VEDNESDAY, JANUARY 22ND, 1896.

THE war spirit which so generally preiled in both Europe and America, when the resent year opened, has to a very large ex-ent subsided, and already a much better eling prevails where a couple of weeks ago mors of war were filling the air. Both in the United States and Great Britain there appears to be a fixed determination among ughtful men that the Venezuelan matter must and shall be settled amicably and without bitterness on either side. The ties which bind these two nations are so close, the business and social life of both people are so intimately intertwined that war seems horrible, and a discussion is now going on, on both sides of the Atlantic, in favor of devising some means whereby a permanent peace may be assured between these two branches of the Anglo-Saxon race. The scheme proposed is nothing less than the establishment of a permanent international court to which all questions in dispute between the two countries shall be referred for settlement. A tribunal such as that, which would make war between the United States and Great Britain impossible for all future time, would be one of the grandest triumphs of our modern civilization, and its establishment would be a long step in the direction of that federation of the world of which poets have dreamed.

—The strained relations between Great Britain and Germany growing out of the Transvaal incident, have also been greatly improved within the last week, and there must and shall be settled amicably and without bitterness on either side. The ties which

Transvaal incident, have also been greatly improved within the last week, and there seems now but little probability of war between these two countries. England's war preparations were doubtless undertaken with the intention of giving notice to all interested that if war was forced upon her she was ready for it when it came, and had no intention. Atlantic railway company was duly introduced and carried through the parliament of Canada, Mr. Campbell himself seeing after that on the spot. We have now brought you to a stage of advancement from which, under the new title of the Dominion Atlantic railway, your property will go on ready for it when it came, and had no intention of cowering before all the nations of Europe, should they combine against her, as seemed at one time probable. The action of the Emperor in interfering in the Transvaal matter is explained by the German press as one of impulsiveness on his part without any tention of giving offense to Great Britain. cretion about interfering with that which of Piedmont, California. Mr. Catton mar-and dauguers and concern him in fature.

One of the incidents of this German war are was the offer of the Australian colonies o send assistance to the mother country should it be needed. A notice of a resolution to a similar effect has also been given in the Canadian parliament. These expressions of good will and offers of assistance from the colonies to the mother land have proved deeply gratifying to the statesmen of the latter, and must help to draw closer the ties which bind the empire together. the mother country. British statesmen have recently awakened to the fact that, in the event of war under present conditions, the nation is largely depending for its supply of food upon countries which might be its enemies. A large part of the nation's food supply is imported, and in the event of war this might be cut off, so far as this supply comes from other countries. This is Great Britain's one weak point, and it is a very important one indeed. The great wealth of nation and even its invincible fleet, might be of little use in war if the food supply of the people could by any possibility be cut off. To prevent any such condition arising more largely from the colonies instead of from the United States and the continent. There is now a strong feeling among British statesmen that this should be done to as large an extent as possible, and Mr. Cham lain, the successful man of business and far seeing statesman, who now has control of the colonial office is giving this subject his careful attention. It would, therefore, not signed from the Cabinet have all been taken back and apparently forgiven, except one, to Sir Charles, senior. The latter it is said is to lead the House of Commons, and after the session, the government as well, taking the place of the present p.emier. He is now contesting Cape Breton county for the seat which Mr. McKeen has resigned to make room for him. The electors of Cape Breton and those of the dominion generally have something to say in regard to the progra as at present arranged, but as Mr. McKeen was returned at the last election with a majority of 728, it seems very probable that the tors of Cape Breton will not offer any insuperable opposition to the first part of the mme. What the electors of the dominion generally may do remains to be seen

IT HAD AN EXCELLENT FINANCIAL YEAR-BUSINESS DEMANDS THE ORDERING OF A GNIFICENT NEW STEAMER. MAGNIFICENT NEW STEAMER.

A general meeting of the above company was held at Cannon street hotel, London, on Tuesday, December 31st, when the report for the financial year ending September 30th, 1895, was submitted. Mr. C. Fitch Kemp (who, with Mr. W. R. Campbell, has acted as voluntary liquidator of the Windsor and Annapolis railway company during its conversion into the Dominion Atlantic railway company was in the chair.

The general manager and secretary (Mr. W. R. Campbell) read the notice convening the meeting.

