THE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Record of the Splendid Work of the Society Last Year

The annual meeting of the Carleton Place Women's Institute was held on Saturday last when the reports of the Secretary and Treasurer were presented and are as follows:

SECRETARY'S REPORT

The work of the Women's Institute during the past year has been very encouraging. The meetings were well attended and general interest well kept up, an average attendance of 34 at each meeting.

In June Dr. Mary McKenzie Smith, the Govt. representative, paid this branch a visit, and gave an interesting talk on child-welfare and medical inspection of schools.

In July a very successful lawn social was held. $330.17 was realized, also a sweater donated by Mrs. H. W. Dummer was drawn for, the lucky number 53 and Miss Olive Saunders of Carleton Place, the winner, the proceeds from the sale of tickets brought $136.00. At the Sept. meeting Miss Elliott read a very appropriate paper called "The Fleet," and as it was tag day for the Navy League, $25.00 was voted towards this worthy cause.

In Oct. life membership in the Red Cross was presented to Major W. H. Hooper on his return home from overseas, also life membership to Mrs. D. G. Campbell, Mrs. F. McEwen, and Miss Strong. At Nov. meeting Major Hooper addressed us, relating his treatment as a prisoner of war in Germany, during the same month we had a visit from Miss Van den Flier, of the Hague, Holland who gave an address in the town hall under the auspices of the Women's Institute. The speaker was clad in her national Dutch costume, and told her story in simple words, a number of moving pictures were upon the screen showing Belgium, her much loved country prior to, and after the invasion of the war. The collection amounting to $100.00 was devoted to Belgian relief.

In Nov. the appeal for the Xmas stockings was most heartily responded to, and 175 stockings were packed and shipped to our town boys overseas in time for Xmas, total value $614.50. In Dec. $138.00 was spent in buying new clothing and several bales were packed and shipped to Ottawa. Red Cross to be sent with their consignment overseas to the devastated areas.

New work was taken up in Feb. for the adoption of an orphan in the Franco-Canadian orphanage in France, and tickets were sold on a sweater donated by Mrs. John Virtue (of Saskatoon) and proceeds voted towards this new work. During this same month (Feb.) the President and Mrs. A. W. Bell, our delegate from this branch, attended the Central Convention held in Toronto 4, 5, 6th, Mrs. Bell bringing home a most excellent report, and urging the Institute members to take up some of the courses supplied by the Government, such as Home-Nursing, Domestic Science, and Sewing.

A very successful afternoon tea and sale of homemade cooking was held in the Council Chamber Tuesday afternoon and evening March 11th, proceeds for the needy and suffering Serbians, which amounted to $106.68. On this occasion the ticket for the sweater was drawn by Mr. A. H. Edwards, the lucky number 107 and won by Miss Jennie Duberville, Carleton Place.

At the April meeting Mrs. Dummer introduced the idea of interesting the school children in needle-work, cooking, and photography, the Institute members and the teachers of the schools to co-operate in this work, and to hold an exhibition of the same in conjunction with the Horticultural exhibit, and to Miss Kibbee went to Ottawa last week to take a responsible position with the G.N.W. Telegraph Co.

Charles Cooper was hanged at North Bay for the murder of Theodore Taylor, near Tomstown, on the 25th May last.

"The Trans-Canada Limited," a new daily express train on the C.P.R., will reduce the time of the trip between Montreal (via Toronto) and Vancouver to less than four days.

The death occurred at Brantford on Wednesday of Miss Jane Sibbitt. Deceased's maiden name was Jane Brooks, daughter of the late Thomas Brooks. Miss Mary Brooks and Mrs. John Hogg of town are sisters, Miss Brooks was with her sister at the time of her death. —Perth Examiner.

The G.W.V.A. Almonte Branch are putting on a big celebration in Almonte on May 24th. Something doing every minute. Procession, lacrosse and baseball matches, Tag Day, Dance. Watch for posters.

A Rebekah lodge of Oddfellows was instituted at Perth last Tuesday evening, starting out with 145 members. The degree was conferred by the Smiths Falls lodge. The officers were installed by the officers of Almonte lodge. The local lodges were well represented, Carleton Place sending over several motor car loads.

Lieut. Huntley Sinclair, son of Rev. R. C. H. Sinclair, who returned a fortnight ago, after spending a year and a half overseas, is renewing old friendships in town. Huntley received his high school education here and is well known among the young people, all of whom are glad to welcome him back and see him looking so well.

Mr. John E. Aust, piano tuner, representing Mr. M. Webster, will make periodic visits to Carleton Place. Orders left at McIntosh's Drug Store will receive prompt attention. Mr. Aust is an experienced tuner and comes very highly recommended by Mr. Webster.

The Oddfellows will have a big time this evening the occasion being an official visit from Grand Master Cox and Grand Chaplain Johnston. A large gathering is expected, all the lodges in the district being invited. One feature of the evening will be the conferring of the initiatory degree; another will be the presentation of a veteran's jewel. After the lodge work a banquet will be served in the town hall by the members of the Rebekah degree, when addresses will be delivered by the grand lodge officers and others.

open prizes. All members were greatly in favor of trying this new work.

In addition to the Xmas stockings we sent from Feb. till the signing of the armistice, 231 parcels of comforts to our town boys overseas, also donations of money was sent to each of our seven town nursing sisters overseas for extra comforts for their sick and wounded patients. Letters have been received expressing their deep gratitude for such kindness sent from this Institute.

Death of Mrs. Angus McPhee

Mrs. McPhee, wife of Mr. Angus McPhee, who had been in St. Francis de Sales Hospital, Smiths Falls, for some time undergoing treatment, died on Sunday morning, aged 73 years. The remains were brought here yesterday and the funeral took place this morning from her husband's residence on Moffatt street, to St. Mary's church and cemetery. Besides the husband, two sons and two daughters survive, who have the sympathy of many friends in their bereavement.

Moore-Corkery

A pretty wedding took place in St. Claire's Goulbourn, last Wednesday morning, at 10 o'clock, when Gertrude, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Corkery, Goulbourn, was united in marriage to Mr. Thomas Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Moore, Ogdensburg N.Y. Rev. Father Frank Corkery, of Osgoode, cousin of the bride, performed the ceremony. The bride looked charming in a dress of grey silk, bead trimmings with hat to match. The bridesmaid, Miss Marcella Galvin, of Carleton Place, wore a suit of navy blue serge with hat to match. The groom was ably supported by Mr. J. E. McKenna, of Burritt's Rapids. After the ceremony the bride's party repaired to the home of the bride's parents where the wedding breakfast was partaken of. The bride was the recipient of many useful and costly gifts, including numerous cheques. The groom's gift to the bride was a China cabinet, to the bridesmaid a pearl and amethyst brooch, to the bridesman a pearl tie pin. In the evening guests to the number of about 200 gathered at the home of the bride, where a social time was spent in dancing, after which Mr. and Mrs. Moore drove to their home in Burritt's Rapids, where the groom is a prosperous young farmer.

The Late Archibald McGregor

By the death of Mr. Archibald McGregor which occurred about 8 o'clock last Sunday morning, the town loses another of its old and well known citizens. Deceased was born in Beckwith in 1877 and so was in his 72nd year. He was a son of the late Alexander McGregor, one of the early Scotch settlers. When a young man he left the homestead and took to lumbering and for some years was connected with the sawmills here in the heyday of their glory. He then went into the employ of the C.P.R. and for over 30 years was a faithful employee of the great corporation receiving his pension some eight years since. Mr. McGregor was twice married, his first wife being Margaret Fumerton, who predeceased him by 30 years, leaving two sons and two daughters—James A. of the railway mail service and Mrs. J. K. James of Osgoode Station, who survive, Alexander H. and Mrs. Allan Wilson, deceased. Some years later he married Miss Jessie Anderson of Beckwith and by this union two daughters were born, Miss Jessie McGregor, who survives, and Ella who died a little over a year ago. One brother John, of Smiths Falls, and four sisters, Mrs. A. F. Stewart and Mrs. Peter Robertson, town, and Mrs. Alex. Cameron and Miss Christina McGregor of Beckwith, also survive. Mr. McGregor was a man of strict integrity and much esteemed by his fellows. In religion he was a Baptist, in politics a Liberal of the old school. He had been ailing for a long time, his first trouble being sciatica, but later complications developed that finally brought about collapse after months of suffering. The funeral took place this afternoon to St. Fillan's cemetery. The bereaved relatives have the sympathy of many friends in their hour of sorrow.

The New Train Service

The new time-table, which came into effect on Sunday, will be found in this issue. The changes are very important in some respects, mostly on the local trains. The east-bound trains—18 (Soo) and (2) Imp. Ltd. remain as they were, as does No. 556 (Pembroke) at 9:55 a.m. and 560 from Brockville to Ottawa at 8:25 a.m. The Toronto afternoon train (562) arrives half an hour earlier. The evening local from Pembroke to Ottawa is half an hour later. A new train from Brockville has been added, arriving here at 9:50 a.m. and connecting with the Pembroke local for Ottawa and the Chalk River local for the west. This train returns to Brockville as a mixed at 10:25 a.m. The Soo and Imp. Ltd. going west are unchanged, but the evening local to Pembroke is half an hour earlier, leaving at 5:15. Then we have a Sunday train from Brockville to Ottawa at 9:45 a.m. returning leaves in the evening for Brockville at 8:20, the same hour as the daily evening trains from Ottawa to Brockville, which is 30 minutes later than formerly. The Toronto train remains at 9:55 a.m.

Mr. R. B. Rose, of Smiths Falls, has received a handsome fishing rod and reel from Miss Hoeflin of Toronto, whom he rescued from drowning at Portland on the Rideau one day last summer. At the same time he rescued a gentleman from Montreal and for his brave act he is likely to receive a medal from the Royal Humane society.

