

Rushing Them Through:
The House in committee on the supplementary estimates put through those for the salary increases in Marine and Fisheries.
Mr. Breaux proceeded to take other items of Marine expenditure.

Mr. Warstak was cutting hay, his wife was assisting him. She carried the baby about with her for some time, but growing tired, she placed the child on a pile of hay on the ground and then continued her work. Six or a little time later she heard the baby crying.

Eight pigs, none of which were over a month old, had attacked the child and gnawed at one foot, eating one of the toes. The clothing was torn away on the baby's side, and pigs had bitten into the flesh.

Little hope is held out for its recovery.

Annual dinner passed away at the residence of her n-law, Wm. Knighs, Base Line, farwich, aged 76 years. The deceased had been ill over a year and her death was not unexpected. The deceased was born in Suffolk County, England.

The many friends and admirers of C. R. Jameson, a Blenheim boy, who in the spring was instrumental by means of letters signed Junius, Jr., in obtaining an investigation into the affairs of Toronto University, much it is to be hoped, for that institution's good, has been appointed editor of Toronto Saturday Night in succession to Knox Magee.

Many old-timers will regret to learn that John Mason, ex-treasurer of the firm, and for many years a leading business man of Highgate, is seriously ill at the home of his brother, Edward Mason, in Ontario. The latter was in town on Friday, and said his brother last winter had a severe attack of la grippe which was followed by other complications, and small hope was entertained of his recovery.

Hon. Dr. Beaune, Minister of Public Works, has gone to Sault Ste.
Marie to inquire personally into the conditions of commercial fishing in the Soo river. His purpose is to gather information which will assist in framing an act to be introduced at the next session for the revision of the fisheries regulations of the Province. He intends to visit all the principal points in Ontario where commercial fishing is carried on, with this end in view.

DISTRIBUTION OF PRIZES

Last Sunday afternoon the parents of S. S. No. 3, were invited to be present at their school house for the distribution of prizes to their children. They answered so heartily that the building was far too small to receive them all. The rooms were nicely decorated and a good program had been prepared by the children. Mr. Medrick Carver acted as chairman and the parish priest was present. As it would be quite difficult to mention every detail, let us only say that we remarked particularly Messrs. Ida Bourdeau, who Edna Bourdeau, two very young girls, who sang beautifully. We enjoyed very much a duet by Miss Delina Emery and her brother; also a choir of little ones who sang with all their heart. Miss Marie Chiff played the organ and favored us with a song. The young lady certainly deserves much praise for the trouble she took to prepare for the ceremony. The parents were received at the doors and taken to their seat by Messrs. D. Gagner and J. J. Emery. As it would be too long to mention the names of all those who received prizes let us only mention the following: Silver medal
—Miss Maud Bourdeau, Honors—Delina Emery, Lena Bourdeau, Antonette Thibodeau, Eva Gore, Anna Tanguay, Alma Louzon, Bernadette
Thibodeau, Ida Bourdeau, Evelina Cartier, etc. Attendance—Orville Be-nard, Harvey Pinsonneault. Conduct—Ida Normandin, Eugene Primeau. Among the other subjects we noticed the following names, who came to the platform several times:
Delina Emery, Antoinette Thibodeau, Lena Bourdeau, Eva Gore, Alma Louzon, Evelina Cartier, etc. etc. The chairman in closing the ceremony delivered a good address and the priest at the close said a few words of thanks to the children and teachers. From the school, parents and children proceeded to the church,
where the evening service took place.
The children took seats in front of the altar, where they had their crowns blessed, while some twenty girls from the school sang beautifly several hymns after which the parish priest gave the benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. We must confess that such a splendid ceremony never happened here before,
and therefore the people of Pain Court should be proud of it and encourage their children in the future.
This reflects great credit on the people of this section and we certainly are delighted to see them go ahead with the education of their children. Nothing will prove more profitable to them in the near future than a good school in which everybody is interested. We certainly enjoyed very much this Sunday afternoon and trust to witness another such ceremony next year.

GUELPH TROLLEY ACCIDENT.

Albert Leonard, Accused of Releasing
the Brake, Sent for Trial.
Guelph, July 7.—Albert Leonard of Creemore, who was charged with letting off the brake on a street car, allowing it to run down a steep grade, and causing considerable injury to twelve passengers, was again before the Magistrate yesterday, and sent up for trial. He was bailed out in the same sureties of $1,000 and two bondsmen.

Record Yield of Wheat.

Winipeg, July 7.—Crop reports just issued by the railways give most encouraging promises of bumper yield of wheat throughout the Canadian west.
It is estimated that no matter what happens there will be a record yield on 90 per cent of the acreage sown.

Senator Cox Gives $25.

Windsor, July 7.—Major Laing has received from Senator Geo. A. Cox a donation of $25 towards the erection of the South African memorial about to be placed in front of the Windsor postoffice.

BROTHER JAMES CARSON.

Brother James Carson, the great Quaker Medicine Man, is in Chatham and will remain for two weeks, giving free concerts every night east to the Montana House, King street west. His medicines have cured thousands in Canada. If you are sick or ailing get a sample of his goods. FREE TO ALL.

BAND CONCERT

The goodly crowd of people who were over on the park last evening were decidedly glad that the Citizens' Band were unable to secure a train for the East on that night, as they rendered their program from the verandah of Hotel Santa. Perhaps the best numbers were the trombone solo, "The Holy City," by Roger Philip, arranged by E. T. Jones, and "My Old Kentucky Home," as performed by Mr. Bert Jones.

Mr. Philip is to be congratulated on the efficiency of his band. These concerts will be repeated at intervals. The following is the full program:—
PART I.
March, The Diplomat—John Philip
Souza.
Valse Berceuse, Mondaine—Bosc.
Medley Overture, All to the Good-Beyer.
March, Edwardus Rex—E. T. Jones.
Fantasia, Zeona—Arnold.
PART II.
Trombone Solo, The Holy City—Ad-
dams.
Potpourri, Gems of Arabic Song—
Shon Kalir.
March, Rock Bier—L. R. Rock.
Fantasia, My Old Kentucky Home—Dalby.
Concert March, Victorious America—Ellenberg-Tobani.
God Save the King.

G. O. F. EXCURSION
TO DETROIT

St. Joseph's Court, No. 241, Catholic Order of Foresters, will give an Excursion on Tuesday, Aug. 15th, to Detroit via St. City of Chatham.
Good music on board, and a splendid time is expected. Tickets, round trip, 50c. Boat leaves Rankin Dock at 7:30; will stop at Pain Court, Crow's Dock and Lighthouse.

Truth can take care of itself, but a lie has to be watched as carefully as a sore thumb.

Good Complexion

When Pimples and Blisters
Disfigure the Skin

It means bad blood, bad digestion or constipation. First two are the result of the last. FRUIT-A-TIVES cure all three.
When the bowels don't move regularly, poisonous matter remains in the system. Instead of the blood taking up wholesome nourishment to build up the system, it absorbs part of this poisonous matter which causes pimples and blotches on the skin.

Cases are formed by this matter, which gets into the stomach, upset digestion, coat the tongue, and taint the breath.

Fruit-a-tives purify the blood—correct digestion—and clear the complexion—because they cure constipation.

"I am on my second box of Fruit-a-tives now, and can honestly say they are the best medicine for Constipation and Stomach Trouble I ever used."

MRS. F. CODY, OTTAWA, ONT.

These wonderful little tablets are pure fruit juices—prepared according to the secret formula of an Ottawa physician who discovered the method of using fruit to cure disease. Fruit-a-tives act directly on the liver, increase the flow of bile, and thus cause the bowels to move regularly and naturally every day.

Fruit-a-tives
or Fruit Liver Tablets.

At all druggists. 50c. a box. Manufactured by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

FEMINE FRIPPERIES RULE IN THE SUMMER'S MODES.

Old Time Folly, Fluffy Tulle with a Wealth of Dainty Details—Natty Checked Designs—Veiled Popular. The Piquant Hat.

Fickle as fashion may be, it must be admitted that certain fancies hold their attention for a long time. This summer checks are welcomed with quite as great ardor as last year, when it seemed that they became almost too popular. Checked voile it is this season, checked taffeta it was last, but this is but a slight change. The checked voiles are charming, and there, again, one sees the extended popularity of a good material. Novelty it no longer possesses.

CHIC SUMMER SUIT.

resses, but it is so inexpensive, it drapes so well, it is so becoming, it wears almost like a tweed and it is so easy to make up in a variety of styles and with all sorts of trimming.

Cut, however, probably counts for more than material at present, especially in the lighter weight tweeds and cloths that are made up tailor-wise in convenient coats and skirt suits for traveling and general wear. Lines and curves right to a hair's breadth account for the indefinite touch of chic that may accompany the simplest design.

A successful model to be carried out in white, cream, turquoise, heliotrope, any of the pastel shades or in useful dark colors, such as violet, nut brown, olive green or navy, is shown in the first cut.

The broad shouldered girl, with strong arm and athletic stride, is rather out of it this season. Puffings, shirtings, ruckings, tuckings, frills and ribbons galore suit not her strenuous and muscular personality. The innumerable feminine fripperies introduced by the fashion makers have created an atmosphere in which the womanly woman, especially if of the petite style, may revel to her heart's content. The new hats as well as the frocks distinctly require the dainty dresser, the one who is willing and able to devote much time and thought to every detail in the putting on of garments and the dressing of the hair. This last must be perfection, the disheveled and wildly straying locks of but a season ago being now quite beyond the pale of conventionality. The piquant hat and well groomed head effect is indicated in the second cut.

The "tailor made" no longer means the plainest of the plain, and its chief claim to the title appears to be that the body part of a costume takes the shape of a coat or bolero, while the "dress-maker's dress" exploits the belted bodice. The artists in each class employ all the trimmings and accessories of the season in perfecting their confections.

