The British General Elections.

LONDON, March 30.—It is stated semi-officially that the general elections for members of the House of Commons will be held in June or July.

Great Fire in Mandalay.

RANGOON, March 30.—A great fire is raging in Mandalay. Three quarters of the town is already destroyed, including the new telegraph office and the old palace. Great loss of life is reported.

Election in Worcestershire.

LONDON, March 30.—At the election held yesterday in the eastern division of Worcestershire to fill the vacancy in the House of Commons caused by the expulsion of George Woodyatt Hastings (Unionist), Austin Chamberlain (Unionist) was returned without opposition.

Liabilities, $135,000; Assets, $10.

LONDON, March 30.—Wm. Dinkelspiel, formerly an agent of the New York Life Insurance Company, who gained considerable notoriety at Detroit in connection with his insurance methods, has failed with liabilities of $135,000, and assets $10.

Fourteen Men Drowned.

LONDON, March 30.—The British bark Falls of Garry, from San Francisco, for Havre via Queenstown, came into collision with the British steamer Thetis. The Falls of Garry was cut nearly in two and sank almost immediately. Fourteen men were drowned. The Thetis was considerably damaged.

Deeming's Defense.

MELBOURNE, March 30.—Counsel for Deeming says that the defense will produce evidence to prove that the prisoner is insane. Among the witnesses will be a Mrs. Taft with whom Deeming lodged in Sydney and who ejected him from her house because he was always complaining that the place was haunted with ghosts.

Balloon Scouting.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 30.—The presence of balloons over the forts and encampments in Poland is becoming more frequent than ever, and is causing much indignation among Russian army officers. It is believed that the Germans have at last solved the problem of aerial navigation.

Bismarck's Prophecy.

LONDON, March 30.—The Paris correspondent of the Times asserts that Prince Bismarck told a friend recently that he warned Emperor William when he quitted the office of the Chancellor that the artisans whom the Emperor desired to regenerate would prove more ungrateful than courtiers, and that he might even experience a repetition of the scenes of 1848, where the Prussian sovereign was forced to flee from the rioters.

Anarchists on Trial in England.

LONDON, March 30.—The trial began to-day at the Staffordshire Assizes of the six persons who are charged with being the leaders of the Walsall Anarchist conspiracy. Among the papers found in the prisoners' possession was one in which directions were clearly given as to the means to be employed in blowing up theaters and other buildings. This paper was headed "An Anarchist's Feast at the Opera."

The Anarchists Must Go.

PARIS, March 30.—In accordance with the decision of the Government to adopt most stringent measures to stop the Anarchists, orders for their expulsion from France were to-day communicated to 40 of the foreign Anarchists in Paris. No actual crime is charged against these men, but the authorities are determined to prevent them from committing any acts of violence here. They must leave within 24 hours. Several other Anarchists who were warned a short time ago to leave France and paid no attention to the warning, were to-day taken in charge by the police and escorted to the frontier.

It is reported that a woman named Mariette Southert has betrayed the Ravachol party to the police.

Baron Rothschild and other leading bankers and prominent residents of Paris have received menacing letters from the Anarchists.

London's Unemployed Make a Demonstration.

LONDON, March 30.—Yesterday a number of unemployed workingmen made a visit to the office in Spring Gardens, S.W., of the London County Council. Previous to this visit to the County Council a meeting of the workingmen was held, at which they were harangued by a negro named Wade, who announced that the County Council had refused to see a deputation of the unemployed. Several violent speeches were made, after which a deputation headed by Wade, who wore a red cap, marched to the County Council's office. The police were warned that a large force was approaching, and they filled the approaches to the offices. There was an exciting struggle when Wade was ejected. He was subsequently arrested, as were also two of his followers who had aided him in resisting the police.

A Royal Reunion.

LONDON, March 30.—The visit of the Duke and Duchess of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha to the Queen at Costebello will be their first meeting with her Majesty in many years. It is no secret that the Duke strongly disapproved of the Princess Beatrice's marriage to Prince Henry of Battenberg, and warmly protested against it, the result being that his relations with the Queen became very strained. The Queen's relations with the Duchess of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, who is one of the most amiable and highly accomplished women in Europe, have always been cordial, and now there will be a full reconciliation between her Majesty and the Duke, who will probably be created a G. C. B. on the occasion of his golden wedding.

The Times Takes a Fling at Canada.

LONDON, March 30.—The Times this morning contains an article reviewing the Bering Sea dispute. The writer comments on the fact that the matter has no direct importance for the English consumer of sealskins, to whom it matters nothing whether the skins are obtained from Canadians or Americans. The writer says: "The controversy only concerns a semi-independent colony who treats us as a commercial enemy. These colonies are always embroiling us in foreign disputes. We are obliged to fight their battles while they treat us as a foreign power. How long is this to last? A few troubles like the Bering Sea controversy will compel us to face the problem and seriously ask ourselves whether the present relations between the mother country and the colonies are quite fair to the British taxpayers."

Von Bulow Convulsed His Audience.

BERLIN, March 30.—The last philharmonic concert of the season was held last evening under the leadership of Dr. Von Bulow. Von Bulow spoke upon the history of the composer, Beethoven. He said that after first dedicating the Freica symphony to Napoleon Beethoven had changed his mind, and dedicated it to Count Lobkowitz. Von Bulow described Lobkowitz as a nobody, and proposed on behalf of German musicians to rededicate the symphony to "The True Hero, the Bright Day Star of Germany, the Beethoven of Politics, Prince Bismarck." The whole speech was garnished with sarcastical allusions to current events, which were received with storms of hisses mingled with a few cheers. Finally Von Bulow, filled with rage, made a pantomimic allusion to the Emperor's Brandenburg speech by beating the dust off his feet with his handkerchief, implying that he would never return to Berlin. The audience was convulsed, hisses and cheers mingling with laughter.

Detective Black's Downfall.

LONDON, March 30.—John Redmond asked Home Secretary Matthews in the House of Commons "whether his attention has been called to a paragraph which appeared in the London correspondence of the Manchester Evening Mail on March 4, 1892, in which it is stated that a certain ex-inspector of police in the provinces absconded; whether the police officer referred to is the inspector who was the chief witness for the Crown in the prosecution of James Egan and John Daly for treason-felony, and who was in charge of the police who arrested both of them; whether this inspector has absconded, and whether any charges affecting this inspector's official career have come to the knowledge of the authorities; whether he is aware that a public testimonial to the inspector, headed by the mayor of Birmingham, and another promoted by the police of that city, were abandoned at the request of Mr. Farndale, chief constable of police, acting on behalf of the authorities, and in consequence of the allegations in question having come to their knowledge, and whether, as John Daly and James Egan were convicted largely on the evidence of this inspector, an investigation will be instituted by the authorities into his official career. The Home Secretary responded tersely that he had no information regarding this matter which justified him in authorizing an investigation. Redmond's question, however, sets on foot a movement which is almost sure to result in the liberation of Daly and Egan, who are now undergoing life sentences in Chatham prison.

The "ex-inspector of police" referred to is none other than James Black, to whom was principally due the conviction of Michael Davitt 23 years ago, of Dr. Gallagher nine years ago, and of Egan and Daly. Black has been considered one of the shrewdest detectives in England. Judges without number have complimented him upon his sagacity, and Sir William Harcourt, acting as Home Secretary, caused an honorarium of £100 to be given to him as a recognition of his skill in laying bare so many political conspiracies.

TERSE TELEGRAMS.

Secretary Blaine has resumed the discharge of his official duties.

At Findlay, O., Jos. Lytie butchered his divorced wife and his two daughters in a horrible manner Wednesday morning.

The North German Lloyd steamer Weimar, from Bremen, arrived at Baltimore on Wednesday, bringing 1,508 immigrants.

The Chinese Government has garrisoned all mission districts in China, and has promised to severely punish perpetrators of any future outrages.

The grain elevators at Duluth are jammed with wheat and the indications are that by May 1 there will be nearly 350 large cargoes in the elevator there.

A Rangoon dispatch says: A small British operating on the Kankkeye River had an engagement with the natives, and were defeated. One soldier was killed and six wounded.

Considerable flood damage is reported from West and North Dakota and Montana. The Great Northern Railway is wrestling with one of the heaviest washouts it has had to deal with in five years.

It is said the United States Government is willing to pay to the relatives of the men murdered by the New Orleans mob whose Italian citizenship has been proved, the sum of 100,000 francs as indemnity.

A Berlin dispatch says: Twenty-five hundred acres of the famous Solingen forest have been burned over. The fires, it is announced, were started by incendiaries. No reason for the malicious deed has been discovered.

A St. Petersburg dispatch says the police report on spurious grain sent to the famine provinces states that 100 truck loads examined daily have been found to contain 15 to 20 per cent. of detritus. Some 230 indictments against the consigners of such grain have been prepared.

Sheet-iron kites to enable a vessel in distress to communicate with the shore, have been suggested. It would be a curious experiment. Of course sheet iron can be made as thin or thinner than writing paper.

Ontario Legislature.

Schemes to Make Niagara Park Self-Sustaining.

Debate on the Matter of Educating Farmers' Sons—Tory Election Tactics Discussed—Signs of an Early Adjournment—First Division of the Session.

[Special to the ADVERTISER.]

TORONTO, March 30.—The sixth report of the commissioners of the Queen Victoria Niagara Falls Park was presented to the House to-day. Owing to the lack of funds no new works of improvement were undertaken last year. The ordinary maintenance expenditure was $14,588, the revenue $7,041, leaving a deficit of $7,546. To this should be added the interest on the park debentures amounting to $21,000. To meet this deficit and to provide funds for future improvements the commissioners sold the franchise to build a high-level electric railway from the Falls to Queenstown to Messrs. E. B. Osler, H. S. Hammond, William Hendrie, R. B. Angus and others for $10,000 per annum, and also gave them an option on a franchise for an electric railway on the low level below the bluffs, which, if accepted, will bring $7,500 per annum in addition. These sums are to be paid quarterly, beginning Sept. 1, 1892. Should certain English capitalists avail themselves of the option they now have to lease the waters of Niagara for electrical purposes, the income of the park will be increased by an additional $25,000 per annum, so that it seems probable that the park will no longer be a charge on the Province, but will soon be on a self-supporting basis. There were 272,485 visitors to the park, as compared with 251,923 the year before.

The first indication of the end of the session was shown to-day when Mr. Mowat gave notice that he would move that after Friday next Government business have precedence over all other business except private bills on every day of the session, including Mondays, and that the House sit on Saturdays at 11 o'clock a.m. This means that the House will probably prorogue the end of next week.

The House, after advancing a number of bills a stage this afternoon, resumed the debate upon Mr. McLenaghan's motion respecting the education of farmers' sons. The debate was continued all the evening, and was participated in by Messrs. Hudson, Glendinning, McKechne, Magwood, Sprague, Godwin, Clancy, Miscampbell, Meredith, Awrey, Willoughby, Waters, White, Tait and others.

Mr. Meredith taunted the Liberals with losing the last general election and with being nearly wiped out in the bye-elections.

Mr. Awrey in reply said that there was not much cause for glorification over the elections or the methods adopted to win the bye-elections; that Mr. Clancy had endeavored to make political capital out of a 10-year-old letter written by Mr. Balfour respecting the voters' lists, but that if it had not been for the voters' lists the country would have been spared the pitiful exhibition at London. (Hear, hear.) To show the corrupt methods adopted by the Conservatives to win the bye-elections, Mr. Awrey read the letter written at St. Marys by W. H. Ingram already published in the ADVERTISER (saying "the people have not got here with the influence yet.") Mr. White having made an interruption, Mr. Awrey reported that Mr. White the other day sneered at Mr. Tait as the member for Toronto by statute, but the fact was that he (White) held his seat through the courtesy of the members of the House ("Hear him"), because if the powers of the Legislature were invoked, as they should be when a man tries to throw off his allegiance to the Queen, that gentleman would not be a member of the House. (Applause.)

Mr. White, replying to Mr. Awrey's observations regarding loyalty, said he was as loyal as anyone in the House. He was the representative of a respectable constituency, and challenged anyone to bring in a motion for his expulsion. He said political union was the best of all the schemes proposed for the advancement of the country, and was proceeding to discuss annexation when the Speaker called him to order on the ground that he might reply to an attack but could not introduce irrelevant subjects.

Mr. White then expiated on the loyalty of his ancestors, and declared he was not opposed to the institutions of the country.

Mr. Tait replied that Mr. White boasted of the loyalty of his ancestors, but said nothing of his own loyalty.

The vote was then taken on Mr. Preston's amendment to the effect that this House cannot approve of the continually increasing disproportion between the sums it is asked to vote for primary and secondary education, and desires to place on record the opinion that the cost of secondary education should be borne to a greater extent than at present by those who avail themselves of the means provided for obtaining it, and that the course of study in the public schools should be so arranged as to give greater prominence to elementary instruction in agricultural subjects.

Mr. Preston's amendment was lost by 30 to 47, a straight party vote.

The vote was next taken upon the amendment moved by Mr. Awrey, that the House heartily approves of the measures that have been taken for providing useful information among the farming community and for promoting the education of the youths of the Province, and expresses its great satisfaction with the special efforts made for the education of farmers' sons by establishing an institution exclusively devoted to furnishing them with a training especially fitted to enable them to prosecute their life's work with success, and relies with confidence on further facilities being provided for the education of farmers' sons as the requirements of the country from time to time may demand.

This was carried on the same division. There were eight Liberal absentees and four members paired. Including the Speaker, and counting Mr. Campbell (Durham) among the Conservatives, the first division of the session showed the Government to have a majority of 26 in a house of 90, the death of H. E. Clarke having reduced the membership from 91 to 90.

Disaster on the Reading Road—A Train Runs Away—Two Employes Killed.

OTTAWA, March 30.—The Soo train on the C. P. R. going west was partially derailed at Hull station this afternoon. Fireman Thomas Golden was killed and Engineer O'Connell badly scalded. The engine and three cars were considerably damaged. The passengers escaped injury.

