HEAVY VOTE BEING POLLED IN U. S. ELECTIONS TODAY

LARGEST VOTE EVER CAST IN AMERICAN HISTORY IS EXPECTED TO BE POLLED IN U. S. TODAY

Millions of Women Will Exercise Franchise for First Time —Campaign Managers of Republicans and Democrats Confident—Other Political Parties Not Admitted to Have a Chance—Female Vote Will Be a Big Factor.

New York, Nov. 2.—Men and women voters of the United States went to the polls today to select a new president for the four years beginning March 4 next.

Before the dawn of another day has broken, in all likelihood it will be known whether Warren G. Harding, Republican, or James Cox, Democrat, has been elected to succeed Woodrow Wilson, for it is generally agreed that, barring a miracle, none of the other five candidates has a chance. This choice, it is estimated, will be registered by a record vote of twenty or thirty million persons, many of whom are women who have been enfranchised since the last presidential election, and are voting today for the first time.

Second only in interest to the contest for the presidency is the fight between the two major parties for the control of the next congress. Thirty-four United States senators—32 to fill seats now held by 17 Democrats and 15 Republicans, and two to fill the unexpired terms caused by the deaths of Senators Bankhead, Alabama, and Martin, Virginia, both Democrats—are being chosen, as well as an entire new House of Representatives, composed of 435 members.

Both Sides Confident.

The present Senate is composed of 47 Democrats, 48 Republicans and 1 Republican and Progressive. The present House consists of 190 Democrats, 232 Republicans, 2 Independent Republicans, 1 Independent and 1 Prohibitionist. There are also nine vacancies.

Will H. Hays and George White, Republican and Democratic national chairmen respectively, each continued confident of victory when the polls opened. Mr. Hays reiterated his prediction that the Republican ticket was certain to obtain 368 elector votes, and that there was a strong possibility that the total might reach the 400 mark. A total of 266 is necessary to elect. Mr. White gave out no last-minute prediction on the electoral vote, but renewed his expression of confidence in the election of Governor Cox. Each chairman also predicts control of the next Congress by his party. The campaign itself, waged principally on the League of Nations issue, did not come to an end until an early hour this morning. Senator Harding spent election eve quietly at his home in Marion, Ohio, while Governor Cox wound up his campaign at a big meeting in Toledo last night, but state and local candidates throughout the country kept up their quest for votes into the dark hours of the night.

Harding to Remain at Home.

Unsettled weather, with the possibility of rain, faced the early voters of the Eastern States as they trudged to the polls to cast their ballots, while those of the Upper Mississippi Valley and Northern New England and New York prepared for the weather man's prediction of snow. The rest of the country generally is expected to vote under clear skies.

Senator Harding will await the verdict at his home in Marion, where he will receive news bulletins compiled from figures collected by the Associated Press. Governor Cox plans to receive the returns in the office of his newspaper, and will obtain its full election night service.

Governor C. Coolidge of Massachusetts, Republican vice-presidential nominee, will watch the returns at Boston, while his Democratic opponent, Franklin D. Roosevelt, will await the result at his home in Hyde Park, N. Y.

Ballots Sent Overseas.

New York State's citizenry went to the polls in large numbers early today, and officials predicted that at the close of the ballot boxes at 6 o'clock tonight at least 3,000,000 of the 3,500,000 qualified men and women will have expressed their choice for national, state and local officers.

Secretary of State Hugo has sent 20,000 ballots to soldiers, sailors and marines in overseas service, principally in Germany, Hawaii, the Philippines, and the Canal Zone. These votes will be counted in December.

In addition to expressing choice for

CANADIANS SHOWING SLIGHT INTEREST IN AMERICAN ELECTIONS

Lack of Outstanding Personality Among Presidential Candidates One Reason.

DOMINION UNAFFECTED

Issues in Past Years Touched Directly On Canadian Affairs.

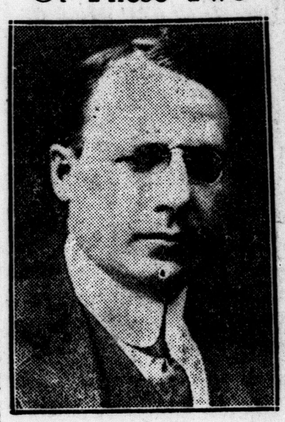

Toronto, Nov. 2.—(Canadian Press).—From gossip round 'change, clubs, street corners and wherever men and women congregate, it would appear that the Canadian public is a trifle apathetic about the great quadrennial contest fought out across the international boundary line today. Lack of an outstanding personality, lack, perhaps too, of a very definite issue readily comprehensible to the Canadian viewpoint, has resulted in notably less interest in Canada than that displayed four years ago—when the great issue seemed to be whether or not the United States was to enter the war on behalf of the Allies. There is also lacking the pungent universal appeal of such a rugged, courageous personality as that of Theodore Roosevelt, who did so much to enliven for the Canadian imagination the immediately preceding presidential campaigns. The two candidates who hold the centre of the stage today, honest and well-meaning as they are, lack the personal magnetism or authority of a Wilson, a Roosevelt or a McKinley, and the campaign they have waged has in itself, by its very nature, tended to obscure for the Canadian onlooker whatever clear-cut issue there may be.

League Is Big Issue.

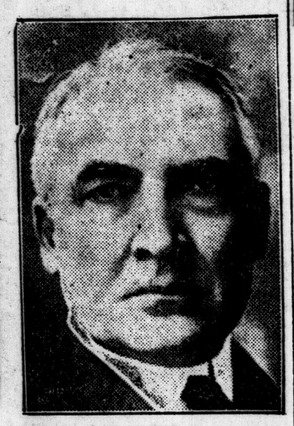

If the league of nations was a clear-cut issue, if, in a word, the election of one candidate and the defeat of another could be regarded as the final expression of the attitude of the United States on the issue, then the result of today's vote would have a high significance for Canada as for all the civilized world. But well-informed political opinion here seems to be that, granting the election of Harding, it may be found necessary for the United States to take her proper place in the councils, if not of the league as at present constituted, at least in some equally determinate form.

There are other issues, of course, and a victory for the grand old party may mean a general overhaul of the tariff, and in this Canada is apt to have a particular interest. At the present time the Taft reciprocity treaty is still part and parcel of the United States tariff machinery, and it has been openly stated in this campaign that this will become an almost immediate matter of attention on the part of a Republican administration.

Eight Millions of Increase in Inland Revenue Returns

Ottawa, Nov. 2.—(By the Canadian Press).—An increase of $8,066,775.74 in the inland revenue returns for the month of October, as compared with the returns for October, 1919, is shown in the monthly statement of the department of inland revenue. The total for the month just closed was $12,841,242.43, as compared with $4,774,446.69 for October, 1919.

Chief figures in the summary issued by the department were: Excise, October, 1919, $3,606,264.13, against $3,230,734.77 for October, 1920. Excise seizures, October, 1919, $19,978.35, against $14.174.47 last month; war tax, October, 1919, $1,100,027.07, against $9,575,298.56 in the month just closed. The revenue from methylated spirits in October, 1919, was $41,885.65, as against $20,374.40 last month. The increase in war tax revenue over the corresponding month of last year was $8,475,271.49, and the net increase for the month of October, $8,066,775.74.

SOLDIER CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR'S CHAIR A STRONG POSSIBILITY

Ald. Cameron Wilson Prominently Mentioned by Those in Touch With Situation—Mass Meeting of Soldiers Friday Night.

With the announcement today that a soldier candidate probably will be in the mayoralty race this year, London's coming municipal contest gives indications of being as many-sided as the battle being waged for the presidency of the United States.

The Grand Army of United Veterans' will hold a mass meeting Friday night at which they will discuss the advisability of entering the local political field. Present indications are that they will seek the co-operation of all other soldier bodies in putting a mayoralty and also aldermanic candidates in the field.

Last year the soldiers co-operated with the Labor Representation Committee. While they did not succeed in electing H. B. Ashpiant, their nominee for mayor, they did elect a number of the aldermen. This year the soldiers are better organized and feel that they are strong enough to bring out their own candidates without assistance from any source. Ald. Cameron Wilson, who was a nominee of the joint soldier-labor body for alderman this year, is prominently mentioned as their possible candidate. He has taken an active part in the city business this year, and has been chairman of several important committees, although it was his first term as an alderman.

Labor has already decided to contest every municipal office. Whether the soldiers would bring out candidates in direct opposition to these remains to be seen.

No definite prediction as to the labor candidate can be made. His nomination rests with a meeting of the Labor Representation Committee, which has been called for Friday, November 12. There are several men in the labor ranks who would make a strong run, it is thought, and it may take the meeting considerable time to decide on which one shall carry the standard. As they must await the decision of this gathering possible candidates are naturally diffident regarding their intentions. President Frank McKay is considered a possibility. His record as the head of that organization has been an excellent one. He has had to assimilate a number of conflicting elements which have developed in London labor circles, as well as elsewhere, and has succeeded in keeping labor ranks united, his supporters say. They believe he would have the confidence of all labor men. Ex-Ald. H. B. Ashpiant is mentioned as another labor possibility. His defeat last year may handicap him in this regard, but it is counterbalanced by his long experience on the city council as an alderman.

THOUSANDS FLEE BEFORE DRIVE OF RUSSIAN REDS

Refugees in Northern Crimea Seeking Safety.

BOLSHEVIKI COMPLAIN

Declare Polish Forces Violating Conditions of Armistice.

Constantinople, Nov. 2.—Fifty thousand refugees fleeing before the advance of the Russian Bolsheviki in Northern Crimea are attempting to find ships to bring them to this city. Allied representatives here, have advised Sebastopol that there is no room in Constantinople for them.

BOLSHEVIKI ASK BRITAIN TO KEEP POLES IN CHECK.

London, Nov. 2.—Assurances have been asked of Great Britain by the Russian Soviet authorities that she will not countenance the military activities of Generals Balakovitch and Petlura, the anti-Soviet commanders, who continued hostilities against the Bolsheviki after the conclusion of peace with Poland.

The request came through Gregory Krassin, Soviet representative in London, who yesterday handed a note to the British Government complaining that despite the Polish armistice the forces of Generals Balakovitch and Petlura were continuing warfare on Soviet Russia with the assistance, the note alleged, of the Entente powers.

PROTEST HYDRO SHORTAGE IN WESTERN ONT.

Premier Drury Promises the Western Ontario Boards of Trade an Investigation.

John Bridge, president of the Western Ontario Associated Boards of Trade, wired Monday to Premier Drury protesting against Ontario citizens being inconvenienced by a hydro shortage caused by a dispute between private interests and the Ontario Hydro Commission.

Premier Drury has wired back that the Government will immediately look into the matter.

Mr. Bridge's telegram read as follows:

"Shortage hydro power throughout the municipalities of Western Ontario has become most alarming. Hydro officials here blame private power interests, stating that 25,000 idle horsepower at least is available, but that private companies refuse to sell to hydro commission at any price. The quarrel of the hydro commission and private interests should not be permitted to cause Ontario citizens severe loss and inconvenience. Your Government, we believe, will take the necessary steps immediately to place all surplus electric energy at the disposal of the commission's thousands of consumers. Domestic users should not be continually cut off to favor business houses or manufacturers."

SANITARY SEWER SYSTEM FOR WEST LONDON IN SPRING

Necessary Bylaw Already Passed by Council—To Cost $520,936.

Building of a sanitary sewer system in West London may be commenced this fall, but it is more probable that the work will not be undertaken until next spring, City Engineer Brazier said today. The necessary bylaw for the work has been passed by the city council, but further authorization will be necessary before the plans are put in effect.

The probable cost is $520,936. Of this $326,393 will be assessed against the property benefited. The estimated cost of the sections opposite flankages and wings at street intersections is $62,675, and will be paid by the city. The remainder of the cost is made up by private drain conections. The frontage assessable is 108,178 lineal feet, and that exempt from taxation is made up of wings at street intersections and flankages, 20,741 lineal feet. The approximate cost per foot is $3.02, and the approximate annual cost for ten years is 41.10 cents, exclusive of the cost of private drain connections.

No outlet for such a system exists at the present time. It is possible that a disposal plant for West London may be built, or that it may be connected with a large new central plant for the whole city. The sewer construction will be proceeded with whether the outlet is ready or not and will be connected later.

WHOLESALE GROCERS' ASSOCIATION DENIES THE FIXING OF PRICES, BUT INDORSES PRINCIPLE OF PLAN

Statement of Organization's Defence Is Delivered to Representative of Ontario Attorney-General — Members Claim Right to Protect Themselves Against Certain Manufacturers.

Toronto, Nov. 2.—The Wholesale Grocers' Association of Ontario has delivered its statement of defence to A. W. Roebuck, representing the attorney-general. The statement pleads that the board of commerce has already decided in their favor and deny all allegations of conspiracy, illegal combination or other wrongful acts, as alleged by the attorney-general's statement of claim. They do not admit the existence of price fixing. They deny having acted upon any policy of restricting the wholesale grocers' trade of the province to those who are in membership of the association, or of fixing any non-competitive prices.

They say that a manufacturer who avails himself of the benefits of their organization of warehouse and selling staff should not operate unfairly by selling in individual lots to retail trade or to brokers selling to the trade. They claim this right to protect themselves against manufacturers who would use their organization in part and at the same time in competition with it sell direct to preferred members of the retail trade or brokers. They indorse price fixing by saying that the principle of having the manufacturers fix the price at which such goods shall be sold and adhere to it is the proper and most economical and desirable method and in the interests of the community.

Guard Elopes With Pretty Prisoner.

Milledgeville, Ga., Nov. 2.—Officials at the state penitentiary here have announced that J. W. Gans, a guard at the women's building, and Juanita Weaver, a prisoner, "quietly eloped" last Saturday night.

Juanita was serving a sentence of one year for shoplifting, having been convicted in Atlanta last May. She is described as being about 21 years of age, and a blonde.

GAS SUPPLY SHUT OFF IN ESSEX TOWN

Commissioner Takes Action to Have Supply Resumed.

Chatham, Nov. 2.—The gas supply at the town of Essex was shut off this morning by the Union Natural Gas Company. Gas Commissioner Estlin has appointed a deputy at that point and steps are being taken to resume a gas supply as soon as possible.

An official of the company has reported that the gas supply has been cut off Dresden, Blenheim, Ridgetown, Tilbury and Essex.

Railways Take a Decreased Toll Of Lives In 1919

Washington, Nov. 2.—Fewer persons were killed on railroads in the United States during 1919 that in any year since 1898, and fewer were injured than in any year since 1910, said a statement issued today by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

During 1919, a total of 6,978 persons were killed and 149,053 injured, compared with 6,859 killed in 1898 and 119,507 injured in 1910. Of those killed during the year, 273 were pasengers and of those injured 7,456 were passengers. Employees killed during 1919 numbered 2,188, and 131,013 were injured.

MYSTERY MAN IS GIVEN 6 MONTHS' TERM IN PRISON

Erki Wellthein Will Be Deported at Expiration of Sentence.

London, Nov. 2.—Six months at hard labor and deportation thereafter was the sentence imposed in Bow street police court today upon Erki Wellthein, the "mystery man," who was arraigned in this court a week ago today charged by the Government with acting as an intermediary between members of revolutionary circles in Great Britain and Russian revolutionists. Neither the name nor the nationality of the prisoner was made known at the time of his arraignment.

It was upon Wellthein that the Government's attorney announced that a letter from Sylvia Pankhurst to Nikolai Lenine, premier of Soviet Russia, had been found, in which Miss Pankhurst was alleged to have written: "The situation is most acute; not ready for a revolution yet."

Miss Pankhurst has since been sentenced to six months' imprisonment on charges of having published seditious literature designed to affect the navy, in the newspaper, "The Workers' Dreadnought," one of the articles in which was entitled "Discontent on the Lower Deck."

When the "mystery man" was first arraigned, he declined to answer questions and was remanded for a week.

POLICE AT WORK ON RAINY DAYS

Thirty Cyclists Pay Fines For Riding On Sidewalk During Wet Spell.

Sidewalks lead but to the police station in the opinion of thirty or so cyclists who fell victim to the vigilance of the London police force when they sought to escape "the mud which spots white clothing black and black clothing white," by riding on the walks of unpaved streets. This morning almost two pages of the police blotter were filled with the names of citizens who broke the bylaw prohibiting the riding of wheels on the sidewalk.

The following were fined $2 for breach of bylaws: Fred Wright, Arthur Moxley, Fred Vanitta, A. Crocker Sen., John Jones, Harry Robinson, John Elkington, Ed. Payne, William Dewar, George Cousins, John Knowles, Mike Torance, George Harding, Harold Nichol, A. Crocker Jun., E. H. Brownlee, Fred Norton, Fred Nye, Frank Bowman, Cecil Wilcocks, H. Oierson and John Hayman.

For breaches of the motor vehicle act the following were fined $2 and costs: Robert McKillop, C. R. Read and G. W. Bushby. Alex. Mann was assessed $5 and costs for a more serious breach of a bylaw. Two drunks were fined $10 and costs. Michael Noxall was fined $2 and costs for allowing a horse to roam at large.

FRENCH DELEGATES TO LEAGUE COUNCIL ARE NAMED BY CABINET

Paris, Nov. 2.—The cabinet today nominated Leon Bourgeois, president of the council of the League of Nations, Former Premier Rene Viviani and Former Minister of Foreign Affairs Gabriel Hanotaux as France's delegates to the League of Nations assembly in Geneva, beginning November 15.

EGG-LAYING CONTESTS

Competitions Will Be Between Province and Dominion Hens.

Ottawa, Nov. 2.—Ten egg-laying contests were started yesterday throughout the Dominion under the jurisdiction of the experimental farm system. Two of the contests are located at the central experimental farm here and one in each of the other provinces. The two contests here are the Canadian egg-laying contest and the Ontario egg-laying contest, the former being open to the entire Dominion and the latter to the province only. The Canadian contest opened with fifty hens competing for the honors and there are 24 entries in the Ontario.

It will be a week or ten days yet before final results of all last year's provincial contests are received at headquarters here and a few days more than that before comparisons of these will be available for publication.

Laid 2,041 Eggs In Year.

Brandon, Man., Nov. 2.—The egg-laying contest conducted for the province at the experimental farm here was won by a pen of single Anconas owned by W. H. Howe of Winnipeg. His pen laid 2,041 eggs in one year. A pen of White Wyandottes, owned by Thomas Lund of Stonewall, is second with 1,842. Lund of Stonewall cmfwyp ri ,w rdluu while a pen owned by W. H. Simmington of Brandon was third with 1,830.

These three pens also were the three highest egg layers in the Dominion. Each pen contains ten birds.

Uses Radium In Treatment Of Cancer

Buffalo, Nov. 2.—New York State's purchase of $225,000 worth of radium some months ago was put into actual use here yesterday, when the first cancer patient was treated at the state institution for the treatment of malignant diseases here. The initial treatment was given by Dr. Harvey B. Gaylord, supervising director of the hospital, and was marked with an impressive ceremony.

FIRST CASE FOR THE NON-JURY SITTINGS

Local Wine Company Suing Timmins Man for $552.50.

One case has been entered to date for the non-jury sittings of the supreme court at London before Justice Middleton, November 15.

The London Wine and Brewing Company is suing J. A. House of Timmins, Ont., for $552.50, alleged due for goods sold and delivered. The defendant claims that he never ordered the goods, but that they were shipped to him under an arrangement by which he was to handle the trade of the plaintiff company in the Porcupine District, as the agent or representative of the plaintiff company.

BAVARIAN REGIMENTS ORDERED TO DISBAND

Munich, Nov. 2.—Demands for the prompt disarmament of militia detachments have been handed the Bavarian Government by the inter-allied control commission here. It is asserted in official circles the Bavarian Government will ask the Berlin administration to refuse energetically to suppress defence organizations.

PRINCE'S TRIP TO CANADA AND U. S. INSPIRES PLAY

New York, Nov. 2.—(Canadian Press).—The tour of the Prince of Wales through Canada and the United States last year furnished inspiration to A. E. Thomas for a comedy entitled "Just Suppose," which opened at the Henry Miller Theatre here last night. Though the prince of the play is called George, and not Albert Edward, there can be no doubt that an attempt has been made by the playwright to portray in his leading character the very agreeable and ingratiating character of the royal visitor to this continent. The story of the play deals with a romance between the prince and a Virginia girl, Linda Lee Stafford, whom he meets on a motor car lark on the southern shore of the Potomac. The prince, who is incognito, is obliged to make a brief stay in the girl's home because of a slight illness, with the inevitable result that he falls in love with the southern belle. The girl also loves the prince, but decides that she would honor him more should he go back to fulfill the duty he owes his country rather than renounce his royal title for her sake. The part of the prince is played by Geoffrey Kerr, a young English actor, who last night made his debut in the United States. While not a perfect physical likeness for the Prince of Wales, according to one of the critics, he succeeded in giving "an exceedingly fine personation of a paragon of honor, honesty and sweetness and a fun-loving companion withal.

PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES IN CUBA IN CLOSE RACE

Havana, Nov. 2.—Returns from approximately 100 of the 3,002 precincts in Cuba, tabulated up to midnight, nine hours after the polls closed in the national elections, showed that Gen. Jose Miguel Gomez, Liberal, and Dr. Alfredo Zayas, coalition candidate, were running a close race for the presidency of the republic.

Nome's Population Dwindles to 200

Seattle, Wn., Nov. 2.—Nome, Alaska, which during the gold rush of 1900 had a population estimated at 15,000, was left with but 200 inhabitants when the steamer Victoria, the last boat of the season, sailed from there, according to passengers who were here today.

The Victoria brought 523 passengers from Alaska, 350 of whom were from Nome. Many of these declared they would not return.

Bound To Be Contest Over This Estate

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Filing of the will of Arthur J. Eddy today rose above the usual drab, uninteresting features of such acts. Eddy knew the value of a bottle of good wine and included in the estate he left are nearly 1,500 bottles of choice wines and liquors on which the state cannot collect inheritance tax, as wines and liquors possess no legal value.

The list of cobwebby beverages stored in the basement of the Eddy residence include six bottles of wine dating back to 1774, several bottles put up in 1872, 1878 and 1888 and 37 bottles of Scotch whiskey more than 20 years old. There are also 122 bottles of choice bourbon put up in 1902.

Aside from the treasures in the cellar, are hundreds of paintings, all selected with the utmost discrimination and most of them quite valuable, works of art in sculpture, bronzes, rare rugs and other articles collected from all parts of the world.

THREE KILLED WHEN COAL TRAIN RUNS INTO FREIGHT CARS

Rear-End Collision Occurs in Auburn, N. Y., Yards.

Auburn, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Engineers James W. Toole and William M. Tuen and Trainman Wm. W. Schultz, all of Auburn, were killed in a freight wreck in the Lehigh Valley yards, Auburn, this morning, when a double-header coal train ran into the rear end of a train of box cars just pulling out of the yard. All three men were buried under the wreckage and were taken out by the yardmen and Auburn firemen. The wreckage took fire and the Auburn department extinguished the flames.

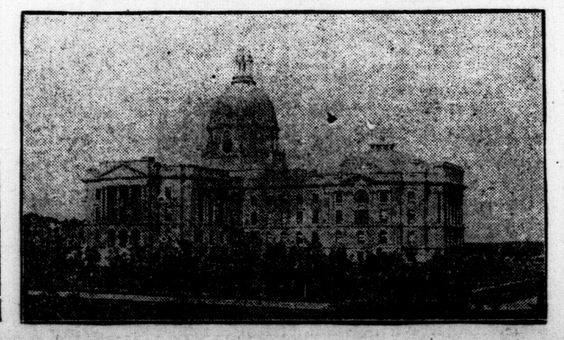

ZAYAS IS LEADING IN CUBAN ELECTION

Coalition Candidate Has Small Majority Over Gomez.

Havana, Nov. 2.—Work of canvassing the vote of yesterday's presidential election moved very slowly last night, and it seems probable that if the rate of counting the ballots maintained last night is continued, it will be several days before Cubans learn the name of their next president.

Returns from only 111 of the 3,002 precincts in Cuba had been received by the central electoral board up till the time it closed shortly before midnight. At that time Dr. Alfredo Zayas, coalition candidate, was leading Gen. Jose Miguel Gomez, standard-bearer of the Liberal party, by 682 votes. The tabulation as announced by the electoral board gave Zayas 11,034, and Gomez 10,352.

ALBERTA PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS

THURSDAY NEXT HALF HOLIDAY

City Council Will Stand by Decision Regarding Armistice Day.

Although conflicting views on the desirability of a holiday November 11 have developed, the council will stand by its decision and Thursday of next week will be a half-holiday. The council's action was taken in response to a letter from the Central Veterans' Council, asking that a celebration be arranged, and that a grant of $300 for bands be made.

It appears now that the letter was sent by F. B. Lavender, secretary of the Central Veterans' Council, without the direct authorization of that body. He said today that he wrote it because it was necessary to bring it to the attention of the council Monday night, as that was the only meeting before Armistice Day. When the Veterans' Council met last night it was opposed to the holiday. Mr. Lavender claims, however, that a number of the soldiers' organizations favor the holiday in spite of the fact that their representatives on the Veterans' Council do not.

NEW PAVING PLANT STARTED IN FEBRUARY

Will Be Finished in Time to Start Spring Work.

Erection of a new paving plant will be commenced in February, City Engineer Brazier stated today. The tender of the F. B. Cummer & Son Company of Cleveland was accepted last night, and they will commence assembling material immediately.

The new plant will be erected on the same site as the former one, Bathurst street, east of Adelaide street. The present plant will be dismantled, and some parts of it will be used in the new one. The work will be completed in time to commence preparation of paving material early in the spring.

NEW ZEALAND WILL FLOAT COMPULSORY LOAN AT EARLY DATE

London, Nov. 2.—Canadian Associated Press.—According to cables from Wellington, N. Z., New Zealand is going to issue a loan which will provide for compulsory subscription equal to a year's average income tax.

GUARDS QUELL MUTINY AMONG CREW MEMBERS OF BRITISH STEAMER

New Orleans, La., Nov. 2.—Eleve Chinese members of the crew of the British steamship Elm Leaf were wounded early today when guards resorted to pistol fire to quell a mutiny aboard the vessel.

$22,580 SUBSCRIBED TO GRENFELL FUND

Quebec, Nov. 2.—Canadian Press.—The campaign started here to raise subscriptions for Dr. Grenfell's endowment fund in connection with hospital work in Labrador, has met with generous response. Up to the present a sum of $22,580 has been raised.

C. P. R. FOREMAN IS PROMOTED

B. Pendleton Goes to Ottawa in Important Position.

B. Pendleton, 585 Central avenue, for the past 18 years locomotive foreman at the locol C. P. R. roundhouse, has been appointed locomotive foreman of the company's shops in Ottawa, according to an announcement made by local officials today. Locomotive Foreman D. L. Jones of the C. P. R. shops in Windsor will succeed Mr. Pendleton as foreman here, while Locomotive Foreman Sheppard of the shops in Ottawa will succeed Mr. Jones.

As the shops in Ottawa are among the largest on the C. P. R., Mr. Pendleton has been given a distinct promotion. His departure from the local shops is deeply regretted by his fellow-employees, for during the many years spent as foreman here he not only established a reputation as a capable official, but he built up lasting friendships among the men who worked for him.

Mr. Pendleton and his family will take up their residence in Ottawa.

CENTRAL MILK DEPOT WILL BE ESTABLISHED IN KINGSTON CITY

[Special To The Advertiser.]

Kingston, Nov. 2.—The Kingston and district Milk Producers' Association and local retailers have decided to establish in Kingston a central milk depot and pasteurizing plant. On sanitary grounds this has been advocated for some time by the local board of health, but the producers and dealers now find that they must take action for commercial reasons. It is claimed that thousands of dollars are being lost under the present unsatisfactory system of independent delivery. The price of milk for the winter season has been fixed at fourteen cents.

HEAVY GALE RAGING.

One of the worst gales of the season is raging on Lake Ontario today and all vessels were forced to keep in port. Steamer City of Ottawa cleared for the west at 6 o'clock, but after an hour out had to put back into port. The steamer Arabian cleared for Montreal and was the only vessel to get away.

FRANCE PLANS FOR BURIAL OF UNKNOWN

Paris, Nov. 2.—It is proposed by the French Government to lay before parliament a bill providing for the transfer of the body of an unknown soldier from the battle zone to the Pantheon in this city, and it is probable an immediate vote will be requested. This move is similar to one originated some time ago in England, it being decided there to bury an unknown soldier in Westminster Abbey on November 11, Armistice Day.

FAVOR RUSSIAN REVOLUTION.

Paris, Nov. 2.—A series of conferences in favor of the Russian revolution are planned by a commission formed by the General Confederation of Labor, the Socialist party, and the League of the Rights of Man. The commission will select a number of cities where these meetings will be held.

SKILLED FARMHANDS FOR WESTERN ONTARIO FARMS

Chamber of Commerce Writes Farmers' Clubs Asking Their Co-operation in Important Movement.

Because Western Ontario has not been getting its share of skilled farmhands who have been immigrating to this country, the Chamber of Commerce has taken a decided step to remedy matters by issuing circulars to all the farmers' clubs in Western Ontario, asking them to adopt the proposals in the statement. It is believed that by maintaining the local immigration office and also the services of Superintendent John Riggs, and by communicating with the Hon. Manning Doherty, minister of agriculture, requesting the establishment at London of a distributing immigration agency, the farmers of Western Ontario will establish personal contact with the immigration service which will greatly alleviate the trouble that is being experienced in getting capable farm help.

Following is the letter that has been sent:

Dear Sir,—The directors of this organization have asked me to bring the inclosed statement, and recommendations contained in this letter, to the notice of your organization.

If the conclusions drawn in the inclosed statement and enumerated at the end seem reasonable to your members, it is suggested that action dealing with the three things mentioned be taken, as follows:

(1) That your club address a communication to the Hon. J. A. Calder, Dominion minister of immigration and colonization, Ottawa, requesting that the Dominion immigration office at London be kept open, and the services of the present superintendent, Mr. John Riggs, be retained, for the time being, at least.

(2) That your club address a communication to the Hon. Manning Doherty, minister of agriculture, Parliament Buildings, Toronto, requesting the establishment at London of a distributing immigration agency, so that Western Ontario farmers may establish personal contact with the immigration service.

(3) That your club address a communication to Mr. John Bridge, president of the Western Ontario United Boards of Trade, 306 Dominion Savings Building, London, indorsing the proposal to establish a Western Ontario immigration association, to compete with similar organizations formed in other provinces and provide for Western Ontario's actual needs in the way of farm help. This matter will be considered by the united boards at their next annual meeting at Chatham in November, and expression of opinion from farmers' clubs will greatly assist the movement.

For Consideration.

The following facts regarding agricultural immigration to Western Ontario are placed before you for consideration.

On account of the activity of the Western Canadian and the Maritime Provinces, and also of the railways, particularly the C. P. R., and the lack of similar effort on the part of Western Ontario, we have been receiving chiefly a class of immigration from Great Britain and elsewhere obtained largely without selection, and generally speaking, left over, after the other provinces have selected the more desirable men.

Another factor which has the effect of giving Western Ontario a less desirable class of immigrants is that employers, contractors, and others have access to parties of immigrants from the time they arrive in Canada, and actually persuade numbers of them to change their destination.

Responsibility for agricultural immigration to Ontario has been handed over to the Provincial Government by the Dominion department of immigration and colonization, and this department has decided to close the immigration office at London shortly.

This action makes it necessary for Western Ontario farmers to apply for farm help to Toronto, where the nearest distribution office for immigration is now situated.

Serious Handicap.

The London Chamber of Commerce and the Western Ontario United Boards of Trade claim that this condition of affairs is a serious handicap to agricultural production in Western Ontario, where the shortage of farm help is so acute that farmers, to quote one careful investigator, are generally doing without help and "have made adjustments in regard to the methods of working their land, raising grain and stock, and dairying, so as to get along moderately well with the assistance of their families and neighbors," with the result, in the opinion of close observers in each county of Western Ontario, that "only a percentage of land is properly cultivated, due to the shortage of labor."

The provincial department of immigration is conducting a vigorous campaign to secure a good class of agricultural immigrants for the province, and it is contended that the present long-distance method of obtaining help by correspondence with an unknown official in Toronto is unjust to the Western Ontario farmers who desire at least to meet the agent who will look out for a suitable man, and who are unlikely to risk employment of men they have never seen, sent them by strangers from Toronto.

The remedy seems to be in securing the following definite things:

(1) Continuation of the dominion immigration office at London under John Riggs until, at any rate, another office is established to take its place.

(2) Establishment of a provincial distributing agency for farm help at London or some central point in Western Ontario, so that the Western Ontario farmer may have a chance to learn something more of the men he employs than is possible under the present system with distribution from Toronto only.

(3) Duplication of organization and efforts made by Western Canadian and Maritime Provinces in Western Ontario to secure hand-picked immigration to suit Western Ontario's actual needs by supplementing the activities of the Government officials.

VETERANS' COUNCIL DOES NOT WANT TO HAVE HALF HOLIDAY

Will Ask City Council To Reconsider Resolution Re Armistice Celebration.

PARADE IN EVENING

Indorse Idea of Having Armistice Day Being National Thanksgiving Day.

