CHINA ALSO WANTS HAND IN MATTER OF DISARMAMENT

Asks to Send Delegation to Washington Conference in November.

Her Interests in Pacific and the Far East—U. S. Hints Early Discussion on Naval Armament—Suggestion re "New Agencies of Warfare."

Washington, Aug. 12.—Putting into definite terms its proposals for a disarmament conference, the United States has invited the great powers to unite in "a practical effort to remove the causes of misunderstanding" and so facilitate reduction of the world's enormous outlay for the materials of war.

Informal identical notes of invitation forwarded to Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, the United States government pledged its own untiring cooperation in such an effort and further defined as follows its own conception of the principles involved—

That there can be no hope for peace or stability until the tax burden resulting from heavy armaments has been reduced.

That such a reduction is possible only if troublesome international problems are solved by common consent.

That among these problems the Pacific and Far Eastern questions occupy a position of "unquestioned importance," that although there is no intention to dictate the scope of the conference the discussion should touch upon matters which have been of international concern as well as those more admittedly controversial, and

That the question of naval armaments might well be considered first, though there should be no barrier to a full consideration of armaments of every sort.

China Wants Representation. Coincidentally with the dispatch of the invitations to the four great powers, China was asked to send a delegation to the part in these discussions of the conference which relate to the Pacific and the Far East. All of the five nations thus invited have indicated in preliminary talks that they would accept, and formal responses are expected to reach Washington within a few days, opening the way for a more detailed preliminary negotiation on the scope of the conference.

New War Horrors. Aside from the hint that naval armament would logically come first in the consideration of the conference, the formal invitation makes only one suggestion as to the subject matter of the disarmament discussions themselves. It relates to "new agencies of warfare," control of which the note holds to be advisable in the interest of humanity.

Under this heading it is expected special attention will be given to use of gas, dissemination of enemy lines and similar questions.

Lloyd George's Absence. London, Aug. 12.—(Canadian Press.)—Information Reuters has received from a high official source shows that no further progress has been made regarding the Pacific conference it is proposed to hold at Washington.

De Valera Reply Is Not Expected To Lead to A Break In Negotiations

NEITHER ACCEPTANCE NOR REJECTION OF PROPOSALS IS REPORT.

Rumor of Crisis in Situation Is Discredited—Assumed that Irish President Asks Only for Explanation of Details.

Dublin, Aug. 12.—The letter from Eamon De Valera delivered to Mr. Lloyd George yesterday, is neither an acceptance nor a rejection of the Irish peace proposals, it was learned here today.

The letter raises various questions to which an answer is necessary. The answer may serve to facilitate future dealings, it was said, and is not expected to lead to a break in negotiations.

There was no excitement in Dublin today over Mr. Lloyd George's return to London, it was said that no unexpected development had occurred in the Irish discussions. When Mr. De Valera's letter was received today, the statement was given out that a basis had not been found for further talks, and it is stated in Sinn Fein circles that the time since Mr. De Valera's conversations with the Irish premier merely has spent in trying to find this basis. It has not yet been found, it was said.

London, Aug. 12.—Rumors that the reply of Eamon De Valera, the Irish Republican leader, to the British proposal for a peace conference, which was received here yesterday, had produced a serious crisis in the Irish peace negotiations were generally discredited here today.

Premier Lloyd George intended to leave Paris this morning for London, and yesterday's rather alarming reports were given credit for a time, but the British government today was said to be confident that the Irish initiative still would continue, negotiations between the government and the Irish Republics would continue under favorable conditions.

Believe Settlement Possible. In well informed quarters belief was expressed that Mr. De Valera's message reflected the view among members of the Irish Republican parliament that the government's proposals furnished the basis for a possible settlement.

It was assumed that Mr. De Valera's explanation as to certain details before the British government and the Irish Republics had been sent to the British government yesterday.

It was suggested that the hurried return of the premier from Paris was prompted by a recognition of the fact that the Irish Republican parliament made it desirable that Mr. De Valera leave the government and the Irish Republics as soon as possible before the meeting of the Dail Eireann.

As Hiram Sees It

"Look-a-here," said the Hiram reporter, "speakin' about the feeble-minded—or the devil-minded, if you like—when is the next little gal to be used in the 'gonto' make trouble an' expense some day because they ain't got the right kind of a brain an' ain't been looked after."

"Have you heard the latest news in Paris?" queried the reporter. "I ain't talkin' about no musics," said Hiram, "but savin' lives."

"There is talk of revivin' some of the old square dances," said the reporter. "I think I must take some dancing lessons," said the reporter, "before the winter sets in."

"Say," said Hiram, "you orto go some-where an' get your head examined, where's an' how you look at it, but who's gonto look after the boy that ain't right in his head—or the girl who ain't right in her head?"

"An' they's about fifty thousand just like you, right?" said Hiram. "That's a fact—By Hen!"

URGE IMMEDIATE COAL PURCHASES

Request of U. S. Carriers to Commerce Commission—Roads Have Sufficient Reserve.

Washington, Aug. 12.—Railroads of the United States generally have sufficient reserve supplies of coal and it is not expected that the government will be asked to purchase coal today, a letter by the Interstate Commerce Commission, urging immediate purchases as a means of improving the depressed condition of the coal industry.

Some carriers declined to make purchases, informing the commission that they needed their money for other purposes, while others indicated they would make some increase in the size of their reserve.

Will Submit Silesian Boundary Question To The League of Nations

MATTER OF REINFORCEMENTS WILL STAND UNTIL DECISION IS GIVEN.

French Cabinet Approves Decision of Premier Briand—Warning to Germans and Poles to Maintain Order—Lloyd George to London.

Paris, Aug. 12.—France and Great Britain have decided to refer the Silesian question to the League of Nations, it was announced here today.

This question, which involves drawing a frontier between Poland and Germany in Upper Silesia, threatened yesterday to bring about a break in the meeting of the supreme allied council.

The decision was considered here today to have solved the crisis that arose between France and Great Britain. The announcement said that "certain insurmountable difficulties which had arisen between Italy, Japan and Great Britain on one hand, and France on the other," had given rise to the solution decided upon.

Lloyd George May Delay. It was understood the Supreme Council would continue its agenda, especially the discussion of relief to Russia, during the absence of Mr. Lloyd George. The British premier delayed his departure, and there were rumors this forenoon that he might not leave till tomorrow morning.

The official statement issued after today's cabinet meeting added— "Premier Briand gave an account of the present state of the Supreme Council's work, more especially concerning Upper Silesia. The position taken by the French delegation received the unanimous support of the cabinet."

The decision to refer the question to the League of Nations was taken under the second clause of Article XI of the Versailles treaty, which provides that the League shall have jurisdiction in all matters which are referred to it by the League of Nations, and which are not referred to the League of Nations by the League of Nations.

It was learned that Premier Briand proposed to send a special mission to the League of Nations, and that the League of Nations would be asked to arbitrate the Silesian question, but this proposal was not adopted.

FIRST SLATE OF NEW ALBERTAN GOVERNMENT

Selection Announced by the Premier Designate Today.

Greenfield Leader and Provincial Treasurer—Form of Government Discussed But No Decision Reached.