WOMEN WRITERS.

None Among Them Has Ever Attained Real Greatness in Poetry.

Though the quality and range of her genius were deep, generous and wide, Elizabeth Barrett Browning cannot be described, if language is to be used accurately, as occupying a place among the poets justly designated great.

In no tongue hitherto has any female writer attained to that supreme position, and were this the appropriate moment, which it is not, it would perhaps be possible to explain why no woman is likely ever to do so. Not a few female writers are in effect in the front rank of novelists. But prose-romance is one thing and poetry quite another, and there is a chasm between them; nor does the circumstance of novels being in this age more popular than poetry affect in any degree the inherent and immutable difference. Elizabeth Barrett Browning was "Aurora Leigh" notwithstanding, essentially and almost exclusively a lyrical poet. It would be easy to add almost indefinitely to illustrations of her being one of those who "learn in suffering what they teach in song," not one of the greater poets who pass through that experience but end by getting beyond it.—Alfred Austin at Unveiling of a Bust of Mrs. Browning.

$500 Reward For Women Who Cannot Be Cured.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Profluvium or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

"I used four bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' and one of Golden Medical Discovery," writes Mrs. Elmer D. Shearer, of Mount Hope, Lancaster Co., Pa. "and can say that I am cured of that dreaded disease, uterine trouble. Am in better health than ever before. Every one who knows me is surprised to see me look so well. In June I was so poor in health that at times I could not walk. Today I am cured. I tell everybody that Dr. Pierce's medicine cured me."

International Bible Lesson for To-morrow.

Hezekiah's Prayer—Isa. 38, 1-8.

Golden Text—"God is our refuge and strength," a very present help in trouble."

A fuller account of this incident is found in II Kings, 20, 1-19. Earliest plea, for King Hezekiah was a faithful servant of Jehovah who walked before Him in truth and with a perfect heart.

Lazarus, whom Jesus loved, was sick and died. Tabitha, a most devoted Christian, fell sick and died.

Elisha, when enjoying the fullest communion with God, was taken with sickness, whereof he died.

Epiphroditus was a high unto death, not because of sin, but caused by overwork in our Lord's service. See Phil. 2, 27-30.

These cases confute Christian cynicism, and corrects a modern and religious teaching that sickness is a sign of unjudged sin in a believer's life. Again, Isaiah the prophet and the king are shown to be on most intimate terms of friendship. The king is warned of God through His servant Isaiah of his danger of death—to make his will, two things every faithful pastor would do to-day. Of course, the king had to die sooner or later, but only found in II Kings, 20, 1-19.

Hezekiah prays and weeps; God hears and answers. Isaiah returns quickly to say he shall live yet 15 years. Many of us would live longer and far better lives if we did more praying. "Call upon me in the day of trouble; I will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorify me."—Psalm 50, 15.

There is more divine healing power in answer to prayer than in any other drug. Hezekiah remembered God's sustaining grace, which enabled him to live right and called upon God. "Remember now, O Lord, I beseech Thee, how I have walked before Thee in truth and with a perfect heart." God, ere He answers, requires of all men wholly surrendered hearts, not divided ones.

The remarkable sign—Verse 8—given the King was proclaimed far and wide, and reached the ears of the King of Babylon, who sent ambassadors to congratulate the king on his recovery and to make particular enquiry about this wonder done in the land—II Chron., 2, 31.

We need not wonder, as these Babylonian idolaters did, for our Lord tells us "All things are possible with God."—Matt., 19, 26.

The Magnificent State Capitol Building of Alabama.

ONE of the most wonderful events in the history of medicine is the multitude of endorsements which Peru-na is receiving as a catarrh cure from men of national importance.

The most distinguished men of the United States have no hesitation in lending their influence to assist in letting the public know of the merits of Peru-na.

Nearly one-half the people are in some way affected by catarrh. Therefore it is almost a national curse, and it is of national importance that the people should know of Peru-na.

Catarrh is an American disease. Peru-na is an American remedy.

Catarrh is a result of changeable climate. Peru-na is a result of long and careful experimentation. Catarrh enters the system through the nerve centers and affects the mucous membranes. Peru-na enables the nerve centers to repel and expel the catarrh from the system.

Catarrh is a systemic disease and curable only by systemic treatment. The remedy that cures catarrh must aim directly at the depressed nerve centers. This is what Peru-na does.

But hearing of Peru-na as a good remedy I gave it a fair trial and was glad to improve. Its effects were distinctly beneficial, removing the annoying symptoms, and it was particularly good as a tonic."—Robert Barber.

Collector of Port.
 Hon. J. K. Burke, Collector of Port, Mobile, Ala., writes: "Peru-na I can recommend as a fine medicine. It has been used in my family and as a tonic it is excellent. I take pleasure in testifying to its fine qualities."—J. K. Burke.

Miss Rose Lee, of Highgate, is a guest in the city to-day.
Go with the Victoria avenue S. S. excursion to Belle Isle on Tuesday, July 12th.

Miss Lena McKee, Lansdowne avenue, has returned from a visit with friends in Blenheim.

Mr. and Mrs. George Trato, of Chicago, are spending a few days with friends in the Maple City.

Miss Madge Farquharson and Miss Lottie Thompson have joined the office staff of the M. Campbell Co.

Miss Anna Clements has accepted a position in the offices of the Sutherland-Innes Company as stenographer.

The first excursion of the season to Belle Isle Park next Tuesday per steamer City of Chatham, given by Park street Methodist Sunday school.

ENTRANCE RESULTS.
The results of the recent entrance examinations held in Chatham will be published in Monday's Planet.

DIPLOMAS
There have been twelve who have completed the course at the Canada Business College. Diplomas are to-day being prepared for these fortunate ones, who are Messrs. Farquharson, Clements and Mills in short-hand, and H. E. Hicks, Geo. Spicer, F. C. War, W. C. Ross, K. L. McIntosh, J. H. Anderson, Dell Bissett, E. A. Atkinson and Mary Jenkinson in the commercial course.

A CELEBRATION
"Talk about your big celebrations on the first of August," commented Mose Robinson, "Dresden is not going to be in it with Chatham this year. We have got $15 collected to-day. We have got 150 more. We are going to get lots more. We are arranging for games and races and have already got such speakers as Herb Clements, M. P., Arch. McCoo, M. P., and Geo. G. Martin. We will not stand for a rough crowd and there will be plenty of police protection. This will be the best emancipation celebration ever held in Chatham."

BY-LAW EXPLAINED
"Some misunderstanding seems to be prevalent respecting the new building by-law," said Ald. Potten this morning. "The new by-law does not mention the question of hollow walls. That is covered by a regulation over twenty years old. The new by-law makes it necessary to file the plans for the building with the city limits where the amount involved is over $100. Some people think the fire limits govern, but that is not so. It was when this by-law was compiled with and plans filed for the new Glassford hotel that it was found the old by-law respecting hollow walls had not been complied with."

NEW SCHOOL

Canada Business College to Build a Ten Thousand Dollar School on Queen Street

Chatham is soon to have a decided acquisition in the form of a new business college. The growing business done by the Canada Business College has made it imperative that larger quarters than the present cramped ones be obtained. Accordingly a large, modern school will be built on the old athletic grounds facing Queen street, just opposite the Scane residence.

It is anticipated that the new building will be a two storey one costing about $10,000, and will have 140 feet frontage on Queen street. Work will be started upon it at once so that all will be in readiness for an opening in January.

The new building is but the natural result of the increasing attendance at this educational institution. Last year the school placed 375 of its scholars in positions. Every year the number increases.

The school is a twin to one conducted in Grand Rapids by M. McLaughlin, brother of the proprietor of this one, D. McLaughlin. The Grand Rapids school has even a larger attendance than this one.

The course is such a thorough one to complete in its entirety that only a very small number actually graduate and receive diplomas. Last year there were twelve who completed the full course out of the great number in attendance. This speaks well for the high standard attained at the institution and explains why its output is so eagerly sought for.

The management has received calls from other schools for some of the scholars of this to act as teachers but, for lack of material, these requests cannot be satisfied.

HARD ON THE HAY
"If this rain keeps up it will mean a serious thing for the farmers," remarked Judge Houson this morning. "The hay crop this year is very heavy and some of the farmers have their crops cut. If they experience much more rain it will ruin the hay. If the weather only clears up now the farmers will have one of the biggest crops of hay they ever had. The country generally looks well and if there is good weather during the harvest season a splendid year may be looked for."

SUBMARINE RAISED; ALL ALIVE.
Entombed Sailors Were Kept Provided With Food.

Paris, July 8.—The ministry of marine issued a communication this evening, saying that the combined efforts of French and German salvage tugs succeeded yesterday afternoon in bringing to the surface the submarine boat Barfadel, which sank Thursday morning at the entrance to the port of Sidi Abdallah, Tunis.

Water, provisions and fresh air were supplied to the members of the encased craft, who are alive. The submarine was being slowly towed to shallow water when some of the cables snapped, the boat remaining in a perpendicular position, held by a cable from a French tug.

Town to Sue a Doctor.
St. Thomas, July 8.—Barrister A. K. Cameron, acting on behalf of the village council of Port Stanley, yesterday issued a writ against Dr. English of London, claiming $25,000 for statements alleged to have been made regarding Port Stanley's water supply, and on behalf of Dr. Motherall, Port Stanley's medical officer, for $25,000 in connection with the same alleged statements. Port Stanley claims their water supply is pure, and Dr. English's statements are alleged to have been that little or nothing had been done to purify the water.

