FROM PUSH-CART TO PRESIDENT

(By the Associated Negro Press)

Chicago, Ill., Oct.—China, the ancient nation of more than 400,000,000 people, has given another rude jolt to the theory of "white superiority." This nation, which has had a republican form of government for many years, has recently lifted to the office of President, a man from the ranks of the so-called coolie class. This class is supposed to be of the lowest order in Chinese development. So remarkable is the incident that it is being widely commented on throughout the entire world. The Chinese are "Colored" people, as distinctive from "white", which the Ku Klux insists must ever continue to rule the world. Says the Chicago Tribune about the new Chinese President.

Tsao Kun, born a coolie in Tientsin, China, where he grew to the normal position of his class, that of pushcart man, has been elected President of China. For an American rail splitter to become President of the United States is not astonishing, but for a coolie to become President of China may give us food for thought. "For a nation which has been socially stratified and ossified for countless centuries, the breakup of such social organization must be a seismic disturbance of no less potential importance than the earthquake which has shaken Japan. It may mean unlimited things for China. It speaks more highly for the capabilities of Tsao Kun than could any rise from obscurity to greatness for a free American. This coolie President has not only risen above his 400,000 fellow coolies, but has risen against obstacles such as few other races have known.

"It is an inspiring example of the potential powers and possibilities of the human mind. There is almost nothing which the brain and character of man cannot achieve. Tsao Kun graduated from boyhood to a pushcart. Evidently he had both natural brains and ambition. He entered the lowly trade of the soldier, and seeing opportunities which he could not grasp because of ignorance, managed to gain entry to the military academy. With that much of education he rose steadily to the position of marshal, inspector general of Chihli, Shantung, and Honan,

COLORED OFFICERS MAKE GOOD

(By The Associated Negro Press)

St. Louis, Mo., Oct.—Any doubt that might have existed as to the efficiency of colored police has long since been dissipated in this city by the excellent record of those who have been put on the force the last two years. The colored districts where they have been used have had the very best protection against crime it is possible for any force to give. Colored citizens respect uniformed men of their own and give them co-operation which has been productive of the very best results. If there was ever any doubt as to the wisdom of employing Negro police—and there used to exist some in high police circles—it has given place to commendation of their work. More could be used with much profit to the city.

"Whatever he may now be able to do with stricken and prostrate China, he has proved that within himself there is something greater than all the caste rules and prejudices, all the social and political customs, and all the other obstacles in the Chinese system. Whatever he may be a month or a year hence, at this moment he is a man in 400,000,000, and ought to be an inspiration to the millions of potential presidents in the United States."

PROTECTING COLORED FOLKS

(By The Associated Negro Press)

Pittsburgh, Oct.—Every available deputy sheriff and county detective has been ordered to Stowe Township to protect the lives and properties of the Negroes who refused to heed the orders of the self-constituted Vigilance Committee instructing all Southern Negroes to leave the neighborhood immediately.

The colored residents in the main have refused to obey the orders of the self-constituted Vigilance Committee, although 200 or 300 left. Those who remained sought legal aid and found that the city and county authorities were disposed to aid them.

The threats of violence made by the Vigilantes were prompted by the killing of Thomas Rowland, who it is said had been playing craps with some of the Negro workmen and an attempt at assault on his granddaughter. The police will continue in charge of the district until all trouble is over.

SIGNAL HONOR FOR COLORED MUSICIANS

(By The Associated Negro Press)

Miss Marian Anderson, the celebrated contralto, pupil of Giuseppe Boghetti, has been engaged to appear as soloist with the Philharmonic Society of Philadelphia this season. Joseph Pasternack, widely known in musical circles, is head of the society. This is a great achievement in the music career of Miss Anderson, and she enjoys a distinction not otherwise paralleled, this being the first time an artist of color has appeared with this great musical organization.

