Her Hansom Money Wanted for Political Purposes—Count Tolstoi Revived.

London, Feb. 24.-The Irish party attaches great significance to the evictions of tenants of 40 farms on Lord De Freyne's estate in Roscommon county, Ireland, for refusal to pay rent, and intends to make a fierce parliamentary struggle over the matter.

The country hereabouts is alive with police, who patrol the caused a loss of more than 50 lives roads day and night, force themselves into people's homes and in every way create a reign of terror. Fifteen representative public men of the district have been imprisoned purely for taking part in meetings of a political nature and many others are being prosecuted. If the De Freyne tenants succeed it will be impossible for the government to resist any longer tlement of the Irish land question. The very existence of the Irish nation and the whole future of the Irish national movement are seriously affected by the struggle proceeding on the De Freyne and neighboring estates."

Nobody was at Strumitza to meet no indication where they proposed to release their prisoners. Mme. Tsilka and her baby were also released at he same time. They are all well. Miss Stone immediately made herself known to the authorities at Strumitza. The first news of Miss Stone's re-lease was contained in a telegram received by Mr. Dickinson, the American consul-general at Constantinople, from the American vice-consul at The telegram gives no details of the release. "The cause of all the trouble is the government's refusal to face the unanimous demand of the Irish people that it pass legislation giving compulsory power to buy out landlords and thus restore the land to the Irish people. Lord Dillon's estate, which is next to Lord De Freyne's, was bought out by the government, and the tenants who bought the land are paying 50 per cent less rent than formerly. The De Freyne tenants naturally wished to do likewise, but Lord De Freyne refused to sell at any terms. The government, instead of endeavoring to effect a settlement, poured in ng. In an interview he said the brigands captured an American, caused they believed the Americans had the most money, and would be likely to pay the ransom. "Did the brigands want the money for them-sleves?" Mr. Eddy was asked. "No, they did not, and that is where the people in America do not understand this case. It is entirely a political matter, and all the people in Macedonia are in sympathy with the kidnapping, for they believe it is a step toward freeing Macedonia from Turkbeen, and the money they demanded, $100,000, was intended for the Macedonian cause. # THE CORONATION.

The cost of the coronation, as represented in the civil service estimates, is £100,000, or $500,000. This may include the expenses of the two processions and the alterations in the abbey, but obviously does not cover the entertainment of the guests by the crown and the special embassies of the colonies and various powers. The street decorations will be managed by committees of the property owners, the borough councils having shown little energy in making arrangements of a comprehensive scope. Clubland has already come to the front with a unique decorative scheme of St. James street. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's presence becomes especially important, since the Australian premiers are begging off on one pretext or another. Sir Wilfrid and Mr. Barton will be the chief colonial repre-sentatives and will have the places of honor in the abbey, and probably at both conventions. Lord Strathcona will probably occupy a seat among the peers. The minor colonial officials are not more likely than the secretaries of the regular diplomatic embassies to obtain entrance to the abbey. The secretaries of the American embassy here frankly admit that they will be unable to obtain seats in the abbey or special privileges for American visitors. The facilities for seeing the processions outside will be ample, and tourists need not make arrangements until the last moment. BREACH OF ETIQUETTE. Took Place, Too, After the Reading of Washington's Farewell Address-The Combatants Suspended.

Washington, Feb. 24.-In accordance with a long-time custom on Washington's birthday, the farewell address of Washington was read in the senate on Saturday, immediately after the convening of that body. Mr. Burrows (Michigan) read the immortal docu-

Some time afterward, in the course of debate, Senator Tillman (S. C.) made serious reflections upon the honor of his colleague, Mr. McLaurin (S. C.), and charged that his vote in support has no more right to dictate to sold and Central America than to Canada."

In conclusion Mr. Mills quotes the United States' reply to the Barbary States, "We prefer war to tribute," addof the ratification of the treaty of Paris had been cast through the exercise of improper influences.

Mr. McLaurin was not in the chamber at the time, but was engaged in committee work. He was sent for and appeared as Mr. Tillman continued his speech.

Pale as ashes, Mr. McLaurin rose to address the senate, speaking to a question of personal privilege. He review ed Mr. Tillman's charges briefly, and GOVERNMENT RAILWAY then denounced the statement made by his colleague as a "wilful, malicious and deliberate lie.'

Scarcely had the words fallen from his lips when Mr. Tillman, sitting a few seats from him, with Mr. Teller, of Colorado, between them, sprang at him. Mr. McLaurin met him half way and in an instant the two senators were engaged in a rough and tumble fight. Mr. McLaurin received a heavy blow on the forehead, while Mr. Tillman got a bad punch on the nose, which brought blood. Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms Layton sprang over desks to separate the combatants, and himself received several blows. He got between them finally. Senators Warren and Scott, two of the most powerful men in the senate, leaped to his ssistance and pinioned the arms of the belligerent senators and forced them into their seats. They were permitted by a vote of the senate to make apologies to the senate. Neither senator when seen at his home would make a statement. IN DISGRACE.

Washington, Feb. 24.-The president has withdrawn his invitation, extended to Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, to attend the dinner to be given in honor of Prince Henry of Prussia at the White House. It is stated that this action on the part of the president was made necessary from the fact that owing to occurrences on the floor of the senate last Saturday, the senator from South Carolina was declared in contempt of the senate. Senator Martin, of Virginia, a member of the committee on naval affairs, has accepted an invitation in Mr. Tillman's place. The invitation was extended originally to Mr. Tillman, owing to the fact that

London, Feb. 24.-The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Express says in a dispatch that the police, learning that some 500 students had arranged a meeting to be held in a certain theater last Friday night, quietly filled the galleries of the theater with a thousand dvorniks. After the performance had ended at midnight the students remained in the pit. the dvorniks still in the gallery. At 3 o'clock in the morning, at a given signal, the dvorniks suddenly descended and attacked the students, beating them with clubs in a most brutal man-ner. United States Reply to Barbary States. London, Feb. 24.-Hon. David Mills, of the Canadian Supreme Court, in an article in the March number of the Empire Review, written while Mr. Mills was Minister of Justice, bitterly assails President Roosevelt's and Senator Lodge's interpretation of Monroeism. He declares that the United States "are so long enamored of their own political institutions and so devoted to self-worship that they think no others are de-serving of admiration." Mr. Mills says that it would be to the State of Maine's commercial advantage to enter the Canadian federation, and adds: "America has no more right to dictate to South ing: "The United States must not be surprised when the occasion arises if she receives from European statesmen answer not unlike that she gave to the Dey of Algers. # A CHALLENGE

True Series

Such Is the Present Attitude of Great Britain.

"Hands Off South Africa" Is, in Effect, the Warning Utterance of the British Government.

The English newspapers have greeted the movement for intervention on behalf of the Boers with a challenge to the whole world, of which the tone is adequately indicated by this extract from the London St. James' Gazette:

"England has never been more determined than she is at the present moment to carry the South African war to the conclusion she set before herself in October three years back, and no country can attempt to alter that determination without facing the disagreeable fact that England has a fleet. Nor need we suppose that continental statesmen are under any delusion as to the 'humiliating pose that confinental statesmen are under any delusion as to the 'humiliating position' in which England finds herself today. She has done what no other country in Europe could have done, and at the end of twenty-eight months of a war carried on seven thousand miles away she can still depend upon being able to send out more men, more horses and more supplies, not only from the United Kingdom, but from her loyal and splendid colonies."

This attitude is characteristic, also, of the London Times in its comment upon the proposal for intervention made in the French Chamber of Deputies and the rejection of that proposal by M. Delcasse, the French minister of foreign affairs:

"M. Deicasse might perhaps have shown rather less coldness in discussing a subject which was made the occasion for a shower of foul calumnies against the him. for a shower of foul calumnies against a friendly state, but at all events he himself spoke and acted with propriety. M. Berry and his friends argued with much pathos and little sense that France owed it to herself, and to that traditional love of humanity which she has so often and so conspicuously displayed in her invasionals of the territories of her neighbors, to offer her mediation between England and the nominal governments of the late Boer states. The secretary for foreign affairs coldly pointed out to them what the consequences of such an offer must be. The late President Mc-Kinley made friendly inquiries very early in the struggle how such a proposal was likely to be accepted, and the reply he received was quite unmistakable. If France or any other power were, in the face of that reply, to insist on pressing France or any other power were, in the face of that reply to insist on pressing mediation or interference of any kind upon us, that power would do so with full knowledge that her advances would be met by a clear and forcible diplomatic rebuff. Unless this hypothetical power were then prepared to eat the leek she had tendered to us, she must, as M. Delcasse most appositely observed, seek to enforce her mediation. That, he went on to tell the chamber again with perfect to tell the chamber again with perfect truth, 'inevitably meant war.'" The English newspapers point out that

The Engish newspapers point out that the British Empire is in a position to continue the struggle indefinitely. "It rests only with the intractable element to submit," says the London Standard, "or—to be overcome." But the Quarterly Review (London), in an article on "The War and Its Lessons," says:

War and Its Lessons," says:
"The disquicting feature in the situation is that, even if the Boers have only ten thousand men still in the field, it must take, at the present rate of cap-ture, from one to two years more before they are disposed of. * * * No doubt if they are disposed of.

