

IS WEBSTER DICTATING TO THE WHITNEY CABINET?

Report Says That in the Fisheries Matter He Has Government by the Throat.

Toronto, July 12.—The News (Independent), says: The somewhat unexpected course so far pursued by the Government in dealing with the cause celebre of Bastedo vs. Webster has given rise to considerable speculation, and rumor of a more or less striking character.

desired, having "first organized the entire department." Rumor now has it that Mr. Webster is in practical control and that he can and will dictate his retention in the department to the cabinet. It is intimated that this condition of affairs was brought about by reason of individuals high in the councils of the Government having availed themselves of Mr. Webster's enmity to his chief and instigated him to make his celebrated charges with the intent of securing the fine plum of a good vacancy for the spoilsman, under cover of a general and official investigation.

DREYFUS VINDICATED

Paris, July 12.—The supreme court today announced its decision, annulling the condemnation of Dreyfus without a retrial. The effect of the decision is a complete vindication of Dreyfus, entitling him to restoration to his rank in the army as though he had never been accused.

London, July 12.—Owing to the brakes failing to act a motor omnibus, running from London to Brighton, dashed down a steep hill, near Crawley, this morning, and was overturned. Six of the passengers were killed, and a score were badly hurt, some of them probably sustaining fatal injuries.

TOT KILLS SISTER

Five-Year-Old Kingston Boy Shoots Rifle at Her.

Kingston, Ont., July 11.—Harold Steele, aged 5 years, accidentally killed his 10-year-old sister at the family home near Arden by pointing a rifle at her and pulling the trigger. Coroner Munnell, of Kingston, inquired into the case, but did not deem an inquest necessary.

MUMA SUCCUMBS

Dead in the Galt Railroad Wreck Now Number Three.

Galt, Ont., July 12.—Samuel Muma, foreman of the Italian gang on Monday's wreck on the C. P. R., died in the hospital this morning. His left lung was pierced by a broken rib. J. J. Groves, the man who stabbed W. West, the hostler, eight times with a knife in an act of anger, appeared before the magistrate this morning, and was remanded for a week. The charge is wounding with intent to murder.

MISS LAURA BUTLER.

Miss Butler won the Robb and MacRobert medals in the high schools entrance examinations, the results of which were given out today. She secured the highest number of marks of any pupil in the city—581. She has always been a particularly bright scholar, and her success is due to herself alone. She is but 14 years of age, and is a daughter of Dr. F. B. Butler, of 370 Queen's avenue.

TURKISH RAVAGES

Frightful Outrages Reported from the Town of Van, Armenia.

Tiflis, Transcaucasia, July 12.—Alarming news has been received here of horrible ravages by Turkish troops across the border, in Turkish Armenia. Soldiers who were collecting taxes are said to have indulged in frightful outrages. The population of the city of Van is represented to have been nearly destroyed by the Turkish troops, who pulled down houses, assaulted the women and acted generally like wild beasts.

Czar's Cabinet Resigns Seeks a Coalition

St. Petersburg, July 12.—Finance Minister Kolveff has given authority for the statement that the resignation of the entire cabinet is in the hands of the Emperor. So far as can be learned, however, his majesty is not yet ready to charge the Constitutional Democrats with the task of forming a ministry, and is still seeking a coalition cabinet, composed more solidly of the conservative and liberal elements, in the Lower and Upper Houses of Parliament, under the leadership of Count Heydon and M. Stakovich.

HAS DONE GOOD WORK

Local Physicians Say Miss Mayou Has Improved Training School.

Some of the doctors of London express themselves as very sorry to lose the services of Miss Mayou in Victoria Hospital. They declare that she has placed the standard of the training school on a very high plane, and that for this alone she is entitled to the appreciation of Londoners. These doctors do not care to discuss Miss Mayou's alleged interference with the medical practitioners. They claim that all people have some faults, and that Miss Mayou has not been wholly to blame for the friction which has occurred from time to time in Victoria Hospital. The doctors should come in for a share of it, they say. Dr. Drake did not discuss the situation further than to say that the statement was erroneous, that Miss Mayou had one of his patients removed from one ward to another without his consent. The patient was removed, but it was by another party, not Miss Mayou.

POPE IN POOR HEALTH

So Says Prominent Quebec Prelate Just Returned From Rome.

Montreal, July 12.—Mgr. L. A. Paquet, a prominent Quebec Catholic prelate, who has just returned from Rome, where he had an audience with Pius X., says that the Pope's health is by no means reassuring. His holiness suffers a good deal from gout. "I had the good fortune," he said, "to see Pius X. a year ago, and I again saw him ten days before leaving the Eternal City. His face bears, I regret to say, signs of the severe duties imposed upon him. While deep furrows appear in his face, his general attitude appears to indicate profound apprehension as to the future of the church in France and Italy, where the social question is becoming daily more grave."

$100,000 MISSING.

Seattle, Wash., July 12.—More than $100,000 consigned to the Alaska Pacific Express Company here has been stolen from aboard the steamer Ida May, and no clew has been obtained as to who the robbers are. The shipment was sent from Fairbanks, and was transferred at Nenana. The Ida May was to transfer it to the Sarah at Fort Gibbon, and it was there that the loss was discovered.

BOTH HOUSES PASS LORD'S DAY BILL

Some Senate Amendments Rejected by Commons.

NO LOADING OF LAKE VESSELS

Consent of the Provincial Attorney General Necessary to All Prosecutions Under the Act.

Ottawa, July 11.—The Sunday observance bill reached the Senate at 11:15 tonight, when the amendments made by the House of Commons were taken into consideration. A division was taken on the Commons amendment to restore the words "ocean-going" to sub-section L, to permit loading and unloading or operating a vessel, which would otherwise be unduly delayed after her scheduled date of sailing. The change made by the Senate would have extended the exception to any vessel.

Hon. R. W. Scott moved that the Senate should not insist on their amendment, but Senator Forget called for the yeas and nays. The Secretary of State's motion was carried by 28 to 7. The Senate did not insist upon the other amendments made by it and rejected by the House, and at 12:05 the measure left the hands of the senators as it came from the Commons and now awaits royal assent.

Although willing to compromise on some points of the dispute, the House of Commons tonight, on again considering the Sunday observance bill, refused to concur in some of the amendments made by the Senate, and again committed the measure for the deliberations of the upper chamber. It took but two hours to go over the twenty or thirty amendments made by the Senate, and to accept or reject them in turn. The proceedings were brisk and businesslike. The action of the House, which on all points raised was again ably led by Mr. Aylesworth, will go far to preserve the original purpose of the bill. One decision was to reject the Senate's enlargement of the Interpretation of provincial acts which are regarded as the conveyance of "cars," instead of "any public act." Another decision was to reject the Senate's open door to the conveyance of express matter on Sunday. Another step was to refuse to accept the amendment allowing the conveyance of "cars," as well as trains on Sunday, and a further decision was again to limit Sunday loading and unloading of vessels to "ocean-going" instead of any vessels. The amendments which were accepted were usually of a minor character, except perhaps that requiring permission of the Attorney-General of the Province to prosecutions for offenses under the act. This amendment, Mr. Brodeur pointed out, would avoid black-mail prosecutions. The House decided to restore the words "Lord's Day" all through the bill instead of "Sunday." (Continued on Page Nine.)

ORANGEMEN ON PARADE

Local Lodges of the Brotherhood Celebrate at St. Thomas.

With five-and-drum band, with banners, badges and all the other tokens that they were out for a time, about twelve carloads of enthusiastic Orangemen left this morning on the 9:30 M. C. R. train for St. Thomas. Among the lodges who went there to celebrate July 12 in commemoration of the great Battle of the Boyne, were: Dorchester, No. 248; Ahoghilly, No. 230; Boyne, No. 298; Forest City, No. 762; Hackett, No. 806; Duke of York, No. 303; the Orange Young Britons, Covenant, Prescriptive, Royal Black Knights of Ireland, and the Ladies' Benevolent Orange Society.

THE TWELFTH AT TORONTO

Orange Parade So Big It Tied Up Street Traffic.

Toronto, July 12.—The twelfth of July Orange parade today was rather smaller than usual, but it blocked all street car traffic on the principal streets of the city for nearly an hour. The procession formed up in Queen's Park at 11 o'clock, and by 1 o'clock had reached the exhibition grounds where open air speeches were made. The chief marshal was W. B. Trigley, county director of ceremonies, and the assistant marshal, W. J. Campbell, director of ceremonies center district; Thomas Kingsley, director of ceremonies eastern district; W. H. Harper, director of ceremonies western district; and A. Goodfellow, director of ceremonies northern district. Fred Dane is county master, and William LeCompte secretary.

FRANCO-CANADA COMMERCE.

Toronto, July 11.—The British Chamber of Commerce, in Paris, France, founded in 1872, to promote British trade relations with the French, has added a Canadian section, and in a letter to the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, the Paris secretary asks Canadian manufacturers to join the new branch. "It will be our duty," he writes, "to advocate the extension of the Franco-Canadian trade relations treaty, which has become more necessary now that a direct line of steamers exists between Canada and France."

