The Daily Mail publishes this morning the following alarmist dispatch from Cape Town: The anti-British feeling in Cape Colony is assuming dangerous proportions, owing to the false stories spread of British barbarity in Orange River Colony and the Fransvaal. Loyalists fear that the Dutch congress next week will be the signal for a rising. They demand that martial law be proclaimed throughout the colony. "On the 10th October," it says, "the Boers, by displacing some "On the 10th October," rails, held up a train containing money belonging to the British government to the value of £150,000. Then, at their leisure, they removed the gold without hurting a hair of the passengers and the few British soldiers in the train. The affair has been kept secret in accordance with orders from headquarters at Pretoria."

REFUGEE'S STORY. New York, Nov. 27.—"Commissary-General" Samuel Pearson, a Transvaal refugee, who arrived here yesterday, said today during an interview that Gen. Buller was by all odds the best of the British generals in South Africa. He added: "If Roberts were taken out of command in South Africa the English army would mutiny tomorrow. The man most hated in South Africa by the Boers is Kitchener. There is not a man in our army who would not shoot him on sight. He is the man who butchered the negroes Soudan, and he would not give Botha half an hour at Colenso to take our women and children away from the lines." "General" Pearson denied the characterization of their operations as guerilla warfare, saying: "We have always about 1,500 or 2,000 men and a train of baggage wagons. The end of it all is they can never catch us." He considered Louis Botha the greatest man in the Boer army.

WRITTEN FOR AMERICAN READ-

ERS. London, Nov. 27.-Lord Roberts has left Johannesburg for Cape Town. This information comes from a sure channel, says a cable to the New York World, although it is not publicly known here. Lord Roberts' return is accelerated by the Wolseley trouble, the latter absolutely refusing to retain office after Nov. 30.

The ministers and the government are moving heaven and earth to prevent Lord Wolseley from revealing the scandals and friction in the military and civil branches of the war department.

Lord Wolseley bitterly resents Lord Salisbury's aspersions upon the mili-tary branch and has declined the Prince of Wales' proposed mediation, declaring that he must clear his rep-

Dowager Empress of China on the Sick List

- Ind Her Loving Subjects Forecasting the Effect of Her Demise-Germany's Position.

London, Nov. 28.—The Shanghai correspondent of the Morning Post cables that despite the denial of Sheng, director of railways and telegraphs, the best information points to the accuracy of the report that the dowager empress is ill. The Chinese are already forecasting the situation in the event of her death. They conjecture that in that case the new grand secretary, Lu Chuan Lin, will combine with Gen. Ma against Gen. Tung Fu Hsiang.

GERMANY'S POSITION. Berlin, Nov. 28.-Germany, before replying to Secretary Hay's note, wishes to ascertain how the other powers have received the United States suggestions. If grave danger exists of German's isolation by not heeding the United States' suggestions, and insisting on extreme punishments, then Germany will answer the United States favor-Otherwise she will adhere to her original demands.

AMERICAN INTRIGUE. The Lokal Anzieger publishes a dispatch from Shanghai, which says: Un-favorable reports are in circulation, concerning alleged American intrigues. The dispatch adds: The Germans have occupied the rich coal fields on the borders of the Province of Chi Li and CHINESE CRUELTIES. London, Nov. 28. - Several Berlin papers yesterday printed letters from German soldiers in China describing cruelties practiced by the Chinese upon white prisoners. It appears that the limbs of the German Meutenant, Friedrichs, and of two Italians, were severed one by one until the tortured victims were dead. "Thus," says one of the letters, 'every white prisoner is treated by the Chinese."

"Meanwhile," says a Berlin dispatch, "official confirmation has arrived here of the report that Count Von Waldersee has taken special steps to prevent any more letters of this nature being printed here."

Washington, Nov. 28.—At a cabinet meeting yesterday there was thorough approval at every point of the policy of Secretary Hay, and especially of the last instructions to Mr. Conger forwarded a week ago. Regardless of Mr. Conger's disposition toward the agreement reached by the ministerial council, the government of the United States still stands uncommitted and in a position to endeavor to bring about such changes in the arrangement as are deemed indispensable.

The claims on China for indemnity will not amount to less than £60,000,-

MOUNT BRYDGES.

Ordination of Mr. F. Hurlbert, Late of Toronto-Interesting Services.

Mount Brydges, Nov. 28 .- The ordinection council of the Baptist Association of Lamioton and Middlesex met in the Baptist Church yesterday afternoon to examine into the character and qualifications of Mr. F. Hurlbert, late of Toronto, before ordaining him for the Christian ministry. After hearing his experience in his conversion, and answers to the questions of Scripture, and the doctrines of the church, he was recommended for ordination. In the evening the service began about 8 o'clock, and the ordination sermon was preached by Rev. T. S. Johnson, of Adelaide Street Baptist Church. London; ordination prayer was made by Rev. Mr. Baldwin, of Forest, and the laying on of hands was done by the ordination council. The address to the minister was given by Rev. Mr. Stobo, of Poplar Hill, and the address to the congregation by Rev. Mr. Fothergill, of Strathroy.

ABOUT HEART DISEASE.

Ninety Per Cent of It Really Caused From Poor Digsstion.

organic heart trouble is inbut scarcely one case in a bundred is organic.

The action of the heart and stomach are both continued by the same great nerves, the sympathetic and pneumogastric, and when the stomach fails to properly digest the food and if lies in the stomach fermenting, gases are formed which distend the organs, caus-ing pressure on the heart and lungs, causing palpitation, irregularity and shoroness of breath.

The danger from this condition is that, the continued disturbonce of the heart sooner or later may cause real organic heart trouble, and in fact frequently does so.

Furthermore, poor digestion makes the blood thin and watery and deficient in red corpuscles, and this further irritates and weakens the heart. The most sensible thing to do for heart trouble is to insure the digestion and assimulation of the food. This can be done by the regular use after meals of some safe, pleasant and effective digestive preparation, like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which may be found at most drug stores and which contain the necessary digestive elements in a pleasant, convenient

Thousands of people keep well and vigorous by keeping their digestion perfect by observing the rule of taking one or two of these tablets after each meal, or at least after each hearty

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain U.S. P. pepsin, diastase from malt and other natural digestives which act only on the food, digesting it perfectly and preventing acidity, gases, and the many diseased conditions which accompany a weak stomach.

When Stuant's Dyspepsia Tablets are used you may know you are not tak-ing into the system any strong medicine or powerful drug but simply the natural digestive elements which every

POLITICAL POINTS

One Case Laid Before the Corruption Commission.

North Grey Recount—Ballots Marked in the Upper Space for the Conservatives Go-Other Recounts.

SEAT STOLEN FOR THE TORIES. Toronto, Nov. 28 .- The royal commission on electoral corruption and improper conduct of elections will have at least one case before it at its session early next month. Mr. Robert M. Noble, barrister, of Uxbridge, has forwarded an affidavit to J. D. Falconbridge, secretary of the commission, charging in connection with the contest in North Ontario in 1896 between Mayor McGillivray, Conservative, and Duncan Graham, Patron, that 21 ballots cast for Graham and counted for him by the deputy returning officer, had been extracted from the packages containing the ballots between the time they were counted by the deputy and the time of the recount before Judge Burnham at Whitby, and 21 other ballots substituted, marked for John A.

No affidavits from the Conservatives in the West Huron or Brockville cases have yet been filed.

RECOUNTS. Owen Sound, Nov. 27.-The recount in the North Grey election was com-menced at 9 o'clock this morning before Judge Creasor, Judge Creasor has ruled that the ballots marked in the brank space at the top of the ballott shall be counted for Mr. Gordon, the Conservative candidate. So far, Dr. Horsey's majority of 31 has been reduced by 8. The exact number of the ballots marked at the top is not known, but it is not thought there are sufficient to wipe out Dr. Horsey's majority, There is great ex-citement in town over the count, and some very ugly rumors are afloat. The proceedings are being held in private in the grand jury room of the court

NOTHING IN IT

Story of Disaster on the Chesapeake and Ohio Road Positively Contradicted.

Washington, Nov. 27 .- At the offices of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad in this city it was stated today that there was no truth in the reported wreck of a passenger train near Hinton, W. Va. A landshide occurred at Alleghany station Sunday night, which delayed traffic until today. The road is now clear, however, and trains are running as usual. Mr. H. W. Fuller, general passenger agent of the road, this morning received a dispatch from President George W. Stevens, at New York, denying the report of the wreck. It had been stated that a Chesa-peake and Ohio Radhway train went through the Green Brier River bridge, which had been damaged. It was supposed that there were 200 people on the train, and that all were lost.

