

HAD CHANGED HIS MIND.

Dundas Man Pleaded Not Guilty This Morning.

Defendant Gets Benefit of Doubt in Coat Case.

Friends Will Settle in the Spurious Money Case.

At the Criminal Court this morning Edward Book, Dundas, was tried on a charge of obtaining goods by false pretense, from the Kerr Milling Company, to the value of $74.50.

Tony Kim came up for trial on a charge of stealing a fur overcoat from George Schultz in December last. He pleaded not guilty, and elected to be tried by a Judge.

A witness said he was at the house on Bristol street, and saw Schultz and the prisoner together.

The prisoner swore that all were drinking at the party, and some fighting took place.

Judge Snider did not think the prisoner had any criminal intent in taking the coat, but thought he should have returned it to the owner.

Louis Sabo was tried on a charge of passing a counterfeit bill, knowing that it was of no value.

Mrs. Keisinger was called and swore she changed the Confederate States $50 bill for the prisoner, while he was boarding with her.

Budimir Protich testified that on questioning the prisoner he learned that the bill was procured in Pittsburg for $45.

FREIGHT CARS WARNED OFF.

Mayor McLaren Serves Notice on Radial Company.

Failure on the part of the Radial Railway to obey a warning from the city against running freight cars on King street caused Mayor McLaren yesterday afternoon to send the company a letter in which he promised to take more drastic action if there was further cause for complaint.

"The King street freight traffic does not affect King street alone," said His Worship.

Following is the letter the Mayor sent: "On the 30th day of June last, the City Solicitor, under instructions from me, wrote you in reference to complaints made by residents on King street east as to the running of freight cars on the said street, and I am advised by him that he has received no answer to his communication."

Notwithstanding the notification received by you from the City Solicitor, your company continues to operate freight cars on the said street in direct contravention of the terms of the agreement entered into by your company, dated the 18th July, 1908.

"This state of affairs cannot be allowed to continue, and I hereby give you notice that the city will take steps to restrain your company from operating freight cars on King street, should your company persist in violating the terms of the agreement."

TROUBLES OF YOUNG POLES.

Went to See Their Lady Friends at Beamsville

And Were Cruelly Taken to the County Lock-up.

Local Police Notified of Mysterious Disappearance.

Conspicuous by his absence is John Libinsky, 67 Locomotive street, but around John's absence hangs a story.

Yesterday morning some of his friends were down at the police court seeking the aid of the police in finding him.

Here is the story about his absence: John Libinsky, Peter Blazkiewa, Adam Taborski and Stautaus Wybranc arranged to meet at the Terminal Station at 4 o'clock p.m. Saturday.

The young men have been regular weekly visitors. Each Saturday and Sunday the pent-up intensity of youthful love has been poured into listening ears.

How the hours have travelled at lightning speed, and reluctantly have the boys returned to the city, to grind out one more week at their daily avocations, buoyed up with the knowledge that their energies would ultimately win the coveted prizes.

The climax was reached on Saturday night. John and his friends visited the tenement and proceeded to celebrate as on previous occasions, but the Preserving Company deemed it fit to stop the youthful hilarity, as those from the Baltic sea regions were said to be uproarious in their celebrations.

Libinsky is unmarried, but he had intimated to his bosom friends that he would soon accept the philosophy of the Vicar of Wakefield, if his adored were willing. It is rumored he went on Saturday to submit that very important, yet delicate, question to the centre of his adorations.

Libinsky is really a handsome young man, dressed in typical Canadian style, and is well liked. He works in the rolling mills, Queen street. The others are employed at the Harvester Works.

HORSES IN MIX-UP.

A horse fell on a stone heap on Hughson street this morning, and the driver, although assisted by a number of other people, had a hard time to get it up again.

The driver had driven his team well up on the top of a heap and was going to empty the load, when the horse slipped and fell on its side with its feet above the tongue of the wagon.

Beyond a few scratches it was unhurt. This morning the electric light repair wagon was being driven down Hughson street at a pretty good rate, and as it reached Rebecca street, it bumped into a wagon loaded with hay, and the two horses attached to the hayrack were thrown on to the sidewalk.

The driver of the Cataract wagon did not see the hayrack crossing Rebecca street, as another wagon was between them and in passing around he ran into it. No damage was done.

STAY OVER FALL MEETING

Anti-Gambling Campaign Under Way in this City.

Will be Kept Up Till After H. J. C. Races.

Liquor Spotters Had No Success Here on Saturday.

The spotters who are in the city working for the Provincial Secretary's Department, were certainly very active Saturday and Sunday, but their activity apparently did not bring them the desired results.

Other spotters are here from the Attorney-General's Department in Toronto. They have received instructions to watch the handbook practice and lay all information with the department.

It is learned that so far the detectives have not gleaned much information, though they have tried many ways. These detectives will probably stay in the city till after the fall meeting of the Hamilton Jockey Club, and during that meeting will be very vigilant, as they were at the last meeting at the Woodbine race track in Toronto.

It is plain evident that the gambling act will be rigorously enforced.

THEY HOLD UP HOTEL MEN.

Latter Have Reached Point at Which Worm Turns.

Some of the hotelmen are up in arms over the hold-up methods pursued by the collectors for the local Conservative party in squeezing money out of them, not only when election campaigns are in progress, but during the entire year.

It is not long since a call was sent out for funds for the poor old Con. Club, which is always falling behind in paying rent for the quarters in the Sun Life building.

I didn't think there was a man in Hamilton who would make any kind of a move calculated to prevent the moon-tailers from getting a water supply. Have I been mistaken?

Ex-Ald. William Hancock is mentioned in despatches as a probable candidate for controller. Why, I thought he was dead.

Be thankful if you have your health. Some poor mortals do not know what good health means.

See that everything is snug and secure before you retire for the night. The hoboes are in town.

A new set of steps is being built at the top of Ferruson avenue. Will they be named the Donovan steps, I wonder?

The hotel men have a hard time of it. Whiskey and his whiskey detectives take pleasure in making them miserable.

The promoters of the pure milk for babies need a little money to keep the thing going. Can you spare a dollar or two?

Whitney is losing sleep thinking up schemes to tax the public. But there is no word of the Technical College for Hamilton. Wasn't he to see justice done to this city?

It's many a day since we had a rummage sale. Are there no hot water bottles needed for the poor Africans?

Good times are here again. If you don't believe it read the trade statistics.

Constable Brown's arrest of that armed Italian merits some kind of recognition from the authorities.

You will notice that nobody is pointing the finger of scorn at the Rochester police because they have not captured the Schumacher murderer. If it had been in Hamilton, now!

We are getting daily supplies of Rockyfort melons, watermelons, canteloupes, huckleberries, thimbleberries, pears, peaches, plums, celery, endive, squash, egg plant, vegetable marrow, cauliflower, sweet potatoes, sweet peppers, parsley, beans, limes, oranges, pineapples, lettuce, bananas, apples.—Bain & Adams.

FIRED TWO SHOTS AT THOMAS WHITE.

Joe Lorenzo, an Italian, Under Arrest—P. C. Tom Brown Did Some Good Work.

Two loud revolver shots rang out on the clear night air at 11.20 last night at the corner of King and Catharine streets, and when passers-by turned round they saw Joe Lorenzo, 12 Cannon street east, running wildly south on Catharine street, and Thomas White was lying in the road, apparently shot, though, fortunately, he was not.

Last night about 11.15, White, in company with David Muggford, 98 Steven street, was standing outside Hoopes & Semens' candy store, 133-5 King street east, listening to the piano being played inside, when three Italians, Lorenzo among them, crossed over from the Terminal Station and stood outside the store also.

The hero of the night was P. C. Tom Brown, who by his pluck prevented further shots from being fired. He rushed in and caught the prisoner in the face of the loaded revolver, which fired two shots.

When Mr. Burn (see Kidd) offers us a Children's Shelter, we shall take it and ask no questions.

With white slavery right at our door, methinks the Citizens' League would "resolute" some more. Where's Mr. Bertram?

It looks to me as if the whole membership of the Con. Club was out for controllership honors.

Ald. Forth's promised "explanation" should have been made when the "charges" were made. Then there would have been no racket.

P. C. THOMAS BROWN, Whose good work in the shooting case last night was much commented upon.

Lorenzo was waving, saying "I'll shoot the first man who comes near me."

SIX MONTHS GIVEN VAGS.

Will Help to Clean Up the East Flamboro Gang.

Indians Who Were Disorderly on Train Heavily Fined.

Another "Indian" Given Time to Recover His Memory.

Nature has endowed many with an itinerant disposition, but the civil laws do not allow it to be cultivated ad-lib. Six followers of Ismael were again arraigned this morning, charged with vagrancy.

County Constable Bolton announced that a number of the other vags were seen crossing the fields yesterday.

Looking capable of removing mountains by physical force, Evan A. Fowley was charged by George Roach with being a vagrant.

Three descendants of the early Iroquois Indians are Jacob Henry, Peter Snow and Robert Hill, but contact with Anglo-Saxons has made them acquire a love of the promoter of turbulence, which in the Indians' philosophy it is known as "fire water."

They were each fined $10 or 21 days. Miss Hiawatha, a witness, gave evidence that the lads were drunk, and she wanted to take them home.

"You tell me Indians in Cayuga that if they don't let the whiskey alone when they come to the city they will be heavily fined," said His Worship to the defendants.

An attack of acute mental oblivion troubled Richard Betterton when asked where he got the forbidden liquor. Dick was saturated through and through yesterday and he is "listed."

Hugh Weir laid on the street last night; P. C. Cheeseman deemed he was right. This morning, when arraigned in court, His Worship made his cash $2 short.

Robber of men's best affections is a strong drink. It got the best of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Degear, 29 Sophia street. This morning the case again came up, Degear being charged by his wife with non-support.

Death came with terrible suddenness to George Cooper, an old and respected resident of the west end this morning. Mr. Cooper resided at 242 Locke street north and was in the habit of going for walks in the company of his four-year-old grandson.

Death came with terrible suddenness to George Cooper, an old and respected resident of the west end this morning. Mr. Cooper resided at 242 Locke street north and was in the habit of going for walks in the company of his four-year-old grandson.

Mr. A. M. Lewis appeared for Mrs. Degear. Degear in his defence endeavored to show that he was supporting his wife and family. His counsel, Mr. A. O'Heir, endeavored to impress upon the Magistrate that Degear was keeping his family in a fair degree of comfort.

When further charged with a breach of the Liquor Act, Degear said he obtained liquor by an order from a physician, but when questioned it appeared that the order was given to him last fall, though he said it had been renewed. He said he got the last liquor at Dundas. His Worship laid the case over for inquiries to see if Degear's statements are correct.

A rather amusing incident occurred when Degear was giving evidence in his non-support case. Mr. Lewis said he had liquor on his person then. When asked by the Magistrate if such was the case, Degear produced a bottle of whiskey in from his inside pocket. Sergeant Walsh took the bottle, smelt it and pronounced it to be whiskey. He then handed it back to Degear.

"Take that away from him. He must not have that," said His Worship.

BIG FIRE WOULD MEAN A DISASTER.

Love Finds the Way

It was an ordinary, heavily built cart, and the stricken mourner would have passed it without a glance had not something dark and bulky lying in the bottom of it attracted his dull eyes for a moment. It was only for a moment, but in that short time he knew that he was beside the cart of which he had heard the men in the parlor of the Rivers hall Arms speak.

A NEW DETECTIVE. Catching Thieves by Machine the Latest Triumph. The ecleptograph, as may be inferred from its name, is an apparatus for the recording of theft, which automatically photographs those who break into office or house and accurately registers the hour of their visit. The room to be protected by the ecleptograph contains a system of wires and contacts that are properly distributed over the windows, doors, safes, etc., being connected with all objects of value. As soon as a stranger penetrates the room, a photographic camera, under the action of some contact, involuntarily and unconsensually touched by the person, will direct itself automatically towards the contact, that is, towards the thief, and, after having opened the objective shutter, will ignite the magnesium powder intended to supply the flashlight, and so on. The objective after the view has been taken, upon exchange the film, a new portion of powder ready and register the exact hour.

