THE CATHOLIC CHURCH

The Founder of Free Public Education.

A subscriber asks: "Where and by what authority the first public school for the benefit of the poor was established?" In reply we state boldly, proudly, and without fear...

Free education for the children of the poor commenced in the Catholic Church exactly thirteen hundred and sixty years ago!

A Council held at Rome early in the year 826 promulgated a Decree ordaining that there should be three kinds of schools throughout Christendom...

The Council of Lateran, which was held in 1179, ordained that in every Cathedral parish there should be established a Grammar School for the gratuitous instruction of the poor...

These mandates of the Church of God were so well and universally observed that from the days of Charlemagne, in the ninth century, down to the time of Leo X...

The Church not only provided schools for the poor and the lowly—who are her favorite children—but she also founded immense universities where the most learned men of every land engaged in order to fill the ranks of each Faculty...

It was the knowledge of all these irrefutable historical evidences of the deep and abiding interest taken by the Catholic Church in the cause of education that caused Edmund Burke to make this declaration when speaking of France...

Celebration of the Anniversary of their Execution by St. Ann's Young Men's Society.

An Historical Resume of the Story as to How they were Sacrificed to Appease England's Wrath—An Enjoyable Concert and an Amusing Drama Contributed by the Society.

The annual commemoration of the Manchester martyrs was held in St. Ann's Hall on Monday evening last, under the auspices of the St. Ann's Young Men's Society...

Representatives from every Irish Catholic Society in the city were present. Mr. J. J. Gillingham, president of the society, coming forward made a happy opening address...

At the close of the first part, the President introduced the lecturer of the evening, Mr. J. Murphy, assistant editor of the TRUCK WEEKLY...

In addressing before you to deliver an address on the heroic scenes of this martyrdom, to perpetuate the story of which we have gathered here this evening...

The Catholic Order of Foresters has organized a new Court, St. Anthony's No. 126, with the following officers: Chief ranger, Henry O. McCallum...

The Newfoundland legislature does not open until February, the date at which the modus vivendi expired. It is probable that the new Government will then bring forward their policy...

TESTING THE ALIBIS

Some Unsatisfactory Witnesses

FOR THE DEFENCE IN THE CRONIN CASE.

Several Bad Contradictions.

CHICAGO, November 19.—The first witness in the Cronin trial this morning was Police Sergeant...

On cross-examination witness was asked when he first learned that Coughlin's name was connected with the horse that drove Cronin away.

COUGHLIN WANTED TO SEE KUNZE. William Mulcahy testified that he had known O'Sullivan since April 4.

Witness said that in the latter part of April James Mahan, one of O'Sullivan's men, went to the office of the Lakeview Record and got a lot of O'Sullivan's newly printed cards.

A DEFECTIVE MEMORY. On cross-examination witness said O'Sullivan was not out of the house after supper, and that he went to bed about 9 o'clock.

Further questions elicited the statement that on the night of the murder O'Sullivan got up when the men were out came to the door and let them in.

Instantly everybody listened with all his might. Could it be that Stiff was in the plot?

Swarms of Witnesses Testifying for the Cronin Suspects. CHICAGO, November 20.—Kate McCormick, a sister of Mrs. Thomas Whelan, was the first witness called by the defence in the Cronin case to-day.

On direct examination, the fact was brought out that bills for ice delivery were made out to numbers of the houses and not by name.

Thomas Whelan, a cousin of Patrick O'Sullivan, was the next witness. His wife kept a boarding house at which O'Sullivan and his men lived.

He testified that on Sunday, May 5, when he returned from work, he found the Hylands with O'Sullivan at his home.

MRS. CONKLIN CONTRADICTION. The first witness at the afternoon session was William M. Glenn, a reporter for the Inter-Ocean.

Edward Jones, a reporter for the Daily News, testified that with another reporter he went to the Carlson cottage, and as a joke on the way there they got some cotton batting and a piece of liver, the blood from which they smeared on the cotton.

James Knight, another of O'Sullivan's employees, corroborated the evidence to establish an alibi for the teamster.

John S. Mulligan, senior guardian of a former camp and member of the order for many years, testified he had never heard of an "inner circle" in the order.

John S. Mulligan, senior guardian of a former camp and member of the order for many years, testified he had never heard of an "inner circle" in the order.

Judge D. J. Lyon testified that on the night of February 25 he and defendant Beggs went to Harrison to pay their respects to President Harrison.

John F. O'Malley, a clerk in the North Town Assessors office, testified that he called at Matt Danahy's saloon on the evening of May 4 with William Coughlin.

State Attorney Longenecker was here called as a witness of behalf of defendant Beggs, and was about to be examined by Foster, Beggs' attorney, when Mr. Longenecker said: "I object to be called as a witness in the case."

THE PROSECUTION AS A DEFENSE WITNESS. State Attorney Longenecker was here called as a witness of behalf of defendant Beggs, and was about to be examined by Foster, Beggs' attorney, when Mr. Longenecker said: "I object to be called as a witness in the case."

Under cross-examination, witness became confused and said while she was sure she was at O'Sullivan's on Sunday night, May 5, she was not quite sure that she was there the preceding night, which was the night of the murder.

ings and O'Sullivan's whereabouts on the night of May 4th and on the 5th. Mrs. O'Sullivan testified that she had seen O'Sullivan previous to May 4th, speak of his contract with Dr. Cronin at the supper table to the men.

GIVING BURKE AN ALIBI. Martin Burke looked interested as a tall man with a black mustache took the witness box. The witness was Matt Danahy, a saloon keeper, at Clark street and Chicago avenue.

He strenuously denied that he applied an opprobrious and obscene epithet to Dr. Cronin when talking of him or ever called the dead man a spy.