The April make of fodder cheese in Brockville section is conceded to have been smaller than usual this year, although all factories have been in operation during the greater part of the month. Decrease in the volume of milk going to factories is due it is said to the poor condition of the cows brought about by the high price of grains which somewhat curtailed the feeding.

A joint stock company has been formed in Perth for the purpose of acquiring athletic grounds, building a curling rink, preparing lawn tennis courts and bowling greens, and the prospectus is now before the citizens. The canvassers for stock are meeting with encouraging results. The proposed curling rink will cost about $8,000 exclusive of the cost of the ground and the lighting. The property acquired is what is known as the Hart lot, on Beckwith street, fronting on the river and canal. It is an admirable place for the purpose, handy and almost in the centre of the town.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

Pleasant Evening Reveries dedicated to tired Mothers as they Join the Home Circle at Evening Tide.

BEWARE, YOUNG MEN

If you don't want women to outstrip you in the industrial race and compel you to come to them when you want fifty cents, you would do better stop drinking poor whiskey and quit gambling at race tracks. Women, in spite of man's refusal to give them the rights and privileges to which they are entitled, are to-day in 145 branches of business and in instances showing more ability than the men. In one of the greatest financial institutions in the country, not long ago, a well known man, drawing a salary of $25,000 a year, suffered a nervous collapse. The directors selected a young woman who for ten years had been the stenographer. She, the directors told us, has done better work than the man she succeeded and is doing it for but $10,000 a year. In fifty years these women will know more than the men. They have more time to read and study and they are improving their time. Eventually all the universities will be co-educational and the women will carry off all the prizes.

WHAT SHALL I TEACH MY CHILD?

Teach him that it is better to die than to lie; that it is better to starve than to steal; that it is better to be a scavenger or a woodchopper than an idler and a dead-beat; that it is just as criminal and reprehensible to waste Monday as to desecrate Sunday; that labor is the price of all honest possessions; that no one is exempt from the obligation to labor with head, hands or heart; that "an honest man is the noblest work of God;" that knowledge is power; that labor is worship and idleness sin; that it is better to eat the crust of independent poverty than to luxuriate in the richest viands as a dependent. Teach him these facts till they are woven into his being and regulate his life, and we will insure his success—though the heavens fall.

TRUE LOVE OF WOMEN

No woman will love a man better for his being renowned or prominent. Though he be the first among men, she will be prouder, not fonder; as is often the case she will not even be proud. But give her love, appreciation, kindness, and there is no sacrifice she will not make for his content and comfort. The man who loves her well is her hero and king—no less a king, though his only kingdom is his hearth and home. In nine cases out of ten, it is a man's fault that he is unhappy with his wife. It is a very exceptional woman who will not be all she can be to an attentive husband, and a very exceptional one who will not be very disagreeable if she finds herself willfully neglected.

A genuine mother could no more raise a bad boy into a bad man than a robin could raise a hawk. When we say a "genuine mother" we mean something more than a mother who prays with her boy and sends him to Sunday school.

CANADA FIRST AERIAL PATROL

Aerial patrol of forests for the detection of fire will be inaugurated by the Department of Marine and Fisheries in advance of any other country. Hon. A. K. McLean, acting Minister of Marine and Fisheries recently rendered his decision favoring the release of two hydro-aeroplanes, now in their sheds at Halifax for experimental patrol over Central Quebec, and Mr. Stuart Graham an experienced British naval aviator, has reached Ottawa to formally take over the machines for the trials.

The Quebec Government and the St. Maurice Forest Protective Association are assuming the expense of maintenance. It is probable that the Canadian example will be closely followed by the United States Government which has already ordered the release of planes for use by the Forest Service.

The forests of Eastern Canada are worth billions of dollars and at the same time are the most easily destroyed of all the natural resources. Canada has nearly 3,000 forest fires in an average year, and many means that will lessen this heavy public loss will be welcomed.

France and Her Debt

The population of France is less than 40,000,000, and the public debt is more than $40,000,000,000. Every man, woman and child is therefore burdened with a debt of more than $1,000. Every baby is born owing a debt on which they must pay at least an annual interest of $55. According to the last census, there were less than 13,000,000 money producing males in France. Thus for each worker, there is a debt of over $3,000. With its present debt, France's expenditures are placed at $3,600,000,000 a year, and the total annual private only income of all the French together is between $2,600,000,000 and $3,000,000,000. A great deal of the French debt existed before the war and was largely the result of extravagance. During the war, too, France did not, unlike other nations, meet part of the war-cost out of current revenue, although aside from the destruction of property in a comparatively small part of the country, France really profited by the war. Enormous sums were spent in France by Allied forces operating there. For even the trenches occupied by British and Canadian troops rent was, according to a statement publicly made by Pres. Creelman, of the O.A.C., paid out of the British or Canadian treasury.

Many petitions for prohibition are being received by the Federal Government.

All these things are good, and indispensable as far as they go, but there is a lot more to do to train a boy besides praying with him, just as there are things necessary to the cultivation of a garden besides reading a manual. To succeed with roses one must prune, weed and hoe a great deal. To make a boy into a pure man, a mother must do more than pray. She must live with him in the sense of comrade and closest friend. She must stand by him in time of temptation as the pilot sticks to the wheel when rapids are around. She must never desert him to go off to the wheel when rapids are around. She must never desert him to go off to the wheel when rapids are around. She must never desert him to go off to the wheel when rapids are around.

BE A MAN

Foolish spending is the father of poverty. Do not be ashamed of hard work. Work for the best salaries and wages you can get, but work for half price rather than be idle. Be your own master, and do not let society or fashion swallow up your individuality—hat, coat and boots. Do not eat up or wear out all you earn. Compel your selfish body to spare something for profit's sake. Be stingy to your own appetite, but merciful to other's necessities. Help others, and ask no help for yourself. See that you are proud. Let your pride be of the right kind. Be too proud to wear a coat you cannot buy; too proud to be in company that you cannot keep up with in expenses; too proud to lie, or steal, or cheat; too proud to be stingy; in short, be a man of integrity and individuality.

It would astonish many of us sometimes if we could know what our neighbors think of us. Every man has some kind of a standing in the community where he lives, and he is sized up a great deal closer than he has any idea of. You may set it down as a fact that there isn't a twelve-year-old boy in the neighborhood who hasn't his opinion of you, and he wouldn't be slow about expressing it either, if a stranger should ask him for it. Every man is always making character, whether he is doing anything else or not.

It is well to be charitable in our conclusions, mindful that we often need the cloak of charity ourselves. Fill life with sunshine and strew flowers where others throw stones. Make life a bright spot in this world and where you see flowers cast smiles, and whether it be morn, dusk or night, let the sunny side of nature always be at full meridian.

Good manners are not taught in the school books. They are found in the home lessons.

Patience is a flower that does not grow in every garden.

IS THERE A BABY IN YOUR HOME?

Is there a baby or young children in your home? If there is you should not be without a box of Baby's Own Tablets. Childhood ailments come quickly, and means should always be at hand to promptly fight them. Baby's Own Tablets are the ideal home remedy. They regulate the bowels; sweeten the stomach; banish constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers—in fact they relieve all the minor ills of little ones. Concerning them Mrs. Moise Cadotte, Makamik, Que., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets are the best remedy in the world for little ones. My baby suffered terribly from indigestion and vomiting, but the Tablets soon set her right and now she is in perfect health." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Original State

Wild of eye he burst into the barber's shop. "You remember selling me some patent hair restorer last week, you hoary-headed old swindler?" he roared angrily. "Swore it would restore my head to its original state, didn't you?" "And didn't it?" asked the barber, as he calmly went on shaving another customer. "Didn't it?" sneered the enraged man. "You obtained my money under false pretences. Why, it even removed the little hair I had left and now I'm as bald as the pavement." "Then there was no false pretences about it," said the barber. "I said it would restore your head to its original state, and you know, sir, most of us are born bald!"

ROSES TO ORNAMENT FROCKS

Posies Being Used to Decorate Many Kinds of Gowns—Revival of Old Elizabethan Fashion.

There is much about the latter end of the eighteenth century that is coming back into fashion. The deeply square décolletage with the high line at the back, the tight elbow sleeves with their deep ruffles of precious lace, the ornamental bow of faint blue ribbon in front, and the garlands of little roses appear daily among smart society and in the salons of those exclusive dressmakers who claim that they never become slaves to any one mode of dressing.

There are two designers in New York who use pink roses to ornament various kinds of frocks and coats. They both draw inspiration from the eighteenth century, but they are not in accord with the house of Callot, which chooses roses that are full-blown, soft and becoming.

The roses which we see on these new frocks that come from certain exclusive houses have the appearance of being covered with shellac. Some are tawdry and smack of the Christmas tree; others appear to be cut from porcelain. They represent a certain era in dressing, and they are faithful to type.

There are evening gowns which have rows of these glittering, stiff little roses to outline the décolletage and the armholes as well. There are other gowns that have a garland of these roses arranged like a looped chain of pearls across the front of the corsage, and another row at the top of each deep ruffle of lace that hangs pendant from the elbow sleeves.

Strange to say, in connection with this rococo style of ornament, there has arisen a revival of the old Elizabethan fashion of ornamenting velvet gowns. This shows itself in the use of pearls to catch up the hem of skirts and sleeves, and these pearls are often a part of a fine latticework done in gold thread.

LATEST IN VICTORY DESIGN

Combines Fleur-de-Lis of France, the English Rose and the American Golden Rod.

There has come out a fabric, and also a new embroidery, which combines the fleur-de-lis of France, the English rose, and the American golden rod. It is called the victory design, and those who exploit it are trying to make it among the accepted ornaments for the season.

