss of the German submarine merchantman Bremen virtually was conceded today by ranking Teutonic diplomats in position to be familiar with the movements of the vessel. The Bremen is now one month overdue.

It was admitted that German officials, not only in this country but in Berlin, were without information as to the fate of the Bremen. All they know is that she set out for America from Bremerhaven and that she should have arrived at an American port soon after the middle of last month. It is regarded as doubtful that accurate information as to the date of the vessel will be obtainable until after the close of the war, if then.

The Bremen was commanded by Capt. Schwarzkopf and carried a crew of approximately twenty-five men.

One official said it was considered most likely that the Bremen had met the fate of a number of new naval submarines which had sailed from port never to be heard from again. These vessels have disappeared completely and none of the members of their crews have been reported as being in detention camps of the Entente Allies.

It is presumed that they had some accident which caused them to sink or had a mishap while diving, which prevented them from coming to the surface.

Another argument advanced in support of the belief that the Bremen had met with an accident rather than capture was that she had aboard a number of important documents for the German embassy here which probably would have been made public had they fallen into the hands of the British.

VON LUDENDORF ALSO AGAINST SUB PIRACIES

Joins Von Hindenburg in Opposition to Proposed Ruthless Warfare.

[Canadian Press.]

Berlin, Oct. 19.—Via London, Oct. 20.—Gen. von Luderdorf has joined his chief, Field Marshal von Hindenburg, in opposing a more ruthless prosecution of submarine warfare. Field Marshal von Hindenburg's position was made plain at a meeting of the independent committee for German peace terms last Saturday, when through a personal representative he requested the committee to abstain from agitation for a sharper submarine campaign.

Gen. von Ludendorf has announced his views through a letter which was read at a big public meeting at Magdeburg yesterday by National Liberal Leader Schiffer.

SHACKLETON AT LIMA.

[Canadian Press.]

Lima, Peru, Oct. 20.—Lieut. Sir Ernest Shackleton, the Antarctic explorer, arrived here yesterday, and was accorded a splendid reception. He visited President Pardo, with whom he had a cordial conversation; and later visited the principal points of interest in the city. In the afternoon Sir Ernest sailed by the steamer New Orleans for San Francisco.

CUT THIS OUT.

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES.

If you know someone who is troubled with head noises, or Catarrhal Deafness, cut out this formula, and hand it to them, and you will have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. Recent experiments have proved conclusively that Catarrhal Deafness, head noises, etc., were the direct cause of constitutional disease, and that salves, sprays, inhalers, etc., merely temporize with the complaint and seldom, if ever, effect a permanent cure. This being so, much time and money has been spent of late by a noted specialist in perfecting a pure, gentle, yet effective tonic that would quickly dispel all traces of the catarrhal poison from the system. The effective prescription which was eventually formulated, and which has aroused the belief that deafness will soon be extinct, is given below in understandable form, so that anyone can treat themselves in their own home at little expense.

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmint (Double Strength), about 75c worth. Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

The first dose should begin to relieve the distressing head noises, headache, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., while the hearing rapidly returns as the system is invigorated by the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell and mucus dropping in the back of the throat, are other symptoms that show the presence of catarrhal poison, and which are often entirely overcome by this efficacious treatment. Nearly ninety per cent of all ear troubles are directly caused by catarrh; therefore, there must be many people whose hearing can be restored by this simple home treatment.

Every person who is troubled with head noises, catarrhal deafness, or catarrh in any form, should give this prescription a trial.

Important Note: In ordering Parmint always specify that you want double strength. Your druggist has it or he can easily get it for you. If not send 75c to the International Laboratories, 74 St. Antoine street, Montreal, Que., Can., and they will supply you. Postal note or money order.

HEAVY FIGHTING IS MARKING ADVANCES OF BRITISH FORCES

Operations On the Somme Since October 1.

NEARLY 29,000 PRISONERS

Enemy Declines to Give Up Until Surrounded by the Victors.

LONDON, Oct. 19. — Gen. Sir Douglas Haig, the British commander in France, has sent a report of the operations which have been in progress since the end of September, when, he says, the British forces had advanced well beyond the crest of the main ridge from Thiepval to Sailly-Saillisel.

From the line thus held, according to the report, the ground slopes gently to a shallow valley running northwest from near Sailly-Saillisel to about 2,000 yards south of Bapaume, and then turns westward and joins the valley of the River Ancre at Miraumont. From the main Thiepval-Morval ridge a series of long, well-marked spurs run down to the valley described above. The most important of the series is a hammer-headed spur immediately west of Flers, at the western extremity of which stands a tumulus called Butte de Werlencourt.

Foes Intermediate Positions.

Lying across the main trend of the ground another well-marked spur runs from Morval north towards Thilloy, passing a thousand yards east of Gueudecourt. Behind this spur lies the fourth position, to get within assaulting distance of which, it was necessary to carry Le Sars and these two spurs. These were held as intermediate positions by the Germans, every advantage being taken of the sunken roads, buildings and undulating nature of the country.

"On September 29," continues the report, "we carried Destremont farm, 300 yards southwest of Le Sars and just north of the Albert-Bapaume road. On the afternoon of October 1, we advanced our lines on a front of 3,000 yards, occupying the buildings of Eaucourt l'Abbaye, 1,400 yards southeast of Le Sars.

A Severe Struggle.

"The struggle in this neighborhood continued with great severity during the night and early in the morning of October 2 the enemy had regained a footing in the place. During the whole of the next day and night the battle fluctuated, but by the following morning he had succeeded in finally clearing the buildings of the enemy. On the sixth we won the mill northwest of Eaucourt l'Abbaye.

Strong Positions Taken.

"The period since that date has been occupied in winning ground between Le Sars and Les Boeufs up to the slopes of the low ridges already mentioned. In the area between Thiepval and Le Sars we made steady progress, and gradually won a series of strong positions. The fighting has been heavy and prolonged. The enemy resisted stubbornly until surrounded in one place after another, and large numbers of prisoners have fallen into our hands.

"During this period we had to repel repeated counter-attacks. Generally these were stopped by our artillery and machine gun fire, but when they did succeed in forcing their way through and reaching our positions, the infantry rifle fire caused heavy losses. On only one or two occasions did they manage to regain a footing in a trench. Then they were promptly driven out again with the bayonet.

"Outside the Somme battlefield our troops have shown great activity in trench raids. Between Ypres and Loos over sixty raids were carried out, in which we secured many prisoners and inflicted heavy casualties.

Many Prisoners.

"Those captured during the fortnight brings the total number of prisoners on the Somme battlefront since the beginning of July to 28,918, and in the action of Oct. 7 one division alone, which previously had had many days of hard fighting, took eight officers and 474 men of other ranks.

BRITISH MINISTER CALLED TO FACE SERIOUS CHARGE

[Canadian Press.]

London, Oct. 20.—It is announced that Joseph King, Liberal member of parliament for North Somerset, will appear in the Bow street police court today to answer a charge made under the defence of the realm act. He has always been a strong peace advocate.

Since the outbreak of the war Mr. King in the House of Commons has made several attacks on the Government, questioning the Government concerning its actions.

DEUTSCHLAND CANCELS SECOND VOYAGE TO U. S.

Can't Secure Crew Because of Bremen's Loss.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Oct. 20—11:20 a.m.—An Exchange Telegraph Company dispatch from Amsterdam says that a telegram received there from Bremen confirms the report that the German Ocean Navigation Company has received no news from the commercial submarine Bremen, and that she is regarded as lost. Great anxiety prevails among the families of the crew, virtually all of whom reside in Bremen, and it is expected difficulty will be experienced in obtaining crews for other commercial submarines which may undertake transatlantic voyages.

According to this information, the sailing of the Deutschland on another voyage across the Atlantic has been cancelled.

SWEDISH BOAT CAUGHT IN A GERMAN NET

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Dispatches to the state department today report the sinking of the British steamer Kennett by a submarine, and the landing of the body of her captain. The steamer Damia, presumably Norwegian, also was reported sunk by a German submarine, and the Swedish steamer Norma was reported disabled south of Drogden light vessel, by her propeller becoming entangled in nets stretched out by the Germans to trap submarines.

FRANK M'DONALD IS SENT UP FOR TRIAL ON MURDER CHARGE

Wife Testifies to Overhearing Wreck Discussed.

ADMISSION IS SIGNED

Participated in Removal of Rail Near Ridgetown.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

CHATHAM, Oct. 19.—In the county police court this afternoon Frank McDonald of Ridgetown, held on a charge of causing the derailing of the Michigan Central express on the night of May 31, which resulted in the death of Steven Quinlan and Russell Oakes, fireman and engineer respectively, was sent up for trial on a charge of murder.

The principal witness at the hearing was Mrs. McDonald, wife of the prisoner, who testified that she had overheard the brothers, Frank and Henry, discussing the details of the crime subsequent to the wreck, at which time her husband had remarked to Henry McDonald that if the cause of the wreck was discovered it would be through his wife.

The prisoner verified a sworn statement produced in court in which he admits having participated in the removal of the rail on the track near Ridgetown, which caused the wreck.

Henry McDonald, the brother, will be arraigned on similar charges, and will probably be sent up for trial.

RUMANIANS CAPTURE 1,200 ENEMY IN TWO SEPARATE BATTLES

BUCHAREST, via London, Oct. 19.—Rumanian troops have attacked the enemy with success at many points in Transylvania, capturing numerous prisoners, according to the official communication issued today.

The text of the statement follows:

"On the north and northwestern fronts there have been artillery actions at Tulghes and Bicaz.

"One of our detachments passing by way of Lampris Mountains to Agas in the Trotus valley attacked the enemy with the bayonet and destroyed twelve of his cannon and limbers. It forced the enemy to retire and captured 600 prisoners.

"Another detachment, attacking from Coicasa in the Trotus area, surprised the enemy, making 600 prisoners and capturing some machine guns.

"In the Uzul valley we repelled enemy attacks. In the Oituz valley fighting continues with extreme violence Minor engagements took place in the region of Vrancea. On the frontier, at Table Butzi, there were light engagements. In the Buzeu valley artillery fighting is under way.

"The situation is unchanged at Bratocea and Predelus. At Predeal we drove back beyond the frontier small enemy units, which were advancing toward Chabucepul and Taurului. We gained ground in the Bran Desile.

"The indications from Drago-Slavele is that the small enemy columns which had advanced towards the Scara pass have been stopped.

"On the remainder of the front the situation is unchanged.

"On the southern and southwestern fronts (Dobrudja and the Danube line), the situation is unchanged."

SIX SING-SING CONVICTS ESCAPE; FOUR CAPTURED

One Who Refused to Surrender Perhaps Fatally Shot.

[Canadian Press.]

Ossining, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Four of the six Sing Sing convicts who escaped yesterday in an automobile truck were back in prison today, and Calvin Derrick, acting warden, has placed upon the Mutual Welfare League the responsibility of the men's action in fleeing.

Frank Lutz, convicted of murder, who is a member of the executive committee if the league, and Thomas Hyland, sentenced for life as a murderer, were caught early today near Elmsford as they were approaching the railroad depot apparently with the intention of boarding a train. William Tammany, serving fifteen years for robbery, was apprehended a few hours later near the Pocantico Hills estate of John D. Rockefellerr at Tarrytown. Marquis Curtis, a life-term convict, was arrested during last night's search on Mr. Rockefeller's property. He was shot when he refused to surrender and is in a serious condition in the prison today.

Wm. Anson and Alfred Steinhauser are the two convicts still at large.

RUSS BUDGET POINTS TO NEW YEAR OF WAR

LONDON, Oct. 19.—A Reuter dispatch from Petrograd says that the budget of 1917 submitted to the Duma and council of the empire, has been framed in view of the probability of the war lasting for the whole financial year. Revenue and expenditure balance at a total of 4,078,000,000 rubles, this being the first time the Russian budget has reached four billions. The excess expenditure over the real revenue, amounting to 73,000,000 roubles, will be covered by credit operations.

The receipts from the sale of intoxicating liquors, which in 1913 were approximately 100,000,000 roubles, are now estimated at only 50,000,000 roubles. An explanatory memorandum attached to the budget points out that the taxable resources of the empire have increased almost entirely as a result of the enforcement of temperance.

DEEP ALLIED WEDGE TO OPEN HUN LINE TO THREE-SIDED ATTACK

Somme Offensive Will Last Until Foe's Front Broken.

GEN. MAURICE EXPLAINS

Capture of Bapaume and Peronne Will Be Mere Incidents.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Oct. 19.—The Germans on the Somme front are being prevented from sending men to aid in the Austro-German attack against Rumania, according to Major-General F. B. Maurice, chief director of military operations of the war office, who today discussed with the American correspondent the objectives of the Anglo-French offensive.

This provides a temporary feature of the Entente's objective in the west, as the Entente commanders feel that while the situation in Rumania cannot be considered a crisis, it is serious and the best assistance the western armies can give is to prevent, as they have done thus far, the dispatch of any reinforcements to Gen. von Falkenhayn.

Gen. Maurice declared that Bapaume and Peronne cannot be considered objectives in the usual sense of that term. The capture of these cities, he said, may be expected as a result of the present offensive, but their fall could not be called a decisive feature of the operation. It is planned to drive such a wedge into the German lines that attacks can be made in three directions against the expanded hostile battle front.

Ultimately, it is hoped to carry these advances so far that the breaking point will result. The Germans, said Gen. Maurice, may shorten their line before this happens, but such an outcome is always kept in view by the Entente's staffs in planning for future advances.

RAPID WORK BY FRENCH.

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY NEAR COMBLES, via Chantilly, France, Oct. 19.—From a staff correspondent of the Associated Press.—Fifteen minutes of infantry fighting proved sufficient for the French army to capture the strong position of Sailly-Saillisel from the Germans, and to give the Allies command of the several miles of the Bapaume road. The Allies' air mastery deprived the Germans of their "eyes," consequently the German artillery fire was ineffective, both in an endeavor to destroy the opposing batteries and in an effort to prevent reinforcements and supplies from reaching the attacking forces through a curtain of fire.

The Associated Press correspondent watched the fight from beginning to end from a hillock near Combles. The fire from the British and French guns had continued for a long time. The infantry officers had synchronized their watches, and were ordered to deliver the attack exactly at 11:45 o'clock.

The moment arrived; the range of the artillery, which had been battering Sailly-Saillisel, was increased a few hundred yards; the infantrymen's heads appeared over the parapets; then, in dashes, the men covered the short open space, throwing grenades, and within a quarter of an hour, rockets sent up showed the airmen observing from the clouds that the position had been won. The airmen flew rapidly to the field commandant's headquarters to take back the news.

Meanwhile hundreds of German cannon opened a double curtain of fire, trying to locate the routes leading toward Sailly. The shells dropped often wide of their mark, except in Combles, which sustained the heaviest kind of fire for several hours. The the Germans tried to silence the French and British batteries, but their practice was so poor that the Allied gunners were able to continue their work uninterruptedly.

Called It Impregnable.

The Germans had announced that Sailly-Saillisel was impregnable, in an order to the troops, and its rapid capture, therefore, came as somewhat of a surprise to the Allied commanders. One Bavarian and two Prussian divisions participated in the defence, showing the importance of the attack on the position. Despite this, the French advanced even further, occupying also the shoulders of two hills to the northeast and northwest of the village, giving them virtual control of any counter-attack from the strongly-organized German position of Saillisel.

