Kossuth—Greatest of Hungarians

THIS noble lover of Liberty was to his beloved Hungary what Patrick Henry was to American Independence. Give me Liberty or give me death meant to Kossuth all that made life worth the living. He lived for ninety-two years, and his long and honorable career was devoted solely to secure for Hungary National Independence. For it he suffered imprisonment and exile. For it he worked as few men have ever worked. His fiery soul was expressed in his writing, and his impassioned oratory thundered across the two continents. All the world read and listened to this high-souled Hungarian patriot. When exiled our government sent the U.S. Steamer Mississippi to Turkey and brought him to our shores as the guest of the Nation. To-day we have millions of Hungarian citizens, each one a lover of Personal Liberty. To secure it they sought our shores, and to a man they will fight to the death to keep forever alive the spirit and letter of our immortal Declaration of Independence. They make good citizens, and like Kossuth detest prohibitory enactments which make the many suffer for the faults of the very few. For centuries Hungarians have as a nation been moderate users of barley brews and light wines. Their votes are always registered against any legislation which proposes to regulate human diet by law. Thou shalt NOT eat this—thou shalt NOT drink that—to those of brave Hungarian blood is insufferable tyranny. For 57 years Anheuser-Busch have been proud to serve their Hungarian patrons. They have helped to make the sales of their great brand Budweiser exceed those of any other beer by millions of bottles. Seven thousand, five hundred people are daily required to keep pace with the public demand for Budweiser.

CHAPTER XVI.
"No, no," she said quickly. "Ah, they don't think so, do they?" As she spoke, she looked wistfully toward the door; and Vane, who read every thought of hers, took her by the hand, and led her back to the entrance.
"You want to speak to them, Diana?" he said.
She made a gesture of assent; her lips parted and trembled, as she looked down upon the stalwart men massed at the bottom of the steps, every eye upturned to her with an eager expectancy. For a moment or two, no word would come; then, in a low voice, but so distinctly that the words reached the farthest fringe of the crowd, and went to the heart of every one of the faithful fellows, she said just two words that mean so much when they are spoken from the heart:
"Thank you!"
It was all that was necessary; it was done so spontaneously, with such heartfelt gratitude, that Vane glowed with appreciation, and the earl murmured "God bless her!" As if to mark his sense of the fact that their welcome was intended for her, he kept in the background, and said no word.

The hall, its vast proportions and antique furniture and ornaments glowing redly in the light of the huge fire of logs in the open stone fireplace, seemed full of servants, male and female; but presently they dispersed, tea was brought in and served on the big oak table, and Diana was free to look round her.
She seemed to have entered an entirely new world, to have passed from the present to the past, for there was scarcely anything that was new and modern in the objects that met her eyes. The very staircase was of stone; the armor, the shields hanging on the walls, the trophies of arms and weapons of the chase, all spoke eloquently of the historic past.
And there were still wonders to come; for, when she and Vane were left alone, and there was silence, save for the laughing voices of Bertie and Mabel, as they went along the corridor, Vane took her into the great banqueting-hall, with its tapestried walls, its rudely carved fireplace, its decorations of antlers, coats of mail, broad-swords and helmets; and from there to the drawing-room, which, though modernized in accordance with the luxury-loving present, was still eloquent of a bygone age, for here there was no electric light, and the soft gleam which fell on priceless furniture, old brocade, illuminated carving and pictures of incalculable value, came from wax-candles in sconces wrought from the copper which had been found in some part of the vast estate. All was subdued in color and design; but so impressive, so grand in its modesty and dignity, that Diana held her breath, as with Vane's arm round her, she looked about her.

Of course, he was not so much impressed. To him it was a familiar sight. He had played about the rooms in this vast castle as a child. Its grandeur, its feudal staidness, were to him almost commonplace; but he tried to project himself into Diana's mind, and her appreciation and admiration gave him pleasure.
"Will you see any more of it, dearest, or shall we wait until to-morrow?" he asked. "I am so afraid you will be overtired."
"No, no," she said eagerly. "I am not in the least tired. It is all so wonderful, so beautiful. I feel as if you ought to be in a kilt, with a broadsword in your hand and an eagle's feather in your bonnet."
He laughed. "I don't know about the broadsword; we shall have to dispense with that, I'm afraid; but you will see me in a kilt, all right, to-morrow. Come and look at the corridor. A good many of the family portraits are there; and it's on your way to your room, where, I expect, Janet, your maid, is anxiously awaiting you. Diana, if you tried with all your might, you couldn't realize the joy, the delight, your presence here gives me. I feel—oh, what is the use of my trying to tell you what I feel!" He drew her toward him and crushed her against his breast. "And to think," as he bent and kissed her, "that I shall have you beside me all my life, that you will move about these rooms and bless them with your presence; that I shall only have to call 'Diana!' and you will come to me!"
As they went up the great stone staircase, he told her lightly of the fight that had once taken place on it between some of the Clan Glenaskel and another clan, which had succeeded in gaining an entrance to the castle.
"Some of them got in, right enough; but, I believe, none of them ever got out again. Behold the portraits of the family. Rum-looking lot, aren't they?"

"Some of the women are very beautiful," said Diana.
"None so beautiful as my darling's portrait will be," Dalesford returned. "There's a place for her there, by the organ. My father was talking the other day of having you painted. It must be done." He saw Janet standing in the doorway with an anxious look on her face. "These are your rooms, dearest. I hope you will like them."
He stood in the doorway and looked at her fondly as she gazed round amazedly.
"Oh, Vane, how beautiful! And it's my favorite color, too! Why, how did you know it?"
He laughed. "Ask the governor. He got it out of you. Oh, he's as artful as a magpie when he likes. But

WOMAN SICK FOR YEARS
Wants Other Women to Know How She was Finally Restored to Health.

Hammond, Ont. — "I am passing through the Change of Life and for two years had hot flushes very bad, headaches, soreness in the back of head, was constipated, and had weak, nervous feelings. The doctor who attended me for a number of years did not help me, but I have been entirely relieved of the above symptoms by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Blood Purifier and Liver-Pills, and give you permission to publish my testimonial." — Mrs. LOUIS BEAUCAGE, Sr., Hammond, Ont., Canada.
New Brunswick, Canada. — "I can highly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any suffering woman. I have taken it for female weakness and painful menstruation and it cured me." — Mrs. DEVERE BARBOUR, Harvey Bank, New Brunswick, Canada.
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from pure roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.
If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

"I'm glad you're pleased, dearest."
"Pleased!" she echoed. "Oh, Vane, it is all too good, too beautiful."
Janet had discreetly vanished into an adjoining room, and of course Vane took advantage of the fact.
"Nothing in this world could be too good, too beautiful for you, Diana," he said. "And now you will rest, dearest, until it is time to dress."
Diana had left Mrs. Burton very much better; but she had implored her to telegraph, and the telegram was lying on the table. It was very short; just a few words:
"I am quite well; do not be anxious about me. Enjoy yourself and be happy."
Mary Burton.
Janet insisted upon her young mistress lying down for awhile; but Diana found it difficult to rest, and was soon up and dressing. She listened for the gong, but in place of it there arose the weird, impressive strains of the bag-pipes.
She went downstairs and found Vane waiting in the hall. He looked up at her with love and admiration in his eyes; and with just cause, for surely no more graceful or more beautiful woman, not excepting even those of the Glenaskel family, had ever descended those historic stairs. She still wore black; but the great Parisian master had "composed" an evening gown for her which, in form and texture, accentuated her lissome figure and the healthy pallor of her face. Vane smiled at her proudly, and, drawing her arm within his, led her to the drawing-room.
The piper was still filling the castle with the strains of the half-martial, half-joyous strains, and, marching round the hall, he now appeared at the door of the drawing-room. He was a giant of a man, six feet two or three, and broad in proportion; he held his head high, his eye flashed fire, he moved with a proud and masterful step, as if he were leading a host to battle; and he led the way to the dining-room, and walked round it twice as the company took their seats.
The meal was a stately one. How could it be otherwise, seeing that the table was laden with silver plate, upon which royal eyes had rested and from which royalty had eaten; that a servant in rich livery stood behind every chair, and that the distant sound of the bagpipes, playing on the terrace, kept up a weird and impressive accompaniment to the conversation.
It might have been too stately a meal but for Mabel and Bertie, who, seated at the end of the table, were full of chatter and laughter. To both of these young people, state and ceremony were just an elaborate joke; and, strange to say, the earl, instead of resenting their levity, regarded them with an indulgent eye. In fact, the old man was far too happy to be critical or censorious; for was not his only son and heir seated near him, and was not the young girl he loved, his future daughter, close beside him; so close that he could talk to her and touch her hand, fill her glass and press upon her some one of the many dainties of the elaborate meal?
Little wonder if Diana, as she sat in the great drawing-room, listening to Mabel's light chatter, asked herself if she were moving in a land of dreams, and if it were actually the fact that she, the schoolmistress of Wedbury, was sitting there in this vast castle, its future mistress. Perhaps she realized it, or nearly realized it, when she and Dalesford walked up and down the terrace which overlooked the ravine, with its torrential river tearing in a silver gleam between the ridges of pine.
She was so tired that night that she slept until the bagpipes proclaimed the hour of rising. It was an early hour, for she moved at no sluggish pace at Glenaskel. The invited guests were expected, and the serious business of selecting and fitting was commencing. In the evening, several of the guests arrived, a murmur of excitement ran through the vast place, guns and fishing rods were very much in evidence.