It may be that women will not care for the grouping of these three national flowers, but there seems to be every reason to believe that the French fleur-de-lis, which has gone through the history of that country and has been the symbol of so many of its victories, will be the leading design in the fabrics which will be worn during the great celebrations abroad.

There is no talk of America's launching new gowns for whatever celebrations may come. The eyes of our buyers, manufacturers and dyers are turned toward Paris, and each is making a great effort to get over there, despite the scarcity of passports given out in this country.

Hair Ribbon Economy.

Little daughter's hair ribbons should be made to do duty as long as possible. When soiled they may be thoroughly cleaned by shaking for a few seconds, say half a minute, in a solution of soda—a teaspoonful baking soda to one quart of boiling water. Rinse the ribbon in cold water, dry for two or three minutes in a towel and press with a hot iron. This process removes all dirt, as suggested, but does not injure the color.

Javelle Water.

This is used in Chinese laundries to whiten their linen. It will remove most any kind of stain. One-fourth cupful to a boiler of clothes will make them very white. One gallon of water, four pounds washing soda, one pound common soda. Heat all together, add two pounds slaked lime. After it has stopped foaming pour off and bottle.

$20,000,000 MADE OUT OF 5 AND 10 CENT PIECES

If a person were to say to the average young man of 25 years: "Young fellow, do you know that if you save your nickels and dimes, it is within your power to make $20,000,000?" he would be considered a little off. But it has been done, and the late F. W. Woolworth did it.

When Woolworth was a young man he, at one time, earned only $8.50 a week, kept a wife and child and saved $50, which, added to $250 he borrowed, bought his first stock of goods. In time he started his 5, 10 and 15 cent stores, and had about 1,070 of them when he died. He built the world's greatest office building, putting $14,000,000 into it, and died reputedly worth another $7,000,000 or $8,000,000.

It is not possible for every youth to become a Woolworth; but if Canadian young men and women save the 5 and 10 cent pieces and invest them in War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps, they will lay the foundation of their own financial independence.

PLANTING ROOTS FOR SEED

(Experimental Farm Note.)

As the time for planting mangels, turnips and carrots for seed is at hand, a few recommendations relative to planting may be opportune.

In the first place, any one who has saved some roots for the purpose of raising from them what seed he will need for next year's seeding, should use only the very best roots. It is of course evident that, if the most satisfactory results are to be obtained, the roots to be used for seed production must be perfectly sound; otherwise the seed grover runs the risk of going to the trouble of planting, only to find that after a while the stand of the seed crop becomes thin and disreputable looking as the diseased roots rot in the ground.

The roots used for seed production should furthermore be as uniform as possible in respect to general type. That is to say, they should be of the same colour and of the same general shape. It is of minor importance that they be uniform in size as experience has shown that small roots produce about as much seed as large ones and that the quality of the seed produced by small roots is just as good as the quality of the seed produced by large ones.

The roots chosen for seed raising should be planted in rows anywhere from 2 1/2 to 3 feet apart so as to make it possible to horse-cultivate between the rows. Mangels and swede turnips should, in order to be given a chance to branch out freely, be spaced anywhere from two to three feet apart in the rows; in the case of carrots, the roots may be planted closer together, say from 1 1/2 to 2 feet apart in the rows.

If only a small number of roots are to be set out, the planting may be done with a spade. This method of planting is very simple. Holes are made at the proper distance sufficiently deep to allow the roots placed therein to be just nicely covered with earth. When the roots are placed in the holes, the soil should be packed around them. The planting is done properly if the tops of the roots are just a little below the surface of the ground.

If a large area is to be planted it is especially if help is scarce, more economical to plant with a plow. Furrows are made, and the roots are placed reclining on the slanting side of the furrow at the proper distance apart in such a way that the soil turned over by the plow in the next round will just cover the tops. Then a third furrow is ploughed and no roots are planted in it. To be brief, the roots should be planted in every third furrow and placed in such a manner that the plow barely covers them with soil. If the tops are left uncovered, they may dry out if the weather turns hot, but if, on the other hand, the roots are buried too deep, the seed stalks sprouting from them may have some difficulty to break through, especially if the roots are small.

No matter what methods are followed in the planting of the roots, it is

TRANSPORTING CANADA'S SOLDIERS HOME

A returning soldier on a transport in a Canadian Harbour is not expected to philosophically await facilities of transport. A cheering crowd in an inland town, waiting for troop trains to arrive, isn't likely to be perfectly patient either. But a fairly large proportion of the workers of Canada—those engaged in railway service—are putting in long strenuous days, these times of demobilization, to get the fighting men back to their homes with the least delay possible.

Just how stupendous that work of rail transport is, may be surmised from the fact that from March 17 to April 23, both dates inclusive, this year, from the port of Halifax there have been handled over the rails of Canadian National Railways to interior points, 49,000 military passengers. This colossal movement required the utilization of 107 special trains, and it speaks volumes for the self-sacrificing zeal of the rank and file of the roads that this total of almost fifty thousand men have been moved as swiftly and silently as if the total had been but a tenth of those actually transported.

Probably never again will Haligonians see such a procession of great ships loaded with soldiers in that magnificent harbour. The list, day by day, is imposing.

On March 17, the Carmania docked at 9.15 a.m., with 2769 soldiers and 275 civilians. The ticketing was rushed through and nine special trains were despatched in 6 hours. Two days later the Celtic warped in to her berth at 7.40 in the evening. She carried 2810 troops of all ranks. In less than 4 hours the soldiers had been forwarded, the actual time for despatching being placed at two hours and a half. The day following, March 20th, the Baltic docked. She carried 3200 returning men, to handle whom five specials were sent out in three hours and 35 minutes. There was an interval of four days before the Cretic docked at 8.05 a.m., with 1802 soldier passengers. Again, four specials were moved out in two hours and 45 minutes. Next day, March 25, the Royal George, with 1388 troops aboard docked at 11.45 a.m. Three specials were despatched in one hour and three quarters.

Then came the giant Olympic with 4846 aboard. High winds prevented her immediate docking, and the troops or most of them, had to be brought off by tenders. This proved a laborious job for all concerned, by dint of hard work, special after special was sent forward until the great liner was cleared. This consumed a great deal of time, and, before there was much time to think it, the Cedric with 3520 men, and the Minnekahda, with 2451 reached dock, both on March 27th. Eight special trains were utilized to handle the complement from the Cedric, while six were necessary to take care of the forwarding of those from aboard the Minnekahda.

On March 30th, at 5.30 p.m., the Regina docked with 1981 officers and men from practically every province in Canada. Within three hours and 20 minutes, 5 special trains had been despatched and the local units had been ticketed for the regular trains. On April 1st, the Canada docked at 9 o'clock. She carried 1351 soldiers. Three special trains had been despatched within 3 hours and 35 minutes after disembarkation; the actual time between departure of the first and that of last, being three-quarters of an hour.

On April 6 the Northland docked at 4.40 p.m. She carried 1237 soldier passengers. Two hours later her complement had been forwarded, only 13 minutes passing between the departure of the trains. It is at this point in the records that the first prominent mention is made of the large amount of military baggage to be handled. On the same day the Caronia docked at 8.10 p.m. She carried 3364 passengers and specials were despatched in 4 hours. On April 9 the Megantic arrived in the harbour with 1179 soldier passengers and 200 civilians, a total of 1379. The Megantic did not dock at once and the disembarkment of troops was carried on by tender, necessarily a slow, laborious process, but three soldier and one civilian special had been despatched in two and three-quarter hours. On the day following, the Lapland docked at 5.30 in the evening with 1974 passengers, and in a little more than three hours later, 4 specials were despatched. Eight days later—April 18—the Carmania docked at 7.25 p.m., with 2600 troops. Six specials were despatched in a little more than 6 hours. There is also a note in the record in the case of this ship about the quantity of baggage to be handled. Two days later—April 20—the Adriatic arrived at 5.25 p.m., with 1841 passengers. Four hours after the time of docking 4 special trains had been despatched.

Then on April 21 the Olympic was back again. She docked at 11.30 a.m., and carried 5572 military passengers and 300 civilians, a total of 5872. Eleven special trains were despatched within seven hours and a half, and a civilian special was also sent forward carrying about 200 passengers. There was an unusually large amount of baggage to be handled, but this is regarded as one of the best troop movements since the first of the year.

On April 23, the Belgic, with 3320 officers and troops aboard, came in a day ahead of schedule. Six hundred of these passengers were dispersed from Halifax, but the remainder were moved over C.N.R. rails in seven special trains.

The handling of these 49,000 troops and civilians by special train movement is regarded in Canadian railway circles generally as a highly satisfactory performance.

essential that the roots be set out as early as it is possible to go on the land, for, according to experience, the early planting brings the heaviest seed yields.

formance, but it reflects especial credit upon the staff of the old Government lines which are now the Maritime Provinces portion of Canadian National Railways. The railway service is keenly responsive to the great obligation of handling such large bodies of troops over long distances by rail. There is also a desire on the part of the trainmen to facilitate the movement of the trains with all possible speed, and the men in the operating departments especially are carrying, and will continue to carry heavy responsibilities until the last troop ship and the last body of Canadian troops have been cleared from the ocean ports.

Prairie Tree Planting

Since the inauguration of tree distribution by the Forestry Branch of the Department of the Interior, 45,357,146 trees have been distributed for planting on the farms in the prairie districts. All these trees were planted on farms, and 85 per cent or more of them are growing successfully, but there is room and necessity for as large a distribution for many years yet, according to the report of the Director of Forestry, which is a part of the annual report of the Department of the Interior for the last fiscal year, which has just been issued. The number of trees distributed to farmers in 1917 was 8,400,000, the largest in the history of this work, and there were distributed to 4,561 applicants. Owing to poor seed conditions in 1916 and an unfavourable year in 1917, the supply available for distribution in 1918 was considerably smaller.

