Big Reinforcements at Last Arrive on Piave—Italian Guns Mow Down Teutons.

London, Nov. 26.—Apparently the peril of the Italian troops guarding the Piave line and the hill country in northern Italy against the Teutonic allies is at an end.

British and French reinforcements, infantry and artillery, at last have arrived upon the scene, after a period of anxious waiting in which the Italians have borne the brunt of terrific fighting on both fronts solely on their own shoulders and kept back the enemy from a further invasion of the Venetian plains.

Although faced everywhere by superior numbers of men and gun power, the Italians have valiantly defended every foot of ground in the hills and along the Piave, and in the former region in recent days actually have taken the offensive against the invaders and pushed them back from strategic points of vantage they had gained under terrific sacrifices in lives.

PARTY INTERESTS TAKE A BACK SEAT

Military Service Act Only Issue in Fight, Says Premier Borden.

UXBRIDGE MEETING

Former Followers of Sir Wilfrid Laurier Speak for Union Government.

Special to The Toronto World. Uxbridge, Ont., Nov. 26.—Supporters of the Union government in South Ontario turned out en masse at Uxbridge this afternoon, gave a rousing reception to Premier Sir Robert Borden and Hon. N. W. Rowell and strongly endorsed their win-the-war policy. A great crowd met the Union leaders at the station at 2:30 and they were escorted by procession to the music hall, where a mass meeting was held. The hall was packed to capacity, and when Sir Robert and Hon. Mr. Rowell presented themselves on the platform the audience rose to their feet and cheered for several minutes.

It was a real Union gathering as many of the farming community, which was well represented, were men who had followed the political lead of Sir Wilfrid Laurier for a lifetime, but considered it their duty to break with their leader because of his attitude on the Military Service Act. Fred L. Fowke, who represented South Ontario as Liberal in the Laurier parliament, and Mr. J. Gault, a life-long Liberal, voiced their sentiments when they declared that national preservation must come before party interests.

Sir Robert Borden emphasized that the successful operation of the Military Service Act was the real issue of the election. The speaker had been forced upon the people much against his wishes, but it was undeniable. He discussed the voluntary recruiting system in its later stages and declared that when he returned from his visit to Britain he was faced with two alternatives, that of enforcing the Militia Act, already on the statute books, or forsake the men in the trenches altogether. The former alternative was not practical, he said, as the Militia Act did not provide an intelligent method for selecting men for overseas and rather than accept the other alternative of leaving Canada's soldiers without support he said he would get out of public life voluntarily. Sir Robert strongly appealed to the electors to give their support to Col. Sam Sharpe who was fighting in Flanders, and related the proposals instituted by the war committee of which he is president, to curtail profits on packing and on the sale of plants. He declared he would not be a party to any law which asks men to give their lives for Canada, but does not ask the moneyed men to give a share of their profits.

Opposed to Laurier. H. J. Gould, who presided, said he acted as chairman in opposition to his old leader. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, he had been a Liberal all his life, but he felt it his duty to support his leader at this critical period. He thought more of his family than of the advancement of any party or political dictator. He declared he would join up to win the war, if he had reasons he said, and because in the face of advice he would not consent to join up to win the war, if he had done his duty in that province where he is king the duty has been to call for conscription today.

Mr. Fowke said Sir Robert Borden would soon find that the temperament of the people of North Ontario was not that of Kitchener. "This is no time for narrow-mindedness in our politics, for the interest at stake is the preservation of the empire," he said. "As a former supporter of Sir Wilfrid Laurier I am glad to stand here today and declare my allegiance to Sir Robert Borden. Because I believe in Union government, and because I am for protecting the war, I am opposed to my late leader, and I want to tell you as a Liberal that I was never more satisfied that I am doing my duty than in this hour. I want to say that I am behind and joined in with Sir Robert Borden and his win-the-war policy for the sake of the 30,000 men who have given up their lives for us, and Flanders front for freedom."

He appealed to the gathering for unity and support of the government whose policy was to see that the

Col. Theodore Roosevelt, former president of the United States, came to Toronto yesterday and spoke at the armories last night to thousands of people on behalf of the Victory Loan. great sacrifice of humanity had not been in vain. "Are you going to refuse to stand by them and this government, or stand behind the tattered-old man crew with Laurier?" Sir Robert Borden, opening his address, "it would have been a bad augury if there had not been a unity of spirit that was necessary to form a Union government at this time. The idea of establishing a union was under my consideration for about 18 months before the attempt was finally made. There were enormous differences in the way, but he would have been abashed if he had not been willing to stand aside, if necessary, in the interest of the country. He was very glad that his effort of five weary months had been consummated, by having formed in the councils of the country men who had been bitter opponents some months previous. The spirit of the British statesman was the spirit that had urged his colleagues to join in a Union government. The appeal came to them not from party or personal ambition, but from the men in the trenches. "I had seen Great Britain what I knew I would see in Canada, if a Union government was formed," he said, "the men who opposed one another took different views of a question, and this spirit tells you that the men who are seated around the council board of Canada today are men who have only one purpose in view."

Mr. Rowell stated that he desired to emphasize that the Union government was not of party and was entirely and absolutely non-partisan. Its personnel had not yet been completed, and it was his intention to give labor and agriculture adequate representation. Eulogizes Mr. Rowell. He eulogized the work of Hon. Mr. Rowell in the interest of the country. Mr. Rowell and he should have been in Ottawa at present attending to matters of national importance, but an election had been forced upon the people against his will, and their will, but it was inevitable and it would have been unfair to the people of the country if the men who had formed the government had not gone and set forth and exposed why the Union government had been formed, what its policy was, and what it proposed to do in order to make itself worthy of the mandate of the people. Did the men who stormed the heights of Vimy stop to consider political matters before they went to battle? he asked. No, they did not consider party advancement. They had only one supreme purpose in view, that of obtaining and winning victory that civilization might be preserved.

Liberals and Conservatives Must Stand Together, Says Rowell at Oshawa.

Oshawa, Ont., Nov. 26.—So great was the welcome extended to Premier Sir Robert Borden and Hon. N. W. Rowell in Oshawa tonight, that it was found necessary to hold two meetings, in order that the policy of the Union government could be laid before the electors. The spacious armories were packed to capacity, while Martin's theatre could not even provide standing room when the meeting opened. Prominent Liberals attended the meetings, and joined with the Conservatives in giving approval to the Military Service Act and the union policy.