THE TRAIN RAN AWAY.

READING, Pa., March 30.—The crew of a train coming down a steep grade on the Frankville branch of the Philadelphia and Reading road last night lost control and the engine and cars shot down the decline at fearful speed. The engineer and fireman jumped. After running some distance a light locomotive was overtaken and there was a terrible crash. Brakeman Josiah Troy and John Bauer, who were standing on the platform in front of the light engine, were crushed to death.

SUDDENLY CUT DOWN.

E. L. Pearson, Late Corporal of "D" Company, Killed at Fort Gratiot.

There arrived in this city by the 11:40 train last night the remains of a young man who was Tuesday morning in the prime of life and in perfect health. E. L. Pearson, a few months ago a corporal at the military barracks and a member of the band, left this city and has since been an employe of the G. T. R. at Fort Gratiot, Mich. For three years he was a member of "C" Company, I.S.C., and for three more a member of "D" Company. While in the city he was a great favorite in the company, and was captain of the football, cricket and baseball clubs at the barracks, and always took an active part in the Athletic Association. Tuesday morning he was getting on a G. T. R. yard engine at Fort Gratiot, and was in some way struck on the head and fatally injured, dying about twelve hours later.

Deceased was married to a daughter of Mrs. Mary Bass, 712 Maitland street, and had no family. His remains were forwarded to this city and taken to the residence of his mother-in-law, where his wife had come on a visit. A deputation from the barracks in charge of Lance Corporal H. T. Millie met the train last night and took charge of the remains. To-morrow afternoon the funeral will take place to Woodland Cemetery. "D" Company Band and the Athletic Association of the barracks will attend in a body the funeral of a late highly esteemed comrade.

IN ASHES.

Destructive Fires at Port Hope, Digby and Owen Sound.

MONTREAL, Que., March 30.—A fire broke out shortly after midnight in the establishment of Messrs. Marsau & Brosseau, 63, 64 and 65 Common street, and the adjoining buildings in Queen's street. Damage to the amount of $15,000 was done.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, March 30.—The establishment of the Ohio Spiral Spring Buggy Company, a seven-story building, was totally destroyed by fire this morning. Loss, $140,000; insurance light.

PORT HOPE, March 30.—Last night the barn and stables of Samuel Redpath, Hamilton township, burned, together with all the contents, including a valuable thoroughbred stallion. Loss is fully $2,000. Partly insured.

DIGBY, N. S., March 30.—Blackader's Mills at Hectanooga were destroyed by fire last night; 30,000 feet of lumber were consumed. Loss, $35,000; partially insured.

OWEN SOUND, Ont., March 29.—Stoddard's livery, on Poulette street, was burned yesterday. It was with difficulty that 32 horses in the building were saved. Stoddard's loss, $3,000. James Johnson loses $1,000 on the building. Partially insured.

BOWMANVILLE, Ont., March 30.—About 8:30 this evening fire was discovered in the top flat of the Furniture Factory (Upper Canada) and nothing could save the building. The old office, dry kiln and George Moses' frame building across the road were also burned. The loss to the furniture company will be between $25,000 and $30,000 partly. Moses' house is a total loss covered by insurance.

Iron Workers' Wages to be Cut Down—The Toronto Tailors.

The Reading Iron Company has notified its employes that a reduction in wages will be made next month. The amount is not stated, but it will probably range from 5 to 10 per cent.

The tailors' trouble in Toronto remains unsettled. It has so far extended to two shops only. The strike was not ordered by the union, but has its sanction.

About 50 weavers in the Arlington mill, Lawrence, Mass., were out on strike Wednesday afternoon. Introduction of a new class of work reduced their pay from $8 to $6 per week. They asked an increase in pay from 80c to $1 per cut, which was refused, and they went out.

Local Option Defeated.

BRANTFORD, March 30.—Yesterday the township of Burford held an election to determine whether they should adopt the local option bylaw. The majority against the adoption of the act was 38 votes.

Nearly Poisoned.

BRANTFORD, March 30.—Yesterday afternoon the 3-year-old son of Mr. Michael Fennesy, William street, had a narrow escape from death. The little fellow in playing around got hold of a bottle of spirits of ammonia, of which he swallowed a portion of the contents. The parents' attention was called to the child by its cries, and Dr. Keane was immediately summoned. He administered the proper antidote and relieved the little sufferer after a time. The youngster is doing well to-day, but is suffering from an inflamed mouth and throat.

The Elliot Matter Brought Up in the House.

A Technical Defect in the Petition Remedied,

But the Tory Bosses Decide to Delay, if They Cannot Defeat, the Meting Out of Justice.

[Special to the ADVERTISER.]

OTTAWA, Ont., March 30.—In the House to-day when the Speaker called for petitions Mr. Lister rose and said he understood that exception would be taken to the petition he presented the other day. He therefore presented another petition, the same as the other except that the irregularity in the form of the first was avoided.

Here Mr. Lister moved, seconded by Mr. Edgar, that the petition be now received and read.

The Speaker said that he was inclined to think that this was not a question of urgency which would justify the House in passing the motion.

Mr. Lister—I contend that this is a question of urgency. It is unfair to Judge Elliot that these charges should lie upon the table of the House uninvestigated if they are to be investigated at all. On Tuesday last a petition was presented making certain charges against this judge, and to-day in the regular course that petition would be read and received, but an intimation was received by me that the petition was informal, for the reason that it had no names upon the same page with the prayer. I therefore, in order that as little time as possible may be lost, presented another petition to-day. I think, in the interest of Judge Elliot and the whole community, that these proceedings should be carried on as rapidly as possible. I think the new petition I presented to-day should stand as far as the matter is concerned in the position of the old one—that it should now be read and that a copy should be forwarded to Judge Elliot for his answer. I find in looking into the authorities that a charge against a judge is a matter of very great importance, which should be proceeded with without delay, because it is a matter affecting the dignity and honor of the judiciary of the country.

Sir John Thompson—I don't understand that the honorable gentleman claims this to be a matter of privilege.

Mr. Lister—No.

Sir John Thompson—Then it is no more urgent than any other business that comes before Parliament. The gentleman only pressed the matter forward as a matter of urgency to Judge Elliot. I am afraid that Judge Elliot will have to wait his turn. I agree that a matter affecting a judge is a matter of importance as it affects the position of the judiciary of the county, but that is no reason why the rules and procedure of Parliament should be dispensed with. On the contrary, it is a matter of great importance that the rules of the House should be observed.

The Speaker then ruled the motion out of order.

Mr. Lister had another motion, and it was that the petition of Thomas S. Hobbs and others be printed and a copy thereof at once sent to the judge of the county of Middlesex.

Sir John Thompson said that he could not conceive of any other object Mr. Lister had in view than to prevent an examination of the petition to see whether it conformed to the rules of the House. The petition presented a few days ago did not conform to the rules of the House. It was quite desirable that time should be given to see whether this new petition was conformable to the rules of the House or not.

Mr. Edgar said that the petition had been presented by an honorable member, and certainly the House, if it desired to expedite business, should have it printed.

The Speaker pointed out another objection to the motion. It was a motion for the printing of a paper, and the ordinary course was to move that the paper be referred to the Printing Committee.

Mr. Laurier said that there were precedents contrary, and it might be well if the Speaker would reserve his decision. However, if objection were taken to the motion, there was nothing to do but to follow the rules of the House.

Mr. Lister said the usual course in similar cases was to print the papers and forward copies to the person against whom the accusation was made.

Sir John Thompson said that it seemed rather out of the course that the House should print and send to the person accused a petition that the House had not yet received.

Here the matter dropped, the motion being ruled out of order.

Major Hughes, in moving for an extensive return relating to the Canadian Militia force, made a speech on the condition of the militia. He said it was degenerating and becoming demoralized. The remedy was drill of the whole force every year. He said the present system of permanent corps and military schools was too expensive and not useful enough for its cost.

Col. O'Brien and Col. Denison and Col. Amyot followed supporting the annual drill and the criticisms of the permanent corps and schools.

Mr. Bowell, Minister of Militia, said he agreed with most of the suggestions made by the speakers. He would like to establish annual drills if the money were forthcoming.

The budget debate occupied the evening.

Buried a Stranger as Their Son.

POTTSVILLE, March 30.—Several days ago the Rev. J. N. Guthrie, a prominent Baptist minister, received word that his son Luther had been killed on the Pennsylvania Railroad at Johnstown. Mrs. Guthrie identified the supposed remains of her son, and had them brought here. They were buried on Saturday. It is now known that young Guthrie is still alive, a letter written on Saturday having been received this morning. It is not known yet whose body was interred on Saturday.

Canadian Sailors Must Walk the Plank.

CHICAGO, March 30. — United States Immigration Agent Stitch served notice to-day that the Treasury Department has decided that Canadian seamen can no longer be employed on lake vessels flying the American flag, but must make way for American seamen. The decision results from the arrest of Capt. Rabshaw here last summer for violation of the contract labor law. Hundreds of Canadians have been employed every year on American vessels.

STARK'S BICYCLES

The enormous demand and increased production of wheels make it impossible to keep up the old prices of last year. The demand now is largely for a good, strong, serviceable, all-round wheel, and at a price that will put them within the reach of all, both young and old, for all the world must ride or be out of fashion. Such a wheel as described above, we now offer you as a big bargain and at a little more than half the old price.

We now offer you the celebrated Black Prince (made by Starley Bros., Coventry), solid three-quarter inch tire, for fully guaranteed. Hundreds of these wheels are now in use and giving the best of satisfaction. We are the sole agents for the Dominion for this wheel.

We have a number of high-grade Canadian-made wheels (used only a few days), which we have taken in exchange for our celebrated machines, and on which we will give bargains if sold at once.

REPAIRING DEPARTMENT.

First-class repairers; best machinery. All the latest appliances for this work including enameling and plating, of which we make a specialty.

Our 1892 bicycle catalogue is now ready. Illustrates bicycles, bicycle accessories, lawn tennis and other open air sports, tents, gymnasium supplies and photographic goods, etc. Will be sent free on receipt of postcard giving address.

Agents wanted in every town and village throughout the Dominion where we are not now represented.

COMMITTEEMEN IN CONFERENCE

The City Solicitor Cannot Draw Up a New Huckster Bylaw—A City Chimney Sweep To Be Appointed—The Weigh Scales Let.

Ald. Moule in the chair, Mayor Spencer, Ald. Wm. Heaman, John Heaman, Fitzgerald, Parnell and Hannah and Secretary Bell attended last evening's meeting of No. 3 Committee. The matter of abolishing the wood market, referred back by the Council, was laid over until the next meeting of the committee, as was also the matter of having the relief wood measured by the relief inspector. In Toronto there is no wood market and in Kingston it forms a part of the general market. A communication offering a lot at the corner of Wellington and York streets for a wood market was filed.

With regard to the new huckster bylaw the secretary reported that the solicitor had informed him that he could not draw up the required bylaw, the market being a free one. The chairman will confer with the solicitor. Hucksters selling on the market in future will probably have to purchase a license at a large cost.

John Mullin, wood market clerk, submitted a report for a portion of the month.

Health Inspector Bell suggested that the committee appoint a chimney sweep, and that an office be provided where orders might be left. He complained that his office was made a general intelligence office. The committe will advertise for applications for a chimney sweep.

Tenders were received for renting the city weigh scales. Last year the tender accepted was for $585. Burgess Howlay's tender this year was $610; Joseph Dean, $712; George Phillips, $705; H. W. Healey, $635; Jesse Cook, $617 75; S. W. Fawcett and George W. Francis, $628; W. Ironsides, $631; Alex. Cameron, $687; Wm. Hynd, $720, and Donald Dodd, $729. H. W. Healy rented them last year, and there was no complaint of any kind to be offered. Heretofore the same man has held the scales as long as he gave satisfaction. Ald. Parnell moved that the tender of Donald Dodd be accepted. Carried.

Chief Roe reported that the hook and ladder truck was practically going to pieces, and that it was not strong enough to carry the load it has to, and also that the 50-foot laddder was not safe above 40 feet. A 60-foot ladder and truck would cost about $2,800. The committee will witness the department put up their ladder some day this week and examine the truck carefully.

Inspector Bell and Ald. Parnell will procure the necessary stamp for stamping bread as soon as the bylaw is passed.

Complaints were made that the market clerk did not keep the market buildings and sidewalks in a satisfactory condition. No action.

The Council will be recommended to call for tenders for one electro-mechanical gong, 4 foot-trip gongs, 25 pounds of office wire, 10 pounds okonite wire, 5 pounds kerite wire, 2 pairs of magnets and 6 lechenche cells.

Ald. J. Heaman and the engineer will report on the advisability of erecting an electric light at the corner of Gray and Maitland streets.

Ald. Fitzgeral moved that in future all sales made by the fire department be at once reported to No. 3 Committee, and the proceeds be handed to the city treasurer. Carried.

Chief Roe will procure prices for repairing and painting the hose wagon at No. 2 station, and also a wheelbarrow for the central station.

A Pleasant Herb Drink.

The best cure we know of for Constipation and Headache is the pleasant herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine. It is said to be Oregon grape root, combined with simple herbs and is made for use by pouring boiling water onto the dried roots and herbs. It is remarkably efficacious in all blood disorders, and is now the sovereign remedy with ladies for clearing up the complexion. Druggists sell the packages at 50c and $1. ywt

The coats mentioned in the Bible were square garments of fine lamb's wool, worn by every Israelite. There was a hole in center for the head to go through, and it hung down before and behind. It was a coat by day, a covering by night and a shroud in the grave. If seized by a creditor it had to be returned by sunset.

Twenty-four carat gold is all gold; 22 carat gold has 22 parts of gold, 1 of silver and 1 of copper; 18 carat gold has 18 parts of gold and three each of silver and copper; 12 carat gold is half gold and has 3½ parts of silver and 8½ of copper. Its specific gravity is about 15; pure gold is 19.

Give Holloway's Corn Cure a trial. It removed ten corns from one pair of feet without any pain. What it has done once it will do again.

