

WILLIAM MOFFAT, A FORMER BRANTFORD BOY, MET SAD DEATH

Three Killed in Wreck at Wanstead—Two Others Are in Hospital at London Suffering From Frightful Burns and Injuries.

(Canadian Press Despatch) LONDON, Nov. 11.—Death in its most horrible form, cremation alive, in wreckage of their cabooses, following a rear-end freight collision during the intensity of one of the most severe blizzards that has swept this part of the country in many years, came to three Grand Trunk trainmen between Wanstead and Wyoming, 45 miles west of London, on the Sarnia branch, at 5 o'clock yesterday morning.

News of the calamity, because of the paralyzing of the telegraph system by the storm, did not reach London until after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when express No. 4, then in hours overdue, pulled into the depot and reported having been held up on the west side of the blockade, resulting from the collision.

Terrible Stories Told by Those There The stories of the three injured London trainmen are of the most ghastly character, the accounts of the deaths of the three victims cremated and of the rescue of Engineer Hall, as the flames licked on the splintered timbers about him being horrifying.

A crew, headed by Conductor Moffat, one of the men burned to death and Engineer Hall, was called from London at midnight to relieve men coming from the east on a manifest freight. They left London at three o'clock, and according to members of the crew the locomotive was not then in condition for the run after its

A Brantford Boy

William Moffat, who met such a terrible death in the wreck on the Grand Trunk yesterday, is a son of Mr. David Moffat, Duke street, and a former well-known Brantford boy. He left here 10 years ago to work on the railway, and had resided in Sarnia. He is survived by a wife. His brothers Ernest and Jack were in Sarnia last night, but the remains had not arrived there then. The sympathy of many Brantford friends will be extended the sorrowing relatives.

CITY COUNCIL IN SESSION—MEETING WAS ABBREVIATED

Two By-Laws Were Passed, One For Hydro Commission and One For Closing of West Street—Various Other Matters Are Disposed of.

Two by-laws were submitted at the City Council meeting last night, one for the election of a Hydro-Electric board and another for the closing of West street for Bell Memorial park purposes. The session was rather listless, but there was at that some dispatch to the proceedings. Various items of interest to ratepayers were touched upon all of which are summarized below for Courier readers.

Board of Works The Board of Works reported as follows. That the claim of Michael O'Laughlin for injury to auto from overhanging tree was paid, it having been found that tree was on Rawdony street.

That the following communications be referred to the City Solicitors:—M. S. Howitt of Oct. 23rd (Lawrence street); Brewster & Heyd of Oct. 14th, (re Mrs. Lueker).

That the following communications be referred to the City Solicitors:—Joseph P. McHugh of Sept. 19th; Brewster & Heyd of Oct. 4th, (re Whayman); L. M. Metcalf of Oct. 25th.

Mr. A. C. Lyons appeared before the council in regard to Lawrence street. By narrowing the street private property would be damaged, said Mr. Lyons. It was, in its way, a main street. He protested against having it narrowed. A few years ago, property owners received the worst of it at that section when St. Paul's Avenue was closed.

Ald. Suddaby said that in 1905 the city council introduced a by-law making Lawrence street 57 feet 3 inches in width, but the by-law was not put into effect. The original width long battle against the storm on its way from the east. They made Komoka in safety, but were then travelling under the greatest difficulties and in the working of the block protection were compelled to pull into siding. There they remained until the water supply was almost exhausted and fearing further trouble from the locomotive, Hall concluded to dump his fire and abandon the train. Another freight had in the meantime pulled in behind him. It was likewise in trouble but was fit for further going.

The crew of the second train concluded to reduce fourteen cars and freed of that much of the load they picked up the dead engine and placed it six cars from the head of their train. The caboose off the abandoned train was also dropped on the back end, the cars being left out of harm's way on the siding.

The train then proceeded westward and made Kingscourt Junction without stopping. Shortly afterwards, however, the water supply threatened to give out and the train stalled near Bear Creek bridge, one mile east of Kingscourt.

HYDRO IS PROMISED TO BE TURNED ON ABOUT MIDDLE OF JANUARY

Ald. McFarland, chairman of the Fire and Light Committee, submitted a report last night from Hydro Engineer Ireland on the progress of the work in the city. January 15 is approximately the date when it is expected that Hydro will be turned on. The report of the engineer covered all phases of the work. The brickwork on the Greenwich street substation is complete, the concrete roof on, and the high tension wall installed. Equipment for the station is coming in satisfactorily. All material is on the ground for the 26,000 volt transmission line. All the poles are up for the distributing system, and the line gang is now at work stringing wire. Unfavorable weather, however, has retarded progress considerably.

The concrete foundations for the ornamental light system are all in, and cable and lamps are here. Some 2,000 feet of trench work is completed but the department is waiting for the cast iron standards which have been delayed.

Engineer Ireland expects the ornamental lights will be going January 15, and the other system in the latter part of the month.

TRAGEDY OF LAKE IS STILL A MYSTERY

No Clue as to the Identity of 600 Footer Which Turned Turtle in Lake Huron—Many Other Boats Are in Trouble on the Great Lakes.

Many Are Missing

PORT HURON, Mich., Nov. 11.—When the Tug Sarnia City returned this afternoon after an all night watch over the big steel freighter, which lies upside down in Lake Huron, she brought no additional information as to the identity of the unfortunate vessel. The name of the derelict remains far beneath the water and the waves are still rolling high.

Captain Reid of the tug, returned more firm than ever in his belief that all of the thirty or forty members of the crew of the big freighter, must have been drowned. The wreck net having been reported until late yesterday, it was difficult to ascertain when the disaster occurred, and where it took place. Early this forenoon no clue had yet been obtained as to the identity of the steel freighter which overturned with the probable loss of from 25 to 40 lives during the terrific storm which swept Lake Huron during the last two days. The fact that the huge vessel is lying bottom up, eight miles out in the storm swept lake, has convinced local mariners that the ship's crew had practically no chance to escape.