NOTHING REPORTED DOING. Special to Evening Telegram. PARIS, To-day. Official.—There is no important incident to report.

A TRIBUTE TO THE BRAVE.

LONDON, To-day. A remarkable tribute to the bravery of British soldiers fighting in France, is paid by Field Marshal French in a special order, part of which was published here to-day. The order, addressed to the Second Brigade Army Corps dated Field Headquarters, Nov. 3rd, says in part: "Your Commander-in-Chief watched with deepest admiration and solicitude the splendid stand made by soldiers of His Majesty the King in their splendid efforts to maintain the forward position which they have won by gallantry and steadfastness. His courage and endurance are beyond all praise. It is an honor to belong to such an army."

CAPTURED A BATTERY OF HEAVY ARTILLERY.

PETROGRAD, To-day. Official.—The efforts of the Germans seem to be aimed at trying to break down our front between Visula and Warta. Our offensive on Nov. 19th, met with partial success. In the northwest to-day we captured a battery of heavy artillery, ten machine guns and several hundred prisoners. Stubborn fights on the front of Czestochowa and Cracow are developing normally. On the 17th and 18th we took three thousand Austrian prisoners. In Galicia we have occupied Wisnicz, Gerlicze, Gukla and Ulok.

OFFICER COMMITS SUICIDE.

PETROGRAD, To-day. A despatch from Warsaw, says that the German General's son Bredow von Blom committed suicide at Czestochowa, Russian Poland, after the German defeat.

RUSSIANS BOMBARD KHOPA.

PETROGRAD, To-day. Official.—Russian warships bombarded the port of Khopa in Turkish Armenia, 10 miles southwest of Batum on the Black Sea, whence Turks were preparing for an offensive movement in the direction of different passes of Zatcharckl region, destroying part of the barracks and custom house, blowing up an ammunition depot and setting the place on fire. Important despatches to follow.

FALL OF PRZEMYSL IMMINENT.

PARIS, To-day. It is announced here in a despatch from Petrograd, that the siege of Przemysl appears to be rapidly approaching an end. Trenches are surrendering; fortifications are in the possession of Russian troops. Many trenches are filled with lime confirming the statement of prisoners that cholera is raging in the garrison of Przemysl.

S. A. REBELLION PIZZLING OUT.

LONDON, To-day. The South African rebellion is rapidly fizzling out. General Beyers and his rebel force, suffered defeat near Kimberley, but the General escaped himself. Kirster, an officer, and 74 men and one hundred horses were captured. Von Remberg, a member of the Free State Provincial Council, with 65 rebels was also captured. Commandant Rensberg with 154 men surrendered. Brandford and another commander have done the same at Dewetsdorp. The period for amnesty expires on Saturday. General DeWet, rebel leader, though still at large, and reported to be slightly wounded, is suffering from shortage of arms and ammunition. When the rebellion is suppressed the Union Government will proceed with the original plan to occupy German southwest Africa. Sir David Graaf, former High Commissioner of South Africa and Lady Graaf were entertained at a farewell luncheon at Ritz to-day by High Com.

FRENCH SUCCESSES.

WASHINGTON, To-day. Foreign office despatches to the French Embassy here mentioned the success of the French in repelling German attack in Argonne, as stated in a communication of the War Office, and announced the destruction of German earthworks and supply trains in the vicinity of Rheims.

COMPULSORY PILOTAGE ON ACCOUNT OF MISES.

LONDON, To-day. The British Admiralty announces that owing to the extension of its mine system after November 21st, pilotage will be compulsory in the Humber, on the Tyne River, in the Firth of Forth, in Moray Firth and in the Scotch Firth. It will be slightly dangerous, the Admiralty adds, for vessels to be without a pilot in these waters.

CANADIANS AT THE FRONT.

LIMA, Peru, To-day. The German steamer Luxer, Kessel Line, with three thousand tons of coal on board has suddenly left Coronal, Chile, without having received clearance papers. The German steamer Memphis also has secretly left Sandy Point. Chilean authorities have ordered the capture of the Luxer. According to a private cable received in Montreal from a member of the Royal Canadian Dragoons, the Regiment and Lord Strathcona's Horse are now at the front.

THE AMERICAN FLAG INCIDENT.

WASHINGTON, To-day. Secretary Daniels received to-day a message from Captain Decker, of the cruiser Tennessee, and Captain Omar, of the cruiser North Carolina, acknowledging the receipt of his orders that no action be taken by either ship in Turkish waters without specific instructions from Washington. Neither Commander supplied additional information concerning shots that were fired at the Tennessee's launch at Smyrna several days ago and the State Department also was still without advice.

COMMANDANT REMOVED.

LONDON, To-day. A despatch from Copenhagen says because the German Auxiliary cruiser Berlin now interned was able to pass the Fort at Trondhjem, Norway, unchallenged, the Commandant of the Fort has been removed. An inquiry will be instituted.

Itchy Nose And Running Eyes Cured In Five Minutes By "Catarrhazone"

Bronchial Distress and Bad Throat Believed at Once.

Every day comes news of wonderful cures made by Catarrhazone. Cases are reported and personal testimony is given that proves beyond question the marvelous merit of Catarrhazone.

Bad colds and running eyes it stops in a few minutes. Irritable throat and dry bronchial coughs are helped in a fifty—always cured—if Catarrhazone is used as directed.

Chronic Catarrh in the nose and throat, the sort that keeps the breath rank and maintains a vile, sickening discharge—even that type of catarrh yields completely to the power of Catarrhazone.

Just think of it!

Not a drug to take, not an hour to wait for relief—you just simply inhale the pleasant, piney vapor of Catarrhazone and get well quickly.

"What Catarrhazone did for me in one week was simply a miracle," writes Malcolm R. McIntosh from Sydney. "I had a frightful attack of Catarrh. My ears buzzed and my head was full of noises. The end of my nose was red and itchy—on the inside it was sore and encrusted. I had vile droppings from my throat and was very sick. Relief came quick—so I kept up the treatment and was absolutely cured by Catarrhazone."

Nothing else will so effectively and quickly cure you as Catarrhazone. Get the 100 cent; it always does the trick. Small size 50c; sample trial size at all dealers.

Just think of it!

A CHRISTMAS BOX

For Our Soldiers and Sailors.

A box from home—-from you! A box especially made containing 40 Gem Cigarettes—1-2 pound of Tobacco and a box of Matches for 50c. Every 50c given to the Tobacco Fund by you means $1.10 worth of smokes for every Newfoundland Boy enlisted for service.

The Government has taken off all duties on smokes going direct to our Soldiers on Salisbury Plains and our Sailors on the ocean.

No other parcel sent as a Christmas box will give more pleasure to Our Boys—"Your Boy" than the box of smokes from home.

A list of subscribers will be forwarded with each shipment.

The Committee appointed by His Excellency, The Governor are endeavoring to have the first shipment leave here so as to reach the boys for Christmas. It is therefore essential that subscriptions be sent at the earliest possible date.

All subscriptions to be addressed to the First Nfld. Regiment Tobacco Fund.

Information Wanted,

A letter from the Shipping Master of Quebec, to the Chairman of the Civic Commission, which was read at last night's meeting, stated that one Frederick Sack (or Sacks), a Newfoundland, had died at Jeffrey Hale Hospital, Quebec, on Oct. 29th, and that information of the whereabouts of the man's family was required. The deceased man was late trimmer on the C. G. S. Margaret, of Quebec and his address as given by other members of the crew was Water Street, St. John's, Newfoundland. The Shipping Master of Quebec stated the man was buried at Quebec on October 31st. Any friends of the deceased are asked to forward any information they may have concerning him, to Mr. J. L. Slattery, Secretary of the Municipal Council, who will send the same to the proper authorities.