When it was learned at the special meeting of the central veterans' council last evening that the city council had proclaimed November 11 as a half holiday the council went on record as being strongly opposed to it. A resolution was drawn up to the effect that the council was not in favor of having a half holiday in the city, because several of the laboring men would lose a half day's pay. Considering that there were so many holidays lately, it was deemed wise that the celebration proceedings be held in the evening. A copy of the resolution will be sent to the mayor and the council. However, if the city council does not wish to revoke its resolution, the soldiers will not hold their parade until the evening.

Several letters were received by Secretary F. B. Lavender of the council from labormen in the city, protesting against a half-holiday in which to carry out the Armistice Day program. In each one it was intimated that the majority of the men could not afford to lose their half-day's pay. A deputation was sent to the city council to ask them to consider the changing of their resolution. When the deputation was appointed it was found that the council had adjourned, and upon receipt of this, Comrade Barney Devlin moved that the soldiers hold their parade in the evening and let the city have its holiday in the afternoon.

Parade Funds.

Comrade A. Pugh moved that the whole of the Central Veterans' Council be appointed to look after affairs for that evening. Comrades W. Casson, A. Pugh and Barney Devlin were appointed to approach the Rotary Club, Trades and Labor Council and the city council on the matter of securing the necessary funds for the carrying out of the parade. A motion was then passed, by which power was given the secretary to write to different organizations in the city which are interested in a parade on the evening of November 11. All organizations wishing to take part in the proceedings can do so by communicating with F. B. Lavender, secretary of the Central Veterans' Council in care of the city hall.

National Day.

Comrade C. H. Reason made a motion that the secretary write the Government asking that November 11 be set aside as the National Thanksgiving Day for the Dominion of Canada. This motion met with hearty approval from the council, and power was also given the secretary to write all other organizations in the city asking them to indorse Comrade Reason's motion.

W. Whitehead, representing the Loyal Orange Lodge Association of the London District, was present, and informed the members that the officials of this district were ready to stand behind the council in carrying out a parade on November 11. Four of the fife and drum bands were put at the disposal of the council, and other help was promised. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the L. O. Lodges for giving their support.

Want Lavender.

A meeting of the Central Veterans' Council will be held next Thursday evening for the purpose of hearing from any organization in the city wishing to take part in an Armistice Day parade.

After plans for Armistice Day were discussed a motion was passed asking F. B. Lavender to remain secretary of the council until after Armistice Day. At the beginning of the evening William Casson, representing the Army and Navy Veterans, was appointed secretary, owing to the fact that two of the officers of the council were members of the Grand Army of United Veterans. The constitution states that only one officer from each organization can hold office in the council.

HALF HOLIDAY WILL BE OBSERVED NOV. 11 CITY FATHERS DECIDE

New Town Planning Committee Impossibility Until Resignations Received.

TENDER IS ACCEPTED

New Paving Plant To Cost $25,000—More M. P. P.'s Are Wanted.

Thursday, November 11, the anniversary of Armistice Day, was declared a half-holiday by the city council last night. The motion was by Ald. Cameron Wilson and seconded by W. A. Wilson.

Town planning affairs took an unexpected turn, when Mayor Little ruled that a new committee could not be appointed until the resignation of all the former members had been received. "Go and get it" was the advice handed out to Ald. E. R. Seabrook, when he reported that all the resignations had been received with the exception of John Cottam's. "We hope you will have it for the next meeting," the mayor sympathized, as the alderman ruminated over the instructions in a manner that indicated he was not expecting the greatest success. Motion to appoint a new committee was made by Ald. F. R. Watkinson, seconded by Ald. G. B. Drake. They suggested Aldermen Seabrook, Cameron Wilson and Harley, and T. J. Murphy, George Belton and F. E. Leonard. This is the same as the former one, except for the substitution of Mr. Leonard for Mr. Cottam.

The tender of F. D. Cummer & Son Co. of Cleveland for a new paving plant was accepted. The price is $25,200.

Under One Body.

Control of Queen's Park was vested in the Western Fair Association. The city solicitor will draw up an agreement to be entered into by the parks department, the city council and the association. Ald. Moorhead thought action should be delayed until further advice was obtained. Ald. Harley said the Wetsern Fair Association did not want control of the park, but merely wanted to see it placed under the direction of one body instead of three. Mayor Little said the present arrangement was an example of lack of centralized control.

The recommendation of No. 1 committee that $175,000 be placed in the London bill to increase the city's representation in the Legislature. It was seconded by Ald. Cunningham. He pointed out that the population of the city was 55,887 according to the assessors, while that of the county was only 41,886. It had three representatives, while the city had one. He argued that the city should have four, one for each 13,278 of the population. Dr. H. A. Stevenson will be asked to present the request to the Legislature and the Chamber of Commerce and Trades and Labor Council will be asked to send a joint deputation with the city to urge the change on the Legislature.

On motion of Ald. E. R. Seabrook the County Council will be asked if it is willing to co-operate in the establishment of a juvenile court.

Rheumatism Left Him As If by Magic!

Had Suffered Over 50 Years!

Now 83 Years, Yet A Big Surprise to Friends

Regains Strength Goes out Fishing, Back to Business, Laughs at "URIC ACID"

How the "Inner Mysteries" Reveals Startling Facts Overlooked By Doctors and Scientists For Centuries

"I am eighty-three years old and I doctored for rheumatism ever since I came out of the army over fifty years ago," writes J. B. Ashelman. "Like many others, I spent money freely for so-called 'cures,' and I have read about 'Uric Acid' until I could almost taste it. I could not sleep nights or walk without pain; my hands were so sore and stiff I could not hold a pen. But now, as if by magic, I am again in active business and can walk with ease or write all day with comfort. Friends are surprised at the change."

HOW IT HAPPENED.

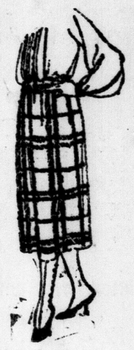

Mr. Ashelman is only one of thousands who suffered for years, owing to the general belief in the old, false theory that "Uric Acid" causes rheumatism. This erroneous belief induced legions of unfortunate men and women to take wrong treatments. You might just as well attempt to put out a fire with oil as to try and get rid of your rheumatism, neuritis and like complaints by taking treatments supposed to drive the Uric Acid out of your blood and body. Many physicians and scientists now know that Uric Acid never did, never can and never will cause rheumatism; that it is a natural and necessary constituent of the blood; that it is found in every new-born babe, and that without it we could not live!

These statements may seem strange to some folks, because you have all along been led to believe in the "Uric Acid" humbug. It took Mr. Ashelman 50 years to find out this truth. He learned how to get rid of the true cause of his rheumatism, other disorders, and recover his strength from "The Inner Mysteries," a remarkable book now being distributed free by an authority who devoted over twenty years to the scientific study of this particular trouble.

NOTE: If any reader of The Advertiser wishes the book that reveals these facts regarding the true cause and cure of rheumatism, facts that were overlooked by doctors and scientists for centuries past, simply send a postcard or letter to H. P. Clearwater, No. 32nd street, Hallowell, Maine, and it will be sent by return mail without any charge whatever. Cut out this notice lest you forget! If not a sufferer yourself hand this good news to some afflicted friend.

ELEVEN THOUSAND IS CONTRIBUTION TO GRENFELL FUND HERE

Arthur Little Pledges To Give Quarter of Total Sum Raised.

As much as $10,790 has already been contributed to the Grenfell fund in London, and there is needed but $1,000 more to bring it up to the original objective of $15,000. This feat in mathematics is explained by the fact that Arthur Little has pledged himself to give 25 per cent of the total subscription of all London. When Dr. Grenfell was in the city some time ago opening his campaign for an endowment fund to carry on his Labrador mission in perpetuity, there was a great deal of enthusiasm displayed in the cause. Now there lacks but a simple $1,000, and it is known that this lack will soon be diminished to zero.

The answer of most fat people is that exercise and dieting is too hard, too troublesome and too dangerous a method to force the weight down. However, in Marmola Prescription Tablets, all these difficulties are overcome. They are absolutely harmless, entail no dieting or violent exercise, and have the added advantage of cheapness. One little tablet after each meal and at bedtime—as pleasant to eat as candy—will reduce your weight two, three or four pounds a week, and leave no bad results such as wrinkles or flabby skin. A good size box is sold by druggists at the reasonable price of one dollar, but if preferable they may be obtained by sending the amount to the Marmola Co., 94 Garfield Building, Detroit, Mich. They will reach you by mail, prepaid, in plain, sealed cover.

Now that you know this you have no excuse for being too fat, but can reduce two, three or four pounds a week without fear of bad after-effects.

P. P. C. L. I. TO GIVE FAREWELL CONCERT

Cornet Solo by Noted Scots Guards Bandsman—To Aid Welfare.

Under the direction of Lieut. T. W. James, director of music, the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry Band has arranged to give a farewell sacred concert in the Grand Opera House on Sunday evening. The proceeds will be used for the benefit of the children's welfare. Some of the music will be of patriotic nature.

Sergt. Evison, formerly cornet solo of the famous Scots Guards, will give a number of selections which will be features of the affair. Reasons for the holding of the concert are to leave a good impression of the famous regiment of Canada's Permanent Force, and to stimulate an interest for band music in London.

Although the date of departure is indefinite, it is expected that the Pats will leave for the West about the middle of the month.

SPIRIT INFALLIBLE GUIDE OF MAN IS TEACHING OF BAHAI

Whenever Doubtful About Right of Act Consult Inner "I," Advice.

Janabe Fazel Mazandarani, promulgator of the Bahai movement which has attracted and is still attracting the attention of savants and religionists of all countries, lectured in the Theosophical Hall last evening on "A New Vision of Immortality."

"When the spirits of men are free from prejudices, and untrammeled then may the path leading to perfection be trod," began the speaker. "Man is a spirit, and his body a garment which, when become worn and tattered, is cast aside, and the soul free, ascends heavenward. It is strange that man should ever be looking without to deduce arguments for the immortality of the soul, when, if he would but betake himself to contemplation of the spirit within he would know his own soul as omnipotent, omni-present reality, age-enduring and everlasting.

"Whenever a man is doubtful regarding the expedience of a certain act, let him consult the inner I, the ME, and he cannot err, for the spirit is the infallible guide of man.

"The body is the result of an aggregate of atoms; death of the physical body is their disintegration. But the spirit which is essentially simple is not reducible into component parts and is therefore imponderable, invisible and eternal. The spirit of man, being an emanation from the divine, universal spirit, in which 'all things live, move and have their being,' cannot know annihilation, as it is everlasting and age-abiding.

Dream Experiences.

"A person asleep upon a couch, his body in a state of entire composure and quietude, may project his spirit into the atmosphere to obtain divers kinds of knowledge—he may have spoken with a friend whose identity on awakening he could in no wise conjecture, or he may have visited in a strange city. These strange dream experiences were afterwards realized in actual life. When one is puzzled over the solution of a problem his mind becomes illuminated when he retires within, and we call it an inspiration. So the geniuses of the human race are those who have connected themselves with the source of divine inspiration that they are illumined continually and the realities of existence are ever present before them.

"The law of compensation, or what you sow that shall you also reap, prevails in God's universe, and so it is often necessary for us to receive after death compensation according to the life lived here upon earth.

"Prophets, messengers and the sages of all times are unanimously agreed among themselves that there is a world beyond this world, a realm beyond this realm, a freedom beyond this cage.

"If the life of man were in reality restricted within the narrow confines of this terrestrial sphere, then would this world be just what the materialistic philosophers have called it, namely, 'a fortuitous concourse of atoms.'

Body But Cage.

"These few promises would lead us to the conclusion that the body is but a cage, within which the divine bird of Paradise abides for a time, only to break that cage when he shall have completed his destiny," continued the speaker.

"Bahaism is the quintessence of the teachings of all past prophets, and embraces the religions of all peoples. By an eclectric system it seeks to unite that which is permanent in every religion. For every sect is obviously seeking God, and not Satan. Multiplicity of languages breeds misunderstandings, and misunderstandings create war and bloodshed. Whether we be followers of Mahomet, Christ, Zoroaster or Buddha, the moral precepts contained in the doctrines of these world-teachers are identical."

Others Arrive.

With Janabe Fazel Mazandarani, who is professor of philosophy in the University of the Shah, Teheran, Persia, arrived in London yesterday, Albert R. Vail of Chicago, M. A. Sohrab, former secretary to Abdul Baha, and Menoucher Khan, both of the latter recently from Palestine and Persia. They will speak before the Canadian Club of St. Thomas today, and Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Walter Wright, Picton Court Apartments on Picton street.

According to Professor Mazandarani, the Bahai movement aims at establishing a new spiritual civilization in contrast to the present materialistic civilization, which, despite all the great achievements of science and invention, has failed to make humanity happy.

Bahaism aims to harmonize all the seven great world religions, Christianity, Mohammedanism, Judaism, Buddhism, Confucianism, Hinduism and Zorostrianism into one world religion of universal peace, love and brotherhood.

Founded 70 years ago by Baha 'o 'llah, the movement spread rapidly through Persia, but was bitterly opposed by both the Persian and Turkish Governments, and nearly 20,000 Bahais were put to death. Today one out of every three people in Persia is a Bahai, and it is estimated that there are nearly 10,000,000 Bahais throughout the world. There are over 60 Bahai assemblies in the United States and Canada.

ALD. WHEATCROFT WILL NOT RETURN TO CITY

Council Will Finish Term With But Eleven Members.

London's city council will finish its term with only eleven members. Definite word was received Monday that Ald. Harry Wheatcroft will not return to the city, and that his position will remain vacant until the next election. There is no possibility of a special election in the meantime.

Ald. Wheatcroft has been absent from the city since early in the summer. He secured three months' leave of absence, as it was possible he might return to the city. If it had been known definitely then that he would not return an election would have been necessary.

The alderman has sold his property here and is now living in Cleveland.

Word has been received in the city of the death of Miss Minnie Drury of Toronto, formerly of this city. Older residents of London will remember Miss Drury. She left this city for Toronto in 1903 after being a member of the public school teaching staff here for over 30 years. Miss Drury was a sister-in-law of Walter M. Morgan, also a former resident of this city. The remains are being brought to London for interment in Woodland Cemetery this afternoon.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat If You Feel Backachy or Have Bladder Trouble.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast a few days and your kidneys will act fine and bladder trouble disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

LONDON CONCERNS USING NATURAL GAS CUT OFF ENTIRELY

However, Action Was Expected and No Hard Feelings Result.

Natural gas, in use by two London manufacturing firms, has been cut off. The McClary Manufacturing Company was cut off Monday, and Parker & Walsh, brick manufacturers, today. This was purely in accordance with the regulations laid down by the Government gas commissioner and the Southern Ontario Gas Company was in no way to blame, C. S. Parker stated today.

"We understood last summer when we got the gas that it was to be cut off the end of October, and conserved for the use of the domestic consumers," said Mr. Parker. "The McClary Company was cut off Monday, and they came to cut off our supply, but we were just finishing a kiln of brick. They treated us very fairly and left the gas on until today, when we had finished the kiln."

Summer use of natural gas for the clay workers was secured by Mr. Parker and others because in some oil wells in Dover Township there was gas that must be got rid of before the oil could be pumped. The Government ordered the Union Gas Company to carry it through their mains, and it was supplied to the clay workers during the summer on the distinct understanding that it was to be cut off and given to the domestic consumers during the winter months.

J. M. McEvoy, solicitor for several municipalities objecting to increased prices for natural gas, is in Toronto today attending the court of appeals, and no new developments were reported in connection with the Dorchester, Belmont or Tilbury situations, where Mr. McEvoy is acting as legal counsel for the consumers.

ENJOYABLE CARNIVAL AT WINTER GARDEN

1,000 Londoners Take Part in Successful Event.

Rain clouds and a threatening snowstorm could not quench the enthusiasm of Londoners who turned out for the fancy dress carnival at the Winter Gardens last night. Nearly a thousand were present, a great number of whom were in costume. Their gay dresses added color to the scene and made the event one of the most successful of the kind in years.

The feature of the evening was the Dance of the Storm. Unique color schemes were used in conjunction with the music to produce most unusual effects. Starting with a fox trot, the dance changed to a one-step, and then ended with a waltz. Gathering storm-clouds were depicted by the lighting effects, followed by a realistic rainstorm, with awe-inspiring thunder and lightning. This in turn changed to a beautiful rainbow effect as the "storm" subsided.

Prizes were awarded for the best costumes, and a keen interest in the judging was displayed. First prizes for the best fancy costumes were awarded to Miss Berman and Miss Rotenberg, who masqueraded as a bride and groom. Miss Blodgett as a Spanish lady and Mr. Blyth as an Indian won the second prize, and Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery as Mephistopheles and a Spanish lady were awarded the third prizes. First prizes for comic costumes were given to Messrs. Willis and Carrol, who were dressed as colored gentlemen.

Miss Myrtle Hemming, aged 7, was presented with a special prize for her performance of the butterfly dance, while Miss Stuart was awarded a special prize for her presentation of the Hula-Hula dance.

BODY UNCLAIMED

Relatives of Gordon Fleming, Who Died Monday, Yet To Be Located.

Gordon Fleming, who died suddenly yesterday while being taken to Victoria Hospital, is still in the morgue of that institution, the body being unclaimed. Efforts are being made to locate his parents, who are said to live in Brampton, Ont.

Fleming, who is judged to be about 30 years of age, only recently came to the city, and for a few days was boarding at 128 York street, where he was taken violently ill on Monday morning, and while being removed to Victoria Hospital died.

Dr. Robert Ferguson, who viewed the remains, stated that there was no evidence of an unnatural death, and that therefore no inquest was necessary. Unless ordered a postmortem cannot be held unless the relatives of the dead man demand it.

Up till the present time, no information has been gleaned of his relatives, but efforts will be continued to locate them.

RESERVOIR FINISHED IN THREE WEEKS' TIME

Plans For Official Opening To Be Made.

Plans for an official ceremony to mark the completion of the Springbank reservoir may be made at the next meeting of the public utilities commission Friday. It is expected that the work will be finished in about three weeks. All the material required has been obtained, so there will be no delay in this regard. There is a possibility that frost would hinder the laying of the concrete.

It will require some time to fill the huge tank with water, and it may be decided to forego this part of the event and make it a "dry" one. Water from the present reservoir might be drained into the new one as a quick method of filling it and showing how it will look when in use, although no practical purpose would be served by so doing.

Survey of the cost of construction made by General Manager E. V. Buchanan today indicated that the cost will be fully $100,000. Earlier in the year it was thought the work could be completed for less than this, but constant delays in obtaining material and other causes will require the use of the whole appropriation. Even this is satisfactory, Mr. Buchanan said, because the original estimates were $150,000.

City Briefs

MAKING OFFICIAL VISIT.—District Deputy Grand Master L. Boss is making an official visit to Corinthian Lodge, A. F. and A. M., tonight.

HALLOWEEN SOCIAL.—The A. Y. P. U. of St. Matthew's Church held its first meeting of the season last night, in the form of a Halloween social. The evening was enjoyed by all, many games being played and refreshments served.

FARMS CHANGE HANDS.—William McRann of McGillivray has sold his farm to Alex. Ragin of Parkhill for $7,500, and bought the Harding farm on the second concession of McGillivray for $8,500. Then he sold again to Mr. Trivick of London Township for $11,000.

RECEIVES PROMOTION. — S. L. Trussler, traveling passenger representative of the G. T. R., with headquarters in Toronto, will succeed W. J. Mathews as superintendent of terminals at Sarnia Tunnel. Mr. Mathews has been appointed superintendent of the St. Thomas division of the G. T. R.

JUVENILE SUMMONED.—A juvenile who is alleged to have stolen a watch in Komoka has been summoned to court before Squire Chittick on Friday. A London Township juvenile committed for trial yesterday before Judge Macbeth was let go under suspended sentence for having stolen a ring and other jewelry.

MOVE OFFICE.—The office of the ninth division court has been removed from the Bank of Toronto Building to Talbot street, and is now located at room 15, Dominion Savings Building. Miss M. Lawrence, formerly of the first division court, has been appointed as assistant to Frank Whetter, clerk of the court.

JUVENILE WARNED.—A juvenile, who appeared before Judge Macbeth on a charge of stealing a ring and other jewelry from the home of E. G. Smith, Richmond street, north of Broughdale, was let go on suspended sentence Monday morning. The boy was warned that for the next offence he would be sent to the Industrial School at his father's expense.

TO PLAN WINTER WORK. — To make plans for their winter campaign in relief work, the ladies' auxiliary of the G. A. U. V. will meet in the association's new clubrooms over the Grand Theatre tonight. The ladies of the soldier organization intend to give assistance to the families of soldiers who are in need during the winter months. Many social evenings for the coming months will be arranged.

INCREASE RENTAL. — Increasing the rental for signboards on the Federal theatre will be considered by No. 2 committee of the city council at its next meeting. The privilege was granted to the Signry, Limited, two years ago. This year it was decided to increase the rental to $500. Some aldermen now contend that other firms are willing to pay even more than this for it, and think they should be given an opportunity to do so.

Obituary

FUNERAL WEDNESDAY.

The death of George William Roberts occurred on Sunday at his residence, 45 Briscoe street, following a lengthy illness in his 71st year. Mr. Roberts is survived by his widow, two daughters, Mrs. Alfred Ward of this city, and Mrs. (Adjutant) Woolcott of Sarnia, one son, Wesley, and one sister, Mrs. D. A. Young of this city. A brother resides in England.

The funeral will be held from the South London Salvation Army Citadel, Edward street, on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in Woodland Cemetery.

DIED IN WINDSOR.

Albert E. Cook, formerly of this city, died at his home in Windsor on Monday, following an illness from pneumonia. Prior to living in Windsor, Mr. Cook had been a resident of London for 16 years. His wife and two daughters, Marjorie and Marion, survive him.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday morning from the residence of his mother-in-law, Mrs. M. Young, of 826 Vann street, to St. Mary's Church, where requiem high mass will be sung at 9 o'clock. Interment will be made in St. Peter's Cemetery.

MOTHERS' PENSION WORK INCREASING

Rev. Peter Bryce Addresses Local Board.

SOLICITS SUGGESTIONS

Valuable Ideas Put Forward At Informal Gathering Will Receive Consideration.

Rev. Peter Bryce, chairman of the Mothers' Allowances' Commission for Ontario, was present at a meeting of the local board held Monday night in the rooms of the Social Service Council. Rev. Mr. Bryce is in the city in connection with the big Methodist survey now going on, and took the apportunity to address the local mothers' allowances board informally, with an idea of taking any messages from them to the central commission to be forwarded to the Government. Mr. Bryce promised to do his best to see that any reforms suggested by them, in connection with the mothers' allowances act, should be brought about.

The local board asked that the act be extended to include deserted mothers, mothers with but one child, and that the age of children for whom mothers could get help, should be increased from 14 to 16 years, as the school age had been increased to 16 years. The local board members declared that they had found a great number of deserving cases, where mothers had but one child. Sometimes in addition to that child that mother had an invalid husband to support. It was also felt that 14 years was too young for a child to go out and support himself, that often a child was not physically strong enough to do so at that age. Rev. Mr. Bryce seemed strongly in favor of the reforms suggested by London, and has promised to take them direct to the Government.

Monday night several applications were considered and several more given out. The work is growing so rapidly in Western Ontario that it is thought that soon a third investigator will have to be appointed. At the present time Mrs. R. M. Graham is covering the counties of Middlesex and Oxford, including the cities of London and Woodstock, and Miss Helen Bapty is working in Lambton, Kent, Essex and Elgin.

ADVISES INVESTIGATION OF THRESHING EXPLOSION

Provincial Detectives to Report on Melbourne Affair.

An investigation into the explosion of a steam threshing engine of the tractor type, owned by a thresher named Melbourne, a few days ago, will likely be made by the provincial detective department.

Mr. McClellan's son, who is a practical engineer of considerable experience, was in charge if the engine, and had just fired up and gone to the farmhouse for breakfast when the explosion occurred. A heavy scrap of iron fell a few feet behind him. Another piece of iron went through the wall of the house, and a piece weighing 600 pounds was carried a great distance.

The engineer left only 30 pounds of steam in the engine when he turned towards the house. The manufacturers of the threshing outfit, who are also pressing for an investigation, contend that 150 pounds of steam could not possibly have caused such an explosion.

Feeling that some foreign substance, possibly nitro-glycerin, caused the explosion, Mr. McClellan has asked the county authorities to investigate. The matter has been referred to Crown Attorney J. B. McKilop by Deputy Sheriff Ben Watterworth, who is of the opinion that provincial officers ought to be called in.

Had the explosion occurred a few minutes later, when the threshers would have gathered for work, many lives would have been lost. It is said that farmers in the neighborhood have offered to back an investigation with their own money, so convinced are they there was something unusual and mysterious about the explosion.

No clues are obvious, according to Mr. Watterworth, although suspicions are admitted by some. Believing that it would be very difficult for the county constables to ascertain who was to blame ond effect a conviction, Mr. Watterworth has advised a provincial investigation.

APPROVE SCHOOLS

Persian Visitors Greatly Admired Local Institutions.

After an inspection of the majority of the schools in the city on Monday afternoon, Hon. Janabe Fazel Mazandarani, professor of philosophy at the University of Shah, Teheran, Persia, stated to School Trustee J. Wright that the schools in the city were of the "A.1" type. Albert Vail, of Chicago, who has spent much time with His Holiness Abdul Baha, and Hon. Fazel interpreter, Mirza Ahmad Schrab, also visited the schools and expressed their opinions that the schools here were just as good as in any city in Canada.

"I had a hard job in getting them away from the Ryerson school," said Mr. Wright. "They thought the type and the layout of the school was one that every school should follow. They also recommended the Technical School as being up to the standard.

CALLS FOR TENDERS

Service Motor Truck Company to Get Construction Under Way.

Following a visit to the city by the president, Paul Moore, the Service Motor Truck Company has called for tenders on its new plant. Steel and building equipment for two structures 100 feet by 300 feet will be required, as well as for a power plant.

The buildings will be erected on the Franks estate at the Wellington and Thompson roads.

Gratification at this rapid progress in establishing a plant here was expressed in civic circles. It will be the second company to actually get the construction of a large plant under way this year. The Ruggles Motor Company is at present building a factory in East London.

WANTS MONEY BACK

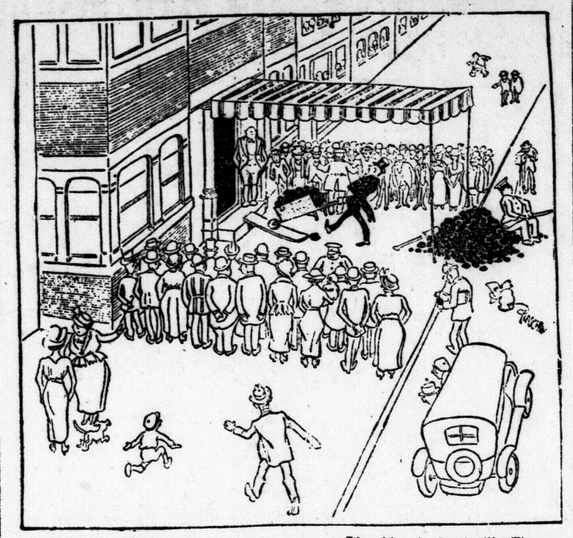

TORONTO, Nov. 1.—Premier Drury stated today that the Ontario Government would immediately take proceedings in the civil courts for the recovery of everything due the province from the wrongful operation of timber limits. Asked regarding the probability of criminal proceedings, Mr. Drury replied that the province's action would be in the civil courts.

THE SOCIAL EVENT OF THE YEAR.

—Plaschke, in Louisville Times.

As the result of the embargo placed upon sugar beets by the sugar mills in Kitchener, the beets are now being shipped to Chatham from all over the London divisions of the two railroads. Although the mills in Kitchener are using over 30 carloads a day there are still 169 cars still piled up in the company's yards there. Formerly beets grown west of Glencoe only were shipped to Chatham.

The local officials of the G. T. R. announced today that they had the situation in control for the first time since the season opened. Although there are huge quantities piled up at many points through the local division the company can handle the beets faster than the sugar mills can dispose of them.

SHORTAGE OF RAILS.

Because of the lack of rails the G. T. R. is still within two miles of completing the stretch of 100-pound steel from Hyde Park to Ingersoll. A bee of all the sectionmen between Paris and Sarnia and Wingham worked on Friday and Saturday of last week to complete the eastbound track from Dorchester to Ingersoll. They were prevented from accomplishing their purpose, however, when the supply of steel ran out.

TRY NEW MATERIAL.

The experiment with tarvia and stone as material for building crossings in place of oaken planking, which is being conducted by the G. T. R., will be tried out at Wellington street in this city, as well as at Clarence street. The work on the Clarence street crossing has been completed, and a start has been made on Wellington street.

CANCELLING FREIGHT TRAINS.

When the ore navigation season closes on the Great Lakes twelve freight trains a week will be cancelled in the local division of the G. T. R., it was announced today. Word was received by the local officials this morning that the boats which carry ore from the head of the lakes to Point Edward would cease to operate on that date.

As the ore is hauled from Point Edward to the steel mills in Hamilton by the G. T. R., it means much for the local division of that road. The long, unbroken haul provides highly remunerative work fir geveal of the cews.

POWER SHORTAGE IS DIFFICULTY.

Even if Montreal does grant permission for the installation of switch signals illuminated by electricity in the local division of the G. T. R., Superintendent C. F. Forerster considers it very doubtful if power would be available for the work. The shortage of hydo threatens to be a stumbling-block in the success of such an innovation. Plans for the new system have been in Montreal since the beginning of the summer waiting approval by the engineering depatment.

COAL MOVEMENTS LIGHT.

For some reason the movement of coal at the Niagara frontier, which for a time was quite heavy, has become exceedingly light. Only a small quantity of coal is moving at the present time. Local officials of the G. T. R. stated today that the falling off in the supply was not due to tansportation trluble, as the railroads were handling the fuel as rapidly as it was turned over to them by the mines.

A Real Hair Raising Episode

Halloween Masqueraders Brush Elbows With Traffic Cop.

Several Halloween masqueraders had a hairsbreadth escape from a policeman Monday night. They were proceeding merrily homeward from a carnival. There were three of them in the party, all youths, but one of them was dressed as a very stunning young lady.

But to the horror of Londoners who helped to vote the province dry a couple of years ago, this fair damsel was not acting like a perfect lady. Far from it. From all appearances wine had flowed freely during the celebration which she had attended, and a considerable portion of it had flowed down her fair young throat. She walked as though Dundas street was the deck of a fishing tug in a 40-mile gale. Only the efforts of her two male companions preserved her equilibrium.

Conditions like this could not long escape the eagle eye of the policeman on duty at Dundas and Richmond streets.

"This cannot be permitted in our fair city," he declaimed, and strode after the unfortunate girl. He had the patrol sent for in the meantime, and then proceeded to inform the maiden that her conduct was such she must spend a night in the cells.

"But I'm not a girl," was the startling excuse, and all traces of intoxication disappeared as the prospect of a ten-dollar fine and police court notoriety loomed in the offing.

"You're drunker than I thought you were," said the guardian of the law.

"But I'm not a girl," the two male escorts asserted. "He's only dressed up for Halloween."

"Aw, go on. You can't fool me. You'll have to tell that to Magistrate Graydon in the morning," was the firm rejoinder from the policeman.

The trio were now the centre of an amused and interested crowd, who felt sorry to see a lady in such distress, but were anxious to witness the unusual sight of seeing such a pretty young thing placed in the dark recesses of a patrol. They were suddenly disappointed, however, when one of the party had a bright idea. He seized the girl by the head, and in spite of indignant cries from the crowd pulled off her hat. Then he grabbed her golden locks, gave a tug at them, and off they came.

"There, you see, it's false," he cried, and the traffic cop was finally convinced. He took the affair good naturedly and sent everyone on their way talking about the hair-raising scene they had just witnessed.

LEAVES $29,000 ESTATE

John McEwen, Delaware Farmer, Leaves Estate to Daughter.

By the will of John McEwen, a farmer of Delaware Township, who died October 8, property valued at $29,267 passes to a daughter, Jessie McEwen. If the latter should die without leaving children, the property is to be divided equally between two sisters and a brother of the deceased.

Of the realty, valued at $21,100, all is comprised by lands in Delaware Township, except land in Lobo, valued at $600 and a lot in Kensal Park valued at $500. Mrs. Jane Hall and Miss Agnes McEwen, sisters of the late Mr. McEwen, are named as executors of the will. Personal property amounts to $8,167.

SPECIAL MEETING

No. 3 Committee, Board of Education, to Gather This Afternoon.

No. 3 committe of the board of education will hold a special meeting at 3 o'clock this afternoon, just preceding the regular meeting of the board. Recommendations regarding plans for the new high school and the advisability of purchasing the Beck property will be drawn up for presentation to the board.

It is likely that the report of the delegates who interviewed R. H. Grant, minister of education, Monday, will be incorporated in the recommendations.

ON THE TRAIL OF H. C. OF L.

The cost of living and all its ramfications will be thoroughly investigated tonight by a special committee of the city council, under the leadership of Ald. W. A. Wilson. The chairman has invited citizens of all classes and stations in life to attend, and to give their views on the matter. Just what the powers of the committee are has not been clearly defined. It is likely they will prepare an extensive report for the council from the information gathered tonight, and make recommendations as to what the city can do to better conditions.

PUBLIC UTILITIES WANT LABORERS

To Work On Water Connections For Pine Lawn Houses.

