

SERBIANS AND BULGARIANS CLASH

HUNDREDS OF APPLICATIONS TO BUY BONDS

By Special Wire to the Courier.
London, Sept. 21.—Members of the Anglo-French loan commission have received to-day a flood of applications from banks and individuals for permission to participate in underwriting the loan. Although the subscription books have not yet been opened it was stated that offers to buy the bonds already have amounted in aggregate to many millions.

MANY OFFERS ALREADY.

A maximum estimate of the total subscriptions already offered placed the amount as high as $43,000,000. Subscriptions came from Chicago, Pittsburgh, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Philadelphia, Boston and other cities. At the office of J. P. Morgan and Company, it was said that the aggregate of the sums offered by applicants to take part in the underwriting had not been computed and no statement as to when the syndicate membership would be closed was yet ready.

SUBSCRIPTIONS LARGE.

That some of the subscriptions will be very large was indicated by a statement that one of the most wealthy men in the United States had offered $30,000,000 and that other offers ranging from $5,000,000 to $5,000,000 have been made by New York banks or large corporations here.

EXPERT'S OPINION.

Sir Edward Holden, one of the members of the Anglo-French commission, was quoted to-day as saying that in his opinion the loan was so superior in income to any in London that he expects a large amount of it will find its way to that city. Both English and French investors already are making extensive applications for it, said Sir Edward. "French and English people who have credit balances here are investing those balances in the loan. This ought to put the loan after a time to a premium and if such be the case it will give great pleasure to the commission as they will feel honored in having brought to America a loan which has proved a great success."

ENJOYING THEMSELVES.

Having completed their mission the members of the loan commission are accepting some of the many social invitations they have received. To-day the Franco-American society gave a party.

SEVENTY-THREE SUBS. OF ENEMY CAPTURED BY ELECTRIC DEVICE

An American Expert Returned From England States That by a New Invention, Enemy's Undersea Crafts are Useless.

By Special Wire to the Courier.
New York, Oct. 1.—More than seventy-three German submarines have been destroyed or captured by the British, chiefly through the aid of electrical detectors installed along the coast of England, Scotland and Ireland, according to William Dubilier, an American engineer, who arrived here to-day on the Steamer St. Paul.

ELECTRICITY DOES IT.

Dubilier, who has been installing various electrical devices for the British and French Governments during the past four months, said that the electrical detectors had proved to be the most efficient means of locating hostile submarines. He said that although only the highest admiralty officers know the exact number of German submarines that have been destroyed, he learned on good authority that the number exceeded seventy three. Dubilier installed numerous small wireless equipments along the French front to replace telephone systems which frequently broke down on account of interference with the wires.

GERMANS ADMIT LOSS.

London, Friday, Oct. 1.—The Daily Mail learns from its correspondent in Copenhagen that a Berlin report states no news has been received in well-informed naval circles for some weeks concerning the fate of 47 submarines and that they are therefore supposed to have been lost. The Admiralty hitherto admitted only the loss of seven submarines.

CAMBRIDGE MEN DOING THEIR BIT

By Special Wire to the Courier.
London, Oct. 1.—Ten thousand Cambridge men are fighting or in training to fight for the defense of their country. Already 470 have been killed, 700 have been wounded and more than 300 have won distinction on the field. These figures were given today by Vice Chancellor James in his address at the beginning of the academic year. The university's enrollment has shrunk to less than on third its normal amount. This decrease had affected the finances of the university so gravely that it would begin the year's work with a deficit of $10,000.

It costs Chicago post-office $85,000 a month to correct the mail, 43 per cent, of which is improperly addressed.

SIXTEEN DEAD SCORES INJURED IN GREAT STORM

By Special Wire to the Courier.
New Orleans, Oct. 1.—(By courier to Baton Rouge)—Sixteen known dead; several scores injured; property damage reaching perhaps $2,000,000; no street cars in operation; the river front strewn with wreckage; outlying sections flooded and telephone, telegraph and train service paralyzed—this is the storm situation here to-day.

Captain C. J. Menges, manager of the Pittsburgh coal company of Cincinnati, O., Stanley Meyers, dock hand and two negroes were drowned. "I believe the storm damage to the city of New Orleans will amount to about $2,000,000," Mayor Martin Behrman said. The street cars of New Orleans started operations at four o'clock yesterday afternoon on St. Charles, Pryor, Peters Avenue and Call and Esplanade streets.

The lights were not turned on because of the danger of falling wires. By to-morrow the city will be practically in a normal condition. Over two thousand men went to work to-day to clean up the city of debris. Some of the outlying sections inundated will be drained to-morrow night.

SECOND DIVISION ON FIRING LINE

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—The Canadians have not yet taken part in the big drive of the allied armies, but they are there, and ready, the second division having gone into the trenches on Saturday, the day when the drive started.

NO CANADIANS AMONG THE WOUNDED

London, Oct. 1.—Although a large number of wounded have arrived at hospitals, there have been no Canadians in the convoys.

BULGARIA AND SERBIA HAVE CLASHED IN WAR IS WORD FROM ITALY

A Bulgarian Patrol is Reported to Have Attacked Serbian Sentinels' Who Retreated—Germans are Running the Army.

By Special Wire to the Courier.
LONDON, Oct. 1, 5 p.m.—Foreign Secretary Grey announced this afternoon that German and Austrian officers were arriving in Bulgaria to direct the Bulgarian army. The Secretary said this was a fact which the Allies regarded "with the utmost gravity."

Turin, Italy, Sept. 30, via Paris Oct. 1.—There already have been several clashes between Serbians and Bulgarians along the frontier according to reports received here. A Bulgarian patrol at Trichouke is reported to have attacked Serbian sentinels who retreated. The Bulgars crossed into Serbia territory where they remained several hours.

BULGARIA HESITATING.

Rome, Sept. 30, via Paris, Oct. 1.—In spite of a rigorous Bulgarian censorship, The Tribune claims to have received despatches from Sofia by way of Athens, stating that the situation has been complicated by an apparent change of front on the part of King Ferdinand, who has recalled the appointment of Crown Prince Boris as a commander in chief of the army. Sentiment in favor of Russia is reported to be increasing in the rural districts. The Tribune's despatches assert that mobilization is proceeding under the direction of a German staff officer, but will not be completed for another fortnight. King Ferdinand, it is reported, has received a promise from Berlin that 800,000 Austro-German troops will undertake a march through the Balkans to Constantinople.

French Prince Dead.

By Special Wire to the Courier.
Paris, Oct. 1.—Captain Prince Henry of Polignac was killed in the fighting in Champagne on September 25.—He was 37 years old, and was an officer in an infantry regiment. Prince Henry Marie Joseph was the second son of Heracleus, fourth duke of Polignac, the head of the French house of Chalencen. Prince Henry was born in Paris 1878. In 1904 he was married to Diane, Countess of Polignac. The prince was a captain of the 103rd infantry regiment.

FRENCH AIRMEN COME TO LONDON TO REPEL HUNS

By Special Wire to the Courier.
London, Sept. 21 (correspondence of Associated Press)—Nearly a dozen French airmen, all of them picked men, have come to England to aid British flyers in keeping off Zeppelins. At least 50 is the report current in London.

The air patrol of Paris has been remarkably effective. Though the battle line is less than sixty miles from the city, Paris has been practically immune for months from air attacks, an immunity doubtless due to the fact that day and night French airmen are on wing over the city.