Abducted Girl Returns.
Toronto, July 8.—Bessie Hopkins has returned. Word came in from Caledon East last night that the missing girl, for whose abduction Fred Westwood of Caledon East is held in $500 bail, had been returned to her home through the efforts of County Constable Glassford. She refuses to account for her absence. The case against Westwood will still be pressed, for the girl was only 15 years of age.

In Buying Pickles

The quality of the vinegar must be considered, for on that and the spices depend the flavor. It's because the English vinegar is so much better than ours that we recommend the English pickles. We know they are good, and as the prices are reasonable, what's the use of taking chances on others?

A PIONEER

Death Claims John McGarvin, One of the Oldest Residents of Kent County—A Useful Life

John McGarvin, one of Kent's oldest residents, died this morning. For the last ten years he has been living with his grand-daughter, Mrs. Geo. Moore, on Dufferin street.

The old gentleman was 94 years and ten months old at the time of his decease and was born on the McGarvin farm about four miles up the McGarvin Creek. At that time this vicinity was solid bush, there being merely a cleared trail into what is now Chatham, but was then a log house or two near where the Merchants Bank now stands. Of the old residents of that period all are now gone with the exception of Mrs. McDonald, wife of Donald McDonald, and wife of John McDonald, deceased, an aunt of Andrew Colhart.

Mr. McGarvin's father was drowned when the lad was very small and his mother went to her home—the Tuxley farm. Here the deceased as a boy, remembered well having seen the American soldiers in the war of 1812, and having been carried on their backs. They looted the farm of live stock and other articles.

The only surviving comrade of the deceased is Philip Westmore, now living with his daughter, Mrs. Wheeler De Clute, on the lake shore. Side by side these men worked 75 years ago.

Arrangements are being made to have the six nephews of the deceased gentleman act as pall bearers, John, Joseph, George, Patrick, Peter and Robert McGarvin.

That the great age of the deceased is correct can be corroborated by anyone who wishes to search the records of St. Peter's Roman Catholic church, down the river. When it was time to baptize his young son the father took a team of oxen and a slave and blazed a trail from his home to the church to have the ceremony performed and the record inscribed. The father was a Tipperary Irishman who came to this country over a hundred years ago.

The deceased is survived by his wife, Mrs. Wheeler De Clute, on the lake shore. Side by side these men worked 75 years ago.

Sunshine Furnace

DOUBLE FEED DOORS

Just about the meanest thing a furnace can have is a dinky little door.

Ever have one? Hit the edge as often as the hole? One has to be an expert stoker to shovel coal into some furnaces. If you're not an expert you'll get as much on the floor as in the furnace.

The Sunshine Furnace is equipped with a good, big door. You can put your shovel in and drop the coal just where it is wanted—no trouble, no taking aim, no missing, no scattering or annoyance.

Everything about the Sunshine Furnace is on the same scale of thoughtfulness.

Sold by all enterprising dealers. Write for booklet.

STUDYING LAW.

The Lawyer's Office Not What It Once Was For Students.

Questions regarding the study of law were sent out recently to many lawyers of Illinois by the University of Illinois and elicited 1,000 replies. From these it appears that the days of studying law in a lawyer's office have passed away. Very few of the offices have any law students at all. Many of the ablest lawyers expressed the opinion that study in a law office is an absolute waste of energy. Nearly all the successful law firms declared that they had no time to devote to young men who desired to study law and that such young men were a nuisance in the office. The only young man they could use at all was one who had already passed his examination for the state bar and who was willing to work for nothing for a year or two in order to get the experience which comes from a large office. Out of the 1,000 replies only seven favored preparation for the bar in a lawyer's office.

Another striking result of this investigation is found in the answers to the questions as to the proper degree of preliminary education a student should have before entering the law school. A majority of the whole number urged that every one taking up the study of the law should complete a full college course. Of the others a majority were in favor of at least two years in college. There was a practical unanimity that the completion of a four years' high school course was the absolute minimum which was at all acceptable. It was the general opinion that, having once entered the law school, the young man should give his entire time to the work of the school and not attempt to combine it with work in a lawyer's office or, indeed, work in any other place unless that was absolutely necessary to pay expenses. One lawyer declared that it was a poor school that could not keep a student busy all the time, and if a boy found himself in such a school he ought to leave it for one which could keep him busy.

PITH AND POINT.

A child is always surprised that you don't know the washerwoman at its house.

When you throw a friend a bouquet, don't throw it so he will catch the thorns in his hands.

Hope is a progressive game. One's children failing to become famous, the hope progresses to the grandchildren.

It is easy for a woman to be polite; all she has to do is to smile, but a man has to smile and raise his hat.

Worrying about the future is believing there will be ghosts tomorrow, though you know there are none today.

Parents are hard on their children when the children are young, and when the children are old the children are hard on the parents.

The Theological Labyrinth.

Stephen Essex, a Methodist minister, is the hero in "The Bishop's Niece." His state of mind after his early wanderings in the theological labyrinth is thus described by the author, George H. Picard:

At twenty-seven Stephen Essex had not made a perfect recovery from the panic into which a premature discovery of the plan of salvation had thrown him. He had employed the remedies which are prescribed to heal our common moral illnesses, but their abundance and variety as well as his disposition to leave none untried had retarded his convalescence. His present condition was that of one who, though realizing that he has halted, almost miraculously, just inside the end of opportunity, is still fearful of doing something which will undo everything.

Knox and Scotland.

Scotland owes to Knox not its existing Presbyterian government—this was the subsequent work of Andrew Melville—but that which is the chief feature and main strength of Presbyterianism—viz, the full recognition (lacking in Episcopacy) of the Christian laity in the administration of the church, combined with that orderly subordination (which Congregationalism fails to secure) of the whole church to one representative and supreme authority. It is owing to Knox and his fellow reformers that the Scottish church avoids the danger both of hierarchy and of anarchy—"John Knox," by Professor Henry Cowan.

A Bearded Freak.

One of the earliest of the American bearded freaks was Louis Jasper, who lived in southern Virginia at about the time of the close of the Revolutionary war. His beard was nine and a half feet long and correspondingly thick and heavy. He could take his mustache between his fingers and extend his arms to their full length, and still the ends of the mustache were over a foot beyond his finger tips.

Important Question.

The wasp was buzzing languidly around the house cat.

"You needn't come any nearer," said the cat.

"I won't hurt you," said the wasp.

"I'm half sick today, anyhow."

"Which half?" asked the cat, backing off.

Royal Household Flour

Yields Most Nutriment.

Only when flour is absolutely pure do you get highest nutriment and least waste.

Purity in flour is secured only by the highest development of the science of milling, and the makers of Royal Household Flour have developed milling to the highest point of perfection in this country.

The Royal Household Electrical Purifying and Sterilizing Process is the most thorough in the world—it is controlled exclusively in Canada by the Royal Household Mills—and that is why Royal Household quality cannot be duplicated in Canada.

That's why Royal Household Flour is the richest in nutriment, greatest in purity—That's why it is the flour every family should use—the kind that gives the sweetest, best flavored bread and most toothsome pastry.

If you want that kind of flour see that you get Royal Household, then send for the recipes so that you may use it in the Royal Household way.

IT'S LIKE THIS

To be Merely Covered is One Thing.
To be Well Dressed is Quite Another.

You can't buy better clothes than we are showing. You couldn't go to New York or Paris and get a better Tailor made suit than you'll find right here. There isn't anything better, smarter, more perfectly tailored or more correctly fashioned. The new Summer Suits and Trousers just received are about the handsomest we have ever shown.

$6.50, $7.50, $8.50, $10.00 to $12.00

And its very little money for such excellent Suits. Pants $1.25 to $4, with cuffs. The prices rather nudge the Suits that's all. How about Summer Furnishings, we're head-quarters, the place is—

WORLD OF SPORT

BOWLING

In the finals for the clock yesterday R. G. Fleming's rink defeated Wilson Taylor's by a score of 19 to 6.

CRICKET

Detroit will play here the 13th inst. In view of the terrible drubbing this team gave Cleveland it behooves the Chatham players to get out to practice, and a circular letter to this effect has been sent to all the members. Practice hours will be from 4 to 6 p. m., and batting without the net will be tried so as to give the men an opportunity to become efficient in fast fielding. It is desired to have a practice game Tuesday next, starting at 4 p. m., between two picked teams.

THE GUN

Esley Camp, July 7.—The Westminster volunteers won the Sir Howard V. Mount shield to-day, defeating the Seventh Regiment of New York team by the narrow margin of ten points after the closest competition ever seen at Esley. The final score was 1490 to 1480.

BABY'S DANGER

A mother cannot watch her little ones too carefully during hot weather. Dysentery, diarrhoea, cholera infantum and disorders of the stomach are alarmingly frequent during the summer months, and unless the mother has at hand an efficient remedy to check and cure the trouble a little life may go almost before you realize the case is serious. At the first sign of any of these ailments the wise mother will give her little one Baby's Own Tablets, which promptly cure all hot weather ailments. Mrs. John Lancaster, North Portal, N. W. T., says: "My baby was attacked with diarrhoea and vomiting. I at once gave Baby's Own Tablets and the next day she was as well as ever. I am never without the Tablets in the house as I find they are the only medicine a little one needs." Other wise mothers will follow Mrs. Lancaster's example and keep the Tablets always at hand. Their prompt use may save a little life. Sold by all medicine dealers or sent by mail at 25 cents a box by writing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Pat Crowe Robs Cars.

Omaha, July 8.—Pat Crowe, the Cudahy kidnapper, held up and robbed two street cars on the Council Bluffs and Omaha line on Tuesday night, taking every cent of the day's collections from the conductors, and making his escape. The police of Omaha and Council Bluffs yesterday acknowledged that the hold-up was perpetrated by the redoubtable Pat.

Judge Outmet Won't Take Risk.