WHOSE IS THE CORPSE?

Peculiar Action Which Was Tried at Guelph Before Justice Rose.

Guelph, Nov. 28.—The case of Steven-son vs. the town of Palmerston came up at the non-jury sitting at Guelph before Justice Rose. The action is practically to decide whoowns a corpse, and the story unfolded is a gruesome

On May 29, 1884, Mr. Chris. Johnston, a respected resident of Palmer-ston, died, and his widow and children bought and, it is alleged, paid for, lot 98, block 1, in the Palmerston ceme-tery, in which they further allege the remains were interred. The son claims to have paid for the lot at that time, and on Aug. 26, 1885, the widow applied for the deed, and was told the lot had not been paid for. She, therefore, paid again, and obtained the deed.

In 1898 the former widow, now become Mrs. Steenson, decided to erect a handsome monument to the memory of

When they came to do this, how- Japanese lot 98. blook 1. ever, they found that lot 98 had been fenced in by Mr. Hugh Hyndman, a Catarrh Cure. shops, who had a deed for lot 98, obtained in 1888. It further transpired that at the time Mr. Hyndman purchased the lot, a grave was found thereon, almost obliterated by time. The cemetery people did not know whose grave it was, and in any case claimed it was some trespasser, and had the body taken up and placed in the Potter's Field, where all trace of it

For the alleged trespass, desecration and sale and conversion of the cemetery lot, Mrs. Steenson claims $1,500 She also demands a clear title to the lot, and the removal of all bodies placed there by Mr. Hyndman. The defense claims no cause for action in that Mrs. Steenson had no ownership in the remains of her first. husband, and was not entitled to them, and further that all claims for deed or damages are barred by the statute of limitations act, chap. 133, R. S. O. They further claim that the lot purchased matural digestive elements which every weak stomach lacks.

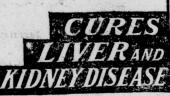

So widely known and popular have these tablets become that they are now that of her husband, and that the No. 98 in her deed was an order. Judgment of the Church street. Toronto. ### A BUSINESS GOVERNMENT

Given the People of Canada by the Liberal Administration.

Evidently Appreciated by the Electors -Mr. Blair's Great Victory-Racial Cries Raised by the Opposition.

[From Our Ottawa Correspondent.] Ottawa, Nov. 24.-It was scarcely to be expected that the Conservative party would view the outcome of the elections with satisfaction, or even with equanimity, but after all, the vote would seem to indicate that the electors showed an inclination to take the Tories at their word and vote accordingly. Take, for example, the Toronto World, which declared a short time before the elections that Canada required "a business government," adding that nations were like mercantile firms, rivaling each other for the trade of the world, and that success or failure were largely dependent upon the business acumen of the government to meet the commercial exigencies of the moment. That is pre-cisely the view that the Liberals have held and advocated right along. The country evidently is of the same mind, and has shown its confidence in the government—under which the trade of the country has annually increased, by comparison with the record of its predecessors, as ten is to three-by giving them a renewal of office by a vastly increased majority. Yes, we want a business government—and we have got

LEARNING SENSE BUT SLOWLY. There is not much fun in whipping a dead horse, and one would imagine, after the experiences of election day, that the policy of attempting to create racial antagonism in Canada would not only be dead, but buried fathoms deep. There is little doubt that the bulk of the Conservative party take this view of the situation, and, indeed, the reputable section of the party have from the first been ashamed to acknowledge the tactics of the extreme wing. However, a portion of the ultra-partisan press—the Toronto Mail and Empire, and the World, the Hamilton Spectator and the Ottawa Citizen and a few others-whose fatuous policy made inevitable the overwhelming disaster which has befallen their party, are still keeping at it, with the idea, apparently, that harm may be done the provincial government in Ontario by the self-same de-spicable and utterly reprehensible tactics which obtained in the late campaign. It is more than likely that wiser counsels will prevail when the smart and soreness of their recent experience have worn off a bit. If not, it is as certain as that night follows day that they are only riding for another cropper. MR. BLAIR'S VICTORY. Of the individual contests in the general elections, few attracted more attention than that waged in St. John city, N. B., between the minister of railways and Mr. Foster. The public interest largely centered round the personnel of the candidates, but from a national standpoint the policy at issue was of infinitely greater importance, and it was that which made the overwhelming victory of Mr. Blair so significant and gratifying. It was from start to finish a struggle between the interests of the country and the interests of the C. P. R. The railway attempted to take advantage of what it believed to be the necessities of the government, to demand concessions and privileges which if granted would be detrimental to the public interests, but the minister of railways, repre-senting the government, was of tougher material than the railway had calculated upon. He boldly accepted the challenge, met their nominee and fever has been the cause of much scientific study and research by many of the most prominent physicians throughout the world. Many of them differ as to its real cause, but the ma-jority agree that the cause is due to the little germs contained in pollen grains, principally hay pollen, but many other flowers and plants contribute largely to its cause Japanese Catarrh Cure has been found the only complete cure for hay fever. It contains an or-ganic compound of lodine, which is a thoroughly harmless antiseptic, and destroys the hay fever germs completely. It soothes, heals and gives almost immediate relief. special pleader on his own battleground, fought him under conditions of his own selection, and whipped him out of his boots. For the first time in the history of this powerful corporation the government of this country is today in the hands of men who have not been afraid to risk their political existence in the defense of the popular interests, and the determined antagonism which the C. P. R. showed towards the government in the late elections is the best possible evidence that the railway realizes that it has lost the grip it once had over the powers that be.

NEGOTIATIONS TO REOPEN. The overwhelming popular indorsation accorded the government is evidently not going to be accepted by them as an invitation to rest from their labors, but rather as an encouragement and incentive to greater efforts in the future. Scarcely are the returns fully in, when the statement appears that arrangements are in progress for a resumption of the negotiations with Washington, looking to the drafting of a commercial treaty and the settlement of various other matters at issue between the two countries. Never have the conditions been as propitious for the success of such negotiations. Both governments have been emphatically indorsed by the popular vote, and are justified in concluding that they have the public confidence; and as far as the Canadian representatives are concerned, it may be safely predicted that no stone will be left unturned to bring the entire matter to a successful issue. The first six months of this government's first term of office was signalized by the settlement of a serious and longstanding dispute at home; it will be but fitting and appropriate if the first six months of their second term of office should be signalized by the settle-ment of long-standing differences with our neighbors. IT DIDN'T FIZZ. One lesson from the elections which the blue-ruin croakers on Mr. Speaker's left will do well to learn thoroughly, is that it is just as hard to make a man believe he is badly off when he knows by the condition of his pocketbook that he is doing well, as it is to convince him that he is prosperous when the evidence is all the other way. The cry of extravagance, reck-less expenditure and broken economy pledges did not fizz with the electors. The country understood Mr. Tarte aright when he answered the Conservative criticism with the remark: "Wait till you see us next year." It agrees with the minister of the in-terior that "The question is not the amount of the expenditure. but whether the expenditure is producing the desired result."

No News of the Olaf's Victims-The Schooner Stranded Off Belleville.

THE MIDDLE GROUNDS DISASTER Kingsville, Ont., Nov. 27.-The tug Home Rule left here last night about nine o'clock to endeavor to rescue the sailors of the sunken vessel in the middle grounds near Point Pelee, Captain Hackett was not certain whether the vessel was a schooner or a tow barge. The tug has not been heard from since leaving. Yesterday men were to be seen lashed in the rigging, but this morning early, before the fog came down, no one could be seen on the boat from land. The spars were partly gone and the boat apparently was breaking up. It is presumed that the Home Rule either took the men off in the night, and is now lying in the lake walting for the fog to lift, or that the men have dropped into the water and perished. The fog is now rapidly lifting and the lake is calm. The tug Home Rule returned to-

RECOVERY OF NAPANEE BANK BILLS

Some of the $10,000 Plunder Turns Up in Detroit.

Two Men Arrested With the Money in Their Possession.

The Suspects Brought Over to Windsor and Held for Trial—They Had Cash in Every Pocket-Many Persons Victimized.

Detroit, Nov. 27.-Through the cleverness of an amateur detective the Detroit police have recovered over $400 of the $10,000 stolen from the Napanee branch of the Dominion Bank of Canada about three years ago, and arrested the two men in whose possession it was found. They gave their names as James Simpson, cigarmaker, Montreal, and Louis Matheis, street car conductor, Rochester, N. Y. Both men agreed to go back to Canada without extradition proceedings.