Overalls, bundles of them, from 59c. up

The fame of our Underwear has reached across the sea. Read Tommy's letter—He says good things about it. We supplied the 1st Nfld. Regiment with Underwear. All kinds of imported goods were offered. We handed out the right stuff. Come in and see it. Don't catch cold. Throw away that cotton stuff, wear wool. There are thousands dead who should be alive to-day if they paid proper attention to their underwear.

LETTER FROM THE FRONT.

Tommy, Terra Nova, Writes.

J. M. DEVINE, The Right House,

Corner Water and Adelaide Streets.

Dear Sir,—Just a word to say we are all fine and that the Old Country is quite up to my expectations. All hands are well. We had a nice time coming across—twas a great sight to look at the ships lined up. I must confess, leaving the Narrows and dear old South Side Hill behind, made me feel kind of lonely, but such feelings soon disappeared. We are training hard and hope to be on the firing line at an early date. By the way, that Underwear you supplied the Regiment with is great stuff. They could scarcely believe in England 'twas made in Newfoundland. We are all comfortably fixed. I notice some of the papers are slightly twisting again politically. 'Twas ever thus. We'll do our duty and we cannot do more.

Yours faithfully, TOMMY.

Get ready, mothers, for Friday and Saturday are going to be great days at DEVINE'S on the Corner. Buy—buy all you want, the qualities are good, the price is low, and as usual you will enjoy the treatment our sales help will give you.

Dependents' Pay.

It is most regrettable that there should be grounds for dissatisfaction as to payments to dependents of those who left Newfoundland to fight the good fight against the Germans. Today it is seven weeks since our contingent embarked on the Florizel, and the matter has not yet been satisfactorily arranged. The trouble arose in the first place from the dependents' pay forms not having been filled in before the contingent left. Some of the soldiers say they signed the form on board the Florizel on their passage across. At the beginning of the month, in answer to an inquiry, the Governor was informed that the forms had been filled in and had been despatched on Nov. 2nd. On the 4th the Durango left Liverpool, but they were not in her mail. The Mongolian is now due and it is hoped they are in her mail, and that they will be to hand immediately after her arrival. These forms signed by the soldiers constitute the official authority for the payment of the sums mentioned in them to the dependents named by them. As the last pay-day was October 30th, the authority for the payment is already three weeks behind the first day, and the next day is only nine days off. The only cases that have been attended to, at present, are those where dependents have day of application, the priest however, and the like from husbands and sons at Salisbury Plain, stating that they were making an allowance out of their pay. For instance, we are told that there has been only one application from Bell Island. It came too late for the money to be sent on the day of application, the priest however was notified by wire the same afternoon and the money sent by post the next day. The Committee are desirous of doing their best to cope with the difficulty, but the trouble arises from the absence of papers which should have been filled up and put in their hands long ago. The whole affair is most unfortunate. It is unfair to the soldiers who have left here to fight. It is a hardship on the dependents, and it is calculated to dampen the enthusiasm for recruiting which is urgent and essential. It is to be hoped that the matter will be straightened out this week-end.

Loyalty Pays Best.

The news that the rebellion in South Africa is fizzling out and that General Botha is preparing to attack the Germans in their own territory in German South West Africa is welcome news. The Germans fomented their rebellion and now the time is coming when they will be paid back in the territory which they used as a base against British South Africa. It is a thousand pities that Christian Dewet has not lived up to the advice he tendered his fellow-countrymen in 1902, when he said: "To my people I address one last word. Be loyal to the new Government. Loyalty pays best in the end. Loyalty alone is worthy of a nation which has shed its blood for freedom." It is a pity too that General Herzog has not seen fit to co-operate loyally with General Botha, when Botha invited him, instead of sullenly standing aside. Today is the last day of the amnesty offered by Botha to all rebels willing to lay down their arms. If any rebels remain next week, we may expect to hear of vigorous action by Botha, and a forward movement against the Germans in their own territory. The firm yet politic action of Kitchener in the closing days of the Boer War, and the prompt granting of Responsible Government to the New South African Union, in which British and Boer shared alike, was a bold and statesmanlike move, which has justified itself fully, as the majority of the Boers have lined up with Botha to co-operate with the British in defence of a British South Africa.

SIR THOMAS GRESHAM died 1579, aged 60. The wealthiest London merchant and financier of his time. He succeeded his father as King's Agent at Antwerp, and proved an astute money-finder for the Court in four successive reigns, ending as Queen Elizabeth's "Royal Merchant."
SIR JOHN HAWKINS died 1595, aged 63. A brilliant naval officer of the Elizabethan period, who did much sea fighting in many climes, and served as vice-admiral in the expedition against the Spanish Armada, for which he was knighted.

HENRY PURCELL died 1695, aged 87. A celebrated organist and composer who did much to improve the musical service of the church. He was organist of Westminster Abbey.

SIR MARTIN FROBISHER died 1594, aged 59. The earliest of British navigators to attempt to find the North-West passage to India, and his name is commemorated in Probstler's Strait, to the South of Baffin Land. He was knighted in connection with the defeat of the Spanish Armada.

SIR HENRY HAVELOCK died 1857, aged 62. One of the heroes of the Indian Mutiny, who led the troops to the relief of Cawnpore and Lucknow. He was a great soldier, a true Christian, and died deeply regretted at Alumbagh a few days after the arrival of Colin Campbell ended his long and glorious defence of the beleaguered garrison of Lucknow in 1857 with Outram.

GEORGE ELIOT born 1819. In reality Marian Cross (nee Evans), the gifted author of "Adam Bede" and "Mill on the Floss" etc. The first work produced by her was a translation of Strauss' "Life of Jesus." She wrote for the "Westminster Review" and became the assistant editor of that paper in 1851.

HAVELOCK'S GRAVE.

Guarded to a soldier's grave by the bravest of the brave. He hath gained a nobler tomb than an old cathedral gloom. Nobler mourners paid the rite than the Crown that craves at sight England's banners o'er him waved. Dead, he keeps the realm he saved. —Forbes.

TURKS DEFEATED.

LONDON, Nov. 20. To Governor, St. John's:— Following from Press Bureau:— In France and Belgium reports indicate that the enemy's artillery is active on the northern battle line. Operations have been favorable around Tracy-le-Val.

The Russian Black Sea Fleet has engaged the Goeben, causing fire on board her. After fourteen minutes' engagement she changed her course, and abandoned the action.

A British force operating near the Persian Gulf, has defeated 4,500 Turks, capturing two guns, many prisoners, the Turkish camp and reserve ammunition.

HARCOURT.

FRENCH OFFICIAL REPORT.

PARIS, Nov. 20. The French official communication issued this afternoon says: "The day of Nov. 19, was marked by an almost total absence of infantry attacks on the part of the enemy, and their artillery fire was much less violent than on the afternoon of November 18. To the north the weather has been very bad and snow storms have raged in all the region of the Yser Canal, to the east of Dixmude. In front of Ramscapelle we have withdrawn from the water two 165 centimetre mortars abandoned by the Germans. There has been a very fairly intense artillery fire to the south of Ypres. On the centre there have been no important actions to report. In the Argonne three vigorous attacks on the part of the enemy have been repulsed. On our right wing the Germans have occupied the destroyed section of Chauvincourt. Further to the East we have made some progress."

A STRATEGICAL MOVE.

LONDON, Nov. 20. The Daily Telegraph's correspondent at Petrograd, says: A certain amount of apprehension was felt here with regard to the situation in North-west Russian Poland, but it was obliterated by the latest General Staff announcement, taken in conjunction with other authoritative information regarding the fighting of the last few days. The mere fact of the Commander-in-Chief admitting that the Russian troops are falling back on the River Bzura, suggests that this step is being taken deliberately for strategic reasons. It is to their advantage to entice the enemy as far as possible into the region of the torn up roads, wrecked bridges and devastated railways, which he left behind on his retreat from the Vistula, for he can be beaten with much more ease and comfort when he is separated from the well-organized systems of communication in his own country."

ARMY ESTIMATES PASSED.

LONDON, Nov. 20. The House of Commons passed the vote for the supplementary Army estimates, which provides for an additional million men. The Under Secretary for War stated that the Official view was that this further million ought to be sufficient to crown the British arms with success. The present idea, he said, was to duplicate the Territorial forces, making one battalion for Home defence, the other for Foreign service.