END OF THE WORLD. The Life of The Earth May be Long, But it is Limited. What will be the end of the world? This is a question which was formerly asked of sooth-sayers and prophets and often answered by them with definite statements and dates which were, to those who believed them, to the last degree disquieting. Such prophets and prophecies have all been proved erroneous and the Millerites and their kin have all been laughed out of serious consideration. DOUKS ON A MARCH. Fifteen of Them Tramping Naked Across Saskatchewan. Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 16.—Word has been received from Fort Pelty, Sask., that the Doukhobors had broken out again, and are on the march. Fifteen of them have been on parade, most of them women, and all stark naked. A barbarous story is also told of the Doukhobors on a recent march, leaving by the roadside the corpse of an aged woman who died from the fatigue and heat. The settlers and police finally applied the body.

Hannon. A most successful meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the residence of Mrs. Jacob McKee on Wednesday last. Mrs. David DeGree, vice-president, gave a very interesting address on the prevention of consumption. A good programme was presented by Miss Lillie Griffith, Mrs. Valmer Smith, Miss Hattie Evans and Mrs. Jacob McKee, after which five new members were initiated. Mrs. C. E. Horning is visiting relatives in Montreal.

Alfred Bean, of Hamilton, is spending his holidays at his home here. A spark from a G. I. R. engine set fire to the fields of the Misses McBride on Wednesday last, burning over about fifteen acres of meadow, a hay stack and several rods of fence before it was got under control. Mr. Fred Wiggins, of Toronto, who has been spending his holidays the guest of William and Mrs. Evans, has returned to his home.

Cheapside. Miss Hattie Day returned to Niagara Falls on Wednesday last, after spending three weeks with her mother, Mrs. S. Day. Miss Mary Raby, Precious Corners, has returned to commence her duties at School Section No. 4. Rev. S. Laidman and family, from St. David's, are visiting at Dr. Sherk's, Mrs. Laidman's parents.

Quite a number from here attended the baseball tournament and garden party at Sanduski on Thursday last. Rev. Monsignor and family are away taking their holidays. Mr. P. Giblin spent a couple of days last week with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Fulson, on the town line.

Mr. Ernest Lofthouse and family are visiting at Blackheath. Mrs. Metcalfe and children spent Sunday at Chauncey Evans', near Lake Erie. Miss Jennie DeGree, of Blackheath, returned home on Saturday last, after spending a fortnight with her sister, Mrs. E. Lofthouse.

On Tuesday night last the stork left a baby boy at the home of Mr. William Degrow's. Both are doing well. Mrs. Frank Tyrrell spent Saturday last at Mr. John Weiderich's. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kersey, Selkirk, spent Sunday at Mr. R. Mattice's. Miss Smith, Clabgrass, has returned, after spending her holidays here. The children of No. 2 will be pleased to see her.

A number from here attended the circus at Hamilton. Mrs. H. Almas, of Burlington, came on Monday last to visit her sister, Mrs. W. Degrow.

Fits and Mifflits in Names. (By Mary E. Walton.) Doubtless every city has its quota of names strikingly suited or unsuited to the businesses of the owners. Looking over the Chicago telephone directory one will find a few choice specimens of the sort. There is a man named Goldsmith who is an assayer, one named Gold, and one who is Rich. There is a barber named Delay and a restaurant keeper named Wait. Seger sells "segars," Dr. Paine is a dentist, and Stein runs a cafe. Among the lawyers one belongs to the Barr family, another answers to the name of Fales, while two others are Short and Slack. There are also a Lyman and a Blackman who practice law.

That a milliner should be a Rosen-garten seems particularly suitable this season, and to find a Vail in the same list is not half bad. Among saloonkeepers we find Betzger, Brewer, Wineman, Trinx, Dahm, Sabath, Fairservice, Ketchum, Pater, Full and Kill. There is also an undertaker who is Yuers!

Landt, Eastland, and Sweetland are to be found in real estate offices. O. Plank is a promoter. We discover physicians who are Good, Goodkin, and Low. Still another doctor who rejoices in being Maydwell is willing and anxious to pass the blessing of health on to others. Some are Caldwell and one is Goring, another is fortunate enough to be Feingold, is a German, while another is Green.

If it were the custom to have all signs painted with the name and the business of the owner, it would be a very interesting sight. The married man realizes the difference between home times and home-made neckties. It is better to have your faith in your fellow man receive an occasional jolt than to have none at all. Although he may not be a conspirator, the suburban real estate operator has more or less to do with plots.

CANADA SITS TIGHT?

According to the statements made by leading New York lumber dealers, prices in that city are not likely to be materially affected by the slight reduction in lumber duties made in the recent tariff.

Or has he some Sunday of his own imagination that he would prefer to see in force? Does he believe that Sunday is no different from any other day in the week, and that we should all work seven days a week?

CANADA'S POLICY WISE.

We hear very little, nowadays, about the presentation of Dreadnoughts to the Imperial navy by the various British States.

"I do not believe that the reduction of the duty on lumber is of any consequence. Seventy-five cents on 1,000 feet is so small a decrease that it may be regarded as negligible.

It apparently takes our neighbors a very long time to come to a realization of the hard, and to them, somewhat unpleasant fact that the people of this country have to deal with on business principles and with a proper regard for their dignity.

WILL THE LORDS DARE?

For some time past there has been considerable discussion on the probable course which will be pursued by the House of Lords with regard to Lloyd-George's budget.

The London Times of July 24 very frankly accepts this principle of the perfect autonomy of the various British nations. It says:

It is already possible to envisage three leading principles which must govern any permanent solution. In the first place, each Dominion must develop naval resources of its own, and develop them under the supervision of its own Parliament.

And, thirdly, all individual effort must be not merely directed to local purposes, but co-ordinated to a common end.

Not only does the London Times thus frankly accept the Canadian view, so much ridiculed by mouth loyalists and arm chair war critics of some Canadian sanctums, but it takes occasion to deprecate the theatrical offers of Dreadnoughts by Australia and New Zealand, and to oppose the idea of cash contributions.

If accepted, they must either be reckoned, or not reckoned, as part of our normal strength in European waters. If they are not reckoned, and yet are stationed here, they can only represent a somewhat wasteful use of Imperial funds.

It is most fortunate that the Canadian Parliament and people followed the wise direction of a Government which is not influenced by scare, bounce or bluster.

When British statesmen and the great organs of public opinion accept the leading of the Canadian Government in this matter, it may well be regarded as a compliment to Canadian statesmanship.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Is Aid. Forth going to quit? Those charges were either rashly made or they have not been thoroughly enough inquired into.

Irvine's life history shows that the way of the transgressor is hard—but not too hard, if he was a party to Tompkins' crime.

Conditions in South Africa go to indicate that in granting practically unconditional self-government to that part of the Empire, the British people made no mistake. South Africa, put upon its honor, will be a source of strength and comfort to British statesmen.

It has a big sound, but is "white slave traffic" the correct term to fit the cases to which it has been applied in some local descriptions of girl wickedness?

The trade of the Dominion in the first four months of the fiscal year totalled nearly $192,000,000. In July alone it exceeded $36,000,000. That spells prosperity.

The blame for the margin of safety in waterworks capacity rests on the City Council. It had ample warning. It has placed the city in peril by its course in playing to the Hydro schemer.

The United States naval specifications for aeroplanes requires that they must be able to rise from or land in the water with safety. It will be some time before the United States navy will be equipped with air ships.

In 1908 the United States imported more than 4,000,000 pounds of chicle, obtained from the trunks of the sapodilla plum tree, for the making of chewing gum. It takes a lot of chewing to dispose of that.

The British Commons has, without a dissenting voice, given the South African constitution bill its second reading. If the federation of South Africa turns out as well as that of Canada, our fellow-Britons of that part of the world will have no cause for regret.

Metering the water does not necessarily mean dearer water to the household; it may—it should—mean cheaper water to him. But it would probably lead to the users of water paying in proportion to the amount they actually use.

The Norfolk County homicide has an ugly look. There are circumstances connected with the killing man, Michael C. Hall, which go to indicate deliberate murder. For the credit of the community it is to be hoped that these may be explained away.

Say not that the spirit of oratory is no more—that the press has superseded the forum. In the Connecticut Legislature the other day a member described the cracking of the party whip by the labor leader as "the hoof-beats of an ass striking upon the strings of a sacred harp."

The labor difficulties of the C. N. R. section men, and the differences between the Grand Trunk Pacific operatives and that company, have been settled by the Conciliation Board under the Lemieux Act. How much better this plan of dealing with industrial disputes than resorting to strikes or lockouts.

How eager some contemptible Canadian organs—would-be "foulers of their own nests"—are to represent the Canadian delegates to the Defence Congress as assuming "an arrogant attitude" and "acting on instructions to block instead of aiding any plan of imperial defence that would be likely to prove effective?" Happily such besotted and stupid partisans are few.

The Toronto World now editorially advances the plea "that London is too widely interested in financing throughout the world to devote any special attention to the Whitney power policy." That is a very poor defence. The financiers of London, however, are not blind to the fact that Whitney has been guilty of a gross breach of faith toward the investing public, and that he has closed the courts to seekers of justice in order to carry out his purposes.

Where do all the red men get their fire water? It is, of course, illegal to sell liquor to Indians; and likewise, of course, the licensed dealers strictly observe the law—hasn't Inspector Sturdy been in the alleyways at times. Are there "go-betweens" to furnish the red men? If so, a few long prison sentences would stop the nefarious practice. How about it, Inspector Sturdy? Can you draw an inference?

At Bristol, Va., the other day an engineer, fatally injured in a railway wreck, refused to take the whiskey the rescuing party wished to get him to swallow until four men promised to bear witness to the fact that he was perfectly sober. 'All an engineer has is his record,' he said feebly, "and he cannot afford to have anything against that." First, the safety of his passengers; then his personal vindication as to the faithful discharge of his duty. No, the heroes are not all found on the battlefield.

It is stated that there were 30,000,000 fewer cigarettes smoked in Canada last year than the year before; and this is to some extent credited to the law against the smoking of cigarettes by boys under 16. We fancy it may be possible to give too much credit to that law for this reduction. Other factors are to be considered. The large number of boys seen sucking cigarettes, and the increasing number of boys and men who manufacture their own coffin nails, lead us to place less value on these statistics than do some of our contemporaries.

BRANTFORD SLUR. (Brantford Expositor.) Brantford police have made another important capture. This city is a poor place for crooks to come to. Such people would do well to confine their operations to Hamilton.

A BENEFICENT BUDGET. (Montreal Witness.) Last April, while introducing his budget, Mr. Lloyd-George addressed the chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means in the memorable words, "Mr. Emmott, this is a war budget. It is a budget for waging implacable warfare against poverty, and I cannot help hoping and believing that before this generation has passed away we shall have made a great advance towards the good time when poverty, with the wretchedness and squalor and human degradation which always follow in its camp, will be as remote from the people of this country as the wolves which once infested its forests."

PRICE OF BREAD IN ENGLAND. (Cor. Toronto Globe.) I get a Devonshire weekly paper regularly from Exeter, and the published market reports have for 24 years attracted my attention. While the price of bread is not quoted in all the market reports, it is in quite a number. Until the recent rise in wheat the range of prices stood at 5d. minimum, with a maximum of 5 1/2d., or, in our money, 10 and 11 cents.

July 30th, the price stands at 5 1/2d. to 6d. for a four-pound loaf. I note in all the places the size of the loaf is always four pounds. If we compare that with the weight now selling in London, Canada, 16 ounces at five cents, a drop in weight since last year from 1 1/2 pounds, and now to one pound—this we note our English cousin is getting a pound of bread at from 2 1/2 to 3 cents, or from 55 per cent. to 60 per cent. less than we are forced to pay. Flour in the same paper is quoted 280 pound sack at from 35 to 37 shillings.