The doubt it is and money were of no importance—

If it were not the case that British interests throughout the world are sufferavailable fighting force in South Africa, we dare not risk such a disaster as be-fell the Athenian expedition to Syracuse Tell the Athelian expedition to syladischeme might be content with a policy of leisurely but sure attrition. But this policy is costing the nation directly one and a quarter millions a week; the indirect loss is incalculable. It is wearing down our army, as well as reducing the Books; it is giving our rivals and enemies. Boers: it is giving our rivals and enemies eyes of the people of Europe and America. It is destroying our prestige."

ONLY A SUGGESTION, PHILADELPHIA

TO THE WORLD But It Has Proven of Interest and Value to Thousands.

> Common sense would suggest that if one wishes to become fleshy and plump it can only result from the food we eat and digest, and that food should be albuminous or flesh-forming food, like eggs, beefsteak and cereals; in other words, the kinds of food that make flesh are the foods which form the greater part of our daily bills of

But the trouble is that while we eat enough and generally too much, the stomach, from abuse and overwork, does not properly digest and assimi-late it, which is the reason so many people remain thin and under weight; the digestive organs do not completely digest the flesh-forming beefsteak and eggs and similar wholesome food.

There are thousands of such who are really confirmed dyspeptics, although they may have no particular pain or inconvenience from their stomachs. If such persons would lay their pre-judices aside and make a regular practice of taking, after each meal, one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the food would be quickly and thoroughly digested, because these tablets contain the natural peptones and diastase which every weak stomach lacks, and by supplying this want the stomach is soon enabled to regain its natural tone and vigor.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digest every form of flesh-forming food, meat, eggs, bread and potatoes, and this is the reason they so quickly build up, strengthen and invigorate thin, dyspeptic men, women and children. Invalids and children, even the most delicate, use them with marked benefit as they contain no strong, irritating drugs, no cathartic nor any harmful Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the most successful and most widely known of any remedy for stomach troubles, because it is the most reasonable and scientific of modern medicines. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by every druggist in the United States and Canada, as well as in Great Britain, at 50 cents for complete treatment. Nothing further is required to cure any stomach trouble or to make thin, dyspeptic people strong, nervous, plump and well.

WAS SHUT OFF

Wire Connection With Other Points

As a Result of the Recent Sleet Storm-Four Persons Killed by Fallen Charged Wires.

New York, Feb. 22.-The sleet storm that struck New York proved to be the most severe that has been experienced for several years. Telegraphic communication was almost completely suspended until this evening, when it was generally restored. Throughout the day the streets were rendered nearly impassable by slush, many of them almost presenting the appearance of rivers, the sewers being incapable of carrying off the overflow. Owing to the condition, street car traffic was at a minimum. The greatest damage was sustained in Brooklyn, where scores of horses were killed by contact with the wires, which were everywhere prostrated.

The Brooklyn bridge presented a brilliant spectacle, being completely encased in a glittering crystal coating. On Staten Island hardly a wire was left standing, and traffic was everywhere suspended. Mail advices from Philadelphia say that city is as completely shut off from electrical communication with the outside world as though such a thing as a telegraph wire or telephone wire never existed. The storm is the most disastrous sleet storm, as far as wires are con-cerned, that has ever visited that sec-Within the city limits scarcely a single overhead wire is in working order. Poles are down in all directions and wires are dangling from house tops on nearly every street. Officials of the telegraph companies say it will be fully a week before all of the routes are even in fair working condition. The damage to wires apparently is much worse than was inflicted by the memorable blizzard of 1888, although the storm does not cover nearly so much territory. Four persons were killed in Philadelphia during yesterday and last night by coming in contact with heavily charged wires. At least 25 horses were killed during the day by broken wires.

JAMES FLAHERTY ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

Widow of the Victim Gives Evidence Against Her Brother.

St. Scholastique, Que., Feb. 24.-The trial of James Flaherty, charged with the murder of Frank Blais proceeded Friday. Dr. Pontbriand, who had been called to the bedside of the dying man, testified that he found the immediate cause of death was the gunshot wound in the left thigh, which had cut the femoral artery and femoral vein, causing death through loss of blood.

Mrs. Blais, widow of the deceased and sister of the prisoner, was called, question. She was much agitated, but told her story in a very clear way. Quite a sensation in court was caused when she deposed positively that she saw her sister-in-law, Jane throw something from the window, and that the object thrown, whatever it was, struck her husband on the head, causing him to stagger. He recovered his equilibrium, however, and then Mrs. Blais says she distinctly heard Jane Ival say, "Shoot him; shoot him," and the prisoner then fired at deceased, who had staggered toward the witness and thrown his arms across her shoulders. He asked to be taken to the house of Flaherty, sen, which was close by, and he was laid upon the old man's bed, where he died a few hours later.

With reproachful looks at the prisoner in the dock, she told how he had refused to allow one of his horses to be taken to get the doctor, and how he had refused to allow Blais to be taken into his house. The prisoner stood leaning over the dock with his eyes fixed upon the face of the witness, and a scowling expression of his countenance. He shows the keenest interest in every word spoken by all the witnesses, and seems quite alive to the serious position in which he is placed. The court rose at 4:30. New York, Feb. 24.-In the trial of Albert T. Patrick, accused of the murder of William M. Rice, Valet Jones explained that Patrick kept away from the Rice apartments for ten days prior to Mr. Rice's death. "He said," Jones explained, "that as the bulk of Mr. Rice's property was left to him, it would not do to be on the premises if there were any inquiry into the murder-the death, I mean." Jones told of the plans for cremation. The much-talked-of cremation letter, Jones said, he wrote from a draft prepared by Patrick. He identified the letter, and said he gave it, unsigned, to Patrick. It was signed when he next saw it in the possession of Capt. Baker. "Patrick told me," the witness said, "that he wanted Mr. Rice's body cremated to hide all traces of drugs. Then he said he would have the ashes buried in Milwaukee beside his wife, so as to satisfy the relatives."

Convalescence is sometimes merely apparent, not real, and especially is this true after such diseases as pneumonia, typhoid fever and the grip. To make it real and rapid, there is no other tonic so highly to be recommended as Hood's Sarsaparilla.

This great medicine cleanses and renews the blood, strengthens all the organs and functions, and restores health.

Imperialism.

At the annual meeting of the British Empire League, which was recently held in Ottawa, several strong arguments were advanced in favor of closer relations between the colonies and the mother country. At present Canada contributes $2,200,000 annually for purposes of defense, which sum is only 40 cents a head of her population. If she spent a sum proportionate to that spent by Britain, she would be contributing at the rate of $16,000,000 annually; or proportionate to that spent by the United States on defenses, including the pension list, the sum of $28,000,000. Great Britain does not occupy today relatively the same position as she did half a century ago. Fifty years ago she was mistress of the seas, In the fullest extent of the term; now Germany is to a certain extent a rival, with Russia and France good seconds; and the United States has become a powerful nation largely owing to the fact that she has been fed on British

The Imperialist idea, in its present shape in Canada, had its origin a few years ago in the minds of such men as Col. Denison, of Toronto; Principal Grant, of Queen's University; Dr. Parker, of Upper Canada College, and Dr. Russell, M.P., of Hants, Nova Scotia. \ Imperialistic sentiment has steadily grown, so that throughout the Empire it was never so strong as at present. Conferences were held in 1887, 1894 and 1897, when much was done towards the consolidation of Greater Britain; and the conference of 1902, which is to be held in June at the metropolis of the Empire, composed as it will be of delegates from all the colonies, should promote the spirit of unity in a still greater degree than any of its predecessors.

It is evident that the strength of Great Britain must henceforward consist in the unity of her people. She has had a remarkable history, and a country with a successful history is likely to be, to a greater or less extent, an object of envy by other nations. The late Lord Dufferin said only last fall that it was not any sense of imate extent to develop in their own justice that kept foreign nations from | way. As the alliance is not aggressive, plundering Britain's shores, so much as the dread of her naval and military strength. Great Britain is the greatest colonizing power the world has ever seen; she possesses a genius for extending her territory and extending liberty as well. As the Hebrews have taught the civilized world religion, and the Greeks have been its instructors in art, and the Romans in law, so it has been left to Anglo-Saxons to herald freedom and liberty. Yet as these three great nations have not survived, doubtless Britain may in time share their fate, unless steps be taken to strengthen the bonds that already exist between the colonies and the mother country.