Calgary, Aug. 12.—The Alberta today published the following from its correspondent in Edmonton dealing with the conference of the United Farmer's members, in which it says of the meeting—

"The first of the programme was the presenting by Premier-designate Greenfield of the cabinet slate. The conference was in substantial agreement with his selection. This selection, which is not final, is as follows—

"J. E. Brownlee, Calgary, attorney-general. "A. Ross, Calgary, minister of public works and later minister of labor. "G. Headley, minister of agriculture. "R. C. Reed, Vermilion, minister of municipalities. "W. A. Smith, Camrose, minister of railways and telephones. "P. Baker, Medicine Hat, minister of education. "Mrs. Irene Parlyb, Lacombe, minister without portfolio.

"A debate arose about the form of government that should be created. Some elected members were in favor of organizing a co-operative government involving all groups in the house to send their quota of representatives to the cabinet, while another opinion was that Liberals and Independents did not represent any known economic group and were not democratically organized and therefore it would be contrary to the group idea to recognize them as representing any body but themselves.

"This question has been discussed in the U. P. A. locals and in the columns of the newspapers of Alberta since the election. The question is: Shall the new government have Liberal representation or shall it not? No decision was reached last night, although many of the members favor asking the Liberals to select a representative.

Stewart's Resignation. Edmonton, Aug. 12.—It was semi-officially announced last night that Premier Charles Stewart will resign on noon today and suggest to the Legislature that Herbert Greenfield be called upon to form a government. It is expected that Mr. Stewart will announce his resignation in the afternoon and his cabinet and the new administration be sworn in.

THE PRINTERS AND THE 44-HOUR WEEK

President McParland Unions—Further Conference With Publishers is Urged.

Quebec, Aug. 12.—President John McParland, of the International Typographical Union, in discussion of the 44-hour week proposition, before the annual convention here yesterday, claimed that it was not really a fight for the acknowledgment by printers of the 44-hour week, but a struggle for the open shop.

While six thousand men were jobless over this question, thirty thousand were working under the 44-hour agreement, he said. He then outlined the situation in New York and Chicago, pointing out the great seriousness of the position of the unions. If one thousand men went on strike in New York that would mean an addition of $87,000 per month in strike pay. The union was financially unable to carry an extension of hostilities. The kicking against the ten per cent union levy on wages of membership to support strikes must cease. Further Negotiation Suggested.

He then asked that the convention be petitioned to give the executive committee the right to reopen negotiations with the publishers. The ultimate findings could then be submitted for referendum. His suggestions were accepted by the convention unanimously.

STILL BELIEVE THAT FOUL PLAY CAUSED DEATH

Relatives of Stanley A. Nason of Fredericton, Found in Lachine Canal, are of That Opinion.

(Special to the Times.) Fredericton, Aug. 12.—Relatives of the late Murray A. Nason, son of Axel S. Nason of Fredericton, are of the opinion that the young man, whose body was found in the Lachine Canal, Montreal, on Sunday last, was a victim of foul play. Circumstances which have been disclosed by investigation in Montreal point to that.

The coroner at Montreal returned a verdict of accidental death, the post mortem examination disclosed no marks of violence. The circumstances which the family believes point to foul play are that on August 3 the deceased paid his bill at the Alexandria Hotel, informing the clerk that he intended to return home by the evening train. On the seventh his body was found floating in the Lachine Canal with several cents in his pockets and the hotel key. The latter was the means of identification. Prior to his death he had a former office of the 6th Howitzer Battery with which he had been overseas from Fredericton and also he had converted victory bonds into cash to the value of $100. He also had purchased a new suit of clothes.

Russia Wants Famine Relief and Politics Kept Separate

Riga, Aug. 12.—The Russian Soviet government will combat any attempt to inject political question into the Russian famine relief, but it is sufficiently practical to see that if the holding of United States citizens in prison is an obstacle to the feeding of a million Russian children, it is best that Herbert Hoover's stipulation in this respect be granted, declared Maxim Litvinoff, the Soviet special envoy here today.

Mr. Litvinoff made this explanation of the Russian negotiations with the United States relief administration. He reviewed the famine situation and explained the situation from the Russian viewpoint.

WILL ASSIST PRISONERS. In addition to those held in prisons in Russia, declared the Soviet envoy, every facility to leave will be given by the Soviet government to any U. S. citizens in the country, even to the extent of advertising for them in the newspapers. Obviously the government could not undertake to locate them all, however, he added, as even the list the United States government had prepared was probably inaccurate, and in many cases the names were no longer correct.

SEARCH FOR THE MURDERER TODAY WITHOUT RESULT

Pokioik Locality Combed by Police and Volunteers. Many Clues Followed But Criminal Still at Large—Search at Sackville—Fredericton Chief Makes Important Statement.

The man hunt for the murderer of little Sadie McAuley was continued unabatingly this morning by the local detectives, policemen and a score of volunteers who combed the woods from the mill pond in the rear of Victoria street to Boar's Head and Millidgeville. Although unsuccessful, the men kept doggedly on searching every cave, old kiln, barn, hen house or thicket where it would be possible for a man to hide.

They found no trace of the suspect who was seen last night heading for the woods near the old mill pond with policemen and citizens in hot pursuit.

Motor Boat Used. All night policemen and detectives, accompanied by a number of men, kept up the search of the large swamp in that district and working back to the thick woods. This morning a motor boat full of men went up the St. John river to Boar's Head and there they dispersed and started back towards Pokioik, where they met a band of policemen and men working out towards that section.

Due to a dense fog their work was greatly impeded. The woods were very wet and this forced some to desist as they were soaked to the skin and became chilled.

Some of the men who went into Robinson's lake yesterday, and discovered signs of some person or persons using a camp there, but they could not find any evidence that the place had been visited during the night or early morning.

A Complete Cordon. The heavy rain later in the morning forced nearly all of the searchers to seek shelter, but they remained along the various roads forming a regular cordon through which they hope to make it impossible for the fugitive to break through. If they can keep the man in the Pokioik-Boar's Head district they are (Continued on page 2, fifth column)

OPTIMISM GROWS. (Toronto Globe.) A more optimistic feeling is abroad as regards trade prospects, and already preparations to take advantage of it are indicated in many ways. Outstanding at the present time is the upward movement in the price of securities, which goes to show that investors are now bringing out their idle money. Bond prices are generally the first to improve in an upward market, preceding stocks in their recovery. Wholesale trade, while only slightly more active, reflects a much more cheerful appearance, and with the crop outlook a satisfactory one, there is every indication that the early fall will see the long expected improvement. All signs go to show that staple lines are likely to return to normal conditions before long.

His story follows: Carpenter attended the game between the New York Yankees and the Chicago White Sox alone, occupying a seat on the right side of the upper tier, back of the first base line. He was watching the game attentively, with his feet against the seat in front of him, when the man occupying the seat next to him, who was leaning back and watching the game, suddenly started to upbraid Carpenter.

Assault Starts Over a Coat. "Get your feet off my coat, you —" the man shouted. "Excuse me," replied Carpenter, "I didn't notice it."

IN WALL STREET. New York, Aug. 12.—(Wall Street, 10:30)—Further weakness in industrial shares at the opening of today's stock market intensified the prevailing dejection in speculative circles. Bethlehem, General Electric, Royal Dutch, American Writing Paper preferred, Sears Roebuck, and Colorado and Southern lost one to one and a quarter, and Mercantile Marine preferred, Baldwin, Pullman, General Asphalt, Sumatra Tobacco, Retail Stores and American Linseed, 1-2 to 3-4. Later experimental buying operations in the railroad group to get what would follow, caused some short covering in other quarters. Atchafalpa, Union Pacific, Reading, Northern Pacific, Mexican Petroleum, Studebaker and United States Alcohol were lifted 1-2 to 3-4, and Western Union 1-2 points. Foreign exchange rates were steady.

