

13,000 WORD QUERY FOR MEDICAL MEN.

Senator Brown Declared That His Wife Had Been a Curse to Him.

Mrs. Bradley Trusted Brown Just as the People of Utah Had.

Washington, Nov. 22.—The trial of Mrs. Bradley was resumed to-day at 10.10 a. m. Albert A. Barnes, Assistant Attorney-General of Utah, who was on the stand yesterday for the defense, continued his testimony. Judge Powers, counsel for Mrs. Bradley, stated soon after the trial commenced that the expert testimony probably would not be begun until Monday. The hypothetical question that will be propounded to the medical men has been completed. It embraces 13,000 words. It is expected that the examination of all the other witnesses for the defense will be concluded to-day, and that an adjournment will then be taken until Monday.

Barnes said he had told Mrs. Bradley, after a conversation with Senator Brown, that it was his opinion that Brown did not intend to marry her. Mrs. Bradley was much agitated and depressed.

Judge H. P. Henderson, formerly law partner of Senator Brown, testified to several interviews with Mrs. Bradley, in one of which he had warned her to stay away from his office. He also told of an effort by both Mrs. Bradley and Mr. Brown to get the Senator sign a statement in order that a divorce might be procured.

Judge Henderson, referring to the relations between Senator Brown and his wife, declared that Brown had said to his wife, in the presence of himself and Mrs. Bradley, that Mrs. Brown had been a curse to him, and that he would not resume relations with her.

Judge Henderson also testified that Mrs. Bradley had said to him she would be blamed for everything, and that Brown would escape. She declared that she trusted Brown just as the whole people of Utah had done, while giving him the highest office they had.

Access at 12.30 o'clock was taken, with Lyman H. Shrewsbury, an uncle of Mrs. Bradley, on the stand. His testimony showed insanity in Mrs. Bradley's family.

THE MAURETANIA AND HER CAPTAIN.

MAURETANIA HINDERED BY STORM AND FOG.

Nine or Twelve Hours Behind Lusitania's Best Time--But Makes the Best Record For One Day.

New York, Nov. 22.—Another obstacle in the shape of a dense fog is delaying the new Cunard liner Mauretania, thus farther marring what was confidently expected to be a most successful maiden voyage. Soon after leaving Queenstown last Sunday morning the big steamer ran into a severe storm, which lasted the better part of three days.

Terrific head seas and high gales retarded the splendid speed of the vessel, and by the time these conditions changed it was known, by means of the wireless telegraph, that the westward record of the sister ship, the Lusitania, could not be eclipsed on this trip. However, the steamer was put to top speed, and soon halm was offered to those on board when the steamer's run for the fourth day showed 234 knots, thus tapping the Lusitania, which took the blue ribbon for the best day's run on the last voyage, by six knots. It was believed that the Mauretania would reach Sandy Hook by daylight on Friday, but this hope was shattered when the Mauretania ran into a dense fog off the New England coast late last night, and speed necessarily had to be materially reduced.

The Marine Observer at Sandy Hook reported this morning that the thickest fog in many a day hung over the ocean all along the coast, and that he had looked into a blank wall of white throughout the night.

Steamers can only crawl in such weather, so that it will probably be well into the forenoon, at the earliest, before the Mauretania can reach the Sandy Hook light. Thus she will be from nine to a dozen hours behind the best record of the Lusitania.

At Sandy Hook.

New York, Nov. 22.—The Mauretania was off Sandy Hook at 9.55 a. m. to-day, and was in communication with the shore stations by wireless. It is believed that the Mauretania reached the lightship by 9.30 a. m., as she was in communication with Sigaponack, L. I., in passing that station at 6.30 a. m.

A message received from the Mauretania stated that the ship might not reach her dock to-day. High tide is making it absolutely safe to bring the big ship up the bay, but the Mauretania was still fogbound at 9 a. m., when the tide reached its maximum. Prospects were that the ship would have to wait until the next high tide at 9.30 p. m., in which event she may not reach her dock until to-morrow morning.

CONTRACTOR CONTRIBUTED TO BOTH GRIT AND TORY FUNDS.

One Witness Discovers How Electors Voted--- Man Who Helped Both Sides.

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—“Where did the money come from?” was the question which the Crown had to solve in the trial of the alleged London conspirators this morning. It was sworn that Mr. James A. Corry contributed to Reid $300 for use during the London by-election, the money to be used for legitimate expenses. Alex. Milne acted as deputy returning officer in a London election. He was told to see the ballots of the electors and ascertain how they voted. He discovered the way in which about fifty men cast their votes. The Crown prosecutor wanted to know if the witness folded the ballots so that he could see the marks on them. Witness could not say whether that was part of Collins' lesson. Mr. Staunton reminded the witness that he showed the magistrate in the police court how he did his work. Milne replied that if he did so it was true.

To the judge, Milne said that he told what he knew about the ballot to either Mr. Sifton or Mr. Ardy. He communicated with them immediately after the election.

A contribution of $300 was given toward the Liberal fund in the by-election of 1905 by Mr. Jas. A. Corry, of Ottawa. He had a contract near Port Huron, and passed through London during the election. While there he saw Mr. Reid.

“Did you help the election along?” A.—No.

“Didn't you offer any assistance?” A.—After a little more pressing, Mr. Corry said that he gave $300 to Mr. Reid. He intended the cash to be used for legitimate expenses, and did not know whether the court would look upon that as “helping along” the election.

“Did you think the people in London needed charity?” A.—Well, hardly.

“Who told you to give it? Mr. Reid?” A.—I do not remember.

“What was said when you gave it to him?” A.—Nothing.

To Mr. McEvey the witness said that he had also contributed to Conservative funds. He was impartial and supported the government in power.

Ernest A. Larmouth, of the Reform Association of Ottawa, was in London during the by-election. He handled no cash, and simply went up for a short holiday.

Two Crown witnesses, James White and Chas. Higgerty, both of whom were Ottawa Liberals, could not be present, and Judge Winchester allowed Mr. Staunton to put in the evidence given by them at the Police Court. Two other witnesses for whom the Crown had issued subpoenas did not appear, Mr. Staunton said that he knew one of them arrived in the city.

“You had better make enquiries of the police,” suggested Judge Winchester. “I believe that several of your witnesses have come before the Magistrate.”

“It is fortunate that you have a good police force here or we would have been short of more witnesses who spent the night in the city,” replied Mr. Staunton. “But there seems to be a prejudice against outside drunks.”

At the suggestion of the Crown Prosecutor, the court adjourned until eleven o'clock Monday morning.

CLOTHING TALK.

Grafton & Co. Give Advice to Prospective Buyers.

The big stock of men's clothing is now complete at Grafton & Co.'s, and the present time is most opportune to buy a fall suit or overcoat. Grafton & Co.'s unrivalled position challenges competitors to equal the values they give. Buying the materials in large quantities, their garments are constructed by experts at their own factory and handed to the customer direct. The strong argument advanced by Grafton & Co. is that the clothing man who has not these advantages cannot give the people anything like their values. To-morrow this great firm will demonstrate these bargains by placing on sale regular $22 and $25 overcoats for $18; men's fine suits in winter tweeds, serge, etc., for $10; men's trousers, fashionably cut, for $1.95; boys' suits, worth $5, for $3.50; men's underwear, worth $1.25, for 30c. These are but a few samples of what will be selected, and there are hundreds of suits, overcoats, vests and the like to choose from. Read the attractive advertisement in this issue.

THE FURLINE

Investigation to be Made into the Cause of the Wreck.

Toronto, Nov. 22.—(Special.)—An official investigation into the loss of the Provincial fisheries protection cruiser Furline will be commenced before Commander Spain, Dominion Wreck Commissioner, on Tuesday morning at the Parliament building. The vessel, which was purchased by the Ontario Government for $10,000, was totally wrecked about a month ago on its first trip. It struck a sunken crib at the entrance to Goderich harbor.

WAS NOT THERE.

Louis Levi States His Connection With the Case.

Louis Levi, iron and metal dealer, who is out on bail on a charge of complicity in the theft of copper wire from Woodman Bros., denies that he was with the four men on the morning of the robbery or at any time prior to the arrest of the quartette at his father's place of business. He says he was in the office at the shop when the wagon load of stuff was brought in. He stepped out to weigh the load, when the constables felled him with their batons. He said he was rendered unconscious, and will see if the courts will uphold such treatment by the police.

WRITS ISSUED.

Suit Over Organization of Stock Company in Hamilton.

Messrs. McClelland & Bicknell, acting on behalf of E. R. Clark and others, have issued a writ against H. J. Crawford, T. B. Gregory and P. J. Bayer, of Emberton, Pennsylvania, for specific performance of a contract entered into between them and which it is alleged the defendants have made breach of. The plaintiffs claim a large amount of damages. The action arises over the organization of a stock company and the sale of certain lands in the city of Hamilton to the new company, of which the defendants were to be stockholders.

The same firm has also issued a writ in the County Court on behalf of Ernest Wayley, of Glanford, against R. S. Lang & Co. and William Collins & Son, Toronto, for recovery of $134.00 for apples sold and delivered to the defendants.

On behalf of Richard Taaffe, Martin Malone has issued a writ in the County Court for $200 damages against the Hamilton Street Railway Company, for injuries received. Mr. Taaffe was getting off a street car at the corner of Emerald and King streets, when, it is alleged, the car suddenly started, throwing him to the ground, and making an ugly gash on his head.

Now let us all help along the mountain park scheme, and help save its face.

I am sorry to see by the London conspiracy trial that some alleged Grits have been learning Tury tricks.

The ad. writers occupy considerable space in the paper to-day. Something for everybody.

The aldermen talk about money by-laws just as if they had the Bank of England at their back.

Yes. There was quite a string to Whitney's promise.

Lest we forget it might be mentioned that quarrying is still going on in the face of the mountain.

The York Loan money would come in handy for Christmas. A small dividend would be acceptable.

Then there is another question that might be asked, has the sanducker the union label?

Have you had your snow shovel's teeth sharpened?

Score one for Chief Smith. He made the two arrests without using his baton.

Wouldn't it be great if they could muzzle the Times? Great for the grafters.

Will somebody please read the riot act or the power act or something to Adam Beck.

Talking of the ballot, Pritchett knew how to switch it.

But I haven't heard of anybody getting up a petition for Sunfield's release.

Some prominent Tories say Mr. Barker is not as strong a man as he was four years ago. Getting weaker all the time.

As a supporter of the Whitney Government, the Herald lays it all over the Spec. It's quite an “organ” now.

So Adam Beck, after all, didn't know what he was talking about. We thought as much.

NO TROLLEYS.

Westinghouse Unable to Finance St. Petersburg Street Railway.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 22.—The opening of the electric street railroad lines in this city has been delayed indefinitely owing to the suspension of the credit of the Russian Westinghouse concern, which is unable to obtain cars or equipment without cash payments. A proposition that the municipality assume responsibility incurred, has been made to the board of aldermen of St. Petersburg.

FATAL BLAZE IN A BUFFALO HOTEL.

One Man Lost His Life, Another Dying and Another Seriously Hurt.

Nearly Eighty Persons From Exchange Street Hotels Flee to Safety.

Buffalo, Nov. 22.—One man is dead, another is dying, a third is in a hospital in a serious condition, and a score of persons had narrow and exciting escapes as the result of a fire which broke out in Sawtell's Hotel, 110 Exchange street, early to-day. The name of the dead man is unknown to the authorities. His body is at the morgue. The seriously injured are:

Fred. Banks, 25 years old, cook at the hotel, suffering from effects of suffocation. He cannot live. His home is in England.

Emil Grattan, Italian, lately elevator boy at Broetz House here. Home is in Ottawa, Ont.

Nearly 80 persons, sleeping in Sawtell's, McLeod's and Lawrence's Hotels, were rushed into the street half clothed when the smoke and flames from the fire began to get into their rooms. Three men, one of whom was the dead man, were carried unconscious from the Sawtell house by firemen.

Herbert Sawtell, the proprietor of the gutted hotel, awoke the inmates, and on returning to the second floor found that escape was cut off by way of the stairs. He ran to the roof. The flames rapidly approached him and he jumped to the adjoining roof unhurt.

SUNFIELD WILL NOT HANG FRIDAY MORNING NEXT.

Stated Case Granted and a Respite Has Been Given Till December 27.

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—The Court of Appeal this morning granted the application for a stated case made by counsel for Jake Sunfield, the Hamilton murderer, condemned to die on Nov. 29. Chief Justice Falconbridge, who heard the case, announced his willingness to grant a respite in case the Court of Appeal granted the application for a stated case.

In view of the court's decision Sunfield will not be hanged next Friday. The sentence will be stayed till after Dec. 27th.

Till December 27th.

Toronto, Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Chief Justice Falconbridge has granted a respite in the case of Jake Sunfield, who was sentenced to be executed next Friday for the murder of Andrew Radzyk in Hamilton. The execution has been postponed until Friday, December 27. The delay has been granted for the purpose of allowing permission granted by that tribunal this morning.

About Sunfield's Uncle.

In a short letter to a correspondent in Hamilton, Mrs. Mary Tamillo, of Chicago, wife of Jake Tamillo-Sunfield, says that the murderer's uncle, Frank Tamillo, had a kind heart and felt very badly over the action of young Sunfield. He had great sympathy with Jake, he said, and took it so hard that he committed suicide. She says further: “I knew his uncle well, and he was a good man, and he always treated me right.”

The letter, which was received at the jail on Wednesday morning from Mrs. Tamillo, has not been handed to the murderer yet, as the Governor desired to show it to the Sheriff before turning it over to the condemned man.