Regarding the steps to be taken, Imperialists are not themselves a unit: the following resolution has been adopted at two of their meetings, namely, at St. John, N. B., and Lon-

"Resolved: This meeting is of the opinion that a special duty of 5 to 10 per cent should be imposed at every port in the British possessions on all foreign goods; the proceeds to be devoted to Imperial defense, by which each part would not only be doing its duty toward the common defense, but at the same time be receiving a preference over the foreigner in the markets of the Empire."

It is difficult to ascertain whether the Empire would be better protected by this than by her present policy of carrying on unrestricted trade with other countries, whose interest it is to remain on peaceful terms with Great Britain in order to participate in her

Praise for Canada.

Douglas A. Gilchrist, director of the Agricultural Department of Reading College, who visited Canada last summer, has been giving a very interesting account of his journey across the great Canadian continent to an assembly of British agriculturists. He spoke in glowing terms of the condition and future prospects of this country, and of the splendid opening that there is for agriculturists at the present time. Of our progress in some departments of labor, he said:

"During 1890 Canada exported butter to the value of about £70,000, whereas value of butter exported was over £1,000,000. Similarly, the value of wheat was about £78,000 in estly declined what are called "the 1890 and about £2,400,000 in 1900. The highest honors of the church." But value of other Canadian produce has "he was the master of Robertson so enormously increased, and this has been largely due to the business-like way in which the Canadian Governdifferent industries, in which work it has been greatly assisted by the progressive spirit shown by the directors of the Canadian Pacific Railway."

Coming nearer home, he gave this appreciative notice to one of Ontario's institutions:

"The Ontario Agricultural College, at Guelph, of which Dr. Mills is the principal, provides probably the most complete practical training in all branches of farm work that is anywhere obtain-

Weights and Measures Reform.

One hundred and sixty-two members of the British Parliament are pledged to support the introduction of metric weights and measures into the United Kingdom. There seems to be little doubt that the foreign trade of Great Britain is much hindered by what has well been called the absurdly irregular system under which her traders now labor. This is how the matter is sized up in a late statement by the secretary of the Decimal Association:

"Our chief competitors in foreign trade are Germany and the United The former country has al-States. ready adopted the metric weights and measures (thereby scoring a great advantage over us), and there is a probability of the United States doing so soon-in fact, two bills were introduced into Congress last month with this object. In the interests of our foreign trade it is most desirable that we should at once carry this reform into effect, as is proved by the constantly reiterated statements of British consuls that we lose much trade because our weights and measures are not understood in countries where the metric system is in force. In Australia, Canada, and Cape Colony, the change would be welcomed, and seeing how easily so serious an impediment to commerce can be removed, it is hoped that the Government will give more attention to the subject in the coming session of Parliament than it has so far done.'

The metric system was a great hobby of Sir Henri Joly, the late Minister of Inland Revenue. Has anybody taken

Britain in the Far East.

It is difficult to say precisely what the effect will be of the new treaty between Britain and Japan. Whether it was wise for the Government to bind itself down to a formal treaty is a question that we must leave to diplomatic experts, but with the spirit and aim of this treaty we have full sympathy. It is in harmony with the sentiments we have often expressed as to the movements in the far East.

In the United States, as well as in the British Empire, there has been a wide-spread feeling of sympathy with Japan. This was called forth when the little kingdom made a gallant fight and was deprived by European powers of the fruits of victory. Then the way in which Russia seeks to lower Japan in Corea is a thing that does not commend itself to the Anglo-Saxon mind. Those Britons of the East, the Japanese, ought to be allowed to a legitbut defensive, it may make for peace by informing Russia that the two powers do not wish to interfere with her, but there is a limit to her power in the far East. Some think it was a mistake to come out in open antagonism to Russia. But it is rather flattering to the popular mind in Britain just now that the Government can make any move at all in the great outside world, with this everlasting war hanging as a perpetual burden. Seeing that things have been paralyzed so long, one can quite understand that feeling. The treaty appears to the "man in the street" to be a notification to the world that in spite of the Boers we are not yet dead, and we mean as an Empire to have some say in the world's affairs. That feeling is all right so long as our statesmen feel that our say is on the side of justice and humanity.

A Great Scholar.

One of the greatest Old Testament scholars of the nineteenth century has just passed away in the person of Prof. A. B. Davidson, D.D., of the Free Church College, Edinburgh. His name was down for two important volumes in the new international series, but students will now have to look elsewhere for the latest treatment of "Isajah" and "Old Testament Theology." The amount of work that he got through during the last forty years is remarkable. Some thought that he might have turned out more work of the highest kind, but the following passage from Dr. J. Watson's tribute in the British Weekly, will explain much: "He was obliged to spend a lamentable portion of his priceless time in teaching grammar to young lads, who, in many cases, only learned duce Exchange, is dead at Calvinia, as much as would pass the exit examination, and then afterwards forget it all. He was only able to give a certain portion of his time to those lectures on the Hebrew literature and spirit which are an inspiration across the lapse of years." He was a clear thinker, a great scholar and a noble man. From his class-room some of the most brilliant scholars and successful leaders have gose. Dr. Davidson himself did not appear much in public; he was the farthest remove from an ecclesiastical politician, and he mod-Smith and George Adam Smith, and with them of almost everyone of the ment has fostered and advanced the young Hebraists who have brought such distinctions to the Free Church and to Scots' theological learning." A man of whom such strong words can be truly said was a great leader of men, and his influence has gone forth to places that during the last fifty years many critical problems have been raised in connection with the Hebrew Scriptures, and while some scholars, like Dr. Chayne, think that that he helped many to pass away

Prof. Davidson erred on the side of from old outworn traditions to higher and clearer views of that literature which has influenced so largely the religious life of the world. The church moves slowly, and the service of such a thoughful, patient, sympathetic, scholar is of the very highest value.

A Word for Our Products.

Our Western Empire (London, England) says: "We are glad to learn that the Canadian Packers' Association intend to bring canned goods directly before the notice of the British public by opening stores in our leading centers. Why are we to buy fruit and vegetables in France when they can be as suitably supplied within the Empire? The British Empire embraces every variety of climate, and it is therefore entirely self-supporting, and now that time and space are annihilated by refrigeration and quick transit, why should we have to buy anything out side our own limits? But the initi-ative of making a market for foods produced far away must come from the producing countries."

The Dominion and Ontario Governments are doing their share to aid in providing new and profitable markets for the products of this country, and with improved appliances constantly provided, we see no reason why our exports of this class of products should not constantly increase. But we must send the best, and warrant them, or lose by it. "No culls" should be the South Africa has generally been spoken of in late years as "the land of gold." But it is not generally known that exclusive of the present war zone, the output of gold in British possessions last year exceeded the enormous sum of $100,000,000. Of this yield Canada contributed one-fourth-a splendid

It is reassuring to learn that prospects of business for the year upon which we are now entered continue good. Much, of course, will depend on the result of next summer's agricultural yield, but even thus early the prognosticators are at work, and they assure us that the omens are all in favor of good crops. For one thing, we have had an abundance of snow throughout Ontario, and it is almost invariably the case that an abundant harvest follows a winter in which the soil is well clad in a mantle of snow.

While in Ontario we have had a splendid winter, with that abundance of snow which rejoices all who know its value to the husbandman, and therefore to all of us who depend upon his prosperity-and who does not?-in the Island of Newfoundland they are passing through a winter which, in the memory of the oldest inhabitant, has never been equaled. The present month opened with the country practically clear of snow, and the rainstorms that have since taken place ave so slackened the earth that at St. Johns and other centers of population they have begun to dig the foundations of structures about to be erected-a thing unique in the history of the island. A correspondent informs us that so mild is the weather at the capital that the skating rink has been opened only eight nights since winter began. In the far north, of course, there has been pretty severe frost and a little snow, but the mildness of weather has been such that the northern steamer has been able to keep up communication with the farther coast line until the end of last month. Newfoundland may come into the Canadian Confederation as a respectable sister any day she makes up her mind to accept sisterhood.

THE DEATH RECORD

Ingersoll, Feb. 24. — General and profound grief was felt here on receipt of the news announcing the sudden death at the Rossin House, Toronto on Friday, of Mr. R. H. Cotter, one of the oldest and most influential men of this town. No previous intimation of Mr. Cotter's illness was received except telegram by his wife about 4 o'clock the afternoon summoning her to nim. Mrs. Cotter, on being summoned to Toronto by telegraph, took the earliest available train, but Mr. had expired about half an hour before she finally reached his bedside. When he left here a week ago Mr. Cotter was in his usual health, and made no complaint of feeling ill until after dinner on Wednesday. Dr.McKay, M.P.P., also of this town, who happened to be in Toronto, was summoned, and found that Mr. Cotter was suffering from a hemorrhage of the stomach. He passed away at 7:40 p.m. The deceased was very prominent in business circles, having been identified with the Noxon Manufacturing Company for the past thirty years. He was a Mason of high

THE SMALLPOX

New Cases Reported in North York-Manager of a Lumber Company Prosecuted.