On the announcement of the season's plans for the Boston Symphony Orchestra, Roland Hayes, noted Negro singer, is the only tenor soloist to appear with the organization during the coming year. Mr. Hayes has met with phenomenal success in Europe, where he has enjoyed the proud distinction of appearing as soloist with the most prominent symphony orchestras, as well as in recitals, and wherever he has appeared he has won unstinted praise from the highest critics on the continent. He will appear as soloist with the Boston Symphony Orchestra in Boston, and also in New York City. Later on in the season Mr. Hayes will start on a concert tour of the principal cities of the United States.

Sanhedrin Postponed Till February Next

(By The Associated Negro Press)

Washington, D.C., Oct.—The Sanhedrin or All Race Conference has been postponed from the week of November 5th to February 11th, 1924, it was announced by Prof. Kelly Miller here this week. Prof. Miller stated that the All Race Conference Committee met and decided that while the meeting would be held in Chicago as planned, that on account of the enormous amount of preliminary work this change of date was necessary. Prof. Miller said that unusual interest was being exhibited throughout the country and stated that "we are looking for a great meeting with far-reaching outcome in February."

THE BETTER CLASS OF COLORED IMMIGRANTS

We have heard so much of the poor and ignorant colored people who are leaving the South and invading the north, the east and the west till many perhaps are lead to believe that it is only the poverty stricken and illiterate who are migrating. Such, however, is not the case. Business and professional men are leaving the south in as large numbers, proportionately as are the laboring classes. This is evidenced by the fact that in every northern, eastern and western city, business enterprises among colored people have more than trebled within the past decade. And what is true of the colored business world is also true in the professional realm. This class of citizens have brought with them a large amount of capital as well as a very high standard of thrift, industry and professional efficiency.

In many of the western and northern states many colored people have purchased farms consisting of from 50 to 200 acres. In most cases their farms have been paid for in full. They have invaded every phase of the business world—from banking to bootblackening—from restaurants to real estate; in short, they have entered every kind of legitimate business and their business places and business methods are a credit to America. When the south lost this class of citizens she also lost millions of dollars of invested capital, and before many more moons this loss will tell on the south, for the south is at best none too well off in ready capital. Southerners with vision, see what a great catastrophe threatens their country through the loss of these people, which of course, accounts for their change of attitude in many southern centres. As for instance in Atlanta, Ga., $1,179,270.50 has been appropriated for the building of public and high schools for colored children. This amount represents more money than has been spent for school building in Atlanta for all the people since the Civil War.

If then these colored citizens are adding so materially to the wealth and prosperity of the north, east and west, if even Georgia will spend a million and a quarter dollars in an attempt to keep them in the south, should we not make an effort to induce such people to come to Canada?

Canada, as well as the south, needs capital to develop her resources as well as she needs many honest toilers and satisfied laborers. In a conversation with one of our foremost statesmen, he made the following remarks: "What hinders the colored people's progress in this country more than anything else is their lack of sufficient numbers." I am inclined to agree with that statement. If we could increase our colored population from 18,000 to 80,000 or say 1,800,000 and if this increase could be had from the better class of the southern immigrants, not only would we, as a race, be benefited, but all Canada would be benefited. But how is it possible to get this class of citizens without bringing in the undesirables, you ask? Simply by co-operating with our leading race men in the larger centres across the border, and with the immigration officers. Suppose we informed the better class of colored citizens in quest for homes, that Ontario and many other parts of Canada contains some of the richest farming land to be found in North America? Suppose we told them of Buxton, a settlement of colored people, where farms may be bought and businesses developed and the professions practiced? Suppose they were told that many of our professional men have more white patrons than colored? Suppose we told them that the wealth of our country has barely been touched and that Canada is calling for men of brains, brawn, capital and character? Canada needs men who are real men: we need more of our kith and kin. Therefore there should be a joint effort among white and colored citizens to secure some of these desirable immigrants. We are therefore sending out a call to all who would be interested and especially to our preachers, church members and to all of our best citizens for co-operation in an effort to secure some of the desirable colored immigrants from the south. The manner in which you respond to this call will show the interest which you have in your country, your race, your own and your children's future and our children's children's children's future.