The grandest tomb in the world is without doubt, the Taj Mahal or Crown of Empires, at Agra. In is an octagonal building of the purest white marble, the interior being decorated with inlaid work of precious stones.

Mr. Job Scales, of Toronto, writes: "A short time ago I was suffering from Kidney Complaint and Dyspepsia, sour stomach and lame back; in fact, I was completely prostrated and suffering intense pain. While in this state a friend recommended me to try a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. I used one bottle, and the permanent manner in which it has cured and made a new man of me is such that I cannot withhold from the proprietors this expression of my gratitude."

Everything ready—We have everything in shape now to help you with your housecleaning. A very large and choice selection of wallpaper and a first-class staff of workmen. All you have to do is make your selection, and even this will be easy, for our patterns are so nice this year, and prices so low that you will be easily suited. We can also show you a fine line of window shades, cornice poles, picture frames, etc. Come and have a look at our new goods. No trouble to show them. E. N. HUNT, 190 Dundas street. ywt

Let every unprejudiced reader study the positions which the London Free Press has taken in regard to the bogus votes in the course of little over a month. We place its views in parallel columns:

[Attitude of Free Press, Feb. 19.

The Free Press, on behalf of the Conservatives, accepted the decision of the Court of Appeal as just what its party friends wanted, and expressed its assurance that they would win the election on the honest voters' list, and were most anxious that the names should be removed. Here are the remarks of the Free Press on this point:

"The Liberals will seek to make capital out of the decision of the Court of Appeal respecting 220 names on the London voters' list. Let no one be deceived. The Conservatives never for one moment counted on those names, and it was they who pressed for early decision of the court, as shown by the Globe's report the other day. Had those names remained on the Conservatives would have stood 534 ahead of the Liberals on the list; but as it is they are quite content with the net gain of 314."

And that there might be no mistaking its verdict, the Free Press added:

"Let every voter rest assured that the Conservatives wanted these 220 names out of the way before polling day."

[Free Press, March

All the forced inc[illegible] nation that has b[illegible] expressed over [illegible] London election based on the presumption that the votes in appeal had been "struck off" after being duly inquired into and found invalid upon evidence adduced. This is not the case. Those votes were and are on the list for the reverse reason, that they had not been inquired into at all. They were put on the list by the revising officer as taken from the assessment roll, or by sworn declaration, and were prima facie good votes until they were properly and legally attacked and proven to be bad. This was not done. They were not legally attacked, and therefore not attacked at all.

On Feb. 19, Mr. Carling's friends were hopeful they could win without the bogus votes. In that case the bogus votes would not have been counted, and our unfortunate contemporary would not have been forced into the plight in which it now finds itself. Mr. Carling was defeated, with the "220 names out of the way before polling day," and then Judge Elliot got in his fine work. He had been arguing on the streets and through the columns of the Free Press, that Mr. Carling should have the seat, and even though they were previously demolished—and rightly so, the Free Press being our authority—by the unanimous judgment of the two superior courts. The Free Press is equal to the emergency, too. It supported the judgment of the superior courts so long as there was a chance of getting Mr. Carling to Parliament without the bogus vote. But the moment the bogus votes are required it as cheerfully reverses its position, and assumed that all its pre-election arguments must be upset! The upholders of the outrage are paying a big price for their hollow victory, and the end is not yet.

BRANT.

An examination took place at Brantford the other day in a breach of promise suit. The plaintiff is a good-looking young Brantford township girl and the defendant a son of Mr. Hanmer, the well-known sheep breeder. Damages are placed at $2,000, and defendant is about to marry another girl. The case will come up at next assizes.

ELGIN.

Some four or five years ago a tin cash box full of deeds and stamps was stolen from the office of Farley & McDonald, barristers, at St. Thomas. The box was fished out of Kettle Creek the other day by some boys who were fishing.

Mrs. Lavinia Drake, relict of the late Wm. Drake, died at Port Burwell on Friday, aged 73. She left two sons and four daughters.

Mrs. Charlotte Crossett, Bayham, died a few days ago at the residence of her son, C. S. Crossett, J.P., near the Bayham cheese factory. The deceased was the widow of Peter Crossett, who died some years ago. She and her husband settled on their farm in North Bayham when that part of the country was almost an unbroken forest, but by hard work and good management they succeeded in not only clearing up their own farm, but in purchasing two or three other farms in that vicinity, so that at the time of his death he left an estate valued at close to $25,000. The old homestead, being no doubt the best farm in Bayham, passes now to the youngest son, Charles, who lives on the adjoining farm.

A young woman about 25 years of age was found the other day wandering about the commons near Ridgetown in a demented condition. Chief Tompkins was notified, and he took the young woman in charge. It was found that her name was Hill, daughter of a farmer of that name residing near Bothwell. He was notified of his daughter's whereabouts, and took her home.

At Osgoode Hall on Tuesday, in the case Langstaff vs. McRae, Wallaceburg, judgment was given on motion by the defendants to set aside the verdict and judgment for the plaintiff in an action tried before Macmahon, J., and a jury at Sarnia at the Autumn Assizes, 1891. Action for $1,000 damages for injury to the plaintiff's growing crops by reason of an overflow caused by the defendants throwing a boom across the River Sydenham, on the banks of which the plaintiff's lands lay, and so causing a great quantity of logs and driftwood to accumulate and form a dam. The Divisional Court held that as the act of the defendants in throwing a boom across the river was in itself lawful, being, in fact, expressly authorized by statute, and as the damages suffered were approximately caused by an unusual fall of rain and by circumstances beyond the defendants' control, the latter should not be held liable. Order accordingly, setting aside the verdict and judgment for the plaintiff and directing judgment for the defendants with costs.

MIDDLESEX.

The North Dorchester Council met on Monday. Orders were given for $262 85 on account of gravel on township roads, and several minor accounts were also paid. The amount of money for the several gravel roads for this year will be as follows, provided Nissouri and Westminster Councils apportion the same amount on their townlines: Elgin road north, $100; Elgin road south, $300; Governor's road, $250; west townline, $250; Hamilton road, $250; and Avon road, $200. James McCallum, a member of this council, was granted leave of absence for two months. The Council adjourned to meet on the last Monday of April.

PERTH.

Rev. Dr. Campbell, of Listowel, has been called by Erskine Church congregation, Ottawa. The Synod of Hamilton and London meets in Stratford on April 19, when this call will be considered. Mr. Campbell went to Listowel some eight or nine years ago as the successor to Rev. J. W. Bell, M.A., and under his administration the membership of the church has largely increased, so much so that in the early years of his pastorate the capacity of the old church became inadequate to the needs of the growing congregation, when the scheme for the building of a new church was inaugurated which resulted in the building of the beautiful edifice that adorns the corner where the old church stood.

The Mitchell Blue Ribbon Association has now a membership of 947.

The arbitration case of Walkom vs. the city of Stratford was opened before his Honor Judge Woods on Monday. The claimant asks $400 damages because the corporation raised the sidewalk in front of his shop on the Mitchell road. A number of witnesses were examined on behalf of the claimant, and the case was adjourned till Friday.

In November last the Reliance Electric Company, of Waterford, contracted with the city council of Stratford to light that city with 70 electric lights at 20 cents per light per night, the lights to be 2,000 candle power. In the latter part of December the Reliance Company sold its contract to the Stratford Gas Company, and an electrical expert has since declared the light furnished is not up to the standard agreed upon. The sale of the contract to the gas company has never been recognized by the council, and the Reliance Company disclaims responsibility. In the meantime the city is getting its light free, the council having refused to pay for the light on the ground that it is not equal to what the agreement calls for. The trouble, it is expected, will terminate in a lawsuit.

Wood finds a ready sale in Listowel at $4 50 per cord.

WELLINGTON.

A special meeting of the Board of Education has been held to hear the report of the School Management Committee on the resignation of Rev. Dr. Torrance as public school inspector and secretary of the Board. For 37 years steadily he has been inspector and for over 35 years secretary, and during that time has done a great deal for the advancement of education in Guelph. The reason of his resignation is that he is getting up in years and that the tax is becoming too great on his strength. The Board accepted his resignation with regret, and the committee recommended that Wm. Tytler, B.A., head master of the Collegiate Institute, be appointed in his place. Mr. Tytler's health has been not of the very best for some time past, and he feels that he cannot much longer do full justice to his position as head master. He also has done great service in connection with the educational work of his city.

WELLINGTON.

At the Guelph Assizes the case of McEwen vs. McEwen was an action by a father against his son to set aside an agreement by which the defendant was alleged to have gained an advantage over his father, while the latter was intoxicated, and for arrears of an annuity. It was settled out of court and proceedings stayed, pending the carrying out of the settlement by the son.

Kirkland vs. the Canadian Relief Society was an action brought by Mrs. M. J. Kirkland at the Guelph Assizes to recover $1,000, the amount of a policy issued by the defendant society on the life of the late John S. Rogerson. Judgment was entered for the plaintiff by consent for $600.

Sanford vs. Sanford at the Guelph Assizes was an action by a married woman against her husband, to recover a farm lot in Minto township. The wife claimed that in 1866 the husband made a deed of the farm to her, because, owing to the abuse she had received from him, they separated. He left for Howick, taking away considerable of the furniture to a farm he had there, but immediately returned assuming the control of the farm in Minto. She objected and notified him to leave her in quiet possession. He refused, and abused her until she had to leave, and she brought this action to recover possession. The verdict was for the defendant without costs, the chief justice holding that the plaintiff having been married between 1859 and 1872, and having received the lands during coverture from the husband, could not eject the husband.

ARCH-FIEND MICHAEL.

The Hamlin Avenue Fanatic Getting Deeper in the Mire.

DETROIT, March 30.—The police are determined that Prince Michael will not have a loop-hole by which to escape from the punishment which his crimes so richly deserve. Not satisfied with the two strong complaints which have already been made against him, the authorities have obtained a third complaint on a charge preferred by 15-year-old Bernice Bickle. The child's father and mother, both of whom belong to the Israelites, were not aware of the grevious indignity to which their daughter had been subjected until they were shown her sworn statement of the arch-fiend's doings.

The prince and his alleged paramour, Eliza Courts, still occupy widely separated cells in the central station. Michael was asked whether he desired the services of an attorney to defend him. He replied that his father and mother in heaven would defend him.

Mrs. M. R. Mills, the complainant in the complaints first made, has secured possession of the keys of the God-house on Hamlin avenue and will probably occupy that habitation until the case is settled in the courts. She has sent for her brother, an instructor in the St. Thomas Collegiate Institute.

The latest revelations are the confessions of improper relations with the prince made by May Webster, Alice Courts and Carrie Bender. The greatest indignation prevails and lynching is talked of.

DEATH OF A DELUDED DISCIPLE.

RICHMOND, Ky., March 30.—L. E. Francis, an apostle of Schweinfurth, the Illinos false Christ, died at his home this morning, aged 64. He often declared he would never die. The deceased was formerly a leading citizen of Madison county, and for 40 years a member of the Christian Church, and was wealthy. He died almost in poverty, having given largely to the Illinois imposter.

ANOTHER CRANK HEARD FROM.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 30.—The long sought for star behind the sun which Lieut. Totten predicted would appear yesterday when the last week of anti-Christ began did not so far as known put in an appearance. The lieutenant was on the streets, and did not appear fearful of the closing day of his calendar. He said this was the first day of Nisan, the first day of the new sacred Jewish year. It begins the the final seven years which lead up to the end of the 2,520 years assigned to the "time of the Gentiles." "I have changed none of my views expressed in the Music Hall lecture at Boston on March 2."

"Your Money or Your Life."

Such a demand, at the mouth of a "six-shooter," sets a man thinking pretty lively. With a little more thinking there would be less suffering.

Think of the terrible results of neglected consumption! which might easily be averted by the timely use of Nature's Great Specific, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

Consumption, which is Lung-scrofula, is a constitutional disease, and requires just such a thorough and effectual constitutional remedy! Taken in time, before the lung-tissues are wasted, it is guaranteed a radical cure. Equally certain in all scrofulous affections and blood disorders. Large bottles one dollar, of any druggist.

Quite the Reverse—Noddy—"There goes Waitman kiting along like a deer. I wonder if he is training for a run." Oddie—"No on the contrary he is running for a train."

Among the pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, is ear-ache. The young are especially subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to the above ailment, but also to the hurts, disorders of the bowels, and affections of the throat, in which the young are specially subject.

A Natural Supposition—Mr. Tulkinghorn—"There is a very fine picture of our minister in to-day's paper." Mrs. Tulkinghorn—"Indeed! What has he been cured of?"

Nothing impure or injurious contaminates the popular antidote to pain, throat and lung remedy and general corrective, Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. It may be used without the slightest apprehension of and other than salutary consequences. Coughs, rheumatism, earache, bruises, cuts and sores succumb to its action.

IMITATION IS THE SINCEREST FLATTERY.
MELISSA
Stands alone as a Satisfactory Rainproof Garment.

MELISSA IS THE BEST

beyond a doubt, and it is not only the best but it is the only thoroughly reliable, healthful, porous, odorless, Rainproof Fabric in the World. Now, that is pretty strong language, but it is as true as it is strong.

The season for rainproof wraps is here again.

There are several, so called, Porous, Odorless, Waterproofs in the market, some of them will be found absolutely worthless as Waterproofs; others will appear to stand one or two showers, but then it will be discovered that the proofing substance has washed away entirely and left the fibre of the cloth hard and brittle. Another, the most unreliable and useless of the lot, will be discovered to be proofed only in spots; the tail of a garment may be all right while the shoulders let water through like ordinary cloth, one shoulder may be right and the other all wrong. Wearers themselves will have to find out the frauds, and their experience will be both disappointing and expensive. Not so with MELISSA, for the proofing is done on an entirely different basis and cannot be successfully counterfeited or imitated. The process instead of destroying the fabric, preserves and strengthens it, so that its rainproof qualities are maintained intact to the very end. It is practically impossible for a Melissa Garment to be unevenly proofed, and the above trade mark is an absolute guarantee, not only that the proofing is uniform, but that the material is of excellent quality and thoroughly reliable in every respect.