The Tug Sarnia stood by the wreck all night and her captain had promised to return here as soon as he could make a hasty investigation by daylight. Life savers also prepared to go to the scene of the disaster.

PORT WILLIAM, Ont., Nov. 11.—The terrific gale which has been sweeping across the lakes since Saturday is still unabated.

The Inland Navigation Company Big Passenger Steamer Huronic is aground on Whitefish Bay. The Tomlinson steamer, either the Hartwell or James B. Davidson is reported sunk off Goose Cap Point. A steel freighter, which is unidentified, has been found floating bottom up north of Port Huron. Forty lives perhaps were lost. An unknown steamer stranded on Gull Rocks with twenty-eight men on board and in grave danger. Unknown steamers are also reported ashore at Isle Royal, Copper Harbor, Point St Ignace and Whitefish Point. The Merchant Mutual Line Steamer Acadia is reported on reef near Agate, Mich., while the Rapoong, Harwood is high and dry near the mouth of the St. Clair River. Twenty vessels are overdue at this port some of them several days. Among them are: The Frank H. Peavey, Mayhew, A. S. Upson, Barge Tyrone, Joseph Wood, C. R. Grove, Dundee, Tarrant, Chief Winger, Rapoong, Midland King, F. B. Wells, Sultanina, L. C. Smith, Newona, Fairmont, J. A. McKee, Athabasca and Alberta.

The last mentioned steamer is reported at Whitefish Point. Local mariners say the storm is the worst since 1860.

TAYLOR TRIAL OPENS TO-DAY—JUSTICE KELLY CHARGES JURY

James Taylor. Taylor appeared in the dock and was taken out again.

JAMES TAYLOR

Taylor Appeared in the Dock and Was Taken Out Again.

Jury is Sworn in—Some Delay at Opening of Proceedings.

Crown Has Complete Array of Plain Facts Against Prisoner.

Some considerable time before the assizes at which James Taylor, the murderer of Charles Dawson, the lad who was murdered in the vicinity of Cainsville, was to hear his fate opened, this afternoon at 1 o'clock, in the Court House, every available seat in the court room was taken, and many stood. The court room was cleared to all save the jurors and witnesses, to all save the jurors and witnesses, to all save the jurors and witnesses, to all save the jurors and witnesses.

For Naturalization Papers—A number of applications were made for naturalization papers on behalf of foreigners.

When the prisoner entered the room all eyes were turned toward him. He walked with his eyes to the ground and with a steady gait. He was dressed in a grey Norfolk suit and overalls. He was again taken from the court-room after having been placed in the dock to make way for the grand jury upon re-entering. In each instance he was handcuffed to an officer.

Judge's Charge. You have been summoned to appear on behalf of the Crown, and have various public duties to perform. There is only one criminal charge— that against Taylor for murder. While the county was to be congratulated on a general absence of crime, yet this one case is the most serious which can happen. You have nothing to do with the actual trial as such, but simply to hear evidence to see if there is enough to warrant the placing of him on trial for the capital charge. If you find a true bill he will have the opportunity of making his defence. The British law and custom was that however grave the charge, the accused must not be put directly on trial for a criminal offence until there was the finding of a grand jury that such a charge was warranted. As he had before said, the charge was murder. Homicide was not in all cases murder, or even manslaughter, as sometimes, in self-defence, same was justified. It was murder if the person who committed the act meant to kill another, or if he meant to cause such injuries as to lead to death. It was likewise murder if a man doing an unlawful act killed another during same, or out of premeditation. In this case what they would have to deal with was that prisoner went walking with a boy

QUEBEC HOUSE OPENS TO-DAY

There Was Great Eclat Prior to the Reading of Speech From Throne.

MILITANTS AT THEIR OLD TRICKS

Bomb Throwers and Arson Squads Leave Traces of Their Work.

(Canadian Press Despatch) LONDON, Nov. 11.—Militant suffragette arson squads and bomb troops were at work in several parts of the British Isles during last night and succeeded in doing a considerable amount of damage.

The Cactus House, at Alexandra Park, Manchester, containing a collection valued at $50,000, was badly wrecked by a bomb; Begbrook, a finny mansion near Bristol, was gutted by fire; and the pavilion of the Bowling and Tennis Club at Catford, in the southeast of London, also was burned down.

On the scene of all the outrages quantities of sawdust, literature and petroleum cans were found, but no clue to the criminals was obtained.

Kilgour at Sunnybrook Farm here. Seventy teams are competing and are drawn from Guelph, Galt, Woodstock, Collingwood, Agincourt, Markham, Ayr and other places in Ontario. The association and guests to the number of 500 were entertained to lunch by Mr. Kilgour.

GREAT BRITAIN TO BE MISTRESS OF AIR AS WELL AS OF SEA

LONDON, Nov. 11.—Speaking at the Lord Mayor's banquet last evening at the Guildhall, Winston Spencer Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, warned the country to look for the biggest navy bill so far when the next budget is introduced in Parliament, and declared that Great Britain is determined to win the aerial supremacy of the world.

The First Lord went on to say that the development of the German and other navies compelled increased expenditure and greater exertion than ever before in times of peace. The Government would, he said, embrace every opportunity of abating competition in armaments, but as long as such competition existed, England would never hold aloof.

Speaking of the aeronautic possibilities, Mr. Churchill said the government intends to develop this branch of the nation's defence. He maintained that the British hydro-aeroplane, although still only in the experimental stage, was superior to all others.

POLICE TROUBLES ON AT KINGSTON

The Students Carried Everything Before Them in a Recent Riot.

(Courier Special) KINGSTON, Ont., Nov. 11.—The City Council had the police force under review last night when a resolution was submitted for the appointment of a committee to investigate the recent riot and destruction of property by the students of Queen's University in honor of the defeat they administered to the McGill rugby team. It was shown that the police force was handicapped by regulations that should be discarded, and that their number was too small to patrol the city. The opinions expressed at the council meeting will be dealt with by the police commissioner.

Ald. Fitcher wanted to know who issued the permit for the building of the house on the thoroughfare.

