

WARSAW HAS FALLEN

BERLIN, Aug. 5 - (By wireless to Tuckerton, N. J.) - Warsaw was taken this morning by German troops, according to official announcement made at German army headquarters.

THE SAD DEATH OF MR. WILLIAM JAMES; KILLED IN AUTO MISHAP

His Automobile Ran Into a Swamp Off Side Road and His Neck Was Broken.

A very sad fatality occurred at about midnight, whereby Mr. William James, milkman, 156 Marlboro street, instantly lost his life.

Mr. James, together with Mr. Ab. Howarth, took a trip to Hamilton last evening in an Overland runabout passenger car owned by the former.

On the return journey they evidently mistook their way and got onto a side road about two miles south of the Hamilton road just above Ancaster.

They were manifestly heading for the main road again when the mishap occurred. On the side road, at a point where there is a declivity, a water trough is situated, and back of that a swamp.

Immediately after the trough was passed the impressions left by the wheels showed that Mr. James, who was driving, had turned to the right, or else the wheels skidded.

At any rate, the machine ran into the swamp and turned turtle with Mr. James underneath.

Howarth was also partially caught and his left leg fractured.

Hamilton, Ont., Aug. 5.—One man was instantly killed and another seriously injured shortly after midnight near Ancaster, when an automobile turned turtle.

The dead man is William James of Brantford. Albert Howarth, son of the proprietor of the American Hotel at Brantford, suffered a broken leg.

They were returning from Hamilton and in the fog missed their way. The car skidded along a ditch on a grade for a distance of forty feet and then turned completely over.

AN APOLOGY London, Aug. 5.—A Reuter despatch from Christiania says: "Germany has informed Norway that the sinking of the Norwegian steamer Minerva was due to unfortunate circumstances which led the commander of the submarine to believe the vessel was British."

Germany has expressed deep regret and a willingness to pay damages. The Minerva was sunk late in May while on her way from Shields to Christiania. The crew was landed at New Castle, Eng. The Minerva was a vessel of 2,415 tons, and was owned by Jacobson and Sons of Christiania.

becomes apparent. Where yesterday it was believed that $3,000,000 would cover the loss it was today asserted that probably $5,000,000 would be nearer the correct estimate.

HEARD IN LONDON London, Aug. 5, 4.25 p.m.—The first news of the fall of Warsaw was received in London this afternoon in a message transmitted by wireless telegraphy from Berlin.

DEEPLY IMPRESSIVE INTERCESSORY SERVICE WAS HELD LAST NIGHT

In Common With the Rest of the Empire, Citizens Joined in Prayers to the Almighty at End of First Year of War.

Brantford City officially recognized the first anniversary of the Declaration of War by an assembly of its citizens in prayers of intercession to Almighty God.

Following the intercessory meeting proper, Mayor Spence took charge of the proceedings and recruiting speeches were delivered by Judge Hardy and Mr. W. G. Raymond.

The crowd was immense thronging the ground floor, hundreds having to stand, while the galleries were filled to capacity.

That good old hymn, "O God our Help in Ages Past," written by a German when Germans defied the world to obtain religious freedom, were present in force. The platform was erected at the eastern side of the building and the speakers could be easily heard.

The meeting opened by a selection from the Dufferin Rifles Band, a medley of airs, splendidly executed.

That good old hymn, "O God our Help in Ages Past," written by a German when Germans defied the world to obtain religious freedom, was listened to with reverent and prayerful attention. All the overseas detachments of the various regiments were present in force.

CLEMENCY FOR REBEL PRISONERS

Meeting Asks For Release of Dewet.

London, Aug. 5.—A Reuter despatch from Pretoria, says: "The movement seeking clemency for rebel prisoners culminated today in a meeting of 5,000 women, including 3,000 delegates from the various provinces who petitioned Viscount Buxton, Governor-General of the Union of South Africa for the release of General Christian De Wet."

HURRICANE AT ST. JOHNS St. Johns, Nl., Aug. 5.—Two lives were lost and much property along the coast was destroyed in a hurricane which raged throughout yesterday.

FULL EXPLANATION AS TO LITTLE PROGRESS IN FRENCH WAR ZONE

Facts Given in Full Detail With Reference to the Obstacles Presented in Gaining Every Inch of the Ground.

London, Aug. 5.—An explanation of why so little progress is being made in the French and Belgian war zones, so far as actual ground gained is concerned, is afforded in a statement from unquestionable authority in which the almost insurmountable difficulties of the present struggle are set forth.

"During the last six months," says this authority, "from the North Sea to the Swiss Mountains, there has been veritable siege warfare along the length of the broken line of trenches. In this warfare all strategic manoeuvres are absent, because manœuvres are impossible on ground where every square meter is marked and swept by artillery fire."

"In concrete subterranean works, armored and casemated, flanked by rapid fire and mortars, and linked to one another by marvelously concealed communicating trenches, which are protected by the fire of heavy batteries, dwell the infantry abundantly provided with rifles and hand grenades. To take possession of one of these works, it is first necessary to dismantle these trenches and destroy the material which they shelter."

often happens that the preparation has been insufficient. One or two rapid fire mow down the troops who climb from the trenches ready for the charge, and after suffering heavy sacrifices the attacking party arrive at the first line of the trenches.

"Such offensive movements could not be multiplied nor prolonged indefinitely, as much on account of the moral and physical fatigue of the men as the enemy knows the exact range of their former positions."

"By the victory of the Yser, with the aid of the allied armies closing the line of defence, it effectively prevented the enemy from getting a foothold in Pas de Calais."

SINKING OF TURKISH VESSELS

Is Done Under Humane Circumstances

Petrograd, Aug. 5.—A statement issued by the admiralty relative to operations in the Black Sea says: "Our sailors destroy Turkish vessels because they carry coal and petrol, materials of war, but take every measure to save the crews. The vessels are cannonaded only when they fail to halt after they are signalled."

BANK OF ENGLAND STATEMENT. London, Aug. 5.—The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes: Total reserve, increased £1,361,000; circulation decreased, £45,000; bullion, increased £1,315,255; other securities decreased, £38,850,000; public debt, increased, £30,578,000; notes reserve, increased, £1,312,000; government securities, decreased, £8,284,000. The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability this week is 20.40 per cent; last week it was 16.77 per cent. Rate of discount 5 per cent.

Another Steamer Sunk London, Aug. 5.—The British steamer Costello of 891 tons net has been sunk. The crew, with the exception of one man, who was drowned, has been saved.

THOUSANDS UNABLE TO GAIN ADMISSION AT PATRIOTIC MEETING

Arthur Balfour, First Lord of Admiralty and Premier Borden Were the Speakers.

London, Aug. 5.—Thousands were unable to gain admission to the opera house last night when Arthur Balfour and Premier Borden were the principal speakers at the Imperial patriotic meeting.

"We can say with confidence," declared Mr. Balfour, "that with all our enemies' painstaking ability, there is no miscalculation they have not made except in recognizing the value of ammunition and of great guns, and the enemy which has miscalculated for a year may perhaps miscalculate to the end of the war."

WORK OF THE NAVY Alluding to what Mr. Balfour had said of the navy, Mr. Borden said: "We in the overseas dominions, as much as you, realize that the pathways of the ocean are the veins and arteries of this Empire."