They arrived in Windsor yesterday, and went into several of the drug stores, saloons and drygoods stores, brought some trifling thing in each and changed a $10 bill. Then they came over to Detroit and went up Gratiot avenue, buying drinks and changing more bills. They were noticed by William H. Brainard, who suspected that it was counterfeit money they were spending. He fol-lowed them up and succeeded in conveying word to Detectives Nies and Gill, who were waiting for them at the city hall door as they came down in a Trumbull avenue car. They found the men on the platform and put them under arrest.

THE PRISONERS' STORY.

When they were taken to police headquarters Simpson told Capt. Spilliane that he was a bartender, and having saved $500 he had taken a trip west to see the country. At Rochester he met with Matheis, who was out of work, and had agreed to accompany him. They stopped at Windsor to get their money changed in order to save the discount, and they were trying to get the rest of it changed into American money in Detroit before they left the border. Matheis corroborated the story as far as he was concerned.

TRIPPED UP.

Capt. Spillane was suspicious about Simpson, whom he regarded as the principal, and looked on Matheis as being merely a tool. He put Simpson through a searching examination, and he caught him napping. He referred to having been "shaken up" by the Lon-don police, inferring that he had had to square them. Spillane caught on to the expression, which is one used by gamblers and fakirs, and Simpson finally admitted that he had been both a fakir and a gambler of the "tin-horn" variety. He had also been a bartender, and he claimed to have been to lay by the $500.

SEEMED LIKE A SIMPLETON. Matheis seemed to be something of a simpleton, and all that he could tell was that he met Simpson, who took him along, and when they arrived at Windsor gave him the ten $10 bills to blow himself with. He changed one of these bills in Windsor. He solemnly asserted that never before had a policeman laid hands on him. He had only been in Canada once before, and that was when the employes of the road he was working on had an excursion to Niagara Falls. He crossed the ice have a drink of whisky on the Canadian side. He had never been in Detroit before, and though his mother's sister lived here he did not know her

MONEY IN EVERY POCKET.

The men had money in every pocket. Simpson had $326, of which $210 was in Dominion Bank $10 bills, while Matheis had $100, of which $90 was in $10 bills. The police suspected at first that the money was counterfeit, and they sent for some of the best experts in Detroit to examine it. The first was A. E. Clark, paying teller of the Peninsular Savings Bank, who surprised them by telling them that the money was pergood, and George Anderson, of fectly the McLellan & Anderson Savings Bank, who came in a little later, gave the same verdict, but said that he would not vouch for the signature of the bank cashier. The signature of the president was lithographed, while that of the cashier, S. G. Sills, who is obliged to countersign each bill, was written.

STOLEN FROM NAPANEE. Capt. Spillane then arrived at the conclusion that the money was stolen and was confirmed in this view a few minutes later by the Peninsular Savings Bank sending him a notification of the numbers of the bills stolen at Napanee. They were numbered consecutively from 46,001 to 47,000, inclusive, series A, Jan. 2, 1888. The bills had not been countersigned, and consequently the bank was not legaly responsible for them, but for its own protection had offered a reward of $2,000 for the recovery of the bills, and a proportionate amount for any part of

The Ontario provincial police were notified and came over to interview the prisoners. They soon persuaded them to cross over to Windsor and stand their trial, and they were brought be-fore Police Magistrate Bartlet this afternoon and pleaded not guilty to a charge of passing forged money

THE ROBBERY RECALLED. The Napanee Bank robbery was one of the most sensational of its kind on record, implicating, as it seemed for a time to do, W. H. Ponton, the teller of the bank, and a son of Col. Ponton, of Belleville. The family is one of the best known and most highly respected in Canada. Ponton is also brother-in-law of Edward Armour.one of the leading lawyers in Toronto. He years of age when he was sent from the head office alt Toronto to act as teller at the Napanee branch. He was an athlete, fond of all kinds of outdoor sports, and drifted into a ra-ther sporty crowd, but no one entertained any suspicion that anything was wrong, and Ponton was cordially liked by everyone in the place.

PONTON SUSPECTED. One morning in August, 1897, when the bank was opened it was found that the lock of the safe had been tampered with and the combination changed. The head office was telegraphed to and sent an expert from Toronto, who opened the safe, and it was round that $10,000 in bills that were not countersigned and pretty nearly all the good money in the bank had been carried away. The Pinker-ton detectives suspected Ponton from the first, and they dogged him night and day. Charence Bogent, the in-spector of the bank, seemed to have formed the same idea, but the popular feeling of Napanee was altogether with Ponton, and Bogent, himself a native of the place, was denounced for what the people called his persecution of Ponton. Ponton was arrested, but Magistrate Daly dismissed the charge, and he received an ovation on the occasion of his discharge.

Ponton instituted an action for $100,-000 damages against the bank, but before his case came to trial three notorious burgiars, Mackay, Holton and Pare were agrested, and stated that Ponton had been with them in the deal. They said that Ponton had given them the key of the sade and told them just where to go. They were to have given Ponton his share, they said, but tiney put him off on some pretext and buried the money. Mackay turned Queen's evidence, and Pare and Holton were sent to the penitentiary, Mackay dying meanwhile. Ponton was tried three times, the jury disagreeing twice and he was finally acquitted. On being restored to liberty the people gave him an ovation which brought down on their head the denunciation of the high court judge, who was trying the case. Ponton is now a commercial traveler in the cigar business. WINDSOR VICTIMS.

The men arrested too aid a rushing business in Windsor. Nearly all the hotels were caught, and several merchants were victimized. The names of those who received the forged bills were J. J. Guittard, Gil Graham, W. A. Pond, M. Rocheford, H. Bradley, H. Nutson, H. O. Fleming, John Wigle, J. E. D'Avignon, J. Watson, Charles Delisle, Geo. H. Nairn and R. C. Mason. At Fleming's drug store one of the men purchased a tooth brush.Alex. Stuart, a clerk, took the bill to Ma-son's tea store and asked Mason if the bill was good. Mason replied that it was "as good as the wheat" and gave Stuart other change. At Bradley's jewelry store the shover of the queer was in a hurry, and said "two fives would do." At Rochford's a good cigar was purchased with the bad money. John Curry, proprietor of the Essex county bank, says the bills are worth-

Honoring Hon. Clifford Siften,

We learn from Toronto that the public banquet to Hon. Clifford Sifton promises to be the most successful function of the kind ever held in Toronto. Though the gathering will not take place till Dec. 11, the applications for tickets are already pouring in upon the committee of arrangements not only from Toronto and neighborhood, but from distant parts of Ontario. We in London, the scene of the boyhood and young manhood of the Minister of the Interior, have naturally been much interested in his career. We have watched his achievements, professional and political, with pride, and knowing the man as very many of us do we have been at a loss to account for the virulence with which his political opponents pursued him, or for the determination which they have shown to leave no stone unturned to drive him from public life. Those who know him best, the people of Brandon, by the magnificent majority which they rolled up in his favor against the most popular member of the opposition in the Northwest, have given their answer to the campaign calumny by which Hon. Mr. Sifton was assailed. But in the East, as well as in the West, the Minister Interior has thousands of friends who are equally well pleased with his triumph, and who are anxious to testify to their satisfaction in this regard, and in some measure this great gathering of representative men in Toronto will afford them an opportunity. No doubt very many in this locality would have liked to have had the banquet held in this city. An opportunity may occur at a future date. Meanwhile we have no doubt that London will be well represented at the forthcoming gathering in the provincial capital.

Britain and the American Colonies -What Might Have Been.

Lord Rosebery, in a recent address. drew a wonderful picture of what might have been had wiser statesmanthe quarrel with the American colonies. The English-speaking people might have formed one great empire, ruled on liberal principles, having its center on this continent, its European outpost in Britain, and its colonies all round the world.

This is, of course, a fancy picture, but it shows that Lord Rosebery has large aspirations and great imaginattve powers, as well as much historical knowledge and political skill. Well, what might have been cannot be now, and never will be, in that form: still. if men are willing to learn from the past, the spirit of what might have been may incarnate itself in other forms. The two great branches of the Anglo-Saxon race without hostile intent towards the rest of the world may cultivate kindly relations with each other and pursue legitimate and common interest.

