GREATER HAMILTON'S MOST RELIABLE NEWSPAPER

ANALYSIS OF HYDRO OFFER

Made by the Cataract Company For the Aldermen.

Some Figures That Should be Closely Looked Into

Before the City Commits Itself to Anything.

When the city of Hamilton some months ago, received an offer from the Cataract Power Company, the City Council handed the offer over to the engineer of the Hydro-Electric Commission to be reported upon. The wisdom of such a course was questioned at the time. If it was fair to submit the Cataract offer to a aldermen of Hamilton to give the same consideration to the Cataract Company's enalysis of the Hydro-Electric offer as they gave to the Hydro-Electric engineer's analysis of the Cataract offer, A comprehensive analysis of the Hydro proposition, as applied to Hamilton has been placed in the hands of the alder-It brings out some weaknesses of the Hydro system very clearly, and emphasizes a number of points which should be gone into with the greatest care. HEART FAILED WHILE IN BOX.

Dramatic Incident In County Court This Morning.

Mr. Krouse, An Expert, Removed to the Hospital.

Verdict of $100 In An Ejection Case.

The first case taken up at the genral sessions of the County Court vesterday afternoon was that of Lea suit for $200 for alleged wrongful eviction from a store at 24 York street. J. G. Farmer, for the plaintiff, said his client, in 1904, got a one year lease of the premises in question which expired October, 1905. His client was left in tenancy of the store and negotiations were pending for a further lease when Blair onald. son of the late owner of the property, through his attorneys, Bruce, Bruce & Counsell, served notice on Levine to leave in a month. Levine got advice from his solicitors and as a result asked for six months' notice result asked for six months notice as he was a yearly tenant. The bail-iffs were put in and the store closed, and he claimed $200 actual monetary loss. J. L. Counsell for the defend-ant, claimed that a lease pending was and he claimed $200 actual monetary loss. J. L. Counsell for the defendant, claimed that a lease pending was not a lease signed.

Judge Snider's charge to the jury was on the principle of whether or not the bailiff had a legal right to seize the goods of Levine. The jury was out all afternoon, returning as the court was rising with a verdist for $100 for Levine.

Solomon Porter, vs. the International Harvester Ce was a suit for $200 for Levine, solomon Porter, vs. the International Harvester Ce was a suit for $200 for the loss of a thumb while at work. This case was up before, but was dismissed as Porter had not entered suit inside the time allotted to him. He appealed against this through his lawyer, J. L. Schelter, and was graited the right of trial. The company was defended by James Ogilvie and George L. Staunton, K.C.

Porter lost his thumb last fall while working on some blades at the defendant company's plant and alleged negligence. The company's defence was a denial of negligence.

The case lasted only a short time and consisted more of minute descriptions of the work the plaintiff had to do than any legal claims.

There was a dramatic incident at the court this morning in this case.

Mr. Krouse, an expert from the works, was called. While J. L. Schelter was cross-examining the witness, Krouse said he felt faint. He was given a chair to sit on, but a few seconds later keeled over. Dr. Rennie was called in and said heart failure trouble had caused Krouse to go over. He ordered the man to the city hospital. The ambulance was called, but when it arrived it was found to be crippled by a broken wheel and another ambulance was sent for. Mr. Krouse was removed to the hospital in a very weak condition about an hour after the incident. Krouse caught cold while coming here from Chicago and this, combined with ne-vousness, probably caused the trouble.

The whole morning was taken up with two or three witnesses for the defence.

True bills were brought in against William Rendall

The latest proposition in connection with the home for incurable consump-tives, following the Council's action last night in instructing the City Solicitor to take the necessary legal steps to have city's quarry property on the mountain top, at the head of John street. The suggestion comes from Chairman Sweefifteen acres of land there, and Ald. did site and provide good isolation. This did site and provide good isolation. This would mean that no more quarrying would be done there, and he believes this would meet with the approval of those who want to preserve tue beauty of the mountain. Again Marguerite threw herself at her husband's feet, clasping his knees, and lifting a deathly brow bedewed with the sweat of a great agony, and eyes strained outward in mortal prayer, she pleaded as a mother might plead for a child's life. "To question you farther—that is all for the present."

"Recall, Marguerite, the day of our betrothal. There was a fierce anguish, a terrible conflict in your mind before you consented to become my wife; that seeme has recurred to me again and scene has recurred to me again and again. Taken as a link in this chain of again. Taken as a link in this chain of inexplicable circumstances connected with you, it becames of serious importance. Will you explain the cause of your distress upon the occasion referred to?" A groan was her only answer, while her head remained buried in the cush-

While vering him to least his feet? What was it that she concealed from him? While vering him to least the self with her thoughts, he heard through all the roar of the storm a low shuddering sigh, a muffled roating of self with the roar of the storm a low room.

"One moment, if you please, Marguerite, the, "he said, approaching her." She looked around, still so heautiful, but only how changed within a few marguerite, queen of heauty and of song, whom he had proudly carried off from all competitors? She, looking so subdised, so the lastrous purplish hair that fell, uncurled and waving in disheveded locks, down each side her white cheeks and he hastrous purplish hair that fell, mentioned the lastrous purplish hair that fell, while he had and silently gave him her hand, and suffered him to lead the lastrous purplish hair that fell, mentioned the lastrous purplish hair that fell, while he had not all with you, if you please where the boson.

told me truly so far as you spoke; but your manner was not truthful, Marguerite. You affected to treat that letter lightly, yet you took care to destroy it; you talked, jested, laughed with unprecedented gayety; your manner completely deceived me, though as I look at it from my present view it was a little overdone. You sang and played, and became Thalia, Allegra. for this night only, and when the point toward which all this acting tended, came, and you made your desire known to me, you affected to put it as a playful test of my confidence, a caprice; but when you found your bagatelle treated seriously, and your desire steadily and gravely refused. Marguerite, your acting all was over. And now I demand an explanation of your conduct, for, Marguerite, deception will be henceforth fruitless forever:

"Yes, madam, that was the word I tused, purposely and with a full appreciation of the meaning." aid Mr. Male used, purposely and with a full appre-ciation of the meaning," said Mr. Helm-stedt, sternly.

"Deception! Heaven and earth! deception charged by you upon me!" she exclaimed, and then sank down, covering her face with her hands and whispering her face with her hands and whispering fully trusted. Still, if you can satisfactorily account for your strange conduct, we may yet go on together with some measure of mutual regard and comfort; which is, I suppose, all that, after the novelty of the honeymoon is past, ordinarily falls to the lot of married people. The glamor, dotage, infatuation, that deceived us into believing that our wed, ded love was something richer, and rarer, and diviner than that of other mortals like us, is forever goue! And the utmost that I venture to hope now, Mrs. Helmstedt, is that your speedy explanation may prove that, with this mystery, you have not brought dishonor on the family you have entered."

Lemoine, the Alleged Swindler, Arraigned in Paris Court.

Paris, June 9.—Lemoine, the alleged swindler under arrest on a charge of obtaining from Sir Julius Wernher a large sum of money by pretending that he could manufacture diamonds, and who obtained a remand in order that he might have an opportunity of proving that he could do so, was in court to-day.

Lemoine lengthily explained to Judge Poittevin the difficulties he encountered in installing his electric furnace. He accused his landlady, Mme. Clark, of being in league with Sir Julius Wernher to cause him to fail to make the diamond he was to produce in court. Now everything was ready. Two hundred crucibles, costing five france each, had just been received. He declared that if he were granted a small delay he would prove himself no swindler.

