DISASTROUS FIRE SWEEPING BELMONT

WAR ON RENT PROFITEERS PLANNED BY TOWN COUNCIL; CONDITIONS NOW INTOLERABLE

People Who Have Been Camping Out All Summer Are Flocking Into an Overcrowded and Congested City—Greedy Landlords Taking Advantage of the Renters' Necessity.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Windsor, Sept. 25.—Mayor Winter will be the council Monday night to face a direct demand to the Dominion of Commerce to probe rent profiteering and prosecute offenders convicted. With four labor members of the five aldermen who sit around the council table, the mayor is not likely to be so easily won over as he has been in the past. There is no doubt at the city hall that the promised war will be declared at Monday night.

At the present time, small so-called apartments, which in most cases are really sections of residences occupied by other families, range in price from $5 to $10 a month, or an average of $7.50. The lucky house hunt as low as $5 or even $4.50. The day the $25 to $30 apartment houses are opened, Mayor Winter says he is determined to re-establish it.

With the coming of fall weather, the river front, which has been dotted for miles in either direction from Windsor with tents housing families, has become a veritable city. Summer campers have flocked back to an overcrowded and congested city.

Scandalous Situation.
"Something has to be done to end the scandalous situation that has developed here, as the result of the greed of landlords who have taken advantage of the overcrowded condition of the city, and taken advantage of the people's necessity, to demand exorbitant rents, which are preposterous and absolutely unjustified," declared the mayor today. "People come to me with stories of real hardship. Some are walking the streets trying to find some kind of shelter for themselves and their children, while others are vainly struggling to keep their heads above water with the exorbitant rents which are being charged unmercifully as winter approaches."

A Glaring Case.
One of the most glaring cases of profiteering brought to the attention of municipal officials is that of the owner of a centrally located apartment house, who has divided five-roomed flats into one-roomed flats, and is charging $20 each weekly. Called upon for an explanation, he stated that he was a Quebec woolen manufacturer during the war.

"Gentlemen, we are not running this business for the glory of God. I am entitled to a fair return upon my investment. Men in other lines of business in this city are making large returns on their money, and why should the man who rents apartments or houses or rooms, for that matter, be debarred?"

DETROIT SEETHING WITH CRIME; PROMINENT CITIZEN CALLS FOR LARGER FORCE TO GUARD CITY

Conditions At Present Time in Automobile City Are Worst in Its History—Robberies, Holdups, Murders and Feud Wars Are Common Occurrences—Many of the Worst Class of Criminals Attracted to America's Fourth Largest City—Motor Cars Used Extensively by Criminals.

Detroit, Sept. 25.—Crime and lawlessness have grown so in Detroit that the present force of police is inadequate to cope with it, and more men must be placed on patrol at once, even if it is necessary to call in the state constabulary. That declaration was made today by Alex. J. Macdonald, veteran Detroit businessman, who a few hours earlier had been held up and robbed by bandits not far from his home, 116 La Salle Boulevard.

As if to corroborate Mr. Macdonald's assertion regarding utter lawlessness and disregard for the authorities, residents Friday noon, on a busy street, staged a shooting battle, wounding a 13-year-old schoolboy. The instigators of the fight escaped in an automobile.

Drastic Action Asked.
Only measures of the most drastic kind can relieve the situation here, in the opinion of the greatest confidence in the personnel of the police department, but declared the situation had got beyond them.

"We must have more men patrolling the streets," said Mr. Macdonald. "One hundred additional men driving that many small automobiles in constant patrol would do more good than the 300 now on the streets. Nothing should be done until the situation is under control."

DOCTORS' COURSE TO BE SIX YEARS

Important Change Is Being Made At Western Medical School.

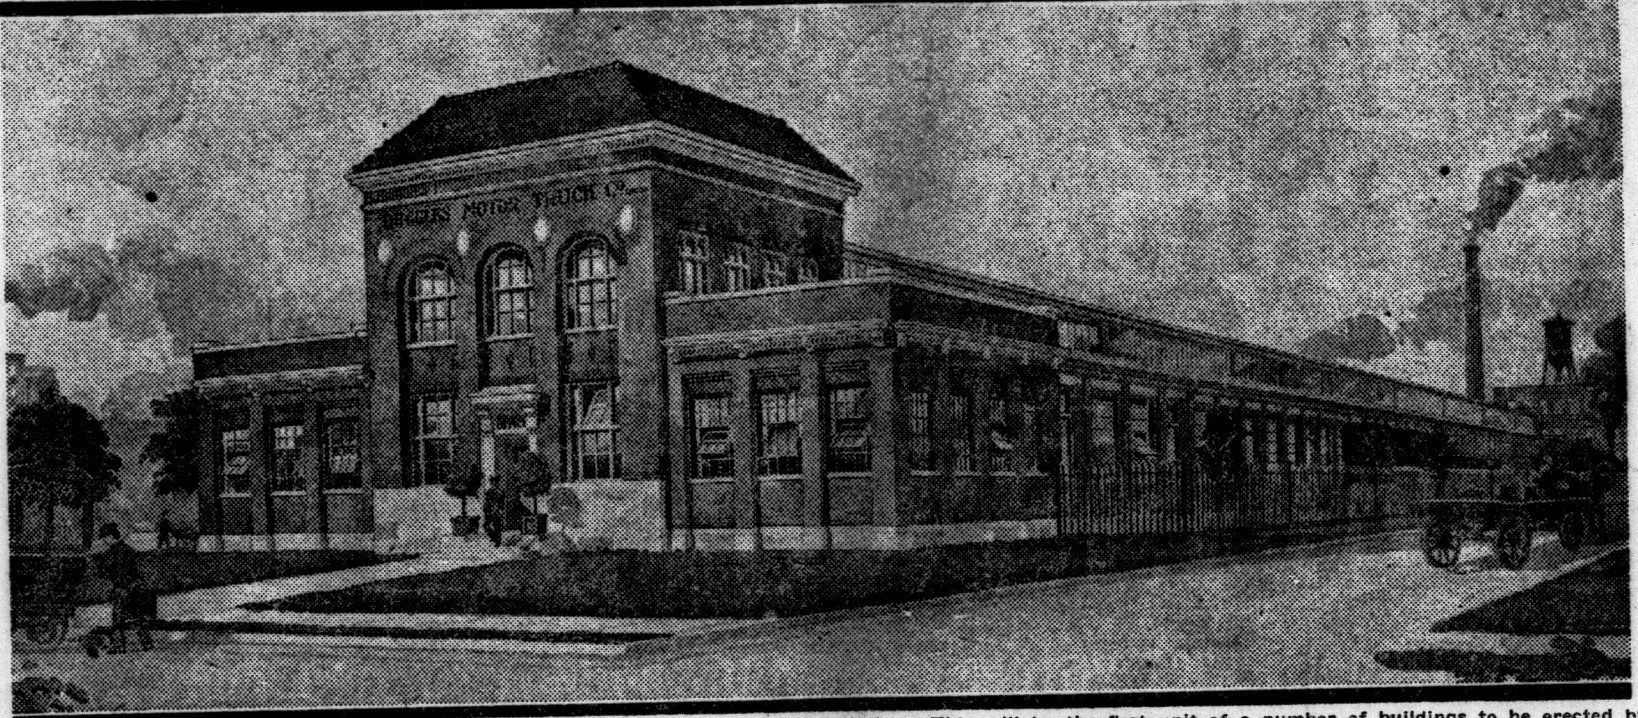

After the fall term opens at Western University on October 4, no new year classes in the faculty of medicine will be formed. After this term candidates will be required to attend Western six years in order to obtain the degree of M. D. The course was extended to one of six years last fall excepting for discharged soldiers who could prove that enlistment prevented them from pursuing medical studies, and for these candidates a five-year course was authorized.

Owing to the fact that several discharged soldiers expressed the desire to enter the faculty of medicine, Western this year, it was decided to continue the five-year course throughout 1920-21, but not thereafter, so that final five-year course entrants will be accepted for this year only. In addition to the last five-year students will take lectures on the opening of school. There are nine candidates for the five-year course registered at Western to date, while a record enrollment of 100 students of the Dominion, including Toronto and Queen's, have extended the medical course to one of six years and are accepting former soldiers for the five-year period this year only.

October 4 is registration day at Western and lectures begin the following day.

AGREEMENT IS APPROVED.
Milan, Italy, Sept. 25.—Incomplete returns from the referendum held yesterday to determine the sentiment of workmen toward the agreement reached at the instance of the government, by employers and workers relative to a solution of the present industrial situation, appear to show the agreement has been approved by a large majority. It is said syndicalists and anarchists urged their followers not to vote, believing it was impossible for them to defeat the agreement.

ACTOR CLAIMS THAT MCGRAW STRUCK HIM

Wilton Lackaye Sustains a Broken Ankle.

New York, Sept. 25.—Wilton Lackaye, the actor, sustained a broken ankle at the home of John J. McGraw, manager and part owner of the New York Giants, on Saturday night, it became known yesterday. Lackaye alleges that McGraw hit him as he was saying good-night, and that he fell and broke his ankle.

Lackaye in a statement denied having assaulted Lackaye, who, he said, called upon him on Saturday while under the influence of liquor, and was abusive. He used vile and indecent language, McGraw said. Two of McGraw's guests escorted him to the door, and he kicked one of them, stepping on the floor in the scuffle, as the Giants' manager explained it.

McGraw's statement was corroborated by his guests, Magistrate Francis X. McGuire and E. J. Frait, Chicago, as well as by Mrs. McGraw.

FIFTH BOSTON BANK FORCED TO SUSPEND

Boston, Mass., Sept. 25.—The Commercial Trust Company of this city, with a savings and banking department and agencies abroad, was closed by Bank Commissioner Joseph C. Allen this morning.

The Commercial is the fifth bank in the city to be closed by Commissioner Allen in the past five weeks.

The first of these was the Hanover Trust Company, which went to the wall with the collapse of the get-rich-quick scheme of Charles Fong, its largest individual depositor. The Prudential Trust Company was closed later, as were two smaller private banks.

NO PROFESSIONAL BOUTS

Ottawa, Sept. 25.—No professional boxing bouts which certain interests have been working for, will be permitted to take place in Ottawa this winter.

What appeared to be the final word in this direction was given yesterday afternoon, when the members of the police commissioners' board, sustained the appeal of the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs, that bouts of such a nature should not be permitted.

HEROES' GRAVES ARE BEAUTIFULLY KEPT

This photo of the Menin Road Cemetery at Ypres shows how beautifully it is kept. In this huge ground thousands of British and Canadian heroes are sleeping. The photo was taken a few weeks ago by Ex-Ald. William Heaman while visiting the battlefields of France and Belgium. He states that the cemetery receives constant care from specially appointed men, whose duty it is to look after it.