A NEW NORTHLAND. (Montreal Gazette.) With the title of Northland Exploration, the Department of the Interior has issued a report made by Mr. Frank J. P. Crean, C. E., of his explorations in Northern Saskatchewan, between the Saskatchewan and Churchill Rivers, in the fall and winter of 1908-9. The district is as old and new. The Hudson's Bay Company people have their posts, and Church of England and Catholic Missions have been established at the strategic points within it. The homesteader has ignored it for a variety of reasons. It is far away from the established fields of colonization. There are no railways reaching into it. Only a traveller here and there has studied it with an observant eye. It is not in a geographical sense a far north. The section traversed by Mr. Crean lies between latitude 53 and 57, which in Europe includes Scotland, the Scandinavian countries, the Baltic provinces of Russia, and much beside of the Czar's empire. The lie of the land is also advantageous. The Churchill drains a bay running east and west, beyond that of the North Saskatchewan. Stanley, on the Churchill, is some 700 feet nearer the sea level than Regina in the southern part of the province. In the record made by Mr. Crean, beginning on August 27, it was not till October 2, that a temperature below freezing point was noted. Throughout September the range of the thermometer was from 34 degrees up to 40. If that is an ordinary record there should be little fear of frosted grain. The long daylight is also an advantage from the agricultural point of view. On June 20, at Ottawa, there is 15h. 26m. of sunlight, at Prince Albert there is 16h. 42m., and at Portage La Loche there is 17h. 30m. At the latter named place, in lat. 56.35, and at a greater elevation than most of the country, oats and barley have been grown. At La Plonge Mission, which is above lat. 55, wheat has been grown, and on a slight slope, straw well over 4 feet in height, the heads being large and seemingly well filled. At practically every mission and post vegetables are grown with satisfactory returns. Everywhere, it is recorded, there was an abundance of hay. Some of the country is spoken of as splendid for ranching. The grass grows naturally and the rolling hills, blown clear of snow, afford a winter range for stock. Forty years ago, outside of the Fort Garry settlement on the Red River, not much more than is here summarized could have been said, of the more southerly parts of the country from which this year a hundred million bushels of wheat may be reaped. That which bears on agriculture is naturally of greatest interest, the farm being the best and steadiest contributor to the country's natural growth. There are other subsidiary advantages. The land is one of rivers and lakes. Lake trout have been caught weighing 50 pounds, and whitefish are abundant. Spruce grows, and at the La Plonge Mission a saw-mill has been established. There is popular also. As in other sections of the country, however, fires have swept through the woods and much good timber has been destroyed, to be replaced in the course of nature by what are practically weed trees, like jack pine. Naturally, in such a land, game is abundant. Moose, caribou, common deer, black and cinnamon bears, lynx, timber wolves, wolverines, otter, beaver, mink, marten, muskrats, rabbits, and squirrels are common. Besides swans, loons, geese and ducks, the birds include partridge, ptarmigan, gulls, kingfishers, and robins, and the ubiquitous crow. Not much is said about minerals, a special report by the Geological Survey being intended to deal with that feature. The report, as it is, is interesting, as well as instructive. It does not promise anything in the way of an immediate advance of civilization much to the north of the Saskatchewan. It goes to show that the capacities for bearing population which are now everywhere acknowledged to exist in the Peace River district extend and that in North Saskatchewan, as in North Alberta, and probably in what will in time be North Manitoba, there is the possibility of developing in an extensive way both agricultural and other wealth that will in due time be realized. The idea that habitable Canada is a strip along another country's border is weakening all along the line.

WAR AGAINST THE TUSSOCK.

Some Information That Will be Found Useful. In connection with the tussock-moth pest, which has so alarmed those who have the care of the city's shade trees at heart, it is interesting to note that as far back as 1903 the Department of Agriculture published a report of the entomologist and botanist, James Fletcher, L.L.D., F. R. S. C., F. L. S., giving most valuable data on the subject. The vulnerable points of this formidable insect were carefully noted, and valuable hints given on how to treat it. The article, in full, follows:

Slender, sparsely hairy caterpillars, from one and a quarter to one and a half inches in length, blackish above and paler beneath, with two bright yellow stripes along the back, most conspicuous towards the end of the body. There are four short brush-like tufts of whitish hairs on segments 5, 6, 7 and 8. The head chestnut red, with a large patch on segment 2, and two small glandular spots on segments 10 and 11, bright vermilion red. From each side of segment 2, close behind the head, are long plumelike tufts of black, barbed and knobbed hairs; a similar plumelike ornament on segment 12. When full grown these caterpillars look handsome. The antennae measure about an inch and a quarter across the wings. The color is grey and the wings are crossed by wavy bands. The base of the forewings bears a dark patch, and there is another of smaller size towards the tip. The popular name is given in the title of the leaflet. The female is a large-bodied wingless pale grey creature, with only rudiments of wings. On emerging from the cocoon she crawls on to it and seldom moves from it. After pairing, she lays a mass of eggs, from four to five hundred in number, generally on the outside of her cocoon, and then dies there. These eggs are covered over with a laid with a white frothy fluid, which dries over the eggs and protects them through the winter. There is in Canada only one annual brood of this insect. The eggs may be found during the winter on the trunks of trees upon which the caterpillars had fed the previous season. The young caterpillars emerge from the eggs at the end of May or early in June, and soon crawl up and fasten themselves throughout the foliage of the trees, feeding at first beneath the leaves, and when disturbed letting themselves down by a slender silken thread. By the middle of July the caterpillars have for the most part become full grown and are preparing to spin the cocoons. As they increase in size they become very voracious, and strip entire trees, eating the cellular tissues between the veins, and producing a characteristic injury, which is easily recognized. These caterpillars have a habit of wandering from branch to branch and from one tree to another, which has given rise to the practice of handling trees with strips of cotton batting. This gives a very untidy appearance to streets, and does not do very much good, certainly not enough to atone for the unsightly appearance of the trees. The most effective remedy for the white tussock-moth is (1) the collection of the conspicuous egg masses from the trunks in winter or before they hatch in spring. This may be easily done by means of a small wire brush on the end of a long pole which will reach up among the larger branches of the trees. Such a brush was devised by the late Alderman Hallam, of Toronto, and used to good effect on the city shade trees during a previous outbreak of this insect. (2) Undoubtedly the best remedy is the systematic spraying shade trees with some arsenical poison as soon as the young caterpillars hatch from the egg, or as soon afterwards as possible. This work, if properly done, will destroy every caterpillar and render unnecessary the collection of eggs in winter and the use of unsightly tree protectors, bandages of cotton batting, or sticky substances, all of which are more costly and objectionable. It might be well to point out that, when municipal bodies adopt the plan of collecting the cocoons in winter, it would be well to place these for a time in some place where any parasites which might be passing the winter in the cocoons could emerge and escape, but where the young caterpillars upon emerging would find it impossible to gain access to any trees. This might be done by putting them in an upper room of some building from which the parasites could fly out of the windows, but from which the young caterpillars could not crawl to trees, which would serve them as food. Deprived of food, they will soon starve after leaving the egg.

SHOT WIFE.

Said She Had Negro Blood in Her Veins—Shot Himself. Columbus, O., Aug. 17.—Ascertaining he asserted, after eight years of married life, that his wife was a colored woman, Alfred Habelman, a white man, after a visit to Washington, D. C., returned on Saturday to his home on Summit street, and shot his wife; then turning the revolver on himself he inflicted wounds that will prove fatal. Mrs. Habelman is still living, but the doctors say she cannot recover. She was formerly a Buffalo woman, and had no apparent traces of negro blood. The couple have a seven-year-old son.

SUCCESSFUL OPERATIONS. They removed the patient's gizzard, chopped his liver away; They took out his pink appendix and his largest vertebra; Set him breathing through a goose-quill they inserted in his throat; Took his liver from its moorings and preserved it in a bottle. In the lining of his stomach they discerned a little flaw— They dispensed with it, replaced it with a throbbing ostrich claw. Many another inward trinket they hacked out of him beside— All "successful operations"—but the patient, strangely, died. Then they whet their little scalpels, lay your epidermis bare, And with "skillful operations" send you up the golden stair. KILLED FAMILY.

Three Victims of Madman's Pistol in Chicago.

The Mother Shielded Her Daughter With Her Own Body.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—In an effort to exterminate his entire family to-day, Gustave Hering, sen., 54 years old, 2,188 North Francisco avenue, shot and killed his wife, Mrs. Louise Hering; wounded his son, Gustave Hering, possibly fatally, and then shot himself in the brain, ending his life instantly.

The strange domestic tragedy has yet yielded no motive, but the police are at work on the case. They think a family secret might explain Hering's act. That there were not four victims instead of three was due to the heroism of Mrs. Hering, who, with her own body, shielded her daughter, Margaret, to save her from death.

Twice Hering pointed the revolver at his daughter, and each time the mother leaped in front of the young woman. The police to-day declared that Hering had made other attempts to kill his family. A year ago, when the first attempt was made, Hering was arrested. Since then the family has lived in constant terror.

Hering was an expert accountant, but had not been able to get steady employment for four years, and threatened to end it all by killing the members of his family and himself. He arose early to-day, and procuring a revolver shot his wife dead. His son, Gustave, hearing the shot, ran to his father's room, where the older man shot him down without a word.

He placed the revolver against his temple and blew out his brains. Gustave Hering, his son, is dying in a hospital.

The results of the examinations for honor junior matriculation were announced yesterday. The standing obtained in each subject is indicated after a candidate's name. I. indicating first class honors, II. second class honors and III. third class honors, respectively. The statements of marks of all candidates will be mailed to the principals or inspectors in the course of a few days. In the case of those writing at the University of Toronto these statements will be sent to the registrar of that institution. Candidates should apply to these parties and not to the Department of Education for further information. The marks obtained by scholarship candidates will be reported direct to the universities concerned in the course of a few days. SLUM WORK.

Rev. H. Lloyd, of London, at Ryerson Church.

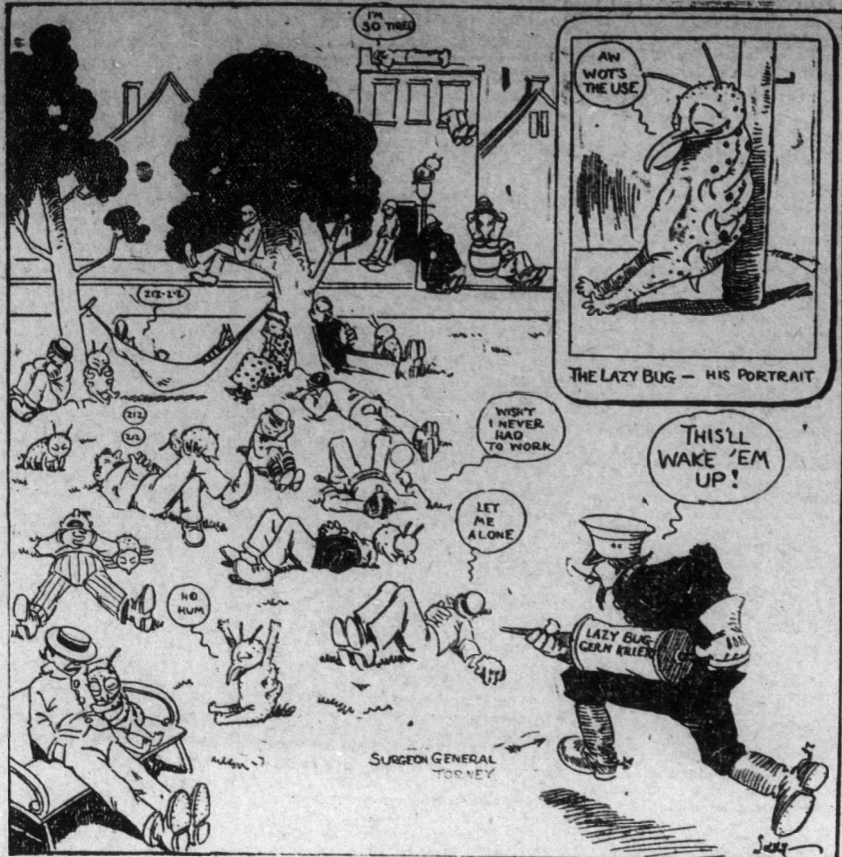

The attendance last night of the members and adherents of Ryerson Methodist Church was only fair to hear Rev. H. Lloyd, of London, England. Mr. Lloyd has had considerable experience among the slums of the large city from which he came, and addressed the gathering about the missionary work and of the conditions of the people. He said the people living in these districts have to put up with a good deal of work and hard for every cent they obtain. In such gloomy conditions religion in some cases is accepted readily, while in others they do not seem to care. The missionaries mingle with the people and talk to them in a friendly way and try to restore their courage and show them the salvation that is offered them by Jesus Christ. The missionaries always remain quite cheerful and sympathetic with the downtrodden people in all their griefs. By so doing they are able to gain their confidence, and the people will readily tell their troubles to such persons, and then the missionary has his best opportunity of showing them the way to the One who can right all wrongs, and who has gone before to prepare a place for His children. The people after they receive religion show the result, for they are more cheerful and hopeful. He told of the way they are sometimes afflicted with sickness. The audience was deeply interested.

MAPLE LEAF PARK.

