DECLARES TRADE FUTURE BRIGHT DESPITE CHAOS

E. Ray, Canadian Commissioner, Visits City To Give Concerns Solutions For

TOURING DOMINION

Notwithstanding industrial chaos Notwithstanding industrial chaos with which many lines of business are at present confronted, executives may look forward to the future with hope and confidence, if they will concentrate on the production of first-class goods at competitive prices.

This, in short, is the optimistic message of J. E. Bay, noted authority on industrial subjects and Canadian trade commissioner to Manchester. England, who arrived in London this morning. Mr. Ray is making a tour of the business centres of Canada for the purpose of discussing export prob-lems of Canadian manufacturers. This morning he visited many local industries to advise them on these prob-lems. Among those visited were the Ruggles Truck Co., the Empire Mfg. Co., the Battle Creek Cornflakes Co., Columbia Handle Works, London Concrete Marchinery Co., London and Petrolea Barrel Works, Somerville Paper Box Co., McClary Mfg. Co., Spramotor Co., Silverwoods, Ltd., and many others. Mr. Ray came to London primarily to discover how local concerns are equipped for export. He recently completed a survey of the Maritime Provinces, Quebec and the larger cities of Ontario. In an exclusive interview with The Advertiser, he offered many valuable observations in connection with export trade, and summarized the problems and future of Canadian industry in the clear, understandable manner for which his numerous writings are noted.

Must Regain Markets. "The difficulties confronting Can-adian exporters in the North of England." Mr. Ray declared, "are prob ably greater than they have been in years. Canadian export trade to that area was extensive during the war, and the boom year of 1919, when competition was not a large factor competition was not a large factor in sales. Today, however, British about $50 were realized from the manufacturers realize they must dancing, with the Cayuga Orchestra. not only cut down costs month by month, to maintain old domestic trade as much as possible, but also to regain markets lost during the war when they were engaged in military

"The next twelve months will see scramble for world trade unsurpassed in history. Great Britain, the United States, Japan, Germany and France are all struggling to regain the losa markets of old or to obtain a foothold in new markets. Consequently Canadian manufacturers will find competition much stronger." Mr. Ray added that sentiment in Want Canadian Trade. The Canadian trade commissioner o Manchester added that he was much impressed with the activity of factories in London. It would certainly be worth while, he assert-ed, for hte Canadian manufacturers to give more attention to the posibilities of the city of Manchester as or centre of distribution. There are Smith splendid facilities for the reception The nd distribution of traffic and direct water communication from Canad-lan Atlantic ports to the warehouses Manchester which is the centre of population of nine million people in a radius of 30 miles. "The ship canal authorities of Manchester," he said, "are doing all in their power to attract Canadia in their power to attract Canadian trade. The advantages of a central port in the north of England are fully appreciated by Austrailia and New Zealand, who are making direct exports of produce thereto.

"Manufacturers in this country everywhere complain of certain obstacles such as high ocean freight rates, as impeding the flow of trade between Canada and Great Britain. between Canada and Great Britain. If some reduction of freight rates were possible an undoubted impetus be given Canadian exports. Canada's chief competitor in wood products is Scandinavia, owing to its more advantageous geographical situation, so it will be seen how beneficial a reduction of freight charges would be in the way of decreasing

Mr. Ray paid tribute to the inde-fatiguable efforts of H. R. Poussette, director of the Commercial Intelligence Service, Ottawa, who is deter-mined to do all in his power to make Canada a leading export country.

CROWING . OVER THE CAT.

The crow is a wise and self-possessed bird, and is not to be disturbed by such a thing as a cat, an animal the presence of which will usually disturb any other bird to the utmost. A nature observer the same black cat was seen stalking a solitary crow that, with his back turn-ed, was feeding on the plowed land. Suddenly the bird looked around and saw his enemy. The crow gave a shout of rage, and, leaping into the air, the made swoops to within a few inches of his nose and whiskers. All the while the jeat sat back on his haunches as if attacked by a dog.

Finding that he would not move, the crow went higher and began to trumpet caws for all he was worth. Then, be-hold, from different quarters came a reinforcement of two crows, shouting encouragement to the solitary warrior.

Having joined forces, the three swooped down close to the cat, and, fluttering their wings, sang their hoarse battle songs. Whereupon the cat turned tail, walked, trotted, galloped, and finally bolted headlong. The triumphant crows pursued him right into the street two hundred yards away, and then aban-doned the chase.

STATE INDUSTRY

Woolen Manufacturers Will Present Resolution To Federal Parliament.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, July 26 .- A general feeling of depression in the woolen goods industry in Canada owing to the importation of large quantities of goods from Europe and the United Kingdom, and a consequent falling off in the amount of business done by the Canadian manufacturers, made itself felt at the annual general meeting of the Canadian Woolen Manufacturers' Association held here yes terday. This depression, it was claimed, was largely due to the reductions in the customs tariff.

R. Thompson of Carleton Place, a former vice-president of the association, declared that under the British preference the total amount of importations into Canada for the year ending March, 1923, from the United Kingdom was $92,581,531, and that of this amount woolen and knit goods accounted for no less than $30,919,680, or one-third of the total importa-

London and the Red Shoes.

A New York woman visiting in London claims that people stared at her red shoes so hard that she was much embarrassed, so much in fact that she left the city a day or two before she had intended doing so.

She told a reporter that some of the people here even laughed at them. Yes, sir, that's what she said, they actually looked at her red shoes and stockings and laughed.