NOON REPORT. Technical conditions were seemingly responsible for the improvement in the forenoon market. WOULD NOT ASSIGN UNIVERSITY MAN TO BUSINESS ROUTINE

Prof. Fay Would Bring Students and Future Employers Into Closer Touch, However—The Cambridge Scheme.

Toronto, Aug. 12.—A strong case for recognition of the university man in business was made before the Imperial Conference of Teachers last night by Prof. C. R. Fay, M. A., Fellow of Christ's College, Cambridge, who will occupy the chair of Economic History at Toronto University through the interchange of instructors.

Prof. Fay said he would not assign the trained university man to doing the routine work of business. Such a step, he felt, would be a waste of power which could be avoided by a more intelligent use of the human weapon.

So far as higher education was concerned, Prof. Fay believed that the empire is in danger of turning universities into technical schools by contact with the world of business. At the same time, the industrial owners of England are beginning to realize that, by applying to the universities, they can get the best type of man for special work.

Mr. Fay said he would not assign the trained university man to doing the routine work of business. Such a step, he felt, would be a waste of power which could be avoided by a more intelligent use of the human weapon.

This district runs back along the Kennebec river to Sand Point, Kennebec and thence through Drury Cove, Henforth and along the C. N. R.

Some of the names mentioned are: Mr. and Mrs. Ronald McAuley, who were grateful beyond words for all the deeds of kindness and words of cheer which had poured in during their hour of trouble.

MONCTON PERSONALS

(Times, Thursday.) Miss Isabel Keith is visiting Miss Marie Fraser, at Ketepec, St. John river. Mr. Agnes Fraser of Lawrence, Mass., and her sister, Miss Dorothy Fraser, who has just completed a course at the Newton, Mass. hospital, have arrived to spend some time with their parents at Lewisville. The Misses Fraser spent some time motoring through Nova Scotia with their brother, C. A. Fraser, before coming to Moncton. Patrick White of Boston, who has been spending his vacation at his former home in Penobscot, is the guest of Joshua Hicks. J. W. Workman leaves the latter part of September for Vancouver en route to Australia, where he will spend some time with his daughter, Mrs. Andrew Gillespie. S. C. Alward was removed from the hospital to his home on Monday last. He is still weak and unable to be out. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D. Allen of Winnipeg and Mrs. Lorne Spence of Rayfield, N. B., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Welker. Mrs. J. H. McGill and Miss Marion Sheahan of Lynn, Mass., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Irvine McGill. Mrs. L. I. Miller left Wednesday afternoon for Winnipeg, where she will visit her son, Gordon C. Miller, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Mrs. A. H. WAS RATHER BUSY

(Halifax Chronicle.) W. C. James, the "energetic" secretary-treasurer of the Unemployed Society, was arrested by the police yesterday afternoon in an intoxicated condition, and will likely be arraigned on far more serious charges. For some time past Mr. James, who is a native of England, but at the present time resides at Woodside, has been practically managing the recently organized society, transacting all the business, handling all the money, and acting as chairman and also chief speaker at the meetings held nightly on the commons. Some of the members of the society have gone over the books and discovered a shortage of about $126. The matter will be further investigated.

Montreal, Aug. 12.—The local stock market was unusually quiet during the early trading this morning. Abitibi went down a half point to 29. Laurentide three-quarters to 67. Breweries strengthened three-eighths to 81 1/2.

ON THE MUSQUASH ROAD.
On the Musquash road a few days ago two farmers met. One was on his way to the city to buy a barrel of flour, the other was just returning from getting one. "What brand of flour is that you have in the back of your wagon?" said No. 1. No. 2 removed the canvas rain protector and showed him the label. It was "Regal." "This," continued he, "is the most wonderful bread flour we have ever used in our house. My wife says so, and she ought to know; in fact she said to me last night that if our regular dealer didn't have it I must go to some one who had, as she didn't want any other kind."

"Regal, you say the name is?" said No. 1. "Yes, I've heard of it. They say it is wonderful flour for bread."
S. J. Hungerford of Toronto, vice-president of the Canadian National Railways, accompanied by W. A. Kingland of Montreal, general manager, and H. G. O'Donnell of Moncton, general superintendent, arrived in the city yesterday after a trip of inspection including the North Shore, the Valley Railway and Nova Scotia. While in the city the visiting officials conferred with A. P. Barnhill, K.C., one of the directors of the roads. The officials left St. John last evening.

DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE

The German newspaper Vossische Zeitung takes an eminently sane view of the coming conference on disarmament. It holds that the conference is "momentarily the most important problem engaging the attention of the world" and that it "connotes a new type of co-operation between the two great Anglo-Saxon nations, which in the past has been the part of France and Japan." The Berlin Journal remarks that what the League of Nations originally intended, but which was frustrated by the non-entry of the United States, is to be accomplished by another method which is yet within the fundamental principles of the League. As to the attitude of Germany, it says: "Let us not say that it does not concern us, our navy being at the disposal of the Allies and our army demobilized. It is a matter of prime importance to us. The greatest, if not the sole, obstacle in the way of European reconstruction is the fear on the part of France that Germany will again rise up in arms and launch a new attack. That France should have this fear is incontestable to us, but so long as it exists France seems determined to maintain her position as the most powerful military nation in the world. With nearly a million men still with the colors she cannot possibly build up that rapprochement, commercial and social, on which the salvation of Europe depends so largely at present. Let us support President Harding in his move in any way we may be invited or permitted."

A sentiment in favor of the special purpose of the conference in Washington should be aroused in every country to the point of such expression as would strongly influence the men who are to meet and deliberate upon a matter of such momentous importance to the world. If the conference is to be upon a general policy looking toward a general disarmament, it is conceivable that other matters of universal interest may be discussed in a friendly way, leading to a fuller success of the great work undertaken by the League of Nations. The time is opportune and the outlook hopeful, and nowhere could the conference hope to meet with greater hope of a satisfactory outcome than in the capital city of the United States.

DISTRIBUTION OF WEALTH

The effect of the equal distribution of wealth has long been a subject of interested discussion. An interesting contribution thereto was that of Sir Josiah Stamp, joint honorary secretary of the Royal Statistical Society, in a recent lecture at University College, London. In the course of the lecture he dealt with the question as to the result if all the incomes of the richer were pooled for the benefit of the poorer, and said that if all the people with more than £200 per year had the surplus above that amount pooled and divided among the people it would add only about £14 a year, or say five shillings per week to each family. Sir Josiah pointed out that before the distribution was made there would have to be provision for the upkeep of public services now taken care of by an income tax, and also the capital extensions which had hitherto been provided for out of the savings of the richer class. He further remarked that he would be much smaller and probably not more than £5 or £6 per family for a year. This is a very interesting calculation, showing as it does that an equal distribution of wealth would not enrich the masses, while it would take from individuals the incentive to industry which lies at the root of national prosperity. It may fairly be argued that the accumulation of wealth by a relatively very small portion of the community has gone to an unjustifiable extreme, but that is a condition which may be righted without a plunge in the direction of communism. Accumulations of capital are necessary, or great enterprises could not be undertaken, and it is these enterprises that provide work and wages for great numbers of people who would otherwise find the problem of gaining a livelihood far more difficult.