Ald. Hollinrake thought a false impression existed. It was not the intention to reduce the width of the street as it now stood. The committee wanted the street left as it stood.

Ald. Suddaby insisted that it was not right to force the lady to move her house, when she built in good faith on property she thought was her own. In response to Ald. McEwen, Ald. Suddaby said other owners would have to be paid for property taken from them.

The by-law to change the width of the street was held over until the next meeting.

CHICAGO HAS REAL COMMISSION

Will Try to Probe the Cost of Living For the Household.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Chicago has a "cost of living" commission. It was organized last night when Mayor Harrison sent to the City Council his list of appointments to the new municipal markets commission, which will study the municipal markets with a view to cutting down housekeeping bills. The commission will endeavor to determine to what extent consumers would profit by the establishment of municipal markets, and authorized to inspect all food-handling agencies.

MOST POWERFUL TURBINES IN WORLD

Aquitania, Mammoth Condenser, is Being Fitted Out With Them.

(Canadian Press Despatch) NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—A cable from London to The Tribune says: "Wonderful turbines will drive the mammoth Condenser Aquitania, which is now having its engines installed at Clyde Bank. They have a total weight of 14,000 tons and to enable them to be lowered into the hull of the ship, one of the four great funnels has not yet been placed in position. There are more than a million turbine blades, the combined length of which is more than 140 miles. The blades vary in length from one and one-half to twenty inches.

These turbines are absolutely the latest production of marine engineering. Thousands of pounds have been spent in experimenting and full use has been made of the great experience gained by the Cunard Company in the construction and running of their ocean turbine ships, the Carmania, the Lusitania, and the Mauretania.

BURGLED AT KINGSTON

Smashing a pane of glass in the door at the rear of the store, burglars secured an entrance to the store of the Takito Auction Company on Princess street last night while the proprietor, A. G. Johnson, was at lunch, and made off with a tray of gold watches valued at $300.

Y.W.C.A. Literary

The opening meeting of the Y.W.C.A. literary club was held last Saturday afternoon in Victoria Hall at 3.30 p.m. Those who braved the inclement weather were amply repaid by the exceedingly interesting hour which was spent.

The president, Mrs. Phillip Buck, presided, and after a delightful piano duet, given by the Misses Sweet and Montzambert, introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Scott Ross, principal of the Margaret Eaton school of literature and expression, Toronto.

The speaker commenced her series of interpretations of "The Ring and the Book" by Robert Browning, and the recital was a thing of artistic excellence and earnest effort. Possessing, as the reader does, a great charm of person and dignity of soul, her readings were both impressive and healthful. She has a real interest in literature, and in an energetic and enthusiastic teacher.

On Saturday last she dealt with "The Ring and the Book" as a whole, giving the complete setting and resume of the poetry, and concluded her lecture with the reading of Browning's wonderful "Oh lyric love, half angel and half fiend—apostrophe to his wife."

On Dec. 3rd Mrs. Ross will give her second lecture to the club, and will deal with one of the principal characters "Guido," and it is hoped that many will avail themselves of this literary treat.

The executive of the club regrets exceedingly that it was necessary to limit the club membership, more being unable to accommodate more at the regular meetings. The public is cordially welcomed to the open meetings.

On Nov. 22, the club will hold its regular meeting when the afternoon will be spent with "The Dwellers of the Forest Primeval." Miss A. Harold will give a paper on Indian Herbs, and Miss G. Raymond, one on "Indian Oratory." Mrs. Henry Yeigh will deal with current events. All the members are requested to be present.

Among those noticed in the gallery at the Dufferin Rifles inspection last night were: Mrs. (Col.) Howard, Mrs. (Major) Genet, Mrs. Phillip Buck, Misses Buck, Mrs. (Col.) Palmer, Mrs. (Capt.) Colquhoun, Mrs. (Capt.) Babinchey, Mrs. George D Watt, Col and Mrs. Muir, Major and Mrs. Gordon J. Smith, Mrs. Barrows, Miss Doyle, Major Hamilton, Miss Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Newman, Mrs. W. G. LADIES' TAILORING AND DRESSMAKING

Nuptial Notes

GROBB-HARLEY.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized this afternoon when Miss Anna Craig Harley, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Harley, and Mr. Robert Gordon Grobb, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Grobb, were united in marriage. While the wedding march was being played by Mr. George C. White, the bride entered the drawing room on the arm of her father. Little Miss Mary Grobb acted as flower girl and Miss Edna Hesse of Woodstock was bridesmaid. The groom was attended by Mr. Thomas Jackson, of Toronto.

and the Rev. T. E. Holling performed the wedding ceremony.

The bride looked lovely in a beautiful gown of ivory charmeuse trimmed with seed pearls and duchess lace, the customary veil being caught in a quaint little mob cap with orange blossoms and carried a nosegay of bridal roses, and lily of the valley. Miss Mary Grobb was very sweet in a Kate Greenway dress of pompadour net over white silk, and wore her grandmother's wedding bonnet. The bridesmaid looked very attractive in a gown of pink charmeuse with an overdress of pale blue brocade lined on edged with sable and poke bonnet of black velvet and carried pink roses.

The mother of the bride wore a handsome gown of Madonna blue brocade satin with touches of American beauty roses. Mrs. Franklin Grobb was beautifully dressed in hat to match.

After the ceremony, Miss Helen Ivey of London, wearing old rose crepe de chine with overdress of Dolly Yardon crepe and little French hat of black velvet, sang sweetly, "Beloved, it is Morn."

The house was artistically decorated with palms, chrysanthemums and roses.

After a buffet luncheon, Mr. and Mrs. Grobb left on their wedding trip the bride wearing a smart navy blue costume with black fox-fur and small black hat. Upon their return, they will reside in Toronto.

