CHAPTER XXXII.
THE SPIDER'S WEB.

Mrs. Fleming was not looking straight at Annette when she asked her question, or she would have seen a deep crimson mount to the young girl's brow as she answered evasively:

"I do not remember any young man at Gull Beach who wore glasses." "Perhaps it was only my fancy that I had seen him before," Mrs. Fleming answered carelessly, dismissing the subject—in which, indeed, she took but little interest, her anxious fears being centered on the alarming encounter of Daisie with the Cullens. She was terrified at the thought of her finding out at this late day the wicked part she had played in estranging her from Dallas Bain.

And yet she knew it was possible, and even highly probable, that Daisie might become acquainted with her treachery at no distant day.

It had taken a large bribe—no less a price than enough money to marry on and set up housekeeping in New York—to induce Cullen and Letty to carry out the hasty plot she had formed on the night when Royall's accident had made it possible to summon Daisie to his side and keep her there. Mrs. Fleming had paid the pair a thousand dollars; but she did not regret it, seeing that such success had crowned her efforts.

She had succeeded in parting Daisie and Dallas—a glorious triumph for a woman who loved the latter as madly as she did, and she did not despair of meeting him at some future time and winning him yet.

In the meantime, it was part of her policy to make friends with Daisie, and, after overcoming the girl's first natural resentment over the part she had played in marrying her to Royall, she found it easy to do. Poor Daisie was so sad and lonely with her wounded heart, in the midst of her new splendour of wealth and place, that she could not refuse any offered kindness. So an intimacy, if not a real friendship, grew up between the pair, and she was loath to have it broken off now by the risk that confronted her in the attitude of her willful maid and her rapacious husband.

Spotted by the taste of wealth, the pair had begun a system of blackmail that threatened to bankrupt the lady if permitted to continue.

In vain she offered to take both of them back into her employ and pay the most liberal wages; they had grown too high and mighty to work, and intended to be furnished with ample means to pursue a life of idleness and luxury.

They threatened to betray the whole thing to Daisie unless she complied with their insistent demands.

After a stormy scene this morning with Letty, in which she had been remorselessly mulcted of several hundred dollars, she was most embarrassing to find that Daisie had just met the pair outside, and that only her payment of the money had prevented the injured girl from finding out the whole truth.

She knew that Letty would return ere long for more money, and that her persecution would never cease while the pair lived.

"Oh, I wish they would drop dead this day! I wish the trolley cars would run them down and kill both the wretches!" she thought vindictively.

She was thoroughly frightened and angry, too, at having to lose so much money, and she took a sudden resolution to confess everything to Royall, and get his advice.

After all, Royall had profited more than she had by the successful plot. He had won Daisie for his wife, but she had lost Dallas Bain, for whom she had dared and risked so much. Almost seven months had flown, and she had never heard of him again since he had left Gull Beach in the gray dawn, driven away by her cruel scheming. He might be dead and buried, for all she knew.

And for all her beauty and pride and wealth, no one need have envied Letty Fleming, she was secretly so unhappy over the aching pain of her wild and hopeless love.

True, the meeting last night with Lord Werter had turned her thoughts in his direction; but she did not really suspect his identity with the man she loved, despite the wonderful likeness. It was no wonder, for she had been accustomed to think of Dallas as poor and obscure, tutored thereto by Royall Sherwood.

But the fact remained that she could have found consolation very quickly with Lord Werter, had she been given the chance; but Annette Janowitz appeared to her in the light of a dangerous rival.

So her mood of to-day was certainly not a pleasant one, and the temptation came to her to seek consolation in her troubles by sharing them with her Cousin Royall. It was only fair that he should bear his part, especially in paying the price of the deception, since he had profited by it more than she had done.

So when the girls told her what a bright, sunny day it was, and how the warm sun had melted away all the snow in the streets, and begged her to go wheeling with them, she readily consented, saying she would like to go and see Royall about some tiresome business.