HIGH HEELS AND INCORRECT DRESSING CAUSING DISEASE

Edmonton, Alta., Sept. 25.—High heels and abnormal dressing by women were among cases brought forward by Dr. J. F. Lehmann of Winnipeg, resulting in various physical and nervous diseases, at a meeting of the Alberta Medical Association yesterday afternoon. His paper on "postural defects" was illustrated by diagrams by which the doctor sought to prove that a great many abdominal operations were necessitated by abnormal standing, sitting and even wrong postures in lying down. He also claimed that faulty posture reduced efficiency, and stated that men who sat at their work measured an inch shorter in the evening than in the morning.

The debutante's slouch was only condoned on the ground that the bad effects from the high heels would be worse if the wearer tries to walk with straight knees.

Living Costs in Montreal Are on Down Grade

Clothing Prices in the Quebec Metropolis Are Hitting Toboggan.

Montreal, Sept. 25.—The lower cost of living wave has reached this city. Martin C. Robinson, of the Robinson Clothing Company, stated that at the present time clothes are actually being offered for sale at less than the cost of making, and consequently all along the line prices have been reduced.

R. H. Blumenthal, general manager of the firm of J. H. Blumenthal & Son, Ltd., stated that the material which goes into the cheaper line of shirts now costs only 25c per yard, a decrease of 10c from a short time ago. He also stated that the prices for wearing apparel cannot come down to a really low level until the price of production is less.

Flour is now selling here at $14 a barrel, 85c less than the price previous to September 1.

MACSWINEY'S CONDITION

London, Sept. 25.—Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, passed a better night at Brixton prison last night and consequently was more refreshed this morning, said a bulletin issued by the Irish Self-Determination League this forenoon. MacSwiney had a few hours of sleep, but was said to be in a state of extreme weakness, and was able to whisper only a couple of words to relatives who visited him. The severity of the pains in his head from which he suffered yesterday was decreased, it was said.

CRUISER RAINBOW SOLD

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 24.—The old cruiser Rainbow has been sold to Neider & Marcus of Seattle. Before the war the cruiser was partly dismantled, but when the conflict began she was used as a patrol vessel on the Pacific.

Warm Weather Made Liquor Too Strong

Fine Imposed Is Remitted To Hamilton Brewing Company.

Toronto, Sept. 25.—Four cases of liquor supplied by the Hamilton Brewing Association to the Collins Hotel, Dundas, was found to be over 3 per cent strong. The association was fined $200. On appeal before Justice Rose, it was stated that the liquor had been under 2 1/2 per cent when it was delivered, but that the warm weather had caused it to ferment in the week since they delivered it. Justice Rose has quashed the conviction and remitted the fine.

WHOLE VILLAGE OF BELMONT IS THREATENED BY FIRE; LOCAL FIREMEN GO TO AID

London Apparatus Is At Scene of Big Blaze Following an Urgent Call For Help—Fire Chief Aitken Is Directing the Fight.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Belmont, Sept. 25.—An urgent call was sent to the London fire department at 10:50 a.m. today for fire apparatus to be rushed here in an effort to extinguish a disastrous fire which is threatening to destroy the entire village. Shortly before noon a service motor truck and a fire engine, with Chief John Aitken of London in his car, arrived here, and the veteran London firefighter immediately took command of the forces mobilized to save the village.

The fire started in Copeland's ice house and spread to a barn next door. The intense heat set fire to an office next door and to the barn of the Presbyterian manse. These were all completely destroyed, and the situation became so threatening that an urgent call was telephoned to London for apparatus. The origin of the fire is unknown.

LOVE VAGRANT IS FAR FROM HOME

Robert Ferguson stood alone in police court today, his being the only name on the docket for the session. He was charged with vagrancy, and gave his home city as Winnipeg. Ferguson, according to his story, is a wanderer, and came here from Hamilton last night, where he had worked on the boats. "I have a friend in London," he explained, "and came down for a job. I did not have enough money to get a room." The prisoner who is of the clean-cut type of youth, did not resemble a vagrant, and he was remanded for one week by Acting Magistrate P. H. Bartlett. In the meantime the police will communicate with relatives in Winnipeg, and if an answer is received satisfactorily Ferguson may be released before the expiration of the week.

BANDITS ARE CAPTURED

Tiddle, Sask., Sept. 25.—Two of the bandits who held up a poker game at Red Deer lumber mills at the weekend, and then engaged in a gun fight with Constables Ives and a posse on Monday afternoon, were captured without a shot being fired at Poonase, a small way station on the C. N. R. line about 50 miles west of Hudson Bay. The bandits were taken to the section house at the time, and were taken absolutely unawares. They were well armed. Their names are Bill Brauhack and John Macchow. They are Austrians, and give their ages as 21 years.

"I feel that the man who had taken vows to do just the contrary of what he has apparently been doing should be the one on trial before me, instead of these parties. There should be some way of stripping such a man of his churchly vestments. Such a man is a rattlesnake unfit to be in society. He is a disgrace to the church, and has been introduced into this case."

"Bring Gas Users Begging To Knees"; Then Raise Price!

Chatham Mayor, After Interviewing Minister of Mines, Alleges That The Union Natural Gas Company Asked the Government To Let Gas Be Shut Off Twenty-Four Hours—Went Over Mills' Head To Drury.

CHATHAM, Sept. 24.—Before the city council in special session here this evening, Mayor Brisco submitted a report on a deputation to the Hon. Harry Mills, minister of mines, yesterday, consisting of President George Wands of the local Chamber of Commerce and the mayor. The report read by Mayor Brisco alleges the employment of sensational tactics by the company, and is in part as follows:

"We learned from Mr. Mills that officials of the Union Natural Gas Company had approached his department, asking that they be allowed to turn the gas off for 24 hours in order to bring the people using their gas to their knees begging, and then they would be able to sign up contracts for higher prices. Hon. Mr. Mills, representing the people, refused to be a co-partner in any such deal as was suggested by the Union Natural Gas Company. This deputation was told they would not be allowed to turn any gas off from any municipality."

"They also asked the minister if he would keep his hands off the gas situation. The Union Gas officials' requests were refused by the minister of mines. They then went over the head of Mr. Mills and his department, and now have an appointment with Premier Drury for some day next week," said Mayor Brisco.

MODERN PUBLIC HEALTH

(University Extension Committee of Western University.)
 BY H. W. HILL, M.B., M.D., D.P.H.
 Director, Institute of Public Health of Western University, London, Ontario, Canada.
 A Column Devoted to Public Health in All Phases.
 Questions Addressed as Above Will Be Welcomed.

THE CENTRAL POINT OF HYGIENE.

Miss Bertha Smith, in charge of the Public Health Nursing of the London Child Welfare Association, says that 357 children's clinics have been held in London since the work began, and that the demand for well children's clinics will soon force the opening of another one.

Why? Remember, it is the well children's clinics that are increasing in attendance. The reason they are increasing is that the central point of hygiene is nutrition—nourishment—proper feeding for the particular child, boy or girl, young man, young woman, business man, housewife, old man, old woman. This proper feeding is the thing that the well children's clinics aim at.

NUTRITION—NOURISHMENT.

Food is the first thing and last thing we need, and the great thing we need all the time in between first and last.

Nutrition does not mean only food, however, for it means proper food, in proper quantities, to suit the individual. Satisfying the individual is the difficulty—for that again depends upon a great many things. Some of these things that nutrition depends on are clear enough to everyone. Just exactly as in running a furnace, you must have coal, not slate or clay or sand, so must the food we take be real food, not imitation. For young babies, the only real true, honest, take for food is human milk. The baby-furnace is built to burn that kind of fuel—for food is fuel after all. It is a remarkably interesting fuel—for whereas coal in a furnace burns, but does the furnace a certain amount of damage, and gradually wears the furnace out, food does not only burn in the body but repairs the wear and tear of the furnace in which it is burning also. As children are weaned, the problem of proper food in proper quantity grows more complicated. Bad, even fatal mistakes are made constantly, with the best of good intentions. Thousands of experts, with hundreds of thousands of children to observe, have found out a great deal about it, and don't know it all yet. But they have found out enough to be able to save from disaster many a baby, many a young child, many a school boy and girl.

CHILD WELFARE.

The London Child Welfare Association is, therefore, so far as well children are concerned, an association which exists chiefly for the proper stoking of the little human furnaces that will make our next generation of school boys and girls, our next generation of Canadians. So far nearly 2,600 babies have been properly stoked under their care—and the mothers have become expert stokers, for these particular babies.

A comparison of results with other places is always interesting. In London, after two years of the Child Welfare Association work, we saved 884 babies out of 1,000 born. In Hamilton, after six years' work, they saved 903 out of every 1,000 born. In Toronto, after ten years' work, they saved 911 out of every 1,000 born. So we are far from perfect yet, but we are on our way, for before the London Child Welfare Association began work we saved in 1916 only 855 out of every 1,000 born alive in London.

HEAVY MORTALITY.

But right here let us see that baby-saving is not ALL in feeding the baby after it is born. Over half of the babies who died before they were a year old, died before they were even one month old. That is, they died before much effect from the feeding could be expected one way or another. They were not good furnaces to begin with, in some way or other. Usually this means that the mothers needed attention which they did not get before the child was born. I do not mean that the mothers had not home and friends and loving care—but something was wrong somewhere in the kind of care and preparation they had. Neglected disease, neglected nutrition, insufficient rest—many things enter into it. Well, then, if over half of the baby deaths are due to such things, it is to put the mother in the best condition possible long before the baby is born, to watch for the various insidious accidents and things that may go wrong, to her injury and the damage or even early death of the baby who it appears is held on Wednesday afternoon every week at Victoria Hospital.

A SENSIBLE WAY.

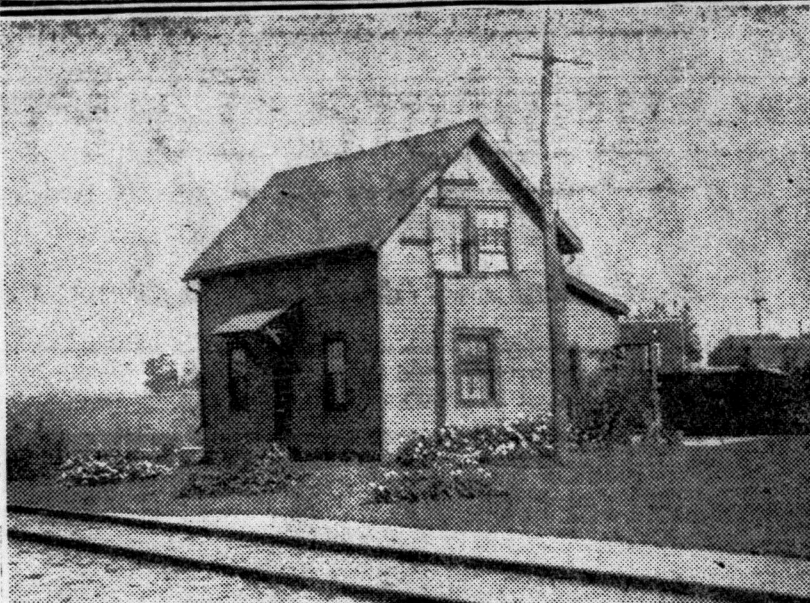

Is not this a perfectly sensible, up-to-date, reasonable sort of work, for the good of our whole Canadian people? Is there any better or more important work for the country as a whole than taking care of mothers and babies that we shall not lose them entirely from our numbers?