Collegiate Entrance List; Fine Showing This Year

The Percentage of Passes Very Satisfactory—Miss Laura Butler Medallist.

The results of the Collegiate Institute entrance examinations were given out by Inspector Edwards and Principal Radcliffe this morning. Out of 393 candidates who wrote, 318 passed, as compared with 317 out of 398 last year. The Robb medal, which is awarded for the highest number of marks secured by any candidate from any school in the city, goes to Miss Laura Butler, daughter of Dr. Butler, of Queen's avenue. She was a pupil of Princess avenue school, and she secured 581 marks. Miss Butler also wins the MacRobert medal, given to the pupil who secures the highest number of marks of any candidate from a school in ward 4. She would also be entitled to the Boyle medal, which is awarded to the pupil from each school who secures the highest number of marks in the examination, but it generally goes to the next highest candidate in the school which wins the Robb and MacRobert medals, so that in all probability, Hilliard Stevely, son of Mr. John Stevely, will be awarded the medal.

Better Than Last Year.

The maximum number of marks obtainable was 650, and the number required to pass 390, or 60 per cent in each subject. "On the whole, the totals show the examinations to have been a little more satisfactory than those of a year ago. The girls, as usual, excelled in English subjects, spelling, neatness, etc., while the boys showed up to good advantage in arithmetic. There was, too, a decided improvement in the work of the boys this year, as compared with a year ago."

Last year the Robb medal went to Talbot street school, St. George's school won the MacRobert medal in 1905, and Princess avenue wins the Robb and MacRobert medals this year.

The Separate Schools.

In the separate schools, Miss Angela Fitzgerald, daughter of Mr. Christopher Fitzgerald, the well-known New York horseman, and granddaughter of Mr. Philip Cook, of Colborne street, carries off the palm, with 566 marks. She is a pupil of the Sacred Heart Academy. It has not as yet been decided whether she is entitled to the Murphy gold medal, as she does not belong to the separate schools proper, but this matter will be settled in a day or so. Those who secured the highest number of marks in the other separate schools are as follows: Stanislaus Mooney, 533, St. Peter's school; Joseph E. Patton, 532, St. Mary's school; Kathleen Dudley, 529, Sacred Heart.

Separate School Medals.

Besides the Murphy gold medal, there are four other medals to be awarded separate school pupils, as follows: One by Mr. John Drangole, for the pupil securing the second highest number of marks; one by Chairman McPhillips, for the pupil excelling in arithmetic; one by Mr. J. M. Hickey, for the pupil excelling in grammar; and one by Mr. R. M. Burns, for the pupils securing the highest number of marks of separate school scholars in literature.

Until the question of the awarding of the Murphy medal is settled, none of the other medals can be given out, as they are all affected by the Fitzgerald case. The marks of those that failed and the certificates of the scholars who passed can be secured from Secretary McElheran, in the course of a few days.

Boyle Medal Winners.

The following are the winners of the Boyle medals in the public schools, they having secured the highest number of marks in each school mentioned. Princess avenue school, of course being an exception, as noted above: Hilliard Stevely, 525, Princess avenue school. Hazel Tanner, 509, St. George's school. Flossie Pring, 503, Lorne avenue school. Revena Clarke, 504, Victoria school. Walter Shuttieworth, 533, Talbot street school. Charles Calhoun, 529, Rectory street school. George Metcalfe, 528, Colborne street school. George Bartlett, 507, West London school. Samuel Crawford, 501, Simcoe street school. Elsie Reed, 495, Aberdeen school. (Continued on Page Nine.)

LANDRY HOLDS UP PROROGATION

Passage in the Senate of the Pension Repeal Measure Obstructed.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, July 12.—There will be no prorogation today. Senator Landry is obstructing the passage of the pension repeal bill, and as it requires the consent of the House before it could be put through this forenoon, it is necessary to meet again at 3 o'clock, and go on with it. If Senator Landry desists, prorogation might take place late in the day, but it will not likely occur until tomorrow.

WILL HELP THE BOATMEN

City Gravel To Be Taken From Bar Below the Boathouse.

It has been decided by the city that any gravel needed by the city which can be conveniently taken from the river shall be taken from the bar below the boathouse in the Thames, the object being to remove the obstruction which now prevents the passage of boats up and down the Thames when the water is low. For some time local boat-owners have been praying that the city do something to help them out of this difficulty, and this plan of killing two birds with one stone has been hit upon by the engineer's department.

Toronto, July 12.—Mr. A. A. Cole, engineer and assessor of the War Eagle and Center Star mines, of Rossland, B. C., has accepted the position of mining engineer to Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway Commission. He will report for duty on August 1. CUTLERY COMPANY LIKELY TO LOCATE IN EAST END

Old Town Hall May Be Turned Into Factory—Londoners To Take Stock.

There appears to be every prospect that the Crandall Cutlery Company, of Bradford, Penn., will locate in London, and will establish a plant in the old East London Town Hall. The matter has not as yet been settled, but the negotiations have reached such a stage that Ald. Wyatt, chairman of the committee for tomorrow night at 8 o'clock to consider the proposal of the company. Mr. Eastman, manager of the concern, is now in the city, and he will attend the meeting on Friday night. The company is looking for a site, and for a subscription of $40,000 toward its capital by the people of London. Will Employ 100. A large plant, which will give work to not less than 100 persons is now

BLACKS PLAN A RAND UPRISING

Select July 27 as the Date—Native Servants Issue Warning.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Johannesburg, Transvaal, July 12.—The disquieting rumors that the blacks of the Rand contemplated an uprising July 17 are borne out by the fact that native servants have warned their mistresses to retire to places of safety. Similar rumors have been circulated in the Reef, but the police refute them. However, much anxiety is expressed. A paper read at a conference of the Ethiopian Church, embodying reports from the various districts, says an uprising has been openly advised.

AMHERSTBURG JARRED.

Amherstburg, July 12.—Citizens are again complaining about the constant heavy explosions caused by the blasting operations being carried on by the contractors engaged in deepening the river channel here. High explosives are used to break up the boulders, and the continual vibrations make people apprehensive of damage to buildings.

London, July 12.—As shown by his will, which was proved yesterday, John Russell Gubbins, of county Limerick, the celebrated race-horse owner, left a personal estate, exclusive of realty, valued at $400,170. Mr. Gubbins bequeathed $5,000 to Steward George Armstrong, $5,000 to his stud groom, Michael Burns, and a year's wages to all his servants. The residue of the estate will go to Mr. Gubbins' two nephews, J. N. Browning and D. R. Browning. Mr. Gubbins won many big races, including the Derby, with Galtee More, in 1887, and with Ard Patrick in 1892. The former was sold to the Russian Government for $100,000, and the latter to the German Government for about the same amount.

CAN'T JOIN THE 26TH

Military Rules Prevent Ex-Seventh Bandmen Joining 26th.

"There is no possibility of any of the men of the disbanded Seventh Band enlisting in the 26th Band," said a member of the Seventh Regiment to The Advertiser today. "Under military rules, the old bandmen cannot enlist in any other military organization until the expiration of the term of their enlistment in the Seventh Band, and this term has still about two years to run." It has been rumored that many of the men were to enlist in the 26th, with a view of making it the crack band of this part of Canada.

KILLS WIFE AND FOUR.

Charleston, S. C., July 11.—A special to the Evening Post from Walterboro, says that J. W. Iruegan, a well-to-do farmer of Colleton county, today killed his wife and four children, branding them with an ax at their home about 10 miles from Walterboro. He then went to a neighbor's house and told of his deed. Neighbors brought him to Walterboro jail. Iruegan says he killed his family, but does not know why. He is a native of Sweden. Some years ago he tried to cut his throat, and is said to be insane.

BIG SHIP ASHORE AND BURNING; INSECTS CAUSE RIVER DISASTER

Lacrosse, Wis., July 12.—A message from Trempealeau, at 3:35 a.m., sent by the Burlington Railroad agent, says that everyone who was on board the steamer Quincey, which ran ashore and burned there, last night, will be saved.

The desire of the officers of the Quincey to escape the myriads of insects which infested the vicinity of the searchlight when it was turned on caused the accident. To escape the insects the light was turned off, and the pilot, in the dark, mistook a landmark, and ran the boat aground. For the purpose of rescuing about fifty people who are imprisoned on a swampy piece of ground which they cannot leave, the steamer Isaac Baples, a rafter, left Lacrosse early today. It is sixteen miles to the scene of the accident.

Rescue work was effectively done by the colored roustabouts of the craft, when the Quincey ran ashore. When it became apparent that the boat would have to be abandoned, the steamer was forced upon the bank by the powerful engines, the prow literally creeping up the steep bank. Tied to a tree, the burning steamer was held while the roustabouts took people off the stern in boats. Some of the passengers rescued stayed at Trempealeau, some went to Winona, Minn., and others came to Lacrosse.