Powerful Positions Come Next.

It is told that the Germans have made powerful positions at Le Transloy and Saint Pierre Vaast wood, which intercommunicates by means of deep subterranean tunnels, affording shelter to thousands of men, and providing for their rapid transfer in security from place to place. These tunnels, it is said, have narrow railroads for the transportation of machine guns with ammunition to cleverly-concealed exits, under which elevators bring the gun crews and their supplies to the surface to permit them to descend and make way to other positions with the greater rapidity.

GERMANS EXCLUDED FROM RHODES FUND

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The House of Commons this evening passed the second reading of the Rhodes estate bill, which would exclude Germans henceforth from enjoying scholarships at Oxford University under the Cecil Rhodes trust fund.

Stomach Medicines Are Dangerous

DOCTORS NOW ADVISE MAGNESIA.

Just how dangerous it is to indiscriminately dose the stomach with drugs and medicines is often not realized until too late. It seems so simple to swallow a dose of some special mixture or take tablets of soda, pepsin, bismuth, etc., after meals, and the folly of this drugging is not apparent until perhaps years afterward, when it is found that gastric ulcers have almost eaten their way through the stomach walls. Regrets are then unavailing; it is in the early stages when indigestion, dyspepsia, heartburn, flatulence, etc., indicates excessive acidity of the stomach and fermentation of food contents that precaution should be taken. Drugs and medicines are unsuitable and often dangerous—they have little or no influence upon the harmful acid, and that is why doctors are discarding them and advising sufferers from indigestion and stomach trouble to get rid of the dangerous acid and keep the food contents bland and sweet by taking a little pure bisurated magnesia instead. Bisurated Magnesia is an absolutely pure antiacid which can be readily obtained from any drug store. It is absolutely harmless, is practically tasteless and a teaspoonful taken in a little warm or cold water after meals, will usually be found quite sufficient to instantly neutralize excessive acidity of the stomach, and prevent all possibility of the food fermenting.—Advt. SHIFTING OF 153RD NOT APPLAUDED BY WELLINGTON PEOPLE

Tacit Understanding the Unit Would Go to Guelph.

AFTER THE WINTER FAIR

Battalion Fund Will Lose $500 by Going to St. Thomas.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

GUELPH, Oct. 19.—The removal of the 153rd from London to St. Thomas is not a popular move from the standpoint of this county. When the battalion was here recently for the presentation of its colors it was understood that it would remain in London until it went overseas, and to this was coupled the request that it be sent to Guelph, the county seat, as soon as the winter fair was over. It is admitted here, though, that the winter fair dates cannot be altered and that the building must be placed at the disposal of the fair board for about three weeks, and that there would be trouble in getting through in that time. Had it not been for this, the men at headquarters in London have stated that the Wellingtons would have spent the winter in Guelph.

The county granted $1,500 on the date of the visit to recruit it to strength, and another $500 was to have been given, provided it came to Guelph, but this will now be cancelled.

A GOOD WAY TO PREVENT BALDNESS

Says This Recipe Will Often Grow New Hair in Two Weeks' Time.

Most men take baldness as something inevitable, though why it passes understanding. There is no more reason why hair should cease to grow on the top of the head than on the sides of the face—and most men have to shave to the end of their days or wear a beard.

If your hair is growing grey or getting thin in patches and you find great quantities of it in your brush and comb, the following recipe for a good home-made hair tonic can be strongly recommended. Get from any druggist 2 oz. of Lavona de Composee and 6 oz. of pure bay rum. Mix together, adding one-half drachm of Menthol Crystals and a little perfume if you desire it. This mixture should be allowed to stand over night, when it is ready for use.

This preparation will in almost every instance stop falling hair within two or three days, and numerous instances have been reported in which it has been the cause of new hair growth after years of partial baldness. It is quite important in using this prescription to apply the tonic directly on the scalp, rubbing briskly into the pores with the fingertips so that the hair roots can absorb its full nourishment. While the preparation contains no coloring matter and will not make the hair greasy or sticky, it often will restore hair to its natural color by its revitalizing action on the hair roots.—Advt. TO PUT ON FLESH AND INCREASE WEIGHT

Most people eat from four to six pounds of good solid fat-making food every day, and still do not increase in weight one ounce, while on the other hand many of the plump, chunky folks eat very lightly and keep gaining all the time. It's all bosh to say that this is the nature of the individual. It isn't Nature's way at all.

Most thin people stay thin because their powers of assimilation are defective. They absorb just enough of the food they eat to maintain life and a semblance of health and strength. Stuffing won't help them. A dozen meals a day won't make them gain a single "stay there" pound. All the fat-producing elements of their food just stay there in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste. What such people need is something that will prepare these fatty food elements so that their blood can absorb them and deposit them all about the body—something, too, that will multiply their red blood corpuscles and increase their blood's carrying power.

For such a condition it is well to recommend eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is not, as some believe, a patented drug, but is simply a careful combination of six of the most effective and powerful assimilative and flesh-building elements known to chemistry. It is absolutely harmless, yet has been wonderfully effective, and a single tablet eaten with each meal often, according to reports of users, has the effect of increasing the weight of a thin man or woman from three to five pounds a week. Sargol is sold by all good druggists everywhere on a positive guarantee of weight increase or money back.

If you find a druggist who is unable to supply you with Sargol send $1, money order or registered letter, to the National Laboratories, 74 St. Antoine street, Montreal, and a complete ten days' treatment will be sent you postpaid, in plain wrapper.—Advt.

45,000 Crows Pass Over Sarnia Farm in 3 Hours' Time

[Special to The Advertiser.]

SARNIA, Oct. 19.—Crows, that have been unusually numerous this year, according to reports from farm residents, have been having a busy time during the past few days congregating prior to migrating to a more salubrious clime. One farmer in this vicinity while plowing became attracted by the flocks of these dusky birds that were flying overhead in a northwesterly direction, and aided by his timepiece, counted 250 pass in just 60 seconds. This continuous flight continued without cessation for three hours. The farmer therefore reckons approximately that fully 45,000 birds passed over his field in the three hours preceding dusk.

RAIN A THIRD TIME SPOILS NORFOLK FAIR

Hard Luck Seems To Be Successive Procession.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

SIMCOE, Oct. 19.—A heavy, persistent rain completely spoiled the third and last day of what promised to be the most successful of all the fairs the Norfolk Agricultural Society has had since its inception in the middle of last century.

With a splendid lot of entries and a list of attractions of no mean order, if fine weather had been prevalent this week the attendance would have far exceeded all records. Yesterday, the second day, which rarely draws much of a crowd, a good many were out in spite of the piercing east wind that was blowing.

The farm products and fruits, despite the bad summer, were splendid. The women's work, dairy class, poultry show—everything except flowers and plants—were up to the usual standard, and in many instances far beyond.

The racing events run off yesterday were popular. Of the horses, cattle, etc., it is impossible to speak, as these classes come in on the third day, and on this occasion only a few venturesome exhibitors straggled in with their animals.

This is the third year in sucession that the last day of the fair has been spoiled by Jupiter Pluvius, but on the two previous years the clouds dispersed in the morning.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

SARNIA, Oct. 19.—Geo. Edward Parker, aged 14 years, a Barnado boy, who had been employed by Robt. Marsh near Wilksport, whose barn was destroyed by fire recently, was taken into custody by County Constable Poland today

It is alleged that the boy has confessed to setting fire to the barn on October 5.

The motive for so doing is given as, that after seeing a neighbor's barn burned he thought he would like to see a fire at home.

A preliminary inquiry will be held by the officials in the course of a few days. The lad has been in this country about four years, and had been with Mr. Marsh for about one year.

TERRIBLE DEATH COMES TO A SARNIA MAN

[Special to The Advertiser.]

SARNIA, Oct. 19. — David Barclay, aged 56, an employee of the Steel Company of Point Edward, was instantly killed by being caught between the jaws of an iron clam used for loading and unloading iron ore from vessels. The clam bucket was being swung into position for the day's work when Barclay came running along the dock towards the bucket with his head down. The bucket at this time was a few feet from the dock with the jaws partly open, and despite the warnings which were shouted at him from other employees working nearby, he walked into the bucket as it was closing, and before the jaws could be released he was practically cut in two.

Mr. Barclay was a married man.

Dr. R. G. McDonald held an inquest tonight, when a verdict was reached that death was accidental. Crown Attorney Wilson examined the witnesses. The evidence showed conclusively that the company and employers were in no way to blame.

Winnipeg, Oct. 19.—Something went wrong in the negotiations between the C. P. R. and its employees today. After a conference had about reached a satisfactory conclusion C. P. R. officials suddenly decided they had given enough.

"You can take it from me there will be a strike," said Vice-President Murdoch of the trainmen this afternoon.

THE WATER SUPPLY.

THE REMOVAL to Camp Borden of a great number of 10,000 soldiers encamped in London during the early part of the summer, in one sense was providential.

These soldiers would have made demands upon the water supply which could not have been met, and the city would have faced a condition causing not only inconvenience, but serious suffering.

The man or men who have controlled water affairs in London were warned of the serious shortage in 1915, but nothing was done to prevent the serious situation of 1916. A policy of "put your head in the sand" was advanced. To hint at the necessity for increased supply was to "knock" the city.

The shortage still exists, and investigations are proceeding towards augmentation of the supply. Various schemes are under consideration, among them the McGregor supply, which lies near the Wharncliffe road, and south of Brick street.

The purity of this supply has been established to the satisfaction of a majority of the commissioners. Extensive analyses have been made, and the final test showed that five out of six wells were free from colon bacilli, while the sixth showed a trace, not greater than is found in most drinking supplies. A purchasable quantity is admitted by the engineer.

Opposition to the wells scheme has developed in some quarters, which has a strong flavor of personal antagonism.

Surely this question can be settled on its merits. An additional supply is required at once. The whole matter of the McGregor wells is to be submitted to arbitration. Purity and quantity must be proven beyond doubt. Price must be argued and established. It may be considered advisable to pay for the water at so much per million gallons, so that if the supply should not be permanent the city will not have paid heavily for it.

In the meantime, if drillers discover an adequate supply closer to the Horton street pumping plant than the McGregor field, the scheme for the purchase of the latter could be abandoned. The first consideration is that the water question should be settled on its merits; otherwise The Advertiser makes the prediction that next summer will see the question unsettled and the use of water seriously curtailed.

VETERANS OF THE SCHOOLS.

SOME FOOD for the mental appetite is furnished in the annual report of the board of education, which has just come to hand. It is presented in admirable fashion, with a care in analysis that presents all the facts of the school life from a psychological standpoint as well as that of finances. The health of children, why they failed (as few did), the care of their teeth as an influence in improving their minds, the need for teachers to improve upon the elementary knowledge given by normal schools, the cost of educating a child —all these matters and more are dealt with most intelligently. The volume is well worth careful perusal of the taxpayer who believes the extension of education under present-day methods is "faddish." He will realize that results count, and results are shown for the schools of London in 1915.

The period of service of teachers in the city schools is a striking chapter of the report. More than a dozen have given the city 30 or more years of their lives. Some of them must have shaped to some extent the course in life of at least a thousand pupils. Forty-four teachers have been teaching in the London schools for 20 years or longer, but under 30 years, eighteen have put in at least 15 years, and 36 have been ten years at blackboard and desk. Long, faithful service is the reward of the teacher, but who can say these teachers have not had a life full of interest and influence. They have molded many a character, and launched many a career on its chosen path. They are always trying to do the right thing at any rate. They wish to see their boys and girls become strong, capable men and women, and once the guiding period has passed it must be with a pure heart interest that they see all the little ships set sail. They see some astounding results. The bright boy often plays out. The dullard becomes a business genius. Some follow the tendencies shown in early life, while others don't seem to turn out according to expectations.

Many are lost to their old teachers. Who can tell where all his classmates have gone? Take any list of thirty or forty boys and girls who attended school in London, give them fifteen or twenty years to find the particular hill they must climb, and how many of them are left in London? Usually they are scattered to all corners of the globe, perhaps a majority reaching the United States, compeling Canada to recruit fresh citizen material that comes to us very often with the body of a man but the brain of a child. The great pity of Canada is that she does not hold her own sons and daughters as good as the best on earth, and made so to a great extent by the careful attention of the school teachers, who remain in the service while generations pass. All honor to them! Let them preach a "Stay in Canada!" propaganda while they teach the young idea.

COURTESY REPAID.

WASHINGTON does not feel called upon to make any public statement on the raid of the German submarine U-53, but will probably supply Britain with information if requested.

Under these circumstances it might be well for Britain to make the request and ask particularly as to the truth of the report that commanders of American destroyers were told by the submarine captain to clear out of the way until he torpedoed the merchant vessels, and obeyed. If they did this it was directly aiding and abetting the raider, and as unfriendly an act as could be imagined, short of lending torpedoes for the purpose.

One thing is certain: Britain need no longer consider American feeling with regard to having her warships "hovering" near United States territorial waters. It may be irritating, but then Britishers feel slightly annoyed at the venture of the "U" boat and the facilities afforded the Hun. The warships were withdrawn from patrol duty merely as an act of courtesy, and not because there was a suspicion of illegality in their manoeuvres. The result was that the way was left open for such enterprises as that of the submarine. The least Washington could have done, in return for the consideration shown by Britain, was to prevent news of marine movements reaching the submarine crew and hamper her piracy efforts in any practicable way.

The truth appears to be that the United States Government feels fairly secure against trouble with Britain, but fears that if Germany is antagonized war may be declared, since another foe more or less can hardly make any difference to the beaten Teutons. Truly a manly attitude.

1915—ROGERS—1916.

IN AN INTERVIEW at Toronto Wednesday Hon. Robert Rogers declared that the Government would not consider the holding of an election, and that it is "just going ahead with its business."

On May 3, 1915, in a speech before the Montreal Conservative Club, Hon. Mr. Rogers sounded the keynote for a Conservative campaign, declaring that an election must be held. He was certain that the country was calling for an election "in tones of thunder." He characterized Liberals as a horde of "grafters and simpletons," and slandered the clergy with the statement that they were "simple-minded" enough to believe the Liberals.

A changed "minister of elections" appears before the country. The Government has no intention of calling an election; there are no "tones of thunder" in the air, unless they be the voice of an outraged Canada, calling for the rightful punishment of Hughes, Allison, Rogers & Co.

In May, 1915, the tenor of Mr. Rogers' complaint was that the Opposition was hampering the Government, and that the Liberal Senate was in the way. The Opposition will not be less vigorous at the next session than in 1915. Yet Mr. Rogers has changed his opinion. Isn't his conversion a wonderful thing? He is doing his best to avoid an appeal to the people. Why? His astuteness seems to have been restored since his coarse blunder of 1915.

And what a pretty figure is the Hon. Robert Rogers! How proud Canada must be to have men of his calibre in the seats of the mighty!

Fresh from a return to his beloved Manitoba, the scene of his triumphs, he stands as one who, from the mire of Roblinism, shook his fist at a judge of his own choosing, and screamed: "You're a grafter!" He has been trying to dodge the net that has been swung toward him several times. Up to the present he has been successful in avoiding it. Meanwhile the mills of the gods grind slowly, but they grind exceeding fine.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Berlin people must do without taxis. However, there is no scarcity of taxes.

