REVENUE BOOMING

Canada's Receipts Last Month Were

Away Ahead. Ottawa, Sept. 1. - That Canadians have more money than ever has been in their pockets before is to be seen at a glance. One of the prime indicators of the existence of the growing time is evident by the statement of customs receipts for August, which was inet would be dismissed caused an unissued yesterday. The total amount of usual episode in the House of Assem- Are in Favor of Hague Arbitraing yesterday was $2,631,870 44, as speedy passage of the estimates, against $2,119,198 01 for August of last order to enable him to go to Rhodesia. year, the increase being the enormous sum of $512,672 43. In July of last year the figure was $2,436,491 81, admittedly a large sum, but the receipts for the month referred to were swelled because after its last day Germany and Belgium, non-British countries, were debarred from participating in the 25 per cent cut in duties, which they were granted before the denunciation by Great Britain of the treaties under which they were permitted to avail themselves of the advantages of the 808 75, as compared with July, 1898. Taking the two months together, the balance of gain this year is $29,863 68. From present indications the importations for September will also be unprecedentedly large.

FATAL QUARREL. Coleman, Mich., Sept. 1.-John E. Melcher and Wm. Graves have been having trouble over a piece of road which was used as a highway, and which Melcher persisted in closing up. Yesterday morning Melcher met Graves near the Graves' home, and they engaged in a quarrel, in which Graves was getting the better of Melcher, when Melcher drew a revolver and fired seven shots at Graves, one of which entered his left leg above the knee. During the shooting Mrs. Graves came out of the house with a rifle, and two men, whose names are unknown, relatives of Melcher, ran to her. They attempted to take the gun from her, but Graves ran to her assistance, and killed one of them and mortally wounded Mei-cher. Graves is in custody.

All Sorts of Carlist Rumors Afloat-New Postal Agreement-British Officer a Victim of the Plague at

AVERT A DISASTROUS WAR. Therefore, a prompt answer was requested. The note of Mr. Conyngham, Greene in reply was conciliatory and tantamount to an acceptance of the five-year offer. It agreed to waive the suggested commission of inquiry, provided a representative, to be appointed by Sir Airred Milner, should be given facilities in Pretoria to make an investigation of the franchise question and provided the report of such representative should prove satisfactory. Otherwise the Transvaal government was requested to await further suggestions from the imperial government before submitting new proposals to the Volksraad. Mr. Greene's note in conclusion suggested a further conference at Cape Town. KRUGER'S STATEMENT. President Kruger announced to the Volksraad that he had received a telegram from the governor of Mozambique saying the detained ammunition would be forwarded immediately. The entire correspondence between the imperial and Transvaal governments was read in open session and President Kruger asked the Raad to meet secretly for the purpose of considering a reply. President Kruger also claimed that in the convention of 1851 the suzerainty of Great Britain was distinctly stated. But, he added, there was no mention of it in the convention of 1884. He denied the government had

excluded the British from political rights. A member of the executive council explained that when the Transvaai's reply to the joint commission dispatch was ready, the secretary interviewed the British embassy delegate, Mr. Con-Ingham Greene, in consequence of which the last reply framed held that Mr. Chamberlain's dispatch was no reply to theirs. Mr. Greene then cabled to Great Britain certain suggestions, to which Great Britain replied that if the Transvaal made similar proposals they would be considered on their merits. President Kruger is not likely to agree to confer with Sir Alfred Milner at Cape Town, but he might go to Colesburg, just within the borders of the Cape Colony. MAY BOUNCE THE CABINET. It is rumored that Sir Alfred Milner, governor of Cape Colony, contemplates dismissing the Schreiner ministry under his special powers. If he does, it is feared that a rebellion will break out, as the Dutch would believe that Great Britain is again forcing Cecil Rhodes to the front. It is asserted that orders have been given for the immediate supply of equipment and cartridges to the Orange

CABLE NOTES

Major Harvey Welman, of the 13th Bombay Infantry, has been stricken with bubonic plague at Poona. The report is revived in Rome that an Italian squadron will pay a visit to New York. It is now stated that the warships will arrive there on Sept. 20. The American steamer Mariposa (Capt. Hayward), which sailed from Sydney Aug. 30, for San Francisco, had on board £180.000 in gold. Work on the new Chwang-Shankaikwan railway lines is progressing satisfactorily, but not so pleasantly on the eastern extension, owing chiefly to the bad treatment Chinese mechanics and coolies receive at the hands of Russian employers. Another bull fight, in which six animals will take part, has been arranged for Sunday at Boulogne. If it is a success the fights will be repeated on succeeding Sundays. The semi-official North German Gazette, giving the terms of the new pos-tal agreement with the United States, says the arrangement will result in considerable benefit to German ex-perts and forms a new bond of interest between Germany and America.

A treaty of commerce and navigation, recently signed between Japan and Greece, is now under consideration. Its ratification will be effected at Athens. Formosan insurgents are again active. The leader of the rebels is named Rin, noted for his cleverness, who held the post of governor of San Shoho before Formosa was ceded to Japan.

Mrs. Langtry Makes a Hit in the New Play.

London, Aug. 31.-Mrs. Langtry's appearance at the Haymarket Theater this evening in Sydney Grundy's new comedy, "The Degenerates," was a decided success. She daringly portrayed what are generally understood to be scenes taken from her own life, The realism of the initial act is so intense, bringing, as it does, all the scandals associated with her name, that the unanimous comment at the close of the performance was, "It is good, but she is awfully brave to do it." Mrs. Langtry acted better than ever before, seeming to throw herself thoroughly into the spirit of the comedy, which bristles with epigrams, but is occasionally vulgar.

Mr. Hugo Gerald de Bathe, her husband, looked on from a box with the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, and Prince Louis of Batenburg. The Duchess of Marlborough, many other titled persons and a large number of well known Americans, including Nat Goodwin, were in the audience. The Prince of Wales telegraphed from Marienbad: "My best wishes for a brilliant success. Booked for a fort-"Albert." night from today. Charles Hawtrey, Miss Lilly Hanbury and Miss Lilly Grundy, were the pick of the cast, the last named lady being Mrs. Langtry's daughter, who made her first stage appearance tonight. Mr. Grundy's clever dialogue met with the usual appreciation. It is probable that "The Degenerates" will be taken to the United States in the course of a few months.

Election of Officers.

Buffalo, N.Y., Sept. 1.-At the opening sesion of the Conference of the International Law Association Hon. Sherman S. Rogers, of Buffalo, delivered an address of welcome to the delegates. Hon. Sir William R. Kennedy, judge of the High Court of sustice, England, presided. The international arbitration committee made the following report at the session today:

1. The conference accepts the report, adopted by the executive council on July 18th, 1899, of the special committee appointed at the London conferof 1893, which has, in accordance with the direction of the Brussels conference in 1895, presented a scheme for the formation of a court of international arbitration. The conference cordially thanks the committee for the care with which it has thus completed the work intrusted to it; direct that the scheme be printed in the proceedings of the conference, and commends it to public notice as the association's contribution to the further elucidation of the question.

III. This conference expresses its deep gratification at the adoption by The Hague peace conference of a scheme of international arbitration which carries out one of the main ob-jects of the association, as expressed in reiterated resolutions, from the time of its opening conference at Brussels in 1873. The conference recognizes as specially valuable the following leading features of the scheme, viz.:

1. The nomination of a body of men president.

4. The establishment, under the direction of the above-named council, of a permament bureau, whose services will be at the disposal of all arbitral tribunals. The conference, therefore, urges the members of the association to use their influence in their respective countries:

(a) To procure the early ratification of The Hague convention relative to the settlement of international differences. (b) To promote treaties between two or more states agreeing to submit their differences to arbitration, under the provisions of the convention. III. The conference decides that a special committee be appointed to examine in detail the provisions of The Hague conventions, and to prepare a report thereon for the next confer-

Sir Wm. R. Kennedy congratulated the association upon the steps that had been taken and would be taker in the direction of perpetual peace among nations. Marine insurance laws, he said, should be adjusted be-tween England and the United States, and he hoped that matter would be given close attention. He spoke of the other important international questions and urged that delegates take hold of these matters with a will. The report of the committee on in-

ON TRIAL

Charged With Assaulting Robert Devine.