On arriving at Oshawa, Sir Robert Borden and Hon. Mr. Rowell were met at the home of R. S. McLaughlin, where 150 veterans of a guard of honor. They were afterwards escorted to the armories by a procession formed by the veterans and citizens. The speaker, Sir Robert Borden, declared that if 100,000 men were not sufficient to maintain Canada overseas until victory was achieved, the government would go back to parliament and ask for permanent raise more reinforcements. "Only One Way," he declared, "that there were men of the type of Bourassa in Ontario, and referred to the disturbance at Kitchener. "I think that the first citizen of Canada, insulted and refused a hearing, "Shame," cowardly and cowardly. You must choose between this Union government, whether you approve it or not, and the Nationalists of Quebec and others who are openly opposed to sending reinforcements to the front, and I tell you there is only one way you can choose. Discussing the representation of Labor in the Union government, Mr. Rowell stated that the sacrifice of the rank and file of labor had earned for them a worthy place around the council board of the country. They died with cheerful courage because they had faith in those at home to see that their blood should not be shed in vain. "And if that pledge is broken the responsibility rest with you."

THE British, in Palestine, by a cavalry operation, have captured a station and Ain Karim, six miles southwest and three and a half miles west of Jerusalem. General Allenby reports that the strong Turkish forces are holding the high ground west of Jerusalem and covering the Jerusalem-Shechem road to the north. The enemy apparently is strongly holding his communications with Damascus in order to complete the evacuation of the Holy City. The reinforcements, which pushed the British horsemen back a short distance the other day, probably had come up to cover the Turkish retreat. The losses of the Turks may be too great to be readily repaired.

As the British in their attack before Cambrai have driven a large wedge into the German defensive system and have also captured the highest ground in that region, Field Marshal Haig has the option of continuing his piercing operation and the outflanking of Cambrai, or of attacking the salients formed in the German line on the right and left of his advance. The success of Sir Julian Byng's advance puts him in a position for a further move onward, if he so elects, and the outflanking of other sectors of the Hindenburg line. He may require more room, however, before pushing onward much further. Time is an essential element in determining the future British plan. If General Byng has the facilities for a rapid succession of attacks, as in Flanders, he may be able to act quickly enough to prevent the Germans from solidifying their positions in Cambrai. This prevention would follow a deeper penetration of the German lines west of the city. The salient then formed by Cambrai might become too sharp for the Germans to hold, especially if the British could cut their communications with the town. On the other hand, the British army chiefs may despair to make Cambrai another Lens, that is, a point necessary for the Germans to defend at all costs and therefore a running sore, greatly increasing the wastage. If the Bolshevik sign a separate peace with Germany, the ambassador at the allies will demand their passports. Thus they would break relations with Russia, and instead of finding peace, the Bolshevik would find war with the allies. The spreading of this news through out Russia is bound further to react against the Bolsheviks. The Germans have become detested by the Russian soldiery, as well as by the Russian peasant. The Bolsheviki, notwithstanding, have opened wireless communication with Berlin. The all-Russian committee of safety is still carrying on a propaganda campaign against the Bolsheviki. The best Russian are gathering at the headquarters of the second army, still working in some sectors, and is fraternizing with the Germans, yet apparently submitted to the Russian army, however, about the second southerly. Propaganda is making some headway among the soldiers. The second army has deposited officers, formed a committee of command, and offered to proceed even from the front to fight the opponents of Trotsky and Lenin.

British and French troops of the first quality have reached the part of the east and the line is thinned. It would be a concentration was eight days' march away from the fighting. The Anglo-French soldiers presented an inspiring aspect, and their splendid march along, with their holders as they march their air of conquerors. The news of their approach had inspired the hard-pressed Italians to redoubled efforts. The Bolsheviki still remains behind the bolted and barred doors of Italy's plains.

position politically as the Liberals of that time. If more than fifty years ago George Brown and others had placed party interests above national interest," he said, "we would not have had confederating today, but we are facing a more difficult situation than the least of the Union government regarding the House of Commons on the Military Service Act indicates. Everyone knows that the voluntary system had failed. It could not supply reinforcements and men that believed it could were deceiving themselves. It cannot be done," he declared emphatically, "bringing rounds of applause in approval. The liberty you enjoy and the law that protects your rights are party necessities that you are willing to give your lives in their defence."

The Military Service Act was based on the principle that every man was of national service, and it was intended that men should be placed in the positions where they were best able to render service to the nation. The state had expressed its voice in unmistakable terms, and the Military Service Act was the only method under which reinforcements could be obtained, and at the same time protect the industries at home. Nothing but a Union government could carry out Canada's duty in the war. No party government could place on the people the obligations which were necessary in a great war. Believing this, he was glad to take the opportunity of co-operating with men of different political opinion in carrying out a national work. He recognized that if they were hostile to action for national defence, they gathered round them elements which were opposed to Canada continuing in the war. "And I want to say if you oppose compulsory military service, you oppose Canada must drop out of the war," he declared. "Never," my friend said, "I will continue," Mr. Rowell said, "then I ask how are you going to get reinforcements? You can't get them without compulsory military service."

Mr. Rowell declared that there were men of the type of Bourassa in Ontario, and referred to the disturbance at Kitchener. Speaking Particularly of Gifts to Please a Woman

This Letter Won a Frizz

In the Recent Letter-writing Competition on What Is to be Seen in the Children's Section of the Book Department.

FIRST PRIZE—12 TO 14 YEARS.

82 Howland Ave. Toronto, Nov. 10, 1917.

My Dear Jim—Say, do you remember how we used to wish for a land composed of nothing but books? Well, I found it this morning in Eaton's Book Department.

Big books, little books, white, black, green and red books—in fact every kind of book one could think of. In among my favorite authors I felt at home immediately, and was dead to the world for the next two hours. It was a perfect Paradise of books.

Among the newest war stories were: "Over the Top" by Arthur Guy Empey; "My Four Years in Germany," by Ambassador Gerard; "The Soul of the War," by Philip Gibbs; "John Buchan's 'History of the War,'" and many others.

The central part was a child's fairyland. Thornton W. Burgess' Bedtime Stories, Beatrice Potter's Rabbit and Kitten books, Rose O'Neill's Kewpie Kalendar, Goose Nursery Rhymes and the dearly beloved O Books all had a place.

Girls' books were many. Jean Straton Porter, Mrs. Meade, Grace Richmond and Jean Webster were evidently the favorite authors, judging by the groups of girls around their shelves.