What is undoubtedly the best show of the season is offered the patrons of Maple Leaf Park this week. The Ali Bonni troupe of Arabian acrobats, nine in number, performed before a large crowd last night, and judging from the reception accorded the clever people, they will be a big drawing card all week. They introduce much that is new in the acrobatic line, and the act is replete with sensational feats. They are attired in the regular Arabian costumes, and the female members of the troupe do as much of the heavy work as the men. Tomorrow the weekly matinee of the Driving Club will be held at the park, and on Saturday the big picnic of the G. T. R. employees of Stratford.

Some fellows are so obstinate that even their food doesn't agree with them.

OH, YOU LAZY BUG!

FRUIT—THE GREAT PHYSICIAN

Wonderful Medicinal Value of Apples, Oranges, Figs and Prunes.

How many people realize what remarkable curative principles are contained in fruit juices. There are two—the bitter and the sweet. There is about ten times as much of the sweet as of the bitter, though the bitter principle is the one which has the curative effect on disease. Apples, oranges, figs and prunes contain the highest percentage of bitter principle and thus are the most healthful.

It was a theory of a physician in Ottawa, that if the amount of bitter principle in fruit juice could be doubled, the curative property would be increased, not twice, but many times.

After many tests, this physician succeeded in forcing into the combined fruit juices an additional atom of bitter principle, and in doing so formed an entirely new compound. The combined juices were added valuable tonics and antiseptics and the whole made into tablets.

These are "Fruit-a-tives"—the only remedy known to science that is made of fruit. The wonderful cures in cases of Stomach Trouble, Indigestion, Constipation, Rheumatism, Chronic Headaches and Neuralgia, Kidney, Liver and Skin Diseases are due solely to the fact that "Fruit-a-tives" contain the medicinal properties of fruit. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial box 25c. SHOOTING AT LONG BRANCH.

Four Hundred of the Country's Best Marksmen There.

Toronto, Aug. 17.—Teams from Manitoba, Alberta, British Columbia and all over the west are here to compete at the annual matches of the Ontario Rifle Association at the Long Branch ranges to-day, to-morrow, Thursday and Friday. The entry list is larger than ever, according to Capt. Armour A. Miller, secretary, and it includes the best shots in the Dominion, many of whom competed at Bisley. Sgt. McCauley, an Australian Bisley man, is also entered. Many new events and additional prizes have been added to the programme. Many of the western teams will go to the D. R. A. matches at Rockcliffe after competing here. About 400 riflemen will compete altogether.

No extension sights or sights back of the sight bed will be permitted and the hood over the foresight of the Ross rifle must be left on at the matches. While the peep sights, such as were used by the Canadians at Bisley, are barred, many other sights in addition to those on the rifles as issued with the Government service rifle have been approved. They are the McAlley, a Hatfield, Wesley, Richard, Beardon, Sutherland, Mitchell, White and Peddie sights.

This morning several important matches were begun, including the tyro match, 200 yards; Canadian Club match, 600 yards, and extra series at 200, 500, 600 and 800 yards. This afternoon the tyro match, 500 yards; City of Toronto match at 500 and 600 yards, and more revolver matches and practice shots will take place.

The range officers for the matches are: Capt. Butcher, C. C. R.; Capt. Pinard, 43rd C. O. R.; Capt. McCall, G. G. G.; Lieut. Linton, 1st Highlanders; Lieut. Common, 13th Regiment; Lieut. Beckett, 9th Army Service Corps; Lieut. McCausland, Q. O. R.

FOR HIS BOY.

Life Prisoner Makes Model of the U. S. Alaska.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 17.—Occupying the most prominent place in a large collection of naval relics and sea pictures in a Washington street store, which is the property of "Billy" Wills, who was at one time in the navy, is a large model of a first class battleship now being built for the United States Government, the Alaska, which when finished will be the largest battleship this country has ever had.

The model possesses a three-fold interest, for not only is it an exact working model of the great ship, but it was made for the purpose of providing money for the care and education of a child who is practically an orphan, and was made by a man, thirty years old, who is a life prisoner at the Massachusetts State Prison, at Charlestown. The child is his own, and his crime was the killing of his wife, the child's mother.

Alexander McEwan, the man who made the model, was an electrician at the Fore River Ship Yards, in Quincy, where he became familiar with the details of many of the large battleships, and since his confinement in the prison he has developed a genius for slay work.

The only materials allowed McEwan by the prison authorities were some pieces of cardboard of varying thicknesses, a few bits of string, a jar of glue and a tiny penknife.

The model measures five feet three inches in length and is fourteen inches wide. The hull of the ship was given a coat of drab paint in the prison paint shop, so that the model wears the new war colors.

The guns formed one of the most difficult parts of the model, and were made of very thin cardboard bent to shape and pasted. The smallest guns, forming the saluting battery, and which, in order that they may be the more easily distinguished, have been gilded instead of being painted black, are about one-sixteenth of an inch around the end of the muzzle.

This model of the Alaska is the second of the kind that McEwan has made, the first one being a model of the U. S. S. Louisiana, which, although a little larger in size, was not so accurate in proportions as the Alaska model.

MORE DROWNINGS.

Youth Carried Away in Niagara River—Other Fatalities.

INDIAN STUDENT HANGED TO-DAY.

Paid the Penalty of the Assassination of Col. Wyllie—Faced Death Calmly.

MADALARI DHINAGARI.

London, Aug. 17.—Madalari Dhinagari, the Indian student who on the night of June 1 at the conclusion of a public gathering in the Imperial Institute, shot and killed Lieut.-Col. Sir William H. Curzon-Wyllie and Dr. Cawas Lalcaea, was hanged in Pentonville prison at 9 o'clock this morning. Dhinagari was tried and found guilty of this crime, and sentenced to death in the Old Bailey police court on July 23. Only prison officials and chaplain were present at the execution. A small crowd assembled outside the prison, but there were no

Indians among them. The raising of the black flag and the tolling of the prison bell announced the completion of the execution. An English lecturer named McMaster, who had just arrived from India, applied for admission on the ground that he was a friend of Dhinagari, but he was refused. McMaster declared that the murderer was perfectly sane when he committed the crime, and that his act was a symbolic protest against British rule in India. Dhinagari showed no signs of fear. He declined to partake of breakfast, and waited to the scaffold calmly and quietly. Death was instantaneous.

FATAL QUARREL.

Kingston, N. Y., Aug. 17.—A quarrel over a game of chance at Brown's Station between Italian laborers employed on the Ashoken dam ended last night in a shooting affray in which Felix Rippi, one of the participants, was shot and killed. The slain man's cousin, Francesco Puffi, was taken in custody immediately afterward by the police, charged with the killing.

Dogs, horses, cattle, mice, even fish have cancer. In Tunis and Abyssinia cancer is unknown.

BIG MOSQUITOES.

With Big Bills Killing Cattle in South Texas.

Pest Has Taken Possession in Lone Star State.

Galveston, Tex., Aug. 16.—A mosquito pest of a destructive nature is causing untold suffering and a great amount of damage to cattle and horses and crops, the latter by reason of enforced neglect by growers in the coast country of Texas.

A mosquito of unusual size and long bill, and said to be a new species in this section, is making life miserable for man and beast, and it is feared the loss of cattle directly and indirectly due to the pest will be great if the scourge continues many days. Cattle seeking relief from the swarms of mosquitoes which rise from the swamps and marshes in clouds go miles to water and stand up to their shoulders in the water, occasionally dipping their heads to freeze the stinging pests.

In the gull and other bodies of salt water along the coast cattle and horses and other animals seek relief and refuse to come out for food. Many of them will die of hunger if not soon relieved. In the rice fields, which are located near the coast in nine counties, work has been abandoned because the workmen have been driven from the fields.

Railroads along the coast are suffering from patronage simply because the vast army of bloodthirsty insects drive the passengers to distraction. Passengers are compelled to almost smother to death to get away from the pests.

Reports from Southwest Texas say many cattle have died from the results of the mosquitoes.

Amusements

The Great Divide, a melodrama in three acts, was presented at the Mountain Theatre last night by the Summers Stock Company. Notwithstanding the fact of the threatening weather and dampness, almost every seat in the theatre was filled. The play was well staged, well acted, and was well worth seeing. The scenes are laid in the gold fields of the western States. Miss Belle Stevenson, in the role of Ruth Jordan, the heroine, displayed much dramatic feeling. Mabel Summers, as Polly Jordan, a vivacious, talkative maiden, was also popular.

Stephen Ghent, the possessor of many vices, and yet a certain amount of nobility, was enacted to perfection by William E. Blake. The other members of the company also acquitted themselves creditably. Specialties were given between the acts by Miss Mabel Summers and Mr. Charles Whitehouse.

The cast of characters was as follows: Stephen Ghent, Wm. E. Blake; Philip Jordan, Bert S. Dicks; Winthrop Newberry, Ed La Renz; Dr. Newberry, Scotts Allen; Lon Anderson, Chas. Whitehouse; Dutch, Joseph R. Knappman; Pedro, Arthur Melton; Burt Williams, Joe Knap; Architect, J. W. Richards; Mrs. Jordan, Florence Natoli; Polly Jordan, Mabel Summers; Ruth Jordan, Miss Belle Stevenson.

"TEXAS" AT THE GRAND.

"Texas," said to be one of the best of ranch plays, will hold the boards at the Grand to-morrow night. It is a success without the aid of gunpowder. The story is diverting, and concerns the efforts of a greaser named Pasquale to brand Freshwater Jack Dallam as a cattle thief. There has long been bad blood between the two men, engendered when the hero prevented the Mexican from shooting an Englishman in the Jersey Lily saloon, Langtry, years before the action of the play. Dallam joins the Texas Rangers for the express purpose of rounding up the "rustlers," and finally succeeds in bagging Pasquale. Pasquale is jailed to await trial, but escapes and attacks Dallam, who is convalescing at Buckhead Ranch house from a wound received from the greaser at the time of the capture. A struggle ensues which results in the villain's death, and the most thrilling of stage fights. There is a strong heart-warming running through the play, with Texas West as the heroine, and the object of adoration of every cow-puncher on the mesa.

"GRAUSTARK."

Seats will be on sale on Thursday morning for "Graustark," which comes to the Grand next Saturday, matinee and night. The play is no doubt familiar to most theatre-goers. It is a dramatization of George Barr McCutcheon's popular story. It has been made into a thrilling, romantic five-act play, and is said to follow the book closely, dealing as it does with the daring adventure of an American for the love of a princess. The play is said to be in the hands of a very capable company, and is staged perfectly.

There's a fine place in heaven for the man who lives up to his wife's expectations of him.

The birth rate still continues, and yet some people insist that there is nothing new under the sun.

McGuire was a young man of about 20 years of age and unmarried. Another brother, John, is attending a medical college in Chicago.

Here is a New Kind of Soap

You are now using some soap and naturally think it is good. But here is a kind that is different from any you know—one that has taken us 43 years to perfect. Try one cake and compare it with what you now use. We welcome such a test as this for we know in advance the result. You will never go back to the other kind. Here is a soap made from vegetable oil pure enough to use on your table. We pay far more for this in France than we might pay. So we get only the best.

Cocoon oil from the isle of Ceylon is brought over 12,000 miles and mixed with the olive oil. Then both are boiled doubly long.

After this we mill them by our own special process. We have scoured the best factories of England, France and Austria for almost half a century to perfect this process. We have combined the best ideas of foreign lands with our own improvements to attain perfection.

When milled, the soap falls like flakes of snow into enormous bins and is then crushed under a weight of 30 tons to press out the moisture. Then it passes through granite rollers and comes out in miles of silky ribbon.

After being dried eight times it is pressed into cakes and is simply perfect soap. It lathers into a rich creamy foam and wears as thin as a wafer. It leaves the skin rosy and pink like an infant's. So we call it Infants' Delight.

The perfume is dainty and pure—it suggests only the delicate scent of the roses. Use one cake today and see what a wonderful difference there can be in soap.

Place a pint of warm water on the stove and shave up a cake of Infants' Delight. Let it simmer until the soap is dissolved. Then pour into a wide jar to cool into jelly. Clean the hair with a brush, wet it with warm water, and rub the soap jelly into the scalp thoroughly. Rinse off the thick lather and dry the hair by rubbing and fanning with a towel. This will leave the hair soft, shiny and lustrous.

LABOR DISPUTES.

SATISFACTORILY SETTLED BY THE LEMIEUX ACT.

Awards of Conciliation Board Accepted in Differences Between C. N. R. and Its Sectionmen and Between G.T.R. and Its Operatives.