Until the raid of Sept. 8, England hardly took the Zeppelin menace seriously. But when the city proper was attained by the raiders a great change came. Lighting restrictions, already severe, were made even more drastic, the air service was reorganized with the appointment of Admiral Sir Percy Scott as the head of the forces defending London, and new and more powerful aircraft guns were installed at various strategic points throughout the city.

The French aviators, it is said, are drilling the English flyers in the art of pursuing Zeppelins, in a manner that the French have proved effective. Their's and the English method are widely different. The English, it is said, used to persist in spiraling upwards when first a Zeppelin was sighted. This process required considerable time during which the fast moving aircraft was likely to escape. The French method, which it is understood the English are adopting calls for the aviator merely to clear the housetops on first sighting a Zeppelin then to shoot ahead in the comparatively low altitude in the same direction as the Zeppelin. Gradually the desired altitude is reached, and meantime the Zeppelin has not outdistanced the pursuer. Having headed it off, the aviator, finally achieving a height greater than the Zeppelin begins to drop his bombs or fire with his machine gun.

Applying Discipline.

By Special Wire to the Courier.
Washington, Oct. 1.—Dismissal of six midshipmen, suspension of four others for one year without pay and the demotion to the next lowest class of fifteen others, was announced by Secretary Daniels today as the result of the recent hazing investigation at Annapolis Naval Academy.

TORPEDO BOAT LOST

By Special Wire to the Courier.
Berlin, Oct. 1.—(By wireless to Tuckerton)—An official communication issued in Constantinople under date of Sept. 27, as received here today by the Overseas News Agency, says: "Turkish coast batteries sank a torpedo boat of the enemy near Kerevidere."

M.P. Killed.

By Special Wire to the Courier.
London, Oct. 1.—Captain Harold T. Cayley, member of parliament for the Heywood division of Lancashire has been killed in the Dardanelles fighting. Captain Cayley is the third member of parliament who has been killed in action. He was 37 years old. He was private secretary to Walter Runciman, when Mr. Runciman was president of the board of education.

RETURNED SOLDIERS OF THE ALLIED FORCES TELL TALES OF GREAT FIGHT

The Germans Were Not Caught by Surprise, But Were Unable to Stem the Rush of the Allies Eager to Advance

By Special Wire to the Courier.
London, Oct. 1.—Relatives and friends of British soldiers who have taken part in the fierce fighting of the past few days in northern France have begun to receive letters from the fortunate ones who went unscathed through the attacks, while the casualty lists of those who met with disaster are being collected at the war office and their relatives notified.

Further consignments of wounded arrived at London at midnight. A picturesque story of the fighting at Hoge was told by one of these men, a territorial, with six wounds in one arm, inflicted by a typhoon bomb known as the "whiz-bang."