Montreal, July 8.—Judge Outmet decided yesterday that he had jurisdiction in the matter of granting Messrs. Gaynor and Greene their liberty, but he had to use his discretion and he thought it better not to run the risk of allowing the prisoners out on bail, thus avoiding the risk of having to find the accused again. He consequently declined to accept bail.

Shot in Sham Battle.

Kingsport, July 8.—During the sham battle on Barfield Heights yesterday Trooper Anderson, D. Squadron, 4th Hussars, Prescott, was shot in the fleshy part of the thigh. Though a serious wound resulted, the rifle was in the hands of a companion, and he accidentally discharged it, the wad of the blank cartridge causing the wound.

What They Think In Japan.
Ottawa, July 8.—Japanese papers to hand contain interesting comments on the Exclusion Act of British Columbia, and the disallowance thereof by the Dominion authorities. They express the hope that it will bring about closer relations of friendship and increased trade between Canada and Japan. Japanese immigrants are advised to conduct themselves in such a manner that people may recognize them as being worthy of friendship, not as people to be dreaded or despised.

Toronto Man Acquitted.
Quebec, July 8.—At the investigation held into the outrages charged against some of the employees of Lemoyne Bros. (sic) Robert, James Conwell, who gave his address as Toronto, was acquitted for lack of evidence, but J. B. Goldsberg of Farley, Iowa, U. S., was sent up for trial. The young man who was accused was unable to identify her assailants.

For Every Woman According to Her Needs

SINCE Alfred the Great divided time into periods eminently to his liking by means of a series of wax candles, clocks have developed into wonderful affairs that grow more wonderful with each year. Not more wonderful for nothing could be put together in a more complicated way than some of the famous old clocks, like the Strasbourg clock, for instance, which, although the machinery was most delicate in construction, was finished by a blind man (the maker himself, whose sight had given out), but whose delicacy of touch accomplished the apparently impossible. Clocks have fashions, like everything else at the present.

But there never were such wonderful crystal clocks before. Some of them are almost severe in their beauty, the exquisite clearness of the crystal being the only ornament; and some of them are enameled, in patterns like mosaics, with every color of the rainbow, and all sorts of black and white to throw the figures into sharper contrast. Almost all of them have brass mountings, which set them off still more.

There's variety even in the enameling, for some are enameled with quaint little columns in a winding pattern; and others have the open "floor" of colors clock set in regular patterns of colors like miniature tiling; and still others are more ornate, and use enamel as jewelry.

Here and there you see a crystal clock with the dial set high and the lower part of just the clear, beautiful crystal; it runs with a spring, instead of a pendulum, ten times over.

Even pendulums vary, the most crystal of all crystal clocks having a pendulum—crystal, too, but curiously cut, from which some famous old-time beauty smiles at you perpetually, and glows with the soft pale colors so exquisite when ivory is the background.

The queerest idea of all is a brass pendulum, moulded, of course, to look like the sun, with the funniest rays in the world sticking out around a beaming face.

There are round and square and oddly shaped crystal clocks, with an occasional one patterned after the clock that perhaps the very beauty miniaturized told time by.

Colonial clocks are coming in style again rapidly, and make mighty attractive mantel clocks for library or sitting. Most of them are made of mahogany, which seems to carry out the idea of the style better than any other wood. Some are inlaid with a lighter wood—the merest tracery of line, though. "Grandfather's clocks" have a place in the home of everybody who can afford it. It's a lot nicer, of course, to have had some ancestor look out that should come to you; but if he hasn't, there are some very dignified ones to be had, and some which serve double purposes.

Mission ideas have invaded clocks, naturally enough, and some unusual ideas have found expression, such as a hall clock with a lot of little brackets for the vases and bits of bric-a-brac every housemother owns. Or, perhaps, the lower part does duty as a little chest.

But mission clocks are only good where the hall is distinctively mission all the way through. And the plainer, simpler styles of making are always best.

The chimes ring out, you close your eyes for a moment and slip away in fancy to some dim old cathedral. You open them, your cathedral vanishes, but you're standing before a hall clock.

There's another invalid clock, with a tiny electric bulb, which flashes its light directly on the face of the clock when you press a little bulb attached to a long rubber tubing.

Automobile and driving clocks have the French people at it; of screwing on, so that the clock has to be unscrewed. It's a way of getting around the stealing of dashboard clocks, which has flourished so freely that one man dryly remarked that it cost him a clock for each trip.

Traveling clocks that strike the hour (and half and quarters), and repeat as often as you press a certain spring, come in a hundred styles, the prettiest of them all looking like a small leather miniature case, with the clock set in like a miniature, and made to prop itself up against the sides or fold up into the smallest possible space.

And the silver clocks to go with the silver set on her bureau, and the chess chess stands time each other's moves and make the other fellow get through his turn in three minutes; and the old-fashioned Swiss clocks, with cuckoos calling the hour; and the clocks that show the lunar months, and those that keep tabs on the very days of the week—there are dozens of kinds for dozens of uses, a new clock (or a new use) cropping up every day.

"How do you take care of a clock?" a practical clock man was asked. His answer was graphic: "Don't! Half the trouble with clocks comes from their being tinkered at by well-meaning amateurs. Keep them wound regularly and then let them alone. If something goes wrong, take them to clock specialists—it's a long way cheaper in the end."

OLD AND NEW MAY DAYS

MAY DAY is one of the prettiest times in all the year to give a child's party; for the day itself, in "Merrie England," a few hundred years ago was the most popular of all with lads and lassies.

There were no lagging or that morn'g in those days, but through the villages hurried those earliest up, waking the rest with glad shouts and calls to "hurry up." And the others sprang up, dressing in their prettiest for this first of May party.

Then off to the woods, to gather May blossoms, and then stringing them in garlands and bunches, and most difficult of all—only to be entrusted to the dearest flower-arrangers in the party, crown for the prettiest girl in the party.

to be crowned Queen of the May.

Then the crowning, and the picnicking, and the trooping home in the evening, tired and happy, and laden with flowers, which they shared with all the village.

And a pretty custom sprang from it of parties scouring the woods for blossoms the last of April, and then up early on May morning, running around from door to door, leaving posies to be found by the person who opened the door first.

hurried the lads and lassies, perhaps hiding (if the recipient was especially dear) the posies in the folds of their dresses.

Children love to play in the form of posies, so why not have a May Day picnic? having the flower frolics and the posies, and all the other jolly customs; going a step further, perhaps, and having a costume picnic, which the May Day procession, which older people indulged in—where Robin Hood, the Merry Men, Friar Tuck and the rest of the merry outlaw crew held sport.

But, if you do, stipulate that the costumes shall be of cheap materials, so that the youngsters may romp to their hearts' content, without thought or care for damage.

Flower games of all sorts should be arranged for, and a picnic basket, of course, and the largest bunch, or the most artistic bunch, or who finds the first of a certain flower—the contest announced, of course, before the starting out on the flower hunt.

If the weather is damp or cool, too much so to permit of the outdoor luncheon, bring the youngsters and their gear back to the house after a long morning, have luncheon and let flower games finish the afternoon.

For the luncheon, the dining room may be arranged in picnic fashion. The table should be removed and flowers and greens put around in a great profusion as possible. Mats or straw cushions might be dropped at intervals here and there, instead of chairs, and the picnic side of things emphasized as much as possible.

Fortune-telling games are popular, and by the way, May Day used to be a great time for the telling of fortunes. Drop the white of an egg in a glass of water, and watch the form it takes; it will be emblematic of your future husband's business—so said the old wise-women. In fact, most of the charms worn on May Day. There's sure to be some one in the party who can interpret them, and take care that the interpretations are favorable.

The charms are only for the fun of the thing, and should be treated so, no matter how many older girls and boys are included. When charms cease to be fun, and are taken seriously, superstition steps in.

Have them, by all means, if the children are as old as 12 or 14; but treat them as the nonsense they are.

WORKING FRENCH IDEAS INTO YOUR LINGERIE

WITH all the wonderful French ideas for inspiration, and a very pretty knack of hand, and of creating ideas radically different, yet as lovely as the French, the girl of today turns out some exquisite bits of lingerie.

It is no longer the fashion to do needlework, and the wonderful work we hear of our grandmothers doing is no whit more perfectly executed than our own.

It is one of those curious freaks of fashion that in a strenuous age, where women spend their time grappling with great problems, work in offices, teach or study, constantly striving for development and the power to do things, needlework should be taken up in a passion of relaxation.

Polled seams, delicate veining put in so well that the seam is lost, and the piece seems put together in some miraculous way; embroidery that is like a bit of engraving, so delicately is it designed and executed, and the tiniest of baby bairn stitchings—these are some of the characteristics of the work.

The chemise and corset cover pictured are designed especially to show the prettiest way of using the little bell-shaped medallions of embroidery so popular this year.

A trick worth knowing is that some of the allover embroideries are made up of figures in just this shape, which can be cut apart, if they are to be set in a material, or edged with lace; and, of course, they're not cheaper that way. Some of them are even defined by a little line like beading, and can be cut out close to this line and whipped to the lace.

The Swiss embroidery should be chosen for the sheer Swiss embroidery should be chosen for the sheer work, and German valenciennes insertion—rather narrow width—used to outline them. Sometimes each narrow width—used to outline them. Sometimes each narrow width—used to outline them. Sometimes each narrow width—used to outline them.

The idea might be carried out through the corset cover in three pieces and the chemise with the fullness taken out the back from the waist up by a box pleat, finished with beading like the rest. Both long and short petticoats could be included in the set.

The simplest fashion of all for these hand-made things, and by the way, every stitch should be taken by hand, is the plain little scalloped edge, finished with a row of lace insertion, perhaps joined onto the rest by the narrowest of bindings. This, in turn, is finished with an edge of lace, and ribbon draws the cover, or chemise, up into place.