HOW TO FIND A DIAMOND

Go to Omaha and Search a Stomach—Cow the Last to Confess.

Omaha, July 12.—To find a diamond in Omaha, search a stomach. It is only Miss Mae Thomas, now under a five-year sentence for grand larceny, who has acquired the appetite for the precious stones. Today it was learned that she had found a diamond, set in fine gold, had been taken from the stomach of a cow. The gem was discovered by an employee of a packing house, who took it to a jeweler to learn its value. The finder claimed the stone as his by right of discovery and declined to part with it. It was valued by the jeweler at $100.

MURDER SUSPECT SUICIDES. Had Been Arrested in Connection With Minneapolis Hotel Crime.

Elroy, Wis., July 12.—Conductor N. M. Riggs, who was arrested here yesterday in connection with the murder of Millie Ellison at Minneapolis, shot himself early today, dying instantly. Riggs, when arrested, asked to be taken to see his wife and daughter who are visiting in the country. He returned last night and talked with many friends, being apparently cheerful, but somewhat pale. Shortly after midnight, Riggs asked permission to go to the hotel to his room. With the officer outside, and without locking the door, Riggs shot himself through the temple. When searched just after his arrest, Riggs had no weapon. Officers from Minneapolis were on their way here at the time of the suicide.

GALT STABBER CAUGHT. Groves, Who Wounded West, Overtaken by the Police at Paris.

Galt, July 11.—J. J. Groves, the gas fitter, who last night stabbed William West, hostler at the New Royal, was caught this morning by the chief of police of Paris, fourteen miles distant. He had footed it all the way, and when taken into custody was a badly frightened man.

Chief Gorman goes to Paris at three o'clock to bring Groves back. The charge preferred against him is of felonious wounding with intent to kill. The wounded man will be around in a few days.

HOT OVER LOCAL OPTION. Upsetting of the Bylaw Rouses Sons of Temperance to Action.

Toronto, July 11.—The sixty-second convention of the National Division of America of the Sons of Temperance began here today, and members of this organization, prominent in their will be a hot time in the political pot over the temperance question in Ontario within the next few months by reason of the manner in which the law is being invoked to upset local option.

This body will make only a passing reference to it, as it is international in character, but recognition may be made to the Ontario division that meets in December, to take the matter up.

Most Worthy Patriarch Burgoyne, of St. Catharines, expressed regret that owing to the coming of the convention, there had been a net loss of 2,803 members during the past year. This leaves a total membership of 33,055.

TO PROTECT STEAMERS. St. Lawrence Channel Will Be Deepened and 'Phones Tied of Fog.

Ottawa, July 11.—The Minister of Marine has given orders for the construction at Sorel this season of a powerful spoon dredge that is required to excavate the shale that underlies the St. Lawrence River at Cap a la Roche, between Quebec and Three Rivers. There is not more than 27 to 42 feet of water at low tide in the river at this point, and the larger vessels have to wait for high tide before passing it.

The dredge that the marine department intends building will be set to work next season, and will deepen the channel at Cap a la Roche to 30 feet, which is to be the minimum depth of the St. Lawrence up to Montreal when the works now in progress have been completed.

As a further measure for the protection of shipping ascending and descending the St. Lawrence, it is intended to install a system of telephones which will be used in connection with wireless telegraphy to advise vessels of the presence of fog along the river. The presence of fog on the upper reaches of the channel between Montreal and Quebec has been responsible for more than one accident to one of the Allan's new turbines.

Hon. Mr. Broder's plan is to place telephones at the principal stations, and have them report any fogs that may make their appearance along the more dangerous part of the river. Steamers passing up and down the river will then be advised by wireless telegraph of the presence of this danger and will then be able to govern their movements accordingly.

500,000 GEM ROBBERY. Sick Pair Substitute Satchel for That Containing the Jewels.

New York, July 11.—A man who described himself as James Stielman, an engineer, 24 years old, of Brooklyn, was arrested today on a charge of complicity in a $500,000 diamond robbery, which occurred in London in March, 1905, according to the police, a man named Samuel Lockett is at present serving a five-year prison term in England in connection with the crime, having been arrested in Liverpool soon after the robbery took place. The victim was a salesman for a firm of French jewelers who was in London on behalf of his house. He carried sample diamonds and other jewels to the value of $50,000 in a small hand-satchel. It is alleged by the police that Stielman and Lockett followed the salesman about, and one day, when he laid the satchel down they changed it for another similar in appearance.

LONDON, THURSDAY, JULY 12. THE IMPERIAL COMMERCIAL CONGRESS.

The congress of the Chambers of Commerce of the Empire has adopted by a majority of three to one a resolution in favor of imperial preferential trade. Most of the delegates from India opposed it. The chambers of such great commercial centers as London, Birmingham, Edinburgh, Sydney, and Melbourne, remained neutral. Of the 35 delegates who voted "nay" 18 represented the English chambers. The inference is that the bulk of the support which the resolution received came from Canada and New Zealand.

The value of this expression of opinion is a doubtful quantity. The congress is representative of the commercial interests of the Empire only in a limited sense. It comprises politicians, manufacturers, merchants, and gentlemen of leisure. Many of them go to the congress uninstructed by the chambers of commerce or boards of trade which they represent. The delegates from Canada, Australia, New Zealand and the outlying parts of the Empire were given credentials chiefly because they chanced to be going to the old country on business or pleasure. It would be difficult to select by any process short of a general election, or a popular vote, a gathering of Canadians which would accurately reflect Canadian opinion upon any subject. To select a gathering representative of opinion throughout the Empire would be correspondingly more difficult.

The resolution adopted by the congress emanated from the Montreal Board of Trade, that is to say, it expressed the views of the majority of the members of the board who attended a particular meeting. What the majority of the people of Canada think is another question. And whether Canadians who profess to be in favor of the principle of imperial preferential trade could agree upon any measure which reduced it to practical shape is still another question. The London Chronicle delivers a home thrust when it says that "only the Canadian manufacturers can tell what is really meant on their side by preference." In Great Britain it means a reduction of the Canadian tariff on British products, as well as the increase of Canadian tariff upon competitive foreign imports. In Canada there is a class which identifies itself with the Chamberlain movement, and assents only to the latter half of the proposition.

Ten years ago, when Canadian commerce was in a bad way, this country would have purchased the boon of a preference in the British market at a much greater sacrifice of revenue upon British imports, and of protection from British competition, than it would be disposed to offer in these days of Canadian prosperity and commercial self-reliance. A British preference would then have been a crutch to a cripple. The cripple is now able to walk unaided. There is little or no hostility to the idea of imperial preferential trade in this country, but there is a great deal of indifference. The majority of Canadians simply do not care whether the mother country embraces it or not. They are content to let her regard it as a domestic question, and settle it without their counsel or interference. If she decides upon a change of policy, Canada will be found ready to negotiate with her as a matter of business.

TORONTO'S CIVIC SCANDAL. Canadians have flattered themselves that municipal government in this country, with all its defects, has been virtue itself by comparison with the state of affairs across the line. The government of cities has been the weakness of the United States, but it must be said for our neighbors that in late years they have been long a great deal of municipal house-cleaning. Canadian complacency has been given a shock by the disclosures of corruption in Toronto, but it remains to be seen whether the conscience of that reputedly good city is sufficiently sensitive to demand that wrong-doing be punished. A grave responsibility is thrown upon the civic authorities by the report of the investigator, Judge Winchester. He ascribes improper acts to men prominent in business and professional life, and while his findings are not the force of a judicial decision, it imposes on others a moral obligation to invoke the law.

Most of the questionable transactions are concerned with the erection and equipment of the municipal buildings. This magnificent pile has cost the city about $3,000,000, although the original plan contemplated an expenditure of less than half a million. The architect, Mr. E. J. Lennox, has received a fortune in legitimate fees. Yet he is accused of accepting money from contractors, and from men to whom he issued false certificates. The judge finds that one firm alone paid him over $8,000 in return for favors shown by him, and that evidence was manufactured to give these transactions the appearance of loans. The company's books had been burned and a material witness could not be found. The profits on this particular contract were $50,000 or $60,000.

In connection with the building of St. Lawrence market Judge Winchester holds that the architects, Messrs. Siddall & Jarvis, were paid between $200 and $300 each by a contractor, and the receipt of these improper payments vitiated all certificates issued by them. A number of business houses and manufacturers in the city are accused of combining to fix tenders so as to extract inordinate profits on city contracts, the surplus being divided among them. A well-known physician, Dr. Lynd, received money as a member of the aldermanic board from a professional lobbyist employed by a firm to secure privileges from the council.

The investigation covered only the city hall contracts, and the St. Lawrence market roofing, and Judge Winchester reserves the right to pursue the inquiry further. It seems to be the manifest duty of the civic or crown authorities to enter prosecutions against the parties reported by the judge.