Canada's Message. "Once for all it has been borne upon the hearts and souls of all of us that great policies which touch and control the issues of peace and war concern more than the people of these Islands. God grant we shall so direct ourselves in this war and be so guided in all the momentous results to which it must lead that whether in these Islands or in the overseas nations' citizenship this Empire shall be a still greater and nobler possession in the years to come than it ever has been in all our glorious past."

THE UNITED STATES PAPERS AND THE BRITISH NOTES Papers Across the Border Express Their View With Regard to Stand Taken by John Bull.

New York, Aug. 5.—Following are expressions of opinion from American newspapers on the British shipping notes to America: Col. Henry Watterson in The Louisville Courier-Journal says: "The situation will be seized by the Kaiser press in the United States and the leaders of the Kaiser reservists to bamboozle public opinion and to make trouble. The president will be embarrassed on every hand by cross-current and cross-counsels—some of them thick-headed and half-brained, and some of them crafty and treacherous—all of them more or less cloudy, complicated, problematical. He must adhere to the law. The law will be his only shield and buckler."

The Washington Herald says: "All three of the notes address themselves directly to the contentions of this government in detail and in the friendliest spirit, and are convincing of Great Britain's scrupulous care to avoid interfering with American commerce one step beyond what she considers imperative for her national preservation while contending that all her acts are justified by international law or usages."

depends on our self-denial and organizing capacity, and we shall fail in neither. Those not invested with the responsibility of office can scarcely imagine how the rush of events came upon us in the early months. This is not the time to speak of the past, but to look to the future and see there shall be no failure. I believe there shall be no failure. The first twelve months of the war may not have been all we anticipated, but if there is disappointment with us the disappointment of Germany is tenfold greater. In visiting the hospitals, I have found one spirit of consecration to the cause we all have in hand, an Empire like ours is worth living for and worth dying for, and it is greater now than a year ago.

For those who have fallen we shall not cease to mourn, for the cause to which they consecrated their lives we shall not cease to strive until it triumphs. We are supremely confident it will assuredly triumph, and for that great purpose we are inspired by unflinching determination to do our part."

The Philadelphia Press: "In her assumed control of the sea, Great Britain has always claimed more privileges to interfere with commerce in time of war than this country has ever conceded. It is easier to demolish her armaments than to amend her practice. Her claim of right is not very different from that made by Germany, but there is this difference: Great Britain has caused our ship owners and shippers many heavy losses, but, unlike Germany, she has not sunk an American ship nor sacrificed the life of a single American citizen."

The Pittsburgh Dispatch says: "The reply of the British Government is candid and assertive, but in no sense offensive."

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch says: "The strongest point in the unquestionably strong argument of the British note is the reference to our own record in the blockade of the South during the Civil War."

The Atlantic Constitution says: "With Germany bent on the violation of international law in one direction and England in another we own

THE DISASTER IN ERIE SEEMS STILL WORSE

Latest Estimate is That Forty May Have Been Killed and Financial Loss of 5,000,000.

Erie, Pa., Aug. 5.—Working in relays under a scorching sun, police, firemen and volunteers to-day continued their search in the masses of wreckage piled along Mill Creek by Tuesday night's freshest for the bodies still believed in the debris.

One body was recovered during the night, that of a foreigner, although there were many reports of other finds to disappoint the weary watchers along the ravine. The body was taken to the coroner's morgue, to which place the others had been removed and it was then seen that twenty victims of the disaster had been identified, although it was known that at least 15 more had been lost.

Physicians from the Pennsylvania health department arrived here during the night and at once took up the task of safeguarding the city from pestilence. All persons known to have come in contact with the filthy flood water were ordered to appear at the office of the Erie Health Bureau this afternoon for vaccination against typhoid. It was said that all the disinfections necessary was at hand to spread through the flood district.

ITALIAN OFFICIAL

By Special Wire to The Courier. Rome, Aug. 5.—The following statement was issued to-day at the headquarters of the Italian general staff:

Our heavy batteries, directed an effective fire on the station of Borgo on the railroad near Marcotini, where there is an important freight traffic. The enemy's losses in stubborn attacks on Mount Medatta in Carnia now are found to have been very grave. On the Carso plateau the night of the third passed quietly. During the morning our artillery shelled masses of infantry observed near Marcon and columns marching along the road from Rupa to Doberdo. Our troops have resumed their advance, the left wing and centre made slow progress, but on the right we confined ourselves to maintaining positions previously conquered. The enemy attempted vainly to re-occupy ground held by us on Monte Sei Busi, but was beaten off with heavy losses.

Laid at Rest

The funeral of Mr. Francis E. Roueau took place yesterday from his late residence, 52 Arthur street, to Mt. Hope Cemetery. A large number of friends paid their last respects to the deceased. The Rev. W. E. Bowyer of Calvary Baptist Church, conducted touching and impressive services at the house and at the grave. The pallbearers were Messrs. Ashley, Sayles, Levi Schmidt, Peter Yule, T. B. W. Henderson, Henry Simpson and C. J. Scott. There was a wealth of floral tributes, including those from: The family, Calvary Church Mission Circle, Arthur and family, Mr. and Mrs. Barwell and Miss Barwell (Saskatchewan), Auntie, Wiling Workers of Calvary Baptist Church, the Builders Class, Calvary Baptist Sunday School, George and Louise Triggerson, Mr. and Mrs. John Clements, Mrs. James Gibbs, Mrs. Reid, Mrs. Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Hartley.

OBITUARY

The funeral of Phia Dennis, widow of the late David Dennis, who died yesterday morning, will take place Friday afternoon at 2:30 from the family residence, 47 Chatham street, to Mount Hope Cemetery.

So far about $4,500,000 has been subscribed in the British Empire for the relief of the Belgians.

HAPPIEST DAYS FOR ALSACE WHEN FRANCE RULED HER

Even Under Monarchy She Had Marked Privileges.

