THE BOYS' OWN PHILATELIST. A monthly for young collectors.

VOL. 1.
BERLIN, ON C., JANUARY, 1898.
NO. 2.

Written for the Bors' Own Fhilatelist.
The Boy Who is Father to the Man.
By Reginald Kinnersley.
It iz an old saying, and a true one withal, that "the boy is father to the man!" It has ofton been noted that the brighteat and most genslemanly boys, are those who have been, or are no $\quad$, identified with stamp collecting. The day when stanp collecting was looked upon simp!y as a oraze, is now athing of the past. In thoos days a collecting boy was rather looked at askance-now he is get down in the catagory of smart and intelligentyoung men.

What is this they say: "The same atoue $n$ hich the builder refused is now beoome the head of the corner!" The boy collector know: more of history and geography, than a won colloctor of equal age and equal chancos. This has been provet in German achools where stamp collecting is recognized, and stamp albums are issued as text booka, The Director General of these schools, in his reports, states that where these stamp text-books are nsed, that the pupils are advanciag far more rapidly than those of other achools.

It is a notable fact that boys who began atamp collecting in their sohool days and gave it ap, nearly always return to it when they adrance in yeara. The pleasure and relaxition of the prarait may fade for a moment, bat it never diea

Many a boy has utarted a collection to be continued by his father. It is not, as is generally supposed, that the greatest and most enthusiastic collectors are boya bot rather of grown men. Yet the greater part of the lattar began collecting when they were at achool. G od advice to a boy is not to asil him collection, but to lay it aside, when he decides to stop. He is almost sure to begin again and then he will have many vain regrete over seorificing his treasures in order to parchase some patring fancy.
In our achools and collegen the buy collectors are gerierally thoes who are on "the top ring" of the ladder. And that's why "the boy will be father to the man."

Pithy Philatelic Po?nts. Sayings and articles of noted writers carefully condensed.

By Reginald Kinnersly.

Philately nndoubtedly is a science with some people who take delight in searching for the minutest details, ior everything connected with atamps, however remotely. But for pity sake do not demand from every stamp collector that he shall treat his hobby acientitically. Some people have no use for any acience whatever and there are few who really want science mixed with their pleasures. Do not specialize in one single country before you give general collecting a real good chance.-Karl Ludwig.

Are we really coming to collect for the mones that is in it? It is a thousand pities if it is so. Professionalism has proven a clog on every amateur pastime. Professionalism is definable as "a pastime for financial gain." If one collects stamps with constant regard as to increased value, he comes near being a professional. He is surely no longer a collector but a speculator in stamps.-H. F. Swartz.

That part which condemns the collecting of hair-splitting varieties in fashionable stamps, is good, and is to be commended.-Ben. P. Thomes

We are accustomed to consider the Seebeck atampe as the most flagrant example of speculative greed. But there are others; for instance, the U . S. Dolumbian issue was not wholly above the suspicion of being inspired by sales to collectors-Lewir G. Quackenbush.

When you write next time to anybody, exclusively on your own account it would be a good scheme to enclose one of those new champion postage stamps, of course you understand that I mean, one that has never been licked.-Bill Nya.

The first series of Hawrii stampstype set numerals-were set up and printed in the goverment printing officemainly for the use of misaionaries. -Thoe, G. Thrum.

I am fondly looking forwara to the day when my philatelic library will be adorned with twenty postal card albums, which number it will require to hold all the cards that 8 -e yet in the reach of postal card collectors "while there is life there is hope!"A. Reusch.

Our c.dvice is to collect stamps in used and unused conditions. Of courze there are exceptions, as sometimes unused should receive the preference and often the reverse. No proferance is the best rule to go by,-E. Byron IIorn.

It may be stated as a general and demoustrable proposition that the more cultured and refined an individual the more likely is he to be drawn into the rants of philatelia's adherent. -Augustus Thompson.