Evidence of the Complainant and Three Witnesses Taken-Repetition of the Evidence in Police Court.

Police Constable Thomas Howie, was placed on trial at the courthouse this morning, before Judge Edward Elliott. After the evidence of the complainant and three witnesses had been taken the court adjourned to meet again at 2 o'clock in the after-

Robert Devine, the complainant, repeated his evidence as given at the police court, to the effect that he was working in the north part of the city and was coming south on William street about 7:30, when the car ran off. He was in the crowd near the car when suddenly the police drew their batons, and P. C. Howie struck him over the head, causing a nasty cut and partially stunning him. The police gave no provocation whatever to cause drawing their batons. Complainant gave no provocation whatever to cause the officer to strike him. After the assault he went into a house, and had his head bathed, and then proceeded home. To Mr. Love Mr. Devine acknowledged that he was a sympathizer with the strikers, but denied ever throwing stones at the cars. The crowd offered no violence whatever to the cars while he was there. He was on the scene altogether about ten minutes.

Wm. J. Thompson, of 502 Phillip street, who was with Devine, corroborated the evidence given by the complainant in every particular. Clayton Garfat, a 15-year-old youth, living on Pall Mall street, was on the scene with his bicycle shortly after the car ran off. He saw Howie strike Devine, and the officer had then aimed a blow at his (Garfat) head, but he dodged, and it landed on his neck. Howie had then kicked his wheel, bending a number of the spokes. Witness saw no disorder beyond some laughing and

John W. Johnson, who lives at 610 Central avenue, saw the car go off the track. He heard Howle say "Get back," and saw him bring down his baton on Devine's head. He went over to Devine, took him into his house, and bathed his head. Witness said that the principal part of the crowd was made up of women and

BY TROLLEY TO PORT STANLEY

London and Port Stanley Gravel Road Company Applies for a Charter.

Expected That the Road Will Be Complets From the Lake to St. Thomas by May 24.

[From the St. Thomas Times.] An electric railroad with a ten cent fare to Port Stanley by the 24th of May next is the latest project on foot, to place St. Thomas at the front of Canedian cities in this fag end of the 19th

Port Stanley gravel road company have had under consideration the conction of an electric railroad from Port Stanley to St. Thomas and on to on over their road. Much thought has been given to the matter, and the result is that the Port Stanley Electric Railway Company (Limited) has applied to the Ontario Government for a charter and incorporation, and on Fri-Council of the village of Port Stanley for a resolution indorsing the scheme, which was passed at a special meeting of the council held on that date.

In event of securing the charter it is proposed to commence on the con-Port Stanley, and it is expected that a 30-minute service between St. Thomas and Port Stanley will be in operation by the 24th of May. The track will be laid on the east side of the gravel road, which the company own within the county of Elgin, leaving only the short distance between the county line and the city of London, over which they must secure a franchise.

The road is remarkably well adapted for an electric rallroad. There are no grades that trolleys could not easily take, and the bridges over the pond at Union and Kettle Creek at St. Thomas effer but little difficulty. The road, it is thought, could be constructed and the rolling stock necessary secured at an outlay of a quarter of a million dol-

The road would be a great boon to Port Stanley, and since the facts of the project have leaked out several real estate deals have been called off, as everyone holding property in Port and along the proposed route of the road anticipate a boom in real estate.

With a radial electric road such as is proposed, nothing would prevent the business men of the city indulging in suburban residences, where a horse, a cow and a pig or two could be kept without inciting the ire of the sanitary inspector. It would also bring considerable business to the city, and would be a great convenience in shipping light freight. This road should be a success, in which event it would

A Plain Talk

To Women

Almost all the sufferings that women endure can be traced to irregularities of the delicate and sensitive feminine organism. A healthy woman is never tregular. It is the pale, weak, nervous woman who suffers with head-aches, backaches, bearing down feelings and gloomy forebodings when the monthly action comes on.

Set the nerves right and the pains and aches will disappear. There will be no more irregularities when the whole body is under control of healthy

WOODHAM.

Woodham Aug. 31. - Tabernacle meetings are being held in connection with the Woodham circuit of the Methodist Church in Mr. B. Beaver's grove just west of the village. Evangelist A. H. Viner and Mr. J. Bunting, the sweet gospel singer, of Toronto, are assisting the paster of the circuit, Rev. Stephen Knott. Large congregations are attending, and the interest in the services is increasing. There seems to be a prospect of much good being done. The evangelists are earnest, devoted workers for Jesus, and the seed sown to those who hear it. # HOW TO STOP

There Is Said To Be a Sure Way if You Will Only Make Yourself Think So.

"The usual way people set about stopping worry is a wrong one," writes
Mary Boardman Page in the September
Ladies word Journal. "That is why it is so unsuccessful. If a doctor teils a patient he must stop worrying, the patient is likely to say impatiently: Oh, doctor, don't I wish that I could! But I can't If I could have stopped worrying a year ago I would not be ill now!'—all of which is probably true. And the doctor does not always know how to help him, because both doctor and patient have an idea that it is possible to repress worry through an effort of the will. This is a mistake. It is not possible to repress worry. You have got to replace it with something

"Let me illustrate this by a figure. Suppose you were to go into a com-pletely dark room, wishing it to be light. How would you set about the work? Would you try to scoop the darkness up in buckets and carry it out at the door? Not at all. You would just open the windows and shutters and let in the blessed sunlight. You would replace the darkness with light. So it is with worry. The only possible way to get rid of it is to replace the worry attitude of mind with the nonworry attitude. And this can always be done when the person is sincere and patient in his desire to bring it about. All he has to do is to be passive and let nature have her own perfect way with him.'

CONAN DOYLE'S DETECTIVE

[New England Home Magazine.] Dr. Conan Doyle got his first idea of his famous detective, Sherlock Holmes, from an old professor of medicine at the Edinburgh University. This man would sit in the patients' waiting room, with a face like a red Indian, and diagnose the people as they came in, even before they had opened their mouths. He would tell them their symptoms and we would give them details of their lives. "Gentlemen," he would say to the students standing about, "I am no quite sure whether this man is a cork cutter or a slater. I observe a slight forefinger and a little thickening on the callous or hardening on one side of his outside of his thumb. That is a sure sign that he is either one or the other.' His deductions were very dramatic 'Ah!" he would say to another man, 'you are a soldier, a non-commissioned officer, and you have served in Bermu da. Now, gentlemen, how did I know that? He came into the room without taking off his hat as he would go into an ordinary room. He was a soldier. A slightly authoritive air, combined with his age, shows that he was non-commissioned officer. A rash on his forehead tells me that he was in Bermuda and subject to a certain rash known only there."

Discovered by a Woman. Another great discovery has been made, and that, too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest teste, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery by purchasing a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking the first dose that she slept all night; and with two bottles has absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus write W. C. Hamnick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Sold by all druggists at 50 cents and $1. Every bottle guaranteed. For sale by W. T. Strong & Co.

Only 25 cents. For sale by W. T. Strong & Co. Whales' teeth form the coinage of the Fiji Islands. They are painted red and white, the red teeth being worth about twenty times as much as the white. LIFE SAVED.—Mr. James Bryson Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice I procured the medicine, and less than half a bottle cured me: I certainly believe it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me good.

The Iron and Steel Shortage. Reports from the United States show that the scarcity of steel and iron is causing increasing distress. Many large undertakings have had to be stopped and thousands have been thrown out of employment on this account, al though every rolling mill is working to

The present situation goes to support the theory, ingeniously worked magazine writer the other day, that pig iron and prosperity are intimately related. He argued that the sudden check to every wave of prosperity could invariably be traced shortage of pig iron, which caused an enforced stoppage of building activity and all operations in which iron and steel were essential. The trouble is that in ordinary times the iron manufacturers seldom keep more than three weeks ahead of the demand, and when a boom comes, the visible supply exhausted, the prices rise and the furnaces and mills are unable to keep up with their orders. The present stringency teaches once more that it is an industrial necessity that larger stocks of iron should be accumulated.