Ottawa, Aug. 16.—The Department of Labor has received word of the settlement by the Lemieux act conciliation boards of the disputes between the railwaymen and the Canadian National Railway and the Grand Trunk Pacific and that company. The Canadian Northern employees protested against a reduction of five cents a day in pay. The board found in favor of the men. The company was going to refuse to accept the finding, but after the Minister of Labor had urged that it was in the best interest of industrial peace to accept the awards of these boards, the company decided to accept.

The Grand Trunk Pacific engine drivers, firemen, conductors, brakemen, log-gangmen and yardmen objected to the pay schedules, certain rules, in dismissals, and the sleeping and eating accommodations provided. The men did not want a conciliation board, but their objection on this point was overruled by the Minister of Labor, and they have now accepted the finding of the board. The company claimed that allowance should be made in considering the demand of the men for better eating and sleeping accommodations for the fact that the road is in a constructive stage, and that the claims of the men on this and the wages point were premature. The board reached a practically unanimous finding on all points, and while the provisions for eating and sleeping may not be entirely satisfactory, they have been as good as are usually provided at this stage of railroad development. The board recommended the company to improve the conditions and to provide inspection of the eating and sleeping accommodations and of sanitation. As to dismissals, the board finds that some of the cases might be reconsidered by the company with a view to restoring the men to their places. Schedules of pay have been agreed upon. The board of this board was ex-Speaker Sutherland, and the other members F. H. McGuigan and J. G. O'Donoghue.

CHINESE SMUGGLERS.

Band on an Island in Detroit River Broken Up.

Windsor, Aug. 16.—A band of Chinese smugglers, using a deserted island ten miles down the river as a base of operations, is believed to have been broken up by the capture of three young Detroit men and two Chinese in Lansing, last week. With the knowledge gleaned from the prisoners, it is believed a temporary check, at least, has been put on the band. The headquarters of this gang of smugglers, according to Assistant U. S. District Attorney Bland, is on Fighting Island, inside the Canadian border.

It is the belief of the Government authorities that the gang, checked at this point, but upon the deserted island as their headquarters, and that Chinese to be smuggled were taken in hand upon their arrival at Windsor and secreted on the island, probably in one of the fishermen's huts, until an opportunity arose to take them across the line in a launch. But the wrong on this side of their first trial, it is believed, and all because the white men involved were unable to control their hunger.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

A Deck Hand Falls Between Boat and Lock.

Prescott, Aug. 16.—A sad accident occurred at Cardinal, about 7:20 Sunday evening, whereby Lawrence Belding, a deck hand on the steamer Dundurn, and a native of St. John, N. B., was killed. Belding was following another man down a rope, when he slid too far, and his body was horribly crushed between the boat and the lock gate. Death was instantaneous. The body was recovered a short time after. Dr. McPherson, the coroner, was called in at once, and after viewing the remains, considered a minute unnecessary, as it was clearly a case of accidental death. The body was forwarded to St. John this afternoon. Belding has a brother, a teller in the Bank of Nova Scotia, Toronto.

PRAISES CANADIANS.

The London Times on the West Indies Commission.

London, Aug. 15.—The Times criticizes the Canada-West Indies Commission on the ground that Lord Balfour of Burleigh and Sir J. Dickson Poynder are free traders. Clearly, such sympathy in the case for preference will receive," it says, "can only come from Sir Daniel Morris, whose knowledge of West Indian industry should prove invaluable, or from the Canadian representatives, Mr. Fielding, Sir Wilfrid Laurier's probable successor in the Premiership, will be remembered as the Minister who put into effect the first instalment of the Imperial preference. With the help of Mr. Paterson, he may now find it possible, we hope, to carry the empire yet another step upon the road."

IRON FELL ON HIM.

800 Pound Piece Takes Leg Off a Brantford Man.

Brantford, Aug. 16.—John Cornish, an employee of the Watrous Engine Works, was fatally injured this afternoon. He was helping unload a car of sheet iron by means of a crane, and one of the pieces, weighing 800 pounds, when suspended about ten feet in the air, fell, leveling the unfortunate fellow to the ground, the sharp edge severing one leg and inflicting severe internal injuries. Cornish was warned not to stand under the iron when it was swinging. He was removed to the hospital, but no hope is held out for his recovery.

GOOD SHORT STORIES

He was afraid to tell her right out and out that he loved her, so he began in a roundabout way, hoping she would catch his drift, then betray, by her confusion, her own feelings. He didn't dream but that she loved him, but thought that she, like himself, was afraid to demonstrate it.

"Heart trouble," she repeated. "Are you sure you've heart trouble, Alfred? You know indigestion is very like it at times."

"Oh, I know I've got heart trouble all right, I—can't you see it yourself?"

"Why, now silly, Alfred? No one can see heart trouble; they have to feel it. Have you taken anything for it?"

"No, not yet, but I—I want to, don't you know?"

"Then why don't you?"

"I—I would, that is, if I could get it."

"Can you get it, Alfred?"

"I—I don't know."

"Have you tried?"

"No, not yet."

(Silence for two provoking minutes.)

Alfred! (coldly)

Y—yes!"

"Let's have a game of checkers."—Boston Herald.

Robert J. Burdette, the famous humorist, is now a Baptist preacher in Los Angeles. In a recent letter to Dr. John Myer, who is pursuing Professor Foster, the alleged heretic, in Chicago, Burdette tells this story:

"As for the action of our Baptist ministers' conference, I think the body is on vacation until next September, and by that time the Foster incident will be as hard to recall as the items in an annual report."

"Dr. Foster reminds me very much of the dog—a very good, high-bred and thoroughly trained dog, you understand—that every morning for three years chased a railway train that ran past the farm. The farmer and his wife were watching the persistent but vain pursuit one warm morning.

"I wonder," the wife said, "what makes that foolish dog chase the train so persistently?"

"Never thought about that," replied the farmer, "but I've often wondered what he would do if he caught it!"—St. Louis Republic.

A "cub" reporter on an up-state paper was sent out by the city editor to get a story on the marriage of a young society girl and a man well known in the city.

The "cub" was gone about an hour and then returned and went aimlessly over to his desk, by which he sat down. Shortly afterwards the city editor noticed his presence and his evident idleness.

"Here, kid," shouted the superior, "why aren't you at work on that wedding?"

"Nothing doing," replied the boy.

"Nothing doing? What do you mean? Didn't the wedding take place?"

"Nope, the bridegroom never showed up, so there ain't nothin' to write."—Philadelphia Times.

"I take it," he said to the man who got on the depot with a suit case, "that you are going to the country."

"I am, sir," was the stiff reply.

"You have everything with you you will need?"

"Of course."

"Shirts, socks and toothbrush?"

"Certainly."

"Night shirt, toilet soap and handkerchiefs?"

"Do you think me a child, sir?" was asked.

"Of course not; but men are so absent minded, you see. Did you put in an extra pair of cuffs?"

"I did, sir. You and others may be careless, but I want you to know that I'm not. I have been three days packing this suit case."

"Um. You might need a needle and thread."

"And some buttons."

"They are here."

"But there must have been something forgotten," persisted the other.

"Nothing whatever," was the decided answer.

"For instance, your key. You have it, have you?"

The man sprang up and began feeling in his pockets and looking around, and after a moment called out:

"Here—somebody stole this old car! I've left the key to my suitcase on the mantel at home!"—Washington Herald.

A LITTLE HEROINE.

She Saved Life of a Companion at Chippewa.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Aug. 16.—After sinking twice, and just as she was going down for the third time, Nina Greenwood, the nine-year-old daughter of Police Officer Greenwood, was rescued by Alice Staidt, her twelve-year-old companion. Both girls reside at Chippewa, and were bathing in the Chippewa Creek. A stiff wind was blowing, and Nina was carried out beyond her depth. Her companion was sitting on the bank and did not notice the girl's danger until alarmed by her cries.

With splendid presence of mind, Alice sprang into the water, and swimming rapidly, reached the drowning child just as she was about to sink. Bringing the inanimate form to the shore, she immediately rushed to procure help. A doctor was summoned, and, after an hour's work, brought the child back to consciousness.

THE SUFFRAGETTES.

Two of Them in Court for Kicking Up in Prison.

Charged With Biting a Warden at Holloway.

London, Aug. 16.—Arising out of the conduct of suffragettes in Holloway jail, and following upon a visit of the Home Secretary (Mr. Gladstone) to that prison, two of the "hunger strikers," Miss Theresa Garnett, of Leeds, and Mrs. Dove Wilcox, of Bristol, were summoned at the North London police court on Wednesday afternoon, before Mr. E. S. Fordham, to answer charges of assault upon wardresses at Holloway.

The defendants were among a large number who were arrested in connection with the raid at Westminster on June 29, and were sent to prison for one month in default of a fine. The court was crowded with many friends of the "votes for women" movement. Mr. Bodkin prosecuted on behalf of the Home Office, but the defendants were not legally represented.

The case against Theresa Garnett, who was the defendant in two summonses for assault, was first taken in outlining the case, Mr. Bodkin said the complainant in the first charge was Annie Richards, a warden, who was assaulted by the defendant during the performance of her duties on July 19. It was perfectly clear, he added, that the women, who were committed to prison as the result of the disturbance outside the House of Commons, had agreed upon a plan of action to set at defiance the discipline and regulations of Holloway jail. Defendant began by refusing to give up her property, or to change into prison clothing, or to be medically examined. On July 13 fourteen of the prisoners, including the defendant, broke a number of windows belonging to their cells, and shouted, sang and signalled through the broken panes to friends in houses near the prison.

Altogether they behaved in a violent and insubordinate manner. The visiting justices attended the next day to deal with the insubordination. Two wardresses were sent to bring the defendant before the justices, but she refused to go. Two wardresses, including the complainant, were sent to assist the first two, and got hold of the defendant, who kicked and shouted and made a disturbance. She got hold of the complainant's hand and bit her until the blood came. The complainant had to be off duty a couple of days, and her hand clearly showed the marks of the defendant's teeth. What she had done was a nasty and dangerous thing. The matter presented some serious aspects, as nothing was more important than that the authority of those in charge of prisons should be maintained over those lawfully sentenced. It would seem that the defendant sought to be dealt with as a first-class misdemeanant—a condition of things which was not lawful. It was absolutely correct procedure that the defendant should be second-class prisoner, when, in her case, she refused to pay a fine and elected to go to jail.

The magistrate said the case was an extremely simple one. If the assault was committed, and it was not justified, the defendant must be punished.

Annie Richards, the warden, then told the court how, on July 14, she went to assist the two other wardresses. The defendant was ringing a bell and banging at her cell door with a dustpan. The warden tried to get the defendant out of her cell, when she struggled violently, and the dustpan had to be wrenched from her. In the course of the struggle the defendant took witness' hands up to her mouth, bit it on the knuckles, and blood flowed. Dr. Sullivan sent her off duty, where she remained for two days. Defendant was eventually taken before the justices.

In cross-examination by the defendant, the witness denied that the defendant threw the dustpan into the corner. It had to be taken from her. She did not hear the defendant say, "If you allow me to take my box I will come quietly."

"When did you first think I had bitten your finger? I did not think at all about it; I felt it."

Mr. Fordham—Do you think it is quite likely that in the struggle, and as you were throwing your hands about, your hand came in contact with her teeth?—No.

During the corroboration by other witnesses, Mr. Fordham remarked: She kicked about like a child in a temper, I suppose?—Yes.

Mr. Fordham—In what you call a tantrum?—Yes.

Mr. Bodkin said defendant refused to surrender her property.

Mr. Fordham—I thought people in jail were not allowed to have their property with them. I always thought that if I were sent to jail, I should be stripped, washed and placed in a cell, but I did not think I would be allowed to take, say, a cigar case. (Laughter.)

The three wardresses admitted that they did not see the defendant bite the complainant.

Dr. Scott, the prison doctor, described the refractory behavior of the defendant and the other suffragettes. In dealing with the prisoners he was face to face with a mutiny, and it was a question of using force.

Defendant, addressing the court, denied the allegation of biting. She refused to wear prison garb, because she protested against being treated as a second-class offender. The cell window was broken to get fresh air. When she stooped to pick up her bag she was thrown on her back.

The magistrate, dismissing the first summons, said the warden's wound was probably caused by her hand accidentally coming against defendant's teeth. He convicted her of assaulting another warden on a second summons, and sentenced her to one month's imprisonment.