Toronto, Feb. 24.-Four cases of smallpox were reported to the provincial board of health from North York, three of them being in Aurora and one in King township. It is thought the mails are responsible for the infection. Wilmot township, Waterloo county, is a new center for the disease, two cases having broken out there, and they are supposed to have been contracted from a visitor from Indiana. Several new cases have been reported from Har-wich township, Kent county, and Russell township, Russell county, Wallaceburg and Chatham. Steven township, Huron county, is free of the disease.

The provincial health authorities have had some trouble with the lumber companies in the north regarding smallpox. As a result the authorities have decided to prosecute Peter Sheehan, manager of the Michigan Land and Lumber Company, for an alleged violation of the regulations. It appears that a case of smallpox was allowed to leave the camp at Blind River Later employes were sent abroad thereby spreading the disease. Britannia, close to Ottawa, has a new case of smallpox; Bondfield township has three, and there are cases at Manitowaning, Mattawa and Hawkesbury.

CONTRACTOR CHARGED WITH CROOKEDNESS

Hamilton Coal Deal Investigated-The Defaulting Librarian May Escape Prosecution.

Hamilton, Eeb. 24.-An investigation into the coal contract held by E. S. Brennen to supply the city corporation with coal is being held by Judge Snider, and will probably last till the middle of this week. The prosecution has produced several witnesses, employes of the city at the city hall, police station, weigh scales and sewage interception works, who swear that Brennen tried to bribe them with money to sign bogus tickets for coal which was not delivered. The evidence so far produced makes it look decidedly bad for the contractor, but the latter's lawyers say everything will be explained when the evidence for the defense is produced. It is allged that the present investigation is the outcome of jealousy of members of the coal combine to get Brennen into trouble, because he underbid them in tendering for the city contract.

After a lengthy conference between wyers representing the public library board, the North American Guarantee Company and the Lancefield family interests, held Saturday, it was stated that a basis of settlement had been arrived at by Lancefield's friends, paying over $1,700 to the Guarantee Company, and this amount was then handed over to the library board, which accepted the sum in full of all claims on the $2,000 bonds. The guarantee company undertakes not to institute criminal proceedings against the absconding librarian, R. T. Lancefield, and it is understood the library board will not prosecute, although for what reason is

STATE OF TRADE IN THE UNITED STATES

Business Temporarily Affected by the Storm -The Labor Situation Looks Better.

New York, Feb. 24.—R. G. Dun & Co's. review: Along the Atlantic coast business was temporarily checked by the storm, and some interior points also suffered from unfavorable weather, but consumptive demands give no of abatement. Prices of e goods advanced sharply and he whole range of staple commodities tended upward.

Jobbing trade in spring lines of wearing apparel is of ample propor-tions, and all heavy hardware and products of iron feel the pressure in that industry.

Prospects are most encouraging as to the labor situation. Railway earnings thus far reported for February show a decrease of 3.5 per cent from last year's figures, which is fully explained by weather

While by no means inflated beyond the point fully warranted by urgent purchasers, prices of pig iron have made decided advances, despite the opposition of leading interests. More imports are reported, but foreign markets are also advancing now that there is less prospect of American competition. Because of unprecedented home demand, railway supplies and structural material are still the most eagerly sought of finished steel products. Record-breaking building permits indicate the business that will be mits indicate the busines that will be done by structural mills and it is re-

Government Contract Means Reduction in Cable Rates.

General Review of Parliament's Progress-"The Hon. Mr. Roughhouse Gourley."

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, Feb. 23.-It is many years since the government has shown so marked a disposition rapidly to perform their duties as has been displayed this session. Members marveled when, within two days after the opening, the address in reply to the speech from the throne was passed, out their astonishment increased immeasurably at the manner in which the estimates were taken up. Since the time when the memory of man runneth not to the contrary, it has been customary to come to the question of supply only after days or weeks of dilly-dallying over trivialities. Verbose declamations upon subjects which may or may not have been mentioned in the speech from the throne, almost invariably followed that formal pronouncement upon government purposes and national thanksgivings. Among the rank and file the address was looked upon as mental pabulum for any numper of speeches, and at this order of business, the rules of the house permit them to stray afar from their text. Into the debate upon the address the honorable member from Sloville may drag comments upon the length of time it is taking to build the Sloville postoffice, or soar to cerulean heights of eloquence in urging upon the government the adoption of certain lines of policy. This year, however, the word was passed around that the plethoric speechmaker would be unwelcome. Had it not been for Bourassa's amendment, the extraordinary precedent of passing the address in one day would have been established; but the delay which the young French Hotspur caused was not without its recompense, as it elicited from the minister of public works a revelation of the latest possibilities of his great French River scheme, and an expression of hearty approval of that project from one of the chief spokesmen for the opposition.

The house is now deep in the consideration of money matters, which Sir John Bourinot has declared to be its most important duties. It is because of the money that twelve months may not elapse between sessions, although there are those who would prefer to believe that The Dollar should not be of such vital interest to AGRICULTURAL SEED TRADE.

London, Feb. 10.—Messrs, John Shaw & Sons, seed merchants, London, report a steady inquiry for grass and clover seeds, etc. The most interesting article for the moment is alsike, of which the supply is moderate, with prices favoring holders. Trefoil and white clover seed are unchanged in value. As regards red seed, inferior qualities come cheaper and are hard to sell, but choice samples find buyers at about late figures. For perennial rye grasses the market keeps strong, and high rates are demanded for Lucerne and timothy. Spring tares contained to the commoners on Parliament Hill when they meet for the security of life and property, the well-being and happiness of the whole community. The house, as a whole, becomes the "committee of supply," which inquires into all proposed expenditures, and when it meets the glittering mace is diffed carefully from its resting-place, the speaker vacates his chair, and his deputy, Dr. Macdonald, of Wingham, becomes the presiding officer. Needless to say, the honorable member from to say, the honorable member from Sloville bears little of the worry, subjects himself to little of the wearisomeness which becomes the lot of the cabinet during this portion of sessional business. He need not be prepared for close scrutiny of each of the several hundred votes arranged for, nor be ready with explanations concerning every appropriation. This all falls upon the shoulders of the ministers. They must sit through the ordeal, hear complaints innumerable, neither expect nor receive any word of praise, and, wearily patient, await the time when all money votes have been adopted, and the committee is pleased to pass the resolutions which provide for the grants shown to be necessary. The progress which has been made this session is accounted for in two ways. The estimated expenditures are not prodigal as may be judged by comparing them with last year, and therefore permit of no very extensive scrutinizing. But it is notorious that governments are not infrequently hampered in their work by captious critics, even when their appropriations are modest and timely This has not been the case this year, nor, indeed, since 1900, for in that year, as all the world knoweth, long-distance orators, the six-day Ciceros of the opposition, failed to secure the verdict of approval which means a either on the right or the left of Mr. Speaker.

The lobby talk of hotels and the house is, just at the present time, not so much of the commons as of the The gentlemen of the upper senate. chamber have brought about an agi-tation that does not harmonize with the decorous results of the great bulk of their actions. Unregenerate rumor insists that Sir Mackenzie Bowell had his tongue in his cheek when he so strenuously objected to the proposal that the senate adjourn until the third week of March. His intention is, it is freely said, to take up the gauntlet the Liberal leader has thrown down, and fight for the supremacy of the senate. He still has a paper majority, and if he had all his supporters in Ottawa, he would not relinquish the power that has for so long a time been in Conservative hands. But age and infirmities are doing what the Liberals had never been able to do, and Sir Mackenzie is left without a practical working majority. The report of the standing committee has been received. yet it still is possible for the Conservatives to force a vote upon the amendments, and the interest of even the phlegmatic politicians of the capital is aroused in the prospect of such a fight. There is no saying what happen in three weeks or a month. One has only to record the Before and After advertisements in the us, and who will say that great and far-reaching results to Canada may not now accrue from the judicious use of some potent beverage. If Sir Mackenzie's tongue was in his cheek when he objected, it may have been that he realized the possibilities of time, but if he was sincere in deploring the introduction (?) of politics to the senate, he will make no further effort to prevent the Liberals from acquiring the full power which plainly it was the desire of the Canadian people in 1896 that they should have.