Then how about really sick children: what is done for them? The Child Welfare Association refers all sick children it encounters to the family physician. But if there is no family physician, the sick baby is referred to far clinics at Victoria Hospital, a total of nearly 900 have been treated so far. Before long we all expect to have the War Memorial Children's Hospital built and running, and then this work will be possible for all Western Ontario, not in London alone. Woodstock is beginning, and a Baby Welfare Association clinic, assisted by members of the London Child Welfare Association, was held there this week.

We want to see the rural districts also interested and developing their own health associations. Rural children ought to be just as healthy or healthier than city children, but the facts are the other way. Lack of organization, teaching, careful study of the health of the rural children.

STUDY AND CARE.

The Western Fair showed what can be done for farm animals by study and care. How about giving the same to farm boys and girls? The rural districts are not interested? Yes they are. The Farmers' Sun recently (September 11, 1920), had a long article by "Diana" on this very subject, and we see that the rural districts are getting into the game in earnest. City and country should work together in building up our citizens physically, as well as in every other way. We hope to see this co-operation developed immediately in the near future. The War Memorial Children's Hospital in London; the well children of Western Ontario looked out for by rural well children's clinics held regularly in their own neighborhoods, by their own local rural Child Welfare Associations.

The gardens of F. Skinner, C. P. R. section foreman at Lakeside, which have been recommended as the prize-winning gardens in this class on the local division of the C. P. R. Mr. Skinner has, according to the judges, one of the neatest and best kept gardens in the district.

TRAFFIC IS LIGHTER.

Although the C. P. R. in the local division was experiencing the busiest period in its history less than two weeks ago, freight traffic has fallen off such a degree that things are comparatively quiet at the present time. Two weeks ago the road was calling for help in the way of experienced train crews, and several engines were added to the number in use in the division. Now the regular crews are taking only their regular runs, and several of the engines are comparatively idle. The falling off has been accredited to the number of factories slowing down in the United States.

RUSHING THE WORK.

With the arrival of a quantity of cement, work on the construction of the G. T. R. reclamation yards which are being built in the east end of the city has been resumed, according to Superintendent C. F. Forrester of the local division. The steel-swing building which is to be entirely constructed of concrete has been partially erected. Mr. Forrester expects that there will be considerable difficulty and perhaps some delay in securing the machinery which he does not believe can be secured before December. He said that there is a possibility that the plant will be put into operation before the end of the year.

WILL ADD TRAIN.

When western grain starts to move in the near future an extra freight train will be added to the Goderich branch of the C. P. R. to move the wheat, as it is unloaded from the boats at that port. Possibly one train and a half of grain will be moved over this line every day.

ELECTRICAL WELDING.

Electrical welding machines are the latest innovations in the roundhouses on the C. P. R. system. One of the machines has been brought to this city to be installed in the local shops for repairing boilers and building up rivets. Electricians started wiring the roundhouse on Friday, so it is expected to be ready for use by the first of next week. Two pits in each section of the roundhouse will be equipped with special wiring which will be attached to cables carrying 500 volts of current. As the welding is done in the pits, it will be done in conjunction with the electric machines. Electric welding has never been used before on the C. P. R. in this city, according to local officials. It has, however, been used in the past.

ROD IS IN PICKLE, SAYS JOHN COTTAM

Promises Disclosures in Connection With Town Planning Controversy.

To the Editor of The Advertiser: One point is substantially as intimated in the press with regard to last night's meeting of the town planning committee.

I did challenge certain information placed before the committee and asked that the previous minutes be produced in order to establish the truth or falsity of the statements.

Had Chairman Seabrook known the simplest principles of lawful procedure in such a meeting, the clerk would have had to read the official record of the matter as it stands in the minutes, which the clerk had at hand.

In a very few words my position would thus have been demolished or established. But that would have been too simple and too drastic a settlement for the city clerk.

Instead, and so far from conducting himself as a paid servant of the committee, which he is, the city clerk played his usual role of dictator, with the floor in a tautum, flinging into parliamentary language at the committee, and being supported by Chairman Seabrook, managed very nicely to stir up enough dust to befog the situation.

The clerk got away with the beam. He got away with the beam without having to produce the information to which the committee was entitled.

Some time ago I publicly promised that, failing to get orders of the council carried out with respect to town planning, I would make some interesting disclosures.

At present I wish merely to report progress. The rod is in pickle. Or rather, it is a rope in which violators of public trust are entangling themselves very nicely.

A little more rope, and a little more time, if you please. JOHN COTTAM. London, Ont., September 25.

NEWS

HIGH COURT.—The weekly high court, with Mr. Justice Rose presiding, is in session here today, and several important cases are being heard.

CONDITION CRITICAL.—Dr. Roy J. Farmer, who shot himself Wednesday night is still in a critical condition in St. Joseph's Hospital although last night he was resting quietly.

DAMAGE SLIGHT.—The fire department made a run to the Central Garage at the corner of York and Ridout streets, and extinguished a fire in a pile of lumber at 11:30 o'clock last night. The damage was slight.

MEET THIS AFTERNOON.—A special meeting was held in the Y. M. C. A. this afternoon at which a large number of businessmen and others conferred with Harry Whitehorn and B. Spoor regarding the brotherhood movement.

ASSAULT CHARGE.—Charged with having assaulted Thomas Egan recently, James L. Egan will appear for a hearing before Squire W. H. Chittick in the county court this afternoon. Both parties are residents of London Township, where the offence is alleged to have been committed.

LEAVES FOR ENGLAND.—William H. 50 Cavendish street, West London, who has been in the service of the Grand Trunk Railway for the past 38 years, has left for England for his health, after having been superannuated on September 1. While overseas he will visit friends in South Wales. His family will remain here.

MAY CALL EXPERT.—General discussion of the register school took place at a meeting of No. 3 committee of the board of education Friday afternoon. No definite action was taken, it is possible that at the next meeting of the board, the calling in of an educational expert to consider local needs will be suggested.

JOINT MEETING.—On Tuesday next a joint meeting of the Methodist and Presbyterian committees appointed to report on the co-operation scheme will be held. The committee will report on the progress made in connection with planning this co-operation scheme before.

ONE HUNDRED PERMITS ISSUED.—Building permits today reached a total of 100, representing $265,340 worth of building. Permission was given to the Church of the Redeemer to make a one-story brick veneer addition at a cost of $5,500. The housing commission took out two permits.

NEED MORE ROOM.—Overcrowding is in evidence in the run-down school in Wellington road and Concession 1, and the ratepayers will hold a meeting in that building Tuesday evening to discuss remedies for same. There are 58 pupils on the attendance roll. Included in the discussion will be the probability of a one-story addition to the building, or a new wing or a new school to solve the difficulty. The ratepayers will also decide whether any authorized improvement will be paid by lump sum or by debentures.

A REAL TREAT.—The splendid address which gathered in St. Andrew's Hall last night to hear Professor S. H. Clark of Chicago University, while he created for them anew the immortal Shanty of Thackeray's "Vanity Fair," went away completely satisfied. The Western University Alumnae Association provided a rare treat. Not only is the stage presence and voice of Professor Clark excellent, but he has the happy ability of making the characters of whom he speaks actually live in the presence of his hearers. His Becky Sharp and Amelia Sedley and Rawdon Crawley and Major Dobbin are Thackeray characters, of course, but somehow budget Which Has Just Been Submitted For London and District Calls For Expenditure of $695,000, and Does Not Include a Single Item of Replacement or Any Provision For Long Distance Lines.

Proposed Telephone Extensions Require Heavy Additional Capital

The largest budget that has ever been submitted for Bell Telephone improvements in Western Ontario has just been forwarded to headquarters. It totals $695,000. This does not include a single item of replacement, but represents enterprise for which new capital must be secured. It does not include any provision for long distance lines and a separate budget for this work is being prepared.

Whether or not the work can be proceeded with depends entirely upon the securing of funds. If the money is available the company intends to carry out extensive improvements in London and district in 1921. For this reason the local and district officials are watching with a little more than particular interest the outcome of the request for increased rates. If the request is granted the money for the much-needed extensions and improvements will be obtainable. Otherwise the work is likely to be delayed indefinitely. In the meantime, it is stated by The Advertiser all the reserves of supplies in the entire district are being used to take care of the business and there is a real shortage of some of the materials.

ALLID CHEEKS

MEAN ANAEMIA

New Health Can Be Obtained
by Enriching the Blood Supply.

When a girl in her teens becomes evasive, listless and dull, when nothing seems to interest her and quantities do not tempt her appetite you may be certain that she needs more good blood than her system is provided with. Before long her pallid cheeks, frequent headaches and breathlessness and heart palpitation will confirm that she is anemic. Many mothers as the result of their own girlhood experience can promptly detect the early signs of anemia, and the wise mother does not sit for the trouble to develop further, but at once gives her daughter a course with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which renew the blood supply and finish anemia before it has obtained hold on the system.

Out of their experience thousands of mothers know that anemia is the sure road to worse ill. They know the difference that good red blood makes in the development of womanly health. Every headache, every gas for breath that follows the slightest exertion by the anemic girl; every pain she suffers in her back and limbs are reproaches if you have not taken the best steps to give your weak girl more blood, and the only sure way to do so is through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

New, rich, red blood is infused into the system by every dose of these pills. From this new, rich blood springs good health, an increased appetite, good energy, high spirits and perfect womanly development. Give your daughter Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and take them yourself and note how promptly their influence is felt in better health.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail post-paid at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

NEW POLICY—

For the past few months we have watched the markets closely, and while we have received no reductions from the manufacturers as yet, we feel the time has come when the war-time inflation must cease and prices drop. In truth, some manufacturers are showing slight advances. In spite of this we have brought about a reduction of 30 per cent on everything, dropping furniture to pre-war levels and losing our profit entirely thereby. In the hope that it will tend to show the manufacturer that no longer will the public stand for inflation.

