Over 10,000 Prisoners Taken Yesterday, More Today Advance On Twenty Mile Front This Morning

BRITISH TAKE BOTH LENS AND QUEANT; PUSH BEYOND DROCOURT LINE AND OCCUPY TOWN OF PRONVILLE

YESTERDAY WAS ANOTHER DAY OF SUCCESSES

Notable Gains Recorded by Allies Along the Entire Front

SPLENDID PROGRESS Both French and British Forces Achieved Important Advances

EXPERTS DELIGHTED

By Courier Leased Wire Paris, Aug. 3.—Yesterday was another day of notable successes for the Allies, results of the first importance being attained in the face of stiff resistance to both the British on the left of the line and to General Mangin's French troops on the right.

The French military commentators were enthusiastic to-day over the breach in the Hindenburg line made by the British between Drocourt and Queant.

"Astounding as it may seem," says Henri Bidou in the Journal des Debats, "the enemy was once more taken by surprise. Only by accepting this as a fact can one account for the great number of prisoners which indicate the number of the forces engaged and the lack of the prolonged resistance which should have been the consequence of the presence of this important mass of effectives."

On the southern end of the line, the enemy is continuing to interpose an energetic resistance between the Ailette and the Aisne, and one of the intricacies of the terrain which make the region one of the most difficult to attack and easiest to defend on the whole of the western front.

Through the capture of Leully and Torney-Sorney the French have completed the capture of the plateau above Soissons. Leully in addition rises to a level which the Chemin des Dames, which is less than four miles to the east.

On the Lys front the British forces continued to gain ground in the direction of Estaires. Here it seems probable that the Germans plan to fall back to a line through Armentières with the defence of the Hindenburg in their rear, which the British must break through before reaching Lille.

LET'S GO! Whistles blew, bells rang and motorcycle exhausts popped at noon to-day until the centre of the town reverberated with the sound, when the news of the fall of Lens and the accompanying bag of prisoners, was made known.

VITAL GERMAN STRONGHOLDS ARE CAPTURED

Enemy Sought to Hold Several Points in Northern Defence Line

USED HIS RESERVES

Massed Effort Failed to Check Onrush of the British

WEDGE INTO LINES

By Courier Leased Wire. New York, Aug. 3.—The Associated Press to-day issued the following: Strongholds vital to the German defences in northern France, in which they sought to hold with large reserve forces rushed forward at the last moment, have fallen before the rapidly advancing British forces.

The English have driven a wedge into the German lines with the taking of Dperigny and strongly fortified enemy positions northeast of that town.

Thousands of prisoners passing to the rear testify to the superiority of the British attack. The various and number of units represented by them indicate the haste with which the Germans rushed reinforcements into the battle in an effort to stave off the disaster of a completely broken line in the defences protecting the cities of Douai and Cambrai.

Breaking of Famous Drocourt-Queant Line One of Worst Disasters, For Foe, of the Entire War; Sensational Success for Allied Arms

By Courier Leased Wire. LONDON, Sept. 3.—The sensational breaking of the famous Drocourt-Queant switch line is announced as follows:

A series of important Allied advances with great captures of men and material has made an immense impression here, and while too great confidence that the success can be maintained is deprecated, and while the expectation is general that the enemy will make the most desperate efforts to recover the position, the blow is regarded as one of the worst disasters inflicted upon the Germans during the whole war, and one which must cause their high command the deepest anxiety.

The belief is general that the switch line is the main system of German defense, and that there is nothing so strong behind it. Consequently its loss, if it became final, opens the widest possibilities.

Its loss would involve the evacuation of the French coal field, perhaps even of the Flanders coast, says The Mail, and would imperil the German hold on Douai, Valenciennes and Cambrai, which are essential to Hindenburg for maneuvering his armies.

The Telegraph also noting the danger to the important German centres of communications says: "If the Germans cannot stand before Douai, Cambrai and St. Quentin, they can stand nowhere this side of the German frontier. If it is possible for them to fight harder and throw in reserves at a swifter rate than they have done in the last few days, they will do so. We doubt the possibility of their accomplishing either."

Other commentators remark that the Germans now pretend that they are retiring according to plan, and are convinced that the retirement will be compulsorily carried much farther than they evidently intended.

CANADIANS AGAIN TO FORE IN YESTERDAY'S FIGHTING

Troops From the Dominion Went Into Attack Yesterday, Supported by a Heavy Artillery Barrage.

By Courier Leased Wire. With the Canadian Forces, Sept. 2.—By J. F. B. Livesay, Canadian Press Correspondent.—Supported by what is said to have been the greatest artillery barrage put on in this war, the Canadians, after the seeming desultory fighting of the past few days, went into action in force this morning with other British troops south of the Scarpe.

Thousands of prisoners passing to the rear testify to the superiority of the British attack. The various and number of units represented by them indicate the haste with which the Germans rushed reinforcements into the battle in an effort to stave off the disaster of a completely broken line in the defences protecting the cities of Douai and Cambrai.

CAPTURE OF QUEANT IS ANNOUNCED TODAY

Town Forming Southern Support of Famous German Switch-Line Before Cambrai and Douai Has Fallen to British

By Courier Leased Wire. London, Sept. 3.—The capture of the town of Queant, the southern support of the famous German switch line before Cambrai and Douai, is announced in an official statement from Field Marshal Haig to-day.

Along this line the enemy was heavily defeated in his prepared defences and is retiring on virtually the whole battle front. The British forces are reported to have entered the towns of Pronville, Doignes, and Haguicourt. In storming the Drocourt-Queant line the Canadians assisted the English troops and carried everything before them.

The situation in the southern part of the battlefield is said to be extremely interesting, but nothing more can be said for the moment.

CAMOUFLAGED SUB OFF COAST OF NOVA SCOTIA

U-Boat Which is Preying on Commerce in North Atlantic is Painted With Large, Wave-Like Lines.

By Courier Leased Wire. GLOUCESTER, Mass., Sept. 3.—The German submarine operating among the fishing fleet off the Nova Scotia coast is camouflaged with large wave-like lines, according to Captain Manuel Quadros, of the American fishing schooner Rush, sunk by the U-boat a week ago.

