FRENCH TROOPS GAIN CEMETERY IN FAST ATTACK

Important German Position North of Ablain Carried by Assault.

DARING AERIAL RAID

Greatest Explosive Factory in Germany Attacked by French Aviators.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.

LONDON, May 27.—Features of the war in France today were the capture of a strongly fortified cemetery north of Ablain in the Arras region by French troops, and a daring aerial raid on a big German explosive factory on the Rhine, opposite Mannheim.

In initiating their progress at Ablain French troops first attacked the trenches bordering on the cemetery from the east of the town. These were carried, and immediately afterwards the cemetery was carried, and an advance made beyond it. The French took 400 prisoners, including several officers. The cemetery had been strongly fortified by the enemy, and the capture was quite a feat.

Attacks on Angres Beach.

Two counter-attacks were delivered by the Germans in the Angres region and both were repulsed. The French continued to hold the two strong positions, which the Germans had been strengthening all winter.

Explosive Plant Attacked.

Bombs from 18 French aeroplanes containing about a ton of high explosives were dropped on a German chemical factory at Ludwigschafen on the Rhine, opposite Mannheim, and caused fire to break out in several of the buildings this morning.

"This factory," the French War Office says, "is one of the most important manufacturing plants of explosives in all Germany." The aeroplanes which took part in the raid were in the air six hours and covered 150 miles.

This raid was in reprisal for German raids on Paris.

HUGE MUNITION PLANTS PARTLY BURNED BY RAID

"Finest Aerial Exploit of War" Performed by French Squadron.

FACTORIES IN FLAMES

Special Cable to The Toronto World.

PARIS, May 28, 12.15 a.m.—An official statement issued tonight describes more fully the French air raid on Ludwigschafen, where important munition factories are reported to have been set on fire and partly destroyed. The text of the communication follows:

"Aeroplanes which bombed Ludwigschafen numbered 18. They took the air at 3 a.m. Thursday. The works of the Badische Anilin and Soda-Fabrik Co., the largest explosives factory in Germany, occupy an entire quarter of Ludwigschafen, near Mannheim, and an important annex, was established near Oppau, a mile and half from Ludwigschafen.

"The aeroplanes threw 47 four-inch bombs and two six-inch bombs on the main establishment, and 36 four-inch bombs on Oppau. All the bombs reached the mark.

Covered by Pall of Smoke.

Towards 6.10 a.m., three enormous columns of yellow flames could be seen at Ludwigschafen, and at 6.30 the aviators saw Ludwigschafen and Oppau covered by vast volumes of smoke.

"The aeroplanes were fired at, but all returned except one. According to the pilots the latter machine was obliged to land at Ludwigschafen and was seen to be in flames as soon as it landed. They believe that the landing, which was caused no doubt by the enemy's fire, was effected normally and that the pilots returned the machine to prevent it falling into the hands of the Germans.

"This expedition, which shows to what degree of skill and daring our aviators have attained, constitutes the finest aerial exploit yet accomplished during the war."

RECENT LOSSES OF TURKS MUCH LARGER THAN 3,000

Maj.-Gen. Birdwood Reports That Four Hundred Bodies Were Counted in Small Area Not Previously Reported.

LONDON, May 27, 7.30 p.m.—A statement given out tonight by the official press bureau says that the losses of the Turks in the recent fighting at the Dardanelles is considerably heavier than had been supposed. The statement was in the form of a report from Major-Gen. William R. Birdwood, transmitted today from Cairo. It follows:

"Today Gen. Birdwood reports that during the suspension of fighting, in order that the Turks may bury their dead, much larger losses than the 3,000 dead already reported came to light. Two areas in front of one of our sections, where heavy punishment to the enemy had not been previously reported, were covered with the dead. Four hundred bodies were counted in an area 80 yards by 100 yards.

Stench Overpowering.

"Turkish burying parties worked quietly and quickly. They were all supplied with cotton wool prepared with some solution to deaden the stench—in at necessary precaution.

"Over 1200 Turkish rifles were picked up on our side of the dividing line during the suspension of hostilities.

"On May 25 an advanced trench 150 yards in front of Gen. Cox's brigade, was rushed and occupied by our men."

Austrians Have Retreated in Haste From Montbanno Heights, on Tyrol-Trentino Frontier—"General Situation Entirely Satisfactory."

ROME, May 27.—(4 p.m., via Paris, 1.50 p.m.)—The following official statement was issued today:

"On May 25, on the Tyrol-Trentino frontier, the Italian troops occupied the heights of Montbanno, from which point the enemy was forced to retreat, abandoning tents and material. The Italian artillery located Tonezzo and silenced the enemy's fire.

Seven Battalions and Strathcona Horse in Thick of Combat.

By a Staff Reporter.

OTTAWA, May 27.—The casualties in the battle north of Ypres, which lasted from May 22 to May 24, and in which the Canadians fought brilliantly, have begun to arrive at the militia department. These indicate that the Canadian losses were very heavy.

In the lists received so far the names of 26 officers appear. Seven were killed and 19 wounded. The 8th Battalion had one captain and one lieutenant killed and three lieutenants wounded; the 16th had one lieutenant killed and one lieutenant wounded; the 14th one captain wounded; the 15th one captain wounded, and the 7th one captain wounded.

"VIVA ITALY" SHOUTED PEOPLE OF CORMONS

FINE COURAGE SHOWN

Nimble Ghurkas Scaled High Cliffs and "Dug Themselves In."

PARIS, May 28, 1.35 a.m.—A Havas de-patch from Athens, dated May 27, says:

"Allied aeroplanes flew over the straits today, subjecting Turkish positions to an effective bombardment. The allies carried five lines of trenches on two hills at the point of the bayonet."

LONDON, May 27.—The allied land forces in the Dardanelles have settled down to the slow and methodical methods of trench warfare. It is stated in an official description of operations from May 6 to May 19, issued tonight, "The Turkish defenses are admittedly too formidable to yield to impetuous assaults of the kind managed by the allies in the early fighting."

"On May 6, after the arrival of fresh troops, including territorial, a general advance of the allied troops took place under cover of fire from the fleet.

"During the night of May 5-6 a portion of the Australian and New Zealand army corps had been transferred from Kaba Tepe to take part in the attack. Very severe fighting took place all day long, and by midnight the entire allied line had been advanced from 1,000 to 1,500 yards. But the left of the advance was checked by a strong Turkish redbut manned with machine guns. Just at dusk French troops obtained possession of an important tactical point, which was then thoroughly fortified during the night to serve as a pivot for further operations."

Sweeping Advance.