To The Dawn of Tomorrow:
Dear Editor:

Please permit me to express through your valuable columns my impression of your paper and some reasons why it should have the patronage and support of every member of the race and their friends in the Dominion.

The Dawn of Tomorrow is just what the colored people in the advancing age need. It neither attempts to take the place nor reduce the value of any other paper, but it fills an empty space of its own. It strikes the key note of the silent tune that our people have long wanted to hear.

First it is a historical school of the achievements of the black race in the world, which should be inspiring to all of its readers. It molds a useful acquaintance and a united relation among the members of our race, in Canada and in all parts of the world where it is read, and when a right relation exists in any race it introduces the spirit of brotherhood with other races, which is the world's great need in this age.

The Amherstburg Regular Baptist Association was attracted by the pleasing results growing out of the new tune played by the valuable paper, and saw the rays of its light illuminating the path of progress; and said it was good. In the last regular session at Chatham, Ont. in September, by vote without a single objection, The Dawn of Tomorrow was adopted as the official organ of the Association, and all of the people were asked to read the paper weekly.

We kindly ask our white friends as well as colored to read The Dawn of Tomorrow.

Corner Stones

(Psalm 144:12)

By S. E. G. Allen

It was a wish uttered by the psalmist centuries ago and has never been revoked, but has echoed and re-echoed in multitudes of hearts, that our daughters may be as corner stones, polished after the similitude of a palace. Every true hearted parent knows what that means, and every true hearted daughter's ambition should be to excel in whatever sphere she finds herself, bringing to it every gift she possesses, that she may indeed be a corner stone, a true support.

Was it not Talmadge who once said that the great majority of women had not yet come into the usefulness for which Christ intended them. If woman is ever to fill this sphere in the full measure of her possibilities, she must enter it when young. It is impossible to suddenly emerge, as does the full grown moth from the chrysalis, from a life of self-indulgent ease or devotion to purely social claims, into that "Product of Christ's redemptive work," a true and noble Christian womanhood.

Daughters as corner stones. Does it not mean sons? No the passage means just what it says. It is a trite, yet true saying, that woman is the foundation of the home, and with her rests much of the responsibilities of the moral and spiritual tone of the home. And so the young woman does not live whom God is not calling into active service in His vineyard, that the almost limitless powers in her nature be unfolded, and the latent excellencies be vivified and developed. Character is not the work of a day, but a life. It is the result of patient, continuous and unflinching abnegation of self, and conscious work for Christ, without which the highest type of character or usefulness is impossible. In every human soul are infinite possibilities of good, and the earlier in life the activities of Christian usefulness are entered upon, the broader and grander will the outcome be.

As every young woman is consciously or unconsciously helping to mould the character of those she mingles with, she most surely recognizes this fact, and consecrates her power and influence to a right purpose, not only most solidly builds for herself, but most surely aids in the development of the highest standard of character in those around her, and sets in motion heavenly influences that will last for aye. Just as the odor of mignonette penetrates and fills with its fragrance all the atmosphere around, so the perfume of a true and noble womanhood enters and diffuses its sweetness in the consciousness of every life with which it comes in contact.

Negro Insurance Co's And Negro Health

(By The Associated Negro Press)
Kansas City, Mo., Oct.—C. C. Spaulding, President of the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company, will address the Annual Conference of the National Urban League here on Thursday, October 18. His subject will be "The Contribution of Negro Life Insurance Companies to Negro Health." It is expected that Mr. Spaulding's address will attract deep interest and wide discussion.

He has at his disposal statistics collected by his own company over a period of twenty-five years, as well as an intimate knowledge of what is being done to improve Negro Health by all the Negro companies. The public will doubtless be surprised as well as enlightened to learn what the Life Insurance companies of our own race have found out about Negro mortality and what they have and are planning to do to lessen the hold of disease upon our people.