In an aisle Kipling, Dickens and Van Dyke competed for first place. I gave the prize to Kipling.

As for magazines, it seemed to me that every one that has ever printed the thought of had a small corner.

After looking at all the new books I fell back on my old favorites—"Two Little Savages," "Tom Sawyer," "Incidentally," "The Swiss Family Robinson," "Treasure Island," and many others.

If you ever get the chance to read "Two Little Savages" be sure to take it. It is the story of two boys who camped out in the woods one summer, impersonating the Indians. It describes their friendship with a Calib, an old trader, and the Sanger Witch. From the time when they built the teepee to when Yahu is made Chief it holds your interest.

I only wish you had been with me to see all I saw. Perhaps you some day will have the opportunity to visit such a place. Yours very sincerely, (Signed) George Donald Fawken, (12 years old).

From a Woman's Standpoint

TALK about dropping first years from your age when you don a becoming hat! Come along to Toyland with Janey on one side and Johnny on the other, and ten, twenty, thirty years will melt away like icicles on a sunny day.

For who could stay old and sedate in that merry medley of Come clowna and Hither circuses, to dishes and Toyland dolls, tigers and train-cars, guns and games, bridges and blocks, animals and aeroplanes? Janey's eyes get round as saucers and Johnny's hands get very hot.

First of all, they demand that you follow the river which winds its crooked way through Fairyland—that sunny region stretching out to the north and west of Toyland. You start from the turreted castles on the top of the hills, cross over the bridge and ramble down to the valley, following the stream on its happy course past funny, fat Tweedledee and Tweedledum, past the Bullfrog Orchestra, past the rocks which look like jolly old men, past the Wood of the Pixies—glad that it's daylight when we pass it—pausing to rest awhile in the Rose Leaf Lodge, and finally reaching the Palace of Enchantment with the Fountain of Youth in the garden—a wonderful journey!

By this time you've forgotten entirely the sad old world outside. You go into ecstasies that all but speaks and walks—the new American doll that turns its head and moves its wrists and turns out its toes just like a real person.

You're almost as excited as Johnny when you suddenly catch sight of the huge Noah's Ark with its dozens and dozens of dogs and cats and Teddy bears and rabbits, and elephants—every kind of nice woolly animal that was ever known in a nursery.

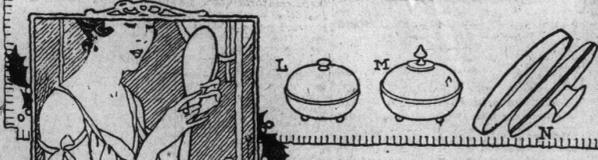

You all three beg the man to let you try a shot at a sight from the big make-believe cannon, and stand for ages watching the boats and windmills and houses that anyone can build out of pieces of steel called "Steeltrac." It's when you are there you catch a sight of Punch and Judy—Janey spied them first—and don't you just scurry over to get a good place? And how you all laugh! You yourself haven't seen the amusing old pair for years and years, not since the time you were at the seaside in England, and it's all just as good as new to you.

But even that is not the end of the morning's thrills. Just as Johnny and Janey are putting on their caps and gloves, who should come down the aisle but old Santa himself in red velvet suit, long white beard, grin from ear to ear: the very image of his picture!

Oh, what a delicious place! The Scribe.

These Delightful Bits of China

Are, Of Course, For Her Dressing-table.

AREN'T they the quaintest, daintiest little treasures for that shrine of femininity, the dressing-table? And they're infinitely more attractive in reality, for, composed of fine English china, they are patterned in pink and mauve flowers, with a tracery of gold to add a soft glint of yellow.

As you see, there is a pair of candlesticks, a powder jar, another jar for more powder or combings, a tiny tray for pins, and a big tray for hairpins, manicure articles, or any small equipment of the table. The price is $6.50 the set of 8 pieces (the lids of the jars counted as two).

Other toilet sets of the same fascinating type are as follows: Set in chintz pattern china—pink, rosebud and blue forget-me-not effect—at $6.00 for 8 pieces. In dainty Dresden pattern china—$4.00 for set of 8 pieces. In china in pink hawthorn pattern; set of 8 pieces at $5.50. In handsome mauve chintz effect—$17.50 per set of 8 pieces. —Basement.

Tea Gowns and Rest Gowns Adorably Chic and Dainty

They Come From New York, and Are Surprisingly Moderate in Price—$35.00 to $47.50.

IN BUSY TIMES LIKE THESE the tea gown is a boon indeed at the end of a weary day—the soft, loose, lacy robe which is ideally comfortable, yet trim and elegant enough for informal tea-time and dinner-time wear. The Englishwoman has revelled in it from time immemorial. The American has lately seized upon it with great ardor. And here it is in the Rose and Grey Rooms for milady of Canada.

Just to mention a couple of models in this delightful collection of tea gowns: Deep rose pink Georgette crepe, lavishly inserted with maline lace and embellished with bowknots of narrow moire ribbon, composes one lovely gown. It has a foundation of rose satin, and is priced $47.50.

With an underdress of flesh pink satin and coat of Wedgwood blue Georgette is another delectable model at $42.50.

Pro Muddle Is Cleared Up With a Team In the Queen City

TORONTO A MEMBER OF THE NEW LEAGUE

No Manager Appointed Yet for Pro Hockey Club — Quebec Out.

Montreal, Nov. 26.—Following several lengthy sessions held in Montreal, the new governing body for professional hockey to replace the National Hockey Association, which recently suspended operations, was launched at a meeting at the Windsor Hotel this afternoon, at which five clubs were represented. These five clubs were included in the schedule of the N.H.A. a year ago, and only four of them will compete for honors this season. Quebec has finally decided to drop out, and Toronto has been given a franchise for this season.

The inauguration of the new organization is a revival of the National Hockey Association, under the name of the National Hockey League, and was apparently a move to bring about a change in the ownership and management of the Toronto Club more than anything else. The constitution of the new organization will be practically the same as that of the N.H.A., while the playing rules will be almost unchanged.

The players of the reserve list of the club, which held a franchise in the N.H.A., will also be honored, while the directors and president will be the same. With Quebec out of the running, the players will be divided among five clubs: The Wanderers, who are the weakest club in the league, on last season's list; the Toronto club, which has the best record; the Montreal club, which has the second best; the Ottawa club, which has the third best; and the Quebec club, which has the fourth best.