GERMANS IN RETREAT ON FRONT OF FIFTY MILES

Troops From the Dominion Went Into Attack Yesterday, Supported by a Heavy Artillery Barrage.

By Courier Leased Wire. NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The Associated Press today issued the following: On a front of virtually 50 miles, from just below Ypres to a point near Peronne on the Somme, the German armies are in retreat.

This retrograde movement is not a voluntary one on the part of the enemy, but has been forced by the series of unremitting hammer blows inflicted by Marshal Foch in the past six or seven weeks. It now has been accelerated by the notable victory won by Field Marshal Haig yesterday in breaking through the strong defensive lines protecting the railway centres of Douai and Cambrai, and threatening to outflank even the main Hindenburg line south to St. Quentin.

Already the taking of 10,000 prisoners by the British in their advance is reported, and the German casualties in killed and wounded are declared to have been notably heavy as their thickly-massed forces felt the force of the British blow.

So pronounced and so speedy is the German retirement movements that it seems as if the enemy, if he has not met with a disaster, is perilously on the verge of one.

In what appears like an effort to escape in time, the scope of the German retreat, which had been proceeding somewhat leisurely both north and south of the Somme has been markedly accentuated north of that river. In this movement the important French coal mining city of Lens at the gates of which the British ponderously vainly virtually still further south the retreat.

More Than 10,000 Prisoners Taken Yesterday MORE TODAY

By Courier Leased Wire. London, Sept. 3.—Bulletin—The British have captured the city of Lens.

The town of Queant also has been taken. All sorts of troops have been captured. Elements of six German divisions have been identified by troops on a front of two thousand yards.

Additional prisoners were taken this morning. In their push beyond the Drocourt-Queant line, the British have advanced to a point just to the west of Buisy, two and a half miles northeast of Queant, and occupied Pronville, a mile and a half southwest of Queant.

The British also hold Doignes, elu, Berthincourt and Roquegnay, representing an advance to a maximum depth of four miles on a twenty-mile front effected this morning. In Flanders, the British forces have captured the town of Wulverghem, two miles southeast of Kemmel.

Contrary to expectations, the enemy has not reacted heavily with a view to the recapture of the Queant-Drocourt line, but has left the British in undisturbed possession of it. Bulletin, London, Sept. 3.—(Canadian Press via Reuters)—The British have occupied Lens, Wulverghem, Queant, Pronville, Doignes, Velu, Berthincourt, Roquegnay. This represents an advance to a maximum depth of four miles on a 20 mile front this morning.

General Mangin's advances between the Ailette and the Aisne is the most important so far. He has reached the Ailette, the Canal Du Nord and Bethincourt and has advanced a mile to south Lully. The line now passes through the plateau of Bethincourt to the north of Crau on the Soissons-Mauberge road. The center of the enemy, Great Fiches are observable to the north of Lafeux. These are probably enemy dumps.

French Army Headquarters, Monday, Sept. 3.—(Canadian Press dispatch from Reuters Limited)—Reuters's correspondent cables: General Mangin's advances between the Ailette and the Aisne are reported in the official statement issued at the War Office to-day. The text of the statement reads: "During the night there were artillery actions on the front of the Somme and between the Oise and the Aisne."

"Enemy raids along the Vesle River and in the Vesges regions were without result." British Official The text of the war office statement reads: "Our operations carried out yesterday south of the River Scarpe, were completely successful. The enemy was heavily defeated in his prepared defences of the Drocourt-Queant system, with the result that he is retreating this morning, along practically the whole battle front."

SIMCOE SCHOOLS RE-OPEN TO-DAY. Preparations Made by Board of Education in Five-Minute Session.

More Room Needed. Simcoe, Sept. 2.—(From Our Own Correspondent)—During a five-minute session of the Board of Education held at 7.30 on Saturday evening, R. E. Cook was appointed janitor of the South School at a salary of $38 a month.

Public schools re-opened this morning with the following staffs of teachers: Central School, H. S. McPherson, Sr. 4th Book, principal and superintendent, of schools.

South School. Miss Colver, Primary, principal, Miss McKnight, First Book, Miss Allen, Jr. Second, Miss Gardner, Jr. Second, Miss McCool, Jr. 3rd Book, Miss F. Thompson, Sr. Second, Miss Hadow, Jr. Second, Miss Porter, Jr. Second, Miss Baustlaugh, First Book, Miss Steinhoff, primary (kindergarten).

It will be noticed that there are three junior second classes, while heretofore there were but two. Without the new school some of the students in those classes would have been left behind for another year and some others shoved up to "senior" form to make room.

At yet there is not room. One small room at the Central School expected to accommodate 40 pupils, has air space for 28, and two small windows admit all the light available. It is big enough for a truck room.

DROCOURT-QUEANT LINE BROKEN IN WHAT MAY BE WAR'S GREATEST BATTLE

Canadian and British Troops Penetrate to Depth of Five Miles; Huns Surrender in Panic, While Abandoned Positions are Piled With Dead

London, Sept. 3.—Telling progress was made by the allies yesterday in the great battle on the western front when Canadian and English troops launched an attack south of the Scarpe River which broke in two the vitally important Drocourt-Queant switch of the Hindenburg line, otherwise known as the Wotan line. The assault, which was launched at 6 o'clock with considerable forces, had as its jumping-off place the position close to the German defences reached several days ago.

By their advance the Canadians and English broke the Wotan line on a two-mile front. They reached the outskirts of Cagnicourt, about two miles north-east of Queant, according to battle front advisers, and further north penetrated Dury, more than two miles east of the Wotan line. Far-reaching results may follow yesterday's advance. If the allies gains can be held the Hindenburg line would appear to be completely broken on its northern end. Development of the success in the direction of Douai and Cambrai would threaten the entire German line in the west from the North Sea to Rheims and even beyond.

There has been heavy fighting in Buissy, northeast of Queant, where large numbers of prisoners have been captured, and similar progress has been made on the northern end of the Queant-Drocourt line for some distance. All during the night there was very heavy fighting around the British positions, which were almost jammed up against the great German defence system. Piles of dead Germans was one of the results. During one enemy attack a Sergeant with a machine gun killed 40 Germans who tried to rush him.