Judge Poittevin remarked that the best jokes were the shortest. He had summoned Sir Julius Wernher tor June 17th, and if the diamond was not then forthcoming he would send Lemoine before the Correctional Court.

St. Catharines, June 9.—William J. Vance, a city tailor, is in a queer position. To-day Vance was to have appeared in the Police Court to answer a charge of refusal to pay wages to a girl in his employ. The police claim that Vance, in order to defraud his creditors, entered into a false partnership with Charles Peterson, making over property to him by a bill of sale. A warrant was accordingly issued, and Vance will be given a hearing on Thursday.

It is worthy of note, too, that the redistribution contributed to the swelling of the Government majority. It lost the Liberals a seat in Huron, a seat in Essex, a seat in Ottawa, and the county of Peel, as also the four new seats in Toronto. By the double-member plan as adopted for the latter-city 100,000 Liberals have been practically disfranchised, while the return to the "single member" plan for Ottawa has driven out of public life one of the most useful members in the last House, Mr. G. Councillor Hills said the proposition was not equity, but iniquity, and he thought Councillor Malcolm was overstepping the mark in trying to pass such a scheme. As Barton, Saltfleet, East and West Flamboro were left out, no such scheme should be passed.

Councillor Gage objected to the fact that copies of the by-law had not been made out and distributed to the councillors. He said it was a scheme hatched by the four or five townships to get their roads built and then saddle the maintenance on the county.

Councillor Malcolm made a remark about the versatility of Councillor Millen, who, he said, changed his mind about every five minutes.

If the fire is too feeble, the process will be retarded; too powerful a flame is still more harmful, as the paper is liable to become brown or black. The City Council, by its action last vening, took the first step toward enabling the ratepayers to intelligently de ide their course on the power question. In Mayor Stewart's typewritten state nent, presented last night, he advanced the arguments that a slight cheapening was estimated by the commission by certain "economies" in the construction of the transmission line. For instance, the right of way was estimated at $300 per acre. That expense, the Mayor said, would be avoided by using highways instead, and renting lands, latter also being cut 25 per cent. The use of the highways for such a hightension transmission line would be very dangerous, and, it must be remembered, municipalities carry all the risks. OUR EXCHANGES

The installation of the new Dato Muda of Kinta and the Raja Muda of Perak by H. E. the Governor at Kuala Kangar was the occasion of a brilliant ceremony and some great popular rejoicoings. The ceremony of installation was the same in the case of each of the new rulers; they went to the Sultan's palace with a great procession of elephants, the animals' faces being painted in gorgeous colors or red and yellow. The Dato Muda, according to custom, had to recite a very curious formula, standing under a palm leaf. The formula is not in Malay, but in a language much older, possibly Sanakrit, or Pali, the sacred tongue of Buddhism. The natives believe it to be a spirit language. It is written out in Arabic, with the vowel points, so that the reader can pronounce the words, though he does not understand them. In their speeches at the banquet which followed this installation the Malay chiefs spoke gratefully of the beneficent results of. Defence of Justice Longley. (Lord Milner.)

Poor Mr. Justice Longley, whose recent peech at the New York Canadian Club has got him into such hot water, seems to me, in intention at any rate, to have been perfectly right. He did not, as far as one can make out, by any means far as one can make out, by any means advocate the separation of Canada from the United Kingdom. On the contrary, his idea seems to be that of a permanent and indissoluble union—only a union of equals, not the dependency of a "colony" upon a parent state. But the permanent and indissoluble alliance of several equal state units means in effect the creation of a new and larger state. This would be the case even if the combining units were originally quite independent of and strange to one another, and a new national committee had to be called into existence. But here there is already a secular connection between them, and the national spirit, though capable of great further development, already exists.

Another instance of the pugnacity of the very venomous black mamba species of snake is reported. Two members of the Northdene (Rhodesit) Rifle Association, whilst waiking between the 290 and 400 yards'-mounds of the range, came suddenly on a huge black mamba lying hidden in the undergrowth. The snake rose quickly on its tail and attacked the near man, who, for the the fact that he was an athlete and very nimble on his feet, must have been bitten. He jumped, backwards, and then both men turned and ran for their lives, with the snake wriggling and hissing at their heels. The athlete outdistanced his companion, and, turning round, found his companion, and, turning round, found that he had fallen, and was lying groanthat he had fallen, and was lying groan-ing on the ground. The athlete went back to the resche, and found the snake occupied in biting his friend's shooting hag. He managed to get the fallen and winded man on his legs again just as the snake again gave chase, and both eventually escaped. The mamba, which measured nins feet, was eventually killed by a native armed with a stick.

CUTICURA EFFECTED

"When my little boy was six weeks old an eruption broke out on his face. I took him to a doctor and got ointments and medicines but his face kept on getting worse until it got so bad that no one could look at him. His whole face was one crust and must have been very painful. He scratched day and night. Then I took him to all the best specialists in skin diseases but they could not do much for him. He sometimes screamed with pain when I put on the salve they gave me. "When he was two years old the eczema got on his arms and legs so that I had to keep them bandaged up and I made gloves for his hands so the nails could not poison him worse. We could not get a night's sleep in months and my husband and I were all broken up. Then my mother asked why I did not give up the doctors and try Cuticura. So I got a set and he felt relieved the first time I used them, the Cuticura Ointment felt so cool. He used to wake up and ask for Cuticura to be put on when he itched so badly that he could not sleep, and he would say, 'Ohl Mama, that makes my sores feel so good!' I gave the Cuticura Remedies a good trial and gradually the eczema healed all up and now he is as well as any other children. He is now seven years cld and the cure has lasted two months, so I think it will never return. I can't kell you how glad I am that Cuticura did such wonderful work in our case and I shall recommend it everywhere. Mrs. John G. Klumpp, 80 Niegara St. Newark, N. J., Oct. 17 and 22, 1907." CANADIAN ORDER OF FORESTERS.

Twenty-Ninth Annual Session of the High Court at Niagara Falls.

Past Year the Most Presperous In Its History---Large Representation Present.

The twenty-ninth annual session of the High Court of the Canadian Order of Foresters opened in the city of Niagara Falls yesterday afternoon, with a large number in attendance, including High Court officers and delegates representing subordinate courts of every Province of the Dominion.

After the usual opening ceremonies and the appointment of the several standing committees, the High Court officers submitted their reports, which showed the Order to be in a most flourishing condition. The progress made by the Order during the past year far surpassed that of any previous year in its

The High Chief Ranger, J. A. Stewart, of Perth, Ont., after extending a hearty welcome to the representatives present, submitted his report, which was replete with facts and figures relating to the growth and extension of the Order during the past year.

On the 1st of January, 1907, the Order had a membership of 64,055, and there were initiated during the year 7,912 new members, being an increase of 771 over the previous year. During 1906 3,134 members lapsed and 409 died, leaving a net membership at the close of the year of 68,424.

The increase in the Insurance Reserve of the Order during the year amounted to $251,818.42. On January 1st, 1907, the amount on hand in this branch was $2,174,872.45, and at the close of the year $2,426,690.87. The amount paid in death claims was $413,326.24.

The Sick and Funeral Benefit Department is also in a flourishing condition. During the year no less a sum than $134,418,44, covering 5,903 claims, was paid in this branch. The amount to the credit of this fund at the close of the year was $112,864.48. was $112,864,48.

The High Chief Ranger, in concluding his address, expressed the hope that the meeting would be a pieasant one for the members and a profitable one for the Order, and felt that if ever there was a time in the history of the Order when the members should all feel inspired with hope and confidence in the future of Canadian Forestry, that time was the present. In an inspiring address he urged upon the representatives to do all that in they lay to make 1908 the banner year of the Order.