British soldiers always had pity on the beaten. That's why Bowser was given some votes.

It's to be hoped prices of necessities drop before the Government gets busy, else some may starve.

The Beginning and the End

By Susan E. Clagett.

"When did it begin?"

The girl upon the lower step hugged her knees as she looked reflectively across the hills to the forest beyond. Then she turned her eyes to the face of the older woman.

"I don't know. It just came."

"It sometimes does come just like that, all in a moment, but I didn't know there was a young man within a thousand miles of this place."

"I knew you would think it odd to hear of one in this forlorn spot, yet I have never regarded the place in that light. It is quiet, however, and I have often longed for something interesting to come into my life. Of course, with a young girl the most interesting thing is that form of amusement in which young men have a part, and the youngest man here is Uncle Henry, who owns to 60 and is 80, if he's a day, and Mr. Hamilton, a widower, who is crippled with rheumatism and has asthma, and Mr. Alden, who is old and deaf."

"Of course, it is none of the three."

"Scarcely," Rachel Warren answered with a certain degree of indignation. "I said truly I do not know when it began. Really, there was no beginning. The nearest I can come to it is that subconsciously I must have retained a memory of him. We met two summers ago on that northern trip. You know that I was sick and rather unhappy. I had no wish to make friends, no heart to talk, but in some way he interested me. It was rather lonesome, especially when the fog shut us in, and after two days of fog I was a little glad to have someone take the vacant chair next to mine. It had been empty until then. In fact, there were very few people on deck the first three days out.

"I think he must have felt a little as I did—averse to making acquaintances—for he would sit near me for hours, saying only a word now and then. But he was congenial, and I missed him if he did not come to my corner for companionship."

"There must have been something uncommon about him, judging from that remark. You are a little standoffish in regard to making acquaintances."

"There was." The girl laughed in evident amusement. "It was his length. I had never seen anyone quite so long. She rose to her feet. "Imagine the contrast. I come about to his elbow.

"We took a good many little trips together after we landed and came to know each other fairly well. Indeed, there were many interesting places I would never have seen if he had not taken me. It sounds absurd, I suppose, but I could not overcome my Southern training and would have passed by many places, show places, really, rather than have visited them alone. For ten days or more, we saw each other every day, but upon my return home he slipped from my memory. I found my life too full of duties even to recall the enchanting days of that first trip away from home. Then all at once I remembered.

"I had gone to my morning's work with my soul in revolt. I fairly loathed my duties. I was tired—tired from a constant striving to do cheerfully what I hate to do with every fibre of my being. I remember I had cakes for breakfast that morning and with each cake I turned on the griddle I added one thousand years to my life. As there were seven I would soon have rivaled Methusela, but that my inner consciousness took a series of somersaults, and I found myself standing upon the deck of the old Trinidad as she plowed through the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

"A far reach from my kitchen stove to the moonlit sea and the northern lights on that distant night, but it sufficed to change my mood. Buckwheat cakes and sausage are good, and if there is more poetry in the moon, especially when you watch it with an agreeable companion, and that companion a man, the other is more satisfying for an early breakfast.

"However, my mental gymnastics served a good purpose. Life had been trying all through the week. For days I had been pricked until I felt as full of holes as an old pincushion. It is the tiny stabs from unexpected sources that make life hard. There are strength and endurance for the big issues, but the little things end by rasping raw nerves. Then is the time for me to get into the open if I can. It is not always possible. But I did get away from the house for a little while. Just a walk to the mail box and back, but it was far enough away for the rapid walk to send the blood tingling through my veins and change my viewpoint of life.

"I think, perhaps, the letter I found there helped as much as the crisp air to change the current of my thoughts. It was from the man of whom I am speaking. He had never written to me before and the letter was the merest, friendliest little note. Remember, Harriet, I had not thought of the man for two years. Can you explain the coincidence? Was it telepathy?"

"I cannot say," Harriet answered slowly, "there are so many things that are unexplainable, that seem mysterious, yet have a vital effect upon one's life. The only thing one can do is to accept them without explanation."

"That is true, but one cannot help wondering. Was it his thought of me after the letter was mailed, his absorbed thought that made me so completely forget my daily surroundings and stand with him on the deck of that old steamer? Be that as it may, there was nothing in the letter to suggest anything but a kindly interest. Could he call? He was coming to Washington, and would like to meet me again.

"Glad as I was to hear from him again, my first impulse was to find some excuse to prevent his coming. I didn't have a decent dress to my name. I cannot keep up with styles and have little use for up-to-date clothes. I am a little ashamed of myself as I look back upon that moment of hesitancy. But nevertheless I wrote and told him to come.

"He did not wait for my reply, Harriet. He came the following day and found me in a faded calico dress in the depths of a sunbonnet. I was in the garden gathering beans for dinner and did not see him until I heard a voice that made me jump to my feet. What do you think that man did? He put his hand under my chin, lifted up my face and kissed me.

"Of course, by all the conventions and modesty and outraged feeling, I should have resented that kiss. I did nothing of the kind. I merely stared up into his face. Then, before I realized what I was doing, I buried my face against his coat sleeve.

"That was the beginning and the end of my courtship. Afterward, when I was alone, I felt so ashamed. And I was tortured by doubt. I had never thought love could come all in a moment. I was overwhelmed and afraid. So afraid it might not be true. But when I told him my fears a little later I knew that I had been making a mountain out of a molehill.

"So you see, Harriet, the great event bore down upon me without beginning or end. It had to be, and was."

COULDN'T STUMP KENNY.

An Irish waiter named Kenny was noted for his wit and ready answers. A party of gentlemen who were staying at the hotel heard of Kenny's wit, and one of them made a bet that he would say something that Kenny couldn't answer at once.

A bottle of champagne was ordered and the one who had made the bet took hold of the bottle and commenced to open it. The cork came out with a bang and flew into Kenny's mouth.

"Ah," said he, "that is not the way to Cork!"

Kenney took the cork out of his mouth and replied: "No, but it's the way to 'Kill-Kenny'."

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

An English Sister-in-Law.

Dear Miss Grey,—1. I am 5 feet 8 inches in height and weigh 115 pounds. Do you think my height and weight correspond?

2. How about my writing, and what does it denote?

3. My brother (a soldier) married an English girl in June. What would be a nice present to send her for Christmas—something from Canada? Thanking you in advance, K.

Ans.—1. Yes.

2. It's fairly good.

3. A gold-lined spoon or serving fork, or knife of some sort, with the Canadian coat-of-arms and maple leaves carved on the handle, would be a nice token. If you own a camera, a book filled with views of your home vicinity, members of the family, etc., would no doubt be prized by her; or possibly she'd like a bit of handsome embroidery, centrepiece, cushion top or runner, worked by yourself. This might be on burlap, with maple leaves worked in autumn tints.

Biddy's Last Straw.

Dear Miss Grey,—It's mesilf that had to come to tell yez me thrubbles that come frum wan uv thim resates in the noospaper. I wouldn't be sayin' as how it was in yours, but I'll tak me affydavy won o'thim papers sed "straw" and bedad that same "straw" made me a dale o'thrubble.

Ye see it was this way—I had some o' the finest pears ye ever clappit an eye on and thinks I, "Thim same pears must be done in the nooest way." So I pales and cores and fixes me pears in me salers as the resate I was tellin' ye about sed. Thin I gets the straw, which was some job, bein' as how some of our oats naded a pair o' sizzers and a fine-tooth comb to get thim, but I puts it in me biler and sets me salers on it, as nate an' purty as cud be; thin I pours in the cowld wather till it riz aven wid the top o' me pears. Me fire was dandy, so navin' me pears to cook I went on wid me dishes, thinkin' what a fine an easy way it was to do 'em. The wather started to bile and all on a suddint such a hullaballoo started in that biler. I pulled off the lid and och mealy murther! what a site, shure 'that plaguey straw (bad cess to it) had riz up to the top like wan uv thim submaranes, and me poor salers was floppin' all over. Now that old resate sed "don't fasten lids on tight," and I didn't, and there was me pears all filled up wid straw tay. I scramed at the top o' me lungs fer Pat and he cum runnin', thinkin' the house was on fire, and we lifted the biler off and I had to fish thim bilin' salers out o' the bilin' wather, that same bein' no aisy job. So I jist drained off the straw tay, dumped me pears into a saucepan and did thim in the owld way me mither an' granmither did afore me.

Now will yez tell me—did any of yez say "straw?" and if yez did what was the matter wid mine that it wouldn't stay put, or should I use a board? Plaze tell me quick before the paches is all done. BIDDY.

Ans.—Honest, "Biddy," I thought you and your straw would be the death of me before I finished. And yet it's a shame to smile when you and the pears were in such trouble. Will someone who uses such new-fangled methods as straw, tell "Biddy" what to do? Should she not have a wooden rack to keep the straw in the boiler's bottom?

Patriotic Pieces.

Dear Miss Grey,—Inclosed find the piece "Spreading the News," which is the crepe recitation "Rusty" asked for, also copied one for "Canadian Girl," which please forward and this letter to "Velma F." Thanking you in advance, as before. PATRIOTIC.

Ans.—I haven't "Rusty's address, but maybe she'll send it now. Others were forwarded.

Chaff and Grain.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am a daily reader of your page, and enjoy it very much. To be sure one has to blow away quite a bit of chaff sometimes to get at the grain, but it is interesting just the same. I hope the coupon seekers will soon all be satisfied and be able to get their "somethings" for nothing. Never had much use for them myself.

I noticed where a couple of inquirers did not have their queries answered yet, so I thought I could help out. In regard to the paraffin oil, it was to be taken in tablespoon doses after each meal. If it proved too laxative, take in smaller doses. I am also sending two excellent methods of curing pork.

Could any of my farmer fellow workers tell me how to cure "black head" in turkeys? MATRON.

Ans.—Request referred to farm women readers.

An English Dish.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am sending a recipe that takes the place of potatoes. It is an old English dish: To one cup of washed rice add five cups boiling water and one even teaspoon salt; cook one hour (longer improves dish) in double-cooker, eat with meat gravy slightly thickened with flour and seasoned to taste with pepper and salt, or white sauce made from one cup water, one cup milk, small piece of butter, when hot mix good tablespoon flour or cornstarch with little, add to mixture; boil three minutes. Same recipe cooked with half milk and water, sweetened slightly, serve with jelly and cream, makes good plain dessert. Any leftover can be used for pancakes.

To cut castile soap, try this plan: Dip sharp steel knife in boiling water and saw the soap, not cut. AUNT MILREEDA.

Ans.—Thank you, aunt. Your help is always appreciated, I assure you.

Have Your Money Ready Tomorrow Morning for the British Red Cross Collectors

Every house in the city will be canvassed tomorrow morning by collecting teams of boys from the Collegiate Institute and public schools, selected by the school principals to carry out this important phase of the campaign.

All collectors will have sealed collecting boxes and will wear a uniform Red Cross badge on one arm. The letter-carriers of the city postal department have unanimously volunteered their services to direct the collectors.

Place your contribution in the envelope supplied with the circular received on Wednesday and put it in the collecting box.

The boys are gladly giving their time without remuneration to help the British Red Cross, and the central committee urge your co-operation in assisting their work by having your money ready in the envelope on Saturday morning.

This is an all-cash campaign, as funds are needed now. All subscriptions of $1.00 and over will be acknowledged by receipt and in the daily papers. Last year London contributed over $71,000.00. Can we do less this year when the need is greater?

Daily Bible Question Club

By Rev. T. S. Linscott, D. D.

(All Rights Reserved.)

The six daily studies for this week constitute the International S. S. Lesson for next Sunday. Read the Bible Story on which this study is based, as you ponder the following questions:

"Paul's Defence Before Agrippa." Acts, xxvi.

Golden Text—"I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision." Acts, xxvi., 19.

15. Verses 19-21—Saul had witnessed the martyrdom of Stephen and heard his shout of victory, when they were stoning him to death; what effect did that probably have upon Saul? (See Acts, vii., 55-60).

16. If Saul had not seen Stephen's death, would the result of the appearance of Christ to him, on the road to Damascus, have been any different?

17. If a man pretends to be converted and does not immediately begin to tell others of Jesus, and his great salvation, why does that or not indicate that he is a fraud?

Western University Postpones Sports

Owing to the fact that one Jupiter Pluvius has a habit of upsetting the best-laid plans of the sporting fraternity, the Western University field sports, which were scheduled for this afternoon in Tecumseh Park, have been postponed until Thursday, October 26. The grass is thick and fairly high in the park over the Dundas street bridge, and carries aqua pura for some time after the raindrops cease pattering.

Good News for Rugbyists.

The postponement is good news to the rugby squad. Many of the boys who chase the pigskin are entered for the track events, and were afraid that they would be in poor shape after a gruelling afternoon on the cinder path to take on the Guelph Aggies in their own backyard Saturday.

The final practice will be held this afternoon in Tecumseh Park, and all players are requested to be present. They will probably work out against the Collegiate fourteen. Tonight a chalk talk will be held in the university gym. Coach Arthur Smith is greatly pleased with the way the boys have been turning out to practice, and predicts a win over the Guelph O. A. C.

Two Positions in Doubt.

The only positions that are now in doubt are flying wing and quarterback. Christopher and McKay are fighting it out for the remaining position on the back division, while Shosenburg, Mace and Reynolds are all possibilities for quarterback, with Reynolds probably landing the job. Here is the team that will take the 7:20 G. T. R. train to Guelph tomorrow morning: Flying wing, Christopher or McKay; backs, Kingswood, Smith and Anderson; scrimmage, Ferguson, Loughlin and McLarty; inside wings, Mathews and Kaiser; middle wings, Bill Elgie and Brickenden; outside wings, Pardy and Goldie Elgie; quarterback, Shosenburg, Reynolds or Mace.

May Not Go.

Late this afternoon Coach Smith stated that it was possible the team would not go to Guelph tomorrow on account of the weather.

A Conversation In Selak's:

(Two customers meet.)

"Hello, doctor!"

"Hello, George! How's the new six-cylinder?"

"Fine! Selak here wants to trade with me."

"Well, why not? You trade with him, don't you?"

"Yes, you bet I do, doctor. Have been for years. This your first visit?"

"Yes. I'm going to try him out with a dress suit order. If he falls down—"

"Don't worry! If your batting average was as good as his, there wouldn't be a sick man in London. I'll meet you here often, now."

OLD GLOVES DANGER TO BOXERS

New York, Oct. 17.—The danger to young boxers who are compelled to use old gloves in their preliminary bouts at boxing matches is emphasized by the physician who attended Tommy Houck, once local boxer of some note, now blind.

The physician says Houck lost his sight because of contact with unclean boxing gloves in the days when he was a preliminary boxer.

Men who box in the main bouts are provided with new gloves, but the youngsters who fight the preliminary bouts have to wear gloves that have been used by others. It is asserted that these may cause blood poisoning if the fighter's face is cut or scratched.