The regular meeting of the Wesley Epworth League was of a special nature last night. A large crowd was in attendance to hear the fine programme arranged by Mr. Roy Collins, the president. The meeting was opened by singing a hymn which was followed by a number of selections on a Victrola, operated by Mr. Robinson, which was much enjoyed by the audience. Mr. Liddy then gave a splendid address on his travels through Europe, which was very instructive, as well as interesting. Mr. Robinson then gave a few more selections from the gramophone. The evening was then brought to a close by giving Mr. Robinson a vote of thanks. A debate will take place in the school room of the church next Monday by the literary committee of the League. ### Rich Men Insure

Insured for $412,403

The largest life insurance claim paid in 1912 on this continent was $412,403, on the life of Charles Silverson of New Ulm, Minn., and the second was $350,000 on the life of T. T. Reid of Montclair, N. J.

The largest in Canada was $143,750 to the beneficiary of Benjamin F. Pearson of Halifax, and the second, $135,352 on the life of Frederick W. Thompson of Montreal. The payment of $30,212 on Charles M. Hays was third.

The above extract is from a recent issue of a Toronto paper. All those men knew the value of life insurance, and availed themselves of its benefits—and what is true of them is true of almost every successful business man.

Since you must realize the necessity of making provision for your old age, if you live, or for your family in the event of your early death, can you do better than follow the example of such shrewd, prosperous men?

Our booklet, "A Few Facts," explains why you should place your insurance with The Imperial Life. Write for a copy today—it is very interesting and it's free.

ONE MORE ADDED TO THE LONG LIST

Of Women Who Owe Their Health to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. John Cabot Recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills to All Who Suffer from Backache, Headache and Nervousness.

WHITE HEAD PERCE, Que., Nov. 10.—(Special)—As a remedy for women Dodd's Kidney Pills hold an enviable place in the estimation of the people of Quebec, and Mrs. John Cabot, a highly-respected lady living here, adds her name to the long list of those who stand ready to tell of the good work they are doing.

"My trouble," Mrs. Cabot states, "started from a cold, and I suffered for six years. I was already tired and nervous. I was greatly troubled with my back, and at times wore on neuralgia, rheumatism and Bright's disease added to my pains. I had dark circles under my eyes; I perspired freely with the slightest exertion, and my perspiration had an unpleasant odor.

"I could find nothing to relieve me till I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. I can heartily recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all who suffer from headache and nervousness.

Nearly all women's troubles are caused by diseased or disordered kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills bring back youth to women by curing their kidneys.

Dean Starr was elected president of Kingston Historical Society, which will publish documentary volumes of the religious, social and political history of the city.

Humberto California, an Italian, was taken to Montreal hospital early on Sunday with a bullet that penetrated his left lung and spine. He refused to say how it happened.

THE BYE-ELECTIONS.

The London Free Press points out that seven Dominion bye-elections have been held since the Conservative victory of 1911 with this result: South Kentford: Liberal majority at general election 619; at bye-election 26. Liberal reduction 396. Richelieu: Liberal majority general election 734; bye-election 258. Liberal reduction 476. Macdonald: Conservative majority general election 161; bye-election 794. Conservative gain 633. Hochelaga: Conservative majority general election 1373; bye-election 2,273. Conservative gain 900. Chateaugay: Liberal majority general election 401; bye-election Conservative gain 145. Conservative gain, 185. East Middlesex: Conservative majority general election 661; bye-election 400. Conservative loss 261. South Bruce: Conservative majority in general election 103; bye-election Liberal majority 115. Conservative loss 218. Total Government gain 2,590. Total Government loss 478. Net Government gain 2,112.

THE GLEBE PROPERTY.

It looks very much as if Chief Josiah Hill, Secretary of the Six Nations Council, made a good point in the letter which he sent to this paper with regard to the Mohawk Glebe property. In this connection he said in part: "The Glebe property" was not given for the support of a missionary, for he is supposed to receive his support from the society that sends him, but it was given as residential grounds for a missionary while the Indians lived in that neighborhood. "And, now, since the Indians no longer live in that neighborhood and no missionary laboring among them has resided thereon for at least forty years, and hence can no longer be and is not now used for the purpose for which it was surrendered, it is but reasonable to assume that the government should resume possession and apply the same in a manner most beneficial to the majority of the Indians."

The situation is that the city desires to acquire the property for manufacturing and residential purposes and that representations have been made at Ottawa to this end with proposed payment to the New England Company.

To an ordinary lay mind it would certainly look as though the chief had established his claim that the results of any disposal should go to the coffers of the Six Nations. This contention is largely on the basis of what the Courier has always claimed in connection with the present Market Square—that the land was given by the Indians in trust to be used for market purposes in perpetuity (so confirmed by the courts) and that with any removal of said market the property would automatically pass to the original vendors.

OLD LAND POLITICS.

Unless all the indications fail, the Asquith Government is likely to be defeated in an early appeal to the people. The wonder is that the Administration has lasted so long. In the first place, it is not the habit of the people of the Old Country to keep one side in power for any great length of time. Disraeli, who became Premier in February of 1868, was succeeded in that office by Gladstone in December of the same year. After four years Disraeli got back again, and after six years Gladstone was again in the saddle for five years. Salisbury succeeded with a year of office, when he was ousted by Gladstone once more, but returned to power after eight months in opposition. The Salisbury cabinet lasted for six years, with Gladstone back for two years, when he retired in favor of Lord Rosebery. That was in 1894, and next year Salisbury was again successfully holding the reins for seven years when on his death he was succeeded by Balfour, who was Prime Minister for three years, making ten successive years in all for the Conservatives. The Liberals were returned in 1905 with Sir Campbell-Bannerman as Premier for three years and since then Asquith has been in the saddle, making eight continuous years in all for that side. It will thus be seen, with one exception the present ministry has lasted longer than any other of modern days.

In the second place Asquith took the sceptre when Bannerman had lost his grip, if indeed, he ever possessed any, and matters were at sixes and sevens with many separate divisions to consider, Nationalists, Labor, Socialists and Radicals.

