To Friends & Strangers.

After an experience of over four years in selling the New York Union Piano Company's Pianos, (made under the direction of J. P. Hale at the corner of 10th Avenue and 6th Street, New York.) with the instruments of some of the other leading manufacturers, we have decided to drop all others and confine our sales to the Union Pianos!

Being fully satisfied, after having sold over 800 of these splendid instruments in New York, Cincinnati and St. Louis, that they are the finest and most durable Pianos now made. Legislature of Ontario.

TUESDAY EVENING, NOV. 10, 1868.

Local and Miscellaneous

Patterson, the man committed for the murder of his child at Whitty some time ago, has been declared not guilty.

William Johnson, the Orangeman who suffered imprisonment in the summer, is canvassing in Belfast, with good prospects of success.

The revenue of the Dominion for the first three months of the present year was $1,628,935, and the expenditure was $1,615,177. Not much balance to boast.

The London Free Press is anxious that the execution of Jones, which takes place in that city next month should be private. It has already devoted two editorials to the subject.

HORSES STOLEN.—Mr. Andrew Murray of Luther is in search of a span of mares, which were stolen from his premises on the 2nd inst. He has telegraphed in all directions, but obtained no trace of the missing animals.

George Curran, who was sentenced to Penitentiary, at the last Assizes at Hamilton, for forging Mr. John White's name to a promissory note, but who was too ill to be removed to Kingston with the other convicts, died in gaol on Sunday night.

Widder Station held a meeting to consider the expediency of establishing an office of the Dominion Telegraph Company at that place, and the resolution to do so was carried. A thousand dollars stock was subscribed instantly.

Mr. John Paul, the proprietor of the Meaford Hotel, has sued the St. Vincent Council for £1,000 damages, on account of the bridge over the river, near his establishment having been impassable during the summer.

DISMISSED.—We omitted mentioning on Monday, that the case on Saturday against Mr. Benn, for selling liquor without a proper license, was dismissed. As we stated, he had paid for the license which had been issued in Mr. Lillie's name, and as the latter never sold on it, His Worship looked upon it as a misapprehension. Mr. Benn, however, immediately went to the office of the Issuer of Tavern licenses, and paid $5 for a legal document.

TEMPERANCE FESTIVAL.—We would beg to refresh the memory of our readers with regard to the Temperance Festival which will be held in the Town Hall this evening, beginning at 6 o'clock. Songs, recitations and dialogues, and short addresses by able speakers are promised.—The Temperance Society always has got up a good entertainment when the effort was made—and there is no probability of a failure this time.

EXTENSION OF OPERATIONS.—The robber who broke into Mr. Rutherford's store on Sunday night, at least it is supposed it was he, made an attempt to gain an entrance by the front to the store of Heffernan Brothers. He took down partially one of the shutters from the entrance, but was evidently deterred from operating further by the demonstrations of a large mastiff, which has been kept in the store at night ever since it was broken into some weeks ago. The way in which the shutter is gnawed proves the fury of the dog. The robber preferred a whole skin to booty, which shows that if he is not an honest, he is at least a prudent man. Suspicion resting on Brown the adventurer who stole Elwood's carpet bag, and who has only recently been liberated from gaol, measures were taken for his arrest. It was known that he intended to leave town, and the Chief Constable rightly supposing on Monday, that he had already taken his departure, telegraphed to several places he was likely to pass on his journey. One of these despatches was effectual. Brown was arrested at Harrisburg, and brought to Guelph this (Tuesday) forenoon. Some of the articles he had taken from Mr. Rutherford's store were found on him.

The question of granting a bonus to the narrow-gauge railway was fully discussed in the Toronto Council on Monday night, but the vote was deferred till Wednesday night, when a special meeting will be held.

A Liverpool contemporary announces the death of the Hon. John Mercer Johnson, member of the Dominion Parliament for Northumberland, N. B., and one of the "fathers of Confederation."

A man in London lately submitted to be fined for refusing to allow his child to be vaccinated. He declared he thought the system an inducer of the disease.

A Liverpool contemporary relates a curious incident which occurred at the Amphitheatre on Tuesday night, during the performance of "The Gamster." At the conclusion of Stukely's diabolical expression to Mrs. Beverly, "I'll make a widow of you, and woo you honourably," a woman rose in the pit and exclaimed, "Oh, you brute!" Of course laughter and cheers resounded through the house.