The report of George Faulkner, High Secretary, covering the general work of the society, was next in order, and showed in detail the large volume of business transacted through the head office at Brantford.

The amount of Insurance premiums received during the year was $575,916.20, which, with the interest on Insurance Account, made the total receipts in this Branch $665,149.96. There were 409 death claims paid, amounting to $413,331.54, leaving the sum of $251,818.42 to carry to the Reserve Fund, which at the close of the year was $2,426,690.87.

The report of Dr. U. M. Stanley, who has been Chairman of the Medical Board since the inception of the Order, shows that the death rate during the past year was only 5.98 per thousand. This is a remarkably low death rate for an Order now doing business for upwards of 28 years, and still more remarkable is the fact that comparing the last half of the 28 years with the first half, the death rate is in proportion of 5.17 to 5.07 per thousand. There were submitted to the Medical Board during the year 9.874 applications, of which 9.084 were accepted and the remaining 790 rejected.

The report of W. G. Strong, superintendent of organization, showed that during the year there were 7.912 initiations, the largest in the history of the Order. There were 34 new courts institued with a membership of 560.

PRICE OF CO. PER WIRE.

Editor Times: What would half-inch copper wire cost per mile? Is copper wire sizes regulated by any standard?—Student.

The price of the wire would, of course,

The price of the wire would, of course, depend on the market for the pig copper, which has of late been subject to wide fluctuations. Wire is sold according to certain guage standards, that generally used in America being Brown & Sharpe's guage, which ranges from 0000, a diameter of 400-1000 of an inch, to 40, a diameter of 3.144-1000. The tables before us do not give computation for half inch copper wire. Number 0000, which is 400-1000 is the nearest given, and it weighs 3375.5 lbs. to the mile. By multiplying by the current price of copper wire a pound you can arrive at the information you desire.—Ed.

Great Tribute to Ross.

D. C. Ross, the former Premier's son, had the nomination for the safe riding of West Middlesex. CIVIL SERVICE.

Imperial System Not Suited to This Dominion.

Social and Family Pull Needed Over There For Aspirants.

Ottawa, June 10 .- The Hon. George E. Foster professes a great desire for the reform of the civil service, and at a ent sitting of the House of Commons moved a resolution affirming the principle of independence under a nonrtisan commission. The resolution was, of course, entirely unnecessary, for Government was already committed civil service reform, and there was bill on the order paper giving effect of it. But Mr. Foster thought it would more to his personal advantage to e a day all to himself. He would be ereby keeping himself before the counus the central figure of his party, serving the double purpose of tak-the wind out of the sails of the ernment in respect of its civil ser-bill, and of blocking the estimates ver another day.

towernment in respect of its civil service bill, and of blocking the estimates for yet another day.

Air. Foster's speech in support of his resolution was a splendid appreciation of the imperial civil service, both at home and abroad, and with much of what he said everyone can agree. But, taking his speech as a whole, it left a wrong impression of that service, and lost sight of a very serious defect of the British civil service, as it shows itself abroad. The service is nearly all right in England, where it is kept in check by a dominant public opinion; but abroad it is autocratic, unsympathetic and sometimes corrupt. It was the aloofness and autocracy of Sir Owen Lanyon and his coterie of British officials that caused the insurrection of the Boers in 1880, which led up to the retrocession. They found it impossible to put themselves into sympathetic relation to the Boer people; they had not the patience that is necessary in dealing with a backward race; they could not demoer their innovations with discrewith a backward race; they could not temper their innovations with discre-tion; they offended the Boer prejudices at every turn; they kept applicants for favors or advice waiting for hours on the doorsteps of their offices, and exercised, favors or advice waiting for hours on the doorsteps of their offices, and exercised, in small matters, a tyranny that no free people will tolerate. The Dutchmen, consequently, went home and took down their rifles, and went out to listen to Com Paul. Such officials in Canadawhere a delicate regard for the feelings and peculiar prejudices of the diverse elements of population is essential, and where a certain amount of adaptability to changing conditions is a qualification for employment in the Government—would be entirely worthless, and the system, which has produced the English red tape and the peculiarly hide-bound characteristies and circumlocution of the English officialism at home, is not one which should or can be adopted holus bolus, or one which can be adopted even in principle. There are some features which should or can be adopted holus bolus, or one which can be adopted even in principle. There are some features that may be introduced with advantage; but nothing must be introduced that cannot be properly assimilated, for the civil service of a country, to be a success, must have its roots in, and conform to, the social atmosphere, needs, conditions and public opinion of the country to be administered. Great Britain is settled, its national and social characteristics have crystallized into definite form, and its civil service has reached a stage that permits of more or less cast iron classification. The colleges and universities have adapted parts of their curricula to the requirements of aspirants for civil service employment, and a young man, when he enters the service, enters it generally for life, intending, when he reaches old age, to take his pension and spend the autumn of his existence in corpulent case. It is a quiet, steady-going life, very regular and correct, and, while things are by no means standing still, the changes that are going on are of that ruminant order which are so gradual and undisturbing as to be scarcely noticeable. The advancement of a humble employee in the general body of the service is checked by time limits and examina in the general body of the service is checked by time limits and examina-tions, and he has to have an abnormal in the general body of the service is checked by time limits and examinations, and he has to have an abnormal amount of energy or influence to rise to a prominent position. He has to mind his p's and q's, and he very discreet. There are very strict rules which, if broken, mean dismissal.

Canada, on the other hand, is the theatre of great movements. Each mewcomer asks for his ideas a place in the pattern of our life, and there is a struggle as to what is fittest to survive. Foreign and unsuitable ideas die hard, but they do eventually die out, and the best suited to the environment and the developments of industry and commerce at last prevail. But all this shows that there must be elasticity in the service, and a man must be chosen more for ability in dealing with human beings and their concerns in a practical and business like manner than for his apptitude to pass a scholarly test. We must have no narrow-minded jacksin-office, who favey that they own the country, and we must not so hedge round appointments as to enable the full service to organize itself into a big union, which may some day dictate to the people they are appointed to serve. This is a real danger in a sparsely settled country, where competition for civil service employment is not as keen as in more settled communities, and where each man is too busy driving his own furrow to keep an eye on the general interests of the public.

The circumstances of Canada call, mereover, for initiative work, which is not permitted in Great Britain, because the people look more to individual enterprise than to government action. Here we have commissions, boards and inspectors directing transportation matters, interfering in commerce, and assisting agriculture. There is much scope for practical and technical intelligence, which is not to be obtained altogether through book learning, but must be picked up in the large school of experience in a busy world. There are situations and conditions in western Canada that can only be met by such men, and no written examinat forward the right men. Even in the older countries of Europe the efficacy of written examinations is seriously questioned; and, if there is any change in the future, it will be in the direction of the future, it will be in the direction of substituting personal observation of an official's work for a given time rather than letting his promotion rest on sweating up a certain class of subjects, and then answering a schedule of questions on what he has laboriously conned. Canada will, therefore, he acting against upto-date opinion and her own interests if a system of rigid examination, such as appeals to the old-fashioned professorial tastes of the Hon. Geo. E. Foster is adopted. Mr. Foster himself illustrates the blemishes of the system he advocates, for he is invariably unimpressive when he shows the professor, and more successful when he shows the practical man, which is very rare. For he is the reverse of practical as a politician.