Efforts are being made by the public utilities to secure a hundred laborers in order to rush through their 1920 construction program. They are offering 50 cents an hour. If sufficient men are secured a number of projects will be undertaken. The most important work in view is the supplying of Pine Lawn houses with water connections. Building a pipe line from the river along Central avenue to the C. P. R. roundhouse is another important piece of work, while several main extensions are also planned. With favorable weather General Manager Buchanan thinks that most of the work can be completed this year.

Line extensions to supply light to the Pine Lawn houses also will be made. There will be no difficulty in supplying power for these at night, Mr. Buchanan stated, although in common with other domestic circuits it will be impossible to supply them with power during the day.

BACK IN HOSPITAL

Frederick Smith Leaves Institution And Is Accident Victim Within Hour.

Frederick Smith of Horton street, St. Thomas, who was struck by a motor truck at Dundas and Wellington streets at 5:30 o'clock Monday, is suffering from a badly lacerated right hand, besides injuries to his face, according to the authorities at Victoria Hospital today.

Mr. Smith had only left Victoria Hospital, where he had been confined for a week, an hour previous to being struck by the truck.

He is suffering from shock as a result of the accident, and his recent illness. His condition is not considered serious, and it is expected that he will be able to leave the institution the latter part of the week.

THESE ARE DRAB DAYS FOR BERLIN TAXICAB DRIVERS

Berlin, Nov. 2.—Taxicab and droshky drivers in Berlin, as numerous now as before the war, have so little to do that many of them stand all day at their places without a single fare. They have increased their prices 10 to 15 times the old rate, but the cost of living has kept pace with the increase and some of them are in abject poverty. There are a few smart equipages, the obvious pride of the owners, but most of their vehicles present a battered, forlorn aspect.

A droshky driver, whose tall hat was dirty and broken and whose clothes were patched in many places, perked up eagerly at the prospect of a fare, but when he discovered only a questioner lapsed into his customary lethargy.

"I've had only three fares in two days, and have not earned enough to feed my horse," he said.

"Before the war we were very busy. People then went pleasure riding, and always called a cab to go to their offices. Now the Germans cannot afford it and the majority of the foreigners have their own automobiles."

METHODIST SURVEY STARTS WEDNESDAY

Mass Meeting of Young People To Be Held Tonight in First Methodist Church.

Through the action of the four departments of the Methodist Church in Canada, and with the indorsation of the special conference committee the Methodist survey commission has been formed to make a study of the work and the needs of the Methodist Church throughout Canada.

Sixteen of the larger cities of the Dominion are being visited, and London is the first city to commence the survey. Today the Methodist ministers of the city are in session with Rev. Denzil Tildout, assistant secretary of the central commission. This evening there will be a mass meeting of young people in the First Methodist Church. On Wednesday and Thursday a survey of the various churches will be held.

SENTENCED TO 15 YEARS IN PRISON

Frank Carroll Convicted of Shooting Hamilton Constable.

Hamilton, Nov. 2.—Frank Carroll, convicted of shooting Police Constable B. J. Merritt, was sentenced this morning to 15 years in Kingston Penitentiary. Carroll opened fire on Merritt on King street in the early hours of the morning, when the constable was trying to arrest Carroll's pal, who was found in possession of a revolver. Merritt let go of the other man, knocked Carroll unconscious and clung to him until help arrived.

INQUIRY IS RESUMED.

Hamilton, Nov. 2.—Inquiry into the conditions prevailing in Wentworth County and Hamilton in regard to the administration of justice, was resumed by the public service commission this afternoon. Suggestions will be heard from Judge Snyder, Judge Gauld, Governor Ogilivie of the jail, and a number of other officials.

KERENSKY REJOINED BY WIFE AND SONS

Woman Escapes Form Russia On False Passport After Three Years Suffering.

London, Nov. 1. — Mme. Kerensky, who has just joined her husband, Alexander Kerensky, one-time premier of Russia, here, after three years of intense suffering in Russia since the fall of the Kerensky Government, is planning a long rest in the south of France with her husband and two sons, the latter having escaped from Russia with her. Now the Kerensky family is happily reunited, after the husband had given up hope of ever seeing his wife and sons again.

When M. Kerensky was forced to flee from Russia, his wife was imprisoned, but finally was released and permitted to live in Petrograd, where she was reduced to great poverty. For two years she sold cigarettes in the streets of Petrograd to get enough money to keep alive herself and children. All this time those Kerensky supporters who remained in Petrograd were secretly loyal to him and used whatever influence they may have had or dared to use to make the way clear for her to leave Russia. The opening came a few weeks ago, when Mme. Kerensky managed to obtain a passport, issued in the name of an Esthonian woman.

At the same time M. Sokoloff, a friend and supporter of M. Kerensky, and who had several times tried to get out of Petrograd often having narrowly escaped death at the hands of the Bolsheviki, was being hunted again by the Lenine-Trotzky agents. He managed also to obtain a forged passport under a name other than his own and escorted Mme. Kerensky to Reval.

Mme. Kerensky disguised herself and wore a wig, meanwhile posing as M. Sokoloff's wife, until she reached Esthonia. Then M. Sokoloff came directly to England, but she remained in Esthonia until she could obtain the necessary permission to enter England. When she got this permission, she went aboard a steamship at Reval and came directly here.

Mme. Kerensky is in her early thirties and once was a brilliant "star" on the Petrograd stage. Now, however, she looks much older, due to the great sufferings and hardships she had known in Bolshevist Russia.

Russian Socialists here who are not sympathetic toward the Bolsheviki are highly delighted over her success in escaping from the Reds.

HOLDING PHOTOPLAY "MADAME X" OVER FOR EXTRA DAY

So exceptionally popular has the Allen attraction, Madame X, proved that the management has decided to hold the picture for an extra day. "Madame X" has proved itself to be one of the most powerful productions of the season—its appeal is well-nigh irresistible, a marvellous page from life, throbbing with life's shadows and high lights, poignant with heart interest.

JOFFRE, VICTOR OF MARNE, DINES IN A MODEST CAFE

PARIS, Nov. 1.—In a modest little Paris "brasserie" (a cafe that makes a specialty of serving beer), where he dines for 12 francs to the accompaniment of the overture from "William Tell" played on a wheezy violin, there is a kindly-appearing old gentleman who has the same table every night. He is Marshal Joffre, victor of the Marne.

He prefers a waiter named Alexandre, who has served him since he was a young captain of cavalry thirty years ago and who knows the marshal's habits and his likes and dislikes.

The marshal reads three newspapers during his dinner. He drinks no wine, coffee or liquor. He eats plenty, but slowly, and is a strict vegetarian. He likes to be regarded as "a petit bourgeois of Paris." French newspapers contrast his simplicity with the probable conduct of von Hindenburg or Ludendorff had either of them been the great victor.

Postage Wasted by Careless Public Gives Government Extra Revenue

New York, Nov. 1.—There is one source of revenue to the Government of which but few persons are aware—that proceeding from the large number of stamps that are wasted by the people. There are two ways in which the Government profits by the carelessness and ignorance of the public. In the first place many stamps are destroyed. This means a profit to the postoffice department of many thousands of dollars a year; how much cannot be estimated, for there is no means of getting figures, except by elaborate and untrustworthy calculation. A person carries stamps in his pockets until they are so worn that he does not dare use them. In point of fact, anything that looks like a good stamp, no matter if it is somewhat mutilated, is passed by the clerks, just as a dilapidated bank note is good if there is enough of it to show what it is. Wear and dirt cannot, without almost destroying the stamp, give it the look of one that has been cancelled. Yet few persons will put a damaged stamp on a letter. Besides, many stamps are lost or destroyed entirely and the Government makes a clear gain.

The other source of loss to the individual by which the Government profits is the number of stamps that are wasted in excess postage. People who have not a five-cent stamp put three two-cent stamps on foreign letters, thus making the postoffice department a present of one cent. Domestic mail, too, is frequently overstamped. Enough money is wasted in this way to provide thousands of inexpensive letter scales.

Moreover few persons know anything for these purposes and about the rates for newspapers and think that because a newspaper rolls into such a solid bundle it costs a great deal to send. So they go on overpaying the postage.

On the other hand much matter is underpaid. Here the Government loses nothing, for the shortage is collected from the receiver, who must pay the due stamp. Knowing this, and being anxious not to seem niggardly to the friend who must make up any deficiency in postage, a person in doubt often puts on too many stamps—and the Government gets the difference.

Silent Tribute To Dead

LONDON, Nov. 1.—(By Canadian Press.)—Premier Lloyd George in the House of Commons today stated that a two-minute silence on Armistice Day, November 11, in memory of the great dead, would be observed, as far as possible, throughout the United Kingdom and Empire.

At the burial on Armistice Day in Westminster Abbey of the unknown British soldier, the coffin would bear the inscription: "An Unknown Warrior."

Thus, it would be representative of all the fighting services in the great war.

Government Backers Brand 'Reds' Upon All Meighen Questioners

Conservative Propagandists Desperately Trying To Invent Explanations For the Heckling of Premier and Calder On Western Tour—"Bolshevists" Appear At Every Turn.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Nov. 1.—Government supporters and propagandists are desperately endeavoring to invent reasons for the heckling and interruptions which followed Premier Meighen and his henchman, Hon. J. A. Calder, from Winnipeg to the Pacific coast, and which bid fair to follow them all the way home again.

Interruptions and questions addressed to the ministers in Winnipeg (capital of the premier's own home province) were attributed to "Reds." Taxpayers who evinced interest in the sugar question, the board of commerce, freight rates, or any of the other issues of the day, were promptly designated "Bolshevists." Anyone who worried enough about the cost of living to inquire about the reasons for its continued high level were characterized by the Government propaganda as "enemies to constituted authority."

Desired Explanation.

Those who desired an explanation from the Government in reference to citizenship rights and naturalization were immediately put down as alien enemies. In short, every members of the audience who did not subserviently applaud the speakers was "a Red." Judging from the numerous interruptions and questions asked the greater proportion of those who attended the meetings were of that color. In fact, Petrograd at its worst could have "had nothing on" Winnipeg when Premier Meighen and Mr. Calder visited it.

There were "Reds" everywhere. They attended in large numbers again when Hon. J. A. Calder spoke at Moose Jaw. They asked more questions. They evinced curiosity at Mr. Calder's sudden change of heart and conversion from good Liberal principles to those of Conservatism and protectionism and their curiosity by the propagandists was promptly attributed to bolshevist tendencies.

Same In Vancouver

In Vancouver it was the same. Returned soldiers who had fought in the war heckled the ministers, and the Tory headlines again explained: "Red element."

Then the party went to the city of Victoria. More interruptions, more heckling; more indignation on the part of the heckled. In fact so much indignation that Mr. Calder threatened to ask the chairman to close the meeting.

But here a new reason was found. The old "Red" excuse had pretty well worn out. So many soldiers had heckled that they could not all be called "Red," so the propagandists explained by saying the interruptors were not "native Canadians"—in other words, they were British-born for they all talked English).

To Save Country.

In 1911 the party of which Mr. Meighen is now head appealed eloquently to the British-born to save the country from annexation to the United States and that party won. In 1917 the party of which Mr. Meighen is now head, damned by its propaganda a province and a people who are all native-born Canadians.

But the times have changed. Premier Meighen is now making overtures to Quebec, with what success will be known after the next election In a speech in the Commons last session he referred to Great Britain as a nation of remittance men, and now his propagandists are saying that those who interrupted him and his colleagues at Victoria are merely British-born, to be classed presumably with the "Reds."

Times have changed.

NATION FACING MILLIONS LOSS; GOVT. INACTIVE

Hudson Bay Railway Line Wearing Away, Ties Are Rotting.

[Special To The Advertiser by John J. Conklin.]

WINNIPEG, Nov. 1.—The physical condition of the Hudson Bay Railway is causing uneasiness, and the matter is considered very grave by railroad and citizens generally.

The line is wearing away, and for a distance of 90 miles it resembles a line back of the fighting front after a heavy bombardment. From Mile 214 to Mile 341 the trestles are buckled in the centre and unfit for service. The telephone poles are lying on the ground, and in numerous places the grade has worn away from under the rails, leaving them suspended in the air, held together by the fish plates. The track is badly twisted beyond Manitou Rapids to Mile 341, and the ties are rotting in place.

In the material yards there are 30 miles of unused steel track, with fish plates, bolts, etc., and about 35,000 ties, the latter commencing to show signs of deterioration. It was understood that this material would be put to use this past summer, but nothing has been done, however, and only a small amount of repair work was accomplished.

Construction equipment was removed during the year, leaving nothing along the line with which to move gravel to support the sinking line. Experienced railwaymen believe the spring thaw next year will practically cause the whole undertaking to suffer a loss of millions to the country.

GAS TURNED ON IN TWO TOWNS BY CITIZENS

Commissioner Estlin Appoints Agents to Act.

PEOPLE ARE AROUSED

Pipe Line Was Cut Twice at Blenheim by Company's Men.

Chatham, Nov. 1.—The gas situation in the county is somewhat relieved tonight, two of the four towns shut off this morning now being supplied, and the other two will be supplied as soon as the necessary repairs are completed.

Gas Commissioner Estlin, who was in communication with the attorney-general's office at Toronto all the morning, early in the afternoon appointed Government agents in the towns affected, with orders to turn on the gas immediately, and wherever repairs were needed to make them at once.

Townspeople Take a Hand.

The Government order to turn on the gas at Tilbury was not needed, as the townspeople there took the matter into their own hands this morning and turned the supply on themselves. It is reported that some repairs had to be made before the line could be connected up.

Mayor Clunis of Blenheim reported late this afternoon that the gas had been turned on by a Government agent, after some of the missing parts of the regulator had been found.

At Dresden Mayor Humphreys stated that the gas would be turned on as soon as possible, but that the Government agent would have to locate where it had been turned off. He said it might be necessary to trace the line to Wallaceburg.

Part of Line Removed.

At Ridgetown, where the supply lines had been discontinued, the supply will be on as soon as the missing parts of the line are either found or replaced.

Gas Commissioner Estlin was up in arms this morning over the action of the Union Natural Gas Company, which he said was a defiance to his order issued Friday. He said: "The gas will be turned on if I have to have the countryside to do it." Feeling against the company in the towns shut off is reported to be running very high, and it appears that any chance of an amicable settlement to the controversy has been lost. General Manager James stated this morning that an appeal against the commissioner's order would be made. He added that Belle River, Essex and Comber had agreed to the increased rates.

Industrial Permits.

Gas Commissioner Estlin stated today in regard to the use of industrial gas, which is prohibited by an order issued in September, that the regulations would be carried out. He pointed out the object of the order was to conserve gas for domestic consumers, and that only special permits for small quantities would be issued to industries. "The matter will be closely checked up," he said, "and any industries found to be violating the order will be severely dealt with."

PIPE LINE CUT A SECOND TIME AT BLENHEIM

BLENHEIM, Nov. 1.—The gas situation here has been an exciting one all day. This morning, true to their threat, the company shut off the gas about 7 o'clock at the Old street connection with the main running through Harwich Township, about three miles south of town, and from which source the town gets its supply of gas.

Mayor Clunis and others, when the gas went off, went down and found the valve closed and a heavy chain and padlock on, so that it could not be opened. Commissioner Estlin was notified, and the attorney-general, and there was an expressed determination by citizens that if the gas was not on this afternoon force would be used to turn it on.

Percy Lanz, a former foreman of the company, but now engaged in farming, was secured by Mr. Estlin to take over the plant and give Blenheim gas, with full instructions to act on behalf of the Government. He and the mayor at once got on the job and took control of the regulator office in town, where they found some of the missing apparatus hidden in the building. Things were quickly put in shape and the gas turned on again about 2:30 p.m.

Pipe Line Cut.

Two men were appointed to watch the vital points, one at Old street, with instructions to give alarm if any person appeared to interfere. All went well until about 4:30, when the fire bell rang and away went a host of citizens in autos to Old street, where it was found that three men had come in an auto, shut off the gas and with a hacksaw cut off the wheel shaft, which turns on the gas, close to the pipe line, and made off towards Merlin. The watchman had given the alarm by phone from a farmhouse nearby. Lanz and his men removed the piece of shaft and the gas was turned on again at 6 o'clock.

Excitement runs high over the action of the company, as a large number of citizens have no fuel and the situation is critical. A dozen special constables have been sworn in to guard the pipe line. The Harwich ratepayers on the through lines have not been interfered with.

GOVERNMENT WILL SEE GAS SUPPLY IS MAINTAINED

TORONTO, Nov. 1.—Hon. Harry Mills, minister of mines, gave the instructions to Gas Commissioner Estlin to turn on the gas in certain Southwestern Ontario municipalities after the Union Gas Company had cut it off. The action is taken under the authority of an act passed in 1919. Hon. Mr. Mills said that drastic action would be taken if necessary to maintain the normal supply of gas to the municipalities concerned.

With the exception of the order to have the gas turned on there was no further action by the Government today. What permanent settlement is to be made has not been discussed yet. The gas companies ask for higher prices so they can drill more wells, thus replenishing a diminishing supply. Their claim is that they need more than sufficient revenue for operating expenses alone to go ahead with the development work. In some cases they are bound by contract to municipalities to supply gas at the present price for several years yet. In others there are no contracts.

The main concern of the department today was to maintain the gas supply to the municipalities. However, the entire question will probably be taken up to come to an agreement for the future. No steps have yet been taken in this direction.

OFFICIAL APPOINTED TO REGULATE GAS SUPPLY AT WINDSOR

WINDSOR, Nov. 1. — Notice was served on the Windsor Gas Company this afternoon by Mayor Winter, acting on behalf of Gas Commissioner Estlin, of an order issued by the latter official, and made applicable in all parts of the province, to all producing and distributing agencies concerned with natural gas, prohibiting discrimination against any municipality. The action of the gas commissioner was prompted by the Union Gas Company cutting off the supply at Blenheim, Ridgetown, Tilbury and Dresden over the week-end, and as a result of the refusal of the towns concerned to grant increased rates schedules to the company.

To insure the order being carried out, the Windsor council at tonight's meeting authorized the appointment of an official to supervise the regulating of the valves controlling the local supply.

Charging that other municipalities have been receiving a higher pressure recently than Windsor, President Pinckard of the Windsor Gas Company today appealed to the gas commissioner, previous to the serving of the latter's order upon him, to investigate the pressure given elsewhere in the province.

LEADING DAILIES WANT ELECTION IN GT. BRITAIN

Lloyd George Secret Agent of Tory Party, Says Star of London.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—(Canadian Associated Press)—The principal editorials in half a dozen of the leading newspapers discuss today the possibility of a general election. When the coal strike was first looming up the common speculation was that Premier Lloyd George would make a dramatic appeal to the country, staking renewal of office on whether the Parliament or the Trades Unions should hold the reins of power. This died down with the possibility of a disposition of the miners' dispute.

The renewed agitation started yesterday in the Sunday Observer, which is by no means unfriendly to the Government and now urges the premier to call a general election in the spring. The Observer declares that the present House of Commons cannot pretend to be a mirror of the people.

The Times' editorial on the subject is mainly devoted to declaring its own impartiality on public matters which some of tonight's critics assume is meant as a sort of defence of its old time hostility to the prime minister.

The anti-coalitionist Star prophesies of the election that even if it gave a coalitionist majority it would also give a larger preponderance to the Unionist section of the coalition than they now hold, "and Premier Lloyd George would have to appear openly as what he is now secretly, namely, the agent of the Tory party."

Papers wholly supporting the Government have not as yet given the subject editorial comment.

PROPOSE TO REORGANIZE CIVIC GOVERNMENT IN THE TELEPHONE CITY

BRANTFORD, Nov. 1.—The proposal of the city council special committee on civic government to ask the people to vote in January next on the election of aldermen for a three-year term, they to select the mayor, who must have had two years service as an alderman, was referred back this evening, and before Monday next the city solicitor will be asked to draft a bylaw to enable these questions to be set for referendum.

The purpose behind the move was to present to the electors a more apprehensive series of proposed changes in civic government, with the Guelph plan largely favored, and particular attention will be paid to the centralization of civic utilities and departments, now scattered under the authority of a number of commissions, boards and committees, with practically no control by the city council. Assessment matters were discussed at length, and the aldermen will present to the assessment department suggestions for the improvement of the assessment system.

HAND SEVERED AT WRIST.

OWEN SOUND, Nov. 1.—W. J. McKerrol, who resides about two miles from Owen Sound, in Sydenham Township, lost his right hand on Saturday afternoon while threshing. He put his hand in the blower to pull out some straw that was choking the machine and the suction pulled his hand into the cutter, severing it at the wrist. He is now in a hospital in Owen Sound, resting fairly comfortably. He is a brother of Rev. Donald McKerrol, Victoria Presbyterian Church, Toronto.

ONE DEPARTMENT LIKELY TO CARE FOR SOLDIERS

Pensions, Settlement, Insurance and Re-establishment Branches May Merge.

[Special To The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Nov. 1.—The merging of various branches dealing with pensions, soldiers' settlement, soldiers' insurance and other matters of dire interest to the returned men, into one department, probably to be known as the department of ex-soldiers, is said to be in contemplation at Ottawa. The department of soldiers' civil re-establishment, while still spending a lot of money on administration, is gradually going out of business, and its activities will shortly be confined to the care of incurables. In the meantime, the pensions, Soldiers' settlement and insurance branches are being run pretty well as separate and individual organizations.

Sir James Lougheed, minister of the interior, is still nominally head of re-establishment. It is now anticipated that a new department will be formed, embracing all of the activities connected with the returned men.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. — Great Britain has agreed to a settlement of the claim against Mexico growing out of the killing of Wm. S. Benton, a British subject, near Juarez, on February 17, 1914. Mexico is to pay $10,000 cash to Mrs. Benton, and a pension of $2.50 a day as long as Mrs. Benton remains unmarried.

HAS SECRET OF AGES BEEN UNEARTHED AT LAST?

Unquestionable Affidavits show New Hair Growth after Baldness!

Remarkable Preparation was Known to Indians—How Long?—No white Man seems to Know! Contains genuine Bear Oil and other Potent Ingredients from Three Kingdoms of Nature

FOR ages man has sought the secret of growing hair on human heads after it had fallen out from one cause or another. Many theories have been advanced as to the best means for preserving the hair, for increasing its growth, and for the prevention of dandruff, falling hair and baldness. Yet scientists have come and gone, leaving behind them the task of solving one of Nature's greatest problems.

Has it at last been solved?

Has Nature herself opened her portals to the wonderful secret? Your own observation in recent years proves that the seeming impossibilities of yesterday are but mere toys of the master minds of today. The aeroplane, in which men outdo the birds in the air—the submarine, which has made Jules Verne's stories of journeys beneath the sea come true. The telephone, the automobile, the wireless telegraph, all go to show the marvelous progress made in the twentieth century—that history-making period in which you actually live, see and understand.

Yet, it has remained for Nature herself to show us the way in many cases to grow hair after baldness. And this simple, natural method which seems to have been known to certain tribes of American Indians from time immemorial, can now be yours.

Indians' Hair Growing Secret Revealed

The story of Kotalko, how the Indians' secret was obtained, how it grew a luxuriant new growth of hair on John Hart Brittain's bald head, probably the first white man to try it, how it is now obtainable so all may test its potency, is told by Mr. Brittain in his own words, under sworn avouchment, a part of which is printed in the next column.

Baldness, dandruff, falling hair and grayness, each have several different causes. While Kotalko cannot create papillae, it has done wonders by inducing hair growth when the baldheaded person (man or woman) had imagined there was no hope. The way to find out whether Kotalko will grow hair in your case or otherwise benefit you (in dandruff, falling hair or grayness) is to make a test of Kotalko for yourself. This you may do under the $300 guarantee—an absolutely unequivocal, fair and square money-refunding offer.

Read the facts—read the additional overwhelmingly convincing evidence of the success of Kotalko submitted by men, women and children who have tried this hair elixir. Decide to have new hair, make the test for yourself. Don't stand and doubt. Use Kotalko now!

A Fortunate Discovery

The Cherokee promised that Mr. Brittain's hair might be grown again if he used a certain exilir.

"WHILE traveling on business (in the old Indian territory, near Tahlequah) I came in contact with an Indian 'medicine man' of the Cherokee tribe, who told me that my hair could be grown again if I used a certain peculiar salve.

"If you have had any experience with American Indians you know that every tribe has one or more men who understand healing, surgery, etc., in a primitive way, yet they often achieve astonishing cures. The scope of these 'wizards' also includes the ability to improve the appearance and welfare of their tribesmen.

"Although I had foresworn any more speculation in hair-growing lotions or the like, as probably you, the reader of this narrative, have done several times, already, the picturesqueness of this old Indian sage and the rather peculiar odor of his ointment fascinated me. I agreed to use it."

Applied it to His Scalp

"Faithfully I applied the pomade to my bare, shiny pate. It became even more shiny. That was easy enough to understand. Nevertheless, I persisted.

"Quiet perseverance is a very valuable factor in life sometimes. So it proved in this test, for after a little while a light fuzz, or down, became visible upon my scalp.

"This pleased me. It gave me encouragement.

"Thereafter I watched the top of my head in the mirror as persistently as a scientist observes the development of anything under his microscope.

"Slowly the fuzz changed into real hairs and they actually grew. Yet, they grew and grew.

"It seems almost ridiculous to tell it, but I felt unusually good—I was mighty happy.

"Finally there was enough hair for me to apply my brush upon!

"What joy!

"I could actually part my hair! Think of it! This was after complete baldness and after being told that the hair roots were dead."

No Trace of Baldness

"My hair today is as luxuriant as anyone could ever wish.

"Explain, if you can, why a certain mixture of animal, mineral and vegetable components, compounded in a special manner, can induce hair growth when all else fails.

"Even the old Cherokee could only say that the recipe came to him through his predecessors. He was wont to remark that among the real—the full-blooded—Indians of most of the big tribes there was never any baldness."

Traded Rifle For Secret

"I must now tell a most important fact of my experience—one which will interest you.

"I came into possession of the Cherokee wizard's secret. That of Ko-tal-ko—which I now call Kotalko.

"It contains three potential classes of components—animal, vegetable and mineral. These are combined in certain proportions and compounded in a certain manner. I am neither a chemist, doctor of medicine nor scientific theorist. I don't pretend to give any reason for the peculiar action of this pomade.

"The primitive men of our country did not have the advantage of our modern scientific chemistry. They operated upon elementary principles. For example, if an Indian was given to attacks of biliousness, the 'medicine man' made a decoction of selected herbs and surrounded the delivery of it with mysterious incantations. The patient was soon well.

"And so with this hair ointment. It was easy for me to prove to the wizard of the forest that I had no thought of entering into competition with him. Consequently, by the giving of a valuable rifle, I obtained the principle of the compound and was taught just how to prepare it, and since then it has been improved by the processes of practical chemistry."

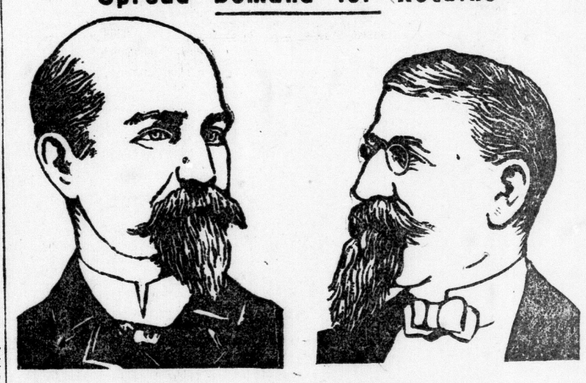

Victory Over Baldness

"When the old Indian gave me this recipe—with considerable ceremony—he asseverated to me that the most important feature was the combination of the animal, vegetable and mineral elements. He allowed that even his formula could be modified and improved (which has been done), so long as these kingdoms were represented. He gave me specimens of the ingredients that he employed.

"I had given most of the contents of my jars to men who were bald and to ladies who were distressed because of the thinness of their hair. The reports which I received were so convincing that I was positive of having found at last just what the world needed."

NOTE: Although Mr. Brittain for many years kept the secret of his victory over baldness to himself, Kotalko is now obtainable at druggists' everywhere. Or get a proof box, postpaid, with book on hair and many testimonials by sending 10 cents to KotalCompany, Limited, 366-H Adelaide Street W., Toronto, Ont.

Reports in Legions of Cases Now Prove Astonishing Results in Hair Growth Almost Beyond Belief. Voluntary Statements from Men and Women of All Ages Causing Wide-Spread Demand for Kotalko

Above are from Photographs of John Hart Brittain Before using Kotalko, and After

REPORTS: An endless quantity of reports on Kotalko, because they are constantly coming in. Full addresses and sworn avouchments on file at our offices. Here are excerpts:

WILLIAM SHAW: "My looking glass is ample proof that Kotalko will grow hair. I had a bald spot over 12 years that has become covered. I am sure that Kotalko will become the most famous hair preparation in the world."

MISS MART FERRIERA: "When I began to use Kotalko my hair had nearly all fallen out. Then the hair grew again."

GEO. M. SCHWANK: "Even after the second application of Kotalko I could see a difference, for the hair stopped falling out. When I had used two full boxes my hair growth was as good as ever."

LOUISE A. GRAY: "My head is the surest proof that Kotalko is all that it is claimed to be. After a few months of Kotalko my hair is twice as thick and long as it was."

G. K. SKINNER: "I had bald spots on my head for a number of years, and they are now entirely covered with a new growth of hair. Kotalko is what did it."

C. F. HEISER: "I had a large bald spot. Kotalko has developed real, healthy hair all over my head."

AFFIDAVIT re HAIR GROWTH

While completely bald on the top of my head as shown in my photograph which I accompanying this affidavit, I adopted a hair cosmetic and formula given me by an old Cherokee Indian. Within six months my head was covered with a new and luxuriant growth of hair. I now supply Ko-tal-ko, a pomade prepared according to the original formula which resulted in my own hair growth. The statements in my advertisement are true and my photographs are correct.

Personally appeared before me, John Hart Brittain, this fifth day of June, 1917, who signed the foregoing in my presence and who being duly sworn, attested that same is true.

Quits Job for Politics

TORONTO, Nov. 1.—James Higgins, Soldier-Labor candidate for the Ontario Legislature in the Northwest Toronto by-election, which is to be held on November 8, quit his position as boilermaker in the Canadian National Railway shops at Leaside today, as he refused to drop out of the political contest. Mr. Higgins said today that the superintendent of the shops told him that the vice-president of the government railways had given instructions last week that Mr. Higgins either had to resign the nomination for Northeast Toronto or resign his position with the railway.

"Under the circumstances," Mr. Higgins added, "I could do nothing but resign my position."

Canadian Flour Mills Thrive on U.S. Trade; Reciprocity Succeeds

Canada's Best Market For Wheat and Flour Is Now in United States, Statistics Show—"Blue Ruin" Arguments of 1911 Smashed by Facts of Today.

(Special to The Advertiser by John J. Conklin.)

WINNIPEG, Nov. 1.—One of the arguments cited in past campaigns against reciprocity with the United States in the products of the farm was that United States competition would ruin the great Canadian milling industry. It was confidently asserted that United States competion would drive Canadian flour off the Canadian market, and the Minneapolis mills would, with Manitoba hard wheat at their disposal, corral the export flour trade of the continent as well.

The facts of today have certainly upset this theory. With free trade in wheat and flour, the Western Canadian mills are establishing agencies in the United States, and they are going after the United States trade hard, and getting the business, too.

Canadian hard spring wheat has superior milling qualities to that grown in the United States. The Minneapolis millers are aware of the fact, and have been the keenest buyers of Manitoba fancy wheats this season. Laboratory tests conclusively show that the spring wheat of the Northwestern States is not nearly so good as it was 20 years ago.

On the other hand, Canadian spring wheat is grading unusually high this year, and baking tests prove it to be super-excellent. Therefore, American millers, in order to produce flour that will hold its own with the Canadian product, will have to mix in considerable Canadian wheat. Today Western Canada's best market for wheat and flour is in the United States. This competition is agitating the United States farmer and caused the blow-off of Governor Allen of Kansas. The tide has set that way, and Governor Allen is as powerless as King Canute to stay its flow.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Imports of Canadian wheat and flour during the first fifteen days of October were greater than in any corresponding period in the past seven years, the federal trade commission says in a report today to President Wilson. The report was based on an investigation ordered by President Wilson after he had been asked by the Chicago Board of Trade to place an embargo on wheat imports from Canada.

The commission found that 4,950,000 bushels of Canadian wheat and 65,946 barrels of Canadian flour were shipped into the United States during the first fifteen days of last month. This was more than three times as large as the shipments in any October in the past seven years, according to the report.

FURTHER REPRISAL ACTS BY SOLDIERS REPORTED IN IRELAND

Lloyd George Claims Dum-Dum Bullets Have Been Used.

DUBLIN, Nov. 1.—Reports of shooting and reprisals over the week-end continue to be received here from various parts of the country. District Inspector of Police Killegher was shot and killed last night at Granard. At Tullamore a police sergeant was mortally wounded by an unknown man and died. Two constables were shot dead at Killorglin last night. A police patrol was attacked in Abbey Dorney, a constable being killed, and two others wounded. A constable was wounded at Causeway.

Armed civilians captured and destroyed the Littleton police barracks yesterday, taking all arms and ammunition.

In Tralee a naval driver was wounded, and reprisals followed, the city hall and a shop being burned.

DUM-DUM BULLETS.