WOODSTOCK RUGBY TEAM PLAYS STRATFORD TODAY

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 19.—The schedule for the local O. R. F. U. district has not been officially drawn up owing to the fact that St. Marys has applied to be taken into third group which will necessitate a rearrangement. The two local clubs have expressed a willingnes to admit St. Marys, which will give them two extra home games. The collegiate will play a league game at Stratford tomorrow afternoon. The game on Tuesday night which resulted in a win for the collegiate will also count in the championship series.

A draft of a schedule was drawn up several days ago, and submitted to Stratford, but several of the dates were not satisfactory to the northern school.

SARNIA GOLFERS CLOSE EVENTFUL SEASON TODAY

SARNIA, Oct. 19.—The closing games of this season at the Sarnia Golf Club will be played on Friday, October 29, and on this occasion the prizes for the different competitions will be presented. A prize will be awarded for the lowest score for nine holes, and also for the blind-hole competition. This season has been an eventful one for this club, as it marked the opening of their new and modern grounds and up-to-date clubhouse, and by next summer the grounds will be one of the best in Ontario.

IT IS TO LAUGH.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The announcement that Al McCoy, who technically holds the middleweight title, and Jack Dillon, the Hoosier bearcat, would meet at the Broadway Sporting Club in the near future in a ten-round bout, caused a ripple of merriment among the patrons of boxing. The consensus of opinion is that the bout will be a very one-sided affair, and that if Dillon is up to form McCoy will get a terrific beating.

In view of the fact that McCoy not long ago refused to box Moha, his taking on Dillon, a bigger man, is regarded as singular, to say the least.

American Papers Favor Toronto For Big League

Would Like to See the Queen City Take Over Washington Franchise—Arthur Irwin Man Who Is Boosting Proposition for the Leafs.

The report that Toronto may replace Washington in the American League has caused considerable comment from various baseball experts, and the following from three United States dailies are interesting:

New York Tribune.—The rumor that Washington will lose its American League franchise persists. It seems that the present administration does not patronize baseball very extensively and that Walter Johnson has been pitching to empty seats too many times during the current season. The deserving Democrats who came to the capital with William Jennings Bryan do not patronize the national game.

The best year of the Washington team was the last of the Taft administration. The predecessor of Wilson was a patron of the game and an euthusiastic fan. But since the Democrats crowded Washington the attendance at the ball games dwindled until now it is a losing club. And in these days no big league club has any license to lose money.

TORONTO NEXT YEAR.

The franchise which Washington will lose most probably will go to Toronto, Canada. The Canadian city has developed a tremendous interest in baseball, and the American League magnates, who are businessmen first, figure that the interest will develop to a greater extent if the Canadians see a chance of getting some big league baseball. Walter Johnson and Clark Griffith are very likely to be battling under the flag of the Dominion next year.

One statesman of the present administration declares that the lack of interest in the Washington ball team is rather to the credit of the present office holders. It shows that the deserving Democrats are not of a frivolous turn of mind. Oh, well, it all depends on the point of view. Baseball is alleged to be the great American game, and the fact that Toronto is more enthusiastic over it than the capital of the United States is rather startling.

IRWIN STARTED IT.

Buffalo Express.—One of the most eventful seasons in baseball has gone into history, leaving a crop of merry rumors in its wake for discussion during the long winter months nearby. The story of Toronto advancing to major classification has returned and is keeping lots of folks a-guessing. Arthur Irwin, business manager of the Leafs, is the boy who started the whole thing.

Arthur, by the way, has qualified as a publicity and advertising manager and to him can be traced the fine attendance at Toronto despite the war. With the same stone, Arthur is trying to make another killing and hang in with Ban Johnson. Arthur, of course, would get a life job if Toronto is lucky enough to move ahead.

ARTHUR A HUSTLER.

When Arthur went to Toronto last spring he found the town deader than the proverbial doornail. He then hit on the scheme of advertising daily in the surrounding newspapers. Every little town in the vicinity was placarded with posters, too, telling of the Leafs and their daily schedule. It took well and Toronto had one of the best seasons recorded, despite the absence of many of its citizens because of the war.

President Barrow, when asked for his view on the matter, has said it was simply a rehash of the old story, but Ed has some irons in the fire, too. He realizes that Jersey City must return to the circuit to rekindle the old rivalry that existed with Newark. Richmond did fairly well financially and is ready to fight again for its franchise. Montreal was the proverbial trailer.

AN OLD, OLD STORY.

Providence Journal.—Toronto and Baltimore are falling over each other in their efforts to land the Washington franchise in the American League. This is a rather old story for Toronto, but the first intimation that Baltimore is after the franchise was during the world series. Either city has about as much chance of getting the Washington franchise as Montreal has to get the Giants.

Baltimore is dying hard on the big league stuff, but the sooner the fans in the Monumental City realize what everybody outside knows—that neither major league will have the city in its circuit—the sooner the fans there will cease to reach after the impossible. Followers of the game in Baltimore would never pay 75 cents to see a ball game in a million years.

PRAISE FOR TORONTO.

Toronto might be considered, and, in fact, has been in relation to a possible shift some time in the future, but the geographical location of the city is against it, as is the railroad situation. Train service into and out of Toronto is anything but satisfactory. It would be practically impossible for some of the teams to make an overnight trip to Toronto, and for this reason the city would have to be placed as a western team, pushing Cleveland or Detroit into the eastern wheel, a very unsatisfactory arrangement.

At that, Toronto would undoubtedly be a far better city than Washington has been for several years. Toronto is a fine baseball city and for several years at least would probably turn out paying crowds. But Washington is in and there is little probability of its getting out, for when the present owners get enough there are plenty of wealthy men in the Capital City to take over the club.

WHO KILLED COCK ROBIN?

Coroner's Jury Holds Inquest

Boston, Oct. 17.—The jury sitting on the inquest as to "Who killed Cock Robin of Brooklyn, N. Y.?" is still out.

Dozens of witnesses testified before Coroner Ban Johnson, but the testimony was conflicting, and it is possible that charges of perjury will be made against certain ball players and baseball writers who were called.

Ring Lardner, a baseball writer, was the first witness called.

"Were you present at the alleged games between the Brooklyn Nationals and the Boston Americans, during which the deceased, Cock Robin, came to his death?" inquired the district attorney.

"I was," replied the witness.

"Tell the jury what occurred," snapped the district attorney.

"I don't know what happened," said Mr. Lardner.

"You were present at these games, yet you cannot tell what happened? Will you kindly explain to the jury how that can be?" thundered the district attorney.

"I am a baseball writer," explained Mr. Lardner.

"Oh!" said the district attorney. "The witness is excused."

Wilbert Robinson of Brooklyn, as the nearest friend of the deceased, was the next witness. Mr. Robinson wore a band of crape on his hat and a large mourning band upon his arm. There were traces of recent grief in his face, and he could hardly restrain his tears as he gave his testimony.

"You knew the deceased, Cock Robin?" asked the district attorney.

"He was my little pal," sobbed Mr. Robinson.

"Have you any idea as to how he came to his death?" asked the district attorney.

"None," replied Mr. Robinson. "Of course he was not very healthy when he started out from Brooklyn, but he wouldn't have bumped off as quick as this unless somebody gave him the works. The first thing I know is seeing him turn up his little pink toes——"

At this point Mr. Robinson was overcome and was forced to leave the stand. The district attorney then asked that Ruth and Leonard, Boston pitchers, be called.

Coroner Johnson interrupted impatiently: "Of course you know that the testimony of these men cannot be accepted as evidence," said the coroner.

"Why not, your honor?" asked the district attorney.

"They are both left-handers," said the coroner. "You should know that no jury can listen to southpaws."

William Carrigan, manager of the Red Sox, was next called. When asked to tell what he knew about who killed Cock Robin, he said:

"Nobody killed him. He was dead from the neck up in the first place, and he just kicked off from natural causes.

"You had better be careful," said the district attorney. "Anything you say may be used against you, as you are suspected of being an accessory to the killing of the late Cock Robin."

"Go as far as you like," said the witness defiantly. "Before you can prove that I killed Cock Robin you've first got to prove that he was ever alive."

The witness was cautioned against strong language by Coroner Johnson. He was told that he was in danger of contempt of the National Commission.

"If contempt of the National Commission is a crime, I ought to be electrocuted," said Carrigan. "Anyhow, I am quitting baseball, so anything I say about the commission goes as it lies."

Charles Ebbets, owner of Cock Robin, was next called to testify as to the material loss sustained by the death of the well-known Flatbush bird.

"What value did you place upon the late Cock Robin before the recent world's series and the consequent demise of the bird?" asked the district attorney.

"About two million bucks," said the squire.

"And what would you call a fair valuation of the remains of the said Cock Robin?" asked the district attorney.

"About thirty cents now," said Mr. Ebbets. He collapsed and had to be carried from court.

Grantland Rice, the poet, who attended all games, was next called. "My theory," said Mr. Rice, "is that Cock Robin, while in Boston, lived at the Copley Plaza Hotel, and came to his death at or near the time he received his bill, the cause being shock and internal injuries."

"This is immaterial," objected the district attorney. "It calls for the opinion of the witness."

"What d'ye mean, immaterial?" demanded Mr. Rice. "I haven't got over my bill yet. If I didn't have a naturally strong constitution I'd have kicked off myself."

Ivan Olson, the Swedish-Flatbush ball player, was called. Mr. Charles E. Van Loan acted as interpreter.

"Do you think that the fact that you got two errors on one play had anything to do with the death of Cock Robin?" asked the D. A.

"Ay don't tank so," said Olson. "If it ban Yon Yonson or Mr. Van Loanson, maybee he got three. Two was all Ay could do, and Ay am pretty smart Swede faller"

Jess Willard Draws Chocolate Fighters

No Fork-Dipped Bon-Bons for Heavy Weight Champion of the World — Turns Down Match With Harry Wills.

Some of the New York and Boston promoters are talking about trying to match Jess Willard with Harry Wills, the big negro heavyweight. It is said that Jim Buckley, the man behind Wills, has an offer of $40,000 from a syndicate in Boston to stage such a match.

Wills may be a great fighter and all that, but it is a certainty that black-and-white contests in the ring are a thing of the past. Willard declared some months ago that as long as he was champion he would never agree to box a colored man. When Willard started out for the heavyweight championship he declared that after he had restored the championship title to the white race he would maintain a strict color line.

Willard Ready.

Jack Curley, who has an interest in the earnings of Willard, stated a short while back that Willard was getting ready to box this fall when he ended his show work. In order to keep up his price as a circus attraction it becomes necessary for the heavyweight titleholder to defend his title at least once during the resting period.

Last year Willard did this. Even though it is only a ten-round match, the fact that the champion is out there before the public helps. Willard stepped into the ring with Frank Moran, and gave himself publicity.

But when it comes to grooming Wills for a match with Willard, this is out of the question. It took a long time for the promoters to get over the effects that Johnson's victory over Jeffries had on the boxing game.

Kelly Has "Hope."

Spider Kelly, known throughout the country as the foxiest and wisest of all managers, seconds and handlers of boxers, has a new heavyweight he is "grooming for Willard." The name of his newest phenom is Joe Bonds. He is called "The Fighting Deacon," is said to be a graduate of the University of Washington, a trained athlete, and the most promising young heavyweight in the country. Bonds has had a few fights and seems to possess the knack of putting his men away in a round or two. Among his victims is "Battling Jim Johnson"—so he isn't exactly picking "soft ones" to climb over on the way up. Bonds is to go after Fulton. Morris and Moran—so says Spider Kelly.

Johnny vs. Freddy.

There is still some talk about a bout between Kilbane and Welsh. If this fight ever comes off, it should be to a finish, and then there would be some real action. Kilbane and Welsh in a ring for ten rounds would furnish one of the finest exhibitions of dancing and sidestepping ever put over.

New Pastime.

Jimmy Clabby and Eddie McGoorty are "following the races" in Australia now. Both have gone past their prime in the ring. A few weeks ago Clabby had $150 on a horse which finished second. As he was walking away from the ring kicking himself for having bet on the horse to win, it was announced that the winner had been disqualified, putting Clabby's horse in first place. Jimmy won $3,000.

LIGHT "EATS" THESE AFTER 95-MILE RUN

Chicago, Oct. 19.—A heaping dish of ice cream and some lemonade was all that Sidney Hatch of Chicago, a veteran amateur marathon runner, wanted after he finished his record-breaking 95-mile run from Milwaukee to Chicago yesterday. Then, after a brisk rub-down, he went to bed for a 24-hour sleep.

Officials of the Amateur Athletic Union declared that Hatch's performance probably was the most remarkable in history. He covered the distance—95.7 miles—in 14 hours 50 minutes and 30 seconds, beating the former record by four hours and seven minutes.

Hatch finished the run at a dog trot, just as he started in Milwaukee at 8 o'clock Tuesday night. He ran every step of the way, making only three stops for a total loss of 16 minutes, and finished strong, although ten pounds lighter. He averaged a mile every 8½ minutes.

Alex. Monteverde of Johnstown, N. Y., who started as Hatch's pacemaker, was forced to drop out before three-fourths of the distance had been covered.

Hatch is 33 years old and has competed as an amateur for seventeen. He has raced in more than 45 marathon events and a hundred or more shorter distance races.

The Thistle Club will hold a progressive euchre party tonight in the club rooms in place of the annual meeting which was scheduled for this evening. The Thistle euchres were extremely popular last year, and it is expected that there will be between 50 and 60 members present at the first party of the season.

TABERSKI WINS OUT IN SECOND BILLIARD GAME

New York, Oct. 20.—Frank Taberski of Schenectady, pocket billiard champion, defeated Ralph Greenleaf of Monmouth, Ill., here last night, 176 to 150 in the second block of their 450 point match for the professional pocket billiard championship of America. Taberski's high run was 36 and Greenleaf's 27. The score now stands: Greenleaf 300; Taberski 264. The final block will be played tonight.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 19.—Ben Earl, the 2:00¾ gelding, owned by Edward Peterson of Omaha, took first money in the grand circuit, $2,000 Piedmont Hotel cup class pacing race in straight heats here today. Coming in for second, third and fourth places, respectively, were Spring Maid, second in two heats; Young Todd and Peter Pointer, the latter being driven by "Pop" Geers, and finishing a poor fourth in each of the three heats.

The most sensational performance of the card was the third event, a 2:07 class pacing race, won by Alta Wood, with Murphy at the reins. The second event, 2:18 class trotting, three in five, for a purse of $1,000, was won by Ridge Mark, a bay gelding, piloted by Traynor.

Ben Earl came out between scheduled events in an effort to lower the track record of 2:05¾ made by Goldie C. last Tuesday, and did it easily, covering the oval in 2:04¾. Summary:

BILL DONOVAN SIGNS UP.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—William Donovan signed a contract today to manage the New York American League baseball cub for the season of 1917, according to Captain T. L. Huston, half-owner of the club. Donovan became manager of the club in 1915.

We Agree With You John

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The National League must be strengthened, in the opinion of John K. Tener, its president. Mr. Tener says he believes the 21-player limit has worked against the league in world's series games, and the limit should be increased.

"There is no use in the National League making any excuses or giving any alibis," said Mr. Tener. "We have played poor ball, very poor ball, in the last few series. Our pitchers help up, but that was all. I appreciate that something must be done. I am not pretending not to see it. In my annual message to the club presidents I have called attention to the fact that the National League does not get its prestige in the executive office, but on the ball field. That is where the public judges us.