Mr. Foster declaims against patronage, and infers that patronage has no place in the British civil service. But, if he had been born and brought up there, he would have known that patronage plays a very important part; not political patronage, perhaps, but court or social patronage, eprhaps, but court or social patronage. There is scarcely a "plum" one can reach without climbing up on somebody's back. Has he never heard the phrase, "A friend at court"? Duchesses and dowager duchesses, carls and their ladies, and wealthy commoners are constantly touting people in high places for sinecures for their incompetent sons; and they get them. Lord Milner, when in South Africa, recruited the imperial service with many of these; and there was one Oxford University boy whom he promoted to the exalted position of under secretary for urban affairs, after he had forgotten to renew a lease for the Johannesburg City Council, and cost the city many thousands of dollars in consequence. Such a piece of gross favoritism, after the man had done something that would have rendered him unemployable anywhere else, would hardly occur even in Canada. Anyone who has lived in Englend is aware of the powerful lever influence is in the matter of promotion; and it is absurd to hold up as an example of freedom from patronage a system and a country in which patronage is an almost essential element to success in attaining any coveted position, where the use of influence is worth invoking.

The interference of patronage is limited, it is true; but still it is there, and inefficient official, who is a nuisance to everyone who is around him. Yet he must not be removed or spoken against, because he has "so and so" at his back; and, even though he gets his work done by somebody else, being incompetent to do it himself, he will probably be the next man to be promoted when a vacancy occurs.

As to corruption, the war stores scandal in South

As to corruption, the war stores scandal in South Africa has only to be mentioned to show that officers in the pay of the British Government can do a great many things that are not distinctly honorable, and can aid in robbing their country of hundreds of thousands of dollars. In fact, if all the corruption in connection with the South African war and the subsequent repatriation of the Boers could be traced, it would be found that the British taxpayers had been robbed of millions. After the war the courts were full of cases of embezzlement.

Of course, the home civil service of Great Britain is admittedly honest; but that honesty is the result of public opinion; and it is only public opinion that can command an honest civil service in Canada. You cannot make a civil service honest by regulation. The honesty must spring from the people. It is fatal to a government, in a democratic country, to act up to a code of ethics very much above the code sanctioned by the conduct of the mass of the neople which it rules. Civil servants will, naturally, follow the normal plane; and be very little, if any, better than their fellows of like passions and inclinations in the world of private enterprises. For individuals to expect from the ruling powers or their servants something which is an infringement of the rights of others has, in itself, a tendency to seduce both from the paths of rectitude, and, in the final result, the people in a democratic country will have just such a government or civil service as it deserves.

Reported to Emperor.

Berlin, June 9.—Governor Mansfeld, in Ossidinge, Cameroons, has sent to the Emperor an interesting report on a petrified forest discovered on an exploring tour in the land of the Bakogos.

The potrified trees are from thirty to seventy feet high and from two to three feet in diameter. The trees retain their form as to branches and twigs. The petrified forest is two miles long.

The special auditors who are making an audit of the Toronto City Treas-urer's accounts have complained that they found no complete record of the city's properties.

THE RETURNS UP TO DATE.

Bowman Carries North Bruce by Big Majority.

Stormont and Lennox Claimed by Both Sides.

Nelson Monteith May Retire From Public Life.

There are very few changes to record in the list of members elected to the Legislature as it appeared in yester-day's Times. North Bruce was placed day's Times. North Bruce was placed in the doubtful column then. Late re-turns show that Mr. C. M. Bowman, Liberal Whip, has been re-elected by a big majority. Temiskaming, one of the other doubtfuls, is as emphatically Conservative necessary the choosing of a new Minister of Agriculture. Mr. Monteithnever much of a politician—is said to be thoroughly out of love with office, and at the Parliament buildings it is generally believed that he will retire from the Government. The Premier, it is understood, will do all he can to get Mr. Monteith a seat if he decides to stay, but there are some very influential members of the House who are eager to "speed the parting guest." Mr. Carnegie (East Victoria) is considered the most likely aspirant for the portfolio of Agriculture. He is a Guelph College graduate.

An Ontario-Quebec Comparison.

Elsewhere will be found the latest returns from Quebec. They indicate that the relative strength of the parties in the two Provinces is just about reversed. The Liberals in Ontario have 19 out of 106. The Conservatives in Quebec, according to latest returns, have 13 in a House of 74, or almost 18 per cent. in each case of the total membership. The two Nationalists elected in Quebec are former Liberal members of the Commons, and are far as the poles apart from the Quebe Bleus in national affairs.

Mr. Tudhope's Majority.

Mr. Tudhope's Majority.

the other doubtfuls, is as emphatically conservative.

There are but two doubtfuls now left Lennox and Stormont. Both sides claim them. It will require a re-count in each case to determine who is elected. In Lennox Carscallen (Conservative) claims four of a majority, but Madole (Liberal) affirms that this is based on a mix-up of figures at Storm's Corners, which he expects the returning officer to straighten out on declaration day. In Stormont Milligan (Conservative) claims a majority of one, while McCart (Liberal) also claims the seat. If these seats go one to each party the totals in the House will be:—

Orillia, June 9.—Mr. J. B. Tudhope's majority in East Simcoe is 177, instead of 32, as appeared in to-day's dallies. Mr. Tudhope is a Liberal stalwart, who has never known defeat un anything he has undertaken. He put up a magnificent fight in East Simcoe and won by sheer merit. Orillia is the home town of both candidates, and the sentiment is strongly Conservative, but Mr. Tudhope's majority.

Will Mr. Monteith Retire?

There are not many startling changes in the majorities as at first reported. Mr. Tudhope of East Simcoe has made a substantial advance from 32 yesterday, which was rather slim, to 180. In South Perth Mr. Valentine Stock's majority is 7 instead of 16 as reported. The seven Perth electors, however, seem to have made

No Gratitude at the Soo.

Sault Ste. Marie, June 9.—The defeat of C. N. Smith in yesterday's as the sentiment of the people appeared to be overwhelmingly in his favor, and a large majority for him was generally predicted. The causes which led to his defeat are now coming to light, and the present indications are that the Soo will witness another sensational election trial within the next few months. There is conclusive evidence of the most brazen intimidation of the employees of the Steet Company. Besides this, money was freely used on behalf of the Conservative candidate. In Steelton, where it was generally conceded that Mr. Smith would have a majority of 160, the votes showed 20 majority for Hearst.

Along the line of the Algoma Central Railway the men were simply driven like sheep to the polls and compelled to vote for the Conservative candidate out of a total vote of 124. The same teactics were employed wherever the company is influence could be applied, and there is much indignation became of the services rendered the company in the past by Mr. Smith at the time when the industry was threatened with disaster.

HAPPY MARRIAGE.

HAPPY MARRIAGE.

Miss Sadie Cunningham Becomes Mrs. Mitchell.

A wedding took place at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. B. Cunningham, on Monday, June 8, when Miss Sadie Cunningham was married to William Joseph Mitchell, son of the late Joseph Mitchell, better known by his comrades as Roy McFarlane. Rev. J. K. Unsworth officiated. The groom was assisted by Mr. Harry Cunningham, and the bride was attended by Miss Flossie McFarlane. The bride looked very pretty in white net over white silk, and carried a bouquet of roses. The bridesmand was dressed in white embroidery and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. The gift from the groom to the beat man was a tie pin set with pearls and encralds, and to the bridesmaid a wishbone brooch set with brilliants. The happy couple received numerous valuable and useful gifts. They will reside at their new home, 24 Macaulay street west. on Monday, June 8, when Miss Sadie

SERVED SIX MONTHS.

Norman Ryan Acquitted of Robbing Lancaster Railway Station.