All classes of Melissa Cloth, in the piece, will be sold to retail dealers through the Wholesale Dry Goods, Millinery, and Woollen Houses only, and a large variety of beautiful patterns of are now being shown by the travellers of the houses handling these goods.

Men's and Youths' Garments will be sold as heretofore, through J. W. MACKEDIE & CO.

—[BROWNING.

London, Thursday, March 31.

The recent election of a Conservative M. P. for Monck will be protested. There are many allegations of fraud, personation, bribery, etc.

Mr. Proulx (Liberal) has been re-elected M.P. for Prescott county, by a majority of about 250. The Conservatives held the seat from 1878 to 1891, when it was captured by Mr. Proulx.

Brantford Expositor: The London Free Press of to-day contains a labored double-headed editorial headed "Judge Elliot's Vindication." It is written in a legal strain, and will no doubt be handed down in law calf as Elliot on Elliot.

The London Free Press says editorially that Mr. Vaillancourt, M. P. for Dorchester, Que., has decided to support the Abbott Government. Mr. Vaillancourt who should know his own mind, authorizes the statement that the report is absolutely untrue. He has no such intention.

At last there has been a party division of the members of the Ontario Legislature. It shows that in a full House, counting the Speaker and giving the Opposition Mr. Campbell (Durham), Mr. Mowat has a majority out of the 90 members of the House of 26. Very nearly two-thirds of the whole membership is Liberal.

Hugh John Macdonald, M. P. for Winnipeg, unlike his father, the late Conservative leader, has no liking for political life. He announces that he intends to resign his seat as soon as possible, and that he has requested Premier Abbott to relieve him. His reasons are: "I merely don't like the work. I have no ambition for political life. My tastes don't lie in that direction."

A Michigan correspondent asks us if the Right Honorable W. E. Gladstone is a believer in Spiritualism. In none of his writings that have come under the review of the writer has the great English statesman declared his adherence to what is known as Spiritualism. It is enough for those of us who are admirers of the right honorable gentleman to know that he is a Christian statesman, whom to know is to respect and esteem.

The Stratford Beacon claims that a Conservative law firm in Windsor, of which Mr. Patterson, recently appointed to the Dominion Government is a member, has been in the habit of posting letters in Detroit to save the one-cent difference between the Canadian three-cent and the United States two-cent rate. Our contemporary says:

"Several letters of this firm mailed in Detroit and bearing United States stamps have been received in this city, and one the Beacon saw as late as Feb. 1."

Instead of being condemned for this endeavor to avoid the stupid and excessive postal charges that call for a three-cent rate for a circular printed in imitation of typewriting, as have been other business men alleged to have followed his example, Mr. Patterson is elevated to a position in the Dominion Cabinet! "Let there be fair play all round."

Oil will be used more and more as fuel in the United States until such time as electricity is under better control. The latest big contract given out for heating by oil is that awarded to the Standard Oil Company by the World's Fair directors, who have decreed that coal oil shall be consumed in the whole of the furnaces on the grounds. The lowest bid for coal was $2 44 per ton. From that figure the bids ranged all the way to $3 95 per ton. The Standard Oil Company's bid was 70 cents for a barrel of 42 gallons of oil, and 72½ cents a barrel during 1893. Agents of the company said that three barrels of oil would produce as much heat as a ton of coal. That meant a saving of about 14 per cent. on the lowest bid for coal, and a committee decided in favor of oil, on one condition. The Exposition Company will pay 70 cents a barrel until 1893, and then have the privilege of getting the oil at the lowest market price, not to exceed 72½ cents a barrel. The contract will be for perhaps the largest quantity ever sold to one consumer. The lowest estimates that have ever been made of the amount of coal that would be burned at Jackson Park during the Exposition was 75,000 tons. On this basis 225,000 barrels of oil would be used, but it is probable that the amount will be largely in excess of that estimate. Mr. Burnham told the members of the committee that oil had been successfully used for years by several of the largest power houses in Chicago, notably the cable lines.

STILL TRUSTING TO MISERABLE TECHNICAL QUIBBLES.

There has been more quibbling at Ottawa over the reception of the serious allegations against Judge Elliot, and, impliedly, Mr. Carling, the man who has profited by Judge Elliot's unwarranted actions.

Sir John Thompson's disposition seems to be inclined to fall in with the views of the local conspirators—that a full investigation should be delayed as long as possible. From the inception of the series of rascalities by means of which the votes of men struck off the list by a Conservative revising officer were counted by Judge Elliot the conspirators have adopted the view that delay in their exposure would help them, and the friends of Mr. Carling in Parliament seem to place faith in similar tactics, or they would not be guilty of contemptible quibbling and hair-splitting, with the sole object of delaying proceedings on these most serious charges.

If these men had nothing to fear, they would court investigation, and ask that not a moment's delay should take place in taking the evidence alleged to be forthcoming.

So far as the friends of Mr. Hyman, M.P., and of justice are concerned, it seems to us that they gain rather than lose by the policy of delay. Every day, the press of the country is becoming more fully seized of the methods pursued by Judge Elliot and his co-conspirators to secure a seat for Mr. Carling to which he can lay no legal claim, and every day the evidence accumulates that no matter how great may be the effort put forth to suppress the facts the truth will be laid bare, and the view of such independent Conservative journals as the Toronto News receives increasing adherents. That paper, in its issue of last (Wednesday) night says:

"John Carling does not hold his seat in the Commons by the voice of the legally qualified electors of London, but by grace of Judge Elliot. It will be an outrage past endurance if the judge who has usurped the position belonging to the electors should be rescued from trial for his offense on a quibbling technicality that would not avail to save an offender before Chief Justice Baxter's Police Court."

If there is any attempt to suppress a full investigation at Ottawa, the conspirators will be tried elsewhere. They should not only be tried, but be made to give up the proceeds of their plunder.

CANADIAN INDEPENDENCE BEST FOR EVERYBODY.

The other day the ADVERTISER said the Independence of Canada would be best for Canada, best for Great Britain, best for the United States, best for mankind. The following cablegram published in to-day's papers shows what the most influential organ of British opinion thinks:

LONDON, March 30.—The Times this morning contains an article reviewing the Bering Sea dispute. The writer comments on the fact that the matter has no direct importance for the English consumer of sealskins, to whom it matters nothing whom the skins are obtained from Canadians or Americans. The writer says: "The controversy only concerns a semi-independent colony who treats us as a commercial enemy. These colonies are always embroiling us in foreign disputes. We are obliged to fight their battles while they treat us as a foreign power. How long is this to last? A few troubles like the Bering Sea controversy will compel us to face the problem and seriously ask ourselves whether the present relations between the mother country and the colonies are quite fair to the British taxpayers."

The Times can hardly be blamed for this view. Despite all our loyalty cant, we do treat Great Britain, by our anti-free trade policy, as "a commercial enemy."

Great Britain is more vitally interested in maintaining good relations with the United States than in retaining Canada as a British possession.

Canada's interest runs in the same direction.

No people content to be other people's "Colonists" ever did, ever can, or ever will, amount to anything.

The invitation of the London Times to strike out for ourselves ought to be accepted.

A MARE'S NEST DISCOVERED BY THE FREE PRESS.

Through an error in transmission by telegraph, the name "Beltz" affixed to the petition to Parliament for an investigation into the conduct of Judge Elliot was transformed into "Betts," and the name was so published in the ADVERTISER.

We take this opportunity to set the matter right with our readers. Any one accustomed to handling dispatches knows how easy it is for an error of this description to take place.

Our city contemporary, which is ready in its present critical position to grasp at any straw that may, even temporarily, divert attention from the main issue, now alleges that it is no error in telegraphing, but a deliberate forgery of the name of Mr. Betts!

This allegation is inexcusable, in view of the fact that the name was correctly given in the dispatch sent to the Free Press, and its editor had but to compare the two lists to find that his discovery and simulated indignation had no good foundation.

BY POPULAR ELECTION.

Mr. Tarte, the well-known Quebec politician, favors the election by popular vote of the lieutenant-governors of Provinces. The idea is a good one. The populace are more likely to select a good chief administrative officer than the coterie of politicians who happen to control public affairs at Ottawa.

The governor-generalship should also be made a prize to which Canadians might aspire. Why should it be made a gift to an old world politician who may know comparatively little of the desires and aspirations of the Canadian people?

There are many of us who believe that the judges might better be elected by popular vote for a term of, say, six to ten years, than elected for life, too often as a reward for party services. Considering the difficulty which there is in getting rid of inefficient or unrighteous judges this view of the case has many attractions for those who wish for a judiciary that will be put on its mettle to do that which is right under pains of bringing down upon itself the displeasure of right-thinking, justice-loving citizens of all classes.

TOPICS OF TO-DAY.

The comedy and tragedy of Boulanger and his black-horseism is ended, and the pathos holds the stage for one brief hour. At the auction sale of his mementoes his wedding ring was privately bought in for his wronged wife.

England's representative at the Bering Sea Conference in Washington, Sir George Baden Powell, is a pronounced free-trader. As an author in the economic field he has made his mark, his work on "Protection and Bad Times" being considered a standard.

John Burns, the Socialist Democrat, has been a member of the London (Eng.) County Council for three years. He is only 38, and gives his occupation as "working engineer." Mr. Burns has stalwart shoulders and a thick, short, brown beard.

The year 1819, which gave birth to Walt Whitman, was one of the years of "great babies." Queen Victoria, John Ruskin, Charles Kingsley, J. G. Holland, Cyrus W. Field, and Julia Ward Howe are or among the celebrities who first saw the light in that year.

When Grant Allen in his story of "The Devil's Die" described his heroes as finding a wreck in mid-ocean swarming with rats, the critics said it could not be. The wreckers who went aboard the Gottenburg Castle, off St. Mary's Isle, recently, had just that experience. But the critics have no doubt forgotten all about the matter by this time.

The Queen Regent of Spain refuses to touch a penny of the $100,000 a year jointure to which, as the widow of the late King, she is entitled. She makes her own fortune suffice for her needs and handles the revenues of her son, the little 5-year-old King, so carefully as to win the respect and confidence of the people. And the little fellow has a civil list of $1,450,000 a year, not a bad stipend for ruling over the poorest country in Europe.

In about his last newspaper interview Walt Whitman said: "The work of my life has been my 'Leaves of Grass,' which I intend to make my legacy. A London publishing firm has just solicited me to publish my complete works, and they will have it, as the market seems more vivid abroad than in the United States. My final edition of 'Leaves of Grass' is now in print; it contains my last 35 years' collections. I do not want newspaper talk about me; I might live for years longer, yet I know my time is nearly come. Friends have been kind to me and I appreciate all that they have done, but my days are limited and then I trust I will go home to a heaven of peace and rest with the good will and fellowship of those I left behind me, both on the battlefield and in the civil service. I love my country, literature and my friends, and I trust that God will prosper the nation. Good by, I am tired."

NOT A MIRACLE.

In these days there are no miracles. People are not cured by them or deceived by statements to that effect.

Indigestion, sour stomach, dyspepsia, in fact all stomach troubles are produced by the fermenting of the food, the result of which must be acid that decomposes the food, involving gasses which act on various nerves by pressure. Neutralize the acid and the disease ceases.

That is what Brunton's Curative Fluid will do. Being composed of a combination of potasses, it neutralizes the acid, assist digestion and purifies the blood.

"August Flower"

I had been troubled five months with Dyspepsia. The doctors told me it was chronic. I had a fullness after eating and a heavy load in the pit of my stomach. I suffered frequently from a Water Brash of clear matter. Sometimes a deathly Sickness at the Stomach would overtake me. Then again I would have the terrible pains of Wind Colic. At such times I would try to belch and could not. I was working then for Thomas McHenry, Druggist, Cor. Irwin and Western Ave., Allegheny City, Pa., in whose employ I had been for seven years. Finally I used August Flower, and after using just one bottle for two weeks, was entirely relieved of all the trouble. I can now eat things I dared not touch before. I would like to refer you to Mr. McHenry, for whom I worked, who knows all about my condition, and from whom I bought the medicine. I live with my wife and family at 39 James St., Allegheny City, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Rejoice Because Hood's Sarsaparilla Rescued Their Child from Scrofula.

For Scrofula, Salt Rheum, and all other foul humors in the blood of children or adults, Hood's Sarsaparilla is an unequalled remedy. Read this:

"We are so thankful to Hood's Sarsaparilla for what it did for our little girl that we make this statement for the benefit of other anxious parents and

Suffering Children

Our girl was a beautiful baby, fair and plump and healthy. But when she was two years old, sores broke out behind her ears and spread rapidly over her head and forehead down to her eyes, and into her neck. We consulted one of the best physicians in Brooklyn, but nothing did her any good. The doctors said it was caused by a scrofula humor in the blood. Her head became offensive to the smell and dreadful to look at. Her general health waned and she would lay in a large chair all day without any life or energy. The sores caused great itching and burning, so that at times we had to restrain her hands to prevent scratching. For 3 years

One Complete Sore

She Suffered Fearfully

with this terrible humor. Being urged to try Hood's Sarsaparilla we did so. We soon noticed that she had more life and appetite. The medicine seemed to drive out more of the humor for a short time, but it soon began to subside, the itching and burning ceased, and in a few months her head became entirely clear of the sore. She is now perfectly well, has no evidence of the humor, and her skin is clear and healthy. She seems like an entirely different child, in health and general appearance, from what she was before taking

Is an illustration of what Hood's Sarsaparilla is doing for the sick and suffering every day, from Maine to California. In the light of these facts who can say that the work of an immense concern like ours is not beneficent?

SENSATION AT GUTTENBERG.

Discovery of a New Speed-Inducing Agent.

Jockey Cook Carried an Electric Battery With Him—Various Sporting Events.

THE TURF.