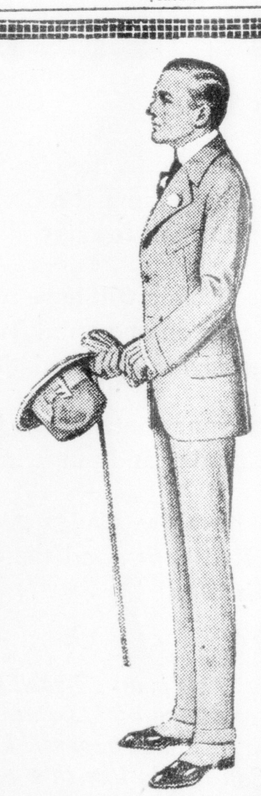

Hear! Hear!

"Every effort must be made all around to strengthen the league. Those recent defeats have stung, and with each defeat we are all the more eager to turn the tide. I want every one in the league, president, manager and players, to aim for a National League victory next fall.

"Personally, I believe the 21-player limit has worked against the National League, and I think by next season the player limit in our league will be increased."

Will Meet Soon.

It was reported today that President Tener, Harry Hempstead, the president of the New York National League club, and John J. McGraw, the club's manager, will meet here today or tomorrow, to talk over McGraw's criticism of the New York players in their final series with Brooklyn. As a result of this conference a decision may be reached as to whether the National League shall investigate McGraw's accusation that his men were playing in indifferent fashion.

VON KLUCK RETIRES FROM ACTIVE LIST; WOUNDED IN 1915

Never Able to Take Command of Army Again.

WAS IN BIG DRIVE

Commanded German Army Which Got Within 30 Miles of Paris.

BERLIN, via London, Oct. 19. — Field Marshal Alexander Von Kluck, who commanded the right wing of the German army in its sweep toward Paris in the fall of 1914, has been placed on the retired list on his own request. He had never returned to the front since he was wounded by shrapnel fire in March, 1915, while inspecting advanced positions. The field marshal was 70 years of age last May.

Field Marshal von Kluck and his army took an important part in the German advance toward Paris in September, 1914. His advance halted about 30 miles from the French capital, and his force, with the rest of the German army, was checked and driven back in the battle of the Marne.

Field Marshal von Kluck was born in Muenster, Germany, May 20, 1846, and entered the German army as a second lieutenant in 1865. At the outbreak of the war he was in command of the army corps at Koenigsberg. He fought in the war with Austria in 1866, and in the Franco-Prussian war in 1870.

He is said to have received his wound in March, 1915, by recklessly exposing himself after a stormy interview with Emperor William. Last August it was reported he was soon to take a command on the eastern front. His son, Lieut. Egon von Kluck, was reported killed at Middelkerke, early in 1915.

CANON TUCKER PROPOSES REORGANIZATION OF WORK

Would Mobilize All Resources of Men and Material in Church.

MONTREAL, Oct. 19.—The meeting of the Anglican general synod committee for service yesterday had 40 delegates present at the synod hall, including th primate, the archbishops of Algoma and Nova Scotia, the bishop of Fredericton, Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa, Kingston, Toronto, Niagara, Huron, Qu'Appelle, Calgary and Edmonton, Athabasca and Keewatin.

The primate of all Canada was in the chair. The secretary, Canon Tucker of London, Ont., said that, owing to the lack of definite organization, the church had been seriously retarded in its social and moral reform work.

His proposals were four:

First—Presenting to the Government the views held by the church on legislation for the good of the people.

Second—The mobilization of the resources of the church in men and material for the work to be done, especially on the temperance and purity questions, calling for immediate attention.

Third—Co-operation with other bodies engaged in similar kinds of work.

Fourth—To inaugurate a campaign of education to enlighten the clergy and people on social subjects.

The following executive committee was appointed: The bishops of Huron, Toronto and Kingston, Archdeacons Ingles and Dobbs, Canon Tucker, Dr. Thomas, Hon. Mr. Harcourt and Mr. Matthew Wilson. The executive committee will appoint the general secretary at a salary not to exceed $2,500 a year, and also the treasurer.

YOU CAN'T

cure skin troubles by applying ointment to the surface skin. You must reach the underlying tissues where the disease has its roots. Ordinary ointments cannot do this, and that is why the relief they give is only temporary.

Zam-Buk, on the contrary, has such power of penetration, combined with unusual germ-destroying properties, that it reaches and destroys all germs in the underlying tissues. Then the healing essences promote the growth of new flesh, which gradually develops until the diseased patch is entirely replaced by new, healthy tissue, and a complete and permanent cure is effected.

Zam-Buk is best for eczema, and all skin troubles, ringworm, ulcers, abscesses, salt rheum, chronic sores, blood-poisoning, boils, piles, cuts, burns, scalds and all skin injuries. All druggists, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, 50c. box, 3 for $1.25.

PROF. LAW CALLS UPON CANADIANS TO WIPE OUT GRAFT

Men Sitting Like Great Spiders Waxing Fat.

IS TIME FOR ACTION

Knox College Professor Says Indignant People Should Rise in Might.

TORONTO, Oct. 19.—"While our sons are sacrificing their lives in a sacred cause, are we to permit men at home to sit like great spiders in their webs waxing fat upon a situation charged with the greatest opportunities for great and noble service? Surely Canadian indignation, with the strength of righteousness, will rise in its might.

"The Government may have something up its sleeve, but something needs to be done—and quickly and thoroughly. Something needs to be done regarding recruiting. Some leadership in this great and needful task is needed. The war is not won yet. Victory is within reach, but it is not yet within grasp. It is the last stride that wins the race; it is the last blow that wins the fight."

The words quoted were uttered by Prof. Robert Law, of Knox College, who moved a vote of thanks to Premier Hearst at the conclusion of the prime minister's address to the Empire Club today. Prof. Law, who has three sons at the front, called for a purifying of public and political life. Surely Canadians would rise to higher heights and stamp out graft—"flagrant and disgraceful graft"—which was debauching public and political life. "War," he declared, "has made these things look tenfold uglier. Truth bids us say that in the past people have been rather amused with graft and the grafters—they have been a used tolerant. We want a real sustained indignation that is red hot, not a spasmodic annoyance. We don't want mere annoyance; we want red hot determination to get rid of the vile damnable thing altogether."

ANOTHER ADVANCE MADE BY FRENCH TOWARD PERONNE

Gain Is Recorded Between Biaches and La Maisonette.

BRITISH MAKE A GAIN

Line Moved Nearer Bapaume in Spite of Heavy Rainfall.

PARIS, Oct. 19.—In the fighting south of the River Somme in France the French troops have made fresh progress between Biaches and La Maisonette, near Peronne, according to the French official statement issued tonight.

North of the Somme a German attack on the French lines north and east of Sailly-Saillisel was repulsed.

The text of the statement reads:

"North of the Somme the Germans at 5 p.m. made a vain attempt to attack our lines north and east of Sailly-Saillisel. Our artillery fire broke up the waves of the attack at the outset and inflicted considerable loss on the enemy.

"South of the Somme we made fresh progress during the day between Biaches and La Maisonette.

"The total number of prisoners taken in yesterday's action at present exceeds 150, including 10 officers.

"Everywhere else the day was quiet."

BRITISH ALSO ADVANCE.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The bulletin from British headquarters in France, issued tonight, reads:

"Rain fell heavily all morning. We have slightly advanced our line at Butte-de-Warlencourt. An enemy counter-attack in that neighborhood was stopped by our barrage.

"Elsewhere there is nothing to report."

Town Celebrates Because Its Jail Lacks Occupants

For First Time in Thirty Years Morden, Man., Has No Prisoners.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 19.—For the first time since it was built, 30 years ago, Morden, Manitoba, jail has no prisoners confined within its walls.

The citizens of Morden, in honor of the showing made under prohibition, were today entertained at an "empty jail" celebration. All locks were free, bolts on cells drawn and front and back doors opened wide as the visitors walked along the corridors of the prison.

Tea and cake were served by the ladies of the town in the place of prison fare given to prisoners for 30 years. Flags flew from cell windows and from flagstaffs in the town.

The verdict calls it "criminal negligence."

BELGIAN RELIEF WORK MAY BE HANDICAPPED

Sentiment in England That Supplies May Reach Belgians Helping Germans.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Suggestions in England for curtailment of the work of the Belgian relief commission because its supplies might reach Belgians whose services had been commandeered by Germany have been called unofficially to the attention of the state department, but the subject has not been taken up diplomatically.

The state department is anxious to do all it can to prevent any misunderstanding which would cripple the work of the commission, but it is realized that from the beginning the status of the organization has been extremely delicate, in that it stands between two determined groups of belligerents. The possibility of an unneutral act, or of an act appearing unneutral, has been so great that the commission has acted with the most extreme care.

BY JOVE!

said a well educated man the other day when he was asked this question:—"Why, when you have a cold, a cough or bronchitis (troubles, you will note, of throat and chest) do you persist in pouring cough syrups, lung tonics and the like into your stomach, which is perfectly sound?"

Ever think of it? The stomach and the lungs are not connected, otherwise food swallowed would choke you. Lung and throat troubles were never yet cured by dosing the stomach. To cure coughs, colds and bronchitis, you must breathe the cure. Peps provide the rational treatment for these ailments. Peps are tablets made up of pine extracts and medicinal essences, which when put into the mouth turn into healing vapors. These are breathed down direct to the lungs, throat and bronchial tubes—not swallowed down to the stomach, which is not ailing. Try a 50c. box of Peps for your cold, your cough, bronchitis or asthma. All druggists and stores or Peps Co., Toronto, will supply

LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK, CROSS, FEVERISH

Give 'California Syrup of Figs' at once if bilious or constipated.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhaea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative"; they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

WOMAN HAD NERVOUS TROUBLE

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her.

West Danby, N. Y.—"I have had nervous trouble all my life until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nerves and for female troubles and it straightened me out in good shape. I work nearly all the time, as we live on a farm and I have four girls. I do all my sewing and other work, with their help, so it shows that I stand it real well. I took the Compound when my ten-year-old daughter came and it helped me a lot. I have also had my oldest girl take it and it did her lots of good. I keep it in the house all the time and recommend it."—Mrs. DEWITT SINCEBAUGH, West Danby, N. Y.

Sleeplessness, nervousness, irritability, backache, headache, dragging sensations, all point to female derangements which may be overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

STRATFORD OUT FOR $25,000; POPULAR SLOGAN ADOPTED

"One Day's Upkeep of British Red Cross."

TO CANVASS NEXT WEEK

Splendid Returns Reported in Western Ontario in Spite of Rain.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

STRATFORD, Oct. 19.—With slogan of "$25,000, one day's upkeep of the British Red Cross in France," the citizens of Stratford will be appealed to next week for $15,000 to supplement the $10,000 municipal grant. This was decided at a public meeting of the ratepayers tonight. The canvass will take place Wednesday and Thursday of next week and will be carried out by ten teams.

Mayor Ferguson was appointed chairman of the central organization, with L. G. Salter, secretary-treasurer. An executive composed of Mayor Ferguson, C. McIlhargey, G. G. McPherson, Dr. Silcox, George McLagan, Ald. Ballantyne and Wm. Preston was named to select the captains, and otherwise complete the organization. The meeting was enthusiastic and $1,930 was subscribed among those present.

DETERMINED ON $15,000.

SARNIA, Oct. 19.—The canvass for funds for the British Red Cross commenced promptly at 9 o'clock this morning in a drizzling rain, but, equipped with raincoats and umbrellas, the canvassers braved the elements and are determined to reach the mark aimed at, namely $15,000.

Tonight the counters had passed the $11,600 mark when they "closed shop." It was estimated that the day's collection would reach $14,000 and further belated contributions are expected.

GLENCOE MAY GIVE $800.

GLENCOE, Oct. 19.—Glencoe will probably contribute about $800 in response to the Trafalgar Day appeal for the British Red Cross. Four hundred dollars were contributed by voluntary subscriptions, and at a meeting of the citizens the council was asked to supplement the public donation with an equal amount.

KINCARDINE RAISES $3,200.

KINCARDINE, Oct. 19.—The sum of $3,200 was raised here today for the British Red Cross Society. This is $100 more than was raised last year. The largest donation, $500, was made by Alex McKenzie. James Malcolm came next with $200. Four teams took part in the canvass. They were captained by Rev. Mr. McArthur, F. E. Coomb, Wm. Hunter and George D. Morrison.

TILBURY GIVES $500.

TILBURY, Oct. 19.—The town council held a special meeting this afternoon to reconsider the amount of the grant to the British Red Cross fund. By a unanimous vote the former appropriation of $150 was increased to $500. The I. O. D. E. hope to add considerably to this by means of a tea and cooking sale on Saturday, which they will conduct in John Anderson's wareroom, Queen street. A collection is being taken up in the schools today also.

$7,000 IN GALT FIRST DAY.

GALT, Oct. 19.—Tonight with some returns yet to come in Treasurer C. E. A. Dowler of Galt's fund for British Red Cross reported that the total had passed $7,000 the amount aimed at. Drizzling rain all day did not prevent thorough canvass of the city. Boy Scouts covered resident districts and businessmen canvassed mercantile section and industrial plants. There was plenty of enthusiasm and subscriptions ranged from one cent to $1,000.

GRANT FROM I. O. D. E.

SARNIA, Oct. 19.—At a special meeting of the John William McDonald Chapter of the Doughters of the Empire, a grant of $100 was made to the British Red Cross fund. A like amount will be spent in providing Christmas boxes for the soldiers at the front.

OVER $7,000 IN INGERSOLL.

INGERSOLL, Oct. 19.—Over $7,500 was Ingersoll's contribution to the British Red Cross fund. When the campaign was closed tonight there was intense satisfaction on the part of the workers who thoroughly covered the town during the day, notwithstanding the fact that rain fell without interruption. The amount raised today broke the splendid record of last year when the campaign was of a similar nature.

The appeal then was, as was the case today, for "a day's pay." Last year about $6,500 was raised. The campaign today was conducted under a perfect organization, a systematic canvass being made of the different sections. The canvassers encountered an encouraging spirit and citizens generally appeared to be anxious to swell the fund. The total amount includes one mill on the dollar granted by the council.

ABOUT $2,500 IN GODERICH.

GODERICH, Oct. 19.—The canvass for the British Red Cross today resulted in $2,100 being paid in to the treasurer, Mayor Robt. McLean, this evening. There is one division not finished and this will likely bring the total up to about $2,500.

RUSTLE IN WALKERTON.

WALKERTON, Oct. 19.—Walkerton is being systematically canvassed today on behalf of the British Red Cross Society by a number of canvassers. The preparedness committee arranged the work, and a big effort is being made.

CHATHAM EXPECTS $10,000.

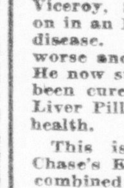

CHATHAM, Oct. 19.—With the objective of $10,000 as Chatham's donation to the British Red Cross fund, members of the Canadian Club and the ladies of the Red Cross Society commenced their canvass of the city at an early hour this morning. Although no definite announcement has been made this evening to the amounts already contributed, collectors report that the response to this appeal was willingly met, and the organizers of the movement are optimistic that the objective will be reached. With the city council's donation of $3,000, and a sum of $2,000, which was today announced to have been contributed yesterday by a few prominent businessmen, there is every indication that Chatham will secure its aim of $10,000.

