A young man in Goderich was fined the other day for driving his auto past a funeral at a high rate of speed. Few people are probably aware that in case a motorist is meeting a funeral he is to turn down a side street if possible, but if not he is to stop and stand motionless until the cortege passes. This law, was no doubt made when autos were not so numerous and horses were apt to take fright at the sight of one. But it will do no one any harm to show due respect to a funeral procession. Over one hundred years ago it was written: "God guard us from the man who bears not his brow to the dead."

TIRE USERS who figure cost per mile and freedom from trouble insist on DOMINION TIRES—our specialty.—R. MORNINGSTAR.

BEHIND every industry in Canada—

—from the patient truck-gardener bowed over his lettuces—

—to the young manufacturer struggling to prove the worth of Canadian skill and Canadian material in some new enterprise—

—stand the railways—the intelligence, the power and the hopes of the railways of Canada.

Not, like the Exploiter, watching to take harsh advantage of hard-times or the follies of a boom—

Not seeking by a moment's shrewdness to "clean up a million and get out!"

Not interested in the price of real estate in just ONE town, or the prosperity of just ONE province—

But, instead, employing their widely-gathered intelligence in the interests of all Canada for all time to come!

For the railways of Canada cannot be lifted up and carried away to serve any other master than Canada!

Their services cannot find any buyer but Canada!

They injure themselves if by asking too high returns To-day they damage the prosperity of the citizens of To-morrow.

The request for increased freight rates is made with these facts in view.

Canada will still have the cheapest, the fastest and the most reliable railways in the world!

Marshall Field Millions Have Become the Centre Of Numerous Law Suits

NEVER did a man leave so great a fortune so tightly tied up as did the late Marshall Field. The will has been several times attacked, but each time it has shown itself to be lawyer-proof. Perhaps hundreds of thousands of dollars have been invested in the effort to have the will broken, and now a last effort has been made, under the chief direction of Elihu Root. America's greatest lawyer does not base his contention on a point of law. He takes the broader ground that such a will as that of Marshall Field is contrary to public policy; that it is a menace to government, and that if the principle embodied in the will were permitted to continue unchecked it might result in the wealth of the country passing into the hands of two or three men or even of one man. It is quite conceivable that when the Field fortune is eventually distributed it will amount to a billion dollars, and it is equally conceivable that it will fall into the hands of one person. Is it against public policy that any man should have a billion dollars?

Marshall Field, who began as an errand boy, built up the largest retail business in the world and died fifteen years ago, left a fortune which was in excess of $100,000,000. That he was able to do this partly by debauching civic politics in Chicago has been said, and is not exactly to the point. No reference to the matter appears in the will. When he died he had two grandsons. He left the whole of his fortune to Marshall Field the Third and Henry Field. The estate was bequeathed to them in trust, and it was specified that as each reached the age of fifty the fortune could be divided, three-fifths of the whole going to Marshall and two-fifths going to Henry. It was provided that should either of the grandsons die without issue before becoming entitled to his share, it should go to the survivor. Now Henry Field died some time ago, leaving a widow and also a natural son, the result of a union with Peggy Marsh, an English actress. No question has been raised that Henry Anthony Marsh, the child, is the son of Henry Field. The question is, should the son inherit a part of his father's estate, or all of it?

Is the son of Peggy Marsh and Henry Field "issue" in the sense the word was used by Marshall Field, or did he mean "legal issue"? It has been held already that he meant "legal issue," but the question is raised once more. A lawsuit is now in progress in the United States to have Henry Anthony Marsh recognized as one of the legal heirs to the Marshall Field millions. In England there have been many decisions to the effect that "issue" means only "legal issue." Another question is, should the widow of Henry Field be permitted to share in the estate? The widow in the case is not Peggy Marsh, but Nancy Perkins, a daughter of one of the famous Langhorne families of Virginia, and now the wife of Arthur Ronald Field Tree. It is plain enough that a man's widow cannot be considered his issue. Did Marshall Field intend to cut his grandsons' wife off from any share in the estate, in the event of her husband's death? Those responsible for administering the estate take the ground that he did, that it was his

HIS LIFE RUINED BY DYSPEPSIA

Until He Tried "FRUIT-A-TIVES"
 The Wonderful Fruit Medicine

MR. FRANK HALL

Wyevale, Ontario.

"For some two years, I was a sufferer from Chronic Constipation and Dyspepsia.

I tried every remedy I heard of without any success, until the wife of a local merchant recommended 'Fruit-a-tives'.

I procured a box of 'Fruit-a-tives' and began the treatment, and my condition commenced to improve immediately.

The Dyspepsia ceased to be the burden of my life as it had been, and I was freed of Constipation.

I feel that I owe a great debt to 'Fruit-a-tives' for the benefit I derived from them."

desire that only his own direct descendants should share in it. His female descendants should share in it. His female descendants who were living at the time of his death had already been provided for handsomely, and the millionaire's sole interest appeared to be in his grandsons.