But this New York woman should not be offended. We are a rather bright and very observant lot of people through the doors of our pay-as-you-enter street cars? in London. We are out to see all there is to see, and the only way to see things is to look at them.

When a young man, for instance, goes back to his old home town he expects to be looked at; so does a girl. If a young chap gets a new cut in a suit of clothes. with a crease in the pants that looks like the acute corner of a packing-case, with a collar and tie exactly like the men in the ads wear, well he expects that the folks at home are going to have a good long look at him. There is also a dignity attached to the position of alderman that is not to be lightly regarded.

It is out of the question, and quite beyond the bounds of reason, to think that the present aldermen desire to carry on their meetings in anything but a proper and dignified manner. The present council contains capable men, but they have failed to pull together. They have an excellent opportunity right now to go ahead and demonstrate how a real city council should function.

Not Many Great Speeches.

The Ottawa Journal has a low estimate of the average speech in parliament, so low that it refers to Hansard, the publication in which all these speeches are printed, as "a nightmare."

It is undoubtedly a fact that there are few great speeches made in the Canadian Commons. Now and then there arise big issues that stir men to great efforts. and on those occasions men are moved to say the things they believe, and by which they are prepared to stand or fall, regardless of party. On such occasions we believe the debates in the Canadian parliament will stand up with those in any other similar body.

The trouble is that these times are infrequent Members know just about what the party has in mind. and if a speaker wants to add his quota to the debate he feels compelled, by party pressure, to so' choose his words and select his phrases as to bring grist to the party mill. (From the Christian Science Monitor.) There could be no more convincing evidence of the fixity of public determination to enforce literally the prohibition amendment in the United States than the summary of legislative action taken on this subject during the past year published yesterday by The Associated Press. This thoroughly unbiased and nonpartisan organization reports that the question of enforcing prohibition laws has come up within the last few months in the legislatures of fourteen states. The states in which i has been a matter of legislation are: Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Texas an isconsin. HOME AND CITY.

The welfare of the city and the welfare of the home are inseparably

What is the city, after all, but a great collection of homes?

We often talk vaguely about the city as if it were a mighty entity, But in truth it has no existence apart from the families which com pose it. Its life is theirs. The physical conditions, such as overcrowding, and bad buildings, and high rents, which make the formation of a home difficult, and the moral conditions, such as the prevalence of drunkenness and licentious ness, the inordinate pursuit of amusements, and the insane desire for dangers of the city. It is against these things that we need to be on our guard, and to work and fight with all our might.

I perceive with men this is impossible, but with God all things are possible (Matthew 19:22-26). I perceive through the psychological eye of Jesus that the universal unrest between capital and abor of all kindreds, tongues and nations of today is a demonstration before the eyes of the whole world that Henry Ford, Rockefeller and rich corporations and the political parties who sit in Moses' seat, have absolutely failed to solve the great problem of universal unrest between capital and labor that confronts the whole world today. The high wages, I perceive, of the rich corporations is no solution to the great problem.

The high wages of the rich corpora-tions draws the young and rising generation from the basic industry of all other industries, agriculture, to the cities, where the almighty dollar rules and reigns supreme. It is obvious to the wayfaring man, like the Egyptians of old, that it's not the lack of wheat in the western provinces, for God has provided full and plenty, and millions of bushes to spare, that causes the farming com-munities to cry out to their political parties who sit in Moses's seat for doctrines whereby they might have life, and that more abundantly. Your Health: Why Mothers Ive

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M.D. . | Every season has its faults. For babies the summer is the trying

What a baby is depends largely on its mother. It depends on the health, the vigor, the temper, the care, the inclinations of the mother. "The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world."

Being a mother is the hardest, the most exacting and yet the best job in the world. "God could not be everywhere, so He made mothers." Summer is a bad time for mother. The heat of the day and the breathlessness of the night sap her vitality and banish her energy. It is hard enough to keep one's own soul and body together, but, in addition to guard and nourish another little life, is more than doubling the demands on resourcefulness and effort.

A mother cannot do her full duty to her child unless she conserves her wn health and strength. If mother thinks of her own needs it is not selfishness. Indeed, it would be shortsightedness of the worst type if she neglected herself. Her baby will be the chief sufferer if she does. For the sake of the child mother must take wise care of herself.

I was much impressed by a warning given by a Montreal doctor to his wife during the great epidemic of influenza. He said to her: "During this emergency treat me Watch my food, insist on regular bathing, guard my room when there are a few hours for sleep, don't permit trifling things to be brought to excite and irritate brought to excite and irritate Watch me carefully and I'll go through this thing, capable of meeting each day for weeks the tremendous demands on brain and strength that will be made."

This was wonderful advice and proved that the author is a great doctor. We should act on that advice in dealing with the mother of a baby. She must be treated "like a race-horse." Her health and vitality must be guarded with perfect care. Everyone in the household should bear in mind the preciousness of the mother's life. Everyone should keep her cheerful. The mind must be at peace, or all else fails.

Recreation should be had for an hour or two every day. All the fresh be forced on the mother, who is sure to rebel about the fuss made over her, should be given her.

ANTI-RELIGIOUS CAMPAIGN OF BOLSHEVIKI FAILS

RELIGION THRIVES N RUSSIA DESPITE ORDER OF SOVIET

Communists' Campaign Has Done Much To Turn the World Against Them

VICIOUS PRINCIPLES

By F. A. MACKENZHE.