It was soon after 5 o'clock in the morning that the masked British cannon broke loose with their thunder heard for miles, in a crash barrage. The whole sky seemed ablaze as thousands of British shells poured into the German wire and lines. When the barrage was over, the Canadians and English swarmed over the top. Just behind them were numerous tanks of all sizes. They had been over only a minute when the enemy opened with a counter-barrage which is said to have been by far the strongest he has put down since the British offensive began.

The instant the British appeared, the Germans, in many cases, jumped out of the trenches and held their hands high above their heads. In some cases, however, the advancing British met with a hail of machine-gun bullets, but, notwithstanding this, they pushed on. Quickly the first line was overcome. From all along the line came reports that Germans in dugouts were absolutely panic-stricken, and many of them were found covering in holes and screaming with fright.

EVERYBODY NEEDS PURE, RICH BLOOD

Pure blood enables the stomach, liver and other digestive organs to do their work properly. Without it they are sluggish, there is no appetite, sometimes faintness, a deranged state of the intestines, and, in general, all the symptoms of dyspepsia. Pure blood is required by every organ of the body for the proper performance of its functions. Todd's Serravallo makes pure blood, and this is why it is so successful in the treatment of so many diseases and ailments. Its acts directly on the blood, ridding it of scurvy and other humors. It is a peculiar combination of blood-purifying, nerve-toning, strength-giving substances. Get it today.

Plans for the local campaign for the Catholic Army Huts Fund, to be held some time this month, were laid at a meeting in the Knights of Columbus Hall. The Army Huts are maintained by the Knights of Columbus among the Canadian and American troops and do the same work as the Red Triangle branch of the Y. M. C. A. It is likely that Brantford's objective will be somewhere in the neighborhood of $5,000.

HORSE INJURED.

One of the heavy drays of the Shedd Forwarding Co. was left stranded on South Market street this morning. The driver, a boy, started the horses down the hill on a run, with the result that one horse slipped and was pushed by the heavy load along the pavement, being badly cut about the back. It may have to be shot.

PERMITS IN AUGUST.

Building in Brantford has greatly increased during the past month of August. A total of 27 building permits were issued during the month to the value of $202,250, an increase over August of last year of $19,235. This amount brings the total for the first eight months of 1918 up to $594,795, an increase over the first eight months of last year of $510,200.

POLICE COURT.

In the Police Court this morning Seth Newhouse and George W. Martin, Indians, charged with not registering, were remanded for two weeks. Newhouse for assaulting Constable Tyrell was assessed costs of $2.85. Steven Gartham, charged with converting goods belonging to Charles Johnson, were fined $12.00. Steven Johnson charged with using threatening and abusive language, was acquitted.

NEWSPAPERS HIT AGAIN.

All printing paper used to print newspapers is bought at the war prices f.o.b. at the mill, so the two recent increases in railway freight rates hit the newspaper publishers new blows. Besides paper and ink, there are some one hundred and fifty items of expense in publishing a newspaper. Of these, thirty have risen over two hundred per cent., twenty-five others have risen 100 per cent., forty-two have risen over 75 per cent. Over 2,500 papers have come out of existence while over three hundred have raised their selling price. If the war continues another year every paper in all the countries will have gone out of existence or have raised its rates.—Canadian Trade paper.

POWER TIE-UP IN TORONTO

By Courier Leased Wire
Toronto, Sept. 3.—Thousands of Toronto workers had to walk to their places of business this morning owing to a power tie-up on the street railway lines in every section in the city at the rush hours. For two hours not a wheel moved on the tracks. At 9.30 all the cars were running as usual. According to the officials of the company the trouble was of a local nature. Many of the big factories sent motors out to collect workers.

OLDEST MEMBER OF P. O. STAFF

Is Called Home in the Person of Mr. W. F. Tisdale

It is with deep regret that The Courier records the passing of Mr. William F. Tisdale, the oldest member in point of service of the Brantford Postoffice staff, and for thirty-eight years a respected resident of this city.

Mr. Tisdale was born in Canada on September 28th, 1854, and his father was the member of a prominent Old Country family. He first entered the postal service in Montreal and in November of 1880 came to Brantford, securing a position as clerk in the local office under the late Mr. Clement. He was at the department and fulfilled other onerous duties in a most punctilious and efficient manner. This year he had decided to spend his holidays by paying a visit to a brother out West and he was out there when the summons suddenly came. Postmaster Raymond receiving the following message:

"Birtle, Mon., Sept. 2nd.
"William F. Tisdale died Saturday. Buried here to-day. Writing.
"C. G. Graham."

In a letter received a few days ago he had asked for an extension of leave as he was not feeling well and this was the first intimation of any indisposition.

Mr. Raymond in speaking of him said: "All of us in the Postoffice building feel his demise as a personal loss. He was of a most courteous and kindly disposition, and always performed any duties assigned him in a most willing and thorough manner. In the matter of patriotic and other appeals he was a most generous giver and many were the kindly deeds chronicled during his life time. I had a great personal liking for him as indeed did all with whom he came in contact."

Mr. Tisdale was an adherent of Greek Church and for many years a member of the choir. His many likeable qualities endeared him to a very large circle of friends who will ever hold his memory in kindly remembrance. He was never married and had no relatives residing in this city.

Tang Hui Lung, Chinese Minister of Education, was assassinated, it is believed, from political motives, at Victoria, B.C., by Mah Chew, a barber, who afterwards when pursued, committed suicide.

LIEUT. HUGH LIVINGSTON

Is Again Reported to Have Fallen, Some Doubt However it is Felt May Still Exist

The home of Police Magistrate and Mrs. Livingston was yesterday again plunged into apprehensive grief when a wire was received from the Records Office at Ottawa saying that their son, Lieut. Hugh Livingston had been killed on Aug. 27th. A cable was also received from a sister of his young wife, now a nursing sister in the Old Land, stating that his death was rumored. It will be remembered that the previous telegram announcing that he had fallen was dated July 27th, and his name was afterwards found to have been given in error for another officer of exactly the same name and initials. After this error had been discovered, word came that he was slightly wounded on Aug. 14th, but able almost at once to return to the firing line.