RAILWAYS DEMAND EXCHANGE RATE ON FREIGHT PAYMENTS

Declared W. G. Charlton in Reviewing Increase of Freight Rates.

AYLMER, Nov. 1.—Despite a heavy downpour of rain there was a good attendance of the electors residing in the vicinity of Dewar's schoolhouse tonight, when W. G. Charlton, Liberal candidate in the East Elgin by-election, delivered a forceful address.

Mr. Charlton dealt at some length with the question of tariff, and especially with the advance in railway rates. He drew the attention of his audience to the fact that in addition to enforcing the increase of rates granted them by the Government, the railways are demanding that the freight for consignments from over the border be paid at Detroit, with the exchange rate added.

BOARD ABLE TO PAY SURPLUS EARNINGS TO CAR EMPLOYEES

London Men To Get Increase On Fifth Instant—Thought Satisfactory.

TORONTO, Nov. 1.—A. B. Ingram, vice-president of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, who recently inspected the London Street Railway, said today: "I am of the opinion that the board can pay to the men surplus earnings that accumulated during the month of September. The increase will be given the men on November 5. And this appears to be satisfactory to the employees as far as I can ascertain."

BORDER POLICE COURT SESSIONS SUSPENDED AS MARK OF RESPECT

Funeral of Late Magistrate Miers Largely Attended.

WINDSOR, Nov. 1.—With a picked squad of policeman from Windsor, Walkerville, Ford and Sandwich police departments acting as pall-bearers, and mayors, aldermen and representatives of all Masonic lodges on the border attending, full honors were accorded Alfred Miers, late magistrate of the border, when his funeral services were conducted today at the family residence, Kildair road, and in St. Mary's Anglican Church, Walkerville. As a mark of respect for the former official all police court sessions on the border were suspended today.

SOUTH AFRICAN UNREST.

It is commented that in South Africa there has been a revival of Boer Anglophobia since the war. Why in the free Dominion of South Africa the old irreconcilables cannot be satisfied to live in political co-operation with the British colonists is hard to understand.

No doubt the confusion and unreason in Ireland, the agitation in India, and the nationalist attempts in Egypt have helped to inflame the Boers. There have been just a throb or two of the same nationalist mania in Quebec, but it has died down rather than flamed up since the war. In South Africa the Boer Nationalists are showing an ugly temper, and it takes all the magnificent ability of Smuts, the Laurier of South Africa, to carry on the government with a minority of the members of parliament but holding the balance of power.

The South African farmers and producers, using cheap native labor, have profited heavily by the world-wide demand for their raw materials. It is the same with South Africa as with Ireland and Egypt; prosperity has come to the loud-wailing "oppressed." And the more they prosper, the more vigorous their cry for "independence." Boer Nationalists even propose that the question of separation from England be submitted to a referendum, in which the English South Africans should not be allowed to vote! Prosperity sometimes begets presumption and fat injustice.

But the chief cause for the renewal of Boer hostility was probably the unsuccess of Britain in the earlier stages of the great war, which made the Africanders think that after all England had feet of clay, and caused some of them to rebel abortively; then the hope that a victorious Prussia would mean an independent South Africa with the Boers in control, and finally the smashing disappointment in the complete victory of Britain over the European hyena. The Boers had had the sympathy of Prussia in 1900, and a lot of crocodile tears were shed over them by the Pan-Germans, while Britishers were contributing hard cash for their relief after the Boar war and planning a free South Africa.

Some of the Boer extremists who have been agitating for a republic express themselves ready to compromise with Smuts. It is said that they would not mind if most of the higher posts, civil and military, were secured to Africanders. In that way the political character of the Union would soon cease to be British, and another little pro-German Holland would hold South Africa. Ulstermen may be pardoned for fearing some such game as this in Ireland. But the game will fail, partly because of the quiet strength of British polity and partly because Gen. Smuts is a man.

THE DOUBTFUL HYPHENATES.

German-Americans are represented as strong for Harding, or at least strong against Cox, because of the part played by Wilson against Germany and the advocacy by Cox of the League of Nations, to which Germany has not been admitted. A German in a rage may be stupid enough and make all manner of mad moves, but sometimes he has been known to think to purpose.

He may ask whether after all a Republican president would have done any different from Wilson, and whether Germany is now and henceforward better off without the League of Nations. As things are, the erstwhile Huns are at the mercy of France and her great conscript army, her enormous military equipment and brilliant generals. With a League of Nations, strong and respected, will not Germany be better off, and will not France also be less tempted to the dangerous path of aggression? No one can doubt the answer to this question. No sensible person can doubt that Germany will in time be admitted to a place in the sun of the League of Nations, as she pays her debts and reforms her reputation. But there is no chance for a recalcitrant, unrepentant and treacherous Germany against either the league or the military power of France.

THE NAVY LEAGUE GRANTS.

A financial report has been issued by the Navy League of Canada showing what will be done in the forthcoming campaign to raise $760,000. The grants are: Royal Arthur Institute, Port Arthur, $12,060; British and Foreign Sailors' Society, $7,500; Dr. Grenfell's Mission, Labrador and Newfoundland, $5,000; Seamen's Missionary Institute, St. John, $5,000; Merchant Sailors' Rest, Malta, $2,500; King George's Fund for Sailors, $313,138.40; Navy League Overseas Relief Fund, $172,000; Navy League Overseas Relief Fund for period of one year (forwarded to Navy League of England at rate of $10,000 per month) $216,060.07; Navy League in London for general work, $9,702.78; British and Foreign Sailors' Society Overseas, $34,256.96; British and Foreign Society in Canada, $12,500; "Princess Sophia" disaster, $5,000; Prisoner of War Fund, $4,819.91; Relief of Dependents and Merchants' Sailors, $6,467.31. Total, $777,145.43.

The $760,000 which will be raised is allocated as follows: Promotion of national sea-conscious spirit, Ontario, $75,000; Quebec, $25,000; New Brunswick, $2,500; Prince Edward Island, $2,000; Alberta, $4,500; Nova Scotia, $3,500; Manitoba, $4,500; Saskatchewan, $4,500; British Columbia, $4,000. Training of boys, Ontario, $200,000; Quebec, $20,000; New Brunswick, $2,000; Prince Edward Island, $4,000; Alberta, $7,000; Nova Scotia, $5,000; Manitoba, $11,000; Saskatchewan, $11,000; British Columbia, $7,000. Pensions for widows and orphans, Ontario, $100,000; Quebec, $10,000; New Brunswick, $3,000; Prince Edward Island, $2,000; Alberta, $7,000; Nova Scotia, $5,000; Manitoba, $7,000; Saskatchewan, $7,000; British Columbia, $3,000. Institutes, Ontario, $50,000; Quebec, $50,000; New Brunswick, $11,000; Prince Edward Island, $6,000; Alberta, $6,000; Nova Scotia, $34,500; Manitoba, $6,000; Saskatchewan, $6,000; British Columbia, $10,000. National administration, Ontario, $25,000; Quebec, $5,000; New Brunswick $1,500; Prince Edward Island, $1,000; Alberta, $1,500; Nova Scotia, $2,000; Manitoba, $1,500; Saskatchewan, $1,500; British Columbia, $1,000.

FOOD CONTROL FAILS.

Food control and price-fixing by governments appear to have failed in Europe. Last year compulsory requisitioning of food from the farms of Germany proved a most difficult task. Now the German Ministry of Food is requesting farmers to deliver food at the city food stations and farmers' organizations have promised to take responsibility for delivery.

Nevertheless, hoarding and profiteering still make the lot of the German workman a sorry one, indeed. On the Dutch frontier, smuggling is quite openly in progress. The German housekeeper goes to the so-called "smuggle-market" and takes back with her food for the family larder.

Even in Great Britain the great machine of Government food control is falling into disrepute. While wheat goes down bread goes up. The British Ministry of Food, unfortunately, bought large quantities of wheat on a falling market, just as Canadian sugar refiners bought large quantities of raw sugar when the price was on the down-grade. The annoyance of the British public at the announcement that bread is to be dearer (simply because of bad judgment shown by the ministry of food) does not augur well for continuance of that department of the British Government. And Great Britain furnishes evidence, too, that Government control under present conditions means higher prices, for there has been a steady decline in the price of sugar, coffee and cocoa, over which the ministry of food relinquished control last spring.

THE PRINCE OF WALES'S SUCCESS.

[Manchester Guardian.]

The Prince of Wales had the friendliest welcome to England and London yesterday. Since 1914 he has had a life which, though it may not be the best possible for all young men of his age, must have been far better than any life which it is possible at ordinary times to arrange, during the same period, for an heir-apparent to a great constitutional monarchy. He has evidently used to good purpose this exceptional opportunity of learning how to get on terms with all sorts and conditions of men. The average inhabitant of the Dominions oversea, and particularly the Australian, is so profoundly different in his mental attitude towards royal persons from anyone in England, that it is no small feat of perception and of versatile tact for a Prince of Wales to strike the congenial note just as successfully at the Antipodes as in England or in France, where he was much liked by all the French who met him during the war. This success gives good promise for the time—let us hope, still far off—when the good-humored and considerate traveler of these last few months will be charged with all the complicated urbanities and delicate inflections of discretion which are the day's work of a modern king. Nobody would ask for profound statecraft or mighty intellectual power in a constitutional sovereign; such a sovereign is surer of filling his part without reproach if he has not these predisposing causes of the originality which disturbs. The kingly qualities range in the secondary but amiable order of such social virtues as geniality, social diligence and presence of mind and circumstantial good-nature. These the Prince of Wales surely has, and, it may be believed, has loyally tried to cultivate—which, as most of us can say, is no light task. So far as he has thus made himself what the Dominions have found him, it is an honorable contribution on his part to the English achievement of so using and adapting the institution of monarchy that an English heir-apparent gets a welcome like that of yesterday in London, when those who six years ago were heirs-apparent to the thrones of Russia Austria and Germany are where they are now. In most of the things that are publicly said in praise of kings and princes there is such a flux of facile superlatives that most of those who read them take them, as a matter of course, to signify nothing. But there is real matter for honest praise in the continuous effort of the Prince of Wales to do, in the best way he can think of all the special things which it falls to him publicly to do.

THE HORSE ENDURANCE TEST.

[The Nomad, in Boston Transcript.]

As one fond of horses and keen about their humane treatment, the Nomad is much interested in the 300-mile endurance test for horses, now in progress over the road from Burlington, Vt., via White River Junction and Concord, N. H., to Camp Devens. The horses, which are of several types—thoroughbreds, Arabs, Morgans—will be required to make 60 miles a day, inside of thirteen hours each day, for five consecutive days, under the saddle, and carrying 115 pounds of live weight and 100 pounds of dead weight. The question arises whether a test of this sort is to be regarded as cruel to the horses. It may be hard on the horses, but hardness, stress, even strain, is not necessarily the same thing as cruelty. Naturally it would be cruelty to put any ordinary horse over 60 miles of hilly road a day for five days, or even for two days. But these are not ordinary horses. They are picked horses, the athletes of their kind. Like other athletes, they rejoice in a test of their strength and prowess. It would be cruelty to make a cart horse run at his top speed for two miles, but it is not cruelty to let a thoroughbred racer do it—it is his life and happiness, because it is the exercise of his functions. The test journey from Burlington may be a real joy to the horses that go through it successfully; and those that cannot stand it—or that become exhausted by the way—must be taken out of the race at once, and thus spared suffering.

The last previous test of the same kind—the one ridden in October of last year—seemed to indicate that there is nothing cruel in such a contest. In that race fourteen horses started and eight finished. The others dropped out or were taken out before any charge of cruelty could be made. Of the eight horses that finished, Mr. Merwin—a severe judge—said at the time, in the Transcript, that five were in excellent condition. Of the other three, two were lame. Whether they recovered wholly from the lameness the Nomad cannot say; if their lameness was extreme, they should have been earlier eliminated from the race. But the fact that five went through it without any ill result seems quite to vindicate the test. With care this year to eliminate any that become lame before they are seriously so, and to drop out any horses that are suffering, all inhumanity should be obviated. And what is the race for? It is to determine the most capable type of horse for the cavalry service; and when the type is well determined, from what a world of suffering many horses in the defence of the country will be saved by the elimination of the unfitted types.

AIR TRAVEL.

[Winnipeg Free Press.]

Air travel is now a recognized business in Europe, and it makes steady progress. Statistics of the passenger traffic by aeroplane between London and Paris show that the number of passengers rose from 20 in September, 1919, to 985 in August, 1920. During the year 2,101 flights were made between the two cities, and 4,339 passengers carried, with only one accident. There are now two competing services between the two cities; and flights are made daily upon schedule time. Men now take passage by the air route in just as matter-of-fact a way as is done in the case of railway travel. The journey is made in one-third of the time; and the convenience and brevity of the journey is regarded by increasing numbers as full compensation for the rate, which is in the neighborhood of $50 per trip. There is also a daily aeroplane service beween London and Amsterdam. We shall see similar development on this continent in the near future.

From Here and There

GERMAN GRUMBLES.

[London Morning Post.]

Perhaps the dumping of German toys in this country is not doing so much harm as certain persons would like to make out. The other day, writes a correspondent, I fell into conversation with a German traveler. At any rate, he was full of grumbles about the definite manner in which the English market is closed to German juvenile goods. "The trouble with your English shopkeeper is," he remarked, "that he is so confoundedly patriotic. I can't make him buy my toys. He prefers to pay a third more for British-made goods." So perhaps we are not such a bad nation after all.

THE MODERN HOSPITAL.

[St. Johns Globe.]

Dr. Wiley E. Woodbury of New York, in a recent contribution to Leslie's Weekly, makes some observations on modern hospital construction which are of particular interest at this time, when hospital improvement and hospital standardization are receiving much public and private consideration. Dr. Woodbury, declaring "the ward system belongs to the stone age of hospital administration," pleads eloquently for a system which gives every patient a room to himself or herself, a room with an abundance of light and air and free from the many objections which are urged against the ward system. He writes:

"The new Fifth Avenue Hospital will be nine stories high built in the form of a letter X, thereby making it possible for each of the 300 rooms for the patients to be open to the light and air, and to keep the various rooms at such temperatures as we please. And each patient will have a separate room and bathroom. There will be no wards, and not even rooms with two beds. Each patient, no matter what his or her financial circumstances may be, will have absolute privacy, will not know of the sufferings of others, and will be so isolated that it will be practically impossible for germs to be carried from one ill person to another. Besides, one-half of the bed space will be free, or nearly free."

CANADA'S ENTRY.

[Montreal Star.]

A section of the American press is taking much interest in an international beauty contest. A daring English artist lately arrived at New York with pictures of the English type of beauty, declaring his desire to compare this with the American article, and he had not long to wait before American opinions were being expressed.

Both Great Britain and the United States have a fine type of beauty, but, after all, it is in Canada that the ultimate in feminine attractions will be found. We do not depend on artists to draw wonderful girl pictures here. We grow them.

PULL TOGETHER.

[London Daily Express.]

"Pull together"—that is a motto well worth giving to the national today. On many points of policy there must always be sincere differences. Men see different roads to a common goal and find controversy in questions where all are animated by common ideals. That is inevitable, and the stilling of all such disputes might betoken nothing nobler than poverty of thought and inactivity of mind. But many of the gravest problems of the day can be solved if all will pull together with the same cheerful sacrifice of the non-essentials of individuality that we showed in days of war. In the din of controversy and party cries we are apt to forget all but the issues on which we must profoundly disagree. It is well that we should be reminded of the many and far more important things on which we can all agree, and that we should be called back to the common tasks and ideals.

PRESIDENT WILSON.

[Montreal Gazette.]

There is something pathetic in the appeal of President Wilson pleading for the League of Nations from his invalid chair in the White House. The president undoubtedly may thank his unceasing labors for his prolonged illness. He bore the burden in the heat of the day—a heavier burden than he needed to bear, it is possible; but he had given inspiring and beautiful messages to the world; he desired to be identified, as the head of the great American people, with the settlement which was to mean a warless world; and he gave physical and mental energy to the task in over-abundance. In the closing of the campaign he reasserts the entire innocence of Article 10, around which controversy has been raging. The love of power, which becomes a master passion—that is pathetic, too.

EVERY MAN HIS OWN BATTERY.

[Vancouver World.]

A retired American colonel has made use of his leisure to invent a sort of super-pistol, technically called a sub-machine gun. This delightful weapon weighs only seven pounds, and can be carried quite easily on the person. Directed against an opponent, it will discharge bullets in regular machine gun style at a prodigious rate, quite putting the deadly automatic to shame. We are informed that the new gun is the fastest, surest and safest in the world, that it consists of but eleven parts, and that it will discharge cartridges either from a box or a drum magazine.

We are not quite sure the sub-marine gun ought to be welcomed with much effusiveness. The automatic pistol was hailed as the finest thing in the world to enable the police to cope with armed burglars and other ruffians. It was—until the burglars themselves obtained automatics. If the sub-machine gun is to be manufactured, as the Socialists would say, for profit, and sold to all comers, it may turn out that the world would have been bettter off without it—just as it would have been better off without poison gas, aerial bombs and several other brilliant but diabolical inventions.

JUVENILE CRIME.

[Quebec Telegraph.]

The laxity of the age in the training of children, and the necessity for better parental control over youth must be painfully apparent to everybody. The crime wave which is sweeping over France at the present time is caused, according to French judicial authorities, by the liberty children enjoyed during the war, when their fathers were in the army and their mothers were in factories or the movies. Out of a hundred crimes investigated, ninety were committed by boys between 16 and 20 years of age. Laws to punish such crimes as murders and burglary cannot be applied to persons under 21 years, and rarely do criminals below that age get prison terms. Usually they are sent to reform schools. The influence of moving pictures on youngsters is exemplified by recent burglaries in a Paris suburb. After having seen brigands on films, boys between 16 and 18 robbed twenty houses in broad daylight. The necessity for the greatest possible care in the censorship of moving pictures cannot be too much insisted upon, and it is a wise law that forbids in our province the attendance of young children at the picture houses unless accompanied by adult friends. The tendency to juvenile depravity is far too often illustrated in the charges against youthful delinquents in our police court, even though the number of such cases compares favorably with those reported in many other large cities.

THE HOUSING PROBLEM.

[Quebec Telegraph.]

Reports from all parts of the country show that the continued high cost of building operations has greatly reduced the volume of construction, and the indications are that expansion in the building trade need not be looked for until the cost of material and the wages of labor come down. There never was so great a shortage of houses in the cities of the United States as there is today, yet in September the total building permits taken out in a hundred and three of the chief cities totaled $82,616,655, the smallest amount since the opening of the season in April. In September, 1919, permits issued called for buildings to the value of $128,728,602. The reduction in almost all the cities of the first class, such as New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Detroit and Cleveland, is especially great, reaching 38 per cent in the case of New York.

It would appear that in the matter of shelter the same waiting game is being played as in the textile and other commodity markets. The people are crowding close together—two or three families occupying space meant for one—rather than pay for new buildings at what they regard as excessive prices. If they can hold out for a sufficient length of time there will unquestionably be a return to reason on the part of dealers in building material and workers engaged in construction. On the other hand, it is far from desirable that the present overcrowded condition of tenements in our cities should be permitted to continue. Everybody will rejoice at the coming of the now confidently expected decreased cost of construction.

Poetry and Jest

THE UNKNOWN.

[Toronto Telegram.]

I never see an aeroplane
Above me in the summer air
But what I wonder, all in vain,
Just what it must be like up there.
Yes, all in vain I watch it fly
Above me on the earth below,
Wondering just what it's like so high,
And knowing that I'll never know.
I'll never know. I'll watch them swerve
Above me in the sky,
But I shall never get up nerve
Enough to go with them who fly.

A BAD ACTOR.

"Enjoy your hunting trip, old man?"
"I certainly did."
"Have anything along with a kick in it?"
"Yes, the gun."

SEA DISTANCES.

[Alfred Noyes in Harper's Magazine.]

His native sea-washed isle
Was bleak and bare,
Far off, there seemed to smile
An isle more fair.

Blue as the smoke of spring,
Its far hills rose,
A delicate azure ring
Crowned with faint snows.

At dusk, a rose-red star
Set free from wrong,
It beckoned him afar,
His whole life long.

Not till old age drew nigh
He voyaged there,
He saw the colors die
As he drew near.

It towered above him, bleak
And cold death-cold,
From peak to phantom peak
A grey mist rolled.

Then, under his arched hand,
From that bare shore,
Back, at his own dear land,
He gazed once more.

Clothed with the tints he knew
He saw it smile—
Opal, and rose, and blue,
His native isle.

RHEUMATIZ IN ONE REEL.

"Well, Eph," said his ex-employer, meeting the old darky on the street, "how is the rheumatism these days?"

"Porely, sah, porely," was the dejected reply. "Believ me, Marse Bixby, I'se jest a movin' picture ob pain."

FELLOW-TRAVELER.

[Bliss Carmen.]

Green are the buds of the snowball,
And green are the little birds
That come to fill my branches,
Full of their gentle words.

What is it, tiny brothers?
What are you trying to say,
Over and over and over,
In your broken-hearted way?

Have you, too, darkling rumors,
In your sweet vagrancy—
News of a vast encounter
Of storm and night and sea?

A REAL AUTHORITY.

[Blighty.]

Little Nelly told little Anita what she terms "only a little fib."

Anita—A fib is the same as a story, and a story is the same as a lie.

Nelly—No, it's not.

Anita—Yes, it is, because my father said so, and my father is a professor at the university.

Nelly—I don't care if he is. My father is an editor, and he knows more about lying than your father.

HEARD AT A RECEPTION.

"Who is that very popular young woman over there?"

"She's the daughter of a bank president."

"Ah! No wonder she draws so much interest."

MAY BE.

"Our children will see many wonderful things in the years to come."

"Yes, I suppose some day my son will find a forgotten corkscrew in an old drawer and come and ask me what that queed thing was ever used for."

Every Man For Himself

BY HOPKINS MOORHOUSE.

"Mr. Ferguson will see you now. Tell him anything you like." She eyed him coolly.

Phil gave her a cheerful smile as he passed on into the private office. Podmore had just gone.

"I had no trouble in getting a line on him for you, Phil. He came in right after you 'phoned and has been here ever since. Now, what the devil's the meaning of all this? What are you up to?"

"Tell me just what he said to you, Blatch," said Kendrick, refusing a cigar and filling his pipe.

"He said he gave you the envelope to mail and that you hid it for him in a hollow stump near the water tank at Thorlakson Siding when Wade came after it. He said that Wade and Cranston gave both of you the third degree and that you lit into Wade and gave him one awful calling down for not accepting your word that you hadn't seen any envelope and knew nothing about it. So said it made Wade so mad that he not only fired Podmore but told you also that you couldn't work for the C. L. S. another minute, so it was no use you rejoining this survey party you were with. It's a swell kettle of fish you've got into, Phil. What's your uncle going to say to all this?"

"Nothing. Unless you tell him he won't know I've bumped into this mix. He's got enough worries of his own without bothering about me."

"But Phil—"

"Listen, Blatch. I know what was in that envelope and where it came from. I want to know where Uncle Milt stands in connection with this campaign fund money, and I want to know what Podmore is trying to do. What did he want?"

"Podmore isn't as clever as he thinks he is," Ferguson laughed. "He actually came here to see if he could work out a little graft proposition by threatening to expose a deal which he imagines has taken place between the Alderson Construction Company and your uncle. His mind works that way. He thinks everybody is as crooked as himself and that all governments are like the late Rives administration. Well, he knows different now."

"Then no such deal is involved?"

"Good heavens, Phil! Surely you didn't think that? Neither your uncle nor the party cares a hang about this money of Nickleby's or Alderson's, or whoever owns it. We're not interested in what becomes of it. There's been no deal of any kind."

"That's all I want to know, Blatch," said Kendrick, rising. "It's just one of those things a fellow bumps into now and then, and if Uncle Milt needed my help at all I wanted to know it, that's all. I know he's absolutely on the square, of course."

"Absolutely," assured Ferguson earnestly. "Your uncle is one of the hardest working, most conscientious and high principled public men of the day, Phil, and perhaps I have had greater opportunity of knowing that than most. No man can hold high public office, seemingly, without paying the penalty of prominence—petty jealousy, envy, deliberate misrepresentation, even underhand attacks upon his character. A certain class of political aspirant seems to look on that sort of thing as part of the game, and you don't want to believe all you see in some newspapers around election time. That's the way it's been. But false accusation never yet downed an honest man, Phil. Remember that."

As Kendrick noted the expression on the lawyer's face he thought to himself that in spite of the marks of dissipation which marred it, there was a finer side to Blatch Ferguson's character which few would suspect.

"Please say nothing about my connection with Podmore, Blatch. It was an unavoidable unpleasantness which is now over. Some day soon when I have more time I'll drop in and give you all the details."

Miss Margaret Williams was nowhere about, he noted, when he took his departure.

Kendrick caught the next ferry across the bay to the Island and walked in on his uncle's housekeeper. He found that once more he had the big summer residence to himself, that his uncle had taken a flying trip to New York. That meant that his aunt would be alone in the summer cottage at Sparrow Lake, except for the servants, and he decided suddenly to run up and see her that very evening. After glancing through a slight accumulation of mail he changed to outing flannels and hied to the boathouse for an hour's run in the launch—out through the Eastern Gap into the open lake, where he could cut away across miles of blue water that danced invitingly in the golden sunshine on and on to the horizon's clear rim. All alone out there with the wash of the water, the steady undertone of the engine throbbing in his ears and the cool breeze blowing through his hair, he could sort out his thoughts.

They were inclined to tangle. He had yet to plan how he would proceed to obtain the information which Ben Wade wanted in regard to J. C. Nickleby. The railroad executive had traced certain consignments of cheap whiskey which had been run through to construction camps in the northern part of the province and had his own suspicions as to the source from which the bootleggers were obtaining funds. If the luck which had entered Phil's first efforts to learn what Podmore was planning held good, it ought not to be difficult; but there would be no Blatch Ferguson to help him out in a task which would call for the utmost circumspection.

Podmore could be dismissed as of the brood of Esau, willing to sell to the highest bidder anybody's birthright upon which he could lay hands. Ferguson's confident assurance that the stolen campaign fund contribution—if that was what it had been intended to be—implicated the government in no way, could be accepted without question. Had it been otherwise, Ferguson would have been galvanized to action of some sort. At any rate, the sudden disappearance of the money before it reached its destination eliminated it so far as the government was concerned.

This much was clear to Kendrick. Beyond wondering greatly how such a substantial sum as fifty thousand dollars could drop from sight mysteriously without creating general excitement, he dismissed the matter as outside his immediate concern. If the actual money had been in Wade's possession, as Podmore had been led to believe, Phil would have been more perplexed about it; even Wade's evident inside knowledge of the transaction was sufficiently mystifying. That probably was part of the "puzzle" which would be divulged in due course. Kendrick knew that in the modern business world with its constant clashes between powerful financial interests there were many undercurrents which a young man fresh from college could not hope to gauge. He was content, therefore, to accept Wade's superior judgment without question, to follow instructions faithfully, secure in the knowledge that Benjamin Wade was a man of the highest integrity.

The program will consist of Chopin and Liszt numbers and an added feature will be a paper by Miss May Walker, explaining these compositions.

Witches, ghosts and great golden pumpkins were the dieties worshiped at many a gay gathering of girls last evening, who took the occasion to celebrate Hallowe'en. There were three enjoyable masquerades. One at the King Street Y.W.C.A., another at the Wellington Street Y.W.C.A. and a third at the First Presbyterian Church. A fourth delightful Hallowe'en party was held at the Cronyn Memorial Church.

The Ladies' Golf Club is planning a bridge to be held at the "Kennels" on the afternoon of Wednesday, November 10, the proceeds to be for the purpose of redecorating and furnishing one of the upstair sitting-rooms at the Country Club. Each member is to have the privilege of making up a table of her friends and it is expected that about twenty tables in all will be engaged. Mrs. C. E. Hunt, Mrs. John Weld and Mrs. Donald McLean are the committee in charge of the arrangements for the bridge.

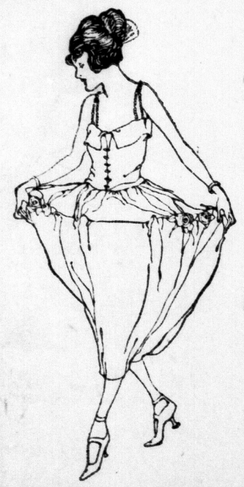

The last function of the Golf Club for this season will be the annual Golf Club tea to be held towards the end of November.

The pretty home of Mrs. Neville K. Pope, St. George street, was thrown open for her post nuptial reception yesterday afternoon, many friends taking this opportunity to call on the young bride. Yellow mums and pink roses, used profusely throughout the house, formed a pretty setting for the hostess, who was in her wedding gown of white satin, panniered with lace and made with a stately court train. Her flowers were violets and orchids. Receiving with her were Mrs. J. K. H. Pope in a handsome gown of black crepe de chene and Mrs. J. C. Butler also in black crepe de chine.

In the dining-room Mrs. C. K. Edward poured tea from a pretty table centered with a silver basket of roses, glowing beneath soft candle light, with her was Mrs. T. C. Margrett, cutting the ices, the former in a pretty gown of gray crepe de chine, trimmed with black fur and wearing a big black velvet hat, and the latter in a black velvet gown and big black hat, trimmed with French flowers. Mrs. J.K.H. Pope, in a grey velvet gown and small blue hat, ushered to the tea room. In the dining-room the three bridesmaids of the Pope-Butler wedding, were picturesque assistants in their bridesmaids' costumes. Mrs. Beresford and Miss Margaret Glass in peach charmeuse and large black hats and Miss Margaret Scatcherd in mauve charmeuse and large black hat, Mrs. Ripert of Montreal, in navy blue georgette and hat to match, was another assistant.

PITT—SCOTT.

A quiet but pretty wedding took place at Christ Church rectory on Wednesday, October 27, when Gladys, youngest daughter of Mrs. E. Scott, 461 Dorinda street, was united in marriage to Mr. W. H. Pitt, only son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Pitt, 372 Simcoe street, the Rev. C. R. Gunne officiating. Following a dainty wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's mother, the happy couple left for a short honeymoon to the east. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Pitt will reside in London.

HUGHES—MISENER.

A quiet but very pretty wedding took place on Thursday, October 28, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Misener, Cedar Terrace, Princeton, when their daughter, Helen Jean, was united in marriage to Mr. Albert C. Hughes of Thorold, the Rev. J. C. Stevenson officiating. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of pale blue satin, her only ornament being a pearl necklace with diamond clasp, the gift of the bridegroom. She carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses and was unattended, the wedding march from Lohengrin being played by Miss Mabel Young of Hamilton. Twenty-five guests, all of whom were relatives of very intimate friends of the bridal pair, sat down to a wedding dinner. The happy couple left later, taking the train from Princeton. After a honeymoon spent in Vancouver, B. C., Mr. and Mrs. Hughes will reside in Thorold. The bride's traveling dress of navy blue broadcloth, with trimmings of moleskin, and her hat of black velvet. The bride and groom received over 100 present, among them a complete set of silverware from members of the G. T. R. freight office staff, Hamilton.

MANN—TOPPING

Saturday afternoon, October 30, was the occasion of the marriage of Reta Leone, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Topping, to George Albert Mann of St. Catherines, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Mann of Buffalo, the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride's parents on Adelaide street by the Rev. W. R. MacIntosh. Yellow and white crysanthemums in relief against manicolored autumn foliage, were used in the living-room where the bridal party took their stand. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was winsome in her gown of ivory taffeta, with tulle veil falling from a juliet cap of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was a shower of Sunset roses, and she wore the groom's gift, an exquisite string of pearls. Mrs. J. W. Soutar, of Wilton Grove, was the matron of honor, wearing a smart frock of pearl gray taffeta with silver lace, black picture hat and corsage of pansies. She also wore the groom's gift, pearl earrings. Mr. Gordon Scott played the wedding march and during the ceremony Mrs. Ward Cornell, sister of the bride, sang "I Love You Truly." her gown being of black silk duchess with wide-brimmed black hat and corsage of pink roses. The groom's gift to the soloist was a pearl barpin, and to the pianist a fountain pen. Following the service luncheon was served, the guests numbering 30. Deep yellow forms in tall jars decked the table, centred by the bride's cake. Mrs. Topping received her guests in a handsome black costume. Later Mr. and Mrs. Mann left for Detroit, the bride donning a traveling suit of navy serge, mink furs and smart little black velvet hat faced with gold metallic cloth. On their return they will live in St. Catherines, Ont. Out-of-town guests for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mann, of Buffalo; Mr. and Mrs. Johnston, of Auburn; Gordon Kells, of Windsor; Mr. and Mrs. Robert McElhinney, of Toronto; Roy and Robert Elhinney, of Detroit and Mrs. Webber, of Welland.

LUMSDEN—DIGBY.

Grace Church, Brantford, was the scene of a pretty event on Saturday afternoon, when Edith Hope Digby, a descendant of one of the oldest Brantford families, eldest daughter of the late Dr. J. W. Digby and Mrs. Digby, and granddaughter of Dr. A. Digby, the first resident physician of Brantford, was married to Capt. Gordon Leith Lumsden of Toronto, a member of the Overseas Air Force, and son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Lumsden of Orillia. The church had been prettily decorated for the occasion with yellow mums, oak leaves, palms and ferns, the beribboned centre pews being reserved for guests. The bridal party entered the church to the strains of "The Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin. The charming young bride, who was given away by her brother, Dr. Reginald W. Digby, wore a lovely gown of cream kittens' ear satin and old Honiton lace. The court train, lined with pink satin, fell in graceful lines from the shoulders, and to it the veil was caught with orange blossoms. The bride carried a bouquet of Bridal roses.