H.M.S. MAJESTIC SUNK BY GERMAN SUBMARINE OFF GALLI POLI SHORE

Nearly All the Officers and Men Have Been Saved.

WARSHIPS OF ALLIES SUNK IN DARDANELLES

Six warships, including the British submarine E-11, were sunk in the Dardanelles.

Irresistible (Brit.), March 19, 14,900 tons. Ocean (Brit.), March 18, 13,000 tons. Bouvet (Fr.), March 19, 12,000 tons. Gollath (Brit.), May 18, 12,000 tons. Triumph (Brit.), May 26, 11,800 tons. Majestic (Brit.), May 27, 14,900 tons. Six warships, including the British submarine E-11, were sunk in the Dardanelles.

NEARLY ALL THE OFFICERS AND MEN HAVE BEEN SAVED

The Majestic was a vessel of 14,900 tons and 10,000 horse power capacity. Her officers and crew on a peace footing aggregated 757.

The Majestic, which was built in 1895, carried four 12-inch, twelve 6-inch and sixteen 3-inch guns and twelve 3-pounders. In addition the vessel was armed with five 15-inch torpedo tubes.

The sinking of the Majestic makes the fifth British battleship lost in the Dardanelles campaign, and the second by a hostile submarine, the Triumph having been sunk in the Gulf of Saros last Wednesday. The French have lost one battleship in the Turkish campaign—the Bouvet.

THIS MAKES FIFTH BRITISH BATTLESHIP LOST IN THE DARDANELLES.

LONDON, May 27, 10.45 p.m.—The British battleship Majestic, another of the ships supporting the allied army on the Gallipoli Peninsula, was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine this morning.

The admiralty issued the following statement tonight:

"An enemy submarine torpedoed and sank H. M. S. Majestic, Captain H. F. G. Tabot, this morning, while it was supporting the army on the Gallipoli Peninsula.

"Nearly all the officers and men were saved."

CAPTAIN OF NEBRASKAN HAS PRESENTED REPORT

Diplomatic Action Deferred Until Cause of Explosion Established.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Ambassador Page, at London, cabled the state department tonight that Captain Greene of the American steamship Nebraska, had given the naval attaché of the embassy a sworn statement at Liverpool concerning the explosion of his ship off the Irish coast Tuesday, and that the attaché was returning to London.

Any diplomatic action as a result of the incident will be deferred until there is definite proof of the cause of the explosion.

THE SUBMARINE MENACE MAKING TRADE RISKY

LONDON, May 27.—The submarine menace is a growing one both in the Aegean Sea and home waters, and these vessels promise to take an active part in the operations in the narrow waters of the Adriatic, where, as in the Aegean, numerous islands afford good shelter.

While the warships are able to escape them in the waters around the British Isles, with the increase in their numbers, the carrying on of seaborne trade becomes more and more hazardous. The admiralty still believes that the American steamer Nebraska, now on her way to Liverpool, was torpedoed, and in addition, the British steamer Morwen, bound for Canada, and the Danish steamer Betty, have been sunk by submarines. Only a few days ago the commander of a submarine informed a Danish captain that he had no orders to sink Danish vessels.

PRINCESS IRENE LOST WITH 328 WHILE IN DOCK

ONLY ONE MAN ESCAPED

Crew and Workmen Repairing the Ship Blown to Atoms.

LONDON, May 27.—All the crew of 328 men of the British steamer Princess Irene, except one man, and in addition seventy-eight dockers who were at work on board the steamer, lost lives today when the vessel was blown up by an explosion on board in Sheerness harbor. The steamer was in the government service.

Lloyds announces that the British steamer Princess Irene was suddenly blown up today in Sheerness harbor. The princess Irene was in the government service, Sheerness is a naval arsenal of Great Britain on the Thames.

The admiralty in confirming the explosion on board the Princess Irene says that 78 workmen must have perished in the disaster.

Admiralty Statement.

"The statement of the admiralty says: 'The Princess Irene was accidentally blown up in Sheerness harbor this morning. So far as is yet known only one survivor was picked up. Three men belonging to the ship were not on board at the time of the disaster. 'Several men belonging to vessels lying close to the Princess Irene were wounded by falling splinters.'

The steamer Princess Irene which was built last year for the Canadian British Columbia coast service, and was taken over by the admiralty at the commencement of the war, was accidentally destroyed by an explosion while at anchor at Sheerness, where she was undergoing repairs. All her crew, numbering about 250, except one seaman, and, besides, 78 dockers who were aboard at the time, lost their lives.

MICHAEL O'LEARY KILLED IN ACTION

FAME WIDESPREAD

Former Member of N.W.M.P. One of War's Greatest Heroes.

LONDON, May 27, 10.50 p.m.—A report reaching here from Dublin says that Lance-Corporal Michael O'Leary of the Irish Guards, one of the best known of the winners of the Victoria Cross in this war, was killed during the last battle on the western front.

Michael O'Leary, who was 24 years old, formerly served in the Northwest Mounted Police. He became one of the outstanding figures of the war when at Quinchy on Feb. 1, he captured a German position unaided, striking down five men of the crew of a machine gun. He then ran to a trench in the rear, which the Germans were vacating and killed three more. This exploit not only earned him the V.C. and promotion, but made his name a household word throughout the British Empire, and also stimulated recruiting in Ireland.

THE HOME OF QUALITY HATS.

You may differ in opinion from other men as regards the style of hat to wear, but nearly all men are of one mind when it comes to quality. Hence, genuine quality touches the spot.

It is deep-rooted. There is character, dignity, something different about a quality hat that is lacking in the other kind. At Dineen's, 140 Yonge street, the home of quality hats, you can have a wide selection of summer-weight soft felt hats—peach color, with black or self bands, priced $2.50, $3 and $4. Silk hats for weddings and other important occasions can be had in the newest, in head- priced $5.50, $7, $8. Don't fail to make a visit of inspection to this old established "quality hat" house.

Clara Morris Says—

THAT AN ENVELOPE OFTEN EXPRESSES THE SPIRIT OF THE LETTER INSIDE.

CLARA MORRIS

ANY one who comes before the public—no matter in what character—is bound to be the recipient of a large and variegated mail, which will be wholly unlike the most voluminous correspondence of a strictly social nature.

And when one has for years handled this promiscuous mail matter one almost unconsciously acquires some knowledge of the psychology of letters, comprehending their phenomena of character and spirit as readily as their physical make-up.

As human features often express the spirit within, so the addressed envelope often expresses the spirit of the letter within. While it is equally true that just as a few men train their faces into sheer expressionless masks, so now and then one will come upon a superscription that seems trained to an expressionless immobility—that from its very blankness suggests concealment.