The hope still exists that in clearing up messages for last month, the former mistake has been repeated. Major Sweet has been cabled in England, and the Records office and Major-General Mewburn also wired. Pte. R. A. Wise

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Potter, 183 Rawdon street, received word on Saturday of the death of their son-in-law, Pte. Robert A. Wise. He first entered service with the 15th Buffalo battalion, and leaves a widow and two children at 37 Wineva St., Toronto.

Pte. A. W. Riches Pte. Alfred William Riches, formerly of the 215th battalion, was killed in action on Aug. 20th, according to word received to-day by his wife. Mrs. Kate Riches, who resides at 166 Erie avenue.

LABOR DAY CELEBRATION WAS SURELY A LIVE ONE

Afternoon and Evening Performance Drew Large Crowds to Park; Street Parade an Attraction; The Courier Shields Were Presented to Winning Factory Teams

The Brantford Recreation League is at, organization which does things there's anyone disposed to deny that after witnessing yesterday's celebration. Let him speak now or forever hold his peace. After running up against the blackest kind of luck in the form of forbidding weather on Saturday, the league was compelled to postpone its program of motorcycle and bicycle races, but nothing daunted, went ahead and made bigger success than ever at yesterday's performance. This morning and evening. The morning attraction might indeed, also be classed as a howling success, but the howling was due to hailstones at the antics of the fastest ball team which even depicted on a diamond in Brantford.

From the outset of the parade at one thirty, every event in the day's program passed without a hitch. This, on the whole, the parade was not quite so elaborate as that which marked the 24th of May celebration, there were sufficient entries to make a really showing and several beautifully symbolic floats drew cheers from the spectators lined along the route of the parade. Starting at the G. T. R. station, the procession swept down Mark street to Dalhousie, turning to the left as far as Park avenue, then across to Colborne and on to Agricultural Park. Dense as were the crowds on the streets, the gathering at the park was even denser, every stand being taxed to capacity. Hundreds stood throughout the afternoon. The sports program was comprehensive enough for all, including events for young and old, large and small, men and women, boys and girls.

SHIELDS PRESENTED. A feature of the afternoon was the presentation of the handsome shields donated by The Courier, and by Mr. W. S. Brewster, president of The Courier company, to the Niagara Silk girls' team and the Messrs. Harris men's team, winners of the twilight meet series. The presentation was made by the president of the Industrial League, Rev. A. J. Ald. John Hill, who touched upon the splendid sporting spirit which had been fostered by the summer meet, and congratulated the winners upon their victories. Medals were also presented to Niagara Silk team, the Messrs. Isabel Bisset, Lily Marindale (each of whom received a special medal for individual effort), Josie Davidson, Mary Lyne, Edith Cochran, Flora Elliott, May Kell, Mary Hughes, Bessie White, Irene Hughes, Rita Wickson, Violet Wickson, Lila Force, Margaret Smith, Annie Smith, Jean Clews, Edna Smith, Ethel Erwin, Kate Renelle, Nellie Longbottom, Violet McGregor.

A flourishing Midway was in full swing from morning on onwards. Park and drew liberal patronage. Refreshments were purveyed in abundance, while throwing devices were hardly less numerous. Tickers and balloons added to the good natured gaiety, at which none took offense.

The few motorcycle and bicycle events which were on the program were among the main features of the afternoon. While the two and one-half mile motor-cycle race was in progress Taylor, after rounding the curve at the east end of the grounds, in coming back to the inner edge of the track, manipulated so that in some manner his rear wheel came into contact with the front wheel of Fraser's machine. The result was fatal for Fraser, as far as the race was concerned, for he was thrown, and his machine badly damaged. The public seemed inclined to think that Taylor had done it intentionally, as Fraser later charged, and the accident might have culminated in trouble were it not for timely intervention.

The Prize Winners. The results were as follows: Best decorated horse, delivery wagon, 1st, Dominion Express; 2nd, Gentlemen's Valet. Best decorated auto delivery wagon, 1st, Cash Bargain Grocery; 2nd, John Peachey. Best decorated heavy auto truck, 1st, Can. Starch Co., and C. J. Mitchell. Best decorated private auto, 1st, Children's Aid; 2nd, C. J. Mitchell. Best decorated bicycle rider or cyclist, 1st, John Sedgewick; 2nd, Rowe. Best decorated fancy float, 1st, Whitaker Baking Co.; 2nd, Brant Theatre.

The Whitaker Baking Co. turned their cash prize of $50 over to the fund for the Brant Sanitarium. Best Driving Horse—E. J. James McMillan; second, W. T. Henderson.

Sports of the Afternoon. Firemen's race, 100 yards, 1st, McMahon; 2nd, Townsend; 3rd, L. L. Howarth. Boys under 12, 75 yards, 1st, Forcas; 2nd, Thomson; 3rd, Stuart. Girls race, under 12 years, 60 yards, 1st, Miss Pearce; 2nd, Miss Calbeck; 3rd, Miss Chandler. Open race, 100 yards, 1st, Cowell; 2nd, McKinnon; 3rd, Kerr. Boys under 18, 1-4 mile, 1st, Davies; 2nd, Green; 3rd, Walters. Girls open race, 100 yards, 1st, Miss Pearce; 2nd, Miss Chandler; 3rd, Miss Calbeck. Wedding Bells

St. Joseph's Polish chapel, Crown street, was the scene of a pretty little wedding yesterday morning, when Rev. Father Dvorski united in marriage Joseph Zajac and Cecilia Cieleiecki of this city and Walter Stokosa and Miss Kosmal of Buffalo. The bride and groom were attended by Walter Radzinski and Miss Anna Golanek, and the second by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stando. The altar was beautifully decorated for the occasion and the chapel was filled. The choir of St. Basil's sang the mass very acceptably.

A FARCE ENCOUNTER

Toronto enjoys a reputation for many things, and has a reputation for others wished upon it. In addition to being The Good City, and the capital of Ontario, it is noted for being the home of pretty girls, and can now in addition claim the distinction of housing the poorest ball team which ever appeared on a diamond. Local fans have often wondered if baseball inferior to our city league calibre was ever played. Those who saw yesterday morning's game know beyond doubt that it is, or the visiting segregation racket—what show of merit is there could ever come—from the entire Massey-Harris plant of Toronto, put up an exhibition which in a less dry country would have driven all normal fans to drink. It may be that a few of the team had handled a ball before, but it must have been long enough ago to permit them to forget the fact, and on yesterday's showing it should be a long time before any of them will be trusted on a diamond again. Verity's pennant contenders in the city league, are far from being of big-league class, and the credit the visitors showed up, like world beaters, and playing listless ball throughout, amused the game by a score of 16-1.