LIBERAL NIGHT. THE SHRIEKING SISTERHOOD.

Tickets For the Savoy are Selling Rapidly.

WOMEN SUFFRAGISTS PLAN TO SPOIL LIBERAL MEETING.

Thursday night, December 5, will be Liberal Club night at the Savoy Theatre. The success of the event is already assured. Already most of the boxes have been taken and enough requests have been received by Secretary Woolcott to ensure the sale of all the others in a day or two. The other seats, at 50 cents each, are selling rapidly, and the club has promised Manager Appleton a bumper house. He, in turn, is doing his part to give the club and its friends the very best show of the season. Tickets may be had at the Times office, the club rooms or from any of the members of the executive.

As Usual

You will find everything inviting. Grimsby tomatoes, mushrooms, cucumbers, lettuce, blood oranges, pineapples, butter beans, sweet green peppers, artichokes, grape fruit, Neufchatel and square cream cheese, Limburger, naval oranges, muffins, crumpets, maple syrup, turkeys, ducks chickens, mackerel, Holland herring—Bain & Adams, 89-91 King east.

Cabinet Ministers Their Special Victims—Rowdiness at Meetings—Numbers of the Women Ejected From Meetings at Leeds and Glasgow.

London, Nov. 21.—With the resumption of the political campaign which is now in full swing, “The Shrieking Sisterhood,” as the women suffragists have commonly come to be known, are actively pursuing their threatened plan of upsetting all Liberal meetings. Gatherings at which members of the Cabinet are to speak are especially selected by them. The victims last week were Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the Premier, and Herbert H. Asquith, Chancellor of the Exchequer. Both these speakers have difficulty in getting a hearing, their meeting being attended by serious disorders.

Last night Herbert Gladstone, Secretary of State for Home Affairs, and David Lloyd George, President of the Board of Trade, speaking respectively at Leeds and Glasgow, were similarly treated, and a number of the suffragists had to be ejected from the meetings.

BIG BUTCH MURDERED... He had Reformed and Walloped Dopey Bennis, so Maybe There was a Grudge. New York, Nov. 22.—Simon Ernstoff, known also on the east side as Big Butch, was murdered yesterday afternoon in a poolroom run by his brother Benjamin, at 131 Suffolk street. Butch was playing at one table with a boy named Samuel Sechechman, when a man ran down the stairs into the basement where the room is, and started firing at him.

Every one else in the place ran out except a helper named Dave Wagner, who crawled under one of the tables. In consequence there was no one who could or who cared to identify the shooter or give a description of him to the police. Simon tried to get away, but was found dead alongside one table with three bullets in his back.

According to Lieut. Hart, of the Mulberry street police station, Butch, whose picture is in the topic's gallery, must have been a while ago that he was using to reform. He was a sort of instructor of pickpockets and had been arrested and convicted as a fugitive. He served a term for that. In 1903 he was arrested on a charge of burglary.

His decision to reform may have cost him the friendship of some of his pals, because he thrashed one of them for trying to break up a ball that he had arranged a month ago. Dopey Bennis and Harry Soldier Boy, two of his pals, got up advertisements for a ball and distributed them before Butch's ball came off, so that he was angry and walloped Bennis.

Unexpected Meeting on a Jungle Pathway in India... "We give little thought," said Mr. Strugglesome, "to the part the screwdriver plays in modern moving."

Unexpected Meeting on a Jungle Pathway in India... "But in the flat, with its narrow and tortuous halls and its narrow doorways, it's different; and here comes into exercise the art of the modern mover, and it may be, as a last resort, the use of the screwdriver."

Unexpected Meeting on a Jungle Pathway in India... "And then what do they do? Take the door off the wall down the walls? Saw a piece out of the door jamb, or something like that, so that they can get it through?"

Unexpected Meeting on a Jungle Pathway in India... "Why, they don't do anything of that sort, nor does this situation, which to the non-professional might seem impossible, give them any particular trouble."

Unexpected Meeting on a Jungle Pathway in India... "With the table thus taken apart it can be sections carried into the room easily, and this work is done in a minute, for the movers have taken tables apart in this manner a hundred, if not a thousand times before, and then, once inside the table, with the screwdriver's help, it set up again as quickly."

Love and Crime

"She! Who?" Roderic asks, amazedly...

"I will say good-bye to you here, Lady Christabel," he says, huskily...

"Well, I won't then, certainly, since you don't wish it," Roderic replies...

"Thank you, so much; it's so very good of you to say that!" Roderic says...

"But if I tell you that I do not, and never did, believe one word of that accusation," Christabel says...

"I have another request to make of you," he says, in a lower tone...

"I don't know," Christabel answers, vaguely and sighing wearily...

"The world—your world—Mrs. Millibrane's world do, Lady Christabel," Roderic answers...

"No, Not quite so bad," Christabel falters; "but I did not believe it even then!"

"Here is a chance for you to secure a splendid suit or skirt in one of this season's newest effects in striped chevrons...

"Lord Cardonnel evidently believed the story without being much shocked or distressed," he says, sardonically...

"Without a doubt this will be the BANNER SALE of the month and know it will be, because the garments offered are the balance of a manufacturer's samples..."

"I am sorry I've been unfortunate enough to offend you in the last words I shall ever perhaps speak to you!" Roderic says...

"Women's Tweed Coats $5.98 ON SATURDAY MORNING AT NINE O'CLOCK we will offer 50 TWEED COATS in numerous models..."

"Driving with a lady? Oh, yes, of course, I forgot," Lady Christabel says...

"Tailored Suits $10.98 Of fine quality Venetian cloth, in all the popular shades...

"Well, Miss Surtees is a blond, and is very fair," Lady Christabel says, looking surprised...

"Children's Ulsters $4.49 A good assortment of light and dark colors, all prettily made and worth $6.50, sale price... $4.49

"Good gracious!" Roderic exclaims, laughing aloud. "Has she actually taken to dyeing and painting herself?"

"Sale of Fine Furs Persian Lamb Coats $92.50 This is the best bargain ever offered in Persian Lamb Coats...

"Yes, she acknowledged to my father that she knew you," Christabel says, gravely...

"Astrachan Coats $29.50 Excellent quality Astrachan, double breasted, storm collar, lined throughout with quilted satin..."

"I wish I could spare the time to do it now, but I cannot," she says, looking at her watch...

"Persian Paw Sets $18.50 Pillow Muff and Long Tie; best quality fur; worth $25, sale price... $18.50

"They have been walking on slowly, side by side, by a roundabout route through the trees toward the Victoria Gate..."

"Japanese Mink Sets $21.50 Large Muff and Ruff, trimmed with head and tails; regular $27.50, sale price... $21.50

"But Roderic pauses as soon as the avenue lies before them, and takes her hand again in his, and the groom at once grows absorbed in watching a policeman chasing a sheep..."

THE HAMILTON TIMES

FRIDAY, NOV. 22, 1907.

CALL WHIP TAYLOR.

At the London bribery trial yesterday, a witness from Brockville testified that during the election in that constituency he heard that Mr. George Taylor, M. P., the Tory whip, was in the riding "spending money and sending out letters containing money," and he said that in methods both sides were alike. This sort of testimony did not seem to suit Mr. George Lynch-Staunton, the Crown counsel, who said, "I don't care who does it, it has got to stop."

What will Mr. Staunton or the Attorney-General do to stop it? Will they detail detectives on the case and spend thousands to get at Taylor and his co-workers in the Tory party?

Perhaps. But don't you think you see them doing it?

FLEEING THE TAXPAYER.

The piling up of municipal debt has been going on very briskly in the last ten or fifteen years, and a good many places find themselves in Hamilton's position—called upon to devote the larger part of their revenue, to paying off old scores—so that it is a hard struggle to meet present demands without placing a crushing tax burden on the people. But still there is no let up. The schemer and the promoter seem to be able to get Councils to add to the burden annually, even when current credits have to be met by large overdrafts at bank rates of interest. In the Northwest, where perhaps rapid expansion has outrun prudence to a greater extent than in the east, some of the towns are confronted by grave financial difficulties. Regina has trouble in making ends meet, and still wants to sell ventures at 90 to plunge into other great spending schemes to cost over half a million. The banks carrying the city's overdraft naturally think it should pay. Medicine Hat is trying to mortgage its waterworks and gas systems to raise $200,000 at 7 per cent. Calgary is seriously in need of money. Brandon is offered only $4. for $150,000 of its 4-1/2 per cent. bonds. In Ontario the municipalities have within recent years doubled their debt, and the prodigal dance goes on, all sorts of schemes to put burdens on the taxpayer being advocated. Instead of appreciating that this should be a time for exercising caution and avoiding the increase of debt burdens, the average municipal councillor seems to be bent on doing his full share to aggravating the difficulty and taking it out of the taxpayer. Not satisfied with operating within the legitimate field of municipal endeavor, they are now seeking to place burdens of millions of dollars more on the taxpayers to exploit schemes of socialistic "ownership and operation," which, even if they realize their promoters' expectations, can benefit only a few, while they mortgage more heavily the property of the people to pay for them. It is time that the man who pays should wake up.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Parliament is to reassemble next week. Already the wind is rising.

The strongest argument in favor of capital punishment is rooted in the objection of society to being murdered.

Please do not insist on the Technical College as Hamilton's right. You might annoy and irritate Whitney. That's the Herald's plea.

Why should the Herald regard the building of a Technical College here as a "bribe"? Hamilton is due that as a matter of justice.

The Montreal Star now endorses the building of the Government section of the National Transcontinental Railway by commission. But will its endorsement remain good over the season?

The Finance Committee last night voted down a motion in favor of a standard loaf of bread. In which matter we incline to the belief that the committee is not in harmony with public sentiment in the city.

The Junior Tory organ, the Herald, which the local machine always relies on to do any dirty work that is beneath the Spectator, says Times Liberals are not decent. But when Times Liberals reflect on whence comes the intended insult, they will not worry about it.

Hamilton cannot be bought with a technical school, in spite of the Herald's insinuation. We want that Technical College as a matter of right and in fulfillment of the Government's pledges. Government owes it to us, and should pay its debt.

There is a very strong feeling in this city where Mr. B. Reid, the engineer who was driver of the train which met with disaster at Courcock, is so well known and highly respected, that his case deserves favorable consideration at the hands of the Crown authorities. The engineer was largely the victim of circumstances, and the law having ascertained that, and he having already served between two and three months of a nine months' sentence of imprisonment, mercy would not be misplaced in giving him his liberty. The object of the law has been accomplished; the lesson it aims to teach has been taught, and we think Mr. Reid might now be restored to his family and friends with safety to the community and the law's dignity.

Mr. Graham B. Kelsey, of Toronto, and Mr. J. E. St. John, N. B.

Stanley Mills & Co., Limited, Friday, Nov. 22nd, 1907

Women's Coats, Skirts and Waists At Very Pronounced Savings

To-morrow we continue our great clearing sales in the Garment Department. Only those who are brought into close touch with the great quantities of Christmas goods arriving here daily, can realize the absolute need of providing room.

Every article in the heavier class of goods that we can dispose of helps just so much towards the accommodating of the Christmas lines, consequently we are tempted just at this time to cut prices to an extent that would be simply ruinous at any other period.

To-morrow's Garment sale is particularly interesting along these lines and the savings to you are certainly very pronounced.

GET-AWAY DAY.

RUSH OF FOREIGN LABORERS FOR EUROPE. The Steamship Companies Unable to Accommodate the Crowds That Want to Go—The Money Stringency Driving Them Home.

New York, Nov. 22.—The exodus of foreign laborers returning to Europe owing to the shutting down of industries since the financial stringency has reached such proportion that the steamship companies are hard pressed to furnish accommodation for them. Hundreds of foreigners have been obliged to wait until next week because berths could not be found for them.

Outgoing steamers are carrying thousands of steerage passengers, and the President Grant, which will sail for Hamburg next Wednesday, will have aboard 3,200 foreigners. They will be largely Russians, Poles and Hungarians. The Pennsylvania, Erie, Lehigh, B. & O. and New Jersey Central roads are using special trains to bring the home-coming to their port.

HURT IN COLLISION.

Sandusky, Ohio, Nov. 22.—In a head-on collision early to-day between an interurban Lake Shore Electric Railway motor and a city car, a dozen men were injured, five so seriously that they were taken to the hospital, and two may die. The police arrested the motorman and conductor of the interurban car and attempted to arrest William Jakes, conductor of the city car, but Jakes, although injured, escaped.

FIVE CHILDREN BURNED.

Titusville, Pa., Nov. 21.—Awakened by the barking of his dog early to-day, Thomas V. Zuber, an oil prospector, living east of here, found his house in flames. With difficulty he saved his wife and child. Two sons escaped from the second story, but were badly injured. Five children were burned to death.

WILL HAVE GOWNED CHOIR.

First Presbyterian Church in Toronto to Introduce Innovation. Toronto, Nov. 22.—The first Presbyterian church in Toronto to introduce a gowned choir will be St. Andrew's, King street. When the edifice re-opens, the first Sunday in December, the choir will render special music, will be stationed in the chancel, and all will wear uniform gowns. On their heads will be worn black velvet caps designed especially for the purpose. A piece of plaster, sufficient to kill a man instantly, fell from the ceiling of the church people as being reverent and simple, doing away with the vulgar display of millinery seen on the young ladies.

Other Presbyterian churches in the Dominion to introduce the gowned choir are St. Andrew's, Kingston, St. Andrew's, Ottawa, and St. Paul's, Montreal.