It was generally considered, even by its own friends that the administration could not last long but it has and the explanation is "Asquith." He has not been in the limelight like his clever, but erratic lieutenant, Winston Churchill nor like that other clever demagogue, Lloyd George, but all the same, while less obtrusive, he has been the corner stone, like many another man in other walks of life, who has been the backbone while others have made the show.

Always quiet and dignified, his true worth to his side has not until lately been fully appreciated. Of late, however, his outstanding ability has been generally acknowledged in the British press and leading men of all shades of politics. In fact by most he is regarded as a greater parliamentary chief than Gladstone, of whom in the life and letters of the late Henry Labouchere recently published, we learn that he and Chamberlain and others regarded as more or less a political trickster.

However, even Asquith's remarkable personality does not seem likely to much longer save off the inevitable crash.

Night is Coming

While the blessed daylight lingers, let us work with might and main, with our busy feet and fingers, also with the busy brain; let the setting sun behold us tired, but filled with honest pride; for the night will soon enfold us, when we lay our tools aside. When we're in the church-yard lanes, where the weeping willows lean, there's one thing and one thing only that will keep our memory green. If we did the tasks appointed us, we lived our speeding years, then our graves will be annotated with a mourning legion's tears. All our good intentions perish when is closed the coffin lid, and the world will only cherish and remember what we did. Nothing granite, monumental, can preserve your little fame; epitaphs are incidental, and will not embalm your name. Nothing counts when you are sleeping, but the goodly work you've done; that will last till gods are weeping round the ruins of the Sun. Let no obstacle confound you, let no work till day is o'er; soon the night will gather round us, when we'll sleep to work no more.

BELISS WAS FREED.

KIEV, Russia, Nov. 11.—Mendel Beliss after his acquittal by the jury last night on the charge of murdering the boy Andzew Yushinsky in March, 1911, was quietly released at a late hour and taken to the Scateiff Brick Works, where he was formerly employed. There he met his wife with some members of his family and several friends and on the invitation of the manager they all passed the night in the superintendent's house.

TRAGEDY OF LAKE STILL A MYSTERY

(Continued from Page 1.) For many years on Lake Superior, the probability is that many more vessels have met disaster and that several days will elapse before all the damage done can be learned.

Believed Lost. BUFFALO, Nov. 11.—Lightship No. 82, carrying a crew of eight persons and stationed in Lake Erie off Point Abino, fifteen miles west of the city, is reported lost by incoming vesselmen and is believed to have foundered during the recent storm.

Wreckage of the lightship floated into Buffalo harbor this morning and was picked up, on the beach at the foot of Michigan street. The floaters consisted of a boat railing, two or three doors, apparently of a boat and several life preservers, marked "United States L. V. 82." The ship carried a crew of six men.

The lightship was gone when we passed her anchorage this morning at 5:30 o'clock, said Captain E. A. Dupuis, master of the ore carrier, Champlain, after docking his steamer this morning. "There was no sign of the light vessel and we decided that the boat either had gone to the bottom or had run down to this city. The fact that the lightship is not in port strengthens our fear early this morning that she was driven from her anchorage in the gale and went to the bottom."

The Champlain is one of four freighters which passed Point Abino early this morning. Residents of Point Abino, six miles from the lightship station reported the ship not in sight.

Rose House, lighthouse inspector, left aboard the lightship tender, C. G. for the light vessel's station, as soon as its disappearance was reported to him. The vessel was a steel craft, 150 feet long with a 30 foot beam.

May Be Disaster. FORT WILLIAM, Nov. 11.—Immediately on receipt of the advice of Captain Foote of the Steamship Hamonic that he had sighted what he took to be the Steel Freighter Leafield on the rocks at Angus Island the Steam Tug, J. T. Horn, was dispatched to the scene of the disaster. The tug arrived back in port late last night with the information that no vessel was aground on the island other than the old hull of the Monkshaven, which was wrecked some years ago. The supposition is that Captain Foote had either mistaken the old wrecked hull for the Leafield or if a vessel had been wrecked there she had slid off into deep water and sunk.

The Leafield was loaded with steel rails for the Canadian Pacific Railway. She is several days overdue.

General Bramwell Booth received a hearty welcome at Winnipeg on behalf of the west.

The Cash Intrigue

By George Randolph Chester (Copyright, 1902, by the Bobbs-Merrill Co.)

"A miser, doctor," Breed smilingly expostulated, "is a man who hoards his money for its own sake. He never uses it for pleasure or comfort; he never even puts it to work. But this money of mine by the mere fact of its being here is a tremendous dynamo, by the mighty current of which I can sway almost the entire social and economic universe—to its own good, to its own glory." he boasted, adding, "With it, when duly increased, I can right great wrongs, change unjust laws, destroy and build anew entire civilizations, shatter and recreate governments. Think, doctor! Handled with my experience and the genius of young Kelvin, this money has already bankrupted nearly every enemy I had in the world, destroyed the inequity of the New York Stock Exchange and given me absolute control of every mile of railroad in the United States. No miser's money could have done that."

"Incidentally," observed Zelpban, "several hundred thousand people were thrown out of work, a thousand or so starved to death, a few hundred committed suicide and other hundreds deserted their families."

"For their iniquities the Lord shall bring suffering upon his people," solemnly declared Breed, and reached down a nervous hand for his Bible.

Zelpban looked at him sternly. "I want you to come out of this place as you add step by step, be ordered. 'No, no!' objected Breed nervously. 'No, I must come in every day, doctor—just a little while.'"

"Yes, I suppose you must," admitted Zelpban. "I'll give you thirty minutes every day, but some one must be with you."

"My granddaughter usually comes with me," explained Breed. "She is the only one besides myself who knows the combination to these locks, and only we four—Lillian and Kelvin and you and I—know of its existence. You must guard this secret well, Zelpban."

"No danger of my telling it," scorned the doctor. "I don't want to ruin any human soul with the knowledge that all this money is here, guarded only by four bolts and your handful of armed guards. There's a curse on the stuff. More than enough to live on has never done any one any good. Look at yourself!"