We certainly are doing our part to help the people bring down prices by disregarding all thought of profit. To be candid, we are just getting overhead expenses.

It takes courage to play such a stroke as Henry Ford in the matter of price-cutting, and possibly we wouldn't have done it had he not blazed the trail. We are only borrowing his knowledge of markets in our latest action. Despite the lack of profits, we feel it is a great stroke, as it will undoubtedly popularize Thomas' even greater than it is now, at the same time helping to reduce the world's greatest problem—inflated prices.

GAIN AND INITIATIVE.

Mr. Ford, announcing his price reductions, declares that eagerness for inordinate gains has been one cause of high prices. His move is to set an example away from a course dangerous to dealers and capitalists themselves. Here is the right kind of "personal initiative," enlightened selfishness if you will have it so.

Ordinarily it is taken for granted by many that the one adequate stimulus of initiative is immediate and exclusively personal profit. Objection is made to government regulation of prices and government appropriation of excess profits that this tends to check "personal initiative." The Liberty Leaguers, late lamented, used much the same sophistry as to "personal liberty." Initiative is all right sometimes, but it is quite often all wrong.

One sort of personal initiative for greedy gain is much denounced by profiteers themselves. Workingmen sometimes "soldier on the job" so as to make it last out or not to "take away work from a mate." Great skill, resourcefulness and even bustling energy may be employed in this interesting game. Anybody can see that it is wrong and ultimately bad for the workers themselves if they do it.

The laudation of private gain as a motive for energy, zeal and initiative has in fact been ludicrously overdone. Educationists have largely abandoned the prize system in schools. There it stimulates a few winners in a selfish way, while the mass of non-winners become if anything more slack and do not applaud the prize-men. In industry the flouting of rich prizes makes for a determination of workers not to be exploited and for general ill will. A sensible victor in any arena, however, likes to have appreciation. As Shakespeare put it:

"No man is the lord of anything,
Though in and of him there be much consisting.
Till he communicate his parts to others;
Nor doth he of himself know them for aught.
Till he behold them formed in the applause
Where they're extended."

THE GOSPEL OF WORK.

The philosophic "Road Mender" of Michael Fairless succeeded in attaining his ideal by doing an honest day's work, preparing materials to preserve the condition of a good English high-way. One day his caller was a fellow-worker on the way to "better himself" at the cross-roads. Gazing meditatively at the heap of stones, he burst out:

"Ow long a've yer bin at this job, that yer're in such a hurry?"

I stayed my hammer to reply, "Four months."

"Seen better days?"

"Never," I answered emphatically, and punctuated the remark with a stone split nearly in four. The man surveyed me in silence for a moment; then he said, slowly: "Mean ter say yer like cracking these stones to fill holes so other folks make?"

I nodded.

"Well, that beats everything," and hitching up his braces he moved on with a silent nod.

The old man was not teaching that one was necessarily to remain a road-mender always, but he did proclaim the joy of completed work, as the Wise Man taught, "Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might." That word, "whatsoever," is not to be restricted to things merely material. In the words of wisdom its sweep widens out to embrace not only the affairs of this life in relation to our neighbor in the Good Samaritan sense, but to existence stretching into endlessness. Man lives not by the product of the bakeshop alone; he demands spiritual nurture, and one who dawdles and slights his task will be lacking in spiritual tissue. "Whatsoever" takes in the whole range of duties enjoined in the Scriptures. There is also a "How" involved; "with thy might"; by reason of conviction and purpose, requiring all one's strength and will. And behind it stands the sufficient reason already indicated and further buttressed in the text, "For there is no work, nor device, nor wisdom in the grave whither thou goest." The importance of work in the Divine economy of the world is disclosed by the hundreds of references to work, workers and working, in the Old and New Testaments. Apart from the one great central theme of the Bible, the person and redemptive work of Christ, no other subject receives more frequent and emphatic presentation. Work was instituted in the Garden of Eden prior to the lapse of man from innocence and purity through disobedience. According to the record, the duty of man was to dress and keep the garden and to enjoy its fruits. The laborious element came afterwards, and arose out of adverse conditions, undoubtedly made harder by the aggravation of sin and selfishness. In procuring his bread by the sweat of his face man realizes a punitive experience, but it is a wholesome, remedial process, likewise, that suggests the wisdom of providing labor on the soil for offenders against law in preference to mere incarceration behind bare prison walls. Later on in the Mosaic record, the obedient and the generous are assured of Divine blessing in all their work, and in all unto which their hands are put." Solomon not only declares that the hand of the diligent maketh rich, but he pours out righteous scorn upon the slothful, the sluggard and the idler who comes to want and hunger. The prominently logical preacher, Paul, upon occasion, set an example to the less practical by working with his hands for his sustenance in Thessalonica and giving command that "If any would not work neither should he eat." Both the idle rich and the idle poor fall under condemnation in the Divine oracles. The notion that this world "owes a man a living" without work is the doctrine of the hobo and the knavish. Universal experience verifies the mandates of Scripture, and yet during a recent world tour General Bramwell Booth of the Salvation Army found nearly everywhere a deplorable aversion to work. A more adequate recompense for the toiler will help to correct this condition, but clearly there is need on its merits of a more general recognition of the worthiness, wholesomeness and necessity of efficient manual labor. Especially is this called for in order to obtain larger production for the world's real needs to tide us safely over the present period. From the kindergarten to the university let it be indoctrinated in the schools. Not only should industry and dexterity be cultivated, but "taking pride" in handicraft stimulated. That means putting imagination into the works of man which have transformed the world by achievements of utility, beauty and amazement. Much so-called recreation is only a dissipation of energies. Combining more physical with purely intellectual effort, which is also labor, will help to relieve and lessen many widespread ailments. Undeveloped by work, man's powers atrophy. There remains the still deeper reason that work partakes of a Divine character. The Designer and Author of the world is a working Deity to which the Eternal Son testified when He declared: "My Father worketh hitherto (or even unto now), and I work." Inspiring as is the Theistic conception of world origin and growth, the Divine in human garb attains its sublimest reach in the redemption of the race in which man himself becomes a co-worker.

WORRIED OVER QUEBEC.

Premier Meighen and his associates are plainly worried over the fact that Quebec still stands aloof from the remnants of the Conservative party. While the premier tours the English-speaking portions of the province, feeling out sentiment, an anxious effort is being made to induce some representative French-Canadian to enter the cabinet. Those who have charged the French-Canadian politician with being ready to do anything for office have learned that the French-Canadian does not swallow his convictions for the rewards of office. For two years and more the door has been wide open at Ottawa, but none have stepped over its portals.

Hon. Mr. Patenaude and Mr. George H. Boivin are two now talked of for the cabinet. Mr. Patenaude was in the cabinet some time ago, and left it, while Mr. Boivin, the present deputy speaker of the House of Commons, has always been known as a Liberal. Time will show whether or not Mr. Patenaude has overcome the feelings that resulted in his resignation from the cabinet of Sir Robert Borden. In the case of Mr. Boivin, the wish is probably father to the thought that he might move to the right of the speaker.

In the meantime, the two men who exercise greatest influence in Quebec today are with Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King in the west, preaching sound Liberal doctrine. We refer to Hon. Dr. Beland, the Canadian deputy, who spent more than three years as a prisoner of the Germans in Belgium, and Mr. Ernest Lapointe, who is acknowledged by all to be one of the really outstanding men in the House of Commons today. These two men are really representative of Quebec thought, and that they should be found in Mr. King's party indicates that there is no likelihood of their province turning from Liberal principles to accept Toryism under its new name.

The Meighen newspapers are trying to make the public believe that the meetings now being held in the Eastern Townships indicate a turn in the province towards the Government. As a matter of fact, the Eastern Townships are no more representative of Quebec than is the city of Westmount. When Premier Meighen goes into the real French-speaking counties and meets the rural population it will be something entirely different. There will be no Senator Rufus Pope to stage-manage the affair there, and the premier will stand on his own merits. The premier need not fear that he will not receive a hearing—French-Canadian courtesy extends even into politics—but a polite hearing and votes are two different things. Quebec is not to be won over by a few honeyed words. Premier Meighen would doubtless give much today to recall some of the things he has said in the past with respect to Quebec, but will find out, as many another public man has found, that it is much easier to say a thing than to take it back later.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Many a shoe has lost its sole through trusting a conscienceless vamp.

J. B. Cohn may not be dead, but the taste of bootleg is proof that he is in very poor health.

If the department of justice doesn't know who is profiteering, why doesn't it get a blanket indictment of John Dough?

John D. Jr. is afraid his children won't be democratic, and this latest increase in the price of gasoline will doubtless add to his worries.

A NEW WORLD.

The cause of the neglected sufferers from mental maladies was ably pleaded by Dr. Helen Boyle of England in two addresses here. Dr. Boyle may find the awakening of public opinion on this continent to the realities of her message a task of magnitude, yet the truth she tells has been apparent to many for long.

The hurry and noise of modern life adds greatly to the number of the victims of nervous disorders. Far too little progress has been made in dealing with the problem in accordance with the standards otherwise maintained in the care of the people. Yet neurasthenia is now known as "the great American disease."

Dr. Boyle points out that no small proportion of those confined in the asylums are there because of neglect due to the lack of facilities for treating their trouble in time. A whole new, happy world exists for multitudes who suffer now from constant depression and mental strain, dragging themselves wearily through days and nights of discomfort.

And this is scientific fact, exemplified in the work of institutions such as Dr. Boyle is associated with in England. Speed the day when Canada will be well supplied with this service! The Canadian National Committee for Mental Hygiene has a glorious opportunity before it.

Letters to the Editor

JUGGERNAUT.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:
Kindly permit a few lines in reference to an excerpt which appeared in a recent issue of The Advertiser.

It is really startling to read therein the figures presented to the National Safety Council of the United States, dealing with the fearful atrocities of the modern car. From these figures it appears that three times as many people are killed by automobiles as are killed in all the factories, mines, railroads and other industries in America, and that people are killed there at the rate of one person every 35 minutes. This is appalling, and it is certain that conditions are no better in this country.

The paper quoted states that 97 per cent of this awful mortality is due to reckless driving and the craze for speed, and goes on to say: "It must be clear that such a staggering death-rate cannot continue without causing unusual action." Now, it seems to me that one piece of legislation which would prove remedial would be to make it illegal to collect insurance for injury to automobiles by collision. This insurance drives in the hands of a reckless, unscrupulous driver an easy means by which to repair or replace an unsatisfactory machine at small cost, and, indeed, has a tendency to render all owners of autos less careful than they would undoubtedly be if they had to foot the bill for repairs. Such a law might, at first sight, appear to be somewhat drastic, and seem a hardship to the decent driver, who has some regard for life and limb and the rights of the road, but, after all, human life, not dollars, should be the paramount consideration, and perhaps the measure might be framed in such a way as to operate only against those proved reckless of accident.