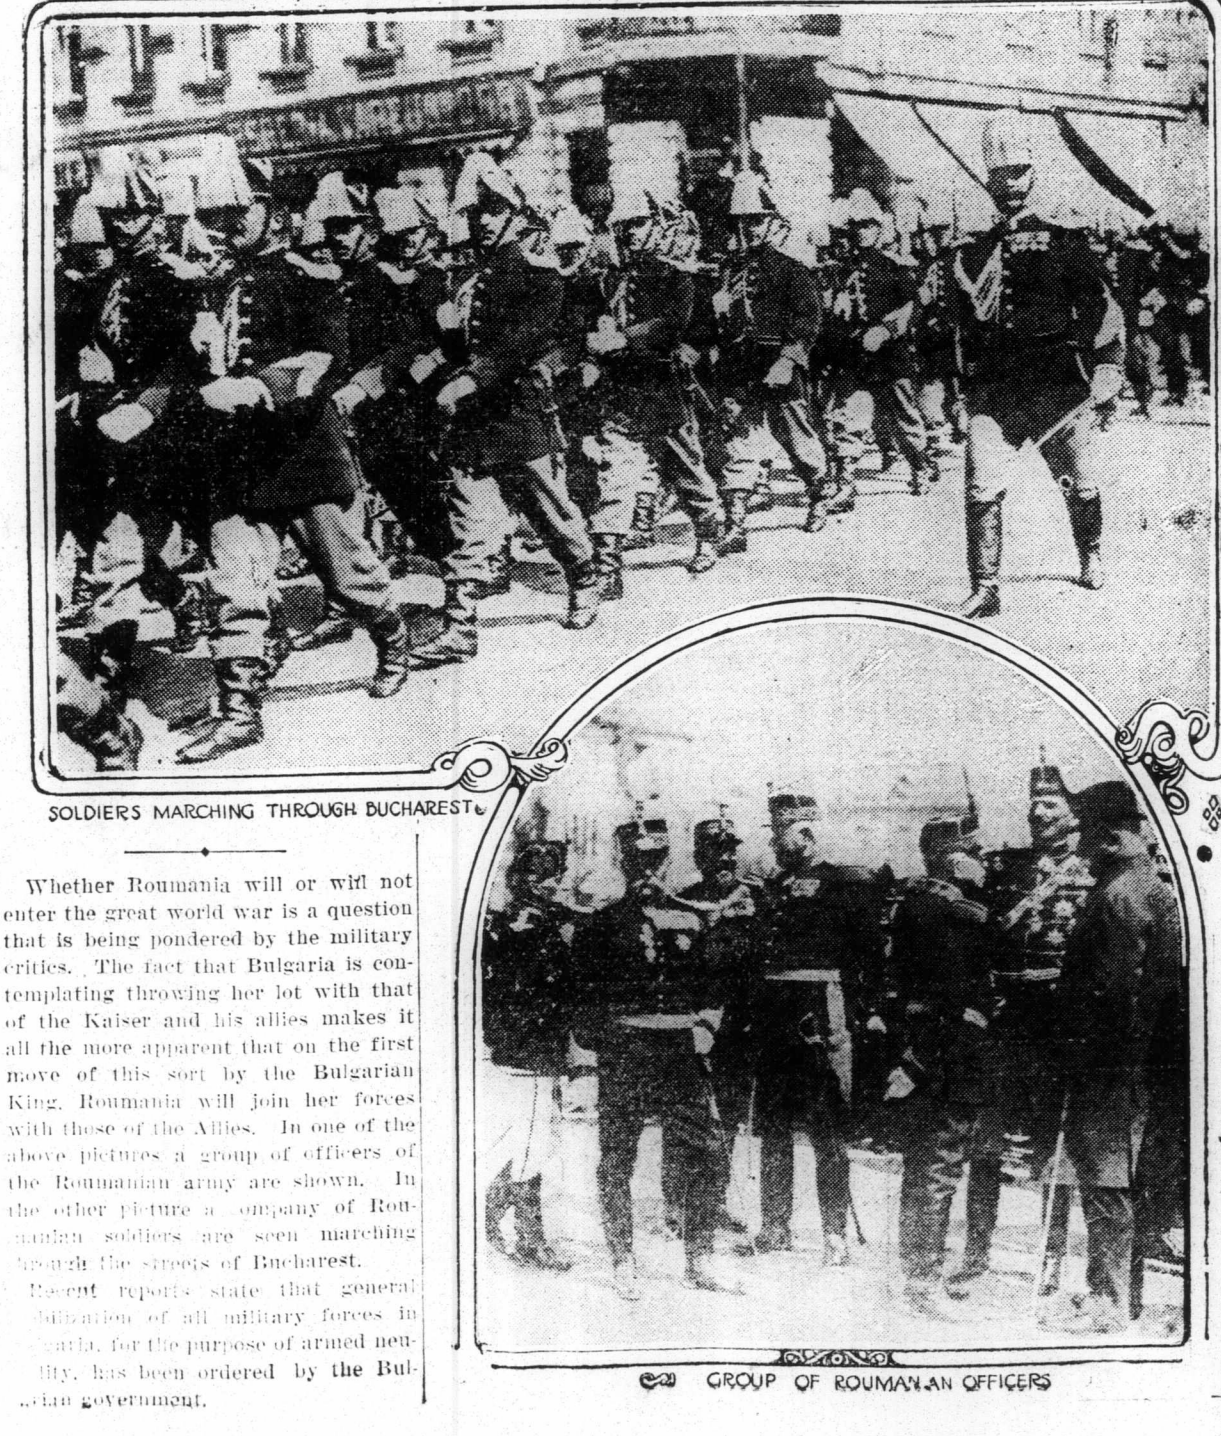

STORY OF THE FIGHT

"Because we took trenches and didn't hold them," he said, "don't imagine there was anything amiss at Hoge. All is going well, and if there had been no such thing as machine guns we would have gone straight through the whole German line and now be on our way to Berlin. Those trenches which we gave up we can take again, and what is more we can hold them when we want to do so. We don't give up ground except on orders from superior officers, who sometimes decided the situation in adjoining parts of the line doesn't justify the retention of certain advanced positions."

GERMANS WERE READY

"It is ridiculous to hear some people talk about our attack being a surprise to the Germans. It was so far from a surprise that the Germans had already brought up tremendous reinforcements against us on Saturday,

OFFICERS AND SOLDIERS OF THE ROUMANIAN ARMY

Whether Roumania will or will not enter the great world war is a question that is being pondered by the military critics. The fact that Bulgaria is contemplating throwing her lot with that of the Kaiser and his allies makes it all the more apparent that on the first move of this sort by the Bulgarian King, Roumania will join her forces with those of the Allies. In one of the above pictures a group of officers of the Roumanian army are shown. In the other picture a company of Roumanian soldiers are seen marching through the streets of Bucharest. Recent reports state that general mobilization of all military forces in Roumania for the purpose of armed neutrality, has been ordered by the Roumanian government.

BRITISH HAVE NOW OVER ONE MILLION MEN IN FRANCE AND MORE COMING

French are Now Bearing the Brunt of the Fighting—English are Resting Up—Germans Admit That the English Numbers are Large.

By Special Wire to the Courier.
London, Oct. 1.—The French are bearing the brunt of the fighting now in progress on the western front. They are hammering at the second German line in Champagne, in the direction of the Grand Pre railway, and at the same time dropping bombs on the line and stations to prevent the Germans from bringing up reinforcements. Absence of news from the British front apparently indicates that these forces are occupied with consolidating their positions in the strip of territory recently won.

A MILLION MEN.

The British forces now in France are estimated at a round million men, which will be increased by 500,000. Daily lengthening of the obituary columns of the London newspapers is beginning to measure the price paid by the British for their recent offensive.

NEVER STOPPED

"Despite the fate of those mowed down by German machine guns at barbed wire entanglements, the British repeatedly sent further troops to the attack."

Why Waste Money?

Berlin, Oct. 1.—(Wireless to Sayville)—Two new railroad tracks are being constructed through the heart of Berlin and the great Friedrich-Strasse station is being remodeled without interruption to traffic or alteration of schedules, even during the period of greatest congestion. Four platforms for through trains and six for locals are being constructed, so that in future these two classes of service may be operated without interfering with each other.

Hard Times.

By Special Wire to the Courier.
Berlin, Oct. 1 (by wireless to Tuckerton)—The number of bankruptcies in Germany from July to September of this year was 987 as compared with 1608 during the same period of last year, the Overseas News Agency announced to-day.

Woodstock, Oct. 1.—According to the assessor's roll, which was regis-stock has dropped 181 in population since last year. The total population is given as 10,084, as against 10,265 last year. There has been a substantial decrease in real assessable property, however, the decrease amounting to $108,976. The total real property, including exemptions, is $5-776,383. The exemptions amount to $1,202,250, and consist of factories, churches, schools and municipal and Government property. The total income assessment is $122,299, an increase of about $9,000.

BRANT THEATRE
At the Brant this half-week there are two special features. One is the five-act picture produced by the World Film Corporation presenting Grace Washburn in a very powerful drama, "When it strikes home."
Edwin August and Muriel Ostriche are also prominent stars.

In this play, which was made by Chas. K. Harris, a realistic and life-like story is woven around Dick Hartley.

The other feature is Ben Toy's musical comedy "A Night in Scotland." The musical numbers are very pleasing and varied, and include "Sheltering Palms," "Paper on the Wall," and other catchy songs.
Refined comedy is also worked into the play, and altogether a very entertaining act is staged.

The Situation.

The French still continue to occupy the centre of the stage as far as the Western theatre of the war is concerned. In the Champagne district they are continuing their advance, more slowly, but evidently surely. The French soldier in this big struggle has been a revelation, not only to the rest of the world, but also to his own people. Without much doubt it is the steady qualities of his British allies which have helped to make him this time such a dogged as well as brilliant fighter. Not much is coming through at time of writing with reference to British operations, but it can be taken for granted that there is something doing.

Reports from the Eastern theatre are of a mixed nature. The Germans are undoubtedly successfully pushing towards Vilna, while in Galicia the troops of the Czar are holding matters well, although success in the other direction may jeopardize that. One report has it that Hindenburg is seeking to shorten his line in order to be able to despatch troops to the Western scene of operations.

Report to-day is that Bulgarian and Serbian outposts have clashed, with the last named as the aggressors. It is announced that King Ferdinand will pretty soon be asked in plain terms just what he proposes to do. Such an ultimatum cannot come too soon. He is known as the Fox of Europe, and needs some straight handling.

The Courier, the past two days, has contained the text of a great speech by Lloyd George, showing just what has been done to speed up munition supplies, and the impartial manner in which matters have been put up to employers as well as employees. This great war is going to change a great many things, and nothing more than the labor relationship as regards both men and women.

Toronto the Foolish.

Just as if the people of the Queen City had not already made a sufficient exhibition of themselves in connection with professors and the war, they have now staged another fool performance. At Knox College on Wednesday, Rev. Prof. Robinson, who holds the chair of Biblical Literature in the McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago, was given the honorary degree of D.D.

After he got it, he gave an interview to the papers, in which he declared Great Britain to be equally guilty with Germany in connection with the present war. This was the language used in part by him:

"I blame both sides for this war. I hold Germany responsible for beginning this war on account of her having been forty years in building up an army, and I hold Britain equally responsible, because she built her immense navy and boldly called herself 'mistress of the seas.'"

"Did you say that the effort to starve Germany out is nothing short of savage warfare, but that it is legal?"

"I did."

"And you claim that you are neutral?"

"Absolutely so."

In the opinion of a great many people, the letters D.D. conferred upon the professor will stand for Dense Dunderhead.

The Kaiserites avowedly got their huge war machine together for the purpose of world domination.