If any portion of the parliament buildings is attracting attention which in any way vies with that taken in the senate it is the reading-room. It has increased immensely in popularity within the last few days, this beir due, of course, to the speech of Mr. Gourley, of Colchester. The belicose Nova Scotian has been chaffed unmercifully by his friends on both sides of the house. He has far outclassed Bourassa as an object towards which the shafts of legislators' wit are di-

The business of the house this week begins with the important announcement of the government's agreement with the Marconi Company. It will be made Monday afternoon by the new minister of justice, Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick. It is understood that by the terms of the contract the Canadian people and press will obtain very moderate rates for the transmission of intercontinental messages-possibly 10 abouts. If a better agreement than this is entered into between Great Britain and the United States, Canada will share in it. In return the government proposes to erect for Marconi a station in Canada which is not to cost more than $75,000.

LECTURER WOOLLEY WAS PESSIMISTIC

The Prohibition Lecturer Presented a Dark Picture to His Hearers at Detroit.

Detroit, Feb. 24.-The News says: Pessimistic to a degree was the view taken of things generally by John G. Woolley, recent prohibition candidate for president, at Plymouth Congregational Church, Friday night. He de-clared "we are deeding our land to bosses, dirty politics, idiots and drunkards." He characterized this an age of combinations, with the maximum of influence, and the minimum of moral wear and tear.
"The man who keeps clean," he said,

"gets himself ruined politically and financially. The doctrine spreads and grows, that righteousness is a sure loser in affairs, and means octracism and defeat in politics and business." He declared that the voice of the church no longer carried weight be-cause it is supported by the same men who corrupt politics and business, and because there is a weak, foxy, com-mercial industry. This, he said, would Remarkable values. We never saw such handsome styles at the man's society, headed by men of no influence. He asserted that the world is passing through a period of wide-spread dishonesty; that children are being taught that there is no great difference between virtue and vice. Then Mr. Woolley found a bad lot of conditions all in a bunch.

"Among the better class the birth rate is decreasing, while among the vile it is going on unchecked. Democrats write editorials for Republican papers and vice versa; religion is maudlin in consecration and ribald at the ballot box, and there is a great danger that this Christian constitu-tional government will become a pagan absolute monarchy with the al-

Wm. MacKenzie, the railway capitalist, announces that application will be made at the next parliament for a line to traverse Manitoba from north to south, a distance of 225 miles. Announcement has been made by the management of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad that a pension system will be placed in effect March 1 for the benefit of employes. President Joseph Ramsay, jun., of the Wabash Railroad, speaking of the rumors regarding Pennsylvania railroad opposition to the extension of the

Wabash to Pittsburg and east of Pittsburg, said yesterday: "It is true that the Wabash is devoting its energies to the reaching of Pittsburg and the development of the coal, coke and iron trade in that vicinity. We intend to cover thoroughly the district lying south of Pittsburg down to Virginia. We shall build short lines through these rich coal lands. This company is not at the present time seeking a seaboard route. There is no Wabash interest direct or indirect in the Western Maryland, the West Virginia Central or the project to build a Pittsburg and Western railroad. Of course, the future may bring us to the sea; but if the reports concerning these several undertakings are circulated in the hope that the Wabash will some day take them up, they are merely speculative." ## A MISSING "CORPSE" FOUND EATING A MEAL

Had Lain Ten Hours on an Undertaker's Cooling Table.

New York, Feb. 24.-Found frozen in a snowdrift and apparently dead, after Friday's storm, William Ferry, a farmer, near Anthony, N. J., lay for ten hours on the cooling board of an undertaker's shop, surrounded by coffins and the paraphernalia of death. But for the absence of the undertaker he might have been buried alive.

Ferry was found lying in the snow.
The body was cold. The supposed corpse was taken to an undertaking establishment. Half a dozen neighbors gathered to watch over the body. The absence of the undertaker prevented further action. When he arrived the party gathered in another room. Upon their return to the cooling room, they were horrified to find the supposed corpse missing. "Body-snatchers" was their first thought. An alarm was sent out and a messenger hursied to Ferry's home. When he arrived Ferry was disposing of a hearty meal. He said he suddenly became conscious, and, observing his surroundings, fied

A Physicians Testimony For Labatt's Stout.

ALEXANDRIA, DEC., 20th, 1901. Speaking from personal experience I can state that your Stout is excellent in building up the system—I was very much run down and was advised to use Labatt's Porter—this I have done for some time and I largely attribute to its effects my steady improvement in strength and weight. I deem it but justice to you, and it certainly is a pleasure to me, to add my testimony to its sterling qualities, and I gladly recommend your Stout as an excellent tonic and food in cases where such is required. JOHN LABATT, Esq., Brewer,

Does Electrocution Kill?

The question whether execution by electricity is really effective, or whether electricity is really effective, or whether the victims are merely stunned by the current, to meet death later by the surgeon's knife at the autopsy, still occasionally provokes discussion. Electrical journals have often decided it in the negative, being apparently unwilling to acknowledge that an electric current can be other than beneficent. Interest attaches therefore to an editorial paragraph in the Electrical World and Engineer (Jan. 25), in which it is stated that gineer (Jan. 25), in which it is stated that the death of condemned persons in the electric chair is not open to doubt. Says the writer:

"In the first place, it is a matter of unfortunate experience that occasionally persons are killed by accidental electric shocks. That is to say, they receive a shock and fall down unconscious, and from this state they never survive, so that in the course of a certain number of minutes or hours there is no doubt in the mind of the most unskilled observer that the person is dead. In some cases, however, persons recover, either with or without the aid of assistants, such as artificial respiration or stimulants. The fact that artificial repiration sometimes restores suspended animation several hours after loss of consciousness by drowning, has raised the question from time to time as to whether similar treatment can restore animation to the electrically shocked. "As regards shocks accidentally received, efforts should always be made to resuscitate the unconscious victim of accident. The question as to whether he can be revived should be settled by trial, and failure not accepted until the case is clearly hopeless. In the case of electro-cuted criminals, the conditions are en-tirely different. When a man receives an accidental shock the muscular con-traction tends to throw him violently from the contact. Moreover, the resist-ance of the accidental path through his body is usually high. The current he receives is, therefore, under ordinary circumstances, neither powerful nor prolonged.

Under the conditions of electrocution, however, the current application is relatively both powerful and prolonged. In fact, it is sufficient, at least in some cases, to raise the temperature of the body appreciably, owing to Joulean ef-fect, and invariably produces lesions fatal to life. Considering the number of electrocutions that have been made since the existing New York State law went into effect, and the fullness with which the subject has been reported upon, there can be no question that the subject dies by the effects of the electric shock, and by the effects of the electric being dead beyond all hope of recovery before the autopsy takes place. THE WEST DURHAM ELECTION. Toronto, Ont., Feb. 24.-West Durham is to have another election trial. On behalf of James McCormick, of Or-ono, Mr. W. Nesbitt, K. C., this morning filed a petition against the return of Mr. Robert Beith, M. P.

DIVERGENT VIEWS ON REFER-ENDUM.

Toronto, Ont., Feb. 24.-Parkdale Congregational Church, on the motion of Rev. J. C. It is urged that all temperance people unite in the bill and make it law.

cannot be estimated.

In this city the Davenport offices were wrecked by two explosions, involving a loss of $1,200. Almost at the same time the assay offices of Vander-walker, Morgan and Williams were treated likewise. The loss was approximately as large as Davenport's. One man, a miner, was severely injured in the explosion at Williams' office. He was passing at the moment of the explosion. # JUMPING TO CONCLUSIONS

> As a General Rule the Wish Is Father to the Thought, Writes Mr. An-

One of the last things that humanity will learn is to avoid the athletic feat known as "jumping to conclusions," writes Andrew Lang in the Morning Post. The world wants to land firmly on conclusions without the trouble of knowing whether these are solid ground, or quaking marsh, or mere abyss. As a general rule, the wish is father to the thought; and we easily believe what we want to believe, or disbelieve what we do not desire credit. On the other hand, the wish that a statement may be true has occasionally the opposite effect. In religion many would give all they have, even their lives, to be able to believe, yet dreading the bias of their desires, believe they cannot. In practical matters, we see how easily pro-Boers and anti-Boers (the former both at home and abroad) credit exactly what suits their prepossessions, and never give any attention to the evidence on the contrary side. They simply blink it, as if it did not exist. In the same way, when a criminal history is being discussed, no evidence of guilt will satisfy the sentimentalists, who desire to believe in the innocence of the accused. No arguments, no facts, have any effect at all on people once bitten by the "Bacon cypher" or by Anglo-Israel. Where, you ask the Anglo-Israelite, are the traces in early Britain of the arts, inscriptions, or religion of Israel? Where, among the British population, are the noses which Semites have worn ever since their portraits were painted by ancient Egyptian artists? Argument is of no avail any more than with spiritualists. A correspondent lately sent me a very curious tale of a dream fulfilled. I naturally asked for the written and signed statements of the dreamer, and the person to whom the dream was told before its fulfillment. The correspondent replied that, being a out of the creels of anglers and petrispiritualist, as the dreamer also was, fied, heaven only knows wherefore. I spiritualist, as the dreamer also was, no such evidence could be vouchsafed am so skeptical as to doubt whether his signals?"