BRANTFORD AFTER $20,000.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 19.—The Brant county council, in session here today, voted a grant of $7,000 to the British Red Cross fund. This is an increase of $2,000 over last year's grant. Brantford's objective following a public meeting last night was placed at $20,000, and of this amount the city council will be asked to contribute half. The campaign here will conclude by public collection on Friday and Saturday, November 3 and 4. The manner of making this collection is to be decided by the Women's Patriotic League, which will take it in hand. Last year's objective was $15,000. Quite a number at the meeting felt that the objective set was too low, but the general feeling was that the objective should be one that could be obtained, and then increased if possible.

WATERLOO VOTES $3,000.

WATERLOO, Oct. 19. — The town council at a special meeting tonight passed a bylaw to raise by debentures $3,000 for the British Red Cross fund and $500 for the sailors' relief fund. Several offers were made to purchase the debentures by local people, and the tender of the Waterloo County Loan and Savings Company to purchase them at par, bearing 5½ per cent interest, was accepted.

REMOVING ANCIENT SIDING.

HYDE PARK, Oct. 19.—One of the old landmarks, which dates back 42 years ago, namely, a siding north of the station here on the London, Huron and Bruce line, is being removed. The siding was placed here on the day Wm. Hodgins of Ilderton was born. The rails were stamped the year 1875. M. Brown, one of the old engineers, now superannuated, drew some of the rails. The steel for these rails was brought over from England in old sailing vessels. The rails now are to be used for other sidings for the storing away of cars, etc.

"ANURIC!" THE NEWEST DISCOVERY IN CHEMISTRY

This is a recent discovery of Doctor Pierce, who is head of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N. Y. Experiments at Doctor Pierce's Hospital for several years proved that there is no other eliminator of uric acid that can be compared to it. For those easily recognized symptoms of inflammation — as backache, scalding urine and frequent urination, as well as sediment in the urine, or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, it is simply wonderful how surely "Anuric" acts. The best of results are always obtained in cases of acute rheumatism in the joints, in gravel and gout, and invariably the pains and stiffness which so frequently and persistently accompany the disease rapidly disappear.

Go to your nearest drug store and simply ask for a 50-cent package of "Anuric," manufactured by Dr. Pierce, or send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce for a large trial package. If you suspect kidney or bladder trouble, send him a sample of your water and describe symptoms. Doctor Pierce's chemist will examine it, then Dr. Pierce will report to you, without fee or charge.

Note—French scientists affirm that "Anuric" is thirty-seven times more active than lithia in eliminating uric acid, and is a harmless but reliable chemical compound that may be safely given to children, but should be used only by grown-ups who actually wish to restore their kidneys to perfect health, by conscientiously using one box—or more in extreme cases—as "Anuric" (thanks to Doctor Pierce's achievement) is by far the most perfect kidney and bladder corrector obtainable.

PAY OF MISSIONARIES IS MUCH TOO SMALL, BAPTISTS DECIDE

ANNUAL CONVENTION

Temple Church at Montreal To Be Built and Mortgage Lifted

Hamilton, Oct. 19.—The Sunday school is the place of instruction for the young and the Bible is the textbook, was a statement made by Rev. Dr. O. C. S. Wallace of Montreal at this evening's session of the Ontario and Quebec Baptist convention. He said the Sunday school should be a school and still be a Bible school.

Rev. W. E. Gilroy, president, extended greetings of the General Ministerial Association of the city. On "The Prayer of the Patriot" an address was delivered by Rev. Dr. F. W. Patterson of Winnipeg. He said that there never was a time when a thoughtful patriot found it more difficul to pray. It was a time of trial when Christian nations fought each other as Christian nations. Unless Canadians would undertake to eliminate everything within their own borders that savored of Prussian tyranny, they could not well pray for the victory of Britain and her allies in this war.

Missionary Work.

That the home missionaries of the Baptist Church do not receive a living wage and that some of them do not get as much as dock laborers, was declared in a report of home missions, submitted to the convention this afternoon by Rev. C. J. Cameron of Toronto. During the discussion, James Ryrie of Toronto, chairman of the board, agreed with the tenor of the report, and said the board would be glad to advance their salaries if that were possible.

A tribute was paid to the late W. E. Norton, former superintendent of the board. It was decided to build the Temple Church in Montreal and to raise $30,000 by a mortgage.

Conditions in Northern Ontario also occasioned a lengthy discussion. Rev. H. B. Humphries of Thessalon, Algoma district, suggested that a traveling evangelist be appointed as the parishes were very widely scattered.

Rev. T. T. Shields of Toronto ventured the opinion that some of the churches looked upon the mission board as a rich uncle who would pay their bills when they did not want to do so, and said that hereafter all such appeals must be justified before the money was granted. He hoped the overdraft of $11,460.14 would be wiped out.

Home Missions.

The home mission treasurer reported the total receipts of $44,987.54, as compared with $47,993.12 for 1915. Expenditures were $48,471.32 or $5,000 less than 1915. The deficit was $14,510.08, which was a reduction of $30,449.94 in the liabilities.

Thomas Urquhart of Toronto stated that some churches only gave an average of 50 cents per member to home missions, whereas they should give $1 each.

In moving the adoption of the home mission report Gideon Grant of Toronto asked that preparations be made to work among immigrants who will arrive in this country after the war.

Albert Mathews of Montreal seconded the adoption of the report, and in doing so referred to the reduction of the deficit of the board, and blamed the missionaries for the reduction by economizing too much.

That the foreign mission fields in Toronto and Hamilton should receive special attention was the assertion of Paul Koleskoff, local missionary. "There is a large field for missionary work in Toronto and Hamilton, and it will be greater after the war. My people are crying for the Gospel, and our church should not neglect them," said Mr. Koleshkoff. He stated that since 1914 the home mission board vacancies were filled by Rev. T. B. Thomas, Rev. C. H. Schutt and Rev. J. B. Kennedy, all of Toronto.

Rev. Dr. Patterson of Winnipeg gave an address on "The Church of the Loving Heart." It was the first of three on this subject.

GOLDEN WEDDING.

BELMONT, Oct. 19.—Tuesday was the 50th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Mark S. Carrothers of Belmont, but owing to the ill-health of Mrs. Carrothers, the event was observed in a quiet manner. Mr. Carrothers wore the same suit in which he was married, although it was scarcely in the style of today. It was also the 74th birthday of Mr. Carrothers.

DRAKE—DUNN.

INGERSOLL, Oct. 19.—A quiet wedding took place yesterday at the Methodist parsonage, the pastor, Rev. L. W. Turney attended the bride, while Roy Leyburn assisted the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Drake will reside in Ingersoll.

STUPENDOUS WAR MACHINE IS HAIG'S OFFENSIVE ON SOMME; CANADIANS PLAY MIGHTY PART

Ottawa, Oct. 19.—Lieut.-Gen. Sam Hughes has received the following communique from the Canadian war record officer at the front:

Canadian Corps Headquarters in France, Oct. 19.—It is impossible for those who are not participating in this great battle and who must still maintain a conception of modern warfare based on previous warfare to understand the extraordinary revolution which has gradually taken place in our methods of attack. And the Somme offensive is being conducted upon new principles based on study and experience of the last two years.

It is at the same time the most colossal and the most meticulous form of warfare which has ever been evolved. Its novelty, its character of change and invention, its bold departure from military precedents is well exemplified by the famous tanks. Its gigantic scale is illustrated by the casualties returns, which present, however, but a small fraction of the troops employed.

Worked Out in Detail.

Its infinite detail may be seen from a study of the trench maps, where the lacing and interlacing of innumerable lines form a most intricate pattern and show the slow labor and nature of the advance. Objectives of attack must be defined with the exactitude of a city plot. They must be approached by the construction of parallel jumping-off trenches, and communication trenches, trenches so as to reduce as much as possible the peril of the infantry exposure and also control the direction of the assault.

Aeroplane photographs must be obtained of the area objective to show the precise location of the enemy's lines and the results of the artillery preparation there. Photographs are clear and searching and some taken during the assault even show the advancing figures of the infantry. Every detail every secret of the German defence is laid bare. Soon after the aeroplane observers, sweeping low over the enemy's lines, have taken the photographs the prints have been distributed to all the staff concerned.

British Domination Absolute.

In this respect the British domination is almost absolute. Here all day long we watch our planes circling above our heads. Closely they come and go with speed and alertness of engines; far off they seem to hang suspended in the sky. Occasionally a flight of five or more planes intent upon some special mission go over high up and disappear into the distant mist. So rarely do the German machines appear that some men who have been here daily for a month have not seen a single one.

The Canadian corps is only a unit in the great drama. Its movements depend not upon its own volity, but upon the intricate web of the greater scheme of battle. Let any essential portion be checked in its allotted task and a rearrangement of the whole fabric must be made. Yet the ultimate aim is never lost sight of. The mesh may be rewoven again and again, but the same grim intention remains. There is an inexorable purpose in all this complication of movement.

Most Orderly Perfection.

To the casual eye there may perhaps seem confusion in the forward areas, where so many units come and go, where khaki figures, lumbering lorries and carts move along the road, where bare rolling plains and valleys are alive with the ceaseless restlessness of a multitude and where from innumerable unexpected emplacements there is a constant flash and din of artillery fire. Yet, in reality, everything is the most orderly perfection to the smallest degree; every movement is ordained and co-ordinated. Behind it all lies the directing control of the military organization and behind that again the will of a great people.

In this mighty organism the Canadian army is playing its part. It has taken and given its share of blows. This battle has nowhere a counterpart for the slow, small grinding of the military machine.

A Region of Contrast.

Never have human agencies contributed such engines of destruction. No plague could be more ruthless, no natural blight so devastating. This is a region of contrast, even for the heavy-footed infantry, who must march from one place to another. One day they may billet in a snug French village with its shady trees and its gardens bright with roses; the next they will plod along the straight white roads marked by the regular rows of poplars on either side. Stretching as far as the eye may follow, are the undulating plains, all as carefully cultivated as the best-kept kitchen garden at home.

Fields are only distinguished by the difference of the crop or the direction of the furrows. There are no fences, there are no waste places, no ragged groves, no idle clumps of trees, no half-cleared land. Every inch of earth does its patient, happy labor; every tree grows for a purpose.

Ordered Thrift.

Cattle do not wander aimlessly, they are pegged in a field of rich fodder and each may eat only its allotted circle. This ordered thrift appears mechanical or smoothly self-supporting, unless the farmer's life is known—his long, untiring day, the faithful service of his brave women, the healthful labor of his children.

Very deep and very sincere is the admiration of the Canadian soldier, not only for the skill and courage of the French army, but for the brave, silent industry of the women, the old men, and the children of the French farms.

The transition from this scene of beauty, peace and ancient prosperity is infinitely distressing. Fields are given over to the trampling rows of tethered horses and are disfigured by a variety of encampments from wonder white tents to huts of rusted biscuits tins and low, discolored bivvies. There is a certain inevitable litter of material, salvage heaps and smoking incinerators; there is an obsession of a loitering military. A few civilians are engaged in selling eggs, candies or embroidered picture cards, and other odds and ends.

Roads Are Busy.

The roads block and jam with a ceaseless procession of army vehicles or marching units. Either the dust rises in a choking cloud or the mud spreads and splatters everywhere. The area of active occupation gradually thins and abuts a region of more sinister appearance. Here trees have broken bodies and the houses seem in pain, for their roofs are rent, their windows gone, their walls scarred and pierced, grass-grown trenches appear ringed with depths of rusted barbed wire entanglements and shell holes fresh or old become more and more frequent. But the full view of the land of war is not dulled in effect by its gradual coming over beyond the bleak greasy slopes east of Albert, with their chalky scars cut by the long lines of trenches.

Into the Valley.

The view suddenly sweeps into the valley. Before Le Boisselle there were the original German and British lines on July 1. This was the outer wall, the stoutly resisting shell of the defence through which the indomitable English had fought their way and so permitted those who followed, other English, Australian, South African and Canadian, to come and deal their blows. Of La Boisselle there is more upon a map than upon the ground. Heaps of debris, shattered trees, here and there a splintered beam and occasionally a roofed cellar, remain.

On the left is the twin city of desolation, Ovillers. La Boisselle, and between the two the white road runs beyond the mounts to the level of Pozieres. All the way is a vista of utter ruin and desolation. This is a desert land, but the silence of the desert is not here. Night and day the silence is shattered by the never-ceasing fire of our own guns, or by the crashing explosions of the enemy's shells.

Pozieres' Fate.

Pozieres shares the fate of La Boisselle. No hand could trace the outlines of a single house or garden plot. There are no bricks or beams which could be used in restoration. As a village Pozieres has disappeared.

Just beyond Pozieres, and still below the summit runs the line of trenches first occupied by the Canadians. These are in the midst of the ground which has most suffered.

Here is the acme of destruction. No grain of surface remains undisturbed. There is no room for a fresh shell hole. Nowhere now is the power of modern artillery or the thoroughness of preparation better exemplified. We have literally blasted our way forward. Ruin appears not only in the devastated earth and the crushed houses, but also in the sadder waste of human life. This is all ground sacred to the memory of our dead, also in the scarcely defined trenches of the enemy the German corpses lie thickly.

Means Hard Work.

Already the scenes of our earlier attacks are losing the clearness of their detail. The memory of this ground is short: the immediate interest of the front line is all absorbing. During the last week our advance has not been the result of infantry assault, but of hard labor under artillery fire, and some times at night subject to the sweep of machine gun fire or the bullets of the enemy snipers. Only upon one occasion did the enemy attempt by counter-attack to check the advance.

At 2:30 p.m. on the afternoon of October 11 he opened a heavy fire on our front line trenches. Shortly afterwards about one hundred Germans attempted to leave their trenches, but our signals were promptly replied to by our artillery, and so effective a barrage placed upon their lines that they were driven back with considerable loss. As they retreated northward along the Pys and East Miramont roads our field artillery discovered them with shrapnel and scattered the survivors. Otherwise the normal artillery duel continued without cessation.

Plenty of Ammunition.

Our supply of ammunition is abundant, and we fired a proportion of over five shells to the enemy's one. Aeroplane photographs showed the destructiveness and accuracy of our fire. Enemy batteries were engaged, and several emplacements destroyed.

No more beautiful act of heroic self-sacrifice can be mentioned than that of Pte. Camille Shoule of a Nova Scotia battalion. During the great advance on Courcelette on September 15 he was a stretcher-bearer, and while binding the wounded after the capture of the positions, was himself severely wounded in the shoulder. His wounds were dressed, but he refused to be bivouacked and continued his work of administering help to the wounded for the remainder of the day and during the night. In the morning he was again wounded, this time through the leg, but he still refused to leave. Finally, about noon, while he was actually dressing the wounds of another man, this gallant soldier was shot through the heart and killed. His general has said of him:

"Greater devotion to duty I have never seen."

Good Boy Jones.