The British built up and maintained their great navy not for purposes of aggression but for the reason that as an island kingdom they had of necessity to take such a course and to provide adequate protection for trade routes and also to safeguard their huge overseas Dominions. There was nothing of a hostile nature or intent about that, and as a matter of fact, German vessels had as free and unmolested access to all British ports as any others.

The claim that to blockade German ports is "savage warfare," is equally silly. Great Britain is absolutely dependent upon outside food supplies; Germany isn't, yet by submarines they have sought to starve the residents of the tight little islands.

Men like this Professor, instead of receiving honors here, should be told to get out of the country, bag and baggage.

The Russians have elected a Jew to the Council of the Empire, and he is the first Hebrew to be a member of that body. It is not so very long ago that members of that race were also barred in England, but restrictions finally fell so fast that in quite short order Benjamin Disraeli was Premier.

Mr. Enoch Thompson of the Queen City and Spanish consul there, has started a movement to establish an anti-German league. He suggests the following as some of the tenets:

"Never to have any intercourse with a German, either social or commercial."

"Never to buy from or sell to a German."

"Never permit a German article in his house."

"Never to deal with a merchant who keeps a single article of German manufacture in his store."

"Never to travel in Germany nor permit any of his family to visit there."

"Permit no Germans to enter Canada, except on higher terms than Chinese—a head tax of $1,000."

ITALIAN ARTILLERY IN POSITION BEHIND A BREASTWORK

ITALIAN BIG ARTILLERY PIECES IN POSITION

One of Italy's great guns is shown in the above illustration. This gun, is set up in position behind a sandbag breastwork. The shell, too heavy to be lifted by the gunners, is loaded on to a hand truck behind the earthwork by means of the crane seen in the view; it is then brought up and placed in position. The operation is not unlike that performed by the Austrians for the Skoda gun. Great engineering feats are performed by the Italian soldiers when it becomes necessary to move one of these big guns. As they are of enormous weight and have to be moved over very rough ground it sometimes taxes the skill of these soldiers.

FOR FIRST TIME PHILADELPHIA GOT N.L. PENNANT RAG

For Forty Years They Have Been Striving for the Honor in Vain.

Brains and energy have won the National League championship for the Phillies. There has been no pouring out of money to purchase players. There have been no underhand methods used to wear players away from other teams. Since last February there have been no big deals with other clubs to bolster up the combination. There has been no attempt to win games by brow-beating umpires or by tricky or any unsportsmanlike method. The National League pennant is going to the Phillies.

It is a tribute to the ability of Pat Moran as a manager and to the ability and energy of his players and a willingness to profit by the instructions of their leader that the bunting is being won without having to resort to any method to cause artificial stimulation of the team. Only two men have been added to the staff since Pat Moran got his players together at St. Petersburg, Florida, last spring.

Moran took the players turned over to him, sized them up, weeded out those he could not carry because of the 25-player limit, and started in to mold his combination into a winner. At the start of the race Pat had a fine piece of luck in securing "Dut" Chalmers who wanted to play with the Giants, but who was turned down by Manager McGraw. To make room for Chalmers, it was necessary to put Ben Tincup, the Indian twirler from whom much was expected, upon the disability list for a time. During August the club secured Geo. McQuillan from Pittsburgh club. Chalmers and McQuillan are the only players who had any part in the Phillies' success this year who were not on the club's roster last March.

CHANGES IN OTHER TEAMS.

The success of the Quakers by employing no methods other than hard work, shrewdness and judgment to bring the championship to Philadelphia is all the more remarkable when we recall the efforts made by other clubs to land the flag. Manager Stallings of Boston bolstered up his team last spring, and during August he thought he had done well by landing Outfielder Snodgrass, who had been unconditionally released by the New York Giants. The Brooklyn club added Pitchers Douglass, Cheney and Marquard to its staff. Chicago secured "Red" Murray from the Giants and later Douglass from the Dodgers. There were other changes in these and other clubs.

There was, however, no big outlay of money by any National League Club after the season started to produce a winning team. The majority of the players who changed uniforms were secured either at the waiver price or else had been unconditionally released by their clubs.

SHATTERED DREAMS.

Manager Moran has given Philadelphia its first National League pennant winner in baseball history. Back in 1883 the Phillies secured a National League franchise. Twelve managers have tried to win a pennant—Pat Moran alone has succeeded, and Moran did it in his first year as pilot of a ball club, and with one of the worst-looking clubs that ever battled under the Phillie standard.

The history of the Phillie clubs of bygone days is replete with shattered dreams. Time and again the Phillies have started off in the spring at a whirlwind clip and raised high the hopes of their adherents. And then came the inevitable crash.

The 1915 Phillie team started along at the same clip—but it reversed during the summer by maintaining that clip by meeting every attack and beating it back; by playing better baseball day in and day out than was shown by any other club in the "old league."

"BIG ALEX" MAY PITCH FIRST TWO GAMES OF THE WORLD SERIES

Chicago, Oct. 1.—Details of the world's series will be settled on Saturday at a meeting of the National Baseball Commission, to be held in New York city it was announced today.

B. B. Johnson, President of the American League and member of the National Commission, said he would vote in favor of starting the series on Oct. 8, instead of the 9th, the date reported to be favorable to the National League interests.

"I see no reason why October 8th should be not acceptable to everybody," President Johnson said. "By opening on that date it will be possible to schedule two games in one city for Friday and Saturday, leaving Sunday an easy jump to either Philadelphia or Boston for the third and fourth games."

"To open the series on October 9th would entail scheduling games for Saturday and Monday in one city, and then jumping overnight to the other for games on Tuesday and Wednesday."

It has been pointed out that should the series open on Saturday it will be possible for Grover Cleveland Alexander to pitch the first and second games for the Phillies. "Big Alex." is quite capable, it is said, of turning two games at the top of his form in three days. It is generally admitted that the great right-hander will win two games from Boston. There is good reason then for the Phillies to desire the opening game to be scheduled for Saturday, the 9th inst., and for the Red Sox to be quite as desirous of having the big series commence a day earlier.

COACHES INSTRUCTING COLUMBIA'S KICKERS

Five hundred Columbia students on South Field, New York city, the other day witnessed the beginning of a new epoch in the athletic history of the institution. On the gridiron before them thirty-two youths, under the supervision of four coaches, engaged in the first football practice Columbia had known in ten years. The re-established sport began auspiciously. Three groups of mole skinned athletes were turned over to the coaches. The instructors were Nelson T. Metcalf, head coach, who played and taught football at Oberlin; "Tom" Thorp, Columbia, '05, all American tackle, and J. L. Moffet, Pennsylvania's full back last year. Later H. L. Henderson, quarter back at Oberlin last season, joined the corps of instructors.

Sporting Comment

Grover Cleveland Alexander is beginning to stand forth as one of the greatest pitchers the game of baseball ever knew. Even the wonderful Christy Mathewson will lose the palm if Alexander keeps on. He has won 31 games this year, which is almost a big league record. Upon him will Philadelphia pin its faith and its hopes when they meet the Red Sox next week.

Like a great many other great players Alexander was picked up cheap. In 1910 he was pitching for Syracuse in the New York State League. Philadelphia was tipped off to him by two independent sources, and a scout looked him over. Unlike some scouts—IRA Thomas for instance—he did not announce his coming. He watched Alexander in two games, one in Utica and one in Syracuse, and he was then satisfied as to the material. Alexander at that time was really scouted by Indianapolis, which recalled him at the end of the season. Philadelphia put in a claim through the draft route and got him, no other club seemingly being wise to his ability. The price was $750. He was tried out the next spring and was a success from the start. Last year he made an enviable record, but it was really not until the present season, with a club that could play behind him, that he jumped to the very top rank. To-day, he is, in the words of a well-known advertisement, the "utmost in pitchers."