Toronto are well supplied with players, while Ottawa have signed the majority of their men up, and Canadians are in good position for a year ago, the only man they will lose will be Noye, who played with them after the Toronto Club was suspended, and afterwards returned back to the Toronto Club.

The following is the manner in which the players set free by the withdrawal of the Quebec Club have been allotted: Wanderers were given Melanson, Kitchin, Carey and Marks; Canadians were given Joe Malone, Joe Hall and Walter Murray; Toronto of the new organization and S. Johnson; Ottawa being given Russ Crawford.

The Quebec Club, which was one of the oldest members of the National Hockey Association, was honored by having its former president, M. J. O'Brien, elected as honorary president of the new league. Frank Calder, who was secretary of the N.H.A., was elected to the dual position of president and secretary of the new association. The Quebec Club, which was left to the president, and will be announced within a few days.

Manager C. E. Huston, manager of the Arena, could not enlighten the world on who will manage the Toronto Club, when the selection would not be ascertained last night, but that the choice lies between Charlie Querrie and Jimmy Murray, and that an announcement will be made Tuesday morning. Both men are popular, and the hockey fans will back them up.

All the players that wore the blue and white uniform last year will not play with the Toronto Club. It is expected that the team will get down to practice about Dec. 3, and that the schedule is announced it will call for the season's games in two series, with the opening fixture shortly before Christmas.

A Montreal despatch says: Sprague Cleghorn, the most brilliant defenseman in professional hockey, will not play the game this winter. Cleghorn is in the General Hospital today with his right leg broken, the result of a fall on St. Catherine street last night. The leg is fractured above the ankle, and the accident will keep him out of hockey all winter. Cleghorn slipped on the icy sidewalk, and his ankle snapped like a pipe-stem. He will take action against the city for $10,000, as the accident has probably wrecked his hockey career.

COMING EAST.
Hamilton, Nov. 26.—Clara Tait, the lightweight, who claims the Canadian title, will make his first eastern appearance here, it was announced. The date has not been settled, but Young Ernie of Buffalo will be his opponent.

T. & D. Suspends Wychwood Player

The directors of the T. & D. F.A. met last night and decided, weather permitting, to play off the final of the inter-club series, England v. Scotland, at the Junior Athletic field on Saturday next. The same teams which put up such a splendid game two weeks ago will again meet. The result of the last game was a draw, 1-1, after one of the finest international matches played in this city, and granted favorable weather this game should be a repetition of the first one.

A grant of $25 was made to the widow of Referee Hewitt, who was killed at the front.

Steve Walker, Wychwood, who had been notified to attend the meeting, was suspended until he appears before the board.

Indoor Baseball At Exhibition Camp

The Dentals scored three in the last inning and won the class game of the five last evening in the indoor baseball at Exhibition Camp. Mounting the Chinese Gun struck out 15, and Christie, A.M.C. 8, G.A.C. 7.

The following are the scores: C.A.D.C. 8, G.A.C. 7; C.O.R. 23, Base Hospital 11; M.A.C. 10, C.O.R. 0; N.C.O. Training Depot 7, Engineers 5.

Winnipeg Hockey Players Are Caught in the Draft

Winnipeg, Nov. 26.—Bill Nible, president of the Manitoba Hockey Association, and for years a shining light in the hockey world in Winnipeg, has been drafted into the army and will don a soldier's uniform in January. The Winnipeg hockey team was practically broken up by the draft, as every one of their players comes under the draft. The players who have returned from the army are: at least two stars in O'Meara and Paterson, while Captain Jackson, who has also been called, but has asked for exemption to support a mother and a delicate sister. With so many of the stars in the army the Military League should flourish.

Walter Small, former professional hockeyist, is figuring on starting a professional league in the city and challenging for the Stanley Cup. Small is handling the athletic department for the Y. M. C. A. in the military base.

HAMILTON KILL JOYS TO THE FORE AGAIN

Hamilton Herald: So Tigers, after going thru the season without a win, were defeated last night by the Toronto Capitals in a game which was a real shocker. If Tigers don't care, we don't either. The Hamilton people, but it would have been policy on the part of the champions to make an effort to win their final game, and wind up the season without a loss.

Caps played very well twice during the season. Tigers won their first game here, by 13 to 12, and Caps won the second game, by 18 to 8. Adding both scores together, Caps won the round by 30 points to 20. Then, why haven't they won the championship, they are superior to the champions.

No person in Hamilton thinks the Caps play better than Tigers, but that doesn't prevent the folks from thinking so. And that's just why Hamilton is pulling for Tigers to try to win the game in Toronto, to guard against any such boasting on the part of Caps and their followers.

George Shuart, "Cobey" Stone, Tom Wren, Phillips, "Cobey" Stone, Tom Wren, Phillips, Danny Webster and against Caps. All are on the injured list. Webster was injured in a basketball game in Toronto on Wednesday night, and all the others are nursing minor injuries received on the football field.

And only one practice of the yellow and black squad was held last week on Thursday night. Half a dozen turned out. It was quite certain that they didn't care whether they won or lost the final game.

For substitutes on Saturday, Manager Topp had young Berg, a former mascot; Walter Hood, and "Checker" Galvin, the former half-back.

Featherweight Title For Frankie Fleming

Montreal, Nov. 26.—Frank C. Fleming, formerly of Toronto, featherweight champion of Canada, has claimed the world's featherweight title, an honor now left without an owner thru the announced retirement of Johnny Kilbane, of Cleveland, who states he has fought his last fight, and is now imparting his knowledge of ring craft to the soldiers of Uncle Sam's army.

"I do not know of any fighter who has today," Fleming said, "I have defeated practically every contender with the exception of George Chaney, of Baltimore. There is great doubt as to whether he can make the featherweight limit, and, in any case, he was decisively beaten by Kilbane here, and I believe he will be defeated by me." Fleming, who is New York's choice, has defeated Kilbane here, and I believe he will be defeated by me. I hope to beat him before I am called upon to do service in the army."

The exploits of Eugene Brossseau, thru the middleweight class in the American amateur tournament in the Americas, are bringing great joy to Fleming. "I have met and beaten all the other top notch boys as well. I hope to develop him into probably the finest amateur boxer in America today."

SOLDIER TEAM WINS MULLOCK CUP FINAL

Wounded P.P.C.L.I. Hero is Star of Game—Score, Ten to Nil.

The 1917 Mullock Cup Rugby honors go to the Canadian Officers' Training Corps. The soldiers defeated Senior Meds, 10 to 0, in the deciding game at Varsity Stadium yesterday.