Special Cable to The London Advertiser and Chicago Daily News. Copyright. Moscow, July 26 .- The Communist campaign against religion has done more to repel the world from Soviet Russia than any other cause. One faintly realizes, not here in Moscow, but in London, for instance, evidences of its damaging effects are everywhere. It has destroyed sympathy, transformed possible friends into active enemies, and driven into the opposition camp those who otherwise would have sympathized with struggle to overcome the evils inherited from ancient czarism.

Marquis Curzon's strong opposition to the Communist government; which is still unappeased, was caused largely by his disgust at the obscene, indecent and anti-Christian cartoons issued with the consent of the Russian state. Some sections of the realize this, and they are striving to have the ban against religion within their party removed. Many are being made within Russia to secure a "church amnesty," but hundreds of priests are still serving prison sentences and executions will igion, which they regard as per nicious superstition, by limiting the of the churches, by forbidding the churches to engage in philanthropy, and by encouraging in every way possible the notion that religion is a cloak by which the greedy rich cover their designs and keep workers in a state of slavery, but above all, by preventing re-ligious education of children and educating them actively in the Atheist and Communist doctrine.

The Jesuits once said. "Give us child until he is six years old. You can have him afterward; he will always be ours," one active Commun-ist official recently told the writer. 'We say the same. We control education, instill non-religious Communism into young people, and for-bid their corporate religious teaching until 18. After that religion can try to do what it likes with them. It will try in vain."

This principle of preventing children from imbibing religion was planned thoroughly. Sunday schools are illegal, and the penalty for hold-ing them is death. The mother who other children along with own to tell them the story of Bethlehem, is guilty of treason against the state, The Salvation Army is suppressed, partly for feeding the hungry children, for if the church feeds the hungry it will create sympathy among them for its doctrines. No religious teaching or atmosphere is allowed in any orphanated children's home, hospital or singled in stitutions. The children of one family may be taught at home, but that Some Communists advocate sterner measures still. Will Take Children.

Bukharin, the most brilliant amons younger leaders, would take children away from their parents when the parents are religious. "What has been done to throw off the yoke of religion is all too little," he wrote still remains within the power of ignorant parents to cripple the minds of their children by teaching them religious fables. Under the Soviet power there is freedom of conscience This is tantamount to freedom for them to poison the mind of their children; the parents force upon the children their own ignor ance, and proclaim as truth all kinds

One of the most important tasks of the proletariat state is to liberate the children from the reactionary influence exercised by their parents. Bukharin declares that the claim of the parents to the right to bring up their own children, is laughable.

The state must decide whether it will allow parents to keep their own without sleeves. A prospective huschildren or will take them away from this has remained merely at theory The probability is that the Soviet with the modifications now going on, will never accept this ex-

DIGNIFYING A TRADE IN INDIA. In India it is the custom to initiate each man into his particular vocation. The initiation of a boy into the carpenter's trade is a ceremony in every way as impressive as the ordination of a bishop. The Indian says: "We Hindus look for no material solution of the problems of poverty. We have no devices for multiplying produc-tion. We think that we cannot change the situation mechanically and that therefore we must solve it emotionally. So we must solve it emotionally. So we make each man a poet by consecrating him like a priest to his task, and this is the meaning of initiation. Industry is organized so that each man in his own trade, by working with his own tools, may be lease his creative spirit."

TWO LOSSES MAY COST REDS FLAG Cards Trip Them, Reducing

Cincy's Pennant Chances Ten Per Cent.

By JOHN B. FOSTER. Copyright.

New York, July 25.—Two defeats are not much in the heat of a baseball campaign, but they can do a great deal of damage to a team's pennant aspirations.

Two defeats for the Cincinnati club by St. Louis in their last series of three games should not cause Redland fans immediately to give up hope, but the time and manner in which the defeats were administered have started a chain of conjecture as to whether the Reds have run afoul of the same midsummer experience which has dropped Pittsburg into the gully of defeat for the last two years. Had Cincinnati, after its capital eastern trip, ripped into St. Louis and cut it down had and close to the ground, the Reds would be more of a factor for the pennant by 10 per cent than they have proved themselves to be by their inability to smash their way to the front by sheer skill. They had a game and a half or two games to go to prove that they were ready to be front runners. They did not make it. The sprinter who draws up to within ten yards of the leader is the same kind of a race horse. The Cincinnatis have got to get these ten yards and have got to get these ten yards and ten more before they will prove that they are to be relied upon.

While they are trying for them again after having lost ground, watch out for the Giants. It is in moments of this kind that the New Yorks excel.

Midsummer Slump.

Clubs that have been able to give the Giants any kind of a battle in recent years have gone along allright until that period in midsummer when they have "chucked the job." St. Louis has done it, Pittsburg has done it, and Cincinnati is worrying this early whether the Reds are not going to do it. The Giants won three games against St. Louis team, which is not so much unless the men are pulling in unison has thrashed New York, and all season the Cardinals have been giving the Reds a battle.

St. Louis is one of the teams the cardinals have been giving the Reds a battle.

St. Louis is one of the teams the Reds should be able to shake by the collar if they expect to overtake New York and pass it. No team has had a better opportunity to get up to the tape neck and neck with the Giants than the Cincinnatis have had within the last ten days. When the Reds should have shown whether they have the class to do these things which make pennant-winners, they have faltered, with the Cardinals to beat. St. Louis has a pitching staff that is not overly strong, and Cincinnati should beat the Cardinals at the ratio of three games out of every five at least. They have not done it.