The farmer government of Alberta is about to be sworn into office. The new premier, Mr. Herbert Greenfield, went west as an immigrant and carved his way to success by the exacting work of a pioneer on the prairie. The career of the new administration will be watched with keen interest all over Canada, for it is a real farmer government with a farmer majority at its back.

The Irish answer to the British government proposals is now in the hands of Lloyd George, and will be considered by the cabinet tomorrow. Last night's cables are of a hopeful tenor regarding the negotiations, and the true is faithfully observed in Ireland. The remark of one British official that "we can never go back" to the old bitter relations seems to express the feeling on both sides of the controversy.

News of the death of Michael Conolly recalls the days when he was building wharves in St. John, and his part in making his fight for recognition as national poet.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie has sailed for Canada. Premier Meighen will soon have all his colleagues with him to consider the political situation. The Toronto Globe makes some interesting comments on the present cabinet as compared with the one which was formed for war purposes. We quote: "It is only the remnant of the government which was formed to finish the task of winning the war. Its leaders on both sides of politics have gone. Sir Robert Borden and Sir Thomas White on the Conservative side, Messrs. Crerar, Carvell, Maclean, Rowell, Sifton and McBurn on the Liberal side. With all due respect to Sir Henry Drayton, Mr. McCurdy, Mr. Wignmore and Mr. Spinnery, it must be said that the places of the departed leaders have not been filled. When Mr. Meighen looks about for new men he is faced with the difficulty of finding constituencies in which they can be elected. Thorough reorganization is impossible for a government walking a tight-rope in mid-air."

The Chatham World rises to observe: "Premier Meighen has returned from England with greatly increased prestige as a statesman. The impression he made upon the great men he met there, and on the people at large, was greater than ever a Canadian premier made in fifty days. He won distinction, not by playing to the gallery in flowery speeches full of glittering generalities, but by his form of character, solidity of judgment, firmness of purpose and wit. Canada stands head and shoulders higher in the Empire and the world as the result of Mr. Meighen's mission to London." Now how can Mr. Meighen overlook the claims of Bro. Stewart for that senatorship?

The chief points to be considered in connection with the proposed new ferry wharf are the relation of future C. N. R. plans to that part of the water front; the question whether a rigid wharf is better at the ferry entrance than piling that would give under pressure; and whether an expenditure of $30,000 is actually necessary at the present time, with the expense involved in expropriation.

The Silver Falls pumping station was of great benefit to St. John before the larger connection was made with Loch Lomond. The proposal to link up the eastern and western sources of water supply is not new, and has distinct advantages. It would ensure the city at least a partial water supply in the event that either service was interrupted.

The name of Hon. Robert Rogers is mentioned in connection with the governorship of Manitoba. Surely that would be too humdrum a career for the stately petrel of western tourism. The present governor, Sir James Aikins, has been an admirable chief executive.

The New South Wales government has gone into the fish business and has put the product on the market at prices very below those of private concerns. Profiteering can hardly flourish in New South Wales.

Britain and France have referred the Silesian question to the League of Nations. This is a practical recognition of the value of the League in case of a dispute between two powers.

Rules to regulate jitneys, if adopted, will reduce the service to a system, and eliminate vehicles which are not adapted to the work. Experience has shown that proper regulation is necessary.

Germany continues to make her payments to the Allies and to go after world markets. She is not disturbed by industrial disputes.

LIGHTER VEIN

There was an amusing ending to a civil case tried in a Wyoming court. It was an appeal, and on one side was a testy lawyer, and on the other a number of inexperienced attorneys. The arguments on both sides had been heard and the case closed for judgment. Suddenly one of the inexperienced lawyers got up and addressed the court once more. The testy lawyer stood up for a moment, but losing patience, he also rose and addressed the court in this wise: "Your honor, I would beg with all respect to point out to the court that my learned friend opposite is entirely out of order in addressing the court, and if I may be permitted to say so, the court has no right to be listening to him."

The court, who at that time was writing, put his head out in a belligerent way and said: "Mr. Smith, it is a great piece of impertinence, on your part, to assume that the court is listening to him."

High Hol Such is Love. "Dear Mame—What you asked me about did I love Charlie, well, dear it's this way: I'm afraid if I don't take him I'll be sorry and if I do I'll regret it because I can't live without him any more than I expect I'll be able to love him. It's just so exciting being miserable until I'm happy that if I let it in love with him I might as well find it one way or another, and so we're going to get married. I'm not a character and if I do, the Lord have mercy on my soul, Mame, because he's an awful leech if he has a job, so that's how it is, dear, and they tell me it's perfectly natural, like the measles."

"I'll send you an invitation, and when you see me walking down the aisle with him, for the love of Mike, Mame, don't giggle. This is too darned serious for you to see like you feel like Minnie." Richmond Times-Dispatch.

A poet went to stay at a hotel. He was short of money, but was expecting a check in the mail. One morning he rang the bell and a bellhop answered. "Boy," he asked, "have you seen anything of my laundry?"

"Your laundry?" inquired the boy in astonishment. "Why, yob's only had one shirt since yob've been here."

"That," said the poet, with overwhelming dignity, "is the one to which I refer."

LOCAL NEWS

H. E. Wardrop said yesterday that the change in the name of Brunswick street to Prince Edward had been recorded and that technically that was now the official name of the thoroughfare, although the signs at the corners have not been changed as yet.

A shower was tendered Miss Amy Young last evening at her home, 32 Autumn street in honor of a coming interesting event. About seven or five friends assembled and presented to Miss Young many useful gifts of cut glass, silver and linen. The evening was spent in the enjoyment of games and musical entertainment and refreshments were served at the close.

The monthly meeting of the Children's Aid Society was held in the Children's Home, 68 Garden street, last night with the president, A. M. Bell, in the chair. The monthly report of the agent showed a large number of cases dealt with since the last meeting. During the month two children had left the home but four more had been received, the number now in the care of the Society being twenty-seven. Sixty-seven visits had been made in the city and a large number of letters written. One trip had been taken outside of the city with one of the wards who was placed in a prospective foster home.

UNEMPLOYMENT LESS IN SYDNEY

Sydney, N. S., Aug. 12.—I have seen less signs of unemployment and discontent in Sydney than in any other place I have visited in the provinces. Philip Ring, provincial factory inspector, on leaving here for Halifax yesterday after a periodical inspection of manufacturing plants in this city.

Mr. Ring commended the safety first system of the Dominion Coal Company, which he says is reaching a high state of efficiency.

A GLOOMY FARMER

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 12.—The pike from Concord to Vancouver has been blocked for several days by myriads of honey bees, which for fifty years had used a roadside tree as an apiary. The tree fell across the highway before a high wind and honey was scattered over a wide area. The bees refused to relinquish possession, and all travel was diverted by a route which causes several miles of additional journeying. Persons who approached the fallen tree have been routed by fierce onslaughts of the bees. A Floyd Call, sent to repair telephone lines broken in the storm, is in a serious condition from stings.

SHORT POTATO CROP

Few in the hill, and many of those dug scabbily, are the reports heard in various sections regarding the Ontario potato crop. These reports are confirmed, so far as general yield is concerned, by the August fruit and vegetable report of the Dominion Department of Agriculture. This report indicates a drop of anywhere from twenty to fifty per cent, as compared with 1920, in the yield of early potatoes in the province. The main crop will also be greatly reduced as a result of late blight.