"What is the matter with me?" asked Breed quickly. "Oh, nothing," said Zelpban quietly, "only you are losing your mind, that is all. If you don't keep away from this silent brooding you'll be a jibbering idiot in less than a year. Unless you obey me implicitly, I shall leave you. I had a notion to do so this morning, but Mr. Rollins came and I changed my mind."

"Rollins?" exclaimed Breed. "Is he here? Good! I must see him at once." "You'll do nothing of the sort," asserted Zelpban, closing the door after him.

"Not see Rollins? Nonsense!" exclaimed Breed as he threw the bolt and touched the button to turn out the light. "This is important. I must see Rollins."

"Important or not, you are coming out with me for a half hour's walk before you see any one."

"Then you may go," declared Breed, turning on him with sudden senile fury. "Leave Forest Lakes as soon as you like; go now!" "I'll not do that either," announced Zelpban flatly. "I'm interested now, and I intend to remain."

liberately leaned back, though with a pretense of helping him, until her rounded shoulder touched his cheek.

"Don't go," she said, sinking her voice two or three feet below its ordinary conversational tone.

"Phillip suddenly drew his cheek away from that insidious touch, angry with himself that, until reason came to his aid, his blood had leaped to the unspoken call."

Herbert offered his hand to Lillian, who, barely touching it, poised herself upon the gunwale and sprang with a splendid muscular effort far up the bank. As Kelvin stepped out he once more looked at his watch.

"You will pardon me if I hurry on?" he said.

"Oh, we are all going," returned Lillian. "It's too late for the fish to bite any more anyhow."

 Utah and Delaware, now at Ville-

 Camerazzo had been recommended

 he promised to do, but when the men

There was a retort courteous pas-

 the magisterial member of the police commission. The magistrate was quoted as having said at the police commissioner's meeting that he noticed Ald. Spence wanted to fight the police. Other remarks were made about the Minister of Finance. The worthy Alderman took occasion last night to say that any fight with the police department would be a legal one. A wrong construction had been placed on his words by Magistrate Livingston. What he had said was
 "if the police threw down the gauntlet let it would be picked up." There was a legal manner for the council to do so. Any controversy he might have with the police would be perfectly parliamentary and legal and the magistrate was not warranted in making the assertions he had.

THE CITY COUNCIL IN SHORT SESSION

Commission should consist of three members, one of whom shall be the Mayor and the other two to be elected in accordance with the statute at the same time as the mayor and aldermen of the city, and that the City Solicitor be instructed to prepare the necessary by-law.

The committee had doubled the number of transformers and thus exceeded their estimate. They had to do this in order to take care of high tension, as well as street lighting lines.

The report was carried without discussion.

Hydro-By-law. The Hydro-Electric by-law called for a Board of Commissioners of three members, two to be elected and the Mayor to sit on the board ex-officio.

The Council went into committee of the whole on the matter, Ald. Pitcher occupying the chair. The member elected receiving the highest number of votes remains for two years, the next remains for one year. After that each member elected remains two years. If two members are elected, the man having the highest assessment acts it. If a vacancy occurs during the year, the council can appoint a man to fill the job until the expiration of the term.

Ald. Hollinrake wanted to know if salaries were to be paid. Ald. Spence said the Water Commissioners received no salary but an annual grant. If the Hydro-Electric Commissioners behaved themselves properly, most likely the council would see its way clear to follow the precedent established in connection with the Water Commission. The by-law was carried without dissent and it is now up to the people to elect their commissioners.

West Street Closing. Ald. Suddaby submitted a by-law for the closing of West street adjacent to Grace church, for Bell Memorial Park purposes. The by-law went through the council without objection.

Objection Raised. Ald. McEwen objected to the payment of F. J. Bullock, arbitrator, in regard to some property on Edwin St.

The bill was $25. Ald. Suddaby insisted that Mr. Bullock had done some work and earned the money. Ald. Spence observed that the city was in possession of the property and it was supposed to have belonged to Mr. Wilkes. Ald. Spence understood Mr. Wilkes never had any claim to the property. Ald. McFarland said that the Board of Works before deciding on any arbitration should have found out whether Mr. Wilkes owned the property or not. There is a paid official to find out these matters, why find out by hiring an arbitrator? Ald. Suddaby replied that it was not the business of the Board of Works to find out, but Ald. McFarland insisted that the Board of Works could have asked the solicitor. The account of Mr. Bullock was held over.

The Turner Case. Thomas Turner will be sent to the Home for Incurables. His residence for years and some months ago was dumped into the city. He has caused trouble at the hospital and the city must keep him. At Toronto it will cost the city $5 per week but it is the only thing the city can do. Turner was born in Brantford but has lived on the city for 21 years. Ald. Spence introduced the resolution which was carried. Mayor Hartman had been imported a dozen times by the hospital authorities to get Turner out of there as he was an incurable. His limbs were paralyzed. The city could not help itself. The clerk will communicate with members of the Turner family to secure, if possible, payment towards his keep.

NOTES OF MEETING. Ald. Pitcher wanted to know if the law main on the Cockshutt Road had been safeguarded against flood this year. The Mayor replied in the affirmative.

Ald. Hollinrake put up another fight for Thornton's Limited, fined in the police court $100 and costs, even after the building was burnt down and the nuisance thereby abolished. The magistrate asked the Sanitary Inspector to withdraw the complaint in view of the fire, but the inspector refused. Therefore he imposed the fine. Ald. Hollinrake thought the fine of $100, not the costs, should be remitted to Thornton's. The resolution was carried, there being no dissenting voice.

TORTURED WITH TERRIBLE ECZEMA

Had To Wear Rubber Gloves Until "Fruit-a-lives" Cured Her.

GRAND LANE, QUE., JAN. 2nd, 1910. "My wife was troubled for three years with Eczema of the hands, which made her hands almost useless. The doctor gave her several ointments to use, none of which had any effect. He also advised her to wear rubber gloves (she wore out three pairs).

I persuaded her, as a last resort, to try "Fruit-a-lives". The effect was marvelous. Her hands are now cured. We both attribute our present good health to "Fruit-a-lives".