Legislature of Ontario.

TORONTO, Nov. 9.

After a large number of petitions had been presented Mr. J. S. Macdonald brought up the report of the Committee to appoint standing Committees, which was adopted.

Mr. Pardee introduced a bill to provide for the registration of births, marriages and deaths.

Mr. McLeod enquired of the Ministry, whether they intend during the present session to introduce any amendments to the Municipal or Assessment Acts.

Hon. Attorney-General Macdonald said he had given notice for the striking of a committee to-morrow, to consider what amendments could be made in both Acts. The Government would do what they could to hasten the matter. Although the alteration of these measures had been strongly pressed on the House last year, yet when the Government took the matter into consideration, they found that the universal practice for the last 15 years had been to refer such matters to a committee of leading men in the House conversant with the matter. There were so many conflicting opinions with regard to this Bill that the Government deemed it best to adopt the old practice; and in this way, he hoped, might, before long, be introduced in amendment of both Acts.

In answer to a question the premier said that it was not his intention to furnish the Statutes free to magistrates.

The Government introduced a bill to amend the Statutes in relation to the Government of the Dominion for compensation for that part of the Library of Canada which formerly belonged to this Province. Mr. Macdonald said it was the intention of the Government to insist on compensation for that part of the Library, determined in the arbitration to belong to Ontario.

Mr. Boyd moved that the select committee ordered last session respecting the petition of the Congregational Union of Canada on "Inebriate Asylums" be re-appointed, and that said committee consist of Messrs. Wilson, Beatty, McKellar, Lauder and Pardee, with power to send for persons, papers and to report thereon.

The premier said if aid was asked it could not originate in a committee, but if the matter were brought under the notice of the government it might be done with an appropriation. The motion was allowed to stand.

Mr. McLeod moved an Address to His Excellency the Lieut.-Governor, for a return showing the number of persons who have located in the respective Townships under the provisions of the free grant system, together with the additional number of acres, if any, purchased by such locatees.—Carried.

Mr. J. S. Macdonald moved that an address from the House be presented to His Excellency the Governor General who is about to leave the country to return to England. He referred in very complimentary terms to the course Lord Monk had pursued during the time he had acted as Governor, and to the part he had taken in securing and carrying out our new constitution.

Mr. McKellar seconded the motion in a few appropriate remarks, and it was carried with applause. Messrs. Carling, McKellar, Chamberland, Pardee and Beatty were appointed a Committee to proceed to Ottawa and present the address.

The public accounts for the nine months ending September 30th were brought down.

The House then adjourned.

Board of School Trustees.

The Board met last night. Present—Mr. Peterson, chairman; Messrs. Pirie, Knowles, Newton, Mitchell, Bruce, McGurie, Watson, McNeil and Innes.

An account was presented from Mr. J. Martin for one month's teaching, and for kindling wood and lighting fire, which the Board had on a previous occasion under consideration, and refused to pay it. On motion of Mr. Newton his claim for one month's salary was ordered to be paid.

A letter was read from the Rev. Mr. Brough in which he acknowledges the receipt of his daughter, Mrs. Parker, on behalf of the resolution of condolence passed by the Board at its last meeting, for the loss sustained by the death of Mr. Parker. The letter goes on to say that "such a tribute to the memory of a departed husband is well calculated under the Divine blessing to assuage the grief of his afflicted widow. It is grateful to her feelings and her family to receive such testimony to the worth of one whom they so highly valued, and whose loss they so deeply deplore. They sincerely and gratefully desire to acknowledge the terms of esteem in which your Board, as also the journalists of Guelph and other places have given expression to their sentiments respecting a departed friend and fellow citizen."

A communication was read from Mr. Hunter in which he stated that a great many repairs were required in and about the West Ward School. Referred to School Property Committee.

Miss Graffey tendered her resignation as assistant teacher of the North Ward School, to take place at the close of the present quarter. It was accepted.

On motion Thomas and Margaret Phoenix were admitted free scholars in South Ward School, and Charles Mellor in Girl's Primary School.

Moved by Mr. Innes, seconded by Mr. McNeil, that the Local Superintendent's report, especially that portion of it relating to the necessity for providing increased school accommodation, be referred to a joint committee, composed of the School Management and School Property Committees, with instructions to report at the next meeting of the Board.—Carried.