There are increasing indications that the Pittsburg infield is to be made over, and it is about time that it should be. The weakness at shortstop is becoming too apparent. Moranville has fallen off in batting, and does not cover the ground as he did. The Pirates must get a shortstop who will go over back of second base and pick them up better than the Rabbit is getting them.

Infield weakness and lack of discipline on the part of some players have cost Pittsburg heavily. Recent changes have helped the team, with the exception of adding Meadows to the pitchers. He is not pitching as well as he was, and may deplore the fact that the Giants did not get him.

Ingersoll, July 25.—Saturday's baseball game of the Oxford-Eigin series of the O. B. A. with Springfield nere is anticipated by local fans with more than usual interest. From reports received the Springfield team has strengthened considerably and will come here determined to win. At home they created more confidence today, when they defeated Tillsonburg and Ingersoll, and the homewell for you to have too many of these will for you to have too many of these details in your mind at the time you are making the stroke.

Tou must be practically unconscious of the swing at the time you make it. If there are points you want to demonstrate to yourself it is well to do so by means of practice strokes before each shot if you can do so without delaying players behind you or annoying your companions. In actually making a stroke you should simplify it to one or two fundamental propositions, such as getting the left arm straight, shooting the left shoulder in behind the club as the club goes up, and so on. Your mind must not be cluttered up with the different sections of the stroke because trying to think of so many things at one time will yield only a mental jumble, and a resultant spoiled shot. Marconis fought a bitter uphill battle with St. Marys in the C. A. A. A. League last night to a 6-6 seven-inning tie. St. Marys piled up four runs in the first before Marconis tightened the clamps on them, and they went scorecess from then on until the last frame. Four runs looked like a mark to shoot at to Marconis, for they chalked up the first instalment in their half of the first with half that number, and added the other brace in the fifth. The sixth was unproductive of anything in the way of scores, but St. Marys broke the tie in the seventh with two runs. Marconis, for the second time in the game, tied the score in their half of the frame, and the game was called in the growing darkness.

Boyle's announcement, made early this morning, was followed by a statement by William Kavan, boxing inspector for Douglas County, Omaha, that the Firpo-Smith bout would not be permitted, on the ground that Smith was not a capable opponent for the South American conqueror of Jess Willard. Later, however, after Kavan got in touch with Boyle, he announced that he had "the wrong Smith in mind."

INGERSOLL ORGANIZES TOWN SOFTBALL LEAGUE

Special to The Advertiser.

Ingersoll, July 25.—Keen interest is being manifested in softball, as evident by the organization of a league, comprising eleven teams. The teams have been divided into two groups, and the opening game of the series will be played tomorrow night between the Morrow Company and Rangers. Several of the factories have entered teams, and throughout the town the league is creating much interest.

DASEBALL MARCONS BATTLE New Hurler Stops Anglers With Five Runs and Tecs Win

> Errors In Eighth With Hits Helped Tecs Overcome Anglers' Lead.

Delman, the blonde Sioux Falls brave, stepped in yesterday afternoon and stepped in yesterday afternoon and unkindly but effectively spoiled the beginning of a plump afternoon for Muskegon batters, near the end of the second inning, after the visiting persons had nicked "Pep" Haines for five runs and eight hits. He subdued the Anglers, giving the Londoners a chance for a breather and time to gather seven runs for a 7 to 5 count on the afternoon.

Anglers, giving the Londoners a chance for a breather and time to gather seven runs for a 7 to 5 count on the afternoon.

The local braves had gathered three of the much-needed tallies by the eighth, in which phase the Anglers broke up entirely defensively, and during which Fisher asked for the abdication of Keiser, let Pinto stay until he had filled the bases, and then, his ruddy countenance a still more fiery red, had finally called on Gillenwater to stop the havoc. Schaefer, who had got on through Kane's error, advanced on Fuckley's single, was a force-out on a lever piece of work between Myess and Hardon at third on Thut's attempted bunt. When Coogan dropped a single into short center, scoring Buckley. Pinto faded from the scenery in which he got over his first awkward stage-fright a few seasons back. Gillenwater marched to the hill, but this didn't mean anything to the irrepressible Mr. Ruane, who smartly singled, and, as Cozington let the ball go clean through him, Thut and Coogan crossed the plate, Joe going to third. Ted Anderson held him there while he tagged out Delman on a roller toward first, out Joe scored when Gillenwater threw Stimpson's high bounce above the plate wild to first. Stimpson stole second, but it didn't mean a thing, as Getsie filed out to left.

The Anglers went into the action like a battery of French 75's, for, with Sol Kimble gone, the next five hit safely. Three, however, were left gasping on the bases, as Haydon struck out and Myers lifted a pop.

Kelser opened the second with a single at Thut, but, sacrificed to second by Kimble, was caught loitering off second by Haines. Under these favorable circumstances, it looked as if Hafnes was safe for the afternoon, but he immediately walked two. This apparently was a situation Cozington had dreamed of. The dream came true, as he hit a homer that sailed on a line far over the flag in right field. Delman was called in right here, and though Dodson singled, he was out a moment later stealing.

Two were gone when Myers bounced a triple of fithe right field fence, which Schaefer could have got on the bounce had he not run a race to the fence with the ball. This was about the last word from the Anglers. Kimble, on the first ball pitched, singled to left in the part frame but that was the final Associated Press Despatch.