Detroit, Oct. 1.—Boston became the American League champions yesterday, though not playing, through Detroit's loss of the final game with St. Louis. Weillman won his eighth game for the year from the Tigers, and would not have been scored on but for three errors, bunched in one inning. The score:—

OLD PAPER TELLS OF FENIAN RAID

Baggage-master Patterson of the Grand Trunk has in his possession a very old copy of a Paris newspaper. Considering that it was printed during the time of the Fenian Raid, it is in a remarkable state of preservation. It is yellow with age of course, but only torn where the folds have worn the paper.

This paper is a Paris Star of April 29th, 1868. One very interesting item of interest on the editorial page, is a letter addressed to Lord Monk, of Ottawa, telling of the unsuccessful attempt of one O'Farrell to shoot the Duke of Edinburgh in Sydney, and sent by the Duke of Buckingham from London, England.

Several advertisements of local interest would be those of John Hall, father of the present John Hall, H. W. Brethour, another old Brantford resident and Mr. M. Patterson, who now has one son Mayor of Paris.

Biliousness Is Cured by HOOD'S PILLS

25c.

Roman pottery was recently discovered in London. When the old general post office in East St. Martin's-le-Grand was demolished a large series of Roman rubbish pits was disclosed. The lowest portions of one hundred and twenty of these were carefully excavated. The finds included a few whole pots and many thousands of fragments of Samian and coarse pottery besides building materials, whetstones, beads, knives, coins, and other small objects. It has been possible to assign dates to most of the holes between A.D. 50 and 200. By the association in the same hole of datable and undatable pottery light has been thrown upon many types of the latter. Last summer while the buildings 3, 5, King William street were being demolished another series of five large Roman pits was uncovered. From the fragments thus obtained nine Samian vessels of the first century have been pieced together and are now in the Guild Hall Museum.

NUMBER 23 THE PREPARED

STRICTLY NEUTRAL MEANS PRO-NUN IN THIS COUNTRY

Therefore Prof. Robinson
Has to Cancel a Lecture in Toronto.

Toronto.—Rev. Robinson, professor of Biblical literature and English Bible at McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago, who was the recipient of the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity from Knox College on Wednesday, expounded his views on the war in an interview yesterday. Last night it was announced that the lecture advertised to be given by Prof. Robinson at Knox College this evening would not be delivered. It was stated that in view of the statements which had been given publicly, the professor had, of his own accord, asked that the lecture be cancelled and his request was acceded to.

Prof. Robinson emphatically declared yesterday that he absolutely refused to be called a pro-German.
"I am a neutral," he asserted. "I don't believe in war as a necessary means of settling international disputes. I blame both sides for this conflict. I blame Germany for her 40 years' work in building up an army.
I hold England responsible because she built her immense navy and boldly called herself 'mistress of the sea.'
He said he was neutral because he did not wish to see Germany win and crush England and he did not wish to see Germany lose her national existence. Dr. Robinson admitted that he had condemned the effort to starve Germany out as nothing sort of savage warfare, although legal. But he denied that he ever defended Germany's course in sinking the Lusitania.
"I regard the sinking of the Lusitania," he said, "as an execrable, non-Christian method of retaliation for England's blockade of Germany." He expressed the opinion that war ceased to be Christian warfare when the element of retaliation entered into it. Germany had stooped to primitive and barbaric methods, but primarily to her the war was a struggle for life or death. In his opinion the tables had turned and Britain and her allies were on the verge of an immense triumph.

Speaking of Turkey, where he lived for years, Prof. Robinson said: "Turkey's sun is setting, and it ought to set. Indeed, humanely speaking, Europe ought to have taught Turkey
a lesson half a century ago."

Dr. Robinson was professor of Old Testament literature and Exegesis at Knox College seven years ago, and he expressed his appreciation of the honor conferred upon him by that institution. "It is the index of a friendship that has lasted more than 17 years. In my heart of hearts I love Canada and the Canadian people."

Prof. Robinson was born near Saratoga, New York. He has lived four years in Turkey, where he was director of the American School of Archaeology at Beirut, and later was associated with the Syrian Protestant College in Palestine. He has also spent two years of his life in England and two in Germany.

tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that it's little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomachache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without gripping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies,

The case of a German who had served in the British navy was heard at Westminster Police Court recently.
He was charged with failure to register as an alien enemy and sentenced to one month's imprisonment.

According to the evidence, the prisoner was employed as a barman at a Chelsea publichouse, and was betrayed by his accent when a detective, in the course of inquiry respecting a larceny, had occasion to question him.
At first he stated that he was a Swiss, but, afterwards in tears, confessed that he was born and spent his early life near Berlin. A detective sergeant stated that inquiries had elicited that the prisoner was at one time on his Majesty's ship Impregnable and invalided with a good character.

GETTING CLOSE TO SCENE OF ARABIAN NIGHTS

British Forces Now Reported Within 90 Miles of Bagdad.

London, Oct. 1.—Austen Chamberlain, Secretary for India, this evening gave out additional details of the British success against the Turks in Mesopotamia, in which the previous report said that the Ottoman forces were in full retreat towards Bagdad, with the British in hot pursuit.

To-day's statement says the British cavalry entered Kut-el-Amara, ninety miles southeast of Bagdad, on the Tigris river, Wednesday. The town was found to be deserted and the Turks in full flight toward Bagdad by road and river. Along the river gun-boats and steamers with an Indian brigade aboard started in pursuit. An aeroplane dropped bombs on one of the Turk steamers.

"The total prisoners captured aggregated 1,950," says the statement,
"but more are coming in. The Turkish force, which is commanded by Nureddin Pasha, is estimated at some 8,000 regular troops, who are assisted by a considerable number of tribesmen."

"The captured positions showed the trenches had been constructed with remarkable thoroughness, having communication trenches extending for miles and a system of contact mines."

Kuropatkin Returns.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

London, Oct. 1.—General Alexi Kuropatkin has been appointed chief of the Russian grenadier corps, according to a Reuter despatch from Petrograd.

When Emperor Nicholas assumed supreme command of the Russian military forces in succession to Grand Duke Nicholas it was reported from Berlin that the actual control of the army had been placed in the experienced hands of General Kuropatkin and General Polivanoff, minister of war. If the report from Petrograd regarding General Kuropatkin is true, it means a somewhat remarkable reversal of public opinion in Russia regarding a military leader, who was disgraced because of the failure of Russian arms in the war with Japan.

An interesting incident of the recent visit of the King and Queen to the wounded Indian troops at Brighton was the exercise of the time-honored Indian privilege of petitioning the King-Emperor personally. Two Sepoys took this opportunity of approaching the Presence. Said the first
"My brother and I were both wounded and came to England. They told him I was dead and he went mad. But I was not dead and the sahib took me to see him. He became sane, and we both wept. But next day he went mad again, and said it was a dream and an illusion. And he has gone back to India, while I—well, I gave six shillings to an Indian writing man to buy me something to the bazaar, and the writing man—they are all accused, these writing men—he took my six shillings and will not give them back." "This," said the King, "is a serious matter, and shall be looked into." It is a promise and the petitioner falls back content, for he knows that the English keep promises. The second petitioner had lost two brothers at the front, and it behooves him to return to his village to settle the affairs of his family. This too shall receive consideration. Whatever may be the decision the sepoy is content, for the King has listened.