To "size up" a letter, one need not follow the example of the old country-woman to whom any mislaid other than the biennial screw from an absent son must be a thing of awesome wonderment, to be felt of, "hefted," held up and squinted through and guessed over for half an hour before opening. There's the glance arrested—the steady, all-inclusive look, with instinct well to the fore, and there you are—figuratively speaking—reading your letter from the outside.

Running over a packet of letters in my dressing room one night, I came upon one that gave me a shock of repulsion—a creepy unwillingness to open it. I often had common looking missives, illiterate, poor, but this, with each word of the address standing out big and bold, then wavering down to a shapless scrawl, suggested cowardice. The flap sealed down from end to end with extra gum untidily applied, hinted at furtive secrecy, while a dirty thumb mark implied neglect of the decencies of life.

"When that is opened something bad will come forth," I thought. Well, I opened it, and then sent for a detective.

The demand for money was backed by a rather unusual kind of threat. It was demanded he would send me a letter to the effect that he had my own brother, deserted and abandoned and still denied. Then he foolishly added: "I have nothing to lose, but remember, it will take you a long while to improve or even controvert my claim, and meantime your beloved reputation will be getting a black eye. Better send that money."

It is very sure one does not have to read a millionaire's mail to learn to be able to spot a professional beggar letter at 30 paces, while the very babe at the breast will turn its head away from a "bill."

The Good-Night Story

THE FLOWER QUEEN By Vernon Merry

ONE day little Dick heard his mother say that the rose was the queen of the flowers, so he went out to the garden and said to the catalpa tree: "Mr. Catalpa Tree, is the rose the queen of the flowers?" But the tree swayed in the wind without deigning to answer him.

Then he passed on to the Sprig bush and repeated his question: "Miss Sprig Bush, is it true that the rose is the queen of the flowers?" But the bush remained silent.

"My, how rude they all are," thought Dick. "I guess I'll ask a flower." So he approached a lovely, tall lily, who answered his question in this manner: "Yes, the rose is our beloved queen. She is so beautiful and fragrant that she has no rival. If you wish to learn more come and see what happens in your garden tonight at 12 o'clock."

Dick went to bed at the usual hour, but at midnight he awoke and slipped quickly out into the garden. Immediately a streak of light descended from the sky and down it came a beautiful woman crowned with flowers and carrying a golden wand in her hand. This woman, and a strange thing happened among the flowers. All the flowers turned into brilliant costumes of red, pink and green. The pansies wore beautiful violet veils, and the dahlias long trains and neck ruffs of rare lace. The gladioli appeared in a regal gown of violet velvet, and the poppies, in a shimmering robe of crimson and gold. Never had Dick seen any one so wonderfully lovely. Her face was pink and pink, like the flower, and her robe with its long train was of great beauty.

She accepted the throne, in the centre of the garden, and raising her sceptre, said: "My good subjects, once again the wonderful magician, Spring, has given us work to accomplish. Tonight I shall give each one of you your particular share of the important matters of her kingdom. When the first sign of dawn lighted the sky the fairy raised her wand and Dick was again returned to their original forms.

Dick went back to bed a wiser little boy, for he knew that even the flowers have to work.

Daily Care the Price of Symmetrical Feet

By LUCREZIA BORI, Prima Donna of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

If you should ask me what I consider the rarest thing in the world I would answer, "a perfect foot." Most of us are like the peacock who struts about so proudly in the sunlight with wide-spread feathers until he catches a glimpse of his feet, and then he falls down as if he were uncovers.

When the soft corners have developed follow these suggestions, and you will find that they lose all semblance of beauty. To offset the harm done when wearing the women of ancient Greece and Rome had beautiful feet. They were soft and white and perfectly formed as their hands. This was due to the fact that they never cramped them in shoes such as modern fashion demands. The graceful sandals, made of flexible leather, permitted almost as much freedom as if the feet were left uncovers.

When you are wearing the right kind of shoes then follow a course of treatment which will improve the condition of your feet. Very few women have feet absolutely free from the disfiguring corns. Although these are considered a trivial ailment there is nothing more annoying.

If you notice that soft corners are starting between your toes, begin immediately to prevent their formation. The very besting is the accumulation of old skin between the toes, and this can be obviated by careful drying after the daily bath. Use a soft, thin towel, and ordinary bath towel being too thick to reach the corn and remove the dead skin. The feet with talcum powder to make assurance doubly sure that the skin is thoroughly dry.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Every "Imaginary" Pain Has an Undiscovered Cause

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG, A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University).

TO solidify mercury at earthly temperatures, to square the circle, to have a perpetual artificial light without the consumption of fuel, to invent frictionless motion, that horsehair turn to snakes, that gold can be made from lead, that man can lift himself by his boot-strap is as absurd as to put all in the ear-for tarache, to take sin, a powerful alcoholic poison for the kidneys, or to call undetectable causes of diseases "Imagination."

When a doctor, professor or medical book tells you that people complain of "imaginary diseases," have "imaginitis," or tap the head of the sufferer as one well known professor often does when he says: "Your appendixitis is up there," then, I say, go to a new physician.

Of all the medical fallacies propagated by professors today, the one comprehensively included under "Imaginary" is the worst. If physicians were grounded in experimental psychology and scholastic philosophy instead of that dismal science called political economy before they venture into the domain of scientific medicine they would exhibit less vanity as well as a greater tolerance for the erroneous application of the term "Imaginary."

"Imaginary" and "Phantasm." When you are told either with pity or impatience that your disorder is "imaginitis" or "in the head" professors, psychiatrists, neurologists and plain physicians actually mean just the reverse of what they say. Imagination, the verve of what they say, imitation, the collection of medical societies, basking at the feet of their "great" teachers, makes all doctors talk and act alike. Each imitates his fellow-craftsmen's lack of originality of thought.

Imagination means a true representation of reality. What is real is imagined. Non-existent things cannot be represented in a thought image. Even the originality of imagination means that a new thing has come or is about to come into existence.

There is no such thing as a pain felt and not felt. If it is felt it is there. It is then a reality, and hence an actuality in your imagination. The word "phantasm" is used wrongly by these clinical professors and self-congratulating "doctors" as a thought picture of something real of which your common senses have taken hold. When a wise and smiling medico shakes his head sympathetically and patronizingly to say: "Oh, dismis your fears and anxiety. There is nothing the matter with you. It is all a phantasm of your imagination," he means less than what he says, and speaks his thoughts truthfully.

All Pain Real. If you are sleepless, blue, out of sorts, fearful of disaster and otherwise anxious lest you have appendicitis, cancer or bright's disease, the learned and expensive specialist, who finds no serious ailment present, yet dismisses you with "It is all imagination" and a failure. He may not be a conscious fraud, but he is, and he is assuredly the most dangerous of all. Whenever you are told you have an "imaginary" ailment, ache or pain, it means merely that there is no fatal, serious or dangerous disorder present.