Furnishings for the Boudoir Desk

ADESK SET, made all of the clearest crystal, set off by the merest touch of silver, is the most stunning thing for desks that has yet come out.

Everything that is used about a desk is represented—almost too many things for the average woman to spare room for, with her stationery and her bridge scores and the thousand and one things that make a desk a torment and a delight at the same time. The ink-well is a joy, if she writes a great deal, for the great square block of crystal has a comfortably large well, instead of the miserable little hollows found in so many of the cut-glass ink-wells that let the ink dry out constantly.

Besides the ink-well, there's a pen-tray and a mullage pot, a roll blotter (it's a beauty), a candlestick—as severe as a thing can be—and as rich—even the penholder and the letterholder are made of it, and the ink-scraper, of course.

With a mahogany desk the set is shown off at its prettiest; but it's mighty good looking with any wood. Most of the new desk fixings are the plainer sort of things—the fancier styles are almost impossible to keep clean. And plain things, where they are made of stunning materials, are richer than any of the others.

Couch Covers

TO THE woman who stays in town most of the summer, linen (or cotton) furniture coverings are almost a necessity.

Where money doesn't have to be considered, linen is much better; that is, wears better and is cooler than cotton. But cotton coverings come, too, which wear better and look almost as well.

Couch covers are especially easy to adjust, unlike chairs and other furniture, which have to have the covers cut and fitted to them. But the couch covers are just straight, wide things with fringe to them, which are thrown straight down around the sides.

Slips come for the pillows of linen or cotton material to make so that the whole couch can be turned into a cool, comfortable thing without the worry of working over it.

Old Easter Beliefs

AN OLD belief which prevailed over almost the whole continent of Europe, in Catholic countries, at least, was the silencing of the bells from Good Friday until Easter. No bells were rung during the three days, except for tolling, the reason given being that all the bells were away, at Rome, learning a message for Easter.

The "Easter Bunny" is a hare, which drew the chariot of the goddess of Spring; and was turned into a hare, every year, as the anniversary of her coming rolls around, the hare remembers, and in remembrance of the original bird nature, lays the eggs as an offering to Spring, and to Youth, which she symbolizes.

It was considered bad luck not to wear something new on Easter Day, as the rhyme from "Poor Richard's Almanack" bears witness:

"On Easter see your clothes be new, Or else be sure you'll rue."

Among the many charms tried by young girls to win lovers and husbands, none has been more popular than the wearing of the yellow garter. It should always be the round garter, and the shape of the wedding ring; and the shape, of course, must carry out the idea.

The garter must be given you by your dearest married friend—a bride, if possible, and should be worn (so successful weavers say) night and day upon the left leg for a year. Inside of the year it will bring a lover, who will become a husband within three years.

CONCERNING THE EMPIRE.

Expressions of regret are often heard that the principal magazines read in Canada hail from the United States, comments the Guelph Herald. There is good ground both for the fact and for the sorrow. The fault lies with the postal authorities in Great Britain, who seem utterly incapable of estimating at its proper value the damage done to the Dominion by their excessive charges, not allowing British magazines to compete here on equal or better terms with those from the States.

As we have pointed out in a previous article this week the American magazines are permeated with the glorification of the United States and the belittlement of Great Britain. The same thing as a rule applies to the American newspapers through which so much news of the Empire filters into Canada. Here is an example of a reference to Great Britain contained in a magazine, which has to-day reached us from the states, and it may be asked both whether it is true, and if it is likely to give a Canadian, who perhaps has no opportunity of getting at the truth through much other reading, the correct opinion of Great Britain.

"The decadence of British sportsmanship, and by the same token of British military prowess, has come through nothing else than an abatement of the sense of exulting in all things, small as well as great."

It is as well that it should be known as widely as possible in the Dominion that there are men in Great Britain who are fully alive to the danger. Efforts are not only being made to induce the postal authorities to remove ridiculous and unfair restrictions upon British magazines, but there is in the form of "The Empire Review," a magazine which deals with the affairs of the Empire in a manner which could scarcely be surpassed.

Men of the first rank are contributors to it. Take for instance the June number. In it there is a well written article on the Railways of Canada, by Mr. Lawrence J. Burpee, of Ottawa, with a special map illustrating the subject. The writer points out that "there are, to-day in Canada 19,500 miles of railway, capitalized at $1,750,000,000, including subsidies from the Provincial and Dominion Governments aggregating $225,000,000. This is an enormous expenditure for a country that has not yet a population of quite 6,000,000. It is a much larger expenditure per capita than that of Great Britain, Germany, France, Russia or even of the greatest of all railway builders—the United States."

Then there is a careful article on Indian and Colonial Investments, in which Canadian securities receive attention; a list being given of the leading ones, with their current prices and the dividends paid. It will easily be seen how valuable such information as this is in leading the capitalists and investors in the Empire to invest their money within its boundaries, and not to risk it in the wild cat schemes of other nations.

What an idea of the grandeur of the Empire to which we belong is obtained simply by reading the titles of some of the articles in this valuable British, or shall we say Imperial, magazine, "The Next Colonial Conference," "The Transvaal Constitution," "The Defence of India," "Land Settlement in South Africa," etc. In this magazine is found an antidote to the poison by means of which the "decadence" of the British Empire is sought.

NOT CRITICAL.

Toronto Star.

All coons look alike to a really emancipated constituency. For instance, Finbury, which once sent a Hindoo to the British House of Commons, has just elected a Canadian.

THE GAY OLD CHAPERON.

Atchison Globe.

A chaperon is an oldish girl who accompanies young things to parties and who is supposed to wring her hands when a pair stroll off by themselves, but a girl in reality flirts with any man she can get to flirt with.

THE LATEST FOLK SORE.

Toronto News.

That terrible man, Governor Folk, of Missouri, continues to demonstrate his peculiar ideas. He has just cleared out gambling on a race track by means of the militia. The man actually believes laws were made to be enforced.

LOVE OF NATURE.

The More Man Loses Out of Door Life the More He Admires It.

The more man has become engaged in the conflicts of civilization, in intellectual disappointment, the more he has felt the uselessness of knowledge, the more he has turned to certain expressions of art as an escape. He has addressed poems to nature, has painted landscape more and more, has shown in every way that such an escape was a dream. Art has existed from the very beginning, even before the first man stuttered out his naming of the animals and expressed their character by the sound of their name. The dances of savages, as we call them—that is to say, of people of earlier forms of civilization—invented before the arts of design, record in a poetic way what they do and the seasons of such doing and even the appearance of nature—the storm, the rain, the clouds blowing across the sky, the lashing of the sea against the shore. In all they have a dance where the women spread out their arms like the wave lines of the surf, and the children, springing up behind them, represent the foam of the wave crests. From these beginnings we know that tragedy and comedy, as we call them, have grown. Then, as all these disappear in fact, they are recorded in the art of painting. And as man more and more leaves behind him a life of out of doors in so much does he desire to admire it—McClure's Magazine.

THE BUDDHIST HADES.

Eight "Easy Stages" of the Most Awful Kinds of Torture.

The place of torment to which all wicked Buddhists are to be assigned on the day of final reckoning is a terrible place of punishment. This Buddhist hell is divided into eight "easy stages." In the first the poor victim is compelled to walk for untold ages in his bare feet over hills thickly set with red-hot needles, points upward. In the second stage the skin is all carefully filed or rasped from the body and irritating mixtures applied. In the third stage the nails, hair and eyes are plucked out and the denuded body sawed and planed into all sorts of fantastic shapes. The fourth stage is that of "sorrowful lamentations." In the fifth the left side of the body and the denuded head are carefully roasted. Yema, the Buddhist Satan, superintending the work. In the sixth stage the arms are torn from the body and thrown into an immense vat among the eyes, nails and hair previously removed. Then in plain bearing of the sore footed, blind, maimed, roasted and bleeding victim the whole horrid mass is pounded into a jelly. In the seventh stage the other side of the victim and his feet are roasted brown, and then comes the eighth and last stage, in which the candidate is thrown into the bottomless pit of perdition.

A man who is too busy to care for his health is like a workman who is too busy to sharpen his tools.

SWOLLEN ANKLES

Spots Before the Eyes—Dropsy Indicated—Cured by Bu-Ju, The Kidney Pill.

Dropsy is the effect of bad blood, and bad blood is caused by deranged kidneys. The sewers of the body become clogged, and uric acid and other foreign elements are not thrown from the system. Bu-Ju, the Kidney Pill, the best kidney remedy on the market, heals and strengthens the kidneys, enabling them to perform their important functions. Read what a resident of Thamesville says: "I have taken three boxes of your Bu-Ju Pills, and feel greatly benefited by their use. They have entirely removed the pains from my back, and the spots before my eyes have entirely disappeared. My ankles were badly swollen, but I now feel quite well."

WM. McKENZIE, Thamesville, Ont.

Such speedy relief and cure are within the reach of all similarly afflicted. Bu-Ju, The Kidney Pill, is sold by druggists generally. Ask for it, and do not be put off with substitutes. Nothing else is as good as Bu-Ju.

There is a vast difference between the way most people act and the way they think others should act.

DAYS OF AULD LANG SYNE

Interesting Events of Ye Olden Times Gathered from The Planet's Issues of Half a Century Ago

From The Planet files from March 12, 1862, to April 2, 1862.

Mrs. Elizabeth Dolson passes away.

A meeting of the Municipal Council of the Township of Harwich was held in Sheldon's Hotel, Blenheim.

The tolls of both gates on the Chatham and Camden plank road were sold by auction. The sale took place at Peter McKellar's Hotel, near Chatham.

Thomas Holmes offers for sale a piece of property on the corner of bridge and James street, good and sound, and stable were on the premises.