Politics Over the Border.

crats, adopted at the State convention on Tuesday, shows exactly how the issues are shaping for the Presidential The prominent planks laid Free coinage of silver; anti-imperial-1sm; denunciation of the Anglo-American alliance; opposition to trusts. It is safe to say that these will also be the salient features of Mr. Bryan's next year. Prosperity has robbed the silver cry of much of its the west and south, so that Mr. Bryan, as an astute politician, will probably lay his chief emphasis on trusts and imperialism.

Canadians will view the contest with mixed feelings. While the tariff was the principal issue in American politics, the Democratic policy was regarded as being more favorable to Canadian interests. The Republican party was, and is still, the party of commercial hostility to Canada, but at present it has some redeeming qualities. Canadians have reason to wish it success because of the enemies it has made. The anti-British sentiment has been swept into the Democratic ranks by the friendly attitude of the McKinley Administration toward Great Britain. In view of this fact, it is certain that Mr. Bryan will not be above twisting the lien's tail. The Ohio Democrats sounded the keynote by condemning "the secret and vicious alliance now in evidence between England and the Republican Administration.' The war in the Philippines will also be denounced mainly on the plea that the United States is being made a tool of British designs in the east. Besides this, Mr. Bryan never tires of proclaiming that the gold standard is forced on Europe and the United States by the money power of Great Britain.

It to a pity the Democratic party has become identified with so many evil elements, as in some respects, it is broader than its rival. The Republican party is the party of privilege, the ally of the trusts and combines, the friend poly and corporate aggression and the slave of the narrowest and most selfish trade theories. There is much in the forthcoming campaign to excite the interest, but little to rouse the sympathies of Canadians.

Liquor Licensing in Great Britain.

The Royal Commission appointed by the Salisbury Government to consider the money must come from the liquor dealers themselves. In this connection it is recommended that public house and beer licenses should contribute special tax of 6s 8d per £100 a year of their value, and hotels in like manner one-sixteenth of their annual rateable value per annum. Clubs would also contribute under this rule. New icenses, it is recommended, should only be granted when the licensing authority has decided that such are required. It is proposed that the licenses shall be let by tender for seven years, the sum thereby realized to be added to the compensation fund.

The principal interest in the report, from a Canadian point of view, is the liscussion of the question of local option by the minority. The British temperance people have scarcely hoped to reach the time when they could secure prohibition for any large portion of the United Kingdom; but they have been hopeful that they might reach the stage at which Canada arrived years ago-the right of localities say whether or not intoxicants shall be old within their limits. These royal commissioners, however, do not hold out even this prospect. "We have no evidence before us," they say, "that public opinion in England, whatever It may be in Scotland and Wales, is all strong enough to justify local veto. We must recognize the fact that most people still regard alcoholic liquor as an ordinary article of diet, which is only harmful if taken in excess." In other words, temperance reform cannot be forced on any community any faster than is made possible by education. Where it is shown that a majority of the people, or a very large minority, hold the views which the British royal commissioners say prevail in the old country, a prohibitory law would never be enforced, for a law of this description is not regarded by the people as entitled to the same respect as the ordinary enactments for the suppression of crime. This is to be regretted, but it does not alter the facts. It remains to be seen what may come out of this lengthy inquiry. But no matter how the British people regard the conclusions of the royal commissioners, the latter have given many reasons for an improvement, for Great Britain is still far behind the Dominion both in the control of the traffic and in the habits of the populace.

We don't know about Guelph, but we know what the ward system has left undone for London.

In view of the record in the last war between the British and the Boers we are not astonished to find that the British authorities at the Cape are a little suspicious of the Dutch settlers in Natal, and disinclined to trust them in the event of a conflict. In the Unwoti district of that colony, when the last conflict took place, a considerable number of Boers were living. They torsook their farms, crossed the border into the Transvaal, and fought against the British troops. Then when the war was over they returned to Natal, and took up their broad acres, which had meanwhile been tilled by their women. Only a magnanimous British commander would have permitted such conduct to go without punishment, and the fact that these men were allowed to take up their land again and remain unpunished shows how much Great Britain forgave to secure the

Let no one say that the negro say ages of Africa are not amendable to the influences of civilization. Whole tribes in Central Africa, who were in the height of fashion, a dozen years ago, are now arrayed in the products of the cotton looms of Manchester. They are branching out in other di ections in their imitation of the white man, as is shown by a late contribution to the French Military Museum. The curious trophy is a Lebel rifle made by negro savages on the west coast. It is a rough specimen, painfully hammered out, but it will work, and it follows its (no doubt stolen) or ginal piece by piece. Even the sights and the markings on them are repeated closely, though the natives do not know what they mean, and believe them to be charms. This rifle was captured during the late campaign against the Samory, and the native from whom t was taken said that his tribe had the African negroes must be well developed if they are thus able to duplicate the deadly weapon of civilization The white masters of the "Dark" Con tinent may yet meet with far mor powerful opposition than the spear armed hosts of the False Prophet.

> A Hint For London Too. [Kingston News.]

One of the first duties of the city council when it reassembles, will be to send a deputation to Hamilton to investigate the use which is being made in that city of tar macadam as a paveing substance. Not nearly as expensive as either asphalt or vitrified brick, and yet vastly better than ordinary mecadam, it would seem to be precisely the material for Princess street, the paving of which cannot now be much longer delayed.

Monopoly in Matches.

[Pittsburg Dispatch.] The Match Trust is now a perfect monopoly. It has bought the independent factories, including those of the Gould Continental Company, and has the match trade at its mercy. It is now proceeding to bring forth the perfect fruits of monopoly. It has closed all the newly bought factories, throwing hundreds of workers out of employment, and has raised the price of matches 20 per cent. Another raise is promised within a month. It is a beautiful example of trust operations.

The Farmers' Growing Time. [Canadian Gazette, London, Eng.] "The farmer who owns one hundred acres of land, clear of debt and well stocked, is the most independent man in Canada today." Such was the opinion expressed the other day to a Toronto journalist by the mananger of a large Western Ontario loan company. It describes pithily enough the vast change for the better which has come over the Canadian farming community during the past two or three years. "Bumper" crops, satisfactory prices, and good times generally have combined to place the agriculturist, both in the Old Canada and the New, on a better footing than he has ever known before. He has done more than wipe off any leeway which lean years may have left in their train. He has been able, if shrewd and enterprising, consider-ably to strengthen his position for the Kidney Pains All Gone. What Did It? Doan's Kidney Pills. How Do You, Know? A Kingston Man Says So.

Mr. W. J. Pappa, 112 Barrie St., Kingston, Ont., writes as follows: "Having been troubled with kidney disease for years, and not having received any per-manent relief until I used Doan's Kidney Pills, I take great pleasure in letting others similarly afflicted know of the wonderful curative properties possessed by Doan's Pills. Before taking them I was troubled at night by having to rise, but can now sleep, and do not feel weary in the morning. I hope that this may induce other sufferers from kidney or urinary troubles to give Doan's Kidney Pills a faithful trial, for I know that no other remedy could have acted so well as they did in my case."

THE DEVIL FISH

Peculiar Sight That Greeted a Man at Sea With a Boatload of Mahogany.

When a youngster I was homeward bound from Santa Anna with a cargo of mahogany, and when off Cape Campeche was one calm afternoon leaning over the taffrail, looking down into the blue profound, on the watch for fish, writes a world-wide traveler. A gloomy shade came over the bright water and up rose a fearsome monanything else, all except the head.