Miss Kathleen Digby, sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor, attired in mauve taffeta, while Miss Helen Waterous and Miss Helen Sinclair of Toronto were the bridesmaids, the former in pink taffeta and the latter in blue taffeta. All wore bronze panne velvet hats, with bronze slippers to match, and carried bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums. Capt. William Lyttle of Toronto was the best man, and the ushers were also men of military service, Capt. Gordon Cockshutt, Mr. Stanley Beatty of Toronto, Mr. James Denniston of Winnipeg and Mr. Mortimer Davidson of Toronto. Rev. Canon J. B. Fotheringham was the officiating minister, and during the ceremony Miss Aileen Robertson, Toronto, daughter of Mr. Alexander Robertson, sang "O Perfect Love." Mrs. Digby, the bride's mother, was dressed in black panne velvet and carried a bouquet of orchids.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Lumsden, Orillia; Mrs. Boswick, St. John, N. B.; Miss Mary Jarvis, Chatham; Lieut.-Col. Domsdell and Miss Domsdell, Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Pike, New York, and Miss Diana Clarke of Government House, Toronto.

The large attendance of local friends also testified to the deserved popularity of the bride. At the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, the bridal party took their departure from the church, going to the Digby residence at the corner of Wellington and Market streets.

The fine old colonial home, which for 80 years has been the scene of unbounded hospitalities, was thronged with merry guests, and presented a most inviting appearance. The floral decorations in the spacious drawing-rooms were pink and white mums, interspersed with ferns, while in the dining-room yellow mums and ferns were used. Judge Hardy was toastmaster. The many beautiful presents included several handsome checks. Capt. and Mrs. Lumsden left on a honeymoon trip east. The going-away costume of the bride consisted of a navy velour suit, with grey squirrel collar and cuffs and panne velvet hat to match. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Lumsden will take up their residence in Toronto.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL LEAGUE REORGANIZED YESTERDAY AT Y. W.

Sixteen Teams To Enter This Year—Girls' Rules To Prevail.

At a meeting held yesterday afternoon at the King street Y.W.C.A. a girls' basketball league was formed for the 1920 to 1921 season, with Miss Hilda Keene as president, Miss Cecelia McTaggart as vice-president and Miss Helen d'Avignon as secretary-treasurer. This year each member entering the league will have to pay a fee to help run expenses of the league and all gate receipts will be pooled. After expenses have been paid, if there is any surplus, it will be divided among all the teams of the league.

One of the big moves of the newly organized league, is the substitution of girls' rules in basketball for boys' rules, which were the order last year. It is believed that the introduction of girls' rules in London will greatly improve the team play and please the doctors, who have considered boys' rules too strenuous for girls.

This year there will be at least sixteen teams entering the league, as there were sixteen teams represented at yesterday's meeting. Each team will be composed of nine players and three spares according to the new rules.

Owing to the pattern manufacturers increasing the price of patterns to us, all patterns advertised from this date will be 15 CENTS EACH.

A Chic and Attractive Costume.

Combining Blouse Pattern 3239, and Skirt Pattern 3220. The blouse is cut in six sizes, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. The skirt is cut in six sizes, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32 inches waist measure. A medium size will require 6⅝ yards of 38-inch material. The width of the skirt at its lower edge is about 1¾ yards. Figured voile and organdy are combined to make this pretty costume. The vest and skirt panel are embroidered in outline stitches. Frills of organdy form a soft and pretty finish.

This illustration calls for TWO separate patterns, which will be mailed to any address on receipt of 15 cents FOR EACH pattern in silver or stamps.

Name .....

Province .....

Age (if child's or misses' pattern).....

Measurement: Bust..... Waist.....

CAUTION: Be careful to inclose the above illustration, and send size of pattern wanted. When the pattern is bust measure, you need only mark 38, 44, or whatever it may be. When in waist measure, 22, 24, 26, or whatever it may be. If a skirt, give waist and length measure. When misses' or child's pattern, write only the figure representing the age. It is not necessary to write "inches" or "years." Patterns cannot reach you in less than one week from the date of application.

THE MARRIAGE OF ANNE

BY MAY CHRISTIE

(Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

XLV.—A Voice on the Phone.

A great city at night can be a dreary place.

I sat in my sixth-floor bedroom and reflected on that fact.

If only there was someone I could go to.

Neil Saunders? What of him?

He had given me his address. The Bachelors' Club. He had particularly asked me to let him know if I were in any difficulty. I could call him up on the telephone.

But pride forbade.

Besides—did I not owe him one thousand dollars—with little hope of paying it?

No, I mustn't turn again to Saunders. That would never do.

He might communicate with aunt. He would discover my whereabouts. I would be further humiliated, if that were possible.

Julie?

Nothing in the world would make me go to Julie. A false friend she'd been, right through.

And then I recollected that Julie had a small flat of her own, somewhere in this very neighborhood.

Neither aunt nor I had visited her there. As a matter of fact I don't think the smart Frenchwoman even occupied her flat for long. She was too fond of hanging on to rich friends. And her amusing qualities gave her the entree into many delightful homes, which entree perhaps a stricter inquiry into Julie's history might have forbidden.

Just for a second, I felt that it would pass the time if I could go and look Julie up!

"Anne, where's your pride, you idiot!" I stared at my reflection in the mirror, angrily.

But loneliness was on me. I couldn't stand this solitary state another minute.

So I descended to the lounge below. It was about nine o'clock.

One or two couples sat about the place. The lounge was rather badly lit.

I noticed three women in a corner. One of them had a chic air. They were talking confidentially, their heads close together. I couldn't see them properly.

Then the woman with the chic air turned.

And she was Julie!

I caught my breath. Julie—at this crisis!

What was she doing in this cheap hotel?

"My little Anne!" She had caught sight of me, and was on her feet in a twinkling. "Anne—all alone! What does it mean?"

I smiled bravely at her. Julie would see me with my colors flying.

"I'm in town for a day or two."

She flung out her hands with a small, expressive gesture.

"But never in a place like this! The Ritz, or the Savoy, or the Waldorf, maybe! But not here!"

Her tone was so full of real consternation that it almost touched me for a moment.

Also, Julie's presence brought back my luxurious past very strongly—that "past" that was removed from me by one single day!

"Little Anne! All alone! And so triste!" Her voice had compassion in it.

But I hardened toward her. It was policy to harden.

"Your good aunt? How is she?"

"Quite well, thanks." I was going to turn away, when Julie caught me by the elbow.

"Wait a minute, cherie. I tell my friends that I must leave them. For years and I must have a little talk."

She darted over to the two women in the corner, whispered something, waved her hands, and was back with me once more.

"You have your heart on. That is goodly. You must come with me to my little flat just round the corner. There we will have coffee and a nice, comfortable chat. No—I refuse to let you go." She caught me playfully by the arm.

There was nothing for it but to comply. Indeed, in my lonely condition, I would have welcomed the society of anyone. And after all, Julie's only sin had been flirtation with my Freddie. He was mine no longer. I detested him, I told myself.

Then why hold an old grudge against this volatile young woman?

"All right, I'll come."

Five minutes later we were entering her flat. It wasn't in a very savory neighborhood, I must admit.

And we had to climb endless stairs before we reached it. The building owned no elevator.

But, inside, the place was very cosy. Julie had taste.

Her "parlor" was a combined dining-room, drawing-room and boudoir. It was furnished rather simply, with few ornaments or knick-knacks. Old French prints were on the walls. The color scheme was in "vieux rose."

A choice lounge, immensely comfortable and much be-cushioned, occupied one side of the apartment. On either side of the fireplace was a deep arm-chair. A large work basket in one corner gave the place a domesticated sort of look. And a tall vase of roses on a little table in the window filled the air with perfume.

Beside the vase there stood a telephone.

Through a half-opened door which led into the parlor I could glimpse Julie's bedroom, the color scheme of which was also pink.

"Excuse me for a moment, cherie. I want to change my frock for a kimono. The night is warm." And Julie vanished.

Immediately after her departure the sharp ting-ting of the phone bell startled me.

Julie's pretty head came round the corner of the door.

"Please answer for me, Anne. And find out who desires to speak with me. Don't say I'm at home until you first tell me who is asking. Hurry!"

I crossed the floor, lifted the receiver off its hook, and said:

"Hello!"

A man's voice trickled across the wires:

"Is that you, Julie dear?"

And the blood rushed to my cheeks in angry waves. For the speaker on the telephone was none other than my faithless Fred!

Tomorrow: Fred's Voice.

SOME QUESTIONS WHICH METHODIST WOMEN WILL FACE

Survey Going On This Week Includes Hearing From Women.

The big survey of the Methodist Church, which commences in London this week, will include a hearing from women delegates, this hearing to take place on the afternoon and evening of November 4. Some of the interesting questions which will be asked the Methodist women are as follows:

1. What organizations are existing in our churches for women's and girls' work? What success is attending these organizations? How may they be improved? Is there overlapping?

2. What is the church doing for:

(a) Boardinghouse girls and women?

(b)—Domestics?

(c) Mothers and children of poorer families?

(c) Methodist girls in training in schools, hospitals, etc.?

(c) The non-English-speaking women and children?

3. Should the church establish homes and clubs where working girls could live reasonably and decently?

4. What further work should be undertaken by the church for the girls and women of the community, urban and rural?

Leadership.

5. What can be done to secure more leaders in our church?

6. What should the church do to remedy serious social conditions known to exist among the girls in our great cities?

7. What more should be done to secure suitable candidates for life service from among our young women?

8. What should be the relation of the church to the great health and child welfare movements?

9. What forms of service are the women undertaking in the church to take the place of the work done during the war?

10. Are we satisfied with the place given women in the church.

Needs of Church.

11. (a) What is the particular need of the Methodist Church in your city?

(b) What are some of the outstanding problems?

(c) How may the connexional departments of the church be of greater service?

(d) How may the educational institutions of Methodism be of greater service?

(e) What would you, as a woman, advise to make more effective the work of the church in your city and the work of the church throughout Canada?

(f) What do you consider the distinctive pulpit message of Methodism?

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Facts about your name; its history; its meaning; whence it was derived; its significance; your lucky day and lucky jewel.

CLAIRE.

Claire was originally a masculine name. Generally spelled Clare, it was first used in England to name a Norman family who came from one of the villages of St. Clair. "Red de Clare," stout Gloucester's earl, the foe of Henry III, was one of them.

The son of Red de Clare married into the House of Geraldin in Ireland and received from Edward I a grant of lands, now known as County Clare. His heiress carried the county to the De Burghs, and their heiress married Lionel, son of Edward III, thus making the county a dukedom and creating the title the Duke of Clarence.

The feminine form is said to have arisen in Italy as Chiara, and spread into France, where it was immediately changed into Claire. Though preferring the original Clare, the English accepted Claire, and it gained some vogue there, but in America it was adopted with enthusiasm and has undergone widespread usage.

LITTLE MISTER IMPORTANCE.
Part VI.

"Yes, I'm a show dog of no little renown," Rastus was telling the younger dogs of the kennel. He was up to his old tricks of showing how important he was, you see. "I have won a number of prizes, a great number of prizes!"

"Have you, indeed?" said the voice of old Baldy. Rastus' famous grandsire. "How strange we haven't heard of you before! How many points have you got?"

"Points?" asked Rastus. "Oh, you mean good points. Why, my good points are many."

"And your bad points are a great many more," old Baldy told him. "I don't mean that kind of points, however. I mean, how many points have you got towards your championship."

Oh," Rastus exclaimed, "I have not got any—yet."

"Oh ho! How many first prizes have you won?"

"No firsts—but a second and——"

"And to think you call yourself a show dog!" Baldy interrupted him. "I am surprised at you! Why, you won't be a real show dog until you have won a first prize—and you will never win a first prize until you go to school."

"To school!" cried Rastus and the other young dogs in surprise. "Must a dog go to school?"

"Why I thought it was only boys and girls who went to school," said Rastus.

"Well, that just shows how little you know of the world," old Baldy told him. "Of course, you must go to school—a dog school, where you learn to be a show dog. I went to school, and my son, your father, Prince Charley, went to school or he would never have been the famous champion he is."

"Oh, tell me about the school," Rastus pleaded.

"Yes, tell us," pleaded the other young dogs. "Oh, please tell us!"

"No; that would spoil it for you," Baldy said. "The fun in most things is when they come as a surprise." And with that the old dog walked away.

How Rastus wondered what school would be like. Perhaps there would be a cross teacher and a big ruler to hit his front paws, like there was in the school little boys and girls went to. How the other little dogs wondered about it, too.

"I think it's a place where we learn how to eat meat," volunteered Tiny Toodles, the youngest puppy in the kennel. Toddles had never had meat, and he was looking forward to the time when he was old enough to have his first meal of meat.

"No; a dog knows how to eat meat without going to school," spoke up Teddy, another of the young dogs. "I think it must be a place where we learn how to ride in automobiles." You see, Teddy's ambition was to be sold to a home where they had a motor car.

"No," declared Rastus; "it's a place where you learn how to act when you are at a show. I remember my master said I needed show manners."

We will see which little dog had guessed correctly.

To Be Continued.

TALKS ON HEALTH

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D., Noted Physician and Author.

Masked Lung Fever.

In elderly or feeble subjects, or in subjects of Bright's disease, or in alcoholic habitues, pneumonia may develop without the customary preliminary chill, without any noticeable fever, without any particular complaint of pain or distress on the part of the victim, but just an unwonted degree of weakness or prostration. Indeed it is a common terminal condition in various chronic diseases and in advanced age. Pneumonia in a drinker has too often been mistaken for delirium tremens, because the mental wandering or confusion may be the only symptom apparent to the casual observer, or even to the careless doctor summoned by the police. Pneumonia in infants often begins with a convulsion, instead of the mere chill commonly seen in the onset in adults; and when this convulsion of onset is followed after a day or two by stupor or coma (unconsciousness), as is often the case, a diagnosis of meningitis may be guessed at, unless the physician carefully examines the infant's lungs.

Physicians who are perhaps a trifle too enthusiastic about operating, sometimes rush a young patient to the operating-room for an appendicitis operation, only to discover at the last moment, or maybe right afterward, that the pain in the lower right side was really due to pneumonia in the lower right lobe.

The pain of pneumonia is not the soreness or rawness of the chest, which is commonly felt with various slight acute conditions in which there may be much coughing. There is no more likelihood of pneumonia occurring under such circumstances—unless the condition is deliberately aggravated by ill-advised doping with narcotic cough medicines—than in one who is perefctly well. The pain of pneumonia is a sharp, stabbing pain, increased by coughing and by each inspiration, in short, a pleurisy pain, for with lung fever (lobar pneumonia) there is invariably involvement of the lung covering (pleura) in the inflammatory process. It is this sharp pain which may be referred to the lower right side of the abdomen, particularly in children, and give rise to the suspicion of appendicitis; but examination of the lungs will settle the doubt in every instance.

To this day one sometimes sees people going about with the mouth carefully covered, lest they "take more cold." This is the height of ignorance, credulity and superstition.

The first and best insurance against possible pneumonia, in any acute illness which causes anxiety, is REST IN BED.

The next best preventive is BREATHING COLD FRESH AIR, on sleeping porch, in tent, or in room with windows always open.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Stammering.

What is the cause of stammering? Could blood poisoning be the cause of stammering? Is there any cure for stammering? (E. R.)

ANSWER—I do not know what you mean by blood poisoning. Send a stamped, addressed envelope for a system of self-treatment for stammering.

Home-Made Sulphur Water.

Could one make sulphur water at home like that obtained from sulphur springs? (A. S.)

ANSWER—Undoubtedly, yes. But why should one want to make it?

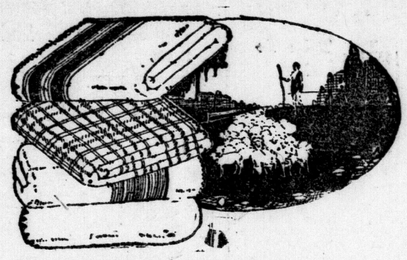

Cannibal Sandwiches.

Is it safe to use raw beef for sandwiches these days, or should the beef be seared a little to destroy any germs that might be in it? (M. W.)

ANSWER—Mere searing does not certainly destroy germs in meat. But it is rather parasites than disease germs which make raw beef inadvisable. Not all the meat that reaches the market is inspected. Tapeworm infection is a possibility which must be considered when you indulge in uncooked beef.

For she may, if she choose, have a heart of grace
Which is worth far more than the loveliest face.

Requests.

Dear Miss Grey,—Here comes someone else to bother you. Although we have taken your paper for years, and have enjoyed your page very much, this is my first letter to it. I must thank you for the dandy correspondent I got through you.

Would you please send mother the stocking-foot pattern? I would like to get any comic recitation you have, if I might. Wishing you, dear friend of everyone, and all the Boxites every success,

ALLEGRA.

P. S.—Inclosed find dime for the S. C. H.

Ans.—I am sorry there are no comic recitations in the Mail-Box just now, so I refer your request to the readers. I have mailed the stocking-foot pattern to you. Thanks for the hospital dime.

Dear Miss Grey,—This is my first peep into your happy cosy corner, and I hope I may be accepted. I would like that stocking-foot pattern so many ask for; it must be wonderful.

I don't want to detain you very long on my first call, but I would like to correspond with a girl of my own age, "Sweet Sixteen."

WITCH HAZEL.

Ans.—The S. F. P. has been forwarded to you.

Dear Miss Grey,—Here I am again, wanting some help. Will you please send me the stocking-foot pattern? Find inclosed a mite for hospital fund.

THE GYMNASIUM GIRL.

Ans.—The S. F. P. has been mailed Thanks for the hospital mite.

Dear Miss Grey,—I enjoy your page, and think you are doing good work for the sick children's hospital. Inclose mite for same. Would you oblige me by sending the much-sought stocking-foot pattern? Am sure it will be a great saving in helping to make stockings.

A FRIEND.

Ans.—Thanks for the hospital mite. The pattern has been forwarded to you.

The Stocking-Foot Pattern.

Dear Miss Cynthia,—To keep a degree of self-respect one must send along a bit for that most necessary S. C. H. but don't send S. F. P., as I have never seen an answer to Ex-Schoolmistress' query as to material of which to make the feet, then should like to know what to sew them to; in the meantime will go on patching, etc., which can be done quite satisfactorily while stockings are still quite good. Before the milk has gone from milkweed, will everybody afflicted with warts make one application of milk to each wart, and next day report results. Would like a packet of cosmos seed if I am not too late, also a pretty pattern for crochet pillowslip lace; also of tea apron. Will return patterns. Appreciating in common with all the Boxites the wisdom and admirable tact of our worthy president, but wondering that there never yet has flashed into the Mail-Box a FIRE-FLY.

Ans.—The stocking-foot pattern is used in footing stockings where the feet are gone too far to be mended. The feet are cut off and new ones may be cut by the aid of the pattern, out of old stocking legs. When the new feet are made they are sewn on where the old ones were cut off. These are the only directions I can give you, but possibly some of the readers who are using it continually could offer some suggestions. Thanks for the bit, and the cosmos have been mailed to you. I am sorry the patterns you asked for are not in the Mail-Box. Your offer of sweet pea seeds is very acceptable, Fire-Fly.

Raisin and Peel Cake.

Dear Miss Grey,—I wonder if you or any of the Boxites have an old Christmas song entitled "Hang Up the Baby's Stocking." Would be so pleased to get song and music. Kindly let me know through your column if you can get it. Am sending a recipe for raisin and peel cake: One cup raisins, 5c lemon peel, 5c orange peel (put raisins and peel through grinder), 1 level teaspoon soda, 1 cup boiling water, then take another dish and put in 1 cup brown sugar, 2 eggs, 1 good half cup butter, beat till it creams, add 10c walnuts, 2 cups flour (level), 1 teaspoon baking powder, stir the first part into this, blend well, and bake in layers, and put in dressing made of 1 box dates, 1 cup brown sugar between layers and on top of cake, whip cream and put on top of cake over dates. This is delicious.

Ans.—Your request for the recitation is referred to the Boxites. Thank you for the cake recipe, Lois.

Had Curious Feelings.

Dear Miss Grey,—Please send me a package of cosmos seeds. Find dime inclosed for them. I had my tonsils out on Friday in St. Joseph's Hospital, and yesterday was the first day I went back to school, and then it was only in the afternoon. I had some curious feelings when I took the ether. I don't like ether; it makes me sick. I had adenoids, too, but they weren't bad. The best wishes for a nice Halloween.

BOOKWORM.

Ans.—I am sorry I can't send you the seeds until you give me your name and address, Bookworm. I am glad you have recovered from your operation, and thanks for the hospital dime. I guess you will be able to sympathize with the little sick children whom we are all trying so hard to help.

THE GROUP SYSTEM.

"Yes, I do a great deal of work without weariness," said a happy-faced friend of mine, who is a busy mother, and yet does much public service, but I can manage it only by using the group system."

The idea of the group system, as I learned from further conversation with her, is to have the necessary material and utensils for tasks so grouped as to be able to carry on the work with the least possible loss of time and energy.

This friend, for instance, showed me her baby's bath table. It had three stories, the top being the table proper, and the two lower ones screened by dainty muslin curtains. On the second shelf were arranged neatly the baby's clothes in daily use, and all the little things daily used in his care—soap, powder, pins, thread and needles; in fact, everything a well-kept baby could need. The lowest shelf held his bath tub. The top of the table was finished in white enamel and the whole thing rested on rubber-faced castors, and could be wheeled as easily and quietly as a dinner wagon.

My friend had a daintily-lined clothes basket, which was the baby's first bed, and when the baby was bathed, his tub washed and put away, this basket stood on the table, and the baby lay in it, safe from draughts and easily moved from room to room.

She took me to the other rooms in the house to explain what she meant by the group system in them. In the kitchen was the cabinet where flour, meal, sugar, salt and spices were all at hand, with the utensils needed in cooking. Perishable foods, milk, eggs, fruit, meat, and the like were kept cold at no great distance, in a window cupboard during nine months of the year, in an ice-chest during extreme heat.

The group system is carefully studied and applied in business and manufacturing plants; and the wise woman is she who learns from every possible source how to conserve her strength.

Western U Squad Have Gruelling Week Ahead Before Meeting Varsity

Had Signal Practice in Armories Last Night, But Take To Field This Afternoon—Dyer Back and Couple of New Men Turn Up.

The Western U. squad got out on the armories floor last night and put in an hour's stiff signal practice. The old numbers have been switched around some, and the players have all proceeded to lose their code books.

A couple of new men were out last night and will be given a thorough workout at the first of the grid practices to be staged at 4:15 this afternoon at Tecumseh Park. Thirty men will be out at the first bark this afternoon, and probably some more on top of that. Rain, snow, shine or gloom, Coach Brock is going to have the whole outfit out for the next three afternoons.

The chances are that Saturday may deliver some slushy going; if so, it will be equal weight against equal weight, and ill-luck for the men with the shortest cleats. A dry field is hoped for by the Western crew, as they demonstrated in Toronto that they could not only hold Varsity, but with Traynor's punting, had more speed.

If the ground is heavy there'll be more chance for flukes, and the game is too important to be decided on wet hands and a slippery oval. Western hasn't been playing in the breaks that way this season, and that is why the locals want a dry field, even if they have to outfit themselves with prayer rugs to get what they want.

Dyer was out last night and will be in this afternoon's go against the scrubs. He will bolster up the line, which St. Mikes found it easy in spots in break through, and give it a lot of confidence against any time-plunging the Varsity may inject into the proceedings.

Off the Ropes and Mittin' 'Em

Dempsey's match with K. O. Bill Brennan of New York will be the champion's only battle before he steps into the ring with Carpentier—whenever that happens—though there are numerous hopes clamoring for a fight. Georges will probably stay strictly away from bouts, as it's too dangerous a pastime with a number of men around whom the critics say might hand the Frenchman a lucky punch that might spread out his chances of meeting Dempsey long after July 1.

Tex Rickard's record in promotion has shown that he has based his calculations on profit and loss at about one-third to the fighters and two-thirds for Tex himself and incidentals. If this fight costs $500,000, then the promoters will have to get a cool million and a half golden eagles in sight. The purses for the big fights of late years follow:

Georges Carpentier's latest book has this to say of Bombardier Wells, England's most popular fighting man, whom Georges has knocked out twice:

"Since that night (when Wells was knocked out at the N. S. C.) I always regarded Wells as one of the most pathetic figures in the ring. Charming, graceful, softly-spoken, a man with generous instincts, a magnificent boxer—all this Wells is, but he cannot fight. Physically, he is built for the fighting game; temperamentally, he is wholly unsuited for it. He is perhaps the most uncertain champion ever known. Few, if any, boxers have made such woeful failures; and, in point of popularity, he is second to none.

* * * *

Berkely of the London Mail isn't much impressed with what he has pieced together about Dempsey. He says:

"What have the hosts of Wells' worshippers to say to this? Has Carpentier at last knocked out their idol beyond recovery? This should still be not the least interesting problem of the coming boxing season.

This is what Berkley thinks of Dempsey:

"I have learned nothing from the American newspaper accounts of the Miske-Dempsey fight beyond that the champion is adjudged to be a 'man-eater,' a tornado, a terror, and so on.

"All that may be, but the two photographs of the contest which I have seen do not add anything to my respect for Dempsey's boxing powers. In both he is slogging at his man without a guard or a pretense of a guard. Of course, Miske may have been practically helpless at the moments these blows were delivered, but he certainly does not look as if he were.

"I have many suspicions about Dempsey, and the strongest of them is that he is not a boxer in the sense that Carpentier is a boxer. Dempsey, since he won the championship from the mountain of flesh, Willard, has never been hit as I'm sure Carpentier could and would hit him. For that reason it will be good to see them in the ring together."

* * * *

A Spaniard named Sanchez, fighting down around the Panama Canal zone, has been rather persistent in his attempts to get a match with the champion. Harry Schuster, a Cincinnatian, recently returned, apparently thinks that Mr. Sanchez would do well to stay right down in the canal zone.

"The Spaniard is a big fellow," says Schuster, "weighing, I should judge, about 220 pounds, but he does not know the game well enough to beat a man like Dempsey. He is strong, too, and hits well, but the odds would be 5 to 1 on the champion."

It would be far better to let Dempsey remain idle than to match him with boxers with no reputation, like Sanchez. Outside of Georges Carpentier, who has a possible chance to win the championship, there is not a man in Dempsey's class at the present time who would give the title-holder a hard fight.

Frank Moran and Joe Beckett's long-deferred clash is coming this month in London. Moran landed last week, and is getting right into training. Beckett's sprained wrist postponed the fight last time, but this time the Briton is ready for the ginger-haired punishment-absorber. If old slugging Frank should slip over his generally recognized but usually telegraphed haymaker, it would take some of the brilliance off Carpentier's one-round victory over the Englishman.

Ted (Kid) Lewis is giving Johnny Basham another chance at the welter title of Europe this month. Basham didn't look any too good the last time, but he has still a lot of backers who think he can put Lewis away when he is in form.

MOTORBOAT RACES TO BE HELD OFF N. Y. IN SEPTEMBER NEXT YEAR

New York, Nov. 2.—Dates for the 1921 international motorboat race for the Harmsworth trophy, emblematic of the speed-boat championship of the world, were announced yesterday by the racing commission of the American Power Boat Association. The cup, won last August off the Isle of Wight by the Miss America, owned by G. A. Wood of Detroit, will be defended September 3, 5 and 6, probably in the vicinity of New York. Challenges are expected from Great Britain and France.

The gold cup races and the one-mile event for the United States speed-boat title will be decided at Detroit August 27, 29 and 30. The annual Canadian motorboat regatta at Toronto will be held September 5, 6 and 7.

ASTHMA CURED TO STAY CURED
Thousands Testify to the Lasting Benefit Secured From CATARRHOZONE
CURES WITHOUT DRUGS

One of the finest discoveries in medicine was given to the public when "Catarrhozone" was placed on the market about fifteen years ago. Since then thousands have been cured of asthma and catarrh. An interesting case is reported from Calgary in a letter from Creighton E. Thompson, who says:

"Nothing too strong can be said for Catarrhozone. I suffered four years from asthma in a way that would beggar description. I went through everything that man could suffer. I was told of Catarrhozone by a clerk in Findlay's drug store and purchased a dollar package. It was worth hundreds to me in a week, and I place a priceless value on the benefit I have since derived. I strongly urge every sufferer to use Catarrhozone for Asthma, Bronchitis and Catarrh."

The one-dollar package lasts two months; small size, 50c; sample size, 25c; all storekeepers and druggists, or the Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Canada.

Dempsey and Georges in Desperate Barehanded Fight—On Golf Links

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Jack Dempsey and his rival for the world's heavyweight championship, Georges Carpentier, have had their first battle. It wasn't in a ring, and they didn't wear gloves. They went at it barefisted in a field with clubs.

Neither one is a star golf player, but their appearance on the links of a country club yesterday drew almost as big a gallery as Ray or Vardon could have brought out.

It was a no-decision battle. They didn't keep score, not having sufficient paper on hand. Golf critics admitted that as golf players they were both expert fighters. With "control," however, some hope was extended for their future. Dempsey walloped an even dozen balls into a far away woods and Carpentier lost ten.

The conversation of the two champions cannot be given in words. Dempsey speaks no more French than Carpentier speaks English. The dialogue was all a matter of the sign language. However, Dempsey knew enough to say "bon" when Georges made a terrible shot, and Carpentier gave him back "zat ees fine," when the champion rooted up the turf like a steam shovel.

Cup Tie Champions and Pats To Get Medals Wed.

Presentation Hurried Up Owing To Departure of Pats From London.

At a meeting to be held at the Hotel Richmond Wednesday evening the City League officials will present the Cup Tie medals to the champion Public Utilities eleven and to the Pats, runners-up.

The early departure of the Pats made it necessary that the presentation be hurried up, and this has been done with a vengeance.

The medals are being given by the City League and are well worth the winning, aside from the achievement they stand for.

Soccerites as a whole deeply regret the removal of the Pats from London, as their display of sportsmanship throughout the City League season and the Cup Tie series had much to do with keeping soccer up to the high standard it attained this year.

HIT-AND-MISS GAMES AT Y PROVE BIG ATTRACTION

The hit and miss basketball games at the Y. every Monday night are causing a lot of excitement. The second games were played last night, and both fixtures provided good basketball. The winning teams were: S. Harris, Bridge, Parkinson, Smith, Edmunds and Lightfoot, Snowden, Logan and Robinson.

PRICE-CUTTING WAVE STRIKES TILLSONBURG

Sugar Sold at 14¾ Cents a Pound on Saturday.

TILLSONBURG, Nov. 1.—A price-cutting wave assumed big proportions here Saturday, when one local merchant started selling sugar at 15 cents per pound, and to meet the competition other merchants dropped prices to 14¾ cents, and needless to say, all of them were greeted with tremendous business. The merchant who started the price-slashing stated to The Advertiser representative that he was selling this sugar at 15 cents and making a profit.

An indication of the proportions the price-cutting assumed may be had from the following prices:

Sunlight soap, two cakes for 15 cents.
Lux, 10 cents per package.
Palmolive soap, three cakes for 25 cents.

Pork and beans, three cans for 25 cents, and several other articles too numerous to mention.

The price-cutting move started with the slashing of milk prices.

Bootleggers Busy.

Bootlegging in Tillsonburg is being carried on with great impunity and with no great effort at secrecy. The ringleader known to be implicated was fined for the offence a few months ago, but the punishment does not appear to have been heavy enough to have served the desired purpose. Local newspapers are asking that an investigation be started by the proper authorities, and it is rumored on good authority that the crown attorney will be appealed to directly if local conditions fail to improve.

Bootleggers have openly made some serious allegations as to being immune from arrest, which will be investigated at the earliest possible moment.

Interest in Election.

Intense interest locally is being taken in the East Elgin by-elections, and several are attending the meetings of all the candidates. A feeling of optimism prevails among Bayham farmers, where W. G. Charlton turned a Conservative majority in 1917 of 200 to a Liberal majority of two, and these same farmers are not enthusiastic about supporting the U. F. O. candidate. Side bets are reported as being freely made at two to one and three to one that W. G. Charlton will head the polls by a substantial majority.

BLAMES FAILURE OF POLISH INVASION ON FAULTY LEADERSHIP

Geneva, Nov. 1.—Nikolai Lenine, the Russian premier, has written from Moscow to a close friend, a Russian professor named Lutinlow, who is now recuperating here, that the Bolshevist invasion of Poland failed owing to bad military leadership. The Red army is composed of loyal fighters but the chiefs were not up to their jobs, says Lenine. He dwells with great hope on the propaganda of Enver Pasha in Afghanistan and Beluchistan, adding that India sooner or later will adopt Bolshevist rule.

NEW BANK BUILDING TO BE ERECTED IN GALT

GALT, Nov. 1.—The plans for the new Royal Bank building have been received in the city and provide for a building the full width of the old Central Hotel, which has been razed, with the front of tapestry brick and Indiana limestone. It is expected tenders will be called for immediately and work started this fall.

Building activities for the year have practically ceased and in October only eight permits with a value of $4,000 were taken out, making the total to date 102 permits, value $291,760, a decrease compared with last year.

