SURRENDERED RAILWAY

Articles 7 and 8 of Japanese Peace Terms Agreed To.

M. Witte Says He is Doing All He Can For Peace, and That He Has Surrendered Seven of the Eight Articles Already Considered—Prospects of Peace Are Now Distinctly Brighter—Manchuria Slips Away.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 17.—The prospects of peace were distinctly brighter last night. The plenipotentiaries are now laboring with a seriousness and earnestness which leave not the slightest doubt that both are anxious to conclude a treaty. Though the main points remain to be tackled and the plenipotentiaries of each side outwardly speak as if, unless the other gives way the conference will go to pieces, the spirit of compromise is in the air.

When he returned to the hotel last night M. Witte, who was tired out with his hard day's work, said: "I am doing all I can do for peace. Of the eight articles we have already considered, I have yielded seven. No other statesman in Russia would have dared do so much, and I have done what I have done upon my own responsibility."

Crisis on Monday.

From an authoritative source it is now possible to forecast with a fair degree of accuracy that the crisis will come on next Monday. Articles seven and eight, dealing with the fate of the Chinese Eastern Railroad, having been disposed of yesterday, there remains, in addition to the cession of Sakhalin, which was passed over, the question of indemnity, which comes up today as article nine, the limitation upon Russia's sea power in the Far East, the surrender of the interned warships, and the grant to Japan of fishing rights on the littoral north of Vladivostok. To all except the latter, to which Russia will agree, a negative answer has been returned absolute in the case of indemnity and Sakhalin. Perhaps both the others may be modified and yielded by M. Witte, in order to strengthen his insistence upon Japanese possession upon indemnity and Sakhalin. To yield on either of the latter it can be regarded as practically certain that M. Witte would consult the Emperor. The exchange of views on the five remaining articles is expected to be completed on Friday or Saturday morning at the latest. The plenipotentiaries will then adjourn until Monday and the interim will probably be used by them to consult their respective Governments. When they meet on Monday their last cards will be thrown upon the table.

Manchuria Slips Away.

Articles 7 and 8 of the peace conference, the former in "principle" and the latter "unanimously," according to the official bulletins. Article 7 provides for the cession to China of the branch of the Chinese Eastern Railroad running south from Harbin to Port Arthur and Dairen, with a branch line connecting at Newchwang with the Shanhai-tan-Tientsin road. Article 8 provides for the retention by Russia of the line through Northern Manchuria which forms the connecting link of the main line of the Trans-Siberian and Ussuri Railroad with its termini at Vladivostok and Harbin.

Hopeful Prospect.

Tokio, Aug. 17.—The Nichi Nichi today says: "The continuance of the conference is indicative of a hopeful prospect for the conclusion of peace." The paper declares that if the Russians had rejected absolutely the questions of the reimbursement and the cession of Sakhalin Island the Japanese would have withdrawn from the conference. These demands are equally as important as the Korean and Manchurian questions. Japan's victories have been realized by the vast sacrifices of money and blood without the prospect of Russia's compliance in the payment of war expenditures and the transfer of Sakhalin Island. There is no reason why the conference should not be continued.

RUSSIANS REPULSED.

Make Attacks on Jap Positions With Loss of Men.

Tokio, Aug. 17.—An official report says: "Early on August 14, in the direction of Changtu, a Russian force, consisting of a battalion of infantry, two sections of cavalry, eight field guns and six machine guns, attacked our position at Erhahpila, eight miles north of Changtu, but was immediately repulsed. Our casualties amounted to one, and the Russians lost 35. Simultaneously three companies of infantry and two squadrons of cavalry attacked us eight miles northeast of Changtu. This attack was repulsed, and at 2:30 o'clock the Russians retreated northward, leaving ten dead. The Russians also made a small attack on Weihuan Paolen, which was repulsed."

Jews Start Riot.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 17.—According to private advices from Bielostok, Russia Poland, the anti-Semitic rioting which took place there Tuesday began with the throwing of a bomb from a Jewish house at the soldiers. The troops then broke into the house and killed the inmates.

Fire on Strikers.

Granville, N.Y., Aug. 17.—The police here yesterday fired on strikers who were stoning them, killing seven and wounding several others.

Jap Sign Agreement.

Seoul, Korea, Aug. 17.—After repeated postponements, Japan has signed an agreement with Korea for the regulation of navigation on the coast and interior rivers for a term of fifteen years. The agreement will be published officially in a few days.

A LOVE LETTER OF 1828

EXHIBITED AT ARNOLD PICNIC

One of the Largest and Most Successful Gatherings Ever Held in the County—H. S. Clements M. P. and A. B. McCoig M. P. P. Deliver Addresses—Interesting Football Match for Arnold Trophy.

Quite an interesting incident in connection with the early history of the Arnold family in Kent was disclosed at the annual picnic yesterday by Richard Eberts, of this city.

Mr. H. S. Clements, M. P., in the opening speech of the day, stated that a descendant of the Eberts family had in his possession a relic of the Arnold family—a love letter written by a man S. Arnold to Miss Phyllis Eberts in the year 1828, in which he solicited the lady's hand in marriage—which he would later read to the assemblage.

Mr. Eberts, who followed Mr. Clements, read the letter and the incident caused considerable interest among the assembled picnicers.

Mr. Eberts during the course of his remarks, said—

"While I am not experienced in the line of public speaking and while I am not intimate with the subject I confess I accept the task assigned to me with more than ordinary pleasure."

"Mr. Clements has spoken of the Arnold family in terms that all of us will approve of, and he has made a kindly reference to another family associated with the Arnold family in days of yore. I appreciate very much indeed what Mr. Clements has said, more particularly as it comes from a gentleman who must be recognized as the most representative citizen in the county of Kent."

It is my good fortune to be the happy possessor of an ancient document which has recently come into my hands by inheritance and which testifies to the fact that the stability and character of the Arnolds of age and day existed centuries ago, and my sacred has for its main feature, the suggestion, in fact the proposal, of a union by marriage of the Arnold and Eberts families in the early days of the last century. It is a happy accompaniment of this incident that in following generations unions have been effected which connect these two old families. While I call different branches of them as cousins, etc. by blood, in good will all of us here today are brothers and sisters."

I hold in my hand a letter written in the year 1828. It is crisp with age and yet it is well preserved.

"It is written by a young man at that time, Mr. S. Arnold, and addressed to Miss Phyllis Eberts. It was written before the days of steel pens and yet the penmanship is perfect, its construction beyond criticism, and I am sure it is no flattery to the author but only the homage and admiration which he is entitled to, to say that such a letter could only emanate from a refined, cultured, intelligent, and noble mind, and I need hardly add that it was highly prized by the recipient or else it would not have been so sacredly kept these many years past."

"I shall read you the letter."

Chatham, Ont., June 27th, 1828.