Mrs. Foley was heard in explanation of her claim which she alleges she has against the Board for cleaning the schools for one month, after which on motion of Mr. Knowles it was referred to the Finance Committee, and ordered to be reported on at next meeting of the Board.

The Board then adjourned.

A Toronto Grand Jury has recommended corporal punishment for young offenders, and in cases of brutal conduct, such as wife beating, for adults.

THE GREAT WATCH FACTORY AT WALTHAM, MASS.

When the American Watch Company fifteen years ago, first sought to introduce their watches in the United States, they were met by a combination of interests, which nothing but energy, capital and (superior workmanship could have overcome; about five millions of dollars worth of watches were then imported annually into the country. Liverpool, Coventry, Geneva, and other dealers had all their places in operation for working the market; the plan usually was for some house engaged to a small extent in watch making in Europe to open an office in New York, import a large quantity of inferior watches, push them indiscriminately into the hands of the retail trade, and then advertise extensively the celebrated watches of "Smith, Jones & Co.," and every shopkeeper on whom they could push their wares, a direct importer from the said celebrated house. In this way, no doubt, a large sum of money was made, and the country flooded with watches which it cost fifty per cent. per annum of their original value to keep in tolerable repair. Many good English and Swiss watches were no doubt imported personally by respectable dealers, but these sold at high prices which the general public would not pay, leaving the bulk of the watch trade in the hands of the operating houses who sold common Coventry Levers, and Swiss aneres, as genuine London Watches, at two or three times their value. Of the thousands of watches imported was computed that not more than five per cent. bore the name of their actual maker. Against these huge interests, the American Watch Company when in its infancy found it no easy task to contend; the Trade had their arrangements made elsewhere and were unwilling to introduce a new article, the Company had therefore no resource left but to appeal to the public; they used the Press freely, appealed to the common sense of the people, fully explained the mode by which their watches were produced by original and delicate machinery, and the public decided to give the watches a trial. The trial gave satisfaction; the people would have the watches, so that the dealers were forced to keep them. The result now is that the whole Trade of the United States keep the Waltham watch in preference to any other, it being found, that if they don't pay the dealer the fabulous profits of imported watches, they are at least reliable time keepers, and they sell freely. During the month of September of this year, ten houses in New York alone purchased from the Company movements to the value of $270,000, besides the immense sales of other dealers. No more complete and convincing illustration can be given of the triumph of Machine Labour over hand processes, than is shown by the history of the American watch. In the short space of fifteen years the battle has been won against fearful odds, until now the Company—with others that are springing up—supply more than seventy-five per cent. of all the watches sold in the United States, besides a large and annually increasing trade in Canada and in other countries. It is sometimes said that this immense success is owing to the preference of the American people for their own manufactures; that the people prize the productions of their own countrymen, there can be no doubt, but an article, to command the market of the United States, must be good, the people are too sharp to submit long to a sham, be the maker home or foreign.

In the quiet and formerly obscure village of Waltham, about ten miles from Boston, the works of the American Watch Company are situated. The city is on the banks of the Charles River, which keeps the air pure and which gives to the shrubs and lawn in front of the works almost the charming verdure of an English landscape. A glance at the numerous photographs of the factory which are published shows the buildings to be an immense quadrangle, in the form of the Louvre in Paris, but devoted to the royalty of labour.

The machinery in the works for the production of the various grades of watches, is worth half a million dollars, without including the forty-horse power steam engine by which it is driven, and the unlimited shafting and belts by which the power is communicated. From 600 to 700 mechanics, male and female, are employed on the premises—some of the most delicate and intricate machines being guided by female hands. This is a practical illustration of "Women's Rights"—the right as a skilled mechanic to guide, by her patient and delicate touch, the unerring machine that brings to perfection the pocket time, which alike records the hours as they fly, and illustrates design in the creation of the universe.