Mr. Spaulding, President of the largest Negro Life Insurance Company in the world, and also President of the National Negro Insurance Association, is particularly fitted to discuss this subject. He built the North Carolina Mutual with the aid and counsel of such men as John Merrick, Dr. A. M. Moore, John Avery and a corps of efficient and loyal agents and employees. But Spaulding has done the real work in the perfecting of the organization. He has been office boy, janitor, agent. In fact, he knows the details of every part of the work. He has been a particular student of Negro Health conditions. The success of the North Carolina Mutual has largely been due to his knowledge of health conditions among Negroes, which made it possible for him to safeguard mortality losses in his company. The methods that have been adopted by the North Carolina Mutual and their effect upon mortality results as will be outlined by Mr. Spaulding will prove to be an interesting and worth-while addition to the discussions at the Urban League Conference.

France Bans "Birth of a Nation"

Paris, Oct. 12—The authorities have again forbidden showing of the motion picture, "The Birth of a Nation" until all scenes containing negroes or the Ku Klux Klan have been eliminated. Such censorship of the picture, which was to have been exhibited to-day, would make it valueless, say the owners of the film, as quoted by the Herald. Unless the Government's decision is reconsidered they intimate that they intend to enter suit against the Government for an indemnity of 2,000,000 francs, inasmuch as they have entered into contracts to the amount of 3,000,000 francs. —From Toronto Telegram.

AFRICAN REBELS

(By The Associated Negro Press)
Dakar, French West Africa, Sept. 30 —Armed with modern firearms, a strong force of African rebels wiped out an entire French garrison down near Timbuctoo last week. The natives in that section have been very restless during the past two years. The governor general has organized a force to punish the offenders. No one here appears to know where the rebels got their firearms.

What-Not Column

Who was Charles E. Nash?

Conspicuous in the Negro annals of the Civil War, is the case of Charles E. Nash. He received a primary education in the school of New Orleans, but had educated himself largely by his own efforts. In 1863 he enlisted in the 83rd Regiment, United States Chasseurs d'Afrique and became acting sergenat-major of that command. At the storming of Fort Blakely he lost a leg and was honorably discharged. He later became a member of the United States House of Congress.

What Negro Soldier rode horseback from Xenia, Ohio, to Washington, D.C. to prove his fitness for War Service?

During the World War, Colonel Charles Young was disqualified as being physically unfit, despite the fact that he rode horseback all the way from Xenia, Ohio, to Washington, D. C., nearly 500 miles in 75 hours, walking 15 minutes out of every hour. In September 1921, while serving as Military Attache of the U.S. Government in Liberia, he was dispatched on confidential business down the West Coast. He died in Lagos, Nigeria, West Africa, in January 1922, and his remains were brought home and interred with full military honors, in Arlington Cemetery on June 1st, 1922.

From whence did come the scale of the English and American Courts as they exist today?

If you will read Exodus, 18th Chapter 12 to 27 verses, you will be convinced that the scale of English and American Courts as they exist today, came from Jethro, a priest of Midian, who was the father-in-law of Moses. Jethro, who before attaining the priesthood, was called Rueul, was the son of Esau and Adah, daughter of Elon, the Hittite, who was a Negro.

LONDON NOTES

Rev. Brasco of St. Paul, Minn. preached a soul stirring sermon last Sunday evening at the Hill Street Baptist Church.

B.M.E. Church Notes

The services in the B.M.E. Church on Sunday proved sufficiently interesting to attract a splendid audience both morning and evening.

The infant son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Chandler of 1201 Trafalgar Street were baptized by Rev. F. O. Stewart, on Sunday, Sept. 30th.

The Brotherhood of the B. M. E. Church, attended the mass meeting in the St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning last.