Incomparable Lady,

It is with emotion of heart, not to be adequately described, that I again attempt to address myself to you in earnest supplication that you will accept my kindest acknowledgments for all that is past. And if I have regained your favor why may I not remind you of that fervor which glows within my enamoured breast. Believe me, dear Miss Eberts, though my feelings have been annoyed beyond all conception, yet my affections never have been nor do I think they ever can be estranged from you. I do imbosom you above everything else in the world. Oh lovely Phyllis, may I still incline to think that you have not in oblivion buried your regard for me, or are my hopes too late and shall I never participate of my desired happiness. Well, dear Miss E., console me for this inordinate endearment. I must close by commending you to that Being who preserveth all those who put their trust in Him. My dear, ever dear, friend Adieu. Receive this as a token of renewed affection from your friend.

(Sgd.) S. ARNOLD.

Miss Phyllis Eberts.

"Mr. Chairman, I know the letter was never intended for publication, but certainly it can be safely said the public use made of it will never cast discredit upon any of the parties concerned."

How little, Mr. Chairman, your illustrious ancestor thought when he wrote this beautiful letter, of the pleasure that would be handed down to future generations who bear your name, and how little he thought of the pleasure it would give to future generations of those who bear the name of his lady love and I confess I am proud to be one of that number, and, Sir, I would be wanting in feeling if I were to absent myself from this beautiful gathering of this afternoon.

"Looking down from the home of the immortals with smiling faces the sender and receiver of this letter are witnessing with approval our celebration of to-day, and it is a privilege I enjoy with marked satisfaction."

to make known to you all this interesting and pleasant chapter in the history of one of the oldest and most honored families in the historic county of Kent.

The picnic was a grand success in every way. There was a very large crowd present, including members of the Arnold family from different points in Canada and the United States, and also members from other old families in the County of Kent, viz., Meritts, Blackburns, Langfords, Shaws, Everetts and Crows. The weather was everything that could be desired on such a day and Fred. Arnold's beautiful grove, near Kent Bridge, where the picnic was held, presented a very lively and animated scene with its merry crowd of pleasure-seekers. Lorrimer's orchestra from Chatham was in attendance and provided excellent music both afternoon and evening. A large dancing platform had been built and the dancing was enjoyed by the younger generation until late in the evening. There were very large number present from town and the day was one of pleasure and enjoyment for everyone.

Michael Arnold, the veteran chairman of the Arnold family, presided over the speeches, which were commenced early in the afternoon. H. S. Clements, M. P., the friend of the people, was first called upon and he responded with a capital speech, congratulating the Arnold family on their splendid picnic and expressing his pleasure at being present to join in the festivities.

Mr. Eberts followed, as above referred to, and he was in turn followed by James Houston, of Dresden. Mr. Houston is one of the oldest residents in the County to-day. During the early days he was largely instrumental in helping to build up this country, serving in many public offices. He holds the proud distinction of holding every municipal honor which it is in the power of the people to give, and has never been defeated in a single election at the polls. He is still a popular man, as was evidenced by the reception tendered him yesterday. He made a bright intelligent speech.

George (Judge) Langford was the next speaker. He recalled many incidents of the earlier days when the Arnolds were almost the only people in Kent.

Mr. McArthur, Reeve of Howard, followed with a few words expressing his pleasure at meeting so many of his friends at the annual gathering.

Dr. Thornton and S. B. Arnold, of this city, both addressed the assemblage along humorous lines and entertained their listeners by the recitation of humorous incidents.

A. B. McCoig, M. P. P., closed the speaking with one of his splendid characteristic addresses.

THE FOOTBALL MATCH.

In the evening a football match was played for the Arnold Memorial Society cup, between teams from Mitchell's Bay and Kent Bridge, the latter winning by a score of 1-0. Langford, of Kent Bridge, scored the only goal of the game 20 minutes after play started. The following players composed the teams:

Kent Bridge—Goal, L. Riseborough; backs, Walker and S. Riseborough; half backs, Gregory, Fleming and Stonehouse; forwards, W. Riseborough, C. Langford, Newby, Ellison and F. Riseborough.

Mitchell's Bay—Goal, Rikley; backs, Peck and Fox; half backs, Bennie, H. McKenzie and C. Rankin; forwards, H. McKenzie, Burke, M. Rankin, Lennox and Lewis.

Referee—J. Adams.

This is the second year that Kent Bridge has held this cup.

After the football game the dancing was resumed and continued until the hour for closing one of the most successful picnics ever held in Kent.

LICENSE LAW AMENDMENTS.

The News thinks that the chief measure to be considered and developed at the next session of the Legislature should deal with further restriction and regulation of the liquor traffic in Ontario. "There are too many hotels," it says, "in most of the towns, villages and cities, too many in purely rural communities where few, if any, are needed, and many of these places are simply drinking houses rather than houses for the legitimate accommodation of the travelling public." In many cases the accommodation which the law requires is not provided, there is still a great deal of selling after hours and on Sunday, and too often political considerations have entered into the application and enforcement of the law.

No doubt the News knows whereof it speaks. There are evidences of a marked improvement, both in regard to the number of licenses and to the enforcement of the law, since the Whitney Government began to apply the policy of compelling license holders to "keep hotel;" but no doubt there is, and is likely to be, room for improvement. The improvements already effected may be accepted as a beginning, but only as a beginning.

There are one or two suggestions made by The News which are worthy of careful thought. "There is much to be said," it says, "in favor of the appointment of a group of inspectors who will report upon the quality of liquors, and prevent the poisonous drugging of beverages sold at the bar, and now that in many communities the working day closes at 12 o'clock on Saturday, it is worthy of very grave consideration if bars should not be closed at 1 o'clock on that day, for exactly the reasons which now require them to be closed at 7 o'clock."

The first suggestion is an important one. There is little doubt that much of what is sold for liquor, even in respectable hotels, is vile and poisonous stuff, utterly unfit to enter the stomach of a human being. The Government assumes responsibility for the traffic; it derives a heavy profit from it; it is not unreasonable to ask the Government in return to protect the people against villainous frauds. The Government now undertakes to define the conditions under which liquor may be sold. It might go a step further and define the quality of the liquor that may be sold. A system of inspection that would be in some measure a guarantee against the poisonous adulteration of liquor would mark an important step in the direction of temperance.

The second suggestion, with reference to the closing of bar-rooms at one o'clock on Saturday, is not likely to be received with favor by the liquor dealers; and yet it might be found to work in their interests in the long run. The loss of half a Saturday's trade would, doubtless, be a serious matter to most of them; but it would be better to bear that loss than a much greater one. The Whitney temperance policy is but an experiment. If it is justified by its results, well and good. If it fails, there is nothing more certain than that the demand for some measure of prohibition will be resumed. And it may be taken for granted that the next time a political party in Ontario is helped to power by the temperance people there will be no such trifling with pledges and obligations as brought defeat and disaster on the Ross Government and its supporters. The last Provincial election afforded the politicians a lesson which they are not likely to soon forget. The next time a political party goes into power with a pledge to the temperance people, it will likely make some honest effort to discharge its obligations.