Some will extend Lord Salisbury's principle to other cases, and contend that with more common sense and statesmanship, on both sides, things might have been very different in South Africa, or even nearer home. Ireland might have been made a more prosperous and contented land. The true statesman, however, will not waste his strength in vain regrets, but will endeavor to apply the principles of freedom and toleration to his own

We have great cause for gratitude that in Canada the situation is still so full of hope. The problem of different races living in harmony and cooperating for the common good has been solved in a fairly satisfactory fashion. What is needed is a fair recognition of the fact that in poitics we are not French, or English, or Catholic, or Protestant, but Canadtans, seeking the development and prosperity of our own land and the welfare of the whole empire to which we belong.

We must, however, be willing to learn from the past, and one of the lessons which stands out with greatest clearness is this, that when politicians place race or sect above the principles of justice, the result is disin any case it produces intolerable bitterness. If we proceed on right principles we may preserve prosperity for ourselves and set a noble example to the world.

Tomorrow the people of the United Day with all the more zest that it mer sun brings to fair perfection vegnaturally calls for a review of the causes for thanksgiving during the century now within a few weeks of its close. The Nineteenth has been a great century for the United States, and our neighbors enter on the Twentieth with an immense start.

Let London celebrate the incoming Twentieth Century by electing the tory over Hon. Hugh John Macdonbest set of municipal representatives ald, takes place at Brandon on Friday

The "Casualty Lists" in Peace

and War. The war casualty lists are a dreadful daily item in the daily papers. We wonder how many people realize the fact that the daily industrial casualty lists of killed and wounded workmen in England show a heavier expenditure of life than that revealed by the war lists. Such, however, is the fact. The Labor Gazette, in its current number, gives a summary for the present year up to the end of August. During these eight completed months of 1900 there have been 3,058 workpeople reported killed, and 59,274 injured-for more that the total number killed and wounded since the war began in South Africa. "The reservists who were called up for service from our mines, quarries, railways and workshops have apparently only exchanged one risk for another." This is quoted from a London newspaper, which the critic classes as "one of the most intelligent." The newspaper may as a whole belong to the intelligent class, but the critic-F. Harcourt Kitchin, in the Ninteenth Century for November-shows that this is a specimen of the loose thinking which produces very poor writing. This gentleman says, quite correctly and forcibly: "It is easy to juggle with figures; it is easy to put forward statistics in undigested lumps in such a manner as to alter entirely their true significance. There is a growing habit with both speakers and writers to deal with numerical facts simply to point some passing argument, and to have little regard for their real meaning, so long as some temporary advantage is derived from their distortion. This would matter less if statistics were less valuable. But it happens that few things are more valuable."

The statistics in both cases are then thoroughly examined, with this result, that if the considerable chances of death from disease are ignored, and only the risks of battle dealt with, 'the reservists, by exchanging industry for war, multiplied their daily risks by more than five times, and in addition ran all the hazards of disease.' We take it, however, that the journalist did not wish to belittle the service of the reservists, but rather to mitigate somewhat the idea of the horrors of war, which was being impressed upon the public mind by the sad lists published from day to day. But even so, he arranged his figures in such a way as to produce a false impression. For example, he does not state the important fact that not fewer than five and a half million persons were exposed to the industrial risks of which he was speaking, and therefore he left an exaggerated impression of the individual percentage of risk, which, except in the case of sailors, can be shown to be very small. Handling figures in this careless way makes not only a false impression at the time, but tends to beget in the average mind a suspicion as to the danger for the land on which they lived, and of statistics when manipulated by a when the island was sold to Mr. Menier clever debater. The writer in the Nineteenth Century makes this pertinent remark: "Statistics will not prove anything; they will prove no more and no less than the facts which they enwrap, but in order to get at these facts the man who deals with them must have a special training in his work, and must

suing their daily and useful avocarible that, if possible, it should be power to aid the evicted persons. avoided. Millions of men must risk their lives daily for the comfort and convenience of society, but that does lience with its native wild animals that not make the horror of war one whit Canada has had. #### Gold and Vegetables.

It has now been demonstrated that potatoes, beets, turnips, carrots, lettuce and cabbage can be grown for domestic use in Dawson City and neighborhood. That so little cultivation of the soul has taken place has arisen from the fact that hitherto men aster. It may come to bloodshed, but have made more money working at the mines or in other industries, and though very good prices are paid-50 cents for a small head of calbuire, for example-very few seem inclined to follow market gardening as an industry. Though the earth is never thawed out deeper than a foot and a half States will celebrate Thanksgiving to two feet from the surface, the sumetables such as we have named.

Our Municipal Policy-V.

5. The railway and other facilities of London should be used to build up and increase the population of the city, and efforts made with that end in view by a joint committee of the Board of Trade and the City Council.

This proposition will probably be admitted by nearly everyone, but for the lack of concerted action London does not get all it might.

The Board of Trade is supposed to embody the business life and push of the business community, and the City Council the municipal life, and for that reason we suggest joint action. Euch business man knows his particular business, and many suggestions might be got from members of the Board of Trade which might be carried into practical action by the members of the Council.

That a great deal can be done in this way is apparent. Witness the town of Sault Ste. Marie, growing rapidly almost by reason of the vim and energy and enterprise of one man. Witness the activity of Mayor Teetzel and the council and business community of Hamilton, with such satisfactory results, and Toronto has always been a model city in at least this respect. If it failed to get all within reach, it was not because its Board of Trade and public men were not alive to the welfare of the city.

London has peculiar advantages, and one of these advantages, perhaps the best, is its railway net-work. There are doubtless many enterprises ready to settle somewhere, and if in active committee were formed London might get what it otherwise might miss. There is at present no organized effort being made. There are some other places that are growing in proportion more rapidly than we, and while London has many advantages over other places, these advantages are not set forth in the way a joint committee might set them forth.

New Ontario is opening up. There will be much business to be done with Old Ontario. There will be active times in the new section for many years to come, in mining, in lumbering and other lines. These will necessittate machinery and supplies, the bulk of which will be bought in Old Omtario. London ought to be in a position to get its share of the new business likely to come from that section. It is not necessary to point out the value of increased business. That is apparent to everyone. We emphasize the necessity for a joint committee.

The Anticosti Squatters.

Another attempt is being made to misrepresent the facts with regard to the Fox Bay settlers, now settled in Manitoba. These people were squatters on the Island of Anticosti. They never made any effort to get a tital in 1895 he made up his mind to dispossess them. This he was able to do under the provincial law, which does not give squatters the right to remain on land owned by another, except at his sufferance. #### A SWORD FOR GEN. CRONJE.

From His Admirers in the French Metropolis.

Belated Proposition for Arbitrating the Transvaal Question.

Details of Sir Arthur Sullivan's Obsequies at St. Paul's Cathedral.

SWORD FOR CRONJE.

Paris, Nov. 28.-Yesterday afternoon, at the Hotel de Ville, Vice-President Escudier delivered an eloquent address. saying Paris had given Kruger a welcome worthy of his noble character and the grandeur of his cause. He said: "You have heard the heart of Paris beat. It is the heart of France. Let the people speak and speak loudly, and arbitration will impose itself as a necessary satisfaction to justice and civilization." The president of the general council spoke in a similar strain. Kruger thanked the speakers for the sentiments expressed. Since he landed he had been on a rising wave of acclamation. He was very thankful for what had been done and for what they wished to do for him and his people, who were still struggling, and who were not yet defeated. "Their resistance continues and will still continue," he said. "They will ever struggle for independence, liberty and justice. Ah! why can they not hear your acclama-tions? It would redouble their cour-Kruger also said he hoped they would yet know them, one day in the future, when they had recovered their independence. He regretted that arbitration had been refused, and he would never cease to demand it.

The president of the municipal council will today propose in the council a vote in favor of arbitrating the Transvaal disputes. In the afternoon M. Henri Rochefort with a deputation proceeded to the Hotel Scribe and presented Mr. Kruger with a sword of honor destined for of thrones" will some day be over-thrown by "a syndicate of the people." During the day a thousand students formed a procession in the Latin Quarter, each school preceded by a banner, and the whole headed by a magnificent bouquet of chrysanthemums, tied with ribbons of the French and Transvaal colors, and inscribed: "The students of Paris to President Kruger-for the

where they were received by the min-ister of foreign affairs, M. Delcasse, with whom they had an interview, lasting three-quarters of an hour.