Uniformity is the characteristic of all machine labour and uniformity is the chief desideratum in a watch, one hand made watch might have its depth well sunk and be otherwise accurate, but a dozen or a hundred could never be uniform, hence the difficulty of depending on any but the highest grades, where each piece was tried and tested at great expense. This difficulty has been completely overcome in the American Watch, the wheels for each grade of watch are dropped in a perfect state from a machine more delicate than that which gauges the gold coin in the mint where there is not in each the variation of a grain. The movements of each grade when complete, are exactly the same size, being the only watches in the world for which the cases may be stamped by the thousand with the certainty of a fit. In the construction of the watch the prevailing idea is simplicity, (the commonest Coventry "forty shilling" contains more than double the number of parts.) The fuse chain is dispensed with (an invention which was first applied to the verge watch) and uniformity of time is secured by an adjusted main spring and going barrel, the watches are now sprung over, and by a new patent piston, secured against damage in the event of the main spring breaking. If a watchmaker of repute by the old hand process, were to produce watches of a lower grade and at a cheaper price, having only one class of workmen, the cheaper ones must be the refuse or wasters of the better grade, but in the Waltham factory each grade of watches is produced by separate and distinct machinery and by another class of operatives. The wearer of the silver hunting watch that costs $100 or $200 therefore rely on having a watch as complete and perfect in its kind as the fine "Waltham," "Appleton Tracy," or "American Watch Co." many of which are now made self-winding—and which in gold cases may be had from one to three hundred dollars.

When the American Watches were first introduced in Canada interested parties raised the cry of "a Yankee humbug" and tried thereby to create a prejudice against them, but in spite of prejudice and opposition the sale increased, until now there are thousands of them in the pockets of the people, bearing their own testimony to their worth, the demand more than doubling every year. Old and effoted systems may struggle for a while, as the stage-coach did against the railway, or the hand-loom against the power-loom of Manchester, but they have had their day. Watches by machinery, wherever time-keepers are wanted, are destined to supply the wants of the world.—Globe

A Sample of Consistency.

It is scarcely worth the trouble to expose the absurd blunders which the Advertiser daily commits, or to point out the glaring inconsistencies into which it falls when it touches on politics. Since it commenced to "swing round the circle" it seems to have cast adrift from the old landmarks altogether, and taken to a voyage of its own, without rudder, or compass, or chart to steer by. Into what political haven it will finally come and find rest it is utterly impossible to tell, for sometimes it directs its course towards Reform, then again it veers quickly round and makes for Conservatism, and anon pursues another tact as if it wanted to find room among the immaculate Independents.

For the present it has found temporary rest in the Conservative party, whose champion, Mr. Thomas White, it holds up as the only man of "liberal and progressive tendencies" who is fitted to occupy the position of member for Centre Wellington. We will be sure to incur the wrath of our contemporary when we speak of "party," for in its defence of Mr. White in Monday night's issue it says:

"It is a recognized fact that old party lines are in a fair way to be obliterated, and will soon become matters of history. What the Dominion wants is practical legislation and the development of the vast agricultural, mineral and manufacturing resources of our country. The miserable and unceasing party strife of the 'ins' and the 'outs' during the last decade has been a curse to the country. Centre Wellington does not want a mere party hack, or a useless dummy, but an enlightened and capable statesman."

Brave words these, if we had not serious doubts about their honesty, and entertained grave suspicions that they are only buncombe or the latest sample of bombast which the Advertiser daily dishes up for its readers.—Are we to accept the words above quoted as sincere, or the following strong testimony in favor of parties and party government, which appeared in an editorial in the Advertiser of the 30th July last:

"Partisanship has its advantages and its abuses; but it is a matter of nice speculation how far a country can be healthy or prosperous without it. We find when these are pretty equally balanced, that public affairs are likely to be more economically administered, corrupt and selfish influences to have less weight, and the wishes of the people and the claims of the country to have more consideration than where there is but one party or nearly so—and those holding the reins of the government can do as they like without caring or troubling themselves about what the great outside mass think about them. This is too patent to need further comment, but it is at the same time a fact that the people should never lose sight of."

The above is well put. It is a cogent argument in favor of parties or party government. But whether are we to accept this as the honest opinion of the Advertiser, or the tirade against parties or party governments which we find in Monday's issue. It is utterly impossible to make out what a paper means which changes its views about once a month to suit each particular occasion.—Reform and Conservative—pitch into this fickle exponent of we won't say any particular set of opinions—but of all sorts of opinions, as the whim strikes it. Still the Advertiser says it continues to shine and become a 'triumphant success.' Well, all we can say to this is, that the 'shine' has been pretty well taken out of it, and if it keeps on in its present course it will by-and-by experience a total eclipse as the grand climax to its "progress in political truth," which we suppose means preaching up party one day and condemning it the next.