Donning her becoming bicycle suit, the pretty blonde joined them on their pleasant spin, and they remained out for something over an hour, when an increasing chilliness in the air warned them that the treacherous spring weather was not to be depended on for long.

"Let us go home," said Daisie; and the others were very willing.

They had had many such pleasant trips together last fall, but this one stayed in their memory ever afterward. They remembered it so well, because it seemed like the calm before the storm, like the last bright gleam of day before the gloom of night.

"Letty, you may stay and talk to Royall while I go upstairs to change my dress," said Daisie, when they had gone in to see her husband, and found him very bright and animated, listening to his companion's spicy reading of some political news.

Mrs. Fleming beamed on Reed Raymond presently with her kindest smile, and observed:

"If you have been cooped up here all day with Royall, you had better go out for a stroll and some fresh air while I amuse him."

He thanked her, and went, deciding that he would call on Lord Werter and tell him how well he was succeeding in his mission.

Mrs. Fleming chatted on indifferent subjects a while longer, then cautiously led up to the subject nearest her heart, and presently blurted it all out to her silent, startled listener.

It was a shock to him certainly—a greater shock than she had foreboded.

He reeled under it, turning so pale that she was frightened, and exclaimed:

"Oh, Royall, forgive me for telling you! but I could not bear the burden any longer."

His face was ghastly, but he answered sadly:

"I am not finding fault with you, Letty; it's too late for that; and the burden must have been heavy on your conscience as well as your purse. But you must not have that expense any longer."

"You mean you will help to bear the expense of their extortions—that we cannot put the wretches off?"

"No; we dare not incense them. It is worth the whole of my fortune to keep this thing from Daisie. The Cullens must be paid to keep the secret still. When they come again, draw on me for the amount of their demands; and you must let me reimburse you, Letty, for all you have spent."

"You are very generous, Royall."

"No, only just; for, as you say, I am the only one who profited by your treachery. It won't sweet Daisie for me, my peerless wife. Ah, Letty, you do not dream how madly I love her, and how I dream of winning her love in return when I get well!"

"She seems to love you now, Royall."

"No; it is only sweet womanly pity I would like to cheat my heart with the thought that it is love, but I know better. She does not try to deceive me. It is the tenderness of a sister she lavishes on me. What better could I expect, helpless cripple that I am? But I still have hopes of recovering, Letty. I am trying every eminent doctor that I can hear of; and when I am restored to health and strength again—you know I was a handsome man once, Letty—then surely, surely she will give me her heart."

It was the same hope that had possessed him from the hour that Daisie Bell had first dawned on his vision, in her innocent, girlish beauty—the longing to win her for his own.

To accomplish this he had stooped to every treacherous art that could beguile her from her preference for another. He had succeeded in a fashion; she wore his name and his jewels. She had been tricked into that much by a hideous lie; but the craving of his heart was not yet satisfied. Her love was yet to win.

He looked sadly at Letty, saying: "Go, but better change the subject now. She will be coming down presently, poor, deceived darling!"

Alas! neither one of them had remembered the pretty little alcove divided from the library only by heavy silken curtains, where there was a cozy divan at the pleasure of the indolently inclined.

Daisie had come down long ago—almost immediately after Reed Raymond went out; but the heaviness of heart that had seized on her after meeting the Cullens made her disinclined for conversation just yet. She slipped into the alcove from the hall, and lay down on the divan, thinking she would go in presently, when conversation began to languish between Royall and his cousin.

She did not mean to play the eavesdropper. She had no idea at first that they were speaking of private matters. She was just tired, and her head and her heart both ached. Poor Daisie, and she lay listening dreamily, not caring at all what they were saying.

But suddenly a sentence caught and fixed her attention, because it held the name of Dallas Bain.

She listened, spellbound, her heart beating wildly in her fair breast, her face growing pale as death.