The chief mover in the latest effort to get the estate distributed is Capt. Marshall Field 3rd, but all others interested are anxious that he should succeed. One may well marvel that this young man needs any more money than is already at his disposal. He now receives an annual income of $40,000 from the trust fund, $70,000 a year for his services as trustee for the estate, and a year ago received the sum of $450,000, which the will provides shall be given him every five years until he comes into his full inheritance. Nineteen years from now he will also come into the accumulated income of the estate, which will amount to about $90,000,000. At the age of forty his income will be not far short of a couple of million dollars a year. He has no large family that ever we heard of, and it would appear that his present income of about $140,000 a year should be sufficient for the modest wants of a young man who has had experience of soldiering. But Capt. Field, who presumably knows his own business best, is attacking the will in order to get control of about $100,000,000 of the residuary estate.

As a verifuge there is nothing so potent as Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator, and it can be given to the most delicate child without fear of injury to the constitution.

Why We Need More Money!

Last year our rates for service were increased by ten per cent.

That was the first general increase in telephone rates in over twenty-five years.

To-day the general level of commodity prices is three hundred and fifty per cent over what it was twenty-five years ago.

Our operating expenses in 1919 had increased 99 per cent over 1915, while gross revenue was only 49 per cent greater.

Wages absorbed over 56 per cent of our revenue last year, and our wage bill this year will be at least 35 per cent higher than in 1919!

It is apparent that if we are to continue to pay good wages, and so ensure good service, and at the same time pay such a return to investors as will attract new capital to enable us to extend our plant, we must earn more money!

We must accomplish both of these things, else service to our present patrons will suffer and new applicants for service cannot be accommodated!

Increased rates are the only source from which such further revenue can come!

HOME RULE FOR IRELAND.

So far as Canadians can understand, Ireland is being offered the same kind of Home Rule which we have in Canada, with provincial local legislatures and House of Commons, remarks the Parkhill Gazette. It is a form of government which gives us the greatest freedom, the greatest power of self-expression and the greatest opportunity to make our own laws. Just the kind of laws they should be. If we want an ideal form of government we can make it as ideal as we wish. And Ireland has so far refused to consider a chance to be as free as we are within the empire.

There was a time when the southern States wished to be an independent nation. The North knew that they couldn't let the South go and the Civil war between the North and South was necessary. Just in the same way Great Britain knows that she cannot let Ireland go. To have an independent nation so near her heart would doubtless mean national disaster; and all the empire looks with long suffering pity on the struggle which now is and the struggle which is still to come before Ireland finds rest and peace and liberty, as Canada with her people of two races and two ideals have found them.

An amendment to the school law sets the minimum amount which the township council has to pay each school section at $800 for the principal and $400 for the assistant teachers, which makes a considerable increase over the old rate of $300 for principal and $200 for assistants. The idea of the change is to equalize as far as possible the school rate.

A Ford coupe owned by Dr. Houghton and driven by Dr. Jones of Wyoming, caught fire on the London Road on Sunday morning of last week. Dr. Jones with great presence of mind extinguished the flames with his coat. The interior of the car was a sad wreck after it was over as all the upholstery had to be torn out. The loss will be about $175.

Strathroy ratepayers will shortly vote by-law to grant $25,000 to the Andrews Wire Works and exemption from taxes. The main features of the proposition call for the loan of $25,000 without interest to the company for a period of 20 years, the company to repay the amount in equal annual instalments of $1,250, and to buy site, erect and equip buildings to the value of $95,000. The company are to be exempt from taxation for 10 years, save school and local improvement taxes, and insurance is to be kept on plant to cover the amount advanced by the corporation and made payable to the corporation. The company will immediately erect a new building of steel and concrete (60 x 120) containing 7,200 square feet of floor space. The town's interests will be ample protected by mortgage on the company's property. The company expect to employ at least 50 hands the first year and increase to probably two hundred during the second year of operation.

A TONIC FOR THE NERVES

The Only Real Nerve Tonic is a Good Supply of Rich, Red Blood.

"If people would only attend to their blood, instead of worrying themselves ill," said an eminent nerve specialist, "we doctors would not see our consulting rooms crowded with nervous wrecks. More people suffer from worry than anything else."

The sort of thing which the specialist spoke of is the nervous run-down condition caused by overwork and the many anxieties of to-day. Sufferers find themselves tired, low-spirited and unable to keep their minds on anything. Any sudden noise hurts like a blow. They are full of groundless fears and do not sleep well at night. Headaches and other nerve pains are part of the misery, and it all comes from starved nerves.

Doctoring the nerves with poisonous sedatives is a terrible mistake. The only real nerve tonic is a good supply of rich, red blood. Therefore to relieve nervousness and run-down health Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be taken. These pills make new, rich blood, which strengthens the nerves, improves the appetite, gives new strength and spirits, and makes hitherto despondent people bright and cheerful. If you are at all "out of sorts" you should begin taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $1.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Two Highlanders stood looking at the imposing facade of a building in Westminster. The cornerstone bore the date in Roman characters, "MCMIV." THE HANDLING OF BEES

Practical Hints About Bees and Honey Making.