In the first summons against Mrs. Dove Wilcox, defendant was found guilty, and fined 40s., with the option of ten days' imprisonment. She was also convicted of the second summons, and a similar sentence was passed.

DERAILED IN TUNNEL.

Freight Train Blocks the St. Clair Tube.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 16.—A special from Port Huron to-night says: The first accident in the St. Clair Tunnel since it was electrified at a cost of a million dollars occurred this morning, when a freight train broke in two while going up grade on the American side. The cars went backward into the big tube and piled against each other in a mass of wreckage. Twenty cars in all broke loose, and but for the fact that one of them jumped the track, derauling the others, no serious results would have ensued.

As it was, the wreckage held up traffic in the tunnel for nearly ten hours. The electric current was immediately shut off in the tunnel, and work proceeded without any danger to the employees. A feature of the new electric system is that which prevents other trains from entering the tunnel during an accident of this kind.

SHOT TO DEATH.

Michael C. Hall Murdered on Farm in Norfolk County.

Five Bullets Fired Apparently at Short Range.

Sincoo, Aug. 16.—The following fuller particulars are given of the shooting of M. C. Hall, the old blind man: Hall was shot at about half-past 2 on Sunday afternoon. Together with his wife, the dead man, seventy-eight years old, totally blind in one eye, while the other had also been attacked by cataract, and his left leg contracted by an old tubercular trouble, lived in a little plain farm house, their nearest neighbors a quarter of a mile away. The couple were not without relatives in the neighborhood, a brother living a mile away, but all their children had left home.

On Sunday afternoon Mr. Hall had been engaged on some odd job about the yard of the house, and was going indoors when five shots were fired, and the old man fell on his doorstep with a bullet in the brain. His wife rushed to his assistance, and as she vainly tried to raise him a fifth bullet whistled through the doorway.

The very manner of firing would seem to point to premeditation. The old man was walking along in front of his home towards the door. One bullet struck high under the right-hand eave, another nearer the window; the third crashed through the window pane; one caused the victim's death, while a fifth entered the house through the doorway. The fatal bullet entered the skull at its base, penetrating the occipital bone, but failing to enter the brain itself. A large blood-vessel had, however, been severed, and the man died almost instantaneously in a short space of time.

Mrs. Hall vainly tried to carry her husband into the house, but finally was able to attract the attention of a passing neighbor, a Mr. Charlton, who went to her assistance, and raised the country doctor, Dr. E. Meek, of Port Bowen, was sent for, but life was extinct long before he could arrive. In the meantime suspicion had fallen upon a young lad named Emery Shelley, who is only 16 years of age, and who had been seen shooting in the neighborhood with a small rifle. He was accordingly arrested, and placed in the hands of County Constable John S. Abel, of Silver Hill, for execution.

The arrest was made to-day at Forrestville, about three miles from St. Williams. Shelley was brought to Sincoo and placed in the town jail. He apparently is not disturbed, and denies all knowledge of the killing, although, it is said, admitting that he was firing his rifle, a 22-calibre, in the vicinity of Hall's home. Shelley is well known throughout the district, and is one of a large family.

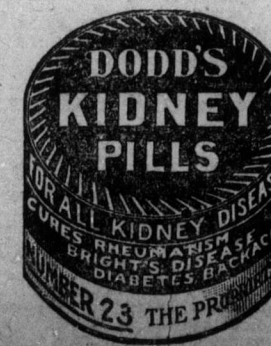

The direction of the bullet holes in the building are held to indicate that the shots were fired from near the barn, a distance of twenty-five yards.

Dr. E. Meek, of Port Rowan, and Dr. McKinnon, of St. Williams, performed a post-mortem to-day, with the result stated. Dr. McIntosh, of Sincoo, drove over to-day and opened the inquest, which was immediately adjourned until Thursday. Shelley will come before Squire Murphy on Friday for his preliminary hearing.

A HAIR-BREADTH ESCAPE.

William Hall, of Pilkington, Almost Killed by Train.

Gusph, Aug. 16.—Mr. William Hall, 75 years of age, of Pilkington township, had a narrow escape from being instantly killed by a G. T. R. passenger train while crossing the track between here and Elora. The horse was struck, thrown thirty feet into a fence corner and killed instantly. When the train was stopped and backed up to the crossing, Mr. Hall was found examining the buggy to see the extent of the damage. Only the whiffletree was broken, and Mr. Hall escaped without a scratch.

800 Pound Piece Takes Leg Off a Brantford Man.

Brantford, Aug. 16.—John Cornish, an employee of the Watrous Engine Works, was fatally injured this afternoon. He was helping unload a car of sheet iron by means of a crane, and one of the pieces, weighing 800 pounds, when suspended about ten feet in the air, fell, leveling the unfortunate fellow to the ground, the sharp edge severing one leg and inflicting severe internal injuries. Cornish was warned not to stand under the iron when it was swinging. He was removed to the hospital, but no hope is held out for his recovery.

UNITED SOUTH AFRICA NEAR.

Second Reading of Constitution Bill is Passed.

Number of Members Fixed for First Parliament.

British House of Commons Passed Second Reading Unanimously.

London, Aug. 16.—The House of Commons to-night unanimously passed the second reading of the South African constitution bill.

The race problem, Mr. Balfour said, was but a fractional part of the great question of the Union of the South African colonies.

THE BILL IN BRIEF. The London Daily Chronicle of July 26 gave the following summary of the South African constitution bill:

It shall be lawful for the King, with the advice of the Privy Council, to declare by proclamation that, on and after a day therein appointed, not being later than one year after the passing of this act, the colonies of the Cape of Good Hope, Natal, the Transvaal and the Orange River Colony shall be united in a legislative union under one Government.

The salary to be paid to the Governor-General is £10,000 a year. An Executive Council shall be formed, the members of which shall be appointed and summoned by the Governor-General.

The House of Assembly shall be composed of members directly chosen by the voters of the Union in electoral divisions. The number of members to be elected in the original Provinces at the first election shall be as follows:

Cape of Good Hope, 51. Natal, 17. Transvaal, 36. Orange Free State, 17. These members shall not, in the case of any original Province, be diminished until the total number of members of the House of Assembly reaches 150, or until a period of ten years has elapsed after the establishment of the Union, whichever is the longer period.

Parliament may by law prescribe the qualifications of voters, but no such law shall equalize the franchise on the basis of race or color, or on the basis of property, and, at the third reading, be agreed to by not less than two-thirds of the total number of members of both Houses. No person, who, at the passing of any such law, is registered as a voter in any Province shall be removed from the register by reason only of any disqualification based on race or color.

St. John, N.B., Aug. 16.—One man was killed and several others had narrow escapes when six spans of the New Brunswick section of the National Transcontinental collapsed on Saturday afternoon.

The dead man is John McMullin, of Boston, and the injured are John Patterson, engineer, badly bruised, and four other workmen, not seriously hurt.

A PIOUS JOKE.

The Rev. Dr. Alexander relates that there lived in Peeblesshire a half-witted man, who was in the habit of saying his prayers in a field behind a stone-dyke. One day he was followed to this spot by some wags, who secreted themselves on the opposite side, listening to the man at his devotions, who expressed his conviction that he was a very great sinner.

THE HOUSEKEEPER. QUICK JELLY. This method is good for all fruits but pineapple, cranberry and quinces; Mash the raw fruit until all is well broken. Drain the fruit and put in a bag of salt bag is good for the purpose—and gently squeeze the juice into a dish. When all of the fruit is thus treated measure the juice and place in a kettle and put over the fire to cook. Measure one cupful of sugar for every cupful of juice, putting on the stove of the oven when it will become hot, but do not let it scorch. Let the juice boil for about eight minutes and skim, then add the hot sugar, bring to a boil, and cook one minute more. The color and flavor of the fruit is much better preserved by this plan than by the more tedious process. From beginning to end it will take less than an hour to make the jelly. INDIA RELISH. One peck green tomatoes, six large onions, three small peppers, one gallon vinegar, one ounce celery seed, one ounce white mustard seed, one ounce black mustard seed, and one ounce turmeric powder. Run tomatoes through a meat chopper or chop fine. Drain off juice. Chop onions and peppers. Put all the ingredients together and boil twenty minutes. Do not add all the vinegar until you find whether so much is needed to make sauce of proper thickness. Often the full gallon of vinegar is not needed. WHEN MAKING JAMS. When making jams and marmalades try the easier and together more satisfactory way of baking them in the oven instead of cooking on top of the range, where constant attention and stirring are imperative. Turn the burner down low and as your jam thickens around the edges of the pan, kettle or crock, stir it down. No further attention is necessary until it is done and you run absolutely no risk of burning it. BLEEDING HEART PICKLES. Select fine, large blood beets; Cook until tender; plunge into cold water for a minute; remove skins. Cut into slices one inch thick. Then recut with heart shaped cutter. Pickle in the usual way. These are especially nice to serve with a plate lunch—one heart to each plate. Walking. He who uses his legs is thereby enabled to use his eyes. Nature in all moods is the companion of him who walks. A network of sun and shadow, or a maze of muddy pools, lies before his feet. His cheek feels the impact of kindly breezes or harsher rain. The land in the road lures him onward and fills him with peaceful conjecture. A pleasant comrade at his side seems not amiss to most, though Hazlitt and Stevenson cast their votes against it, declaring that the full flavor of a walking trip is best gained by solitude. Stevenson better analyzes moods, but Hazlitt is the more lyric. He was among the first of Anglo-Saxon blood to sing the open road.—New York Evening Post.

HOME TOO SOON. Lieut. Morris Spoiled Civic Reception at Bowmanville. Bowmanville, Aug. 14.—Mayor Mason and a committee of representative citizens called at the home of Lieut. F. H. Morris last evening, and after a round of speeches of a congratulatory nature by Reeve Tole, Chairman of the reception committee; Mayor J. J. Mason; W. F. Stearns representing Durham Rubber Works; Christian Rehder, the Bowmanville Foundry Co.; J. B. Mitchell, the Dominion Organ & Piano Co.; Councilor J. H. Cryderman and M. A. James, Mr. W. F. Stearns, on behalf of all the people of the town, presented Lieut. Morris with a handsome gold medal bearing the inscription: "Presented to Lieut. F. H. Morris by the Citizens of Bowmanville for creditable shooting at Bisley, 1909." Lieut. Morris acknowledged the donation and the appreciative addresses in a modest but capital speech. A letter was read from Thomas Yellowless, Toronto, conveying greetings from Durham Old Boys' Association. It was intended to have given him a great citizens' reception on Monday evening on the town square, but the committee's telegram sent to him at Montreal miscarried in some way and he came home early Saturday instead of remaining at Montreal till Monday morning, as the message requested.