There was a sensation at the Guttenberg race track last week. Among the entries was the chestnut mare Gyda, by Gaberlunzie—Glenlilly, and she ran in the colors of the Riverside stable. Among the owners of this aggregation is a well-known electrician, who, a few months ago, sprang into prominence among turfmen by making one of the greatest coups the rings has known in years, clearing a winner on the transaction by some $30,000. He made this bold stroke on Gyda. Then, as Friday, she was started in a field that outclassed her, and in which she did not seem to have the shadow of a chance. But to the consternation of everybody she shot away at flagfall and, gaining a commanding lead, lasted long enough to get the verdict by a head. Odds of 100 to 1 were freely marked against her then, and by backing her quietly and judiciously her owner almost broke the ring. In that race the means taken by the mare's owner to win was the current from an electric battery concealed on the jockey's body which urged Gyda to that dazzling flight of speed. The story, as told at the time, was ridiculed, but on Friday the substantiation was made full and complete. When Gyda last won Jockey Mooney rode her. On Friday Bookmaker Lovell's jockey, Cook, had the mount. The mare was in the race at 90 pounds, and young Cook weighed in at five pounds overweight, the outside limit of overweight. Then he went to the stable, and when the saddling bell rang, was lifted to the mare's back and rode off to the post. He got away well with her and the surprising speed she showed in such company called many exclamations of wonder from the spectators. With her head down she raced along with the speedy Zenobia and that good class colt Stratagem. At the head of the stretch it was as much her race as anybody's, but just within the eighth pole she faltered and fell back beaten. She had made a brilliant effort and done her best, but the best was not good enough.

When Cook came to the scales, however, it was found that the jockey who weighed out at only five pounds over weight, was now nine pounds over the weight assigned, or four beyond the limit. This at once aroused suspicion. Manager Carr took the boy to a private room, and searching him found an electric battery fastened around his waist with wires running from it to the spurs. The contrivance was very simple. The electricity was carried or generated in four small tubes arranged in a belt which was almost the exact counterpart of a cartridge belt. It was worn next the body, and running down it on either side was a wire attached to the spurs. The electricity was turned on or off by means of a small switch which the jockey could easily manipulate. He pressed the button—the horse did or tried, as he never tried before, to do the rest.

The owner explained the working of the machine to a reporter, and said that he had patented the appliance in Europe, and that it had been used with success there. It didn't give a horse any more natural speed than he possessed, but it would move a sulky horse to run true, and the horse that would run from it would give his best efforts. He could not explain the overweight found on the jockey, and as the machine only weighs 10 ounces the cause of Cook's overweight is still a mystery. Gyda was well played on Friday, but the machine did not work well enough and the manipulators were discovered, and Gyda, her owner and trainer ruled off the course.

At Woodstock "Duppy" Douglas is training Singlestone, by Ventilator, the 3-year-old Lester, by Story, and the jumper Princess, by Princeton.

A Butte, Mont., dispatch says: It is estimated that Marcus Daly's losses of colts at the Bitter Root Stock Farm this season will aggregate $100,000. Five-sixths of the colts foaled have died immediately after birth. The best veterinary surgeons are unable to arrive at the cause, but consider it to be an epidemic. Mr. Daly has over $500,000 invested in his breeding establishment.

THE TRIGGER.

Lieut.-Col. Massey, of the Sixth Royal Fusiliers, Montreal, will command the Bisley team this year, with Major Macdonald, of the Forth-eighth Highlanders, Toronto, as adjutant.

BASEBALL.

Bob Leadley will manage the Buffalo team.

Mickey Jones has signed with the Eastern League, but he doesn't know yet where he will play, as Secretary Whitedistributes the players, equalizing the teams as much as possible.

FOOTBALL.

The books have now been made up in connection with the Scottish football cup final. The gate yielded £1,294 17s, showing that 25,897 persons paid, and the total receipts were £1,675 3s, and with free tickets and about 10,000, as the police estimate, of the crowd that broke through after the gates were closed, the total company was 37,000.

CRICKET.

A cricket match was recently played at Sydney, N. S. W., in which special interest was taken because Master Grace and Miss Grace, children of "W. G." were among the players. Miss Grace, who was one of a team of ladies, made the top score for her side, 20 runs, and also took 14 wickets.

THE WHEEL.

The Sarnia Bicycle Club has elected road officers, with S. J. Hitchcock, captain; Charles Mackenzie, jun., first lieutenant; G. R. Geary, standard-bearer; Harry Watson, bugler.

LACROSSE.

At a largely-attended meeting of the Junior Huron Lacrosse Club, of Goderich, champions of the western district, the following officers were elected for the season: Honorary president, Hon. J. C. Patterson, M.P.; honorary vice-president, J. T. Garrow, Q.C., M.P.P.; president, R. S. Williams; vice-president, George Drummond; captain, W. C. Graham; treasurer, D. Johnston; secretary, Alex. MacVicar; committee of management, Munroe, Blackford, Campbell, Graham and Cooper.

DEADLY PARALLEL NO. 2.

The best evidence of the soundness of the position of the Liberal lawyers that the notices served on the bogus voters were perfectly valid is to be found in the attitude taken on them by the judges before whom they were brought. For the purposes of comparison, we give the names of the judges for and against the validity of the notices:

Declared the Liberal notices good.	Declared the Liberal notices bad.
In Court of Queen's Bench:	In County Court:
Chief Justice Armour.	Judge Elliot, London.
Mr. Justice Street.
Mr. Justice Falconbridge.

What better proof of the validity of the notices could be obtained than the unanimous judgment of two superior courts, supplemented by the decisions of two respected county judges? Against this judgment must be placed the solitary decision of Judge Elliot, given two months after he expressed his intention to await the decision of the Court of Appeal, and after he had been guilty of the grossest partisanship.

The Doctors Extend Their Time.

First three months free of charge. On account of the large number of invalids who have been unable owing to the rush to consult the staff of eminent physicians and surgeons located at No. 456 Talbot street, (near Queen's avenue), London, before May 1st will receive services for the first three months free of charge. The only favor desired is a recommendation from those whom they cure. The object in pursuing this course is to become rapidly and personally acquainted with the sick and afflicted.

The doctors treat every variety of disease and deformity and will perform all surgical operations free this month, viz.: The removal of cancers, tumors, cataract, polypi, etc. All diseases of the eye, ear, throat, lungs, heart, stomach, liver, kidneys, bladder, and all female difficulties arising from whatever cause, all nervous prostrations, failing vitality, and diseases originating from impure blood, treated with the greatest success.

Catarrh in all its various forms cured by their new method, which consists in breaking up the cold-catching tendency, to which every person suffering from catarrh is susceptible.

Invalids will please not take offense if they are rejected as incurable. The physicians will examine you thoroughly, free of charge, and if incurable, they will positively tell you so. Also caution you against spending more money for useless medicine.

Hours from 9 a.m. to 5, and from 7 to 8 p.m. Sundays, from 2 to 4 p.m.

Invalids outside the city can write, and be treated by express.

Address all communications to Mr. William H. Hale, Manager, No. 456 Talbot street, London, Ont.

A Dinner Pill.—Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment it becomes a poison to the sytem. Dr. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions and convert the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with Indigestion or Dyspepsia.

The London Election Rascalities Denounced by an Independent Conservative Journal.

One of the Strongest Statements of the Case Yet Made.

How the Conspiracy to Steal the Seat of Mr. Hyman, M.P., Was Carried Out from First to Last.

From the Ottawa Journal, Independent-Conservative.]

It is rarely indeed that the Bench is impeached in Parliament. Judge Elliot, of London, attains a very unusual notoriety. Intrusted with the dispensation of justice to his fellow men, almost the most sacred trust that can be placed in the hands of a human being, Judge Elliot is accused of willfully, deliberately, and for low and mean ends, violating his sacred trust. This which he is accused of doing is a far graver crime than any ordinary felony. If the accusation is proven in Parliament to be well-founded, the petition which a Liberal member, Mr. Lister, offers calling for a declaration of Judge Elliot's unfitness to remain on the bench, should neither be disregarded nor dodged by the Conservative majority.

The facts as we understand them are as follows:

During the revision of the voters' list in London last November, the Liberals entered protests against several hundred names which the revising officer proposed to place on the list. By the Franchise Act, the Liberals were required to state the grounds on which the protests were entered. With regard to this, the Liberals first simply gave the words "not qualified" in a large number of cases, those, we believe, of persons claiming the right to vote on income.

The Conservatives promptly took objection. They held that the Liberals had not the right, either by equity or the Franchise Act, to force electors to appear before the revising officer to answer so vague a charge as "not qualified." They held that the Liberals were required by the wording of the Franchise Act to make a more specific complaint, for instance to say that the person's income was below the standard required by the act, or that he was not of age, or not a British subject, or something of that kind.

The Conservatives, one would imagine, were right about this. The revising officer thought so. He notified the Liberals on Nov. 10 that their protests were not fairly made. But he also took the fair and equitable course of giving the Liberals an opportunity to put in proper protests. He gave them three days to amend their protests. As there were several hundred protests, it will be imagined that the Liberals had to hustle. But they did it, and by Nov. 13 mailed and amended protests not only to the revising officer, but to each Conservative whom they protested, as by law they were bound to do.

So far we find a perfectly fair battle. We suppose honest men and patriotic Canadians will hold that the end of justice should be to give votes to the persons whom the Franchise Act qualifies, and to those only. The Liberals of London, having been notified that there was doubt about the legality of the words in which they had protested doubtful voters, had changed these words and substituted others which would enable a fair test. They had done this under the authority of the franchise judge, alias the revising office, and their doing of it furthered the ends of justice and of the Franchise Act, and did harm to no one. The revising officer had but to examine their amended protests, decide each case according to the law, and the matter would have been ended.

Thus, we say, the battle so far was perfectly fair. The fairness ended here.

The Conservatives were not satisfied. How is it possible to doubt that they dreaded fair inquiry into their doubtful voters? They proceed to do their best to burk induiry.

In the first place they appealed to Judge Elliot against the action of the revising officer in allowing the Liberals to amend their protests. Now note Judge Elliot's first move. He replied that he had no power to interfere with that decision of the revising officer. So far the Liberals remained safe. But—note this beginning of all the coming injustice—he went on to say that although he could not interfere it was his opinion—why should he have given an empty opinion, which as a court he had no right to enforce, as he himself owned—it was his opinion that the Liberal protests had been invalid, null and void in the first place. The inference was that the revising officer should not have permitted amendment.

This opinion gave the Conservatives a handle. Armed with it, they attacked the revising officer again. That officer, who by the way is a son-in-law of Judge Elliot and a Conservative like him, thereupon changed his first mind. He notified the Liberals that he would not hear the amended protests for which he himself had asked.

The Liberals applied to the Court of Queen's Bench for an order to force the revising officer to hear their protests, and they got it. They got more. They got a unanimous expression of opinion from the three judges of the court, Chief Justice Armour and Justices Street and Falconbridge, that the original protests of the Liberals—the "not qualified" protests—were legal and sufficient in themselves, and that the Liberals had not required to amend their protests at all.

This settled the question with the revising officer. He proceeded to hear the protests, holding court on Dec. 4. A number of protested Conservatives did not appear. They were not content with, or feared to accept, the ruling of the Court of Queen's Bench. They appealed to the Court of Appeal at Toronto, and meanwhile they took the liberty of staying away from the revising officer's court. By the Franchise Act a revising officer may strike off the name of a challenged person who does not appear to answer a protest against his qualification. The London revising officer on Dec. 4 accordingly struck off the names of a large number of Conservatives who would not or did not appear.

Now came a new appeal by the Conservatives. It was to Judge Elliot, and it was based on a plea in which Judge Elliot was on record as on their side. Two hundred and twenty-nine Conservatives who had refused to appear before the revising officer on the ground that the Liberal protests were invalid, or who for other reasons failed to appear, and had been struck off by the revising officer, now asked Judge Elliot to replace them on the voters' list. These men had attempted by a legal technicality to burk inquiry in the first place; when the legal technicality was settled, they had still tried to burk fair investigation of their standing; in attempting to do this, they had defied the law both of the revising officer and of the Court of Queen's Bench; and now they harked back to Judge Elliot, evidently trusting that he too would defy the Queen' Bench.

Judge Elliot hesitated. The appeal came before him on Dec. 31. He declined to hear evidence on either side, stating that inasmuch as the 229 Conservatives whose cases were in question had appealed from the Queen's Bench to the Court of Appeal, he would reserve his judgment until the Court of Appeal had spoken. You will observe that all this is a pretty knotty complication, and that it is little wonder there is so much to be said on one side or the other, and so many loopholes for the escape of an honest verdict.

The Court of Appeal spoke on Feb. 18. Practically it indorsed the Court of Queen's Bench, vindicated the Liberals and confirmed the Conservative defeat; technically, it gave Judge Elliot an opportunity to have his own way. The Court of Appeal gave no formal judgment. It held there was no necessity to do so, inasmuch as the revising officer had acted on the order of the Court of Queen's Bench, and had dealt with the disputed names. The judges of the Court of Appeal, however, expressed their personal opinions, or at least three out of four did. Judge Osler did not say anything. The other three, Chief Justice Hagarty and Justices Burton and Maclennan, personally remarked that Queen's Bench was right, and the original Liberal protests quite sufficient. Judge Maclennan said that it would be "an intolerable scandal" if such technicalities as that claimed by the Conservatives were allowed to prevail. Chief Justice Hagarty added that even if the original notices were insufficient the revising officer had power to allow and did allow them to be amended.

Meanwhile the election was drawing near, and by virtue of all their appealing, the Conservatives had succeeded in having the names of the disputed electors retained on the voters' list marked by the letter A—appealed. The Court of Appeal had spoken on Feb. 18. The election was set for Feb. 26. It was now in order for Judge Elliot, the Court of Appeal being out of the way, to proceed with the judgment on the 229 disputed names. The London Conservatives, honest men must say, knew a trick worth two of that. Judge Elliot's decision in their favor might not help them. It might give them the disputed voters; but so glaring a contravention of fairness, so direct a defiance by a county judge of the law as declared by six judges of the Queen's Bench and Court of Appeal, might turn public feeling to some extent in London, and more than offset the fraudulent votes which the Conservatives desired to use. Accordingly Judge Elliot rested on his oars. The Conservatives announced that they would appeal from the Court of Appeal to the Supreme Court, and pending this and Judge Elliot's action, the names of the disputed voters remained on the list.