Mr. C. Fitch Kemp then said: It is a pleasant duty to move the adoption of the report, together with the proposal that a dividend of 5 per cent. be paid on the preference stock of the Dominion Atlantic railway. The substance of the report, with the story of steady development in our business, conveys to the shareholders fully and exactly the various stages that have accompanied the conversion of the Windsor and Annapolis railway company into the Dominion Atlantic railway, with the voluntary liquidation of the former necessitated thereby. All these stages have been made known to the company's proprietors from time to time at the special meetings of the past year. When we came into possession of the Yarmouth and Annapolis railway on October 1st, 1894, we found our purchase of that concern was amply justified by the facilities we were enabled to give our territory of easier access to new markets. But the growth of traffic and the opening up of new markets carried with it accompanying responsibilities of additional train facilities. A large amount of produce was carried during last winter, and the number of special trains run and the expenditure involved had an appreciable effect on expenses. This also tok place at a season of the year between November and March, when the Canadian winter, like our own, was severe. Some idea of easier stability of our property is therefore obtained when I say that at a time when other railway concerns, both in Canada and the United States, were struggling with poorer trade we were consistently advancing.

which, under the new title of the Dominion Atlantic railway, your property will go on to still greater development and prosperity. The resolutions were carried unanimously, and, with votes of thanks, the proceedings terminated.

Death of a Prominent Shipping Merchant of California.

A correspondent sends us the following notice of the death of Mr. Walter D. Catton ried a granddaughter of the late Felix McNeil, who became his wife. In 1890 he returned to this city, and two years later became manager, filing the vacancy caused by the death of William E. Holloway. In addition to his mercantile duties he was Chilean Vice-Consul. Mr. Catton was thirty-nine years of age. A widow and five children, besides his mother, survive him.

Another Land-Mark Gone.

Zephaniah Daniels, one of the most aged residents of this county, died on Saturday evening, 18th inst. He was the son of the late Jos. Daniels, senr., born in 1800, and reared near his late home, where he has spent a long and peaceful life. He is the last of a large family. For some years he had been unable to travel, though hale and hearty, enjoying his quiet home, and always pleased to greet an old friend. He was a man of sterling integrity, and a true friend. In politics, a staunch liberal of the old school. His death was sudden and unexpected. In his usual health at tea time he retired as usual at an early hour. A few hours later his daughter heard him groan and went to him, but he was speechless, and passed away almost immediately. His wife died some years ago. One son and a daughter survive him. His funeral service was conducted by Rev. J. H. Toole on Tuesday, 21st inst.

—From appearance, says the Windsor Tribune, next summer promises to be a busy summer in Hants County. In addition to the Midland Railway which the promoters promise to have finished in eighteen months, Mr. S. P. Ben jamin intends building a sluice for carrying lumber which will involve a considerable expenditure of money and give employment to a number of men. For some time past Mr. Ben jamin has been quietly making arrangements and has lately completed the purchase of a large area of timber lands on the head waters of the Avon. He intends patting up a mill of the most approved modern design with band saw and will cut at the lowest five million feet. This will all be sluiced to a point opposite the town where wharf accommodation will be provided for its shipment.

—The British revenue is £101,000,000 sterling—roughly speaking five hundred million dollars,—a large revenue raised without serious difficulty from a comparatively limited number of sources. The British fiscal system stands in healthy contrast to that of almost all other countries. The revenue of Great Britain even in this "hard" year exceeds the expenditure. While President and Congress are worrying over tariff changes, deficits, and gold loans and bonds, the British revenue abundantly covers all public requirements and the national credit could not stand higher.

cases of murder and lynchings were in the south and west, where the respect for the law is not by any means as wholesome as it might be. But under the influences of a healthier condition of public sentiment and the repressive action of several of the Southern Governors and Legislatures, there is a determination in many part of the South to set the wheels of justice in better running order.

Moncton, N. B., Jan. 20.—The city council late to-night discovered that George Johnson Robb, the young city treasurer and tax receiver, had suddenly disappeared. It is supposed he was driven away from town by a relative. There is a shortage in his accounts of over $9,000. It appears that the city council did not notice that during the month when the taxes were collected his deposits in the bank of Montreal, but during the month when the taxes were collected his deposits in the bank were about $3,000 less than the cash receipts, and so on the miserable story is revealed. The city auditors have not been interviewed as to the cause of the council's attention not being directed to the unpleasant appearance of the bank book. OHIO YOUNG MAN HEARTLESSLY BREAKS HIS Toledo, Ohio, Jan. 18.—The aristocratic circles of lower Summitt street experienced a sensation Thursday night, the details of which have just leaked out. A young woman named Mary Hanson was engaged to a young man well known in the city. Thursday was set for the wedding. The hour arrived and no groom appeared. A messenger was despatched to his home, and he was found complacently smoking a cigar in his father's library. He sent back a cruel reply to the young woman and her parents. Miss Hanson went into hysterics. Later on she made two attempts at suicide. Both were frustrated.

Manitoba Elections.

Winnipeg, Jan. 15.—The Manitoba elections, which took place to day, resulted in a sweeping victory for the Greenway government and the advocates of a national school system, as a consequence, are jubilant. Out of a total of 40 seats three went to the opposition, three to patrons and two remain in doubt, the balance going to the government, although many of them were won by very narrow margins. A severe blizzard, together with excessive cold, prevented to a great extent the polling of a larger vote.