So she knew at last—Royall Sherwood's unloving wife—how she had been tricked and cheated out of happiness by that shameless scheming of Letty Fleming.

Should she stretch out her hand to draw back the curtain and denounce the plotters for the shipwreck of her life—for the lies she had been told when her lover was true as steel?

No, she would not speak now. What could reproaches avail? She had walked into the spider's web. She could not get free. What need to proclaim her misery to the wretches who had caused it?

Meighen Administration Sustained in Bye-Elections.

Nova Scotia and New Brunswick Re-elect Ministers--New York's Death Wagon Still a Mystery--Mountain Battle in North Wicklow.

MCCURDY WINS.
TRURO, Sept. 20. Hon. F. B. McCurdy, Federal Minister of Public Works, was re-elected by 1,500 majority over Captain Hugh Dickson, farmer, in the Colchester County bye-election to-day.

WIGMORE ALSO.
ST. JOHN, N.B., Sept. 20. Hon. R. W. Wigmore, Federal Minister of Customs, was re-elected by 519 majority over H. Emery, Liberal, in the St. John-Albert County bye-election to-day.

MILLERAND WILL BE CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENCY.
PARIS, Sept. 20. Premier Millerand to-day agreed to be a candidate for the Presidency of the Republic, to succeed President Deschanel, who tendered his resignation.

PROBABLY A CLUE.
SAN FRANCISCO, Spt. 20. Duncan Mathewson, captain of detectives here, announced to-day he was in possession of the name of a man who was declared to have predicted several days before the New York bomb explosion, that there would be a "big explosion" in Wall Street on the fifteenth. Mathewson said his informant was a disabled soldier, and that the man he named had been a Y.M.C.A. worker in Russia.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20. Statements by two men, one of them who claims to have seen the "death wagon," which carried the explosive, standing near the Assay office at 10.30 a.m. Thursday, one and one half hours before the explosion occurred, and the other who claims to have seen three men running away from the scene just before the blast, furnished the most important developments to-day in several investigations that are being made of the disaster. Other interesting developments of the day included an announcement by the District Attorney's office that Edwin P. Fisher, lawyer, and former employee of the French High Commission, who sent postcard warnings of the disaster from Toronto, had virtually eliminated himself from any direct knowledge or complicity in the case after 8 hours' questioning. Receipt of warning by Wm. Edwards, Collector of Internal Revenue, that an attempt would be made to destroy the Customs House at 2 p.m. to-morrow is regarded by the police as a hoax. Search is being made by Federal agents for a reported cache of explosives on Plum Beach Island, Government Reservation, off Sheephead Bay, where a quantity of T.N.T. was found in an abandoned vessel several months ago.

TURKISH VILLAGE CAPTURED.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 20. Ada Bazar, twenty-three miles from Ismid, has been captured by British-Greco troops after sharp skirmishes. It is reported Lieut. Gen Milne and Major General Ironsides were relieved, because they were not in favor of aggressive warfare. Major General Crocker has arrived at Ismid.

PREFERENTIAL TRADE DISCUSSION.

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 20. Preferential trade within the British Empire, was the subject that occupied the attention of the ninth Congress of the Chamber of Commerce of the British Empire here this afternoon and the discussion on it was not concluded. It will be resumed this morning. Six resolutions were presented to Congress on the subject from Chambers of Commerce in Canada, Australia and the West Indies. All speakers favored preferential trade, but exception to present conditions was taken by some of them.

BATTLE WITH SINN FEINERS.

DUBLIN, Sept. 20. A pitched battle was fought between the military and police on the one hand, and Sinn Feiners on the other in the mountains near Enniskerry, North Wicklow, yesterday afternoon. Reconnaissance of the field reported to be a training ground of "Republican Volunteers" less than fifteen miles from Dublin, revealed a band of armed men drilling. A short fight ensued when the Sinn Feiners were surrounded by the military. Bombs were thrown and rifle fire used. One Sinn Feiner was killed and several wounded, forty were surrounded.