Alsace was annexed to France under Louis XIV. by the treaty of Westphalia (1648). Alsace was ceded to Germany in 1871, less Belfort, the defence of which was rendered historic by the French commander, Colonel Rochereau (1871). Alsace was not more French at the moment of annexation than Roussillon, of which Perpignan, in the eastern Pyrenees, was the capital, annexed in 1659, nor the French Comte, east of France, annexed by the treaty of Nimégue, concluded between France and Holland in 1698, nor the treaty with France, the empire and Sweden in 1699, nor the treaty of Aix la Chapelle, by which Flanders was annexed in 1668. Alsace indeed, appears less easy of assimilation than the other countries of Louis XIV. Article 75 of the treaty of Fontenoy, which signed the preliminaries of the peace of Westphalia, reads: "The emperor, for himself and all the serene house of Austria, cede the rights, properties, domains which until now belonged to the empire and the house of Austria. The lands of Upper and Lower Alsace, the provincial prefectures of the ten imperial cities situated in Alsace--Haguenau, Colmar, Schlettstadt, Wissembourg, Landau, Obernai, Rosheim, Munster to the Val St. Gregoire, Kaisersberg, Turckheim, and all these countries and any other rights which belong to the said prefecture, and transfers them all and each to the very Christian King and to the Kingdom of France." Article 79 stipulated that the emperor, the empire and the Archduke Ferdinand Charles would release from oaths of fidelity all officers and subjects of the said territories. Article 89 was confusing and contradictory and conceived with a view to confusion. It said: "Nevertheless it is understood by the present declarations nothing is taken away from the rights of sovereignty ceded." LOUIS XIV'S POLICY "The proper character of the Alsatian," says Albert Petit, "is a reasonable passion for independence more personal than national." The absolutism of Louis XIV. "was never meddling, but respecting local institutions." The contradictions in the treaty of Westphalia were advantageous in a way. The French monarchy hesitated between the way left open by the treaty of Munster, which would have respected the Imperial attachments of the province affording the king frequent opportunities to interfere in German affairs; a French policy of extension of the rights of the king, and the recognition of equivocal clauses of the treaty of 1648. For contemporaneous history, 1648 marks a decisive turn in the history of Alsace. Alsace had been occupied ten years by French troops, and for a long time it was understood they would remain indefinitely. Count d'Harcourt was nominated by the king, lieutenant general of Upper and Lower Alsace, and also of Haguenau, d'Harcourt was a grandee and mixed up with the Fronde and accessible to the temptations and intrigues of the emperor, who held up before him the possibility of a principality of Alsace, which he might be given under the suzerainty of the empire. The nomination of d'Harcourt thus was a happy stroke of policy on the part of the French king. Colbert de Croissy, brother of the great minister, who was then intendan of Mazarin, was appointed intendan of Alsace in 1655. De Croissy was only twenty-six years of age, but already shown capacity when intendan of the Mediterranean ports with residence at Toulon. To his title of intendan was added that of councillor to the parliament of his own territory. "It seems, for a fact while a gibbet stood at the gate of every village, malefactors had every chance of escaping punishment if not taken in the act and tried on the spot. Justice was capricious--a robber was hanged in the pillory or simply expelled without any record or reason for the difference in the treatment of the cases. The inconvenience of this judicial anarchy was aggravated by the absence of common pleas. But most of the provinces finally obtained tribunals of last resort, in which there might be litigation between private parties. The princes of the house of Austria established in 1683 a chamber called "regence," in the city of Ensisheim, the capital of Upper Alsace. This name of regence designated any government established during the minority, or absence of a sovereign. When the French monarchy annexed a province its first care was to create a parliament whose judicial sovereignty was one of the best arguments for the extension of royal government. Colbert de Croissy constituted in 1657 a new council at Ensisheim. The peace of Pyrenees concluded between (DRAWN BY P. MATANIA FOR THE SPHERE, LONDON, AND COPYRIGHTED IN UNITED STATES BY N. Y. HERALD CO.) In this picture the artist shows the Tsarina and her daughters acting as nurses in the hospital of Tzariskoje Selo, a town about fifteen miles from Petrograd. The Tsarina Alexandra Feodorovna is in the centre of the group adjusting a bandage. The Grand Duchess Olga, nineteen years old, is at the extreme left. The Grand Duchess Tatiana is on the extreme right. These two daughters of the Tsar are considered the most beautiful children of royalty in Europe.

THE TSARINA AND HER DAUGHTERS AS NURSES

France and Spain (1659) delivered Alsace from exterior trouble, and the death of Mazarin left affairs in the hands of a young but resolute king. The war with Holland cut short discussions and hesitations on the part of France. Since the commencement of the war with Holland (1672) the French monarchy had turned its Alsatian policy toward a progressive assimilation of Alsace with other annexed provinces. In religious matters the "very Christian king" was careful to treat Alsace with particular liberality--all the more singular in the sovereign who flattered himself to have exterminated heresy by the revocation of the edict of Nantes. Why this toleration of heresy in his new subjects? Is it possible that, after all, these religious wars, so called, were more political than religious? Thibaudau, the conventional and historian, declares that such was the case. A half century after Alsace had been united to the crown Alsace contained 86,000 Protestants, 12,000 of whom were Calvinists, in a population of 257,000 inhabitants. A letter from Louvois shows that Louis XIV. had no intention of persecuting Protestants in Alsace. "I do not know," Louvois says, "on what is founded the inquietude which you show over what is passing in France. His Majesty has no intention of troubling the R. P. R. (religion pretending to be reformed) in Alsace." This letter is addressed to two Swiss at Strasbourg, important furnishers of the French army, and is dated November 17, 1685.

Alsace, in becoming French, became also Alsatian, which she was not formerly. Her moral personality was set free by the fact of her entry into French unity. The princes who held possession of property in Alsace in the eighteenth century were most unpopular. Their lands were exempt from taxation and contributed neither directly nor indirectly to public charges, and for this they were openly accused on all sides of "taking money from Alsace without any good to the country." After the night of Aug. 4, 1787, the "princes' possessions," as they were called, possessions because possessing land, protested against the abolition of their feudal rights, and thus emphasized their quality of parasites. The intervention of the emperor in their favor was one of the causes of the war between the revolution and Europe, and it is why Alsace could see with reason in that national war a war which was somewhat a war of her own, where she combated for her proper cause.

FULL EXPLANATION

Used approximately 2,000,000 men and captured an enormous amount of material. Without allowing the enemy an instant's respite it forced the German general staff to utilize on the western front reserves in barracks and arsenals.

It would be a serious mistake to measure our effort by the ground conquered. The demoralization and wearing down of the German army is the real goal.

The great battles on the western front were fought in Champagne during the months of February and March; between the Meuse and the Moselle during the month of April, and in Artois during May and June.

In Champagne we have taken the enemy's defences a depth of from two to seven kilometres (from one and one-third to four and one-third miles) which repeated heavy counter attacks have not been able to recapture.

Between the Meuse and the Moselle we have captured a hundred quick firers and bomb throwers.

At all costs, left heaps of bodies. To this great success must be added the success in the Bois de la Mort.

In Artois more than 8,000 prisoners, cannon of all calibres, a hundred quick firers and bomb throwers fell into our hands.

Besides these three principal actions, operations of less importance permitted us to take at Fontenay twelve hundred metres of trenches and at Quenivieres twenty-five hundred metres.

The capture of Vauquois, in the Argonne, and Metz, in the Marne, and Wellerkopf in the Fecht valley in Alsace, constituted brilliant victories for our troops.

The French army has gained from its long sojourn in the trenches, magnificent endurance; it has lost nothing of its eagerness and confidence.

THE SITUATION.

It is never an act of pessimism to face facts, and the beginning of the second year of the war finds Germany still in control of Belgium and Northern France, while they have swept through Poland, and now it is announced, via Berlin, that Warsaw has fallen.

This was so much expected that for the last few days it has ceased to be a matter of speculation in London, and instead a vast turning movement of the enemy to the northward of the Polish capital has been exciting the concern of the Allies. The fear is that the evacuation may have come too late to save the armies of Grand Duke Nicholas from the disaster to them which will become inevitable if Field Marshal Von Hindenburg should get astride of the Warsaw-Petrograd railway. That the entire situation on the Eastern front is most critical it would be sheer idleness to deny.

On the Western front matters are just now reported to be quiet, while the Italians continue their slow progress on the Isonzo.

THE INTERCESSORY MEETING.

Brantford, in common with other places the Empire over, did well to hold an intercessory gathering in connection with the commencement of another year of war.