The election came. Of the 229 disputed votes, 128 were cast for the Hon. John Carling, the Conservative candidate. Three were cast for his opponent, Mr. Hyman. A net Conservative majority of 125 was thus given for Carling out of these votes alone. In the whole vote, including all these disputed ballots, Carling's majority was 109. Without the disputed ballots, therefore, Carling would have been in a minority of 16, and Mr. Hyman would now be the member for London.

The Liberals were helpless. The Conservatives did not carry any appeal to the Supreme Court. Nothing was left for the Liberals but to ask Judge Elliot to deliver his long delayed judgment. It was a forlorn hope. Even that the Conservatives did not willingly grant their opponents, for their lawyer objected to Judge Elliot giving decision, alleging that the Supreme Court would yet be asked to deal with the matter. The Conservative counsel need not have been afraid; Judge Elliot was perfectly safe—for him. Despite the adverse opinions of the six judges of superior courts—of every other judge who had spoken—despite the fact that it was only too apparent that all along the Conservative aim had been to burk investigation and vote by hook or by crook—Judge Elliot calmly decided the Liberal protests invalid, the Conservative votes good, the Hon. John Carling a legal representative of London in the House of Commons. His judgment concluded:

I hold that this appeal is sustained, and that these persons thus distinguished by the letter A were entitled to vote.

If they did vote, I hold their votes must be treated as good votes, and the declaration of the returning officer as to the result of the poll does not require any change as far as I am concerned.

There was no legal appeal against this. Nothing remained for the Liberals but the step which Mr. Lister is attempting in Parliament—the impeachment of the judge. Mr. Lister alleges a further fact, of which we know nothing, that during all this contesting in London, Judge Elliot was writing Conservative articles in the Free Press, the Conservative paper there. The truth of this would be damning; but to our mind proof of it is not needed to cause honest Canadians to blush at the dishonor of the London Conservatives, and of the county judge of Middlesex.

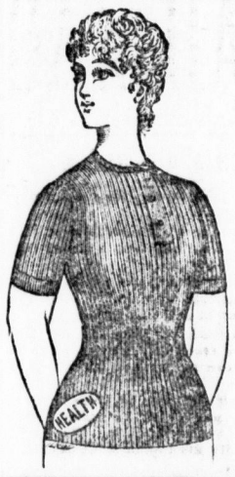

Opposed to Sunday Shows.

OTTAWA, March 30.—This morning a large deputation waited on Premier Abbott to present a memorial passed at the recent Sabbath School Convention last October, praying that the Canadian section at the World's Fair be closed on the Lord's Day. A letter was read from the American Sabbath Union, which shows that the States of New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Arkansas had decided to close their exhibits on Sunday. The State of Kentucky also promised to make a $75,000 exhibit under these conditions. Premier Abbott said he and his colleagues would do all in their power to carry out the wishes of the delegation.

Wheat dull; demand poor; holders offer moderately; corn quiet; demand poor.

United States Barley Market.

BUFFALO, March 30.—The barley market here is in a state of innocuous desuetude. There is hardly any inquiry and not much saleable material even if there were any demand. Quotations are almost useless under the circumstances, but choice Michigan barley is quotable at 57c to 60c, and there is not much except Michigan and common western grades on the market. The markets at New York, Oswego and Albany are in the same torpid condition. The west is in better shape. At Milwaukee No. 2 is firm at 54c in store, sample grades car lots on track sell at 38c to 59c. At St. Louis barley is quiet, and at Chicago, where receipts are ample, the market is heavy, No. 2 being quoted at 52c.

American Markets.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 30.

WHEAT—Spring wheat opened firmer, and there was during the day an advance over yesterday's prices, and then a decline, followed by a fractional advance; closing slightly higher than yesterday; sales were made of 5,500 bu No. 1 hard at 93½c; 6,000 bu do. 93¾c; 6,000 bu do, 93½c; 6,000 bu. do, 93¼c, closing at 92¾c; 1 car No. 1 hard Minneapolis sold at 92½c on track; 15,000 bu No. 1 northern sold at 91c; 5,000 bu do, 91¾c; 1,200 bu do, 91¼c; 21,000 bu do, 90½c; closing 90¾c; No. 2 northern, 85¾c; No. 3 northern, 80¾c; 5,000 bu No. 1 northern, c.i.f., 86½c. Winter wheat broke off first before the close; first sales were car lots No. 2 red, 93c; but later 7 cars sold at 92c; no offerings of spot white.

CORN—Closed scarce and strong; 6 cars No. 2 yellow, 45½c; 1 car No. 3 yellow, 45½c; 3 cars No. 2 corn, 45c to 45½c; 4 cars No. 3 corn, 44¾c.

OATS—Steady for all but choice whites, which are bringing a premium for seeding purposes; sales were made of 2 cars No. 1 white at 36c; 4 cars No. 2 white, 34½c; 1 car choice do, 34½c; 2 cars No. 3 white, 33½c; No. 2 mixed, 32½c, asked.

BARLEY—Dull and unsettled; fancy western, 64c to 66c; No. 2 western, 62c; sample, 48c to 55c; Michigan, fair to choice, 58c to 60c.

RYE—Dull.

FLOUR—Dull and weak.

MILWAUKEE, March 31.

WHEAT—Quiet; 77½c cash and March, 77¾c May.

DETROIT, March 31.

LARD—May, $6 20; July, $6 32½.
SHORT RIBS—May, $5 57½ to $5 60; July, $5 72½.

CHICAGO, March 30.

Wheat made heroic efforts to sit up to-day. Its strength proved hardly sufficient for the effort, and the attempt had to be abandoned. May opened briskly, ⅛c to ⅜c higher at 80¼c to 80½c, but the advance brought out free offerings; tone soon changed to one of weakness, and before 11 o'clock the price went off to 79¾c to 80c split. By noon the market sold off to 79¾c; weakness continued to rule during the closing hour, and May sparingly sold as low as 79½c and left off easy at 79¾c. The corn trading in its course was almost a duplicate of the wheat market. It started at an advance for May of about ⅛c, and made the best prices for the day in the first few minutes of the session. Some of the parties who were supposed to be the heaviest holders were selling on the opening bulge. Considerable excitement prevailed in oats at the opening, the market being very firm as a result of similar conditions in the wheat and corn pits, and the fact that the receipts were lighter than expected. Hog products were weak.

THE LEADING FUTURES CLOSED.

WHEAT—No. 2 March, 78¾c; May, 79½c to 79¾c; July, 79½c to 79¾c.

CORN—No. 2 March, 39¾c; May, 40½c; June, 38¼c.

Live Stock Markets.

TORONTO.

TORONTO, March 30.—There was a good run of stuff at the Western cattle market to-day, but prices were well held with a weak tendency.

Cattle—This trade was fairly active. For choice butchers' cattle there is a good demand. The number of extra choice cattle on sale was limited. The market was firm at from 3¾c per lb up to 4½c per lb for medium to good butchers', and extra fancy choice brought from 4c to 4½c, according to quality. The outlook is promising. Good stockers fetch from 3¼c to 3¾c per lb. Very little extra choice stock offered. The general range was from 3c to 3¾c per lb, the latter for pretty fair animals. Inferior and rough cows and oxen fetch from 3c to 3¼c per lb according to quality. Good to choice butchers' sold at from 3¾c to 4¼c per lb, and extra fancy choice brought from 4c to 4¼c. A few head were held for a fraction higher.

Milch Cows and Springers—Demand only fairly active; cows brought $25 to $40 per head; good springers, $40 to $50, or a fraction over for extra fancy choice beasts.

Sheep and Lambs—Yearlings sell at from 5c to 5½c per lb, but not much trade was done. There is a fair demand. Sheep are not in active demand, but all were well taken before the close at from 3½c to 4½c per lb. Good choice muttons are in pretty good request for local butchers, at about $5 75 to $5 per head for heavy ones.

Hogs—Extra choice hogs fetch $5 per cwt; most of the choice stuff was taken. Straight fat hogs, $4 75 to $5 per cwt, weighed off cars and fed and watered. These would average about 180 to 200 lbs apiece. Stores, half-fat and heavy rough hogs are in light request at $4 12½ to $4 50 per cwt. Poor stuff does not generally find a demand, and too much offers.

Calves—The market had a slightly firm tendency owing to the lighter offerings. Quotations were well held. Poor stuff and "slinks" sagged off a little. Medium to good veals brought from $5 to $6 per head, but as low as $2 50 and $3 50 to $4 per head was paid for poor lots. Some extra choice veals brought up to $9 and $9 50.

EAST BUFFALO, N. Y.

EAST BUFFALO, March 30.—Cattle—Receipts of sale stock only 2 cars; very light inquiry; 3 loads of choice 1,432 lbs steers sold at $4 60; the feeling is easy.

Sheep and Lambs—Offerings 14 cars including about 4 cars of clipped stock; market strong, and 10c better than yesterday for anything fat and of desirable quality; slow market for common quality, sheep and heavy weigh lambs; choice 96 and 104 lb sheep sold at $6 60; 82 to 90 lb good quality sheep, $6 to $6 10; good 70 to 78 lb lambs $7 10 to $7 70; clipped lambs of 70 to 83 lbs sold around $5 50 to $5 55; about all sold.

Hogs—Receipts 15 cars; market fairly steady; good quality hogs $5 10, including the good pigs; good roughs, $4 50 to $4 55; stags, $3 25 to $3 75; ends, $4 61 to $5; about all sold.

Petrolea Oil Market.

PETROLEA, March 31.—Oil opened and closed to-day at $1 28½.

THE MORNING "ADVERTISER."

The early morning edition of the ADVERTISER is delivered to subscribers in the city at 12½ cents per week, or $5 per year in advance.

The paper is in every way equal to any morning paper published in Canada. All the latest foreign dispatches, live local news, district news from western counties, full reports of markets at home and abroad up to the hour of going to press, 4 o'clock a.m.

Parties wishing to subscribe will please hand in their names and street addresses to the business office at their earliest convenience.

WALT WHITMAN'S LAST POEM.

DEATH'S VALLEY.

(To accompany a picture: by request.)

BY WALT WHITMAN.

Nay, do not dream, designer dark,
Thou hast portray'd or hit thy theme entire:
I, hover of late by this dark valley, by its confines, having glimpses of it,
Here enter lists with thee, claiming my right to make a symbol too.

For I have seen many wounded soldiers die.
After dread suffering—have seen their lives pass off with smiles:
And I have watch'd the death-hours of the old, and seen the infant die;
The rich, with all his nurses and his doctors:
And then the poor, in meagerness and poverty;
And I myself for long, O Death, have breathed my every breath
Amid the nearness and the silent thought of thee.

And out of these and thee,
I make a scene, a song, brief (not fear of thee,
Nor gloom's ravines, nor bleak, nor dark—for I do not fear thee.
Nor celebrate the struggle, or contortion, or hard-tied knot).
Of the broad blessed light and perfect air, with meadows, rippling tides, and trees, and flowers and grass,
And the low hum of living breeze—and in the midst God's beautiful eternal right hand,
Thee, holiest minister of Heaven—thee, envoy, usherer, guide at last of all,
Rich, florid, loosener of the structure-knot call'd life,
Sweet, peaceful, welcome Death.

—[From Harper's Magazine for April.

LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

—Seats are going rapidly for Joe Murphy to-morrow night.

—L. H. Smith, of Forest, late of this city, registered at the Grigg House last night.

—Mr. Chas. Graham, of Graham Bros., is in the eastern markets buying the latest novelties in hats and furnishings.

—The condition of Hon. Alex. Mackenzie has not materially changed, but he is gradually growing weaker from day to day.

—Mr. Frank Briscoe, of Peterboro, is expected here next week to assist Secretary Sayer, of the Y. M. C. A. The Board will likely ratify his appointment as assistant secretary.

—County Constable Mason arrested John and James Wilson and Frank Patterson yesterday near Pottersburg for trepassing on G. T. R. property. They were remanded for a few days.

—According to the registrations in the city clerk's office 54 souls first saw the light of day, 46 departed this life, and 48 joined hearts and hands in matrimonial union in this city during March.

—About twenty Bernardo boys just arrived from the home for waifs and strays in England, were in the city to-day and left for their respective stations, most of them going up on the L. H. and B. Railway. They were attired in the regulation blue suit with grey cap.

—The many friends of Mr. Arthur Wyatt, who has been making a reputation as a vocalist lately, will regret to learn that he has decided to leave for the Northwest. To-night he will make his last appearance before the public with the Falcon Guitar Club, at their concert in Sherwood Hall.

—The ADVERTISER yesterday received a letter from Mr. H. Freeman, of London, Eng., inclosing a check for an account which was mailed him on the 18th January last. The account was inclosed, also a letter stating it had been in the wreck of the steamship Eider. The salt water had eaten about all the ink off, while the ruling is not discernable at all.

—In addition to the names of the new doctors passed at the recent examinations in the medical department of the Western University and published in the ADVERTISER, are the names of Messrs. Franklin and Deveney, who passed in all the second year subjects but one. The result of the examinations throughout reflects great credit on both pupils and teachers.

—"E'en as the sun with purple colored face" had risen over the eastern hills this morning, scores of young people were seen wending their way to Cronyn Hall. It was the anniversary of the establishment of the local union of the Y. P. S. C. E., and it was commemorated with a sunrise prayer meeting. Before 7 o'clock the proceedings were under way. Mrs. Sabine conducted the devotional exercises and the young people broke up in time for breakfast, with appetites sharpened by the early "constitutional."

—It is reported that Hugh Morrison, the well-known conductor on the G. T. R. between Toronto and London, is lying very low in Toronto with grip.