"Fruit-a-lives" positively cures all Skin Troubles because it is the greatest blood purifying medicine in the world. See a box, 6 for 50¢—trial size, 25¢. Ask dealers or from Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

override a by-law. Let's be careful! Ald. McFarland: "This marquee puts a blanket on adjoining business. There's no question about it."

Ald. Pitcher: "Nobody ever stops until they reach the Courier office." Mr. Campbell agreed to have the matter left over pending an enquiry into the by-law.

Paris News

(From our own Correspondent) PARIS, Nov. 11.—The council met last evening to take final steps in the local option by-law. All members were present with the exception of Ald. Laskey.

There was no discussion on any part of the by-law, but a special deal of red tape procedure had to be gone through. Each section of the by-law was moved, seconded and passed, and after the necessary three readings had been given the required formula had been given to submit to the people. Voting will take place on January 20, 1914, along with the municipal elections.

The Mayor will attend in the council chamber on January 2nd and when each side will have the opportunity of naming their scrutineers.

The Catharine street drain, which has been definitely settled at each of the last four meetings of the council, was again the fore. At the close of the meeting it was decided to lay a close drain which would give a temporary measure of relief and leave most of the work for next year, and the matter was left in the hands of the streets and sidewalks committee to act. Three residents of Catharine St. were present last night to complain that the work had not been started.

Ald. Torrance, chairman of streets and sidewalks, stated that he understood that when the matter was left to that committee they could do what they saw fit, and they had considered it too late in the season to start work. More discussion followed, and if the weather abates the laying of the tile will take place at once.

Ald. McEwen, who was brought to Grand Toronto on the charge of burglariously entering the house of Wm. Kendrick last Thursday, pleaded guilty before Magistrate Patterson yesterday, and was remanded a week for sentence. Most of the stolen property was recovered.

McEwen, who was a pedlar for a Galt house, had delivered some goods at Kendrick's, and saw that Mrs. Kendrick was alone in the house. Later he saw the woman leave, and seized the opportunity to enter. A neighbor saw him depart and gave the police a description which led to his capture.

Division Court was held on Friday last. Robert Veal sued W. E. Henderson for $60 which he claimed was due him on a house deal. Judgment for $40 and costs.

Dr. Fasken sued H. Huson and the L. E. & N. Railway for $12 damages to his garden. L. E. & N. employees had destroyed the fine fence allowing Huson's cattle to wander on to the complainant's property, doing the amount of $12 damage. The case was adjourned until the next sitting of the court.

Mrs. Margaret Wilson claimed $10.40 from Dr. D. C. King of Peterboro, balance due on two pups sold to the defendant. Judgment in full for the amount of claim.

A number of small garnishee proceedings completed the list and the court adjourned until January 6th. Rev. T. A. Woodside of Brantford will lecture on local option in the Presbyterian church school room tonight.

HOW ENGLAND DRIVES HOBOES OFF THE ROADS

Workhouse With Way Tickets on Leaving Helps Honest Men—Hopeful Experiments.

In England, says the London correspondent of the New York Evening Post, the wandering hobo is nothing like so painful a social problem as in some countries. With all the camaraderie of the road, we have nothing here at all corresponding to such unions or guilds of beggars as in China levy tribute from every shopkeeper. Nor, in spite of the poverty of the city slums, can there be seen here such spectacles of mendicancy as distress the traveller in Naples, and other parts of the continent. We are glad to see that the English railway companies are scarcely worried at all by attempts of our out-of-work to steal a ride. This is not presumably because the English tramp is more fond of walking than the American hobo, but simply because the distance between one big city and another is comparatively so small that it is not worth while to run the risks involved in surreptitious journeys by the cars.

At the same time no one who goes about much on English county roads, especially those in the neighborhood of London, and other centres of population, can avoid frequently meeting persons who are evidently more desirous of a dole than of a job. Begging it is true, is a punishable offence, but it is easy to keep within the law by means of a pretence of selling tapes, or shoelaces or groundsel. Within the last few months, however, the lazy tramp, as distinguished from the bona-fide workman who has fallen on hard times, has found himself confronted with a new condition. What the automobile is doing for the pedestrian in general, a new method of poor relief is doing for the vagrant in particular. It is driving him off the road.

The Old Plan and the New. According to the old system, a tramp who had been trudging the highway during the day could apply in the evening for admission to the casual ward of the nearest workhouse. Here he would be provided with a mat and a bed. The next morning, instead of being set free to continue his journey at once, he would be set to work at some manual task—usually breaking stone or picking oakum. He would spend all day at the work, and be provided with meals, and at the following morning he would be discharged after breakfast. But as soon as the workhouse gates closed on him, he would be left to his own resources as regards getting something to eat before the supper that awaited him in the next casual ward in the evening. If, therefore, he happened to meet a charitable-minded person he could apply for help on the ground that he had nothing wherewith to satisfy his hunger during the day.

In a large number of counties the adoption of a new plan called "the way ticket system" has deprived the habitual tramp of his excuse for begging. When he leaves workhouse, he is given a ticket which entitles him to a half pound of bread and an ounce or two of cheese at some appointed store on his route. A further reform differentiates between the two types of wayfarers. If an applicant for shelter in the casual ward convinces the master of the workhouse that he is not a mere tramp, but an honest seeker after work, he is allowed to leave on his own after adding to the ticket without putting in a day at stone-breaking. A proof of his good faith may show a testimonial from some responsible employer given not more than a month previously, or a labor exchange ticket, or one of Lloyd George's insurance cards. Or perhaps, he can give satisfactory evidence that he is traveling to some place where he can find employment. In any case, once he has satisfied the workhouse master that he is really after a job, he is excused the usual day's delay in the workhouse, and can start again after his night's rest with a "way ticket" providing for his meal. This ticket has spaces on which the master marks the date of the man's arrival and departure and where his next halting-place will be. It becomes accordingly an equivalent to a through pass, guaranteeing food and shelter at state expense.