All of religion and all of humanity would perish did we not devoutly recognize a higher and a controlling power, and the fact that under divine guidance all things work together for good.

This to some may seem a hard thing to feel in connection with the present most awful war, but the standard for liberty and high Christian ideals has never floated higher or more proudly than over the cause of the Allies in this most tremendous struggle.

The whole tone of the meeting was characterized by devoutness allied to sincere purpose on behalf of the right and the many hundreds who, with bowed heads, repeated the Lord's Prayer, manifestly did so with tense hearts and uplifted souls.

The close of twelve months of fighting has at last brought home to the full the intensity of this struggle and what the outcome means to the British people and all that they so worthily hold most dear.

Who can doubt that the "Lord God of Hosts" is with us yet, or that in the Divine ordering of things, through a way of deep loss and suffering, the outcome is destined to prove of lasting Christian benefit?

A PLAIN DUTY.

That $20,000 fund or more—you all know about it.

The next question is, What are you going to do about it?

The answer is clear and self-evident—all that you can.

"So many calls!" someone may remark. Well, why not? What about the greatest human call of all, even to the extent of life itself, which the brave boys who have gone, or are going to the front, have so heroically answered?

What is a little personal inconvenience to those of us who remain behind alongside of what they are offering?

There is scarcely an individual who cannot, by a little self-denial, contribute towards the fund in question; and even if individual gifts are small, they help to make up a large and worthy aggregate.

It is the bounden and the self-evident duty of each and every one to do his and her share at this time of crisis. See to it that you are not a laggard with regard to what is a sacred and paramount need.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Every able-bodied young man ought to be in khaki these days.

Have you done your share yet towards the machine gun fund? If not, why not?

That was a great speech which Premier Borden must have made at the London gathering. Even the somewhat short cable report gives clear evidence of that fact.

It is announced that the Russians up to date have sunk some 900 ships in the Black Sea. How's that for a submarine fleet?

Italy has just about decided to help other Allies in the smashing of a way through the Dardanelles. Once more thanks that she is with instead of "agin" us.

The individual doesn't live these days who can keep in out of the wet. Favorable weather out West gives promise of better crop results even than were first anticipated.

When the donkey saw the zebra he began to switch his tail; "Well, I never," was his comment; "There's a mule that's been in jail."

Have You Done Your Bit?

THE CAMPAIGN IN BRANTFORD FOR A $20,000 FUND WITH WHICH TO PURCHASE MACHINE GUNS OR OTHER NECESSARY EQUIPMENT FOR THE CANADIAN TROOPS, IS NOW WELL ADVANCED. A SPLENDID RESPONSE HAS BEEN MET WITH THUS FAR, BUT THE AMOUNT NEEDED IS NOT TO BE SECURED BY A FEW LARGE CONTRIBUTIONS, BUT BY EVERYBODY DOING THEIR PART. THIS BRINGS HOME THE QUESTION, DEAR READER, HAVE YOU DONE YOUR PART?

IT IS NOT POSSIBLE FOR EVERY MALE CANADIAN OVER 21 YEARS OF AGE TO GO TO THE WAR, BUT THOSE OF US WHO ARE LEFT BEHIND, ENJOYING IMMUNITY FROM ITS RAVAGES, CAN DO MUCH TO SEND COMFORTS TO THOSE OF OUR COUNTRYMEN WHO ARE ON THE FIRING LINE; AND, ABOVE ALL, WE CAN SEE TO IT THAT THEY ARE GIVEN A FIGHTING CHANCE IN THEIR EFFORTS TO STOP THE GERMAN ADVANCE ON CALAIS, AND IN TIME TO DRIVE THE INVADING FOE OUT OF FRANCE AND BELGIUM.

IN THE HARVEST FIELDS OF CANADA THE REAPING MACHINE HAS SUPPLANTED THE HAND-WIELED SICKLE; ON THE BATTLEFIELDS OF EUROPE THE MACHINE GUN HAS GREATLY SUPPLANTED THE RIFLE.

What Ralph Connor Says:

"What, then, is the immediate duty of Canadians? To raise large sums of money? Not so much. Old John Bull may be safely trusted to look after the financing of this war. But for Canada two things lie to her hand. Listen to the insistent iteration of Lloyd-George: 'Munitions and machine guns, munitions and machine guns.' Let every Canadian workman and workwoman that can get to a munition factory or gun factory get there, and with all speed. Shells and more shells. Machine guns and more machine guns. WHERE BRITISH SOLDIERS HAVE TWO MACHINE GUNS, GERMANS HAVE FORTY. SHELLS WASTED MEAN BATTALIONS SAVED. WE HAVE TRIED FIGHTING MACHINE GUNS WITH MEN AND HAVE LEARNED OUR BITTER LESSON. CANADIAN SHELLS AND CANADIAN MACHINE GUNS MEAN THE SAVING OF CANADIAN MEN."

Save Canadians Lives by Providing Machine Guns

THE LEWIS AIR-COOLED MACHINE GUN HAS BEEN ADOPTED BY THE BRITISH FRENCH AND RUSSIAN ARMIES, AND WILL BE USED BY THE CANADIANS. IT IS THIS GUN WHICH THE CANADIAN PEOPLE ARE NOW GIVING.

What Sir John French Says:

"Sir John French reports that on Friday last the British, in a counter-attack, re-captured a portion of the trenches lost earlier in the day west of the village. On Saturday night the Germans made two further infantry attacks, which were successfully repulsed. There was no renewal of the action on Sunday. Details of the fighting at Hooge on Friday indicate that THE MOMENT THE GERMANS CAPTURED THE BRITISH TRENCHES THEY RUSHED UP A LOT OF MACHINE GUNS AND MOUNTED THEM, SO THAT BY A CROSS FIRE THEY SWEEPED THE WHOLE FRONT OF THE NEWLY-WON POSITION AND MADE AN EFFECTIVE COUNTER-ATTACK IMPOSSIBLE. The British gained and held the Zouave Wood, but no progress was made in the open. In the face of such experiences of the wonderful efficiency of machine guns in stopping a charge it is startling to learn that the offer of a manufacturer to supply 20,000 Colt machine guns to the British army at the rate of 2,000 a month was turned down in November by General Von Donop, the British Master of Ordnance. He would give his eye teeth to have them now."

NOW, THEN, ALTOGETHER AND NO LET-UP. THE MOVEMENT IS NOMINALLY UNDER THE AUSPICES OF THE BOARD OF TRADE, BUT IN ITS ENTIRE ASPECT IT IS A COMMUNITY DUTY.

YOU ARE GOING TO DO YOUR SHARE—NO DOUBT AT ALL ABOUT THAT—THEN DO IT QUICKLY.

BOTH LOCAL PAPERS WILL BE GLAD TO RECEIVE AND ANNOUNCE SUBSCRIPTIONS.

THIS IS A CLARION EMPIRE CALL AT A TIME OF EMPIRE NEED, AND WHEREVER THAT GLORIOUS EMBLEM OF FREEDOM, THE BRITISH FLAG, FLOATS, IT IS A CASE OF SHOULDER TO SHOULDER FOR KING AND COUNTRY.