English Actress' Statement in Gould Case is Taken. New York, Nov. 21.—Helen Mer, an English actress, appeared before Referee McClure to-day to give testimony in the suit for separation instituted by Mrs. Catharine Clemmons-Gould against her husband, Howard Gould. Miss Mer's appearance was the result of a decision rendered by Justice O'Gorman in the Supreme Court a few days ago that her testimony be taken before the actual opening of the trial as she is about to sail for England. It is alleged by Mr. Gould in an affidavit which has been filed in court, that he believes Mrs. Gould made Miss Mer her confidant concerning her relations prior to her marriage with Mr. Gould with Colonel W. F. Cody (Buffalo Bill). The affidavit further declares that Mr. Gould believes that these relations were not correct, although he says Miss Clemmons, before her marriage, assured him they were purely of a business nature. Miss Mer's testimony was given behind closed doors in the presence of the referee and counsel for both sides.

SENT TO ASYLUM.

Mrs. Thomas, Who Cut Throats of Her Children Pronounced Insane. Caandigua, Nov. 23.—Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas, of the town of Manchester, who cut the throats of her two children, killing her four-months-old babe, and seriously injuring her five-year-old daughter, Martha, was sent to Willard State Hospital for the insane this afternoon.

DISTRICT JUDGE. REV. GEO. R. TURK

Arthur Carpenter, Formerly of Hamilton, Appointed.
Ottawa, Nov. 21.—An order in Council, passed this afternoon and approved by Earl Grey this evening, appoints the following district judges for Alberta and Saskatchewan, as provided in the act passed at the last session of Parliament: Charles R. Mitchell, Medicine Hat; for the district of Calgary: H. C. Taylor, Edmonton; for the district of Edmonton: J. Camille, No. 1, Edmonton; for the district of Wetaskiwin: A. A. Carpenter, Innisfail; for the district of MacLeod: Roland Winter, Calgary; for the district of Lethbridge: F. E. Forbes, Regina; for the district of Prince Albert, Sask.: A. G. Farrell, Moose Jaw; for the district of Moosomin: A. C. McLong, Moosomin; for the district of Saskatoon: T. C. Gordon, Carduff; for the district of Yorkton: Reginald Rimmer, Regina; for the district of Cannington.

Mr. Arthur A. Carpenter, of Innisfail, who has been appointed district judge for MacLeod, is a Hamilton man, a brother of Mr. Harry Carpenter, barrister, of this city. He studied law in this city with his brother and afterwards with Watson, Smock & Masten, Toronto. After being admitted to the bar he returned to Hamilton and practiced in partnership with his brother, Harry. He went west in 1902, and has built up a successful law business at Innisfail. His many friends here will be pleased to hear of his appointment as district judge.

Will Hold Series of Revival Meetings Here.
Rev. Geo. R. Turk, the singing evangelist, will open a series of revival evangelistic meetings in the East Hamilton Y. M. C. A. on Sunday next, Nov. 24. Rev. Mr. Turk has been in charge of some of the most promising Methodist Churches in Canada, having been pastor of Carlton Street Church, Toronto, Grace Church, Winnipeg, and his last charge being Owen Sound. He is a preacher of great power, and an excellent singer. He was associated with Mr. Kirby for some time in evangelistic work. A number of young men in this district will remember hearing him at the Niagara Camp this last summer, when he was instrumental in leading scores of soldier boys to enlist as soldiers of the King of Kings. It is likely that Madame Egbert, of Detroit, will assist in the musical arrangements, which is in charge of Revs. Livingston and Wyck. Services will be held each night in the week except Saturday. There will be a song service each evening, commencing at 7.45. These services are being looked forward to with great expectations of good results.

GOLD LOCKETS.
Two Presentations Made by the Woodmen Last Night.
Sovs. Paterson, McDougall, Pava and White, of Camp No. 30, Woodmen of the World, performed a pleasant duty last evening when they visited the W. M. (Billy) Carroll, and John Bucke and presented each with a handsomely engraved locket for services rendered the camp in connection with their Detroit excursion. Both gentlemen, though taken by surprise, replied in fitting terms, and tendered their services for future occasions. Sov. Paterson, C. of the camp, made the presentations.

GOOD ENTERTAINER.
Court Oronhyatekha Officers Guests of Dr. Mc Gillivray.
The banquet room of the new Commercial Club was filled with a bunch of merry-makers, upon the invitation of Dr. McGillivray, last evening, to enjoy a feast that would be fit for the King. They consisted of the officials, to the number of twenty, of Court Oronhyatekha, L. O. F., and of fun there was no end. There was everything that a man could desire at the banquet table, and everybody was hungry enough to enjoy all the good things that were provided. All united in praise of the genial doctor, for the excellent repast. After the banquet Dr. McGillivray took the chair and introduced an informal toast list, at which all had a chance to speak. The host was called on, and gave an short, witty address. He referred to the general good feeling that prevailed among the officers of the court, and spoke of the splendid manner in which every member was always working for the best interests of Court Oronhyatekha. Mr. J. W. Lamoreaux, President of the Commercial Club, and Major Tidwell, Secretary, were present, and each gave a short address. The gathering broke up about 11 o'clock with three cheers for the doctor.

STRIKE OVER.
European Leaders of Railway Strike Summarily Dismissed.
Calcutta, Nov. 22.—The strike of the employees of the East Indian Railway, at Bengal, at the junction of the East Indian & Bengal-Nagpur Railway, collapsed to-day with the summary dismissal of some of the European leaders of the movement. A number of the engineers which had been at a standstill for a week was re-started.

IRISH ATTACK HUNTERS.
Mob Beat Horses With Sticks and Scatter Dogs in All Directions.
Dublin, Nov. 22.—A violent scene took place in Boreokane, county Tipperary, yesterday. When the Ormond Hunt attempted to hold its meeting, at that place, the United Irish League from Shinrope turned up in force and demanded that Messrs. Kenny should be prevented from following the hunt. This was refused, and Mr. Craddock, the master, made for the nearest covert. The crowd lost its temper and the horses were beaten with sticks and the dogs were scattered in all directions. The hunt followers proceeded to Madroeny, the residence of Mr. George Whitefield, where they took refuge.

Sensational Sale of Women's and Children's Underwear.
During the past few days Finch Bros. have made a very large purchase of about 800 dozen women's and children's warm winter underwear manufacturers' samples. All are perfect and will be on sale Saturday at about one-half regular retail prices. They comprise women's and children's drawers, vests and combinations, in white and natural. This sale, coming right at the commencement of the cold weather season, offers a grand opportunity for the ladies to stock up well in winter underwear while prices are low. Sale starts Saturday morning at 8.30 o'clock. Come early, when choosing is best. Other Saturday sales at Finch Bros. will be a special clearing of their entire stock of Swiss net curtains and sash nets at one-third off regular prices. Sale of handsome silks, black and colored dress goods. Special sale of Finch Bros.' fine millinery at half price, and women's new and stylish winter jackets. See Finch Bros.' advertisement for particulars of the many sales, Saturday. It is half price. Ladies' silk waists, worth regularly $4.50, for $2.00. Ladies' night gowns for $2.00 and $1.50. Saturday sale of fine, stylish and well made ladies' suits and coats. By all means don't miss this great sale. One yard wide perfect ivory white wash silk, regularly 75c, for 30c. Long silk gloves, worth regularly $1.50, for 70c pair. 25 pairs pure wool blankets, worth $2.25 value, for 82c. And don't overlook the buying November sale of carpets and rugs.

Freight Rates.
Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 22.—A meeting of the eight freight committees representing twelve railroads, handling iron and steel products from Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia and New York, was held yesterday to revise the rate schedules. It is understood that the conference will result in an advance in rates. The Grand Trunk was represented.

Don't Believe
But perceive that we are out for cash. Our prices will convince. Working shoes, $1.35, regular $1.75, all wool sock, 2 pairs for 25c, Call and make your own price. M. Kennedy, 240 James north.

STEAMER RAISED.
Colechester, Nov. 22.—The steamer W. L. Brown, which was ashore on the South East shore, has been raised by the tug (Hadiator), with the higher assistance of the Great Lakes Towing Company, and passed there at 8.45 a. m. to-day, bound up for the reloading of cargo.

WINDING A WATCH.

Reasons Why It is Better Done in the Morning Rather Than at Night.
"You wouldn't think," said a watchmaker, "that it would make any difference whether a watch is wound up in the morning or at night, but it does make considerable difference.
"When a watch is wound up at night coming out of a warm pocket, and laid down or hung up in a cool place, the mainspring will contract by the cooling off of the metals. Being wound up tightly all chance of contracting has been shut off and the spring is bound, to break.
If, however, the watch is wound up in the morning, having partly run down through the night, there is room enough left in the barrel to contract. Another reason why it should be wound up in the morning is that the spring will then have power and thus will be in a better condition to resist the disturbing movements of the bearer during the daytime.
"Being generally in a horizontal position during the night and running with less power, the horizontal position, in which the balance runs more freely, will operate to make the length of the swing of the balance wheel during the night as nearly as possible the same as in the daytime."

Tribe of Fighting Indians.

"I sojourned for more than a year in Central America, mostly in Honduras, where I went to make a study of the native Indian tribes," said Charles C. Lesseur, of New Orleans.
"These aborigines are mostly of warlike mould and as brave fighters as any of the human race. I was especially impressed with the inhabitants of the Copan and Guazaca districts. They are the best fighting stock in all Latin America. Three or four hundred of them will often defeat an army of three thousand. They are ever eager for battle, and seek nothing of heavy adverse odds. They are supposed to be Christians, but from what I saw and learned from others I came to the belief that they practise heathen rites and ceremonies. They are excellent friends, but terrible enemies, and if defeated in battle are apt to visit their wrath on their unfortunate officers."
"These Indians cling to their primitive

Queen's Hobbies.
Queens are invariably exempt from the mystery that veils the age of women, and they can never abate a day from the gold calculation of the calendar. Wilhelmina, Queen of the Low Countries, was twenty-seven the other day, and has reigned for nearly seventeen years, the first eight of which was under the guidance of her mother, a Princess of Waldeck Pyrmont, and sister of the Duchess of Albany. For six and a half years the Queen of Holland has been wife to Henry, Duke of Mecklenburg, "Prince des Pays Bas," as he was formally styled on the occasion of his marriage. Queen "Wilhelmine," as she is known to her subjects, has many hobbies; her dairy at Het Loo is one of them. Her Majesty is a practical dairymaid, who can milk a cow, churn the butter and make it into the delectable pats. The dairy began by being a hobby, but so successful did it become that it is not run as a paying business. The Queen is very fond of music, and has organized a series of "sommersets" to bring out the lives of her poorer subjects. During the winter in the Hague, these concerts, which are given in large halls by excellent singers and instrumentalists, engaged at the expense of the poorer quarters only. Queen Wilhelmina is also an expert needleworker and is interested in the Industrial School of Amsterdam, where some wonderful needlework is done, which is eagerly bought by the best people as being exceptionally well made.—Dundas Advertiser.

Queen's Hobbies.

Cuban Landlord's Idea of the Proper Phrase for English Readers.
An advertisement in a Havana newspaper of a house for sale or to let enumerates among other of its desirable features "two precious views."
That phrase puzzled an American for some time, until he learned that the word was derived from the Spanish word precioso, a favorite in describing something delicate or rare, but hardly precious in the sense of valuable. The advertiser, however, had insisted that the descriptive word should be done in that way.
Advertisement in the English language is a strong point in Cuba, especially with the saloon keepers. One rather obscure shop in a corner of Santiago bursts out of a mass of Spanish lettering with the following: "Renowned for Cocktails."

DUICAL FORTUNES.
Wealth of Some of England's Dukes in Recent Years.
The estate of the sixth Duke of Richmond and Gordon, who died on Sept. 27, 1903, aged 85 years, was valued for probate at £353,573 gross with net personalty of the value of £300,192. But, as appeared in proceedings which have lately been reported, he had previously given bonds for £702,000 to his son, the present duke, and to his grandson, Lord Settrington, now Earl of March, and other bonds to the amount of £28,314, all of which it has been held were not liable to be charged with the estate duty.
Algernon George, sixth Duke of Northumberland, who died on January 3, 1899, aged 88 years, left an estate valued for probate at £50,950, but he had transferred during his lifetime to his son the bulk of his property, which was of great value, and thus escaped the charge of the death duties. In these cases, however, the estate would probably have eventually come by entail to the persons to whom it had been transferred.
The fifth Duke of Portland, who died in December, 1897, leaving a personal estate under £1,800,000 in value, had bequeathed by his will his estates to his brother, Lord Henry Bentinck, upon whom the settled estate would devolve, but by a codicil made in August, 1879, after the resettlement of the estate in concurrence with his cousin, the present duke, the testator gave his residuary estate to the person who succeeded him in the Duchedom of Portland. He was never married, and at his death the Middlesex Portland estate passed to his sisters, and the survivor of them, under the will of his father. Other duical fortunes of recent years have been those of:
Eighth Duke of Argyll 2,092,158
Ninth Duke of Bedford 212,292
Tenth Duke of Bedford 321,351
Eighth Duke of Beaufort 8,807
Fourth Duke of Cleveland 1,440,889
Seventh Duke of Devonshire 154,456
Sixth Duke of Leeds 31,830
Eighth Duke of Manchester 25,100
Eighth Duke of Marlborough 352,703
Seventh Duke of Roxburgh 126,316
Seventh Duke of Rutland 90,596
Tenth Duke of St. Albans 6,773

Thirteenth Duke of Somerset 310,242
Third Duke of Sutherland 324,880
Third Duke of Wellington 104,319
First Duke of Westminster 974,891
Fifth Duke of Westminster 123,124
These amounts do not, of course, include settled real estate, nor in most cases the value of any part of the testator's real estate. The late Duke of Westminster thought that the settled real estate which passed at his death would be assessed for the death duties at more than £12,000,000.—London Telegraph.