To Measure

SOME tailors without our good fortune, organization, resourcefulness and foresight, have raised prices in war time. And now, as an excuse for the raise, they would have you believe that good clothes cannot be made for less than the price they are asking.

For instance, they say: "Do not pay less than our price or your clothes will not be satisfactory."

Men, do not be misled by any such misstatements. Satisfy yourself by coming to our store and comparing our woollens. Let us show you how we tailor and finish our clothes; then if you do not think they are equal or better than clothes you will have to pay from $5 to $10 more for elsewhere, we do not expect your order. That is fair, isn't it?

We Have Not Advanced Our Price

Despite the increased cost of British woollens we were fortunate enough to secure our supply for this fall and winter season, owing to contracts we held which were made some time ago. And even if we did not have these contracts we would not raise our price of $14 until it came to a question where we had to reduce the standard of value. As we have stated before, we do not care to raise our price now because it is war time, and then change back as soon as the war is over. Our customers who have patronized us for so many years are entitled to consideration, and we will stand by them, even if we only get our bare cost, until the war is over and British woollens are more plentiful.

Remember, our fixed price of $14 for a suit of clothes or overcoat tailored to your individual measure from your choice of any piece of British wool cloth in the store.

No advance in price—no skimping—the same high quality throughout, the same standard of value, the same principle, "Give the value and get the business," that has built up this national custom tailoring organization and made Tip-Top Tailors the fastest growing tailoring establishment in Canada.

Let us make your next suit; put the difference that you will have to pay elsewhere for our quality in the bank. You cannot save $5 to $10 any easier.

VON HINDENBURG AGAIN DRIVES AGAINST RUSSIA

The Italian Ulcer, However, Keeps Eating Its Way Towards Tolmino.

London, Oct. 1.—As a direct consequence of the continued successful drive of the allies in the west, Field Marshal von Hindenburg is launching determined efforts to reduce the length of the battle line in Western and South-western Russia so as to make possible, it is presumed, the despatch of part of his legions to reinforce the hard pressed Germans in Northern France and Belgium.

Von Hindenburg's Vilna army, in a determined drive along the Vilna-Molodechno railroad with Minsk as the goal yesterday broke through the Russian positions at Smorgon by storm, taking 1,000 prisoners, guns and war material. Smorgon is the point for which the rearguard of the Russian Vilna army has been holding out stubbornly for weeks. Its capture is vital to the advance of von Hindenburg's centre.

Simultaneously with this movement in the centre, the German left wing, still wrestling for the possession of Dvinsk, drove back the Russians into the marshes and lakes south of that city, the German War Office reports. From Petrograd comes the admission that the Austro-Germans south of the Pripiet captured Ciartorski, 20 miles west of the railroad junction at Saray.

The same despatch says the Germans control the Styra to a point south-west of the fortress of Lutsk, again in their hands. Meanwhile General von Linsingen reports headway in an easterly direction, capturing 800 prisoners.

Unofficial reports from Petrograd make claims of Russian successes in most of the aforementioned regions, particularly between Vilna and Dvinsk, where they assert the Russians advanced 25 miles, and an eight-mile headway at Molodechno, forcing the Germans back over the railroad leading from Vilna, via that point, to Minsk.

A strong effort also is being made by the Germans in the region of Novo Alexinec, 15 miles north of Tarnopol. The Russian authorities believe this movement represents an attempt to reach the great highway between Kremenetz and Ostrog. Further south, on the Stripa, west of Tarnopol, the Russians have had the best of the fighting.

ITALIANS ADVANCE
Rome, Oct. 1.—The Italian armies are prosecuting their advance in the direction of Tolmino with the greatest determination. The fighting during the past few days has been intense and continuous. Both the artillery and infantry have been engaged, and the losses on both sides have been probably greater than during any similar period since the war opened.

Night attacks were delivered against the Austrian fortified line near Pontafel, and, although the assault did not accomplish all that was expected, great loss was inflicted on the enemy. Repeated attacks were also delivered against Dolje with a fair measure of success.

Yesterday morning the artillery opened a bombardment on the Tolmino positions. On the Western Tyrolean frontier there has been heavy fighting in the region of Adamello. An attack in the defile west of Cima Presena was successful, notwithstanding the heavy concentration of Austrian guns, and near Cladrone-Huetta the enemy was compelled to retreat.

GAS, HEARTBURN, INDIGESTION OR A SICK STOMACH

Time it! Pape's Diapiesin will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach surely within five minutes. If your meals don't fit comfortably or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion. Get from your pharmacist a fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach, gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapiesin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there. Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store.

These large fifty-cent cases contain enough "Pape's Diapiesin" to keep the entire family free from stomach disorders and indigestion for many months. It belongs in your home.

SCOTLAND

A nasty fire occurred in the village on Sunday night which completely burned the hotel barn and the lock shutt warehouses. The cause of the fire is unknown.

BRITAIN'S BATTLE FLAG

The ancient Britons, conquered by Julius Caesar, fought under standards on which were displayed the figures of animals and birds common to various sections of their country. Among these were the bear, the wild boar, the vulture, the raven, the black eagle, the cormorant, the wolf, the stag and even the ram.

There were, of course, no silk standards in those days, the material used for these flags being woolen cloth or leather. Caesar sent a number of British banners to Rome after the conquest of Britain.

In 1066 A.D. a standard, bearing a raven was unfurled in England by the conquering Danes; in 1087 the ensign of William Rufus bore the effigy of a young eagle looking, the sun in the face, with "I endure it" for a motto.

In 1606 the first British Union Jack, combining St. George's and St. Andrew's crosses and symbolizing the union between England and Scotland, was decreed by King James the Sixth of Scotland and First of England. In 1801, when Ireland was united to the empire the cross of St. Patrick was added to those of St. George and St. Andrew thus forming the trinity of crosses which constitute the meteor flag of England, on which the sun never sets.

Old World Notes

Extraordinary scenes were witnessed the other afternoon in the village of Packington, Leicestershire, when a whirlwind sprang up from the south-east. The storm, although lasting only about five minutes, caused havoc to property and considerable damage to the inhabitants. At one farm an extensive corrugated iron shed was completely wrecked, some of the sheets being blown a distance of a quarter of a mile. Fruit and other trees were uprooted and carried away. Similar damage was done in other parts of the village and thatched roofs of cottages were demolished.

To encourage thrift among their employees the Northern Railway Company many years ago established a savings bank for deposits of one shilling and upwards, 4 per cent interest being allowed on accounts up to £200 and 2 1/2 per cent on sums in excess of that amount. During the past year many new accounts were opened. The amount now standing to the credit of the depositors is £1,172,191 (about $3,860,955), an increase of £61,664 ($307,820) over last year's total, and representing an average of £89 ($445) per member.