In dismissing Mr. Bastedo the Ontario Government has put a premium on little-tattle in the civil service. There is no need to despair of the millennium, or even a new Grand Trunk station, now that King street is to get a pavement.

Rojevsky has been found not guilty. He was the victim of a rotten bureaucracy, which is now trying to secure a stay of execution. The coming harvest promises another year of plenty in Canada. The farmer carries the country on his back, and a full barn means a full dinner-pail.

Dreyfus has received his formal vindication at last. The mills of the gods grind slowly, and in this case they have ground the enemies of justice exceeding small.

A THRIFTY CLERGYMAN. [Ottawa Citizen.] The late Rev. John Pitt Lewis left an estate valued at $66,425 52, of which $12,100 is in real estate, $49,575 in mortgages, $2,707 in cash, book debts, furniture and works of art makes up the balance. This presents a contrast to the condition indicated in these columns yesterday as being the lot of many clergy not only in Western Canada, but in the Ottawa district. The explanation of Mr. Lewis' prosperity is to be found in the habit of thrift for which he was noted during his probation in the Methodist ministry, and which followed him into the ranks of the Anglican clergy, where he shared the better class of appointments, and, remaining a celibate, he was not taxed, as so many useful clergymen are, with the expenses of a wife and family. This estate illustrates the old saying that it is not what a man receives that makes him rich, but what he keeps.

NO LIMIT TO CANADA. [Brantford Expositor.] The crop reports from the west are again coming into annual prominence. All statements are precisely as in previous years, viz., that the forthcoming yield will be the greatest in Canadian history. And year after year previous records are broken. It all goes to show that Canada is indeed a growing country.

HOW MANY REMEMBER HIM? [Woodstock Sentinel-Review.] Whatever defects may be charged to our French-Canadian fellow-citizens, neglect of the memories of their illustrious countrymen is not one of them. How long will it be before a statue is erected in Ontario to the memory of William Kirby, the gifted Anglo-Canadian writer, who has just passed away?

TEXAS CLEMENCY. [Topeka Capital.] For grasping a young white woman by the foot a Texas negro has been sentenced to 99 years in the penitentiary. This is believed to be the lightest sentence ever imposed on a negro by a Texas court.

THE HOME OF TITLES. [Toronto Telegram.] Untitled men will soon be as scarce in Ontario as privates are in Kentucky. In Kentucky you are likely to be a Colonel. In Ontario you may be K.C.M.G. Or LL. WISE GIRL. [Life.] Now, there was a certain girl, and she had three wooers. The first wooer said she was the whole world to him, but she frowned upon his suit. The second wooer said she was the sun, moon and stars to him, but she bade him be on his way.

and with a few freckles, and an annoying habit of blurring out your thoughts." She married the third wooer. Being pressed for an explanation of her conduct, she said: "My goodness! I think I was sensible. I married the only one that had courage enough to tell me of my faults before marriage, instead of waiting to throw them up to me afterwards."

COLDLY DESCRIBED. [Washington Star.] "So you don't envy any of the world's men of genius?" "No," answered Mr. Cumrox; "I admire them, but I don't envy them. A genius is a man who gets a monument after he's dead instead of three square meals a day while he's living."

FAIR WEATHER FRIENDS. [Washington Star.] "The man whose troubles don't need nuffin' but good advice," said Uncle Eben, "will allus find dat he has any number o' friends."

GOOD LADIES' HORSE. [Chicago Record-Herald.] "You told me he was a good ladies' horse," angrily said the man who had made the purchase. "He was," replied the dealer. "My wife owned him, and she's one of the best women I ever knew."

THE GERMAN FIRST TWELVE. [Simplicissimus.] A new monthly paper offered a prize for the best list of the ten most important living Germans. Frau Schultz, of Dresden, won. Her list was, Emperor William, his wife, his seven children, his two daughters-in-law, and the baby crown prince who was expecting.

WHO BIDES HIS TIME. [James Whitcomb Riley.] Who bides his time, and day by day Faces defeat full patiently, And tries a march and a retreat, However poor his fortunes be— He will not fail in any quarrel Of poverty—the advent of his time, It will grow golden in his palm, Who bides his time.

Who bides his time—he tastes the sweet Of honey in the saltiest tear, And though he fares with slowest feet, Joy runs to meet him, drawing near; The birds are heralds of his cause; And like a never-ending rhyme, The roadside bloom is in his applause, Who bides his time.

Who bides his time, and fevers not In the hot race that none achieve, Shall wear cool-weather laurel, wrought With crimson berries in the leaves; And he shall reign a goodly king, And away his hand o'er every clime, With peace writ on his signet ring, Who bides his time.

ENGLAND'S OLD SHIPS. [Scientific American.] The extent to which British ship-owners dispose of old vessels for foreign sale is shown in statistical tables published in Lloyd's Register of Shipping. Tonnage cleared off in this way last year was 512,701 tons, comprising steamships of 422,395 tons, and sailing vessels amounting to 90,306 tons. By these sales, which are the largest since 1890, Germany acquired 101,993 tons, Italy 78,671 tons, Japan 56,228 tons and Norway 59,702 tons. It must be a very considerable advantage, from a British standpoint, to have a market like this for second-hand vessels. Tables which are included in the Registrar-General's returns indicate that about 18 per cent of the tonnage removed from the register because of foreign transfer was built before 1880, nearly 43 per cent before 1885, 62 per cent before 1890, 78 per cent before 1895, and more than 90.6 per cent before 1900. In addition to the second hand tonnage transferred to foreigners, 52,446 tons were transferred to British colonies during 1905, as compared with 37,464 tons in 1904, 62,907 in 1903 and 32,603 tons in 1902.

SAME HERE. [Hamilton Times.] In Toronto just now no people cannot find houses. In the N. P. days the landlords could not find tenants for their houses—and no work is more wearing than that. The good girl times changed that.

REST FOR THE HURRIED MAN. [Chicago Record-Herald.] He hurried when he ate his meals, He hurried when he combed his hair, He hurried when the days were fair, And also when the days were fair; He hurried on his way to work, He hurried every morning to be ready, But going with his wife to church, His progress was but slowly made.

A WONDERFUL OLD MAN. [New York World.] If age is measured by the intensity of life, as well as its extent, Manuel Garcia, who died in London on Sunday at 101, was one of the marvels of longevity. He did not live the simple life or the sleepy one. He was a traveling opera singer in wild places, a sailor before the mast, a teacher of singing—and no work is more wearing to the nerves—an inventor.

The "leading case" of longevity hereabouts is that of Noah Raby, who spent his last of possibly 115 years at the Middlesex Poor Farm, New Jersey. But his career was quiet as a millpond. To find parallels to Garcia, one seeks such cases as Sir Moses Montefiore, who traveled much in danger and discomfort for his co-religionists, yet lived to be 100; or Titian, the painter, who died untimely by the plague when in nearly his full strength at 99; or Lord Lyndhurst, who made at 90 an excellent political speech; or the great Michael Angelo, who became architect of St. Peter's at 71, and served eighteen years under four popes, after the bitterest of lives and gigantic labors; or Chevreul, the great physicist, who wrote in his 100th year a scientific treatise.

Of long life among simple scenes no case is more remarkable than that of Khout Beg, whom Sven Hedin found among the Kirghiz at 111. Among his five gray old sons "he sat his saddle with as firm a seat and as proud a bearing as any among them." But he had not an artist's trials or temperament.

HER PLEA FOR DELAY. [Cleveland Plain Dealer.] "Will you be my wife, Jane?" "Will you ask me again, John?" "Why?" "Because I'd like to look round a little before I give you the direct answer."

The Unjust Dismissal of Mr. Bastedo

[From the Toronto Globe.]

The dismissal of Mr. S. T. Bastedo is a disgrace to the Ontario Government; not only is it a cruel injustice to a capable and faithful official, it is also a most serious blow at the permanency of the civil service, and it marks another surrender of the Government to the spoilsmen of the party. Those who know the situation, and who followed the evidence, and noted the two men before the commissioner, are amazed at the worst possible construction, as Mr. Judd seems to have done, upon the affair was not the partisan activity of Mr. Bastedo, but the intrigue of his subordinate, Mr. Webster. On the face of it the case was a piece of petty departmental jealousy, and Mr. Webster's attitude since the dismissal of his superior officer and his expectations of promotion, only confirm the impression made by him at the trial.

But take the charges against the dismissed deputy in their worst form, put upon them the worst possible construction, as Mr. Judd seems to have done, warp chance remarks, and give them the worst possible signification, abandon the judicial attitude and piece together extracts from the evidence which the rhetorical skill of the special pleader make the most and the worst of the evidence against Mr. Bastedo, and take no account of the evidence in rebuttal, and what have you got? An offense for which dismissal is reasonable punishment, and the strength of the evidence does not warrant anything beyond a reprimand. Dismissal is explained, not by the evidence, but by the insistent and hungry demands of the party henchmen for the spoils of public office.