The Advertiser is trying to make some capital by vaunting its willingness to let every man be heard through its columns in support of his favourite candidate, and by misrepresenting our words in attempting to show that we wish to stifle discussion in regard to affairs in the Centre Riding. While it has made a nice mess of its nominations, we have acted on the conviction that individual nominations made through the columns of a newspaper serve no good purpose, but tend to distract the minds of electors and lead to dissension in the ranks of a party. But this is a very different matter from attempting to stifle discussion. Having severed its connection with any party, it is free to pursue its own wayward course, and do its little utmost to breed disaffection in the Reform ranks. But its object is too well understood, and its animus too apparent, for it to succeed. Without weight, without influence, without any fixed purpose, its recommendations to the electors excite only laughter or derision. It may save all this waste of ink and paper, for the Reformers of the Centre Riding will, whenever it suits them, nominate their candidate without asking the advice of the Advertiser, and without interference from any outside party or influence.

Our Common Schools.

The Report for 1867 of the Chief Superintendent of Education for Ontario on the Common and Grammar Schools of the Province has just been issued. The statistics given are very satisfactory. They show that external progress is still the rule, and that an ever increasing proportion of the young of the country are enjoying the advantages connected with our Common School system. No doubt very much remains to be done; but in aiming at a higher state of efficiency in our educational institutions, we are not overlooking the progress which has already been made, and the favourable contrast, in many respects, to be drawn between what is now and what was the state of things not very many years ago.

The Legislative grants for 1867 amounted to $172,542, an increase of $3,051 on the previous year. To secure this, as is well known, the municipalities must raise, by local assessment, at least an equal sum. Instead of being content merely to meet the conditions of the grant, they raised $351,878, an increase of $32,719, and an excess by voluntary gift over what was required by law of $179,331. This was altogether apart from the rates by Trustees on particular sections. The rate thus imposed produced $799,708, or $39,342 above that of 1866; so that the amount of voluntary self-imposed tax, for educational purposes has, for the past year, been $1,489,139, an increase of $58,717. In addition to this there has been, in certain sections, a rate bill imposed on each pupil. This yielded $51,197, or a decrease of $2,384, showing that the plan of Free Schools meets with increased favour. Nor is this all which has been devoted to Common School purposes. From the Clergy Reserve and other available funds, $30,401 have been added to the others. The total amount, then raised for Common School purposes, not counting unexpended balances and the legislative grant, is $1,670,335, an increase of $62,364—with one exception the largest increase of any one year since the system was placed on its present footing.

When from income we pass to expenditure, we find that $1,093,516 were paid for teachers' salaries; $31,354 for maps, etc.; for sites and building school houses, $149,195. In short, on every item of expenditure there was a large increase. According to the best estimate which can be formed, the school population, viz: that between 5 and 14 years of age, is at present 447,726. Of these there were 1867, 880,511, and of other ages 21,132. The increase in the number of pupils was 10,748. The total number of children returned as not attending school is 39,515. These numbers, we may remark, are only to be taken as approximations.

There were open during the year 4,429 schools, and 4,800 teachers were employed. Of these 2,849 were gentlemen and 2,041 ladies. The religious persuasion of the various teachers may be marked: Presbyterians, 1,542; Methodists, 1,416; Church of England, 795; Roman Catholic, 532; Baptists, 295; Congregationalists making up the balance.

There were in 781 schools a change of teachers during the year, a very great and not a decreasing evil. The largest salary paid to any teacher in a county was $635; the lowest, with shame be it mentioned, was $96! The average salary for male teachers was $262 for females $189. The highest salary paid in a city was $1,350; the lowest $225. The highest in a town $1,000; in an incorporated village $560. The whole number of school sections reported was 4,496—increased 39. The number of free schools, that is those in which all expenses were defrayed by rate upon the section, &c., was 3,838—increased 97.

The average time during which the schools were kept open, including holidays and vacations, was eleven months and three days—twice the average of those in Pennsylvania and Ohio, and three months above the average time in New York and Massachusetts. Throughout the year 2,993 schools were open and closed with payer, and in 2,996 the Bible was used. As many as 342 Roman Catholic teachers were employed in the Common Schools, and 219 in the Roman Catholic Separate Schools. Not a single complaint has been made of the religious opinions of the pupils being tampered with during the year. The present number of Separate Schools is 161—increased for the year 4. The Legislative grant to these schools was $9,529, a decrease of $236. The amount of school rates levied from local sources for these schools was $26,781. From all sources the Separate Schools got $48,628. The pupils attending them were 18,924—increased 349.