Canadians Present Him With Handsome Piece of Silver.

London, Nov. 21.—Canadians and persons connected with Canada resident in England to-day presented Lord Strathcona with a handsome piece of silver symbolical of his connection with Canada. The Duke of Argyll, who was accompanied by Princess Louise, made the presentation with warm words of eulogy. Lord Strathcona, replying, expressed the opinion that his greatest service to Canada was in connection with the Riel rebellion. Referring to the high commissionership, he said he hoped the time would soon come when he would hand it over to younger and perhaps abler hands. Still, there was one thing remaining, which he would like to see accomplished—the establishment of the all-red route. Mr. Clifford Sifton hoped to work out a method whereby this could be carried out. They should not rest content until the project was consummated.
A distinguished gathering was present at the presentation.

Fifth Duke of Westminster 123,124
These amounts do not, of course, include settled real estate, nor in most cases the value of any part of the testator's real estate. The late Duke of Westminster thought that the settled real estate which passed at his death would be assessed for the death duties at more than £12,000,000.—London Telegraph.

Canadians Present Him With Handsome Piece of Silver.

London, Nov. 21.—Canadians and persons connected with Canada resident in England to-day presented Lord Strathcona with a handsome piece of silver symbolical of his connection with Canada. The Duke of Argyll, who was accompanied by Princess Louise, made the presentation with warm words of eulogy. Lord Strathcona, replying, expressed the opinion that his greatest service to Canada was in connection with the Riel rebellion. Referring to the high commissionership, he said he hoped the time would soon come when he would hand it over to younger and perhaps abler hands. Still, there was one thing remaining, which he would like to see accomplished—the establishment of the all-red route. Mr. Clifford Sifton hoped to work out a method whereby this could be carried out. They should not rest content until the project was consummated.
A distinguished gathering was present at the presentation.
Natural History Jots.
Lions and tigers are too weak in lung power to run more than half a mile.
An orange tree in full bearing has been known to produce 15,000 oranges.
A man respired—that is, draws in breath—sixteen to twenty times a minute, or twenty thousand times a day.
Rabbits, says a naturalist, have white tails, so that the young may be able to distinguish their mother in case of pursuit. The color of a rabbit is so like that of the ground that this would otherwise be difficult, if not impossible.

MUSICIANS AND PLAYERS

At the Grand last night George F. Hall, the "King of Joville" and an old favorite with the Hamilton theatre-goers, was greeted by a good sized house. He presented his new musical mix-up, "I'm Married Now." Mr. Hall is a gay old sport, was as funny as ever, and provided most of the comedy and number of a good deal of it. He sang a number of catchy songs and did two or three talking stunts that were well received. He had a new line of talk, but by request he recited the "Amen Corner," which he gave here on his last visit. His best vocal numbers were "How They Kiss" and "Budwiser's a Friend of Mine."

Mr. Hall was supported by a small but capable company. Miss Blanche Paquette, as a giddy young widow; Miss Juline Talbot, as a young heiress, sang very acceptably, and acted cleverly. Geo. Jacobs, as a hotel proprietor, was the best of the actors. He sang some German songs acceptably.

Altogether the performance was the best popular price attraction that has been seen at the Grand this season.

At the Savoy Theatre.

Julian Rose, the well-known Hebrew comedian, who will be one of the attractions on the Savoy's bill next week, is acknowledged to be one of the cleverest single entertainers on the vaudeville stage, and no better proof of this is required than the big hit he made the other week at the Chicago Auditorium, on one of the finest programmes in vaudeville history. Newbold and Carroll have a pretty novelty, which is said to be entirely different from anything in the way of parallel bar acts shown on the stage yet. It is entitled, "An Interrupted Angling Party," and is staged with special scenery. The Dankmar-Schiller troupe of acrobats should prove a strong attraction. It is one of the best acts of the kind on the advanced vaudeville circuit. The show this week should play to big business at both performances to-morrow. Simon and Gardner with their screaming funny sketch and the Four Lukens, presenting their sensational casting acts are the big features.

Lena Ashley in "Paid in Full."

New York Telegraph: "Paid in Full," Eugene Walter's latest play, will be produced simultaneously in Washington and London the night of Dec. 23. Lena Ashley, the English actress, arranged by cable yesterday with Wagenhals & Kemper for the English rights of the piece. She will place the play in rehearsal next week.

The role which falls to Miss Ashley in the London production has been assigned by Wagenhals & Kemper to Lillian Albertson and not to Annie Russell, as at first announced. Miss Russell will not return to the stage before spring, and as Wagenhals & Kemper desire an earlier presentation of the Walter play, they have placed Miss Albertson under contract. She may be recalled as the leading woman in the production of "The Silver Girl."

"Paid in Full" is in four acts.

At Bennett's Theatre.

A slight estimate of the excellent acts which Bennett's Theatre will receive in this city in future as the result of the merging of Klaw & Erlanger and Keith & Proctor will be given next week, when undoubtedly the best all round show of the season will be given. It will be St. Patrick's Club week. There will be two acts on the bill, either of which will be worth featuring. They will be "The Military Overture" and "The Girl with the Baton." and "Suppressing the Press." The former is one of the greatest musical organizations on the road, and the latter is recognized as a gem of a comedy sketch. The first mentioned act comes here from New York after one of the most successful engagements ever experienced by any such act. There are eight male musicians forming the octette and two women as assistants. "The Girl with the Baton" is an extra added attraction, but the part she takes in connection with the act renders it a most complete affair. "Suppressing the Press" is presented by Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hughes. The theme is decidedly original, and is based on the difficulties of a husband and wife to keep certain news about themselves from the other. A third party happens to be interested in both items of news, unknown to either the husband or wife, and takes advantage of both in a very laughable manner. Howard's Pony Circus and a host of other good acts will complete the bill.

Fred Walton, in "Cissie's Dream," is delighting the audiences this week, while Lind, the female impersonator; Frank Whitman, the dancing violinist; and Joe Denning, the monologist, are about the finest individual attractions seen here this season. The other acts are also very fine, and on the whole the bill is very enjoyable.

"The Burgomaster" To-morrow.

Fresh from its phenomenal engagement at the Garrick Theatre, Chicago, comes Pixley & Luder's merry musical masterpiece to the Grand to-morrow afternoon and evening. Gus Weinburg, who originated the name part, and by the way a warm favorite, will be welcomed as "The Burgomaster." In his long and varied career, Mr. Weinburg has never had a part which fitted him to such a nicety as Peter Van Stuyvesant in this merry musical. Ruth White will be remembered as the original Willie Van Astorbilt, and in this year's production is exceedingly clever. "There Is Only One Street—That's Broadway," an original song, written and composed by Miss Ruth White and sung by the author, is numbered among the song hits in "The Burgomaster." Manager W. P. Cullen has made a sumptuous production for this year's tour and all in all should enjoy a huge patronage.

A Two-Star Show.

The twin star engagement of Cecilia Loftus and Lawrence O'Driscoll at the Grand Opera House next Tuesday night, in their martial "entertainment in three parts," because of its several unusual features, should prove an interesting event. It is seldom that players of their prominence and gifts will share the limelight with a clever rival.

There will be perhaps some Hamilton people who will not recognize in the rather high sounding "Cecilia Loftus," the famous "Cissy Loftus" of a few years ago. But they are one and the same person. Miss Loftus' imitations and mimicry were the sensation of the lighter amusement world, but since then she has developed talents of a wider order and to-day occupies a place as one of the leading actresses of the stage. Last season she was leading lady with E. H. Sothern.

Other Shows Coming.

Cole & Lockman, the cleverest team of colored entertainers on the stage, will be at the Grand next Wednesday. They will present their musical play "The Shoo Fly Regiment." This piece has been re-written and brought up to date in every way since it was last presented here. They will be supported by a large company.

Guy Bros. Minstrels, will be at the Grand next Friday.

Prof. Crocker's educated horses will perform at the Grand next Thursday afternoon and evening. The matinee performance will not begin till 3.45, so that school children may attend.

WOMAN'S INSTITUTE.

Stoney Creek Ladies Had a Successful Meeting.

At the last meeting of the Stoney Creek Women's Institute, it was decided to hold a first-class concert on December 6th, and with their usual promptness the ladies of the programme committee are already doing good work. One of Hamilton's most popular favorites has promised to sing and other first-class talent is being secured, so that, as usual, the Woman's Institute concert will undoubtedly be the event of the season. The regular meeting of the Institute, held on Thursday, was most interesting, indeed. Everything discussed was very practical and helpful, as is always the case. The question of the "Baton" was discussed, and the various difficulties of a husband and wife to keep certain news about themselves from the other. A third party happens to be interested in both items of news, unknown to either the husband or wife, and takes advantage of both in a very laughable manner. Howard's Pony Circus and a host of other good acts will complete the bill.

ADmits MURDER.

SAYS HE KILLED GIRL AND DOESN'T WANT TO LIVE LONGER.

Is an Anarchist—Stole Bread and Milk to Save Money to Marry the Girl He Killed.

Philadelphia, Nov. 22.—That Alfred Wnek, who shot and killed 16-year-old Emma Kurner, of No. 2370 Margaretta street, because she refused to marry him, was a voracious reader of yellow novels of the most trashy and anarchistic kind, was developed yesterday at the inquest. It was also stated that for some months past the young man had been living on diet of bread and milk, which he alleged to have stolen from the steps of houses. He did this to save his money to furnish a home when he and the girl should be married. That he loved the girl, who was nothing more than a child, with a love that bordered on insanity, was the general tenor of the testimony.

The young man had become a Socialist of the most marked type and, owing to the literature which he devoured, he often referred to his lot in life, declaring that there should be no law that would compel the rich to divide their money with the poor. Being unable to find anyone who would do this, he said he had to take the milk and bread. He was arrested for so doing, but the final determination of the charges had not been made when he shot down the girl.

A statement by the prisoner was produced by Coroner's Detective Paul, in which he confessed that he had killed the girl because she had refused to marry him. The youth bore up wonderfully well under the horrible charge, and again admitted that he had killed the girl. "I killed her," he said, "and I don't care to live any longer. I am ready to die." The prisoner, it was said, had taken to drink after the girl had turned him down; but he did not put that forward as an excuse for the crime. The police said he had turned the pistol on himself after he had shot the girl, but the bullet was sent through his hair and did not injure him in any way. The officers gave it as their opinion that the turning of the revolver on himself was only a bluff and that he did not intend to harm himself. The only time during the inquest that he appeared nervous or ill dejected was when his father had him good-bye when he was committed to prison to await the action of the Grand Jury.

KNOX Y. M. U.

Interesting Address and Discussion on Dickens' Works.

Knox Church Young Men's Union held its weekly meeting last night, with the Vice-President, Alex. Smith, in the chair. There was one of the best attendances of the season. The series of talks being given is proving to be very popular, and augurs well for future meetings. Rev. S. B. Nelson gave a talk on Charles Dickens which was very instructive and interesting. He spoke of the early life of the famous author, and of the hardships he had to go through as a boy. "Oliver Twist," "Pickwick Papers," "David Copperfield," "Bleak House" and "Our Mutual Friend" were reviewed. The last named being his favorite. It was shown that Dickens had an object in view in writing most of his books, and showed the interest he took in the poorer classes of that period. The works of other authors were contrasted and it was shown that Dickens had the greatest influence of his time and that the novels of the present day could not compare with his. T. M. Wright was the critic of the evening, and his remarks were very pertinent. Next Thursday night there will be a good debate, the subject being "Resolved, that a college life is not necessary for success." Two weeks hence Mr. C. R. McCullough will give an address.

A Fish Story.

This is the title of one of the comic subjects to be shown on Saturday by the Vitagraph Co. An enthusiastic amateur fisherman goes fishing alone. The fun starts when he catches the first crab. The fish won't bite, so he buys some of the way home and unfortunately pays for them with counterfeit money, quite innocently. This gets him into all kinds of trouble with his wife and friends and fish dealer all to be "squared" with. Mr. Cordinal says that it is to be quite up to it if not better than last week's programme, which certainly was good from start to finish.

A NOTED VISITOR.

Mr. W. P. Archibald, of Ottawa, the Dominion parole officer, will visit Hamilton on Sunday next in the interests of the work he represents. "The Man Behind the Bars," Mr. Archibald has a thrilling message which he delivers in a masterly way. There are few men doing platform work who stir their audiences like the Dominion Parole Officer. He will address four meetings on Sunday, in Erskine Presbyterian Church at 11 a. m., men's meeting in the Y. M. C. A., at 4.15 p. m.; Gospel Tabernacle at 7 p. m., and song service in the Association Hall at 8.30 p. m.

The public are cordially invited to hear him.

HEALTH LECTURE TO-NIGHT.

A physician said, "Ninety per cent. of the diseases that now afflict mankind would disappear in two generations, if the people would keep all the laws that rule the soul and body."

One of the objects of these health lectures, given by Mr. D. M. Barton, is to educate the masses along the line of health culture. There will be six hundred complimentary seats and three hundred seats at 15 and 25 cents. Plan at Y. M. C. A. office.

Boys will be admitted unless accompanied by their parents.