The Importance of Cents

No one should think lightly of the 25 cent Thrift Stamp as a means for gathering up the savings of the great mass of the people. In Great Britain they have stamps selling for as low as 6d. or 12 cents. In the schools of New York State cards have recently been issued which enable the children to turn in one cent at a time and get credit for it. In other words, the richest state in the richest country in the world does not hesitate to accept the one cent that a child in its schools desires to save.

The Japanese question at the Peace Conference, concerning Kiao-chau, has been settled. Germany will surrender the port to Japan, which will in turn hand it over to China in due time.

TUESDAY, MAY 6TH, 1919

The Peace Treaty goes to the Germans to-morrow.

Peace within, judging from the way the proceedings have gone, the peace conference before anything can be accomplished.

The net national debt is about $1,500,000,000. The Canadian Trade Commission seeks to awaken a realization of this fact in every man and woman in the Dominion.

Discontinuance of the conferring of knighthood on Canadians residing in Canada was decided upon as advisable by the special committee of the Commons dealing with the matter. The committee also concurred in a recommendation favoring the abolition of hereditary titles which are now existing in Canada.

A GREAT CAMPAIGN FOR CHURCH FUNDS

The Forward Movement of the Protestant Churches of Canada, in which the Presbyterian, Anglican, Methodist, Congregational and Baptist churches are to participate, will be formally launched at a public meeting to be held in Ottawa about the end of May.

A United National Executive Committee has been formed with Mr. G. H. Wood, of Wood, Gundy and Company, of Toronto, as chairman, and the plan now is to have a Dominion-wide organization somewhat similar to that which made the Victory Loan such a success. Every province and municipality will be covered. Mr. G. A. Warburton of Toronto has been secured as national director of the campaign.

The total financial objective of the Anglican church, for all Canada, is already mentioned, there is a total of $2,300,000. In addition to the $750,000, $1,500,000 for missionary funds, and $400,000 for general funds.

The Presbyterian Church has placed its objective at $3,500,000, to be obtained in five years, for consolidating, up-building, and extending their work, and will also make a special effort to double the present church budget of $1,200,000.

The Methodist objective is $10,000,000, eight millions of this to be used in the home and foreign work of the church, and two millions on pensions for ministers. Neither the Congregational nor Baptist Churches have, as yet, decided on the amount they will try to raise in the forward movement campaign.

Board Meets in Perth

The Ontario Railway and Municipal Board with Mr. D. M. McIntyre, K.C., as Chairman, sat at the Court House, Perth, on Thursday to hear the application of the Hopetown Telephone Company, Limited, for permission to increase their yearly rentals. The Company had not been yielding dividends but had attempted to raise their rental with a discount on rental to subscribers who were also shareholders of 15 per cent on the amount of stock held. This was virtually declaring a dividend to shareholders in advance. Objection was taken to this by certain subscribers and by the Board. However, on the hearing, when the Company was represented by Messrs. Stewart, Hope & O'Donnell, the increased rate of rental applied for was approved and the Board allowed for a discount to all subscribers of 10 per cent. of the rental if paid within thirty days and a dividend to stockholders on the yearly business. The Company are required to complete the metallizing of their line within the next three years, subject to extension of the time if required.—Courier.

Pembroke Man's Sad Homecoming

The homecoming to Pembroke on Tuesday evening of Pte. Paul Toupin was an extremely sad one. He went overseas a year ago with the 14th Montreal Highlanders, serving for some months in France and going subsequently with the army of occupation to Germany. He reached Montreal a few days ago, and heard there that his mother had died. Getting his discharge, he hurried home, hoping to reach Pembroke in time for the funeral. His arrival here was unexpected, and he went direct to the old home, only to find it in darkness. His brother, Mr. Jos. Toupin, who lives next door, saw the man seeking admittance, and went over to investigate. He was surprised on finding that the stranger was his brother, and then he had to inform Pte. Toupin that his mother had died in March. The young man then asked for his father, and was advised that he had died in October last. Members of the family did not have his address after he went overseas, hence word of the death of his parents could not be forwarded to him.—Observer.

Complete electrification of the railway system of Montreal harbor and a million-dollar cold storage plant, are among the improvements to be started at once.

As soon as the Peace Treaty is signed at Paris the Government will take immediate steps to return the German prisoners and to deport German and Austrian aliens now held in internment camps in Canada. Most of the German prisoners are held at Amherst, the majority of them being sailors. The manner in which they are to be sent back to Germany will likely be determined in the Peace Treaty itself.

REDS MUST SURRENDER.

Roumanians Have Reached Defences of Budapest.

BUDAPEST, May 5.—The Roumanians have reached the Tisza river, the principal line of defence east of Budapest, at every point except the Hungarian bridgeheads, it was officially announced Sunday.

The Czechs, operating on the right flank of the Roumanians, have crossed the Sajo and captured the villages on the south bank.

French cavalry and artillery are co-operating with the Roumanians, who are also largely officered by the French.

The Tisza river flows in a general southerly direction past Budapest. Its nearest point to the Hungarian capital is about 60 miles to the eastward. The Sajo, flowing southeastward, joins the Tisza about 90 miles northeast of Budapest. The principal city on the south bank is Miskolc.

Any hour may see a change in the Ministry from Soviet to Social Democratic in order to save the city from occupation by the advancing Czechs, Roumanians and Serbo-French troops, directed, it is stated, by Gen. Berthlot.

The city is quiet, but there is a feeling of panic lest the Reds engage in massacres of the bourgeoisie before the Allies reach the city, and entire families are fleeing. The last train for Austria, which now is the only frontier open, left Wednesday afternoon crowded to the utmost with men, women and children standing in all the cars, and reached Kamorn at 7 o'clock. Immediately after the departure of the train Czechs crossed the Danube and cut off the possibility of any more trains leaving.

The official news agency reports a speech by Bela Kun, Hungarian Soviet Foreign Minister, at a meeting of the Central Council of Workers and Soldiers, in which he admitted that the Hungarian troops were fleeing and that Solnok probably was already in Roumanian hands. He evoked cheers, however, by declaring: "So long as possible, we must fight to uphold the dictatorship of the proletariat."

The Minister said he believed the Entente would be able to crush Bolshevism for a very short time only, and added: "Our front is no longer Budapest, but on the Tisza. We have sufficient food and arms to fight the Roumanian hordes, and a possibility of securing for Soviet Hungary a respectable peace." He concluded by urging every man capable of bearing arms to enlist.

HUNS WANT COLONIES.

Points in Peace Treaty That Germany Will Oppose.

LONDON, May 5.—Reuters' Limited learns from reliable sources that among the terms of the treaty to which the Germans will offer the most objection is that relating to the surrender of her colonies. They will urge that German East Africa, Togoland and Kamerun be left to her, and, upon refusal, will insist to be assigned some part in the future administration of the former German colonies, and that, in any case, Germany shall not be debarred from purchasing some Portuguese colonies at a future date, should Portugal be willing to sell.

The German delegates will also ask that the Saar area shall revert to Germany after a term of years. They will oppose any proposal to deprive them of sovereignty over the Kiel Canal, while agreeing that it shall be free to the world's commerce. They will oppose any so-called Polish corridor, while guaranteeing to Poland the right of free transit both by rail and by the Vistula to Dantzig, and while opposing any plan to deprive them of sovereignty over the city itself, will agree that portions of Dantzig shall be reserved, solely for Polish commerce.

WEATHER IS STILL BAD.

Airman Hope to "Hop Off" Some Day Soon.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., May 5.—What Lieut.-Commander Mackenzie describes as "dirty weather" over the ocean precluded any attempt Sunday at starting the trans-Atlantic flight. Locally, conditions were nearly perfect, with the brilliant sunshine that has marked every Sunday but one since the Britons came, and fresh winds that held almost due west all day.

Newfoundland weather, however, does not extend beyond the Gulf Stream, and from that point on there were uncertainties that neither the Sopwith nor the Martinysde pilot care to encounter.

F. P. Raynham spent the morning and most of the afternoon in search of a new airframe, with breadths as well as length, so that it might be possible for him to take off in other than a west wind, which is the situation at Quibi Vidi. He motored miles and looked over more than a dozen fields without finding anything so good as the one he has now.

An authoritative statement comes from Trepassy that there will be no hangar or land station established there, but that the navy boats will be handled on shipboard. "All work on aeroplanes," the statement says, "will be done from the ships, unless an emergency develops."

Nearly Four Millions.

OTTAWA, May 5.—Inland Revenue receipts for the month of March totalled $3,953,242, an increase of over $900,000, as compared with March, 1918. The war taxes brought $1,258,130 into the public treasury during the month. Tobacco yielded $1,579,371 and spirits $312,216.

Discuss Feeding of Finland.

PARIS, May 5.—The Council of Foreign Ministers met Saturday to examine into the question of re-territorializing the Baltic provinces and Finland. The Council also discussed the procedure to be followed in connection with the preliminary peace treaty.

DIPLOMATS VERY BUSY

Italy May Resume Relations With Peace Conference.

Council of Three Sent a Communication to the Government at Rome on Sunday Inviting the Italians to Join Their Deliberations. Once More, and Offer May Be Accepted.

PARIS, May 5.—Premiers Clemenceau, Lloyd George and President Wilson, composing the Council of Three, sent a communication to the Italian Government on Sunday inviting it to resume its place at the Peace Conference.

The council's invitation is of such a nature that it is believed Italy will accept it and that the relations temporarily broken by the recent departure from Paris of Premier Orlando and Foreign Minister Sonnino will be restored by the presence of Italian delegates at the conference before the treaty is delivered to the German delegates.

Telegrams from the Italian capital reporting the efforts being made by Allied diplomats to heal the breach caused by the absence of Italy's delegation at the Peace Conference say that Camille Barrere, the French Ambassador at Rome, conferred with Premier Orlando Saturday from 11.35 a.m. until noon.