—John Leary was nabbed by Detectives Phair and Rider yesterday. He was bailed out last December while charged with disorderly conduct, but skipped his bail and has kept away since. "He was in the city election day," remarked Chief Williams this morning at the Police Court. "He should have given himself up then; it did not take him all day to vote," said the police magistrate. "It depends how often he voted," put in Mr. McKillop. "Or whom he voted for," asserted the chief. "Well, that 102 must have been made up some way," rejoined Mr. McKillop. And the upshot of it was that the prisoner was taxed $5 or twenty days.

Can Lodgers Be Furnished Liquor?

Another Liquor License Act complication came up at the Police Court this morning. Mr. Ed. Horsman, proprietor of the Grigg House, was charged with selling liquor after hours Saturday night. Mr. John Richards was put in the box. He said he had a couple of drinks in a Toronto friend's room after the show at the Grand, but it was taken out of a bottle there and he saw no one bring any liquor in. He swore he was not in the bar-room. Mr. T. K. Grigg was with Mr. Richards and corroborated his evidence. Mr. McKillop admitted he could not ask for a conviction, as Mr. Horsman had not been connected with the transaction. He expressed the opinion that it was illegal for a landlord to furnish his lodgers with liquor during prohibited hours. Mr. Love, counsel for the defendant, held otherwise, and asked the magistrate's opinion. His honor declined, and said he would deal with the cases as they came before.

AT THE ASYLUM.

The Young Liberals Visit the Institution and Delight the Inmates—Hospitality Exemplified.

Two busses carried a large delegation of of the Young Liberal Musical Club to the Asylum last evening. They were received with that cordiality characteristic of that institution, and were immediately escorted through the large corridors to the dressing rooms of the theater, where they proceeded to array themselves in elaborate and tasty costumes purchased for the Grand Opera House performance to be given shortly. The pretty entertainment rooms, handsomely festooned with evergreens and flags, were crowded with an audience of patients, attendants and people from the city. It is hardly necessary to say everybody was delighted with the performance given. Such affairs brighten the hours of the inmates, and the asylum authorities do well in liberally encouraging such things, which afford innocent enjoyment for their charges. The production last night was the musical extravaganza, "Tootsy-Wootsy," given last year at the Grand, and in addition a number of happy specialties. Sim Fax brought down the house with his comic contributions; George Belton was in his usual prime form and supplied fun ad libitum; Charlie Tatham and Frank Firth rendered mouth organ and guitar combinations; W. E. and M. Morkin and W. Brophy, Frank Johnston and C. Tatham tripped the light fantastic toe with vocal accompaniment; the sweet boyish voices of Masters H. and R. Hutchinson, R. Mason and H. Miller were heard with pretty effect; tiny little Mabel Green sang a couple of songs, and was applauded long and loud; and other numbers were acceptably given, besides the dialogue of the extravaganza, in which Mr. Walter Simpson played the gallant. R. Macpherson, J. C. Trebilcock, L. Paladino, Sam Stewart, W. Wanless, jun., H. McLean, Alf. Crowden, J. W. Jones, the Messrs. Morkin, W. Brophy, R. and C. Tatham, Fred Sippi, F. Firth, F. Johnston and others assisted in the chorus. Miss Hall kindly played the accompaniments. Special mention should be made of the excellent orchestra of a dozen pieces under Dr. Sippi's direction. Their work is not surpassed by any city organization. A subsequent adjournment was made to the large dining hall, where hospitality was exemplified in the third degree. Dr. Sippi and Dr. Hobbs wielded the carving knife at the head of their respective tables, and the plates were kept full until the guests were in a like condition. The party returned to the city about 11 p.m.

Bursting a Bomb.

HOUSTON, Tex., March 31.—During the war a large amount of bombs and other ammunition was thrown into Buffalo bayou to prevent capture. Yesterday a boy named Charlie Harris got one of the bombs out of the bayou, took it home, and proceeded to open it with an axe. He succeeded. One foot was blown off, and he has a slug in his groin and another in his head. A stable where he experimented was blown to atoms.

The Poet Shelley Says:

"It is our will
That thus enchains us to permitted ill.
We might be otherwise: we might be all
We dream of, happy, high, majestical.
Where is the beauty, love, and truth we seek
But in our minds? and if we were not weak,
Should we be less in deed than in desire?"

The permitted ills of modern life are multitudinous and alarming. Men and women, the old and young, of every grade and class, permit themselves to be enchained by ills which make life a drag and burden.

The most common of these ills are sleeplessness, nervousness, headaches, dyspepsia, indigestion and rheumatism. These ills in thousands of cases have become chronic and baffle the doctors and all the ordinary remedies of our day.

There is, however, a joyous hope for all sufferers; and as the poet has said, "People can be all they dream of, happy, contented, and free from pain."

To secure these blessings of a true and happy life, sufferers must look to the great agency of the day—the wonderful health restorer—Paine's Celery Compound. Its work and results are found in all parts of our Dominion; hope and faith have taken the place of despair and unbelief; and new life, joy and gladness lead men and women to publicly testify in favor of the grandest and noblest medicine ever given to the world.

Weak, nervous and diseased men are made strong and given a new lease of life. Pale, sallow, nervous and overworked women are restored to health and strength, and their cheeks made to bloom as the rose.

Physicians know its value and power and do not hesitate to recommend it as a builder for the great nervous system.

In every town, village and hamlet of this Canada of ours, the following words should be placed at the most advantageous points: "PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND CURES."

NOTES.

Mr. Hugh John Macdonald, M.P., Winnipeg, and Mr. D. H. MacDonnell, M.P., Prince Albert, will resign after the session.

A protest has been entered against the recent election of W. B. Northrup (Con.) as member of the Commons for East Hastings.

THE OTTAWA DISASTER.

Miraculous Escape of a Carload of Emigrants.

OTTAWA, March 31.—The C. P. R. train due in Ottawa at 3:40 p.m. yesterday left Montreal on time, consisting of an engine, baggage car, second-class emigrant car, Southeastern Railway car, colonist sleeper, St. Cloud, dining-car and Mississippi, private car. The private car contained, among others, Hon. J. A. Ouimet, M.P., Sir A. P. Caron, M.P.; Dr. Montague, M.P.; M. Tetreau, M.L.A., and several others who had been guests of the Montreal Conservatives at the banquet to the De Boucherville Government.

About 100 yards from the end of the platform of Hull station is a switch, beyond which comes a sharp curve on an embankment of boulders and earth, crossing a swamp girt with scrub cedars. On reaching this switch the whole train left the rails, and running for about 150 yards the engine turned over into the ditch, taking all the train with it except the cars St. Cloud and Mississippi.

The engineer, M. O'Connell, jumped, but not in time. The engine fell nearly on him, and his head, back and stomach were deluged with the scalding water from the boiler, but he may recover. The fireman, Thomas Golden, stuck to the engine and was found holding the rail of the cab, his neck broken and a deep bruise on the left temple.

In the first emigrant car were 75 Norwegian immigrants — men, women and children. This car was wrenched from its wheels and the body lies some 40 feet from the track. Though its inmates were all badly shaken and had to be taken out through the windows none of them sustained any fractured limbs and no fatality occurred.

Joseph Lyttle, who murdered his wife and two daughters at Findlay, Ohio, has been taken from jail by a mob and lynched.

The revenue cutter, Corwin, has passed Victoria, B. C., on her way to Sitka. Capt. Hooper's orders regarding sealing schooners are the same as last year.

A Buenos Ayres dispatch says: The police have arrested a number of member of the Radical party and several army and police officers for plotting against the Government.

A $1,000,000 Claim Against Chili.

VALPARAISO, March 31.—Minister Egan yesterday presented to the Chilian Foreign Office a claim on behalf of the liquidators of the American house of Alsop. The claim amounts to nearly $1,000,000 in silver, also interest. Over twenty years ago one Gama, a Brazilian, obtained rights from the Bolivian Government for guano deposits at Mexillones. Alsop advanced Gama large sums of money, but a disagreement arose between them as to the guano deposits. Then the Bolivians passed a law granting Alsop a piece of land for every mine found on the Bolivian coast district. After the war between Chili and Bolivia in 1880 this concession was disallowed by the Chilians. Since then the matter has been in statu quo.

The Little Minister.

By J. M Barrie,

AUTHOR OF "WINDOW IN THRUMS," "WHEN A MAN'S SINGLE," "MY LADY NICOTINE," ETC.

"Yes, at your reference to daughters. Would you not have preferred me to be a girl?"

"Deed I would not," answered Margaret with tremendous conviction. "Gavin, every woman on earth, be she rich or poor, good or bad, offers up one prayer about her first-born, and that is, 'May he be a boy!'"

"I think you are wrong, mother. The banker's wife told me that there is nothing for which she thanks the Lord so much as that all her children are girls."

"May she be forgiven for that, Gavin!" exclaimed Margaret; "though she maybe did right to put the best face on her humiliation. No, no, there are many kinds of women in the world, but there never was one yet that didn't want to begin with a laddie. You can speculate about a boy so much more than about a girl. Gavin, what is it a woman thinks about the day her son is born? yes, and the day before too? She is picturing him a grown man, and a slip of a lassie taking him from her. Ay, that is where the lassies have their revenge on the mothers. I remember as if it were this morning a Harvie fish-wife patting your head and asking who was your sweetheart, and I could never thole the woman again. We were at the door of the cottage, and I mind I gripped you up in my arms. You had on a tartan frock with a blue sash, and diamond socks. When I look back, Gavin, it seems to me that you have shot up from that frock to manhood in a single hour."

"There are not many mothers like you," Gavin said, laying his hand fondly on Margaret's shoulder.

"There are many better mothers, but few such sons. It is easily seen why God could not afford me another. Gavin, I am sure that was lightning."

"I think it was; but don't be alarmed, mother."

"I am never frightened while you are with me."

"And I always will be with you."

"Ah, if you were married——"

"Do you think," asked Gavin indignantly, "that it would make any difference to you?"

Margaret did not answer. She knew what a difference it would make.

"Except," continued Gavin with man's obtuseness, "that you would have a daughter to love you and take care of you as well as a son."

Margaret could have told him that men give themselves away needlessly who marry for the sake of their mothers, but all she said was—

"Gavin, I see you can speak more composedly of marrying now than you spoke a year ago. If I did not know better I would think a Thrums young lady had got hold of you."

It was a moment before Gavin replied; then he said gaily—

"Really, mother, the way the best of women speak of each other is lamentable. You say I would be better married, and then you take for granted that every marriageable woman in the neighborhood is trying to kidnap me. I am sure you did not take my father by force in that way.

He did not see that Margaret trembled at the mention of his father He never knew that she was many times pining to lay her head upon his breast, and tell him of me. Yet I cannot but believe that she always shook when Adam Dishart was spoken of between them. I cannot think that the long-cherishing of the secret which was hers and mine kept her face steady when that horror suddenly confronted her as now. Gavin must have suspected much, had he ever suspected anything.

"I know," Margaret said courageously, "that you would be better married; but when it comes to selecting the woman, I grow fearful. Oh, Gavin!" she said earnestly, "it is an awful thing to marry the wrong man!"

Here in a moment had she revealed much, though far from all, and there must have been many such moments between them. But Gavin was thinking of his own affairs.

"You mean the wrong woman, don't you, mother!" he said, and she hastened to agree. But it was the wrong man she meant.

"The difficulty, I suppose, is to hit upon the right one?" Gavin said blithely.

"To know which is the right one in time," answered Margaret solemnly. "But I am saying nothing against the young ladies of Thrums, Gavin. Though I have scarcely seen them, I know there are good women among them. Jean says——"

"I believe, mother," Gavin interposed reproachfully, "that you have been questioning Jean about them?"

"Just because I was afraid—I mean because I fancied—you might take a liking to one of them."

"And what is Jean's verdict?"

"She says every one of them would jump at you, like a bird at a berry."

"But the berry cannot be divided. How would Miss Pennycuick please you, mother?"

"Gavin!" cried Margaret in consternation, "you don't mean to—— But you are laughing at me again!"

"Then there is the banker's daughter?"

"I can't thole her."

"Why, I question if you ever set eyes on her, mother."

"Perhaps not, Gavin; but I have suspected her ever since she offered to become one of your tract distributors."

"The doctor," said Gavin, not ill-pleased, "was saying that either of these ladies would suit me."

"What business has he," asked Margaret vindictively, "to put such thoughts into your head?"

"But he only did as you are doing. Mother, I see you will never be satisfied without selecting the woman for me yourself."

"Ah, Gavin," said Margaret earnestly; "and I question if I should be satisfied even then. But I am sure I should be a better guide to you than Dr. McQueen is."

"I am convinced of that. But I wonder what sort of woman would content you?"

"Whoever pleased you, Gavin, would content me," Margaret ventured to maintain. "You would only take to a clever woman."

"She must be nearly as clever as you, mother."

"Hoots, Gavin," said Margaret, smiling, "I'm not to be caught with chaff. I am a stupid, ignorant woman."

"Then I must look for a stupid ignorant woman, for that seems to be the kind I like," answered Gavin, of whom I may confess here comething that has to be told sooner or later. It is this, he never realized that Babbie was a great deal cleverer than himself. Forgive him, you who read, if you have any tolerance for the creature, man.

"She will be terribly learned in languages," pursued Margaret, "so that she may follow you in your studied, as I have never been able to do."

"Your face has helped me more than Hebrew, mother," replied Gavin. "I will give her no marks for languages."

"At any rate," Margaret insisted, "she must be a grand housekeeper, and very thrifty."

"As for that," Gavin said, faltering a little, "one can't expect it of a mere girl."

"I would expect it," maintained his mother.

"No, no; but she would have you," said Gavin happily, "to teach her housekeeping."

"It would be a pleasant occupation to me that," Margaret admitted. "And she would soon learn; she would be so proud of her position as mistress of a manse."

"Perhaps," Gavin said doubtfully. He had no doubt on the subject in his college days.