How they wriggle, at what straws they catch, to Voltaire ever did write that "fossil avoid believing what they do not want to believe! In one famous old dispute there are points of evidence, duly attested on oath, by various persons, as veracious as the morality of the sixfishes were the remains of fishes intended for food but spoiled and thrown away by travelers; that the fossil shells were accidentally dropped by crusaders and pilgrims returning from the Holy Land." If Voltaire did say all this, I conjecture that he believed the nonsense because he did not believe something else. It may have occurred to his acute mind that the votaries of priesteraft could cite fossil fish a thousand miles from the sea as proofs of the deluge. Any explanation would be better than that, so he fell back on the absurd inventions attributed to him. He ought to have argued, "the myth of the deluge was invented to account for fossil fishes." That is how we would work it nowadays, though, as I agree uge, I do not accept the explanation. And Voltaire himself would have been told: "You have accounted very nicely for the myth of the deluge, but how do you account for the fossil fishes?" Then he would have been driven back on his reserves of Crusaders and pic-nickers. Again, one must defend the members of the Royal Society, who were asked by Charles II. why the addition of a living fish to a vessel of water did not increase the weight of the water. "They were not merely credulous," says Mr. Jastrow, "but were innocent of the habit of thinking that resorts promptly and naturally to verification." But did the thing ever happen? Could Mr. Jastrow cite any authority for the truth of the old story? There may be good authority. I only ask for information. Men like the historian dislikes is alleged to have done so and so. The authority Robert Boyle were no fools, and Glanvill's was a very skeptical nature. Even if the tale is true, it was unusthe party of which the historian is a ual to question the word of a king-to his face. Homeopathy, again, is an instance of credulity. Perhaps it is a saries would do so and so. This the historian reads as a statement that the case of erroneous ignorance. The homeopathist took no drugs, except in unfriendly party went and did it. They were actually discovered by Hertz in 1887. But neither Maxwell nor Hertz ever dreamed of utilizing these new oscillations to transmit signals. That idea came first in view of the discovery of the delicate coherer by Professor Branly, of Paris. Yet even he falled to catch sight of its tremendous possibilities. It was Professor ip the little tapper, or decoherer, which makes it easy to spell words on a tape, just as with an ordinary Morse instru-ment. Professor Bose, the Hindu savant, also contributed his share. Perhaps he was the first to actually send a signal. The form of the sender, or oscillator, which Signer Marconi uses was devised by his countryman, Professor Righi. The idea of 'tuning' two instruments to work no others, of which Marconi makes much, is, again, due to Professor Lodge, who gave it its name, 'syntony.' Why are all of these names left out? Is the young man unwilling to divide his honors? And what, pray, has Professor Henry, who died before the Hertz waves were known, to do with the case? Or Lord Kelvin, who has contributed practically nothing to the subject. And if Professor Bell is to be mentioned, because he invented the telephone, why not Morse, who devised the key which Marconi employs to eend his signals?"

It was not that, like some mothers, she foolishly and vainly grieved at finding out that she held only the second place in her son's affection. She was much too wise and sensible for that. On the contrary, she wished to see him married before she died, and she wished him to choose one whom he could love. But then she was much too fond of managing everything and everybody, not to wish to manage that most important matter with her own hands. If Hugh had only seen fit to fall in love with the heiress of New Court she would have been more than satisfied; and this for several reasons, one of which was alseveral reasons, one of which was al-been more than satisfied; and this for several reasons, one of which was altogether new.

An election in those days was not a cheap amusement. No one except Mr. White and Madame Clare had the least idea of what had to be spent upon the contest for Denethorp. Of course, it had been the policy of the Yellows to make it a battle of purses, seeing that that of their champion was on the whole the best supplied; and Miss Clare's though long, was not inexhaustible. Her unencumbered estate had for the first time to learn what is meant by a mortgage, and the thought vexed Miss Clare's soul, who had set her heart upon leaving it to her heir in as free a condition as she had herself received it. Now, Earl's Dene "marched" with New Court. Even had the owner of the latter not personally been an eligible match, the two properties seemed made to be married; and how could the pecuniary wounds received during the contest be more satisfactorily cured?

So much for the state of Miss Clare's mind during the weary time that passed while Hugh lay in the delirium of fever caused by his wound, and utterly incapable of taking the least interest in what was going on among either his friends or his foes. Of course Miss Raymond quitted Earl's Dene as soon as possible, and carried off her companion with her, who left Denethorp willingly. Nothing more could be done there now; and, should Hugh finally recover, the letter that had been delivered to her by Captain Seward would prove by no means a bad card in the game that she was playing with fortune and Miss Clare. Meanwhile, in spite of Hugh's condition, his friends by no means slackened their exertions in his behalf. On the contrary, they worked all the harder for their wounded chief, out of whose bullet they coined plenty of telling points. Of course, Warden now came to the front more than ever, if possible; and at last, when the day came, to the surprise of none, but to the frantic disappointment of many, the poli closed with an undoubted majority in favor of Mr. Lester, Thanks mainly to Dene had held its own.

But still it was a tame and unexciting end to that long and exciting convass. Neither candidate was present to make a final speech; to chair the conqueror in his present state was of course out of the question; and the beauty, fashion and royalty of Earl's Dene put in no appearance. Mark Warden, from the balcony of the King's Head, had to receive on the part of his friend both the cheers of the Blues and the rotten eggs of the Yellows.

Now, it will doubtless be remembered that the partisans of the latter color that the partisans of the latter color formed the strongest mob, and that they included the mill hands almost to a man. Under a system of universal sufthe good sense not to accompany her, the Yellows would, in all probability, have taken their beating pretty well they liked Hugh personally, and the smile of a pretty girl has its influence even with a mob. But as things stood, smarting as they were under the sting of defeat, deprived of any ordinary way of letting off their rage, and with no smeetagle of triumph to amuse them, the spectacle of triumph to amuse them, the beer with which they were filled to repletion turned sour, and things began to look ill for the peace of the town. But an English mob is slow to ferment. So long as Mark Warden was endeavouring from the balcony to thank the electors of Denethorp in the name of his friend Mr. Lester for having stood so well by Church and State, and to congratulate the town generally upon its new representative, his hearers contented themselves with drowning his voice in a torrent of groans for himself, for Lester, and, above all, for Madam Clare, and of cheers for Prescot, and by assidu-ously pelting him with eggs, potatoes, and the other missile in use on such oc-casions, till he was obliged to make a final bow and retire. But, when this lit-tle piece of vengeance was over, and there was nothing external to itself to thrown upon its own resources.

It is rather a strong remark to make about anything, seeing how many hide-ous things there are in the world; but still on the whole, it may fairly be said that the most hideous of all is an angry mob. It is literally a thing, or rather a monster; for it ceases to be made up of their own. Even in the dullest and ter's French drab!"

It was a suggestion exactly calculated to charm a mob already heated with easy triumphs. To attack a young girl and a weak old man is exactly the sport in which such a Hydra revels, when its blood is well up. With an evil shout and a final discharge at the house of the surgeon, who was dining with the mayor while poor Lorry was trembling in the coal-hole, the crowd turned and almost ran to Market street.

"Twenty-three!" called out a dozen of its voices, and it stopped.

But the hospitality of the mayor had by this time been broken into by the news of what was going on in the town. He was by no means a man of commanding presence, nor did he possess too much courage; but no one could say of him afterwards, as has sometimes been said of mayors on similar occasions, that he did not at all events try to do his duty like a man. He had already sent a second express to Redchester, to hurry the dragoons; and now, attended by many of his guests, he gained the window of a house opposite to No. 23 by entering through the back door, and attempted to make himself heard.

AT NEW ORLEANS. New Orleans, Feb. 24.-The favorites were beaten in rapid succession on Sat-urday. Prince Blazes, who, though a winner, is always classed as an outsider in the books, scored a clever victory in the George Washington handicap, worth $1,795 to the winner. Piederich and Ban-$1.755 to the winner. Piederich and Ban-ish, coupled, were hot favorites. Prince Blazes was very fortunate in getting through in the stretch, and won out by a half length in a hard drive. Though not a favorite, Navasota had no trouble in disposing of her field in the third race. Weather clear, track lumpy. The summaries:

BOXING.