A conflict of opinion is apparent among the Italian newspapers regarding a possible settlement of the Adriatic question. One Rome message says the Epoca understands a solution of the Fiume dispute will be proposed with France acting as intermediary. Another telegram, however, quotes the Giornale D'Italia as stating there is no foundation for this report.

Premier Orlando conferred at length Saturday in Rome with Ellis Jones Griffith, former Parliamentary Under Secretary to the British Home Office. The interview is considered in political circles to have been connected with the departure of the Italian delegates from the Peace Conference. Mr. Griffith is understood to be communicating on the subject with the British delegation here.

It was announced in Paris last week that Premier Lloyd George had sent a representative of his Government to Rome to open informal negotiations for the return to Paris of an Italian peace delegation.

CANADA'S WAR TROPHIES.

Collection Will Be Second to None in British Empire.

LONDON, May 5.—When Sir Edward Kemp returns to Canada he will request the Government to provide suitable accommodation for the huge collection of trophies captured by the Canadians during the war, or afterwards collected. One suggestion is that space might be obtained in a building which, it is understood, Beaverbrook is to erect at his own expense at Nepean Point, Ottawa, in which to house war records.

Prinz Eitel Friedrich's helmet, Hindenburg's sword, and the telephone used by Ludendorff at Spa are among the trophies. The Canadians also have a large number of documents establishing the German atrocities, such as the execution of Capt. Fryatt. Up to the present 107 field guns, 19 trench mortars, and 248 machine guns have been shipped to Canada, but there are many more hundreds to be sent as well as tanks, shells, German equipment, searchlights and telephones. A special allotment of 5,000 German rifles and bayonets has been made to Canada. The total results in a very large collection which will require a large building to accommodate it. When all the trophies are gathered together, Canada will have a display second to none in the British Empire.

One hundred captured German airplanes have just been presented to Canada by the War Office, and will be included in the Dominion's collection. Canada already had 40 enemy planes as well as a number of component parts, and has asked the French and Italian Governments for additional donations of aeronautical equipment. Besides the planes Canada will have a large quantity of airship equipment, such as sausage balloons, Zeppelin engines, etc.

A Valuable Blizzard.

EDMONTON, May 5.—The ten-million-dollar snowstorm which raged Friday night and Saturday morning, seems to have been fairly general all over Alberta. The storm commenced with heavy rainfalls, but turned to snow as night approached, and soon developed into one of the worst blizzards seen in Edmonton at this time of the year. Farmers all over the province are giving voice to the satisfaction at the state of the weather. It is estimated that the fall is worth millions to the crop already in the ground.

Hostages Were Shot.

BERLIN, May 5.—Among the hostages said to have been shot in Munich by the Communists before they were overpowered were Prince Albert of Thurn and Taxis, Prince von Wapke, Privy Councillor Albert Doederlein and Prof. Franz von Stuck.

Prince Albert was head of the Bavarian branch of the family of Thurn and Taxis. He was married to Archduchess Marguerite of Austria and was one of the leading nobles of Bavaria.

Warns German Delegation.

PARIS, May 5.—President Poincare, speaking Sunday to the cadets of the Paris Polytechnic School, who have just returned to Paris from the front, said:

"The enemy laid down his arms only to escape danger. If he attempts to forget what the generosity of the Allies spared him we have the right and the means to recall that fact to him."

Greece has taken over the Dodecanese Islands. Italy has laid claim to these islands.

Imperial Oil stock reached 460 on the Toronto stock exchange.

Machinists have received permission from the International Association to call a provincial strike.

Premier Orlando and Foreign Minister Sonnino of Italy started for Paris again.

ALMONTE

From the Gazette

J. Lawson V.S., has reopened an office in Almonte.

Miss Gladys E. Comba, a graduate of Carleton Place Business College, has secured a good position in the Post Office department in Ottawa as stenographer.

Rev. A. E. Mitchell, at one time pastor of St. John's church, was in town on Saturday for a few hours, and in the time at his disposal he called upon as many of his former friends as possible.
He had been down to Toronto on a church mission, and was invited to assist in a field day in Ottawa on Sunday. Rev. Mr. Mitchell is pastor of Mount Pleasant Presbyterian church in Vancouver.

On Tuesday last a Rebekah Lodge was instituted in Perth by the President, Miss Edna Middleton, of Toronto, assisted by D.D.P., Mrs. Jas. Edmonds and the installation staff from Almonte.
About 140 persons signed the register as new members. The lodge room being too small to accommodate the degree staff from Smiths Falls and the visitors from Carleton Place and Almonte, the town hall was engaged for this meeting.
The Rebekah Degree was exemplified by "Chimes" Lodge. During the evening the president presented Mrs.
Jas. Edmonds, the D.D.P., with her Commission. At the close refreshments were served, the whole proceedings lasting well into the small hours of the morning.

A quiet wedding took place in the Presbyterian Manse, Pembroke, on Tuesday, 22nd inst., when Mr. Ebert Graham Oates, of Almonte, and Miss Pearl L.

Murray, sister of Mrs. John Cochrane, Pembroke, were married by Rev. F. J.

The last member of the older ones of the Snedden family passed away on Sunday when Mr. David Snedden, youngest son of the late Alex. Snedden, and Mary Whyte, answered to the inevitable summons and went out to cross the bar. The late Mr. Snedden was the youngest son of the family of which he is the last, and was born in the old stone house that was built by his father near Blakeney, and where he spent his whole life. The building is now used as a cheese factory. The late David Snedden was married to Mary Snedden, a sister of the late James Snedden, and to them three children were born, Miss Minnie C. and Wm. A., who are still living, and David, who was killed by being thrown from a horse about 28 years ago. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon.

From the Times
Dr. E. W. Oliver is moving his family to Ottawa this week.

Died: In Ramsay, on April 27th,
David Snedden, in his 82nd year.

Owing to too close application to business for a long period of time, the health of the proprietor of The Times has become impaired, and as a result this will be the last issue of the paper for some time. We can assure our friends that we take this step with much regret, but there is no other way.
Possibly, in a few weeks' time, we may be able to take up the duties again, or someone else may do so. In the meantime the office will be open for job work,
and the transaction of other business.

The Late Thomas Leeson

After an illness of about three weeks
the death occurred Wednesday, April 23rd, at his home in Montague of Mr.

when two years old; they came to Perth, but shortly afterwards settled on

Why Girls Leave Home

That moral comedy-drama that will be seen at the town hall, Carleton Place, Wednesday night, May 14th, under auspices of Great War Veteran's Association, has done more toward solving this difficult problem than anything that has been written or seen on the subject. It is a beautiful story, full of cries and laughs, and should be witnessed by every father, mother and child in Carleton Place. The company is headed by Mr. Neil Benzie, the popular, young character actor, who is surrounded by a galaxy of New York comedians, dancers, singers and instrumentalists. The Famous Jazz Orchestra, which they carry will render most of the popular songs and melodies of the day in a style that will cause funny feelings to sweep up and down your spinal column. Now that the great war is ended and the sombre days of Lent are passed the coming of this clever offering seems timely. Mr. G. R. Darling, the owner and manager of "Why Girls Leave Home," was a member of Princess Pats Canadian Light Infantry and a member of the Great War Veteran's Association.
Give the boys a big house.

Perth's Son of Neptune

A moving picture operator in Perth could pick up some interesting episodes for screen production from time to time —episodes of thrilling comedy mixed with sudden pathos. An incident recently occurred on the Tay which brought out the prowess of the hero of this story as a thrilling diver and daring acrobat and contortionist, although all his ability in these respects failed to prevent him from a pathetic ducking in the still icy waters of the canal. Two young men motored out in a launch and had proceeded only a short distance when engine trouble confronted them and the launch slowly drifted as far as the Beckwith street bridge. The hero grabbed one of the rods beneath the bridge to prevent the launch from further drifting when suddenly the engine started; the launch fairly flew from beneath him before he could consider what action to adopt. His chum advised him to hang on as he would soon return with the launch on his assistance, but alas the engine again balked and the hero was compelled to drop to the water and swim for the shore. Those who saw the event say it was quite equal to Annette Kellerman's diving stunts in "Neptune's Daughter."

Canada is to have a new Air Board.
Winnipeg City Council voted against daylight saving by 8 to 5.

Toronto Street Railway men decided to demand higher wages and shorter hours at a mass meeting on Saturday.

Major Raymond Collishaw, the noted Canadian aviator, has been authorized to form a squadron for service in Russia.

A pipe organ in memory of five members of the congregation fallen in war was dedicated at Chapleau Methodist Church.

Thirty-five thousand men on Canadian railways may be pulled on strike if the Railway War Board does not grant the men's demands.

RAMSAY COUNCIL

Pursuant to the provisions of the Council met in the town hall at 8 o'clock a.m., on Saturday, April 26th, all the

of last meeting were read and adopted.

lows: George Neilson, for repairs on the road opposite lots 5 and 6 in the 32nd concession.

Coady each applied for permission to 16.

a wire fence along lot 11 in the 10th

7th line from lot 21 to lot 27.

wire fence on the 8th line along part of lot 15.

Spare the Birds

The public is fast awakening to the necessity of bird protection, as the more crawling, persistent, swarming over the budding food supply of man. The other is coming from the skies, winging, and singing joyously; hungry also, and designated by nature to check the otherwise devastating hosts of insects.

You may protect the first army by

Siam's King Shuns Harem.