There, what appeared to be two curling horns, about three feet apart, rose one on each side of the most horrible pair of eyes imaginable. A shark's eyes as he turns sideways under your vessel's counter and looks up to see if anyone is coming, are ghastly, green and cruel; but this thing's eyes were all these and more. I felt that the Book of Revelations was incomplete without him, and his gaze haunts me

Although quite sick and giddy at the sight of such a bogey, I could not move until the awful thing, suddenly waving what seemed like mighty wings, soared up out of the water soundlessly to a height of about six feet, falling awakening under the rough doctoring of my shipmates. Since then I have never seen one leap upward in the daytime. At night, when there is no wind, the sonorous splash is constantly to be heard, although why they make that bat-like leap out of their proper element is not easy to un-derstand. It does not seem possible to believe such awe-inspiring horrors capable of playful gamboling.

Weary of Experimenting With salves, suppositories and ointments, and dreading a surgical operation, scores and hundreds have turned to Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment and ster some 18 feet across, and in general have found in it an absolute cure for outline more like a skate or ray than piles. The first application brings repiles. The first application brings relief from the terrible itching, and it is very seldom that more than one box is required to effect a permanent cure.

THE GLADNESS THAT FAILED. "The sky is blue," sighed the maiden fair,

"And the scents that come from the fields are sweet! O, the world is glad, but what do I My shoes are overcrowded with feet!"

We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial is without doubt the best medicine ever introduced for dysentery, diarrhea, cholera and all summer to a height of about six feet, falling again with a thunderous splash that might have been heard for miles. I must have fainted with fright, for the next thing I was conscious of was

THE KOOTENAY

Illustrated Lecture at London June tion Church by Rev. Mr. Gilmore.

In spite of the high temperature and sultry atmosphere last evening, nearly 200 people turned out to Rev. George Gilmore's first lecture on his trip through Southern British Columbia, in the London Junction Church. The audience was most appreciative, and showed their hearty appreciation of the magnificent views that adorned the screen from time to time.

Beginning with Toronto, the lecturer took his audience by the all-rail route to Fort William, describing in graphic manner the character of the scenery; then over the great lakes route, by the splendidly equipped boats of the C. P. R., throwing upon the screen, as he proceeded, the best views to be found all along the route. Fort William, Rat Portage and prairie countries were dealt with from interesting points of view. The best of his vocabulary was reserved for the grandeur of the Rockies, which the lecturer dwelt upon at some length. With this part of the trip the audience was more than delighted. The beauties of the Arrowhead Lake scenery were described as well as words and lantern could do, some of the scenes being especially beautiful, with snow-capped mountains, in rare combinations, precipitous head-lands, and beautiful water stretches. Rossland was well pictures in 16 fine views, illustrating the industrial, so-cial, moral and religious development. Mr. Gilmore spoke in glowing terms of what he found in this four-year-old mining town of some 1,000 population. Among other things, he spoke in an appreciative manner of the work the C. P. R. is doing in opening up the great western country; of their steamers on all the Kootenay lakes, and of the fine hotels and chalet houses along the route. The Northwest Mounted Police came in for a good share of praise, because of the personnel of the force, and their effective way of keeping all lawlessness under. He said it would be well to send our police, judges and magistrates to the Northwest and Kootenay to learn how lawlessness may be put down. There is greater respect for law and order, he said, in these countries than in Ontario. People should travel through these places to learn that, in many respects, the west is further advanced than the east. Of the great resources of the country he spoke in unqualified terms, and believes that British Columbia will be one of the foremost provinces of the Dominion shortly. Mr. Gilmore said the Koot-enay is the place for the poor man, who is willing to work hard, or the capitalist who has brains enough to know a "wildcat" when he comes

A COLD WAVE IN MANITOBA

The Harvest Practically Out of Danger-No Damage Reported.

Winnipeg, Sept. 1.—The predicted cold wave has passed over Manitoba, and the temperature last night fell to the freezing point in several localities, but no damage is reported, and the greater part of the wheat belt reports no frost at all. The harvest is now practically safe, as the temperature today is much higher.

A large number of inquiries are being daily received for harvest help, and it would seem that the 10,000 men who have already come from the east will not fill in the demand for men to assist in harvesting the wheat crop.

It is thought that he went under the wagon to fix the reach, and, having a spirited team, kept hold of the lines. It is supposed that the team took fright, and in starting knocked Bain down, and that the hind wheel of the wagon passed over his body. He was 64 years old and came from Quebec.

LOVE'S ROMANCE IN AN ASYLUM

William and Johanna Had a Brief Honeymoon.

Detroit, Sept. 1.-William W. Levy has been an inmate of lunatic asylums in the state of Michigan during the past fifteen years. He is about 38 years of age. Johanna Zaul was a patient in the Wayne county asylum, afflicted with intermittent attacks of dementia.

These two, in some way, became acquainted while both happened to be inmates at the Wayne county asylum. Mrs. Zaul was released on probation by Dr. Bennett and, about the same time, Levy got away from the guards. The two met in Detroit, went to Windsor, July 24, secured a marriage license and were married at Sandwich by Rev. D. H. Hind. Then they came back to Detroit.

Their honeymoon lasted but a few days, for the authorities located Levy and took him back to the asylum. His bride mourns for him so much that she has sued out a writ of habeas corpus to get him free. The writ is returnable Saturday morning.

In the affidavit made by Mrs. Zaul and on which the writ is issued, it is stated that the relatives of her husband are much incensed because he married a gentile, and that this was the reason for being hauled back to confinement in the asylum.

ST. CLAIR SHIP CANAL. Detroit, Sept. 1 .- The United States war department has referred the pro-tests of the Lake Carriers' Association against the construction of a canal through Kent county, Ontario, con-necting Lake St. Clair with Lake Erie, to Col. Leydecker, with the request for a full investigation and a report, Col. Leydecker will report both as to the probability that the project will find adequate financial support, and as to its effect upon the level of the lakes should it be carried out. It seems probable that if it is found that the Candian project is being seriously con-sidered, the state department will take the matter up with the Candian government on the basis of a proposition to appoint a commission.

BICYCLE COMBINE

Will Close Some Canadian Works and Extend Others.

"It seems almost incredible that in the neighborhood of $40,000 in actual cash should have been confided to letters during the last year, and harder still to credit that the most exhaustive efforts failed to find the owners of one-fourth of than amount." writes Patti Lyle Collins in 'The Ladies' Home Journal for September, "The envelopes which are addresed are kept on file for four years, blank ones not so long, but in either case a liberal margin of time is allowed for claimants to appear before the money is finally turned into the treasury to the credit of the postoffice department. In addition to the money contained in letters during the same period, something like $10,000 was found loose in the mails. It is official-ly styled 'loose money.'"

THE WORLD'S WHEAT

Official Estimates Show a Considerable Shortage.

Vienna, Sept. 1.-The Hungarian ministry of agriculture has just issued its annual estimates of the world's harvest. This points to a considerable deficiency. While the stocks remaining from last year are much smaller than was generally supposed, the wheat yield is 110,000,000 hectoliters below last year's yield, and about 34,000,000 short of the entire world's demand. The estimated yield of rye is 5,000,000 less, than that of last year; of barley, 25,000,000 less, and of oats 35,000,000 less. The total deficiency in all cereals is about 97,000,000 hectoliters.

The hectoliter is about 2 5-6 bushele 16 LIVES LOST

THE HAMILTON RAILWAY DEAL

Absorbed by the Cataract Power Co.'s Syndicate-Bargain Consummated.

Hamilton, Sept. 1 .- On Thursday afternoon the Cataract Power Company syndicate made the final move in the deal to acquire possession of the Hamilton street railway, more than sufficient shares to give the syndicate control of the road passing over to it in return for between $125,000 and $130,000. Later in the afternoon the syndicate elected Hon. J. M. Gibson, president; Mr. John Dickenson, vice-president, and Mr. J. B. Griffith, secretary-treasurer, of the new street railway board.