An incident similar to the one that took place in Marseilles occurred on the arrival of the students' procession at the Hotel Scribe. An upper window of the Grand Hotel, opposite was opened, and a handfull of small copper and silver coins were thrown down. The students, incensed at the insults, wished to attack the shipping office, but were dissuaded by the police. A number of the students stationed themseves below the window from which they money had been thrown, singing anti-British songs, and shouting "Down with the English!" No disturbance, however, occurred. The Vienna correspondent of the London Daily Chronicle says he hears that President Kruger had petitioned the powers for arbitration under The Hague convention; that two powers acceded to his request, but that all the others rejected the petition.

THE CZAR'S EXPECTED HEIR. A Paris dispatch says: Anxiety about the czar's expected heir has much to do with the czar's condition.

The czarina is praying, and doing everything possible with this end in view. She is reported to have tried every conceivable remedy, visited shrines, patronized quack doctors, investigated innumerable theories, and taken all sorts of nostrums and patent medicines. It is reported from Petersburg that the czar is addicted to the habit of taking patent medicines without the knowledge of his physicians. He is said to have acquired the habit from the czarina, who, before her marriage, used to dose herself with every new nostrum that appeared, and more than once has given testimonials to inventors. The illness the czar had two years ago was caused by the practice of drugging himself, though the usual nihilist poison story was circulated.

BURIAL OF SIR ARTHUR SULLI-LIVAN.

On the occasion of the funeral of Sir Arthur Sullivan yesterday, the clergy and the full choir of the Chapel Royal, where the first part of the service was held, were attired in their historic robes of scarlet and gold, and the remains were borne up the aisle of the effectively draped chapel behind the choir, chanting the plaintive opening verses of the burial service. The whole service was most impressive, and the anthems were expressly mournful. The audience displayed deep emotion as the remains of the anthem, "Yea, Though Walk," set to music from Sullivan's "Light of the World," resounded through the sacred edifice. At the cathedral the dean and chapter of St. (Continued on page 8.)

Wheat-Values of this article did not fluctuate this week; trading though steady was small in volume and lifeless; $105 for good was the basis of all grades.

Oats-The demand was good and the supply light; this caused prices to advance 2c to 3c per 100 lbs over last week's close. Today 75c was the rul-

Peas-Receipts were slow and light; 80c to 82c was the price of feeding grades, and 90c to 95c that of milling. Corn—Both the supply and demand improved; 75c was the general price paid for white, and 78c to 86c for No rye offered; the nominal price

Beans-Quite a few private sales are reported; the price paid ranged from 75c to $1, mostly 90c to $1; on the open market 90c to $1 was the range; the demand was steady.

Buckwheat—Very little came in; 85c to 90c was the usual price.

Hay-Receipts were uneven; some days plenty and others almost none; this made prices a little unstable. The ange for the week was $8 to $850 for No. 1 hay; some lots of poorish sold down to $750. Straw-Very little trade was done, owing to Mght receipts; $250 to $350 was the price by the load. Live hogs—The price has been a little uncertain. Eastern buyers did not seem to want to pay enough to meet sellers' ideas. Sales ranged from $5 to $5 40 for the week, closing at the top

Dressed hogs-The demand from local packers and butchers was more than equal to the supply. Prices held steady every day except Thursday, when there was an advance of 50c. From then out price held steady; $7 50 to $7 75 was the closing figure for loads of choice and $8 for single hogs.

WINTER'S APPROACH

Brings Duties That Every Individual Should Take Heed To:

With the approach of winter it becomes more than ever the duty of the individual to fortify the body against the attacks of such diseases as are so prevalent and easily contracted in the winter season. One of the best methods of doing so lies in the systematic and conscientious use of pure foods, and no other foods can be found so good, pure and nutritious as Granose and Granola, whose process of manufacture retains all the food elements that are wasted and lost in other pre-parations. Not only are they a certain cure for all bowel and stomach toubles, but they so strengthen the system that the insidious attacks of other diseases are easily repelled. Parents owe it to themselves and their families to try those foods. Their low price places them within the reach of all, and their undoubted merit entitle them to the foremost place on the family table. A postcard to the manufacturers, The Battle Creek Sanitarium Health Food Company, 651 Colborne street, London, will bring samples and full particulars of these foods.

UNCLE SAM'S ARMY.

New York, Nov. 28.-According to a special dispatch from Washington, a virtual agreement has been reached by the United States war department officials, with the president's approval and that of congressional leaders, for a permanent standing army organization with a minimum strength of 50,-000 men, to be increased as occasion

'MY PHYSICIANS TOLD ME I MUST DIE, but South American Kidney Cure cured me of that awful Bright's Disease." This is a sentence from a letter of a well-known business man in a western town, who, through overwork and worry had contracted this kidney pestilence. It will relieve instantly and cure all kidney diseases. Sold by C. McCallum & Co.—102.

If expectations are realized the output of copper for 1900 will reach 325,-000,000 pounds, valued at $42,259,000, the largest on record. Great Luck of an Editor.

"For two years all efforts to cure Eczema in the palms of my hands failed," writes Editor H. N. Lester, of Syracuse, Kan., "then I was wholly cured by Bucklen's Arnica Salve." It's the world's best for Eruptions, Sores and all skin diseases. Only 25 cents at W. T. Strong & Co.'s.

SUFFER NO MORE.-There are housands who live miserable lives because dyspepsia dulls the faculties and shadows existence with the cloud of depression. One way to dispel the vapors that beset the victims of this disorder is to order them a course of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, which are among the best vegetable pills known, being easy to take and are most efficacious in their action. A trial of them will prove this. Ten years ago the cost of a trip from Central Russia to Tomsk, Siberia, was $35 per capita; today it is only

LATE SPORTING.

BASEBALL. FLYS.

The National League board of arbitration will meet on Dec. 10.

It is said that Elberfeld will play short for McGraw's team next season. President Soden, of the Boston baseball team, will suggest an important change in the rules of the National League at the annual meeting at New York next month. He will recommend that the batsmen's box be defined by four rubber corners of the same texture as the home plate. all four corners of these batter's oxes could be designated by squares of rubber," said Mr. Soden, "there would be a permanent and unmistakable gauge by which the umpire could go. The squares would be broad enough to be plainly seen, and the umpire could always tell by them whether a batter was in his proper position. By having the corners always in sight the lines between them would always be known."

EASTERN LEAGUE ANNUAL. The annual meeting of the Eastern League of Professional Baseball Clubs will be held at the Narragansett Hotel, Providence, R. I., Wednesday, Dec. 5, at 12 o'clock noon. The board of directors will meet at the same place at 10 o'clock.

TRIGGER.

When in England Tod Sloan caused a sensation in English sporting circles by the ability he showed as a wing shot. Many of the crack English experts with the shot gun were obliged to bow to the little American jockey's steady nerve and quick eye. Tod gathered in not a little money from various sweepstakes, and became a most enthusiastic lover of the sport. Soon after his arrival here he sought Phil Daly, jun., America's crack wing shot, and challenged him to a match at live pigeons. Tod proudly showed Daly a new gun he had brought from England, and declared he could duplicate his English record with it in this

Mr. Daly accepted Mr. Sloan's defi immediately, and the match has been made for a 30-bird contest, for $500 a side, to take place the latter part of this week at Long Branch Notwithstanding ing Sloam's confidence in himsef, Daly is the favorite in the betting. SPORTING NOTES.

The annual horse show sale of trotters in New York started off with an average of $539 51 for 82 head. The Prodigals were in demand and Lawson paid $3,350 for the 2-year-old Priola. Ruby M. (2:12½) is the last fast horse to be shipped to Honolulu. The islands will have a big bunch of fast ones in a short time. The breeding of race thorses is also being carried on quite extensively

SKATING. NATIONAL AMATEUR SKATING ASSOCIATION.

New York, Nov. 28.—At a meeting of the board of directors of the National Amateur Skating Association of America, held last night, a new alliance was formed with the Amateur Skating Association of Canada, and in future with the championship in both speed and figure skating will go the absolute champenship of America.

LIVE STOCK AT PAN-AMERICAN. Toronto, Nov. 28 .- The representations made by Hon. John Dryden and Mr. H. J. Hill to the directors of the Pan-American Exposition as to the dates of the American live stock exhibits conflicting with the Toronto Industrial have had their effect. In a letter to the Ontario department of agriculture yesterday Mr. Frank Converse, superintendent of live stock at the Pan-American Exposition, states that the following dates for live stock exhibits have been agreed upon instead | soldier and a stone-cutter. of those previously announced: Swine, Aug. 26 to Sept. 7; cattle, Sept. 9 to Sept. 21; sheep, Sept. 23 to Oct. 5; horses, Oct. 7 to Oct. 19; poultry, Oct. 21 to Oct. 31.