Laxative for Old People - 'Cascarets'

Salts, Calomel and Pills act on Liver and Bowels like pepper acts in Nostrils—Danger!

Get a 10-cent box now.

Most old people must give to the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation. The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to walk slowly. For age is never so active as youth. The muscles are less elastic. And the bowels are muscles.

So all old people need Cascarets. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect this gentle aid to weak bowels. The bowels must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at fifty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics. Youth may occasionally whip the bowels into activity. But a lash can't be used every day. What the bowels of the old need is a gentle and natural tonic. One that can be constantly used without harm. The only such tonic is Cascarets, and they cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store. They work while you sleep.

New Performers.

FOR ROSSLEY'S.

On Monday Kelly and Mack, the noted Irish comedians, singers and dancers, musical comedy artists, will appear at Rossley's and patrons are assured of a great show. Those gentlemen have appeared at the best houses in all the big cities in England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales, and come as first-class performers. Some acts booked by Mr. Rossley may not have been just to his liking. But it would be impossible for him to go to the Old Country to look over an act, but Mr. Rossley now has an agent in London who will look the best acts over for him; and as there is such a demand in the States for English acts, he hopes to secure the pick on their way out, and Kelly and Mack come with a big reputation.

Have You an Itchy Spot?

Somewhere on your body? If so, attend to it at once. In Eczema—and Itchy spots, whether dry and scurfy, or moist and inclined to "weep," are generally eczematous—delays are foolish, allowing the disease to spread and affect more of the good skin. Your best chance for a cure is to use Zylex, which will give almost instant relief, and if used in the earlier stages of the trouble will almost certainly bring a cure, and in any event will greatly ameliorate the trouble. Ask your druggist about it. Price 50c. a box. Zylex Soap, 25c. a cake.

Soldiers' Letters
FROM SALISBURY PLAINS.

Nov. 18th, '14.
Editor Evening Telegram, City.

Dear Sir,—I received this letter from my son, and would like to have it published. It is as follows:

Salisbury Plains, Eng.,
Nov. 1st, 1914.

Dear Father and Mother,—I write you hoping to find you as well in health and spirits as I am. We are expecting to go in huts to-morrow. We will find it much better. The Turks have declared war on Russia. We may be going to Egypt, the Turks will try to get through there and we have to help to stop them. That is the talk that is going around here. Last night we went over to the Y.M.C.A. It belongs to the Canadians. It is a place for singing and dancing; you can buy what you like there, so I bought a book of writing paper with envelopes. I hope you will soon write to me. I suppose before you receive my letter, I will have received yours dear mother, and M—. I wish that we were at the front. We are going to get our guns to-morrow; we have the whole fit out now.

Capt. O'Brien is a great man now, so are all of them. It takes a letter a long time to come from here, so don't worry at not getting letters from me every week. I will make it a practice to write every Sunday evening, and post it Monday, and you do the same, father. You must have received a shock when you heard we were gone down. I mean the time the news spread down there that we were lost at sea, but we are not; the Germans won't put us down, either. There are better times coming. All the boys are well and happy. Just now we received our guns and bayonets, some class to the Regiment now. Father and mother, now don't be downhearted, I am all right and hope you are the same. We had mass this morning on the green by Father O'Leary, belonging to the Canadian Regiment; we are going to confession next Saturday and we will receive Holy Communion on Sunday morning. When we get leave we have to get a pass to go to the village; we do not mind coming in at that time now. We were on public duty in town last night; had a good time there.

So good-bye, and remember me to all. I hope that grandmother R—is well and R—. So I close now with love.

I am, your loving son,
FRANK.

Dear Sir,—Thanking you for space in your valuable paper.

I remain,
Yours truly,
MRS. T. RICHARDSON.

From B-127 Bugler W. P. Kennett.

Pond Farm Camp,
Salisbury Plains, Eng.

My Dear Wife,—We arrived safe in Plymouth and we left there for Salisbury Plain on the 23rd of October, and I went on leave on the 27th for three days. I telegraphed to my mother and she came up the next day and they were more than surprised to see me, and they hardly knew me. Let me know if you get my money. You will get it the 8th of every month at the Colonial Building. It is twenty-four dollars. We have our uniform now and as soon as I get leave again I will have my photo taken. We are about ten miles from a village and we are not allowed to go to it. I have got to teach twelve buglers for to make a Sergeant or I expect to get made a Sergeant or Corporal. We also have a priest down with us, he came with the other soldiers. I must close now.

Your loving husband,
WILL.

We shall be staying at Salisbury Plain till next April.

German Fortifications in the City of London.

London, Nov. 7.—The Standard today says: About a month ago an inspection was made of certain buildings in London district owned by a foreign firm ostensibly as a factory. Military experts described them as "nothing more nor less than terrifically strong fortifications which dominate some of the most vital points in London. This factory is situated near Woolwich and commands several miles of the River Thames, powder and ammunition reserves at Purfleet and the keppart of Woolwich Arsenal. All the buildings are of reinforced concrete of a strength and thickness altogether out of proportion to the nature of work carried on.

Certain of the buildings could be used as aeroplane sheds. Many Germans were employed on the works under the direction of a manager of the same nationality.

Marshall Bros

PRICE 10c. PER SET. EACH NUMBER REPRESENTS ONE SET.

An Attractive Assortment of Useful and Ornamental Articles.

The Patterns for this attractive design are all easy to develop, and will afford suggestions for some useful and pleasing gifts. The Dolls Patterns will please little and big doll mothers. They comprise the latest ideas in styles for dolls dresses, underwear, hats and outer garments. The Aprons, Work Bags and Basket, and the Utility Case are all serviceable and even pretty. Even the Baby is remembered with a comfortable warm robe and shoes.

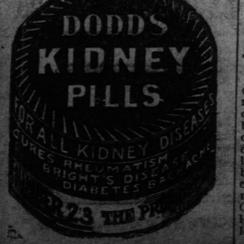

9764.—A DAINTY SET OF APRONS AND WORK BAG.

Ladies' Fancy Aprons and Sewing Bag.

Silk, satin, cloth, cretonne, or lawn may be used for the bag, white muslin, lawn, linen, or silk is suitable for the aprons. The Patterns are in one size, Medium. It requires 7/8 yard of 27 inch material for Heart Apron, 2 1/2 yards for Brussels Apron and 1 yard for Bag of 36 inch material. Price 10c.

1144.—A CONVENIENT OUTER GARMENT AND SHOES FOR BABY.

Carriage Robe and Moccasins, Eiderdown, ducking fleece, blanket cloth, cashmere, flannel, or fannellet may be used for the Robe and quilted satin, silk, felt, suede, or eiderdown for the moccasins. The robe is so cut and made as to afford complete covering for the little one. The hood may be omitted. The shoes are very comfortable and just the thing for tiny tender feet. This model made of blanket cloth is a pretty nursery design or of white eiderdown lined with soft batiste or silk, would prove very satisfactory and warm. The Pattern is in One Size, only. It requires 1/2 yard of 20 inch material for one pair of moccasins and 2 1/4 yards of 36 inch material for the robe. Price 10c.

1142.—A USEFUL, PRACTICAL COMBINATION.

Ladies' Sewing Apron and Bag Combined.

This illustrates a very clever idea that will lead itself to development in any of the pretty apron materials now in vogue. As here shown white lawn-embroidered in self color was used. "Val" lines form a suitable finish. The apron portion above the pocket is slipped into the pocket when not worn, and the fulness is drawn up to form a bag. In organdie, dimity, figured or striped silk, linen, cretonne or crepe this design is very effective. The Pattern is cut in One Size, Medium. It requires 1 1/4 yard of 36 inch material. Price 10c.

9765.—OUR SPECIAL HOLIDAY PATTERNS.

For Mother's Baby, and for the Baby Santa Claus may bring to Mother's Girl.

Just the thing to please Little Mothers. There are dolls and dolls, but no doll so dear to the heart of a doll mother, as one dressed in baby clothes. The designs here shown will be found easy to make, as they are cut on simple one piece lines. The dress may be made of nainsook, lawn, or batiste, and trimmed with bands of lace or embroidery. The coats will develop nicely in cashmere, silk, batiste or Bedford Cord. The sacque and kimono will look well made of flannel or fannellette, and the cape of silk or flannel.

The Pattern is cut in 3 Sizes: for Dolls—16, 18 and 20 inches in length. Price 10c.

1140.—A PLEASING GROUP OF THINGS TO MAKE FOR THE HOLIDAYS.