The following are the reports: The Honorable the Municipal Council, County of Anapolis:
GENTLEMEN,—I have the honor to submit the first annual Medical Report of the Counthe first annual Mouleau ty Insane Asylum.

Having been appointed by the Committee of Tenders and Public Property to act as a characteristic of the County Asylum, I entered Arring occa appointed by the Committee of Tenders and Public Property to act as physician to the County Asylum, I entered upon my duties February 10th, 1895, and have continued my professional services to the present time.

Present number of patients, 26; females, 14; males, 12; admissions during the whole year, 35; left or discharged, 6; home on trial, 6; removed to Alms House, 4.

There has been very little sickness of a serious oharacter, and no deaths. My attendance, unless called for special cases, has been once and twice a week, on which occasions I visited all the wards and spoke to every patient individually.

For the most part the patients are quiet and well behaved; there are, however, three or four exceptions, who are subject to violent paroxysms of excitement and have to be seperated from the rest and put under gentle restraint. For the latter class I should strongly recommend the preparation of a padded room.

The attendants that we have had, under the supervision and with the assistance of Mr. and Mrs. Clashe have a supplement the part of the supervision and with the assistance of Mr. and Mrs. Clashe have a supplement the supervision and with the assistance of

The attendants that we have had, under the supervision and with the assistance of Mr. and Mrs. Clarke, have managed and cared for the patients in the kindest and most efficient manner, and nothing has been left undone that could add to their health or compared.

left undone that could add to their health or comfort.

The house in every part has been kept clean and tidy, the cooking well done, and the food wholesome and nourishing.

Doctor Page has made his regular visits of inspection, and although I had not the pleasure of seeing him personally, yet I understand that he expressed himself as well satisfied with the working of the institution.

In conclusion, I beg leave to say that I consider our County Asylum is in a most efficient state in every way, well equipped, and under the care of trusty and energetic attendants.

All of which is respectfully submitted. Louis G. DeBlois, M.D. Bridgetown, January 1st, 1896.

To the Honorable the Municipal Council, County of Annapolis: I have the honor to submit the annual Medical Report of the Alms House of Annapolis County for the year 1895.

Present number of inmates, 40; comprising 13 men, 13 women, 4 girls and 10 boys.

Admitted during the whole year, 26; discharged or left, including those removed to the County Asylum, also deaths, 26. There have been three deaths, and one birth.

The deaths have taken place at the dates and from causes as follows; November 2nd, woman, age 94, old age; November 9th, man, age 88, old age; November 30th, girl, age 19, consumption.

The sickness has been scarcely up to the average, and in consequence the medical attendance required has not been as much as usual, yet 1 have made 82 visits, and put up 87 prescriptions.

All the cases of illness under ways a britance of the same and the cases of illness under ways. I have the honor to submit the annual usual, yet I have made $2 visits, and put up 87 prescriptions.

All the cases of illness under my charge, and also the weak and infirm among the aged, have been well and faithfully nursed and cared for by Mr. and Mrs. LeCain. The house has been kept in a good sanitary condition, and all necessary repairs promptly attended to. I have heard no complaints as regards diet or cooking. ly attended to. I have heard no complaints as regards diet or cooking.

In conclusion, I beg leave to thank the committee on Tenders and Public Property for the assistance they have always been so willing to render for the benefit of the unfortunate class which the county has placed under our care. under our care.
All of which is respectfully submitted.

Nervous Prostration It is now a well established fact in medical science that nervousness is due to impure blood. Therefore the true way to cure nervousness is by purifying and enriching the blood. The great blood purifier is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read this letter: "For the last two years I have been "For the last two years I have been a great sufferer with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart. I was weak in my limbs and had smothered sensations. At last my physician advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla which I did, and I am happy to say that I am now strong and well. I am still using Hood's Sarsaparilla and would not be without it. I recommend it to all who are suffering with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart." How He Earned Candy.

One summer afternoon a group of children were playing at the end of a pier that projects into Lake Ontario, near Kingston. The proverbial careless child of the party made a backward step from the pier into the water. None of his companions could save him, and their cries had brought no one from the shore, when, just as he was sinking for the third time, a superb Newfoundland dog rushed down the pier into the water and

Those of the children that did not ac pany the boy home, took the dog to a contectioner's on the shore and fed him with as great a variety of cakes and other sweets as So far-the story is, of course, only typical of scores of well-known cases. The individuality of this case is left for the

The next afternoon the same group o children were playing at the same place, when the canine hero of the day before came trotting down to them with the most friendly wags and nods. There being no occasion this time for supplying him with delicacies, the children only stroked and petted him. The dog, however, had not come out of pur sociability. A child in the water and cakes and candy stood to him in the close and ob vious relation of cause and effect, and if this relation was not clear to the children, he resolved to impress it upon them. Watching his chance, he crept up behind the child nearest the edge of the pier, gave a sudden push, which sent him into the water, then sprang in after him and gravely brought him

MRS GEO. SCHLEE, WIFE OF A WELL-KNOWN CONTRACTOR OF BERLIN, WASTED ALMOST TO A SKELETON—EIGHT YEARS A SUFFERER FROM EXTREME NERVOUSNESS AND CURED BY SOUTH AMERICAN NER-

Schlee, wife of one of the best known citizens of Berlin, a prominent contractor, knew little of the joys of good health. For this long time she was an invalid, unable to attend her household duties, and at times confined to her bed.

tend her household duties, and at times confined to her bed.