Leafs Took Two Games Yesterday While Binges Dropped One

TWELVE-INNING GAME

Lear Drove in Winning Run Returning His Team as Champions

Toronto, Sept. 3.—Dan Howley's Leafs are champions of the new International League. They staged one of the greatest finishes ever in the history of the league, and the credit the trick yesterday, and the credit must go to King Lear. Three times during a thrilling twelve-inning game Lear stepped up, and each time he delivered with a stinging hit that sent over a run. His last effort was the greatest. It sent over the run that won the championship. The Leafs had to win two games from the Bisons yesterday to be called champions. They did. The morning count came out 4 to 4, and it took twelve innings to get the verdict 5 to 4 in the afternoon. To make the championship possible, Jack Dunn and his Baltimore team won the second game of a double-header from the Binges. It was the Bird's first victory in five starts against Binghamton, and the Leafs' battling would have won for nought at the Binges had squeezed over a win in the second game.

The afternoon game yesterday was the hardest fought of the year. It meant the championship of second place, and the Bisons gave the team their toughest argument of the season. The Bisons forged ahead early, but the Leafs caught them in the fifth thanks to Lear and his trusty bat. Two hits and a wild pitch let the herd go out in front again in the tenth. Lear ambled up with Dolan on the paths in our half. Lear smashed out a beautiful hit to right, and again it was dead. In the twelfth inning to send over the winning run. It was a fitting climax to a great game. The final score was 5 to 4.

The afternoon game yesterday was the hardest fought of the year. It meant the championship of second place, and the Bisons gave the team their toughest argument of the season. The Bisons forged ahead early, but the Leafs caught them in the fifth thanks to Lear and his trusty bat. Two hits and a wild pitch let the herd go out in front again in the tenth. Lear ambled up with Dolan on the paths in our half. Lear smashed out a beautiful hit to right, and again it was dead. In the twelfth inning to send over the winning run. It was a fitting climax to a great game. The final score was 5 to 4.

The Bisons played like league leaders. They went to the front in the early stages. The Leafs caught them in the fifth, but the Buffalo crew took the lead again in the tenth. Lear stepped in for the second time during the afternoon and drove over the tying run. He then waited until the twelfth, and smashed one over Buckley's head with one down and Bobby Hook on third. It was an easy home run, but Lear only needed to touch first base and reach the home plate and the title was ours.

The crowd simply went wild and warmed onto the field and hugged and patting the players on the back like long-lost brothers. Cozy Dolan was waiting at the plate to dump a bucket of water over Bobby Hook as he crossed the plate with the run and the title was ours.

One could spend the best part of a day explaining all about this great fixture, but what is the use, Justin retired in the eighth after he was spiked at first base, and Bobby Hook was on the mound when the Leafs turned in the victory. Bobby gets the credit for the win, as the score was tied when Justin retired.

The Leafs fielded in brilliant style. Anderson and Gonzales pulled sparkling work on ground balls, the outfield work was all that could be asked for. Buckley kindly dropped two flies that the Leafs took full advantage of.

The Bisons were out to do their bit. They went after the Leafs as if a victory would give Buffalo the championship of the world. In fact it was said that if the Leafs won for the great Bison fight. The visitors fought tooth and nail until Lear won it in the twelfth.

The Leafs got a run in the first, and it was a gift. With two down Callahan cracked out a hit to left and stole second. Lear sent up an easy fly to centre and Buckley dropped it. Callahan trotted home with a run.

Buffalo took the lead by scoring two in the fourth. Strait walked and Corcoran sacrificed. Witke singled, and Bengough's sacrifice fly to left let the first run over. Armstrong cut a hit to centre for a tally that put the Leafs one up. McCarron's triple and Strait's single in the fifth gave Buffalo a two-run margin.

King Lear got in his first telling hits in the fifth. The Leafs tied it here for the first time. Buckley doubled Fisher's fly and Justin doubled to right. Dolan walked and Gonzales flew out to short centre. Callahan's sacrifice fly to centre let Fisher home, and Lear's corking hit to left let Justin over with the tying run.

It was a great battle until the 10th, without any scoring. The first man up in the eighth bunted to Lear, and Justin was spiked trying to cover first. He retired and Heck finished the pitching duty. With one down in the tenth, Thomas beat out a hit to first, and went to second on a wild pitch. Buckley supplied a hit to score him.

Nothing daunted, the Leafs went back and tied it again. Dolan opened with a neat single and Gonzales sacrificed. Callahan popped out on the first pitched ball. Lear hit an honest one to right, and again the Leafs stood on even terms. Herche hit one a mile-a-minute down to third. McCarron just touched the ball and deflected it to Armstrong, who threw out Herche by a step. If the ball had gone through it would have meant the export of casein from Canada has been prohibited.

CUBS ALL SET FOR THE BIG SERIES

Will Clash With Red Sox in Opening Game at Chicago Tomorrow

VAUGHN IS TO PITCH?

Chicago, Sept. 3.—The Chicago Nationals returned from Pittsburgh to-day and began preliminary practice for the opening game of the world's series here to-morrow, with the Boston Red Sox, champions of the American League. Ideal weather is promised for the initial contest.

Manager Fred Mitchell ordered his team to report at the American League Park this afternoon for a practice session in which the Cubs will acquaint themselves with the lights and shadows of the grounds. Charles A. Combsky, president of the Chicago Americans, present world champions, has invited Manager Edward Barrow to hold a practice session at the grounds on the arrival of the Red Sox probably late to-day. Jim Vaughn, the big south-paw, has been picked by Chicago sport writers, as the probable choice of Manager Mitchell for the opening game, while the baseball risto guesses that Boston's right-hander, Carl Mays will start for the Red Sox with Ruth as second choice. Mays' peculiar submarine delivery, the like of which the National League champions have not met, has led fandom to believe that he will start of baseball's earliest world championship game.