The game was played on a snow-covered field, hard as ice, and slippery as quack. With the temperature hanging near the zero mark, the handling of the ball was very uncertain, many of the players using gloves and mittens. The teams fought very well-balanced, and the game was a tactical one. The soldiers were converted, a tackle in the line in a position to score several times, but appeared to have the "punch" necessary to set it over the goal line.

A notable feature of the game was the all-round good play of Brown at flying wing for C.O.T.C. Brown, a Princess Fat veteran, having served seventeen months in the trenches, and so slightly shrapnel in the war. He was wounded by a sniper's bullet, after several days he was in various English hospitals he was invalided to Canada, and is now preparing to return to England.

The supporters of both teams, although in number, made up for their lack of opening quarter both teams resorted to the line-plunging, and towards the end of the game the centre and crossed the goal for the touch-down, which was converted. Leonard was injured and ran in the field, without Meds registering a score.

In the second quarter Meds had some what the better of the play, and in this period missed an excellent opportunity to cross the goal for a touch-down. Successful line-plunges and a fumble on C. O. T. C. back field gave the students the ball on their opponents' ten-yard line. They gained the yards on the first try, and two on the second, but on the third attempt C.O.T.C. held, and Taylor kicked out of danger. The quarter ended without either team scoring.

In the third quarter the quarter ended with a notable interference play on both sides. This the officials caught, but most of it went undetected. Scores of thirty seconds duration were frequent, and the game was a tactical one. C. O. T. C. kicked continuously, and Meds' back field muffed a catch on their side of the field, the ball was driven over the goal, and when a Med made on it and carried out, it was thrown back by Taylor, who kicked in goal. Shortly after, C.O.T.C. added another goal, and Taylor kicked another goal.

In the fourth quarter Taylor kicked another goal, and his own line before he was tackled. Taylor kicked another goal, and his own line before he was tackled. Taylor kicked another goal, and his own line before he was tackled.

FOR CHAMPIONSHIP OF MIDDLEWEIGHTS

Tom Andrews Says Greb, O'Dowd and Gibbons Are the Contenders.

Milwaukee, Nov. 26.—With the defeat of Al McCoy, alleged middleweight champion, by Mike O'Dowd of St. Paul, in six rounds at the Broadway Sporting Club, in Brooklyn, came the claim of world's champion by Tom Andrews, who says the title should be held by Greb, O'Dowd, and Gibbons. He is only a native of the fact that for over two years he has been writing in the east quite numerous sports writers in the east organized the same. There has been no mix-up regarding the middleweight championship ever since Stanley Ketchel was shot and killed by Walter Dwyer, at Conroy, Mo., in 1910. At that time Ketchel held the title, having won it back from Billy Papke at Colma, Cal., July 5, 1909. Papke had beaten Ketchel at Los Angeles in 1908, but two months later it again to the wonderful Ketchel in 11 rounds. Following Ketchel's death, Papke claimed the title again, and was recognized by sporting authorities as the champion. It was in 1910 and 1911 that Papke toured Australia under Hugh McFadden, and while there fought Cyclone Johnny Thompson at Sydney. Papke won the title, but was later defeated by a little over-weight, Thompson was at the correct poundage, and Papke was in twenty rounds. The Cyclone held a right to the title, but when Johnny returned to the States again, he was recognized by the States again, and Papke also could not defend his weight class. After that numerous middleweight titles were claimed, among them George Chip, Frank King, Jimmy Mike Gibbons and others. After Papke fought Frank Klaus of Pittsburgh, losing the decision on a technicality, he was later defeated by Georges Carpentier, the French middleweight, in nineteen rounds, and found it was given out by sports men, on a technicality, that neither fight had been a real one. It was in 1914 that Greb returned to his Pittsburgh home, and in December was twice beaten by George Chip of Newcastle Pa. It was then that Greb claimed the title, and when he was knocked out of the title, and at Brooklyn, in 1914, by McCoy, the latter naturally claimed the title. Greb had been called a "cheese" champion, a hard man to beat, nevertheless, McCoy's peculiar style in the ring, and at that time, he was a dangerous wallop, and many boys at 135 pounds respected him. Many boys at 135 pounds respected him. Many boys at 135 pounds respected him.

Rubber Company Workers Take Thirty-Eight Thousand Dollars' Worth in Hours.
The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Ltd., started a drive for the Victory Loan, among the 300 employees of the day shift last night, following an address by the workers by C. H. Carlyle, general manager, and at 5.30 the men had subscribed $38,000 in the form of 150,000 shares. The work was entirely in the nature of a subscription, under the direction of Superintendent E. BANK CLERKS ARE DENIED EXEMPTION

Tribunal Decides They Are Not So Necessary to Country's Interests. FEW FROM POLSONS

Large Firm Asks Exemption for Only Eighty-Five of Their Employees.

It was decided yesterday by Tribunal No. 353 that bank clerks are not so necessary to the national interest as to merit exemption from military service. The Imperial Bank, which has the largest number of bank clerks employed in Canada, has asked for exemption for 100 of its employees. The tribunal, however, has granted exemption for only eighty-five of them. The bank's representative, Mr. J. H. Hadden, a member of its head office staff, but his claim and those of several other bank clerks were dismissed by the tribunal. "You will have forty or fifty of these bank clerks before you in the next few days, and it's best to establish a precedent right now," advised Lieut.-Col. Brown, the military representative. The bank clerks were told they could appeal their cases. At Tribunal No. 353 the same question came up, a representative of the Dominion Bank appearing to ask for exemption for 100 of its employees. Although the bank stated the men were necessary and could not be replaced, exemption was refused to seven of the men. The two who were exempted were in Class A.

It does not "wear out." It is never forgotten. Every six months there comes a reminder of it in the shape of interest at five and a half per cent. per annum. The Victory Loan is in keeping with the spirit of Christmastide. It is a loan for the liberation of the world. It will be Canada's Christmas gift to the allied cause. It is a contribution to the birth of a new era, in which oppression shall no longer be able to stalk abroad under the guise of Prussianism.

Buy Victory Bonds

Why?

Because Canada needs more than a million dollars a day to maintain her fighting men.

Because Canada must provide the credits to finance British purchases of food, munitions and equipment.

Because Canada cannot raise the money required except by borrowing on the security of her Victory Bonds.

Because Victory Bonds are a good investment, paying 5 1/2 per cent interest with absolute security of principal.

That's Why!