Hon. Dr. Reame declares "that Mr. Bastedo is one of the best officials in the building . . . at work early and late, and understood his department thoroughly . . . no more energetic public servant in any of the departments." And it is this man, who has given 27 years of capable and faithful service, that Dr. Reame weakly recommends for dismissal, and that the Government justifies the act by the fact that he is a weakly dissembler, for the sake of as weakly dissemblers, for the sake of as weakly dissemblers, and in the bidding of those who have been active and useful in Tory campaign work! And all this is done in the name of "clean politics!"

Had Dr. Reame even ordinary administrative capacity he would have settled the petty intrigue in his department in one day, and had the Premier a tithe of the political sagacity and moral courage for which some of his friends give him credit, he would have allowed a weak minister to bring his Government into disgrace. For the dismissal of the deputy commissioner of fisheries is a cruel injustice to a worthy man, and is a political discredit to the Whitney Government.

WOODED WITH LAMB CHOPS

The Romance of a Butcher Has a Lightning Climax.

New York, July 12.—"This is the most romantic affair that ever came under my observation," said Joe Levy, the Duke of Essex street, after he had married Ida Schreiberman and Morris Muller yesterday. The duke has been face to face with romance and he has had a romantic career himself. The girl lived at 238 Henry street, this city, and she had come to the Brownsville section in Brooklyn to visit her aunt. When it came supper time that evening the aunt sent the girl to a butcher's shop on Sutter avenue for lamb chops. Now Morris Muller was working in the store when the girl went in, but he didn't wait on her. The butcher and older butcher took Ida's order. "The girl returned to the home of her aunt with the chops, and when these were unwrapped the aunt made a great fuss. The chops were stringy and Ida was sent back with them. This time she was approached by Morris. He wrapped the chops and after one look at them got down a big lot of undetached chops. With three swings of the cleaver he severed three of the finest lamb chops that were ever handed out in Brownsville.

"Muller told the girl that in the future he would see to it that she got the best of the place if she would come to him. Ida did. She visited her aunt often, and always insisted on doing the meat buying. As the girl's aunt had noticed a great improvement in the meat since Ida began to buy it, she of course made no objections to Ida's visits to the butcher shop. The girl told her own people too of the fine quality of meat in Brownsville, and in times he made a journey to the outskirts of Brooklyn several times a week.

"Yesterday was Muller's day off. He came to this city and found the girl. He popped the question and was accepted. The pair started out in search of someone who would marry them and were directed to my office. They got here just ahead of the storm and it was so dark I had to scurry around and get lamps to light up the place. While I was performing the ceremony the lightning flashes and thunder claps were so frequent that the girl got badly frightened and I suggested that we postpone the wedding until the storm was over. "But the butcher wouldn't listen to the idea for a moment. He wanted to be married right off, and he was.

"While waiting in the office for the storm to pass, the pair told me of their love affair. Now they are going to pool their money and Muller is going to open a butcher shop of his own. "I vander vot kind of chops he'll hand ovid now?" put in Rosey, the lawyer, who doesn't care much for romance.

ENGLISH BIRTHS CUT BY FLATS

Large Families Rare Because of Modern Ideas.

SERVANT PROBLEM A CAUSE

The Dwelling in Apartments and Hotels Helps Solve the Question.

London, July 11.—It used to be the fashion in England for everybody to have large families, and home owners considered the best of all the possessions of the Briton. But people tell me here and the statistics show that such notions are becoming old-fashioned and that order of things is passing away.

Rents in the big apartment-houses in London are not nearly so high as they are in New York, Chicago or Washington. A suite of four, five or six rooms in a convenient locality in the best of the modern "residential" flats can be had for from $400 to $700, and you can get magnificent suites of rooms for $1,000 up to $5,000 a year, which would cost fully three or five times as much in New York.

The servant problem has also a good deal to do with the shutting of the homes. The English servants are the best in the world. This is really the only country in which there is a distinct domestic servant class, men and women whose parents and grandparents for generations back have been household servants and have been educated for that occupation.

The larger number of the vacant houses are such as rent from $1,000 to $5,000 a year. The owners or previous tenants have found that they could live at large hotels and in flats for less expense with much less care and annoyance and be more independent.

The Girl That's Never Strong You meet her everywhere—behind the counter, in the office. How hard her lot! Weak, unstrung, easily tired. It's the will, not the strength, keeps her in the race. She wants to be strong, but doesn't know how.

Let her try Ferrozone. It ironizes the blood, fills it with nourishment and force, that imparts vitality to every part of the body. It's tonic so strengthening and appetizing, no results surer than the steady rebuilding Ferrozone produces.

everybody in the kingdom who is interested in sports or fashion and can raise the price comes to London on that occasion. Rich people rent houses down in the neighborhood of the race course, which is near Windsor, and fill them with friends, who flirt, dance and play bridge at night and go to the races in the day time.

PERFUMED GIRL WINS SUIT

Berlin, July 11.—In this city an interesting case has just been decided by the commercial court. The judge had to determine whether a girl employed as a clerk in a drygoods store could go to work exhaling an odor of perfume. An employer who has a large store in the Landsbergerstrasse discharged one of the girls, because, despite his warnings, she persisted in appearing at the store in a sweetly scented condition.

MAYOR ANSWERED BY DR. ENGLISH

Latter Denies Imputations and Explains Payment of Accounts.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

In your report of the meeting of the board of health held on Tuesday last Mayor Judd implied gross irregularity on my part concerning the payments of accounts for wages during intervals between meetings of the board, and especially did he question the right of a contractor to receive any payment on a "progress certificate" issued by the city engineer.

Briefly stated, the facts regarding the smallpox storage building are these, and I would be obliged if you would give them the same publicity that you have the previously-inserted report.

Since the destruction of the smallpox supplies in the spring of 1904, owing to the action of the county council regarding our storage building, it has been necessary to accumulate further beds and supplies in addition to the four tents purchased at that time, as during such year further cases may come under our care.

Our present supply has cost us over two hundred dollars, and as no building of any kind could be procured for storage purposes, it became necessary for us to erect a fire-proof house of shed.

At a special meeting of the board of health, called on April 25, 1906, to consider the matter, it was decided that accommodation should be provided also for a few patients, and the following motion was moved, and unanimously carried:

"Moved by Charles Taylor, seconded by Ald. Stevenson, that the city engineer prepare plans and specifications for a two-story building, 20x20, and call for tenders, and the chairman be empowered to let the same to the lowest tenderer."

It was also agreed that the board meet on the 27th inst., and select a site.

The instructions of the board were carried out, and the lowest tender received the contract.

Regarding the payment of $750 to the contractor, I am given to understand that the universal rule is that when the architect or engineer issues a "progress certificate" that a sufficient amount of work has been done to authorize the payment of a portion of the contract money, the chairman of the board, or committee signs the order and immediate payment is made, in place of waiting a week or month, as the case may be, for the next meeting of the board to pass the same; but the final certificate is always brought before the board or committee.

In this instance the custom of the city engineer's department regarding all contracts, I am assured, was followed, and on a "progress certificate" being signed, I increased it as chairman of the board of health, and it was paid in the usual way. Thanking you for inserting this explanation, Yours truly, W. M. ENGLISH.

CRITICIZES MAYOR JUDD

Toronto News Says He Should Not Have Been Mr. Bastedo's Judge.

Toronto, July 11.—The News (Independent) says in tonight's issue: "Mr. S. T. Bastedo, deputy commissioner of fisheries for Ontario, has been dismissed after 27 years in the provincial civil service. He was charged with partisanship, was found guilty, and recommended for execution by Mayor Judd, the commissioner appointed by the Government to conduct the inquiry. We believe this dismissal is not justified, we contend that the case was heard by a prejudiced judge, and we regard the whole affair as a deliberate and heartless application of the spoils system at the instance of the Conservative party head-hunters throughout the Province, and of the practical politician who gambles in statesmanship as minister of public works."

"Mayor Judd is chief magistrate of London, Ontario. Municipal affairs in that city are known to be tainted with politics, and therefore the Conservative party who can win the mayoralty prize must be reasonably active in this field of human endeavor. He may be a fair-minded man ordinarily, we have no doubt he is. But as a political partisan within the ranks of the Conservative party he had no bias against the accused. Even an unconscious bias might change his whole train of thought. We submit, therefore, that it was unfair to Mr. Bastedo to make Mr. Judd his judge."

FUN AT WONDERLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Hart Entertain a Merry Party of Young People.

Mr. and Mrs. Hart entertained a large gathering of young people at their residence at Wonderland yesterday afternoon. Games and amusements were numerous, and varied from a watermelon eating contest to a rowing or canoeing regatta. One of the features of the afternoon was a game of baseball, in which Miss Newman distinguished herself as a catcher. Miss Burr carried off all the prizes in the races and athletic sports, and when it came to the regatta, and she stepped into her canoe, she certainly made a hit, and showed herself to be a canoeist of rare skill.