License holders who feel the pressure of the restrictions placed on their business, might become more reconciled to the situation if they reflected that the more strictly the license law is enforced and observed, and the fewer the abuses and complaints that arise from the application of the law, the better satisfied the temperance people will be, and the less probability of a demand for total or partial prohibition.

The alleged white-cappers upon arrival home at Wheatley, after acquittal at Chatham, were welcomed as heroes, and tendered a banquet by the women of the village. Truly we are making some progress, but many are asking in what direction.

Don't go to the hatter when you need a thinking cap.

Is your Coal Wasted or Used?

It is comparatively easy to build a range that will make a lot of heat, but it requires the exact science of Pandora range building to produce a range that will use all the heat in the coal without waste.

A common range may burn twice the coal that a Pandora will, and yet do only half the work.

If you use a Pandora range you can be certain that your coal money is not wasted, but used.

NOT CREDITABLE

We are told by the Ridgeway Dominion that the alleged Wheatley white-cappers, after their return from the abortive trial at Chatham, "were welcomed as heroes, and tendered a banquet by the women of the village." Instead of pointing the finger of scorn at the negro burners of the South, we had better proceed to clean off our own doorsteps. The difference between the public sentiment which renders possible the Wheatley banquet and that which sanctions a Southern burning is only one of degree.—Farmers' Weekly Sun.

THE EMPLOYERS' DEF.

President Ellis Tells Union That 8-Hour Day Spells Ruin.

Toronto, Aug. 16.—"Gentlemen, if you carry out your program, and insist on eight hours or a strike next January, sorry as we shall be (and we shall be sorry as we always are at any difference between employers and employees), there is no alternative for us; we must meet you in a fight which will mean much to both of us, but in which we are fighting with our all at stake, and we must fight to win. This is not a matter of principle, but a practical question of dollars and cents. In our convention, in the many meetings of employing printers throughout the country, and during the year, in constant interviews and correspondence with the employing printers of the country, I find there is an almost unanimous feeling that it is impossible for them to increase the price of their product to their customers, and, under these circumstances, it means, should they accept the eight-hour day certain ruin. * * * I sincerely hope your more matured judgment will rescind a resolution which if acceded to by your employers, will mean ruin to many of them and no financial advantage to yourselves."

Ellis, president of the United Typographical Union of America, the employing printers' association, in the course of his address to the International Typographical Union at the Labor Temple yesterday, gave clear-cut intimation of the attitude of that body on the demand of the men for an 8-hour working limit. Opposition on the part of the association, of which Mr. Ellis is the head, has been looked for, but his bold stand had hardly been anticipated. In another part of his address he announced that the employers were "prepared to fight to a finish and defend themselves to the last ditch."

The meeting of the I. T. U. then settled down to routine business without any discussion upon the statements made. It is understood that the whole question will be threshed out on Thursday.

Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. give a big street parade next Monday at noon.

A special matinee will be given in the afternoon for ladies and children.

Stetson's "Uncle Tom's Cabin," without destroying the venerable remarks of this wonderfully attractive dramatization of Harriet Beecher Stowe's great work, has added much to the features introduced. The fun is now enlivened by the pranks of two Topsyies and the humor strengthened by two Marks, while more of the quaint pastimes of plantation life as it was "befo' do wah" in the way of cake walks, buck and wing dancing, jubilee singing, etc., give a more realistic glimpse of the latter days of slavery. This excellent company will be seen on Monday next for matinee and night at the Grand, when the time-honored procession of Topsyies, Marks, Uncle Tom and Little Eva will march right into the hearts of all, despite the fact that for over half a century the play has engaged the attention of many audiences, and although some of the grandparents may be there with their children, there will be no less heartiness in their applause than when years ago they first saw it. The Stetson Company, its scenery, specialties and accessories will be found to be the best and the largest numerically in America.

GOOD NEWS FOR THE OLD FOLKS

Mr. Angus McMillan Tells Them Dadd's Dyspepsia Tablets Will Cure Their Stomach Troubles.

Of peculiar interest to the aged is the story of Mr. Angus McMillan, of Laggan P. O., Glenferry Co., Ont. Mr. McMillan is now over 82 years of age and looks hearty enough to reach the 100 mark. He attributes a large part of his splendid health to Dadd's Dyspepsia Tablets. He says: "I suffered from Dyspepsia for more than 20 years but never met with anything to cure me till I commenced taking Dadd's Dyspepsia Tablets. After using them for two days all the pain and restlessness left me. "I am in one sense a new man and have great reason to be thankful for all the good Dadd's Dyspepsia Tablets have done me." Stomach troubles are one of the burdens the old folks have to bear. It is good news for them that there is a speedy and effectual cure for them in Dadd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Almost every great result has a small beginning.

The breath of scandal is the ill-wind that blows nobody good. A person who has a light opinion of himself is easily put out.

PERSIAN DISHONESTY.

It Permeates Every Class of Society From Highest to Lowest.

Veracity is a scarce article in Persia, according to the Rev. Napier Malcolm. In his "Five Years in the Persian Town" he writes of conditions in Yazd as follows: "In the Yazd bazaars probably not less than one-third of the speeches made by Mussulmans are falsehoods. One day a cook of a European went to the bazaar and after the usual haggling fixed the price of some meat at 12 kranas for thirteen pounds. 'But,' said the cook, 'you've got your thumb on the scales.' 'Did you think,' retorted the butcher, 'that I would give you meat at thirteen pounds for 12 kranas unless I kept my thumb on the scales?' We had a neighbor who was considered a fairly respectable man whose sole business was the forging of seals.

"But the fact is that every class, from the highest to the lowest, is thoroughly permeated by the leaven of dishonesty. A Mohammedan assured me that truth speaking and honesty had nothing to do with religion, but were purely a matter of climate. 'In that case,' said I, 'the people of Persia ought to speak the truth very well, for one of the Greek historians who lived before the Mohammedan era declared that the Persians were famous for speaking the truth.' 'But who does not know,' replied the Mohammedan, 'that the climate of a country changes entirely every 2,000 years?'

A SWIMMING POOL.

How to Make One in a Brook or Running Stream.

The brook or running stream of natural outdoor water gives a variety of chances for the man who wishes to live his life aright. The brook can be converted, without being diverted, into a swimming pool for boys by building a dam at the point where the banks do a little extra shelving and tend to form a natural basin. The bottom should be spaded out and made more of a reservoir in its capacity and shape. The dam itself can be made by a family of boys at the cost of the lumber and nails involved. The embankments are sodded. The sides of the spillway are made of wooden posts driven into the ground and boarded up. This makes a box up affair, or rather two boxes, one on each side of the stream. These boxes are filled with sand, rocks and sods to make a solid cubic piece of resistance. The sodded embankments run across the valley or depression of the brook hollow to the higher ground. By means of a lever—a pole playing into a wooden jawed socket and weighted with a rock or pieces of iron—the water gate can be opened against a strong headway of water. The water flows over the top of the spillway when it is closed, and by raising the gate the pond can be emptied or reduced to the normal level of the brook.—Country Life in America.