Answers to Health Questions. J. F. Q.—Will you prescribe a remedy for a cold in the head? A.—Take five grains each of benzamide, thymamine and citrate of soda in a glass of water every four hours. Apply each imitates his fellow-craftsmen's lack of originality of thought.

M. J. D. Q.—On the back part of my head the skin is very red and hard, and becomes coated with thick scales of dandruff. Occasionally it itches. What do you advise? A.—Apply the following twice a day to the scalp: Resorcinol..... 1/2 gram Sulphur lotion..... 1/2 ounce Castor oil..... 1/2 ounce Oil of theobromine..... 3 grams Balsam Peru..... 5 grains

W. Q.—Will you kindly tell me how I can get rid of a sore in my nostril? A.—Apply night and morning six grains of ammoniated mercury and one-half ounce of vaseline.

Dr. Hirschberg will answer questions for readers of this paper on medical subjects of general interest. He will not undertake to prescribe or offer advice for individual cases. Where the subject is of general interest letters will be answered personally, if a stamped and addressed envelope is enclosed. Address all inquiries to Dr. L. K. Hirschberg, care this office.

ADVICE TO GIRLS

By ANNIE LAURIE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I am a girl of 19, engaged to a boy of 22, and love him dearly. Some time ago I met a boy who was very handsome and who was very kind to me. I generally have a girl friend much worse than your husband. I mean merely that there is no fatal, serious or dangerous disorder present.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I am a young man of 21 years, and up to now have had no love troubles, but recently I met a girl on the street who suddenly seemed to come into my life. I have seen her several times since, and always look forward to seeing her, but she is always alone and we are perfect strangers. I suspect you spoke to Kayes and Kayes spoke to his wife, didn't you?

PETER'S ADVENTURES IN MATRIMONY

By LEONA DALRYMPLE, Author of the novel, "Diane of the Green Van," awarded a prize of $10,000 by Ida M. Tarbell and S. S. McClure as judges.

What the Calls Meant. "I'm sorry." I hoped he understood. And he did. For he suddenly held out his hand.

"Do you know," he said, "you're an awfully good sort, and I appreciate what you've done. I suspect you spoke to Kayes and Kayes spoke to his wife, didn't you?"

"Well, not just that way, I—you see—" "Don't flounder so," he advised, smiling. "I appreciate it all just the same. After all, a man can't discipline his wife's subtleties."

"No," I said with heartfelt conviction. "Certainly not." "I'd hoped the women would like each other, and then we'd have some pleasant four parties."

"I'm sorry," I said again. "I know you are." But the Morris tangle was so untangle in a curiously human way. I shall never forget the night when Mrs. Morris stood upon our porch in a silk kimono, her hair flying about her head, and I had been in bed hours when the doorbell rang, startling us both. And I had gone down in a dressing gown and slippers.

"Mr. Hunt," Mrs. Morris had gasped. "I'm so frightened. My little girl—" A sob caught in her throat, and Mary's voice came down from the banister, sharp with the nervous fear of apprehension.

"What is it, Peter?" Mrs. Morris caught her breath. "Oh, Mrs. Hunt," she sobbed, "Roger's away, and my little girl is so sick. And we haven't a phone, and I'm frightened to death."

We were down, thank God, to elements. Mary forgot fuss and feathers. "I'll go back with you," she said instantly. "And Peter, you phone for the doctor right away. I'm so sorry I can't be."

TWO DELICIOUS DINNER-COURSE RECIPES

Milk Soup. TAKE one ounce of drippings, half a pint of milk, two onions, one pint and a half of water, salt and pepper, one tablespoonful of thickening.

Stewed Steak and Tomatoes. TAKE one pound of steak, two ounces of fat butter, one dessertspoonful of flour, half a pint of stock, four large tomatoes, four sticks of celery (shredded), and one onion. Cut the steak into small thick strips, and season with salt and pepper. Melt the butter in a saucepan, and fry the beef with the onion (minced) until nicely browned. Sprinkle the flour in the pan and stir until it is brown. Next add the stock, and let it boil for a few minutes to cook the flour. Place the tomatoes in boiling water so that the skins may be easily removed, then slice them, and add the tomatoes and shredded celery to the other ingredients, place the lid on the pan, and simmer very slowly for one hour and a half.

THE ingredients are: One pound of potatoes, two ounces of drippings, half a pint of milk, two onions, one pint and a half of water, salt and pepper, one tablespoonful of thickening.

Wash and peel the potatoes, cut them in slices, peel and slice the onions. Melt the dripping in a saucepan, add the vegetables, and cook them in the fat for five minutes, taking care that they do not brown. Then pour on one pint and a half of water, and add the pepper and salt. When this comes to the boil, well skim it, and let it boil until the vegetables are tender. Pass the soup through a wire sieve, return it to the saucepan, add the milk, and when it boils sprinkle in the thickening.

TELLS IN LETTER OF PLUCKY FIGHT

Capt. Snelgrove, Who Was Wounded, Had Very Narrow Escape.

ONLY A FEW ARE LEFT About Two Hundred and Fifty of Tenth Battalion Remain.

Mrs. H. J. Snelgrove, 118 Macpherson avenue, Toronto, has received the following letter from her son, Capt. Snelgrove, of the 10th Battalion, who is now wounded:

Belgium, April 29, 1915. My Dear Mother and Bill: I am still alive, although not many of the original 10th Battalion are alive today to tell the tale. Our column was killed in its last action, also our second in command. We also lost about twelve officers killed and about the same number wounded and only have 250 left. I have made a name for our battalion that will live from now to eternity and also a name for Canada and England, and to think, mother, dear, it was my battalion, the 10th.

I find myself in command of a double-company with the care and responsibility of 250 men and five officers. I even have a horse, and mother, if I live, I will be major before many weeks, but I would give the world if that awful war would cease today. It is absolutely horrible, and you know, after all the questions we are fighting over will be decided not by armies, but by the pen.

The Germans will not be beaten even if we drive them right back into Germany. I wish I could see you, mother dear, and all the other dear ones at 118 Macpherson street. I could only drop in for a few moments I would be satisfied.

I am writing this letter right in a dug-out, or trench, as you call them. I have straw on the bottom and it is warm today. The sun is very bright, but it is cold at night.

I have a good battery covering us now. He came up with me as far as the trenches two nights ago when we were coming in. Percy Alexander is driving on a motor lorry in the mechanical transport.