As the acquisition of the street railway system was the keynote to the syndicate scheme for the securing of the Dundas and radial railways also, it is probable that the near future will see an amalgamation of all these lines. The earnings of the road have steadily increased since Nov. 30, the gross receipts for the period up to July 31 being $81,599 29, as compared with $75,-998 57 for the same period in the preceding year. It is thought that now that the amalgamation scheme has been completed, arrangements will be immediately commenced for the construction of the proposed lines to Guelph, Galt and Berlin.

DEATH OF SENATOR PRICE.

Quebec, Sept. 1.-Hon. Evans John Price, senator for the Laurentides division, who died yesterday morning at his residence, Wolfesfield, in the 60th year of his age, was born at Wolfes-field May 8. 1840. His father was the late Mr. Wm. Price, who founded the lumber manufacturing house of Price Bros. & Co., in this city. He was a Conservative in politics, and was called to the senate in 1888. The deceased was unmarried. was prominent in social circles, and was a well-known member of the Quebec Garrison Club, the Rideau Club. St. James' Club, R. T. Y. Club, and Windham Club, London, England. Senator Price had been ill for some time, and his death was not unexpect-

Chicago, Sept. 1. - The wheat market has held fairly steady this morning, excepting the early dip, shortly after opening, and from all appearances there seems to be less inclination to sell short today than there has been for the last few days. Northwest cars and Chicago cars show the usual falling off from last year's, notwithstanding the fact that wheat was selling 10c below the present price today a year ago for December option. Times and conditions, however, have changed, and the correspondingly higher price simply reflects the advance in all commodities and necessities incident to the prosperity now so apparent, and really should not cut any figure in calculations at the present time, as they are simply natural advances. The market has taken quite a lot of September wheat so far, without apparently affecting the price unfavorably. From look for a better market. Gifford and McDonald were the principal sellers so far today, and Brousseau. Ware and Leland and Pringle bought. Minneapolis reports a decrease of 500,-000 bu in wheat stocks, and Duluth 50, 000 decrease.

COW STRUCK BY A TROLLEY. A cow was struck by trolley 58 on the Hamilton road between Adelaide and Alma streets, early last evening, and was carried some distance on the fender before the car was stopped. The animal was badly cut, and one of its hoofs was split. The car fender was bent, and the supporting straps at the side broken. The cow belongs to Mr. George Wyatt, 160 Hamilton road, and was being driven from the pasture by Mr. Wyatt's young son. The boy heard the car approaching, and tried to drive the cow off the track, but before he could do so, the car, which was running at a high rate of speed, carried the animal off its feet.

POLICE COURT STATISTICS

Increase in the Number of Cases Dur ing the Present Quarter.

Police Court Clerk Moule has prepared his quarterly report to be forwarded to the authorities at Toronto. The report shows 98 convictions for non-indictable offenses. In all 463 cases were adjudicated during the quarter. The fines imposed totalled $412 75. There was a slightly larger number of liquor fines than in the pre-ceding quarter. The number of cases before the court was somewhat in excess of the corresponding quarter last year. There were nine commitments to jail, aggregating 162 days, three to central prison and two to the reformatory. The cases before the court have been rather of a more serious nature than ordinary, and infractions of city bylaws have somewhat escaped attention as a consequence.

FOR DREYFUS

The Testimony of His Accusers Proves Abortive.

Gen. Roget's Guns Spiked and He Is Forced to Retreat.

Several Witnesses Support Dreyfus' Statements on Artillery Matters.

Rennes, Sep. 1.-Immediately after the opening of the court-martial of Capt. Dreyfus, president of the court, Col. Jouanst aroused the interests of the audience by remarking:

"Maitre Labori the other day asked that information be obtained regarding the character of a certain witness. I had not expressed a similar desire. In- that he would be heavily fined. formation which has now reached me will be read:"

AN EXPLANATION.

The clerk of the court accordingly read a report regarding M. Dubreuil, the Parisian friend of M. De Beaurepaire, who testified Aug. 23 to the effect that Dreyfus met a German attache at the house of a mutual friend named acter of the witness was most respec-table, he being held in general esteem.

AGAINST THE ACCUSED. A groom named Germain then deposed to seeing Dreyfus at the German army maneuvers in Alsace. Germain declared he saddled a horse for Dreyfus to follow the maneuvers, and he said that Major Infreville accompanied Dreyfus riding, adding that the major told the witness the name of his companion. Col. Jouanst questioned Dreyfus, and although he did not command the pris Monster. oner in any way, Dreyfus made a weak reply in declaring that he could not remember whether he hired horses of Germain's employer or not. STRONG TESTIMONY FOR DREY-

The next few witnesses, however, gave strong testimony in favor of Dreyfus and sadly knocked Germain's testimony about. His employer, a man named Kuhlman, got up and declared that all Germain said was untrue.

Major Infreville followed and declar-ed he never knew Dreyfus, so Germain's allusions to him were baseless. Capt. Lemonnier, who was a pro-bationer on the headquarters staff at the same time as Dreyfus, deposed that the prisoner told him that he was well acquainted with a certain German position, because he had followed the Alsatian maneuvers.

Dreyfus replied that Capt. Lemonnier must have mixed up his remarks. The prisoner added that he was acquainted with that part of Alsace, because he spent his youth there, and not because

A FABRICATION. A witness named Villon then told a tale of how he overheard a conversation officers, in which a remark was made that mobilization plans were expected from Dreyfus. The cafe, however, has since disappeared, and as there are no means of verifying Villon's story, it certainly should not have much effe on the judges. Two or three witnesses, in support of Dreyfus on artillery questions, were next heard. Commissary Fisher testified that he was charged to investigate the leakage of documents at the gunnery school at Bourges, and found nothing to incriminate Dreyfus. Lieut. Bernheim testified that he lent Esterhazy documents dealing with artillery, and was unable to get them back. Artillery Lieut. Bruyere, who attended a gunnery course at Chalons, testified that it was easy for an outsider to obtain particulars about the guns. He said that he himself had on one occasion lent his firing manual to an infantry officer.

GEN. ROGET. Gen. Roget asked to be confronted with the witness, and said the latter wrote M. Cavaignac, then minister of war, a violent letter of resignation, in which he declared it was a dishonor to serve in the French army. This declaration caused a scene, for Lieut. Bruyere, turning to Gen. Roget, cried: "I protest against Gen. Roget's words. affirm that I never said any such thing." BACKED DOWN. Gen. Roget then backed down, saying: "Well, the of the letter." "Well, that was the general sense 'A roar of disgust came from the audience at this apparent underhanded-ness upon the part of the general and Lieut. Brugere again emphatically declared Roget was wrong.

Maitre Labori, leading counsel for the defense, and Col. Jouaust agreed that the letter should be obtained from the minister of war and read in court. The lieutenant expressed satisfaction at this step, while the general returned to his seat with less buoyancy than; when he left ft.

A TELLING STATEMENT. The next witness, Capt. Carvalho, a handsome young artillery officer, proved an excellent reinforcement to Dreyfus. He gave his evidence clearly and boldly, and emphatically declared that there were no special precautions to keep the mechanism of the "120 short" gun secret. Moreover, he added, from April. 1894, the artillery officers had a description of the hydro-pneumatic brake given them. "Here," said Capt.