THE MALE CRICKET.

Curious Treat He Develops For the Lady of His Choice.

In the American Naturalist J. L. Hancock gives an interesting description of some of the habits of the striped meadow cricket. The most striking part of the account deals with the allurements which the male crickets possess. When he wishes to attract the female the male cricket raises his fore wings vertically above his head and by rubbing them over each other produces a high pitched ringing, or, perhaps better, shrilling. When the female's attention has been attracted she goes to the male and proceeds to take advantage of the refreshments offered. Upon the male's back, situated well forward on the thorax, is a little depression or well in which a small quantity of semifluid material is secreted. Climbing up on the male's back, the female eats this apparently delicious morsel with great eagerness. It is evidently something especially choice which is formed there for her especial benefit. This proceeding suggests that treating as a means of winning a lady's love is not confined to the allurements of ice cream and soda water.—Collier's Weekly.

England's Newspaper Tax.

On June 15, 1855, England's newspaper stamp duty was abolished and the reign of the cheap daily began. This "tax on knowledge" was first imposed in 1712 and was made most severe by the act of 1820, which fixed it at 8 cents a sheet, with 87 cents duty on each advertisement. The Whigs reduced the duty to a penny in 1836, but when the Crimean war broke out and every one wanted the news even a penny duty was found to be intolerable. Its repeal is called the Magna Charta of the British press.

An Accident.

Small Tommy, being reproved by his mother for some misdeed, showed his displeasure in his face.

Good For Canada.

Montreal, Aug. 16.—Present indications are that the Chinese boycott on American goods will accrue greatly to the benefit of Canadian trade. The C. P. R. authorities yesterday morning received a series of inquiries from merchants at Hong Kong asking as to the feasibility of securing very heavy supplies of Canadian flour to take the place of the American article, which is no longer accepted by these merchants.

Shackleton Got Off Easy.

Hamilton, Aug. 16.—Yesterday morning James Shackleton, the man who laid Peter Williams up with a pickaxe, was sentenced to pay Williams $100, and in addition was fined $20. The magistrate said he was letting him off easy at that. Shackleton had offered to pay the $100 before the sentence was passed.

ONE OF DR. CUPID'S PRESCRIPTIONS.

That Love sometimes cures disease is a fact that has recently been called to the attention of the public by a prominent physician and college professor. In some nervous diseases of women, such as hysteria, this physician gives instances where women were put in a pleasant frame of mind, were made happy by falling in love, and in consequence were cured of their nervous troubles. The weak, nervous system is toned and stimulated by little Dr. Cupid—became strong and vigorous, almost without their knowledge. Many a woman is nervous and irritable, feels dazed and down and worn out, for no reason that she can think of. She may be ever so much in love, but Dr. Cupid fails to cure her. In ninety-nine per cent. of these cases it is the womanly organism which requires attention; the weak back, dizzy spells and black circles about the eyes, are only symptoms. Go to the source of the trouble and correct the irregularities, the drains on the womanly system and the other symptoms disappear. So sure of it is the World's Dispensary Medical Association, proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, that they offer a $500 reward for women who cannot be cured of leucorrhea, female weakness, nervousness, or falling of the womb. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pills clear the complexion and sweeten the breath, they cleanse and regulate the stomach, liver and bowels and produce permanent benefit and do not react on the system. One is a gentle laxative.

THE IRISH PEASANT.

His Hospitality Is Only Equalled by His Courtesy.

The special characteristic of the Irish peasants, according to Frank Mathew, in "Ireland," is an old-fashioned courtesy. They are all sure, he asserts, that they are descended from chiefs, and their manners are ruled accordingly.

Take shelter in any hut on the mountains, and you will be greeted as if its inmates had been longing to see you. This will not be due to the fact that you seem prosperous; indeed, you would be even more graciously welcomed if you were in rags. Nor is their courtesy only exhibited when they are hosts. Once when I was exploring the Burren of Clare a ragged old woman seated by the wayside accosted me equally ragged driver. "Excuse me, sir," she said, "but did you happen to meet a lost on the road?" "Deed then, no," said he, bowing respectfully, "and I'm sorry I did not." "Who was she?" I asked him when we had driven out of her hearing. "Deed then, and I don't know," said he. "Tis some poor soul that has lost her loaf and will be goin' to bed hungry tonight." On another occasion an aged man, clad in knee breeches and a swallowtail coat, addressed me as I was climbing a path in Connemara. "I am thinkin', sir," said he, "that you are Mr. John Blake." "Well, sir," said I, "you are thinking wrong." "Well, sir," he answered solemnly, "says I to myself as I saw you come up the side, that is Mr. John Blake, and if 'tis not, says I to myself, 'tis a fine upstanding young man he is, whoever he is." Now I am convinced that he knew I was a stranger, but was not that a charming way to suggest that I should sit beside him on the low ferny wall and discuss the ways of the world?

BORROWED PLUMES.

How an American Became a Man of Mark in Russia.

Andrew D. White's first diplomatic experience was as an attaché at St. Petersburg at the time of the Crimean war. The war brought to Russia many American adventurers. "One man who came out with superb plans," Mr. White says, "brought a militia colonel's commission and the full uniform of a major general. At first he hesitated to clothe himself in all his glory, and therefore went through a process of evolution, beginning first with part of his uniform, and then adding more as his courage rose. "During this process he became the standing joke of St. Petersburg, but later, when he had emerged in full and final splendor, he became a man of mark; indeed, so much so that serious difficulties arose. Throughout the city are various corps de garde, and the sentinel on duty before each of these, while allowed merely to present arms to an officer of lower rank, must, whenever he catches sight of a general officer, call out the entire guard to present arms, with the beating of drums. "Here our American was a source of much difficulty, for whenever any sentinel caught sight of his gorgeous epaulettes in the distance the guard was instantly called, arms were presented and drums beaten, much to the delight of our friend, but even more to the disgust of the generals of the Russian army and to the troops, who thus rendered absurd homage and found themselves taking part in something like a bit of comic opera."—Exchange.

An Old English Ballad.

"Greensleeves" is a good old English ballad and tune mentioned by Shakespeare in the "Merry Wives of Windsor" and has been a favorite since the latter part of the sixteenth century. The tune is much older than the words, probably as old as the days of Henry VIII. It is also known as "The Blacksmith" and "The Brewer" and was a great favorite with the cavaliers. A modified version is found in the "Beggar's Opera." The tune is still sung to "Christmas comes but once a year" and many other songs of the same rhythm or with the burden "Which nobody can deny."

In the Orange Free State.

At an examination for admission to the British Military college at Sandhurst many candidates in answer to a question about hydrogen wrote that the gas was not found in the Orange River Colony. This puzzled the examiner, who told the story to an army coach. The coach, after thinking awhile, said: "I have it. I remember impressing the fact on a number of my pupils that hydrogen does not occur in the free state."