One evening recently the writer was proceeding west on Dundas street in an auto in which were a lady and three young children. When passing the intersection of Dundas and Adelaide, with a street car on our left, an automobile came tearing up Adelaide from the north, right "on our beam," and at a rate certainly exceeding the speed limit. If the gentleman driving our machine had not suddenly swerved to the left, almost running into the street car, and stopped with marvelous promptitude, there would have been a lamentable accident. As it was, the other driver, as he raced round the corner, too fast for us to catch his number. Verb et.

HOME RUINS.

[Kingston Whig.]
It isn't necessary to visit Europe to see ruins. Observe a fly envelope when a landlord has finished with it.

ASK IT EITHER WAY.

[Boston Globe.]
Has your rent been raised? Can you raise the rent?

THE PUBLIC CHOICE.

[Ottawa Journal.]
Two hundred watch the live stock judging at the exhibition, while 60,000 surge along the Midway. Yet some people want to know why the newspapers are not more high-browed.

THE SANCTITY OF CONTRACTS.

[Washington Post.]
It is apparent to everybody who gives close study to the relations between capital and labor that wage contracts must be honored at face value by both sides. Employer and employee must conform in good faith to their agreements, whether they be required by law to do so or whether they make it a matter of honor. If this is not done, no satisfactory mutual understanding is possible, and harmonious relations in industry will never be permanently attainable.

FAIRY TALES.

[Quebec Herald.]
While there is undoubtedly a shortage of fairy tales by which our mothers used to beguile the dull hours and pave the way for bedtime, it cannot be said that there is any likelihood of Americans suffering from a similar shortage in the stories told them by rival politicians. The presidential campaign is still young, but it has already been immensely prolific in fairy tales sent out by campaign managers, beamed upon them an immediately of imagination, but a remarkable shortage of fact.

FRUIT AND FLOWERS BY AIR.

[Montreal Gazette.]
Twice a week an aeroplane leaves Nice loaded with more than 100 baskets of roses, carnations and other flowers for Copenhagen. Although the journey is lengthened by the need to avoid the English Channel, in ten hours the plane has crossed France, Belgium, Holland and Germany to the capital of Denmark. When spring has come in the Riviera, the snow still lies on the streets of Copenhagen, and the florists find ready markets for their French blossoms.

The success of this venture suggests many other things which promise profit for the promoter and pleasure for the public. Not only might the early fruits of the Midt be transported to Scandinavia, but something of the kind might be tried in the United States. The Florida orange is a market in New York, eager to get them on the day after they were picked. Then, too, in the late summer and early autumn, the perishable fruits which ripen in Canada, but lost much of their flavor by being picked when they are still unripe, would be quickly sold in southern cities. Indeed, this success of the Nice-Copenhagen floral service opens a wide range of agreeable possibilities.

HE MAY.

[Whitby Gazette and Chronicle.]
Bumper crops all over Canada lend encouragement to the hope that prices will be lower during the coming fall—at least, on some articles of food. An Oshawa man is reported to have taken a load of potatoes to the Toronto market last Saturday, and to have brought the most of them home again because he could not get more than $1 a bag. The poor consumer may have his fanning this fall.

A FISCAL HUMBUG.

[Hamilton Times.]
"If I could tell you what the policy of Mr. Mackenzie King is on this tariff issue I would do so. I could prove it to be anything at all, according to which of his speeches I quoted. If you ask him whether he is in favor of free trade or protection, he tells you he is in favor of neither. A man who is not in favor of either has no principle to which he can cling. A man who says he is in favor of neither, and that it is not a question of free trade or protection, that man is a fiscal humbug." Speaking at Sherbrooke, Que., Premier Meighen gave utterance to the above statement. Perhaps Mr. Meighen never heard of a revenue tariff or of a revenue tariff with incidental protection. The premier knows that few, if anybody, in this country wants a free trade tariff, hence his anxiety to class all the opponents of his government as free traders, just as he has endeavored to make the people believe that those who are not with him are nation-wreckers. Even the Western farmers are not asking for free trade. Mr. Mackenzie King is not asking for free trade. He knows that the country needs a revenue, and he knows that the country needs without some incidental protection. He is favorable to such protection being given. It is a condition, not a theory, that confronts him.

What Mr. King wants is a readjustment and reduction of the tariff in the interest of the working classes, and he believes that such a readjustment and reduction can be made without harming the manufacturing and other interests of the country. Mr. Meighen in his speech attacked the Farmers and Liberals of Canada in opposition to his government, and thus attempts to make a cleavage between city and country. The Farmers are neither mercenaries nor wreckers. They are, perhaps, the most important section of the community, and any government that lines itself up in opposition to them is not acting in the interest of the country.

The tariff platform of the Liberal party is now public property. Mr. Meighen can find nothing in it that declares for free trade, and he cannot quote Mr. King as a free trader. They are, perhaps, however, is opposed to a protective tariff that unduly raises the cost of the necessities of life. He favors a policy that will attract population to Canada. He favors the development of the country, and believes that the best way to further this is to put as few burdens as possible upon those who are to do the development. We are afraid that Mr. Meighen has a humbug.

Poetry and Jest

TWO POINTS OF VIEW.

[Ellen Thomeycroft Fowler.]

I saw my love and said that it was good.
Then laid it as an offering at thy feet.
And dreamed that it could make thy life complete.
And be thy spirit's satisfying food.
This thought by thee was never understood.
For thou my precious gift didst lightly treat.

As some new toy to make thy leisure sweet.
And be thy plaything in a happy mood.
Thy careless moments are reserved for me.
Who long in vain to comfort thee with love.

And wreat thy struggling soul from sorrow's power.
Dear, is it right that such a thing should be?

That the passion of my heart should prove
A pleasant pastime for an idle hour?

Hi—

Upon thy love I made no great demands.
Nor daily needs before it dared to bring.

Because I held it such a holy thing
I feared to touch it with unwashed hands.

Do travelers brush the stains of dusty lands
With feathers borrowed from an angel's wing?

Or sons of toll the songs of Zion sing
Beside the busy Babylonian strands?

Though common cares are hidden from thine eyes,
And sorrow never ventures in thy sight.

Let not the glory of thy love grow dim.
Nay, sweetheart—shall the sun refuse to rise?

Because he never saw the world by night.
So thinks the morning has no need of him?

THE LIMIT.

The following amusing story concerning Madam Sarah Grand, the well-known novelist, was told by a personal friend of hers.

It appears that the gifted author of "The Heavenly Twins," is very absent-minded. One day her friend, calling on her unexpectedly, found her with a big awkward volume on her knee, heated, excited and evidently very much put out.

"Is anything the matter?" asked the caller.

"Oh, yes," she answered, desperately. "I've lost my pen and I want to write the end of the book."

"Why, where are you looking for it?" She glanced at the questioner and then at the book.

"I believe," she faltered, "I was looking for it among the p's in the dictionary."

SEPTEMBER.

[Anne Cleveland Cheney.]
Clusters of the wild grape
Hung upon the wall,
Slender stems of many birches
Silvered, bare and tall;
Golden, golden autumn sunlight
Shimmered over all!

And the river—oh the river,
—In a blaze of blue,
Ran away for shrieking rapture,
All the meadow through,
While my spirit, following after,
As a wild bird flew!

For the radiance and the color,
And the spicy smell,
For the great, deep, cosmic gladness—
Past all power to tell,
Set the heart of all things ringing,
Like a clear-toned bell!

PROMPT REPLY.

[Pearson's Weekly.]
Schoolmistress (in grammar lesson)—
"I didn't have no fun at the seaside."
How would you correct this, Johnny?
Johnny—Get a sweetheart.

A SONG IN AUTUMN.

[Theodosia Garrison.]
Autumn, Autumn, give me of your crimson,
Give it me for courage, for the year has left me meek,
And your crimson banners flying, as the sign of your defying,
Shall dare my heart's denying the patience of the weak.

Autumn, Autumn, give me of your yellow,
Give it unto me for hope—the hope I could not hold;
For where your sun is burning I feel the dream returning,
The darling pain of yearning whose passing left me old.

Autumn, Autumn, take me to your heart,
The bold heart, the singing heart whose strength shall make me strong;
Send my peeled life faring in colors of your wearing,
Your gold and crimson bearing, against a grief too long.

GOOD REASON.

[Hubert Asquith.]
(This artist, who was distinguished by the scope and freedom of his work, enlisted in the Army in 1914, and has not since returned to his usual place.)
Before half-closed eyes and hurrying feet
Five years ago in daily sacrifice
He laid the willows and the meadow-sweet.
Now he is gone, and all his sunlit skies
Are with the dust that floats along the street,
All vanished are the low-hushed tropic
vales;
The glinting kingfisher, the lions' den,
And Nelson with his powder-blackened men
Gliding to action under tattered sails;
And near to these the wide Pacific calm,
And mirrored islands, where the tilted
moon
Had left her trellis on the dark league,
And sheathed in silver mail the tufted
palm;
And divers groping on black ocean
floors,
Whose loaded feet slowly as feathers
fall
Through the stern pressing water, and the tall
Deep-sunken ribs of wreck, where rusted ad doors
Are clamped on hidden gold; and sightless things
That flicker through the deep, where bubbles race
Up to the green light of the sun's embrace.
And burst beneath the seagull's dipping
wings,
And here were rainbows dancing in the spray,
And coral pillars from the deep-sea bed
Dashing the crestled sun in gleams of red;
And elephants with lordly gait a-way
Rocking their loads along dark forest ways;
The moth poised on the lily, and the lily
Diffused starlight on the nightingale
Hush-showered by the leaf from heaven's gaze
And here the flying squirrel left the tree
To take his arrowy high road through the sky;
Here a dill walked, and peccaries,
And other creatures, stranger far than these,
But none more strange than you, who traveled by!
Great things and little from the undying Mind,
Toys fashioned in the morning of the earth,
Imagined by the gods, and brought to birth
For childhood in themselves or in making—
Artist, to some far garden are you gone
To find the first originals of these,
Under the streamers of the western sun,
Immortal butterflies, unfading trees?

THE MARRIAGE OF ANNE

BY MAY CHRISTIE
(Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

XV.—At the Palm-Shaded Table.
"Miss Travis! This is lucky!"

Neil Saunders ignored the hot tears burning in his eyes, and held out a friendly hand.

Mechanically I took it. I felt painfully embarrassed.

Then pride came to my rescue. I mustn't let this young man see how miserable I was!

Therefore, I resolutely blinked the tears back, and—smiling cheerfully—remarked:

"How odd to run into you like this a second time!"