Not Welcome to the Vagabond. This scheme, though a boon to the honest worker, is anything but welcome to the vagabond. He is beginning to ask himself whether, after all, the life of the road is really worth living, or the poor-law authorities have taken the public into their confidence in the matter. Throughout Surrey, for instance, there can now be seen on every official notice-board a placard entitled "Caution to Beggars." An Appellate Committee of the Supreme Court has adopted the way and food ticket system, so that "no wayfarer need now want for food during his day's journey." It further requests all persons not only to discourage begging by declining to give food or money to beggars, but also to report all cases of begging to the nearest police station. In addition to these placards, the Sanitary authorities have printed no less than 100,000 handbills for distribution. Everybody within the county now knows that if he gives a meal to a beggar, he is really helping him twice, inasmuch as he has already provided for himself through the "rates" or local taxes.

To make matters worse, from the tramp's point of view, several boards of guardians in Surrey are now making it a rule to discharge no casuals on a Sunday morning. If that would normally be the time for their release, they are detained in the ward a day longer. As Sunday usually gives beggars their richest harvest, this rule has provoked many and vehement maledictions.

The way ticket system when once started, has spread rapidly by its own impulse. One of the first counties to adopt the plan was Sussex. Within a few months a large reduction was reported in the number of persons passing through the casual wards of that county. This meant an influx of the most undesirable class of vagrants into the neighboring counties, which were compelled to adopt the same system in self-defence. So the tramp's map of England is gradually being covered with black spots, until presently he is likely to be confronted with the alternative of emigration or work.

While this reform has been in progress in the country, London has been trying an interesting experiment of its own. The first step was to standardize the casual wards of the metropolis. Until recently, they were under the control of separate local authorities, with the result of wide differences in administration. In some of them the tramp had a much easier time than in others, and a knowledge of these local peculiarities naturally affected his choice of a resting place. Since April of last year all the casual wards of London have been under the control of the Metropolitan Asylums Board, now days, no matter which of them a vagrant enters, he will find precisely the same dietary, the same task of stone-breaking, or what not, and the same regulations and restrictions. The unifying of the administration has made it possible to reduce the number of casual wards from 28 to 17, while still providing sufficient and easily accessible accommodation in all parts of London.

Further, there has been tried—in an experimental area in central London, including the Embankment and other places where the homeless poor large resort—what might be described as a kind of clearing house system for tramps. An advisory committee has been formed, on which are represented the poor law authorities, the police and the leading charitable societies. When a policeman on duty in this area between 10 p.m. and 2 a.m. finds people sleeping out, he gives them vouchers and sends them to the central office of this advisory committee. This office is in telephone communication not only with the casual wards, but with a number of voluntary receiving agencies. When a homeless person presents a police voucher, the officer in charge decides for which agency the applicant would be most suitable, and arranges accordingly for his food and lodging for the night. A register is kept and on the following day each case is carefully investigated, and an effort is made to find work for those who are not hopelessly unemployable. If a man refuses to take a voucher offered him by a policeman or to enter the casual ward or institution selected for him, he is dealt with under the vagrancy act, and soon finds himself in prison. Hitherto, the police have always been slow to take proceedings under the vagrancy act, in view of the absence in many cases of any suitable accommodations for those whom they might find sleeping out. The vagrant could often plead that he had applied at the nearest casual ward, and that the workhouse plan there is, no such reason for hesitation.

A hopeful feature of these and other recent changes is the deliberate attempt now being made by public authorities to discriminate between the different types of homeless poor. The chief defects of poor law administration in the past have been on the one hand, too little consideration for the unfortunate but deserving, and on the other hand, too little severity towards habitual and deliberate vagabonds. The tendency of recent legislation, as shown in the insurance act, the establishment of labor exchanges, etc., has been to help those who are willing to help themselves. H.W.H.

At a meeting of the vestry of St. Jude's Church last evening, it was decided to extend the call to Rev. Mr. Jenkins has not been heard from as yet in reference to his acceptance. He is said to be an excellent preacher and very active parish worker.

PROTECTION IS BADLY NEEDED

System of Level Crossings is Being Established in the Holmedale.

Protection to the people of the Holmedale against the level crossings of the Lake Erie and Northern Railway was urged to be brought up before the Dominion Railway board at once at the City Council meeting last night. Ald. Spence charged the Board of Works with overlooking important things when dealing with the Railway Ald Suddaby, replying that the railway had come to own the city in anything it wanted to carry out. The excavation of Kerby Island and the protection of the big sewer under Jubilee Terrace also gave the alderman authorities some concern.

Ald. Charlton thought the city's sewer at Jubilee Terrace should be protected against the new railway. Ald. Suddaby thought the sewer was a good deal lower than the railway. Ald. Spence did not think the way in which the railway had secured all their rights had been very well handled. The board of works had handled everything. Level crossing rights in the Holmedale had been given away without restriction in spite of the fact that they were near a big school. No arrangements had been made to protect the city in regard to sewers, level crossings or anything else. Ald. Suddaby replied that he fought the Holmedale route vigorously, but could do nothing. Neither could the city, either in regard to crossings, sewers, or anything else. The city had an order to deepen the channel, but when the work would start, nobody knew.

Ald. Charlton moved, seconded by Ald. Spence, that the City Solicitor be instructed to write the Dominion Railway Board relating to the Jubilee Terrace sewer and level crossings in the Holmedale.

Ald. McEwen said he was glad to note that Ald. Spence had a change of heart in reference to the Lake Erie and Northern Company.

Ald. Spence said he hadn't changed heart a bit. He still believed in the Holmedale route, but he did not believe in letting the city's rights re-level crossings and sewers, be neglected and people put in

The Schultz Bros. Co., Limited, have stocked several carloads of both Milton and Hamilton red pressed brick with a view to overcoming the delays in waiting for shipments, that has been so often the cause of delaying buildings under process during the past seasons. As all bricks at our brick plant are kept under cover from storm and wet weather, we can deliver just as required at job, thus insuring dry materials through winter seasons. We trust this will prove a convenience to the building trade.