In Quebec, with a reduced acreage, the prospects are more than in Ontario; in Prince Edward Island there is a fair promise, but in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick not more than fifty to seventy-five per cent of last year's yield is looked for. In the United States, according to the American Department of Agriculture, the crop will be 80,000,000 bushels below that of a year ago.

LOYD GEORGE TO RETURN HOME

De Valera Reply Takes Him from Allied Conference—Last Irish M. P. Released.

(Canadian Press Despatch.) Paris, Aug. 11.—The British delegation through Lord Riddell, this evening, informed the newspaper correspondents that Premier Lloyd George on receipt of the Irish answer to the peace proposals of the British government and in view of the leadership of the Upper Silesian question, had decided to return to London with his mission tomorrow morning. Premier Lloyd George studied the Sinn Fein reply until a late hour this evening. It was then announced by members of the British delegation that Mr. Lloyd George would make no statement on the situation until after the cabinet meeting Saturday.

A report that the negotiations have been broken off is denied by British and unofficial circles. It was declared that the reply was of a nature to permit further parleys.

No Hint of Nature of Reply. Dublin, Aug. 11.—No responsible Sinn Fein leader who knows will give any hint of the nature of Mr. De Valera's reply; no authentic version even of the government proposals has leaked out, but the inference drawn by those in contact with the Sinn Fein leaders and government officials is that both seem in better spirits than would be possible if a renewal of the struggle were feared.

The general tone among the Sinn Fein leaders seemingly is one of confidence; this is observed among the rank and file, as well as among the officials and the lesser members of the Irish Republican parliament talk as if they had no idea of returning to jail.

Preparations for the meeting of the Dail Eireann are well advanced. The last informed member of the "parliament" John Hayes, was released today and it is expected there will be a full attendance of the members at the Mansion House next Tuesday, including the envoys from Paris and Rome. In fact, so far as is known, there will be only six absentees.

REFORM BUREAU OPENS PRIZE FIGHT CRUSADE

Pamphlets Say Professional Pugilism is to Be Made Crime Against Civilization.

Opinions of the late Theodore Roosevelt, Dr. John Roach Straton, pastor of the Baptist Church, Dr. Wilbur E. Crafts, Bishop Lines of Newark, Bishop O'Connor of South Orange, and others are quoted in two pamphlets issued by the International Reform Bureau of Washington, D. C., and edited by Canon William Sheafe Chase, D. D., which open a crusade against prize fighting.

"The Carpenter-Dempsey fight of July 4 is characterized by Dr. Straton as a 'moral carbuncle,' and the history of attempts to stop the fight, together with a list of former judicial decisions on the subject of prize fights, is given.

The opinion of the Y. M. C. A., the Salvation Army, and the Methodist and Roman Catholic churches on prize fights and the history of the various crusades against pugilism is related. The object of the attack, according to the Bureau, "is to drive pugilism back to the limbo of crimes against civilization," and restore amateur boxing, such as is approved by the American Athletic Union.

WANTS MORE GREENS EATEN

Doctor Says Americans Are As Old as 40 as They Should Be at 65.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 12.—There are many reasons why the average American diet, as is old looking at forty years as they would be at sixty-five on a proper diet, asserts Dr. Y. McCollum, professor of biochemistry, Johns Hopkins University School of Hygiene and Public Health.

Mr. McCollum says a satisfactory diet cannot be made out of cereals, peas and beans, potatoes, dairy products, meat, and fruits, of which Americans are so fond.

"Our national dietetic sin," he said, "is living too much on wheat flour, or bread from it, and other cereals having similar dietic properties; on tubers, such as the potato, and on meats. That is, we have never succeeded with any class of human beings; it will not succeed today and never will."

"The thing to do is this: We are as a nation now using approximately half a pint of milk per day per person. We are using very little of the green leafy vegetables, and we are using too much meat. We should replace other things in our diet, so should take at least a quart of milk per day, or its equivalent, and we should reduce our meat consumption to approximately five percent of the energy value of the diet. Substitute milk for half the quantity of meat now used and cultivate the habit of using green salad dishes."

STARVING RUSSIANS

Thousands of Russian refugees are pouring into Bresl-Litovsk—2,000 a day—many crawling on hands and knees, and many dead, and scores dying in dugouts along the route.

An appalling picture of the desolation, death and devastation in the famine areas in Russia is given by F. L. Thompson, in charge of the Bresl-Litovsk district for the American Relief Administration.

"At one place I came across ten families among the wealthiest, who were living on bread made from grass, mud and straw. Thousands of others are existing on water in order to make a thin soup. If acorns are available, these are added."

SHOT STRANGER IN MISTAKE FOR WIFE

Saw Girl on Park Bench and Killed Her, Then Committed Suicide.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 12.—Mistakenly shooting a young woman sitting on a bench in Elmwood Park, Norristown, for his wife, James Booley shot her and inflicted a wound which may prove fatal. He then committed suicide.

The victim, Mrs. Mary Quisler, who is nineteen years old, is in a critical condition with a bullet wound in the head. She is twenty-three years old. Booley, who is twenty-three years old, and lives in Conshohocken, separated from his wife three weeks ago. A note found in the dead man's pocket asked that he and his wife be buried together.

Mrs. Quisler, whose husband is in Texas, was sitting on a bench along the main driveway in Elmwood Park with Jerald Vincent Marshall, eighteen years old, of Norristown. The bench was Mr. and Mrs. Hurst, relatives of Marshall.

They had not been there long when Booley, whom they did not know, walked up the boulevard. He stopped in front of the bench on which the Hursts were seated, looked at the occupants and retreated. Going to the other bench, only a few feet away, he gave one glance, and drawing a revolver from his pocket, fired one shot at the woman. He then put the revolver to his head and fired once more. He fell where he stood.

Marshall ran in terror, while the Hursts were too dumfounded to act. A few minutes afterward two men in an automobile took Booley and Mrs. Quisler to the hospital.

SEES LONGER SKIRT, BUT NOT TOO LONG

Designer for Mrs. Harding Says Proper Length Will be 8 1/2 Inches From the Ground.

(New York Times.) The American woman is governed by the principles of good taste and good taste, according to Harry Collins, designer to Mrs. Harding, who spoke yesterday afternoon before students studying clothing, textiles and designs at Teachers' College, Columbia University, on the prevailing fashions of today.

Mr. Collins pointed out the need of conservatism in dress is one which is well grounded, and took issue with the prevailing impression that women must change their style of dress with the seasons if they wished to be fashionable. He said that if a woman exercised care in her purchases she could wear a gown two or perhaps three seasons, and in order to impress this point he produced a model who wore a gown designed three seasons ago, with only a few touches in trimming and sleeve-cut making it the latest in style. He also laid stress upon the need for good materials.

Interest seemed to centre in the length of the skirt, which is to be eight and one-half inches from the ground, if women are to follow the dictates of Mr. Collins. He explained that this applied to street costume alone, for evening gowns will be considerably longer, some of them reaching to within three inches of the floor.

"There seems to be a positive inclination to lengthen the skirts here, although the skirt length will not drop as it has in Paris," said Mr. Collins. "This year we will find them eight or nine inches from the floor and perhaps a little longer next year."

"Except in the case of a few exaggerated models that have reached the public either from abroad or from the more extreme designers here, the silhouette has remained the same for many seasons. The variation has been in the trimmings, such as the panels and soft effects that can be added to the taste of popular demand. The silhouette found night after night at the Metropolitan Opera House, where the best-dressed women of the country assemble, has not changed in the last ten years."