Killed in the Charge. I suppose you will know how you will get this letter that poor Bill Dosee and Bister were killed in the charge, also my little pal "Shorty" Caldwell. I saw Major Beale the night he was helping the wounded. He almost cried when he saw me. He said if anything happened to me he would look after my end, and he asked me to make the same promise. He was up buying the dead of the first infantry brigade on Tuesday. Do you know, mother, I have lost some of my best friends in the last action? At present the shells are flying over my head about three or four minutes "back" Johnson's "Weary Willie" and "coal boxes."

Well, mother, the last five days of the scrap it was nothing but one long prayer as far as I was concerned. I tell you that it brings you to it. I said my prayers every time a shell exploded. It was a hell on earth. We have two or three mile marches, and if you drop on the road you stay there. You go into the trenches and if you are hit, you are taken to a hospital. It is killed, but not dead.

Col. Helmer's son, Lieut. Helmer of the Canadian Field Artillery, was killed in our trench four days ago. Lieut. Hagen, they were hit by a shell. It is only a game of luck or else Providence that saves you. I think it is Providence that saves me. I trust so anyway.

GRADUATE OF JARVIS COLLEGIATE IS WOUNDED

Lieut. J. Dymond, Won Promotion, Before Figuring on Casualty List.

News on Tuesday that he was promoted to the rank of lieutenant, which he had been wounded on April 25th had reached the parents of Lieutenant John Malcolm Dymond at 37 St. Mary street. Dymond belongs to the 3rd Battalion and left Valcartier for the front with the rank of corporal. A letter from one of his chums in the same company brought the news of his promotion, while the telegram stating that he was on the injured list came yesterday morning. The list came yesterday morning. The list came yesterday morning. The list came yesterday morning.

PTE. SINNEMORE LIES WOUNDED IN HOSPITAL

Word Reached Toronto Late Last Night That He Had Been Hit in Ankle.

Word was received late last night by Mrs. J. R. Sinnemore, of 32 St. Charles avenue, Toronto, from her son, Pte. Frank A. Sinnemore, Government's Body Guard, who states that he is in the Coombe Lodge Hospital, Great Warley, Essex, with a bullet wound in his ankle. Sinnemore, who is 23 years of age, was employed at the native Stone Works before leaving for the front. His family is well represented at the front, the father being a member of the second contingent, which has just landed in England, and a brother, who, who left with the first contingent, and who is believed to be a prisoner in Germany.

SKILLED MECHANICS REQUIRED IN ENGLAND

British Commissioners Arrived in Canada Yesterday to Engage Men.

OTTAWA, May 26.—George N. Barnes, M.P. for Glasgow, and W. Windham of the British Board of Trade, who have been commissioned by the British Government to come to Canada to engage skilled mechanics to go to the United Kingdom for employment in the manufacturing of war munitions, have arrived in Ottawa to confer with the Dominion Government concerning their mission. Later they will tour the Dominion from coast to coast to see how many of the men they require can be obtained in Canada. Thirty thousand skilled mechanics are required in the old country. Mr. Barnes and Mr. Windham have been instructed to engage every qualified and skilled mechanic in Canada, with approval of the government, and to arrange for their fares to be paid to the old country.

ITALIANS ADVANCE TOWARD ISONZO

No Important Battle is Expected Until River is Reached.

LONDON, May 26.—The Italians, who have crossed the Austrian frontier to the east along a front of sixty miles, towards the Isonzo River, have not yet met with any serious opposition. In fact, no important battle is expected until the invaders reach the river, as it is here that the Austrians are expected to make their stand, as they have had a long time to prepare for an invasion. It is probable they will oppose the Italian advance by means of the same methods as caused the deadlock in Flanders.

A Geneva despatch says Italian troops are continuing to advance toward the Isonzo River at three points along a line near the border north of the Gulf of Trieste. The Austrians are offering feeble resistance as they fall back. In Tuesday's clashes casualties on both sides are reported slight. Two hundred Austrians were taken prisoners.

RUSSIANS STILL HOLD FRONT ON SAN RIVER

Desperate Fighting Continues to Rage for Possession of Peremyzl.

LONDON, May 26.—German and Austrian claims of further successes on the River San are discounted by the Russian official report of yesterday's fighting, received here tonight. A desperate battle on both banks of this river raged all day Tuesday without any definite results for the enemy between Jaroslau and Peremyzl. On the southern front between Peremyzl and the great marsh of the Dniester River, the Austrians kept up a fierce artillery fire and made attacks in the sector of Goussakow and Krukenika with important forces, but all attacks were repulsed.

TYPHOID RAGING AMONG THE TURKS

MANY SIGNS OF UNREST

Feeling in Interior That Connection With Germany Not for Good.

Typhoid is raging among the Turkish troops according to a letter just received by Rev. Dr. MacKay, secretary of the Presbyterian Foreign Missions at the Confederation Life Building. The letter is an official statement from James L. Barton, D.D., of Boston, secretary of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions. Dr. MacKay says the most important issued by the commission since the outbreak of the war, says: "The principal difficulties which the missionaries in Turkey seem to be facing just now are the uprisings against the Armenians in the Vilayet of Van and the efforts on the part of the government to get possession of the missionary school buildings. "There is some indication that in the interior of Turkey that the relation of Germany to Turkey has not been and is not for the good of Turkey. The German missionaries at Harpoot have made request from the German ambassador at Constantinople that they be put under the American consul at Harpoot for protection. "There is some indication that in the Russian frontier, should fall that a second line of defence will be established along the macadamized road leading from Lamsoun thru Marsovan and Sivras to Harpoot. That would account for the massing of troops along that line and for the eagerness of the officials to secure possession of the buildings of the American board. Poverty is increasing. "Reports from all over Turkey speak of the great distress and the need of money for relief, both for the sick and the wounded and the orphans and the widows. Poverty and distress throughout the country are upon the increase. Missionaries are remaining, unflinchingly at their posts, although it is recognized that the whole status of the Turkish Empire is in a most uncertain condition. "The letter also makes special mention of a wire the American board has received from Secretary of State Bryan which reads: "From American ambassador, Constantinople: 'All stations begging relief funds, some starvation threatens. Please, help quickly.'"

PROMISES LONG ROPE FOR TROUBLE-MAKERS

General Hughes Out of Sympathy With Striking Gun-makers.

OTTAWA, May 26.—"A long rope and a short shrift for anyone causing trouble during the war," was the threat conveyed by Gen. Sam Hughes today, when representatives of the Machinists' International Union appeared to interview him with reference to a threatened strike of machinists at the Ottawa Car Works. The company is paying its gunmakers 23 cents an hour and the men have sought to adjust the matter, but Gen. Hughes declined to accept the suggestion.