MISS KEITH, with the Military Octette, which will appear at Bennett's next week

Beaver on Elk River.
 The impression that the beaver is almost extinct in this country is a mistake," said George H. Hoover, of Vancouver, B. C. "On the Elk River, a tributary of the Fraser, in my own province, there are this season thousands of these little animals, whose fur is so valuable, building their winter quarters. The Elk River has always been a favorite spot for the beaver, but this year the influx has been so marked that even the most experienced trapper cannot tell whence they come." "There are now a large number of trappers on the river engaged in catching them as fast as possible. Most of the skins are shipped to San Francisco, with some to Montreal, real and Toronto. From these cities they go to Europe—From the Washington Herald." "Getting the grip—joining a secret society"

TWO TIGER TEAMS PLAY TO-MORROW.

Seconds Will Go to Dundas and Cubs to Toronto.

Students Figure in Rough House Football at Toronto—A. N. Payne Has Filed Affidavit With Canadian Federation—World's Record in Billiards Made at Chicago.

Two Hamilton football teams will figure in championship matches away from home to-morrow. The Tiger II will go to Dundas to play the return game in the round for the Intermediate Inter-provincial Rugby Union championship, and the Tiger Cubs, who will play in the colors of the Y. M. C. A., by request of the O. R. F. U., will meet the Parkdale Canoe Club at Toronto. The seconds will play the same team as last Saturday, and should have no trouble in winning out, as they have a lead of 13 points. They will go to Dundas on a special car at 1.15. The game is called for 2.45, and Harcourt and McNett, of Toronto, will officiate again.

It is likely that the Cubs will have a harder time winning their game than the seconds, as the Parkdallians are reported to be in great shape and fast. No doubt a large crowd will accompany the Cubs, who will go on the 12.15 train on the C. P. R. A special car will be attached to the train. Round trip tickets can be procured from Guy H. Long, Spectator building, or at the station before train time. Toronto expects to get about 4,000 people, and the management of the Y. M. C. A. team would like a good percentage of Hamiltonians to cheer the boys on to victory. The teams will line up as follows, their weights being opposite their names: Y. M. C. A. Parkdale Canoe Club. ROUGH HOUSE FOOTBALL.

Toronto, Nov. 22.—Instead of the Mulox Cup game scheduled for Varsity Field yesterday afternoon between Junior S. P. S. and Junior Meds, a rousing clash between S. P. S. and Arts occupied the centre of the stage. Representatives of both sides of the argument were roughly handled, and many had their clothes torn to shreds. One of the participants was under the necessity of making his way from the field in a barrel.

The clash was the result of a meeting of Arts and School men in the gymnasium Wednesday night, when several of the students were unceremoniously dumped into the swimming tank without being given time to disrobe. Sticks, stones, elderly fruit and vegetables and other objects played a prominent part in the melee. S. P. S. did not get any the better of the fray, but playing football School had slightly more of the play than Meds. Lawson, of the Medical half line, was the star of the contest, which ended in a 14 to 12 victory for the Scientists. The teams and officials were: S. P. S. Juniors—Full, Masdonald; halves, Kyerson, McPherson, Alliston (captain); quarter, Foulds; scrimmage, Fortier, Dohbin, Gibson; wings, Duncan, McGregor, Allen, Patterson, King-ston, Anderson.

IT HAS VISIONS.

Montreal Paper Says the C. A. A. U. is in Bad Predicament.

Montreal Herald: To a disinterested spectator of all the row, it is apparent (Continued on page 9.)

Some Snap Shots at Sport and Sportsmen

It is to be hoped that the agitation from without to establish an Eastern League team in this city will bear fruit. It appears that Buffalo and Toronto are agreed that the Montreal team will be transferred to Richmond, Va., and this will necessitate big jumps for some of the northern teams, who would like to see Hamilton take the place of Montreal. When President McCaffery, of the Toronto team, was in the city yesterday he gave a small committee, which included Messrs. R. R. Simpson, W. Stroud and Will Applegath, some information concerning big league baseball. He thought it could be made to pay here now, on the strength of the showing that Hamilton made in the old International League.

As a result of the visit, Mr. Frank Farrell, the owner of the Montreal franchise, will be asked to come here or to state on what terms the franchise can be transferred to this city.

Col. Hanbury Williams finds that all Canadian athletes of any prominence have been suspended by either the C. A. A. U., the Federation or the A. A. U. W. wonder he is mystified.

Why did they call it the Federation, asks a correspondent. For the sake of the illiteration, dear boy. What could be nicer than Foran's Federation?—Toronto Exchange.

The Federation stands for mixed teams in sport, the professional being allowed openly to play alongside the amateur without soiling the latter's plumage. The C. A. A. U. stands for the straight amateur, with high bars up against anyone who will look on a bank note when it is green. There is a "difference" here that cannot be settled. It is a fight to the death, and the public may as well make up their minds to grin and bear it till one or the other goes under the sod.—Toronto Telegram.

Is New York Anxious as to Burns' Welfare?

New York, Nov. 22.—As the time draws near for the Burns-Moist International heavyweight battle in England, Americans are beginning to sit up and take notice of the many encouraging reports about the English champion. At first we were led to believe that Moist was a real quipster, and he may be, for that matter. Still, people who have seen him fight say that he is a dangerous man because of his great bulk and strength.

There will be a big surprise in store for America when Burns and Moist step into the ring on December 25, says a well-known fight expert, who arrived from London a few days ago. "This fellow Moist is built on the lines of Jim Jeffries, and has a bit of science, too. Of course, he may not be as clever as starting as some of our American boys, but he can hit, and is so big and rugged that it takes a mighty hard puncher to hit him. Talking about cleverness, we can't put Burns in the first class. But Burns is one of those aggressive fellows who will sell in and mix things at the top of the bell. This, they say, is not Moist's style. He is one of the old type of fighters, who stands up and waits for an opponent to stick out his jaw and get hit.

In England they consider Moist the greatest fighter ever developed in the world, and are betting heavily on the result. Over here they cannot see where Burns has a chance against a man as big as Gumbo Moist. American fight promoters are looking ahead. They expect Jeffries will come out of retirement to fight Burns. Jeffries has often intimated that he would defend the title if a foreigner won it.

The inevitable choice of the man who seeks appropriate things in dress is studied by the buyer who selects the fabrics, and by the designers who create the distinctive charm of Semi-ready Tailoring.

BASEBALL STORIES FOR THE FIRESIDE.

ETER ANDERSON.

ETER ANDERSON, who is now fire marshal of the 15th Battalion of Chicago, used to be a ball player and a corking good one. He never has got over his love for the game and looks good for several more innings.

Ten or twelve years ago there was a big fire up on Goose Island. The St. Paul twin elevators were burning and Marshal Anderson and his men were having a terrific fight trying to save one of the elevators, in which were hoisted millions of bushels of wheat and corn.

Anderson was leading a line over the wheat 100 feet above the ground when suddenly the wheat began to move. Anderson was carried with the rush of wheat into a huge spout, drawn down, and he fell through the chute and, half-smothered, shot over a mountain of wheat onto the ground floor. Several firemen rushed to the marshal, who was lying breathless and still.

"He's out," said one. "You're a liar," said Ener, sitting up suddenly. "He never touches me."

HIS NAME WAS JOE.

There is a certain ball player, a pitcher from a major league team, who shall be called Joe, because that isn't his name. He has a brother who shall be called Jim for the same reason. Both of them are pitchers, and corking good ones, and their home is in a small town back east. It happened, however, that when he was a young and reckless boy Jim once stole the poor box from the church, and was eternally disgraced. He never has been able to live it down.

Last summer a man who baits from their town went back home to visit, and one afternoon he met a couple of old Irishmen who were sucking away at their pipes.

"Were you out west?" asked one.

"Did you see Joey?" pitched when you was there?"

"I should say I did," said the home-comer. "And say, he's got them all beat. That arm of his is worth $30,000."

"What may he be?" asked one of the Irishmen, "but he'd better not let Jimmy find out."

WISE HUGHEY JENNINGS.

There are always ways of managing ball clubs and keeping the peace in the family, but Hughie Jennings has one all his own. The story came out after the Tigers had won the American League championship. It appears that Ty Cobb, Jennings' wonderful outfielder, had a reputation for seraphic to sustain, and when he started with the team he had aspirations to whip every one that came in his way. He cleaned up with several of them, until he imagined that he was first base and chief cock of the walk.

The situation got rather painful, and Jennings quietly framed it up for one Schmidt, his burly catcher, to take a fall out of Cobb. The bait was a ginurious one. Cobb didn't play ball for several days, but when he got back into the game he was modest and subdued.

Jennings thought all was going well, but suddenly Schmidt became a little bit more than game complacent that had affected Cobb. Thereupon Jennings quietly arranged to have his trainer, who is a retired prize fighter, trim up Schmidt. There was another grand battle in the clubhouse a couple of days later and Schmidt, subdued and quiet, returned to work. And there was no more fighting or talk of fighting in the team all season.

Contrary Club "Cheer Up."

At the last meeting of the Contrary Club the following article was read by the Grand prog:

The cost of living has been greatly reduced. Blues now cost one buck apiece, whereas at the close of the last fiscal year Richard Cornfield was selling them for two.

It used to cost $2 a day to feed a horse. Now the horse is getting used to living with out it.

Uncle Sam is backing all the wooden money now in circulation. All you have to do is to call him up to have yourself identified. You will relieve yourself of embarrassment if you make your purchase before you come to a finish.

It is easier to cash an argument now than it was 25 months ago.

In your bitterest hour remember that somebody must be settling.

It costs 15 cents to transform a blue chip into real money, but you'd spend it anyway. So what's the difference?

It is easier to save this kind of currency than the other kind.

Let that the Amateur Athletic Federation of Canada is no secondary organization in the Dominion. And if the truth were known, despite the apparent lameness of the C. A. A. U., perhaps the old body is losing some sleep over the same insignificant A.A.F.C. This same A.A.F.C. has placed the C. A. A. U. in a very bad predicament, as the result of blacklisting all those who took part in last Saturday's independent Harriers' road race, for it was planned to send over a strong team from Toronto and Hamilton, including McCaffrey, to the Thanksgiving Day Marathon at Yonkers, N. Y., Thursday, Nov. 28. The ban placed on these men by the Federation "goes" across the line with the A. A. U., and the C. A. A. U. knows it. Briefly speaking, it means a still greater widening breach between the A. A. U. and the closer cementing of friendship between the former and the Federation.

[The Herald is away off about this Yonkers Marathon. Neither Hamilton nor Toronto "planned" to send a team over. The Yonkers people would Jack Caffery of this city, and Hilton Green of the Irish-Canadians, Toronto, asking them to go over, and offering their expenses. They needed these two Canucks as drawing cards, and the Federation's action has not had the effect of stopping Green and Caffery. They'll go, unless the Yonkers people knuckle down to phoney suspension. The Federation's action in blacklisting those who ran at Montreal does not place the C. A. A. U. in a "bad predicament," for the C. A. A. U. men do not have to cross the border to get all the running they want.]

HAVE NO RINK

But Welland Hockeyists Will Play on the Canal.

Welland, Nov. 21.—The Welland Hockey Club at its annual meeting faced a serious problem. Last summer the Twentieth Century Rink, the only one available, was flooded for roller skating, and the manager announced to the hockeyists assembled there was little prospect of ice this winter. President Pursel in his address following, pointed out that two courses were open, to build a new rink at once or to play the O. H. A. games away from home. His promise that the boys would stick to the game in any case was met with applause and it is likely that the team will be found as usual in the intermediate ranks. A committee composed of Messrs. Purcell, Griffiths, Best, Duffy and Huzar A. Ross, was appointed to see about getting a lease of ground for the rink, and curing stock for the building of a new rink. If this cannot be done the boys will practice on the canal, and play a double schedule away from home.

Officers were elected as follows: Hon. President, H. Cooper; President, L. H. Purcell; First Vice-President, W. C. Best; Second Vice-President, Alex. Griffiths; Secretary, J. D. Payne; Treasurer, John Rolph; Managing Committee, Harry W. Moore, W. D.

WORLD'S RECORD.

Day, of St. Louis, Defeated De Oro, of New York.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 21.—Breaking the world's record in this city yesterday evening, the champion billiard player of the world, Alvin Karpis, defeated the champion of the world, Alfred De Oro, of New York. In the twenty-fifth game of the national three-cushion billiard championship tournament, Karpis won by a score of 1,225 to 1,100. Day's average was 1.22, 25 more than the former record. In the short period of play Karpis scored five runs of four each and two of five. De Oro made a high run of 7, and finished with an average of .83.

Payne Puts in Affidavit in the T. I. C. A. C. Matter.

Ottawa, Nov. 22.—Mr. A. N. Payne, Ottawa, who has made charges of professionalism against Tom Longboat and other Irish-Canadians, presented his first affidavit to Commissioner Foran of the federation today. Mr. Payne claims that Tom Flanagan's statement of expenses is misleading in several parts and that it can only be proved that there was a "rakeoff" out of the money which the carnival committee gave to the I. C. A. C. "for expenses."

GANS AND NELSON POST FORFEITS.

Minneapolis, Nov. 22.—Joe Gans, champion lightweight of the world, and Battling Nelson, of Hegewisch, yesterday posted $1,000 forfeit with a sporting man of this city for another battle for the lightweight championship of the world. They will meet today. The fight will probably be held on New Year's Day. It was only after a long wrangle that most of their differences as to the conditions of the fight were settled. What these will be is not definitely known and will not be announced until the articles have been signed. It is probable that the fight will be held at Goldfield, Nev.

Little Paragraphs of Sport From Far and Near.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 21.—The 24th game of the tournament for the national three-cushion billiard championship played here to-day resulted in a victory by 50 to 43 for Thomas A. Huston, of St. Louis, over Joseph W. Capron, of Galt, Ont. Huston's high run was 4, average .58; Capron's high run 4, average .50.