Another large increase in the customs returns for October was reported today by collector Thos. Frek, his returns were as follows, October 1920, $51,863.22; October 1919, $41,530.41. Increase $10,332.81.

YANK BOAT QUEEN OF N. ATLANTIC

Delawana Ran Away From Yankee in Light Airs, But Lost Near Finish in Stiff Breeze After Leading All the Race.

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 1.—Esperanto, of Gloucester, Captain Marty Welsh of Digby, N. S., today won the concluding race of the first series of contests for the blue ribbon of the fishing fleets of the North Atlantic.

Unlike Saturday's race, today's contest was a nip and tuck contest throughout, with the Canadian in the lead most of the way around. Delawana ran away from Esperanto in the light airs, but proved inferior when the wind freshened.

At 2:35 Delawana looked to be three lengths in the lead. Esperanto hauled in sheets a trifle, trying to get to windward of the Canadian. At 3 o'clock, half a mile from the finish, Esperanto was half a length ahead.

At 3:22 Delawana doused staysail and foretopsail and came about on port tack, heading toward's Devil's Island. Welsh prepared to do the same. He had trouble, however, with his staysail, and lost half a minute of his lead in coming about. By 3:29, however, the American was increasing her lead.

Delawana Round First.

At 3:40 Delawana, half a mile south of Thrumcap buoy, came about and headed for the finish-line. A minute later Marty also came about. The wind freshened and boats heeled well over to it.

At 3:50 Esperanto appeared to be headed by the wind, and fell off considerably. Delawana still holding easterly slantwise, pointing higher and higher and her admirers said she kept that slant she still had a chance. It was noted, however, that Esperanto seemed to be footing faster.

At 3:51 Delawana lost her slant, and both boats were headed for York Redoubt, which means that they could not make the finish line.

At 3:58 Esperanto appeared to be half a mile ahead and less than three miles from the finish line. Both schooners were on starboard tack and headed for inside of Sandwich Point.

Esperanto crossed the lined at 4:34:30 and Delawana at 4:41:45, official time.

MONTREAL, Nov. 1.—Plans are definitely on foot to restore Montreal to a place in the International Baseball League, Roger Bresnahan, former big league star and later associated with the Toledo team of the American Association, is in Montreal on bshalf of the project and will meet local sportsmen, who, it is thought, might become interested. Jean Dubuc of Montreal, who made a success as manager of the Toledo team this last season, is interested in the project, and it was stated that he would be manager if the team materializes.

POSTPONED TILLSONBURG RACES ON FOR TODAY

TILSONBURG, Nov. 1.—The final race meet of the present season will be held at the local track tomorrow if the weather is at all favorable. The entry list is very large including such splendid horses as Billy Bishop, Theda Bara, Hal Albe, Uriko, Golden Limit Mary H. and several others. The attendance is expected to be a record one.

INJURED GALT MAN HAS FRACTURE RESET

GALT, Nov. 1.—Jim Philip, of the G. C. I. rugby team, who had his shouder-bone broken in a game at Brantford on October 23, will have to have the fracture reset.

With the Trotters and Pacers

Frank S. Cook in the Detroit Free Press says:

In the first meeting of the season at Dexter Park there appeared a racy-looking grey gelding named Grayworthy. He had a lot of trot and took the first heat in the 2:18 class, then he was beaten by Doris Watts. Next week at Mt. Clemens he was back a bit and distanced next time. His debut was anything but a success. They said he had more speed than brains and let it go at that.

But Cliff Todd, the Ohio trainer, who brought Grayworthy up here, was not content. He did not regard this as a fair sample of the raw gelding's merchandise, so he stuck to him, for Grayworthy had won the Governor's cup at Columbus in his three-year-old form in 1919, taking a record of 2:18 1-4, and showing that it was in him. Midsummer Grayworthy found himself, proceeded to win six races and defeated such trotters as Arion McKinney and Golden Spier.

From Nothing to $15,000.

Nobody would have given much for Grayworthy when he was beyond the red flag at Mt. Clemens, but the later fame of the horse areas to the east. Sanford Small of Boston, who has owned a lot of good ones—he sold Peter Scott to Murphy at Kalamazoo for $30,000—heard about the grey gelding and told Walter Cox to take a look and if satisfied, write a check.

Cox sampled Grayworthy one day at Columbus in a rather slow mile, but when he dismounted he paid $15,000 for the gelding. Then at Lexington he set Grayworthy down for a good mile against the watch. It was in 2:06, but the dominant part of it was the last half in 1:01¼ and the last quarter in :29¾.

"Doc" Tanner was watching and jumped up with a shout, for he observed that all the real speed came in the last sixteenth, for the gelding was fairly flying when he passed the timers. Cox offered to bet that he could drive him in 2:04 in 25 minutes.

Family of Doris Watts.

Pluto Watts has been purchased by Roland Harriman, of the Arden Farms, for next year's Kentucky futurity. None of this year's two-year-olds has attracted more attention on the part of breeders than this chap. He is a colt of wonderful capacity, for he has trotted in 2:15, later in 2:12½, then in 2:10¾ after which John Dickerson sent him for a record. In this flight he stepped every quarter in :32, the mile in 2:08.

The illuminating feature of the performance is fact that he is one of a rare family. By Gen. Watts he is out of Rose Bingen, also the dam of the Detroit trotter, Doris Watts, 2:09¾, King Watts, 2:05, and a number of others. This has been a wonderful nick, as the horsemen say, and about all of Rose Bingen's foals by the son of Axworthy have been trotters.

Doris Watts has been racing for some years, mostly on the half-mile tracks, and has given a good account of herself on many occasions. According to her owner, George W. Slaughter, she has been in her last race. Early in the coming season she will be mated with Czar Peter and the resultant foal has every right to be one of the best in the history of Michigan.

The finish of the season shows rather plainly that Harry Hoffman did a very good job of training, although on account of an accident at Kalamazoo, he was denied the honor of piloting his charges to the front after they were all set.

Starting with four horses, he has the satisfaction of knowing that Patrick Todd, recordless on June 1, won 7 out of 13 races, four in the Grand Circuit and never was worse than third. This four-year-old wound up with a record of 2:07¾, and appears to have license to race in the stake next year.

Dillan Brook took a record of 2:08¾ and the green pacer, Mr. Jefferson, whose purchase Hoffman advised in 1919, carries a tab of 2:05¼. The other member of the stable, E. J. L., has a half-mile mark of 2:12¼ and worked a mile at Lexington in 2:05½.

Hoffman will winter at Mt. Clemens and assemble a stable for the ice meeting. He has room for a couple more good ones in his barn, and there is no question but he will fill them well.

Foreign Buyers Are Busy.

Holland is coming to the front as a foreign market, men from there picking up a lot of good stuff this fall. The rugged old stallion, Heir Reaper, 2:04¾, Tootsie Toise, 2:04¼, Miriam Guy, 2:06¼, and 20 brood mares soon will be on their way to Rotterdam. It is likely that the racing material will take part in the events in Italy, where the sport is very prosperous, and others will go to building up the breeding farms.

One yearling trotter loomed up this year, Collateral, by Peter Volo, did the trick in 2:13¾, lowering the record of his sire half a second. Before that the baby trotted in 2:20½ and 2:19¼, the three fastest miles ever stepped by any yearling. Young Charley Dean piloted the colt.

BUILDING RECORD IS MADE IN SARNIA

Figures of 1919 Exceeded by $20,320 On October 31.

SARNIA, Nov. 1.—The building record to date this year exceeds the record for the entire twelve months of 1919 by $20,320.25, according to the permit register of City Building Inspector Harry Walton, which shows that 104 more permits have been issued to the end of October than during the entire year 1919. Comparative figures are as follows: 1919 total, 424 permits, estimated value $641,956.75; 1920 total to October 31, 526 permits, estimated value $662,277.

To Close Inquest.

Court officials stated today that they expect Friday night will see the completion of the inquest into the death of William Walton. Misses Roxie Milligan and Ivy Shilling will, it is expected, give evidence which will enable the jury to render their verdict. This case has been delayed for a number of weeks, and at the last hearing considerable criticism was heard when the principal witnesses failed to appear. Miss Roxie Milligan is reported to be rapidly recovering from her injuries and the shock she received when the car in which she was driving crashed into a Grand Trunk freight train at the South Christina street crossing, with the result that Walton died from his injuries at the General Hospital a few days later.

EMBRO

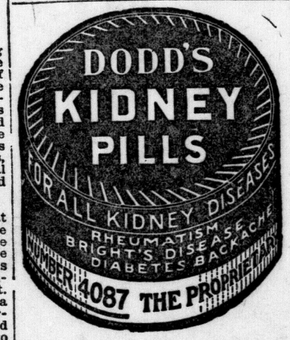

EMBRO, Nov. 1.—Mr. and Mrs. Lockwood and child, of Thamesford, moved to the village on Thursday.

The members of the Women's Institute who went to the convention in London on Tuesday, report the meetings as being very interesting and instructive.

The auction sale of Mr. Young's, which was held on Thursday, was largely attended. Prices were good and cows went from $90 to $137, horses $50 to $191, hens $2.05 to $2.40 each, hay at $19 a ton, oats 64c a bushel, good dry wood $5.60 a cord. The sale came to a little over $6,000.

Sugar has taken a drop, is selling here at 20c a pound.

The dance held in the town hall last night was a great success. Pascoe's orchestra furnished the music. There is to be another dance on Friday night November 12.

EAST SENDS OUT BEST 2-YEAR-OLDS FOR CHURCHILL DOWNS

All Big Stables Have Made Nominations For Meet Closing Kentucky Season.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 1.—The east will send out its best 2-year-olds for the inaugural running of the Kentucky Jockey Club stakes, a race of one mile with a value of about $35,000 that will be one of the features of the Kentucky Jockey Clubs impending meeting at Churchill Downs. The Churchill Downs meeting will wind up Kentucky's racing season. It will take up the better part of the first fortnight of November. Prominent among the eastern nominators in the Kentucky Jockey Club stakes are Harry Payne Whitney, Samuel C. Hildreth, Commander J. K. L. Ross, Gifford A. Cochran, J. Edwin Griffith, Willis Sharpe Kilmer, George W. Loft, A. K. Macomber, W. R. Coe, H. K. Knapp, John E. Madden, Samuel D. Riddle, J. H. Rosseter, James F. Johnson, Mrs. Louise Vlau, Joseph E. Widener, Larry Waterbury, Arnold Rothstein, Walter M. Jeffords. Mrs. Walter M. Jeffords, Mrs. Payne Whitney and James W. McClelland.

The youngsters these sportsmen and sportswomen have named to start in the first running of a race that is destined to great popularity and wide influence for good in racing because its annual renewals in November will be a powerful incentive to horsemen to curtail the early racing of 2-year-olds, were the winners in the east of most of the 2-year-old stakes that have been worth while. Foremost in distinction among the Kentucky Jockey Club eligibles is Tryster, the son of Peter Pan and Tryst, which won the Keene Memorial and Juvenile at Belmont Park in May, the Youthful at Jamaica in June, and the Saratoga Special at Saratoga in August. Tryster has not been beaten so far this season. He is training satisfactorily at Laurel Park, and it is likely that he will come to Churchill Downs with Prudery, winner of the Roseda, Fashion and Grand Union Hotel Stakes. Two other formidable Whitney eligibles are Ararat and Exodus.

One Whitney Entry.

Mrs. Payne Whitney's single nomination is Touch Me Not, the son of Celt and Dainty Dame that won the Great American at Aqueduct in July, and Mrs. Louise Viaus is Ten Eyck, the daughter of Celt and Tuscan, and sister of Embroidery, Paddy Whack, Workmaid, etc., that has been winning stakes right along this fall. Ten Lec is now at the top of her form.

Commander Ross, after Mr. Whitney, has the biggest lot of Kentucky Jockey Club stake eligibles, his best known being Star Voter, winner at Latonia in July of the Cincinnati Trophy; Hildur, winner at Belmont Park in September of the Nursery Handicap, and Sun Turret. Sun Turret is a strapping son of Sunstar and Marian Hood, for which the Canadian turfman paid $25,000 last season. Sun Turret has only recently come to the races, but he has been showing encouraging form at Laurel Park.

It does not seem probable now that Samuel C. Hildreth will be able to get his $150,000 Friar Rock colt Inchcape to the post again this season. Inchcape fell lame at Saratoga shortly after he came into Hildreth's possession, and he has not so far been a profitable investment. But Hildreth has a distance-running youngster of rare merit in Grey Lag, winner at Belmont Park of the Champagne stakes, Max Hirsch, the purchaser and developer of On Watch, bought and developed Grey Lag and sold him to Hildreth for $50,000. Grey Lag is in fine form.

Montalve, another son of Friar Rock which is said to have been a faster youngster than Inchape when both he and Inchcape were in the stable of J. H. Rosseter of California, their breeder, will be Mr. Rosseter's starter. He has recently won at Laurel Park. Montalve is one of the youngsters by Friar Rock, which is making a name handsomely at Mr. Rosseter's Wikiup stud, that was named last winter for the British Derby of 1921. It is possible that Montalve may show in the running of the Jockey Club stakes that he is worthy to voyage across the Atlantic to try his luck next season in the world's most famous horserace. He is good to look at as well as fast.

Samuel D. Riddle's eligible is Brigadier General, a gigantic son of Light Brigade, which began his career in the Quincy stable and for which Mr. Riddle paid $35,000 while the horses were at Jamaica in June. Brigadier General probably is the biggest 2-year-old on the continent, and he is gifted with a fine turn of speed. The Quincy stable's best eligible, perhaps, is Playfellow, a big son of Fair Play and Mahubah, which has the distinction of being an own brother of Man o' War, but which does not appear to have any of Man o' War's brilliant speed.

There are all told 110 youngsters still eligible to start in the Kentucky Jockey Club stakes, which closed a year ago last July. Very likely ten or a dozen of these youngsters will nose the barrier. The starting fee is $250.

LARGE ENDOWMENT.

BERLIN, Nov. 1.—The mayor of Frankfurt has announced that an endowment of 1,500,000 marks has been made to the Frankfurt University, by James Speyer, a New York banker, in memory of his deceased sister, Mrs. Eduard Beit Von Speyer.

City League Basketball Starts Thursday Night With Four Teams

Series Ends December 9—Many of Veterans Back in Game Again This Year and Much New Talent.

Thursday night the opening games in the city basketball series will start, all four teams getting on display in two fixtures. Last year the City League developed a lot of new talent, by distributing fairly numerous veterans of the game amongst the teams in the circuit. This year some of the vets have dropped out or have drifted into the fold of the Skeeters, who, with the Leafs, Pirates and Tigers, make up the league.

Skeeters meet the Leafs and Pirates the Tigers for the openers on Thursday night, and some bang-up basketball may be expected right from the start this season.

The Leafs will be without the services of Cline, McGeoch and Simpson for the opening game, as they are being kept out for the Western U.-Varsity clash Saturday.

The schedule, which has been drawn up, ends on December 9. The second series will start after the holidays.

The teams and schedule follow:

Skeeters—A. T. Taylor, M. Brock, W. Gough, E. Campbell, W. Davidson, S. Harris, S. David.

Leafs—G. Henderson, C. A. Cline, J. McGeoch, M. Simpson, N. McCrimmon, J. Smith, G. Young, G. Morris, N. Kinsman, W. Richardson.

Pirates—W. Stephens, H. Gillies, A. Jackson, J. Tanton, P. Johnston, L. Detwiler, D. Walker, T. Thomas, J. Lightfoot.

Tigers—R. Burridge, A. Gillies, C. Douglas, V. Callaghan, L. Callaghan, A. Bennett, J. White, H. Logan, A. Talbot.

Schedule.

November 4—Skeeters vs. Leafs.
November 4—Pirates vs. Tigers.
November 11—Leafs vs. Pirates.
November 11—Skeeters vs. Tigers.
November 18—Leafs vs. Tigers.
November 18—Skeeters vs. Pirates.
November 25—Tigers vs. Pirates.
November 25—Skeeters vs. Leafs.
December 2—Tigers vs. Skeeters.
December 2—Leafs vs. Pirates.
December 9—Pirates vs. Skeeters.
December 9—Leafs vs. Tigers.

First game called at 6:15 prompt and finish at 6:55. Second game called at 7 p.m. and finish at 7:40. Games to be two 15-minute periods.

COMMANDER ROSS IS SEEKING TRANSFER OF SYRACUSE FRANCHISE

Syracuse, Nov. 2.—It became known here last night that Commander Ross of Montreal is back of a campaign to transfer the Syracuse franchise in the new International League to Montreal.

Commander Ross is said to be negotiating with Ernest Landraf, owner of the Syracuse franchise, and an early decision is looked for.

BILL FRIEND LEAVES CITY FOR SARNIA POSITION

Billy Friend, well-known soccer and rugby enthusiast, is leaving the city shortly to take up a position at Sarnia with the Imperial Oil Company. After his return from overseas Bill immediately took up sport where he had left off and played on the London O.R.F.U. team last fall. This spring when the City Soccer League was formed he formed the Army and Navy Vets team, and kept them intact until the end of the season. During the Cup Tie series he took over the managership of the First W. O. R. and put a team on the field which gave Grand Trunks a good battle. Friend will be a distinct acquisition to Sarnia sport circles.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES.

ESSEX, Nov. 1.—The anniversary services at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church were very successful. Yesterday Rev. W. A. Montieth of Windsor preached two excellent sermons to large congregations, while the choir, assisted by Mr. Lee of Windsor, rendered appropriate music.

This evening a Halloween social was held in the church school room, a good program of games, followed by lunch, was much enjoyed by a large crowd.

Rev. W. A. Montieth and Mrs. Montieth were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McDonald over the week-end.

DELAWARE GIRLS WIN.

MELBOURNE, Nov. 1.—The girls' basketball team of the Delaware Continuation School visited the continuation school here on Thursday and had a friendly game, Delaware winning 11 to 9. A return game was to have been played at Delaware on Friday, but owing to the weather the game was postponed.

TAKES PAIN OUT OF RHEUMATISM

Keep Sloan's Handy for Backache Strains and Sprains, Too.

SLOAN'S Liniment has been sold for 33 years. Today, it is more popular than ever. There can be but one answer—Sloan's produces results.

Applied without rubbing, it penetrates to the afflicted part, bringing relief from rheumatic twinges, sciatica; sore, stiff, strained muscles; backaches, sprains, and other external pains, often the result of exposure. It leaves no mussiness, skin stain or clogged pores.

HAMILTON MAN FALLS HEIR TO FORTUNE

HAMILTON, Nov. 1.—R. A. MacDonald, employed here as a jam maker by the Standard Cocoanut Mills, has fallen heir to $276,000, left him by an uncle in Springfield, Illinois. Mr. MacDonald came here three months ago from Winnipeg. When asked what it felt like to inherit so much money, Mr. MacDonald said it was like walking on air.

It's Our Biggest Year!

CONSTRUCTION work, the world over, has been greatly hampered by scarcity of materia'. Especially is this true of materia for telephone construction.

And yet in spite of this world-wide shortage of supplies and, until a few months ago, of skilled labor, we have accomplished more so far this year than in any equal period of our history.

Installers have handled more than 120,000 telephones—77,000 put in and 43,000 taken out.

Two thousand miles of new long distance circuit have been put up.

Nearly 500 miles of circuit to serve farming communities have been built, requiring 160 miles of pole line.

New buildings have been erected, new conduits laid, repairs, replacements and general upkeep of a vast system attended to.

We are behind our orders in some places, we know. But with the facilities available we have never worked harder to meet the full demand.

And with this never-ending process of extending, making over, replacing, repairing, we are doing our utmost to raise your service to the highest point of efficiency and usefulness.

The more you know about the Telephone the better it will serve you

BODY OF ST. THOMAS MAN IS RECOVERED AT FORT WILLIAM

Remains of Stanley Wintermute, Drowning Victim, Removed From River.

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., Nov. 1.—At 10 o'clock this morning the body of Ald. D. A. Gordon, who was drowned last night, when his launch fouled a hand scow in the Mission River, was recovered. Early this afternoon the body of the other victim, Stanley Wintermute of St. Thomas, Ont., was found by the police.

Roy Wintermute, brother of Stanley, and his wife were also in the launch, and the force of the collision threw all four into the water. Roy Wintermute grasped a cable and kept his wife afloat by clasping his legs around her body, and they were hauled aboard the scow.

AUTO PARTY COLLIDE WITH STREET CAR

[Special To The Advertiser.[

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 1.—Three young men and a lady friend, all masked, drove down Talbot street in an auto late tonight and collided with a street car. They were thrown out of the car. Seeing a policeman they rushed through the crowd and down a back alley. The car was taken to police headquarters. The occupants were apparently under the influence of liquor. Spectators remarked that it seemed that they were willing to abandon the car rather than spend ten days in jail.

HAD AN ANNOYING HACKING COUGH

GOT NO REST AT NIGHT.

Hacking coughs are very wearing on the system. The constant coughing disturbs the rest, and keeps the lungs and bronchial tubes in such an irritated and inflamed condition, that unless you get immediate relief the cough may become settled and serious lung trouble ensue.

There is no better remedy than Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup for relieving all kinds of coughs or colds, combining as it does the lung healing virtues of the pine tree with which is combined wild cherry bark, and the soothing and healing expectorant properties of other excellent herbs and barks.

Mrs. E. J. Ross, Penhold, Alta., writes: "About three years ago I caught a very bad cold, accompanied with a sore throat and hoarseness. I was so hoarse you could not hear me speak. I could get no rest at night with the terrible annoying, hacking cough. I tried several remedies, but they did me no good. I finally saw Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup advertised, so I got a bottle. It at once gave me relief, and after using four of them my cough had all gone. Now I always keep it in the house."

"Dr. Wood's" is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark, price 35c and 60c a bottle. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Company, Toronto, Ont.

SEVEN WATCH SKIES; AWAIT VOTERS' WORD

Record Number of Presidential Candidates Before United States Electors.

MARK BALLOTS TODAY

Weather Expected To Play Final Card in Game—Leaders Confident.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The seven presidential candidates of 1920 tonight had submitted their case to the jury, and await the verdict of the electorate to be returned tomorrow.

The bustle of months ended tonight at national headquarters, where campaign strategists rested, their summing up complete. The candidates retired to seclusion to receive the decision of the people.

With the voters rested also the duty of deciding which party should control the Senate, and which party should control the House of Representatives. With the electorate of many states lay the additional duty of choosing governors and legislators.

Party leaders who week after week had been directing the destinies of their candidates and focusing their attention on the League of Nations, the chief issue of the campaign, pulled down their desk tops, put on their hats and went home. Before they left their headquarters they had scanned last-minute reports from state chairmen, but almost as closely they had studied the reports of the government weather bureau.

Seasoned campaigners reckoned at this stage that the skies played nearly as heavy a role as lieutenants whose period of service had ended. For the skies alone would determine the turnout of voters, particularly in isolated sections of the country, where rains would upset the best-laid plans for transporting voters to the polls. There are districts with streams which, flooded cannot be crossed even on muleback, and in certain states, where the contest is close, every ballot plays its part.

Weather Disturbance.

In general that is what the weather man had to say of a western disturbance which appeared today over Iowa, and the prospects tomorrow all over the country.

The western disturbance will advance east-northeastward, and be attended by unsettled weather and rains Tuesday, election day, in the Atlantic States, the Upper Ohio Valley, and the region of the Great Lakes, with some probability of snow in Northern Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota. The weather will be clearing and much cooler during Tuesday in the Gulf States, Tennessee, the Lower Ohio and Central Mississippi Valleys. Fair, cool weather will prevail Tuesday over the Plains' States, the Rocky Mountain States and all Far Western States.

With the addition of women to those who choose the electoral college, party leaders, of course, expect a vote greatly swollen over that of 1916. Should the skies open, the downpour could hardly discourage enthusiastic voters to hold the total below that of four years ago. And the ballot counters are not expecting a smaller, but much larger task—so large, indeed, that the count may possibly not be known much before the longest period after election in other presidential years.

Harding Goes Home.

Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio, standard bearer of the Republican party, today retired to his home in Marion, Ohio, to await the decision of his countrymen. To his party managers he left detailed forecast of the vote, and from Chairman Hays of the Republican National Committee, there was forthcoming tonight reiteration of confidence in a Republican victory, Mr. Hays, however, issuing no formal statement, announcing he chose to remain "mute" until the ballots had been counted.

Governor Cox, also Ohio's native son, selected by the Democratic party as its choice for the White House, tonight delivered his final campaign address in Toledo, and returned to his home in Dayton. Conviction that he will be elected was expressed in a final statement today by Chairman White of the Democratic National Committee. Senator Harding and Governor Cox, fellow-newspaper proprietors, have chosen different ways to receive campaign results. With Mrs. Harding, the Senator will receive at their home bulletins compiled by the Associated Press, keeping them advised of the latest totals.

Governor Cox, on the other hand, will receive election returns at his office in the Dayton Daily News, a member of the Associated Press, where special telegraph instruments, including a receiver used in the Cleveland campaign of more than a quarter of a century ago, have been set up.

Chairmen Hays and White, together with other Republican and Democratic leaders, will gather at their respective headquarters here tomorrow night to receive the returns.

Coolidge at Boston.

In Boston, capital of the state whose chief executive is Calvin Coolidge, Republican vice-presidential nominee, will learn whether or not next year he is to move to Washington. Franklin D. Roosevelt, former assistant secretary of the navy and Democratic opponent to Governor Coolidge, will watch the progress of the struggle from his home in Hyde Park, N. Y.

Eugene V. Debs, presidential candidate of the Socialist party, nominated to run with Seymour Stedman, Chicago lawyer, will have the unique opportunity of learning campaign results in the Atlanta penitentiary, where he is confineed for violation of the espionage act. While his party leaders hold no hope of capturing electoral votes, they express the opinion that they will poll a vote two or three times as great as that of 1916.

In a presidential year unique in the number of parties with candidates in the field, other candidates for the presidency and vice-presidency are:

Prohibition—A. S. Watkins and Leigh Colvin.

Farmer-Labor—Parley P. Christensen and Max Hayes.

Single Tax—Robert C. Macauley and Richard C. Barnum.

Socialist-Labor—William W. Cox and August Gillhaus.

In all 531 members of the electoral college will have to be chosen, and of these 266 will be required for election of a presidential candidate. In the last election President Wilson had 277.

WINDSOR CITIZENS TO VOTE ON $500,000 FOR A PUBLIC SCHOOL

WINDSOR, Nov. 1.—After debating the proposal of the Windsor Board of Education for the expenditure of $500,000 on the erection of a new public school to serve the western section of the city, the Windsor council in special session at the city hall tonight authorized a vote by the ratepayers on a plan at the municipal elections in January. The plans call for building a 20-roomed school, the exact duplicate of the Giles Boulevard structure now nearing completion, has met with vigorous opposition in the council for some months past, but owing to the refusal of the school trustees to submit an alternative plan, and their urgent demand that increased accommodation is vitally essential, the people will be given a chance to vote on the project.

UNUSUALLY DRAMATIC TRIAL OF COLORED HERO 'GEN.' GRANT

Counsel, Formerly His Commanding Officer, Tells of War Heroism.

ST. CATHERINES, Nov. 1.—Unusually dramatic was the trial at the Supreme Court here today of a colored hero of the war, James Grant, known locally as "General" Grant, charged with shooting his brother Arthur with intent to kill.

The prisoner's counsel was his superior officer over seas, Major E. H. Lancaster. In pleading for leniency for Grant, who was found guilty of a lesser crime, assault, occasioning actual bodily harm, Major Lancaster told the court that in the army Grant had been looked up to by his white comrades-in-arms as an example and he had not a bad mark against him as a soldier. A splendid act of bravery on the part of Grant who had helped to take a gun from the Germans "under a perfect hell of destruction" was referred to by the major, who stated that Grant had been given the military medal for this.

"Grant," said Mr. Justice Latchford, who presided at the court, "I have been much affected by what your counsel and former commanding officer has said about you, and a man who fought side by side with my two sons in that hell of Passchendaele deserves some mercy at my hands. But there is a law and it must be observed."

Justice Latchford pointed out the danger of men carrying firearms, and said he would make it a crime to have a revolver in one's possession. He thereupon sentenced Grant, reluctantly he said, to prison for a year.

CLEANLINESS IS HEALTH

By the use of Gillett's Lye, house cleaning is made a pleasure instead of a drudgery. It softens the water and cleans thoroughly whether the dirt is visible or invisible. Destroys all bacteria and infectious germs, removes obstructions from drain pipes, closets, sinks, etc. Refrigerators are made delightfully fresh and clean by using one teaspoonful of Gillett's Lye dissolved in two gallons of water.

HARDING IS STRONG FAVORITE IN BETTING; ODDS HIGH AS 9 TO 1

No Candidate For Presidency Such a Long Shot As Cox.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—(Canadian Press.)—Election betting the "night before" makes Senator Warren G. Harding a strong favorite. Odds quoted tonight ran from 7 to 1 to 9 to 1 on Harding, with, it is reported, few takers.

Even money was the price in Wall Street today that Harding will have more than 325 votes in the electoral college. Several bets of $8,000 to $1,000 against Governor Cox were reported during the day by one Broad street broker. No candidate for president has ever been such a long-shot on the Street as Cox was today.

Much of today's betting on Cox, it was said, was in the nature of hedging by those who had put up money on Harding in the early part of the campaign at odds of 2 to 1 and 2½ to 1.

Ships that Pass in the Night

Foreign Trade is Essential to Domestic Prosperity.

Else—stagnation at home. New routes must be opened, Canadian Trade Lines must be established and maintained. With ships, the markets of the world are open to Canadians. Canada produces a surplus of necessities. Commercial supremacy means—the ability to carry where and when required, to sell without interference, and Demands the Freedom of the Seas.

By willingness and ability to provide ships, Canada this year has drawn the West Indies closer to herself and to the Empire. She can make preferential trade agreements with other peoples under the British Flag without arousing international complications.

The trade of 45,000,000 people in British Tropical Africa is waiting for us to-day.

Trade Follows the Flag.

The very existence of the Empire proves it. But to secure trade there must be ships and men with adventurous spirit to man them—and men with vision to seek out markets.

The Navy League advocates a Merchant Marine, officered and manned by Canadians trading from Canadian ports.

Politics have no place in this work. It promotes a national ideal. Commercial and agricultural prosperity depend upon it.

Unless we develop Overseas Trade, we may become mere hewers of wood and drawers of water for other nations.

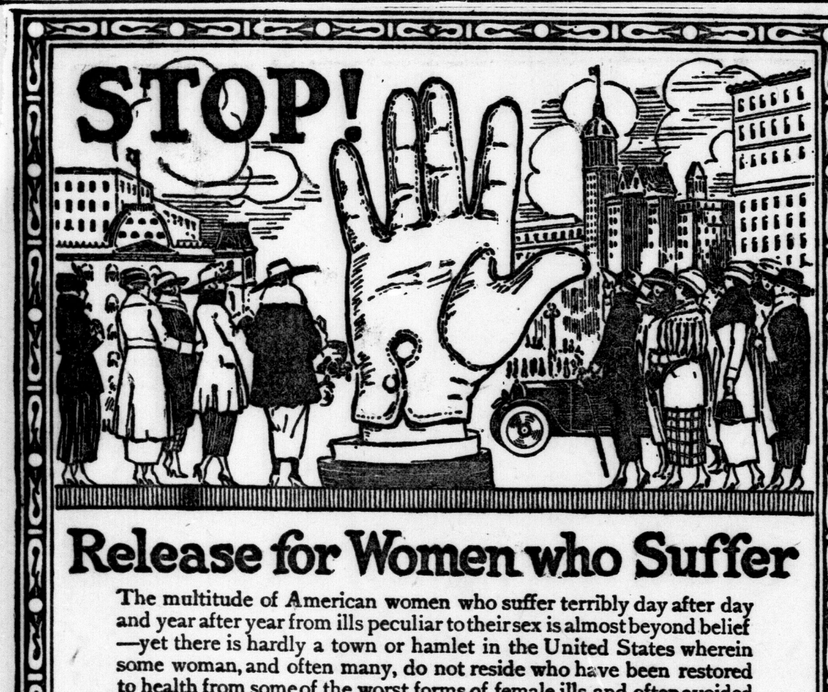

To carry on this work costs Money.
The money must come from the Public.

Release for Women who Suffer

The multitude of American women who suffer terribly day after day and year after year from ills peculiar to their sex is almost beyond belief—yet there is hardly a town or hamlet in the United States wherein some woman, and often many, do not reside who have been restored to health from some of the worst forms of female ills, and often avoided operations by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

These Two Women Tell of Their Experience.

Carrollton, Ky.—"I suffered almost two years with female weakness. I could not walk any distance, ride or take any exercise at all without resting. If I swept the floor or did any kind of work it would bring my sickness on. I was weak and languid, had no energy, and life was a misery to me. I was under the care of a good physician for several months and tried other remedies. I had read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. After taking twelve bottles I found myself much improved and I took six more. I have never had any more trouble in that respect since. I have done all kinds of work and at present am an attendant at a State Hospital and am feeling fine. I shall always recommend your Vegetable Compound."—Lillian Tharp, 824 South 6th Street, Carrollton, Ky.