THEATRES

MILITARY NIGHT AT SHEA'S. Tonight will be "Military Night" at Shea's Theatre this week. Cyril Maude, who is playing "Grumpy," is giving his profits for the week to the national patriotic fund. He has singled Friday evening's performance for the soldiers.

SUMMER STOCK AT THE GRAND. Commencing Monday next the Phillips-Shaw Company will inaugurate the summer stock season at the Grand Opera House, presenting Willard Holcomb's dramatization of Augustus Evans Wilson's famous novel, "St. Elmo." A special scale of prices will also go into effect Monday. A special production in the scenic line will be given on the play presented, and as the merits of the company are already well known, the offerings should be especially attractive.

BEN WELCH AT HIPPIE. Ben Welch, the comedian who has made millions laugh, will headline the all-star bill at the Hippodrome next week. A feature of the bill will be the first appearance in Toronto of Ethel Davine June, the California mermaid, in her spectacular under-the-water offering, which will present the laughable Scotch playlet, "The Marriage of Maggie." Grace and Berles are two clever eccentric dancers, while Minnie Harrison is a dainty comedienne with a splendid voice. Several film attractions comprising the best comedies and dramas complete an excellent bill.

NOVELTY HORSE ACT. A decided novelty in horse acts is now being presented by the "Dutton Family" at Haidara's. The magnificent Arab "white horse driven tandem by the artists during their act present a wonderful picture. Another feature that amuses the children and the grown ups for that matter, is Gene Dutton and Little Frisco, his midgey trick mule. Frisco, it may be said, is the most fashionable mule. On arriving Monday morning he felt a lot of sorts and it was necessary for his attendant to engage a jitney to convey him to the ferry wharf.

LOW FARE TRIPS TO NIAGARA SATURDAY AFTERNOON. The low round trip rates of 75c on the big Niagara steamers Wednesday and Saturday afternoons, make these delightful outings on the water doubly attractive. There are four round trips daily to Niagara, and May 30 the Sunday service of two round trips will be inaugurated. Tickets at 46 Yonge street or Yonge street wharf.

TENSITY AGGRAVATED All British Mines Laid Become Innocuous When Detached From Anchors.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The course of the United States Government in the case of the American steamer Nebraska, damaged off the coast of Ireland, was underlined tonight because officials were without information as to whether the ship was torpedoed or struck a mine. President Wilson read all the official and unofficial despatches. In view of the positive position which the United States has taken on the question of submarine activity in the war zone and the delicacy of the situation with Germany arising out of the Lusitania disaster, the story of the Nebraska's experience is awaited with unusual interest. Should it develop clearly that she was torpedoed without warning, an aggravating circumstance will have been added to an already tense situation, notwithstanding the fact that no lives were lost.

Councillor Lansing of the state department revealed that assurances had some time ago been received from Great Britain that such mines as had been laid by the British admiralty were of a nature which would become innocuous if detached from their anchorage. No other government, Mr. Lansing said, had given similar assurances.

So far as the state department is informed, there is no British mine field near where the Nebraska was struck.

LONDON POLICE READY FOR POISON BOMBS Respirators Are Being Supplied to All Stations.

Special Cable to The Toronto World. LONDON, May 26.—The City of London police authorities are taking precautions to protect their officers and men from effects of poisonous bombs should London be raided by enemy aircraft. Although the police are not being served out with respirators, each station in the district has been supplied with a large stock as a precautionary measure.

Established 1847 For Hearth and Home The spirit that held the thin red line when the Canada Life was young is still holding it now that the red has faded into work-a-day khaki. Men are stoutly and willingly taking chances for their country's sake. Perhaps you cheerfully accept the ordinary chances of life as you go about your ordinary routine—but are they yours to take? Your family, not you, take chances on your life. Whatever happens, you'll have no need to worry—your family may. Why not throw all the risk on the broad shoulders of the CANADA LIFE 1915 The Canada Life is designed to take care of the chances on your life as a bridge is designed to carry its load. Herbert C. "FALL IN" DO YOUR PART by showing your colors on your home—by showing your staunch loyalty, sympathy and support of our ideals, our freedom and our standards. Since the announcement of the nation-wide flag distribution the never-ceasing throng of readers of this newspaper have been calling for their Empire's emblem, securing them, inspecting them and praising both the high quality of the gift provided and the high patriotism which impelled this newspaper in making the distribution. JUNE 3 is a most fitting time to show your colors. None need be deprived of the privilege—and it is indeed a privilege. Outfits are placed within your reach, so come today and get a full-sized Union Jack, complete with outfit. NOW PRESENTED BY THE WORLD The Flag—full size, 54" by 34", fast colors. A Rope Hauling for ease. A Six Foot Jointed Flagpole, with ornamental ball end. A Metal Staff Holder which may be permanently screwed to the window sill—allowing the pole to be instantly inserted or removed at will. All enclosed in a box, in which the complete outfit may be permanently kept in compact space when not in use (size box, 2 1/2 inches square by 3 feet long). OBEY THAT IMPULSE—"FALL IN" TODAY Clip the coupon which appears elsewhere in this paper and present it at The World Office, 40 West Richmond St., Toronto, or 15 East Main St., Hamilton. These beautiful flags are not little hand flags, but full-sized. The staff is over six feet long—and jointed like a fishing-rod. The metal holder, to be permanently fastened in the window, overcomes all trouble heretofore had in hanging out a flag. We strongly recommend the Complete $4 Outfit at $1.48 as most desirable (instead of the Flag alone at $1.10).

More Hospitals Needed at the Front

Sir Adam and Lady Beck's report on hospital requirements at the front is probably the first urgent message that has been received in Canada. There has been no lack of willingness to do all that was needed, and great efforts have been made to send material and help to the fighting lines...

There is no second opinion about the quality of the hospital service already rendered. It is only the quantity that calls for amendment. The British authorities are unanimous that the Canadian hospitals are better equipped than any others. It is only the insufficiency that has to be remedied. Sir Adam had the amplest opportunity while in Flanders to see all the conditions, and he said that the most difficult thing he ever did was to come away from the firing base, where there was so much to do and so much need for all who could do anything...

Sir Adam states that there is splendid accommodation in England for those who are wounded too severely to be held in France. The wounded are treated at the base hospitals, if their injuries are sufficiently slight to warrant the hope that they will very soon recover. Those more severely wounded are taken back to the coast hospitals, and the very seriously wounded of those whose recovery will take a long time, are sent back to England, not that all the beds in France or Flanders are used for those requiring prompt attention. But there is not enough of such accommodation. It is to increase the number of base hospitals that Lady Beck is preparing her appeal, and is laying the facts before the governments and the Red Cross Association.