This combination includes a Work Basket, a Utility Case, and a Pin Box and Spool Holder Combined. The latter could also be developed as a Button Box. The work basket is good for cretonne, silk, linen or denim. The Utility Case may also be made of cretonne, linen, denim or crash, but it is best rubber lined, or made of rubberized materials. The spool holder may be of silk, canvas, denim, cretonne or crash. A good suggestion for the work basket, would be found in tan linen, embroidered in red, blue or sateen. Cretonne in lovely pink and green tones would also make this a serviceable article. The basket sections could also be woven, or raffia over a cardboard foundation, and lined with silk. For the Pin Box the same materials would serve that could be used for the Work Box. For the Utility Case there are lovely rubberized silks, and cretonnes that will be very good for this article. It requires 1 1/8 yard of 36 inch material for No. 1, 1 1/2 yard of 27 inch material for No. 2, and 3/4 yard of 24 inch material for No. 3. Price 10c.

9765.—A DAINTY SET OF LINGERIE FOR THE DOLL.

Dolls One Piece-Set of Underwear. These models comprise a new style chemise—and drawers—combination, a petticoat—and waist, and a night dress that may be finished in Empire style. Lawn, cambric, nainsook, crossbar, crepe, or silk may be used for the design, with lace edging or embroidery for trimming. The pattern comprises all styles illustrated, and is cut in 6 Sizes: for Dolls, 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, and 24 inches in height. It will require 2 yards of 36 inch material for a Doll 24 inches long, for the entire set. Price 10c.

9766.—A CHARMING OUTFIT FOR MISS DOLLY.

Dolls Set, Comprising a Balkan Dress, A Coat and "Billie Burke" Bonnet. Even the little "play mother" may have her children dressed in the "latest fashion." The styles here shown are easily developed, and suitable for any of the dainty materials used for doll's clothing. Cloth, silk, or velvet may serve for either coat and dress, and for the latter, linen, lawn, or percale is also appropriate. The bonnet could be of lawn, plush, or velvet as desired. The Pattern includes all styles illustrated and is cut in 6 sizes: for Dolls—14, 16, 18, 20, 22 and 24 inches in height. It requires 1/2 yard of 36 inch material for an 18 inch size. Price 10c.

1143.—DOLLY'S HOLIDAY WARD-ROBE.

What little mother will not be pleased with this lovely outfit for her Dolly. Here is a dress with raglan sleeve section and a jaunty euff. It may be gathered at low waistline in Balkan style, or worn without the belt. The dress may be of lawn, batiste, crepe, linen, silk or cashmere, and if Dolly's mother is handy with the needle, a pretty finish in feather stitching or embroidery will form a suitable decoration. For cold weather, or for "evening wear," Dolly has a comfortable cape—to be made of Bedford Cord, cashmere, broad cloth, silk, velvet, or eiderdown, with soft silk or batiste lining for the hood. Dolly's set of underwear is quite in keeping with her up-to-date dress. There is a combination garment forming a chemise and drawers, the chemise doing duty also as an under waist, to which the petticoat is buttoned. These little garments are cut in soft lawn, nainsook, crossbar muslin, or crepe, and a finish of narrow lace or embroidery edging is very suitable. The Patterns are cut in 6 Sizes: (The Set, comprising all 8, illustrated for Dolls—14, 16, 18, 20, 22 and 24 inches in height.) To make the dress it will require 1 1/8 yard of 24 inch material. The Cape, 1 yard of 14 inch material. The Combination and the Petticoat, 1 yard of 36 inch material for a 22 inch Doll. Price 10c.

1145.—A USEFUL, PRACTICAL COMBINATION.

Even the little "play mother" may have her children dressed in the "latest fashion." The styles here shown are easily developed, and suitable for any of the dainty materials used for doll's clothing. Cloth, silk, or velvet may serve for either coat and dress, and for the latter, linen, lawn, or percale is also appropriate. The bonnet could be of lawn, plush, or velvet as desired. The Pattern includes all styles illustrated and is cut in 6 sizes: for Dolls—14, 16, 18, 20, 22 and 24 inches in height. It requires 1/2 yard of 36 inch material for an 18 inch size. Price 10c.

Closing of the Poultry Show.

Lady Davidson Presents Prizes. The third Newfoundland Poultry Exhibition which was continued at the Prince's Rink for three days and proved such a great success, though the affair was not as largely patronized as it warranted, closed last night when the prizes were presented by Lady Davidson to those who had the best exhibits, as judged by Prof. Henry.

At the outset last night His Excellency Governor Davidson spoke briefly, though encouragingly, on poultry raising generally and lauded the Committee in charge on the excellence of the show and paid complimentary references to each and every one of the exhibitors whose products were the practical results of earnest efforts. Mr. G. W. Gushue, on behalf of the Association, thanked their Excellencies for their interest in the poultry raising movement and then called upon Lady Davidson who presented the prizes as follows:—

Governor's Cup (presented by His Excellency the Governor for the best display of White Leghorns, locally bred).—Won by G. R. Williams.

Lady Davidson's Cup (presented by Lady Davidson for the best display of Buff Orpingtons, locally bred).—Won by Hon. W. C. Job.

Reid Cup (presented by W. D. Reid, Esq., for the greatest number of Blue Ribbons won on locally bred birds).—Won by W. R. Butler.

Job Cup (presented by Hon. W. C. Job for the best display of Barred Plymouth Rocks, locally bred).—Won by W. Barker.

Harris Cup (presented by Hon. J. Harris for the best display of White Plymouth Rocks, locally bred).—Won by W. Reid.

Johnson Cup (presented by Percie Johnson, Esq., for the best display of White Wyandottes, locally bred).—Won by M. McLeod.

Westerland Cup (presented by J. Macpherson, Esq., for the best display of White Orpingtons, locally bred).—Won by G. R. Williams.

Bowring Cup (presented by Messrs. Bowring Bros., Ltd., for the best display of Pekin Ducks, locally bred).—Won by W. R. Butler.

Agriculture Cup (presented by the Board of Agriculture for the best display of Rhode Island Reds, locally bred).—Won by J. O'Driscoll.

Messrs. McLeod, Barker and Reid win their trophies outright, and W. R. Butler takes the Reid Cup, the second time. The latter altogether captured no less than 43 ribbons.

For the Agriculture Cup, Messrs. O'Driscoll and S. Emberley were tied on points, but the former was awarded the trophy, having taken more first prizes.

Two of the cups that were imported have not yet arrived. The dozen of white eggs, owned by Mr. W. R. Butler and which won first prize, were offered by him to Lady Davidson and graciously accepted.

The Exhibition terminated by the rendition of the National Anthem.

There is a suggestion of the luga boot being worn with the very short skirt.

BULLDOG
Safety Razor-

THE stocky "Bulldog" handle gives a good, firm grip that most men like. Its extra weight seems to "carry through" the keen-edged blade in a stroke that's particularly smooth and easy.

With its natty case of gray antique leather the Gillette "Bulldog" would look well among your toilet fittings, or make a handsome, practical Christmas gift to your friend. Watch the boards for the "Bulldog" Poster (like this illustration, colored) and the store windows for the Gillette "Bulldog" itself.

At the City Hall.

The regular weekly meeting of the Civic Commission took place last night, the Chairman Mr. W. G. Gosling presiding, and the following being in attendance: Messrs. Harris, Ayre, McNamee, Bradshaw, Mullaly, McGrath, Morris and Anderson.

The typist applied for remuneration for preparing matter for Mr. F. Longley, the consulting engineer, recently employed by the Commission. It was decided that his request be granted and the Office Committee will appropriate a sum for the purpose.

Mr. Mullaly, in supporting the motion, said that the applicant had rendered valuable service, and that his wages were not commensurate with his work, but if further voices were required, he would object in the case where he thought an official was receiving sufficient salary, as any extra work that may arise was only a matter of duty.

The Empire Steam Laundry wrote concerning the stable complained of by the Council. They offered to do all that the act relating to the same called for. The Board considered the letter a satisfactory one, and the Health Inspector will be asked to report on the matter.

C. H. Hutchings, for the General Protestant Cemetery Committee, wrote asking for compensation for damages done to the cemetery property by the widening of Waterford Bridge Road. The matter has been arbitrated upon, and Mr. Hutchings will be informed accordingly.

George Quigley offered some 500 loads of gravel for sale at 15 cents per load, to be delivered at certain points in the West End. The Engineer, in conjunction with the West End Road Committee, will decide as to the needs of the Council.