SYDENHAM WON

Two rinks of the Sydenham Bowling Club played St. Basil's last evening on the latter's green, eventually winning out by 16 shots. The results were as follows: Sydenham Greenhill, skip 13 W. Scruton, skip 21 Carson skip 14 J. English, skip 22.

SMALL MARKET

The market this morning was larger than last Tuesday, but at that, it was a small display. Mostly fresh vegetables and new potatoes were for sale. The downpour of rain shortly after nine o'clock forced the farmers into the market building. But fortunately it was only a shower.

BAD FALL

Morney, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman McCauley, 80 Mary street, met with a painful accident yesterday afternoon, when he fell downstairs and broke his right arm. The little fellow was taken to the hospital, where Dr. Secord attended the injury.

ORIOLES DEFEATED

The Climbers defeated the Orioles last evening at Agricultural park in a junior league game by the score of 2-0. It was a fast game, taking only 23 minutes to play five innings. The batteries were: Orioles, Spittal and Scanlon; Climbers, VanBuskard and Guenther.

BIG SUCCESS

The first summer dollar day in Brantford, according to reports of many merchants and buyers, was a grand success in every particular. The bargain-seeking crowd were on hand, shopping early this morning, and on entering the business places found bargains galore to the right of them, bargains to the left of them, in front of them and all around them.

WILL BE BEAUTIFUL MOTH

Mr. Walter Brooks sent a very curious caterpillar to Professor Charles J. Bethune of the O. A. College, Guelph, and received a grateful acknowledgement this morning. The professor stated that the species was very remarkable and is called "Abbott's Sphinx." It turns into a very beautiful moth and it belongs to the Humming Bird or Hawk moth species.

LEFT FOR NIAGARA

Lieutenant Morson Smith left the city yesterday for the Niagara camp. He had been, until a week ago, on the staff of the Bank of Montreal and was very well liked there. He formerly attended the Collegiate Institute and was popular in every circle. He was a lieutenant in the B. C. I. cadets and a member of last year's football team. The lieutenant will be greatly missed next year at the Collegiate.

THE RIGHT SPIRIT

Mrs. Sidney Best, who resides at 74 Chatham street, received a letter from her husband, who is Acting Quartermaster-Sergeant of a Welsh regiment, stationed at Porthcawl, Wales. Mr. Best was an English reservist and went back to the Old Country when the war broke out. He had served 11 years and 11 months, just one more month to serve 12 years, being the length of time he enlisted for. He volunteered for another year, which will expire in September. Mrs. Best cabled her husband to continue in the service as the country needed men.

EXPERT BELL MEN

The chimes will soon be placed on the tower of Grace church. A celebrated expert from England, Mr. Hughes, came over for the express purpose of superintending the work, and he will stay here until the work is completed. He represents and is a partner of the oldest firm in England. The establishment has been in charge of the Hughes family since 1540. The reason the establishment has remained in active operation for so long is that the heads place quality and efficiency before everything else, rather than stain their reputation by sending out inferior bells, and running the risk that they will not be put up right. The firm has done work for Westminster Abbey and sent bells all over the world.

KING MAKES AN ANSWER

To a Cable Sent by the Governor-General.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 5.—The following telegram was sent by Field Marshal H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught, Governor-General of Canada, to His Majesty the King on August 4th: "On the anniversary of the declaration of war, I send you in my own name and in that of all loyal Canadians our renewed expression of loyal devotion to yourself and our determination to carry this war through to victory and lasting peace crown the effort of our arms."

(Signed) ARTHUR. The following reply was received: "Buckingham Palace, August 4th: 'It is a great pleasure to receive from you and the Canadian people such an expression of devotion and of loyal determination to bring this war to a successful conclusion, as contained in your telegram. These sentiments were forcibly endorsed by Sir Robert Borden's eloquent speech yesterday.' (Signed) GEORGE."

MORE MEN ARE NEEDED

Not long ago the 2nd Dragons were asked to secure 20 men for the front. They obtained 25, when orders were received to stop recruiting.

Last night Major Brooks received further orders to again recruit indefinitely.

Those desiring to join will report as before at headquarters, the old Masonic building, on Dalhousie street.

RECRUITS

Three more men were added yesterday to the strength of the Dufferin Rifles. These were:

- JOHN McGRATTAN, 24 years old, single, 99 Eagle avenue, 3 years and Batt. Seaforth Highlanders; Scotch. ERNEST TAYLOR, 28 years old, married, Paris; English. GORGE RIDDY, 35 years old, married, Governor's Road; English.

25TH DRAGOONS Dr. Henderson took the service this morning.

To-night at 7 o'clock, a football game will be played with the Thistles on Tutela Park.

To-morrow, weather permitting, the men will take a route march to Burford, camping there for the night and returning Saturday morning.

As announced by Mayor Spence at last night's meeting, recruiting for the Second Dragons has commenced again. Applicants will be received at the headquarters, the old Masonic Temple on Dalhousie street.

RESPONSE IS MAGNIFICENT

For Brantford's New Fund—Additional Contributions Are Announced.

- The response to the appeal for $20,000 or more, for machine guns and other things, is most satisfactory. In addition to the $7,000 already announced, are the following up to noon to-day: Frank Cockshutt $500.00, Dr. Leeming 100.00, Chester J. Harris 400.00, S. Harold 20.00, Geo. Kippax 100.00, Mrs. W. Watt 10.00, H. M. Bredon 5.00, Friend 2.00, A Sympathizer 20.00, Miss Goold 5.00, Dr. Appax 100.00, Mrs. J. G. Cockshutt 500.00, Geo. Watt & Sons 100.00, Geo. Foster & Sons, Ltd. 100.00, Ryerson Bros., Ltd. 100.00, Hartley Foundry Co. 25.00.

FIELD DAY FOR THE FUND There is a movement on foot to have a field day of sports on Saturday afternoon, August 14th. A number of young men who take a keen interest in sport, talked the matter over last night, and started the ball rolling.

It was suggested to hold the games at Tutela Park and take up a collection and donate the proceeds to the machine gun fund. It was also suggested that the programme should consist of games of soft ball, football and baseball. To make the affair a success it was the opinion of those present that a committee be appointed later to select the best players in the city to compose the teams that would line up against each other. It is to be hoped that the boys will get others interested in the scheme and provide a good programme of sport for the date suggested, or some other Saturday afternoon in the near future.

DEEPLY IMPRESSIVE

"Made in Germany" has continued in favor among Canadian men and women.

"We cannot expect our men to hold the trenches at the front if we do not hold them at home," said Rev. Mr. Saunders, chairman of the meeting, in introducing the Rev. Mr. McClintock, emphasizing the sacred character of the service for which the people had assembled. Mr. McClintock read most impressively the words found in Isaiah 61, verses 1 to 14, and then, after Kipling's Recessional had been rendered magnificently by Mrs. Arthur Secord, the entire audience rose and sang the old sweet and familiar hymn, "Lead Kindly Light."

Following this was one of the most solemn phases of the evening, the reading of the intercessory prayers by the Rev. C. V. Lester, of St. Luke's church. The prayers are those specially compiled for this war by the church of England, and include the well-known prayers for the King, the soldiers and sailors, the invocation for peace, and end with the request of God's blessing upon His people. The crowd remained standing, heads bowed in reverence, while the pastor in tones heard everywhere throughout the building, intoned the beautiful words, so old and yet so ever new, of the Anglican liturgy.