New York, July 25.—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, and Luis Yord from the Angiers. Kimble, on the first ball pitched, singled to left in the next frame, but that was the final gasp. Delman was master after that. In the fifth Ruane opened with a single. Delman whifted. Stimpson singled to center, Ruane going to third and Stimpson to second on the throw lo get Ruane. Getsie fouled out to Myers. Churry's hit was deflected by McHale, who leaped high into the air and Stimpson scoring.

In the seventh, Ruane, on the first hall pitched, singled sharply past third. Delman's fielder's choice forced Ruane and Stimpson scoring.

In the seventh, Ruane, on the first hall pitched, singled sharply past third. Delman's fielder's choice forced Ruane at second. Delman went to third when McHale let Stimpson's grounder get through him. Getsie's sacrifice fly scored Delman, Stimpson going to record on the play. McHale took Churry's pop.

Associated Press Despatch.

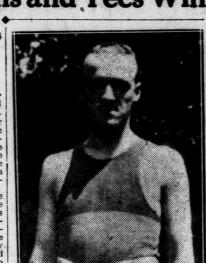

New York, July 25.—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, and Luis Angel Firpo, his challenger from the Angentine, have been matched for a title bout, probably in September, at a site within or close to New York.

Promoter Tex Rickard announced late today that articles binding the match had been signed by Firpo and Jack Kearns, the champions manager, but he declared the date and place were still a matter of uncertainty.

Belief that Rickard had the Polo Grounds in mind as the probable site was strengthened by information that he had held another conference with Charles A. Stoneham, president of the New York Giants. There was also considerable speculation over possible dates with the probability that the bout would be staged some time between September 5 and 22.

Big Series of Preliminary Swimming Events Mapped Out-Baseball Schedules Drawn For All Divisions-Corson Returns.

Following up the interest created throughout the Corsan campaign, the playgrounds department, public utilities commission, will conduct a series of open swimming events as preliminaries.

Special events, girls—Dodge ball.

A competitor cannot take part in two series.

First, second and third awards will be made in each event and medals given for the highest score in each class. Events start at 6:30 p.m., and entries must be received before this time by the life guard at Thames Park bathing pool, Mr. F. Baker.

Many inquiries have come in about the proposed events, and the staff at Thames Park will be taxed to handle the crowd, so get your entries in now.

Each playground supervisor has now at hand a copy of the following:

Baseball competition, track in field events, items for the annual festival, racing, folk dancing, pyramid building. And in addition the events are carded for the huge swimming meet which is to take place on August 1, being a part of the Old Boys' Reunion program.

From the program, which is herein outlined, it can be seen that the supervisors of London playgrounds have their hands full, and will require every moment from daylight to dark in the practice of coming events which will create an interest for both girls and boys such as nothing but competition will.

JACKSON BEARCATS TO VISIT ST. THOMAS. Special to The Advertiser.

Special to The Advertiser.

St. Thomas, July 25.—One of the biggest baseball attractions of the season in this city, will be staged Friday aftermoon at 4:30, when the Bearcats of Jackson, Mich., will meet the M. C. R. Tigers in a game of ball. The match will be staged at Pinafore Park. Two years ago when the Jackson team played in St. Thomas a crowd of 1.500 fans was attracted. The crowd this year is expected to exceed this number as the Tigers defeated Jackson at Tashmoo Park, June 25, by the score of 4 to 2, the first time in seven years. The local M. C. R. is composed largely of O. B. A. A. players and they should make a good showing. Arlein and Binns will likely be the battery for St. Thomas will contains the seven while Zink will pitch for Jackson.

Pring started for the London tribe, but he retired in the second when the third out seemed beyond his reach. Down, who relieved him, finished the frame without further trouble, but stepped into a hornet's lest in the third, when he was stung for three lusty counters. The seven-run lead was never regained, although London tried hard with three tallies in each of the sixth and seventh innings.

Wilbur Kress,

pitcher, after only one inning on the mound, threw out his shoulder on the second pitched ball in warming up for the second frame, and then in the eleventh inning "Speedy" Oliver, the local's first-string catcher, was hit on the wrist by one of Henry's fast shoots, and under the X-ray it was found that the bone had been badly splintered. He was taken to the hospital.

The Leafs put up a fine exhibition, and on their performance deserved a win. They played snappy ball and hit hard, bunching their drives when needed. For seven innings "Chuck" Henry pitched fine ball, but in the eighth he became wild. Two hits and a walk filled the bases, with none out. Hency forced in two runs, hitting a batter and walking one, and with the sacks still loaded and two out. Wally Grove cleaned the sacks with a triple to right field. A double to open the ninth forced Henry's retirement, and, wift the score 8, to 6, Goyer took up mound duty and succeeded in holding the Terriers in check. night's Friendship Cycling Club's weekly bioycling meet at Queen's Park, in which a varied program brought forth a maximum of excitement. One of the surprises was furnished, when C. Henshaw riding from the 100 vard mark. defeated Bill Coles, Dominion 10-mile champion in the 10 miles limit handicap. It was a close finish race, and, in fact was close nearly all the way. Coles caught up to Henshaw in the second lap, and throughout the rest of the distance the two riders alternated in the lead.

The limit handicap was 440 yards. Graham, riding from 380 yards, rode an exceptionally fine race, and made things interesting in the eight laps before he was caught was caught.