A bale of cotton sold at auction on the Liverpool Cotton Exchange for the benefit of the Red Cross Society, and realized a handsome figure. The bale of cotton presented by a firm of New York, was put up for auction on behalf of the Red Cross Society, and 150 guineas realized. The bidding opened at ten pounds, and advanced to eighty-five pounds, when the battle was left to Mr. John Roxburgh, acting "Father" of the Exchange, aged eighty, and Mr. H. H. Bardswell, aged seventy. A crowd of spectators witnessed the duel between these cotton champions. Mr. Roxburgh raised the price to £150. Mr. Bardswell called a time, and the hammer fell.

The exploits of the proverbial bull in the china shop have been emulated, if not surpassed, by the raid of a sheep on the Rugby branch of Lloyd's Bank. The sheep dashed into the rear of the bank premises, with two drovers in hot pursuit. Gaining entrance to the kitchens, it made a terrific clatter among the pots and pans, and then leapt through a window and turned on a water tap. The drovers were captured in the struggle which ensued, and the sheep bolted through another door and got into the main office. A dozen bank clerks, aided by rulers induced the animal to return to the kitchen, where it was eventually cornered, trussed up, and ignominiously carried away, after having kept the bank staff busy for nearly two hours.

A school strike has occurred in East Ham. The education authority re-organized some of the schools, which necessitated some children hitherto in attendance at one school being transferred to another. Though there were good educational grounds for the reform, many parents have objected because their children in some instances would now have to walk a mile to school. Accordingly they have refused to permit their children to attend the new school, but some are allowing their children to go to school "under protest." The education authority refuse to return to the old arrangements and some of the parents resolutely refuse to abide by the new decision. Consequently some fifty children are enjoying the dispute. At a meeting attended by over thirty parents it was agreed to continue "the movement" and to appeal to the Board of Education.

connection with the production of munitions of war. The great need of the moment is for skilled mechanics. Men whose training has included engineering workshop experience can now do valuable service by offering to do annual work at the usual rates of payment for such work. They will not displace any skilled workman who is already employed, or capable of being employed, upon the production of munitions. They will simply increase the army of those who by work at home help the armies abroad.

"Lord Kitchener on the Film," is the latest attraction in London. The film opens with a splendid showing—General Joffre and M. Millerand (French Minister of War) receiving Lord Kitchener. Next come thrilling pictures of the German lines seen through binoculars, and an examination of German positions from the interior of a wood. Following this is an excellent procession of French officers, led by Lord Kitchener and General Joffre, through the first line of trenches whilst an artillery duel was going on. Then an inspection of French troops, followed by an inspection of Algerian and Senegalese troops, and the presentation of the Order of the Legion of Honor to British and other officers. More first line trench views follow this, and the magnificent film ends with stirring pictures of a march past of French troops with fixed bayonets; and an exciting assembling and charge of cavalry.

In the Hanx House of Keys recently, a Radical member, moved that "in view of the imminent starvation and bankruptcy of the residents of the Isle of Man and the failure of the present methods of administration, the Imperial government be asked to annex the island to Lancashire." The motion was defeated. The failure of the holiday season, so far as the Isle of Man is concerned has disastrously affected the majority of the islanders who depend upon holiday-makers for their livelihood.

An alarming explosion occurred at Aldershot a few days ago, when, presumably as a result of gases accumulating in the town sewers, a number of manholes blew up in the air, whilst the first-floor windows were blown out and the kitchen badly wrecked of a house in Brighton road. A canary caged in the kitchen was broken in a cage hanging in the kitchen as a result of the explosion, although the cage was broken. The explosions were spread over an area of over a mile.

Insurance companies in England have had heavy payments to make owing to the daily heavy list of casualties in the war. Although extra premiums are being received, reports from a London journal, the percentage of killed is so large, and in many cases only a single premium has been paid, that the companies have not had time to benefit as in ordinary times, from a succession of annual premiums without many claims.

Wheat thirty-four years old has just been threshed, and it made exceptionally good bread. The wheat was grown and harvested in 1881 by a farmer near Grantham, Lincolnshire, who swore he would not sell it until it reached a certain price. That price was still a secret when the farmer died. The grain was then put on the market, bringing a good price.

Driven mad by neuralgia, a Birmingham window cleaner placed his ladder against a bridge over the railway at Moseley and, climbing on the top, threw himself on to the line below, a distance of sixty feet. When picked up he was found to be terribly injured, and he died almost immediately. At the inquest a verdict of suicide while temporarily insane was returned.

Amsterdam, Oct. 1.—The correspondent of the Cologne Gazette in Champagne sends the following to his newspaper: "It is continually becoming clearer that the enemy's surprise thrust, carried out by a tremendous array of forces which had been in preparation for several months, will not succeed. The attack has now been brought to a standstill all along the line, and the prospects of a further attack are being awaited with equanimity. The spirits of our men are excellent and their movements are being executed calmly and confidently."

JOFFRE FEELING FOR WEAK SPOTS IN GERMAN LINE

Let Him Carry the Second Line of Defences and Enemy is Routed.

Paris, October 1.—Tornadoes of shells continue ceaselessly to sweep the German second line of defence in Champagne. General Joffre is all the time feeling for weak spots at which to throw the blue-lined waves of his legions. Already French detachments have taken firm foothold in some advanced trenches in this second line, which like the first consists of a series of entrenchments forming underground forts.

Sometimes the French waves are swept back, but they are as irresistible as an oncoming tide. Military critics say that once this line is carried there is no third position which could save Germany from a great disaster, affecting particularly the Crown Prince's army in the Argonne and von Heering's north of Rheims. A glance at the map, in fact, will reveal clearly that once the German line has been crumpled up towards Vouziers the Crown Prince's troops around Verdun and von Heering at Laon will be exposed to a convergent fire and be obliged to retreat.

Already the French have made extended gains north of Massiges and Mesnil and along the road from Ville-sur-Tourbe to Cernay-en-Dormois. They hold the commanding height known as Hill 190, a loss which the German official report admits. BRILLIANT CAVALRY CHARGE. A particular feature of the battle last week-end was the brilliant cavalry charge by Goumier's picturesque Moorish horsemen, who, with their banners flying in the wind and uttering a piercing war cry, dashed with their scimitars among the terror-stricken foe. This is the first time cavalry has been used on the western front since the fighting at La Bassee Canal a year ago.

All the French troops are brimming with high spirits. Their confidence in Joffre, whom they call "Grandpa," has now reached the highest pitch. On the eve of battle he drew up an order for the day which was read to all the troops, wherein he explained in detail the vital character of the offensive and prepared the men for a stern fight without in any way attempting to disguise the difficulties ahead nor to minimize the effort he was asking of them. This method of taking the men into his confidence by the General-in-chief suits the French character, and had a lot to do with their splendid bearing afterward.

RESTRICTION ORDER AWAITS APPROVAL

Toronto, Oct. 1.—While no official announcement was issued yesterday, the Provincial License Board, it is understood, put the finishing touches upon its recommendation to the Government covering the reduction of the hours of sale in the hotels of the province, and the matter now awaits the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, which will probably be given to-day.

The regulation drafted by the board, it is understood, provides for the closing of all hotels in the province at 7 o'clock, whether in military districts or not. This conforms with the well known objection of the members of the board to making any discrimination as between soldiers and civilians, and makes it a broad "war measure" in every respect. It will probably be made effective shortly before the soldiers go into winter quarters.

In military circles it is stated that the action proposed by the board at present has no present application to soldiers, and that the result of the discussion of measures designed to stop the sale of bottled liquor to soldiers will lead to action at a later date, based upon co-operation between the board and the military authorities. It is pointed out that Col. Logie was not in a position to speak for the military of the whole province, and that before the next step is taken, as it certainly will be taken, the whole matter will have to be discussed with the military authorities at Ottawa.