The whole Canadian army has learned with sympathy and delight of the reinstatement of Lieut. O. B. Jones to his commissioned rank. Deprived by court-martial of his commission because of an act of intemperance while on duty, Lieut. Jones immediately enlisted as a private in a well known Montreal battalion. He showed not only strict devotion to duty but conspicuous gallantry on several occasions. He became a corporal, then won his sergeant's stripes. He was awarded a D. C. M. for his reckless courage, and again a bar for his medal. On September 15 he was in the thick of the fighting. It was said of him he was perpetually out killing Germans. His conduct was such as to recommend him for further reward. Later he was so severely wounded that it is improbable he will be again able to serve his country as a soldier, but he is now reinstated as an officer, and he had won back his honor.

The total number of prisoners captured by the Canadian corps since September 3 is now 42 officers and 2,052 other ranks.

ONE SON IS KILLED, OTHER IN HOSPITAL

Pte. Thomas Hutton Trained Here With the 33rd Battalion.

]Special to The Advertiser.[

KINGSTON, Oct. 19.—All alone in her little home at 113 Barrack street, Mrs. Ann Hutton is doing her best to bear up under a heavy strain. Today she received word from Ottawa that her son, Pte. Thomas Hutton, who enlisted with the 33rd Battalion at London, had been killed in action. Her other son, John Hutton, is at present in a hospital in England suffering from German gas.

The mother has no other children, having sent them all to fight for king and country. Mrs. Hutton's first intimation that her son was probably killed was in reading a casualty list in a newspaper. On arrival in England he was transferred from the 33rd Battalion to the 4th C. M. R. The anxious mother has been reading the long lists of casualties in the newspapers every day. She came across the name of Thomas Hutton as being killed, but as he was mentioned as belonging to the 4th C. M. R. she was not sure that it was her boy. She wired the militia department at Ottawa, with the result that word came back that it was her boy who made the supreme sacrifice. The deceased was the eldest son, 24 years of age. The brother, John, who went overseas wit the same battalion is 23 years old.

BRITAIN IS PAYING $10,000,000 DAILY TO UNITED STATES

Vast Amount of Money Needed for Supplies.

CAUSE OF HIGH INTEREST

Chancellor Defends Issue of Six Per Cent Treasury Bonds.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—Reginald McKenna, chancellor of the exchequer, replying today in the House of Commons to criticisms on the high rate of interest paid on the new treasury bonds and the objection raised that this would lead to their being largely held abroad, said:

"That is the very thing we desire. It must be remembered that we had to pay a very considerable amount day by day in the United States. At present we have to find £2,000,000 a day for every working day. That means a prodigious amount to find every six days."

Mr. McKenna prefaced his statement regarding the large amounts being spent in America by a defence of his action in paying a high rate of interest on treasury bonds.

Must Have the Money.

"It is not possible," he said, "to apply pre-war standards and to say that 5 per cent is enough, or that we could get it more cheaply. Very likely it could be done if we only wanted a little, or even the equivalent of the greatest sum ever raised before the war. It should be remembered, however, we have to raise a maximum sum about once a month, and it is only possible to find out by the daily examination of the results of borrowings and payments, whether we are successful in meeting our obligations. In order to meet all expenses and to keep our undertakings with our allies, I have to make sure of getting money."

Mr. McKenna proceeded to explain that unless Great Britain was able to raise the needed money in the United States she would have to go short of supplies from there, which were absolutely essential to the purposes of the Allies.

Not Time for Long Loans.

Defending the issue of the six per cent bonds the chancellor mentioned the fact that within a fortnight the treasury bonds had been sold to the extent of £36,000,000. He added that the present moment of competition for money was unfavorable to the issue of a long term loan, but the Government intended to resort to such a loan when the treasury considered it advisable, and the Government would not shrink from the fulfilment of its promise in regard to the conversion of previous loans.

The chancellor declared that he did not doubt the ability of the Empire to bear the strain of the war. Its expenditure was not diminishing, he stated, there being an advance under the two heads of munitions and advances to Great Britain's allies, but on both these directions he was confident that the country would not grudge the needful supplies.

FORMER EXETER LADY IS DROWNED IN CISTERN

Mrs. Ann Gardiner Belived to Have Committed Suicide.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

EXETER, Oct. 19.—News has reached Exeter that Mrs. Ann Gardiner, until recently a resident of Exeter, was found drowned in a cistern at the home of her son Peter in Blyth. The report states that it was evidently a case of suicide, as there was only three feet of water in the cistern.

Mrs. Gardiner had lived in Exeter for a great number of years, and was getting quite old. Of late years it had been her habit to go and live with her son in Blyth during the cold weather, returning to her home in Exeter in the spring. This fall she sold her property on William street and also her household effects and went to Blyth to spend her remaining days. She moved to Blyth some weeks ago. She leaves an only son, Peter. The funeral will be held at Brussels. No reason can be given for the act.

AILSA CRAIG BOY SUCCUMBS TO WOUND

AILSA CRAIG, Oct. 19.—Official word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Moses Pierce of Brinsley, that their son, Nelson, had been wounded and died shortly after on October 5. Pte. Pierce enlisted last year with the 70th Battalion, and was transferred later to the 33rd Battalion which went overseas last March. Upon arriving in England he was transferred to the 5th Canadian Mounted Rifles which went on the firing line in August. Pte. Pierce was in his 20th year, and a general favorite in this community.

MORLEY—GOODWILL.

INGERSOLL, Oct. 19.—In West Oxford at high noon Wednesday, the marriage took place at the home of Simon Goodwill, of his daughter, Miss Pearl Goodwill to George Vernon Morley of Norwich Township. The ceremony was performed by Rev. L. W. Hill of Ingersoll, in the presence of a large number of guests. The bride wore ivory duchess satin, draped in silk Tosca net, trimmed with seed pearls, the customary bridal veil arranged in Juliet style and wreathed with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses and wore a pearl and diamond necklet and pendant, the gift of the groom. She was given away by her father as the wedding march was played by her cousin, Miss Sophia Adamson. The bride's niece, Mary Blanche Warren, dressed in blue silk and carrying a basket of flowers in which was the ring, preceded the bride. The bride and groom stood under an arch of evergreen, suspended from which was a white bell. Many beautiful gifts testified to the esteem in which the bride is held by her numerous friends. After their honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Morley will take up their residence in Norwich Township.

NO INTERFERENCE BY ROYALTY, SAYS CECIL OF THE BALKAN POLICY

Replies To Lynch's Charges of "Outside Influence."

'UNWORTHY OF THE HOUSE'

Only Military Advisers Are Responsible For Strategy in Near East.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Oct. 20.—During the late hours of the session of the House of Commons last night, Lord Robert Cecil, minister of war trade, replied vigorously to a speech in which Col. Arthur Lynch, Nationalist, had criticized the Government policy in the Balkans and Greece, Col. Lynch asking, "whether any outside influence had been allowed to affect the British policy."

This reference, which apparently was to the former friendship between the royal families, provoked a prompt retort from Lord Robert Cecil.

"It would be impossible at this stage, and under present circumstances," said Lord Robert, "to enter into a discussion of what we or our allies have said or are going to say to Greece in reference to the present crisis in European affairs. I do not understand in the least what the member wishes to accuse the Government of. He indulged in a deal of vague denunciation of the Balkan strategy, and in one passage of his speech he appeared to hint at some obscure and disreputable influence having been brought to bear on the councils of the Government and the councils of the Allies.

"As far as the strategy of the Balkans is concerned it has ben guided exclusively by military considerations and the only people who had anything to say in deciding the military movements were the proper military advisers of the Government. The suggestion that any person, whether strictly a member of the Government or not, had used any influence to deflect the policy of this country from the principles of sound strategy is absolutely unworthy of this House."

The Camp Shave

MENNEN'S is especially advantageous when shaving under difficulties.

In camp or while travelling you may not always be near hot water—or soft water. But Mennen's is independent of water conditions—hot or cold—hard or soft water—instantly produces a rich abundant lather that softens the beard, and makes even a dull razor rejoice.

There's no free caustic in Mennen's and there's no "rubbing in" required. Mennen saves you time and torture, and turns the nuisance of shaving into the nearest approach to a pleasure that shaving can ever hope to be.

Be sure your kit contains Mennen's.

MENNEN'S "TALCUM FOR MEN" Delightful after shaving—neutral tint—antiseptic and protective. Has the distinctive perfume and package that make a hit with the masculine.

MENNEN'S SHAVING CREAM

Send 10 cts. for medium sized trial tube and free can of Mennen's "Talcum for Men" to Dept. 14J

WE WANT WORK IN MUNITIONS PLANTS, SAY SOCIETY GIRLS

Twenty-Five of London's Leisure Class Volunteer.

OTHERS ARE ALL READY

Want to Prove They Can Stand Hardships for Their Country.

Wanted—work in a muntions factory. This is a plea which is being made by no less than 25 girls of London and vicinity, who, after registering themselves for this kind of work at the registration bureau of the Women's Emergency Corps in the city hall, have drawn up a petition which they have signed and presented to the president of the Women's Emergency Corps, Mrs. Gordon Wright for action.

The girls in question belong to the class which, in the days before the war, was known as "the leisure class." They have never before engaged in wage earning employment. They are eager to lay aside their leisure hours and do their bit, and the hardness of that bit doesn't matter. Are not their relatives and friends enduring hardships in fighting in the war? They want to work, even as the women in England and the allied countries work. They fully realize the importance of releasing physically fit men from their present occupations for active service.

The Volunteers.

Freda Hunter, 265 Wortley road; Rita Karn, Mable Martin, Waterloo street; Huello Douglas, 206 Central avenue; Lenore Coughlin, 287½ Pall Mall.; Marguerite Bowman, 127 Wortley; Chrissie Armstrong, Elmwood avenue; Sophie Porter, Wellington street south; Mary and Amy Robertson, 40 Garfield avenue; Gynneth Town, 528 St. James; Tara T. Falls, 261 Grosvenor; Agnes Middleton, Clinton; Mrs. Evans, 331 Rattle; Pearl Johnston, 7 Rathgar; Marion and Beatrice O'Dell, R.R. No. 8; Elsie Adams, Wroxeter; Isabel and Helen Davidson, 306 Ridout; Edith Connell, Tillsonburg; Laura Rich, 381 Piccadilly; Marie Elliot 503 English; Lulu McLeod, 129 John; Verna Bridgman, 244 Hyman; Gladys Slater, 203 Wortley.

Miss Sophie Porter, registration secretary of the Women's Emergency Corps, and one of the 25 stated to The Advertiser, in regard to the petition, "We felt that by union we might accomplish some definite result. In Toronto, 1,500 women are working at munitions, and even Ingersoll has 25. In addition to the 25 who have signed the petition, and are ready and waiting to start work at a day's notice, there are some 20 more who are willing to give up less important work, so as to serve their country in time of need.

The only excuse managers of munitions plants seem to have here for not employing women is that they cannot provide rest rooms. Do we need rest rooms ahead of munitions?

One of the 25 says: "If the employers of London were as loyal as those of other towns and cities, the Emergency Corps would be as efficient in its work here as anywhere."

BAKER AND McKENZIE SIGN UP FOR FIGHT

Billy McKenzie, the lightweight champion of the Canadian West, will meet Sammy Baker of Buffalo at the Masonic Temple here next Friday night. Matchmaker Zoccano stated today that this would be one of the best scraps ever pulled off in this city. McKenzie stated to Tony that he would make his home in this city, and Zoccano has signed articles to manage the Winnipeg thunderbolt. He will arrive in this city Tuesday. While in Detroit, Zoccano signed up a man to meet Wainwright in one of the preliminaries Friday night. He is Billy West of Cleveland, and is touted as a comer among the lightweights. Earl will fight him at 130 pounds ringside.

Boxing for Sarnia.

Sarnia fight fans will be given a real treat on Friday, November 3, when the winner of the McKenzie-Baker bout will meet Jerry Dalton of Detroit. Tony arranged matters in a visit to Sarnia Thursday. Al Grove, Dutton and Mason of this city will probably take part in preliminary bouts in the Tunnel City.

Zoccano has received a letter from Joe Woodman, manager of Sam Langford, Porky Flynn, Snyder, and Tommy Reagan, one of the lightweight comers. He would like to arrange for a match with one of his scrappers here, and if Tony can clear a few shekels on the next fight, he will probably sign one of them up.

If possible, Langford will be matched with Cleve Hawkins, another tar baby.

MINERS ENTOMBED.

[Canadian Press.]

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 20.—Information reached here this morning that L. M. Jones of Pittsburg, one of the party of seven mining engineers sent from the Pittsburg station of the bureau of mines to the relief of the miners entombed in the Jamison mine at Barrackville, W. Va., had been asphyxiated in the work of rescue. No details on his death were reported.

Early today the rescuers had succeeded in clearing the debris from the 300-foot shaft and had reached the bottom, where they found conditions bad.

Exploration of the mine workings, it was said, would be commenced as soon as possible. Not one member of the party believed the entombed men were still alive.

MONTREAL ORGANIZATION CAUSES SURPRISE LOCALLY

Formation of Reinforcing Company Contrary to Sam Hughes' Policy.

Permission has been obtained by the 5th Royal Highlanders of Montreal to recruit a company in that city to act as a reinforcing unit for one of the overseas battalions, which the 5th Royals have sent to the front.

This regiment has enrolled and sent to France as units three battalions, the 13th, 42nd and 73rd. The new company will be used to reinforce one of these, but which one is not known.

This is the first intimation of a step towards the establishment of any kind of a depot battalion recruiting system. Such a system has been advocated in various forms in the past by numbers of Canadian officers. Sir Sam Hughes, however, has always frowned on the idea, and no headway has been made.

The case of the Montreal Highlanders has excited considerable surprise in local military circles. The opposition of the minister of militia to the idea is well known as he has expressed himself very strongly on the subject on numerous occasions. It is conceded that a number of recruits will doubtless be obtained when they know that they are sure to be attached to a unit with traditions and with commanding officers with proven ability.

BOYS HELPING GREATLY IN RED CROSS CAMPAIGN

Committee Appreciates Work of School Pupils in Collecting.

Members of the British Red Cross campaign committee much appreciate the assistance being given by the principals of the Collegiate and public schools of the city and a number of the schoolboys.

The principals have selected a number of the dependable boys of their schools who, armed with collection boxes, will start out with the postmen Saturday morning on their rounds. In this way, each house in the city will receive a call. In some cases, calls were made by members of teams at the residences on Thursday.

Owing to the limited time it was impossible to reach everyone. The boys accompanying the postmen will see tomorrow morning that everyone in the city who desires to contribute something is given an opportunity to help the British Red Cross.

The boys are gladly giving their time without remuneration, and the central committee urges co-operation on the part of the citizens, through having the intended offering ready in an envelope Saturday morning.

All subscriptions of $1 and over are being acknowledged by receipt and in the daily papers.

"OUR DAY" IN LONDON FOR BRITISH RED CROSS

Many Novel Devices Used to Raise Funds.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Oct. 20.—"Our Day" was celebrated in London yesterday in aid of the British Red Cross Society. Thirty-five million flags were provided for the needs of the Empire, of which four millions offered for sale in London found ready purchasers. All kinds of novel means for making money were successfully used. Half a million brooches, rings, etc., made from zeppelin wire of the Cuffley zeppelin were in great demand, fetching 62c to $5 and $5.25 apiece. A lady organized a matinee at the Alhambra which realized $8,000. It was attended by Queen Alexandra and other royalties. The event of the afternoon was the auctioneering of a golden replica given by Lady Paget from the German medal struck to commemorate the sinking of the Lusitania, fetching $1,500.