Cornwall, June 9.—After spending six months in jail awaiting trial on a charge of robbing the G. T. R. depot at Lancaster last December, Norman Ryan of Toronto, was given his liberty today at the County Court and Sessions of the Peace, Judge O'Reilly presiding. Ryan and a chum named Joe Winters, of Ogdensburg, while tramping, visited the Lancaster depot, and the night operator. Cory Patterson, who had been in and out, claimed that after their departure he discovered that the till had been robbed of $36.

Ryan and Winters were arrested and tried at the Assizes. The jury disagreed. Winters was let go on his own bail, and Ryan was held till to-day, when neither Winters nor Patterson were on hand, and he was let go.

Chrome Mining in Asia Minor.

Chrome Mining in Asia Minor. Chrome Mining in Asia Minor.

For many years past chrome mining has been pursued as an industry in Asia Minor. The chrome is usually found on mountains from 4,000 to 5,000 feet high, and is removed from the pits to the railway station or market on the backs of ionkeys and camels. But while chrome in the neighborhood of Smyrna brought £20 a ton, it now commands a very small price, being in this respect like antimony, so that it scarcely pays to mine it, and certainly not in districts remote from railways. As the chrome of other countries comes on the world's markets, that of Turkey, whose mines have never been worked on a scientific basis with up-to-date machinery, must necessarily decline in value.

FOUGHT EXTRADITION HARD,

But W. J. Murphy Was Brought Back From Chicago.

Toronto, June 10.-After fighting ex-Toronto, June 10.—After fighting extradition for a month or more in Chicago, William John Murphy was brought back to the city by Provincial detective Greer on a charge of receiving goods stolen from Rice Lewis & Company's warehouse. Murphy was allowed out on bail of a thousand dollars in January and skipped out. He was located in Chicago, but put up a very defermined fight. His friends managed to get him out of the hands of the police once, but he was recaptured. Then extradition proceedings were fought to the bitter end. It is a full month since action was commenced. Pym. the young clerk who is accused of selling the goods to Murphy, was sent down for sixty days.

MONTREAL BRICKLAYERS.

No Support From Union Funds, So Men Return to Work.

Hong Kong, June S. — The British passenger steamer Pow An, running between Hong Kong, Canton and Macao, struck on a rock off Lantao Island last night and is a total wreck. Eighty natives are missing. All the Europeon passengers and officers of the steamer were rescued. Lantao is a mountainous island in the mouth of the Canton River.

That it has power to order the building of a viaduct in Toronto is the decision of the Dominion Railway Commission.

The Beginning of It.

The Council prunged into the power question almost as soon as it had settled down to business. Ald. Sweeney fired the first shot He moved, second-by Ald. Allan, that the report of the special committee on municipal lighting and power plant be adopted. The recommendation of that committee was:

"That a by-law be submitted to the electors of this municipality qualified to vote on by-laws for the creation of debts only authorizing the Corporation of the City of Hamilton to enter into a con-of Hamilton to enter into a con-t with the Hydro-Electric Power mission of Ontario, copy of which Commission of Ontario, copy of which contract is submitted herewith."

Ald. Jutten, seconded by Ald. Hennessey, immediately moved that the Council go into committee of the whole to consider the matter.

Ald. Lewis, seconded by Ald. Peregrine, followed this up with an amendment, to the effect that the report of the committee be referred to a special committee, consisting of the whole Council, and that the engineers of the Hydro Commission and the Cataract Power Cobe notified to attend this meeting for the purpose of furnishing such information as was desired. Ald. Lewis, speaking to this, said:

"There does not seem to be sufficient definite information on which this Council can wove with certainty. We have the Herald saying that the contract as now constituted includes the cost of stepping down. We have Mr. Patterson declaring that the contract does not include this. I also learn from Mr. Patterson's letters that he has made inquiries from those in authority, such Mr. Patterson's letters that he has made nquiries from those in authority, such is Col. Hendrie, and I think he has tried to get Beck. Sothman and others, but no one has yet answered that important puestion. It is possible to get definite information, one way or the other, and I hink we should get it. I never knew of a matter of such magnitude and importance being put before this Council, become the different clauses had been considered by some committee."

the aldermen were unwilling to face the issues.

Issue was taken by Ald. Peregrine with the statement made by Ald. Wright that the result of the elections was an indication of what the people thought about the power scheme. Premier Whitney himself had said that it was not a political question, and Ald. Peregrine did not think that the Council had ever recognized it as such. For that very reason, action had been deferred until after the elections. Ald. Sweeney had admitted to him that the contract had never been considered clause by clause. Their own engineer could not enlighten them on some of the points, and he did not pretend to understand them with the information he had at present. It was only right, he thought, that both engineers should appear before the Council.

It was folly, Ald. Jutten declared, to be delaying this thing night after night. There was less than a year now, to get things in shape. Was the object in shelving this night after night, a move to block the building of the municipal plant, that the citizens wanted? It looked as if it was.

Ald. Allan's Views.

Ald. Allan's Views.

It was a serious matter, Ald. Allan thought, for the city to tie itself up to a 30-year contract, to take power exclusively from the Hydro-Electric Commission. They were not satisfied to have the municipalities take the power and give them an opportunity of making a better contract later on if they could. Ald, Jutten had said that the matter had been considered thoroughly. am not going to make one statement that is not true, and no statement I make can be fairly contradicted." He charged that the argument used to have the matter delayed savored very much of the aldermen shirking their duty. So that there might be no mistake, about what he had to say, he read a typewritten statement. It was as follows:

"If the city cotters into the contraction of the city cotters in the c one wanted more information before hetied the city up for 30 years.

Objects to Thirty Years.

Declaring that he held similar views to Ald. Allan, the chairman of the power committee, Ald. Sweeney, protested against tieing the city up for 30 years. Ine aldermen had no assurance of what the price of power was going to be, and in view of the little knowledge they had and the less knowledge the public had, the matter should be more thoroughly considered. People had very different views on the subject. Some thought that the city was going to jump into the lighting and manufacturing end of the power business, while that phase of it had never been considered by the Council. Thus people might enter into it under a misapprehension that they would get power for practically nothing. The best illustration of this was the waterworks. The large users got water for almost nothing, while the small taxpayers got soaked for far more than their share. It would probably be the same thing with the power question. For this and other reasons, he considered it wise to consult with the engineers before foisting this on the people. It was doubtful if six aldermen understood the contract, and, although the Mayor had made quite a study of it, Ald. Sweeney doubted very much if he knew all the ins and outs of the contract.

While the aldermen protested against signing a 30-year contract for power, Ald. Nicholson declared that he had not he esitated to tie the city up to a street railway contract for 21 years, and he urged them to be consistent.

"I might say that I was opposed to that then, as I am to this now," declared Ald. Sweeney.

The two cases in the opinion of Ald. H. G. Wright, did not form a comparision. This was an entirely different matter. The contract of the street railway, was one of the best contracts the city had ever made. Ald. Jutten had given some sage advice, but he challenged him to say what the price of power would be. "The second offer of the company is $16 per horse power per annum.
"The third offer is of such an indefinite nature that it is extremely difficult to determine what it means, or what it is intended to mean. The question of the Hydro-Electric Commission fixing the price that the city should pay the company is unreasonable and absurd, as the commission was not formed for the purpose of fixing prices to be paid by municipalities to local companies, and would no doubt resent any such proposition. The offer is only for power to be used for street lighting, water pumping and other purposes of the city corporation, and would not enable the city to furnish power for cheaper lighting of "The second offer of the company is think we should get it. I never knew of a matter of such magnitude and import ance being put before this Council, before the different clauses had been considered by some committee."