Another event that brought the crowd to its feet, was the mile for boys, 15 and under. The small boys, C. Hope and Billy Godfree, instead of riding their own mile event, the 10 years and under chose to ride with the older boys, and they confirmed their confidence in themselves, to the accompaniment of the cheers of the large crowd, by taking the first two places in the finish, from boys twice their size.

The ladies' half-mile race was postponed until next week.

The results of the events were as follows:

lows:

Men's Race.

One mile handicap—(1) G. Davies (70 yards), (2) Norm Tucker; (50 yards); (3) Frank Graham (85 yards). Time, 2:21.

ANADIANS have always been noted for courage, optimism and faith in their Canada was not built up by pessimists, nor will Canada continue to develop if her people allow themselves to become croakers and grouchers. Canada is fundamentally an agricultural country. We have a soil and climate which can grow the world's finest agricultural products.

Canadian farmers who have earned the capital invested in their farms out of profits in farming are numbered in thousands. These successful farmers have paid off their mortgages, stocked their barns and stables, bought their machinery, made a good living and brought up their families. It meant hard work, but today they are independent.

Money in Mixed Farming

In recent years, at different points on the prairies, oats fed to steers have brought from 70c to $1.07 as against the Fort William price of 42c per bushel, while barley used for the same purpose has brought as high as 99c as against the Fort William price of 57c per bushel. Farmers marketing their coarse grains in this way lower marketing cost, have a sure market and make money on their grain, while at the same time they market their roughage, otherwise often wasted.

The cattle embargo is now off. Steers are worth more money and certain to make good money for the Canadian farmer from now on.

Money in Pigs

The Dominion Experimental Farms have proved by actual test that there is a profit in feeding pigs. Last year at the Central Farm, Ottawa, after paying for feed, labor, interest and depreciation, the net profit per pig was still $4.63.

Profits from Sheep

As money-makers, sheep are hard to beat. In every Province from Prince Edward Island to British Columbia are found many flocks returning generous profits to their owners.

Poultry Pays

Poultry makes money for those who adopt modern methods, whether East or West. Little Prince Edward Island markets co-operatively in carlots, shipping annually upwards of one million dozen eggs. The British Columbia Co-operative Poultry Men's Exchange markets in the same way, thus saving ruinous glut in their local market.

Grow Seed

Canada's Northern grown seed possesses extra vitality. There is a large market for it to the south. Canada exports seed potatoes, but imports other seeds. She has the opportunity to grow seed for herself and for export.

The Future Ten years from now the pessimists of today will have been forgotten. Britain has removed the embargo against our cattle. She wants our beef and bacon, our cheese, butter, eggs and apples, our wheat and flour. As the population of the United States increases, she will compete less and less against us on the British market. Eventually, she will herself be an importer of many other food stuffs besides wheat from this country.

Canada has the men, the climate, the land, the stock and the potential markets necessary for agricultural success. Let us farm with all the industry and science we can muster. Let's get to work and pay off our debts. Canada is moving forward with confidence in its future. Let us keep going ahead.

That winter Jimmy unexpectedly won a case which netted him an even thousand dollars and the sight of the check brought back to him the words of Mary Louise.

An intense longing surged within him to help her out, even as years ago he had been helped by the kindly rector. But handing over a sum of that amount to an unrelated young lady presented Suddenly the idea of creating a fictitious great-uncle occurred to him-a great-uncle who would exist but for a noment on a sheet of paper, but long enough to bequeath .o Mary Louise a thousand-dollar legacy. The letter had been written and sent, and now Jimmy sat and dreamed in his office of its reception by a blueeyed girl in a lonely farmhouse near Drift Harbor. And as he dreamed, the door of his office opened. At sight of a slim figure Jimmy sprang to his feet.

Danny Meadow Mouse Finds a Wonderful Tin Can Which Will Just Do For Their Home

By THORNTON, W. BURGESS.

Peter Rabbit was no longer about to interfere, Danny and Nanny Meadow Mouse resumed their journey to look for a place for a new home. don't know where we're going, but we's on our way," said Danny,

"It's a good thing we haven't a family," replied Nanny. "We have only our two selves to worry about, and that is something to be thankful again find such a good home as the one we have just left."

They didn't find a place to suit them that day, so the next day they continued their journey. Nanny was very hard to please. Danny found several places that he thought would very nice. But each time Nanny ound fault. If it wasn't one thing it was another that was wrong. Each time Danny cheerfully said, "All right, my dear, we will look some-where else."

So at last they came to the edge of while they followed along the fence. Nanny became tired and stopped to rest and to eat a big grasshopper which she had caught. Danny kept on. He had gone only a short dison. He had gone only a short distance when just at the foot of a post he found something that was new and strange to him. It was an empty square can lying on one side. In one end was a smooth, round hole. That hole was just about big enough for Danny to slip through easily. The can was old and rusty. Of course, Danny didn't know it was a can. He Danny didn't know it was a can. He didn't know anything about cans. He tried his teeth on it and found he couldn't gnaw it at all. At first he was afraid to go inside, but after a while he gained courage. The can

As soon as they were sure that along the fence. Danny's little black eyes snapped joyously. He felt that he had made a great find. This thing would make a wonderful home. They could fill it with soft grass and it would be snug and cosy and safe. Even if Reddy Fox should find it he wouldn't be able to get at them in here. No one but Mr. Blacksnake could possibly get at them in there and Mr. Blacksnake could get at them wherever they might be.