Once again the audience sang heartily the swinging marching song, "O Lord, our God, arise, scatter thy enemies, and then followed brief 5 minute addresses from different representative clergymen. "It is easy to be stirred to patriotism but not so easy to be stirred to our duties to God," said the chairman in introducing the first speaker, again reminding the assembly that this was a meeting for prayer and worship.

REV. MR. MARTIN This war leads many to ask if God is a controlling factor in history or does He at times lose control, said Mr. Martin. In such a struggle as the present, one is perplexed. But if we consider the situation of Canada we would find that God had placed her here for some important destiny, even as Greece and Rome were placed in the past. If we always remembered that God is in control and is working out a happy destiny for this nation, then our perplexities would cease. The problem of human suffering—the innocent suffering with the guilty—was as old as the world. Even as Christ suffered for us all, so are nations suffering today and the outcome will be the salvation of our enemies.

REV. MR. BOWYER "The great audience here to-night is an index of the fact that the whole country is stirred as never before," said the Rev. Mr. Bowyer. "Germany in her treachery has forced this war upon the nations. With her self-confidence and the boast of Culture she had set herself up as the leader of humanity and blasphemously forced on the struggle. Hence it is our duty to lay down our lives when the nations were running blood. Unless we realised the tremendous nature of this struggle we would go down," warned the speaker. "Through following false ideals Germany plunged the world into this war. Let us pray that as Canadians and Britishers we will stand always for the true ideals of peace and righteousness as God wishes. He hoped," concluded Mr. Bowyer, "that a universal and lasting peace would come in another year."

MR. McKEGNEIE "We are living in great times, in times when God is working out his purpose in a wonderful way," began Rev. Mr. McKegnie in a lightning speech. "This was a real war. This was a religious war. To fight for a religious duty. This religion was not manifested in sickly sentimentalism or a perverted dramatic instinct but was shown rather in those women who gave their sons to rescue trodden Belgium, (Applause). That meant men and guns and shooting, for even shooting is a religion. Illustrating the number of men Germany had under arms the speaker showed that at the rate Canada was raising men it would take 90 years to attain to Germany's present strength so much are we outnumbered—greater than theirs," and he concluded with a powerful appeal for every one to bring into play the spiritual forces at their command."

ADJUTANT HARGROVE "Why Pray?" was the question Adjutant Hargrove set out to answer. "The more is accomplished by prayer than the world dreams of. Our asking and God's performing brings to pass things that otherwise would not come to pass. The crisis on the Empire is a call to prayer. The cause for which so many have shed their blood is a cause for prayer. Prayer is intended to convey the blessings God designed to give."

DR. MCKENZIE The Venerable Archdeacon McKenzie was accorded a magnificent reception. "Germany," he declared, "was prepared for this war. She manufactured wonderful guns and flying machines and made ready fully-devised means of taking life. Volcanoes of poisoned gas and liquid flames of fire she did not scorn to use. On the other side the Anglo-Saxon race is a peace-loving race. Had the Christian Church been faithful to its duty and carried Christ to all the world there would be no war to-day. He hoped the day would come when every Christian church would seek first Kingdom of God and His righteousness. Germany had thrown off Christ and worshipped Force. This

People of Brussels, Sure of Allies' Victory Soon, Ignore German Invaders

Brussels is not depopulated; the invasion was so rapid that it arrived almost as soon as people had begun to fear it. Few inhabitants had time to flee.

There are crowds in the streets; the shops are open; Brussels does not present the same aspect of abandonment and desolation as other Belgian cities, such as Antwerp and Liege.

But its life has a strange, unfamiliar appearance; it causes an indescribable feeling of suspension, pause and expectation, and at the first moment one does not understand when comes this impression of immobility and stagnation.

It comes from the lack of vehicles. The first thing that arouses wonder at Brussels is the silence. When one awakes one always has the illusion that the city is still fast asleep.

The crowd moves about, quietly, without forming groups (prohibited), and the long, modern streets, clear in the middle, but bordered by tedium and dark lines of people on foot, are pervaded by a sad calm, as if they were in expectation of a State funeral.

The disappearance of vehicles is not absolute; the invader has reserved for himself the monopoly of rapid locomotion. Only motor cars driven by German soldiers in uniform are allowed to circulate. Automobiles are prohibited for the rest of humanity.

MOTOR CARS COMMANDED

Superfluous prohibition! It had been preceded by such a diligent and complete requisition of motor cars and all the means for their production that there is not one, even in the form of a motorcycle, at the disposal of intending transgressors.

The use of the bicycle has also been prohibited and cyclists have been advised by edict that they will be fired on at sight, to say nothing of being punished by fine and imprisonment in the event of their not being killed.

The requisitions of course, have been extended to the horses, and some interesting experiments in the breeding of Barbantine stock are proceeding in the Rhemish and Westphalian fields.

But age and infirmity have saved a small number of horses from the German recruiting agents, and the traffic of the capital is exclusively confined to these few invalids.

And Brussels, which, as it has no motor cars, has also no telephones (reserved for the military authorities), no telegraph (except with Germany), no trains (one cannot leave the city without an exceptional permit) has assumed its present tranquil, collected, lazy, provincial air.

Soldiers, stolid Teutonic types, with broad shoulders, wearing helmets and the spiked helmet or the round police cap on their blond and shaven heads, pass in little groups among the people. They carry rifles and cartridge belts; a strict order prohibits the soldiers from circulating in Brussels without their complete armament. They must always be ready to fire.

Not a glance is turned on the Germans. Without any arrangement, by instinct, the crowd has no desire to see them. For them it has no demonstration either of sympathy or disdain. It is as though they were not.

After having battered down towers and conquered cities, they have arrived on the threshold of the unconquerable. In the centre of the vanquished country they are nothing more than exiles. Worse still, they are non-existent. Wherever they go they find a glacial, unalterable impossibility.

The Germans detest Brussels. They find her docile, but feel her to be irreducible. They have disarmed her, even taking away all the means of rapid communication; they keep under direct control, man by man, all the males capable of bearing arms; and yet they fear her.

NOT HOPE, BUT CERTAINTY

They would understand a sullen submission, the murmuring of an impotent revolt; they would understand manifestations of fear or hatred; but they cannot understand this serenity which is not resignation, this implacable, intangible indifference which is not surrender.

The German would like to know what lies beneath the proud and quiet quality of Brussels, and they remain on guard. It is prudent that the soldiers should never lay down their rifles; there are not too many of them in Brussels, even if people are disarmed.

The people are without arms but something impenetrable unites, sustains, strengthens them. To say hope is little. The people of Brussels have certainty.

They placidly accept all sacrifices because they are sure of the end. So far as they are concerned it is the enemy who deludes himself. The more he rages the more he piles up his own account. And the day will come when the account will be paid.

Nothing depresses them. In all the papers they read news of French English and Russian disasters, but they do not believe any of them. They wait in darkness, but as one awaits at night the coming of the dawn.

NEWS IN DEVIANT WAYS

News in which the people have confidence rarely arrives. The introduction of foreign newspapers, except German is strictly prohibited. A few days ago an unscrupulous youth accused of distributing forbidden journals, was followed on the Boulevard Anspach and struck down among the crowd by a revolver shot.