The White Star Line's new steamer Oceanic, which sails for America from Liverpool Sept. 6, is the longest ship ever built. The Great Eastern was broader and deeper—and less useful. The Great Eastern had a varied career that could by no means be called successful, and was finally broken up many years before the time to which her life should have run. All that was because the ship builders in 1850 did not know as much about constructing vessels as they do in 1899. The Great Eastern was the marvel of the mari-time world, but she was a failure. A comparison of the dimensions of the two "leviathans" will be interesting. Here are the figures: Oceanic. Eastern. (feet) (feet) Length ..... 704 Breadth ..... 831/2 Depth ..... Draught .... 22 (tons) 15 (tons) Tonnage ..... ..... ...17,040 8.000 (knots) Speed ... .. (estimated) 21

But while the speed of the Oceanic is Electric Light Wiring, as yet problematical, the owners say in a Berlin cafe between two German this much; she will reach New York every alternate Wednesday, storm calm. That means-deducting time for discharging and receiving cargo-that the Oceanic will be able to cross the ocean within six days, at a certainty. No matter what tempests rage, that journey will be accomplished in that time. Engineers who have studied her, engineers who know all about her, say the Oceanic can cross from Liverpool New York in four days whenever her captain so desires. That officer is the veteran Captain Cameron, who commanded the Teutonic until his selection by the White Star officials to navigate their newer, greater and finer vessel. Captain Cameron was three days getting introduced to the Oceanic took him that long to inspect her from stern to stern, and then he began assembling his crew. He had the pick of sailor men everywhere. It was an honor to serve upon her. She now she compares with the other "greatest" vessels:

Length. Beam. nage. (feet) (feet) Oceanic .... .... 704 Campania ...... 625 65 13,000 Lucania ..... ........620 10,000 63 St. Louis.. .. .. ......554 16.000

This great vessel was twenty-two months in building, and cost nearly $5,000,000. She has a crew of 500 men, and will carry 1,500 passengers. The diameter of her propeller is 21 feet. She has seven decks, all of steel, and would rise if placed in the street.above the roofs of six-story buildings. Her ribs are but 31½ inches apart, and to them are riveted 17,000 steel plates, them twenty-eight feet in some of length, and weighing from two to three tons each. Captain Cameron, when standing on the bridge, is 60 feet above the water. The promenade deck is 600 feet long. The main saloon is 80 feet long, 64 feet wide, and 9 feet from floor to ceiling. Some of the state-rooms are 9 by 13 feet in size. There is a music room with the finest instruments procurable, and a library of 4,000 volumes.

The engines are double, and like other modern vessels, the Oceanic is equipped with twin screws. She could make her schedule time between Liverpool and New York with one engine wholly disabled. Her coal carrying capacity is such that she can steam 23,400 miles-practically around the worldwithout needing to replenish her stores of fuel. Two Chicago trolley cars could pass, side by side, in one of her funnels, if this were laid horizontally. But, while her capacity in these particulars exceeds that of any vessel ever before launched, it is not Captain Cameron's purpose—as it is not the purpose of the owners—to break records in the run across the ocean. It is proposed, however, to make the time of the Oceanic's arrivals as regular as that of a railway train. It is be-lieved that the need of ocean travel is comfort while afloat and the certainty of reaching port on a given date rather than the nervous, high-tension speed that might be secured by extraordinary effort. "From Wednesday to Wednesday" is the motto. The Oceanic will tie up at her dock in New York by noon on Wednesday, Sept. 13, and by noon of Wednesday, Sept. 20, she will reach Liverpool.

Captain Cameron, who commands the Oceanic, is a veteran of the sea. He has long been in the service of the White Star company, and is very popular among ocean travelers. given the Teutonic as a fitting recogin which he was held by the com-pany's patrons. LONDON. - ONTARIO

THE WORLD'S DEBTS Gold Ccin to Pay It Would Cover More

Than Seven Hundred Acres.

When one is told that the national debts of the world amount to £6,121,-000,000 the information conveys nothing but an impressive sense of the vastness of the sum. It is only by a series of mental pictures that one can form any idea of the mountains of gold that would be necessary to discharge world's debts, says a writer in the London Mail. Such a glittering mass would turn the scales at 48,208 tons, and to carry it away one would have to requisition all the horses in the British army at home and abroad.

One might in fancy place these thou-sands of millions of sovereigns edge to edge and make of them three golden girdles for the earth's waist, with a ten-fold chain long enough to link London with Naples.

If one wished carpet with gold the 400 acres of Hyde Park and the 300 acres of Victoria Park the sovereigns would be more than sufficient, and there would remain a remnant of gold carpet three acres in area.

The task of removing the carpets, sovereign by sovereign, would be too stupendous to undertake lightly. If a coin were removed every second, working without pause day or night, such a task would take an industrious person until the year 2093 to accomplish, by which time he might be pardoned for complaining of pains in the back.

UP GO COAL PRICES.

Philadelphia. Sept. 1.—The Philadel-phia and Reading Coal and Iron Company yesterday telegraphed its agents at Chicago, Milwaukee and Lake Su-perior points an advance in prices on coal 25 cents per ton on Sept. 1. This advance includes Buffalo, Canada, and New York state points. Under the proposed advance the prices in effect September at Buffalo will be $4 50 for broken and $4 75 for egg, stove and chestnut per gross ton, and $5 25 for broken and $5 50 per net ton for egg. stove and chestnut at Chicago and Lake Superior points.

"And there's Gladwyn," said the rector. "You remember Gladwyn?"
"Oh, yes, sir," said Gerard.

Then presently came a warm invita-tion to come and see Mrs. Fleming. Wouldn't he come now? They were going home had only looked in to leave

'Come, Nella, we're always glad to see you. Come and bring your cousin with you."

They went. Helena, because she could not manufacture an excuse, and Gerard, perhaps because he wanted to go. Short as had been his stay at Longhurst, it had left with him a memory of kindness and home. Mr. Fleming walked with him, asking kindly questions about his profession and his English visit. Mrs. Fleming was at home and received him with real pleasure. She had always a warm corner in her heart for an "old pupil." The black puppy of Longhurst days was displayed as a mature and trustworthy retriever, and Helena and Gerard saw each other as they were in ordinary life. There was a strange excitement about it for them both. Nella defled consciousness and talked and laughed with courage, while see his cousin home through the dusk, whether it would be incorrect to do so, and whether Miss Wynne would not be valuable, or whether it would not

CHAPTER XIII.

"George," said Fanny, "are you get-ting on all right? Do you like the school as well as you did at first?" The rest of the party at the rectory had dispersed. Fanny sat in the firelight with the reigning kitten, a white and fluffy one, reposing on the lap of her soft blue gown. Othello, a name given by George in old days to the black puppy, because he had then been furiously jealous of cats, lay asleep on the rug, his early passions calmed by weight of years. George himself sat on a low chair, his elbows on his hands, staring into the fire.

"Why do you ask, Fanny?" he said Well, I thought you looked rather as

If you were thinking about something

"Do I? Well, one can't escape from the problems of life." "But it's so much better to keep problems for the holidays," said Fanny, wistfully, "especially when you're beginning new work." "I was five minutes late for school this afternoon." said George, as if in the confessional.

"Oh, George. That won't do, however clever your lessons are, and however much you may influence the boys, no head master will stand unpunctuality." "They won't," said George. It sha'n't happen again. Fanny, if one was a genius, or a saint, or a prophet, and were seized upon by an inspiration, mightn't it be worth while to follow the impulses that transcend all other motives? Wouldn't daily life some-times get split into shivers by the sacred fire?" said Fanny, with re-"Did Sokrates tell his Damon to wait till the holidays?" "I don't know," said Fanny, "but I

George laughed out.
"Oh, Fanny, there's no getting the better of you. But I'm in earnest, in sober earnest. Prophets are forgiven for overmastering impulses. With them they save the world. But what's a poor beggar to do, who feels the impulses sweeping his soul before them, and yet doubts much whether any heavenly message is borne on their

"Yes, George," she said, "I've kept you in order for a long time, haven't I?"

"You understand," said George, "that one can talk folly without being

"You've given me some chance of learning that truth," she said demurely, "but my last word is, that inspirations and messages, and Damons, should be kept for the holidays."

"The spirit might evaporate." "Not if you cork it up tight, and if it's strong enough to begin with," said

"Or burst the bottle."
"Wait till the bottle smashes."

"The heavens will fall. Let them fall; they have not fallen yet," quoted George, with a laugh, as he went away. There was in his own soul a still small voice that told him he ought to stand aside and wait, that Helena should be left with a calm soul and a free heart, while the coll of dircumstance was still around her; surely it was not for him, with his passionate, selfish desires, to rouse in her a force that might work misery and ruin.