Referring to one of the sub-sections, setting forth the conditions, on which the city would be billed for the power used, Ald Lewis said: "I venture to say that there is not one alderman in this Council who understands this clause. Id not know but that, if it comes into operation, it may affect the price three for four dollars, one way or the other. I have been told that it will."

Stong abjection was taken by Ald. Crear to statements made in the Council to close a contract with the commission. The ratepayers had never probability of two importants by laws being submitted in the near future, and if this were so, what objection could there be to having this matter considered informally by the Council, so that the aldermen will be in possession of all the authoritative information that was to be had.

What Others Thought.

Ald. A. J. Wright said that the solicitors of the different municipalities had probed the agreement, and satisfied themselves that it was the best contract that could be made. It was all talk to say that the matter was not gone into thoroughly. The result of the Provincial elections, he considered, was a pretty clear indication of what the people thought about it. It was not a matter to be stepped over, or covered up, or wriggled around. It looked as if some of Wants Competition.

Ald. McLaren, referring to the advice to go slow, said: "If we are going to go any slower than in the last year and a half, I think it is time for the people to elect some one who will go a little faster." This remark elicited applause from the audience, Ald. McLaren said he from the audience. Ald. McLaren said he remembered Engineer Sothman saying that the cost of stepping down was included in the price quoted for Hamilton. It was true that it was not guaranteed, but he did not expect a guarantee of the price. The city was getting a cost proposition, and one in which there was very little opportunity for loss. The only thing new in the matter in the last six months, was the fact that the Government had decided not to guarantee the cost and the new offer of the Cataract. Just a few hours before the Council met, he had received a long typewritten document, with arguments against the Hydro scheme. One of them was as follows: "If what the Hydro-Electric proposes is so easy, why do not the big companies at Nicestand follows: "If what the Hydro-Electric proposes is so easy, why do not the big companies at Niagara come here and enter into a fair competition with the local company? Why?"

Ald. McLaren said this was the very thing the aldermen wanted to know. As a matter of fact they were well aware that the Board of Works had endeavored to get these other companies.

The Mayor's Stand.

Mayor Stewart then declared his stand on the matter. He said," I want to say to the aldermen that I stake my in reducing this price to $17.10.

"The estimate of the Hydro-Electric Commission was made when the price of copper was 28 cents per lb., the price is now 13 cents per lb. The right of way was estimated at $300 per acre. The commission now intend to use the highways and where possible to do so will rent the lands to be occupied by derricks. The cost of the derricks will be 25 per cent. less than the amount originally estimated. All these conditions will materially lessen the cost of the power line, and thereby greatly lessen the cost of power to the municipalities.

"In the newspapers of Friday last a letter appeared over the signature of John Patterson, stating that the estimate of the Hydro-Electric Commissioners did not include the expense of stepdown transforming. In this he was mistaken, as the estimate includes the cost of stepdown transformer station and stepdown transformer station and stepdown transformation to 2,200 volts or 1,200 volts for domestic or other uses of the municipality."

Regarding Mr. Patterson's letters about the cost of stepping down the power not being included in the price quoted to Hamilton, the Mayor read the following telegram, just received from Engineer Sothman:

Ald. Dickson wanted to know if the following clause did not mean that the city would have to take power above the 1.500 contracted for in quantities of 1.000 horse power, if it required it:

"At the expiration of three months' written notice, which may be given by the corporations or any of them from time to time during the continuance of, this agreement, to supply from time to time to corporations in blocks of not less than 1.000 horse power each, additional power until the total amount so supplied shall amount to 30,000 horse power."

power."

The City Solicitor and the Mayor explained that a block of 1,000 horse power was the quantity in which the municipalities would have to order it between them, but they did not think there would be much trouble over this, as there was always likely to be some spare power, and the other municipalities could be consulted in time.

ould be consulted in time "But if no one else needs any, and we want 500 we must pay for 1,000," said

Ald. Dickson.
Ald. Lewis said that if the following clause was applicable it might mean that the price of the power might be increased by three dollars or three dol lars and a half:

"To pay for three-fourths of the powe "To pay for three-tourths of the power supplied and held in reserve at said rate and upon said notices, whether the said power is taken or not, and when the greatest amount of power taken for twenty consecutive minutes in any twenty consecutive minutes in any month shall exceed three-fourths of the month shall exceed three-fourths of the amount during such twenty consecutive minutes, so supplied and held in reserve, to pay for this greater amount during that entire month. Mayor.

"I'm not finding fault; I don't know the meaning of it," said Ald. Lewis. Although he was dubbed a Cataract man, Ald. Evans said that such was not the case. If the aldermen had time to consider the document the Mayor had read, it would have more effect. He thought that there was a real, honest difference of opinion, as to whether the contract should be signed. He understood that the Toronto contract was not binding on that city, until all the other municipalities: joined the scheme. In any event, although the contracts tied the municipalities hand and foot, the Commission was not bound in any way until an order-in-Council was passed.

Mayor Stewart assured Ald. Evans that Toronto's contract was not a conditional but a binding contract.

Ald. Clark pointed out that as it was very probable two other by-laws would be submitted shortly, the argument that it would be extra expense to submit the power by-law could not be used.

Defeated This.

Ald. Lewis' amendment to the amendment to lay the matter over until the engineers had an niformal conference with the Council was defeated on the casting vote of the Mayor, the division being as follows:

He wrote the Governor-General, threatening to appeal to the people of Canada, and received a promise that his letter would be considered at a Cabinet Council. He had which the party papers were making of Dr. Pringle's information. He read the following letter:

The Premier to Dr. Shearer. Ottawa, May 22, 1908.

Dear Dr. Shearer:

I have received your favor of yesterday's date, in which you call my attention to a former letter of yours, dated April 20 last, wherein you make a specific request that you should be authorized to say to the Christian people of Canada whom you had the privilege of representing in this matter, "that the instructions under which the police in the Yukon are now acting do not put upon private citizens the responsibility of instituting proceedings in the enforcement of law."

Permit me to say that the instructions are considered in the construction of the construct Dear Dr. Shearer Permit me to say that the instruc-tions under which the volice in the Yu-kon are now acting with regard to the enforcement of law may perhaps be more fully appreciated by a quotation from a letter of Mr. Alexander Hender-son, Commissioner of the Yukon, dafed the 14th February last, which was pub-lished a short time afterward. I quote from the letter of Mr. Henderson as follows:

"You will doubtless recollect that "You will doubtless recollect that me months ago I informed you that "You will doubtless recollect that some months ago I informed you that it was my desire that vice should be repressed and that my best efforts would be exerted and directed towards attaining that end.' I assured you that any complaint made by you, or anyone else, would be fully investigated, and persecutions would be instituted without delay on obtaining evidence sufficient to warrant a conviction.

"Moreover, immediately after the session of the Yukon Council last summer

I gave specific and unambiguous instructions that every infraction of the law regarding immorality and the suppression of vice, including infractions of the liquor ordinance, must be prosecuted with the utmost vigor. Not only this, but in addition I placed at the disposal of the police a secret service fund to assist in obtaining necessary evidence.

"These officials know where I stand. I have made no secret of my position or policy in the matter."

With reference to the instructions of the Commissioner, as above indicated, I take pleasure in informing you that they have my hearty approval, and I have the authority of the Minister of Justice to inform you that he also as heartily approves. Believe me, as ever, dear Dr. Shearer,

Yours very sincerely,

(Signed) Wilfrid Laurier.