Young Monarch Proposes To Marry Only One Wife

It is a curious fact that while the women of the lower classes in Siam have always enjoyed the greatest freedom, participating and competing with men in the business and pleasures of life, the ladies of the royal household have been kept in the background, appearing at only the most private social functions, writes Frederick Dean in the Magazine Asia. As all former sovereigns had in their harems the cream of the aristocracy of the country, and, as they inevitably felt a hesitant chivalry about exhibiting their "wives" in public, they barred all women of rank from sight. The sovereign is expected to have in his harem a member of every influential family in the country, for it is considered that in no other way could he be in such close touch with the people of his kingdom. Polygamy has, therefore, been considered an obligation of royalty. But, curiously enough, the present reigning monarch is a bachelor, the first and only bachelor who has sat upon the throne of his fathers in twenty-five hundred years.

And thereby hangs a tale, for marriage by a Siamese sovereign has meant not the simple taking of one wife, or a dozen, or even a mere hundred, but the wholesale adoption of a thousand or more. The young king's father and his father's father, and each one of the long line of kings preceding them, had many wives. His father had between seven and eight thousand. And when the young crown prince returned from his long stay in Europe—he had passed a third of his life there—he was told by his royal father that there had been selected for him a number of court beauties, from which he could take his choice of a hundred or two for his harem.

But the prince would have nothing to do with this wholesale acquisition of a husband's holdings. "When I marry," he declared to his astonished father, "it will be to one wife and to no more, and she shall be the one queen of my heart and the one queen of my realm."

An Oddity In Cannons.

Probably you have heard of the multi-barrelled pistols of the so-called pepper-box design, which were popular a couple of generations ago. While you have possibly heard, too, of the multi-charge cannon, in which powder chambers were arranged along the gun-tube, so as to add impetus to the projectile as it passed along the barrel.

But have you ever heard of the double-barrelled cannon. Probably not, for there is only one in existence. You may find it on the Town Hall lawn at Athens, in the United States.

The idea of this extraordinary piece of artillery was to attach the ends of a chain, about 50 feet in length, to two cannon-balls, which formed the charge. It was hoped that when these two cannon-balls left the barrels they would diverge, draw the chain taut, and cut a wide swath through whatever was in front of them.

But, alas! when the test came, one of the cannon-balls got a slight start over the other, with the result that the projectiles and chain developed a wild, whirling motion, plunging up the ground all round, and scattering the terrified spectators.

Thus another item was added to that list of inventions which only work "on paper."—Tit-Bits.

His Complaint.

"Jenn," said an overlooker to his wife, "tha never put me any sugar in my tea this morn'." "Eh, Tom," said Jenny, "and it will often occur while we hev such scanty rations." "Well," said Tom, "when it happens agen, th' mun let me know." "Still, Tom," argued Jenny, "were ignorance is bliss 'tis folly to be wise." "Bliss be blowed," said Tom; "aw'm no gooin' to waste my strength stirring up tay when I don't need to."

Port Wine.

Oporto, Portugal, despite revolutionary conditions, exported in a recent month, 2,124,980 gallons of wine. England was the largest purchaser, followed in turn by France and Brazil.

CAROLINE ISLANDS A PUZZLE.

Scientists Do Not Know Who Built Venice of the Pacific.

Whatever the political future of the Caroline Islands, which Japan seized from Germany, they are bound to be objects of scientific interest for generations to come. Who built the massive stone structures which give evidence of a high degree of civilization at some prehistoric time?

What was the origin of the stone currency, some "coins" of which weigh five tons? These are but two of the many questions which these Pacific Islands of mystery present.

The stone ruins extend from Ponape, an island toward the east of the group, to Yap, on the west.

On Yap are great stone terraces, embankments, and roads, composed of neatly laid stone blocks, stone graves, stone platforms, and enormous chambers resembling council lodges, with gables and tall pillars, frequently carved.

Ponape discloses the "Pacific Venice." There the ruins are partly submerged. Apparently they once stood on an island city, unless their site was connected with other islands before a terrific upheaval inundated them.

What remain to-day are more than half a hundred rectangular walled islets, projecting above the waters of a lagoon. There is an outer lagoon separated by a breakwater three miles long. In all this construction huge basalt blocks were used. Apparently they were untouched by iron tools.

Origin of the unique stone coinage is not known. Shell money seems to have supplanted the unwieldy stone disks for "small change" long before the white man arrived. The stone "money" is made from limestone or calcite. It probably was employed for primitive banking rather than for general circulation. Its security from theft was assured by its weight. Specimens are found piled about the homes of native chieftains.

Including reefs not inhabited the Caroline Islands number more than 500. Of the total land area of 390 square miles, 307 square miles are comprised in Ponape, Yap, Kusaie, and Hogulu, or Truk. In 1911 the total population was about 55,000, and of these fewer than 400 were Europeans.

The islands extend for about 1,000 miles east and west. They lie more than 1,500 miles to the east of the Philippine and about 1,000 miles north of New Guinea.

WITCH DOCTORS OF CUBA.

Alleged to Have Torn Out Boy's Heart to Use as "Cure-All."

All Cuba is shocked by the murder of a little boy shepherd of the Agramonte district, whose heart was removed, in the general opinion of the authorities, by "witch doctors," who hold the belief that meat of the human heart is a cure-all. Cuban mothers are guarding their children with extreme vigilance. The whole country-side is alarmed, and residents of cities appalled, shocked by reports of the outrage.

Marcelo Lopez, nine years of age, was a shepherd on the estate Lenca de Pajaros (Language of the Birds). A few days ago his father, Juan Lopez, reported that the boy was missing. His sheep had scattered and strayed.

Neighbors joined in a search for the boy, which lasted through the night and morning.

Then his body was found concealed in the weeds beneath a canopy of green brush. The body was mutilated to an extent that evidenced an attack more violent than necessary to kill. A physician was summoned from a distant community. He performed a thorough autopsy. He found the heart missing. It had been torn out through a crude incision.

Existence of a cult of "witch doctors" who believe the human heart possesses power to heal all ills of the body has been reported in Cuba for a long time, but was discredited by many. The "witch doctors" thrive on the ignorant and superstitious laborers.

Here is a translation of a report of the tragedy in a Cuban newspaper:

"As soon as the character of the wounds was known it became evident to them (the searchers) that the poor little shepherd had been the victim of the witches, of those who with the heart of a child make their remedies, believing them the panacea for the most unconquerable infirmities, for misfortunes most cruel and those that appear most incurable."

"To whom, then, but to the witches can be attributed this crime? Because of this the whole community of Agramonte has clamored since yesterday to punish the murderer or murderers. For this all the country is raising a new cry of horror and of fury against this new exploit of the satanic and stupid sect of the witches."

His Only Virtue.

"The German Junkers are such a bad lot that their very virtues would be faults in other people." The speaker was ex-Ambassador Gerard. He went on: "The Germans remind me of Mrs. Smith's second husband. 'My second ain't no saint,' said Mrs. Smith, 'but I'll say this for him—he's better than my first by a long shot. He's in jail so much, you see, that practically all I earn I have for my own use.'"

Socialism.

"Pa, what's a Socialist?" "A Socialist, my boy, is a man who thinks he ought to have as much as you have."

"But supposing he is earning more than you are, dad?" "Then, my boy, he ceases to be a Socialist."

A Question of Comparisons.

Officer—But surely you, a millionaire, have little to complain about. Munition Magnate—Oh, I don't know. The multi-millionaires treat us like so much dirt.

Kaiser's Fortune
Is Safe

It is said that before the Kaiser left Germany he had received from Ebert a promise that his personal property and private fortune would be scrupulously respected and given to him as soon as possible. This is one reason why the Kaiser party is supposed to be so friendly to the present German Government, for it is hardly likely that if it were succeeded by a more radical administration the Kaiser would be so well treated. For one reason the extravagance of the present regime and the difficulty of collecting taxes would be a serious handicap to its successor, and since a more radical Government than that of Ebert would find it almost impossible to borrow money abroad it would be forced to turn its attention to the great private fortunes in Germany and especially to the vast possessions of the Hohenzollerns. In the past few months much of the Kaiser's money has been transferred to Dutch banks, but we learn on the authority of Frederick Cunliffe Owen, that his principal banking account is with the Coutts' in London.

Why it has not been seized is not explained. It may be that the ownership of the money is concealed, and one can readily understand why monarchs in these days would prefer to bank in England than in their own countries. William of Germany has only followed the custom of his mother and also his father, both of whom kept their private account with Coutts. King Alfonso of Spain is another client of this famous private bank. His mother is also on their books, and on one occasion when she was regent, a private messenger returning to Madrid after having made a large deposit in London was captured by Carlists and the documents he carried seized. They were then published with a view of showing the Spanish people that their Queen and Regent had so little confidence in the banking institutions of her own country that she entrusted her fortune to Englishmen. We are not aware that this bit of demagoguery got the Carlists anything. At any event she retained her position and did not discontinue her practice of employing the Coutts' as her bankers, and her son has done likewise.

To late Napoleon III. of France banked with the same firm and his widow, the Empress Eugenie continues to do so. Coutts are also King George's bankers. The bank has been in existence since 1692 and has a world reputation. The chief owner at present is Lord Latimer, who was formerly Francis Money Coutts, who inherited his holdings from his aunt, the late Baroness Burdett-Coutts, celebrated as a philanthropist. Her husband was William Lehman Ashmead-Bartlett, an American-born, who on his marriage with the baroness assumed the name of William Burdett-Coutts. One of the most famous of the Coutts bankers was Tom Coutts, the great-grandfather of the present Lord Latimer. On one occasion Queen Charlotte, highly incensed at the radicalism of Sir Francis Burdett, the banker's son-in-law, threatened to remove her account from Coutts if the young man was not curbed. Tom Coutts replied by giving the Queen just two hours in which to remove her account, and it is said that despite her supplications, he refused to permit her again to reopen it.