NEW VOTERS' LIST TO BE READY SOON

Names Posted Up Now Are for Municipal Elections Next Year.

BOUNDARIES OUTLINED

Appeals Must Be Made Within Four Days From Monday Next.

Fewer of citizens are daily looking over the voters' lists at the general election, apparently having the idea that if their names are in the lists they will be entitled to vote at the coming general election.

The authorities point out that these lists have no connection at all with the Dominion election. They are the voters' lists for the 1918 municipal elections, which take place on New Year's Day. The poll books for the general election on December 17, as that is Toronto's concern, will be based on a new list, now being compiled by enumerators. In the parts of York ridings not within the city limits, the lists are not yet made, but consist of the 1916 provincial lists.

In the cities the residents who are entitled to vote include, in a general way, as follows:

(1) Males who are British subjects by birth or naturalization (except those who were born in an enemy country and naturalized since March 24, 1917), if they are 21 years of age, have resided in the province a year prior to October 31, 1917, and in the electoral district thirty days prior to the same date. Also males naturalized since the above date if they have resided in the Canadian forces, have been in the Canadian forces, or are a parent, son or brother of a soldier.

(2) Females meeting the foregoing qualifications if they are wife, widow, mother, sister or daughter of a soldier who is or has been overseas with the Canadian or British forces.

(3) New Voters. The voters' lists will be posted up next Monday in each constituency. Appeals must be in within four days from then.

The Toronto and York constituencies and the returning officers are as follows:

Residents of Toronto south of Bloor street, from the Don to Sunville, and residents of the Island, vote in South Toronto, and the returning officer is Thomas W. Close, 282 Sherbourne street, Tel. M. 3224.

Residents of Toronto south of Bloor street and between Sherbourne and Spadina, vote in East Toronto, and the returning officer is R. L. DeFries, 15 Toronto street, Tel. M. 2015.

Ottawa, Nov. 26.—Thirty-seven Labor candidates are in the field for the general election, and these have been endorsed by Walker Rollo of Hamilton, who himself is a candidate. The question therefore has arisen why Mr. Rollo should endorse Labor candidates instead of J. C. Watters, president of the Trades and Labor Congress, or P. M. Draper, secretary of that organization. Mr. Draper was asked what the explanation might be.

"An independent Labor party for the Dominion has been formed," said Mr. Draper, "and Mr. Rollo, who is the leader, was selected as the leader of the Labor party. This Labor party is independent of Trades and Labor Congress. We would not allow the congress to take any part in politics," he declared emphatically. "The fact is a legislative body. It is not a political machine. In fact, Mr. Watters was asked to endorse candidates, but the legislative declared that he had no right to do so."

Walker Rollo, Hamilton, Approves Nomines of Independent Workers' Movement Party.

Ottawa, Nov. 26.—Thirty-seven Labor candidates are in the field for the general election, and these have been endorsed by Walker Rollo of Hamilton, who himself is a candidate. The question therefore has arisen why Mr. Rollo should endorse Labor candidates instead of J. C. Watters, president of the Trades and Labor Congress, or P. M. Draper, secretary of that organization. Mr. Draper was asked what the explanation might be.

"An independent Labor party for the Dominion has been formed," said Mr. Draper, "and Mr. Rollo, who is the leader, was selected as the leader of the Labor party. This Labor party is independent of Trades and Labor Congress. We would not allow the congress to take any part in politics," he declared emphatically. "The fact is a legislative body. It is not a political machine. In fact, Mr. Watters was asked to endorse candidates, but the legislative declared that he had no right to do so."

These responsible for the Union government campaign should officially dissociate themselves from and repudiate this style of campaign, and put their feet down, and put it down hard, on all such despicable tactics. Certainly, we want to see none of these posters in western Canada.

In Hamilton the friends of the Union government in both ridings are working harmoniously together, and have opened joint headquarters at the old American Hotel. While T. J. Stewart, candidate for West Hamilton, and General Newburn, the candidate for East Hamilton, have local committees and rooms in their respective ridings, a great deal of work for the common cause is being accomplished at their joint headquarters.

Private advices from British Columbia convince The World that the Union government will carry at least eleven out of the 13 seats to which that province is entitled. The Liberals are said to have a fighting chance in Comox, and a possible chance in one of the Vancouver Union government leaders like R. F. Green, ex-M.P., who ought to know, say it will be the best thing that the government will carry all 13 seats.

REFUSED APOLOGY FOR BORDEN INSULT

Kitchener Council Voted Down Proposal by Seven to Five. CANNOT TAKE SIDES

Pandemonium Reigned in Council Chamber—Personalities Were Exchanged.

Special to The Toronto World. Kitchener, Nov. 26.—At one of the stormiest sessions ever held by a municipal council in this city, the city council this afternoon turned down, by a vote of 7 to 5, the proposition to apologize to Premier Borden for the insults and disturbances which broke up the union mass meeting on Saturday night in the auditorium here. The meeting which was called for the purpose of taking action in the matter, was called to order by Mayor Gross at 2:30 p.m.

Yeast Campbell, Bitzer, Bowman, Amussen, Reid, Iler, Ray, Nays—Huehnergard, Brubacher, Sues, Schwartz, McKay.

The question of offering an apology to Premier Borden was brought before the meeting by a letter from the Unionist resolution in which was enclosed a resolution of the city council.

"We, the members of the council of the City of Kitchener, assembled in special session, desire to tender our deepest apologies to the Premier, on account of the disturbances which occurred on Saturday evening last, by which the citizens of Kitchener were prevented from hearing the message which you so kindly prepared to deliver at great personal inconvenience."

At the same time, we assure you, at the same time that the elements of the population referred to above, which have been discredited, did not represent the sentiments of the people as a whole, but only those of the ill-informed and prejudiced. We desire to express our sincere assurances that we deplore whatever occurred. We hope for your consideration and forgiveness, and trust that you will not see the possibility of a return to Kitchener before the elections are held. Every means will be taken to give you a royal and loyal reception."

Opposed the Motion. In placing the resolution before the council, Mayor Gross stated that he had been informed by the Unionist association, to which he had been called as the representative of the city, that the council should be taken on the resolution.

As soon as the resolution was submitted, Mayor Gross wanted to know who the citizens were who had the meeting and framed the motion. Their names were read by the clerk, and Mayor Gross declared that he would not assist them in the matter.

CALLS IT DISGRACE

Liberal Paper of Kitchener Scores Insults to Premier Borden.