HAD BLOOD POISON 12 YEARS

The New Method Treatment Cured Him after Drugs, Mercury, Hot Springs, &c., all failed.

Wm. H. Patterson, of Saginaw, Mich., relates his experience: "I do not like notoriety and especially of this kind, but I feel I owe this much to Drs. K. & K. for the great good they have done me. I had a serious blood disease when 24 years of age. The skin and blood symptoms gradually developed. Pimples and ulcers formed, running sores broke out, hair became loose, pains in the bones and joints. After treatment dyspepsia, stomach, foul breath, itchy skin, etc. I was useless for me to say I tried doctors. I grew to hate the looks of one. I visited Hot Springs twice for four months each time. It helped me temporarily, but in six months after returning home I was as bad as ever. Finally a Doctor friend of mine advised me to see Drs. Kennedy & Kergan. He said he had known of them for over 20 years, and that they made a specialty of these diseases and treated the worst cases by the new method. I was skeptical at first, but I took his advice. They agreed to treat me under a guarantee or no pay. I investigated their financial standing and found they were perfectly responsible. I commenced the new method treatment. The eruptions disappeared in two weeks, the bone pains in four weeks and in four weeks I was entirely cured. Yes, I can recommend the New Method Treatment for Blood and Skin Diseases."

SETTLED THE CASE

Thomas T. C. Green, of Detroit, made his appearance at the Police Court this morning for the purpose of clearing off an old charge against him.

Last April a summons was made out for him for selling tobacco to minors. At that time Mr. Green conducted a small bakery on Wellington street near the market. He left the city before the summons was served on him and has since been serving as a cook on a boat going out from Detroit.

He pleaded guilty to the charge but claimed he did not know at the time that he was breaking the law. He wanted it straightened up and so paid a fine of $10 and costs, $12.50 in all.

BROKE QUARANTINE

Mrs. Theo. Le Rocque, of this city, who has been in quarantine at Port Stanley for the past three weeks, surreptitiously left the place and arrived in this city on Monday last and immediately went to the boarding house on Stanley avenue where her husband, who is a laborer in the city, has been staying. L. J. Motherstill, M. H. O. of Port Stanley, promptly notified Health Officer Dr. W. R. Hall of her escape and advised him that she had been quarantined for diphtheria, and as soon as she was located Inspector Mounter was sent to the house.

The house, together with the woman's clothes, were thoroughly disinfected. This morning the police received a warrant for her arrest.

Henry Darr located the family this morning on Colborne street and this afternoon he served them with the request for their appearance in Port Stanley.

BUGLERS WON

The Bugle Band of the Regiment accompanied the Chatham contingent to the Paris Old Boys' Re-union. A feature of the program was a contest for bugle bands, and word has just been received that the locals were adjudged worthy of first prize.

Their victory is a splendid one when it is considered the excellent corps against which they had to compete—the Queen's Own Rifles Bugle Band, and those of the 48th Highlanders, the Royal Grenadiers, the 13th Regiment of Hamilton, the 19th of St. Catharines and the Dufferin Rifles of Brantford being present.

It is likely that the boys had to blow some to win the trophy and it would be quite pardonable for Chathamites to also blow a little over it.

Another Case of "Near a Whole City Full, Home He Had None"

The Funeral of the Late Guseppe Nanni a Very Sad Affair—Attended by a Very Few

The Italian laborer, Guseppe Nanni, killed on the C. P. R. track near Ringold, was buried last night. The interment was delayed until this time owing to the Township of Raleigh refusing to assume the expense. Further delay being impossible the C. P. R. took charge of the arrangements. The accident occurred Tuesday, and the mutilated remains had been lying in the Ringold Freight shed, from from which place the funeral took place last night.

Of times every day life reveals incidents as dramatic as those told in story, song, or play, the only difficulty being that we are prone to overlook them, thinking the field within our own range of vision yields none such and that we must look abroad for such incidents. The obsequies of this unfortunate, friendless Italian yield a situation such as was immortalized in the famous "Burial of Sir John Moore."

The cortege was followed by six fellow workmen, the interpreter and the gang boss to St. Peter's Roman Catholic church down the river. Through the silent night the pitiful procession wended its way, the immortal, twinkling stars the only witnesses. Arriving at the church door at midnight they were awaited by the somber-clad priest, behind him a background of flickering candles, barely lighting the altar. The recesses of the edifice were dark and silent—the sighing wind outside, sounding like soft murmurings from an ethereal and wraith-like presence in the dimly lit pews. Above all the solemn tones of the dark-robed priest, chanting the funeral service.

The grim ceremony concluded, the followers again shouldered the bier and preceded by a lantern, dimly glimmering, traversed the church to the burial ground. Here his fellow workmen had prepared a grave, around which the mourners grouped, just as the bier was being lowered over the rim of the rising moon peered over the horizon, spreading its silver light on the scene, the descending cascade, the swardy-faced mourners; Nanni was a field of tall corn which in the lambent light of the moon had been mistaken for a company of mourners from the shadow land, arms tossing and heads nodding sadly.

Higher the moon rose and lent its aid, through the unremembered years it has done so many victims of the shining armor of slain warriors of ancient days and the blood-stained tunics of those of more modern days. Soon the task was completed, and the little group turned reluctantly away and finally disappeared. The smiling moon rose higher and higher, and, also, finally disappeared and only the sparkling stars remained, looking down at the same time upon the father in an unknown land and the humble hut of the mother and children under far off Castilian skies.

PARSONAGE AND CHURCH FIRE.
Glencoe, Aug. 15.—A severe thunderstorm passed over here about 1 o'clock Sunday morning, one flash destroyed the chimney of the Methodist Church, and set fire to the roof. The parsonage was struck in two places. A gentleman who was visiting at Rev. Mr. Ford's was partially stunned, as he lay in bed. Mrs. Ford, who was walking down the passage with a lamp in her hand, had a narrow escape. The concussion of the thunderbolt throwing the lamp from her hand, but happily she was uninjured. The prompt attendance of the fire brigade saved the building.

Barns at Lynedoch Struck.
Delhi, Aug. 15.—Sunday morning about 2 o'clock lightning struck the barns of Thomas Lynedoch, along with the season's crops, and a threshing machine. Loss about $3,500; insurance $2,000.

Barn and Crops Consumed.
Lanark, Aug. 15.—During a heavy electric storm Sunday morning, lightning struck the barns of Mr. Roberts, a few miles from here, and burned the building to the ground, and 1,000 bushels of this season's grain and a threshing machine.

Manslaughter is Charged.
Toronto, Aug. 15.—George Pullman, who boarded at 17 Lewis street, was arrested yesterday by P. C. Guthrie on a charge of manslaughter: "that he did slay and kill and cause the death of Thomas Mahoney." It was on the eleventh of March that Mahoney was found lying in a lane running off Lewis street by P. C. Ward. He died without regaining consciousness, and all he said was, "They have killed me this time."