"I'D LIKE TO DO THAT." Detroit, Nov. 28.-The News says: A precty, fair-haired tot, who was at Wonderland with her indulgent mother recently, came very near being the star attraction of the second performance. Standing in her chair, she watched everything on the stage with absorbing interest, and made her own balby comment on what she saw. The little one attracted general attention, and created much amusement by crying out, as Elseeta was dancing in her stocking feet: "Oh, mamma! I'd like to da that." Miss Norton had just | finished a song, when the infantile audftor wanted to know: "Is you goin' to sing again?" After a while she stepped away from her mother and visited favored ones in the audience.

DEATH OF SENATOR DAVIS.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 28.-United States Senator Cushman Kellogg Davis, chairman of the committee or foreign relations of the senate, died at his home in this city last night, after an illness of two months. Senator Davis, who was born in Henderson, N. Y., June 16, 1838, served for two years in the anmy, retiring in 1864 on account of ill-health. In 1868 he was elected to the Minnesota Legislature, and afterward became United State district attorney, governor of Minnesota, and subsequently United States senator. In 1895-96 many friends of the senator pressed his name for the presidential nomination, but before the state convention to name delegates met he withdrew and McKinley delegates were sent from Minnesota. During the past four years Senator Davis' position as chairman of the foreign relations committee of the senate and later as one of the Paris peace commissioners have kept him prominently before the public of all mations. He was re-elected without opposition in 1899 for his third

SAVES MONEY TO THE CITY.

In connection with Police Magistrate Love's completion of his first year in office, it is interesting to note the success attending his adoption of a departure from former methods. This is his practice of going to the police station on Sunday morning and dealing with those arrested after the Sat-urday session of the court. Those entitled to be admitted to ball are given the privilege, while those charged with first-time or trivial offenses are discharged. Under the ald system, these case would all be remanded to jail till Monday, and each remand costs the city $1 50, as well as the keep of the prisoners. It is estimated that the police magistrate's method effects an everage weekly saving of $10 to the city treasury.

After prayer offered by Mrs. Johnson, the business was transacted, followed by the election of Mrs. McDermid as honorary president, which aroused an earnest address in regard to the work connection with the W. C. T. U. Mrs. Harrison conducted the devotional exercises, giving a soul-stirring and encouraging talk to the members. There were intensely interesting addresses on the progress made in connection with the work of the W. C. T U. given by Miss McEvey, Mrs. Wm. Mrs. Tennent, Mrs. Douglas and Mrs. Wallace. Also an address by Mrs. McDermid on the injurious and degrading effects of the cigarette habit on the youth of our land.

A brief mothers' meeting was led by Mrs. James Bowman, who read a very suggestive paper on "The Child and Money." After an interesting discussion on the paper the meeting closed with prayer. The ladles then adjourned to the dining hall, where the refreshment committee waited upon them in their usual happy manner. The next etting will be held on Dec. 11 and will be addressed by the Rev. Cecil Owen.

WITH COURT MYRTLE

A very pleasant time was spent in Court Myrtle, Knights of Pythias hall, last evening, being an amalgamation of Court Columbia with Myrtle. After the initiation of three new members and general routine business, Messrs. Marks, L. J. Kallem and James Carson of the Marks Bros. Opera Company, who will be in London until the end of the week, appeared on the scene Mr. Marks being a member of Court Myrtle. The remainder of the evening was spent by the members being treated to an entertainment, consisting of songs, recitations and funny stories, which they will long remember. Mr. Marks was in the happiest mood, feeling that in reality he was "one of us." He is fond of our city. He is fond of our city, and looks forward to each visit here with pleasure, as he feels that he is welcomed not only in old Myrtle, but his company's efforts are shown to be always appreciated by London people. There was also among the visitors a Mr. Stanley, of Toronto, a brother knight, who made a capital speech, full of wit and wisdom. Bros. Genge, Conway and Walsh also delighted the audience with songs. The meeting broke up with all feeling that they had thoroughly enjoyed themselves, and looking forward with the greatest pleasure for Marks Bros.' return.

It was a bright, beautiful morning, when Mane. St. Ange left the chateau Horrible thoughts and ideas crowder into her mind as she passed through the forest. The fancied cries of the madwoman, and the death-shrick of the child woud have been nothing to her; she knew worse furies than these. She walked through the dim woods, where the snakes hissed and rustled in the long grass. The Belgian had taken her luggage to the railway sta-tion of St. Hilatre-sur-Rhone. He bade her good-bye after a stolid fashion of own, and stood watching the train until the last carriage had disappeared. "The most beautiful woman in the wide world," he muttered to himself-

"the most mysterious and the most stupborn, too. Still, I will remain here as she has told me, and think no more harm than I can help. Meanwhile Mime. St. Ange learned back in the comfortable compartment of a first-class carriage and closed her eyes. She would not look at the beau-tiful country through which she was passing—the vineyards, the hills crowned with myrtles, the laughing streams, the quaint old towns and gray church-towers. No beauty of land or sky should touch her heart. She hardened herself against it. What if the birds sung, the flowers bloomed, and the golden sunshine flashed upon green meadows and silver streams? It lips. was all less than nothing to her-a woman whose heart was hardened.

then, and in their depths there was a look of keen pain.

A few minutes later she was on board The Queen of the Seas. An elderly lady, plainly dressed, she passed unnoticed. How vividly she remembered the time when, from the moment she had stepped on board until she had left the steamer, she had been the one great attraction. All that was ended She had, as it were, been dead and buried all these long years.

The waves beat against the vessel, and the winds wafted her onward, while Mme. St. Ange's heart each moment grew harder and colder.

The white cliffs rose before her at last. She alone knew why it was that she trembled and faltered when her feet touched English ground. On kinding she took a ticket to London, intending, after resting one night there, to go to Deeping on the morrow. It was so strange to hear English spoken all round her, to see English faces again. She felt bewildered. 'I have been bushed so long," she said to herself. "I feel like one risen from Arrived in the metropolis, she went to an hotel that long years before Mme, de Ferras had made her home,

It had changed since these days, and the proprietor had little time to spare for the plainly-dressed elderly woman who asked for a bed-room and wanted nothing more. By the earliest train in the morning Mme. St. Ange went on to Deeping. There was no closing of the eyes in the distance the Fielden woods, the Heaven, the pain that rent her heart was like the stinging of a poisoned arrow! Bitter anguish filled the dark eyes, the expression on the changed countenance was one of mute misery. Once, with some of her old impetuosity, she threw herseuf back in the carriage. "I cannot bear it!" she said. "I was mad to come!"

But she had more to suffer yet. She stopped at the station, every brick of which was formiliar to her, and on the platform of which, with her kindly, loving mother, she had been hundreds of times, always happy, triumphant, blithe and gay. Now she came to it alone, unloved, with the seeds of death and a life-long hate in her

There was an omnibus waiting to take passengers to Deeping. The conductor looked at her as she entered. "Where to, ma'am," he said, with a touch of his hat.

She remembered the name of only 'The Rhysworth Arms Hotel," she answered, and her blood grew cold as she uttered the words. At the Rhysworth Arms there were new faces-no one recognized her. She wanted a sitting-room and a bedroomshe could not tell for how long. She was on her way to the North of England, but wanted a rest. She might remain two or three days, or a week-

Those who attended upon Mme. St. Ange noticed her curious manner, her bewildered looks, her strange face and wild burning eyes. Still she seemed to have plenty of money, and that was the chief consideration.

After partaking of some light refreshment, she went out, saying that the hour of her return was uncertain. "What does she call herself?" asked the landhady of the chambermaid. "I do ot know. She is a married lady; & d I think she said her name was C .e. I did not quite catch it."