But reverting to the Kaiser's fortune, it is known to be very large and is more than suspected of having been greatly augmented by the war. William Hohenzollern, it is said, was a partner with Albert Ballin in an organization formed to supply the German armies with food supplies and made millions of dollars out of his own subjects and victims. He was a large shareholder in Ballin's peace-time enterprises and in the Krupp's industries. For a time he was a member of the notorious "Princes' Trust" in Germany, but drew out before disaster overwhelmed it. He was also an investor in foreign securities, and is supposed to have been a particularly large holder of Pennsylvania and New York Railway and Steel Trust stocks. His land holdings in Western Canada are also believed to have been extensive, but apparently he was able either to sell out his foreign investments or to so cleverly conceal them that he suffered no loss on this account in the war.

The one monarch in Europe who costs the country nothing to maintain is King George of England. When Queen Victoria came to the throne the value of crown property, or rather the revenues from it, which was, in fact, the revenue from the possessions of former Kings that she had inherited, just about equalled the civil list voted to her and her family by Parliament. Therefore she decided it to the nation for the term of her life in return for the civil list. King Edward followed the same practice and King George likewise. In the meantime it has happened that the crown properties have greatly increased in value, while the civil list has remained almost stationary, so that the nation really makes money out of its royal family. The King's private fortune is considerable, and is derived from the frugality and wise investments of the Prince Consort and Queen Victoria. It may be shocking to some readers to inform them that a good part of it comes from Scotch whiskey distilleries established at Balmoral by his grandfather.

Insects Destroy Food.

Insect pests caused a greater loss in the food supplies of the United Kingdom of Great Britain last year than did the German U-boat, according to the estimate of the Board of Agriculture.

A FARM PROFIT SHARING SCHEME

Profit-sharing is often heard of in connection with our industries, but a large farm operated on this basis sounds altogether novel. Such a scheme has, however, been carried on with great success in Southern Alberta for a number of years. It is a hobby of C. S. Noble, who in 1915 made a reputation all over the world by harvesting what was claimed to be a record crop of wheat on 1,000 acres, the average yield per acre on this area working out at well over fifty bushels to the acre. This is a record that has not been equalled anywhere outside of Alberta, though it is claimed that it was surpassed by another farmer in Alberta in that year of record grain crops.

Mr. Noble has devoted considerable study to the subject of profit-sharing. His belief is that every worker is entitled to a share of the wealth he creates, and in the Noble Foundation, the name under which his company is incorporated, he and his associates have tried to put this theory into practice. This company owns and operates farm property, stores, elevators to the value of over two million dollars.

Any employee who has been long enough with the company to prove his value may become a participant in the scheme and the method of acquiring stock is very simple. The employee is required to pay for ten per cent. of his stock in cash and give a note for the balance at eight per cent. interest. He then makes monthly payments of a certain amount to pay off the note, to which also his dividends are credited. In this manner his stock is paid off fairly rapidly.

Needless to say, many of the employees avail themselves of the opportunity to become shareholders.

(1) Oats grow well in Alberta.

(2) An Alberta wheat field in autumn.

Last year they drew a dividend of fifteen per cent. on their investment despite the fact that last season was generally considered a dry one. In 1916 a dividend of twenty-five per cent. was paid, and in addition a considerable sum was placed in the reserve fund.

The results of the operations of this company are a striking example of the productive capacity of the soil in Southern Alberta and the kind of crops that may be expected if careful and proper farming methods are followed. It is questionable if the land they own is any better than millions of acres of other land in the province, yet last year, which was the driest season ever experienced, the average yield of wheat was twenty-four bushels of wheat per acre, and of oats fifty bushels per acre. Still more interesting is the average for the years 1911 to 1917, which was no less than thirty-eight bushels of wheat and ninety-two bushels of oats. With such high average yields as these the big dividends need not cause any surprise.

An instance of the progressiveness of the Noble Foundation and its faith in the country was the purchase in the fall of 1917 of a large ranch of about 20,000 acres. On this property thirty-five miles of graded road have been constructed, sixty miles of three-wire fencing put up, several first-class buildings erected, five wells drilled and 16,000 acres broken.

The profit-sharing scheme has been successful beyond expectations. Many employees have availed themselves of the opportunity to invest their savings in the company, and are drawing dividends on their stock. Mr. Noble has proved that a large farm can be operated successfully in good years and bad under good management, and the future of his profit-sharing scheme will be watched with great interest.

Every time father snorts at the picture of the fool styles for women for the coming summer, mother reminds him that he shouldn't let them worry him because she will probably be wearing the same old dress she wore last summer.

Life is too short to brood over the unpleasant things.

Reports from Saloniki state that a large number of convicts have been liberated from the jails at Sofia and sent to Strumnitza to aid in a Bulgarian campaign against the Greek.

Out of 3,000 convictions for desertion in the U.S. army during the war only in 24 cases was sentence of death passed, and in not a single case was it actually carried out. It would be interesting to learn how the Canadian record compares with this.

Equal Rights for Women

Every woman has the right to be as healthy, vigorous and efficient as her husband, son, brother, or friend. Nature intended woman to be unhampered and unhandicapped by any sex weakness. But, unfortunately, woman is very predisposed to constipation, not of necessity, but due to faults or bad habits of omission or commission.

Constipation is nothing but a bad habit. Taking purgative, cathartic, or laxative medicines to force the bowels to move is another bad habit—even a worse habit.

But Nujol is particularly suitable for the overcoming of constipation and its resulting evils in women.

Nujol is not a drug—does not act like any drug.

Nujol acts by bringing about a readjustment of the mechanism provided and intended by Nature for the removal of food waste from the body.

Nujol is effective at any age, under any conditions, especially during those periods and conditions in which the use of purgatives, cathartic or laxative medicines is not only harmful, but dangerous. Nujol is safe, pleasant to take, sensible, agreeable in effects, never forms a bad habit.

Get a bottle of Nujol from your druggist today, and send coupon for free booklet, "Thirty Feet of Danger."

THE CARLETON PLACE HERALD.

Shirley came only a little before it was time for him to start for his train. He was playing on the library floor with Dary Junior when an automobile came to a panting stop before the house. A minute later came Shirley's voice from the hall, "Da-ry!" The little fellow scrambled to his feet and ran to meet her at the door. She caught him and swung him strongly in her arms, hugging and kissing him. And David saw that the months had been kind to Shirley. The marks of worry and discontent had been erased, her eyes danced, and her cheeks glowed with health and pleasure. Oh, a very fair picture was Shirley, in the full flower of her loveliness!

But his heart went not one beat faster for her.

Then she saw him and set the child down. "David!" And she ran to him and kissed him very prettily, as a loving wife should.

"And now," said Aunt Clara, "I will say goodbye to David and leave you alone to the last minute. The car will be waiting for you when you're ready." She held up her cheek to David and left them.

Shirley gasped. "You're not going tonight?"

"In a few minutes. I must."

"But—what is this ridiculous. Surely you can stay overnight at least."

"No, I promised to be back tomorrow morning. My time isn't my own."

Which was not quite fair to Jonathan in its implication.

"Why didn't you let me know you were coming?"

"I didn't think of it until this morning when I got here and saw you going out. I supposed I should find you."

"Surely you're not piqued because I—David, what is it?" A look of dread came into the dancing eyes. "You're looking wretched. You're not going to tell me we've had some more bad luck?"

"Why, I—"

It was no glad, eager look that took the place of dread. It was consternation, a manifest, involuntary shrinking from what he asked. "Then she was in like case with him. He had not counted on that."

He felt his heart turning hard and cold, and that was not the way of the gentleness he had planned. He, too, had shrunk from what he asked, yet he had not hesitated to ask it, thinking to save her from some hurt. She, without the key, thought only of the loss of her good times. He could tell her the whole truth and she would not care—if it led to good times. Couldn't she see, couldn't she feel, the tragedy in this end of their once pretty romance?

"So you do think it bad luck? Don't you ever want to go back, Shirley?"

"That's foolish. Of course I do. But—but the debts aren't paid yet."

"Pretty nearly. If we're careful we can clean them up quickly now."

"But it seems so foolish and so unnecessary. We could wait a little longer. The salary is so small at best. How—how should we live?"

"Very simply, I fear. But," he added in the same even, repressed tone, "always within our means, I'm sure. We'll go to a boarding house first and then look around for an apartment we can afford. We'll be starting over again, Shirley."

"But"—She was still stammering. "But it's been so good for Dary here, and the weather's still warm!"

"That's only an excuse, I think, and it's a risk he'll have to take. It's better than—than some other risks."

"What other risks? Since we've waited so long, what difference would a few weeks more make?"

"But his heart went not one beat faster for her."

Then she saw him and set the child down. "David!" And she ran to him and kissed him very prettily, as a loving wife should.

"And now," said Aunt Clara, "I will say goodbye to David and leave you alone to the last minute. The car will be waiting for you when you're ready." She held up her cheek to David and left them.

Shirley gasped. "You're not going tonight?"

"In a few minutes. I must."

"But—what is this ridiculous. Surely you can stay overnight at least."

"No, I promised to be back tomorrow morning. My time isn't my own."

Which was not quite fair to Jonathan in its implication.

"Why didn't you let me know you were coming?"

"I didn't think of it until this morning when I got here and saw you going out. I supposed I should find you."

"Surely you're not piqued because I—David, what is it?" A look of dread came into the dancing eyes. "You're looking wretched. You're not going to tell me we've had some more bad luck?"

"Why, I—"

It was no glad, eager look that took the place of dread. It was consternation, a manifest, involuntary shrinking from what he asked. "Then she was in like case with him. He had not counted on that."

He felt his heart turning hard and cold, and that was not the way of the gentleness he had planned. He, too, had shrunk from what he asked, yet he had not hesitated to ask it, thinking to save her from some hurt. She, without the key, thought only of the loss of her good times. He could tell her the whole truth and she would not care—if it led to good times. Couldn't she see, couldn't she feel, the tragedy in this end of their once pretty romance?