Onalaska, Wis.—"Every month I had such pains in my back and lower part of stomach I could not lie in bed. I suffered so it seemed as though I would die, and I was not regular either. I suffered for a year and was unfit to do my housework, could only wash dishes once in a while. I read an advertisement of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other women and decided to try it. It surely did wonders for me. I have no pains now and can do my own housework without any trouble at all. I will always praise your medicine as I do not believe there is a doctor that can do as much good for female weakness as can Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. Lester E. Warner, R. 1, Box 69, Onalaska, Wis.

MACKENZIE REFUSES TO TAKE CHANCE ON DRURY'S GUARANTEE

Sticks With Statute Forbidding Generating More Hydro Power.

TORONTO, Nov. 1.—Sir William MacKenzie, president of the Electrical Development Company, reiterated in an interview today that his company would not accept the guarantee of Premier Drury, "or anyone else," that the generation of extra power, now prohibited by an Ontario statute, would be permitted by the Ontario Government without prosecution.

"The statute does not permit us to generate the extra power, and you know what a statute is," said Sir William, adding: "The premier can't guarantee us anything." Sir William contended that the sections of the statute eliminating the amount of power that his company may generate would have to be repealed by the Legislature.

How to Keep the Face Young and Attractive

The way to ward off old age is not to fear it, not to allow one's self to be oppressed by the dread of advancing years. Use only legitimate preventives and avoid trying experiments with preparations that have not stood the test of time. An entirely safe and very effective way to keep the complexion young-looking and beautiful is to apply ordinary mercolized wax at bedtime, using it like cold cream, washing it off in the morning. This gradually absorbs the withered, faded cuticle, which is replaced by the more youthful, pink-tinted underskin. One ounce of this wax, to be had at any drug store, is enough to completely rejuvenate a worn-out complexion.

Crow's feet and other wrinkles, the first signs of advancing age, may be removed by a simple, harmless preparation made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch-hazel. It is used as a face bath. —Advt.

Relieve Your Rheumatism For 25c.

NR does it by improving digestion, assimilation and elimination—the logical way.

NR Today—Relief or No Pay

There are three vital processes of human existence,—the digestion of food, the extraction of nourishment from it and the elimination of the waste.

Let anything interfere with these processes,—let them be interrupted or improperly carried on, and sickness of some kind follows.

Poor digestion and assimilation means failure to derive full nourishment from food and that in turn often means impoverished blood, weakness, anemia, etc. Poor elimination means an accumulation of waste matter which poisons the body, lowers vitality, decreases the power of resistance to disease and leads to the development of many serious ills.

Rheumatism,—due to some interference with the process of elimination, failure to get rid of certain body poisons,—cannot be expected to yield to any medicine that fails to correct the condition responsible for it. Could any reasonable person expect to rid himself of rheumatic pain as long as rheumatic poison is allowed to remain in the body.

Think of this. It explains the success of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) in so many cases where other medicines have failed. Thousands are using NR Tablets every day and getting relief. Why pay five or ten times as much for uncertain things? A 25c box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets), containing enough to last twenty-five days,—must help you, must give you prompt relief and satisfactory benefit or cost you nothing.

And Nature's Remedy is not only for the relief of rheumatism. It improves digestion, tones the liver, regulates kidney and bowel action, improves the blood and cleanses the whole system. You'll feel like a new person when you've taken NR Tablets a week. You've tried the expensive medicines and doctors, now make the real test. You'll get results this time. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

Fabrikoid Saves Money and Labor for the Woman of the House

IT'S economy to buy furniture covered with Fabrikoid—it's money saved in first cost and upkeep, and it's labor saved in the care of the furniture.

For these reasons, insist that your furniture dealer supply you with Fabrikoid upholstery—insist that he re-cover old furniture with Fabrikoid. The long life and low cost of Fabrikoid save money. The fact that Fabrikoid does not stretch, tear or rot, that it does not absorb water or grease, saves money.

The care of Fabrikoid-upholstered furniture is a simple part of household duties. No beating, whisking or brushing—a damp cloth—just something to remove surface dust—and Fabrikoid is as clean as ever.

And Fabrikoid gives the home an atmosphere that is only obtained otherwise by expensive leather upholstery. For the living room, the library, the den or smoking room, there is nothing that will equal Fabrikoid for furniture covering.

Insist that your dealer supply you with this upholstery when buying new furniture or having the old re-upholstered.

KING MAKES URGENT PLEA FOR UNITY

Liberal Chieftain Gets Biggest Ovation of Tour At Winnipeg.

RAPS SECRET GOVT.

Defines Real Issue As Hidden "Big Interests" Opposed To Progressive Groups.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 1.—Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King addressed two big meetings here tonight, one in St. Boniface and one in the large auditorium of the board of trade building. The latter was an exceedingly well-attended meeting, and the audience gave the speakers an enthusiastic reception and studied hearing. It was probably one of the best meetings of his western tour from the Liberal leader's point of view. At St. Boniface, Mr. King spoke but briefly, but in the city he dealt lengthily with the platform of the Liberal party and the errors of the Union Government as he saw them.

Hon. Dr. Beland, who was the first speaker at the Winnipeg meeting, attacked the Government for its extravagance and disregard of public opinion.

August Convention.

Hon. Mr. King referred to the August convention of the Liberal party in Ottawa, at which the policies of the party were given a new application. He emphasized the point that every thing was done in the open, and that there was no concealment. He defended his choice as leader, stating that the convention held no dissenting voice, although many more experienced men had been passed over.

The real issue today, he said, was between government by the hidden "big interests" or government by parliament. The progressive groups, in which he included his party, have much in common, he said, and asked that steps be taken that the progressive groups may be assured of the return of the people's representatives to the next parliament. He made a plea for unity.

Lawyers' Government.

The Government has been for many years a government of lawyers, he said, and for his part he would rather have a government of any other section of the people.

The farmer movement and the labor movement, he held, could not succeed alone, because they arouse a suspicion of class domination. World history shows, he added, that in all nations public feeling has become divided into the progressive and reactionary groups. He warned against the danger of falling into the trap set by the name chosen for the Government groups and asked for union about the Liberal banner of all sectional groups whose interests are contrary to tohse of the present administration.

Criticizes Hanna

The order by Mr. Hanna that employees of the Canadian National Railways shall not run for political office Mr. King characterized as a step toward driving workingmen to direct action. This policy, if followed out, would prevent a great mass of workingmen from taking advantage of a cardinal principle of the British constitution which is that every one shall have equal rights.

Mr. King concluded by making a plea for economic freedom, for social freedom and for equal distribution of wealth, through the adoption of the principles of the Liberal party.

MACKENZIE KING TO SPEAK AT AYLMER NOV. 18

[Special to The Advertiser.]

AYLMER, Nov. 1.—It was officially announced tonight at the central committee rooms of W. G. Charlton, Liberal candidate in the East Elgin by-election, that Hon. W. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal party in the Dominion, will address a meeting of the electors of East Elgin in the opera house, Aylmer, on the evening of Thursday, November 18.

PRESENCE OF MIND PREVENTED SERIOUS FIRE IN CHATHAM

Pump House of Imperial Oil Company Seriously Damaged.

CHATHAM, Nov. 1.—The Imperial Oil Company's local pump house was destroyed by fire this morning, the damage being approximately $1,000. The presence of mind of the local agent, W. Neil, who was filling a gasoline tank at the time, in turning off valves leading to storage tanks, and the efficient work of the fire department, prevented a serious conflagration, as besides the large storage tanks of gasoline and kerosine there were several tank cars laden with gasoline immediately behind the building.

The value of the biulding permits issued in October amounted to $24,615, an increase over the same period last year of $15,815. The increase for the year up to October amounts to $93,872.

Customs returns for Chatham and outposts for the month of October amounted to $59,591.94; the total sales tax returns were $4,526.64, and the excise tax amounted to $21.51.

According to the report of M. O. H. Dr. T. L. McRitchie, there have been six cases of contagious diseases in the city during October, three of which were brought to the hospital from out of town.

SHOE WORKERS TAKE DECREASE IN WAGES AND SHORTER HOURS

MONTREAL, Nov. 1.—Last week Jos. Daoust, president of Daoust, Lalonde & Co., shoe manufacturers of this city, met his workmen and members of the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union, and discussed the general situation as regards the trade and later met the union officials at their headquarters. His proposal was that owing to slackness in trade he should close his company's plant entirely or that the men accept a reduction of five per cent in wages and the plant to operate for thirty hours a week.

Today the men notified Mr. Daoust that it had been decided to accept the second proposal.

The factory will accordingly run on a basis of a five-per cent wage cut and a thirty-hour weekly schedule until January 1 next.

SALE OF BONDS ADJOURNED.

WATFORD, Nov. 1.—The council did not do anything in regard to the disposal of the town bonds at tonight's meeting said town clerk Wm. Fuller, in reply to an inquiry by The Advertiser. The matter was adjourned till tomorrow night.

MEIGHEN LEAVES CALDER BEHIND, FARES BETTER

Premier's Henchman Does Not Accompany Party To Chilliwack, B. C.

CHILLIWACK, B. C., Nov. 1.—A great crowd turned out this afternoon to hear Premier Meighen discuss public questions. Many farmers from the rich Fraser Valley agricultural district were present. The prime minister was accorded a most cordial reception and given an attentive hearing.

Hon. J. A. Calder did not accompany the party to Chilliwack. He will rejoin it at Harrison Mills tonight. Mr. Meighen spoke of taxation, the railway problem and the tariff.

A committee of civic officials, headed by Mayor J. S. Ashwell, met the party at the station, and presented a formal address of welcome. At the meeting, F. P. Stacey, M.P. for this constituency, spoke first. He eulogized the work of the prime minister and his government, and expressed allegiance to the National Liberal and Conservative party.

W. J. Black, National organizer, followed with an account of the Government's agricultural policy. He stated that the number of experimental farms had been doubled in Canada in the last few years.

Old Historic Party.

The National Liberal and Conservative party, said Mr. Meighen, had been drawn from the old historic party and people, members of neither, who wished to abandon the prejudices of the past. The Government had been the butt of a very general and exceedingly loose criticism.

Referring to the charge that the Government favored the big interests, the premier stated that as long as there were demagogues the accusation always would be flung at the Government, no matter what it did. Unless Canada had big business it could not very well compete with the United States and other countries. Big business was encouraged in Great Britain.

Twenty-two thousand miles of railway had been nationalized, although appeals were made for the Government to stay its hand. It was not the Government who were favoring the big interests then, but their opponents, who objected merely for the sake of opposing.

Profiteering Question.

Mr. Mackenzie King, declared the premier, said he was grappling with the profiteering question. Why had he made no move during the last four years for a higher or another tax?

The Government had exhausted every resources possible without stifling business. Men with the biggest incomes paid seven-tenths of their whole income to the Canadian Government in taxes, and this course was adopted irrespective of the lower rate in the country to the south. The Opposition platform declared for elimination of the tariff on the principal articles of food. Was not fruit one of these? Mr. King, stated the premier, did not talk of fruit when in the Yale constituency, but devoted himself to sugar.

EXPORTS INCREASE.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. — Exports from the United States to Great Britain during September amounted to $142,485,083 compared with $119,305,819 in August.

To Be Troubled With CONSTIPATION

THE CAUSE OF MANY ILLS.

If you do not feel well and go to your family physician, one of the first things he will do is ask you to hold out your tongue. The reason for this is that the condition of the tongue shows the condition of the stomach and bowels.

If you allow your bowels to become constipated you will have bilious attacks, sick headaches, coated tongue, foul breath, heartburn, water brash, etc., and those troublesome piles, which cause so much annoyance and misery.

Keep your bowels moving regularly and you won't be sick.

In Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills you will find just the remedy you require for this purpose. They are purely vegetable and do not gripe, weaken or sicken.

Mr. James S. Harris, Box 934, Halifax, N. S., writes: "For two years I suffered with constipation. I could not get any thing to cure me, and hardly anything would give me even temporary relief. One day my uncle induced me to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and even brought me a vial. I tried them without much faith, but I soon found they were doing me good, and after using the second vial I was relieved of my trouble."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price of The T. Milburn Company, Limited Toronto, Ont.

Par-ol — The Human Body Lubricant

Feel Sick or Heavy?

—then probably you are constipated. Clogged bowels poison the human machine and prevent it working naturally.

You do not cure constipation, because it will keep on returning. You must remove the cause.

You may prevent further constipation and gradually remove the hard secretions from the bowels that cause constipation by taking Par-ol.

Par-ol is a highly refined petroleum oil of unvarying purity. It has a specific gravity of .865 to .870 at 15° Centigrade.

Par-ol keeps waste matter soft by lubricating it and causing it to pass out naturally.

One week's treatment with it will benefit you wonderfully. If you suffer from recurrent constipation it should banish it by removing the cause.

Most druggists sell it, $1.00 a bottle. Don't accept a substitute—you'll be disappointed. Par-ol—that's the name.

WHY BE AFRAID OF GOOD FOOD?

Eat What You Like Best, But Follow It With a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet.

When the stomach sours or becomes gassy, with heartburn, it needs the alkaline effect to offset the acid condition. This you get from one or two Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Relief is usually very prompt. The regular use of these tablets after meals gives the stomach and small intestine substantial help to digest food and you will then be bold enough to eat baked beans, fried eggs, sausage, buckwheat cakes and many other things you thought would make your stomach miserable. Get a 60-cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at any drug store and you will then eat whatever you like and be fortified against the acid, sour stomach due to indigestion or dyspepsia. N 2.30

Two Minutes Silence On November 11

Armistice Day To Be Fittingly Observed.

TORONTO, Nov. 1.—Mayor Church has issued a proclamation calling for the proper observance of Thursday, November 11, as armistice day. The proclamation has been issued in conformity with the request of His Majesty the King that this day shall be observed throughout the Empire, "when silence shall be maintained for two minutes, and every wheel shall cease to turn and every activity stop."

It tells—but only partly tells—the Story of Misery in Central Europe.

Within the great territory between the black lines millions of destitute children are doomed to grow up weak and deformed through want of fats, milk and sugar, unless immediate help comes from without

HERBERT HOOVER, invited to speak at a Canadian Red Cross meeting, said:

"Our problem over the forthcoming winter appears to be about 3,500,000 to 4,000,000 children.

"These children are the obligation of every man, woman and child in the Western Hemisphere, for we have suffered less; but, beyond this, they are a charge on the heart of the whole world."

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 1.—The fable of the lion and the mouse had its counterpart on the line of the Pere Marquette between St. Thomas and Blenheim on Saturday evening last, when a big locomotive moving westward with a freight ran short of water and was stalled about 300 feet from the upstairs reservoir. There she stood, calling for help and coughing herself hoarse that she might arouse the countryside to answer her S. O. S. demonstration. Away from any point that would send her an assisting engine, the big locomotive was isolated from railway civilization while there was plenty of water in sight, but not a drop to drink. Sailing down the sideroad came a little blustering gasoline tractor. The owner saw the perspiring locomotive and the despairing engineer. "Can I pull you through?" asked the driver of the tractor. The crew heard him and ran to the caboose to get an old blunderbuss and massacre him.

"Never mind that just now," interlarded the driver, "uncouple the old horse." The crew got a chain and fixed the tractor to the locomotive. "Gad up," yelled the driver, and down came the big engine behind the little tractor, and leaving her at the water tank, the tractor unhuckled itself from the locomotive, got its sails up again, and was off before the crew could present the driver of the tractor with an address and the usual silver collection.

A Waif From Windsor.

Harry Oxford, a youth of 17, who claims Windsor as his home, was before the magistrate this morning all tattered and torn, on a charge of vagrancy. Harry started from Windsor last Monday and got to St. Thomas Friday, and has been sleeping at the M. C. R. station. He came here to find some work, but St. Thomas had nothing for the lad to do, and he has been hungry ever since. He was remanded for a week and was glad to find a resting place and meal as it was.

Damaged Jail Bible.

Sylvester Dunn was fined $25 today for a violation of the O. T. A. and ordered to pay for the damage done one of the jail Bibles while he was waiting for his trial during the week. Dunn denies the last offence, and places the blame on another prisoner. Should Dunn prove his innocence, the magistrate promised his money would be returned.

Dunwich Autoists Fined

The opinions of seventeen auto owners fined at London last week who have their homes in the township of Dunwich are not in accord with the Middlesex officials and its persecution of would-be business visitors from that part of Elgin County.

The people put to the expense of attending the rural magistrate's court at London, or paying a fine rather than bear the cost of the journey, declare that this work of Middlesex constables, who are apparently out for what fees are in it, will not help to bring custom to London from many parts of Elgin County.

Light Out—Accidental

The interruption in the electric lighting system last evening for about an hour was caused by the breaking of a crossarm on one of the high tension poles between the station north of the city and the substation on St. Catharine street. The apparently closing down of the power was not due to economic measures. The break disconnected the power wire and shut off the supply throughout the city for upwards of an hour.

Mackenzie King Coming

Hon. THREE AUTOISTS REMANDED ON MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

Men Involved in Saturday's Fatal Accident Before Magistrate.

KITCHENER, Nov. 1.—The three men connected with Saturday night's fatal motor accidents, Russell Hanan, William Schraefer and Walter Heiser, were remanded today until Wednesday. They are charged with manslaughter. It is intimated that Schraefer and Heiser will be accused of being under the influence of liquor at the time of the accident. Edward Ludwig, who was severaly injured by the motorcycle which killed his wife, was dismissed from the hospital this afternoon.

Russell Bresnahan of this city, who was charged with stealing a tire from A. Swartz pleaded the tire was found and not stolen. He was allowed to go.

Died of Injuries.

John Groff, aged 21, whose left leg was severely injured in a threshing machine at Baden three weeks ago, died at the Kitchener-Waterloo Hospital today as a result of his injuries. Deceased is survived by his widowed mother and one sister.

Nuptials of considerable interest were solemnized at St. Matthew's Lutheron Church at noon today, when Miss Jean McLennan, formerly of Brantford, became the bride of Edward Walter of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Schmeider. After an extended motor trip the couple will reside in this city.

Death of Mrs. William Beese.

One of Kitchener's most esteemed residents died shortly before noon today, in the person of Mrs. William Beese, aged 71, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Samuel Holtzman. Eight children survive her, six sons and two daughters, Charles, city; Jacob, Keiona, B. C.; Rev. W. E., Pelham, Ont.; Mrs. Walker, city; and Ray of Winnipeg; Mrs. Samuel Holtzman, 42 Theresa street; Edgar, Waterloo, and John L. of 270 King street east.

Following two fatal accidents which occurred in Kitchener Saturday, Mayor Bohlender of Waterloo declared today that if enforcement of traffic bylaws and the checking of speeding will be effective. Waterloo citizens will be protected against such fatalities as happened during the week-end. The mayor was emphatic in his assertion that the Waterloo police will be held to strict accountability for the enforcement of the regulations.

Kitchener's vital statistics for October show 34 marriages, 27 deaths and 59 births.

Building statistics for the month of October for Kitchener show a total building expenditure since the first of the year of $1,233,387, as compared with $1,072,582 for the same period last year.

Customers returns for the month of October, as reported at the local customs office, totalled $87,485.88. This is almost a 50 per cent. reduction over last October returns, which were $138,200.89. The returns for October, 1918, totalled $63,700.23. There was a sales tax of $7,420.62 this month.

GOLDEN WEDDING FOR FORMER RESIDENTS OF WESTERN ONTARIO

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WINNIPEG, Nov. 1.—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Mayor, Gladstone, Man., were the recipients of many congratulations, October 18, the occasion being the anniversary of their golden wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Mayor were married in Barrie, Ont., on October 4, 1870, where they resided until August, 1887, when they moved to Chilcoten, B.C., and took up ranching until June, 1891, when they decided to come back to Manitoba, owing to there being no schools and very few white settlers in that part of the country. Mrs. Mayor was the only white woman within the radius of 80 miles of their ranch.

Mr. Mayor and family came back to Gladstone district and bought the old Rintoul farm, where they still reside and have been among the most successful farmers in the district. Mr. Mayor was born in Kent, England, 74 years ago and came to Canada when a lad of eight years. His parents were settlers of Markham and Innisfel Counties in Ontario. Mrs. Mayor was the first child born in Meaford, Ont., 75 years ago, daughter of Jas. A. Scott, a pioneer of Simcoe County, Ont. They have one daughter, Mrs. H. Hutchinson of Elmwood, and four sons, T. A. of Winnipeg; W. G., R. H. and H. J. M. of Berton district, Manitoba, and 13 grandchildren. Both are hale and hearty, and enjoying fair health.

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. FORTUNE IN LIQUOR AT BOTTOM OF THE DETROIT RIVER

Commissioner At Detroit Tells How Liquor Smugglers Evade Arrest.

WINDSOR, Nov. 1.—Declaring that he and his assistants had refused bribes from rum runners, which, if accepted, would have enabled them to retire and live for the balance of their lives in luxury, Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin, the "fighting parson" of the border cities, speaking to a gathering in West Grand Boulevard Methodist Church, Detroit, attributed the present crime wave, which had baffled the Detroit police department, to the amount of liquor being shipped into that city.

"I believe," he said, "that the present wave of crime in Detroit is due mostly to the flood of liquor that is coming across the river, and I am doing all in my power to stem that flood."

That rum running on the border is still being conducted on a wide scale in spite of denials from several official sources, including the Ontario License Board at Toronto, is indicated in the summary of the situation given today by Police Commissioner Inches, head of the Detroit police department, in which he said:

"If I ever want to make a quick fortune, I will procure a diving outfit and get the sunken whiskey off the bottom of the Detroit River."

Describing the efforts of his department to cope with the speedy launches of the rum runners, the commissioner declared that so well organized were the smugglers that only until recently, when a speedy patrol had been added to his equipment, had his men been able to even compete with the smugglers. Since that, however, scores of close races have been run with bootleggers, but the officials have been outwitted in the majority of cases by the fugitives, who merely threw their liquor overboard and alowed it to sink under water, thus losing their cargoes, but evading arrest.

"If they see they are to be caught, they merely dump their liquor overboard." Commissioner Inches said. "There you are. They are as safe as a pair of church men. Of course, the policemen see them doing the dumping, but the smugglers give them the laugh. How can a copper declare that it was whiskey that was being tossed out of the boat? All a smuggler has to do is keep quiet and grin."

I. O. D. E. RALLY TO BE HELD IN CHATHAM

Sixteen Barrels of Liquor Pass Through Chatham Without Claimant.

CHATHAM, Nov. 1.—A monster rally of the I.O.D.E. chapters of military district No. 1 will be held in this city on Wednesday, November 17, and it is expected that a number of officers of the provincial chapter of the order will be present.

Building permits for the month of October show an increase of $18,815 over the same month of last year. Total for the month was $24,615.

No Claimant for Liquor.

A shipment of 16 barrels of liquor arrived in this city late on Saturday night consigned to a Chatham man. Inspectors of the county and provincial police hung around to see who would claim it, but when no one appeared, the liquor continued on its way to the border, from whence it is believed it was transhipped to Detroit.

WESTERN TRAINMEN RECEIVE INCREASE

OTTAWA, Nov. 1.—(Canadian Press.) The minister of labor has received a report from the board of conciliation which, under the chairmanship of Hon. Chief Justice Mathers of Winnipeg, inquired into the dispute as to wages and conditions of labor between the Canadian Pacific Railway and its conductors and trainmen on western lines to the number of about 3,000. The other members of the board were Isaac Pitblado, K.C., representing the company, and David Campbell, representing the men. The finding of the board is unanimous in so far as it concerns the major portion of the dispute relating to wages, the recommendation being that the dispute should be settled by the application of the so-called Chicago agreement of July 20 last.

MELBOURNE

MELBOURNE, Nov. 1.—Considerable debate has taken place in this village from time to time regarding the speed of autos passing through, especially in the Longwood road. There are times when it is not safe for a child to cross the street and many of the farmers wives and daughters do not consider that it is safe to attempt to drive a horse on this road. Even those who drive a car feel timid when meeting men who run their cars at the speed many of them do. Recently a man from St. Thomas had the fender of his car struck and loosened by a speeding car, west of this village.

Mrs. Bole, of Toronto, is spending a a few days here with sister, Mrs. McDonald on her return from England and France where she visited the last resting place of her son, who gave his life for his country.

DEATH OF MRS. J. A. McKAY

AILSA CRAIG, Nov. 1.—The death occurred Friday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John A. McKay, of Mrs. Wm. Barnes. Mrs. Barnes had never regained her strength following a severe attack of dropsy last winter, but was able to get about and do light work until about three weeks ago, when she was seized with a severe weakness. For a few days it was thought she might get better, but in spite of medical aid and care she gradually grew weaker until death claimed her. She is survived by her husband, a grown-up family and several grandchildren. The funeral was conducted by Rev. Rintol, of Nairn, from her late residence to Nairn cemetery. Those who attended from a distance were her son Will, from the West; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Boss and Mrs. Robinson from London. A sad feature of Mrs. Barnes' death is that it follows so closely after that of her daughter, Agnes, who died on April 21 last.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

ADVANCE IN OATS ON LOCAL MARKET

Now Selling at $1.90 Per Cwt —Potatoes at $1.75 and $1.85 Per Bag.

Because of the inclement weather very few farmers appeared on the local market this morning. One load of potatoes was noticeable. It was sold in two different lots. The first lot went for $1.85 per bag, and the last at $1.75 per bag. Commission merchants are selling theirs for a slightly lower quotation than those which govern the market.

A decided uncertainty of the live hog market prevails, and owing to this fact nothing could be learned regarding hog prices for Wednesday. Officials of the market say live hogs will be selling around $17 per cwt., but buyers claim they cannot pay that amount, and that the price will be $16 per cwt. All stated that dressed hogs will remain at $23 per cwt.

Oats went up to $1.90 on the top price this morning, and this put the official quotations from 61¼ to 64¾ cents.

Wheat was slightly easier at from $2 to $2.10 per bushel, and from $3.33 to $3.50 per cwt. Millers and other buyers say that it will be cheaper before the end of the month. The cause of the drop is due to the fact that the demand for Ontario wheat is slow.

Only two loads of hay were sold up to 10 o'clock today. One load was of poor quality, so the price fell to $27 per ton. The top price remains at $31 per ton.

WOMAN KILLED WHEN ELECTRIC ENGINE HITS PARTY IN MOTOR TRUCK

Niagara Falls, Ont., Nov. 2.—Mrs. Elmers Lambert of this city was instantly killed and several others injured early this morning when a hydro-electric freight engine hit a motor truck in which they were riding. The fatality occurred at a detour at Lundy's Lane. The party of seventeen people had been at a party at Fonthill, and were returning home about 3 o'clock. It appears that the driver did not see the engine, and when crossing the track was hit by it.

An inquest will be held tonight.

LAFOLETTE SUPPORTS INDEPENDENT.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 2.—The race for senator with an Independent and a Democrat opposing Senator Lenroot, attracted chief interest in Wisconsin. Senator Lafolette threw his support to James Thompson, the Independent. The weather early was cloudy and cold.

NEKRO WOMEN REFUSED VOTE.

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 2.—Negro women were refused ballots at the voting places in Savannah today. Many negro women have registered here since the suffrage amendment became effective, but the election judges ruled that they were not entitled to vote because of a state law which requires registration six months before an election.

No white women presented themselves at the polls.

AGED WOMEN VOTE.

New York, Nov. 2.—(By the Canadian Press).—Seventy women from the Old Ladies' Home at 113th street and Broadway, mostly in automobiles and properly chaperoned, undertook the great adventure of casting their first ballot this morning, after Republican Leader Miss Helen Varick Boswell, associate county chairman, convinced the women that they were of Republican leanings. She cinched the matter by appointing lieutenants to escort them to the polls, one block away.

NEW ASHFORD FOR HARDING.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 2.—The town of New Ashford, in Berkshire County, was the first in Massachusetts to report its vote for president today. The tabulation was completed at 7:30 a.m. and resulted as follows: Harding and Coolidge, Republican, 28. Cox and Roosevelt, Democratic, 6.

Four years ago the town gave Hughes, Republican, 16 votes, and Wilson, Democrat, 7.

According to the United States election laws as soon as all citizens who are registered in any electoral district have voted, the returning officers may close the poll and announce the result at once.

There is therefore keen competition among some of the smaller communities to be the first to get their returns announced and in some cases the entire town gets up before daylight and hurries to the poll. This year New Ashford secured the fame which goes to the first town to complete its vote.

GUARDING BALLOT BOXES.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Deputies from the office of the United States district attorney were added to the ballot box guards of special police and party workers in Chicago today, following the warnings given judges in numerous precincts by Mr. Clyne, United States district attorney, to be on watch for law violations.

While yesterday's heavy rain was not expected to cut the Chicago vote, Lieutenant-Governor Small and Former Senator James Hamilton Lewis, Republican and Democratic candidates for governor respectively, each claimed an advantage from its effect on the downstate rural vote. There are eight other candidates for governor besides these two, and a considerable share of the estimated vote of 2,300,000 in the state is conceded by political experts to candidates other than those of the two major parties. The contest between Lewis and Small has aroused almost as much interest as the presidential campaign.

JAPANESE ISSUE TO BE DECIDED TODAY IN CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 2.—California, with a total registration of 1,374,184, today votes for president, United States senator and congressmen and 24 initiative and referendum measures.

Included among these is the so-called alien land law, which seeks to prohibit the leasing of agricultural lands by aliens ineligible to citizenship.

In the last national election the state, with a large representation registration, gave President Wilson a small majority.

Zest was added to election issues in California with the publication here today of statements by Senators Hiram W. Johnson, "irreconcilable" opponent of the League of Nations, and Herbert Hoover, proponent of the league idea.

The statements presented directly opposing views of Senator Johnson and Mr. Hoover as to the attitude of Senator Harding, and Samuel M. Shortridge, Republican candidate for senator from California, toward the League of Nations.

Publication of a statement issued Sunday by Mr. Hoover indorsing the candidacy of Mr. Harding and Mr. Shortridge led to the charge published yesterday that Mr. Shortridge, and Mr. Hoover, had agreed to abandonment of the "irreconcilables" on the League of Nations issue. In a statement issued last night, Senator Johnson declared Senator Harding "says he has turned his back upon the league" and favors "neither reservations nor interpretations, but rejection of it."

"Mr. Hoover," continued the statement, "says Mr. Harding is going into the league. I believe Mr. Harding."

Mr. Hoover said: "Somebody has misled Senator Johnson as to my statement made here (Palo Alto on Sunday). His statement as to Senator Harding's position may refer to his views on the league; it is not in accord with his oft expressed constructive views on 'a' league, an association or a society of nations which Senator Harding proposes to go into and which alone I have been discussing.

"Republican discussion, except by Senator Johnson has now gone beyond destructive criticism of 'the' league; it is now upon devising 'a' league or an association that will protect the position of the United States and truly accomplish the preservation of peace."

HARDING PLAYS GOLF AFTER HE CASTS BALLOT.

Marion, Ohio, Nov. 2.—While the people of the United States were recording their decision today on his candidacy for president, Senator Harding put politics out of his attention and gave over the greater part of his time to a game of golf. After casting his own vote early in the forenoon, he spent the remainder of the day away from Marion. He selected the Scioto Club, near Columbus, for his golf game, and was to make the 40-mile trip bck by motor late in the afternoon.

If there was in the candidate's mind any apprehension over the outcome it did not manifest itself in his outward demeanor. He wore the same air of smiling confidence that has characterized his manner throughout the campaign, and there was apparent an additional touch of satisfaction that the stress of political debate and manoeuvring was over.

Mrs. Harding, his constant companion during his campaigning, appeared equally confident, and she insisted on doing herd full part to end the fight by accompanying him to the polls and casting her first vote for him.

SOUTH EXPECTED TO AGAIN GO SOLID FOR DEMOCRATS.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 2.—Heavy voting throughout the south, with thousands of women casting their first ballots for president, was predicted by election officials when the polls opened today. Favorable weather conditions were expected to prevail during the day in most localities, although showers had been forecasted for states along the Atlantic seaboard.

Election day found Democratic leaders confident they would make a clean sweep in all southern states. The Republicans, however, claimed they would be able to elect their congressional candidates in at least half a dozen scattered districts. Leaders in both parties were claiming today that a heavy woman vote would help their cause. Many Georgia women were expected to demand a vote despite the state law, which provides that voters must register six months before election. Women of the state were not registered because ratification of the federal suffrage amendment was completed less than six months ago.

RAIN DELAYS BALLOTING.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 2.—A heavy downpour of rain in portions of Ohio this morning threatened to dampen the ardor of early morning voters and delay the casting of what promised to be a record vote in one of the hardest-fought political campaigns in the state's history. Clearing skies and cooler weather were promised later in the day.

Early indications were, despite the rainfall, that practically every person eligible to vote would, before nightfall, have cast his or her ballot. Women voters plus the normal increase in men voters, are expected to swell Ohio's vote to more than 2,000,000. The previous record was 1,165,000, cast in 1916.

PROFESSORS LEARN TO KNOW STUDENTS BY USE OF PHOTOS

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 1.—More than 300 students in Princeton University, mostly juniors who have enrolled in the economics course, will have their photographs taken to be used in a card index by professors in the department of economics.

To help identify the students, each instructor will bring to the recitation rooms a small box bearing cards, on which will be the name, seat number and photograph of a student.

Professor Frank A. Fetter, head of the department of economics, said the teacher has been handicapped by not knowing each pupil by name wherever he meets him and that the proposed scheme should enable an instructor to get acquainted with all in his class within a few days.

This plan was used here with marked success in the student army training courses during the world war.

LARGEST VOTE

national officers, the voters were called upon to elect a new legislature.