Complaint was made that a public lavatory in Rogerson's Cove had been removed. The necessity of the removal of the structure was obvious, but it is not possible to replace the same at present. The Board is considering carefully the question of improving public sanitary arrangements, and in due course will attend to all such matters.

The question of removing the snow from Water Street during the coming season was discussed, all the members of the Board taking part in the discussion. Various suggestions for the solving of this vexed problem were submitted, and immediate steps will be taken to see that all persons conform with the law relating to the removal of the snow from the sidewalk opposite their premises, or any other property owned by them. Messrs. Anderson and Mullaly were appointed to take up the question of clearing the Water Street thoroughfare, and these gentlemen will see if the Reid Mfd. Co. will continue their contract. They will report at a special meeting to be held during next week. In the meantime circulars will be sent out instructing residents and owners that the frontage must be cleared from snow within a specified time after the cessation of a storm, otherwise the Board will enforce legal proceedings.

Plans submitted for proposed erections were submitted, and referred to the Engineer.

The reports from the various departments of the Board were read and adopted.

The East End Road Committee reported that the repairs to Prescott Street had been finished. The Board heaved a sigh of relief, and rejoiced that it was done as the expenditure for this work had greatly exceeded the estimates.

It was reported that a schooner had moored at the city wharf on the Southside without permission. The matter will be attended to.

J. C. Butler applied for permission to erect a co-operation on the Southside. Permission will be granted provided the law is complied with.

Applications for water and sewerage will be informed as to the rules of the Council dealing with same.

After the passing of pay rolls and granting requirements, the meeting adjourned at 10.15 p.m.

Doctors and Gas Fires

In an article which recently appeared in the London "Evening News," Mr. W. G. Faulkner stated: "In making my inquiries I discovered one significant fact. This was that one company—the Gas Light and Coke Company—had among their consumers 2,500 doctors who had gas fires installed in their houses, some as many as ten or a dozen; that 1,500 of these doctors had become users of gas during the past three years; and that not one had ever given them up."

Professor C. V. Boys, F.R.S., says, in the "Standard": "Sentiment and inertia are the only obstacles against the general adoption of gas fires and cooking appliances. Wonderful strides have been made, in spite of deep-rooted prejudices. A gas fire, burning with a blue, is an admirable agent for heating a room; and, as a scientist, I fail to understand how such a gas fire dries the air in a room more than any other fire."—Nov 17, 11.

The Greatest Meanness.

By RUTH CAMERON.

The lady who always knows everybody's affairs informed me that a pretty little girl in our neighbourhood is quite crazy about a certain young man who is one of our eligible bachelors.

"How do you know?" I asked. "Because he told my sister so," she bridled, evidently feeling that I was casting aspersions on the source of information and glad to prove it reliable.

As if that were not the most unreliable source such information could come from!

For how can one depend upon a man to tell the truth when he is enough of a cad to brag about a woman's being fond of him?

I wonder what meanness in the feminine sex a man hates the most. I wish I might know in order that I might use it as a basis of comparison to show how absolutely mean and caddish and small such a man seems to me.

There are a few worse things that a man can do, as for instance to ask another man to have a drink when he is known to be fighting the drink devil. But there are none meaner than to boast about a woman's fondness, especially when he hints as he usually does, that that affection is unrequited.

I think it is bad enough for a woman to let the world know that a man loves her when she doesn't love him. The fact that a man has done a woman the great honour to put his happiness in her hands is a beautiful tribute to be put away in the lavender and lace of the heart's memory chest, not to be made tawdry and cheap by being handed about. One of the finest women I know has preferred to let the world think her an unloved, unwanted old maid rather than to risk hurting the man who loved her with a rare and unusual tenderness by letting the world know of his unrequited affection; and I honor her for it.

But for a woman to boast of her triumphs is not comparable with a man's meanness in doing the same thing, because the world looks at love in the two sexes so differently. In the eyes of the world unrequited love in a man is a misfortune, in a woman it is a disgrace. Therefore no man should lay a woman open to this stigma merely to gratify his vanity.

Frequently, moreover, men will boast of such an affection when it does not exist. There are men so vain that the simplest civilities, the most obvious badinage from a woman will fill them with the idea that they are tacitly admired. I know of a bachelor who became quite alarmed because he thought a young married woman was trying to flirt with him. As a matter of fact she thought him shy and awkward, and tried to be especially kind to him because she pitied him for his unattractiveness and wanted to put him at his ease.

I wish men like this might be marked with some sign that would put women on their guard against them. If women could only keep anything secret from the other sex, we might discover some method of doing this. But I am afraid that some married woman would divulge it to her husband, and then, he, being of the sex that is loyal to itself, would warn the offenders and spoil it all.

A Few Words About

"STAFFORD'S LINIMENT"

Any person calling at our Drug Store, Theatre Hill, and asking us to show them orders amounting to the sale of over 9,000 bottles of "Stafford's Liniment" from the 1st of January up to the present time this year, and by us not being able to produce them we will gladly give them the sum of $1,000.

We will be only too glad to show you these orders, so all you have to do is to ask us.

We want to convince the people in Newfoundland that "Stafford's Liniment" has obtained a large sale owing to its good results and any person suffering from Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuralgia, and all kinds of Aches and Pains, could not do a better thing than try a bottle of this Liniment. No home should be without it. Testimonials are being received nearly every week.

Stafford's Liniment is one of the strongest and most penetrating Liniments for sale in Newfoundland and there is not a person that can deny it. There are over 100 stores in St. John's selling this Liniment and in the outports there are over 300.

Don't buy a Liniment that is "Just as good," but insist on obtaining "STAFFORD'S"

SAYS ALLIES WILL WIN.

London, Nov. 11.—As a result of the greatly reduced numbers of transatlantic sailings, to-day's crowd at Euston station bound for Liverpool to embark for New York on the White Star liner Adriatic was almost equal to those which leave London at the height of westbound travel.

Dr. David Jayce Hill, formerly Ambassador to Berlin, and Mrs. Hill and daughter, are among the best known Americans. Dr. Hill told the New York American correspondent that, as he sees it, everything points to a crushing defeat for Germany, despite the fact that the Kaiser's organization is a wonderfully perfect machine.

WHY NOT TRY IT.

Jerseymen in Newfoundland.

By H. F. SHORTIS.

In my historical researches I have devoted myself particularly to Conception Bay, and I don't think there are many things about Harbor Grace, where I was born, that has escaped my attention.

The District of Harbor Grace is full of traditions about deeds of heroism and valor and seamanship, loyalty to the Crown, and contests with all nationalities. Pirate treasures are numerous. According to the most authentic record it is the earliest settled place in the whole country.

I have listened to these stories and traditions all my life, ever since I could remember, and having retentive memory and a hobby for taking copious notes of remarkable occurrences, I have since been able to verify many of these traditions from very old manuscripts, but I pin my faith to the old family stories or "Tales of a Grandfather" as Sir Walter Scott calls them. I feel like him, as expressed in his words, "Sweet nurse where I spent so many happy hours at home, steeped in the congenial atmosphere of so many traditions will enable me to give some facts that I believe are worth recording. My whole intention is to get to the actual truth of our earliest history.

There is no tradition or manuscript that I have ever seen or heard of that mentions Frenchmen frequenting Harbor Grace to-day.

The Methodist records tell particularly about Peter LeSueur, a convert of the Rev. Lawrence Coughlan, who introduced this form of religion from Newfoundland to Jersey and thence to France.

Peter LeSueur was an educated Jersey merchant, who came annually to Harbor Grace about 150 years ago, and employed many fishermen. The Thistle family held a very important position there at one time. They owned all the land facing the harbor where the marine railway is now built, up to the new Post Office. There is a little private or family graveyard just back of the Anglo-Telegraph Office that belonged to this family. One tombstone dates 1783, and in the oldest record of its kind in Harbor Grace. They were prominent people, and the records on several of the tombstones show the intermarriage with the most influential families in Conception Bay.

The Martins are another family I would mention. They are a well-known Jersey family. The name was originally Saint Martin an historic old family of the Channel Islands. This family has dropped the saintly characteristic since settling at Harbor Grace.

The Normans, of Brigus, who were pioneers in our seamanship and took a prominent and worthy part in building up our Labrador industry, were from Jersey. It is said that when they settled at the Battery Head in Brigus, it was because of its great resemblance to their old home in the Channel Islands.