When it came to eating the water-melons, Charles H. Legg proved his capacity beyond a doubt; no one could hold a candle to him—he simply shone. After spending a most enjoyable day the party returned home at a reasonable hour. William Smith could eat some, too, and led it easily over Chas. Yound.

$150,000 MORE FOR WARD TWO

Amendments to Act Cause Considerable Increase in Assessment—The Figures.

Assessment Commissioner Grant states that the assessment of ward 2 for 1906 will show an increase over 1905 of about $150,000.

Had it not been for the amendments to the assessment act this year, the increase would have been between $50,000 and $60,000 greater.

The ward was assessed under the condition laid down in the new act before it was amended, and now the department is compelled to go through the different assessments and revise them in accordance with the amendments made.

Income assessments and business tax alone are affected. The ward will also show an average increase in population.

It is composed of that part of the city lying north of Dundas street, west of Wellington street to the river. West London is also included in it.

There is not much chance for an increase in population, as much of it is the older portion of London. The north end has, of course, gone ahead rapidly of late in the matter of buildings, and so has West London since the construction of the break-water, but on the whole the number of new families from year to year which are found in the ward are very small as compared with the other wards.

TORONTO SUSPENDS THREE ARCHITECTS

Action Follows Report of Judge Winchester Over the Civic Scandal.

Toronto, July 12.—E. J. Lennox, Beaumont Jarvis and W. Siddall, all architects engaged upon city contracts, will receive letters today, signed by Mayor Coatsworth, announcing their suspension as architects for the city.

Mayor Coatsworth has forwarded to Mr. Seymour Corley, crown attorney, a copy of the finding of Judge Winchester, instructing him to proceed as crown officer against those named in the judgment as guilty of corruption. The city solicitor's department will institute civil actions against those who are alleged to have obtained money through frauds on the city, and who cannot be proceeded with criminally.

The above course was decided upon at a secret meeting of the board of control yesterday. It was remarked at the city hall yesterday that some culprits might escape through the curious limitations upon the criminal code places upon the prosecution of certain offences. Section 557 of the code of 1892 provides that prosecutions for frauds upon the Government or corrupt practices in municipal affairs must be instituted within two years for the commission of the offense.

Section 126 provides the penalty for those convicted of either offense. A fine may be imposed not to exceed $1,000, nor to be less than $100, and imprisonment for not more than two years, and not less than one month. In default of the fine further imprisonment not to exceed six months may be imposed.

The alleged bribery in connection with the permit issued for Puddy Bros' abattoir on Paton road was committed during the past two years, and will therefore come within the code. The acceptance by architects of "presents" from contractors may be regarded as a criminal offense, as there is a possibility of difficulty in proving them "officers" of the city in the ordinary acceptance of the term.

From time to time, she has been remanded in order that the court could communicate with her parents before they disposed of her case. Her father, who resides in New Westminster, B. C., was communicated with, and replied that he could do nothing with her, she had been simply incorrigible, and that her conduct had been the source of a great deal of trouble and worry to her parents ever since she had been 10 years of age.

This story did not go well with the one which the girl told herself. When arrested she told the police that she had been of good character until she came to this city about a month before, and hired at a local hotel, where she says she was led astray. Her conduct since her arrest has not been at all good, and the court decided that as her parents did not wish to take her back, the best place for her would be the reformatory.

FORSAKES PRIZE RING FOR PULPIT

Allen, Former Ottawa Pugilist and Gambler, Now a Preacher.

Cleveland, July 12.—After a varied career of twenty years as a middle-weight pugilist, saloonkeeper and gambler, which life, he says, he forsook two weeks ago last Friday night to become a teacher of the soul, Alf. Allen, a former sporting man of Ottawa, Canada, made an eloquent address last evening at the Regus Mission on Ontario street, in which he appealed to his hearers to turn from sin and lead Christian lives.

"No man in this world is a worse sinner than I have been," said Allen, "and if God can save me, as I know he has done, there is surely hope for every man."

Allen says he was converted at a revival that was held at Ottawa two weeks ago by the noted evangelists, R. A. Torrey and Charles M. Alexander. "How I happened to attend that meeting is more than I know," he said. "I had been drinking hard for the best part of the night, and was very drunk when I drifted into the place. All I can remember about that part of it is that a lot of men and women gathered around me and prayed for me and made me promise to come back the next Sunday night. I don't know how I got out of the room or how I got home, but that promise I had made to return Sunday was always in my mind. It seemed sacred to me, and the more I thought of it the more I was determined to keep it."

"I went back to the meeting Sunday night and, after listening to the prayers and the words of others who had been sinners like myself and who they found leading Christian lives, I made up my mind right there that I had had enough of the old life. I had been a prize-fighter, gambler, saloonkeeper and drunkard for years and every year I was getting worse and worse off. I thought God had sent me to my senses before it was too late and henceforth I will try to lead a Christian life and help others to do the same."

Allen acquired quite a little notoriety last April when he stood up for eight rounds in a boxing contest before Jack Monroe, the Butte miner, who tried to wrest the championship title from Jeffries. He fought his first battle in the ring with the "Butcher Boy" in a preliminary contest before a battle between the famous John L. Sullivan and Patsy Clark in Minneapolis nearly twenty years ago.

Allen will remain in the city until Friday night, when he goes to Chicago to take a course of instruction at the Moody Bible Institute, after which he will return to Ottawa to conduct a rescue mission among his old friends and associates.

GOSSIP'S DEADLY FANG

Woman Talks Over Phone and Allows Man to Die.

New York, July 12.—An Orange woman's idle gossip on the weather and other such topics was the means of depriving a man of medical aid which might have saved his life. The members of the family of Gottlieb Bodmer, the man who died, do not know who this woman is, except that she was using one of the four telephones on their party wire. The woman was so deeply interested in her conversation that she would not allow another person to use the wire to summon the doctor.

Mr. Bodmer had been in poor health for some time, and yesterday he called the doctor, noticed a sudden and alarming change for the worse. A member of the family was immediately sent to a neighbor's house, where there was a telephone, to summon a physician. When the doctor came to the house, he found someone on the party line was talking. After waiting a few minutes the receiver was taken off again. The conversation was still in progress. The person who wanted to call the doctor said to the woman who was telephoning that there was urgent need of the wire for a minute to call a doctor.

"I can't help it. I have the wire," came back the chirish reply in a rasping voice, which kept busy so long that it was too late to summon the physician.

GREAT JEWEL SALE

Eight Pearl Necklaces Sell for Five Thousand Dollars Each.

London, July 12.—The chief jewel sale of the season took place today at Christie's. A total of £70,148 was realized. The rooms were crowded by a special staff of detectives. Pearl necklaces were the chief attraction. Eight of them brought upwards of £1,000 each. The best price, £210,000, was paid for a necklace composed of 47 large pearls and matchless Orient and a single brilliant clasp, the property of an anonymous lady, whose belongings had been sold by a railway trustee for £2,700. A five-row pearl necklace sold for £2,500. A pair of emerald and diamonds brought £1,350.

HEART FULL OF PINS

Ghostly Discovery Made by the Police of Trinidad.

Port-of-Spain, July 12.—A ghostly discovery revealing almost inconceivable depths of superstition has recently occupied the confined attention of the police department and the medical profession of Trinidad.

A heart, pickled in vinegar and stuck full of white and black pins, which had evidently been used as an "obeah" charm, was found in a secret cupboard by firemen engaged in removing debris from a better class house, the upper stories of which had been burnt out.

The property belonged to a wealthy French creole named Borda, and was occupied by a colored woman with whom he had become entangled in early life and who has exercised extraordinary influence over him.

As arson is a common crime in the West Indies, stringent legislation was passed that the cause of the outbreak of fire must form the subject of magisterial inquiry. At the request the police produced their loathsome find and applied for a warrant on the ground of reasonable suspicions that a crime had been committed.

Counsel for the woman pointed out that there was no evidence the heart was human, and that the law relating to superstitious practices only punished the taking of money by pretended "obeahmen," or witch doctors, but that the practices in themselves are not criminal offenses.

The magistrate refused to order the arrest of the woman, but submitted her to a searching examination when she took the stand to prove the origin of the fire. He elicited the fact that she feared Borda, who was in the habit of making frequent trips to Paris, might become enamored with the charms of some other woman younger and fairer than herself, and that she, with the assistance of a black woman, had concocted a love philtre, in which she had placed the heart, transfixed with white and black pins crossing each other, so that whenever her lord and master was attracted to a white woman her love should "cross" his new flame.

The unhappy woman swore that she was convinced of the efficacy of the "love charm," but when pressed by the magistrate denied that the heart used had been torn from a human body. The black woman, who had helped her, admitted that the obeah would not work unless a human heart was employed, but swore that she had "fooled de misseus," and had been no further than the market to get what she maintained was a sheep's heart.

FIERCE YAQUIS KNOW FRIENDS

Sonora Indians on the War-path Never Molest Honest Whites.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 12.—While renegade Indians are raiding, pillaging and murdering in the State of Sonora, Mexico, there is one man who, with his family and numerous employes, comes and goes within the infested district, and meets with no harm.