JERUSALEM AND THE HOLY LAND

AT THE TIME OF THE—CRUCIFIXION.

The grandest work of Art in America, pronounced by the clergy of all creeds, and by the thousands of people who have visited it, as unequalled anywhere for magnificence of conception, beauty of colors, harmony in composition, and so LIFE LIKE that one feels actually as if on the sacred ground.

JOHNSTON'S FLUID BEEF. IS NOT A MEAT FLAVOUR BUT MEAT ITSELF.

What is Claimed for JOHNSTON'S FLUID BEEF is: That it contains all the nutritious constituents of Meat, and is, therefore, the most strength giving food that can be taken by invalids or convalescents.

came from John F. Biggs to Judge Longenecker of the matter being referred to the district officer, Mr. Spellman. He informed Judge Longenecker also about correspondence they had, and further, through Chief of Police Hubbard, presented to Judge Longenecker the correspondence in his own behalf.

Foster to Longenecker—You are now a simple, plain, every-day witness and I don't ask you what Beggs told you in detail, but whether or not he told you with reference to the correspondence between him and Spellman.

As Judge McConnell was entering court this morning he was met by a man who introduced himself as J. S. Martin. Martin said he had knowledge of value to one of the defendants in the Cronin case, Coughlin.

Now in pursuance of this information, did you cause Mr. Spellman to be examined and subpoenaed?

jurisdiction. It was probably merely a case of over-enthusiasm. The talk then branched off, the state accounting the defense of unfair means in order to bring Mrs. Horrel to their office and then discussing a like accusation against the state in retaliation.

Officer Landville, who took Bubenbender to the State Attorney's office, was put on the stand. He exhibited the subpoena and said that Ben Williams, the man in charge of the squad detailed on this case, told him to take Bubenbender to the State Attorney's office.

On cross-examination it was shown that witness served a subpoena on Mrs. Horrel this morning that he might bring her to his office to question her; that she failed to go and only consented when he told her the State Attorney wanted to see her, which was false.

FLLOWER OF MARY. The Old Masters Portrayed the Virgin Mother with Lilies in Her Humble Home.

writers loved to call the Lily; and the best among the many of those called the Old Masters always portrayed the Virgin Mother with a pot of flowering lilies among the furnishings of the humble home she called her home.

Thus it came about that the old French monarchs—France having Mary for its patroness—chose the lily for their emblem or device, the flower symbolizing purity; and the sword-like leaves the weapon with which to defend the right.

FOR AND ABOUT WOMEN.

Neatness Wins a Man—Women in the Paris Exhibition—French Housekeeping—Women Who Dress Like Men.

Her First Pic. Wife tired of reading books, swinging hammocks, study nooks, in the little kitchen—where two or three little holes in a stove cook such delicate dishes, and perform such ordinary feats as our great rearing colts have no conception of—the flits about like a fairy, creating magical messes out of raw material of the most ordinary description.

Neatness Wins a Man. Dearest Amy—A man we know has just proposed to and been accepted by a girl, and he came to tell us all about it.

Points for Husbands. Do not just with your wife upon a subject in which there is danger of wounding her feelings. Remember that she treasures every word you utter, though you never think of it again.

Women Who Dress Like Men. The wearing of masculine dress by women is, when one counts up the number of women who do it, not such a very uncommon performance after all.

FIRST LOVE AND SECOND.

An Interesting Subject for Young Women and Men.

Argument to Prove that Marriage to the First Object of Devotion is Rarely, Happy—Girls More Sensible than Boys.

A writer in the St. Louis Globe Democrat recently undertook to discuss the question of whether first or second love is really the best. The decision is in favor of second love.

UNRESTRICTED RECIPROCIITY. may be of incalculable advantage to Canada or it may be a mere "fad" as its opponents call it, but no one can deny that Nasal Balm has done more for sufferers from catarrh than any other remedy known.

Cannot Efface the Irish Question. LONDON, November 19.—John Morley, speaking at the Eighty Club to-night, said the social questions to which many Radicals were now seeking to give the first place in the programme, could not efface the Irish question.

CATHOLIC CULLINGS.

Interesting Items Gleaned from all Quarters of the Globe.

By the agreement of the Holy Father with the Czar, five Bishops are to be appointed for Russia. Cardinal d'Annunzio celebrated the golden jubilee of his priesthood at Barbona, Province of Aquila.

The Holy Father, Leo XIII., has appointed Cardinal Aloisio-Mazzola Prefect of the Sacred Congregation of Rites. A number of Sisters of Charity are about to leave New York to work among the negroes on the Bahama Islands.

On the 14th of December next there will be a grand Mexican pilgrimage to the famous shrine of the Virgin of Guadalupe, the most noted sanctuary of Our Lady in the new world.

To Evangelize London's West End. LONDON, November 18.—An evangelistic movement of an unusual character is attracting attention in London. Efforts have repeatedly been made to increase Christian influence in the great East end and numerous societies have been formed with that object in view.

IRISH MARRIAGES AND DEATHS.

It is now in universal use, and costs, including a box of ointment, only $1.50. We have always on hand a preparation to dye the whiskers and to give to the hair its natural color.

HUMBERT HOPES FOR PEACE.

Yet Italy Will Defend Her African Interests to the Last.

Rome, November 25.—The Italian Parliament was opened to-day by King Humbert. In his speech from the throne His Majesty alluded to the smallness of the deficit in the budget.

Continuing, the King said questions which might disturb the peace had not yet all been settled, and it was necessary, therefore, without undue demands upon the budget, to continue to provide military and naval protection to Italian unity and independence.

The King was enthusiastically cheered on his way to and from the parliament. King Humbert announced that bills for reforming charitable institutions, providing for establishing primary schools and for protecting workingmen against accidents would be introduced in Parliament.