DEFYING BRITISH ADMIRALTY.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20. In defiance of the order of the British Admiralty to keep away from Queenstown, the Panhandle State sailed Thursday for the Irish port on her maiden voyage. The ship is the first trans-Atlantic liner built here in generations.

Times Change.

The other evening, at the Coliseum, Miss Ruth Astor, who has come here to imitate our actors and actresses, prefaced her imitation of Miss Phyllis Dare with the announcement that the invitation was given "with the consent of Mr. George Grossmith." Apparently, permission must sometimes be obtained; but this is not unusual, and I often wonder what actors and actresses feel like when watching themselves being imitated. Mr. George Crossmith himself relates a funny tale concerning one of his own experiences as an imitator. "In a certain revue," he says, "I caricatured a famous dancer. A little while after, while abroad, I was told that the husband of the lady was looking for me with a big stick. "A few weeks later I returned to London. I met the husband, who shook me warmly by the hand and thanked me effusively for the skit on his wife. "They had quarrelled in the interval."

Education.

6.—CONCLUSION.

From the previous articles it will be seen that

1. There are about 1,000 Protestant children in St. John's without school accommodation.

2. The Elementary School Buildings in the majority of cases, are quite unsuitable for use in the teaching of children, while some of them have for years been condemned by ourselves.

3. Even the best of our school buildings lack very many essentials to make them suitable for the work of teaching young people.

4. There is a lack of even the ordinary educational equipment in the lower schools, while in the higher branches of education, there is not adequate equipment for chemistry, physics, commercial training, manual training, music, art, etc.

5. Because of the present divisions and the consequent multiplication of schools, it is impossible to carry out a satisfactory programme for classification and grading.

6. The majority of our children leave school at twelve years of age, and it is necessary that steps be taken so that our young people may be encouraged to remain longer at school.

7. We must first lay the foundations, beginning at the Kindergarten and passing through the various grades up to the Associate classes. Upon this firm basis then can be developed an Institution of University rank.

The program outlined by the Educational experts is framed to meet the above situation. While it concerns St. John's only, yet in a secondary degree it affects the outlying towns and settlements of Newfoundland. At the present time there are perhaps 150 young men and women from the outports attending the colleges and schools in St. John's. We welcome them in spite of the fact that to some extent, they are taking the places of the St. John's children. The proposed educational policy in St. John's will, therefore, benefit these pupils from the outports by giving them greater educational facilities than they can obtain at present.

The cost of the proposed expert scheme will be considerable, but not greater than has been assumed by cities of like size and wealth as St. John's. What is worth while will always cost something, and surely the offering of better educational advantages to our own children is something for which we will be delighted to pay. The cost of the program is a matter for the St. John's people, and from the enthusiasm shown last year it can safely be predicted that they will find means to carry out an adequate scheme.

As the system of education in Newfoundland is denominational, no steps can be taken until the approval of the various Church bodies is secured. The Methodist Conference has already agreed to the principle of amalgamation, and an approach will be made to the Anglican Synod at its present session, and to the other religious bodies concerned securing their concurrence in the general principle. Pending this, the Interdenominational Committee simply affirmed the general principle of an amalgamation of Protestant Educational interests in St. John's, as after full consideration of the question it was felt that in no other manner was it possible to meet the situation and to deal honestly with the question of the education of our children. The Committee has adopted no detailed program for the carrying out of this general principle, feeling that such a large matter required the fullest consideration by all the bodies concerned. It can hardly be thought that after reviewing the actual facts as they exist in St. John's, any objection can be logically made by fair-minded men to the proposals which offer the best solution of this problem.—COM.