"So you do think it bad luck? Don't you ever want to go back, Shirley?"

"That's foolish. Of course I do. But—but the debts aren't paid yet."

"Pretty nearly. If we're careful we can clean them up quickly now."

to whom life had been only a house of toys and the rather seedy young man who had been one of the toys. The bond that held them was a slight one; a little more strain and it would have snapped. But the toy man had grown somehow—into a real man whom she did not want to let go, and she knew that, as he had said, he had got far away from her. She could not understand; still she had not the key. And she was afraid.

"David! What is it I feel about you? You don't think—oh, you can't think—I don't love you?"

"I suppose you think you do. But it's not much of a love." A clock struck. He had forgotten his train. "Let me know if you want to come. I've got to go now."

He caught up the boy and held him close, then kissed her hastily. And before she quite realized it he was gone.

Aunt Clara found her standing where he had left her, staring blankly at the doorway unthinkingly of the little David tugging at her dress.

"Aunt Clara! What is it? What has happened? David has been talking about—about my never going back!"

Aunt Clara made a good guess as to what had been said. And she had been doing some more thinking of her own.

"Between us we've nearly lost you a husband. That's what has happened. And you're going to pack up and pack off to win him back, for his sake if not your own. That's what is going to happen."

"Win him back?" Shirley's world was fast sinking under her feet. "Is—is that what Mrs. Jim has been hinting in her letters? Do you mean—do you think David has stopped—loving me?"

"You think it incredible?"

"But he's my husband."

"What's that got to do with it? Oh," cried Aunt Clara, "can't you get it into your silly, selfish little head that you can't keep a love without earning it? You've been a fool. And I've been another. I never was so foolish in my life. I wonder your late Uncle John doesn't turn over in his grave. Come, Dary, it's most 9 o'clock. GRAIN MIXTURE VALUES

Oats 34 Lbs., Barley 48 Lbs. the Best Combination.

By Opening Surface to Rains, Many Dollars May Be Made by Increased Crops—Full Directions Given Regarding Starting Early Celery.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

A LARGE amount of experimental work has been conducted at the Ontario Agricultural College in testing grains both singly and in combination for the production of grain. The results of experiments indicate that there is practically no advantage in growing in combination two or more varieties of grain of the same class. Quite decided advantages, however, have been obtained from certain combinations of grain of different classes.

In an experiment which extended over a period of five years in which oats, barley, spring wheat and peas were grown separately and all the different combination which could be obtained by having two, three and four grains in each mixture, it was found that in about ninety per cent. of the experiments the mixed grains gave a greater yield per acre than the same grains when grown separately. Of the different combinations, oats and barley came at the head of the list, giving slightly over two hundred pounds of grain per acre more than when either one was grown alone.

It is important to use in combination varieties which will grow satisfactorily together and which will mature at the same time. Such varieties as the O.A.C. No. 21 barley and the Daubeney, Alaska or O.A.C. No. 3 oats give very good results.

Of twenty-five different mixtures with different proportions of oats and barley used for five years in experimental work it was found that the greatest returns were obtained by using one bushel, by weight, of each or a mixture of 84 pounds (34 pounds of oats and 48 pounds of barley). —Dr. C. A. Zavitz, O. A. College, Guelph.

SIR EDMUND OSLER ENDORSES THE WAR SAVINGS CAMPAIGN

Sir Edmund Osler, M.P., is one of the highest authorities on Canadian finance and industrial conditions generally. His endorsement of the War Savings Plan and call to the public to support it is, for this reason, of much importance.

SIR EDMUND OSLER

In a recent statement, he says: "It is of the greatest importance that everyone shall come forward and support the Finance Department in raising money for the country's expansion, and to offset the cost of the war. The country's need is greater, or will be in the near future, than it has ever been. It will be a very serious blow to Canada's industries if the public think that the need for supporting the Government's financial measures was over with the finish of the war."

"Saving en masse spells a prosperous community and to a large extent will do away with the restless conditions prevalent to-day."

"The War Savings campaign and the Penny Bank System, are enabling the children to start off easily in life, and cultivate the Saving and Thrift habit, and if given the attention it deserves, will be one of the greatest forerunners of Canada's future prosperity."

"Executives and employers will greatly benefit their employees and the country if they will put in concrete form plans which will enable all in their charge to become savers and investors in Government securities, as well as encouraging them by giving them their aid range of wisdom on such subjects."

"The retail merchants must realize that this matter is of enormous importance and do everything in their power to make the purchase of War Savings Stamps and Government bonds easier for the general public."

GENERAL DEBILITY FOLLOWS INFLUENZA

Health Can Only be Restored Through the Use of a Blood-Making Tonic

Debility is a loss of vitality not affecting any one part of the body particularly, but the system generally. It is dangerous because it reduces the body's resistance to disease. When debility follows acute diseases, convalescence is slow, and one's strength does not return as it should. An attack of influenza often results in debility that persists for months. Everybody recognizes that the remedy for debility is to build up the blood, because the blood goes to every part of the body, and any improvement in its condition is quickly felt throughout the system.

In cases of simple anemia, or debility following acute diseases such as fevers or influenza, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will be found valuable, because they really build up the blood, and strengthen the nerves. There is no other medicine as valuable for growing children, and for men and women whose nervous energy has been overdrawn. They are worth a fair trial in every case where thin blood and weak nerves have started the trouble. The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills has been proved in the home of Mrs. John Fram, Owen Sound, who says: "My daughter Mabel was troubled with a bad cough; she was pale, weak and her appetite was very poor, indeed I feared that she was going into a decline. A friend advised the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and after taking eight boxes she was again enjoying the best of health. Again last autumn Spanish influenza attacked our home, and after the acute symptoms were past, both myself and another daughter were left very much run down. My daughter was so weak that she could not walk to school and would tremble when she got upon her feet. I was so weak myself that I could not do my housework. Again we resorted to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and in each case we took five boxes, when we were as well as ever we had been. I never enjoyed better health than I am now doing, and am able again to do my housework. After our experience it is not possible for me to say too much in favor of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

By a majority of over 1,000 ballots, Charles J. Tulley, of the Forestry Branch, Interior Department, becomes secretary of the Civil Service Federation of Canada, Ottawa, for the ensuing year.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Meeting of Board of Education held in Council Chamber May 7th, 8 p.m.: present—Mr. Caswell in the chair, Messrs. Fulton, Cram, Richards, Muirhead, Patterson, Dr. Steele, Warren, Allan, Nichols and Dr. Downing.

Minutes of previous meeting read and approved.

Report from High School showed 125 pupils on roll with average attendance 85.

Report from Public School showed 31 pupils enrolled with average attendance of 54.

The Finance Committee presented their report as follows:—
 To the Board of Education,
 Carleton Place, Ont.

Gentlemen:—
 We, your Committee on Finance have examined the following accounts and recommend payment of same:

for Bros., repairs, $1.00; coal
00; brooms, etc. $6.05		$232 0
H. Deemer, cleaning school
osets	12 0
orris, coal	372 4
Pattie, repairs	6 5
J. Muirhead, supplies	19 1
respectfully submitted, Committee
G. FULTON,
A. E. CRAM.

And on motion of Mr. Fulton, seconded by Mr. A. E. Cram was adopted.

The high school report was then discussed, the principal stated several windows had been broken, which was done after school was closed. The Board thought that a warning notice placed on the building would be advisable and might save further damage of this kind, the notice to be signed by Chief of Police and a copy inserted in local papers.

The public school report was taken up, the principal stated that Mr. Rose, the inspector, had inspected the schools at the end of last month. He suggested to the principal that he spend an hour each day in visiting the several buildings to see how matters progress with the teachers, one of the teachers to replace him in his room during his absence.

On question of a member of the Board, the public school principal stated several cases of truancy were persisted in, and this matter received considerable discussion. The Board decided that the law would have to be resorted to, to remedy this trouble. The Chairman was requested to see that this course was taken and the matter brought before the court.

Mr. Warren, chairman of the Special Committee appointed to report on increases in teacher's salaries, brought in a report as follows:

Carleton Place, Ont., May 5, 1919

The Board of Education,
 Carleton Place, Ont.

We, your special committee appointed to consider salaries to take effect Sept. 1st, 1919, beg leave to report as follows:

High School

Miss McNeely's (science specialist) salary $1,300 00

Public School

Mr. R. J. Robertson, principal, $1,150 00

All teachers' teaching third and fourth books and all other teachers' with ten years experience, salary $675.00; with the exception of assistant principal, Miss McLaren, she to receive, salary $750.00

Remaining teachers on staff 650 00

Minimum salary with experience 600 00

While we feel that an annual increase and maximum has much to say in its favor we deem it inadvisable to take up the question owing to the unsettled condition of affairs.

All this we submit with respect.
 Signed,
 GEO. M. WARREN,
 M. H. STEELE,
 W. J. MUIRHEAD,
 J. W. PATTERSON,
 JAS. RICHARDS.

After a few remarks from the members it was moved by Mr. Warren, seconded by Dr. Steele, that the above report be adopted.—Carried.

Mr. Nichols stated he had been unable to attend as a delegate to the Ontario Educational Association meeting in Toronto in Easter week.

Mr. Fulton wished to know what improvements had been made in the sanitary conditions at the Queen's school. The Contingent Committee stated that all the schools had been thoroughly cleaned up in this respect, and made as sanitary as possible.

Mr. Cram stated that the W.W. Commission was starting to lay down the sewer and water pipes, and wanted the Board to make application for this service if they required it at the Central School and they would arrange accordingly.

It was then moved by Mr. Allan, seconded by Mr. Richards that we petition that the waterworks and sewerage system be connected to the Central school.—Carried.