The old home of her rival was nearest; then came Scarsdale; Beaulieu day at some little distance to the west, and Fleiden Manor towards the south. ough the streets. Very soon she had left the town behind her. She was a quick, graceful walker, and the few miles of country road were nothing to her. The trees and fields, the turns of the river, the winding of the green lanes, were all familiar to her. Presently, she reached miliar to her. Presently she reathed Beautieu. It was occupied by new people, but she determined to go up people, but she determined to go up to the well-known door, and ask some question or other which would enable her to see the place. There was a fierce pain at her heart, yet she could not shed a tear. She recalled her bright, happy, lost life—the time when her gentle, kindly mother had been so broate, and fond of her so sure of her proud and fond of her, so sure of her success in life, so hopeful for her, so caressing and so indulgent to her. Ah, heaven, the bitter, terrible difference between then and now Once more she trod the old familiar paths winding through the grounds, round to the side door. In her mind's famey she could see her mother's face, as she had seen it hundreds of times, looking out of the great bay-window, with its wreath of passion-flowers around it, waiting, with loving words, to welcome her. "There is no love like a mother's," Lola thought, and a great tearless sob rose from her heart to her

Could it be that but a few years ago she had been a beautiful, happy, Presently a sound roused her and innocent child! She could romember so sent the color in a hot flush to her vividly the day when Mrs. Chiefden face. It was the noise of the waves on the shore. She opened her eyes her Dolores and how madame had said they were to be friends and to love each other always.

A cruel, batter smile, curled her lip. "Well," she said, "if I have suffered, she had suffered more; and that was all I asked. Her heart grew hard and cold again. She looked into the old hall; nothing was changed. It might have been only yesterday that she had placed the flowers she had gathered on the hall table, and laughed at her own fancy for calling herself a red rose. She was glad to move away; she had seen her old home, and the sight of it had been like a searing iron to her. She felt ill and tired; she would go back to the hotel and partake of re-freshment, and then she would begin to make inquiries. She would have to exercise great caution. But she must know why she had been sought, and what those advertisements meant. She walked back to Deeping. In the high street she saw a fruit shop with some fine grapes and where peaches were for sale. She was thirsty and faint from fatigue, and she thought that nothing would be more delicious and refreching than a bunch of purple grapes. She went in to purchase them, and sat down. There was some little delay in serving her, and, while she was thinking that this would be a good op-portunity to ask a few questions with-out attracting attention, a smart little pony carriage stopped at the door, and a beautiful girl in a blue dress descended from it.

ing. There was no closing of the eyes Mme. St. Ange, vatching eagerly, now. She sat quite upright, watching with eyes full of pain, fell back with the familiar scenes. She knew every a low, startled cry, when she saw the field, every clump of trees; she saw girl's face, and clung to the chair, as a low, startled cry, when she saw the though to prevent herself from falling. gray towers of Scarsdale, and the It was Sir Karl's face under another forest near Deeping Hurst. Ah, guise; there were Sir Karl's clear blue guise; there were Sir Karl's clear blue eyes, with no shadow of guilt or guile speaks as follows of the intermediate in their depths. There were his clustering waves of hair, there was his mouth at once so gracious and proud. For a few moments it was as though the sight had stricken her dumb. Then eraled the collegians at almost all the garl was by her side, and a sweet silvery voice was saying: grapes, Mrs. Grey, for a sick woman whom I am going to see."

The low voice was like Sir Karl's. The soft blue eyes glanced carelessly but kindly at the bent figure in the black dress. If each could have known! If some good spirit could have told Gertrude that this was the woman for whom she had sought, the woman with whom rested the knowledge of her fa-ther's fate, what grief and trouble might have been spared her!

Mine. St. Ange watched each move-ment of the graceful girl; she listened to each word she spoke. She could have cried out: "Karl! Karl" She was nearer tosing her senses and reason just then than she had ever been. Karl's eyes, Karl's voice! Her head desciped to her breast; she could not hold it up:

"I am afraid you are ill," said a sweet, kindly voice; and the eyes like was but a small attendance on the Karl's were bent upon her compassion-

"Thank you, I am quite well," madame answered coldly; and the young girl drew back with a chilled and dis-almost too great to women who in years of suffering have found no help in doctors or medicines. But it is to be remembered that no claim is made for "Favorite Prescrip-tion" which is not substantiated by thou-sands of women cured by its use. Its effects are truly wonderful. It wipes out past years of pain as a sponge, wipes a slate. Favorite Prescription is the great medicine for women. It establishes regularity, dries enfeebling drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It is the best preparative for maternity, making the baby's advent practically painless.

"When I wrote to you in March, asking advice as to what to do for myself," says Mrs. Ella Reynolds, of Guffle, McLean Co., Ky., "I was expecting to become a mother in June, and was sick all of the time. Had been sick for several months. Could not get anything to stay in my stomach, not even water. Had mishaps twice in six months, and threatening all the time with this one. Had female weakness for several years. My hips, back and lower bowels hurt me all the time. Had numbness from my hips down. Had several hard cramping spells, and was not able to do any work at all. I received your answer in a few days, telling me to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I took three bottles, and before I had taken it a week I was better, and before I had taken it a month I was able to help do my work. On the 27th of May my beby was born, and I was only sick three hours, and had an easy time.

Ryan Gets the Decision Over Kid Carter.

Annual Meeting London Hockey Club Tonight-The Stanley Cup-Racing Events.

FISTIC.

RYAN WON FROM KID CAFA ER. Chicago, Nov. 27.-Tommy Ryan, wto claims Chicago as his home, defeated Kid Carter, of Brooklyn, before a crowd of 5,000 people tonight. Ryan had the best of the fight all the way. with the exception of two intervals in the first and second rounds, when Carter sent him to the mat with right Carter was beaten fearfully about the head and face, and although he went the limit, he fought the last rounds without knowing much about what he was doing, except that there was a man in front of him whom he had to hit. He fought gamely to the last, and his superior weight and strength was a heavy handicap to The latter, however, was much too heavy for Carter, and got inside nearly every swing he made, and blocked three out of five blows that were sent to his body. George Siler awarded the purse to Ryan, amid loud cheers from the crowd, the applause being fully as much for the game boy from Brooklyn as for the victor.

The first preliminary bout of six rounds was between Joe Sherlock and Eugene McGovern, at 125 pounds. The fight was stopped in the third round to save Sherrock, who was badly pun-

Harry Griffin and Larry Gleason, local light-weights, met at 130 pounds. The fight was given to Gleason in the fourth round. Griffin had committed foults repeatedly.

Morrison Rauch, of Chicago, and Kid McFadden, of San Francisco, came together at 115 pounds. McFadden forfeited for being over-weight. They went for six fast rounds, the decision being given to McFadden.

Harry Harris and Clarence Forbes, of Chicago, fought at 110 pounds. Jeff Thorne, of England, and Jack Beezchelte, of Chicago, met at 160 pounds. Thorne was given the decision after two minutes of fighting, Beezchelte having injured Thorne by a blow below the belt. Beezchelte apologized after delivering the blow. Thorne was quite severely injured.

AN UNPOPULAR DECISION. Denver, Col., Nov. 27 .- Bennie Yanger, "the Tipton Slasher," of Chicago, and Young Corbett, of Denver, fought a ten-round draw before the Colorado Athletic Club tonight. The decision was very unpopular, and the referee, Jack McKenna, was hissed by the crowd as he left the ring. A TWENTY-ROUND DRAW. Omaha, Nov. 27.—Perry Queenan, of Chicago, and young Peter Jackson fought 20 rounds here to a draw to-

HOBBS' GREAT WORK.

Montreal. Nov. 26.—The Gazette championship game on Saturday: "The western men were much the superior team, or at least they put more science in the game. They out-genpoints, and the work of Hobbs behind the line as somewhat of a revelation. "I should like some of those nice The match depended in a great measure on the forward line. It was not clean work, and the wings of both sides were very busy at things not down in the rules of play. Both sides offended about equally, and Mr. Lash was kept guessing most of the time. McGill did not do enough punting when the opportunity offered, and consequently lost ground time and again. The visitors were very good at interference work, which most of the time went unpoticed. McGill did some of it as well, but is was not as effective, the collegians not having made a particular study of it, as their opponents evidently had. The match on whole was a hard one, and up to the standard of some senior matches played here, and while McGill played a plucky game they seemed to be badly managed, and the best team won. Considering the fine, crisp weather, there grand stand.

HOCKEY.

ANNUAL MEETING TONIGHT. This evening the London Hockey Club will hold its annual meeting at the Tecumseh House. All those desirous of joining the club are requested to be present, as well as all old standbys. Important business is to be decided at the meeting, and every member is requested to be on hand at 8 p.m. sharp. FUTURE DISPOSITION OF THE

STANLEY CUP.