James Rice conducts a prosperous general provision business on King street.

Amos B. Thomas and Charles McKellar were the municipal auditors for the Township of Zone.

James Baby, an early settler of Lambton, passes away.

Plank and scantling sold in Chatham at $10 per thousand feet.

The following appeared in the Town Council report:

"Mr. Stephenson directed attention to the fact that, none of the town constables were possessed of handcuffs for the securing of prisoners and recommended that the corporation do purchase five pair of handcuffs, also a requisite number of constables' batons. The matter was referred to the Police Commissioners for their consideration."

Four hundred pounds of pork was stolen from Rev. Dr. Sandys' cellar.

Richard Monck was appointed issuer of marriage licenses.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. Thomas Hellwell, an old and respected resident of Toronto, which occurred early on Sunday morning at his residence on King street east.

Mr. McKellar, M. P. P., and Sir Allan McNabb left for Quebec on political business.

G. P. Hout, M. P. P., writes a history of Canada from 1815 to 1862.

T. D. Lodge, barrister, etc., opens up an office in Monroah.

The Holman Opera—We are glad to learn that this talented troupe will again visit Chatham on Thursday evening, the 20th inst., for one night only. From the patronage on their former visit extended to them and the satisfaction that they gave to our townspeople we would predict for them a full house.

Two prisoners escaped from the Chatham jail.

D. R. VanAllen is proprietor of the North Chatham saw mill. He had a contract for 100,000 oak ties for the Great Western Railway. He employs 40 men and 14 horses and his expenses for wages amounts to $60 a day.

Temperance meetings were held in Chatham every week.

We are informed that on Friday last a daughter of Mr. Walter Ad-drew, aged about nine years, named Eva, was crossing the River Thames when she broke through the ice and fell in the river. Her crinoline, however, prevented her from sinking and enabled her to get upon the ice again. When she reached the shore all her underclothes were dripping wet, her outside garments, which were above her crinoline alone being dry. Her escape from drowning was almost miraculous.

Norman Blakely, Benjamin Hilman and John Searlett of Tilbury, advertise for a teacher.

Birth—In Orford, on the 3rd inst., the wife of David Mills of a son.

The Princess Alexandra of Denmark, betrothed to the Prince of Wales, is considered the prettiest girl in Europe. She is just out of short clothes.

The propeller Stockman, formerly of the Chatham route, is being cut down and otherwise arranged for the purpose of being converted into a tug boat to ply on the Saginaw River.

Henry Chrysler, Henry Baxter and Henry Vargal were inspectors of licenses.

Prof. Keran, phrenologist, visits Chatham.

Thomas Rowlock is Clerk of the Township of Romney. The Council met in the house of M. Edwards, of Romney.

of the value of this work is the significant fact that six of the most distinguished men of Canada are its sponsors.

Vol. I ABERDEEN

The Rt. Hon. the Earl of Aberdeen, P. C., G. C. M. G., LL. D., D. C. L., one of our most popular Governors-General, wrote the preface to Vol. I. We have space only for one sentence.

"Thus the Encyclopedia of Canada... may confidently be regarded as a practical advantage, not only to Canada, by means of the information which it will afford to those who are actually engaged in the work of her development, but also to the people of the Mother Land by whom Canada is regarded with ever-increasing confidence."

Vol. IV STRONG

The Rt. Hon. Sir Henry Strong, P. C., LL. D., Chief Justice of Canada, is another sponsor for the Encyclopedia, through his Preface to Vol. IV. We have room for the merest extract.

"The fourth volume of this excellent work is in no respect less important or less interesting than those which have preceded it. Each of the topics have been treated by those whose experience is such that they are generally acknowledged to be authorities upon the questions concerning which they have written."

Solicitor General East—Hon. Mr. Morin.
Solicitor General West—Hon. Jas. Patton.

Rubinstein's Charity.

Rubinstein probably traveled more than any other virtuoso. In his time he made many fortunes and gave them away to the poor in Russia. During a famine which raged among the Russian peasants he journeyed to Vienna, Moscow and St. Petersburg to play for charity. The price of seats rose to unheard of figures, but every penny of the money went to the starving farmers. It is said that in the course of twenty-eight years the sum which he thus disposed of amounted to $350,000.

Inadvertently Omitted.

"Let me see," said the great man. "Did I say anything about the crux of the position?" "I don't see anything," said the secretary, glancing over his notes. "Hm!" murmured the great man. "I meant to work that phrase off somehow."

Even the black sheep may masquerade as spring lamb.

Vol. II LAURIER

The Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, P. C., G. C. M. G., LL. D., D. C. L., the Premier of Canada, wrote the Preface for Vol. II. We quote a part of his remarks on one writer:

"Lord Strathcona has written for this volume the article on the Hudson's Bay Co. No one could write of the famous Company more fully and more accurately. Lord Strathcona has been intimately identified with the railway development which has opened the realm of the once powerful Lords of the Forest to the feverish ambition of modern civilization."

Vol. V. LACOSTE

The Hon. Sir Alexandre Lacoste, LL. D., D. C. L., Chief Justice of Quebec, writes the Preface for Vol. V., and we quote his first sentence:

"Mr. Castell Hopkins has well fulfilled the promise of his prospectus. His work is in every sense an encyclopedia of the country, a real national work, from whose pages we can obtain the most varied and comprehensive information in regard, practically, to every subject relating to Canada."

Vol. III TUPPER

The Hon. Sir Charles Tupper, Bart., G. M. G., C. B., LL. D., D. C. L., M. D., late Prime Minister of Canada, is the Preface writer for Vol. III. From a very glowing appreciation of the work, we quote a part of his opening sentence:

"Ambitious as the idea of the Canadian Encyclopedia may have been thought, no one who has pursued the two volumes already given to the public... will doubt the propriety of such an undertaking, or its value to all interested in the development of the Dominion."

Vol. VI PARKER

Sir Gilbert Parker, D. C. L., M. P., the brilliant litterateur, contributes the Preface to Vol. VI. We extract a single sentence from the middle of his first paragraph:

"Whatever changes time and events may bring to pass, this concentrated record of history, experience and national conditions, must remain the facile instructor of him who runs as he reads of the man in the street, of the statesman, or of the publicist and the busy patriot; it must be compendium to the student."

Heintzman & Co. PIANO

At the end of another concert season the Heintzman & Co. Piano. Once more demonstrates its supremacy over all other makes. This Canadian Piano with a record of half a century behind it, purchasers takes no chances. It has the endorsement of the most famous musicians, and pamphlets will be sent to any address free of charge upon application to John Heintzman, Manager for Western Ont. Box 219, Chatham, Ont.

GOD'S PITY FOR A MAN

WITHOUT A COUNTRY INVOKED
BY DR. TALMADE.

THE GLORY OF PATRIOTISM

Twists the Usual Fourth of July Ovation Theme Around and Shows How "the British Empire Has Conquered America," Until England Stands "Not a Conquered Rival, But a Conquering Friend."

Entered according to Act of Parliament of Canada, in the year 1905, by Frederick D. Talma, at the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 2.—In this sermon a new aspect is given to the patriotic holiday. The text is III John 14, "Our friends salute thee."

God pity the man without a country! God pity such a man as Philip Nolan, whom Edward Everett Hale pictures in his famous story, who, on account of his own sins, has lost the confidence and the respect of the people among whom he was born and who on account of those sins is excluded from the land of his birth! God pity the man who does not glory in the sacrifices and triumphs of his nation's heroes and heroines, who does not live in his country's hopes and who does not feel a thrill of honest pride when he mentions his birthplace and avows, as did Paul, "I am a man which am a Jew of Tarsus, a city in Cilicia, a citizen of no mean city." God pity, I say again, the man who does not feel in every part of his body, mind and soul that the land of his nativity is the best place in all the world in which to be born, that his people are the best people in all the world with whom to associate, does not hope that the place of his cradle will be the place of his sepulchre!

"But as I began to think over my sermon which was to precede our national holiday, I said to myself: 'Have we truly triumphed over England? Are we truly independent of our mother land? Has not the British nation conquered us in truth and in fact, and does she not annually send over great invading armies and annually demand that we pay her not only gold, but things more precious than gold? Yes, yes,' I said to myself, 'England is not a conquered rival, but a conquering friend. Instead of preaching a patriotic sermon to show how the American nation has triumphed over the British Empire I will twist my theme around. I will show how the British Empire has conquered America. And when I show how the British Empire has conquered us I will glory in that conquest, for as England and Scotland and Ireland have been in turn through their helping to put our impress upon the whole world for civilization and for Christ.'"

The British Empire, in the first place, has conquered America by the power of its tongue. The first words that we learn to utter are those of our mother's knee, the words that we shout on the playground and speak before the school desk, the words that we read in the morning newspaper and in the library book and hear from our lecture platform and pulpits are English words. The language of the American people is the language of England's rose and of Scotland's thistle and of Ireland's shamrock. The same tongue we speak was spoken for centuries in the British Isles. Therefore, though a new nation was born on July 4, 1776, it was not a new race. It was simply the Goddess of Liberty as a bride leaving the old English homestead and setting up in housekeeping for herself. She still belonged to the old English family. She still spoke the mother tongue. More than that, she was dominated by her mother's accustomed ways of thinking and doing things. And this tie of language which binds the American people to their British kindred cannot be found binding us to any other nation on earth.

When two nations like the British people and the American people speak the same language they must inevitably be one in feeling. It does not make much difference who sits upon the English throne or who is in America's Presidential chair, the two nations are one. They are one because they have the same teachers. They are one because they have the same legends. They are one because they naturally think alike, whether they will or no. This fact was beautifully illustrated some years ago when John Hay, then American Ambassador to London, spoke at the unveiling of the statue of Sir Walter Scott in Westminster Abbey.