"Nor are we to have a much corrected figure again. Such echoes have reached us from Paris, but when these rumors were followed to their source it has been found that the designer of Paris decried that the well-dressed woman should wear a girde or something in the nature of a corset to hold the garment in place."

GOING TO CHINA

ON MISSION WORK

Miss Agnes Christie, daughter of the late Rev. Mr. Christie, missionary of the Presbyterian Church to Trinidad, was on Tuesday night designated as missionary to China in Fort Massey Church, Halifax, of which she was formerly a member. A large congregation was present. Rev. Dr. Falconer addressed the young missionary, lauding her noble self-sacrifice. Dr. G. Ernest Forbes of Scotsburn, Pictou county, convenor of the foreign mission board of the maritime synod, and Rev. Dr. Innes of Hanport, a former missionary to the New Hebrides, spoke, and Dr. John Stewart led in prayer. A gift in the form of a wrist watch was presented to Miss Christie from her friends in Fort Massey church.

Her, George E. Christie, of Alberton, P. E. I., a brother of the prospective missionary, read the lesson of the evening. Miss Christie intends to visit her brother in Prince Edward Island for a few weeks, and will leave the first part of September for China, the scene of her missionary labors.

BLISTERS EPIDEMIC.

Kissing Being Blamed and Osculation May Be Banned.

Unlton, Pa., Aug. 12.—Kissing is blamed by physicians of this city for the spread of an epidemic of blisters, which has now grown to such proportions that the board of health may be called on to place a ban on osculation until such time as the disease has abated or disappeared entirely.

Local physicians are authority for the statement that there are hundreds of cases of a skin disease here which spreads in a manner similar to nocardia until such time as the disease has abated or disappeared entirely.

While not all the persons affected with the "blisters" are in their teens and early twenties, a great majority of them are at what is known as the "kissing age." The hint dropped yesterday that the board of health might be asked to declare kissing taboo until such time as the "blisters epidemic" has subsided, has aroused a strong protest from all over the city.

THE LATE MRS. EDDY. (Halifax Chronicle.) Mrs. E. B. Eddy, whose untimely death at her home in Ottawa we regret to announce today, has been called away from a life of great usefulness and service in Canada. Her name will always be honored in Nova Scotia for the munificence of her benefaction to Dalhousie University in the gift of $200,000 for the foundation of a residence for women students. It was, we believe, the largest gift ever made by a woman to educational institutions in Canada, and it was characteristic of her public spirited action that her gift was made with no conditions, not that she was not deeply interested in the way her money was to be expended, but that she left it entirely in the hands of the competent authorities of the university. Mrs. Eddy's great desire to make a worthy contribution to higher education in Nova Scotia, with which she had intimate family associations, and to which she was warmly attached, and in providing a home for the women students at Dalhousie she found the opportunity which she desired and rendered a really great service to the cause of education in the maritime provinces. During her visit to Dalhousie last autumn she not only endeared herself to the student body by her charm of personality, but she won golden opinions on all sides by her sincerity and business ability and her genuine eagerness to be helpful without asserting herself in any manner. She went over to the building of the Women's Residence, which plans for "Shirreff Hall," in memory of her parents, making suggestions for changes or improvements only when they seemed additional comfort and privileges for the students women students. It was to be during that university course. She was looking forward to return visit to inspect the progress of the building and Dalhousians were anticipating the visit with pleasure, for she was a woman whom they delighted to honor for her own sake as well as for her noble benefactions. There will be profound sorrow in the university and among its friends that

GARDEN PARTY IS A HUGE SUCCESS

Lanyon will give musical entertainment in the evening. Among those present was J. D. O'Connell, the orphan's friend who added many more to his already large host of friends. Those in charge of the various booths and games and the prizes for the games are as follows: Bagatelle, John Filmore, fountain pen, ring toss, Fred Wilmore, gent's prize, watch fob, ladies' prize, ruby pin with gold setting; among-the-estate, Percy Nichols, umbrella; real estate, Harry Ellis, load of coal; air gun, W. Introduced by Philadelphia's First Woman Police Officer. (New York Times.) Marguerite Walz, the first woman police officer of Philadelphia, introduced her tango trot at the opening session of the International Dancing Masters' Association at the Hotel McAlpin yesterday. The dance was endorsed with much acclaim, and the general prediction was that it would lead in popularity among the new season dances. There has long been a leaning to the tango steps, but the tango music has never been wholly favored, and the new step is a pleasant merging of the better features of the tango and the fox trot, to fox-trot music. Following the acceptance of her dance, Miss Walz said that municipal block parties in Philadelphia are held weekly in which thousands take part, and in which dancing is the chief feature. She said that the purpose of the organization was to elevate dancing and

Where Our Hair Came From

Microscopical drawings of the hair of a woman, the scale of a snake and the feather of a bird, proving that each is built up of tiny, horny plates

And the Discovery of an Astonishing Dinosaur That Proves Woman's Tresses, the Snake's Scales, the Bird's Feathers and the Porcupine's Quills Are All One and the Same Thing

TO THE lovely lady brushing her luxuriant locks before the mirror it will probably be a shock to learn that science is now sure that her silken tresses, the scales of the snake, the quills of the porcupine, the feathers of the bird and the spines of a prehistoric dinosaur are literally one and the same thing.

To the baldheaded man, on the other hand, it will probably be a crumb of comfort to know that in shedding his thatch he has gotten rid of certain indubitable evidence of his reptilian origin.

To the poet hair is "woman's crowning glory"; to the lover it is just a plain miracle of beauty; to the barber it is a hollow tube which he hypnotizes the uninformed into thinking can "be sealed up" by singeing so it won't bleed to death and fall out. But science, with its eye glued to the microscope, has known for a decade that a hair is just a flexible column of tiny, overlapping, horny plates about as hollow as a stack of dishes.

It has, furthermore, long suspected it to be only a variation by nature of the skin of the serpent, the shell of the turtle, the plumes of the winged peoples of the air, and with its coloring due to exactly the same causes that make the diamond-back rattle the leadly blond of its family and the bird of paradise the Beau Brummel of the feathered races.

By the discovery of the complete fossil of a most spectacular dinosaur, a prehistoric monster that lived on the Isle of Wight all of 100,000,000 years ago, all these suspicions of science have been confirmed and it is now able to tell you exactly where we got our hair and how. The reason for the belated announcement, just published in the English scientific journals, is almost as curious as the discoveries themselves.

It seems that Dr. D. W. S. Watson, who is the foremost British expert in such matters, had the study of the dinosaurs in hand. He had barely time to christen it Polacanthus—meaning "many spined"—before the ex-Kaiser started marching his troops into Belgium. Dr. Watson, who is no relation, by the way, of the Boswell of the famous Sherlock Holmes, and who, indeed, can deduce more from one fossil tooth than Doyle's super-detective could from a hundred sets of modern false ones—Dr. Watson happened to be also the best swordsman in England. The military authorities therefore took him from his laboratories and set him to work training soldiers to cut up the Germans scientifically.

None of Dr. Watson's colleagues would touch the dinosaur, because that would not have been ethical. Hence Polacanthus had to stay on the shelf until the war was over.

As soon as the armistice was signed Dr. Watson went back to his Isle of Wight fossil. The results of his study of it since then have given it the title of "the father of hair," since it was the first creature with a hair upon earth!