McGOVERN DEFEATS SULLIVAN. Govern defeated Dave Sullivan on Saturday night in the arena of the Sou Athletic Club, after as desperate fighting as was ever seen in any ring. From the first tap of the gong until the end both went at it hammer and tongs nearly every second, both men working away with all the strength they possessed. There has seldom been seeen a battle where the issue was more in doubt. In one round it would be Sullivan, and in the next McGovern, McGovern, knowing that the fight meant his position in the that the fight meant his position in the front ranks as a fighter, was after his man every second. In the majority of the rounds he was on the aggressive, and Sullivan was forced to do more defensive work than his opponent. He put up a wonderful fight, however; was game to wonderful fight, however; was game to the core, and lost the fight more through a blunder of his own than because he was knocked out. When the finish came, however, he was groggy and going fast. The chances are that he would not have lasted many more rounds even had he risen to his feet before Fitzsimmons called ten. There were loud cheers as Bob Fitzsimmons stepped through the ropes to referee the preliminary event, and urgent calls for a speech. After some hesitation Fitzsimmons advanced to the ropes and said: "I s know I am matched to fight some time in May. I shall train as have never traned before, and will do him." This was greeted with howls o applause. The gong then rang for the preliminary contest between Kid Sparks and George Schuh. Both boys are from ouisville, and they were to fight ten ounds at catch weights. The men veighed in the neighborhood of 140 ounds. The decision was a draw. The story of the last two rounds is as follows: Round 14—Sullivan got a left jab to McGovern's chin, following with a straight left to the mouth twice in succession. McGovern put a left hook on the face and a clinch followed. Sullivan put a left to the body, and McGovern slipped and fell to his knees as he tried to come in on Sullivan. He was up in an instant, however. Sullivan put a light left on the mouth, and McGovern drove a right into the ribs. Sullivan put a straight left on the nose, and followed it with right and left swings, and Mo-Govern tried to counter. McGovern put up a hard right on Sullivan's ear, bring-ing blood in a stream. McGovern put his right and left to the jaw, following by a storm of blows to the ear and neck and jaw that made Sullivan hang on for deer life. During the round Sharkey dear life. During the round Sharkey coached Sullivan audibly, and Referee Fitzsimmons shouted at him: "Keep still,

Thomas."
Round 15-McGovern missed a left Round 15—McGovern missed a left swing for the body, and received a left on the neck. McGovern rushed, but was blocked, and Sullivan clinched. McGovern rushed again, putting a right to the jaw and backing Sullivan into the ropes. Sullivan put two lefts to the face, but they were weak and lacked steam. McGovern put left and right to the face, sending Sullivan half across the ring. Sullivan was very tired, and holding on. McGovern knocked Sullivan down for the count. Sullivan was knocked not completely out, and could have risen had he tried. Fitzsimmons counted nine had he tried. Fitzsimmons counted nine and Sullivan rose party to his feet. As he did so McGovern started at him, and he sank without straightening up ne sank without straightening up. The referee then called ten and declared Mc-Govern the winner.
Sullivan began to argue, but Fitzsimmons took him by the shoulders, and, pushing him towards his corner, said it was all over and that Sullivan had lost

Sullivan was badly punished, his left ear being split open, his lips cracked, his nose well pounded up and his right eye partly closed. The latter happened early in the fight, and McGovern paid particular attention to it throughout.

Discussing the fight, Fitzsimmons said: "It was the greatest battle of little men I ever saw. McGovern is certainly a won-derful fighter, but he has a great deal yet to learn. He took an immense amount of needless punishment tonight, and had he been more careful he might have won the fight rounds earlier than he did."

McGovern said: "From start to finish" the extent of forming a four-club league, refused to allow Spalding to resign, and passed a vote of confidence in him. The delegates dodged the four-club issue, asking for delay until after the decision of the court has been rendered before making any attempt to decide upon a plan of settlement.

The Vendors will also transfer to the Company outside of the real estate, plant, machinery and business FREE OF DEBT OR ENCUMBRANCE of teed by Vendors to be paid during the present three months, and work on hand, guaranteed cash value of material ...... 50,000 00 WORKING CAPITAL PUT IN BY VENDORS The new Company will begin ENTIRELY FREE OF DEBT, and with APPROXIMATELY $350,000 OF WORKING CAPITAL, consisting of the above $200,000 supplied by the Vendors and $150,000, the proceeds from the ASSETS.

The Company's assets, consisting of land, buildings, plant, machinery, patents, licenses, stock-in-trade, custo mers' notes, etc., are valued with the going business as mentioned above at $649,933 10. INCLUDING THE ADDI-TIONAL CASH FROM THE PRESENT SALE OF STOCK, THE TOTAL ASSETS OF THE NEW COMPANY WILL AMOUNT TO APPROXI-MATELY $800,000, OR DOUBLE THE ISSUE OF PREFERENCE STOCK. The real property of the Company will consist of over four and one-half acres of freehold, UNENCUMBERED, land, close to Abell and Queen streets, in the city of Toronto, and adjoining the Western City Stations of the G. T. and C. P. Railways. Private switches from both railways enter the shops. The buildings, which are of the most substantial character, in stone and brick, were built under Mr. John Abell's personal supervision, and are well adapted to the requirements of the business carried on upon the largest scale proposed. The land is sufficient for large additions to the shops when

The whole property, including plant and equipment, is in excellent repair, and of sufficient capacity to produce several times the present output.

The Directors have quite recently (Feb. 6) secured a further Report from an experienced expert as to the property, plant, machinery, valuations, etc., which full bears out the above statements. All reports and certificates may be seen by intending subscribers at the Solicitors' Office.

The Abell business is one of the oldest and best known in Canada, having been established by Mr. John Abell in Woodbridge in 1845. The present shops occupy the best site in the city of Toronto for economical manufacture and distribution.

PROFITS.

The business, although operated on conservative lines in the past, OWING ENTIRELY TO LACK OF WORKING CAPITAL, has been very profitable, as will be seen from the following certificate issued by the two well-known Auditors, Messrs. John M. Martin and Harry Vigeon:

To the Board of Directors, The John Abell Engine and Machine Co., Limited: Gentlemen,-We have examined the books of the John Abell Engine and Machine Works Company, Limited, for the four years ending 31st October, 1901, and CERTIFY that the net profits (after proper charges for repairs had been made), including interest on borrowed Capital and Interest earned on Customers' Notes, were as follows: For the year ending 31st October, 1898.....$37,333.67 1899...... 38,299.45 " 1900..... 37,468.77 66 1901 ..... 59,647,26 Yours Faithfully,

JOHN M. MARTIN, F. C. A. HARRY VIGEON, F. C. A. Toronto, December 23rd, 1901.

Interest paid on borrowed capital has been included in the above statement of profits, and its equivalent will, in future, go to the Shareholders, who will supply the capital. The profits of the first three years given would be equal to a DIVIDEND OF 10 PER CENT IN THE OLD COMPANY, while those of the past year

WOULD EXCEED 15 PER CENT.

It is worth while noting particularly that the PROFITS OF THE PAST YEAR, would pay very large dividends EVEN IN THE NEW COMPANY-7 PER CENT ON THE PREFERENCE STOCK issue of $400,000, and MORE

THAN 121/2 PER CENT on the Common Stock issue of $250,000. The reason for anticipating large dividends on the new Stock issue, with ample working capital and capacity to fill all orders, will be clear when it is stated that the ORDERS for equally profitable work left UNFILLED at the END OF THE LAST SEASON were considerably MORE THAN THE ORDERS WHICH WERE FILLED, and which produced the large profits of

A careful analysis of the accounts for several years shows that the net profits increase in much greater proportion than the volume of trade. While this may apply to manufacturing concerns generally, it is more marked in the present case, where the property is already fully equipped for quite four times the past trade, where the superior quality of the product and the re-putation of the manufacturers are such that MORE THAN FOUR TIMES THE PAST TRADE IS AVAILABLE with little additional effort, and where there is practically nothing to be added beyond the necessary capital.

EDWARD L. GOOLD, President Gool d, Shapley & Muir Company, Brank

On double the average output of the first three years mentioned above it is estimated that the profit and loss charges would increase only about $4,000. On ONLY DOUBLE the average trade, therefore, of these years, the profits should average $20,000. profits should exceed $80,000. This sum, $80,000, would provide the following: Dividend on $400,000 Preference Stock at 7 per cent .....$28,000

Company should make a profit of more than $120,000.