There is no need to repeat the numbers of the losses in the Canadian ranks. These are inevitable and we must be prepared to bear heavier burdens than perhaps have ever been contemplated. But we ought to understand that the need for plenty of medical service, hospital accommodation and nurses is imperative. If we have the best in the world to give we must not delay about giving it. The University set a fine example in organizing the hospital that has just been reported as having arrived in England. Other institutions might undertake similar services and guarantee the maintenance of a unit such as the University has sent forward. The board of trade, for example, and other associations might assume such a responsibility. Whatever deficiencies there are, however, must be met by the government, and no doubt Lady Beck's representations will be effective in securing proper attendance and treatment for the brave fellows who only ask to be recovered of their wounds to go back into the trenches again.

The Becker Case

The second death sentence against former Police Lieutenant Charles Becker of New York City has been affirmed by the court of appeals. The crime of which Becker was convicted was the murder of a professional gambler named Rosenthal, on July 16, 1912. The actual killing was done by four gunmen who were executed about a year ago. Of their guilt there could be no doubt. That they were hired to commit the deed and had no personal motive for killing Rosenthal is beyond dispute. The contention of the state is that they were hired and instigated by Becker.

But it is not claimed that they were hired directly or even met Becker in the transaction at all. Their employers were three professional gamblers named Jack Rose, Bridget Webber and Harry Vallon. Rose, Webber and Vallon admit they hired the gunmen but say they did so as the agents of Becker. They so testified at the trial and the jury believed they were telling the truth.

But these men were accomplices and according to their own story were no less guilty than the gunmen or Becker himself. Becker, therefore, could not be convicted on their testimony unless same was corroborated. The insufficiency of the corroborative evidence produced at the trial was the chief legal point relied upon by counsel for Becker in the court of appeals.

Becker had two strong points in his defence to the jury. The first was that Webber, Rose and Vallon were self-confessed murderers who were saving their own necks by putting his in the noose. The second was substantially this: Becker as police officer had been in partnership with Rosenthal, professional gambler. They quarrelled and Becker proceeded to extort money from Rosenthal and finally put him out of business. Rosenthal had given the story to The New York World and was to go before the grand jury and expose the relations between the police and the gamblers on July 16, 1912. He was shot down by the gunmen in brightly-lighted Times square at 2 o'clock in the morning of that day. Snaspicop was at once directed against Becker. That was inevitable. Hence Becker argues that he would not have been so foolish as to cause the killing of Rosenthal. He, therefore, claims that the three gamblers committed the murder for their own purposes, and put it upon him later on to save themselves.

The court took the ground that these arguments were for the consideration of the jury, and that the judgment of the jury upon them was final. Judge Bartlett, who wrote the opinion, seems to have been somewhat impressed by the fact that under the circumstances Becker must have foreseen that if Rosenthal was killed the very day upon which he was to appear before the grand jury to testify against him, he (Becker), would at once be suspected of the murder. But as we have seen, the reviewing court held that it was an argument for the jury, and remanded that the most convincing criminal often blundered in an incomprehensible manner.

That Becker will now be executed seems certain. He has exhausted the New York State Courts, and there is no federal question in the record to authorize a review by the United States Supreme Court. Neither can he hope for executive clemency because Governor Whitman is the man who as district attorney twice convicted Becker.

We might be tempted to comment unfavorably upon the number of appeals already permitted to Becker, but also our criminal law is quite free from delay we permit even more extensive appeals in civil cases. Perhaps after all it is just as well that Becker was not hastily convicted and executed while public excitement ran so high that to declare an impartial verdict was almost out of the question. His execution will be all the more impressive, because he has had abundant time and opportunity to prove his innocence.

MAY GIVE MEDICAL GOODS TO ENGLAND

MATTER IS CONSIDERED

The provincial government is slowly making up its mind as to the nature of a fitting gift for the old country. It is understood that opinions are crystallizing into a proposal to make all further contributions partake of a medical nature.

Sir Adam Beck and Lady Beck are of the opinion that in this way the Ontario Government could make its gifts most acceptable. Sir Adam made a first hand study of war conditions in Flanders and elsewhere, and has suggested to the cabinet means of placing money to advantage in medical necessities and comforts.

Hon. Dr. Fyfe is non-committal as to the outcome, but stated that this proposal was being seriously canvassed.

F. E. SMITH KNIGHTED ON ASSUMING OFFICE

LONDON, May 27.—King George held a privy council this morning, at which the seals and warrants of office were handed to the new members of the cabinet. Subsequently the first meeting of the new coalition cabinet was held.

The king has conferred knighthood upon Frederick E. Smith, solicitor-general in the new ministry.

MAPLE LEAF CO.'S SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Balance Sheet Shows Net Profit of Over Million Dollars.

WEIGHTY CONTRACTS

British and Other Governments Give Big War Orders for Flour.

In the annual statement of the Maple Leaf Milling Co., Limited, to be submitted to the shareholders at the annual general meeting, to be held today, a highly satisfactory state of affairs is shown. The balance sheet shows that there is a stock of grain, flour, feed, etc., amounting to $1,849,146.17. After deducting the dividends payable on preferred stock, amounting to $175,000, a net profit is shown of $1,674,146.17.

In a letter accompanying the balance sheet, Hedley Shaw, managing director, points out that owing to the war, considerable responsibility has been placed upon the company. "We have endeavored to do our part in supplying the needs of the empire, with flour," he writes. "We believe you will share our satisfaction that we have been entrusted by the British, Canadian, Ontario and other governments with some very large flour contracts, which we were able to accept. We received many compliments from those in authority in the course of which we handled these large orders."

The report points out that in that last year the directors advised the increasing of the capacity at Port Colborne to 8000 barrels daily, and also adding to the storage capacity for wheat at the elevator there. This action has been more than justified, as the company has been able to run the Port Colborne plant to full capacity for several months. As an interesting example, the company was the successful tenderer for 75 carloads of flour for the South African Government. It was important that the flour catch a certain steamer which had been especially chartered. Shipping instructions were received on Thursday, and the shipment was on the way, and in New York within three days.

STEADY ADVANCE IN GALLIOLI PENINSULA

Important Positions Reported Occupied and Now Strongly Entrenched.

LONDON, May 27.—A despatch from Athens via Reuters, says the allies are continuing their advance on the Gallipoli Peninsula. As a result of a bayonet attack they have occupied important positions, where they are now strongly entrenched.

"The losses of the Turks have been heavy. The aeroplane squadron of the allies is rendering splendid service. The fleet is continuing its bombardment of the Turkish positions night and day."