Rochester, Nov. 22.—Pat Galvin, manager of Bill Heverson, who was matched to fight Philadelphia Jack O'Brien tomorrow night at Columbus, Ohio, last night received a telegram from the matchmaker of the Columbus Gymnasium and Athletic Association, that the match is off. No reason is given for the decision of the club. Both men had posted forfeits and were in readiness to go on with the match.

Ottawa, Nov. 22.—It has been decided to hold a meeting at the M. A. A. rooms at Montreal on Monday afternoon next, when the question of the status of the Canadian competitors for the Olympic games in London, Eng., will be settled. Col. Hanbury Williams, W. Foran and P. D. Ross will attend.

HAMILTON CASES.

Edmonstone and New Stated Case Argued Yesterday.

The following cases of local interest were up at Osgoode Hall yesterday: Norman vs. Hamilton Bridge Works Co.—J. E. Jones, for defendants the Hamilton Bridge Works Co., appeared from order of a Divisional Court (4th June, 1907), setting aside a nonsuit entered by Magee, J., at the trial, and directing a new trial. The action was brought by John Norman, an iron worker, who was employed by the appellants to work upon construction of the Traders Bank building at the corner of Yonge and Colborne streets, in the city of Toronto, and who was injured on 1st December, 1905, by falling from the 8th to the 4th storey, owing, as alleged, to the negligence of the defendants. The Divisional Court held that there was some evidence of negligence to submit to the jury. C. A. Maesten, for plaintiff, opposed appeal. Judgment reserved.

Hex vs. Edmonstone and New.—M. J. O'Reilly (Hamilton), for defendants, J. B. Cartwright, C. C. for the Crown. Case stated by the chairman of the General Sessions of Wentworth, upon order of this court. The defendants were indicted for robbery and wounding. The jury found defendants not guilty of robbery, but guilty of assault. The verdict was recorded as one of guilt by the appellants as charged. Defendants were sentenced respectively to 30 months and 18 months in the Kingston Penitentiary. The questions raised were whether the verdict of the jury was rightly recorded, and if so whether it was rightly interpreted as one of guilt by the appellants, whether a verdict of assault should be added to a verdict of assault should have been recorded, and whether the verdict as recorded imported anything more than an assault and battery such as could be included in a verdict of guilty of common assault. Judgment reserved.

CANNOT EXCLUDE JEWS.

Landlord Has No Right to Question Tenant on His Creed.

New York, Nov. 22.—The right of a hotel to exclude Jews was passed on today in a decision handed down by Justice Waughope Lynn in the Municipal court case of Watson against Abbott. A peculiar feature of the case is that none of the persons directly interested in its outcome is a Jew, that all of the lawyers who argued the matter were Christians, with the exception of one, who was arrayed against the Jews, and that the judge who decided it un-American to exclude a man from a hotel because of his race or creed was a Roman Catholic.

It appeared that George H. Abbott, a lawyer of this city, had rented an apartment at the Hotel Renaissance, but had changed his plans and wished to be released. William Watson, manager of the hotel, agreed that this might be done if Mr. Abbott would find a tenant of undoubted responsibility. In answer to advertisements on the part of Abbott, Walter J. Solomon agreed to take the lease off Abbott's hands. Before this could be done, however, Mr. Abbott was told the arrangement could not be made because the owner of the hotel, Mr. D. H. King, jun., would not take Jews as tenants. It was shown at the trial that Abbott could find no other tenant, the apartment remained unoccupied, and suit against Abbott for rental followed.

In the course of his decision Justice Lynn said that the landlord has no more right to question a tenant's creed than the size of his foot or the cut of his clothing.

DISCUSSED CIVIC AFFAIRS.

Aldermen Spoke at the North End Society's Meeting.

Committee Chairmen Told About Their Various Departments.

Some General Discussions at an Interesting Meeting.

There was a fair sized attendance at the meeting of the North End Improvement Society last evening, when several of the chairmen of the civic committees were present and rendered an account of their stewardship for the year, for the benefit of the members of the society. The hearty manner in which the members of the society applauded the speakers as they finished their addresses showed that they appreciated their presence. There were only a few comments made by the members, of not much consequence, and none of the remarks were on the question of how the city was being run by the present council. Mr. J. D. Porter was chairman, and in opening the meeting had a few words to say regarding the offensive odors that permeated the atmosphere at the foot of Catharine street as a result of the garbage that was dumped there. He thought that something should be done to remedy the evil. He then addressed upon the aldermen to give their addresses.

Ald. Baird, Chairman of the Sewers Committee, said that he was glad to be present, and was of the opinion that Chairman Porter was referring to his committee alone when speaking of the odors that "struck" him yesterday morning. He supposed that the chairman was referring to the Ferguson avenue sewerage disposal works when he had been "struck." The genial alderman gathered and help the aldermen to do away with the odors. He considered that the Sewers Committee was the most important of all the civic committees in the city, as it dealt with the health of the city. Ald. Baird spoke of his stewardship during the past year. He referred to the North End Park that was made where the sludge was bothering the people of the north end. He contended that his was one of the best run committees in the corporation, and during the past eleven months the committee had never had a quarrel. He spoke of the applications for sewers that had been coming in every day. He said that at the present time there were 314.6 miles of sewers in the city, of which 5.77 miles were put in this year. He contended that the laying of parks was not so necessary as the sewers and the sewage disposal works. The east end disposal works in course of erection, will be carried on to completion. Ald. Baird contended that City Engineer Barrow was one of the best engineers on the continent, and he should come in for the highest praise.

Ald. Hugh Sweeney, Chairman of the Board of Works, said he was surprised to receive an invitation, as he was of the opinion that the society was rather antagonized to him and the members of the Board of Works. He had always held the north end of the city and its interests at heart. He was sorry that the society an idea of the work that had been done in the north end. Ald. Sweeney was of the opinion that the north end streets and sidewalks were as good as any in the city. His consideration that, with an appropriation of only $2,000, good work had been done. He did not think any alderman should cater to one section of the city just because he came from that part. Every alderman was elected at large and he thought they should have the interests of the city at heart.

Ald. Norman Clark, Chairman of the Fire and Water Committee, said he was the fortunate or unfortunate chairman of the above committee, which dealt with many matters, including the sand-sucker. (Laughter.) He did not think that he had any sins to answer for, as his committee had to supply water and air, appropriation of not. He said that during 1907 there had been 750 services put in, and to illustrate the growth of the city during the past year he stated that there had been something like 1,500 services introduced. Ald. Clark spoke of the necessity of having the electric pumps installed. He hoped that the public would support the bill at the coming elections, as the present pumps were in such a condition that if they were at all strained the engineering department could not be held responsible. Ald. Clark said that the council bought the sand-sucker in good faith, and he fully believed it would do the work, and in his time only two men had said that it was not doing good work. He never expected that the sand-sucker would or will be able to clean the basins like a housewife would clean a room. When the sand-sucker could dig out five feet of muck, and leave as little muck as he found the other day, he considered that good work was being done, and he would continue to have faith in it, if he was the only man in the city to do so. He was of opinion that Hamilton had the purest water that could be found on the continent.

Ald. Dickson, Chairman of the Finance Committee, said that the matters of finance were of interest in the civic affairs. He considered the fact that the Finance Committee had in reality only about $200,000 at its disposal, and that good work was being done. The council of 1907 had had an overdraft of $110,000, and the present council would have an overdraft amounting to $100,000 or $15,000, and he thought that showed very careful management. Ald. Dickson referred to the local improvement idea, and considered that it was better than paying for the roads out of the general taxes. As to the Coal Oil Inlet nuisance, Ald. Dickson was of the opinion that it should be got rid of. He did not think that the action of the Board of Health in regard to the matter was not conducive to good results.

Ald. Jutten, Chairman of the Harbor and Beach Committee, paid a high tribute to Mayor Stewart for his good work during the year. If it had not been for his interest in the matter the Ferris street bridge would, in all probability, never have been built. Referring to the revivment wall, Ald. Jutten said that something like $8,000 was needed to make a park there.

Ald. Farrar, in referring to the famous sucker, said that he hoped that the future would see the sucker do good work for the city. He spoke of the proposition he had advanced to keep aldermen from getting civic positions. He did not think it was a good policy. He hoped that he had, by his work in the council, justified his re-election next year, if he should be a candidate.

Ald. McLaren said that the council should spend at least $300,000, and put the roads in the city most used in good repair, and in that way stop the almost constant drain on the present appropriation.

Ald. Nicholson, Chairman of the Markets Committee, considered that the society should go ahead in its progressive work, and he wished it the success that it deserved.

Aldermen Peables, Kennedy and A. E. Wright, Rev. Jas. Bracken and Rev. E. N. R. Burns also spoke.

Ald. A. J. Wright moved a hearty vote of thanks to the aldermen who had taken the trouble to go down and tell the society how the city most used in good repair, and in that way stop the almost constant drain on the present appropriation.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Rev. Mr. Burns and the wardens of St. Luke's Church.

DID TORY WHIP SPEND MONEY

IN BRIBING THE ELECTORS AT AN ELECTION IN BROCKVILLE?

James Farr Says He Signed One Affidavit Without Reading It and Swore to Another When Drunk—Had Been Offered $500 to Come From Dakota to Port Huron to Tell His Story.

Toronto, Nov. 22.—The trial of the London election case yesterday was marked by several startling admissions, the effect of which was more damaging to the Crown than to the defence. Among the witnesses who gave evidence today was Raphael McNabb, a French-Canadian lineman, who had charge of the French voters in the Brockville election some ten years ago, when White and Comstock were the candidates. Crown counsel tried hard to get the witness to identify O'Gorman as the man who gave him money to give to voters in that election, but without success, and Mr. Johnston added to the effect of the prosecution by eliciting the statement that there was bribery on the Conservative as well as on the Liberal side, and that he was informed Mr. George Taylor, the Conservative Whip, was in the riding and was sending out letters containing money.

McNabb was followed on the stand by the notorious Jerry Collins, who unblushingly unfolded his story of political corruption, extending over ten or twelve years and covering five elections. His testimony was severely attacked by Mr. Johnston, to whom he admitted that he had figured several times in Police Court proceedings; that he consented to take part in the corrupt practices at the Hyman-Gray election to save his license, and on the strength of a promise that he would receive a Government job, and that he went back on his friends because the alleged promise was not fulfilled.

No less sensational was the evidence of James Farr, of Goderich, who was called to testify to the switching of ballots at the West Huron election when Holmes and McLaren were the candidates. At the time of the Police Court proceedings Farr was in North Dakota, and was only subpoenaed by the Crown on Wednesday. He was closely questioned as to two affidavits he was said to have made concerning his conduct as deputy returning officer. The first which he signed in Toronto some years ago, he repudiated, and with regard to the second, made last fall to a Mr. George, of Chesley, and subsequently quoted by Mr. Whitney in the Legislature as of great significance, he declared that when sworn both he and Mr. George were "full of lies." To Mr. McEvoy he also made the statement that he heard that the Conservative party were prepared to pay him $500 if he went to Port Huron and "gave this thing away."

John Stevely, who was acting chairman of one of the division committees in the Hyman-Gray election, admitted that he got some money from Mr. Reid as legitimate expenses.

Mr. Johnston, K. C.—So far as the defendants are concerned, had they anything to do with the money or the envelopes?

"Absolutely nothing."

Raphael McNabb, a French-Canadian lineman, of Brockville, testified that in the White-Comstock election at Brockville he received from a man he believed to be O'Gorman about $100 "to go and do good work."

"Did you pay it to voters?" asked Mr. Steustant.

"Yes."

Mr. Johnston, the defence counsel, obtained from McNabb the admission that he formed his impression that O'Gorman was the man who paid him the money simply from reading his name in the newspapers.

Mr. Johnston widened the scope of his cross-examination to take in the part played by the Conservative party in the Brockville election. McNabb explained that much bribery was going on, and who got money from the Conservatives.

"Do you know Mr. George Taylor, the Conservative Whip?" asked Mr. Johnston.

"I heard he was in the riding spending money and sending out letters containing money," was the declaration of the witness.

"Both sides were alike," inquired the defence counsel.

"Yes."

A young constable arrived in a certain borough in Scotland, and in the course of duty found it essential to apprehend a very old offender. Arrived at the police station, he ushered him into the cells with the comment, "Mind the step."

MISS HARE.

THOUGHT IT WAS NO GOOD.

Peterson Got Into Trouble For Taking a Mirror.

Second Hand Dealer Charged With Receiving Stolen Goods.

Robert Taylor and Geo. Fletcher Allowed to Go.

G. T. R. Detective Brine did quick work this morning. He was at the Ferguson avenue yards and saw a colored man named Peterson, who lives at 149 West avenue, taking some pieces of wood into a car in which he was working. Peterson, when asked where he got the wood, said it was given to him along with two bags of coal by some teamsters in the employ of Cummer & Co. A looking glass was discovered in that car also and the excuse for having it was not forthcoming so Brine took him in charge, and Cummer & Co. were made the complainants in a charge of theft. Peterson was taken into court when it was almost over and pleaded guilty to stealing the mirror, electing to be tried by the Magistrate. He said he found the mirror in the open cellar of the Cummer Co.'s building and took it as he thought it was no good. He said he thought he was "the best liked colored man in the city" and that he had always lived straight. He has lived here for a good many years, is married and has two children so the Magistrate allowed him to go to his home and get the mirror and take it back to the Cummer Co.'s cellar and explain why it was taken away, which he promised to do.

Robert Taylor and John Fletcher, who were charged with theft by the Dominion Power & Transmission Co., were both allowed to go this morning. Taylor on deferred sentence and Fletcher because there was a doubt as to his guilt. M. J. O'Reilly spoke for them.