Remember the masquerade social on Tuesday, Oct. 30th by the J. C. L. our young people's club. Give them your support and put this over with a bump.

Beth-Emanuel is a cosmopolitan church. You are invited to attend the services held there.

If you want to know what is going on in town or in the Dominion, read The Dawn of Tomorrow. If it does not impart the necessary news, nothing else will.

OAKVILLE NOTES

The services in Turner Chapel were as usual on Sunday last. The pastor preached splendid sermons to a large audience both morning and night.

The death of Mrs. Johnson, beloved wife of J. R. Johnson, occurred on Friday morning. Funeral services were held from Turner Chapel on Monday.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Amon Duncan was saddened when the mother of Mr. Duncan, who was brought from Chicago Ill. was buried from Turner Chapel on Monday.

Dr. Griffith Head of Vet. Hospital Washington, D. C., Oct.—It has been officially announced that Dr. Charles M. Griffith has been made head of the Veterans' Hospital No. 91, at Tuskegee, thereby supplanting Dr. Robert M. Stanley, who resigned and was appointed in New Mexico. Dr. Griffith was first assistant to Stanley. Attention has been called to the Civil Service Commission to the fact that colored applicants for the various positions have not materialized as rapidly as was hoped for. It is pointed out that there are many positions both professional and civil still unfilled and that colored control will be delayed until qualified people have been secured and shown themselves competent to handle the various duties. The Veterans' Bureau indicates that the chief issue involved is the best possible care of the patients, but that now the road is clear for colored people to assume the various positions, it is up to the group to produce the applicants for places. Colored physicians and civilians are being urged to apply and stand examination.

Colored People in Iowa
(By The Associated Negro Press)
Des Moines, Iowa, Oct.—The colored population has been much increased since the close of the late war. The exodus from the South has been the main source of the increase. S. Joseph Brown, a well-known colored attorney of this city, estimates that the colored people number now, 5,000 above the normal colored population of the State. Most of the immigrants have gone to the farms throughout the State.

LOVE DIVINE

(Rom. 13:10 "Love is the fulfilling of the law.")

By S. E. G. Allen

Love Divine, all love excelling
Fill this waiting heart of mine.
Every seed of sin expelling,
May I now be wholly Thine.

Take the heart to Thee devoted,
Mould and fashion as Thou wilt,
Hour by hour the work promoted,
May my life in Thee be built.

May Thy joy in me remaining,
Ever faithful make me be,
Till from every sin abstaining
I am hid with Christ in Thee.

CALL FOR COLORED RECRUITS

(Staff Correspondent for A.N.P.)
Nashville, Tenn., Oct.—An order has been received by the local U.S. Recruiting office to obtain as many enlistments of colored men for the Arm as possible. The enlistments of colored men in this section has been small and slow since the close of the War. Local colored men say that the response to the call will not be very enthusiastic at this time.

Refuses Donation from the Klan
(By The Associated Negro Press)
Kittanning, Pa., Oct.—Bishop Francis J. McConnell of the M.E. Church, while preaching a service last Sunday here, refused to receive a money contribution offered by a delegation of Klansmen. While the Bishop was preaching the Klansmen marched down the main aisle of the church, hooded and robed, and presented the purse of money. The Bishop unhesitatingly refused the offer.

COLORED WORKERS RETURN
(By The Associated Negro Press)
Spruce Pine, N.C., Oct.—All troops have been withdrawn from here by the governor and order has been pretty generally restored. Of the nearly two hundred colored workers who were driven from the town by white malcontents about one hundred have returned to work. The leaders of the mob which drove the colored people from their work will be arrested and prosecuted, so it is declared by the local police authorities.

Darker Races on the Increase
Philadelphia, Pa., Oct.—The school census for this year reveals that colored and Mongolian children have increased their attendance in the public schools and that the whites have fallen off in large numbers. There are 313,033 white children registered this year. This is a decrease of 34,944 under the registration of last year. Colored children have increased about 12 per cent. There are seventy more Japanese and Chinese children than were registered last year.