Governor A. E. Smith, Democrat, seeking re-election, is opposed by Nathan Miller of Syracuse, former judge of the court of appeals. United States Senator James A. Wadsworth, Jun., Republican, a candidate for re-election, is opposed by Lieutenant-Governor Harry C. Walker. Forty-three representatives in Congress are to be chosen. The state is represented in the present lower house of Congress by 21 Republicans and 19 Democrats. Three seats are vacant.

Mayors will be chosen in eleven cities of the state.

There are also before the voters a proposition to issue $45,000,000 for soldiers' bonuses and a constitutional amendment to provide for borrowing in anticipation of taxes and revenue and for issuing serial bonds instead of long-term bonds.

CAPT. JACK ROBBINS RESIGNS.

WINDSOR, Nov. 1.—Declaring that he had been forced through a lack of co-operation and disinterest to resign his post as secretary of the Border Cities Safety Council, Capt. Jack Robbins, who had accepted that position over a year ago, accepted a similar post with the Detroit Safety Council. Until such time as citizens generally and manufacturers in particular recognize the vital importance of safety work efforts of the Border Cities Safety Council will be wasted here, he said on leaving. The numerous accidents occurring here during recent weeks are an indication of a general slowing up of interest in the movement.

COMMISSION MEETS.

TORONTO, Nov. 1.—The civil service commission meets tomorrow in Hamilton and will return to Toronto for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. On Monday it will probably go to Barrie, which may be the concluding session of the commission.

Learn what clean teeth mean

See the results of the new way of teeth cleaning. They are quick and decisive. You will know at once that they mean a lifetime of cleaner, safer teeth.

Millions of people employ it. And the glistening teeth seen everywhere show what it means. See what it means to you.

A film combatant

Most tooth troubles are now traced to film—to that viscous coat you feel. Film clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays.

The ordinary tooth paste does not end film. So the film remains—much of it—and may do a ceaseless damage. Nearly all people suffer from it, more or less.

It is the film-coat that discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. So, despite the tooth brush, all these troubles have been constantly increasing.

New methods now

Dental science, after years of searching, has found new ways to fight film. All have been proved by many clinical tests. They are so efficient that leading dentists everywhere advise them.

These methods are combined now in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. It has brought a new era in teeth cleaning. This is the tooth paste we urge you to try.

Watch the new effects

The use of Pepsodent at once reveals many new effects.

One ingredient is pepsin. One multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva, to digest starch deposits that cling. One multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva, to neutralize mouth acids.

Two factors directly attack the film. One of them keeps the teeth so highly polished that film cannot easily cling.

Pepsodent is the new-day tooth paste, complying with all modern requirements. It does what never before was done. You should learn its benefits at once.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. Watch the teeth whiten as the film-coat disappears.

Every one in your family needs Pepsodent daily, and a week will prove this to you. Cut out the coupon now.

FARMS FOR SALE

Faulds & Co.

59 Dundas Street, Corner of Ridout. Phone 6471.

Farm buyers, attention! If looking for a good farm in Middlesex or Oxford counties it will pay you to give us a call before buying. We have the best list of farms we ever had, and that is saying something. If there is an extra choice farm for sale in the London district you will likely find it on our list. We do not get out a list of farms for sale. Not much use the way we are selling farms at present. By the time we got it printed it would be out of date. Give us a call and we can soon find out the kind of a farm you are looking for. Three autos at your service. Below will be found a description of a few of the farms we have for sale.

50 acres—$5,000; 10 miles from London, on provincial highway, good frame house, basement barn, implement shed, good orchard, well fenced and drained, choice clay loam, some sand loam; easy terms.

60 acres—$6,200; near Byron, 8 miles to London market, 1 mile to school, good frame house, basement barn with water inside and litter carrier, straw barn, driveshed, pigpen, milkhouse and silo, choice dark sand loam.

60 acres—$11,000; 4½ miles from London market, 1 mile to school, near store and cheese factory, first-class 2-story brick house with furnace, 2 basement barns, well fitted up, silo, driveshed, garage, best of spring water, windmill, well fenced and tiled, rich clay loam.

100 acres—$10,500; West Zorra, Oxford County, 1½ miles to station, 10 miles to city of Woodstock, on provincial highway, 2-story red pressed brick house, nearly new, slate roof and furnace, basement barn 40x88, with steel stanchions, cement pigpens, 10 acres woods, farm well fenced and tiled, rich clay.

100 acres—$9,000; 7 miles to London, 1½ miles to station, quarter mile to school, good frame house, basement barn, water inside, 3 acres orchard and lots of small fruit, choice clay loam. Would accept house in London.

95 acres—$9,000; 7 miles to London market, 1 mile to school, 2 miles to station, good brick house, basement barn, straw barn, implement house, 3 acres young orchard, 5 acres woods, choice clay loam and self-draining land.

150 acres—$15,000; 3 miles to London, 3 miles to station, powder milk factory and high school, 1 mile to public school, first-class 2-story brick house, fully modern, large basement barn, well fitted up, straw barn, implement shed, silo, well tiled and fenced, rich clay loam.

180 acres—$16,000; 8 miles to London market, 1 mile to school, first-class brick house fully modern, including electric lights, 2 basement barns, with water inside, good orchard, 6 acres hard maple wood, rich clay loam and self-draining.

100 acres—$8,500; 17 miles from London, 3½ miles from Thamesford, brick house, 2 basement barns (one 100 feet long), driveshed, 1½ acres orchard, some woods, well fenced and tiled, spring creek, rich clay loam, and will produce as much as farms that twice the price is asked for; easy terms.

100 acres—$15,000; 9 miles from London, on provincial highway, quarter mile to school, first-class 2-story brick house, finished in oak, slate roof, stone foundation, furnace, large basement barn, well fitted up, with water inside, drivehouse, cement silo, extra well fenced and tiled, rich clay loam, rare good farm. A NEW BLOOD-FOOD HAS BEEN DISCOVERED THAT WORKS WONDERS

Said To Put New Life Into People That Are Rundown.

For years doctors have been searching for a combination that would enable them to inject into thin blood the elements it lacked. This can now be done, and any weak-blooded person can quickly be made strong and well.

Already a small army of ailing people has proved the merit of taking after each meal, with a sip or two of water, two chocolate-coated Ferrozone Tablets. This is easily done, and even one week's use of this wonderful blood-food will prove how nourishing and strengthening and flesh-building the treatment is.

Just think of it—Ferrozone uplifts the entire nervous system, renews the blood, makes it rich and red—gives the sort of aid that's needed in throwing off weakness and languor.

Tens of thousands enjoy the advantages of renewed health through Ferrozone; if you'll only use it, you'll surely grow strong, too; its beneficial action is noticed even in a week. You see it goes right to work, removes the causes of the trouble, and then quickly makes a cure.

For those who sleep poorly and have nervous apprehensions, Ferrozone is a boon; it is a specialist in such cases.

Where there is paleness, poor appetite and languor, Ferrozone makes the patient feel like new in a few days.

In tiredness, nerve exhaustion, spring fever and debility, the power of Ferrozone is known from coast to coast, and universally used with grand results.

Let Ferrozone build you up, let it win you back to robust health—it will do so quickly if you give it the chance. Sold by all dealers; 50c per box, or six boxes for $2.50. Remember the name Ferrozone.

FOSTER AND DOHERTY LEAVE FOR GENEVA TO ATTEND LEAGUE

Will Also Discuss Amendments To the B. N. A. Act.

OTTAWA, Nov. 1.—(By the Canadian Press.)—Tomorrow afternoon Sir George Foster, minister of trade and commerce, and Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice, as Canadian delegates to the Assembly of the League of Nations, leave Ottawa for Geneva. They will be met in London by Hon. N. W. Rowell, formerly president of the privy council, who will be third delegate to the league. Apart from the business of the assembly, the Canadian delegates will, while in London, have important negotiations in hand. Primary among these are:

(1) Amendment of the British North America act.

(2) Delimitation of the Canadian-Newfoundland boundary in Labrador.

(3) Naturalization of aliens.

EQUALITY OF WOMEN AND PROHIBITION ARE PLEASING TO BOOTH

TORONTO, Nov. 1.—Gen. Bramwell Booth, head of the Salvation Army, gave addresses today at meetings of the Canadian Club and the Women's Canadian Club during the day, and spoke to a mass meeting at Massey Hall tonight.

In an interview, in which he deprecated placing too great an emphasis on the importance of education, the general expressed himself as gratified with the progress the Army had made since his previous visit to Canada, seven years ago.

"There has been an advance in material things," he said, "but most of all in the spirit of service and sympathy with every form of suffering."

Gen. Booth expressed pleasure that prohibition and equality of women had come to this country, these being two planks in the Army's platform(he said. "I congratulate you in Canada on prohibition," he said, "but take care to cultivate public opinion to have something solid always behind the movement."

SAYS ALLIES MAKING ONE MORE EFFORT TO UPSET SOVIET

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Leo Kameneff, formerly Russian trade agent here, was ordered by the British Government to leave England, has arrived in Moscow and told the Bolsheviki that the attitude of allied governments in Europe toward them has changed in accord with the situation on the Russian war fronts, say Russian advices.

"The supporters of intervention have again raised their heads," he said. "The Allies are making still one more effort to overthrow the Soviet Government and have staked everything on Gen. Wrangel.

"On the day when Lloyd George told me to leave London," he stated, "the Bank of England started cashing Gen. Wrangel's checks. A direct war against Russia is very unpopular in England and the working classes demand peace. Therefore, Lloyd George did not decide to announce openly the alteration in his policy and even my departure was explained by the two excuses of financial assistance to a labor newspaper and constant relations between Soviet Russia and the Council of Action.

"The further course of events in England and Europe depends on the manner in which Soviet Russia defeats Wrangel," continued Kameneff.

PLAN TO REGISTER PERFECT HUMAN BEINGS

ATLANTIC CITY, Nov. 1.—A plan to have perfect human beings registered and pedigreed, the same as high-class "thoroughbreds of the lower animals," was advocated here recently at the annual convention of the International Alliance of Physicians and Surgeons, the National Association of Progressive Medicine, and two other affiliated bodies.

Dr. Charles E. Conrad, chairman of the convention, stated that a woman or a man, if they have their own and the world's interest at heart, would prefer to select a life mate in whom they have some degree of assurance "is at least as near perfect as a pet dog," which they would not buy, he added, unless the dog had a pedigree of some kind.

KILLS HIS AFFINITY, HER KIN AND SELF

Man With Wife, Two Children Causes Tragedy.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 1.—H. W. Howard, a photographer, with a wife and two children, yesterday afternoon fatally wounded his affinity, Miss Annie Mitchell, killed her stepmother, Mrs. W. O. Mitchell, and then committed suicide by firing a bullet from the same revolver into his heart. Howard had been placed under bond after a private trial at which Miss Mitchell preferred charges. The shooting is considered to be a sequel to this hearing. Learning that Miss Mitchell's parents were at her boarding house preparing to remove her to a sanatorium, Howard rushed in, and with the declaration: "I can't live without her," commenced shooting. Mrs. D. Elliott, proprietor of the boarding house where the tragedy occurred, was held as an accessory.

Catarrh Of the Stomach Is Dangerous

"Thousands Have It and Don't Know It," Says Physician. Frequently Mistaken for Indigestion—How To Recognize and Treat.

"Thousands of people suffer more or less constantly from furred, coated tongue, bad breath, sour, burning stomach, frequent vomiting, rumbling in stomach, bitter eructations, gas, wind, and stomach acidity and call it indigestion when in reality their trouble is due to gastric catarrh of the stomach," writes a New York physician.

Catarrh of the stomach is dangerous because the mucus membrane lining of the stomach is thickened and a coating of phlegm covers the surface so that the digestive fluids cannot mix with the foods and digest them. This condition soon breeds deadly disease in the fermented, unassimilated food. The blood is polluted and carries the infection throughout the body. Gastric ulcers are apt to form and frequently an ulcer is the first sign of a deadly cancer.

In catarrh of the stomach a good and safe treatment is to take before meals a teaspoonful of pure Bisurated Magnesia in half a glass of hot water as hot as you can comfortably drink it. The hot water washes the mucus from the stomach walls and draws the blood to the stomach while the Bisurated Magnesia is an excellent solvent for mucus and increases the efficiency of the hot water treatment. Moreover, the Bisurated Magnesia will serve as a powerful but harmless antacid which will neutralize any excess hydrochloric acid that may be in your stomach and sweeten its food contents. Easy, natural digestion without distress of any kind should soon follow. Bisurated Magnesia is not a laxative, is harmless, pleasant and easy to take and can be obtained from any local druggist. Don't confuse Bisurated Magnesia with other forms of magnesia, milks, citrates, etc., but get it in the pure bisurated form (powder or tablets), especially prepared for this purpose.—Advt.

PINE LAWN HOUSES ALMOST FINISHED

Only Water, Light Connections Necessary—London Bill Defeat Delays Work.

Only water and electric light connections are necessary to complete several houses on the Pine Lawn site, Chairman E. R. Dennis of the housing commission, said Monday. He pointed out that this work had been greatly delayed by the defeat of the London bill, but he believed the public utilities commission was making every effort to complete it this year.

He admitted that the power shortage might have some effect on the question, but that the hydro had promised to supply power if at all possible.

Three of the houses are occupied.

HOSPITAL CHAPLAIN

Rev. Samuel Salton, a superannuated Methodist minister in the city, was appointed Methodist chaplain of the city hospital at the regular meeting of the Methodist Ministerial Association Monday morning, held in Wesley Hall.

Arrangements were made for a missionary Sunday to be held on November 28. Special speakers from Toronto will occupy the pulpits of the central churches, and there will be an exchange of pulpits in the smaller churches. Rev. J. Kelly gave a paper on "The Humorous Side of the Minister." Rev. R. G. Feever presided.

"MIKADO" IS WELL RECEIVED AT GRAND THEATRE LAST NIGHT

Hana Shimozumi, Japanese Maiden, Delights As "Yum Yum"—Cast Excellent.

Gilbert and Sullivan's delightful musical satire on the intricacies and fomalities of Japanese high life was presented last night at the Grand Theatre by the Royal English Opera Company, starring the tiny Japanese lady, Hana Shimozumi. This small and truly Japanese maiden has a marvelously sweet soprano voice, just of the quality suited for light opera, which, together with her charm as an actress, wins for her the immediate delight of her audience. Indeed, there is more than charm of voice and acting in the presence of this silver-throated maiden of the East; there is a subtle magnetism of the Orient, which no western actress could ever wholly achieve. Hana Shimozumi, a native of the land of fans and old-age customs, comes to interpret the role of Yum-Yum, a maiden of Japan, created in the satiric minds of Gilbert and Sullivan. And no one could do it as well as she, for has she not been educated to see Japan through the eyes of the West in the years of her childhood and early maidenhood spent in California?

Master Comedian.

Jefferson de Angelis comes with her as the master comedian, "The Lord High Executioner," so tender-hearted that he can't agree even to his own execution. Jefferson de Angelis is a delightful comedian of the real clown sort, poking fun at everything and never so funny as when he is in distress. Then there is "The Lord High Everything Else," who calls to ridicule ancestor worship and snobbishness every time he opens his mouth. That he happens to hold practically every office in the state is a mere detail in the life of this high and mighty man. Nanki Poo, son of the great Mikado, in the disguise of a wandering minstrel, is the central figure of the little love theme which runs throughout the opera and represents the nearest approach to seriousness in it. Holding the centre of the stage, of course, is the Lord High Executioner, and when the Mikado arrives, he is but a toy monarch playing into the hands of this king of fun.

The voices in the company are exceptionally fine, the voice of J. H. Duffy, who takes the part of Nanki Poo, harmonizing beautifully with that of Hana Shimozumi. In fact each actor has a voice of very fine quality, and the chorus is equal in merit. The general favorites among the songs of the Mikado were received again with enthusiasm last night. There were "The Three Little Maids From School," "The Flowers That Bloom in the Spring," "Tit-Willow" and "A Wandering Minstrel I."

Standing out among the numbers was the quartet, "Brightly Dawns Our Wedding Day," and Yum Yum's solo, "The Sun Whose Rays Are All Ablaze," not to mention the delightful comic song, by "The Lord High Executioner," "They'd None of 'Em be Missed." The mock tragic numbers of Katisha were also well rendered.

"The Mikado" is to be given again on Wednesday afternoon, other productions of this most excellent company being offered tonight, Wednesday and Thursday.

At The Theaters

DOYLE AND DIXON WITH JACK O'LANTERN AT THE GRAND FRIDAY AND SATURDAY.

Before they became actors, Doyle and Dixon, who come to the Grand Friday and Saturday in Charles Dillingham's musical extravaganza, "Jack O'Lantern," were just plain, everyday boys, following the pursuits of millions of other American boys. Doyle was a book salesman, and Dixon was an elevator boy and bellhop.

Even today the comedians could hardly compete with the great capitalists, but neither are they terribly upset over the H. C. L. which is causing so much consternation in so many directions throughout the country.

Mr. Dillingham's stars began their histrionical careers via minstrelsy, the school that produced many of the greatest stars of today. These dignified young men know what it means to don the spangled coat and high hat and "do" the noon-day parade; they know the art of the burnt cork and all the other tricks that go with that famous form of entertainment.

But Doyle and Dixon did not begin in the same show. They first met after they had graduated from the street parade and black-face circle to vaudeville. Like most teams on the stage, the association of these dancers and comedians came about as a result of an emergency and a chance acquaintance.

Fate is a big factor in the theatre, and it must have been some unknown force that placed these boys on the same bill in a New York vaudeville theatre. It was on this occasion that Dixon, then working with another partner, first met Doyle, and the friendship and partnership started at that chance meeting has carried them from obscurity to the topmost position in the realm of musical comedy.

Dixon's partner at the time was taken desperately ill and could not go when it came time for the act to make its entrance. Doyle, on the same bill and doing very much the same type of act, volunteered to help Dixon out. The two made an immediate hit, and then and there they teamed up and have been together ever since.

There isn't a musical comedy star, man or woman, whatever his or her present connection is, who wouldn't change places with Doyle and Dixon. In the first place, "Jack O'Lantern" is one of the largest companies on tour and to be associated with an organization of this magnitude always appeals to an actor's vanity. But a greater reason is Charles Dillingham, who is the producer of "Jack O'Lantern." Mr. Dillingham is to musical comedy what Belasco is to drama, and men and women in musical comedy would consider their future assured if they drew parts in a Dillingham production.

In the short space of four years Doyle and Dixon have developed from one of thousands of vaudeville acts to one of a half dozen Dillingham stars, quite a step in a profession where the principle is, for the most part, "dog eat dog and let the best man win."

"THE WANDERER" COMES TO THE GRAND NOVEMBER 8, 9, 10.

It is not often that realization can be squared with expectation, but such is the case with the brilliant and beautiful drama "The Wanderer," at the Grand Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, November 8, 9, 10.

The producers of "The Wanderer," Messrs. Comstock and Gest, surely have every reason to be proud of their splendid achievement. There is so much to praise that a second and even a third review could be written with equal facility.

The tranquil pastoral scene presented as the curtain rises on the first act, with its impressions of great distances, ripening fields, purple hills, quaint old homesteads, and that large flock of sheep with the shepherd dogs barking as they come roaming joyously across the stage, keep recurring to the mind as a picture that time will take long in effacing.

The second act stands out even more startlingly, for there never has been shown on the American stage a more utter disregard for expense in extravagant stage settings and costumes. The dazzling ensemble when the stage was crowded with dancing houris, slaves, courtesans and their rich young admirers, with the prodigal son being fleeced of his last shekel, brings another picture that will last long. Seats on sale Thursday.

"THE MAID OF THE MOUNTAINS" COMING TO THE GRAND.

"The Maid of the Mountains," the biggest spectacular musical comedy success in the world's history, with the entire London company, will be the attraction at the Grand November 11, 12, 13.

"The Maid of the Mountains" comes here direct from Daly's Theatre, London, Eng., where it ran for five years, breaking all world's records for a continuous run of one musical comedy.

The piece is described as a musical play in three acts, with the book by Frederick Lonsdale, lyrics by Harry Graham, F. Clifford Harris and Valentine, music by Harold Fraser, Simson, and additional numbers by James W. Tate.

It is a George Edwardes' production, brought intact to Canada under a special arrangemeent with the estate of George Edwardes, and will be offered here as originally staged by Oscar Asche.

Among the musical numbers, most of which have already found their way to Canada via "His Master's Voice," are: "Friends Have To Part," "Live For Today," "My Life Is Love," "Farewell," "Dividing the Spoil," "We're Gathered Here," "Love Will Find a Way," "Save Us," "Dirty Work," "A Paradise For Two," "Husbands and Wives," "A Bachelor Gay," "I understand," "When Each Day," "Good People, Gather Around," "When You're In Love," "Over There and Over Here" and "Friendship and Love."

The music in "The Maid of the Mountains" is almost operatic in its beauty, soul-stirring grandeur and brilliancy, and it requires a cast and chorus of highly-trained voices to interpret it. For that reason the entire company is being brought here intact.

After a limited tour of the larger cities in Canada the piece goes to the United States, where it will undoubtedly have long runs, both in New York and Chicago. Seats on sale Monday, November 8.

PASSED FILM DRURY BANNED. NOT OBJECTIONABLE, SAYS PROVINCIAL TREASURER. "OPEN YOUR EYES" COMES UNDER RESTRICTIONS.

Although Premier Drury took such strong exception to the moving picture "Open Your Eyes," that on a Friday evening he put the ban on showing the picture, which was to have been exhibited the following Monday, Hon. Peter Smith, provincial treasurer, who is the final authority in censorship matters, has approved of the picture and it will be exhibited at the Majestic Theatre here all next week.

Premier Drury announced this week that he banned it because he "thought it was not a good thing," adding that "one picture of that kind is enough." The prime minister said that he only "suspended" the showing of the picture until such time as Hon. Mr. Smith returned to the city. Hon. Mr. Drury pointed out that he was not the properly constituted authority to make a ruling.

Provincial Treasurer Smith said that he had lifted the ban after seeing the picture last Friday.

"There is nothing objectionable about the picture," said he. "The censor board passed it and it has been shown at other places in the province. We are allowing them to show the picture now under certain restrictions. No person under sixteen will be allowed in. A doctor will have to be in attendance at every performance to deliver a lecture on the dangers of venereal disease. Further it must be made clear to all entering the building they are not entering an ordinary picture show."

"Open Your Eyes" is said to be a picture with a mighty message—one of the greatest moral benefactors ever presented to the people on the screen.

AT THE PATRICIA

A picture that proved a delight to admirers of Tom Mix's distinctive style of daring was shown last night at the Patricia Theatre. "The Untamed" is one of Mix's latest pictures and is a production in which great interest has been taken by all lovers of the wild and daring features of the usual Mix film. "The Untamed" is adapted from a novel of the name by Max Brand. It is without a doubt one of the most unusual stories in modern popular literature and is exactly suited to the needs of that famous movie star who has been loved by movie fans for his clean-cut and thrilling pictures depicting scenes in the west in the days when it was untamed.

A comedy singing and talking act by Mills and Moulton delighted the audience that filled the house to capacity.

Two added features, a Century comedy, "Loose Lions," and a western drama, "The Smoke Signal," complete the program which will be repeated today and on Wednesday.

Seat Sale Opens.

The all-star Canadian artist musical festival at the Patricia Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday promises to be one of the musical events of the season. The seat sale opens Wednesday morning at the Patricia Theatre.

AT LOEW'S.

One hundred per cent entertainment is crowded into the program at Loew's for the first half of this week. The feature picture, "39 East," starring the vivacious Constance Binney is a masterpiece of its kind. Delightful humor is wound around just enough of a love story to make it interesting.

The vaudeville is headed by "Fads and Follies," an offering having all the qualities of a musical offering except the length. The rosebud chorus of seven is a charming and able one, while the male members of the company are excellent. Songs and dances follow each other in rapid succession, and there are so many changes of costume that one wonders how they are accomplished in such a short time. The several sets of scenery used in the production add much to its charm.

Balancing extraordinary is presented by Harry Tsuda, a clever little Jap. He goes through several stunts that convince the audience he is just as much at home on his hands as most people are on their feet. His best feats are done with a large ball on which he balances two chairs.

E. J. Hore completes the vaudeville with some up-to-date "black magic." He is as much of a humorist as a magician, and the rapid-fire comedy he maintains while performing his remarkable tricks puts the audience in roars of laughter.

The screen comedy which follows keeps them there. Alice Howeel is starred in this production, "Lunatics In Politics."

"39 East" is a tale of New York City. The atmosphere of that vast metropolis is caught in a most realistic manner. Constance Binney plays the part of "Penelope Penn," a New England girl who seeks a musical career in the city to aid her family.

She uses for her base of operations a New York boarding house, one of the hundreds of similar kind to be found anywhere between 42nd and 59th streets. Excitement begins right away, when she meets Gibbs, the most handsome young border in the place. He stands by her in her many trials till she finally makes good as the star of a big production. Interesting views of New York theatre life, behind the scenes, are one of the principal features of the picture.

AT THE ALLEN.

"Madame X" is honestly enough advertised as one of the most powerful dramas ever written, and the picturized version of the play shown the first half of this week at the Allen Theatre, with Pauline Frederick in the title role, is quite thrilling enough to impress even the most hardened of masculine theatre-goers, while few women who saw it yesterday could refrain from tears at some of the highest points of dramatic tension and most sentimental portraiture.

It is a great play, and as a matter of course, carries a strong moral sermon with it, depicting forcibly man's inhumanity to woman. Critically viewing it, however, one may be provoked into asking how many of those who need its lessons most are liable to grasp its lessons, or whether all to little purpose it but draws superfluous tears from sentimental eyes that view the world already with gushingly humanitarian feeling, but never glimpse any tangible path along which to lead sterner hearts to kinder action. Does mankind really profit from blind weeping over the stupidity of so-called justice and the vulgar selfishness of sordid and grasping souls? "Madame X" is a picture that will make men think, but will they think to rational purpose and towards common-sense improvement?

"Let him that is without sin cast the first stone," was the simple, honest attitude that Jesus took towards the magdalen, while modern reformers, perched on squeamish pedestals, reach one hypocritical hand in pretence of helping and simultaneously brush their skirts with the other hand. To make a great play go over the footlights the plot has to be toned down to a happy ending, while for the great majority of "Madame X's" there are no impressionable young attorneys to move the jury of social judgment to a verdict of acquittal.

If you have never seen "Madame X" before, by all means see Pauline Frederick in that role today or tomorrow at the Allen, but spare your salty tears to add savor to your own original and purposeful thinking towards a solution of social problems still forward from the point where the dramatist leaves off.

"Korearing Through Korea" is one of the best travel and educational films released in many weeks. The Christie comedy, "The Lost Bridegroom," possesses a fair amount of cleverness, and the Canadian National Pictorial illustrates among other things work on London's new reservoir at Springbank, which, the chances are, you have not visited.

The musical feature, "Echoes of the Metropolitan," is a very beautiful and excellently-rendered number by the Allen orchestra.

RANEY TO TAKE CRIMINAL ACTION OVER TIMBER

Attorney-General Will Punish Culprits—Drury To Recover Money.

TORONTO, Nov. 1.—Criminal action will be taken by the Government as a result of the interim report of the commissioners who are investigating the timber scandals in Northern Ontario, Justices Riddell and Latchford, which was presented to the Government today. Premier Drury stated this afternoon that the Government would take civil action against the Shevlin-Clarke Company, Limited, to recover moneys owing to the province which had been withheld by the company in question.

Attorney-General W. E. Raney stated tonight that criminal action would be instituted in connection with this report, but he did not mention any names.

According to this report the Shevlin-Clarke Company, Limited, produced from their mills 649,946,017 feet of logs, but reported only 240,181,714 feet to the Government, a deficit of 355,-764,303 feet not reported.

The report states that "the returns made to the Government by cullers and by the company's servants contain a great mass of perjury and forgery. The commissioners find that some cullers were in the pay of the company and also in the pay of the Government at the same time. The commissioners recommend action by the attorney-general for the punishment of those who have committed perjury and forgery, and also recommends that proceedings be taken against the Shevlin-Clarke Company "to recover the sums of money unlawfully withheld from the province."

FARMERS RUSH HOGS TO TORONTO MARKET

CENTRALIA, Nov. 1.—More than fifty live hogs were loaded here on Friday, and another full car on Saturday, also a car of lambs, all for Toronto. The price paid to the farmers for the hogs was $17 per cwt., $2 less than two weeks ago. The farmers are rushing their stock to market, as they expect a drop of another dollar this week. In the cariot shipped on Saturday there was one hog that weighed 560 pounds.

SHE DARKENED HER GREY HAIR
Tells How She Did It With a Home-Made Remedy.
Mrs. E. H. Boots, a well-known resident of Buchanan County, Ia., who darkened her grey hair, made the following statement:
"Any lady or gentleman can darken their grey or faded hair, and make it soft and glossy with this simple remedy, which they can mix at home. To half a pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, one small box of Orlex Compound and ¼ ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair every other day until the grey hair is darkened sufficiently. It does not color the scalp; is not greasy and does not rub off. It will make a grey-haired person look 20 years younger."—Advt.

STRATFORD'S HEALTH BOARD ONLY COSTS SEVEN CENTS A HEAD

Dr. J. E. Woodhouse Tells C. of C. It Should Be Sixty-Five Cents.

STRATFORD, Nov. 1.—That the city should spend ten times as much as it does for public health was the declaration of Dr. J. E. Woodhouse, district medical officer of health, before the chamber of commerce today. Dr. Woodhouse told of the health campaigns in other cities. The cost of operating the board of health here was about $6,752 annually, or 7 cents per head a year. He presented a program which he said would be adequate for a city this size, and would cost the city 65 cents a head. This calls for a medical health officer at $1,800; sanitary inspector at $1,300; health nurse at $1,500; part-time clerk at $600; a laboratory costing $1,000 to keep up, and a man to run it, $3,500, or thereabouts; school nurse, $1,000, and a health centre, $1,000. Some of the expense would be borne by the Government.

Dr. Cunningham of the department of industrial hygiene, provincial board of health, also spoke.

Rev. W. H. Breg of St. Peter's Lutheran Church, has declined a call to a Michigan charge.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Bemaine, Milton street, celebrated the 25th anniversary of their marriage and were handsomely remembered.

South Perth rural school trustees have organized with the following officers: Honorary president, J. H. Smith; president, Hon. Nelson Montleth; vice-president, Mr. Joseph Mountain; secretary, Miss M. McCully. Executive committee: A. Colquhoun, Hibbert; R. Smith, Fullarton; Mrs. G. Hookway, Blanchard; Mrs. S. Richardson, Downie, and J. Krug, South Easthope.

During the month of October there were 38 births, 20 marriages and 17 deaths, according to City Clerk Dorland's report.

Thirty-two building permits were issued during the month of October, valued at $34,093. The total number of building permits issued so far this year number 95 and the value $443,191 as against a value of $226,591 for the corresponding month last year. Twenty-seven plumbing and drainage permits were issued during the month.

On Friday evening at the Chamber of Commerce rooms the annual meeting of the Stratford hockey club will be held. A new wrinkle is being introduced this year. At the meeting no one may vote who has not paid $2 membership fee. About 200 members are sought. Two good teams are expected this year.

City council had a light session tonight. Four bylaws were passed, chief among them being to provide for the taking of votes on the formation of a board of education. The vote will be taken in the January election. The other bylaws were to borrow money for current expenses; to regulate traffic on improved streets and to authorize the agreement with the County of Perth on the administration of justice.

FARM HAND SAVAGELY ATTACKED BY BULL SERIOUSLY INJURED

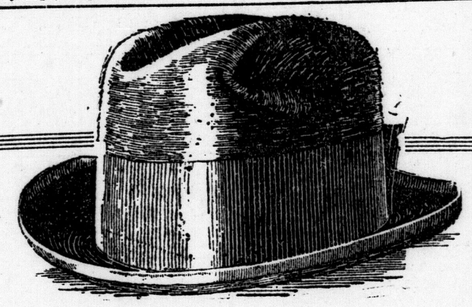

Infuriated Animal Driven Off With Pitchfork—Man in Hospital.

GUELPH, Nov. 1.—As the result of being attacked by a vicious bull on the farm of John McIntosh, Paisley Block, this morning, L. E. Cook, a farm hand, sustained very serious injuries, and is now in the general hospital. The infuriated animal dashed at Mr. Cook without warning and pinned him to the ground, its horns penetrating his body and inflicting some dangerous wounds.

Mr. McIntosh, who was standing nearby, rushed to the assistance of Mr. Cook, and managed to beat the bull off with a pitchfork, and in so doing the animal was also severely crippled. The unfortunate victim was rushed to the general hospital, where his condition was this afternoon reported as somewhat improved, although his injuries are of a very serious nature. Up to this morning the animal had always been kindly disposed to his attendant, Mr. Cook.

Increase in Customs.

The local customs house reports an increase in the receipts for the month of October over the corresponding month last year. Last month the receipts totalled $45,712.20, while in October, 1919, they were $38,248.30, an increase of $7,463.20.

MORE MARRIAGES IN WOODSTOCK

WOODSTOCK, Nov. 1.—An increase in the number of births and marriges and a decrease in the number of deaths as compared with former years is the record set for the city so far this year as shown by the vital statistics for the month of October. There were 15 deaths and 17 marriages, one more death than the same month last year, and six more marriages.