"It isn't really odd at all," he answered. "I was thinking of catching you in a train, down into the country again. But now that I've met you, perhaps—"

He broke off and gave me a searching sort of look.

"Yes? Were you going to say?" I knew there was eagerness in my voice.

That eagerness encouraged him, for he said:

"Having done my business, I feel like having a little drink. Only one can't enjoy oneself in New York all alone, and without a congenial companion. I was wondering, if you'd let me take you somewhere?"

"Take me somewhere? An appalling hunter was asserting itself—unpleasantly."

But I hadn't got the courage to tell him how my dance had failed me. This weary vigil for a man that didn't come—it had been humiliating. For Neil Saunders said:

"The only trouble is that I haven't had my lunch. I've had no time to eat. Would it bore you dreadfully to come with me to some restaurant?"

Now was my chance. I seized it. "I'm hungry, too. Fred has been preventing meeting me. I—I was late for my appointment, that is to say, I've missed him."

Neil Saunders showed infinite tact. "Then I'm in luck. I do so hate eating by myself. Come on, we'll get a taxi."

He put a protective hand under my elbow, and started piloting me through the crowded street.

"If I do see Fred, I'll cut him dead. I told myself, triumphantly, 'and if he comes up and claims me, I'll refuse to go with him.'"

This triumph, however, was not to be mine. There was no sign of my recalcitrant fiancé anywhere. Out the door he went, and I was left alone.

"You look enchanting," said my companion suddenly, as we neared our destination. "That's a gorgeous little gown. So quaint and old-fashioned looking. I like it."

I caught a glimpse of myself in the narrow strip of mirror facing us. My appearance would have done credit to the chit French hat and floating veil suited me to perfection. At no time had I looked to better advantage.

There are occasions when admiration is good for women. It draws out the present. My self-esteem had been crushed by Fred's indifference. But now—under the influence of this man's words and look—that self-esteem began to revive again.

Pretty clothes, too, are a splendid tonic for the blues. The knowledge that she is dressed just right gives a woman confidence.

"I'm glad you think I look nice," I remarked coquettishly, settling the jaunty little hat at a more bewitching angle and whisking the floating veil into position. "I, too, feel as though I'd like to have what you call a 'little fling.'"

My companion laughed—a whole-hearted, boyish laugh that carried amusement and anticipation in it.

"Suppose we dance after lunch?" "Surprise showed on my face. Neil Saunders—"

"I thought you had no parlor accomplishments of any sort?"

"You considered me an unsociable bear, did you?" He raised his eyebrows quizzically. (He has nice eyes, Neil. They show breeding and character. I think.)

"The fact did. But I'm prepared to be convinced to the contrary." I flung the challenge at him.

(Even though Fred had acted badly. I wasn't going to mope. I was going to cast dust care away, and enjoy my self. Men have no sense, anyhow, for a money, weepy sort of girl.)

"You'll see, young lady," I said. "So we moved toward an inner room. A sudden tinkle of glass behind a big palm attracted my attention. I glanced to the left, to a small table with a rustic bench in front of it, whereon sat two figures.

"And then I caught—my breath. For, palm-shaded as they were, I couldn't fail to recognize that they were Fred and Julie!"

Is there any charge for announcing a marriage in the Social and Personal column in The Advertiser. If so, what is it?

Mails, Nap Recruit Shuts Out Sox 2 to 0 in the Second Game

No Chance To Take Lead in This Series As Result of Defeat — Was Mails' Fifth Consecutive Win.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 24.—Walter Mails, Cleveland's southpaw recruit, pitched a great game against Chicago today, the White Sox losing their opportunity to take the lead in the American League in this series by losing to the Indians, 2 to 0. Mails had the White Sox batters badly puzzled, and won his fifth consecutive victory since joining the local team. He allowed only three hits, and struck out six batters. Jack-son collected a single in the first inning with two men out. In the fourth Eddie Collins and Felsch gathered one each. The local southpaw was in danger only once. That was in the fifth inning, when by phenomenal pitching he extricated himself. After striking out Risher, Mails lost control long enough to allow three of his five batters on base, filling the sacks. He then steadied himself and retired the side by fan-ning Weaver and Eddie Collins in succession.

The Indians bunched six of their nine hits in the first two innings, and scored the only runs of the game. The score: Cleveland—A. B. R. H. P. O. A. E. American—Crucial Series in National.

New York, Sept. 24.—The Cleveland Indians, by their victory today over the White Sox, continue to set the pace in the American League pennant race, advancing their lead over Chicago to a game and a half. The result of tomorrow's contest will not have any material effect on the standing, a victory for Chicago setting them still half a game behind the Indians.

The Brooklyn Dodgers take the Giants into camp at Ebbets' Field tomorrow for the first game of what might be termed a crucial series of two games. The Giants can, by winning their remaining contests, including five games with Brooklyn—win the National League pennant, whereas as two victories for Brooklyn, clinches the flag for Manager Robinson.

Probe Finds Crooked Work Existed in World Series

Jury Finds Attempt Was Made
To Pollute Baseball and Kill
It As Boxing and Horse Racing Were Killed.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—The Cook County grand jury investigating alleged "fixing" of games in last year's world's series and charges of gambling by major league players, has found such convincing evidence of crooked work that it will not disband when its term expires September 30, but will continue its investigation in a special session, it was announced tonight after the jury had adjourned until next Tuesday.

The jury had received evidence which indicates an attempt by a nation-wide group of gamblers to "pollute" baseball and ruin the game in the same way boxing was killed and horse racing "fixed." Mr. Brigham said in a statement summarizing the work of the jury thus far. Comparatively few players are implicated, however, said Mr. Brigham, only a few weak-minded and weak character men being preyed upon by the professional gamblers.

It became known tonight that the players whose world's series checks were held up outside the ranks of professional baseball to appear before the grand jury today, said he understood Cloutier, Williams, Felsch and Gandil had been approached by gamblers, mentioning the names of Hahn in Cincinnati, and that he "felt sure Cloutier could tell the names of the gamblers."

HEYDLER'S CHALLENGE.
A Green said a challenge to anyone "inside or outside the ranks of professional baseball to appear before the grand jury today, said he understood Cloutier, Williams, Felsch and Gandil had been approached by gamblers, mentioning the names of Hahn in Cincinnati, and that he "felt sure Cloutier could tell the names of the gamblers."

TO SUMMON OTHER PLAYERS.
Chicago, Sept. 24.—H. H. Brigham, foreman of the Cook County grand jury investigating alleged baseball gambling, last night told newspapermen that the name of the man who "fixed" the 1919 world's series for Cincinnati to win had been given to the grand jury. This man, Brigham stated, acted as a representative of a ring of gamblers who lured far from home players to throw games to the Cincinnati Reds.

Brigham declared that the testimony thus far given by the grand jury to decide to subpoena Arnold Roth-berg, a Chicago millionaire, turpentine and controlling owner of the Chicago White Sox, and William Burns, former National League pitcher; Abe Attell, former featherweight boxing champion, and several other well-known sports-men.

WHITE SOX ON INDIANS READY FOR GAME TODAY

Both Teams Will Fight To a
Finish.

Cleveland, Sept. 25.—The Cleveland Indians and the Chicago White Sox: most today for the last time this season. Both teams were ready to fight to the finish. A Cleveland victory practically will eliminate the Chicagoans as contenders in the pennant race. Stan-ley Coveleskie, the star spital pitcher of the league leaders, was slated to go on the mound today. He has not pitched since Tuesday, when he won easily from the Red Sox.

Manager Gleason of the White Sox would not say who he would send into the box. It was Claude Williams' turn to pitch, but it was estimated that Gleason might call on Eddie Cicotte.

League pitchers will have to look out for in the classic series.

(By Ernest J. Lanigan.)
Henry Harrison Myers, who saw a lot of the United States before he became a Brooklyn regular, has been the Superbas' timeliest hitter this year, having knocked in 75 runs, and having smashed up a dozen ball games. His is the second most opportune clubber of the new champions. He has added the finishing touches to 63 counters, and has had the honor of ruining the same number of combats as Myers. On the Brooklyn team this year are five men who have been dependable in the pinches—Myers and Wheat, outfielders; Konetchy and Kilduff, infielders; and Johnston, both infielder and outfielder. Konetchy has batted in 59 runs; Kilduff, 55, and Johnston, 55. The first baseman has wrecked 10 ball games, the second baseman, 6, and the back-of-all-trades, 4.

Brooklyn's Big Five have accounted for nearly 60 per cent of the runs batted in by the club, and for the same percentage of victories.
Otto Lowell Miller is the best-hitting Brooklyn catcher when runs are in sight, though Harold (alias Rowdy) Elliott is liable to go mad with the bat at any time and startle pitchers. Boxmen are not supposed to hit, but the Superbas have three who can make things unpleasant for their rivals. The three are Grimes, Cadore and Mitchell. Grimes has batted in 16 runs, the other two 11.

Kilduff, the Cleaner-Up.
The demon clean-up boy among the Flatbushites is Pete Kilduff, who has decorated the scenery with a couple of doubles that have emptied the three bases. One was a lucky hit, Dewitt Wiley LeBourveau of the Phils tumbling to the turf after a home run. The other, Bag-clearing rap No. 1 made by Kilduff came in the game of August 9, when Grover Cleveland Alexander had a one-run lead in the eighth, and he passed Konetchy to get Kilduff. Kilduff is liable to go mad with the bat at any time and startle pitchers. Boxmen are not supposed to hit, but the Superbas have three who can make things unpleasant for their rivals. The three are Grimes, Cadore and Mitchell. Grimes has batted in 16 runs, the other two 11.

4,000 ATTEND 73RD
ANNUAL SOUTH PERTH
FAIR AT ST. MARYS
St. Marys, Sept. 24.—Tonight saw the close of the South Perth Agricultural Society's seventy-third annual fair with an attendance rated at 4,000. The exhibits generally surpassed those of last year. The ladies' work was of a finer grade, but was not so large an exhibit as in previous years, owing to the fact that the Government prize list was adopted by the directors. The list is made up of up-to-date articles so that exhibitors cannot exhibit work that was done years ago. The move of the directors to make the fair more favorable comment from exhibitors.

The children's department was one of the most interesting sections. Every child in South Perth, rural or urban, was invited to compete. No entry fee was charged. The only restriction was that all competitors must be under 16 years. The articles exhibited were vegetables, flowers, cooking, map drawing, writing, drawing and miscellaneous articles. The children's department was originated seven years ago by Mrs. Hugh Thompson, who has since been in charge. The first year the exhibit was very small. Now it is one of the largest exhibits in the building. The children are extremely interested in their work and prepare for it months ahead.