It has proven that science was exactly right in thinking that Mary Pickford's curls, the fur of animals, the scales of serpents, quills of the porcupine, plates of the turtle and the armadillo and the plumes of the birds and a host of other interesting things are exactly the same thing in the last analysis. Quite a lot of information to come from one 100,000,000-year-old fossil!

This dinosaur Polacanthus carried on its hide the whole evolutionary process of hair making. It had great plates for armor. These plates were made up of all kinds of scales. These scales in turn changed its places into spines, the spines here and there softened down into quills and the quills into coarse hairs. Polacanthus, in fact, carried on its back the whole hair factory that was a living illustration of how the hair developed from the huge, coarse plates that guarded its vital organs.

Now, while the dinosaurs were originally not included in the line of direct descent of man and mammals, it is a fact that more and more scientists are coming to think that some way, somehow, they stamped their characteristics on all living things! In other words, science is slowly and reluctantly admitting the reptilian monsters to the shade of the family tree of man. There is no doubt, of course, that the birds came from them. The peculiarities of Polacanthus have done much to insure their place in the immemorial temples of our heredity.

Looking at Mary Pickford's pretty curls, the admiration of millions, you would not think that they are just the same stuff as bird's feathers and snake's scales are made of. But science says, like every woman's, they are!

From the study of him it now seems that our hair came about this way: First, there was a reptilian ancestor with huge plates for skin. Through certain causes some of these plates became smaller and changed in shape. Between them then began to grow short spines or quills. All these plates and spines were, however, made up of horny scales. And again, after a long while, millions of years undoubtedly, these spines grew longer and thinner and became coarse hairs.

When the mammals began to evolve,

The Polacanthus dinosaur, which roamed the swamps 100,000,000 years ago and was the first creature on earth to have hair bounds like the gliders which give speed to the aeroplane, gradually changed their scales into the form of feathers.

The porcupine and his kind, specializing in self-defense, did not let their spines fine down into the hairs which would be useless to them to keep off attack.

The turtle and armadillo found the old plates perfectly satisfactory and kept themselves hairless.

This process of specialization, as the evolutionist call it, went on through the whole mammalian species. The arrangement of scales that make up the fur of every animal is different.

And the scales that make up the hair of the Caucasian belle, the African beauty, the yellow and the brown charms, are just as different.

The lens reveals not only the race of the woman to whom the hair belonged, but also her nationality—geographically speaking—by the varying arrangement of these microscopically small scales, which are what the ancient reptilian armor plates have shrunk to!

Of this dinosaur Polacanthus only one specimen exists. The fact that it lay imbedded in the shaly clay beds of the Isle of Wight explains how its outlines were enough preserved to warrant such minute observations. It is thus described:

"Probably not much over three feet high, walking on all fours, and probably not much over twelve feet in length. Its strongly marked bones with their large joints speak of immense muscular power. The shortness of limbs and the welding of loins and sacrum into a long, flexible rod suggest an absence of agile, lithesome movements. He was, apparently, a slow, vegetable feeder. The specimen may, however, be that of a young dinosaur. If so, the adults were of much greater size."

Most astonished were the scientists when through their examinations to find that a strange little creature called the echidna and which lives in Australia is apparently the direct descendant of Polacanthus. The echidna is part mammal, part bird and part reptile. It has the hairy spines of its old ancestors and a few more.

The children of the hairy dinosaur, it would seem, began to shrink in size. Just about the time the other creatures, their cousins, were changing into birds and mammals something happened that made the Polacanthus family stand still. It has stood still ever since and the echidna is what is left of it.

Dr. D. M. S. Watson, who found a colony of these strange, archaic creatures in Australia and studied them on the most intimate terms, thus describes them:

"The mother laid two little, truly reptilian eggs near the mouth of her very long burrow, where there was plenty of oxygen. She sat on the reptile eggs and hatched them, which was truly birdlike. The eggs were laid at the end of September and hatched in the middle of October. The infants came out of the shell, one-half inch long, absolutely naked. They had weak hind legs and strong forelegs, for burrowing. They grew to be two inches long in November and were ten inches long in February. There was still no trace of webs between the toes. They cling to mamma in the burrow for seven months, then cast loose to go their own gait. During the seven months in the burrow, they fed on milk which leaked through the pores of the skin of the maternal pouch. The females have no breasts, like mammals which bear their young alive. The adult beak is very soft and feels like a dog's nose, yet looks like a kid glove."

The queer little echidnas and the one fossil in the British Museum are all that remains of the old dinosaur Polacanthus as he was. But his scales and spines and bristles still live in the hair upon which we expend so much admiration, care and, when it leaves us, sorrow.

The question arises, of course, as to how the echidnas got all the way down to Australia, so far from the Isle of Wight, where their direct ancestors roamed. The answer is that in those days the present oceans did not exist. One could walk from Australia to Brazil and from Brazil to Europe.

Dr. Pruner-Bey, in his Memoires de la societe d'anthropologie, says that there is no test that has proved, on repeated examination, to be a safer one of racial purity than the quality of hair. The hair of an individual bears the stamp of his origin, he avers.

In conclusion, here are some curious, little known facts about hair. Straight hair is the longest, woolly the shortest. In the Chinese and Indian races the hair of men grows as long as women's—sometimes nine feet. In European man's hair left uncut grows on the average twelve to sixteen inches while women's grow to between twenty-five and thirty inches. The hairiest races are the Australians and the Tasmanians. Traces of a hairy tribe almost as furred as the monkeys are found among the Russian peasantry. The least hairy races are the yellow, the Indians and the Mongols.

There are no red haired races. A red haired girl is a freak, scientifically speaking. A beautiful freak as a rule, but still no less a freak.

There never was a red haired dinosaur.

The Echidna, part mammal, part bird, part reptile, the only living descendant of the hairy dinosaur the scales and plates decreased in size and the hair—which, it must be remembered, is, under the microscope, nothing but a great number of scales built up in a certain fashion—became thicker.

When man finally appeared the plates of his reptilian ancestors had softened and shrunk into what we call our skin. Under the microscope this is seen to be only myriads of tiny scales which we shed continually. The reptilian spines became our hair.

The snakes, not needing hirsutage because of their crawling habits, kept the old plates in the modified form of the scales that now cover them.

The reptilian ancestors of the birds, first taking the air by great leaps and more often a symptom of a female

Mothers! Keep Syrup Pepsin Handy

An absolute household necessity, a wonderful emergency remedy for constipation. Someone may need it any minute!

ALL in the family look to the mother for guidance and advice in the multitude of little disorders that arise almost daily. Chief of the minor ailments are those that precede or follow constipation. The experienced mother will tell this one to exercise more and that one to cut down on certain binding foods, but these cautions fall abo-as to advise medicine.

Modern people are getting away from the notion that simple constipation, a headache, biliousness, colds, feverishness, indigestion, require a drastic, weakening drug. They take a teaspoonful or less of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, which is but a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin. The full formula is on every package. It is a mild, gentle remedy that does not grip-or weaken. The taste is syrupy and pleasant, and as it is free from narcotics and mercurials, mothers have for thirty years past felt safe in giving it to infants.
A sixty-cent bottle will last a family month, and it is guaranteed to produce the results claimed or your money will be refunded.

You will find nothing better for disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels than this same Dr.
Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin.
A member of the family can use it with safety and feel sure of results. Many thousands of families are never without a bottle in the house, and last year over eight million bottles were sold in drug stores, the largest sale of its kind in the world.