Tickets for reservations for the games which in price will be the cheapest on record have sold far better than was anticipated by Walter Craig, secretary of the Nationals. Two thousand box seats for to-morrow's game at $3.90 war tax included were placed on sale and other sales for the following games will be held.

Light Brigade at Jutland

SOME day, writes Eric Wood in the Captain, a poet will arise who will sing the story of the charge of the Light Brigade at Jutland...

Disaster had come, not in fragmentary details, but in one cataclysmic flash...

Poor Fortune! She staggered to the impact, then lurched forward despite her wounds...

Fortune stopped now; a hole and battered and mangled and crumpled mass of twisted steel and tortured machinery settling down rapidly...

Forty-five men only out of a hundred they were—thirty-five men who had lived through inferno, and who, like those who had died at Jutland, had done their bit for Empire.

RESIGNS FROM LOCAL PULPIT Rev. David Alexander Quits Pastorate of Immanuel Church

At the close of the morning service in Immanuel Baptist church, Eagle Place, on Sunday, the Rev. David Alexander, announced his resignation from the pastorate which he has occupied for the past three years...

Financially, we have grown much stronger, and the church has been reported never to have been in better shape from a monetary point of view.

Our offerings to missions have more than doubled, with your help I've been instrumental in bringing about many material improvements.

Recreation grounds have been provided for the B. Y. P. U., which has flourished. The main auditorium has been re-modelled and furnished with up-to-date pews.

I want to express my thanks to all who have sympathetically entered into the spirit of my work. I've no definite plans for the future.

One thing comforts me as I leave. I know and feel that my labors have been honored and blessed by God.

SAVE WHEAT SUBSTITUTE PURITY OATS FOR WHEAT FLOUR IN ALL YOUR BAKING. Western Canada Flour Mills Co. Limited Head Office Toronto.

My only explanation is that for some time back I've felt I did not have the warm co-operation needed, and that especially from some of the leading office-bearers of the church.

Respectfully submitted, REV. DAVID ALEXANDER, Sept. 1st, 1918, Brantford.

RAILWAY YARDS RAIDED. By the Associated Press. Sept. 1st, 1918, Brantford.

With the American Army on the Lorraine Front, Friday, Aug. 30—American bombing machines this morning successfully attacked railway yards and buildings at Conflans.

At noon American airmen dropped bombs on the railway yards at Longuyon, scoring direct hits. Late in the afternoon Conflans was again raided, but poor visibility made it difficult to ascertain whether the bombing was effective.

Also that I have the appreciation and confidence of the vast majority of the church and congregation; and I also rejoice that more good-will and good-fellowship exists to-day among our fellow-Christians in this community than there was when I came three years ago.

Wishing you all every success and blessing in the future.

All of our machines returned.

Sure! High Heels Cause Corns But Who Cares Now

Because style decrees that women crowd and buckle up their tender toes in high heel footwear they suffer from corns, then they cut and trim at these painful pests which merely makes the corn grow hard.

A few drops of a drug called freez-e, one application of it upon a sore corn gives quick relief and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out without pain.

The Silent Heroes of the War

THE men of the Merchant Marine—do you ever give them a thought? The whole submarine campaign is aimed to frighten this non-combatant force off the seas.

Britain, France, Italy would face starvation. Our armies could not fight. Canada would be wrecked commercially. The fight for liberty would be lost.

Yet governments make no official recognition of this heroic body of 300,000 men who toil day and night in danger of death. No provision is made for pensions, or relief for their dependents.

We must admit our debt to the widows and orphans of the 15,000 men of the Merchant Marine, who have gone down, victims of the U-boat. Our cry must be—

"They Shall Not Want."

In his famous speech of August 8th, 1918, Premier Lloyd George said: "During the past two years Germany has made two distinct attempts to force a decision—once on the land and once on the sea."

The soldier is rightly remembered with gifts, separation allowance and pension. He is honored, as is his due. The men of the Navy are provided for and their dependents are not allowed to suffer want.

But the seamen of the Merchant Marine—facing death in a hideous form at their daily work, risk all at the call of duty. It would be a lasting disgrace to allow the widows and orphans of the noble 15,000 to suffer hardship, other than the loss of their dear ones.

Battle Story From the West Front

By "Z."
Both of them—large hefty subalterns of Australian infantry—were as chirpy as the proverbial cricket; and twenty-four hours before they had been in the thick of it. The usual story—an unexpected rifle grenade, a large noise, an ambulance train, and at last, a cot in a Blighty hospital.

"It was good fun," said one of them. "Fighting. Not on your life. We don't call that fighting. It was simply a case of supporting their posts and scooping them in. We did one fairly big show, just our battalion took over three hundred prisoners, and a whole heap of machine guns and trench mortars. But for the most part we went out in small parties—never more than a platoon—and left our cards upon his strong points. You wouldn't have thought much of their strength by the time we had finished with them.

"He was holding the line in a sort of series of fortified shell-holes—eight or nine men with a machine gun and a granatenerfer. They were pretty near us, too. In places the Hun hadn't got his best troops here, and they were acting mainly on the defensive. After we had put two or three successful stuns across him, he'd come over in force and try to get his own back; but, bless you, he hadn't an earthly! Over would come his barrage as heavy as you like, but his snaps or his shooting must have been bad, for most of it fell on his own posts. He had one post with about 15 men on it just about eighty yards from my position, and one morning when his granatenerfer thought they were knocking me into the middle of next week. I and my men were standing up in our trench watching the fellows in his post being up in the air in sections. That didn't scare us much.

"As for his attacks in force, they were a sheer farce. He always came in heavy mass formation, but his men were wobbling and requiring assistance from the rear before they had gone fifty yards. Then we would turn our machine guns onto them, and down they'd go in their hundreds. It was altogether too mighty simple.

"About the most wonderful thing about that sector to my mind was the height of the cross in No Man's Land. Why, we could go out reconnoitering in broad daylight, and get quite close up to his lines too. If he'd done the same thing we should have had a stiffer time of it; but you can take it from me that his moral, thereabouts at any rate, has just gone. He's got no stomach for the one man attack. He'll come on while he's being driven from the rear, and while his pals are so close about him that he couldn't run away if he wanted to; but the German officer who sent out one or two of his men on a lone patrol would be just making a present of one or two Huns to the British. He'll come on if I was on that sector I never saw a Boche patrol out.