An inquest was held by Coroner Young. The jury brought in a verdict that death was due to pneumonia. The arrest of Pullman is the outcome of a lot of gossip amongst the neighbors. Four youngsters, aged about 10 years, claim that before Mahoney went into Ryan's house he was in the house of Mike O'Brien, 17 Lewis street, where Pullman boarded. They claim they heard a fight going on and saw Pullman and another man beating and kicking Mahoney, and they claim that he cried for help. Pullman's partner, who is supposed to have been implicated in the assault, left town, and is now in the United States.

If ignorance were really bliss, what a lot of people would be supremely happy.

SHOULD GET A HEARING

Britishers Urged to Come Before Our Tariff Commission.

Canada Herself Has Set the Precedent

—The Market of the Future For Canada's Wheat—London Globe

Thinks Refusal of England to Respond to Canadian Preference May Have Far-Reaching Results.

London, Aug. 17.—(C. A. P.)—Edward Porritt, who recently toured Canada as a special correspondent for the "Commercial Intelligence," in his first article deals with the approaching sessions of the Dominion tariff commission. He suggests that without delay the Associated Chamber of Commerce and the numerous chambers at the manufacturing centres of Great Britain should organize a movement for securing hearings before the tariff commission when in session.

"I am aware," says Porritt, "that the suggestion may seem a bold one, that it savours of interference on the part of the manufacturers of Great Britain with the fiscal and commercial policy of Canada, but Canada herself has quite recently set a precedent, which at once puts this objection aside."

Future of Canada.

Commenting on Prof. Mavor's recent report on the wheat production of the Northwest The London Globe says the question is, briefly, where in the future is Canada to find the chief markets for what she exports to Great Britain or the United States? Upon the answer to this depends the further question which of the two is to have the lion's share in the trade advantage resulting from Canada's development.

The refusal of England to respond to the Canadian preference and to draw her supplies increasingly from her own children can only mean an alternative scheme of trade reciprocity between Canada and the United States. Canada, with the majority of its population non-British, and United States with a foreign nation in the closest relations of commercial and material interests, will be only nominally a portion of the British Empire, and probably not even that for any long period. British democracy has the decision in its own hands. That decision, whichever way it goes, will have politically and commercially very far-reaching results.

THE PRINTERS' CONVENTION.

Socialism and a Delegate Expelled For the Present.

Toronto, Aug. 17.—Triple-featured was the third session of the International Typographical Union at the Labor Temple yesterday.

Firstly, there was the address of Col. Fred Driscoll of Chicago, commissioner of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, important as the expression of sentiment of an employing body that had few differences to adjust with the union.

Secondly, there was the indifference shown by the meeting to the suggestion of Delegate Bandlow, Cleveland, that they declare for general ownership of the tools of production, an idea branded as socialistic.

Thirdly, there was the announcement of the expulsion of Delegate Selby
Smith of Philadelphia, for having fomented trouble, until he apologizes in the same public manner as he made charges against the executive.

PREMIER ISSUES STATEMENT.

Examination Shows Fuss at Cobalt
Was Exaggerated.

Toronto, Aug. 17.—Premier Whitney has issued the following statement:
"I am sorry that an incorrect statement of alleged roydism at Cobalt has been made public. In the first place there was no trouble of any description there on Sunday.

"What trouble there was occurred there on Friday and was caused by several men getting under the influence of what was sold as 'hard cider.'
There has been no trouble whatever since last Friday. The place is as peaceful as any other locality in the Province.

"The license inspector is dealing with the matter in the proper way. The public may feel no anxiety regarding the peace of Cobalt. The Government will do its duty without hesitation under circumstances call for it. At present, I am happy to say, there is no occasion for it."

MEET AFTER 55 YEARS.

Keep Up Correspondence, But Have Only Now Come Together.

Chatham, Aug. 17.—Two young English ladies came to America 55 years ago who are cousins, but had never met. They corresponded in England and when they arrived in this country continued the correspondence. For five years over a half century these two ladies were punctual in keeping up their correspondence, but somehow never had an opportunity of meeting.
On Monday for the first time they met in Detroit and it may be conjectured the meeting was more than pleasant for both. The names of these two ladies are Mrs. Elijah Williams of Kent Bridge and Mrs. Tucker of Owen Sound.
Mrs. Tucker is now visiting Mrs. Williams at Kent Bridge.

WORRIES OVER LOSSES.

Mrs. Annie Delaney of Port Arthur
Commits Suicide.

Port Arthur, Aug. 17.—A tragedy occurred here yesterday morning, a widow named Mrs. Annie Delaney committing suicide by taking a dose of carbolic acid. She had recently come from Manitoba and had been working for some time past over certain investments in farm lands. It is unlikely that an inquest will be held.

Carelessness Causes Death.

Toronto, Aug. 17.—The strong smell of gas attracted the attention of a chambermaid in the old Imperial Hotel building at 63 Jarvis street yesterday morning. She traced it up and found that it came from the room occupied by Stephen Lawson. She entered and found Lawson stretched across the bed, dead.

His death was due to an accidental turning on of the gas jet. The stop on the gas jet in his room was too free.

Suppose you do like the tea you are using. How do you know it is the best tea you can get for the money?

MANY were satisfied with the tea they were using before they tried Red Rose Tea.

When they tried Red Rose Tea they found it had that "rich fruity flavor," found it was strong—that it requires less to make a cup of good tea than the brand of Ceylon alone they had been using.

Now, why not be sure you are getting the best tea to be had.

You cannot be sure till you try Red Rose Tea.

"HERBES O' VERTUE."

Rosemary and Rue Held High Estate Among the Ancients.

Of high rank among the ancient and medieval "herbes o' vertue" was rue. This plant, "the herb of grace," probably gained its reputation for breaking the spells of witchcraft, because it was so often employed for sprinkling holy water. Spenser includes this herb in the ingredients of a charm by which the aged nurse endeavored to change the current of Britomart's thoughts when she fell in love with the image of Sir Arctegil in a magic mirror. Another favorite amulet was vervain, the holy herb, which was much used in ancient religious rites and subsequently for decorating the altars of churches. Roman heralds always crowned their heads with vervain when they either declared war or made a truce.

Rosemary was valued for its powers of strengthening a weak memory; hence it became the symbol of remembrance. Rosemary was also used as a love charm, the reason being "both Venus, the love goddess, and rosemary, or sea dew, were offspring of the sea, and therefore as love was beauty's son rosemary was love's nearest relative." Anne of Cleves wore sprays of rosemary at her marriage with Henry VIII., as this flower was then used by brides instead of orange blossoms, and wedding guests wore it instead of white favors. Rosemary was also closely associated with funerals, the mourners each carrying a spray to drop into the grave at the conclusion of the service.

Powdered rosemary applied to the face was supposed to have magical effects for restoring faded beauty, and a bath of rosemary taken three times a day was said to restore youth and vigor. In the language of flowers rosemary signifies fidelity in love. Shakespeare referred to this when he made the old nurse ask, "Do not rosemary and Romeo begin both with a letter?"—that is, with the same letter.