Montreal, Nov. 27 .- At the approaching meeting of the Ontario Hockey Association one of the most important matters that will come up for discussion will be the future disposition of the trophy known as the Stanley cup, and the supposed arbitrary way in which the trustees have compelled the holders to play matches for it, irrespective of the fact that their regular championship series were not finished by any means. Although both Howard Wilson, the president, and George James, the secretary, decline to make known today what amendments will be brought before the meeting, it can be stated positively that an amend-ment dealing with the Stanley cup will be brought up—an amendment by which the senior clubs will bind themselves not to play any matches for the cup till after the regular season is finished. The mover of the amendment claims that the arbitrary rulings of the Stanley cup trustees thus far have, the last year particularly, tended to spoil the sport, instead of encourage it, as Lord Stanley intended that the trophy should. They have allowed the regular season to be broken up when was hardly half finished, and spoiled the temper of the players as well as the series, and for the little benefit they have done the visiting teams, who were aching to take the muchcoveted cup away with them, they have done any amount of harm to the game in this part of the country. It will be interesting to know what the trustees will have to say about this movement against their authority, and the notice of motion is almost bound to meet with protests from the extreme west and extreme east.

GLENCOE CLUB REORGANIZED. Glencoe, Ont., Nov. 27 .- At the annual meeting of the Glencoe hockey club tast night the following officers were elected for the season: Honorary president, T. K. Pole; honorary vice-president, M. C. Campbell; patrons, J. C. Elliott, E. T. Buck, A. Fin'ayson; president, G. A. Parrott; vice-president, John Stevenson; secretary-treasurer, J. M. Donnelly; manager, Allan Rae; captain, A. D. McAlipine.

THE CODERICH CLUB. Goderich, Ont., Nov. 27.-Last evening at a large and enthusiastic meeting of the Goderich hockey club, the following officers were elected: Honorary president, Hon. J. T. Garrow; honorary vice-president, W. L. Elliot; president, F. M. Dunham; vice-president, H. M. Tait; treasurer, Charles Sheppard; secretary, G. L. Allan; captain, Wm. McCartny; manager, E. C. Attrill; committee, the officers and Messrs. Fred Sheppard and Percy Walton. The prospects for a successful season look bright, and Goderich may again win the championship of the H. C. H. A., as all the old players are available and a few new men are on hand.

K. OF P. SMOKING CONCERT. A largely-attended smoking concert was held in the Knights of Pythias Hall last night, in honor of the amalgamation of Myrtle and Columbia Lodges. The occasion proved a most pleasurable one, the arrangements being excellently made and carried out. A pleasingly diversified programme of cards, songs, speeches and luncheon made the evening pass quickly and pleasantly.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY OF THE Y. M. C. A.

There was a large attendance at the monthly meeting on Monday afternoon of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Young Men's Christian Association. The reports of the several committees were very encouraging, especially that of the finance, which reported having collected during the past month $92 40. The president made an earnest appeal that all the members would make a special effort for work in teh future. Special attention was given to the plans of the social committee, who have arranged for entertainments for the young men, to be held in the par-lors once a month, the first of the series to be on Friday next, it being designated an "Apple Social." New Year's day reception was also talked over, when the ladies look for a great success, and hope for assistance from all the auxiliary's members. Eleven new members were proposed and accepted.

Gold Timepieces To Be Souvenirs of the African Campaign

If the Council Supplies the Necessary $2,000—Military Concert and Parade-London Wants a Gun.

Every Londoner who fought in South Africa will be given a gold watch as a souvenir of the campaign, and a token of the pride that the city takes in its soldiers. A motion to this effect, made by Ald. Douglass and supported by Mayor Rumball and others, was carried almost unanimously, at a meeting of the reception committee held last night. A sub-committee, comprising Messrs. J. W. Jones, R. A. Carrothers, E. J. MacRobert and ex-Mayor Wilson, was appointed to wait upon the council and ask for the necessary funds, which will probably amount to comething over $2,000. These will doubtless be forthcoming, as many of the aldermen were present last night and apparently favored the proposi-The watches will have cases of pure gold, and upon motion of Ald. The partnership heretofore existing between John S. Brown and R. C. Brown, shoe merchants, at 145 Dundas street, under the firm name of "J. S. Brown & Co." has been dissolved. and John S. Brown has entered into partnership with his brother, Frank A. Brown, under the firm name of "Brown Brothers." This firm will open their new Boot Shop, 182 Dundas street, adjoining Strong's Drug Store, on or about Dec. 1. In the meantime Mr. Jack Brown (the name he is better known by) will be at the Bargain Shoe Store, where he will be pleased to meet his friends who may require Footwear that he can recommend and at prices extremely low. This the other members refused to allow, as they were agreed that he had been absolutely fair. To overcome the possibility of friction, Mr. Birtwistle's name was added to the committee, all tenders already received will be returned, and new ones for solid gold only will be called for. Ald. DEATH OF MISS FREEL. Miss Hattie B. Freel, well known to many Londoners, died on Tuesday morning at the residence of her brother-in-law, Rev. Rural Dean Hodgins, Seaforth. Miss Freel was the youngest daughter of Mr. Morgan Freel, of Thamesford, and was a bright, clever young woman. On her entrance examination she won the Hegler medal at the Thamesford pubschool, and afterwards attended the London Collegiate Institute, where she obtained her second class nonprofessional certificate. After teaching a year near Delaware, she attended the Ottawa Normal, where she attracted the attention of Inspector Gleasham. He offered her a position in the city schools, where she taught successfully for over twelve years. A severe attack of inflammatory rheu-matism, followed by typhoid, left her with heart trouble. A year ago the board gave her leave of absence, to see if she might regain her health. During the summer her health improved somewhat, but recently she was taken with a bad attack of heart weakness, which proved fatal. Her funeral takes place at Thamesford tomorrow.

FOOD IN NEW YORK:

An Experienced Physician's Work.

Dr. Hylande MacGrath in experimenting on the result of food on his own body, says: "After eating four heaping teaspoons of Grape-Nuts with a tittle cream, I had occasion to walk about fourteen miles, and was prised at my feeling of strength and buoyancy. On other occasions, when I have taken careful note of my feelings and sensations, I have discovered that intellectual tasks are comparatively easy when using Grape-Nuts at each meal. "Of course, I understand that the theory regarding Grape-Nuts is practically perfect. That is, the food conelements that are well known. tains and furnished in a concentrated and quite delicious form, it is reasonable to expect results, but the physical demonstration of these results is more sutisfactory, always, than the mere statement of theory.

"Grape-Nuts, combined with fruit and seasonable vegetables, I prescribe to ailing women and delicate men, and have not had a case yet that has not furnished gratifying results. A nervous, irritable man of 72 became fat and amiable using Grape-Nuts food as a regular (but not exclusive) diet. "I have found slender, anaemic girls improved rapidly in health, spirits, weight and looks, on Grape-Nuts food. It would be a blesssing to thousance of such girls if this food was used more largely in boarding schools and seminaries, not to be administered as medicine, but as a pure, healthful and highly nourishing food." - Dr. Mac-Grath lives at 96 Fifth avenue, New

The Necessity Of a Change.

It is necessary for the welfare of our being, in order to preserve our health, that we should have an occasional chang.

A change of dress is as essential as a change of climate.

Means are required to accomplish either.

In the matter of dress, Fit-Reform disposes of this question, as it gives to the consumer two suits at the cost of one as offered by the merchant tailor, and thus answers one of nature's demands.

We invite inspection at our health resort.

"Test and try before you buy" is a homely, old, commercial invitation, but it's good to give and to get in the purchasing of a new range. The "Souvenir" invites comparison and criticism with any kitchen range made anywhere-and if you're contemplating buying, and will give the time to compare it on points of price, style, durability, appointments, completeness, economy and general good service, the "Souvenir" can afford to abide by your judgment. Now put it to the test. The best in the world is its place in Stovedom-and it's "at the top" on its merits. It is handsomely mounted and most modern in the minutest detail of construction. The

(Continued from page 4.) Paul's and the whiterobed choristers, surrounded by thousands of spectators, met the procession. As the great doors flew open the sunlight streamed in and the voices of the choir, strong and sweet, broke the solemn silence. Standing on chairs, the vast congregation trained every nerve to get a glimpse of the coffin, which was almost hidden beneath wreaths of flowers. Around the opening which led to the crypt this inscription was worked in flowers: "His $12,500,000 FOR GUNS. The bringing of the Indian army up to modern standard is going to be expensive, but the government mean to face the situation. The present proportion of guns to men is something over two per thousand. In the case of the Indian field army at least this must be raised to over four. To do this it is found that 400 Jakhs of rupees ($12,- 500.000) must be spent. The British Museum has been enriched by a complete set of Kruger coinage from the Pretoria mint.