Donations received at Red Cross headquarters including $25,000 from the King, $5,000 each from the Queen and the Prince of Wales, and $50,000 from J. P. Morgan.

NO INFANTRY ACTION ON THE FRENCH FRONT

Joffre Reports All Quiet Save for Artillery Engagement.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, Oct. 20.—There was no infantry action last night on the French front in the Somme region, according to the official statement issued this afternoon by the French war department. In Lorraine German surprise attacks against French posts in the region of Besanges were repulsed. The statement says:

"On the Somme front there was no infantry action during the night. There was an artillery duel in the region of Sailly-Saillisel, and in the Belloy and Berny sectors.

"In Lorraine we easily repulsed some coups de main against our small posts in the region of Bezanges.

"The night was calm on the rest of the front.

Her lecture trips have been cancelled, but it was hoped she might recover sufficiently to preside at the national congress of the Salvation Army at Philadelphia, commencing November 17.

CURB FOR HARDEN.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Oct. 20.—A wireless press dispatch from Berne says advices from Berlin state that Die Zukunft is only allowed to reappear on condition that Maximilian Harden either refrain from writing the articles himself and confine the contents of his review to non-controversial articles or submit his articles to the censor before publication.

Harden, declining to submit his articles to a preventive censorship, decided not to write himself so long as this stipulation of the military authorities remains in force. The last two issues of Die Zukunft, in fact, contained nothing but perfectly harmless articles by other writers.

GRAIN.

Winnipeg, Oct. 19.—Wheat closed ⅝c higher for October, 1¼c higher for November, ⅞c higher for December, and ¾c higher for May. Oats were ⅜c higher for October, ½c higher for December and ⅞c up for May.

Barley was down ½c for October, with December quoted for the first time.

Flax gained 1⅛c in October, 3½c in November and 3c in December.

Today's market showed considerable strength in the early session. Realizing sales were no check to the outside speculative buying, which put prices up to new high points. The cash demand was a little better for wheat, with ¼c over paid for No. 1 northern.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Wild dashes to buy gave the wheat market today a swift ascent. Offerings at first were extremely light, and it was necessary to bid prices higher and higher before large orders to purchase could be filled. Huge export sales from the United States were reported, drought continued in Argentina, no relief appeared, premature stopping of threshing in Canada, and there were admissions that stocks in Great Britain were decreasing to a serious extent.

Opening prices here, which ranged from ⅜c to 1⅜c higher, with December at $1 69½@1 70, and May at $1 69½@1 69¾, were followed by decided further gains, which carried the market in some cases more than 3c higher than yesterday's finish.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 20.—Crude oil went back to its record price here today, when the principal purchasing agencies at the opening of the market announced an advance of 10c a barrel on all grades but Ragland, which was advanced 5c. The new prices are: Pennsylvania crude, $2 60; Cabell, $2 12; Mercer black, Corning and Newcastle, $2 10; Somerset, $1 95; Ragland, 90s.

Refiners said it was impossible to get the required quantity of these grades of crude, and the price had again been raised in the hope of increasing the supply. Producers were openly talking $3 for Pennsylvania crude when they heard of the new quotation, and others connected with the oil industry said they were inclined to agree with them.

CANADIAN FAILURES LESSEN.

Dun's Bulletin says: "Geographical analysis of the Canadian statistics shows that failures were less numerous than in 1915 in all but two of the ten provinces into which the statement is divided, Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island reporting small increases. Striking improvements appeared in British Columbia, where there were only 95 reverses for $1,548,387, against 215 last year for over $7,000,000; in Quebec there was a falling off of 218 in number, and nearly $4,000,000 in amount, while there were 153 fewer defaults in Ontario, though the liabilities were about $1,600,000 larger. The exhibit for Manitoba was favorable in both respects, showing a numerical reduction of 115, and a contraction of $600,000 in the sum involved.

DELAWARE FARMER FOUND DEAD IN BED, REPORTED WEALTHY

Richard Powell Said to Have Left $60,000.

Richard Powell, a wealthy farmer, living in Delaware Township, was found dead in bed this morning by neighbors and Dr. G. A. Routledge, coroner, of Lambeth, and High Constable Ben Watterworth were out there this morning investigating his death. After looking the situation over it was found that he died from natural causes.

He was a wealthy man, neighbors estimating that he was worth about $60,000, and he had no relatives in this country.

His father and mother came to Delaware over 60 years ago and settled on the farm. His parents died some years ago, and a brother, also a bachelor, succumbed about a year ago.

Mr. Watterworth took possession of all his papers, documents, etc., and has handed them over to Crown Attorney McKillop. Several bank books were found, showing that he had considerable sums of money in three or four banks, and also did much business with the Huron & Erie. Some time ago he sold a farm for $11,000. He drew $4,000 out of one bank not long ago.

"It seems from reports that the man was wealthy, with no relatives in this country," said Mr. Watterworth. "We will investigate these matters and report to the crown attorney."

Efforts will be made to locate any relatives. It is possible that there is a will some place in the city.

EDUCATIONAL CLASSES AT Y. W. C. A. PROVE POPULAR

Monthly Reports From All Departments of Organization Encouraging

At the monthly meeting of the board of the Young Women's Christian Association held yesterday afternoon in the residence, 510 Wellington street, encouraging reports were received from all departments. The residence is in good condition and filled up with boarders. Appreciation of the cafeteria at the down-town rooms is evidenced by the large attendance for meals.

The educational classes have started work under favorable auspices. The demand for enrollment in the dressmaking class, conducted by one of the most expert dressmakers in the city, has been surprisingly large. Enthusiastic interest is manifested in the physical culture class directed by Miss Archbald and Miss Newbury and a good choral class has been formed, in charge of Miss Lola Stevens and Miss Keyes.

Miss Archibald, acting general secretary until the arrival of Miss Lukes, told of a project on the part of Miss Stevens and Miss Keyes which met with the warm appreciation of the board. The suggestion has been made that free musicales be held from time to time at the down-town rooms, say one afternoon a week from 4 to 6, to which all women of the city who care to drop in and rest and listen for a time will be welcome. Miss Stevens and Miss Keyes have volunteered to look after the programs.

Miss Moore, who has returned home after a change and rest, presided.

WOMEN GARDENERS PLAN TO INCREASE SUPPLIES OF FOOD

Association Formed for District Has Practical Aims.

CULTIVATE BACK YARDS

Many of the Members Had Excellent Results This Year.

The agricultural committee of the Women's Emergency Corps of No. 1 Military District apparently possesses few of the characteristics of the century plant. In something like six months after its formation, under the capable convenership of Miss Carling, the committee has blossomed out into "The Women's Gardening Association of London," with an impressive list of aims and objects, and an executive guaranteed to make all the dreams come true.

The final step in evolution was effected Thursday afternoon at a meeting held in Cronyn Hall, under the auspices of the Women's Emergency Corps, and presided over by Mrs. Gordon Wright. Considering the very wet weather, the attendance was gratifyingly large, due in a substantial measure to the treat anticipated in an address by a speaker of the prominence and popularity of Mrs. L. A. Hamilton of Toronto, apart from a genuine interest on the part of many present in gardening.

Form Association.

Following the addresses, on motion of Mrs. Bowker, seconded by Miss Carling, it was unanimously decided to form a Women's Gardening Association, a standing vote and hand-clapping evidencing enthusiasm over the project.

Next, the officers were elected in record time: Mrs. L. A. Hamilton, honorary president; Miss Carling, president; Miss Shaw-Wood, Miss Helen Farncomb and Mrs. E. C. Bowker, all who have had practical experience, as vice-presidents; and Miss Molly Brown, secretary-treasurer. A large number enrolled themselves charter members before leaving.

Calling upon Miss Carling to explain the objects of the proposed organization, Mrs. Wright said: "When we appointed Miss Carling convener of the agricultural committee of the Women's Emergency Corps, we builded better than we realized. This, indeed, has been one of the most important developments of the Women's Emergency Corps. The work in connection with the agricultural committee has lain very close to the heart of the convener. When the executive of the Emergency Corps decided to suspend work for a little while during the past summer, Miss Carling asked that her committee be allowed to continue its activities. We see the results today."

Increase the Supply.

Miss Carling briefly and clearly outlined the aims of the Gardening Association as follows: "Our first aim is to increase the food supply through intensive cultivation, with an eye to the artistic effect as well as for utilitarian results. In conclusion, she stated that membership in the association for women will be 50 cents, and for school girls 25 cents.

Meetings will be held from time to time, at which practical addresses will be given on different phases of gardening and farming for women. Sometimes professional gardeners and entomologists will be secured to speak.

At the next meeting Mrs. E. C. Bowker will tell how she grew and marketed vegetables this year. Miss Helen Farncomb, the second vice-president, is successfully engaged in poultry farming; Miss Shaw-Wood is a practical farmer, and Miss Geary, who has been acting on the agricultural committee, makes a specialty of beekeeping.

Doing Good Work.

Mrs. L. A. Hamilton had an absorbingly interesting story to tell of the development of agriculture for women in Scotland and England since the outbreak of war, and of successful experiments in gardening and farming on the part of women in Canada and the United States.

"Four hundred thousand are now engaged in farming in the old country," she stated, telling of the prejudice which met the early suggestions that women take the place of men on the farms. "This was followed," she said, "by a period of derision, next of silence, and finally of appreciation. When men in Great Britain were first drafted for active service, an appeal was made for boys on the farms. There were objections, such as the loss of schooling. Women in England, it is well known, love outdoor life, and it was natural for them to offer their service."

The appeal of the board of agriculture to the women of Great Britain was next read, drawing attention to the lesser production owing to the enlistment of the men. "This applies word for word to Canada," warned the speaker.

Concerning farm work for women, Mrs. Hamilton suggested poultry farming, beekeeping, vegetable growing, small fruit growing, dairying, etc. In regard to plowing, she stated that she knew a number of cases in which women did their own plowing, and did not consider it too difficult work.

Can Do the Work.

In this connection she felt confident that women would adapt implements to their needs. Where sulky-plows or motor-plows were used, this part of farm work might be accomplished by women as well as men.

Concerning the argument that women were not able to do as much as men, "Their limitations must be accepted," she said. "Women, according to their strength, must do their bit, and it is estimated from observation in Great Britain that as far as matching strength is concerned, three women can do the work of two men."

To illustrate the class of women who are going in for gardening, the case was cited of an English farmer who had in his employ a very attractive actress, the daughter of a doctor, and the daughter of a general. His tribute was: "I don't need to waste time showing them how to do things every five minutes. I just show them and they can go on doing it."

On her farm near Toronto this summer Mrs. Hamilton has had a young teacher picking fruit, planting, hoeing. Through a hostel scheme, providing comfortable housing and a certain amount of supervision, she has been able to obtain a superior, dependable class of young women to engage in fruit-picking in the neighborhood, teachers, nurses, stenographers, etc., who give their services while taking their holidays.

Many Will Come.

In the course of her address Mrs. Hamilton touched upon the probable immigration to Canada after the war of a number of old country women, who are at present "keeping the home fires burning and insuring the food supply in the old country."

"What gratitude can we show these women," she asked, "who are literally protecting us through making it possible for the men to go to the front and fight? A large number of these women must look forward to being self-supporting, and, more than this, many will be obliged to support their families, and men who come back from the war invalids in many cases. There is much talk just now of loans for farmers, but not, unfortunately, for incoming settlers. If there is any farm and loan scheme worked out for settlers, women must be included, too. This is something for which your Women's Gardening Association can agitate. You can do much by your united effort."

Apart from the cultivation of fruits and vegetables for the purpose of increasing the food supply, the speaker made an appeal for the growing of flowers, and especially roses, "the most responsive of flowers." In the average garbage can might be found splendid fertilizing material, cabbage-leaves, tea-leaves, stale bread, etc. The speaker advocated burying these in a hole, covering carefully, and digging up next year to enrich the garden soil.

Reformative Value.

In conclusion she touched upon the reformative value which farming has proved for institutions which have come under her notice, providing, as it does, "a live interest in growing things." A bright and useful future was predicted for the Women's Gardening Association of London, and this tribute paid Miss Carling: "I thrilled when I learned Miss Carling was the convener of your agricultural committee, and I had thrills again when I heard a week or so ago of this proposed association. I have been associated with Miss Carling for many years with reference to just such work. I had been wondering how to bring to women much information which I had accumulated in regard to farming and gardening. Such an association as this seemed to solve the problem. I believe in making Miss Carling convener of the committee on agriculture you have truly builded better than any of us conceived. I believe the Gardening Association is destined to be a society which will prove of incalculable benefit to the women of this country, yes, and of England."

until they are quite themselves again, and gardening at the present will be preparation on the part of the women for such a contingency. In some cases the women may need to find employment outside of their homes.

"In the second place, through the Gardening Association, we hope to encourage women to spend more time in the open air, to take an interest in the reproduction of plant life, in the insects which threaten, and in the food value of vegetables. We will have a committee to decide upon the best seeds and to sell these.

Want Vegetables.

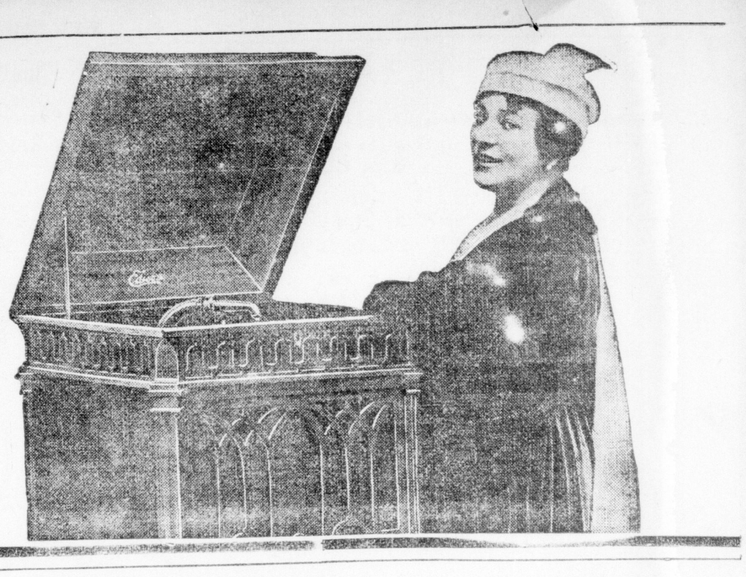

"In England it is very difficult to obtain enough green vegetables to supply the invalid soldiers who require this diet. If the women of Canada would take up gardening to the extent at least of supplying their own families, might it not be possible for the merchants who now supply the tables of the people at home to ship by cold storage these vegetables to England, where they are so much needed for the soldiers?"

Miss Carling drew an alluring word-picture of the transformation possible in many city backyards through cultivation, with an eye to the artistic effect as well as for utilitarian results. In conclusion, she stated that membership in the association for women will be 50 cents, and for school girls 25 cents.