The general opinion is that the sale of bottled liquor to soldiers will be stopped by means of military orders which the License board, following its custom in the past few months, would support. In other words, while the board would not make the distinction between soldier and civilian as regards the sale of bottled liquor, the licensee who ignored the stand taken by military headquarters and sold to soldiers would be vigorously dealt with.

Yesterday a deputation of license holders led by James Haverson, K.C., called upon Chairman Flavell and Commissioner Dane with a general objection to any proposals to reduce the hours of sale, claiming that the hotelkeepers had no wish to sell to soldiers, and were quite willing to refuse to do so.

WE CANNOT WIN WITHOUT YOUR AID, SAYS LLOYD GEORGE

Yesterday's Courier contained the first portion of a magnificent address by David Lloyd George, delivered to the Trades Union Congress at Bristol. There follows below the last portion of this notable address.

WHAT THE STATE HAS DONE

Has the state kept the bargain? We have declared 715 establishments producing munitions of war to be controlled of the State. Those 715 establishments represents practically the whole of the workshops employed in turning out munitions of war. There are still a few more which we have to bring in but you have brought them in gradually. Those we have brought in represent 95 per cent of the labor engaged in the market. And don't forget that, we have not asked any trade union to suspend any regulation except in an establishment where we control the profits. If any man tells me that as a government we have asked the trade unions to suspend regulations in any shop where we are not controlling the profits I will say to you that we have not carried out the bargain. What have we done about controlling the profits? We have controlled them by Act of Parliament. We prepared our regulations for restricting profits; we submitted them to the labor advisory committee, which was chosen at that conference. We are restricting them on the basis of what they earned before the war; we are insisting on their submitting the whole of their accounts to us, and we are examining them.

NATIONALIZED INDUSTRIES

They are only going to get the standard, which is based upon the profit made before the war, and any allowance which is made by us in respect to increased capital and more which they put in. What do we do with the balance? We put it into the Treasury to carry on the war. It is the first time it has ever been done in the history of any country. You have practically taken over the whole of the engineering works of this country and control them by the law. I have seen resolutions passed from time to time at Trades Union Congresses about nationalizing the industries of the country. We have done it.

Practically the whole of the engineering industry of this country is now state-controlled, and the profits made out of the war are annexed for State purposes. That is better than any resolution you ever carried out. When the experiment is tried, don't acclaim it, why not help it? It is the grandest step that has ever been taken in that direction. Do encourage us when we are walking along the right path.

Don't say, "Ah, we would have done it so much better." Of course you would. Everybody does things better than anybody else. That is only natural. If you would accept a great lead forward along the path that you want to go you will never get there. If you insist on getting to the moon in one leap you don't do it. This is the greatest step that has ever been taken in the way of controlling the industries of the country by the state, in preventing unfair extravagance and greedy profits made at the expense of labor. It is the greatest step that has ever been taken in that direction. Let us hail it. That is done by Act of Parliament. The regulations have been submitted to the labor advisory committee and they have approved. The profits which are now being earned this instant will be annexed by the State. As far as that part of the bargain is concerned we have carried it out in the letter and in the spirit. (Cheers)

POWER OVER EMPLOYERS

The question is put to me, "What about the employer?" I will tell you what we have done with him. We have taken power to take his words and we have taken them in hundreds of cases. We have taken power to take his machinery, and you have done it in many cases. We have taken full power to order him what to do, and we are doing it every day. He cannot make any machine without asking our permission. If he says, "I would like this machine," we say, "No, you have got to take that." We can annex his works, examine his accounts, annex his profits. We can decide what wages he has to pay and what hours of labor and conditions. All that can be done by Act of Parliament. We have compulsory service for the employer.

A SOLEMN GUARANTEE

The next undertaking we gave was that we would give a guarantee that at the end of the war the previous conditions would be restored. How have we done that? Not merely by a solemn declaration on behalf of the Government. We have embodied it in an Act of Parliament, and you have a statutory guarantee carried unanimously by Parliament by men of all parties—employers, workmen, Liberals, Unionists, conspirators, anti-conspirators, pro-Germans if there are any, and anti-Germans—all sorts and conditions of men. They are all in it, and they are all embarked in that guarantee. There is not a man left to protest when the war is over. What is the third point? Piece rates not to be reduced anywhere. We have given an undertaking that they shall not, and if any man can give a single case in any armament works or in any works where munitions of war are turned out, any case where they have cut down piece rates, I will guarantee to put it right in twenty-four hours.

The fourth point is that unskilled men and women must be paid the same piece rates as the skilled men. That is part of the bargain. If an unskilled man, or an unskilled woman, turns out as much work as a skilled man, why on earth should they not be paid the same? It is not done.

"EVERY HOUR MEANS DEATH."

Unless we get unskilled labor in the next few months we are making straight for disaster. Then in another place it was stated that unskilled labor must not be employed on the munitions. If the Government were to be hampered by little technical objections of that kind it would be quite impossible for them to do the work demanded at their hands. Then the engineers objected to the plumbers. Every hour means death, and the whole nation must put its whole strength into the struggle if there is to be liberty and freedom for the democracies of Europe. The Government had had to give a large order to America for machine goods because they could not get them here. There was the resolution from a Woolwich firm that no woman was to be put upon a lathe. That was not quite the Government's idea of collective bargaining. With regard to the restriction of output that part of the bargain had not been carried out, and there was an instance where men have been warned to desist.

Russia is fighting with a valor which is beyond praise. The valor is the emancipation of Europe. The Germans are advancing behind a terrible curtain which the heaviest artillery can prepare, but I hear she has just won a brilliant victory in Galicia. (Cheers)

The Russian is a great fellow. He is a man with a great heart, and has great possibilities. I believe this war will be a greater influence for Russia than any war in the world, and the emancipation of Russia means more for humanity than we can describe. The Russian is not only a man of brain, but of heart. Although he is now driven back, he will come again in the might and majesty of his great country. Until he is ready, his hand falls upon this country. Let us maintain it in a way worthy of our traditions.

You are all leaders of organized labor, and the future of labor largely depends on what happens during this war. The whole country is a molten mass in the great furnace of war. Believe me, the strongest in the world needs the support of the people of this country as never before. Let us be one people, and we shall march through to the greatest triumph liberty has ever achieved in any land. (Loud cheers)

Mrs. Jos. Gaudreau, Notre Dame des Bois, Que., writes: "Last autumn our baby was very sick and we were greatly discouraged. The doctor did not seem able to help him and we began using Baby's Own Tablets which soon made him a fat, healthy child. Thousands of other mothers give Baby's Own Tablets the same praise. The Tablets regulate the stomach and bowels, break up colds and simple fevers, expel worms, cure colic; and make teething easy. GOOD SHOES

You know that the European war has caused shoe men quite a lot of trouble. Perhaps some of this "war talk" and "high prices" scare has caused you to go shopping around for the cheapest shoes you can find. We want to tell you that cheap shoes are never a good investment. You will find after one purchase of cheap footwear that it is better to buy the best.

Cheap shoes wear out quickly. They lose shape in a few weeks. They are "just cheap," that's all. Our shoes are worth every cent we ask for them, and they are by no means high-priced.