These believers in Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin no longer take calomel or castor oil, salt waters, physics or purgatives even if made into a sugar-coated pill, for they have learned that they can get better, safer and more agreeable results with Dr.
Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin.
If you will once bring a sixty-cent bottle into your home and take a teaspoonful the next time you feel constipated you will never thereafter be without it.

Try It FREE

There are heads of families who want to prove to their own satisfaction that Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin is as pleasant-tasting and safe as it is effective in action, as a effective in action. Let such write me

BUSINESS CONDITIONS.

The Bank of Commerce report on Canadian business conditions for the month of July makes the following interesting comment: No important changes occurred in the general industrial situation during July. While in some districts factories closed, in others greater activity was reported, but on the whole fewer hands were employed than at the same period a year ago. Orders from retailers continue to be of a hand-to-mouth character and consumers are displaying similar caution. The severe decline in prices of agricultural products has resulted in a diminished volume of purchases by farmers, who are not adding to their plant by way of new implements or buildings, but are pursuing the same cautious policy in this respect as in the case of personal requirements. Prices of agricultural products now average 37 per cent in excess of the prices of 1914, whereas prices of many of the requirements of the farmer still remain 100 per cent, in excess of the average for 1914. Under such conditions it cannot be expected that the farmers will be liberal purchasers, nor are they likely to be until there is a general re-adjustment of prices. The most hopeful feature of the situation is the outlook on the prairie provinces for a yield of wheat which may reach between 250 and 260 million bushels.

LOST—POCKETBOOK, CONTAINING sum of money, 2 return tickets to Owen Sound, Ontario, family. In due time the little girl became a teacher, then a contributor to the Boston Youth's Companion, and Canadian periodical literature and the writer of books. Incidentally the writer and teacher became Mrs. McClung, a mother of four charming children. An attractive, resourceful person, a fluent and pleasant speaker, Mrs. McClung will be welcomed to the public life of Canada. (Montreal Herald.)

Among the striking personalities entering upon public life as the outcome of the recent provincial election in Alberta, is Mrs. Nellie McClung, long known as a pleasing writer. Her first book, "Sowing Seeds in Danny," written in an original, breezy style which won attention and was followed by "The Second Chance," which caught the public as a forceful public speaker and lecturer, a vigorous temperance advocate and an active Methodist. Mrs. McClung has been a person to be reckoned with in the west. Her platform activities have featured the Liberal party and now she enters the legislature as a supporter of that party. Her campaign was opened on the same platform with Premier Stewart, and whatever may be his future, Mrs. McClung takes her seat in the provincial parliament as a Liberal. In the early days of the west, a Canadian Irish family named Mooney migrated to the country beyond Winnipeg, and Nellie was one of the little girl members of that Owen Sound, Ontario, family. In due time the little girl became a teacher, then a contributor to the Boston Youth's Companion, and Canadian periodical literature and the writer of books. Incidentally the writer and teacher became Mrs. McClung, a mother of four charming children. An attractive, resourceful person, a fluent and pleasant speaker, Mrs. McClung will be welcomed to the public life of Canada.

FISHERMEN RUINED
BY TOO MANY FISH

More Caught Than Can be Handled—Catchers are Idle All Along Coast.

Paris, Aug. 12.—In the sea round the coast of Brittany there are just now so many fish anxious to be caught that they have ruined the fishermen.

Along the whole coast line in every port both the little and big boats are idle and thousands of fishermen stand round smoking—and swearing that never were there such bad times, because there never were so many fish. Another miraculous season like this, they declare, and they will be out of business.

If they go out one day a week they catch as many sardines and mackerel and other fish as they used to catch in seven days, and the price they get for them is comparatively, in the purchasing power of money, less than half the year's prices. Especially the sardine trade has suffered. There are so many sardines that the canning factories cannot cope with the supply, even when the fishermen work a short week, and almost every day millions of the little fish are thrown out to make fertilizer for the fields. Canners, too, have now exhausted the supply of tin and have begun closing down their factories in the very middle of what used to be the season.

The disparity between the cheapness of their fish and the dearth of meat, vegetables and food generally, is what has principally caused the stoppage of work among the fishermen. They are trying desperately to withhold supplies to support their market, and as if to spite them, the sea continues to yield a harvest such as it has never done before.

Along the coast and among wholesale buyers the price of all kinds of fish has fallen to a mere fraction of what it was last year. But, in spite of the fall in price at the coast it is a remarkable fact that, in Paris and especially in Paris restaurants, the price of sole is five times what it was before the war. Evidently the cost lies in the cooking.

CLERICAL ERROR
FREES PRISONER

Montreal Man, Sentenced to Three Months, Let Go, as Mistake Appeared on Commitment.

Montreal, Aug. 12.—A clerical error on the commitment which has freed Joseph Desrochers from serving three months in jail here. It was discovered that a mistake had been made in dates. Desrochers was sentenced on June 20 by Judge Degré for an offence committed, according to the commitment warrant on "June 23." Today he was liberated from all liability under the sentence by judgment of Mr. Justice Cousineau in the Superior Court.

It was held that the error was more than a clerical error—it was an error of substance which rendered conviction and sentence null and void.

The charge against Desrochers was that he had sold intoxicating liquor without permission of the liquor commission. It was shown that the actual date of the offence charged was "May 25," not "June 23."

RAIN DOES MUCH TO STEAM FLAMES

Situation Improved in Westfield Area Today—Vigilance Still Maintained However.

Rain this morning, following a heavy drizzle, fell like a benediction upon the fire-stricken area of Westfield, accomplishing more in five minutes than an army of men could do in five days. Early this morning there was a heavy fog and about ten o'clock this developed into a drizzle succeeded later by a steady rain. When a few weeks ago, rain fell in the scorched district it was hoped that it would effectually quench the flames, but it was not of sufficient duration or quantity to do more than dampen the surface. Today after a week of almost uninterrupted fine weather, the rain has set in again and is earnestly to be hoped that this time it will come in sufficient quantities to remove every vestige of danger and allow the residents of Westfield and vicinity to breathe freely once again. Vigilance will not be relaxed until there is no doubt that the danger is over.

Fighters' Comfort
 Commissioner Bullock said this morning that G. H. Prince, chief forester for New Brunswick, who is in charge of fire-fighting operations in the Westfield district had telephoned to the city this morning for more blankets for the use of his men. Six hundred men are concentrated around Westfield, Nerepis, Sonnets and Grand Bay and much food and many blankets are required for their comfort.

Need More Rain.
 According to a statement made last evening by G. H. Prince, chief forester for New Brunswick, positively nothing but heavy rain will remove the peril to surrounding villages lurking in the forest fires in the Westfield district. The situation last night was more encouraging than it has been at any time since Saturday. Mr. Prince made a plea for ceaseless vigilance on the part of all to defeat and stamp out any new fire wherever it might start. He spoke highly of the excellent work being done by the fire-fighters, a heavy fog yesterday was of great aid in curtailing the further spread of the fire.

SCHOONER ASHORE AT MUSQUASH

The vessel was bound from Meteghan to this port in ballast. The message said that the captain and crew were safe and that the vessel was in a favorable position. She is owned and commanded by Capt. Edward Dicks of Charlottetown, and had just been extensively repaired at Meteghan. The tug Lord Beatty left this morning to render assistance and, if possible, she will be towed to this port.