THE INTERCOLONIAL.—Mr. Sandford Fleming has received instructions from the Privy Council to advertise that plans and specifications will be on view, on and after the 17th instant, at Ottawa, Rimouski, Dalhousie, St. John, and Halifax—embracing those portions of the Intercolonial located in the Provinces of Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. The sections are—Nova Scotia, 33 miles; New Brunswick, 33; and Quebec, 66.

A great deal has been said for and against machine made Boots and Shoes. Now we believe, and we are confident that every well-balanced mind in Wellington will agree with us, that the less machinery used in manufacturing Boots and Shoes the better. All our staple Boots and Shoes are made by hand, which must be admitted to be superior to any machine made Goods. We have now on hand the largest and best assortment of Boots and Shoes ever offered to the people of Wellington, which we will sell as cheap as the cheapest.

The Braes of Yarrow

An Historical Tale of the Sixteenth Century.

'What in the fiend's name are ye twa seeking here?' demanded Will gruffly, still suspicious.

'Come ye hither, Yetholm Will,' answered the dwarf, 'an' gies a hand. We're seeking a treasure, man, that's worth finding—haw, haw, haw.'

'Out o' this, ye thiev' loons, and ye shall hear what the master says when he kens ye have been here.'

'No, Will, na, we'll no gang out,' said Hornie, coolly continuing his search, but now with the air of one seeking some object which might be easily seen; 'we'll no gang out, man, but ye'll come and help us to find the gem that we were sent here to seek.'

'Were ye sent here?' queried Will, beginning to think that he had made a mistake.

'Ay, what else?' 'The maister, of course.'

'What for?' 'Why, ye gowk, to find the dame his mither's distaff which we are to carry to Harden. Had it no been for that how do ye think we would have gotten the key to win in here?'

'Humph,' muttered the man, as he retired satisfied that he had misunderstood what he had heard, but not without casting another suspicious look at Kaza, who had now recovered his ordinary manner of simple interest in everything he saw.

Hornie sprang to his feet, and with quick but cautious movements closed the door and bolted it. He leaned his back against it, and his heavy features were distorted with alarm he had so cleverly concealed whilst the man was in the room.

'Certes, my lady,' he said in a whisper, 'we were near rabbit that time. Ye maun hae left the door aye.'

'But what will we do?' exclaimed Kaza in a whisper, also, and in much distress, 'he will tell Tushielaw.'

Hornie gave his neck an uncomfortable jerk.

'My feggs, then, we will hae to wear hempen cravats for an hour or twa. Tushielaw would hang us out yonder on the gallows tree just as though we were twa kittens over rony for him, if he kent we had been here, I hae seen him do't afore noo.'

Kaza shuddered at the doom that was suspended over them by such a thin thread as the chance of Yetholm Will's silence or speech. Then with an effort he regained composure and spoke quietly.

'We must make the most of this opportunity, then, and pray heaven that we succeed.'

'That's just my opinion, my lady; see if ye gang out and watch, I'll seek the hidin' place o' the treasure, though I'm muckle doubtful whether or no the thing ye want is in existence, an' if it be, ye will hae little work to get out o' the tower wi' it.'

'What I seek is worth dying for.'

'Weel, gang ye out, my lady, and when ye hear or see onybody comin', whistle—but ye canna whistle, so just ye sing a line o' a song, and then I'll ken what to do.'

The gipsy laddie, or who has doubtless been already discovered, Lady Spens, went out to the corridor, and remained on the watch for nearly an hour.

The object for which she had braved every peril and voluntarily entered the lion's den was near its achievement or its utter failure. If, as Gilbert Elliott had informed her, and had declared to the Council of State, Tushielaw was concerned in the treachery by which Flodden battle was alleged to have been lost, there must be in the tower some document relating to the transaction, and failing documents, there must be some portion of English gold sufficiently large to excite suspicion—for English gold was a rarity in Scotland at this time.