The more George thought of it, with cool brains, the more he felt that the chances were all in tavor of the marriage in Ashdew Church standing steady, and the more certainly he something new, unexpected and baffling knew that Helena ought to be free from seemed to be permeating slowly his the suspicion of a motive for wishing it views of the situation. was fashionable in Whitebury for privileged visitors to attend. Helena had a class of girls in St. Peter's, but her aunt, in a very becoming costume, "took," as she was wont to say, "the opportunity of really intellectual preaching." She heard the head master give a practical fifteen minutes, laying before his boys the uses and abuses of athletics, to which, as she told George afterwards, it was "a pleasure to see the dear young faces respond and thrill." George had not observed this result himself, but replied, that "the head was a good sort and understood boys well," and then she saved him all trouble by beginning:

"Oh, Mr. Gladwyn, it is so hard for a woman to judge. When I hear that Gerard has not been true to the vision of dear Helen's youth, what, oh what, does it imply?"

"But may I ask what you did hear?" said George, who was always driven are ripe and ready for training from by Miss Wynne to the severest common sense

Beautiful Jerusalem Edifice To Be Reproduced in Paris.

All Its Graceful Architectural Details Are To Be Seen at the World's Exposition at the French Capital in 1900-A Stupendous Task Which Famous Builders Have Set Themselves to De.

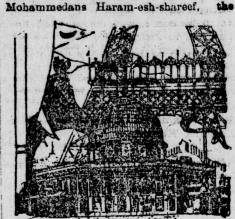

The reproduction of the Mosque of Omar is one of the stupendous tasks which the Paris Exposition builders have set for themselves.

The Mosque of Omar, in Jerusalem, is situated on ancient Mount Moriah, the site of Solomon's and Herod's temple. A member of the Palestine Exploration Society will superintend the building of the mosque and the Mohammedans will hold worship there daily. Great trouble will be taken to secure extreme accuracy and, as far as possible, the wonderful temple which the Armenians are always Noble Sanctuary. About the middle of the inclosure is an almost rectangular platform, about 15 feet from the ground. In the middle of the platform of the original temple stands the main temple, the Mosque of Omar. The building is an octagon in shape and is covered by a light, artistically shaped dome, which is surmounted by a crescent.

Outside the mosque there are several small elegant praying places.

To the south of the platform is the second large temple, or mosque, called

Here are several handsome stainedclass windows, and one especially that has called for the admiration of thousands who have seen it. It is made of small transparent glass mosaics, wrought into exquisitely beautiful flowers and arabesques of variegated colors, harmoniously blending into each other.

This window has another peculiarity of a double set of designs, one set being visible at a certain distance from the window, and on stepping back two or three yards another and entirely different set of designs appears to the view. It is said that when the Emperor

Francis Joseph of Austria visited Jerusalem, he offered £2,900 (about $10,000) couldn't get it for a million.

The priceless features, the builders think, can be reproduced cheaply, yet faithfully.

CHILD GROWTH.

Make the Education Accord With 16. Not Oppose It.

Growth focuses for a time upon one set of organs or functions, then upon another, until the whole body is developed; but all parts of the body do not grow at one and the same time. The body grows first in length, and then in girth, in breadth and depth of chest, in breadth and height of forehead, in breadth and length of face. To make a special application of this well-known fact of periodicity in physical growth, let us observe the development of the muscles of the arm. The muscles of the upper arm-those concerned in the functioning of the shoulder joint—are ripe and ready for training at least a year and one-half before the muscles of the fingers. The muscles of the shoulder mature for training six months before the muscles of the elbow, and these in turn five to eight months before the muscles of the wrist, which three to six months before the muscles of the fingers. When we insist that a child shall begin to write by means of the finger muscles only with a small pencil in narrow spaces on ruled paper or a slate we run directly counter to the principles of growth and development that nature has so plainly written in his constitution. Must not education, to be edueation at all, be in accord with these principles rather than in opposition to them? The child of 6 years, during the first days of his school life, chooses to make large, whole-arm movements rather than the minute movements of the finger muscles. At first he requires "almost an acre" of blackboard space in which to write a few sentences. We must train the large shoulder muscles before attempting to burden the tender, undeveloped finger muscles, which are really injured by such too early strain and involved

Thus we find in our best regulated kindergartens of to-day none of the finer work for the younger children. The young child is no longer required to take up the bead-stringing and pin-pricking exercises—at least not until his eyes and his finger muscles are ripe and ready for such training. In some of the most modern kindergartens the occupations and gifts are concerned with larger objects instead of those formerly used, which were of the smaller, more orthodox size-larger blocks, larger pencils, larger needles, larger beads and coarse string instead of fine thread .- Forum.

Compliment to a Forman.

After the Franco-Prussian war the Germans had the highest respect for General Gallifet, and when the French cavalry hero attended the German manoeuvres one autumn in the '80s by special invitatien of the old Emperor he was treated with the most exquisite courtesy and consideration. His Majesty placed him on his right hand at the table, and felt inclined to repeat (he remarked later) what Frederick the Great once said to the Austrian Marshal Daun on meeting him after the seven years' war. The Marshal was for taking his place at table opposite the King, but Frederick sxolaimed: "No, that will never do; teme and sit beside me; I know only too well what it is to have you on the other

ZANGWILL. THE HUMORIST

I. Zangwill, playwright and withappy and unusual combination-is here again, this time in connection with the staging of his new play, the drama-tization of his novel, 'The Children of the Ghetto," says the New York Telegram. When Mr. Zangwill was here before he was occupied with reforming our artistic outlook through the medium of readings and lectures. Now while he is rather modest about it and loath to do greatly into detail, he is occupied with the larger mission of correcting our artistic impression of the Hebrew. "The Hebrew," as he puts it, in the bored way of the artist, who is called upon to explain what he is trying to do, has never been put upon the stage, Because he is so easy to caricature, he has never been presented in any other form. His religious feeling, for example, and many other of his qualities, have never been truly presented. There are so many little niceties of custom, feeling, manner, dress, even, that the most intelligent stage manager might miss, that I have thought it worth while to make this trip to see that these things are done right. As soon as the to England."

No unambitious project, this artistic rehabilitation of a race, yet it has the virtue of being one that should prove popular on Broadway. Drifting into the matter of detail,

Mr. Zangwill was adverse to touching on his aims more definitely. "The play must speak for itself," he said. not know what else can be said about it, while it is still an unformed thing. except that it is to be first presented in Washington on Sept. 18, and will likely remain there a week, though," he added rather whimsically, "it's more difficult to say when these things end than when they begin."

The play in question is Mr. Zangwill's first important work, though he hastened to add, after the confession, "That is not my fault. I have been trying for years to get the managers to take something important."

Dave Warfield, too, it seems, has only himself to blame for not being assoclated with this present production. "I think he is a great artist," the playwright said, "and I would have liked to have had him take a part, but it seems it could not be. But then, I've done my part. I can't help it if Mr. Warfield prefers burlesque to the drama," the author added, with that whimsical air he so much affects. As will be seen, Mr. Zangwill is something of a humorist in addition to his other qualities. All that his coming play promises only those who have in Hamilton. The special train from Hamilton will be met at East London by a band and escorted to the grounds, a shirt distance from the station. -Port Elgin Times: Word has just come to hand of the death of Mr. Wm. Muir, sen., con. 2, Saugeen, which oc-curred at London on Monday, Aug 28. The news was not unexpected, as Mr. Muir's health had been failing rapidly for some time. Thus another of the pioneers is gone. Few men in this district were better known than the deceased. He was one of Saugeen's most successful farmers, and the fact that he was several times elected to the township council testified to the high esteem in which he was held. He was a kind father and a good neighbor. We do not know of a home where more hospitality was shown. The universal respect in which he and his family are held was shown by the large concourse of friends and relatives who gathered at the funeral, which took place on Wednesday afternoon to Port Elgin cemetery.

Consulting Phylicians Ask the Trust to Make a Radical Change.

The Care of Patients To Be Entirely in the Hands of a Board of Medical Men.