This sum, $120,000, would provide the following: Dividend on $400,000 Preference Stock at 7 per cent....$28,000 Dividend on $250,000 Common Stock at 10 per cent .... . $25,000

Balance for Reserve Fund, contingencies, further dividends, etc......$67,000 ATTENTION IS DIRECTED PARTICULARLY TO THE FACT THAT THE ABOVE ESTIMATES ARE BASED ON ACTUAL EXPERIENCE AND ARE

That the year 1901 is not very exceptional, and that the trade can be easily more than doubled in ordinary times will be evident from the following fact, namely, that the signed orders unfilled in each of the three years preceding last year. ing last year were as follows: 1898, $59,819; 1899, $84,220, and 1900, $51,795. IN THE YEAR 1901, AS STATED, THE ORDERS RECEIVED WERE MORE THAN DOUBLE THOSE WHICH WERE FILLED. When the time was reached in each year that no more orders would be received, the agents were notified of the fact, or otherwise the amount WOULD HAVE BEEN MORE THAN DOUBLED EACH YEAR. The figures given refer to the Canadian trade alone, but a very profitable foreign trade has been offered, and can be obtained, if desired.

The Company's property is so well equipped for several lines of staple machinery used in all sections of Canada that the business should be very little affected by local causes. It will be needless to point out that a large saving will be effected by buying for cash, operating on a larger scale, and by more active and aggressive management, under a Board of Directors composed largely of experienced men connected with our best known and most successful manufac-

It will be sufficient evidence of the superiority of the Abell Engines and Machinery to say that since 1876 they have been awarded TWENTY-NINE FIRST PRIZES, INCLUDING THIRTEEN GOLD MEDALS — WINNING THE FIRST PLACE IN EVERY CONTESTED TRIAL IN CANADA FOR PORTABLE AND TRACTION ENGINES. They have secured also a first position in all foreign competitions entered, including those of the CENTEN-NIAL EXHIBITION IN 1876 and the WORLD'S FAIR AT CHICAGO IN 1893. (See catalogue for details.)

The Abell Engines and Machines have been selected by both the Dominion and Ontario Governments for use on their Experimental Farms throughout Canada is fast becoming one of the greatest grain growing countries of the world, and as the country advances the Abell business must increase. The entire output consists of staple lines connected with the staple industries of the country-Agriculture, Flour-milling, Mining and Timber The Manitoba and Northwest trade has proved to be exceedingly profitable, and the grain growing area of these districts is rapidly increasing. The Company has a large share of the best trade of these sections of Canada, and should have no difficulty in holding its position. There is a very profitable agency at the City of Winnipeg, and reliable agents are located at the chief centers in Manitoba and further west.

The Company will own a number of valuable patents and exclusive li-nses, covering machines and parts which are almost indispensable to all up-to-date threshing outfits. Mr. John Abell is a practical machinist, and the originator of the modern Traction and Portable Engine used for threshing purposes. He is the owner of a large number of Canadian patents, all of which will be turned over to the new Company. One of Abell's new machines (1898), "The Cock o' the North," is proving to be the best yet produced, and a very large sale is assured, especially in the older sections of Canada. One of the most profitable machines turned out by the Company is straw-burning Traction Engine, specially designed for the Manitoba and The orders coming in for the above Engines and Threshers alone should Northwest trade. soon employ more than double the present entire staff of the shops working the whole year. The Flour Mill Machinery Department has proved to be profitable, and can easily be extended. some of the best boilers in the country have been manufactured by the Abells, such as those at the Gooderham & Worts' distillery, The Ontario Parliament Buildings, and the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company's works, at

The machinery sold by the Company is paid for, as a rule, one-third cash in the first four months, one-third the second season, and the balance during the third season. The contracts are settled by notes, bearing good rates of interest, and liens are held on the machinery until paid for, and, as a rule, mortgages on farms are obtained also. In the past the Company has employed not more than 175 hands during the busy season, while the shops arequite large enough for several times The above gives only a very imperfect idea of the nature and variety of the Abell manufactures, and of the character of the property. Intending subscribers are referred particularly to the Company's new illustrated Catalogue, which will be forwarded on application. APPLICATION FOR SHARES MAY BE MADE ON THE ACCOM-PANYING FORM AND FORWARDED TO THE COMPANY OR TO THE

ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL LONDON OLD BOY.

Office of Clerk of Routine and Records at Ottawa Well Filled by Former Londoner.

There are a good many London Old Boys in Ottawa, among them Mr. Charles F. Colwell. He was over 30 years in active commercial work in London, but sold out and retired from Early in 1901 he was appointed clerk of routine and records in the House of Commons, as successor to Mr. Farquhar McGillivray, who was superannuated after 47 years' service in the same position. Another gentleman is associated with Mr. Colwell in the same office, which is now located in room 39. The office of routine and records is in some respects one of the most important in the House of Commons, and is under the control of the speaker and the clerk of the house. The duties consist in part, in the daily preparation for the printers of the orders of the day and notices of motion, following the votes and proceedings. The duties of the office include the custody and care of all the parliamentary records, which are stored, by years, in large cupboards in the House of Commons corridors, upstairs. These records are constantly applied for, and used, by members and officials, for legislative purposes. The records are from 1854 to date. Previous to that year they were destroyed when the parliament buildings in Quebec were burned in

Among Mr. Colwell's qualifications are natural ability, long business training and experience; not to speak of the experience of a printer in his younger days. He is a Canadian born and bred. He lived in Toronto during the Fenian raid of 1866, and holds a medal for service. It may interest some to know that the records of the house are composed of the originals or copies of the sessional papers, petitions, returns, and addresses or orders, reports of stand-ing and select committees, minutes of the house, appendices to journals, and decisions of judges in cases of contested elections. It will thus be seen that the position is one of dignity and importance, and is being filled with efficiency and acceptance by one of our London Old Boys, Mr. Charles F. Col-

NEGOTIATIONS OFF

Deal for Sale of L. E. and D. R. R. Fails Through.

Windsor, Ont., Feb. 24.—The negotiations that were pending between the stockholders of the Pere Marquette Railway and the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway for the purchase of the latter road are off for the present. F. H. Walker, president of the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway, has returned from New York, where he had a conference with the stockholders of the Pere Marquette road. Mr. Walker was willing to dispose of the road, but the terms of sale did not suit the would-be purchasers, and the deal was declared off. Mr. Walker said:

Walker said:

"Since we finished out road to St. Thomas, it has become a valuable property in the eyes of the railway men of the east, and I may say that the Pere Marquette offer was only one of several which we have received for it. Some of these are now under consideration, but I do not know if the negotiations will result in a sale. As, you know, it is only 144 miles from St. Thomas to Buffalo, and we now hold a Dominion charter to construct this part of the road. It is through a level part of the country, and can be easily constructed. When it reaches Buffalo, it will form a connecting link between the Eastern and Western States, and will prove a valuable acquisition to Walker said: between the Eastern and Western States, and will prove a valuable acquisition to any road that wishes to extend or connect its lines by the shortest route through the Ontario peninsula.

"The ultimate terminus of our road will be Buffalo, but whether the connecting link between St. Thomas and Buffalo will be constructed by ourselves or some other people is still a question. At present it looks as if some of the larger eastern roads would secure control of the line, but if they should not, we shall finishe it ourselves. The road is paying, and we are in no hurry to sell. For this reason we can demand our own price, and if the other fellows do not wish to pay for the goods we are prepared to continue in business."

The John Abell business is springing up into new life and promises to upon a period of prosperity which will eclipse all its previous records of industrial greatness. The prospectus assures intending investors of the entire absence of water in the stock, and shows the business is to be conducted on a cash basis. SPLENDID WORKSHOPS AND PLANT. The new company, which has bought up this well-established plant, will continue the factory on the present premises, which are splendidly situated on Queen street west, Toronto, in a central section of the city. The shops are large and commodious, and the only thing that has hampered the concern of late years has been the lack of capital. The name of John Abell, however, has not declined, and the shops are fully equipped for turning out quite four times the past output. The large sum of $200,000 has been added to the working capital of the business by the new directors, and with the reputation for first-class plant and keen business minds behind it, the new Abell works ought to

ISSUE OF STOCK IS OPPORTUNE. The issue of stock is offered at a most opportune time. The future of Canada as a grain-growing country is assured. Our largest railway has sufficient faith in the grain-producing powers of Manitoba and the Northwest to see the wisdom of spending nearly $20,000,000, chiefly for the purpose of enabling it to carry the grain from Northwestern Canada. All grain grown must be threshed before shipment, and all should be threshed by machinery produced in Canada, and chiefly in the great manufacturing Province of Ontario. The demand for machinery of this kind is said to be so great that about three-fourths of the whole has to be imported into this country from the United States against a heavy duty.

The board of directors is an exceedingly strong one, and nearly all have been selected by reason of their successful experience in the leading industries of this country. The subscription lists close at a very early date, and intending subscribers would do well to take advantage without delay of the opportunity offered.