Preparations for Wintering Over—Spring Examination Important—June Is Swarming Month—How to Avoid Too Early Extracting.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

THE beekeeper's year may be said to begin in September at the close of the honey season. Supers are then removed and colonies are examined for queen condition. Queenless colonies should be united with those which have queens, particularly with weak colonies such as light swarms which may have young queens. At present prices of honey and sugar it does not pay to attempt to winter any but the best colonies as swarms of bees can be purchased from the Southern States to arrive in May and give as good a crop of honey as an average colony wintered over.

After supers have been removed in September each colony should be fed a sufficient amount of syrup made of two parts granulated sugar to one of water to bring its supply of feed up to 35 or 40 pounds. This feeding may be done about the first of October.

Hives may be placed in boxes for outdoor wintering before or after feeding at the convenience of the beekeeper, but winter packing should be applied before settled cold weather. For cellar wintering, hives should be placed in the cellar at freezing up time in November, selecting for the operation if possible a cold day immediately following a spell of warm weather. When properly prepared according to some method similar to those described in Bulletin 256 on "The Wintering of Bees in Ontario," outdoor wintered bees require no attention from the time the feeding and packing is completed until the following April. The bee-cellar should be watched for the regulation of temperature and ventilation when changes of weather occur.

The successful wintering of bees depends on having good colonies of young bees, young queens, plenty of good stores, hives warmly packed and ample protection from cold winds.

On the first warm days of April colonies should be removed from cellars and all should be examined to detect queenless ones or those short of bees. The former should be united with those having queens and the latter given extra feed. It would not be wise to make a thorough exam-

Attention for disease often are weather is warmer than it usually is in April. Early in May when favorable weather arrives queens should be clipped and the matter of stores given attention. At queen-clipping time the brood should be inspected carefully for infectious diseases as described in Bulletin 213, "Bee Diseases in Ontario."

The supering of strong colonies will begin during fruit bloom and outdoor wintered bees may be unpacked soon after. In a backward spring the unpacking may be left until early in June. The beekeeper's main duty in May is to get queens clipped as stated and see that each colony develops properly or is given room to check swarming impulse as the case may be.

June is the swarming month and time of supering for the main honey flow which begins between the 10th and 20th of the month, depending on the season and the latitude. Be sure to give supers enough to avoid any crowding, which may cause the bees to become discouraged, quit work and swarm excessively. It should be the beekeeper's aim to prevent swarming as much as possible. This is done by keeping young queens, giving plenty of room and a systematic examination of brood-chambers to detect colonies which are preparing to swarm. When queen cells are found far advanced they should all be destroyed and the queen herself removed. After the colony has been queenless one week the combs should again be examined and all cells except one removed. This one will provide them with a queen and if only one is left they will not swarm again. Where an improvement of stock is desired the new queen may be given instead of leaving one queen cell.

Natural swarms should be hived on the old stand after removing the parent colony to one side. The swarms should be given the supers from the old colony. New swarms work with great vigor because they have no brood to care for during the first week. Colonies held together without swarming gather more honey than those which swarm. They also cause the beekeeper less trouble at unexpected times. It is the beekeepers' patriotic duty to reduce the cost of honey production and thus increase the quantity he is called to produce as greatly as possible. This may be done more by swarm prevention than in any other way. Bulletin 233 takes this matter up thoroughly and should be carefully studied by all beekeepers.

Most of our best honey is gathered during late June and early July. None of this should be extracted until near the end of July when the bees are nearly through gathering light honey. It might be necessary to give each colony from two to four extracting supers to avoid early extracting. By doing this we get a much better ripened honey which commands a better price and maintains much greater public confidence in honey as a staple food.

Colonies which have not been requeened by natural swarming or by swarm control methods in June or July should be attended to in August as best results are usually obtained from queens not more than one year old.—Provincial Apiarist, O. A. Colledge, Guelph.

Better Ensilage Equipment With Greater Economy

Good ensilage will increase dairy or meat production 25%. But good ensilage demands a good silo, protecting the ensilage and giving ample capacity.

Toronto Silos are the best on the market. Made of double tongued and grooved staves of selected spruce, saturated with creosote, they give ample protection from air and cold.

Hip Roof design Toronto Silos have an unusually large capacity. Ensilage can be tramped right to the top of the walls.

The greatest profits result from your silo when you have a Toronto Ensilage Cutter on your farm. Rigid, durable, constructed entirely of metal, it will withstand the roughest usage. A Toronto Ensilage Cutter eliminates all chance of loss through corn lying in the field waiting for a hired machine. You can fill your silo when you are ready—as often as necessary.

A Toronto Kerosene Engine is the ideal economical engine for farm use. Gives efficient power on cheap kerosene. Not only will it run your ensilage cutter, but any other farm machinery you possess.

BABY'S GREAT DANGER DURING HOT WEATHER

More little ones die during the hot weather than at any other time of the year. Diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera infantum and stomach troubles come without warning, and when a medicine is not at hand to give relief promptly the short delay too frequently means that the child has passed beyond aid. Baby's Own Tablets should always be kept in the house where there are young children. An occasional dose of the Tablets will prevent stomach and bowel troubles, or if the trouble comes suddenly the prompt use of the Tablets will relieve the baby. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
 The British government decision to buy no more bacon in the United States will help the Canadian trade to hold its own in the world's markets.