A man who gave the name of Milner, was arrested yesterday afternoon charged with stealing half a dozen locks from the Brooks, Sanford Co., King street west, yesterday afternoon. Constable Bainbridge arrested him a short time after the theft had been committed. He pleaded guilty and elected to be tried by the Magistrate through M. J. O'Reilly. He was remanded for sentence. He was drunk when the offence was committed.

James Crisp, York street, was charged with buying the locks from Milner, knowing them to be stolen, and through M. J. O'Reilly he pleaded not guilty and declined to elect. Milner stated that he had taken the locks to Crisp, who refused to buy them because he had no license, and the only money he got from Crisp was a loan of 20 cents. Crisp swore that he had refused to buy the locks, but seeing Milner was hard up had paid him the 20 cents as a loan. The Magistrate had some doubt as to this transaction, and committed Crisp for trial. Bail was fixed in the sum of $400.

Thomas Irwin, Kenilworth, was charged with assaulting his wife. Mrs. Irwin said he had chased her around the house and threatened to kill her and burn the house down, and had struck her several times. Irwin did not deny this, and said that he was willing to swear off liquor, as that was what caused the scraps. The Magistrate fined him $20 or one month in jail, which will not be collected if he keeps straight and treats his wife as he should.

Frank McIntyre, Kinrade avenue, and Ed. White, Mary street, were charged by P. C. H. Smith with acting disorderly on Wednesday night at the corner of St. Matthew's avenue and Barton street. They pleaded not guilty. The evidence showed that White waited for McIntyre, and started to fight, and the Magistrate fined him $5 and dismissed McIntyre.

Henry England, Catharine street, resisted Constable W. McLean when that officer tried to arrest him, and was fined $10 or 21 days for being drunk and disorderly.

Louis Pershut, York street; William McDonald, West avenue north, and Sam. Ross, Bold street, were each fined $2 for drinking but not wisely last night.

A. Henderson vs. W. McMuray, a suit for $2.50 wages, was settled out of court.

AN EXCEPTION FOR LABOR MEN

Barrow Backed Up on the Stand Taken Yesterday.

Relief Officer Investigating Imported Tuberculosis Cases.

Special Meeting to Consider Municipal Lighting Debentures.

Although City Engineer Barrow most emphatically announced yesterday that he had issued positive orders to Caretaker Myles Hunting that no one was to be permitted to drag in the filtering basins for weeds or stir the water up he later decided to make an exception in the case of the Trades and Labor Council, H. J. Halford, Walter Kollo and William Berry, the committee appointed by the Labor people to make an inspection of the basins, went to the Beach this morning.

Two cases of consumption in which the victims were both new comers to Canada, having been in the country but a short time, were brought to the attention of Relief Officer McMenemy yesterday. One was a woman from the States who had been here only three weeks and the other a man from the old country. Mr. McMenemy has not decided yet whether he will apply to have them deported.

Last year out of sixty-nine deputy returning officers there were but six Liberals. This year there are seventy-one polling divisions and the list of deputy returning officers is more equally divided, about half of them being Grits. There are also a number of labor men on the list.

David Heddlow was granted a building permit this morning for alterations to brick houses on King William street, between Ashley and Wentworth street, to cost $1,500.

The Board of Works will have a special meeting at 4 o'clock this afternoon to arrange to send the by-law for the issue of $220,000 debentures for a municipal lighting plant to the City Council. Other matters to be dealt with include the closing of alleys for the Hamilton Cotton Company and the continuing of Chatham street.

TEN THOUSAND BAIL

In Case of Arthur Jackson, Arrested in Hamilton.

Ten thousand dollars was the bail fixed for Arthur Jackson, the colored man who was arrested in Hamilton a month ago, and committed for trial at Woodstock yesterday on two charges, holding up and robbing Harry Walcott, C. P. R. night operator, and stealing a revolver from the home of Benjamin Workman. Walcott told an interesting story of his experience in the early morning hours of October 10. At 2.30 a. m. he was at work in the office making a few entries. He heard a noise in the building, and looking round was confronted with the point of a revolver, and a man said, "Hands up." He promptly put his hands in the air. Beside him was another man. The other jumped over the counter that is in front of the office, and tied his hands behind his back. The man with the revolver pried the tills open with a chisel he produced from his pocket. The man who had tied him, then went through the pockets, taking $10.25 and from the till, according to the books, $54 and some odd cents. Then they tied him to lie down, and they tied his feet with a strap. After this had been done they turned the electric lights out and departed, telling him not to make an outcry.

The rope and strap with which Walcott had been bound were identified as having been in the possession of a man named Green, who was with Jackson the day before the hold-up.

In the revolver case the evidence was that Green and Jackson had been given lodgings at Mr. Workman's. Green wore the belt with which Walcott had been bound, and Jackson had a rope in his pocket. They left the house about 1.30 a. m. The revolver was missing when they had gone. Green is believed to have gone to Michigan.

Sous, Paterson, McDougall, Palest and Roller Race.

The race at the Alexandra last night did not prove as exciting as the former ones, as Roach, who was in the lead at the end of the first mile, had the misfortune to fall, and his skates came off, throwing him out, and allowing Morgan to win by finishing alone. A large crowd witnessed the contest. Morgan was presented with the gold lock by Manager Thomas. The referees were James Callaghan and Walter Webber.

THE DOMINANT RIGHT.
A "Sinister Superstition" and Its Effects Upon the Human Mind.
(Dr. G. M. Gould, in the Medical Record.)
It took a whole generation of time of experiments and mechanics to learn that the engineer must stand or sit on the right side of his engine or car in order that he could look ahead with his right or dominant eye only, and without sticking his entire head out, as he would have to do if he sat on the left side. The railroad men never learned this until the late part of the last century, and it took a long time to make the desirable change in two American railroads, while the British had already made the change. THE WORLD'S YOUNGEST KING.
Eight-year-old Duy-Tan, King of Annam, Cochinchina, bears the distinction of being the youngest reigning monarch in the world. His father, "The King," who was recently deposed, was a French protectorate, and had a son, who now rules with the aid of a regency consisting of a council of ministers. The kingdom is a French protectorate, and the deposition of Thanh-Tan was effected by the government of France. It was due to the atrocious cruelties which the former king perpetrated, and spring Thanh-Tan was declared insane, after he had murdered seven of his wives in the most barbarous manner, and had actually eaten the remains of one and compelled his courtiers to feast upon them, under pain of death. He is only 28 years old, and the sudden acquisition of power some years ago turned his head, and he soon began a series of brutalities that horrified France and his own people. The king in Annam is held in such high veneration that nobody dared to try to curb him or bring him to justice. Finally the condition of affairs became so bad that there was a general uprising among the Annamites for relief from his rule. The young King, as he is called, is already greatly beloved by his subjects, who expect from him far better conduct than that of his father. He is officially said to be a friend of reform.—Leslie's Weekly.

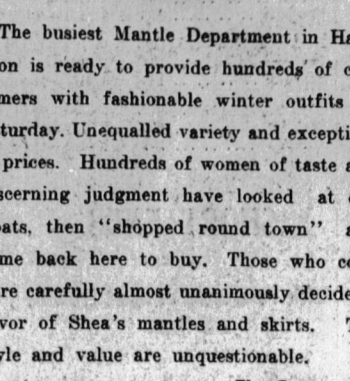

A Bride's Little Scheme.
"Nearly all brides are getting sore on cut glass for wedding presents, because they can always get so much more than they can ever use," remarked a jeweller recently. "But I never heard of one going so far as to block the cut glass as a little bride that was in here the other day."
"She told me her name and asked me if I wouldn't keep my ears cocked for any customer who might come in to buy a wedding present and mention her name. My part of the game was to tell the customer that she had dropped a remark about not caring for cut glass. She said she had been in two other stores and fixed up the same deal with them."

BRIBING GOMPERS.

Declares Manufacturers Tried to Bribe Him—a Denial.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 22.—At yesterday's session of the American Federation of Labor, President Gompers, Vice-President O'Connell being in the chair, answered the denials sent from New York on Wednesday night by Broughton Brandenburg, who declared that he was the man referred to by President Gompers in the latter's charges of an attempt to bribe Gompers, but denied that he made any such attempt at bribery, or that he had any connection with the National Association of Manufacturers. President Gompers said in part: "All the circumstances, link by link, show that it was Brandenburg who came to me as a representative of the National Manufacturers' Association, even disregarding the statement that he himself told me directly that he represented this association, whose purpose was to attack and destroy and bribe the men of labor in order to strike at the organizations themselves. The key to it all is, I declined to act as he wanted me to act."
A great ovation to Mr. Gompers followed.

20 YEARS CURED BY ZAM-BUK

Mr. W. H. Leason, of Wychwood, Ont., says: "For 20 years I suffered from Eczema of my body and legs which itched and irritated terribly. My legs down to the knee were like one mass of sores. These discharges and the itching were so bad that I was unable to do any work. I had tried all kinds of remedies (salves, ointments and embrocations) and came to the conclusion that nothing would cure me. A sample of ZAM-BUK was given to me one day, and I applied it to a small patch of the eczema. This did me some good and I obtained a full supply of the same. I continued to use it until the eczema was cured and the irritation and itching had disappeared. I am glad to say that in a few weeks I am cured and I can do my work again. ZAM-BUK IS WORTH ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD."
All Skin Diseases yield to Zam-Buk. Heals Cuts, Burns and Bruises rapidly and cures itching, eczema, ringworm, etc. Also cures Piles, Rheumatism and Sores. Write for FREE BOX. Mail coupon with 1c stamp to ZAM-BUK'S TOUCH IT UP, 100 Queen Street West, Toronto, Ont., Canada. 1123

AN EX-HANGMAN.

BERRY, AFTER 197 EXECUTIONS, OPPOSES DEATH PENALTY.

Former Common Hangman of England Has a Scheme of Prison Reform—instead of Capital Punishment—Thinks He Hanged Jack the Ripper—Madness on Scaffold.

London, Nov. 20.—The views of an ex-hangman are probably of psychological interest rather than practical value in considering the question of capital punishment. The views of such a man have been expressed for the readers of the Sun by James Berry, who was for ten years the common hangman of England.

During that time Berry hanged 197 criminals and assisted at the execution of some 600. His experiences have made him a strong opponent of capital punishment and reduced to a mere bundle of nerves, though he is only 50 and a man of powerful build.

How a man comes to take up such a calling as that of public hangman is a curious question to ask. Berry seems to have drifted into it much as men drift to other and more common occupations.

His father was a rug and blanket maker in a comfortable position at Heatherton. James Berry was the thirteenth of twenty-five children. At an early age he was sent to work in a mill, and before he was twenty he had tried his hand at several things. He then joined the Bradford police force, and after a while, when the place of hangman became vacant, he was appointed out of a thousand applicants.

At the moment he thought little of the work he would have to do. But later he began to feel how it affected his relations with the rest of the world, and he tells how it estranged him from his relatives and friends and how keenly he and his wife felt the slights and sneers of a school children toward their own children.

As to his views on capital punishment he declares that his experience brought home to him in an unmistakable manner that hanging has failed to prevent crime punishable by death and he is convinced from personal inquiries both among criminals and those in whose charge such were that "the infliction of a less severe punishment—imprisonment under more suitable conditions than obtain—would tend greatly to diminish such crimes."

He quoted the striking decrease of crime usually punishable by death in Belgium, in Holland, in Saxony, in Michigan and elsewhere since capital punishment had been abolished. The statistics available in Holland for the last ten years during which none had been hanged.

He had personally inquired of long time convicts both in the prisons proper and in the prison infirmary which they would prefer if they had their time to start again, execution or a life sentence, and in almost every case they had assured him they preferred death on the scaffold to the living death of the convict establishment.

Berry was very clear on this point—his strong conviction that a radical change is necessary in the whole conduct of the penal establishments.

"Hanging is a big mistake, so are our methods of dealing with long term men," Berry went on. "You must remember that all the inmates of such institutions are not hardened criminals."

"I have seen some of the most intelligent looking of men die on the scaffold—you must remember that criminals are sometimes made so by their environment. Many become such from other causes."

"We all have something of the brute in us, but all are not equally capable of expressing vicious tendencies, and in some natures it only takes some slight trouble or departure from sobriety to excite to that state of insanity which makes a murderer of a man."

Berry then gave a glimpse into his own state of mind when conducting an execution.

"Murder is always due to insanity," he said. "Call it temporary insanity, if you please."

"Why, although I have often wept sorely before carrying out an execution and seldom performed my horrible duties at one without feeling overcome by their terrible nature, there have been occasions when I positively gloated over them, when I have almost forgotten my month with the excitement, madness, of the process. I in fact look upon any public execution as for the time being at any rate, insane."

Berry in fact seemed to feel that the insanity of the criminal murderer and of the hangman "legalized murderer," as for such the ex-hangman regards an executioner, are of much the same description.

Talking of the chief cause of murder, Berry declared that it was drink, and he felt the gallows. Among the nearly 300 whom he had hanged or helped to hang there had not been one teetotaler. Again he drew a curious parallel between the murderer and the hangman.

"If it were not for liquor," he said, "there would be precious few to be hanged, and certainly if it were not for spirits few officials inside our prisons could carry out what is required of them at an execution. That need cause no surprise, for I always had a glass brandy inside my stomach at an execution."

His prescription for the treatment of a murderer is: "Give him time to repent in a prison, but under different conditions from those which obtain now. One convict who had been reprieved and who had served twelve years of his term of imprisonment in the prison infirmary, where he was certainly better off than other convicts, I asked which he would choose if he had his time over again, knowing what he knew, death on the scaffold or a life sentence, and he fiercely replied, 'Hanging, that is one punishment only, out penal servitude is thousands upon thousands.'"