Col. Seymour, who is well known in Los Angeles, and who spends part of each year at Redondo, and on the gold links at Santa Barbara, has most of his interests scattered through Sonora, extending from Texas to Las Prietas. These towns are only twenty-one miles apart, and are connected by a railway owned and managed by Col. Seymour. His Mexican residence is at Torres, where are a roundhouse, freight sheds and all the accessories of a railroad center, though on a very small scale.

The small line was originally built to facilitate the opening and operation of valuable mines at Las Prietas, a town of about 6,000 inhabitants, where much English capital is invested. The line at La Colorado, a town two miles on the road from Las Prietas, are the great Ceston Colorado mines, run by an Anglo-American syndicate. Altogether, the amount of freight carried over the little railroad is very large, and more passengers go over it than an outsider would suppose.

APPEAL SQUARE DEAL.

Col. Seymour has a well-equipped residence at Torres, and, with his wife and daughter, extends generous hospitality to visitors. Within ten miles on either side of the railroad line the Yaqui desperadoes have raided camps and murdered travelers, but the railroad and its employes have been unmolested.

The reason Col. Seymour and his employes are unharmed by the Indians is oddly suggestive. The country of Southern Arizona and Northern Mexico is much the same. The geographical line of demarcation separating the United States from the southern republic is imaginary, and not such as appeal to the Indians who roamed the territory at will in the old days. And in those times, so old frontiersmen say, the Indians were not only peaceable, but even the Huachuas and Chiricahuas, ferocity-gave welcome to the palefaces. The nature of the Indian didn't change without a promoting cause, and in maintaining himself in their midst Col. Seymour has remembered that fact.

From the time that he first established himself there, Col. Seymour has sought whenever opportunity offered to show the Indians that he intended them no harm, and that in all intercourse with them he desired to be just. Even a savage knows justice in its elementary form, and as time went on the Indians found that Seymour meant exactly what he said.

INDIANS RIDE AND WATCH.

It is no uncommon thing for the train that makes two trips daily to Las Prietas to stop on the plains to allow a party of Indians the engineer has lighted to catch up and get on. They are not asked to pay fares, nor is the company out anything by the extension of the courtesy.

The Indians return the compliment with interest. Scatter their hands are crossing and recrossing the railroad at all times, and if ever a broken rail is noticed by their sharp eyes, a spike dislodged or a rail end loosened, a signal is left right there so that the engineer of the first train may see. Sometimes it is necessary to brush piled close to the danger spot, and sometimes—as happened during the recent washout—the train is actually flagged by an Indian. On this little stretch of railroad a trackwalker is a superfluous and the section hands are kept busy patching up the danger places marked very frequently by the Indians.

All of this is the more strange when the murders committed almost within halting distance of the railroad are considered. Not long ago a German count and two Americans were slain outright and another fatally wounded, so that he died a few days later. The hold-up occurred about eight miles off the railroad, and some days later the rursals made a round-up of a band of Indians, four of whom were charged with the crime. They were to be offered as a peace offering, for though the Indians call it war they are waging the Sonora Government regards it merely as a deprecatory murder. The four prisoners were confined at Hermosillo, but as they were to be hanged they were not kept long in jail, as that would have been a foolish expenditure of good government. On the day appointed the four Indians were driven to an oak tree standing in a picturesque spot about eight miles out from the Baltimore of Mexico—the prettiest women being supposed to come from Hermosillo.

The guard of rursals lined up and the four Indians alighted. One of the troopers threw his rawhide riata over a limb of the giant oak and galloped a few paces until the noose at the end of the rope hung down. The order being given, the first Indian stepped forward, raised the noose, placed it about his own neck and pulled it taut. Standing erect, without a word of dissent or a farewell to his companions, he gave the signal. Next instant the trooper had pulled up to his horse, and the renegade Indian was dangling in the air. The three others stood motionless. Each one in turn followed the example set, and met death calmly and serenely. They knew they would be avenged.

$5,000,000 TO BE CURED OF LEPROSY

One of the Richest Men in Mexico Offers His Fortune for Health.

Galveston, Tex., July 12.—James M. Bringas, of Guaymas, Mexico, one of the wealthiest mine and ranch owners of the sister republic, who is a native of Kentucky, is offering his entire fortune to anyone who will cure him of leprosy. He is the owner of the Las Vegas mine in Sonora, also the principal owner of the Winton Mining and Smelting Company, sole owner of 250,000 acres of land 80 miles from the City of Mexico. He crossed the border today, bound across the country on his way to Europe for the third time in hopes of checking the dreaded disease, which has eaten his finger nails.

He is 53 years of age and contracted the disease five years ago in Australia. He has spent more than $1,000,000 fighting leprosy, and has a standing offer of a million in gold for a cure. Today he says he will make it $5,000,000 and even more, as he is willing to sacrifice his entire estate to be cleansed of the loathsome affliction.

Mr. Bringas has a wife, seven daughters and a son, and he made his money in mining in Mexico, where he has lived for twenty years. He buys every medicine offered and suggested and has been under the treatment of fifteen specialists in this country and Europe and is willing to make any sacrifice to be freed from the disease.

and well understood phrase and would be preferable. Mr. Borden inclined to the same view, and the Senate's amendment was therefore rejected. The second amendment was in the definition of "provincial act," where the Senate struck out the word "public," thus opening the definition to "any act." Mr. Aylesworth said that was an important amendment, and he moved that it be not concurred in, as it would include an private act. However, he moved that the sub-section be adopted. In the following words: "Provincial act means the charter of any municipality or any public act of any province, whether passed before or since confederation." Mr. Aylesworth said that would cover the cases of all municipalities outside of Ontario. This form of clause was then adopted. The Senate's version of clause three was concurred in, striking out the restriction on provincial acts which legalizes business on Sunday, "regarding matters coming within the classes of subjects enumerated in section 92 of the British North America act, 1867."

A CRISIS ON IN BRITISH CABINET

Attempt to Reduce the Naval Estimates Causes Serious Clash. London, July 12.—The Express this morning says the Cabinet is in the throes of a serious crisis, split in twain on the vital question whether the navy shall be maintained in a condition of invulnerable efficiency or shall be weakened considerably by rival nations permitted to outdistance us in the race for naval supremacy.

The paper points out that some days ago the Cabinet decided to reduce this year's ship-building programme, abandoning one of the two battleships of the Dreadnaught class, which originally it was intended to lay down the coming autumn. Three or four members of the Cabinet, it is asserted, expressed themselves as opposed to "this most dangerous economy."

SAW BABY THROWN THROUGH WINDOW

Toronto Man Thinks He Witnessed Deliberate Murder of an Infant. Toronto, July 11.—An eye-witness to the alleged deliberate murder of the infant child thrown out of a car window from a train near Chesley, visited Sgt. Duncan yesterday and told his story.

The witness, who is a Toronto man, was a passenger on the train, and sat directly behind the woman who threw the child out of the window. His story is as follows: "I was sitting in the seat right behind her, and noticed the baby especially. Suddenly I saw the woman pick up a bundle of clothes and throw it out of the window. I was perfectly astounded, and thought that must have been a bundle of dirty clothes. Then I got up and looked around the seat, and could not see the baby. I followed her and saw her drop a bottle. I picked it up and returned it to her. "At the next station I got out and reported it at the station. I was so astounded that I could hardly believe my eyes, because the act was so deliberate. The bottle, picked up is supposed to be that which contained the carbolic acid with which the child's mouth was burned before it was thrown out. The police at Chesley have arrested Maggie Murphy, an Owen Sound girl, on suspicion. Her name is withheld by the authorities, but has been sent to the provincial department.

ARCHDEACON MARSH DEAD
Aged Anglican Divine Passes Away after a Prolonged Illness.

Archdeacon Marsh died at his home, 427 Horton street, last night, after a long illness. For some time past he was unable to sit up in bed, and his condition was not thought to be critical until yesterday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock, when he was taken suddenly very ill with an attack of paralysis. From the time of the attack until his death he never regained consciousness. Deceased was born in London, England, and came to this country when a young man, in company with his mother and family.

His first charge in the Church of England, was as rector at Ingersoll, where he remained until 1857, when he was appointed secretary treasurer of the present diocese, upon its being made independent of the diocese of Toronto. At the death of the late Archbishop Hough he was chosen to fill the office of Archdeacon of London and rector of St. John's, of London township.

Some time ago he retired on account of ill-health, and he has been living in this city up to the time of his death. He was 90 years of age, and is survived by his fourth wife, three sons, George and Walter, of Toronto, and Bertie, at home, and six daughters, Mrs. M. A. Gilbert, Mrs. A. Savage, of Montreal; Elizabeth and Francis, of Toronto, and Mary and Elma at home.

LONDON CLUBS AND NEW LIQUOR ACT

Hon. Mr. Hanna Interviewed on the Subject—Those Whom Law Affects.