Now on the South Side of Harbor Grace about 100 yards west of the Public Wharf, the foundation is still pointed out of the "Stone House" which tradition says belonged to the De Quettevilles, another very old Jersey family, that had important fishing establishments in the Straits of Belle Isle. The Noels and other descendants of Jersey families are still living in this vicinity.

I have no doubt whatever that it was the Jerseymen who christened Harbor Grace from its resemblance to Havre-de-Grace. The three islands Bell Island, Little Bell Island and Kelley's Island of Conception Bay in the near distance would correspond to Jersey, Guernsey and Alderney.

Port-de-Grave is one of the very oldest fishery settlements in the bay christened by Jerseymen as there was never any Frenchmen here. The Batten family came from Jersey, and still own property in the central part of the harbor. There is a tradition in the family, that when their forefathers first built their fishing stages that there was an encampment of Red Indians just where their kitchen garden is now. This is one of the most interesting traditions that I know of, as the mention of Red Indians must take that original settlement back four hundred years or more. John Guy arrived at Port-de-Grave in 1610 before erecting his Castle at Cupids. We know from his records that there were no Red Indians in Conception Bay at that time, and he had to go right up to the bottom of Trinity Bay before he met them. It shows how long these Jersey families have been continuous residents in that one spot, and they may well lay claim to be the oldest inhabitants of our island, and the Plymouth Rock aristocracy of the United States are not in it with the Jersey Batten family in Newfoundland.

There are many other families of Jersey descent in Port-de-Grave, Bay Roberts, Brigus and Harbor Main, some of which I will take up later on in this article.

Now let us take another view of this, and I have no doubt that it will throw further light on this matter.

We all admit that the Basque fishermen were here at the very earliest date, and there is no doubt that Spanish Bay was one of the harbors that they frequented, and it would not surprise me at all to find that both Carbonere and Brigus as well as many other places that I can mention in our country derived their names from these Spanish sailors. I have never yet felt that the proper derivation of Carbonere and Brigus had been deciphered.

When we compare these harbors with those occupied by the Jerseymen, it even makes one think that the Normans or Channel Islanders were here first as they certainly selected the very best harbours in the bay.

But now let us consider the Head Lands, where the best fishing grounds are found, and which the fishermen frequent during the summer. I think it will prove at once that the Basques were the earliest pioneers in the rough places, probably for a month or two during summer, but the Jerseymen were settlers in the safe harbors for a longer time during the year, and this, I believe, is the fact that the British Ambassadors had reference to when writing to Wm. Pitt in 1761, and being owners of the best harbors they undoubtedly considered themselves as masters of the country. Near Cape St. Francis we have the Biscayan Islands and Cove of the same name, which was undoubtedly christened by the Basques.

Baccalieu Island is another place, which has probably the most interesting nomenclature in the whole country, and I must give a few special remarks about it, as it certainly looks as if the Jerseymen superceded or managed to drive away the Basques from this locality at a very early date. Baccalieu is one of the most remarkable land-marks for vessels arriving and is a wonderfully productive fishing ground. It is not at all surprising that the Basques called it Baccalieu or Codfish Island. In fact the earliest maps that we have give this name for the whole of Newfoundland. Now Baccalieu is a Frenchified corruption of the Spanish word Baccalao, and must have received this pronunciation from the Jerseymen who had given the name to Bay-de-Verde, which is the best landing place near this important headland.

Baccalieu Island is a great precipitous mass of rock rising from the ocean and it is so difficult to land there that even now during winter the Lighthouse keeper and family are the only inhabitants.

Good-Bye, Old Backache Nerviline Will Fix You

Stiffness Is Rubbed Right Out—Every Sign of Pain Disappears.

Get whiz—think of it! No more stomach dosing necessary to cure your lame back. Every trace of lameness, every bit of stiffness, every sign of weakness in the back's muscles can be rubbed away for all time to come by good old "Nerviline."

No other liniment can do the work so quickly, can penetrate so deeply, can bring ease and comfort to the back-weary sufferer as Nerviline invariably does.

Backache isn't the only malady Nerviline is quick to cure. For lumbago or sciatica you would go far to find relief so speedy as Nerviline gives. For chronic rheumatism there are pain-destroying properties in Nerviline that give it first rank. The way it limbers up a stiff joint and takes soreness out of strained or rheumatic muscles is simply a wonder.

If you have any ache or pain anywhere, if you have a sore back, a stiff neck, a stiff joint, a strained muscle—if you have lumbago, congested chest or sore throat, just try Nerviline. Rub it on plentifully—it won't blister, it can't do anything but cure you quickly. The large 50c family size bottle is the most economical of course, but you can, from any dealer, also get the 25c. small size of Nerviline, the king of all pain-relieving remedies.

that the Basques called it Baccalieu or Codfish Island. In fact the earliest maps that we have give this name for the whole of Newfoundland. Now Baccalieu is a Frenchified corruption of the Spanish word Baccalao, and must have received this pronunciation from the Jerseymen who had given the name to Bay-de-Verde, which is the best landing place near this important headland.

Falling Hair Means Dandruff Is Active

Save your hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine to-night—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Second Half Million.

London Recruits One-Sixth of New Army.

About 800 men were enlisted in London yesterday for the new army. A considerable number came in by reason of the new standard of 5ft. 4in. announced in the morning, but this is still one inch above that fixed when recruiting began.

Since the outbreak of the war 600,000 have been enrolled in the United Kingdom. The War Office desire to raise an army of 1,000,000 men. London in particular has so far responded splendidly to this call, providing one-sixth of the total enlistments for the whole country. Manchester and Glasgow have also done well.

1,000 Motor-Drivers in a Day.

Within twelve hours of the War Office appeal for 1,050 motor-drivers and fitters yesterday about 3,000 men applied, and by night 1,000 were ready to leave for the transport depot. The drivers get £2.2s. a week, all found, and separation allowance.

More Fires.

Fires provoke immediate sympathy for the sufferer and also thankfulness for personal escape. Another thought should be whether one is personally and sufficiently protected? An insurance policy with Fidelity Johnson would provide for you this desired security and at small expense. Have you enough insurance?

STRIKES MINE AND FOUNDRY.

LONDON, To-day. The Morning Post's Rome correspondent says the Austrian Lloyd steamer Mokavitch struck a mine off the Dalmatian coast and foundered.

LONDON, To-day. The German attempts to break through Russian armies in Poland have sustained severe check, which according to present indications is likely to have decisive consequences for the enemy, says a despatch from the Petrograd correspondent of the Times. The message continues, the official report of the capture of a battery Northwest of Lodz is extremely significant and suggests probably a successful Russian flanking movement from the direction of Pietrkow. News was received last night of the arrival of large Russian reinforcements which would probably account for the reverses the Germans sustained.

RENOWNED AGREEMENT MADE.

NEW YORK, To-day. A cable from Madrid to the Tribune says: "It is said on good authority that a secret agreement has been made by which the attitude of Spain will be more than friendly to the Allies." According to this agreement Great Britain will not interfere with shipments of conditional contraband to Spanish ports. The Spanish Government is giving a guarantee that no part of these shipments are to be re-shipped to Germany. The export trade from Spain will also be protected, and in return the Spanish Government will see to it that the activities of German agents and spies are checked as much as possible in Spanish dominions.

FIGHTING COMPLETELY STOPPED ON YSER FRONT.

BRUGES, To-day. According to the best information reaching here, fighting on the Yser front has completely stopped. At Bruges it is reported that 87 empty trains of forty cars each are moving through Northern Belgium in the direction of West Flanders. It is assumed that these trains are for transportation of additional German regiments to the Eastern arena of hostilities.

Washington Hears of Destruction of Audacious

Washington, Nov. 16.—The United States Government has known officially for two weeks of the destruction of the British dreadnought Audacious by a mine off the Irish coast, but has kept the secret at the request of the British Government. Ambassador Page cabled the American Government of the sinking of the Audacious within a day or two after she went down. He said he had been officially informed of the sinking as well as of the delay to the liner Olympia. He gave no details however, and merely stated that the British Government want the loss kept secret for the present. Officials here scrupulously guarded the news.

Repulsed Germans.

Stories of the bravery of privates in Irish regiments are being told by wounded soldiers home from the front. A private in the Leinster Regiment tells how his command and the Rifle Brigade, numbering about 2,000, were surrounded by about 10,000 Germans. And they had either to advance or be annihilated. They charged and gained the trenches evacuated by the Germans, and managed to hold them until reinforced. A number of the Leinster's who were wounded on the field were fired on mercilessly all day, but at night Private Goggin of the same regiment crawled out under a heavy fire and dragged his wounded comrades across the field and through a drain to the trench.