Back scampered Danny as fast as his short legs could take him. He was so excited that he could hardly talk straight. "Hurry up, Nanny! Hurry up!" he cried. "I've made a wonderful find. It will be the safest home we have ever had. You've never seen anything like it. Hurry up, Nanny!" But Nanny refused to be excited. She had had too many disappoint ments to get excited over a thing like this. So she took her time about following Danny. But when she reached that old rusty can her face brightened. It really was all that Danny had said of it. She went in and out of said of it. She went in and out of it a dozen times. Danny watched her anxiously. "What do you think of it, my dear?" he ventured at last.

"I think it will do if we can't find anything better." replied Nanny. "We'll stay here a while, anyway, and look around." And with this Danny had to Mr. Fielding decided there was no reason why the opportunity should not be given to Canadian financial houses to handle the business. Accordingly, circulars were sent to all Canadian concerns engaged in the bond business. It was not to be supposed that any one Canadian house could handle such a large transaction, but it was expected that groups would be formed for the purpose This expectation was realized.

Annual Picnic of Grocers Provides Host of Thrills For Many Participants

Most of the novelties that no one else had happened to think of before were included in the grocers' picnic menu. The kiddle kar race carried off the honors of the day, provoking acute spasms of mirth among the crowds of spectators and requiring such extraordinary efforts from the participants that the race was run three times over before winners could be decided.

Many of the youngsters, irked by their parents' slow progress on the kiddie kar, dashed in at the last to push a proud father to triumph, but the judges decided to bar outside assist-

The association was favored with weather for their annual affair. The sports commenced early in the day with a gigantic baby show. In this event, the judges were Miss Dickie, Mrs. (Ald.) Hayden, and Miss

Mrs. R. Newman of 5661-2 Richmond street, London, with her small daughter, Hazel Josephine, carried off the special prize for the best looking mother and baby on the grounds. Also in the morning, two teams, the Norths and the Souths, challenged each other to a baseball game, in which the Souths, amid much cheering from the spectators, came out the victors with a score of 9-8.

Picnic committees were under the general convenership of the presi-dent, Arthur Thrower. The various chairmen in connection with the affair were: P. H. Ranahan, transportation; John Diprose, reception; P. H. Ranahan, sports; F. J. Australian Premier Calls Upon Other Dominions For Co-operation.

Associated Press Despatch. London, Eng., July 26.-The London Daily Telegraph's Sydney correspondent quotes the Sydney Sun as commenting as follows on Premier Bruce's speech yesterday in which he demanded for Australia a greater part in framing the foreign policy of the empire:

"We must do our share in the matter of defence and call upon the other dominions to do their share. If Canada refuses to play her part in the defence of the Pacific—the present contribution to its defence is only 16 pence a head compared with Australia's 98 pence—a pressing obligation remains. There is no excuse for Canada if she defaults."

The Sun further declares that the empire is that Australia refuses to be definite assurances.

Dr. D. H. Arnott Cultivates Water Lilies In His Garden Pond On Queen's Avenue

Has Grown Many Lovely Varieties In the Last Twelve Years.

Water lilies! Was there ever a more delightful hobby than the cultivation of these only too rare flowers? Every one knows the common white pond lily, but few are aware of the infinite number of beautiful foreign varieties, the pinks, reds, yellows, blues, and all the intermediate shades, and the lovely lotus flowers which can be grown successfully here

There is one man in the city, however, who knows the water lily. For he has delighted in its cultivation for the past 12 years

That man is Dr. David Arnott, and the large cement pond, sunk in his garden on Queen's avenue, has always had a host of admirers in the water lily season. Every year new varieties are added to this aquatic garden. And they bloom for Dr. Arnott with the same loveliness as they blossomed in France or England or the United States, from whence he has imported

How They Grow.

Some flowers open in the early morning; others only as the sun gets brighter; still others open in the twiand remain open until the sun rises high in the heavens

One day a bud rises above the surface of the water; the next day it opens for the first time in all its beauty; opening and closing for several days, it finally sinks below the surface of the water again, its mission fulfilled. Then other buds appear and so the lilies keep on flowering from the first of June until on in September. Indeed, Dr. Arnott says that sometimes he has had lilies in bloom as late as the first week in October. But, fascinating as is the waterlily hobby itself, it is made still more interesting by the accompanying hobby—breeding of goldfish.

Water is added to the lily pone only as it evaporates. So as to prevent the pond from becoming a breed-ing ground for mosquitos, the goldfish are introduced, and they promptly gobble up the wigglers before they can do any harm. They also protect the lily plants by eating insect pests which may attack them. Blue Is Latest Style. Dr. Arnott has not been conten with an ordinary type of goldfish however. His pool abounds with gorgeous red-gold or blueish creatures, whose fins are great black and white draperies, which float out from them like several pairs of butterfly wings. Blue is the latest style in goldfish dress, according to

The pool is divided into two sections, and in one part are dozens of tiny fish, hatched in June and just beginning to show touches of gold. They scurry about among the filly leaves and moss which clings to the edges of the pool, giving the doctor a merry chase, when he goes after them with his net.

Dr. Arnott admits that there was no romance about the manner in which he started to cultivate water lilies and with them, goldfish. He candidly confesses that a water lily catalog, which happened to fall into his hands, served as an inspiration.

Many Varieties.

That was 12 years ago, and since then he has cultivated a great many.