The school children of the town and vicinity paraded to the fair grounds from the town hall at 1:30 o'clock—more than 1,000 children took part in the annual event.
The principal exhibitors in the heavy horses class were J. A. Bragg, Wil- liam Crawford, W. Hodge, Donald Bain, Robinson Bros., Levi Nimick.
The chicken entries were large. The principal winners were William Blanchard, H. L. Tibbitts and Thomas Crew. Free for all—Bel Royal, owned by Sam Mann, Thorndale; King George, owned by George M. St. Marys; Tony Direct, owned by George Riley, Mitchell.

The 2:25 trot or pace and the pony race were cancelled. There were no entries.
The officers of the fair board are: President, C. W. Coupland, St. Marys; 1st vice-president, Richard Coulthard, Downie; 2nd vice-president, John Black, Blanshard; 3rd vice-president, John Dunbar, treasurer, H. P. Lancaster; secretary, E. E. Hardisty.

WHITE SOX ON INDIANS READY FOR GAME TODAY

Both Teams Will Fight To a
Finish.

Cleveland, Sept. 25.—The Cleveland Indians and the Chicago White Sox: most today for the last time this season. Both teams were ready to fight to the finish. A Cleveland victory practically will eliminate the Chicagoans as contenders in the pennant race. Stan-ley Coveleskie, the star spital pitcher of the league leaders, was slated to go on the mound today. He has not pitched since Tuesday, when he won easily from the Red Sox.

Manager Gleason of the White Sox would not say who he would send into the box. It was Claude Williams' turn to pitch, but it was estimated that Gleason might call on Eddie Cicotte.

CHEAPER WOOL, WHEAT, SUGAR AND LUMBER

Attack On High Cost of Living Is Having Desired Effect.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—Wheat became the main target today in an attack on high prices. An exciting smash in the market resulted and final quotations were 10½¢ to 12½¢ a bushel lower than 24 hours before.

General selling of wheat was provoked by the striking contrast between the recent upward tendency of that cereal and the downward course of other grain and of merchandise values. The relative strength of wheat has been ascribed chiefly to urgent buying for export to Europe, but today, for the first time of late, important selling on foreign account was noted here. Big receipts of wheat in Canada were said to explain to some extent the apparent change in the attitude of transatlantic interests.

Another influence that tended to pull down the market was a shrinkage in demand for flour and a consequent decrease in wheat buying by domestic millers.

Reached a Climax.

The selling flurry reached a climax in the final half hour of trading. During that brief period the rapidity of downturns was at a bewildering rate and the close was demoralized at the lowest prices reached, December selling at $2.25 to $2.25½ and March at $2.15 to $2.16.

SUGAR DOWN ONE CENT.

MONTREAL, Sept. 24.—It was learned here today in wholesale sugar circles that all Canadian sugar refineries will on Monday announce substantial reductions in all grades of refined sugar.

The drop in price that is being planned will, it is understood, consist of a reduction of 1 cent a pound on granulated and all other grades of refined sugar. It is learned that this reduction is not the result of concerted action on the part of sugar refiners, as was the case when the last drop was made, but is due to independent action instituted by one refiner.

Markets Crowded.

The markets of Bonsecours and Champs de Mars were crowded today with both citizens and farmers, the citizens realizing now that they can obtain their foodstuffs much cheaper than at city stores, and the farmers rushing in their produce to sell direct to the consumers.

Potatoes were sold at prices ranging from $1.35 to $1.45 for an 80-pound bag, according to size and quality.

LUMBER FALLS 20 PER CENT IN PRICE

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 24.—Lumber prices fell here today when a co-operative ready cut house company announced a 20 per cent cut in retail lumber prices. Company officials said that Henry Ford's action in lowering the price of automobiles caused the drop in lumber.

WOOLS DROP 15 TO 30 PER CENT ON MARKET

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 24.—A price reduction of 15 to 30 per cent in wools was announced today by officials of the Cleveland Worsted Company. Lower cost of raw materials were given as the cause. The reduction is to reach the public next spring when goods now being manufactured are on the market.

FOOD PRICES DECLINE IN UNITED STATES

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—A decline in food prices and a gradual reduction in prices charged by restaurants throughout the United States was predicted here today by August Janssen, president of the Society of Restauranters.

PEACHES ARE PLENTIFUL

Blenheim, Sept. 24.—Hundreds of bushels of peaches are being shipped daily from this district. The prime stock is going this week. Prices in the orchards vary from $1 to $2.50 per bushel. Some growers have such an abundance that they are finding difficulty in disposing of their crop.

FINEST THING EVER FOR CHRONIC CATARRH!

Gets Away From the Medicine Habit, Cures By Novel Method.

With the many remedies you have tried you surely know that no liquid medicine can cure your throat or nose. Even a gargle only bathes the entrance of the throat—it can't really get inside nor can it reach the inflamed bronchial tubes.

With Catarrhoxone, it's so different from medicine-taking—you simply breathe its healing vapor, inhale its balsamic fumes, which carry cure and relief to the minutest air cells in the lungs, nose, throat, and bronchial tubes.

In this scientific way the soreness and inflammation is rapidly allayed, relaxed cords are toned up, the entire mucous membrane invigorated. Every trace of catarrh disappears, the disagreeable drooping of mucus in the throat, hawking, spitting, and stopped-up nostrils—all these sure signs of catarrh and bronchitis are permanently cured by Catarrhoxone. Large outfit lasts two months, costs $1; small size, 50 cents; trial size 25 cents, at dealers everywhere.

CITY'S GAS MAINS SADLY INADEQUATE, STATES ALDERMAN

St. Thomas Lines Are Only Sufficient For Population of 12,000.

MAY INDICT COUNCIL

Location of Public Lavatories May Be Cause For Bill by Grand Jury.

ST. THOMAS, Sept. 24.—According to the avowed of Ald. Lemon, chairman of the gas department, 20,000 people are being served with gas mains which were laid to accommodate 12,000. The shortage of breathing space for the gas the chairman blames on the lack of pipe accommodation. The consumers are complaining of the windstorms in their stoves at certain periods of the day, and this rush of fresh air through the gas stove scares them. And, as usual, the men at the works are scolded because of the storm. The chairman complains that the pressure if compulsory if the outlying districts are to be reached. The consumers nearest the works get most of the blast, but this, says the chairman, could be minimized by calling in a gas man and having the stove adjusted. Pressure will have to continue and the winds to blow until new and enlarged mains are distributed in many parts of the city, says Ald. Lemon.

May Indict the City Council.

The grand jury at the assizes in October may be asked by the crown officials to indict the city council for placing public lavatories under the windows of the magistrate's court and private office of the chief of police. When these conveniences were being considered by the council it was assumed they would be placed near the end of the lot fronting on Curtis street.

Impersonating Obello.

A resident of Port Stanley lambasted his face last evening to better aid him in watching his wife, who is visiting in the city, whom he thought was making eyes at other men. In his wanderings in the neighborhood of Hughes street, he came across several women and one man. The women looked and screamed their lungs out, but the man, taking him for a chicken marauder, sent for a constable and had him arrested. The officer, Special Agent Frank Mulvanny, brought him to the police station, when he confessed to have been impersonating Obello in order to scare his innocent half into a mind conscious of her marital responsibilities and self-respect. But the lady was not a bit scared. The chief gave him a lecture later, and ordered Mr. Obello to get the point of his face and apologize to his wife.

Milk Products Overstocked.

The manager of the Carnation Company in Aylmer states that the market for finished milk products is very slow and the plant has on hand half a million dollars worth of goods waiting to be distributed among the trade. The branch will continue to accept milk from the old patrons of the company, but will take no new ones.

A Lad's Leg Broken.

The 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Omerod, 132 Inkerman street, was struck by the wheel of his father's auto when the car backed out, and his leg fractured. Mr. Omerod was pushing the car out when the little fellow went to help his father, and falling in front of the fender, the wheel hit him.

Must Obey the Traffic Bylaw.

Police Magistrate Maxwell is making it unpleasant for those drivers offending and disregarding the numerous sections of the traffic bylaw. A couple of motorists were fined each $10 and costs today, one for cutting the corners, and the other left his car on the wrong side of the street. A third paid $5 and costs for parking his car within 30 feet of a street intersection.

A Rural Automaton declares that the police are making Tabbot street a place to be avoided by autos. "If I am locked up for not waving my hand in the atmosphere, when turning a corner, it won't be the fault of the local constabulary."

The Dominion Railway Board Coming.

The Dominion Railway Board will meet in St. Thomas Saturday, October 2, to hear the application of the corporation to have the M. C. R. Company's consequent subways under the tracks at William, Metcalfe, Elgin and Railway streets, and that the G. T. R. Wabash build a similar public convenience at Inkerman street. The city has already counted the trains, some from ½ to ¾ mile long, passing east and west daily over the M. C. R. tracks and the time which the trains take to pass any one of the crossings. The hearing may excite considerable feeling, being given by both the corporation and the city.

Lucan High School ANNUAL FIELD DAY

Feature of Big Event Are Ball Games With Parkhill and Exeter Teams.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Lucan, Sept. 24.—Ideal weather, combined with the enthusiastic support of the citizens, made the annual high school field day here a wonderful success. As is always the custom, the Lucanites invited Parkhill High School and Exeter Continuation School, and will return the visits later. About 30 from Exeter and 100 from Parkhill attended.

The ball game in the morning between the local high school nine and the Parkhill nine resulted in a win for the locals by the close score of 3 to 2. The locals then played off with the Exeterites, and lost by the score of 6 to 2. It is a well-established fact here among the high school nine that they always lost the first game they play after defeating Parkhill.

Girls Play Basketball.

The girls had their turn to show their athletic skill also in the morning. Basketball was the order of the day against the Parkhill High School fair sex. When the game ended, and all Exeterites and the locals were locked up for not waving my hand in the atmosphere, when turning a corner, it won't be the fault of the local constabulary."

Announcement

THE RUGGLES MOTOR TRUCK COMPANY, LIMITED, is pleased to state that its Canadian organization is now completed; authorized capital $3,000,000.00.

The manufacturing plant will be erected on Dundas street, east of the interswitch track, running north 860 feet on what is conceded to be the most ideal shipping location in the City of London. The property having frontage on the provincial highway and being bounded by the interswitch track, connecting with the five railroads entering London, makes the location one of value.

The construction work on the first unit of the factory buildings will be started immediately. Specifications call for a building 415 feet by 80 feet of brick and steel construction.

Four models of Ruggles Trucks will be built — 1, 1½, 2½ and 3½ ton.