Allowing this lady to diagnose her own case: "I always felt weak and tired, and at night I could not rest on account of nervousness, which made my life miserable, and my body became wasted almost to a skeleton. Friends despaired of my ever getting strong again. During all this time I doctored, and took several patent medicines. Some doctors claimed it to be womb trouble, and desired to perform an operation. I was induced by a local druggist to try South American Nervine, and the first bottle gave me great relief. I have taken in all eight bottles, and am now completely well, and I always keep a bottle on hand, as I believe it to be the best medicine ever put on the market."

Running all risk of reiteration, for this is Running all risk of reiteration, for this is a case where the grand truths of what South American Norvine will do can not be too often told, the fact that this remedy strengtheus at the nerve centres, from which point flows the life blood of the system, is the real secret of the marvelous success that attends its use. It does not stop at removing disease and wiping out nervous troubles. It is a great health builder and flesh builder, and men and women who knew not robust health before enjoy all these pleasures after having taken this medicine.

The leech lives a semi-acquatic existence; it must have plenty of air and plenty of water, and it likes them foul. They are caught in the spring and early summer. The men turn up their trousers and wade knee men turn up their trousers and wade knee deep into the water. The sight of the legs acts like a magnet on the leeches. They make a rush for them, cling on and begin to uck. The men pick them off as fast as they can put them into bags which they carry fastened around their waists. They do not ose any time for the little black creatures will swallow five times their own weight in no time and cause as much to flow away. Toward the end of the season the leeches retire into deep water, and then their pur-

How to Rid Plants of Insects.

Insects flourish only on spindling, puny, sickly plants. Give the plants plenty of su and air, use a rertifizer on them freely and don't water them too much, then they will grow like weeds and laugh at insects. But if a prevention has been neglected, or has proven ineffective, there is nothing to do but wage a vigorous warfare against the in-sects. For this, the tabases both is good sects. For this, the tobacco bath is good, but it is often not sufficiently deadly. When this fails, try the following recipe for kerosene emulsion.

Take one cup of boiling water and dissolv in it a piece of soap as big as a butternut Put in a bottle and add two cups of kerosen oil; cork and shake vigorously until they ar plumpness to those who thoroughly incorporated. Use this as re-have lost it, and make quired, diluting with at least ten times its bulk of warm water, and spray the plants thoroughly with it, afterwards spraying them an by this means be directed to every part Some people complain that they do not succeed in making and applying this emulsion, but it is very easily managed. Still, if they prefer to try something else they may procure of any florist a small can of fir-tree oil.

If this is diluted with about fifteen times its bulk of warm water and sprayed on the plants, it will be found very effective against mealybuy and scale, but it has less terrors

The florist also sell a tobacco soap, which a solution can be made that is stronger n nicotine than the usual tobacco bath; and if this is sprayed on plants infected with aphis, the insects will be almost instantly

In the case of the red spider, it is vain to talk of cure, for by the time one discovers his presence, his ravages have been disas his case and fortunately this is simple. The red spider can live only in a close, dry atmosphere. By keeping the air moist and by spraying the leaves of the plants every orning, especially their often neglecte nder sides, this enemy can always be kept at bay.

Besides the insects that trouble the plants above ground, not a few are found in the soil. Here, again, prevention is the best way. It is a good plan to bake thoroughly in the oven all soil to be used for potting house plants. It is well, too, to be careful about the fertilizer used. If, instead of ordinary manure, only ground bone and a fertilizer be used, the danger of worms and like it?" slugs is almost overcome. If, however, these are found in the pots, it is generally best to repot, using good soil and carefully removng all the old soil from the roots. This will give the plant a check, but may save its life. Ordinary earthworms may be dislodged from the pots by soaking the soil with a saturated solution of lime. Take a lump of uicklime as big as your fist, put it into a an envelope. The envelope was open pail and pour a quart of water on it. An Irish Student's Reply.

An Irish student, who some years ago attended the university of Edinburg, called upon one of the most celebrated teachers of he german flute, desiring to know on what terms he would give him a few lessons. The flute-player informed him that he generally charged two guineas for the first month and one guinea for the second. "Then by my soul, replied the Hibernian,