Running enormous risks, concealing themselves with the precautions of coiners, certain daring people compile stencilled extracts of news from the English and French papers and cautiously distribute them. Each copy costs $2.

Families unite to read them in secret, trembling like conspirators, and the sheets covered with blue characters, pass from hand to hand in a silence full of emotion. But in view of the price, this news is the privilege of the few.

The German authorities have an unshakable faith in the power of the placard. The city is plastered with manifestoes. Every day there is a new crop.

There are official notices, proclamations, prescriptions, prohibitions, interdictions, instructions printed in three languages—Flemish, German and French. Everything is provided for and regulated.

By way of salutary admonition some of the punishments inflicted are placarded, especially if they happen to be capital. One day a Belgian guard succeeded in meriting five years' imprisonment, and for each year the city was fined 1,000,000 francs—total $1,000,000.

BECKER 117TH IN SING SING CHAIR

The Electric Chair Has Been in Use Since 1891—Becker Was the 117th Executed.

Ossining, N. Y., Aug. 5.—Charles Becker was the 117th man to be put to death in the electric chair.

The chair was first used July 28, 1891, twenty-four years before Becker lost his last chance to escape the death penalty.

While the chair has been in use 166 men and one woman have been in the death house. Of this number 116 have paid the death penalty, 32 have got out by new trials, 17 have had their sentences commuted to life imprisonment and 2 created the law by attacking keepers and escaping.

Those who broke out were Cal-liser and Rohl, who escaped in 1893. A week afterward their dead bodies, with a bullet hole in it, were found floating in the Hudson River.

Albert T. Patrick, the lawyer, had the longest record of service in the death house. After six years there his sentence was commuted, Roland Molineux and Dr. Kennedy were the two foremost prisoners to be released by new trials. Mrs. Madeline Ferola, the only condemned woman ever committed to Sing Sing, has had her sentence commuted by Governor Whitman.

The first man to die in the chair in New York State was Harrison Smiler. He was executed by Warden Brown on July 28, 1891, with James Slocum, James Wood and Skisheck Jugugs. William Langley of The Bronx was the 100th man executed.

THE PROBS

Toronto, Aug. 5.—The pressure still remains comparatively low over the Great Lakes causing a continuance of more or less showery conditions in Ontario. From Montreal eastward and throughout the west the weather has been very fine.

FORECASTS. Moderate to fresh winds, mostly south and west, showers in many localities but partly fair to-day and on Friday.

At present the Germans hold a strip of land about seven miles broad on the left bank of the Naraw and every forward step is stubbornly resisted.

A London Newspaper

Declare the President Wilson to be Inconsistent.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, Aug. 5.—While the newspapers generally treat the blockade controversy as a question in the settlement of which Great Britain and the United States are certain to arrive at a friendly understanding, the Chronicle in an editorial declares the stand of President Wilson entirely inconsistent with American precedents.

"Rotterdam, though Dutch, is a port for Westphalia and the Rhineland, the greatest German manufacturing district," says the Chronicle. "It is reasonable to ask that sea-borne trade to and from this district should be absolutely unhampered while Germany not only claims the right to destroy any ship and cargo on its way to any port in the British Isles but has exercised that right by destroying with submarines some two hundred British and neutral vessels. Surely not."

"The legal side—the doctrine of a continuous blockade under which goods destined for enemy territory can be intercepted on the way to a neutral country—is based on this answer. But it was not us who took ground in the ordinary course unless Government itself in the American civil war. If the United States condemns our practice, it condemns a practice to which its own government and prize courts resort when confronted with similar facts."

Speaking of the Neches, President Wilson cites as an example of the British order-in-council, the Chronicle remarks: "It would seem natural in the case to follow the ordinary course unless President Wilson is bent on breaking down the ordinary course and forcing the pace at the cost of severe international friction."

"The Times regrets to learn that America and Great Britain still are at odds over the British 'blockade' of Germany. The stand taken by President Wilson involves some issues of very considerable moment which contain the possibility of a friction, which it is desirable to avoid. Sir Edward Grey is in a strong position, when he emphasizes the peculiar circumstances of the case and recalls how 'during' the civil war, when faced with a similar emergency, the United States had to expand the current practice of international law to meet it. He is perhaps less convincing when he pleads that we have used the order-in-council as lenient" as possible.

"The American complaint is not only that this procedure is illegal but that it brings us no advantages we could not have had by declaring a regular blockade. What we fear is that along the present lines the diplomatic difficulties which this procedure will have in the United States will lead to no tangible results beyond a needless and accumulating irritation. There could be no greater mistake than to suppose that the diplomatic difficulties will have any lasting effect on American opinion."

In conclusion The Times renews its plea that cotton shall be declared contraband thereby making definite the position which it believes likely to lead to additional friction under the present 'vague status'."

Despatches Regarding Warsaw

FRONT OF TEN MILES. London, Aug. 5.—A Petrograd despatch to the Daily Telegraph says: "West of the Naraw between Ostrolenka and Rozan the Germans who have thrown considerable forces across the river are assembling on a front of ten miles a compact body of troops similar to Von Mackensen's phalanx."

At present the Germans hold a strip of land about seven miles broad on the left bank of the Naraw and every forward step is stubbornly resisted.

The Austro-Germans are closing in on three sides of Ivangorod and a few days probably will decide the fate of this secondary fortress, for not likely to make a heavy sacrifice of men."

The order for the removal of the University directs the faculty to leave to-day, and says that if it is found impossible for them to return the courses will be continued at Moscow University, a famous educational institution.

The edict discontinuing the law courts and pending cases will be discontinued, and that sentences will be suspended. A guardian is appointed for the law buildings pending this suspension, which lasts "until further notice."

An order from the governor-general suspended three Jewish newspapers, but the editors have announced that funds contributed by American Jewish organizations will permit the employment of the editorial staffs and provide three weeks pay for the mechanical forces. A kitchen also has been established, where employees may obtain dinner for two cents.

Official plans have been published for the organization of the male civilian population between the ages of 18 and 30 years for military work such as transportation, the building of roads and the like. We still fear. These plans provide that each 1000 shall be under the direction of a "head man," with a centurion for each 100, the "head man" and centurions will receive $1.25 a day while the worker will receive fifty cents a day and his board. The trade organizations of civilians will be turned over to the military authorities as complete units.

Developments on the Russian front are discussed at length in this morning's newspapers. The general agreement is that the situation both around Warsaw and Riga has become more menacing and it will be impossible to save Warsaw. The latest news according to some of the newspapers suggests that the German entry into the Polish capital will not much longer be delayed. The closing in on Warsaw and threatening both the double track railways which connect Warsaw with Russia.

A despatch to The Times from Petrograd says: "During the past week the Russians have been doing their utmost to save Warsaw more for the sake of the Poles than for their own strategic advantage; but it is feared, they were unable to do so."

The Petrograd correspondent of The Daily News who expects the German main blow will be delivered between Warsaw and Ivangorod, says that the situation in Warsaw is calm. "A volunteer postal delivery has been commenced in the city," the correspondent adds. "A citizens' committee has appealed to the people to insist upon enforcement of the prohibited use of all alcohol liquors and the requisition of all food stuffs, so as to overcome speculation."