Here and There.

FOGOTA.—The Fogota left Horwood at 9.15 a.m. to-day, coming south.

LOCAL ARRIVES.—The local from Carbonear arrived in the city at 12.05 p.m. to-day.

EARL OF DEVON.—The Earl of Devon left Baie Verte at 6 a.m. to-day going north.

LECTURE ON ITALY.—At the Grenfell Hall to-morrow evening Mr. W. H. Jones will lecture on "Italy."

TELEGRAPH INTERRUPTION.—The Reid Co.'s telegraph lines are seriously interrupted to-day, and as a result no late reports of the steamers could be obtained to-day.

SUPPLIED WITH COATS.—A squad of Naval Recruits marched from the Calypso to Mr. M. J. Summers' store, Water Street, to-day, where they were supplied with oil coats.

STORM DELAYS EXPRESS.—The southeast storm of yesterday delayed the Lintrorse express at Port aux Basques, with the result that she did not get away from there until 9.45 p.m. yesterday. She is due in the city about 4 a.m. to-morrow.

SCHR. TOTAL WRECK.—The schr. Gertie, John P. Hiscock, master, went ashore on Burnt Point this morning, caused by an accident to the wheel chains, and became a total wreck. The crew were saved. The foregoing was received to-day from B. Penny of Catalina, by the Deputy Minister of Customs.

GEORGE ST. ADULT BIBLE CLASS.—To-morrow afternoon, commencing at 2.30, Dr. Lloyd will deliver an address on "The Great War." Special music. Visitors and any outport friends in the city will be heartily welcomed. Room for all.

CAPE BRETON OVERDUE.—The S.S. Cape Breton is now overdue here from Montreal via Gulf ports, with a full general cargo, being twelve days on the passage now. She must have got the full force of last night's storm and was compelled to run for shelter. The ship is expected to put in an appearance this evening sometime.

Tells of 3,000 Men Slain in One Hour.

London, Nov. 12.—The correspondent of the Chronicle telegraphs from Paris: "A French soldier who was wounded Monday on the Yser in Belgium and has reached Paris, gives today an account of his experiences which indicates the blind daring and almost incredible determination of the German assault. He says: 'My brigade occupied a front of two and one-half miles to the north of the Ypres. Germans threw themselves upon it in considerable numbers on Wednesday of last week. Our troops resisted stubbornly, but enormous losses did not stop the attack. Up to Thursday evening they came on repeatedly with reinforcements. 'I saw a single trench lost and retaken several times in one day. After that there was a short interval, but Saturday morning they attacked more violently than ever to the north of Dixmude. For forty hours we fought foot by foot without a moment's respite. It is impossible to describe such a hell, but I witnessed the following incident: 'A German regiment advanced with flags flying. At three hundred yards from our trenches it was met by fire so deadly that it fell back. After being reformed in the rear it returned in remarkably diminished numbers and got within one hundred yards of our lines. Our guns poured a torrent of fire upon it and again it retreated. A third time it attempted the assault. 'This time the order was given to hold our fire until they had come up. At twenty yards every gun and rifle blazed out. Ten minutes later the German regiment was wiped out. In less than one hour 3,000 men had been slain.'"

The war has now progressed for over three months and its most amazing feature has been the success with which the hostile countries have guarded their battleships.

Thus far, not a single battleship has been damaged though a few cruisers which persisted in running around nights and getting in deep water have been sunk. Every battleship owned by France, Germany and England at the beginning of the war is still perfect, though in some instances hostile spies may have kicked a little paint off their sides while they lay at dock.

This shows the marvelous advance of naval science. Thirty years ago, battleships received as hard treatment as half-backs in a de-brutalized football game. They were abused and even shot at by the enemy. Many battleships were riddled and blown up in the Russo-Japanese war and for many decades the shocking cruelties perpetrated against them have gone unprotected.

That a hundred battleships could spend three months within a few hundred miles of each other without so much as tossing a brick is an evidence of the relentless sweep of science.

The new methods used to insure the longevity of the battleships are partly but not entirely known. The vessel is first anchored securely in a capacious harbour. It is then protected by mines, barbed wire fences and policemen. In order to minimize the danger of leaks, the bottom of the harbor is built up around the ship and in some cases it is quite likely that the latter is fitted with wheels. This enables it to escape more rapidly from mysterious strangers and obviates the danger of seasickness on the part of the crew.

There is still much nervousness in Europe over the protection of these delicate crafts and new safeguards are being continually thought out. Later on they may be hidden in the cathedrals or taken apart and sent to neutral countries by Parcel Post. But for the present they are quite safe and if kept well painted and protected from rain by canvas they should last through the war—provided swordfish and other terrors of the deep are not allowed to stab them in the thorax after bedtime.

The Complimentary Dinner.

At last night's meeting of the Civic Commission, Hon. John Anderson called the attention of the other members of the Board to the fact that many people were under the impression that the recent dinner tendered to Mr. F. Longley was given at the expense of the city, and because they could not be otherwise convinced, much unfavourable comment was being made.

As a matter of fact, the dinner was purely a complimentary one, subscribed for by the members of the Commission, and tendered to Mr. Longley as a public appreciation of the excellent manner with which he worked with the Council during his engagement.

During his stay here his associations with the Commission in the discharge of his duties were most pleasant, and as a mark of courtesy on their part, the dinner was quite in order, and the matter of giving the same was nobody's business but theirs. The city paid Mr. Longley for his services which were well and faithfully performed, and the members of the Civic Commission entertained him as a mark of their personal appreciation of the manner with which his work was done.

Fish Market Overstocked.

The following communication has reached the Board of Trade from Messrs. Lind & Condon, Oporto:—

"The market is overstocked and prices are declining. The demand is much below the average for this time of year. The nominal rates of exchange fixed by the Government, 35% to 40%, are unobtainable and business in the exchange market is therefore at a standstill."

Herrings Plentiful.

Herrings were reported plentiful yesterday in Fortune and Placentia Bays but nets could not be set owing to the stormy weather that prevailed. The following message has been received from Mr. H. R. Clifton, of St. Jacques: "Herrings are reported plentiful all over the bay, from one to three barrels per net being taken. At Renouville they were seen in abundance and seines are on the watch."

Old Standbys.

In cozy ingle-nooks we read the recent books, of which there are a million, which tells how Reggie boys assure his future joy by wedding ovely Lillian. The weird detective tale whose plot, though eighty stale, in every chapter thickens; and every now and then, tired out, we turn again, to Thackeray and Dickens, Ods' fish, and eke gadsook! What endless piles of books the publishers are printing! The stories "true to life," which treat of erring wife, at sinful manners hinting; the yarns of rounders bold, whose reckless arms enfold the painted chorus chickens; and, weary, sad and sore, at last we turn once more to Thackeray and Dickens. We find the raw romance which deals with high finance, of hunches and of hunchers; the western type of rot, where hamlets are kept hot by boozey cattle punchers. The books are piled in ricks, the tales of politics, which give us slender pickin's; and ever and anon, we turn with stifled yawn, to Thackeray and Dickens. We long for books that count, for stories that amount to something more than tinder: the volumes we receive are only fit to heave outdoors, through door or window. The publishers won't pay much heed to what we say, they all ignore our kickin's; and when for Books we yearn, we simply have to turn to Thackeray and Dickens.

French Regaining Congo Territory

WHICH WAS LOST DURING 1911.
Bordeaux, via Paris, Nov. 10.—It is officially announced here that in the region of the Sangha River, in the Congo, French troops, commanded by Gen. Aymeric, succeeded in driving the Germans from the larger part of the territory lost in the 1911 Convention.

The military post at Naimon was retaken on October 29, after two days' heavy fighting.

The Belgian Congo placed at the disposal of the French forces the steamer Luxemburg and 150 soldiers. On October 22, a column, commanded by Col. Heulin, captured Noland and made prisoners of several officers and many sharpshooters. Four quick-firing cannon and munitions were also taken.

Picket Boat Saves a Russian Cruiser.

London, Nov. 12.—A despatch from Petrograd to the Times says:

"The correspondents of Finnish newspapers report the heroic sacrifice of the crew of a Russian picket-boat to save a Russian cruiser, which was unwittingly approaching a mine in the Gulf of Finland.

"Realizing that it was too late to signal the danger the boat deliberately rushed at the mine at full speed. A terrific explosion followed and six out of the crew of seven perished. The survivor, who was severely wounded, has been awarded the decoration of St. George."