OTHER TABLETS NOT ASPIRIN AT ALL

Only Tablets with "Bayer Cross" are Genuine Aspirin

If you don't see the "Bayer Cross" on the tablets, you are not getting Aspirin—Remember this! Genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" are now made in America by an American Company. No German interest whatever, all rights being purchased from the United States Government. During the war, acid imitations were sold as Aspirin in pill boxes and various other containers. The "Bayer Cross" is your only way of knowing that you are getting genuine Aspirin, proved safe by millions for Headache, Neuralgia, Colds, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuritis, and for pain generally. Aspirin is the trade mark (Newfoundland Registration No. 761), of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid. Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets—also larger sizes "Bayer" packages can be had at drug stores. The Bayer Co., Inc. U.S.A.

In the new way—remove the m...

All statements approved by authorities

Try this new way of teeth cleaning. The test is free. It has brought to millions whiter, safer teeth. Leading dentists everywhere advise it. See the results, then learn what they mean to you.

Millions of germs breed in it. Brushed in the usual way, much of that film is left. And very few people have escaped the troubles that it causes.

What ruins teeth

Teeth are ruined by a film. You can feel it—that viscous coat. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. And most tooth troubles are now traced to it.

It is this film-coat that discolors—not the tartar. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Now we combat it

Dental science has in late years found a way to fight film, day by day. High authorities have proved it by many careful tests. Millions of people have adopted it, largely by dental advice. To careful people it is bringing a new era in teeth cleaning.

These new methods are all embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. And you are urged to prove it by a pleasant ten-day test.

Five important effects

Pepsodent has five effects, all of them essential to cleaner, safer teeth. One ingredient is pepsin. One multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva to combat starch deposits that cling. One multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva to neutralize mouth acids.

In two ways it attacks the films directly. Then it keeps the teeth so highly polished that film cannot easily cling.

It differs vastly from the old-time tooth pastes, which dentists now know were wrong. Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coat disappears.

Within a week you will know that your teeth are protected as they never were before. And you will always want your teeth to look and feel like that. Cut out the coupon now.

Schr. Union Jack is due shortly, being 28 days out, on her way here from Cadix with a cargo of salt.

S.S. Mapledean is expected about Friday from Montreal and Gulf ports with general cargo.

S.S. Conewago, bound from Botwood to New York, put into port yesterday. After taking bunker she sailed to-day for North Sydney, where she will obtain a further load and proceed to her destination.

The four-masted schr. John H. Woodin, which put in here in a damaged condition while on the way from Havre to St. John, N.B., to load lumber, resumed the run to-day, having had a new rudder hung and other repairs made by shipwright J. Taylor.

Early Morning Air.

Everyone recognizes the sweetness and freshness of the early morning air and knows that these attractive properties disappear as the day advances. But so far as analysis goes, scientists say that the composition of early morning air is not different from that of air at any other time.

During the passing of night to day and of day to night several physical changes occur. There is a fall in temperature at sunset and a rise again at dawn, and consequently moisture is alternatively being thrown out and taken up again, and it is well known that change of state is accompanied by electrical phenomena and certain chemical manifestations also.

The formation of dew has probably therefore far more profound effects than merely the moistening of objects with water. Dew is vitalizing, not entirely because it is water but because it possesses an invigorating action due partly at any rate to the fact that it is saturated with oxygen, and it has been stated that during its formation peroxide of hydrogen and some ozone are developed. It is not improbable that the peculiarly attractive and refreshing quality that marks the early morning air has its origin in this way. The difficulty of inducing grass to flourish under a tree in full leaf is well known and is generally explained by saying that the tree absorbs the nourishing constituents of the soil or that it keeps the sunlight away from the grass and protects it from rain.

It is doubtful whether any of these explanations is true, the real reason most probably being that the vitalizing dew cannot form upon the grass under a tree, whereas as a rule both rain and light can reach it.

The Tragedy of the West Coast.