Dr. Shearer expressed the opinion

(Signed) Wilfrid Laurier.

Dr. Shearer expressed the opinion that the conditions of the Yukon, as described by Dr. Pringle, were about as bad as could be. At the same time it was difficult to enforce the law under the conditions which prevailed, there. Private citizens should not be required to do work for which the constabulary was paid. Members of the Assembly would give hearty approval if the conditions were now being made right. He read another letter from Sir Wilfrid Laurier in which the Premier stated that all applications for prosecution under the act shall be passed on by the Commissioner at once.

Ottawa, May 29, 1908

Dear Dr. Shearer:
In answer to your favor of the 21st In answer to your favor of the 21st inst., with regard to the enforcement of the Lord's Day Act in Yukon Territory, I understand that after a conference between the Minister of Justice and Mr. Henderson, Commissioner for the Yukon, it has been arranged between them that all applications for prosecutions under the act shall be at once passed upon by Mr. Henderson, and that he will immediately notify the Minister of Justice by wire of all those in which he thinks proceedings should be taken. This, I understand, will be satisfactory.

be taken. This, I understand, will be satisfactory.
Yours very sincerely,

Rev. Dr. J. G. Shearer, No. 102 Confederation Life building, Toronto.
Dr. Shearer maintained justice should be done in all parts of the Dominion, and the Yukon was not the only place where the law was not being enforced.
The report was adopted, including the recommendation in addition made by Rev. Mr. Henry.

mise that his letter wound be considered at a Cabinet Council. He had never heard of it again. He wrote again last July, making specific charges against two officials. Dr. Pringle gave a resume of the proceedings in connection with the investigation, and quoted Hon. Frank Oliver's letter declining to give the Commissioner power to examine witnesses under oath. He closed a sensational address by quoting statistics and other information relating to immorality and corruption in Dawson.

Rev. Dr. Shearer closed the debate with an excellent review, showing every disposition to keep the moral and social issues separate from political issues, and deprecating the unfair use which the party papers were making of the processing of the party papers were making of the processing of the party papers were making of the processing of the processing of the processing of the party papers were making of the party papers were makin divisions. Professor McKay, Vancouver, seconded the amendment, and cited the experience of the Church in Scotland as a reason. He believed in co-operation. The people had as a reason. He believed in co-option and federal union. The people not had an opportunity to consider the subject thoroughly. He feared the pro-posal of Dr. Patrick would divide the Church.

TO CHECK OBSTRUCTION.

Delay In Paying Intercolonial Railway Employees.

Organized Obstruction Will Have to be Dealt With.

Hon. Mr. Paterson Defends Himself From Attack.

Ottawa, June 9.—The Opposition gave another flagrant exhibition of political insincerity to-day. They began the session by protesting their innocence of the charge of obstruction, and oc-cupied much valuable time in doing so, and then they proceeded to make the case against them more conclusive than ever by blocking the Intercolonial estimates the whole day, with the result that it was not until 11.25 to-night that the one item under consideration was allowed to go through. It is true that the vote amounted to the considerable sum of $8,250,000, but the nature of the questions asked and the organized manner in which a small clique of Conservative members applied themselves to the process of badgering the Minister of Railways showed only too clearly the intentions of the Opposition. In a temperature which would have tried the physical capabilities of the strongest Hon. Geo. P. Graham stood the ordeal aplendidly, and it was largely due to the way in which he handled the multifarious questions raised that he was alle in the long run to wear down the Opposition. The renewed attempt to throw dust in the eyes of the people by disclaiming responsibility for the delay of public business was originated by Mr. Foster, who atrive hard to make it appear that the Tavernment were to blame for the fact that the employees of the Intercolonial were without their pay. For the third time within as many days Hon. Mr. Fielding reminded the Opposition that the Government had twice asked for a vote on account to cover salarics, and had been refused once and granted only a part of what was requested in the other case. In his exposure of Opposition duplicity the Minister of Finance was vigorously supported by Hon. Wm. Paterson, who declared, amid the ringing cheers of the Liberal members, that the obstruction which had been carried on would have to be dealt with. The session was well advanced before the House got into supply, with the result already stated. Before the House arose Mr. Graham made a request to have the salaries of canal employees passed, but Mr. Foster declined to accede to it, not withstanding an assurance by the Hin. that the vote amounted to the considerable sum of $8,250,000, but the salaries of canal employees passe Mr. Foster declined to accede to i Mr. Foster declined to accede to it, not withstanding an assurance by the Hin ister that an opportunity for full discussion would be afforded when the estimates on capital account came to be considered.

sion would be afforded when the estimates on capital account came to be considered.

Hon. Mr. Paterson defended himself against the attack which had been made upon him during his absence for the speech delivered at Brantford. "I am not prepared to take anything back," he declared." "It was actually the fact that the Tories would not vote supplies, and that the men had not got their pay.
The policy of the Opposition was one of obstruction, pure and simple and undisguised. The rules of the House must be revised in such a way that while the amplest time would be allowed for discussion and investigation, the member for North Toronto and the little clique of men around him would be prevented from wasting the time of the House.
(Liberal cheers.) "That," said Mr. Paterson, "is the issue which will be pronounced upon by the people, and every day that this obstruction goes on it but adds new strength to the Liberal party in the country."
Replying to Hon. John Haggart, the Minister of Railways stated that there had been a falling off in revenue of the Intercolonial of $180,000 for April and May as compared with last year. Receipts exceeded expenditures for the fiscal year by $16,000.

Mr. Armstrong raised some objections to the manner in which the contract for $125,000 worth of iron and steel goods was given to the Nova Scotia Steel & Coal Company. A small dose of harsh physic—salts, cas-tor oil or pills—soon ceases to be effective.

Then you take larger doses. Bise you take the physic more frequently.
That is because the physic is irritating.
The bowel lining grows hard, just as the skin becomes calloused by constant irritation.

Calloused bowels can't perform their natural functions. The result is chronic constipation—the need of constant help.

Such physic belongs to an ancient era.
Modern physicians have learned its Cascarets are purely vegetable.

They act just as laxative foods, just as exercise acts on the bowels.

The anticipations of the directors of the Hamilton Jockey Club that there will be a record attendance for a first day, at the opening of the club's summer meet yesterday was fully realized. There were about 3,000 persons present, nine car loads coming from Toronto. Society was out in force and the scene in the members' stand and enclosure was a very briliant one. The racing was of a high order, two track records being broken and a new Canadian record was established. The first two races were run in faster time than was made at the spring meeting at the Woodbine. In the first race Night Mist broke the track record for six furlows negotiating the first race Night Mist broke the track record for six furlongs, negotiating the distance in 1.12 2-5. Johnny Dyment's Uncle Toby was the second horse to break a track record—the Derby course. He covered the mile and a quarter in 2.07 2-5. A new Canadian record for a mile on the turf was made in the race on the new grass course. The course, a mile, was covered by Caper Sauce, a Canadian bred, in 1.42. Twice the five furlong record was equalled during the afternoon.

The ieature race, the Hamilton Derby, worth $2,000 to the winner, was a good one, although there were only five starters. Nicol, on Uncle Toby, made a runaway race of it, going to the front at the start. Entering the back stretch he led by five or six lengths and he maintained this he couldn't overtake the flying leader, who won by two lengths. Terah, Moatclair and Clell Turney put up a bartiul battle for show money, Terah winning from Montclair by a nose and Clell Turney was right at Montclair's flanks. The victory of the Dyment horse was a popular one and the owner, Johnny Dyment, jun., was loudly cheered when he took hold of Uncle Toby's head to be "snapped" by the official photographer.