"The books a boy reads," said Mr.

Hay, "are those most ardently admired and longest remembered, and America revealed in Scott when the country was young. I have heard from my father, a pioneer in Kentucky, that in the early days of this century men would saddle their horses and ride from all the neighboring counties to the principal post town of their region when a new novel by the author of 'Waverley' was expected. Through all the important formative days of the republic Scott was the favorite author of the Americans, and while his writings may not be said to have had any special weight in our material and political development, yet their influence was enormous upon the taste and the sentiments of a people peculiarly sensitive to such influences from the very circumstances of their environment." What John Hay said in reference to the influence of the pen of the Wizard of Abbotsford upon America can be said to a greater or a less extent of all the leaders of English and Scottish and Irish thought.

British thinking cannot be divorced from American thinking. To the American mind a map of the British Isles is not a mere collection of city or town names. Each spot has its sacred history on account of the men who have lived there and whose fields of influence were transatlantic as well as cisatlantic. Some years ago I rode through Scotland and England on a bicycle. From Glasgow I went to Ayr. There I found that my youthful idol, Burns, once lived. From Ayr I went to Edinburgh. There I stood at the mean graves of Guthrie and Chalmers and went into John Knox's old home and recognized these men as my teachers. From Edinburgh I went down to the lake region and there found its poets, my poets. There I reverently stood by the roadside while names were being read to me—John Ruskin then with his mind a Melrose abbey in ruins, but John Ruskin still—who wrote the books that are on my library shelves. From there I went up to London and found the grave of one of America's benefactors.

England has conquered America by the power of the tongue. Because the linguistic doors are opened to both people the two nations are one in sympathy and one in life. From nearly all foreign lands are we separated by the great "towers of Babel," the towers of unknown tongues. Around these towers a few of us have the linguistic ability to go or to climb. But though between us and England rolls the Atlantic ocean 2,000 miles wide, the bridge of a common language spans it. Over this bridge every day walk the British statesmen, the British reformers, the British leaders of thought. They come to us saying: "Americans, take our books. Americans, follow our customs. Americans, study our ways of doing things. Take us to your hearts, as we are taking you. Our language is one. We need no Washington Irving to discover for us that we both sit at the feet of the same Gamaliels and Hillels. The Anglo-Saxon tongue makes us think and live alike." America is still held to England by the anchorage of the English dictionary and the English grammar and the English spelling book.

The British Empire has conquered us by the tongue, but not by that alone. Every year she sends over a great invading army. This army of invaders is not of muscle and clear of eye and brave of heart. They have the bravery to cross the seas. And as soon as they can get a foothold here they send over their mothers and brothers and sisters to come and live with them in their new homes which they have built in the new land and which they are already beginning to rule. And have they not well fulfilled their boasts? We find in America the English and the Scotch and the Irish families everywhere. Supposing I should ask all those whom I address to arise and say who were born in the British Isles and who are sons and daughters and grandchildren of ancestors who were born there, how many do you suppose would stand up? A twentieth? A tenth? A fourth? Yes, I think a fourth or even a third is not oversteering the numbers. When the original thirteen colonies won their national independence we had all told in this country between three and four millions of people. We then had a smaller population than has the present city of New York. In a little over a hundred years we have nearly 80,000,000 inhabitants. Whence did these people come? From the American cradle? Yes. The American stock has built her nests in the chimneys of many homes. But the American stock from 4,000,000 parents could not produce 80,000,000 living descendants in a little over a hundred years. The vast numbers of the American inhabitants to-day can be traced to emigrants from Europe or their fathers or grandfathers came thus. And by far the largest proportion of these emigrants came as an invading army from the shores of England and Scotland and Ireland.

But, though the British Empire has won many successes on land as well as on sea with small armies and navies, she has not won her American victory by a small number of emigrants. From Glasgow and Liverpool and London during the last hundred years she has sent forth her best sons and daughters by the hundreds of thousands and by the millions. Still that invading army is calling across the Atlantic for more reinforcements. "Send me my brother and sister," calls back the Irish servant girl to her parents on Kilmarney lakes. "Send them to me, and I will pay their way." "Send me the girl I once courted among the highlands or wooed under the shadow of Lullihingway while I read to her the tragic story of beautiful Queen Mary," who was born among yonder hills," writes the young Americanized Scotchman who is winning a fortune in the new world. "Send me my sisters and let them see the London fogs," writes the English man who is running a Texas ranch.

Have you as a rational man ever stopped to consider how many American industries have been fostered and built up by British capital? The British workers have come here by millions and settled in our land and taken out naturalization papers. But the British capitalists, although many of them have never crossed the sea, have sent their money here and invested them here by the millions and millions of pounds. The British capitalists are saying to our miners, "You run my mines." To our street electric car line presidents, "You run my street railways." Yes, the British capitalists have their money invested in our country by the millions of dollars. If all British capital were to be withdrawn from the manufacturing and railroad stock and mining industries this country would hear the most awful financial crash the world has felt since man began to buy and sell for barter and gather round him one of the surest guarantees that England will never go to war against America is that, as a financial nation, she cannot afford to do so. She would not only be financially ruined, but her daughters, but she would be destroying her own pocketbook. The British immigrant is here. The British millions are invested in American coal as well as in Sheffield cutlery or Manchester factory or Belfast linen or Glasgow mills.

If the British Empire dominates us in a linguistic and social and industrial way, how much more does she influence us in a religious way? Supposing our churches and our synagogues, the growth of the Spanish cathedral instead of the Scottish kirk. What would have happened? Supposing the men who laid the religious foundations of our churches and synagogues, the men who were the spiritual fathers of the Puritans, dominated by the spirit of Rev. John Robinson. Supposing the men who taught us our ideas of morality and right had not been inspired by the teachings of a John Knox. What would be the nation whose God is Lord, as we are to-day? Thank God that the gospel fires which are today burning upon American hearts were once started by the live coals of the old Puritans and the old covenanters.

As I believe the Bible to be the word of God, and as I believe that the American Government and the British Government are not working hand in hand. When war was about to be declared against Spain in order to liberate the downtrodden Cubans, and when Mr. McKinley had decided that the United States should go to war, then the President replied: "This war is all right. England is America's friend. Yes, yes, the British Empire will always be our friend. Side by side the two English speaking nations shall yet settle the Asiatic troubles. Side by side they will yet settle the African and the Turkish troubles. Our Christian missionaries in foreign lands are now working for a common Christian church, so ultimately their Christian soldiers shall yet work side by side to right all civil wrongs and to make war in the future an impossibility, for then public opinion and public policy will never be allowed to be unjust."

Why am I to-day preaching this sermon? Because I feel that it is about time for some one to lift a voice and rebuke the prevalent idea that England is our enemy, and that England, or, rather, the British Empire, is a jealous of us, or that we are a jealous of England. I denounce the idea that, at the first chance, England and America, like maddened tigers, will leap at each other's throat. The second reason why I preach this sermon is that I would turn our thoughts in love toward England and thereby hasten the work which the two nations, hand in hand, are bound to do for the salvation of this world for Christ. "How can you say some one," "how can you claim that England is our friend? We have had three great foreign wars. Two of those were with England. During the civil war we almost had another bloody conflict with her. Can England be our friend?"

"Oh, of course we have had a little trouble with England. We have had two or three big family rows. When you were growing up in your father's home all the children were not always at peace. Your mother every little while had to come to the rescue and pour oil upon the troubled waters. But those domestic troubles did not love brothers and sisters love sisters. We have had a few domestic quarrels with our brothers and sisters across the seas. Our relatives living there are not saints. Perhaps some of the sinners are on this side of the Atlantic as well as on the other side. But, though we have had our national differences, they are only domestic differences. The two nations are of one blood. The two nations are of one great purpose for the civilization of the world for Christ. So let us one and all speak more about the good the British people have done us and the good they are doing us. Then by speaking about the good which our British brothers and sisters have done for us, we will be drawn closer and closer together and as two nations be more able speedily to accomplish the work which God has given the English speaking race to do.

In closing this sermon I would end it with the sentiment with which Cyrus W. Field closed his speech at the Chamber of Commerce banquet of 1866. "I close with this sentiment," he said—England and America, clasping hands across the sea. May this firm grasp be a pledge of friendship for all generations. Aye, more than this! This common brotherhood of the Anglo-Saxon race be the open door through which all peoples shall enter into and kneel in the great temple, where they shall worship the universal fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man through Jesus Christ our Lord. Hallelujah! Then shall the sword be turned into the plowshare and the spear into the pruning hook. Then man shall never battle with man, and man shall not learn war any more. Amen and amen!

THIS MUSICIAN IS DELIGHTED

His Kidney Disease and Gravel Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Tried Many Medicines But Got no Relief Till He Used The Great Canadian Kidney Remedy.

Roseville, Ont., July 3.—(Special).—Mr. Samuel J. Crow, the well-known musician of this place, relates an experience that adds to the already great popularity of Dodd's Kidney Pills in this locality. "I suffered for years with Kidney Trouble," says Mr. Crow, "which became aggravated with every attack of cold and caused me much agony. The disease developed into Gravel, when I was totally unfit for anything. I tried different remedies without the desired result and was in much misery when I decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, when to my astonishment and delight I immediately began to recover."

"After using five boxes the ailment had entirely ceased, and was a relief to me. I decided to give all of which I owe to Dodd's Kidney Pills. The fact that Gravel yields so readily to Dodd's Kidney Pills is good news indeed, as it does away with the necessity of the use of the knife, which is supposed to be the only relief from this trouble."

Noble Through Baptism.
Nobility is usually a heritage, but in the case of one famous English showman the title was gained through baptism, and not through birth.