But she had little hope to be able to bring home to the Borderer the charge which Elliott had made, and which, she, for her husband's sake, intended not to repeat, unless she could find the proof of it in some positive and indisputable shape.

For that proof she had now with the assistance of the dwarf vainly ransacked every nook and cranny in the tower except the turret chamber, and here she hoped, nay, was almost assured, that she would find what she sought. The singular care with which the Borderer guarded this room, and the erection of the new door shortly after the battle—the particulars of which she gathered from the troopers and from Hornie—convinced her that there was some secret of high import hidden within.

THE GUELPH POLICE COURT.

Before T. W. Saunders, Esq., Police Magistrate.
Tuesday 10th.—George Davis, a farmer residing on the Ferguson Road was charged by Rena Armstrong with an indecent assault. She was a servant in his house, and the family being gone to church on Sunday the 1st inst., she and defendant were left in the house by themselves, when she says, he committed the assault. Mr. Palmer appeared for the defendant and exerted his ingenuity to shake the girl's testimony, but without effect. There was no rebutting evidence, and his Worship imposed a fine of $5 and costs.

GOOD TIMES.

Good times this Winter for Merchants and Blacksmiths, and those about to build. LOOK OUT for list of prices to be ready in a few days, which will astonish Hamilton and Toronto rivals.

JOHN HORSMAN,

Hardware Merchant, Guelph.

FROM NEW BRUNSWICK.—Scarlet fever of a most malignant type has broken out among the French population near Shediac. A large number of children have died and consternation is general. Death generally takes place six hours after the first attack, and very few recover. The presentation to the champion oarsmen took place on Monday. Four handsome purses, each containing $500, were handed to them with appropriate addresses. Snow fell on Sunday to a depth of three inches; to-day it is thawing and the river navigation still continues open.

A telegram from California states that the election of members of the Legislature in British Columbia took place on Thursday. The Confederation ticket was successful in every district heard from. The vote was unusually large, the franchise having been extended to foreigners of three months' residence. The feeling in favor of confederation must have been strong, when even with a foreign vote the principle was sanctioned.

Notwithstanding the reported defeat of "General" O'Neil to the tune of, as reported, $250,000, the "brotherhood" is to hold a general congress in Philadelphia, on Nov. 24th. It is boasted that it will be the largest and most important meeting of Irishmen ever convened together. Over one thousand delegates are expected to be present; California, Canada, Ireland, England, Scotland, Australia and South America, will have its delegation. The delegates from South America must have a keen interest in the matter.

The Grecian arrived in Montreal on Friday. The damage suffered will be covered by $1,200. She is not to be put upon the route again this season.

Have you pain of any sort, slight or severe, no matter from what cause, or where located, whether in the head, face, eyes, ears, teeth, throat, neck, shoulders, arms, hands, chest, legs, heart, stomach, the bowels, side, back, hips, thighs, knees, ankles, or feet? Use Brigg's Aillevator, internally and externally, and it will cure the most intense torture and pain that is curable. If you have wounds, sores, bruises, scalds, burns, skin eruptions, pimples, blotches, ring-worms, tetter, itches, tumors, or any ailment of a similar nature? Use Brigg's Aillevator, and all such unwell ailments will depart, leaving you with health unimpaired, for which you will be ever grateful, and recommend Brigg's Aillevator to your friends who suffer.

A CARD to THE PUBLIC.

THE GOLDEN LION

IT IS certainly marvellous that any community should be so excited over the great success that has attended the efforts of MR. HOGG to obtain in the first Manufacturing Districts of the World the very excellent, novel and substantial fabrics in all of the various classes of

Fancy and Staple Dry Goods & Millinery,

Shawls, Bonnets and Mantles,

READY-MADE CLOTHING,

Buffalo Skins, Grain Bags, &c.

Indeed everything in the Mercantile line usually kept in a first-class establishment. That MR. HOGG'S efforts have been crowned with unprecedented success is beyond a doubt. The great Bargains that he is daily giving causes his immense establishment to be crowded from early morning until night. His stock to select from is so large and varied that parties get suited without loss of time, let their taste be ever so difficult; and in addition, by being able to import all of his goods direct from the Manufacturers, to offer a saving of 12½ per cent (12½ cents on every dollar), over any establishment in Town.

All classes and descriptions of Clothing made to order by a first-class cutter, and sent free of charge to any part of Canada.