The race through the field was, perhaps, the most interesting for the grand stand contingent. It was a selling affair at two miles and brought out a field of six. Sam Palmer was an even monry favorite. Rob Alone led for one turn of the field, but iell at the water jump and Tommy Rae, who had the mount, was badly shaken up, but no bones were broken. The favorite then went to the front, and was closely chased by Georre Leiper, Gault and old Tony Hart. At the last jump George Leiper last his rider, Fricker, a poor rider, and the other two finished in the order named. The local jumper, old Apterx, owned by Ruben Rosenhood, surprised many by standing up to the finish. He went under the wire in fifth plant. Bath Maria, on whom there was a heavy play in the fifth race, crossed her legs while running over the lealiers in the stretch and fell in a heap. It was reported that her shoulder was broken, but the vesterinary would not order her destroyed until a more thorough examination was made. Leibert, the New York jockey, had his shoulder bone broken when Bath Maria fell and he was taken to the City Hospital. The race was won by the favorite. Aprwater, from the Valley Farm Stable.

The Dyment stable scored a second win with Temeraire, who led from end to end in the fifth race. Fairbrother had the mount and he did as Nichol did—made a runaway race of it.

The racing started at 3 o'clock and the seven races were over about 5.30.

Twenty-eight books weighed in and as speculation was keen they handled a great deal of money. The talent had a little the better of the argument, however, a lot of money being taken out o

LONDON BEAT THE FALLS.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., June 10.—(Special.)—The London and Niagara Falls teams played a fast game here yester-day, the nine innings being served up in 1 hour 35 minutes. Waddell held the whip hand for the Beavers, and the home whip hand for the Beavers, and the home club escaped a dip in the kalsomine tub by the narrowest margin. The Beavers new recruit outpitcheft the Yanks' slab-man at every stage, letting the home team down with two hits, and walking 11 to the bench.

Ragged fielding assisted the Londoners in a measure. In the third the visitors slugged in four runs, when B. Jeffries, Capt. Bird, and N. Jefffies scored who made a miserable attempt. N. Jeffries was passed, stole second, and scored Yesterday they took another from the Bronchos, and again the verdict was gained by the smallest possible margin, the score being 2 to 1. Fred Mitchell, the eminent Boston agriculturist, bound up his lame aukle and hopped around like a lame duck, but he was too much of a pitcher for Buck's bucking Bronchos at that. Working against him was Weldon Henley, Buck's bucking Bronchos at that.Working against him was Weldon Henley, who used to take his turn in the bos with "Bugs" Waddell on the Philadelphia Athieties. Both Mitchell and Henley were wild at times, but they took a strong grip on the doings when the batters of the respective teams that they are took to do things with the stick. The new regulation of the H. J. C. preventing a crowd of members and stable hands from going on the track during the steeplechases is a good one. At the same time a few employees, policemen or trainers should be all lowed out, to care for any jockey that may get hurt.

How Donovan Was Nicknamed "Wild Bill."

Bill Donovan better known as "Wild Bill," gained his nickname when he was in the Eastern League. To the mind of the small boy the name of "Wild Bill" is associated with shooting scrapes and general good times on the frontier. Donovan in his youth pitched in the Eastern League, and his propensity for shooting people in the grand stand with wild curves gained him the name which he now proudly bears. It only shows that a man cannot outlive a misspent past, no matter how good his control may be at present.

Bill was with Hartford in the Eastern League when Cy. Seymour was farmed to Worcester by the New York Giants, his pitching arm having gone back on him. Seymour was a pitcher in those days and the Giants couldn't see him as an outfielder.

He was sent to Worcester and reported to the oval, which was situated far out in the country, three miles from the city. First day Hartford appeared, and "Wild Bill" was pitching.

Seymour arrived at the oval, dressed, and walked out on the grounds. He gazed far across to the hills and wilds of Shrewsbury, and his face took on a sorrowful expression. Broadway was never like this, and Cy. liked Broadway was never like this, and Cy. liked Broadway. "Gee, I reckon I'm farmed for fair," he muttered.

They put him in to pitch, and in the second inning he had a battle with the umpire. He took the ball and threw it clear over the grand stand.

Sketch of Bobby Kerr.

Bobby Kerr, of this city, who was given a send off by the Olympic Committee at the Royal Hotel last night, is Canada's premier and one of Canada's athletic gentlemen. He is a classy boy from the roof of his hat down, and here in Canada we believe him to be as good as the best of them. Kerr has been timed .10 flat a dozen times last summer for 100 yards and he thinks he can do 220 in .21 flat. He has run it for 100 yards and he thinks he can do 220 in .21 flat. He has run it several times in .22 2-5. Kerr has been timed .9 4-5 several times for the hundred, both here and in Hamilton, and is good for .10 flat any time he is pressed. He was a slow starter last season, and won all his races from the 50-yard mark on, but this season he has been working steadily at the barrier, and now he kicks off with the sound of the gun. He did .5 2-5 for the 50 yards indoors at Riverdale arena last winter. Kerr is a grand handicap runner, and is a grand handicap runner, and frequently has had to concede 12 yards in a hundred.

He wins all over the country, and probably has more prizes than any athlete of the younger brigade in the country. Kerr is 23 years of age and weighs about 140 pounds. He is a very stylish

If Jack's showing is good he can get a match with the western wonder and cop a nice piece of change. O'Brien should be in good shape. He has no bad habits, and has always taken care of himself. Ray Lane, who did the twirling for the willners used a very effective spit buil, and George Stroud distinguished himself behind the bat. Jack Wallow and Joe Kuapman were at the points for the losers. Dr. Reid's Yacht.

The Public Accounts Committee this morning heard the evidence of John Offspring, carpenter of the Government yard at Prescott, on the case of Dr. Reid, Conservative member of Parliament for Grenville, who was recently charged with having had his yacht repaired in the Government yard without paying for the service. Examined by Mr. Carvell, Offspring said that in 1995 the yacht Dack, owned by Dr. Reid, was overhauled and repaired in the Government yards. A carpenter, a caulker and an ordinary laboring man were employed on the work. When the time came to pay the men Dr. Reid was not around, and the money was paid by W. H. Noble, Government Assistant Commissioner of Lights. He understood Noble had paid the sums out of his own pocket. Offspring said he kept the time and the charges said he kept the time and the charges against the boat were regularly cm in the books of the yard, and to the same account was charged a fourth of the cost of putting in ways for hauling boats from the water that season. Afterward Offspring said another boat was hauled from the water for Dr. Reid and ne charge was made for the service.

THEY SHOT WELL.

Campbell and Gibson Twice Tied, But Campbell Won.

Yesterday the competition for the Ross Rifle annually presented to Highfield School by the Alexandra Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire was shot. The event was the most exciting which has yet taken place. Though all the eight competitors, chosen from the best shots in the club, made fair scores, those of compbell, Gibson and Hay, minor, were remarkably good. At 200 yards campbell gained two points on Gibson, but at 500 the difference was made up and the two tied with 55. A shoot-off of five shots then took place—the boys doing their utmost but tying again with 21—both finishing with bullseyes. A shot-and-shot-about" match followed in which after a hard fight Campbell gainfield School by the Alexandra Chapter which after a hard fight Campbell gain which after a hard fight Campbell gained one point and was declared the winner, Gibson getting second place and Hay, minor, third place.

The remarkably good shooting was largely due to the inspiring presence of Serg.-Maj. Huggins, who has coached the club for three seasons, and for whom the boys entertain an intense admiration.