LITTLE JACK HORNER.

Only an Up to Date "Gaffer" in the Days of King Hal.

The origin of the poetical jingles known as nursery ballads is in some few cases well known. Thus "the fine lady with rings on her fingers and bells on her toes" refers to the pilgrimage of the queen consort of one of the English kings passing through Banbury, where a cross was set up to mark her night's resting place, and ending at Charing Cross.

The ballad of "Little Jack Horner" is based on the following facts: In the time of Henry VIII., immediately after his breach with the pope, commissioners were sent throughout the country to seize the church lands.

One of the commissioners sent into the west of England, that portion referred to in Kingsley's "Westward Ho," was John Horner. About ten miles from Bath and five from Frome, both in the county of Somerset, lies the Morner estate, which has remained in the possession of the Horner family ever since the above John Horner, when despoiling the church of its lands for the benefit of King Hal, managed to grab a considerable slice for himself and thus originated among the surrounding country folk the ballad referring to Little Jack Horner.

He put in his thumb, And he pulled out a plum, The plum being the Horner estate. The matter was referred to some years back in one of the leading Bristol papers.

Throwing the Handkerchief. Statement copied from an old manuscript: "In the Foundling Hospital the Boys are bound apprentices, the Women when marriageable are conducted in procession thro' y streets, and any Young Man who see one He wish for a Wife is at liberty to mark Her by throwing his handkerchief." The further formalities required previous to matrimony are not stated. Perhaps this peculiar custom is the origin of the expression "throwing the handkerchief."

Well Answered. "Do you see much difference between Americans and Englishmen?" a handsome, spoiled English guardsman is said to have asked a sparkling American girl newly arrived in London society.

"Oh, yes," was her quick reply. "Over there the men admire us; here we are expected to admire you."

They say the astonished soldier almost fell off his chair at the unexpectedness of it.

Himself a Victim.

A Harvard sophomore was reciting a memorized oration in one of the classes in public speaking. After the first two sentences his memory failed, and a look of blank despair came over his face. He began as follows:

"Ladies and gentlemen, Washington is dead, Lincoln is dead." Then, forgetting, he hesitated a moment and continued, "and—I am beginning to feel sick myself."

He Induces It. Gerald—the faddists claim that yawning is a most healthful and beautifying exercise. Gladly—Well, if that opinion gains ground Cholly Sapphead will become much more popular with the girls.

Wanted the Money. "Your money or your life?" growled the footpad.

"Take me life," responded the Irishman. "I'm sayin' me money for me old age."

Manufacturing sorrow is one of the worst of sins.

LEVER BROTHERS LIMITED, TORONTO, CANADA.

Doubly Embarrassing.

Sutor—Beg pardon for interrupting, but—I—er—have just come—er—that is, I have just been speaking to your daughter, and she referred me to you. Old Gentleman—Geo crickets! I wonder if that girl thinks I am made of money. You are about the fortieth bill collector she has sent in today. If she doesn't marry pretty soon I'll be bankrupt.

In the Beginning.

"I tell you, Singleton, you don't know the joys and felicities of a contented married life, the happy flight of years, the long, restful calm of—" "How long have you been married?" "Just a month."

Odd Coincidence.

Mrs. Janson said to Mrs. Lammis in perfect confidence, "Do you know mine is the prettiest baby in the world?" "Well, really, now, what a coincidence!" said Mrs. Lammis. "So is mine!"

Much prudence does not always keep one from committing follies, nor much sense from thinking them, nor much wit from uttering them.

To be entirely tolerant we must tolerate those who are intolerant.

Spelled With a "V."

Frank Millet's baby was christened in London when Hutton and Lawrence Barrett were present. The child was to be named Lawrence, and Barrett spelled it out "Lawrence," as his name was spelled. Hutton immediately corrected him with "Laurence," as his own name is spelled. And they shouted this at each other, to the amazement of the parish clerk, till Mr. Millet stepped forth, with the remark that the father ought to have something to say and, turning to the clerk, said, "Spell him with a 'v.'" And Lawrence Millet he was made by law.—Christian Register.

Civilization and the Kaffir.

On bare feet, of which the skin grew so tough as to enable him to run over the sharpest rocks without alighting, the old Kaffir could easily walk, as fast as a horse trots, fifty miles a day. The Kaffir who still goes barefoot can do so today. He used likewise to be able to get a light—the "boy" who is constantly bothering one now for matches—by rubbing two sticks together. Now he is as helpless in the dark as ourselves.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Nature Helps Mi-o-na Stomach Troubles in Short Order

The summer months are the best in the whole year for the treatment and cure of stomach troubles. The out-door life, with natural exercise, the fruit and berries which are so freely eaten, all help to restore healthy action to the digestive organs.

Now when Nature will aid Mi-o-na in curing indigestion and giving strength to the stomach and whole digestive system, is the best time to use this remarkable remedy.

Taken before each meal, Mi-o-na will soothe and heal the inflamed and irritated lining of the stomach and solar-plexus, and strengthen the nerves of the digestive tract. Used at any time of the year, it cures all diseases of the stomach, excepting cancer, but in the summer months it gives health and strength twice as quickly.

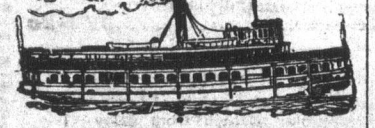

If you suffer from headaches, indigestion, flatulency, specks before the eyes, fermentation, heart burn, dizziness, or have a variable appetite, and a general feeling of dependency or weakness, it shows clearly that the stomach is not digesting the food as it should. Instead of the food being assimilated and making rich, red blood and good solid flesh and muscle, it is turned in the stomach into a sour, slimy, fermenting mass that causes gases, distress after eating, and poisonous germs that fill the whole body with poor health.

Just one little tablet out of a 50 cent box of Mi-o-na for a few days, and all this will be changed for the better, and health restored. Ask C. H. Gann & Co. to show you the Mi-o-na guarantee.

WORLD OF SPORT

FOOTBALL

A picked team of English footballers will soon play teams in the United States and Canada. All of the players are far-famed in Britain. One of the number is Sir Chas. Fitzpatrick.

ENGLAND IN THE LEAD.

London, Aug. 15.—(C. A. P. despatch.) England was all out for 430. At 10:00 a. m. Australia had scored 100 for two wickets, and were all out for 363 at the close of the day's play.

The next game the locals will have will, probably, be with the newly organized Blenheim team. It has been suggested also that city and county matches be arranged. There are a great number of old countrymen throughout the county who could make a formidable team with which to oppose the city eleven, and if there are not a sufficient number outside of those belonging to the first eleven would bring their number up to the required strength.