"And we can take for granted," continued his mother, "that she is a lassie of fine character."

"Of course," said Gavin, holding his head high, as if he thought the doctor might be watching him.

"I have thought," Margaret went on, "that there was a great deal of wisdom in what you said at that last marriage in the manse; the one where, you remember, the best man and the bridesmaid joined hands instead of the bride and bridegroom."

"What did I say?" asked the little minister with misgivings.

"That there was great danger when people married out of their own rank of life."

"Oh—ah—well, of course, that would depend on circumstances."

"They were wise words, Gavin. There was the sermon, too, that you preached a month or two against marrying into other denominations. Jean told me that it greatly impressed the congregation. It is a sad sight as you said, to see an Auld Licht lassie changing her face changing her faith because her man belongs to the U. P.s."

"Did I say that?"

"You did, and it so struck Jean that she told me she would rather be an old maid for life, 'the which,' she said, 'is a dismal prospect,' than marry out of the Auld Licht kirk."

"Perhaps that was a rather narrow view I took, mother. After all, the fitting thing is that the wife should go with her husband, especially if it is he that is the Auld Licht."

Carried Home.

Mr. Samuel Adams, Montague St., King St. London, Eng., states that for more than a year he suffered with sciatica; at times taken suddenly, he had to be carried home. He was pronounced incurable by leading medical men, and he had given up all hope of recovery, when he was advised to use St. Jacobs Oil. The first rubbing relieved him, and before the contents of a second bottle were used he was completely cured, and has had no return of the pain.—[Northern Daily Telegraph, Blackburn, Eng.

Now that the girls are to be able to propose when and as often as they please, the unprotected bachelors want to know if they can seek restitution in breach of promise suits, in case the necessity may arise.

We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. J. H. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial is without doubt the best medicine ever introduced for dysentery, diarrhœa, cholera and all summer complaints, sea sickness, etc. It promptly gives relief and never fails to effect a positive cure. Mothers should never be without a bottle when their children are teething.

LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

—Sim Fax, the well-known Woodstock vocal specialist, moved yesterday to the city with his family.

—Miss Hart, of Toronto, Provincial Inspector of Kindergartens, registered at the Tecumseh last night.

—The London Turf Club meeting called for last night was postponed until Monday owing to the slim attendance.

—About 7:30 last evening a chimney blaze at the corner of Central avenue and Maitland street gave the firemen a run.

—A gentleman interested in peach culture says that the prospect for a big crop this season looks better than it has for the past dozen years.

—Mr. J. N. Hutchinson and child returned to the city last evening after spending the winter months with friends in London.—[Winnipeg Free Press.

—Dr. Cl. T. Campbell's address to the comrades of London Legion, No. 85, Select Knights, as their late representative to the Grand Legion of Canada was well received.

—Clergymen are Eli Perkins' best friends. When he comes to ridicule he completely answers Ingersoll's fallacy and "laughs the agnostics out of court." Eli appears at Victoria Hall April 6.

—The funeral of the late J. L. Young yesterday was largely attended. Deceased was a member of St. John's Lodge, 209a, A. F. and A. M. Many of whose members paid their last respects to the departed brother.

—A telegram received in Hamilton yesterday from Mayor Blaicher, who is in Bermuda for his health, contained this laconic information: "All well." With Mr. Blaicher is his daughter, Mrs. S. Sterling, of this city.

—The Railway Committee met yesterday afternoon to talk over the amendments St. Thomas wants to the London bill re L. & P. S. Railroad. Ald. Jeffery and City Solicitor T. G. Meredith were appointed a deputation to go to Ottawa when the matter comes up.

—"Touchstone," in Toronto Saturday Night, says of Prof. S. H. Clark, the elocutionist: "The best feature of Mr. Clark's work is that he doesn't attudinize. There are none of the cut-and-dried declamatory movements about him. His splendid voice and gestures follow naturally the meaning of the words he speaks." Those who hear Mr. Clark at Victoria Hall to-night cannot fail to be delighted.

—Mr. T. A. Aitken, of the Central fire brigade, was united in marriage Tuesday to Miss Florence Ponsford, of St. Thomas, at the residence of the bride's brother there. Miss Ada Crouse was the bridesmaid, and Mr. E. Ponsford the groomsman. Rev. R. J. Treleaven tied the knot. There were many handsome presents and innumerable congratulations showered on the happy young couple, who will take up their residence here after their honeymoon.

—The last number of the Ontario Official Gazette contains notices of application by John Law, city, for letters of administration of the estate of his late son, George Henry Law, who died in Newark, N.J., Feb. 17; by Jane Livingstone Hawthorne, to be appointed guardian of William Douglas and Judson Montague Hawthorne, infant children of the late Conductor George Henry Gunn Hawthorne, who was killed in the St. Clair tunnel; and by Henrietta Mawhinney, to be made guardian of the estate of Margaret Henrietta Mawhinney, infant child of Robert Mawhinney, of London, gentleman, who died Sept. 8, 1888.

—The Toronto World, speaking of the benefit to Manager Frank Kirchmer, of the Academy of Music, formerly of this city, says: "When the curtain went up on the second act Mr. Kirchmer was called for. When he came on the stage he was greeted with round after round of applause. He thanked the people of Toronto for the liberal patronage he had received during his management of the theater, and assured them that he would put forth his best endeavors in the future to please them. Col. Pope, the United States consul, in a pleasant manner presented Mr. Kirchmer with a bag of gold pieces from his many friends and a handsome silver-mounted cane from Manager Harry Sellers, of the "Money Mad" company. Col. Pope, in making the presentation, said: 'A man who makes friends as Mr. Kirchmer has must be genuine, and that is what men say about him who have known him for twenty years.' During the play a number of specialties were introduced by local volunteers. Harry Rich did a clever hit. Miss Maude Alexander, Robert L. Bruce and the Paladino brothers, of London, pleased greatly. The evening performance was a credit to Manager Kirchmer and his many friends.

Funeral of the Late Geo. Burdett.

The funeral of the late Mr. George Burdett, who died at his residence, Burwell street, on Sunday night, took place yesterday afternoon to Woodland Cemetery. A large number of friends of deceased followed the remains to their last resting-place. There were twelve pall-bearers. Col. R. Lewis, ex-Ald. Skinner and Messrs. McPherson, Bowman, McMullen and Webster were those from Dundas Street Center Church, and Messrs. Thornton, Balkwell, Nelles, Heyman, Munson and Reid from St. George's Lodge, No. 42, A. F. and A. M.

Trout Fishing Begins To-morrow.

The several fish inspectors have received the following order-in-council: That section 4 of the general fishery regulations of the Province of Ontario, established by the order-in-council of the 18th of July, 1889, chapter 71 of Consolidated Orders-in-Council of Canada, shall be, and the same is hereby rescinded, and the following substituted:

"No one shall fish for, kill, buy, sell or possess any speckled trout between the 15th day of September and the 31st day of March, both days inclusive, in each year."

Committed to the Dust.

The remains of Walt Whitman, the poet, were interred yesterday afternoon in his tomb at Hart Cemetery, Camden, N. J., after impressive funeral services which were attended by a large throng of people, including many well known in literary circles. The plain casket was almost hidden beneath the floral tributes of affection which were showered upon it by Whitman's numerous admirers who filed past the body in a constant stream as it lay in state at his home for over two hours. No services were held at the house and the mourning procession moved in silence to the cemetery, while crowds of sympathetic spectators lined the walks. At the tomb Francis Howard Wilson, of Philadelphia, read selections from the Scriptures and the poet's writings. Dr. R. M. Bucke, of this city, Whitman's biographer, spoke at length on the life and character of the dead poet as shown by his works. Thomas B. Harned and Dr. Daniel G. Brinton also made addresses and the ceremonies were concluded by an address from Robert G. Ingersoll, the intimate friend of Whitman.

The Sixtieth Anniversary.

Sixty years ago Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Thompson were made man and wife at Kelso, Roxburgh, Scotland, and the recurrence of the anniversary of that happy event was commemorated yesterday by a family reunion at their residence, 433 Ridout street. Both Mr. and Mrs. Thompson are still hale and hearty, and are splendid examples of those vigorous qualities of body and mind which characterize the natives of auld Scotia. Mr. Thompson was born in Kelso on Sept. 8, 1808—over 83 years ago—though his sturdy frame and mental activity would scarce lead one to believe he had attained that ripe age. He well remembers when the battle of Waterloo was fought and won, and how the bonfires blazed on the banks of the Tweed in joyous celebration of the victory. "That was a sample of Grit loyalty," he remarked with a smile. When 15 years of age Mr. Thompson started to learn the trade of the millwright, and in the fall of 1842 removed to Canada, settling at the Humber. Mr. Thompson engaged extensively in the mill building business and he has constructed many of the largest establishments of the kind in Western Ontario. He built mills in the Humber district for Messrs. W. P. Howland, Wm. Gamble, Fisher and other prominent persons; and for Messrs. Haggart (father of the present John Haggart) and E. W. Thompson, near the Welland Canal. In 1846 Mr. Thompson removed to Beachville, Ont., and continued in business. Among the well-known mills contracted for by him in this district are Devinney's, at Byron, erected in 1851; Carroll's, at Woodstock; Reynard & Shaw's, erected in 1854 at the foot of Wellington street, city, and Hunt's mill, built in 1856. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson have seven surviving children—Robert, of Woodstock; Walter, of Mitchell; Charles, of Tilsonburg; Henry, of London (Gartley & Thompson); Mrs. Saunders, of Tacoma, W.T., and Miss Agnes Thompson, city. Twenty-two grandchildren are also living. Like most of his fellow-countrymen, Mr. Thompson is a staunch Liberal; he has taken the Toronto Globe since its earliest days, when that journal was known as the Banner. Many congratulations and hearty wishes for returns of the day were showered upon the venerated couple by their posterity and by friends.

PRESBYTERIAN HOME MISSIONS

The Committee Meets in Toronto—Claims for Augmentation.

The Home Mission Committee of the Presbyterian Church met in Toronto on Tuesday. Rev. D. Cochrane the convener, occupied the chair, with Rev. Dr. Warden, clerk.

Claims for mission work in the different Presbyteries for the past half year were passed to the amount of $21,048 48.

The claims for augmentation for the past half year amounted to $13,889 71. It having been ascertained that the augmentation fund could not pay in full this amount, even with the addition of a bequest of $6,000 given during the year, and what might be given by congregations prior to May 1, 1892, the following resolution was adopted: "That in view of the state of the fund, the sum of $30 be deducted from the grant due for the six months ending March 31, 1802, to each settled charge on the fund in Ontario and Quebec, and the sum of $40 from the grant due to each charge on the fund in the Synod of Manitoba and the Northwest."

It was agreed to recommend the General Assembly to amend the regulations under which the augmentation scheme is administered as follows: That to entitle congregations to receive aid there be required an average contribution of $8 per family as well as $4 50 per communicant, and a total contribution of $450 and a manse, instead of $400 and a manse as heretofore, the latter to refer to congregations hereafter to be placed on the list of aid-receiving charges that the regulation restricting the grant from the fund to $300, per annum be amended so as to read $250 per annum.

It was also agreed that hereafter the salary of pastors of augmented congregations in Manitoba and the Northwest be $850 per annum, together with a manse and $950 per annum where there is no manse.

The following are the grants in detail passed to Presbyteries for work during the past six months in the mission field: Quebec, $902 76; Montreal, $1,067; Glengarry, $75; Ottawa, $820 50; Lanark and Renfrew, $633; Brockville, $262; Kingston, $790; Peterboro, $72; Lindsay, $90; Toronto, $234; Barrie, $1,832 30; Owen Sound, $507 70; Guelph, $78; Hamilton, $76; Chatham, $61 88; Sarnia, $154; Bruce, $1,136 20; Winnipeg, $1,243; Rock Lake, $1,029; Brandon, $628; Minnedosa, $1,879; Regina, $2,204 60; Calgary, $2,180; Columbia, $3,091 50.

The following are the grants for augmentation, less the deductions to be made in the event of the deficit not being made up during the next month: Quebec, $1,214 36; Montreal, $1,100; Glengarry, $375; Ottawa, $692 50; Lanark and Renfrew, $384 50; Brockville, $437 50; Kingston, $775; Peterboro, $560; Whitby, $100; Lindsay, $33 35; Toronto, $697 50; Orangeville, $300 50; Barrie, $739 50; Owen Sound, $175; Saugeen, $100; Guelph, $120; Hamilton, $862 50; Paris, $50; London, $797 50; Chatham, $257 50; Sarnia, $226; Huron, $275; Maitland, $250; Bruce, $313; Winnipeg, $675; Rock Lake, $186; Brandon, $885; Minnedosa, $104; Regina, $700; Calgary, $300; Columbia, $150.

A FEW TESTIMONIALS FOR
Barkwell's Sure Corn Cure

Miss Maria Brown, of Chatham, formerly of Glencoe, says she has much pleasure in testifying to the merits of Barkwell's Sure Corn Cure; that of nine corns which gave her great pain not one of them remains. It is surprising the testimonials that come in from all parts of the country for this celebrated corn cure.

Letter from Springfield.

W. S. Barkwell, Chemist, Dear Sir,—When in London I got a bottle of your celebrated Sure Corn Cure for a corn which I could get nothing to help. I have suffered from it for the last 15 years, and thought I would never get it cured, but yours acted like a charm and completely removed it. I am gratefully yours, Alvin Purdy, Springfield, March 1, 1888 has two pipes, one covering the valve rod (wet pipe) and the one conveying the water to spout (wet pipe). The rod in this hydrant actuated by a brass screw and handle above, and raising plunger the smallest fraction of an inch, closes waste before any water can enter discharge pipe. With the valve open we have the full and unobstructed flow of water through the hydrant which can well be compared to a straight way valve or round-way cock. Closing the valve empties all water from wet pipe through dry hole. To repair hydrant or washer remove top cap or plate and withdraw plunger valve. It can be readily repaired without digging up.

—THE—