AN INTERESTING DEBATE
New York, Philadelphia, and Washington are looking forward to the debate on October 21st, when Leslie Pinkney Hill of Chainey and Chandler Owen of New York, meet and exchange their views on Segregation. The subject for discussion is "A Platform for Race Development."

ADMIT ABYSSINIA TO LEAGUE
(By The Associated Negro Press)
Geneva, Switzerland, Oct.—The abolition of slavery within her boundaries has resulted in Abyssinia being admitted to the League of Nations. This action was taken by the assembled delegates at the present session of the League.

VACATIONS

"Yeah, my wife and I have decided that for our vacations she will stay at home and I'll go to the seashore."

"Shucks! You call that a vacation?"
"Sure it is. She won't have to get up mornings and cook my breakfast and I won't have to get up and eat it! Ain't that vacation?"

COLORED MAN IS A GENIUS

Prof. G. W. Carver, of Tuskegee, Wizard of Chemistry

Not this race alone, but the entire South, takes pride in the achievements of that Negro wizard of chemistry, Professor George Washington Carver, of Tuskegee. In recognition of his monumental work, the National Association for Advancement of Colored People has awarded Carver the Spingarn medal, a testimonial of worth most highly prized by his race. It is a deserved tribute to his genius.

Carver, working quietly at the institution made famous by Booker T. Washington, claims his discoveries will change the economic life of the South. He is said to have made 118 products from the sweet potato and 165 from the peanut. In his chosen field of agricultural chemistry the Alabama Negro ranks high among the laboratory wizards of the world.

In the career of Carver there is inspiration and a lesson for every Southern Negro. The advantages he had were no greater than those that come to thousands of others of the race. He was determined to make the most of opportunities he had; he has succeeded surprisingly well. And he has remained in the South, where the Negro is better understood and rewarded more sympathetically than in any section of the country.

NORTH AINT SOUTH

(By The Associated Negro Press)
Chicago, Oct.—"North ain't South." Joseph Graziene, wealthy Italian of Hammond, Louisiana, found this out in Chicago. Marie Olmstead, a beautiful colored girl of Louisiana, had been kept in virtual slavery by Graziene. In fact, the Louisianan, according to evidence brought out in the case, had a "special liking" for the girl, who had been in his home, where the wife is an invalid.

Tiring of the treatment of Graziene, the girl came to Chicago. Detectives were placed on her trail, as well as members of the Klux. They learned of Miss Olmstead being in Chicago, and asked the authorities for her retention on a charge of taking a $5000 diamond ring.

Graziene came to Chicago, surrounded by a battery of Southern lawyers. Their case came up in Judge David's court. The lawyers, with true southern and Kluk standards of justice proceeded to show a deep point on why the girl should be sent back to the commonwealth of rice fields.

One of the attorneys began to use the term "Nigger". He was peremptorily reprimanded by Judge David, who informed the legal light that in the city of Chicago all men and women are referred to as "Mr. and Mrs. regardless of nationality", and if any further insults were indulged in someone would have to pay a fine for contempt.

False Charges Trumped

The upshot of the whole matter is: It was found that the affair had been trumped up; that a big diamond was practically one hundred per cent glass, and that it had been presented to the girl by Graziene. A watch was exhibited with the initials of M.O., which the girl alleges had been given her by Graziene.

The case developed into such a travesty, that the judge advised the prosecutor to drop it, and urged the attorneys for Miss Olmstead to turn tables and bring suit against Graziene, which they proceeded to do in the sum of $30,000.