Following is the detailed score of the Cleveland game:

BLINHEIM

Aug. 16.—Yesterday was Erieau's great day, being the 10th annual Scotch picnic. It is said to be one of the largest that has ever taken place. The rain on Monday evening is very pleasant for getting around. Do not forget the only excursion that is to be run from Blenheim on Thursday, 17th, Civic Holiday, to Detroit via P. M. R. R. to Port Lambton, thence by steamer Owana to Detroit, giving four and one-half hours in the City of the Straits. It is to be run under the auspices of the Blenheim Recreation Club.

We are pleased to see by the P. S. L. reports that the pupils from Blenheim and the surrounding schools did so well. Eight pupils out of nine passed from Blenheim.

Mr. W. Kelly, of Olam, England, is visiting his brother, A. Kelly. He came by Dominion Line Southwark, thence R. O. boat via Thousand Islands to Hamilton.

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Great Eastern Produce Co. will take place on Aug. 30th for the purpose of hearing the financial report, electing directors for the ensuing year and any other business that may be brought before the meeting.

Dr. and Mrs. Story arrived on the Allan Line steamer Virginian last Friday and got to Blenheim on Saturday evening. They were highly delighted with their trip. While away they visited England, Scotland and France. Dr. Story while away took a post graduate course in one of the large London hospitals.

SAVES EGYPTIAN COTTON.

Crop a Record One, Owing to the Great Assouan Reservoir.

Alexandria, Aug. 16.—Egypt's official report of the Nile flood, published yesterday, states that the river is very late and low. A "bad Nile" has been declared.

At Assouan the gauge is three metres below the thirty years' average.

Cotton, the crop of which has been saved by the Assouan reservoir, is expected to be a record. The cotton worm is practically exterminated. The rice crop has suffered in many places. The sugar crop is late.

Irrigation of the delta and middle Egypt is assured by barrages. In upper Egypt the crops are doubtful, as large areas must remain unirrigated.

"Quick lunch" is one of the commonest of city signs. The sign does not say "a healthy lunch of good food"—the character of the food apparently is not considered. It's just a quick lunch—eat and get away. Is it any wonder that the stomach breaks down? Food is thrown at it, sloppy, indigestible and unwholesome food, very often, and the stomach has to do the best it can. Normally there should be no need for medical assistance for the stomach. But the average method of life is abnormal and while this continues there will always be a demand for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is the one medicine which can be relied on to cure diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It is not a cure-all. It is a medicine designed for the stomach, and to cure through the stomach remote diseases which have their cause in the derangement of the stomach and digestive and nutritive system. It cures when all else fails.

The faultless man is usually friendless.

MESSRS. C. C. RICHARDS & CO.

Gentlemen—In June, '98, I had my hand and wrist bitten and badly mangled by a vicious horse. I suffered greatly for several days and the tooth cuts refused to heal until your agent gave me a bottle of MINARD'S LINIMENT which I began using. The effect was magical, in five hours the pain had ceased and in two weeks the wounds had completely healed and my hand and arm were as well as ever.

Yours truly,

FACTS ABOUT OUR Great Sale of Shoes!

A Shoe Sale with us doesn't mean an offering of heaps of any old factory's refuse of alluringly priced "gone by" styles and "used to be" shapes. We don't conduct our business on that basis. Sometimes conditions enable us to give you our GOOD SHOES at LESS THAN USUAL PRICES. Then we have a sale—such is the case now. We want to close out our present stock and get ready for Fall Trade—we want to convert our Shoes into money, even if we have to meet a loss in order to do so. But we don't buy up job lots or ends simply to make a great show of "cheapness." We want you to feel, when you come here, that you'll get

MOVES UP

Reserved Promotion Extended to the Local Agent of the Pere Marquette—Mr. Youngs Appointed General Freight Agent.

Mr. W. Youngs the energetic and popular Chatham agent of the Pere Marquette Railroad, has been promoted to the position of General Freight Agent for the Canadian Division, with headquarters at London, succeeding Thomas Marshall.

Mr. Youngs has been a comparatively short time in the Maple City, but his energetic, courteous and successful services have been much appreciated by the public here. While his many friends regret his departure from Chatham, all extend heartiest congratulations on the deserved promotion.

When a woman is selfish there is no limit to its extent.

No estate can make him rich who has a poor heart.

TOO ARTIFICIAL.

Shooting at Bisley Camp Wrong, Says Expert and King's Prisoner.

London, Aug. 17.—(C. A. P.)—Walter Winans, in The World, giving his views on rifle shooting at Bisley, says: "The system of shooting is all wrong. It is absolutely contrary to the conditions of warfare. The Bisley champion is almost more useless at the front than the man who never before handled a rifle. Shooting at a big stationary target at long range is the worst possible training. The Bisley map fires under the most artificial conditions. He lies down on his stomach, rests his elbows on the ground, and a baby could do that."

Interviewed on Mr. Winans' article, Sgt. Comber, the King's Prize winner, was asked if he thought much of the shooting at Bisley. "Too artificial," he said, "certainly some of it is; for instance the wearing of orthopedic glasses in the last stage of the King's Prize. Ninety per cent. of the men wear them, but you do not use such things in war. I have suggested to the National Rifle Association that they be prohibited."

When you pay the price of success you do not always get as much change as you really expected.

Schooner on Beach.

Pictou, Aug. 17.—The schooner S. & J. Collier, Capt. J. Hurley, Gananoque, light, left here at 9 o'clock Tuesday night for Charlotte. Owing to the fierce gale she had to put into McDonald's Cove, near Pictou, Prince Edward County. Her two anchors failed to hold her, and she went on the beach, where she now lies, at the mercy of a strong northeast gale.

Governors of New Provinces.

Ottawa, Aug. 17.—(Telegram Special.)—Hon. G. H. V. Bulyea, a colleague of Premier Haultain in the Territorial administration, will probably be the first Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta. Hon. Mr. Forget, the present Governor of the Northwest Territories, remaining at Regina as head of the Province of Saskatchewan.

Charged With Cattle Stealing.

Chatham, Aug. 17.—Yesterday morning information was laid by John Cochran of Ridgeway against Robert Mills, now in jail at Brantford, charging him with stealing 15 head of cattle from his farm at Clearville. The cattle disappeared over a week ago and have since been recovered.

EARL GREY UNVEILS MONUMENT

Fifteen Thousand People Witness the Ceremonies at Quebec.

Quebec, Aug. 16.—The monument erected on the Esplanade to the memory of the Quebecers who fell in the South African war was unveiled yesterday afternoon by His Excellency Lord Grey. The day had been proclaimed a public holiday and as a result an immense throng, numbering fully 15,000 people, were present.

Prior to the unveiling of the monument, Acting Mayor Ald. George Tann presented the civic address of welcome to H. S. H. Prince Louis.

At 4 o'clock there was a garden party at the Garrison Club in honor of His Serene Highness Prince Louis of Battenburg and the festivities of the day were consummated last night by an illumination of the monument and fireworks.

His Serene Highness Prince Louis of Battenburg leaves Monday next with his staff for a visit to Montreal, Toronto and Ottawa.