The circus business is hereditary abroad, and appreciating the advantages accruing from an unusual cognomen, the son of a circus proprietor was baptized "Lord George Sanger." Since his menagerie has several times shown before Royalty, there are thousands who firmly believe that "Lord" George gained his title as did Sir Henry Irving and other titled actors.

As a trade mark the name has been heard of thousands of dollars to the exhibitor, and was responsible in a large measure for his early success—a success which continued until he was induced to form his circus into a stock company, on the Barham & Bailey plan, when the interference of the directors prevented his unique methods of self-exploitation.

PROVED IN MOUNT FOREST.

Every doctor in this town tried his best to relieve Mrs. J. Witham, of Asthma, and none succeeded. "For years," she states, "I was a dreadful sufferer; nothing gave relief. At times I found it necessary to have all the doors and windows open to get my breath. When in despair I heard of Catarrhazone. I used it and now am perfectly cured." This proves beyond doubt that any case of Asthma is curable with Catarrhazone. No remedy so pleasant, none so absolutely certain as Catarrhazone cure! Try Catarrhazone yourself; it's guaranteed.

HUMOR

YE MODERN TIME.

Tribulations of One Who Tried to Fit Up a Country Home.
Having secured a country home at the most reasonable unreasonable price I could obtain, I determined to furnish it according to modern ideas. Approaching the head salesman of the largest establishment for that purpose, I explained the object of my visit.

"You will, of course," he said, "carry out the main idea for the interior." "I will do anything you say," I replied. "First, however, you must tell me if your training has been sufficient for my purpose."

He drew himself up in a haughty manner. "I was brought up in a saw-mill," he replied, "and since that time have lived with a tribe of Indians." Apologizing, I submitted the plans.

"Your hall," said the salesman, "should have nothing but our latest model of settees and chairs, made from brooms. Here is a sofa such as you should have."

The sofa was composed of sixteen new brooms put together with tennepenny nails by a retired chief of the Ojibwas, who had lost all his money in a government exhibit in Colorado.

"How much is it?" I asked. "Oh, only $40." "Now, as to bedrooms, I am going to furnish them in the usual way—ordinary chairs and ordinary beds."

The salesman smiled—a commiserating smile. "Beds," he cried. "It isn't the proper thing to use beds any more."

"What would you suggest?" I asked humbly. He led me to another room. "This is what we are using now," he said loftily, with a wave of his lily white hand. "Improved elongated soap boxes, made in the form of bunks, with the original label on. Only $30 each, installing extra."—Judge.

The Doctor's Card.
A young physician, at a little social demonstration the other evening, made himself particularly agreeable to everybody. He was bright, clever and interesting, especially to an elderly lady, whom he escorted, without the formality of an introduction, to the dining room. "Dear me," said the elderly lady to the young doctor, "you have given me a most delightful evening. We have not been introduced to each other. The hostess overlooked that we are strangers, and I should like to know your name. I am Mrs. B."

The doctor fumbled in his pocket for his card. And this was the strange circumstance that in some way had got into the collection: "Crown Hill Cemetery. Admit One."—Indianapolis News.

Gunmaking Depressed.
English gunmakers are suffering from the depression of an extended peace, and all Enfield employees who have served less than seven years are being discharged, this order affecting some 600 men. A case like this rather bewilders the sympathies. Of course it is too bad to have 600 men out of work, and perhaps 1,000 children in danger of going hungry. But would not the case be even worse if the factories were working overtime and guns being hurled to the front to make widows and orphans? A boom in gunmaking is not a thing to be desired, however much it might benefit individuals. The capital sunk in the business of making armaments is one of the most formidable obstacles to the reign of peace.

THE ROOT OF NEURALGIC HEADACHE.

Is an irritable condition of the nerves caused by cold. Relief comes quickly from Nerviline, the great nerve-sedative of to-day. "I consider Nerviline a magical remedy for neuralgia," writes Mrs. E. I can also recommend Nerviline for stiffness, rheumatism and muscular pains." In use nearly fifty years; try Nerviline yourself.

Insurance For Horses.

A London (Eng.) insurance company has established an agency in St. Louis to write policies on the lives of valuable horses. Any horse may be insured if he can pass an examination as to his sanity and good health by a veterinary surgeon. The policies range from $250 to $10,000 and the rate is 6 per cent. on $5,000 and 5 1/2 per cent. above $5,000.

WATER IN YOUR BLOOD.

Lots of people have thin, watery blood—they eat plenty but don't digest. When digestion is poor, food isn't converted into nourishment—it's consequence the body rapidly loses strength. To positively renew health, nothing equals Ferrozine. It excites a sharp appetite, makes the stomach digest, forms life-sustaining blood. Abundant strength is sure to follow. If you need more vitality, extra energy, better nerves, then use Ferrozine, the medicinal triumph of the ages. Fifty cents buys a box of fifty choice, plate coated Ferrozine tablets.

After that, when the city began to grow larger, this old log schoolhouse was pulled down and a square brick school, two stories high, containing six rooms, was put in its place. At the back, near the school was a little wooden room, which was used as a kindergarten. They had four stories altogether, three for the school and one for the kindergarten.

At first our school courses had only two flats, but another flat and more rooms were put on and at the present time we have three flats and twenty rooms. There are two good sized halls, the lower one being used for assembly, while the upper one is used for dancing, etc., the floor being waxed. On the first floor we have a singing and music room, and every day certain rooms go down from three to four and learn different pieces. The walls of each floor are hung with large, beautiful pictures, donated to our school by some

Our school was the first to let the children go home at the regular hours and not keep them after hour. Each room is a good size. While sent forth to fifty pupils. There are nice, comfortable seats and two large blackboards. Each will having with pictures, a separate room, names, such as Shakespeare's home, with a Miller room, Michael Angelo, Hoffman, Raphael, and many others.

The kindergarten is situated down on the first floor in the tower part. There are so many little children here they are always coming running and playing in the afternoon half going in the afternoon, and the other half in the afternoon. Miss Green is the main teacher and has three assistant teachers. The little ones learn how to do many things which is great help to them. Kindergarten is Mr. Opposel our principal, office, where a teachers' meeting is held once a week. Above the office is the library, where all the needs of the school and different books are kept.

The town was steadily growing, and the citizens and trustees agreed that the little tug school house would soon need to be enlarged. And now the school was torn down, and a new one built. It was made of brick, and was about a square brick building with a steeple.

It was a school of four rooms. Three extra teachers were added. The staff of the old academy ones, although more modern style. The lessons were taught in a more suitable manner, and the teachers were more than the former ones. They found it important to make progress.

Boys and Girls

Sixty years ago the children of the small town called Chatham went to a little low, log school house situated on the same plot of ground where the present Central school stands. It was a square building constructed in the very commonplace fashion yet in those times considered quite modern. The walls were of boards laid and driven from the stove which had not have the proper draft, and the blackboard it was the same as the walls and ceiling, only a few of the boards were black, and the students darker. The outside of the

But as the years passed by the building was found to be overcrowded, and so two ward school, we added, which accommodated the pupils south of the C. F. K. track and across the creek.

About twenty-five years after their former attention the trustees saw fit to build a large school and away with the three smaller ones. So after a good deal of discussion was decided upon.

First class carpenters, painters, plumbers, etc., were hired and

When the bell rings in the morning all the pupils assemble on the long platform—the weather permitting—if not in the halls, teachers take their respective positions and the morning exercises and the religious hymn is sung by the Gloria and Lord's Prayer chanted. After these exercises principal makes his daily announcements.

An idea of the work done can be obtained from the exhibits in the halls. Here are maps, water color paintings, card-board work, wax modelling, paper folding, plastic moulding, etc., this work being carried out chiefly by the sixth grade pupils. While the higher classes do free

For all that, last year it was proposed to hold a school fair instead of the annual concert. This bright idea was carried out to a great success and the exhibits of the school work, native products and vegetables was far beyond the imagination of the teachers, and they also were much surprised at the shows which were received.

So now dear reader this is but a slight glimpse of the banner school, which turns out so many intelligent pupils every year. But words cannot express all, and you, your friends ladies are so fond of retaining archaic and really relics of the time when women were simply the chattels or slaves of their husbands. Take, for instance, the wedding ring. What is that but a modern substitute for the chain or fetter, or perhaps the metal badge, of the female slave of the past? Then there is the custom of throwing an old shoe. In ancient times a ruler would signify his displeasure by casting his shoe at

MAILED SEP

There have been numerous instances of people marrying whose ages were vastly different, but the recent case of Senator Aivitt and his wife is probably the most unequal love match that has been chronicled during the last hundred years. Aivitt was an Italian lawyer, and a widower. At the advanced age of 101 he became enamored of a young woman of 28. So ardently did he press his suit that she accepted him, and the ill-assorted pair were made man and wife.

Kipling is thrilled by struggle, by love; he is thrilled by strife and passion, the primal instincts and passions, the brutality, fearlessness to the point of ferocity which he feels the Oriental has reached to the world as no other European nation.

THE PATIENT DARKY.

The Hon. John Sharp Williams, leader of the minority in the House of Representatives, says that one day while leisurely driving down a road near his home town in Mississippi he observed a darty reclining under a tree near the roadside. The negro

"As far as that? You must find rather lonesome here."

"No, I can't say so, I do."

"Perhaps you are not one of the lonesome kind."

"No, I'm not. But you <sup>were</sup> mortgaged this claim for $400."

"Yes."

"And I couldn't pay and they foreclosed on me."

Thousands of willing hands would have averted the catastrophe if it were not for the fact that everybody realized that nothing could be done.

Strong men groaned in anguish and women wept with their hands and faces hidden.

And fair women looked on with cheeks and gleaming eyes.

What had happened?

Was it a horrible accident?

Worse than that?

Oh, far worse!

The man at the bar had struck leaving three men on bases, and home team had lost the game!