Minor Take Two
"On the other hand, we had patrols out all the time. We pestered that Boche till he didn't know if he was on his head or on his heels. We coiled his machine guns and his grenade throwers. We bashed up his strong points, and showed him just what fire on his carrying parties. If he shoved his head above the parapet we plugged him. Oh, believe me, he didn't think it was a very nice way.

"When I say I never saw a German alone in No Man's Land, I'm wrong. There was one. I heard a noise in the cross just inside our wire one day, and went out and looked a beefy Bavarian by the scruff of the neck. He wasn't looking for trouble—what he wanted to do was to give himself up. He told us all we wanted to know about our opposite numbers.

"The biggest joke of the lot was his frenzied effort to get wire around his trenches. Every time he put a yard up we shelled it into the air. You see, with the high crops observation was a very simple matter. But he had the wind up so sky high that he wasn't going to do without wire. He had enough of all this blood and some sort, so he rigged up a single fence right on his own parapet. We didn't shell that—we thought we oughtn't to discourage him any further; but at night we used to stroll up to the fence and drop Mills bombs over into his trench.

"He didn't understand a bit of our methods of crawling out in the daytime and watching him at work. One day we spotted him starting a big job of camouflage on a road just behind his line. He was evidently preparing to assemble troops in some numbers and launch a really big attack on us. As soon as we spotted it we had observers out all day and every day, and got map positions and everything else nicely tapped out. Then when we saw that he had about finished the job we gave the tip to our gunners and Gerry's camouflage together with quite a nice little lot of heavy mortar shells went right west.

"The prisoners we took were all pretty well fed up. They seemed glad to be taken; but of course they were not Germany's best troops. Their clothes were good, and they had plenty of tobacco and bread, but otherwise, we gathered, their supplies were pretty infrequent and never very free. They all got nervous—but we didn't want prisoners to tell us that. When the enemy opposite you spends all night in throwing up flares and wasting his machine gun ammunition on nothing in particular, you can pretty well depend upon it that he's not feeling very secure.

"Why, if a rabbit scurried or a sergeant rose out in No Man's Land he'd send over a couple of dozen rifle grenades, and let off enough fireworks to make a Melbourne gala night! I think it used to annoy him that we didn't send up any flares at all. That made him wonder what we were up to.

"There's one plain thing about it, and that is that in our sector of the line, at any rate, he's not going to do any good for himself. Our trenches are pretty near perfect, and his are just the opposite. Our communications are first class, and we can hold on there till the cows come home. And if he wants to make any really big attack he'll have to bring fresh troops in to do it.

"We had some fine Scotch boys with us, and those Germans sure did not love the Kilites much. One reason for that was that they tried to make an F head post that the Scots were holding. As soon as the barrage was lifted those Scots got out of the trench and as soon as the Huns were in it down they jumped on them and had them trussed up and on their way to the rear before they knew what had happened, and without a shot being fired. And the next morning the Kilites stuck up a notice board. 'Send us some more.' But the Jerries weren't having any more."

Rippling Rhymes

INTO GERMANY
I hope before this war is done, and we've suppressed the frightful Hun, our men will march on German soil, and sundry treasured landmarks spoil. The German people ought to know just how it feels to have a foe shoot up their houses and their kirk, and overturn the whole blamed works. They should be given half a chance to see what deeds were wrought in France, their cities made an aching void, their sawerkraut fortresses destroyed; they ought to see the bomb shells burst among their fields of whorwheat and see the flash of their machine-guns beneath their waving pretzel trees. I would not advocate their plan of dealing death to dame and man, or slaying babes and hanging priests; for allied soldiers are not bessi; but I would see our men in line somewhere along the storied Rhine, and have them rake the country well, and show the Teuts that war is hell. Unless we bring it to their door, they'll soon forget the years of gore, and say it's what they've yearning for, when some mad ruler lusts for war. Oh, let the Teutons have enough of all this blood and carnage stuff.

BUILT FAKE FRONTIER

GERMANS SUCCEEDED IN DECEIVING ESCAPED PRISONERS.

Men Are Lured Into Belief That They Have Reached Neutral Territory, Say Canadians Who Have Been in Hunland—Other Examples Given of Cruel German Humor.

ACCORDING to some Canadian prisoners recently escaped from Hunland via Holland, a fake frontier is the latest German contrivance for outwitting our men who seek to make their getaway from the horrors of life in Hun prison camps.

This barrier consists of a replica of the formidable barbed wire and electrically charged fence which has existed since the outbreak of war along a large part of the Holland-Germany border line. The new barrier, however, stands five miles back from the frontier, well into German territory. Fugitives, unwarned of this trap, would naturally suppose that once across the strands of spikes and highly charged wires, they were free, and, according to reports, more than a few who had successfully negotiated the dangers of breaking camp and traversing wooded forests through enemy country, have finally fallen victims at this fake boundary. Night is, of course, the usual time for attempting to cross the frontier, and the poor chaps who thus essayed it, throwing off all restraint once across, walked straight into the arms of the Hun sentries lying in wait for them.

Some returned officers who evidently escaped the fatal delusion of the fake fence, relate what they consider the one "humorous" episode in the "term of years" imprisonment of a long respected officer of great bravery and general meanness. It was the sole occasion, they say on which the "solid, materialistic, mechanical" mind of their captor, displayed the slightest degree of being human. And at that, it was a very cruel sort of humor, of the cat and mouse variety, and thoroughly German in that sense.

Several of the imprisoned officers were contriving an escape. Under the floor of one of the sheds in the camp they were, secretly, they thought, digging a tunnel which in a day or two would take them out under the wire fence which straddled the camp. Excellent progress was being made, and the Hun did not appear to have the slightest knowledge of the scheme. One morning the Hun commandant suddenly announced that they were all to move camp. The officers were told to pack their belongings and get ready for a journey. A muster presently showed that the three candidates for freedom were absent. As a matter of fact they were toting in their tunnel, hoping to escape that night.