A visit to Dr. Arnott says that dealers often write to him and tell him that they will take any plants he can spare. He says that if the cultivation of the plants is studied, the hobby need not be an expensive one, for it can bring in its own returns. The breeding of goldfish may also be turned to profit and soon cover any outlay which may be necessary at the beginning!

then he has cultivated a great many varieties, as well as personally visited the big water lily culture centers of the United States.

He advises the growth of varieties which will give the most bloom for a limited space. He has had the great-

Stage and Screen

Mabel Forrest is returning to the screen. History sayeth that in private life she is Mrs. Bryant Washburn and the mother of two fine boys. All we have to say is that a vounger and ovelier mother no two hove ever had. They do say that she has not lost her talent for acting, either, during her absence from the screen. The way of her return was this: She was called upon to play a leading part "The Screen Writers' Revue" in Los Angeles recently, and so well did she acquit herself that she was besieged with offers by producers. She was not very enthusiastic at first, but having taken the plunge, she says: "I didn't realize how fascinating it was." She is to play in Ben Wilson productions as eading woman to her husband, Bryant Washburn. Her first pictures will be "Mine to Keep," "The Love Trap" and "Other Men's Daughters," which will be released this fall. Tyrone Powers.

Tyrone Powers will impersonate Cardinal Richelieu in Cosmopolitan's picturization of Stanley Weyman's "Under the Red Robe," the production of which began recently at the Tilford studio,

One is that when the rights to subscribe to the Reading coal stock are deducted from the prices of the present Reading Company's shares, the latter will be made to look very attractive on their income yield. The other consideration is that for many years Wall Street has been talking about the assets hidden in the Reading coal property, yet stockholders have received no benefit. Now with these coal lands segregated, their value will have a chance to show, as it has been already showing in the rising prices of the new coal company. Baltimore and Ohio got above 59, and New York Central above par, both influenced again by the valuable rights which they will receive as holders of Reading stock.

American Can made some response to the report that because earnings are running ahead even of the unusual total of a year ago, an increased dividend or clse some sort of extra payment may be looked for before 1923 is over.

The artificiality of the selling of the last few days in stocks like Studebaker and Baldwin Locomotive was exposed by the ease with which they rallied when short sellers started in to cover.

CHICAGO

Associated Press Despatch.

Chicago, July 25.—Reports that black rust was greatly impairing the crop outlook in the Canadian Northwest had a bullish effect today on the wheat market here, as did big export sales, estimated at as much as 1,500,000 bushels. Prices closed firm. 1½c to 1½c net higher, with September 98½c to 98%c and December $1.01% to $1.01%.

Corn finished 1c to 1½c up, oats ½c to %c up, and provisions 5c to 10c uown.

Upterns in the wheat market

Corn finished Ic to 1½c up, oats ½c to ¾c up, and provisions 5c to 10c uown.

Upturns in the wheat market took place after an early decline, and were accompanied by flurried buying on the part of various sellers. The downward tendency of values during the first part of the day was ascribed in part to hedging of newly-harvested wheat and in part to a decline in Liverpool quotations, as well as weakness in the New York stock market. On the other hand, reports of crop damage by rust and heat south of the Canadian boundary virtually were ignored, and for a time the upward swing which the corn market showed as a result of dry heat weather, especially in Kansas and Oklahoma, also went unnoticed.

Attention during the late trading focused largely on advices indicating that Canadian farmers might yet consider themselves lucky to duplicate last year's wheat crop, instead of a bumper yield of 500,000,000 bushels, which recent glowing reports had pointed to. The advance in prices was accelerated also by gossip that, judged from threshing returns, the season's yield of wheat in Kansas could hardly exceed 80,000,000 bushels, whereas current estimates heretofore have been around 100,000,000 ment that the French and Belgian blockade of occupied areas of Germany had been lifted. Bulls laid stress also on reports that black rust had appeared at a number of new points in Canada. The opening was followed by a moderate general setback, and then a sudden jump decidedly above yesterday's finish.

Corn and oats advanced with wheat Corn and oats advanced with wheat, Corn and oats advanced with wheat, although restrained somewhat by prospects of a breaking of the drought in the corn belt. After opening 1/4c off the corn market underwent a sag all around, and then scored gains.

WANT AD TIPS

An Urge To Action

The advertiser who feels that many people, reading his Want Ad, will not, on the instant, require his services or goods, yet are likely to at some future date, can easily make a strong bid for future orders. He makes the very last words in his message, even after his phone number and address, "Clip this Want Ad." If his message is detailed and convincing, readers will really do that-clip the Want Ad. This much is certain-many more will clip the Want Ad, urged to, than would otherwise. Months later, perhaps, the advertiser will get orders as the direct result of the brief injunction.

Whatever it is you wish the reader to do, a good idea often is to urge him definitely to, in so many words, in your Want Ad. All your life you have read display advertisements which contained, "Order now," or similar command. Repeated tests have proved the power of such exhortations. And they work in Want Ads, too. They minimize the possibility of procrastination, so apt to be fatal to the advertiser's plans. They

Good Want advertisers are learning to use this fact. These extracts from Want Ads show how they do:

"Make your selection at once, for construction costs are advancing. "Make an appointment to see it today."

"If you are interested in a well-built home, at a fair price, call Mr. Fairbrother at once." "Step to vour phone and ask for further information."

"Buy this very day." "Seize this opportunity, for it will never come again." Two of these examples, the first and the last, show one clever way to make the urge to action effective. This is to associate the command with a reason. One of the best reasons, of course, is the fact that unless the reader acts at once he will miss an opportunity. The urge to action usually should be placed at the end