AT THE FIRST CORNER THE TWINS STUMBLER AND A BEAK-BERRY PIE SPILLED OUT ON THE ASPHALT. basket hat was ruined and a glass of marmalade overturned on Stella's white frock. When they reached the upper deck a sudden gust of wind carried Gibson's new straw hat into the middle of the river. "Blast the luck—confound—condemned!" he began, but Mrs. Gibson, who was lamenting the wreck of the peach basket affair, silenced him with an eloquent look. Just before they reached the island Marian, the dark twin, while viewing the scenery, dropped the lunch basket overboard, and Mrs. Gibson, grabbing after it, allowed her glasses to slip into the tranquil river. "Well, I'll be eternally and forever and ever bamboozled and bifurcated!" fumed Mr. Gibson, until his wife quelled him. In the struggle to land Mr. Gibson was jabbed in the neck by a lady's hat-pin, and young William had his feet trampled upon until he cried for twenty minutes. Before an hour had passed it began to rain, and the crowd jammed the various pavilions. There was not room for all, and the Gibsons had to stand under the eaves where the water had a good dribbling chance at their necks. By lunch time the party was wet and ravenous. The lunch stands were none too plentifully stocked, and the demand far exceeded the supply. Mr. Gibson at last obtained two loaves of damp, fishy bread at 20 cents each. The children cried meanwhile for the feast at the river's bottom. The rain became a downpour, and continued until the boat arrived for the return journey. The crowd by this time was thoroughly wet, and consequently had imbued a great deal of spirits, noxious and otherwise. As a result, Mr. Gibson had two warty encounters with gentlemen who imagined themselves insulted when he jostled them. The twins curled up and went to sleep, and Gibson

The Holiday. (By Stuart B. Stone.) The Gibsons began to prepare for their holiday three weeks in advance. It was Mr. Gibson who finally decided on the Knights of Augustus outing to Walnut Grove Island. It was advertised as an inexpensive day next to nature's heart, where the fagged business man might rest and recuperate—and Mr. Gibson needed a rest. Mrs. Gibson prepared a cold boiled ham, a chicken, two cakes, pickles, olives and other eatables, until the cost ran up to $4.88, but, as Gibson said, they would get sufficient relaxation out of the trip to save $50 in doctors' bills. At the first corner the twins stumbled and a blackberry pie spilled out upon the asphalt. "You careless creatures!" scolded Mrs. Gibson; but Mr. Gibson chuckled. "Let them have their fun. This is going to be a funny day." At the next corner one of the tough Mulligans' pierced William's balloon with a slingshot, and the procession was delayed three minutes while the young man sobbed out his grief. Gibson stamped around nervously for a bit, but the caravan got under way again, and no further incident occurred on the way to the boat, save for the street car conductor's short-changing Gibson to the amount of 50 cents. In the crush to board the Mary V. Dotson, Mrs. Gibson's $10.50 peach

A few young men intend to go to the Northwest soon to work in the harvest. Quite a number from the village and vicinity attended the Sabbath school picnic at Teeterville on Tuesday. A few from here took in the excursion on Thursday to Niagara Falls. Farmers are busy these days with their oat harvest, plowing and getting their land in shape for sowing fall wheat and rye. Mr. and Mrs. R. Cooper were visiting the former's parents a few days ago. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Smith spent Sunday with relatives in Otterville. Mr. James Mather was calling on his brother a few days ago. Mrs. W. Smith has returned home after spending a few weeks in Woodstock with relatives. BURIED UNDER GRAVEL. Guelph Workmen Rescued After Half-hour's Imprisonment. Guelph, Ont., Aug. 16.—Four men employed by Mr. H. Croft, of Guelph, were buried by a cave-in of gravel on Saturday afternoon at a bridge being built over a creek near the Four Corners. An excavation was being made for the new structure, and the men were digging five feet below the creek level, when the gravel on one side caved in. The other men employed on the work hurried to the assistance of their imprisoned comrades, and in half an hour the four men were released from their involuntary confinement. All had received slight injuries, but no serious results are feared. AGREEMENT REACHED. Australia Will Spend Money on Cruisers and Control Her Ships. London, Aug. 16.—The scheme of naval defence agreed to by the Australian representatives and the Admiralty is described as being completely satisfactory to Australian national sentiment. The Australian fleet does not pass automatically under the control of the Admiralty during war, but will be placed at its disposal. If, when necessity arises, it is recognized in war time that the navy must be under one central control, ample provision can be made for the interchange of officers, though for some time the Imperial navy must supply officers and men. No dreadnought will be given, the money being spent on cruisers. Does a man who works in the Mint have to have the money making instinct?

COMMENT AND GOSSIP

The committee elected at the Bobby Kerr meeting last week met at the Royal Hotel last night, appointed chairman, and made arrangements for the receiving and dining of Hamilton's autumn-haired sprinter.

When M. C. Pritchard's filly Arinette won the opening event on Saturday it made 40 races for this stable with three horses since the first of February.

Big Harry Lumley, fired for the first time in nine years, because he mildly questioned a decision, declares he will hereafter refrain from being a perfect gent.

The Rugby fans of Toronto are waking up, and the Argonauts are already laying plans for the coming season.

The scullers claim to have Quarterback Coryell and Outside Wing Dun-canson, of last year's champion 'Varsity team, and there is a remote chance that Lawson, the heavy-bucking half of last year's Varsity team, may not return to college this year.

Jack Johnson has started for California without putting up any more forfeits to bind the proposed match with Jeffries. The negro has accepted an offer to fight twenty rounds with Philadelphia Jack O'Brien at Colma on September 6, and will keep his agreement to fight Ketchel there on October 12 unless the latter should lose to Langford at the Fairmont A. C. on September 10.

Oral betting has been well tested this season. It has been fairly successful, according to both layers and players, but it lacks stability. The inability to make written memoranda of individual transactions has served as a hardship in many instances.

There is now every indication of a turf war in Canada, all of which will not do racing any good in this country. The other day a racing association was granted a charter to hold race meets in Toronto, Montreal, Quebec and Winnipeg, and from this on Dufferin Park, Delorimer Park and the rest of the so-called outlaw tracks will flourish, no Pinkertons or anybody else daring to molest them or make them afraid.

From what we can judge, the movement is not in the best interests of racing as these new tracks will tend to become merry-go-rounds, as the best horses are likely to follow the Woodbine and other tracks in preference to those of the new association. As we have mentioned on previous occasions, they will keep it up until racing is killed in Canada, just as it is in the United States, and for the very same reasons.

The "sport of kings" has become the plaything of a number of men whose object is apparently to put it completely out of business. They care not so long as they get a dollar out of it. We do not like the looks of this new turn in affairs.—London Advertiser.

Toronto Markets

Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 90 carloads, consisting of 1,848 cattle, 8 hogs, 442 sheep and 56 calves.

The quality of cattle was much the same as has been coming for some time on this market.

There was a fair trade for all butchers' cattle that drovers were willing to sell, but for all good to choice cattle at all suitable for export, or even approaching that class, drovers had to be coaxed to part with them, choosing rather to wait for Tuesday's market, when the American export traders would be on deck.

There was nothing doing in the export class, but the market for some extra fine loads of cattle in this class, as usual.

All, or nearly all, the leading buyers were on the market, as well as some dealers from outside points.

Butchers—The following are the quotations for the butchers' that were placed on sale: Choice, picked lots, $5.29 to $5.60, and one load, weighing 1,205 lbs., each, sold at $5.75; loads of good, $5 to $5.25; one load of 22 cattle, 1,045 lbs., being sold by Dunn & Leveck at the latter price; medium, $4.75 to $5; common, $3.75 to $4.50; cows, $3 to $4.40.

Milkers and Springers—Milkers and springers sold at $37 to $38 each.

Veal calves—Veal calves sold at $3 to $6.50 per cwt.; and one new milk-fed calf brought $7 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs—Lambs sold at from $6 to $6.70, or an average of about $6.50 per cwt.; rams, $2 to $2.75 per cwt.

FARMERS' MARKET. Hay is unchanged at $18 to $20 a ton for old, and at $14 to $16 for new. Bundled straw sold at $14 a ton.

COBALT STOCKS. The mining market in Toronto yesterday was somewhat active, the chief interest centering around Cobalt Lake, which opened at 16 and closed at 17.58.

Little Nipissing was also in demand around 27.34. The balance of the list was fairly strong, Temiskaming closing about the same as the previous day.

Eight Cobalt mines shipped over last week, sending to the smelters a total of 252 tons, or 8,657.12 tons. Nipissing and La Rose, as usual, made the heaviest shipments last week.

DUN'S REVIEW. All branches of business affected by the new tariff law are rapidly adjusting themselves to the amended schedules, and the ending of the period of uncertainty as to the rates of duty to be imposed has already had the effect of stimulating trade, and especially in those lines which have been slow in reviving from the late depression.

Nothing is apparently lacking to complete the evidences, which have been accumulating during the past few weeks, of a full recovery from the deadening effects of the crisis of 1907, and the revival now gives promise of a rapidly without parallel in the records of American business.

The chief development of the past week has been the Government crop report, which affords practical assurance of remarkable yields of corn and oats and an unexpectedly large yield of wheat. Next to this interest is the report on copper production, revealing much larger consumption and improved trade conditions.

The progressive activity in iron and steel is maintained. The dry goods trade continues its steady improvement. The demand for labor is increasing.

It is not exactly killing a woman with kindness to permit her to be dressed to kill.

CLEWS' REPORT.

New York, Aug. 14.—Conditions in Wall street are altogether extraordinary. On every hand there are signs of recuperation, and business is rapidly recovering ground lost after the panic.

Improvement in industry and in trade is now being followed by a good harvest, and the nation's cup of good fortune appears to be filled to the brim. This does not mean that we have regained the activity and profits of the boom year; they are still remote; but it does mean that a very substantial and wholesome recovery has already taken place which promises to continue for some time to come.

The controlling factor outside of the stock market is the crop outlook. This is exceedingly encouraging.

The money market shows a firmer tendency for both call and time rates. Much will depend upon our export trade and the international movement of securities.

The present movement in stocks bears all the earmarks of very bold and hazardous speculation. During and after the panic many rich men bought stocks very freely, withdrawing funds from or-

SHIP ASHORE AT LONG ISLAND

Three-Masted Schooner Driven on Long Island Sand Bar.

Seven Men, Including the Captain, Rescued by Life Savers.

One Seaman Drifted Out to Sea on a Life Raft.

New York, Aug. 17.—A three-masted schooner, apparently laden with lumber, was driven on the sand bar 300 yards off Long Beach, L. I., at 4 o'clock this morning by a northeast gale. Soon after daylight seven men of the crew were seen clinging to the bowsprit, having been driven there by the waves, and preparations were made to shoot a line over the stranded ship, whose identity could not be determined, so as to rig a breeches buoy in the hope of taking off the imperiled men.

Five hours after the discovery of the wreck the life-savers still were awaiting another opportunity to get their boats through the surf. Meantime a life-preserver bearing the name "Arlington, Boston," drifted ashore, evidently cast overboard by one of the sailors, either to carry the name of the stranded vessel to the watchers on the beach or to show the drift of the current. Soon after a raft of the sailors launched a raft from the vessel, apparently with the intention of bringing a line ashore, but the current carried him further from the shore, and away to the westward, exposed to seas which constantly swept the raft. The vessel seemed to be resting solidly in the sand and in no immediate danger of breaking up. The mast still was standing, but the crew apparently were unwilling to trust themselves afloat.

New York, Aug. 17.—Seven men, including the captain, were rescued from their perilous positions on the bowsprit of the craft, stranded on a sand bar off Long Beach, L. I., today. Life-savers from the ship drifted out of sight towards Sandy Hook.

After waiting on the beach until nearly 10 o'clock the life-savers made an desperate attempt, and succeeded in getting their life boat through the surf. After that the rescue of the crew of the stranded schooner was easy, and was accomplished. Rowing off through the heavy rollers, the life-savers threw a line to the crew clinging to the bowsprit, and one by one they dropped into the surf boat and were safely landed on the beach.

By this time hundreds of guests from the beach hotels were gathered there, and cheered enthusiastically when the men were rescued. Several of the crew were taken into the Hotel Nassau, and cared for, while the others were given shelter and clothing in the life-saving station. Exhausted by their long exposure to the driving wind and rain, the survivors were hurriedly able to tell the story of the wreck.

The captain, however, said that he was misled by the lights of the Hotel Nassau, which he took to be those of some great liner. Believing that his vessel must be far from shore, he and his crew, and supposed his vessel was still in deep water until she struck the beach. The captain said his vessel was the Arlington, of Boston, and that she would be a total loss.

Madden Pierson, the Swedish sailor from the Arlington who put off in a life raft from the stranded vessel, was washed ashore alive at Rockaway Beach during the morning, and is being cared for there. Eight men in all were rescued from the schooner by the Long Beach life-savers.

Boston, Aug. 17.—The schooner Arlington, ashore on Long Island, is owned by John S. Connerly & Co., of this city, and was commanded by Captain Ira Small. She was bound from New York to Mayport, Florida, with a cargo of 850 tons of coal.

SETTLEMENT LOOKED FOR. Mr. Geo. S. Kerr held a conference yesterday afternoon with Solicitor Lobb and Mr. McCormick, superintendent of construction of the Hydro-Electric Commission, with a view to arriving at a settlement with the farmers of Annesette and Glanford. Nothing has actually been settled yet, and the conference will be continued. Mr. Kerr stated this morning that he expects to arrive at a satisfactory agreement with the Government in a very few days.

BAND ON THE WATER. To-morrow afternoon the 91st Band will give the fifth popular weekly concert on the steamer Modjeska, leaving Hamilton at 2.15 p. m. Passengers may return with hand, leaving Toronto at 5.30 p. m., or may remain over in Toronto until 7.30 p. m., arriving home at 10 p. m. Those who have not already enjoyed one of these pleasant events should not fail to take advantage of the opportunity to-morrow. Fifty cents return on either boat.

EPWORTH LEAGUE. There was a very large attendance at the devotional meeting of the Barton Street Methodist Epworth League last night. Mr. P. Moore, Vice-President, occupied the chair. A very helpful and interesting paper was read by Mrs. Faulkner, after which the roll was called and responded to by all members present.