"News reaching Athens from Mitylene says that 400 Italian families have fled from Smyrna to Voulah. In Asia Minor, where they are waiting, a steamer is taking them to Italy."

GETS DAMAGES FROM GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY

A. R. Burrows Recovers for Injuries Sustained While Passing Thru Guelph Subway.

Last November A. R. Burrows, managing director of the Canadian Textile and Weaving Co., was rendered unconscious by fall of concrete while passing thru the Huskisson street subway at Guelph. He entered action against the Grand Trunk Railway Co. and the City of Guelph to recover $10,000 damages. The case was tried before Mr. Justice Clute, who yesterday at Osgoode Hall gave judgment against the railway company for $3500. As the city was not made a party to the suit within the three months required by the Municipal Act, it escaped liability.

The appellate division has upheld the charge against Mike Smith of the theft of a horse, wagon and a number of bushels of potatoes from Donald McLennan, a farmer and lumberman. McLennan disappeared after drawing about $50 from the bank at Sault Ste. Marie, where he had his account. The court holds that there was prima-facie evidence of theft if a man went to another's house when he was absent and removed his property.

The first appellate court list for today is: Fitzgerald v. Canadian Cement Co., DeLor v. Hannah, Hayes v. Boomhower, McFarland v. Carter.

TWO MORE INSPECTORS TO BE NAMED AT ONCE

Management Committee of Board of Education Reminded of Shortage in Letter.

Two more public school inspectors are to be appointed. The school management committee heard a hurry-up letter read yesterday afternoon from the minister of education, reminding the board that there had been a shortage of inspectors for two years. It was decided to make the appointments one at a time, and to immediately advertise for applications for one of the appointments.

The committee received the report of the subcommittee on reorganization, and adopted the following recommendations: That commercial fifth form classes be continued, that kindergarten primary courses be established, that as opportunity offers special supervisors be dispensed with, except for music and drill, by the appointment of an adequate number of inspectors.

LIVELY DISCUSSION ENDED IN A FIZZLE

Matter in Dispute Between Principal Hagarty and Lt.-Col. Thompson Allowed to Drop.

Principal Hagarty and Lt.-Col. Thompson had a lively dispute before the special cadet committee yesterday afternoon. Lt.-Col. Thompson had given offence by adhering strictly to the regulations on Emphy Day, and had refused recognition to high school cadets who were not in uniform. The committee heard the pros and cons and decided to take no action.

STREET RAILWAY PAYS

F. O. Weighart Gets $40 of Claim for Three Hundred Dollars.

Forty dollars was the amount allowed F. O. Weighart on his claim of $300 brought against the Toronto Street Railway. On July 13, 1914, Weighart was crossing the Don bridge when a street car backed up and damaged his car. The case was tried before Judge Denton in the county court. Percival Street, the motorman on the car, carrying the Grenadier Guard, was struck and lost his life while carrying a comrade to safety after a charge on German trenches.

LT.-COL. CURRIE PROMOTED.

OTTAWA, May 27.—Military orders announced the promotion of Lt.-Col. J. A. Currie, M.P., to the rank of lieutenant-colonel and to remain seconded.

Lt.-Col. C. Greville Harston is granted the temporary rank of colonel, while holding the appointment of chief inspector of arms and ammunitions.

World at one cent per word; at one and a half cent per word for the first two papers. This gives the two papers.

Rock Island at New Low Record
 Finances of Company Will Shortly Come Under Federal Review.

Advance in Copper
 Renewal of Domestic Demand Brings Forward Fresh Strength in Shares.

Wheat Was at One Time Twenty Cents Below High Record.

CHICAGO, May 27.—Eight cents break today in the price of the May option attracted much more notice than anything else regarding wheat, although business centered to a far greater extent on July and September, both of which scored gains. Absence of any urgent call from exporters or millers left May virtually without support. The market, however, closed steady at 1-1/2 decline to advance compared with last night. Corn rose 3-1/2 to 11-3/8 net, oats a shade to 1-4/8 and provisions 5 to 12-1/2.

May wheat at the low point of the season today touched 142 1/4-c, nearly 25c under the high record of the war, February 5, and sharply in contrast with enthusiastic bull predictions, then that quotations before the end of May would climb to $2 a bushel. The offerings of the May option today were said to have been largely of a stop loss character, but were not of sufficient volume to be at all exciting. News that the setback of about 15c in 48 hours had led to export sales of 1,600,000 bushels at the seaboard came too late to have much effect on today's market here.

Injury to Crop.
 Heavy rains that were said to have caused serious injury to crop prospects and to have renewed fears of rust damage were lifted. The price of July and September wheat. Comparative firmness in quotations at Liverpool tended also to favor the bulls.

Complaints that much replanting would be necessary in Iowa sent the corn market up grade. A big reduction of the estimated surplus in the United States counted further against the bears.

Oats were influenced by the action of corn. Crop reports, the volume of buying small. Higher prices for hogs helped provisions. Besides, there were reports of fair sales of hogs in Europe.

MINING MARKET SHOWS A RENEWED ACTIVITY
 Many Shares Show Stronger Tendency on Buying Orders Coming on Market.

The mining market yesterday was fairly active and a good number of buying orders came on the market, although the changes in prices were not great. There appears to be a big shortage existing in the market and any reasonable buying orders would cause a quick advance.

News from both Porcupine and Cobalt was all very good and it only awaits the public to enter the market to cause a quick upturn.

Dome Extension was stronger, selling at 3-1/4. The remarks of the president at the annual meeting seem to foreshadow some action being taken on this property before very long, and mining judges consider that this property has an excellent chance to make good. Dome Mines was stronger, selling at 14-10. This stock is holding its advance well and indications are that it will advance further.

McIntyre was steady, selling between 40-1/4 and 40-1/2. Inside buying appeared in this stock today and it looks as if the low had been reached. Vipond was easier, selling down to 48-1/2.

In the Cobalts, Timiskaming was active, opening at 38 and selling up to 37, closing around 36. This stock has the best public following in the market, and when the market weakens up in activity should go much higher.

Peterson Lake was strong, selling at 10-1/2. Development on this property is looking a great deal brighter. Beaver sold at 34.

TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE.

There was practically no life in the Toronto market yesterday, only a few shares coming on to the market. Barcelona showed a small decrease on the day, 80 shares changing hands at 3-1/2, as against 8-7-8. Wednesday's closing price, Maple Leaf advanced a point to 64, while Mackay sold in the morning at 80-1/4 and in the afternoon for 79-1/4. Smelters opened at 103, but later in the afternoon 25 shares were sold at 102-1/2, and a half share as low as 100.