Kitchener, Nov. 26.—The Daily Telegraph, Liberal Unionist, under the heading, "Kitchener Disgrace," says today editorially:

"The treatment accorded Sir Robert Borden at Saturday night's Unionist meeting in the auditorium was such as to cause every decent liberty-loving, law-abiding citizen of Kitchener to hang his head in shame. On behalf of the law-abiding citizens of Kitchener, The Telegraph desires to express its sincere regret to Sir Robert Borden for the insults and disturbances of Saturday night. Apologies and expressions of regret cannot mitigate the disgrace nor permit the agitators of Kitchener, on which the citizens depend for a livelihood, to evade the sure consequences of their stupid and seditious folly."

"Vote for Borden, the true friend of Democracy" was the inscription on one of the banners carried by these young anti-conscriptionists, but Mr. Borden's supporters have refused to accord to the first citizen of Canada the first right of democracy, that of public speech.

The one redeeming feature of the whole affair is that the political effect will be the opposite of that intended. Instead of impressing Premier Borden with the strength of anti-conscription sentiment in this riding, as was doubtless intended, the disgraceful treatment he received in a community where the population is largely of German origin, will be used as an argument for all true Britishers in other parts of Canada to rally to the side of Union government."

ARCHDEACON CODY APPEALS FOR UNION

Effects of a Wrong Decision by Canada.

The Situation Not Only Justifies But Demands Union.

"The hearts and judgments of men are being tried today. If ever there is to be a time of all times when every citizen is in duty bound to use whatever influence he possesses in behalf of what he conscientiously believes to be the right, that time is here and now. For that reason, although in normal times I rather deprecate the idea of the clergy intermingling in political conflicts, I have no hesitation in announcing my hearty support of the Union Government, and in giving my reasons for that support."

Thus Archdeacon Cody, whose renown as a preacher, pastor and professor is literally Dominion-wide, and who enjoys a deservedly high reputation for sound and sure judgment, and for clarity of thought and vision.

"This," he proceeded, "is a time of crisis the greatest in the world's history. In great crises there is a need for coalition of all national elements. Fifty years ago, at the time of Confederation, we had a coalition. But there is a far greater crisis today, in which not merely Canada and the British Empire, but world freedom, humane civilization and Christianity itself, are all involved. A united front must, so far as practicable, be secured. All the belligerent countries, including the overseas Dominions of the Empire, have felt this, and have acted accordingly in promoting Union Government. Here, in Canada there is no use in recrimination as to the date when union should have taken place. It is now an actuality.

Justifies and Demands. "The present crisis is great and grave enough not only to justify, but to demand, a Union Government. I need only point to the Russian withdrawal and the Italian reverses; to the fact that the Pan-German programme is, at this moment, realized, so far as Europe is concerned; to the fact that in the West, where the forces of Canada and the United States are, we have the offensive, and that there is the decisive line; to the need for determination and endurance to the end in view of the certainty that victory is achievable by strong, united and efficient effort—and only so; to the truth that a great war can be greatly won by the morale of the whole people behind their fighting men. In addition there are also great relevant problems—those of the returned soldiers, of financial readjustment after the war, of immigration, and of transportation—which would inevitably have necessitated united political effort, and for such the Union Government provides the requisite machinery.

"But the demand in the immediate present is for the vigorous prosecution of the war. We must not suffer ourselves to be divided and from that point of view, and so what is the dispersal of effort. The real issue is not the past conduct of the late government; not the balancing of personal attachments or party loyalties; not the wisdom of exemption tribunals; not the high cost of living. It is how our men at the front may be best and most speedily backed up.

Must Stay in the War. "Did Canada do right in entering the war? Is this our war? Is our future at stake by it? Are our shores being defended in France and Belgium? Are more men urgently needed? To all these questions an emphatic affirmative is the only answer. Then Canada must stay in the war, bear her share of the struggle and sacrifice, and see that the price which her sons at the front are paying is not paid in vain.

"And to accomplish this end there is absolutely no alternative to the enforcement of the Military Service Act. To secure this the Union Government must be supported. Sir Wilfrid Laurier distinctly pledges himself to the suspension of the Act, and its submission to a referendum. But what use is there in TALKING of winning the war if we are to omit 'DOING' the only thing calculated to win it? We are not faced with a theory, but with condition.

"The Union Government must be supported, moreover, because its overthrow would spell a weakening of the 'will to win' which might eventuate in disaster and defeat, and in the destruction of the morale of the whole country. It must be supported as the best immediate way to bind Canada more closely to the Empire. It must be supported if we are to preserve unimpaired that high reputation for chivalrous service which our men at the front have won, and which has appealed so strongly to our fellow-dwellers on this continent, the citizens of the United States. What would be the effect in that country of a wrong decision on Canada's part now? It must be supported, finally, if, as a nation, we are definitely, determinedly, unitedly and practically to renew our consecration to the great cause, and to proclaim to our friends and foes alike the unbroken resolve of the free young Dominions to remain in the fight for freedom, justice, mercy, humanity, civilization and Christianity even unto the end."

U. S. COURTS CRUSH NEWSPRINT RING

Paper Manufacturers Refuse to Fight Abolition of Association.

FRESH RATE FIXED

Price of Three Cents Per Pound Will Obtain Till January.

New York, Nov. 26.—With the assent of the government the News Print Association, which represents about 85 per cent. of the print paper production of the United States and Canada, was dissolved here today as an unlawful combination in restraint of trade in violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

Under this decree, signed by United States Judge Mayer, and which the defendant's counsel said was accepted by the accused men because of patriotic motives and a desire not to embarrass the government engaged in war, evidence will be adduced before the federal trade commission with a view to paper prices being fixed in this country by the commission. Pending the commission's decision, which under the decree may be reviewed by the federal circuit court of appeals here, the price of paper is fixed at three cents a pound. This contract, of which the United States attorney-general is trustee, is said to be satisfactory to the American Newspaper Publishers' Association.

The three-cent rate will prevail until April 1, under the decree, for some of the individual companies, and until January 15 for others.

Conscientious Objectors. Five of the seven individual defendants and all but a few of the corporate defendants accused under the federal indictment returned last April entered pleas today of nolo contendere. The five individuals who thus refused to carry the case to trial are George H. Mead, president of the defendant Spanish River Pulp and Paper Mills, Limited, and other companies; Philip T. Dodge, president of the defendant International Paper Company; Edward W. Backus, president of the defendant Minnesota and Ontario Paper Company; George G. Chahoon, Jr., president of the defendant Laurentide Company, Limited, and an officer of the Canadian Export Paper Company, Limited; and Frank J. Sennensbrunner, vice-president of the defendant Kimberley-Clark Company. The first four of these individuals were fined $2,500 each, and Sennensbrunner was fined $2,000.