The commandant gave everyone to understand that he thought they had escaped, and had sent out the heavy guard to the authorities. Presently all the officers were put aboard a slow train to proceed to their destination. Then the commandant, with a grin and a chuckle, said to the three who were toting in their tunnel, "Pack their belongings and get ready for a journey." A muster presently showed that the three candidates for freedom were absent. As a matter of fact they were toting in their tunnel, hoping to escape that night.

No Lacrosse Sticks. There is one big difficulty in keeping lacrosse alive this year that is being overlooked by the supporters of the national game, but not by those who are behind the clubs. It is the absence of sticks. A journey around the various sporting goods stores in Canada reveals the fact that they are not a dozen rods sticks in all and little likelihood of securing any more. The factories in the east have stopped making them and instead are doing what work "Down in Joe" Lalle's factory in Cornwall they are making boxes to transport munitions, Indians in and around Cornwall have made a few sticks for their own personal use, but that is all.

HOW SHEP ARMOR IS MADE.

Plates Kept Red Hot for Fortnight to Strengthen Steel. Take a British navy list, and read the description of one of our modern ships. The Iron Duke, for instance, which is one of our newest super-dreadnoughts.

The guns—the big 13 1/2 in. guns—are in turrets walled with 12 in. steel, while the C.T.—which is the conning tower, the brain of the ship—has a similar protection.

Armor is made of soft steel, the surface of which is hardened by a secret process, so that it resists penetration by shells. The same degree of hardness all through, it would crack like glass under the enormous impact of the projectile. But as the face alone is hardened, the toughness of the softer steel behind to give the best possible protection against splitting or shattering.

Had the plate for making armor is secret, but the method by which the Harveyized armor of our older ships was produced is roughly as follows: The plate is planed smooth. The plate is then put into a special furnace, with the planned surface upwards, and covered with a layer of animal charcoal equal in thickness to itself.

Another steel plate is then clamped on top of the first. Both plates are then covered with sand, and kept at a high temperature for a fortnight.

Another week is needed for cooling off, and then you have your armor-plates ready for machining. The cost of this armor for a dreadnought means a bill for $600,000.—Answers.

When you first see Gen. Haig—or such is my experience—you think what a handsome man he is. When you next see him you feel what a strong man he is, in body and character. When you have seen him often and at close quarters, though you do not lose the first impression, you find his master attribute to be modesty, qualified but not camouflaged by the quiet manner of a modest student of mathematics. I speak within my knowledge when I say that no man in this war has accepted criticism, even from civilians and politicians, with a more open mind or so overjoying readiness to acknowledge the demand of new events. A remarkable example is his rapid promotion during the last six months of civilian soldier, and his entire, unhesitating acceptance of the war correspondent, to whom at one period he was more vehemently opposed than any soldier in high command.

The history of generalship ought to be written by a physician, some one said in writing of Napoleon's last battle. I suppose no one has borne the brunt of war more continuously or with more first-hand knowledge and power than Gen. Haig. Scarcely for a moment has his health wavered, and he attributes much of his energy to the cavalryman's lot, in the saddle, the cavalryman's horse, the cavalryman's horse, the cavalryman's horse, the cavalryman's horse.

Haig, too, is a student as well as a leader, and always was. Soon after he had enjoyed my first considerable interview with him, I asked an old and famous instructor of the Staff College whether, on the whole, the best student while at the Staff College had afterward proved the best officers. To tell the truth, I rather expected, and almost wished him to say so. His answer was complete. "I had three best students. I ever had were Haig, Robertson, and Rawlinson, in that order of merit."—W. Beach Thomas, in Harper's Magazine.

There is a good story about Mr. Balfour, during his term as Irish Secretary, showing the seas of humor which went far to popularize him with the people of the island. When O'Brien, a poor English traveling had just come out with a violent attack on Balfour and an amusing cartoon of "A. J. B." Mr. Balfour had to attend a party at the Four Courts in Dublin, as witness, and as he stepped into his carriage, surrounded by a shouting crowd, a small newboy, with the impudence of his kind, came forward with O'Brien's picture. "Buy a copy, sir," he said. "Only a penny, and a lovely picture of yourself as the Devil." "Right," said Mr. Balfour, and gave the boy a penny with a laugh, as the boy called down blessings on him, and the crowd burst into shouts of cheer.

We learn from an exchange that an Englishman and a Scotchman who travelled to Egypt together paid a visit to the Pyramids. The Englishman was lost in admiration, and, in his excitement, gave his opinion. The Scotman shook his head sorrowfully. "Ah, mon," he said, with a sigh, "what a lot of mason work no to be brought in on any real!"

THE REX.

Peggy Hyland, the well known English star, is seen at the Rex the first of this week in her first Fox picture "The Debt of Honor," a timely war story pulsating with interest and patriotism every moment of its five reels. The picture deals with the activities of German spies in America, and of the manner in which one loyal girl was instrumental in frustrating a plot against U.S. transport ships. Coaxing Chaplin in "The Roustabout" one of his playever comedies, is an added attraction, while Foy, Toy and company present a novelty performance in a Chinese Cafe, as up-to-date as the most modern manner and costume. The fourth episode of "The Bull's Eye," featuring Eddy Polo and Vicar Reed, completes the program.

Patrons of the Brant have always been accustomed to splendid holiday offerings and those who attended the theatre yesterday were not disappointed in Manager Moulton's Lab' Day program. Echoes from Erin, a delightful pasty offering with beautiful scenic effects, is a stellar vaudeville attraction presented by four people; its delightful musical numbers being enhanced by the charming stage setting. Charles plays opposite Mr. Ray in a highly satisfactory manner, and the supporting cast is of the usual Paramount strength. Roscoe, "Fatty Arbuckle," is seen in his latest production, a comedy labelled "Good Night Nurse."

Twelve Halifax Aldermen resigned on Saturday, and five more are said to have quit since the Ontario Legislature and labor joined hands in Guelph to make the day's celebration a big success. Two hundred and twenty-nine babies were entered in the Baby Show in connection with the Labor Day celebration at Hamilton. Arthur Parkes, 14 West Pictou street, Hamilton, was drowned in the bay at Burlington Beach while teaching his wife to float. The fishing schooner Elsie Porter of Lunenburg, N.S., and Potentate of La Have, N.S., have been sunk by a German submarine.