SMALL FIRE AT HERALD. The fire department were called to a fire at the Herald office this morning at 3.35. The outbreak occurred in the stereotyping room, and had got a fairly good hold when the firemen arrived. About $200 damage was done, chiefly to paper in stock. Sergeant Moore gave the alarm. He saw smoke rising from the building and he was passing by.

A nervous woman's illness is frequently due to the fact that the doctor needs the money.

No Place to Rest His Head

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 17.—Jack Johnson, the heavyweight champion of the world, who arrived in this city yesterday afternoon, made application at local police station at an early hour this morning for assistance in obtaining a place to sleep. After a night of fetes, in which the colored population of Salt Lake acted as host, Johnson repaired to a local hotel, where, it is said, rooms had been engaged for himself and wife. He was informed that the hostelry did not cater to colored trade, and after vainly seeking accommodations elsewhere, he made an appeal at police headquarters, but was told that the department could not interest itself in the matter.

TEA TABLE GOSSIP.

A purse snatching case took place in a King street this morning. The thief made good his escape.

Some one with the audacity of a Toronto citizen entered the house of Mr. Charles Jolley, on the mountain, this morning early, by removing the screen on the kitchen door. The thief fled and departed.

George March, 342 East avenue north, while working on the new Harper greenhouse, at the corner of Wellington and King William streets, had $3.85 stolen from his trousers pocket yesterday. The trousers were hanging up in the building.

The condition of Mr. Archibald Cochrane, county treasurer, is reported to be a little better to-day. He passed a quiet night and slept well. His brother, Mr. Duncan Cochrane, who is treasurer of the municipal corporation of Ridgeway, was in the city to-day and called at the hospital to see him.

To-morrow the Fruit Growers will have their annual picnic at Hotel Brant park, Burlington. It will be one of the jolliest of the season and those who go will find something of interest all the time. A committee of hustlers has worked out an excellent programme of games, speeches, etc., and there will be dancing in the pavilion at 8.15 p. m. The Thirteenth Band will be present and an enjoyable time is assured. Special rates on all electric lines.

WHITEY IRVINE

May Get Two Sentences Before He is Free Again.

Immediately after his trial in Brantford "Whitey" Irvine will be brought to this city to face a similar charge to that on which Mark Tompkins has already been sentenced to ten years' imprisonment.

If he is found guilty in Brantford and sentenced to a term in the Central Prison he will first serve that and then be brought here for trial on the more serious charge. The police believe that, in case of conviction, he will get about as stiff a dose as Tompkins.

FAIR RACES.

Good Sport at South Wentworth Fall Show.

The executive of the South Wentworth Agricultural Society held a convention last night with the Hamilton Driving Club in the Court House Hotel. Arrangements were made for sports for the first afternoon of the fair. The driving club will superintend the races and provide three for the afternoon. Two trotting races and one pony race will fill the bill for that day. On the afternoon of the second day the society will furnish the sport. There will be a farmers' and a gentlemen's driving race, a high-stepping driver exhibition, saddle and pony races, which, it is expected, will furnish much excitement.

AGAINST STREET RAILWAY.

T. Shinoin is taking action against the Hamilton Street Railway Company for injuries received in an accident. Messrs. Pablow & Ogilvie issued a writ this morning on his behalf for $200 damages. The plaintiff claims that while boarding a car the conductor rang the bell to start before he was seated, and he fell and was dragged some distance. He received a broken rib and general shake-up.

STEAMER SUNK.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Montreal, Que., Aug. 17.—The steamer Glenagary, bound from Kingston to Montreal, with 20,000 bushels of wheat aboard, struck Concrete Island, on which a bridge swings across the Lachine Canal, sustaining such damages that she sank almost immediately. The vessel is being lighted. It will be raised and towed to Kingston for repairs. No estimate of the loss is available, but it will be slight, as the grain is dry.

FREE RURAL MAIL.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 17.—There have been about a hundred rural mail delivery routes established in Canada since the inauguration of the system last autumn. The majority of them are in Ontario and Manitoba. The demand for free rural mail routes is less active in Quebec and the Maritime Provinces than in other parts of Canada.

UNION MEN HURT.

DIED AT ALBERTON.

Robert James Stewart, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. James Stewart, of Alberton, passed away to-day at his parents' residence, at the age of 9 years. Much sympathy will be extended to Mr. Stewart's mother and family. The funeral will take place Thursday at 2 p. m.

PREFERS TO GO TO JAIL.

Lynden Man Works on Sunday for Conscience Sake.

Dundas, Aug. 17.—Charles Gibbins, of Lynden, was before Mayor Lawrason yesterday, charged with violation of the Lord's day act. The Lynden branch of the Alliance was the complainant. The accused put up a strong plea on his own behalf, and said that he conscientiously believed that Saturday was the Sabbath and observed that day, but believed it his right and duty to work on Sunday. The Mayor, while not disputing his theological views, decided that he had violated the laws of the land and fined him $10. The accused intimated that rather than pay the fine he would take the time in jail, but the Mayor gave him until next Saturday to pay the fine, and intimated that perhaps by that time his conscientious scruples would give way to the Lord's day act.

The country school teachers of Dundas who left yesterday morning to begin their duties were Miss Hyde, at the Valley road; Miss Liddy, at Orkney, and Miss Stella Moore, at Valens. Miss Frances Chamberlain, whose health has not been satisfactory of late, yesterday went to the Mountain Sanatorium to sojourn for a time.

Miss Hilda Brown has charge of the Dundas post office during the absence of Postmaster Graham.

BIG FIRE WOULD MEAN DISASTER.

The City Hall metered? Mr. Macallum himself then turned off the Macallum. The incident does not make the need of meters any less apparent.

The engineers have completed the plans for the Guelph Junction Road, which will join the C. P. R. tracks near Hamilton Cemetery. The route has been laid out to avoid the heavy grade to Copetown.

Chairman Allan says the Board of Works could, if desired, finish up its work for the year within the next month. It has been thought advisable, however, to spin the work out until fall and to do this it has been necessary to lay some of the men off.

The aldermen have been so successful in cleaning up the important business before them during the first half of the year that it is likely the Council will adjourn for another month on September 15th.

The air pressure tanks for the mountain waterworks system have been installed and it is expected that some of the residents will get a water supply next week.

It was expected that the appeal in the street lighting arbitration would have been taken up again this week, but the delay in getting the evidence of the experts means that it will be several weeks before the matter is settled.

J. R. Mills has made a suggestion to the City Engineer's department that street crossings be built flush with the sidewalks. Mr. Macallum says the difficulty about this would be in taking care of the water at street crossings during heavy showers or street flushing.

Stewart McPhie was granted a permit to-day for a brick house on Bay street, between Jackson and Main streets, for Henry Cox, to cost $1,800.

Taxes paid in at the City Hall yesterday amounted to $27,211, making a total of $288,414 received to date, almost all of which is school rates.

The Hospital Board this morning appointed Charles Mills architect for the new addition to be made to the isolation buildings on the hospital grounds.

COPE STINSON.

Death of the Celebrated Horseman at Guelph.

R. Copeland Stinson, familiarly known as "Cope," is dead. He received a sudden call in Guelph on Saturday. Cope Stinson was one of the best horsemen of his day, celebrated all over America as a trainer and driver of trotters. He was a Hamilton man, born on June 7, 1847, but had lived chiefly in Brantford, going there from this city when a young man. He returned to this city about fifteen years ago to manage the Hamilton Jockey Club road house for the club, and maintained a large training stable while here, but remained only a few years. For some years he managed the San Matea racing farm, near San Francisco.

fatality seemed to hang about the family. Cope's father was killed on the railway, and his son, Dr. J. C. Stinson, lost his life in the San Francisco fire. This event greatly affected both Mr. and Mrs. Stinson. The latter lived only a few months.

Deceased leaves only one son, Harry Stinson, also a noted horseman, who keeps a training stable at Syracuse. A daughter, Mrs. Roberts, Guelph, also survives.

THIEVES CONSUMPTIVE.

Ottawa, Aug. 17.—Physician Argue has reported to the provincial authorities on the condition of Conrad and Woods, the men sentenced to a year in Central for the McMillan diamond robbery. The men have tuberculosis in the incipient stages, and probably will not be taken by the prison, but instead will serve time in the local jail.

King William street. His wife informed him that his mother was sick at her home on Jackson street, and he at once put on his civilian clothes and jumped on his bicycle to hasten to his mother. When passing King and Catharine streets he heard the angry remark, "You can't back it up," came from the corner. That caused him to look round, and as soon as he did the shots were fired.

With great promptness Brown gave chase to the fleeing man, who was making south on Catharine street. The constable rode up King street and along John, purposing to head off Lorenzo, who was being chased by an angry crowd. Brown met him at the corner of the Court House grounds on Main street, and closed on him, though the revolver was being waved around by the excited prisoner. The officer took no notice of the threats, but caught the man by the throat, and after a struggle, took the revolver from him. When the prisoner saw the excited crowd after him, he called loudly for the police, as he evidently feared bodily harm. The constable subdued the crowd by making his identity as a police officer known, and hurried Lorenzo off to the police station, followed by the ever-increasing crowd.

When Brown jumped off his bicycle at the Court House grounds at Main street, White's chum, who gave chase after the prisoner, took the policeman's bicycle and hurried off to No. 3 Police Station to call for aid, but before assistance reached the scene Brown had the prisoner in safe keeping.

During all the excitement a number of people hurried to see if White was hurt, but found he was not. Detective Coulter was called and he went to attend White, but to his regret the detective then went to 119 Wellington street north and told White's father of the incident. The young man had not yet arrived home and Mr. White, sen., accompanied the detective in search of the boy. Inquiries were made everywhere for the young man, but no trace of him could be found. The police searched every nook and corner, thinking that he might have been shot and fallen from loss of blood, after walking away.

Witnesses of the occurrence said that they were sure White was hurt, though Mr. Semmes, the confectioner, thought he saw powder on White's ear. After he did not last night because he was going to Ferguson avenue, and he had a presentment of danger. He also said he brought the revolver here from Buffalo three years ago. After he had been in the cells some time he spoke to the officers again and they understood him to say he hoped the white was found, and that if he died to let him know and he would kill himself.

Lorenzo, it is alleged, when asked what he shot at White for, replied: "Why, to kill him." The prisoner said that White asked him for whiskey, and because he had none, White tried to fight, so he fired his revolver and fired, because he said White was bigger than he and he could not fight.

Detective Coulter asked Lorenzo if he always carried a revolver and he said "No." Last night was the first time he had carried it for a long time. He said he did not last night because he was going to Ferguson avenue, and he had a presentment of danger. He also said he brought the revolver here from Buffalo three years ago. After he had been in the cells some time he spoke to the officers again and they understood him to say he hoped the white was found, and that if he died to let him know and he would kill himself.

Lorenzo was in the prisoner's dock at the police court this morning, and was arraigned. He was not represented by counsel, and was remanded until next Monday.

A daybreak this morning Detective Coulter was on the corner of King and Catharine streets trying to find the bullets that were fired last night, but no trace could be found.

The fearlessness of P. C. Brown is being commented on everywhere on the street to-day. Three times within a month Brown has shown the plucky stuff in him. On July the 12th he entered the burning building at the Slater shoe store to rescue a woman, and two nights after he went in the burning laundry on York street to rescue a crippled boy.

P. C. Pettit last night was on duty at the corner of Main and Walnut streets and heard two distinct shots. He hurried in the direction where the sound came, but the alleged miscreant had been captured.

GOOD START. Thirteenth Man at Head of List in First Match.

Long Branch Rifle Ranges, Ont., Aug. 17.—The opening day of the Ontario Rifle Association matches was ushered in rather gloomily. Rain and rather heavy mist is falling, making things quite uncomfortable for the marksmen, all, however, seem jolly and highly excited at the prospect of testing their skill at the targets once more. The wind is southerly, and quite a breeze is blowing, but this does not deter the shooters from making good scores from the number of bull-eyes being recorded. This morning the tyro match at 200 yards range was finished, and in the afternoon the Canadian Club match at 300 yards, besides several minor events, will be contested. The attendance is about the same as on the opening day last year, and is constantly increasing.

Long Branch Rifle Ranges, Aug. 17.—Following are the chief scores in the Canadian Club match, 300 entries, in the O. R. A. matches, which opened this morning:

1. J. Armstrong, 13th, 54, 320. 2. R. Boughton, W. C. R. A., 54, 315.