G. H. P. Gould, president of the Gould Paper Company, pleaded not guilty. At the suggestion of federal counsel, who said government investigators had not uncovered sufficient evidence to warrant trial, the indictment against Gould was dismissed. Alexander Smith, a Chicago banker, the seventh individual defendant, is engaged in Red Cross work in France. He was allowed until Jan. 3 to plead.

Accusation. The defendants were accused of creating a "complete monopolistic arrangement" whereby prices were fixed, the country divided into geographical districts for trade purposes, new mills suppressed to avert competition and propaganda sent to newspaper publishers, indicating increased manufacturing costs at a time when, according to the government, it was actually lower than it had been in previous months.

Counsel for the defendants asserted today they had not consciously violated the spirit or the letter of the Sherman law. The association, the attorneys held, was organized as a measure of "self defence to meet aggressions" by the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, which was described as being a "buyers' trust." The A. N. P. A. was responsible for the tariff on print paper being lifted, an affecting importation from Canada, John B. Stanchfield, of counsel for the defence, asserted; and as the cost of manufacturing paper in the United States is greater than that in Canada, the manufacturers considered they were justified, he said, in taking reasonable protective measures.

NOTED DR. JAMESON SUMMONED BY DEATH

Leader of Famous Raid in Transvaal, Afterwards Premier of Cape.

London, Nov. 26.—The death occurred here today of Sir Leander Starr Jameson (created baronet, 1911; C.B., 1894; peerage cancelled, 1907).

As "Dr. Jim" Jameson he led the famous raid on the Transvaal in 1895, shortly before the Boer war. Born in Edinburgh in 1853, he practised medicine in Kimberley (1878-91) and then came to Cape Colony, in most of his enterprises in Rhodesia. In 1891 he was appointed administrator of British Bechuanaland, fought the Matabele until their surrender in 1894, and then, on Dec. 23, 1895, he led the armed invasion of the Transvaal, was defeated at Krugersdorp, Jan. 1, and again a next day, when his force surrendered. He and his officers were taken to Pretoria and sentenced to be shot, but subsequently were turned over to the British. He went to England and was tried for leading the illegal raid, being sentenced to fifteen months in prison, but because of ill-health was released in seven months. He returned to South Africa, became M.P. for Cape Town, and was premier of the colony 1904-5.

Laura Secord Risked Her Life For Her Country---

The perils of a savage and primeval wilderness could not daunt Canada's heroine, Laura Secord.

She toiled her way through twenty miles of pathless, terrifying forest to take her news that meant safety to Lieut. Fitzgibbon's British forces---in that far-away June of 1813. Fitzgibbon and his men escaped the trap that had been spread for them by the superior enemy forces.

Laura Secord's deathless courage against terrible odds--from savage beast, prowling Indian and enemy marauders--saved the day for her country at a time when its fate trembled in the balance. Her magnificent spirit lives today in Canada's womanhood.

IN MACKAY MARKET FEATURE

Responds to Sudden Movement in New York—Trading Broadens Out.

Trading broadened out on the Toronto stock exchange yesterday, taking in the issues, but the total turnover was not larger than the previous day. The outstanding feature was the sudden strength in the stocks of the Dominion Steel and Pipe Works, which, responding to the news that the company had secured a contract for the construction of a new steel mill at Hamilton, Ontario, advanced 10 1/2 per cent to 75 1/2. Its best level for the day was reached at 75 1/2. Offerings dried up in the afternoon, 78 being bid with 50 1/2 in New York Mackay sold at 80 1/2. No definite reason for the movement is known here. The stock has been on a six per cent basis for a comparatively short period, and an increase in the dividend is expected at the present time. Mackay preferred, after being at 60, advanced a point. Dominion City was firmer at 78 1/2, and the report of a lockout of employees, Dominion Steel was steady at 75 1/2, and Steel of Canada at 50 1/2. Brazilian remained at the 50 1/2 level in the war loans the market developed weakness, selling at 94 on light dealings. The day's transactions were: 325,748 shares, valued at $23,000.

WAR ISSUES SHOW MARKED STRENGTH

Italian Resistance and British Advance Perceptibly Harden Market.

New York, Nov. 26.—The stock market was in a receptive mood today on a moderate volume of operations. Events over the week-end of various character as further to confuse speculative sentiment during the forenoon, but the market hardened perceptibly later, war issues manifesting marked strength. Rallying was the dominant feature, the proposed pooling of the eastern roads as a war measure evident in the advance of the stocks of the Pennsylvania and Pacific were no less influential, however, than coarser and the trunk lines. A sharp rally in this accompanied the news that the Italian forces were continuing their stout resistance. Latest favorable interpretation while the receipt by the state department of the so-called proposals of the Russian radicals was ignored as a minor factor. Reactions of the morning ranged from 3 1/2 to 3 3/4 points. General Electric, General Motors and Pullman, the latter falling to 123 1/2, its lowest quotation in many years. Other equities and specialties lost one to two points during the same period, but rallied smartly with the tobacco and sundry war shares in the final hour. U. S. issues featured the more active dealings of the afternoon, advancing from 95 1/2 to 96 1/2, within a fraction of its best of the month. Profit-taking reduced this advantage by half a point. Steel closing at a net gain of 1 1/2 points. Other leaders also yielded part of their extraneous advances. Total sales amounted to 450,000 shares. Bonds were decidedly firmer, although international issues some irregularly. Liberty issues were active, the four at 97.88 to 98.2, and the 3 1/2 at 98.90 to 99.02. Total sales, par value, aggregated $3,485,000. Other stocks, old issues, were unchanged on call.

President De Lamar Says High Operating Costs Make Course Advisable.

The decision of the Dome Mines directors to shut down the company's mills for the present did not become known until after the close of the local mining market yesterday, but so persistent have been reports that such action would be taken, that it is thought the severe decline in the stock has about discounted the official announcement. TRADE TOPICS

The first touch of real wintry weather has brightened up the retail trade in dry goods, furs and clothing, but there is little change in general business conditions since last week. In wholesale dry goods travelers are sending in good orders, and Toronto houses report many sales to visiting buyers. Sorting up orders are also coming in freely for immediate shipment, and preparations are being made for stocktaking.