Hon. W. J. Hanna, provincial secretary, spent last night in this city, and this morning left for Toronto. His business here was of a private nature.

While in the city he was interviewed by Mr. J. H. Flock, representing the London Club, in regard to the effect the new act will have on local clubs.

Speaking of the London Club and the Travelers' Club, Mr. Hanna is reported to have said:

"There is a class of club which will be affected by the new legislation, and I do not doubt that London has its share. But I do not think that the two clubs at present concerned need have any fear, because they appear to be clubs in the best sense of the term."

Mr. Hanna advised both clubs to put their statements in writing and submit them to the department at Toronto, when they will be advised as to the application of the act in their particular cases.

The law was framed, Mr. Hanna says, to wipe out a certain class of clubs, which leads young men astray. Each club must be chartered, and must pay $50 annually to the Province. Only such licensed clubs may sell liquor to their members.

At the last election in this city, the statement was made by temperance workers that there are 33 clubs in London which supply liquor to members. If the statement be correct, quite a large number of Londoners will be affected by the new act.

TROOPS CLASH IN CENTRAL AMERICA
Hostilities Between Salvador and Guatemala Is Renewed.

Washington, July 12.—Hostilities between Salvador and Guatemala have broken out anew on the border between these countries, where peace was supposed to have been established pending a settlement of the trouble between the two countries. Leslie M. Combs, the American minister to Guatemala, who was on his way to the United States, to assist in settling the difficulties, has been ordered back to Guatemala City from Champerico, Guatemala, where he was reached by cable.

Mr. Combs will remain in the Guatemalan capital to keep the United States advised concerning the trouble and to protect American interests. Salvadoran and Guatemalan troops have been massed near the common boundary of the two countries for some time, and a serious clash was expected, but a temporary armistice seemed to have been agreed upon and back to Guatemala City from Champerico, Guatemala, where he was reached by cable.

A GREEN OLD MUMMY
Remains of 2,000-Year-Old Peruvian To Be Sold at Auction.

London, July 11.—The mummified body of a miner who lost his life 2,000 years ago will be offered for sale at Stevens' auction rooms in King street, Covent Garden.

The miner was a subject of the Incas, and death overtook him while he was at work in what is now the Antonio copper mine, Sierra Atahu-alpa, Antofagasta, Chile.

The body was mummified by the action of the copper oxide in the mine.

With the exception of a small hole in the head, the mummy is perfect and everything—feet, hands and face—is beautifully preserved. But the body is green nearly all over from the action of the copper oxide.

A rug and two hammers made of stones tied with leather straps into a bent stick were found lying on the ground by the miner's side.

It was with these stone hammers that the miner who never learned the secret of working iron—extracted the copper which was valued by them even more than gold.

There is supposed to be only one other mummy of this kind in existence. It was recently bought for $5,000 by the Central Park Museum, New York.

COLPORTAGE IN THE EAST
Extension of the Work in India, China and Japan.

The colporteurs in India, China and Japan are in full work and are everywhere successful. The year's stipend in advance for the Bibleman in China has just been collected and was promptly sent off on Saturday last by P. O. order, to the secretary of the British and Foreign Bible Society, London, England, for transmission to the society's agent at Shanghai, who will hand it to the Chinese Bibleman personally. There are no charges nor deductions.

The following gentlemen have liberally and most cheerfully contributed: Messrs. F. E. Leonard, John Labatt, Robt. Fox (treasurer), Purdam & Purdom, E. C. J. B. Smallman (Smallman & Ingram), W. Wright (Jas. Wright & Sons), S. Screeon (E. Adams & Co.), J. W. Little (Robinson, Little & Co.), Lawson & Jones, Chas. R. Hunt, Jun., and R. Southam (Southam & Co.).

A small balance remains in hand for the next remittance, when it becomes due, for the Bibleman in Japan. The interest awakened in the beneficent work is shown by the fact that a contribution is occasionally offered without any solicitation. The good done by the Bibleman, who are all natives of these oriental countries, is beyond calculation.

We have recently heard that a whole heathen village a little beyond the Chinese frontier, has been Christianized by some copies of the gospel sold there by a Bibleman the year previous.

A missionary at a great distance was sent for, and now there is an increasing congregation of Christian people.

Dr. Beaumont will be glad to receive contributions in aid of this good and prosperous work.

THAW UNDERGOES CHANGE OF HEART
Seeks the Widest Publicity and Then Closes Up Like a Clam.

New York, July 12.—Harry K. Thaw's attitude toward the press and the public underwent a striking change between morning and evening yesterday. Immediately after breakfast he secured permission to have a delegation of newspaper men brought to him at the Tombs prison, telling them after a friendly interview that to talk with anyone besides the lawyers, doctors and prison officials was "like getting a whiff of fresh air from the outside world."

In the evening it was different. When the newspaper men sent Thaw a note asking if he wished to add anything to his formal statement of Tuesday, he sent a reply which said:

"I have said all that I wish to say. In future I shall be guided by the advice of my counsel."

At his morning interview with the newspaper men, Thaw asked them to give the widest publicity to his statement of Tuesday, which denied that he was insane, and he declared that there was to be no lunacy commission appointed to inquire into his state of mind.

The will of Stanford White, for whose murder Thaw is awaiting trial, was filed for probate today. The widow, Mrs. Bessie S. White, is named as executrix, but the value of the estate is not given. The petition for probate states that White left no real estate, and that the value of the personality is not known. After provisions for White's brother, Richard M. White, and for his mother, Alexina B. White, the entire residuary estate is left to White's widow.

Assistant District Attorney Garvan said today that his detectives had succeeded in serving a subpoena upon Mrs. Beatrice Schwartz, the woman in whose home at a dinner party Thaw is alleged to have made threats against the life of Stanford White.

Mrs. Schwartz will be called before the grand jury tomorrow.

May McKenzie, an actress, was questioned by Mr. Garvan for nearly an hour today concerning her knowledge of Stanford White's friendship for Evelyn Nesbit Thaw. Miss McKenzie is one of the friends of Mrs. Thaw, who have hitherto refused to furnish the district attorney's office with any information concerning the case, but it is understood that today she freely told Mr. Garvan what she knew.

DOUBLE SUICIDE MYSTERY
Body of Girl and Her Stepmother Found in Maumee River.

Chicago, July 12.—A dispatch to the Record-Herald from Toledo, Ohio, says: Following the supposed suicide of 17-year-old Clara Strayner in the Maumee River, Monday, was the discovery yesterday of the body of Katie Winover, housekeeper for the girl's father, stepmother, floating in almost the same place as was the corpse of Miss Strayner, when discovered. Mourners returning from the girl's funeral discovered the housekeeper's body.

Lincoln Strayner, the girl's father, is a farmer, living near Grand Rapids, Ohio, a few miles up the Maumee. His wife died when the girl was a babe in arms, and since that time Katie Winover had been the family housekeeper.

On the river bank this note was found Monday:
"I am buried in the old Maumee. I am going to mother. Good-bye, Clara."

A search revealed the body. Tuesday there was found in almost the same spot a note in an entirely different handwriting, which read: "Dear Papa, I want to bid you and all the friends good-bye. I expect to go and live with mamma, for you know how I am treated by Katie. Your loving daughter, Clara."

The two notes, which experts say were written by different persons, and the death of the Winover woman, who might have supplied the key to the

GOLDSMITH'S CHAIR SOLD
Brought $195 at an Auction Sale in London—Relics of Wesley.

London, July 11.—An interesting sale took place at Sotheby's auction rooms today. At the time of his death in 1774, Oliver Goldsmith, the poet, was in debt to an intimate friend, Edmund Bott, who had lent him considerable sums of money. Bott took possession of Goldsmith's effects, and retained the chair which the author had used at his writing desk as the relic most closely associated with the personality of his friend, and therefore the most precious. This chair was in possession of George Shaw-Lefevre, M. P., who died recently, and it was sold today for $195.

At the same time several relics of John Wesley were sold. Two hundred dollars was paid for a series of twenty letters of Elizabeth Barrett Browning addressed to Hugh Boyd, who, when blind, instructed her in Greek.

The Cape Colony authorities have been petitioned to set apart a "poets' corner" in the cathedral at Cape Town, Irish came from hundreds of miles to see that wonderful sight.—Minneapolis Journal.

"The tall cliffs of Ballybunton wade knee deep in the rough Atlantic. They are the bulwarks of Erin's west coast, and since the world's beginning the wild Atlantic surges, breaking against them, have eaten them out in caves and hollows.

"These cliffs of Ballybunton contain in their depths masses of iron pyrites and alum. Now and then the salt sea water eats into these masses, and ox-flames burst forth and the rocks crack and melt in the great heat.

"Once the cliffs of Ballybunton burned for weeks. Like a volcano, they sent up yellow flame and black, foul smelling, bitter smoke, and the Irish came from hundreds of miles to see that wonderful sight."—Minneapolis Journal.