The export branch of the company's organization has already placed orders for several hundred trucks. The fact that these trucks are required for immediate delivery, to supply the urgent export demand, necessitates the equipping of a temporary assembly plant in the machinery hall building in the Western Fair grounds. It is expected that several hundred trucks will be built in these temporary quarters pending the erection and completion of the company's permanent buildings on the east end site.

What's Doing at the Local Playhouses

MUSIC AND DRAMA

What the Press Agents Say About the Shows

AT THE GRAND

WONDERFUL SCENIC EFFECTS IN
"MY SOLDIER GIRL" AT THE
GRAND TWICE TODAY.

When the musical spectacle, "My Soldier Girl," is offered at the Grand twice today, theatregoers will readily appreciate why this new play was a hit from the opening night. The novel settings are dazzling in their bright hues and electrical effects, for nothing prettier has been carried out in the picture land of the stage. The first act presents a night of gaiety at Col. Stone's home, Miami, Florida, presenting a fete in honor of "overseas" boys and girls. The entertainment is given by the guests and many novel numbers are presented owing to the fact most of the visitors are artists in the profession. The second act finds Colonel Stone, producing manager of a big Folies show, on the roof of a New York theatre, many of the guests from Miami have important roles and the elaborately staged and costumed production is bewildering. The tuneful numbers are many, and the wonderful cast and big "pony" ballet are seen in all their merrymaking.

"BIFF! BING!! BANG!!!" COMES TO THE GRAND FOR THE ENTIRE WEEK COMMENCING MONDAY NEXT.

The "Dumbbells" are now on their second coast to coast tour of Canada, presenting a new edition of their brilliant overseas revue, "Biff! Bing! Bang!!!" which embraces all of the delectable features of last season's show together with several added features, including a condensed version of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Pinafore."

The returned men who were in France at the close of the war will remember that the "Dumbbells" staged this favorite opera in Mons with wonderful success.

The company remains practically the same as last season, with the addition of a few new faces.

The local engagement is limited to one week, starting on Monday, September 27, when the Grand Theatre should be crowded to its capacity.

BOYS FROM WOLSELEY BARRACKS WILL SEE FORMER COMRADES IN "BIFF! BING!! BANG!!!"

Monday night next will be Princess Pats' night at the Grand Opera House, when that famous regiment of Canadian light infantry, accompanied by its splendid band, will attend the popular playhouse.

This visit of soldiers to the theatre will be of double interest. In the first place the attraction will be that capable company of soldier players, "The Dumbbells," who open that night a week's engagement in their revised musical offering, "Biff! Bing! Bang!!!" and among the players are several former members of the Princess Pats. In the second place this will be the last opportunity offered of seeing the famous regiment prior to its removal to Winnipeg two days later.

It is reasonable to expect that on this occasion "The Dumbbells" will put forth their best efforts to make the performance a veritable send-off to their departing fellow comrades, and the civilian portion of Monday night's audience will have the benefit of a performance of unusual excellence.

The former Princess Pats in the company will heartily welcome the boys who are about to leave Wolseley Barracks for the sake of Auld Lang Syne, and the general public will find pleasure in seeing the soldier on and off the stage.

CLEVER MAXINE LOCKWOOD COMING WITH "MY SOLDIER GIRL."

Just a bundle of magnetism is bewitching little Maxine Lockwood, who is playing the soubrette role, "Dixie Harris," in the tuneful musical comedy, "My Soldier Girl," at the Grand.

It was just eighteen years ago that she opened her big, beautiful, new world, decided in favor of it, and went back to sleep. Maxine was not heard from again, at least in the theatrical circles, until one day she walked into one of the big theatrical offices and applied for a position in the chorus. Her personality and wonderful smile opened the way for her and she got her first glimpse of the audience as she stepped from behind the scenes with a big "pony" ballet. She liked the stage, the lights, the glittering scenery, gorgeous costumes and above all the mastering of the difficult dances when she was seen in a handsome revival of "Lord and Lady Algy."

Among the notable cast are: Mr. Max Carter, Mr. George Sydenham, Mr. J. Barrett-Lennard, Mr. Harry Tebb, Mr. Richard Barrett-Lennard, Mr. Eric Horsford, Mr. David Miller, Mr. Henry Bartlett, Mr. Charles Blackburn, Mr. Warren Lawler and the famous English comedian, Mr. Fred Walton, Miss Kitty Arthur, Miss Grace Renard, Miss Pauline Harvey, Miss Blanche Young, Miss Dudsie Blake, and Canada's favorite English comedienne, Miss Zara Clinton.

The chorus is composed of 30 of the prettiest girls ever gathered together in any musical show. Seats Thursday, September 30.

A RARE ATTRACTION COMING TO THE GRAND.

The famous William Faversham in a Dramatization of Mark Twain's Story, "The Prince and the Pauper."

Mark Twain's "The Prince and the Pauper" is to be presented at the Grand Opera House on Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:15, special Saturday matinee, 2 o'clock October 8 and 9, with William Faversham heading a notable cast. It will be the famous star's first appearance in Canada since May, 1919, when he was seen in a handsome revival of "Lord and Lady Algy."

In "The Prince and the Pauper" Mr. Faversham will impersonate the role of Miles Hendon, the soldier of fortune who comes to the rescue of the sorely oppressed Prince, forced by a strange combination of circumstances to be accepted by a band of vagabonds as the supposed half-witted son of Jack Canty, the dissolute. The dual role of the prince and the pauper will be played by Miss Ruth Findlay, a young actress, who first attracted attention in New York by her performance in "A Successful Calamity," with William Gillette.

SCHOOLS AND PARENTS CO-OPERATING WITH ALLEN MANAGEMENT TO MAKE SURE ALL CHILDREN SEE "TREASURE ISLAND."

With the kind help of the parents and the teachers and trustees of the schools the management of the Allen is endeavoring to make an opportunity for all children to see the special picture of Robert Louis Stevenson's "Treasure Island," showing at the Allen next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Clean, wholesome, a stirring story of adventures dear to the heart of every generation, there is nothing in "Treasure Island" that will hurt young souls or offend adult principles. Then there is the direct appeal that as Stevenson's works are a part of the literary studies of every student, and as "Treasure Island" is acknowledged as the best of Stevenson's work, this will enable the scholars to grasp more fully the teachings of their teachers than they ever could if they had never seen the picture, for "Treasure Island" has been done exactly to the life, by a master of detail in film art, and a cast leaves nothing to be wished for in the beautiful portrayal of the different characters of this most memorable of novels.

Can all you children be prepared for very special matinee next Friday at the Allen? The best of care will be taken of little ones, who come without their parents, and mothers need have no fear of them being unsafe while they are at the Allen.

Believing that to become a good interpreter of the human soul she must live intensely and see the world, she went to Europe at her own expense. Upon her return she again allied herself with Pathe with remarkable success, appearing in numerous pictures.

Finally, William Fox made her a flattering offer, which she accepted. "The White Moll" is the latest picture in the Fox series, and it is a masterpiece of the art of the screen.

TARIFF COMMISSION ENDS SITTINGS IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

Lumbermen Want Protective Tariff Retained—One Free Trader Heard.

VANCOUVER, Sept. 24.—Sessions of the board of tariff commissioners at British Columbia coast points were concluded here this morning, when a final sitting was held to hear representatives of the lumber industry, the box man-facturers, and the apple growers of the Fraser Valley, express their views in regard to the Canadian customs tariff as it affected the particular interests they represented. All of them favored retention of the present protective tariff on lumber, and the product of the orchard. One free-trade advocate was heard.

American Lumber Cheaper. J. D. McCormack, for the British Columbia Lumber and Box Manufacturers' Association, pointed out that but 30 per cent of the product of the mill was exported, and argued that it be maintained and extended.

It was stated that the yellow pine of the Southern States reaches the markets of Ontario and provinces east thereof at rates from 35 to 50 per cent per cubic foot less than the British Columbia coast region rates. This is equivalent to from $8.25 to $12.50 per 1,000 feet on lumber.

Unsuitable Lumber. In reply to Sir Henry Drayton, Mr. McCormack said that as far as any shortage of lumber existing on the prairies was concerned, he was of the opinion that there was more noise than fact about it, and he promised the chairman to declare a statement showing the state of the Dominion during the last three years.

The stock held by dealers in that section of the Dominion had been imported into the four Western provinces from the United States to the value of $11,000,000 last year. It had reached as high as $27,000,000 and as low as $4,000,000.

Not a Free Trade. Mr. McCormack believed in absolute free trade between nations. A protective tariff, he said, caused friction, and Great Britain had not been ruined by free trade, but had been able financially to sustain the nations of Europe.

BRITAIN LIBERAL WITH HER WAR CONTRACTORS

Action Made Possible Gradual Adjustment of Labor Distribution.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—(Canadian Press.) Great Britain, with her war contractors, said Donald Davis, trust officer of the Liberty National Bank, in a statement of conditions abroad. "The English did not shut their doors to the war contractors," he said, "but let many of them run their business as usual, and a considerable amount of war materials, especially aircraft, which were contracted for during the war period. This, of course, eventually comes out of the taxpayer, but it makes for a more equitable distribution of the war burden, and the slowing down of high-speed, quantity production of war materials, and has made possible a gradual adjustment of labor distribution."

England is far on the road to recovery, he said, and her former high economic position.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST COMMODITY PRICES INFLUENCES TRADING PAPERS ESPECIALLY AFFECTED BY STOCK MARKET REACTIONS

Industrials, Likely To Be Affected, Report Lack of Support.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Trading in stocks again today was influenced to extraordinary extent by the campaign against commodity prices which has been going on for some time. The movement was considered to be a part of the changing financial conditions, obvious for two days past on both sides of the international line, and more especially in the United States.

The reaction was materially accelerated by heavy short selling, that element evidently proceeding on the assumption that lower prices schedules for various industrial companies which are likely to be affected by the movement recorded further severe declines on lack of support.

NOT ONE ISSUE REGISTERS GAIN AT END OF DAY

Losses Up To 8 1/2 Points On Urgent Selling At Montreal.

MONTREAL, Sept. 24.—The reaction price movement started on the local stock exchange this week gained momentum today, when, on urgent selling, losses of from fractions to 8 1/2 points were experienced. At the closing hour, a single issue dealt in was able to register a net gain, although several finished unchanged. The slump is attributed to the price-cutting wave that is now existent, and also to the utter lack of money for fresh market commitments.

The paper stocks led in the decline, Dominion receding to 7 1/2, and closed a fraction higher, down 3/4 points. Abitibi lost two points by closing at 7 1/2. Canadian Pacific, preferred, was down 1/2 points at 120. Dominion receded 1/2 points to 212, and Laurentien weakened 1/2 points to 125 in a moderate aggregate of dealings. Asbestos, preferred, receded 3/4 points to par, with the common 2 points at 95.