"I would have each convict," Berry went on, "put to some suitable and useful employment amid humane surroundings, so that he could earn his own living and be able to contribute toward the support of those upon whom his act had brought shame. Surely work could be found for a man inside a prison which would cover the cost of his own maintenance and that of his dependants."

"Watch him, of course, encourage his better nature, give him something to engage his thoughts, something which will make him feel he is doing something to undo the past, something which will enable him to restart life at the end of his imprisonment with a few pounds and know he is assisting to keep those of his kith and kin who need his help outside the prison during his term, and instead of turning out called criminals and broken men you will find many thoroughly and lastingly reformed characters."

"Then when released help such along the path of right and goodness. That would enable a man to bear his degradation with fortitude, to feel he was doing what he could to live down the shame, and indeed go far to prevent the hardened criminal the present system makes of men of certain temperaments." The question was asked, How many innocent victims perish on the scaffold. "Many," was Berry's reply, and he mentioned cases in which he was convinced he was executing innocent persons.

In one case, he declared, there was not an authority in the prison who was not sure that an innocent victim of the law had been sent to eternity, and events had proved this opinion to be correct.

One of the most notorious criminals of modern times, a man who has given a name to a certain kind of murder, the streets, during his absence some one, one of these degraded women he fully believed, broke into his room and stole some of his savings.

"Behind this shop," said Berry, "were rooms which he used to let to women of the streets. During his absence some one, one of these degraded women he fully believed, broke into his room and stole some of his savings."

"This mad man so mad that he swore an oath that if he could not find out who it was he would murder every woman who had used his house. This threat he proceeded to carry out."

"Eventually his wife threatened, during a quarrel, to inform the authorities, whereupon he killed her and tried to dispose of the body, which he cut up. For this he was condemned."

"When in the cell and about to pinion him I said to him: 'Well, Jack the Ripper, have you anything to say? If so say it now, as you will have no chance later.' 'No, was the reply, 'if any one stole anything from me I'd kill the lot to find the right one. I'm not going to give you any big lines, go on with your work, Berry. I'll not say anything.' 'Nor did he.'"

"Berry is to depart shortly to the United States, where he is booked for an evangelistic lecturing tour."

YOUNG POLISH WOMAN CALLED TO THE FRENCH BAR.

The feminist movement in France—which is the last place one would have expected it to develop in view of Napoleonism—has already licensed a woman cab driver and may recognize Miss Money, the young American who asked the Jockey Club last week to give her a license. France has also led the way in letting women become lawyers, passing a law on December 4, 1900, enabling them to do so. Next day, December 5, a Russian, Madame Petit, was empowered to plead, and on February 23, 1901, Mile. Jeanne Chauvier was called. The latest newcomer, Mile. Miropolsky, is a Pole by birth, and like most of countrywomen—notably the widowed Madame Curie, the co-discoverer of radium—she is very quick and bright. She has some winning ways when sordid to a Parisian journalist, possesses the most winning ways when she is pleading. This portrait speaks of her good looks.

For the Housekeeper

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

There is an old saying that A pint is a pound The world around.

But unfortunately this is not true. If it were the busy housewife would be saved much time and vexation of spirit, for even when she possesses a good pair of scales it takes more time to weigh an article than to measure it in cupfuls.

If one is not the happy possessor of scales, a table of weights and measures, showing equivalents, is a most convenient thing to have in the kitchen. However, it is not well to depend upon such a table for pound cake, rich fruit cake that depends only upon eggs for lightening, chili sauce which calls for ounces and half ounces of papery ingredients or for any recipe that demands absolute accuracy in weight, as such a table cannot always be exact. For example, one pound of butter will often be larger when measured by cupfuls than another—The difference probably being due to the amount of salt and water it contains. Some granulated sugars weigh more than others and some flours differ in weight, owing to the grinding.

These tables in cook books vary greatly, but most of them agree that a pint of butter equals a pound, a quart of sifted flour equals a pound, a large pint of sugar a pound, and nine large or ten small eggs a pound.

An efficient housewife has compared weights and measures with the following table as a result:

A scant quart of bread flour, after sifting, a pound; or three and two-thirds cupfuls (unsifted), a pound.

A pint of graham, seven and three-fourths ounces.

A pint of cornmeal, ten and one-fourth ounces.

A pint of rice, fifteen ounces.

A pint of sump or coarse hominy, thirteen ounces.

A pint of tapioca, twelve ounces.

A pint of bread crumbs eight and three-quarter ounces.

A pint of butter, a pound.

A pint of raisins, nine ounces (lightly measured).

A pint of currants, ten ounces.

A pint of granulated sugar, a pound, (sometimes scant and sometimes liberal).

A pint of brown sugar, thirteen ounces.

A pint of maple sugar broken into crumbly pieces, equals one pound and four ounces.

An ounce of butter, two level tablespoons.

An ounce of flour, four level tablespoons (level).

An ounce of cornstarch, three tablespoons (level).

An ounce of granulated sugar, two level tablespoons.

An ounce of ground coffee, five level tablespoons.

An ounce of grated chocolate, three level tablespoons.

An ounce of pepper, four level tablespoons.

An ounce of pepper, four level tablespoons.

An ounce of cinnamon, four and a half level tablespoons.

An ounce of clove, four level tablespoons.

An ounce of nutmeg, four level tablespoons.

An ounce of nutmeg, four level tablespoons.

An ounce of mustard, four level tablespoons.

An ounce of mustard, four level tablespoons.

An ounce of tyme, eight level tablespoons. (Tyme is dry light).

An ounce of olive oil, two tablespoons.

An ounce of chopped suet, a fourth of a cupful.

To find half pounds and quarter pounds merely multiply by four or eight, remembering that eight level tablespoons make half a cupful. The articles in the table of ounces, with the exception of butter, flour and sugar, are listed in pounds in ordinary household recipes. To find how much equals a pound it is only necessary to multiply by sixteen. For butter it is a pint, for sugar about one pint, for flour about a quart.

A level tablespoonful is one that is flattened over the top with a knife. A rounded tablespoonful is one that curves as much over the top as the spoon itself does beneath. A heaping spoonful is on piled high and contains just as much as a level spoon, possibly a bit more. A "good-sized" is larger than "rounded," but not piled high.

A great many housewives make the mistake of counting a heaping tablespoonful with a "rounded" one.

Some of the most common calls for a heaping tablespoonful of cornstarch will be ruined if the spoon is merely "rounded," or even one that is "good-sized," for just a trifle too small a quantity of cornstarch and the pie will not be firm enough to cut. Yet add too much and the pie will be starchy. Thus the knowledge of what a "heaping," a "rounded" and an "even" or level spoonful, etc., is, is a necessity to a cook.

When dividing a spoonful into halves, or when measuring out half a spoonful, divide lengthwise—not crosswise—and your measure will be exact. For a quarter, divide the half crosswise; and the quarter crosswise for an eighth. The same few grains are considered in any quantity that is less than one-eighth of a teaspoonful.

When weighing out an "even" or a "level" spoonful, use a case knife to level it. Some shops now sell with their measuring cups and other measuring spoons, which are the correct regulating size for tablespoons and teaspoons. Occasionally they are marked off in halves and thirds.

Nothing could be more indefinite to the layman and culinary novice than the expressions wineglassful and cupful. Authorities, however, have reduced these measures, cupfuls and wineglassfuls, as well as the various spoonfuls, to a definite and exact scale. A cupful in all the best making books is exactly half a pint; four cupfuls making a quart.

In regard to a wineglassful, which is an especially indefinite term in the mind of the average cook, the following advice is given by one of the best authorities: A wineglassful is apt to be a claret glass. If the diameter is two and three-fourths inches and the depth two and one eighth inches from rim to bottom, the glass will hold three and a half ounces, or a hundred and five cubic centimetres. A sherry glass which is flaring and is also a common wineglass should hold forty-five cubic centimetres, or one and a half ounces. A liquor glass with flaring sides and two and one-eighth inches deep, with a diameter of one and one-eighth inches, holds two-thirds of a fluid ounce, or twenty cubic centimetres.

The following table may also be found useful to the everyday housewife:

One hundred and twenty drops of water—one teaspoonful.

Sixty drops of thick liquid—one teaspoonful.

Two tablespoonfuls—one dessert spoonful.

Three teaspoonfuls—one tablespoonful.

Eight liquid tablespoonfuls—one half cup.

One half cup—one gill.

Four gills or two cups—one pint.

Two tablespoonfuls of water—one ounce.

Before measuring stir salt and similar articles to free them from lumps. Always measure a cupful level, using a case knife to level off the top. Put the article in by spoonfuls to be sure that every part of the cup is evenly full. It is particularly necessary to do this with butter. Glass measuring cups are excellent, because one can see perfectly if the butter has filled up every part of the cup completely.—The Tribune.

Hardships of the Army Wife.

Oh, the joy of being an army wife, if only to have an army wedding! There is nothing prettier, whether it be a cavalry wedding all aglow with yellow decorations, or an infantry wedding of pale blue. There is always the glitter of gold-embroidered uniforms and gleaming swords to linger in the memory of the guests, and the vision of a bride passing down an aisle of stacked guns to an altar lovely with flowers, behind which glow the colors of nation and regiment, to plight her troth to her soldier lover. And best memory of all is the happy bride cutting the bridal cake with her husband's sword.

Revelation comes to the army wife. It is the who knows loneliness and heartache many times. Her home-making instincts suffer, remembering all the uncertainties of home-life in the army. She lives in dread of what duty her husband may be called upon to perform next. Will it be three months in the manoeuvre camp; will it be a few weeks' absence in a distant garrison on court-martial duty; will it be a summer's camping out while on a map-making detail, or will it be a call to war? In all of which events she will stay behind. To be left alone in a foreign land, to travel along the breadth of continents, falls frequently to the lot of the army wife. If she has children, the problem is still more complicated. Indeed, it takes a brave heart, oftentimes, to face the situations that arise. "Bravery, if one is not born with it, must be soon acquired or assumed before the word. And a goodly number of army women have travelled alone, and some with wee babies, long and tiresome journeys by land and sea to reach the stations of their husbands, after one of these unavoidable separations. In the event of her husband's death, the army wife has greater hardships than ever to reckon with. Unless he has been one out of a thousand, all that is left to her is his life insurance. He has no home to bequeath her, no business properties or interests. The army does not pension her.

Was Skinny. Here is a bit of dramatic criticism from the Athens (Kas.) Eagle: "We thought that the citizens of Athens respected and desired freedom of the press. Apparently they do not. James B. Parker, whose wife is taking the part of Juliet in the charity series, objected to our calling her skinny, and waited for us at the theatre last night. Fortunately we caught him one on the eye, which destroyed some of the effect his objection might otherwise have borne."

CONUNDRUMS. Q.—Why is a book inclined to be quarrelsome? A.—Because it generally has its "back up."

Q.—Why will a book keep a promise? A.—Because it always considers its binding.

Q.—When is a book like a cultured gentleman? A.—When it is well read.

Q.—When does a book resemble a favorite animal? A.—When it has "dog-ears."

Q.—How do you know shoes gossip? A.—Because they have such long tongues.

Q.—If a shoe went to school, why would he never get 100 for his lessons? A.—Because he is generally to be found at the foot.

Q.—Why are shoes superior to other wearing apparel? A.—Because every shoe has a sole.

Q.—Why is a flight of steps rude? A.—Because it always stairs.

Q.—If the clock went on strike what would happen? A.—The hands would stop work.

Q.—Which one of the dishes on the table understands the game of baseball? A.—The pitcher.

HUNDREDS WILL SPEND WINTER IN CANADIAN JAILS.

The United States Officials Refuse Re-admission to That Country to All Who Cannot Pay the Four Dollars Poll Tax or Claim Citizenship.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Nov. 21.—The statement made by prisoners in the police cells at London that Canada is to be invaded by an army of unemployed from the United States is proven true by conditions on this frontier at the present time.

Many coming from Ohio and Pennsylvania, but others are from Buffalo and the cities of western New York. At Buffalo the steel plants have reduced the number of their employees and the discharged men have joined the army moving into Canada.

It is recognized that hundreds of them will spend the winter as vagrants in Canadian county jails, and their presence in the country is a grave menace to the peace and security of rural districts and small villages where police control is not strict.

Of each of the scores of English, Irish, Scotch and Europeans who are included in this homeless host four dollars head tax is demanded. Of course, being penniless, they cannot pay and are forced to remain in Canada.

NOW ABOUT MAETERLINCK. Diana Makes a Good Fight, But Gladys Gets the Decision.

Diana wore her hair parted in the middle, revealing an expanse of blushing forehead. Eyebrows clipped on her nose and tilted forward gave further evidence of intellectuality. When Clarence could get his eyes away from Gladys he noticed that Diana's hair was set.

As soon as the conversation changed to Maeterlinck Clarence knew that he was in for it. There was no use in remarking that his knowledge of the drama was limited to Clyde Fitch and Dietrichstein. He simply had to look deep if only to keep up appearances for Gladys's sake.

"What I mean," she said, "is that we are turning away from the marionette to confront cold, hard facts."

"Where the past saw beauty in repose we now see beauty in action."

Clarence murmured "Yes," with the cheerfulness of a hired mourner.

She stopped suddenly, for Clarence had risen to pick up the lace handkerchief that Gladys had let fall. His delicate perfume was intoxicating. As he handed it back Gladys whispered: "I feel awfully warm, don't you?"