Although Warsaw has occupied the main public interest during the past fortnight most of the Petrograd correspondents insist this morning on directing attention also to Riga, which is almost equally as important as an administrative centre in the northern region.

"What has been said regarding the danger to Warsaw," says The Times correspondent, "applies with equal force to Riga. The evacuation of the civilian population is proceeding, although still premature to say surrender of the city has been determined upon. The Germans are anxious to capture Riga, because it would place in their hands the line of the Dvina River, enabling them to debouch in the rear of the fortress of Dvinsk and sever the direct lines of communication between Warsaw and Petrograd. The Russian troops already are withdrawing beyond the River Tckau, within fifteen miles of Riga."

OFFICER OF CAR COMPANY Is Arrested in Connection With the Queenston Accident.

Niagara-on-the-Lake, Aug. 5.—Mr. E. R. Dickson, Vice-President and General Manager of the International Car Company, on the Ontario service of which the fatality of July 7 occurred at Queenston resulting in the death of nearly a score of Toronto picnicers, was arrested on a charge of criminal negligence by Her Constable Boyle yesterday, before the opening of the morning session of the resumed inquest. He was arraigned before Magistrate James M. Campbell of St. Catharines, and held in $2000 bail bonds to appear on September 1 at St. Catharines.

No intimation of the action of the Crown was made until the jury had left the court-room yesterday afternoon to arrive at a verdict. The explanation given was that any prior announcement of the action taken might have an influence on the rights of others mentioned in the evidence of the sittings. The negligence is claimed by the Crown to have been Mr. Dickson's failure to maintain proper equipment, whereby lives were lost.

MANAGER ATTENDS INQUEST Mr. Dickson was present during yesterday's session. Although his arrest was known to few, he apparently felt his position keenly, and continually paced the floor of the court room during different recesses.

The arrest prevented the Crown Prosecutor and other counsel reviewing the evidence after the last sitting all day. Magistrate Livingston made the fine very light. It only cost him $1 and costs.

Another county case, that of Jordan vs. Walter Nicholson, was adjourned for a week. There was some misunderstanding and the defendant failed to appear.

Lilian Townsend was accused of vagrancy. She claimed that she was living with her sister and would get work next week. The case was adjourned for a week to give her a chance.

Jack Johnson, not the famous fighter, but a billed man from Paris, faced a drunk charge.

"I am guilty of being full, your worship," said Jack, "but I didn't know that I was on the Indian list in Brantford."

He is out for a few days on his own bail of $50, until further information can be received about him from the Paris authorities.

Arthur Caruthers and Clifford Elstone, both London youths, were caught in the local G. T. R. yards trying to beat their way home from Hamilton. They were vagrants and given a choice of $5 or 30 days. They chose the latter.

JURY RENDERS VERDICT

After considering the mass of evidence taken during the previous sittings, the jury over which Coroner Greenwood of St. Catharines presided, retired shortly after 3 o'clock and returned four hours later. They said: "We find that Harold J. Partridge and others came to their death on July 7 from excessive speed, causing car 68 of the International Car Company to derail and overturn. Said car was driven by Motorman Sidney Boyd, and in charge of Conductor George Caswell. Excessive speed was caused by the ineffective working of the brakes on a wet and greasy rail. We find also that the motorman did all in his power that was possible for him to do with the equipment at hand to control the car. We still find a very slack observance of rules of the company by the officers and operators regarding equipment which includes sand and loading."

Charles M. Lowry of St. David's was the foreman of the jury which was composed of men from this village and Queenston.

EXPERT IS CALLED

Mr. J. M. Campbell, consulting engineer of Kingston, and Crown expert, was the only witness asked to testify at yesterday's sitting. Before he was called Mr. Davidson stated that answers to telegrams sent to Mr. Frederic Barcroft and to the editor of the paper which had permitted Mr. Barcroft to give his views, asking for Mr. Barcroft's attention at the inquest, were fruitless regarding his appearance. Mr. Campbell stated that he was an engineer of experience, having installed electric lines in Ontario and managed one in British Columbia. He considered it necessary to use sand on the line from Brock's Monument to the wharf.

"BAD PRACTICE," SAYS WITNESS. "As a Manager and General Superintendent, what would you say as to practice, if such it was, for the operation of car 68 without sand?" asked Mr. Davidson.

"Bad practice," said the witness. "To further questions regarding the use of this sand equipment in conjunction with the brakes, he replied that it was necessary. In a subsequent answer witness suggested that he would make radical changes in the operation of the road if he were given charge, and Mr. Davidson asked him to proceed further.

STRONG INDICTMENT "I find that the motorman run without sand and had little knowledge of rules governing the road. A man who operates without sand should be dismissed. The Superintendent seems to have no backbone regarding the enforcement of rules. Disciplinary methods are prevented by unions. I understand that the union on this road is very strong. If a motorman is disciplined in one day a waiting delegate appears and suggests that the men walk out. My opinion is that men overlook little things. It is absolutely necessary to keep on the backs of the men all the time," said Mr. Campbell.

LABOR MAN PROTESTS

Before he left the courtroom he was accosted by a union man, who had been present during the proceedings. An argument followed and wound up by the labor representative stating that he would like to hear Mr. Campbell tell the truth and that he was surprised to hear a man of his intelligence make such assertions regarding unions.

Other evidence of Mr. Campbell was similar to that given by civic experts of the previous sittings.

ATTEND THE SCHOOL CASE

Legal Decision Against the Agitators.

Toronto, Aug. 5.—Justice Clute this morning enlarged to the trial which is to be expedited the application by the Ottawa separate school board for an injunction against the Quebec Bank and against the City of Ottawa to restrain them from paying over to the commission funds held by them to the credit of the Separate School Board. The court also refused a mandamus to compel the secretary-treasurer to call a meeting of the board under instructions from Chairman Genest.

The decision of the court to-day leaves the commission appointed by the order in council in entire and unrestricted possession.

A. C. McMaster for the board, argued that the appointment of the commission was unconstitutional.

POLICE COURT

A long session was held this morning in the police court. It was 12.30 before the court was adjourned. The County case of Nettleton vs. Farrington, was probably the longest, as there were two charges against Farrington. One was for assault, and the other for allowing cattle to roam all over his neighbor's garden. Because William Farrington is a volunteer and therefore in the city drilling all day, Magistrate Livingston made the fine very light. It only cost him $1 and costs.

Another county case, that of Jordan vs. Walter Nicholson, was adjourned for a week. There was some misunderstanding and the defendant failed to appear.

Lilian Townsend was accused of vagrancy. She claimed that she was living with her sister and would get work next week. The case was adjourned for a week to give her a chance.

Jack Johnson, not the famous fighter, but a billed man from Paris, faced a drunk charge.

"I am guilty of being full, your worship," said Jack, "but I didn't know that I was on the Indian list in Brantford."

He is out for a few days on his own bail of $50, until further information can be received about him from the Paris authorities.

Arthur Caruthers and Clifford Elstone, both London youths, were caught in the local G. T. R. yards trying to beat their way home from Hamilton. They were vagrants and given a choice of $5 or 30 days. They chose the latter.