A radical change in the management of the new City Hospital is proposed. Suggestions along this line from the consulting physicians are to be considered at a meeting of the Hospital Trust this afternoon. It is argued that the superintendent should be relieved of all medical work, or that a bursar or some other salaried official be engaged. The consulting physicians regard the first alternative as the best, and suggest therefore that a medical board be organized. This board is to have no power or authority outside of the care of the patients, the general superintendent to be vested with complete control. The proposed medical staff would consist of six consulting physi surgeons and twelve experienced practitioners, whose duty it will be to at tend to the treatment of the patients in the hospital. There will also be two physicians to look after the house pa tients. No salaries are to be paid the medical men, and only experienced physicians shall serve on the board. It is thought that the proposed change in the management will tend to make the hospital more popular with the physicians in the city and with the public generally.

THE ANIMALS DIDN'T TALK

But They Did About Everything Else -Norris Bros.' Show a Big Success.

The big tent of the Norris Bros.' trained animal show was crowded yesterday afternoon and evening. The majority of the spectators in the afternoon were children, and the little folks simply shrieked with delight throughout the performance.

The Norris Bros.' show is one of the most effective, instructive and entertaining ever seen in London. The point to which this wonderful collection of ponies and dogs has been trained is almost incredible. The almost human intelligence evinced by some of the animals is astounding. But what above all else contributes to the enjoyment of the spectators is the evident pleasure and pride with which the sleek, handsome ponies, the aristocratic, well-groomed dogs, and the mischievous, insolent monkeys enter into the fun of the thing. Most of the ladies present raved over the beauty of the ponies, while the children went wild with delight at everything. There were ponies who could go through a military drill, ponies who could waltz, a mathematical pony, who could beats lots of boys at mental arith metic. Clown dogs, dogs that could turn somersaults, walk on their hind legs, walk on their front legs, spar with boxing gloves-in fact, do pretty nearly everything they were told to do -were so plentiful, that before the show was over it seemed quite the natural order of things. The police patrol and the fire brigade features are worked with capital effect. The zebra and the elephant lend a circus flavor to a show that is otherwise quite unique.

Witnesses Say Gowanlock Was in a Quarrelsome Mood.

And Tried to Pick a Quarrel With Harding-Five Witnesses Heard, Testimony All Tended to Show That Harding Was Provoked.

Inquest Not Yet Concluded - Three More Witnesses Will Be Heard Tonight.

The Gowanlock inquest was resumed last night at the police station at 7:30. Coroner Dr. Piper was anxious to conclude the inquest last night, but after four hours had been spent in hearing evidence, three witnesses were still to be heard, and an adjournment was made to tonight at 8 o'clock. Last night's evidence was, on the whole, rather favorable to Harding, who is charged with killing Gowanlock. The evidence tended to show that Gowanlock was in a quarrelsome mood, and seemed bent on fixing a quarrel on the defendant, Harding.

AN IMPORTANT WITNESS. William Dyer, a horse trainer, living at 52 Palace street, who is also under arrest, saw Gowanlock on Monday night in the O'Neil House yard. The first thing he saw was a quantity of water thrown at the deceased by some of the girls employed at the hotel. Gowanlock, when passing a horse that Mr. Blue was cleaning, made a kick at it. A little later a second shower of water was thrown at Gowanlock by the girls. He (Dyer), Harding, Mr. McInnes and a couple of others who composed a group, laughed heartly, and Gowanlock came towards Harding, muttering something which witness could not hear. Gowanlock then put his open hands up at Harding, and a scuffle ensued, but no blows were struck as far as he could see.

Mr. Magee-Did you expect trouble? Witness-Yes, sir, I did, as Gowanlock looked as if he was going to fight, and I knew Harding would defend himself necessary.

Mr. Magee-How were they separated? Witness-By Mr. Beach; who asked Harding to go and sit down and be-have himself. Harding complied im-

The only words witness heard Harding use to the deceased were to the effect that he would put him in the water trough. After the scuffle, Gowanlock went into the house, and on coming out alked over toward Harding again. Witness could not say as to what started the row, but saw the men come to-

Mr. Magee—Who started the fight? Witness—I could not say. Mr. Magee - Did you see Harding strike Gowanlock? Witness-Yes, sir; he struck him either two or three times.

Mr. Magee-What happened then? Witness-Gowanlock fell forward to the ground. Witness thought that when Gowanlock put up his hands, he was going to either strike or attack Harding with He heard Gowanlock say nothing after he came out of the hotel.

Wm. Collins, proprietor of the O'Neil House, was not present when Gowanlock was struck. He was at his sup-per, when some loud talking in the yard attracted his attention. He went out to find Gowanlock lying on the ground with a man standing over him. He did not know the man, and asked his name, but the stranger refused to give it. He (Collins) asked what was the trouble, and the man gave him no satisfaction. On asking a second time he was told that it was none of his business. Witness told the man that he would make it his business, and the stranger then left, and said no more. He (Collins) thought that Gowanlock was stunned, and with the aid of Blue and another man, carried the body into the stable. After the doctor had pronounced life extinct, he went and

Mr. Magee-Did you think that Gow anlock was intoxicated? Witness-Yes sir, I did. Cross-examined, witness said that it looked to him as if the man who was leaning over Gowanlock was turning him over. At first sight he thought he was kicking him, but could not say as to what he really was doing. GOWANLOCK THE AGGRESSOR. Richard Jones, of 142 Bathurst street, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills called at the O'Neil House on Monday night. He saw Gowanlock come out of house, and heard him muttering to himself and swear at Harding. The two men came together and he stepped between them, and afterwards took them out on to the street. He saw Gowanlock push Harding with his hands, and then saw Harding hit at Gowanlock, but could not say where the blow landed. He stepped in and grabbed Harding and started off with him, when he turned and saw Gowan-lock fall to the ground. Witness was positive that Gowanlock called Harding a foul name. He (Jones) thought that Gowanlock would be too much for Harding. "I CAN LICK YOU." Robert Way, a blacksmith, was at the O'Neil house on Monday night. He first saw Gowanlock about 7 o'clock at the rear of the hotel, fooling with the girls employed at the house. Later when Gowanlock was passing a horse led by Blue, he made a kick at Witness heard a voice say, "Don't kick the face." It was not Harding who made the remark. Gowanlook said to Harding, "I hear you are a good man, but I can lick you," and muttered some other words. Harding just told him to go away and mind his own business. Gowanlock then pushed Harding, and the two men clinched, when they were separated by the hostier. Harding went and sat down, and Gowanlock went into the hotel and came out with his coat off.

To Mr. Love, witness said that Gowanlock had earlier in the evening threatened to lick him. Henry O'Nell, the young son of Dr. O'Nell, was present when Gowanlock was struck. Harding suddenly jumped up apparently at something done by Gowaniock, and said "I'll go half way." Gowaniock replied, "I'll go the other half," and asked Harding to come into the stable with him. Gowanlock then followed. The men came together and were separated before blows had been exchanged. Gowanlock, after going into the hotel and coming out again, went over to-ward Harding and when near him raised his hands as if for a fight, and pushed Harding backwards. Harding then struck Gowanlock twice on the right side of the chest with his left hand, and the latter fell and struck on his left side. A third blow aimed at Gowanlock fell short owing to Jones pulling Harding away. O'Neil thought both men under the influence of liquor.

Cure Mrs. P. D. Bourque of Nervousness and Fluttering of the Heart.

Mrs. P. D. Bourque, of Moncton, N. B., is one of those who never fail to sound the praises of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Some time ago she was troubled with a pain in her left side and fluttering of the heart. Her nerves were unstrung and she was easily excited and upset.

"I noticed Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills recommended for such troubles," she said, "and decided to try them. I therefore got a box and began taking them, and they have done me a great deal of good. "Before taking these pills my appetite was poor and I was very much run down in health but since their use I have gained in strength every day. They restored my heart to natural action, removed the pain from my side, that horse, or you will get a punch in and gave new health and vigor to the face."