Corner stones in every moral reform, and all Christian progress, our daughters should be, but for this, much training and preparation are required. "Polished after the similitude of a palace." No human soul ever flashed into the perfection of all the graces in a moment's time. Growth must be the order of our spiritual life, and obedience is the first lesson we are called on to learn. It was the test of our first parents in the Garden of Eden. It is your test and mine. How lustily we sing "Take my will and make it Thine", and just as long as our will happens to be on the side of God's, we get on all right, but the moment His will crosses ours we say "Not that, oh not that," and learn that our willingness to yield our will to the Divine is pretty much of a myth. As we rise in the morning with good aspirations, truly desiring to do what is right, there is no sin we would willfully commit, and we go from our knees to our daily duties with a new resolve. Suddenly, some irritating circumstance occurs, and how the old temper will flash up as we yield to the temptation to take some questionable advantage or we impugn the motives of someone aiming at reform, or we utter the unkind word that throws suspicion on some fair name and multitudes of other ways we do what as night draws her curtain and we review the events of the day, conscience will reprove. We almost lose heart and wonder if after all, God loves us, or why, when He knows we so wish to do right, does he not smoothe away every obstacle and put roses instead of thorns in our pathway.

What foolish children we are, truly but babes in Christ. If we could only see that all this discipline is but Christ's school for us. Trials or temptations permitted in tenderest love, instead of being stumbling blocks, should prove stepping stones to higher levels. How every murmuring thought should be stilled, and impatience lost in the persistent effort to rise from height to height. How should we learn the beautiful grace of patience if everything came to us as we wish, or the perseverance and courage that triumph over difficulties or obstacles if everything was secured to us without effort or endeavour? However distasteful an act may be in itself, if it touches us in our God appointed path it is God's will for us, and a golden opportunity given us to rise above trial and gather sweetness and strength that will fit us for life's duties here, and heaven hereafter.

How truly we need the Holy Spirit working in us, not only to will, but to do his good pleasure, so that we may be indeed corner stones, polished after the similitude of a palace.

EX-MAYOR ADDRESSES COMMITTEE OF HUNDRED

(By The Associated Negro Press)
 Waycross, Ga.,— Oct.—This progressive Georgia city was very much perturbed during the past few days over the report that a former mayor of the city had addressed the Negro Committee of One Hundred on the proposed One Hundred and Twenty-five Thousand Dollar School Bond issue.

The Business League, another local organization had committed itself in favor of the Bond issue without any assurance that the Negro would be considered beyond vague promises such as have again and again fallen flat after the election was over and the bond money was in hand to put up school buildings or to pave streets. The colored people are sick of meaningless promises and are somewhat inclined to rebuke those few leaders among them who are ever ready to "Fall to the Bosses" and to counsel the race to acquiesce, give in, surrender and look pleased. What the Negroes have gotten out of former bond issues can literally be carried off on a teaspoon. Fine school houses have been built in both the city and county for white children from bonds which Negroes largely helped to carry, and in the early stages of which the Negroes were made astounding promises of a fair consideration.

Ex-Mayor Scott T. Beaton, although a democrat, has consistently stood for a square deal between whites and blacks in all civic matters. It was upon the strength of this reputation that he was invited to address the Negro Committee of One Hundred, an organization consisting of One Hundred bona fide members, the best representatives of the race in this city.

"This morning I was stopped on the street and told that I was coming over here to discourage you from voting for bonds," said Mr. Beaton. "This is not my purpose at all. I am here simply to tell you how things appear to me and to give you my idea of the best method of handling the matter. The city collects $20.00 on a thousand on all property. If the schools got all that was collected from the raise this year there would not be much shortage, but the city gets $14.00 for collecting $6.00 for the schools. If the raise was intended just for the schools, the city got well paid for collecting it." In this vein, the speaker disclosed much of the inner workings of the city fathers in handling school funds. He urged his hearers to qualify to vote and to vote their convictions. After quoting figures to show how little of the amount the colored tax-payers received from the amount they paid in, Mr. Beaton said with emphasis, "That of your money that you do not receive a great percentage goes to educate white children. That ought not to be. This present bond issue gives you an opportunity to express your will in the matter. I am not telling you how to vote. Study the matter for yourself."