This caption may appear on first reading to be a little more striking than the occasion demands; but to any person who has visited the once prosperous towns and settlements in the portion of the Dominion referred to above, it will at once be obvious that tragedy has entered on the scene, for all the evidence points to an utter demoralization of the once flourishing trade of the West Coast. In using this term to describe the section of the island extending from Cape St. Mary's to Flower's Cove, we are not asking for any hypercritical comment, endeavouring to show that that which we mean by the West Coast is not the West Coast at all. The definition given is sufficient, broad to embrace the division of the island styled generically the West Coast, for the purpose which we have in mind in furnishing a series of articles to be written under the head with which the present—by way of introduction—starts.

It is quite possible that strong hostility to the publication of such a series of articles, as contemplated, may emanate from certain quarters and individuals, but from the outset we wish to emphatically assert that in every case which will come under review subsequently, there are prolific facts in support, and there can be no denial of the statements to be hereafter made. The facts are too plain. We could wish that they were not so much so, but the tragedy is being enacted, the stage is still set, and the players are approaching the end of their drama which has wrought ruin and desolation to the Western half of the Island of Newfoundland. After the players have finished, it will be the turn of the auditors to create a new scene, and if there is anything in the repetition of history, the present performers will be obliged to flee from the wrath of an aroused populace or meet the fate which has ever been the lot of the political charlatan who trespasses too far on the good nature of a whole people.

A Few Questions for Mr. Brownrigg.

(1) When are you going to put the new six per cent loan on the market. We mean the one and a quarter million dollars authorized by the House last session?

(2) Where are you going to get money to repair the railway and build this new branch to Argentina? Is it from this loan or from a temporary loan advanced by the Bank of Montreal?

(3) Is this, think you, a favorable time to raise a loan or will it cost only $2,000 per million, as you so flippantly said in the House last spring of the one million that Sir Michael Cashin had negotiated for, and let remain in abeyance to save the interest, a financial fact that was Greek to you?

(4) Is it true that 5 1/2 per cent. Nfd. Debenture Bonds are now being offered at 90 and 6 1/2 p.c. Victory Bonds at par?

(5) Is it true the Government anticipates a shortage of one and a half million dollars for the fiscal year, and that the same is being openly said by your own supporters? If they do this thing in the green wood, how will it be in the dry?

(6) Is it true that the Revenue has dropped $300,000 since July 1st?

(7) How much, Mr. Brownrigg, do you figure to raise on the Profits Tax for 1920?

(8) You remember what you did in the case of salt to relieve a section of the public. Well, why don't you do the same with sugar, and open the door to let cheap sugar in for ALL THE PEOPLE!

On Sunday Herald Staff.

Mr. J. R. Smallwood, late of the Evening Telegram staff, and subsequently of the Halifax Herald, has now joined the Sunday Herald, issued by the Boston Publishing Co. It is Mr. Smallwood's intention to later proceed to New York and work on one of the big dailies in that centre, afterwards returning to his homeland.

Interesting Judicial Decision.

IN THE CENTRAL DISTRICT COURT.

In the matter of Edward Power, vs. Andrew Caldwell for the possession of tenancy held by the defendant of the plaintiff. This action was taken under Section 1, Chapter 93 of the Consolidated Statutes, 3rd Series, entitled "Of the recovery of possession of tenancy in certain cases." Section 1 enacts "Whenever the term or interest of the tenancy of any house or land, held by him either at will or for a term of years, either without being liable to the payment of rent or at a rent not exceeding $100 annually shall be determined, etc. A written notice set forth in a schedule in this Chapter, signed by the landlord, shall be served on the tenant or the occupier." Such notice having been served the parties are now before me.

Mr. J. A. Barron, Counsel for the Defendant, contends that as the premises held by the Defendant is a monthly tenancy that the provisions of Section 4 do not apply. I must uphold the position taken by the learned Counsel as a tenancy from month to month cannot be considered as a tenancy at will or for a term of years. A tenancy at will is where lands or tenements are let by one man to another to hold for the term of years set forth in the habendum.

This is the first occasion that the question to the application of Section 1, Chapter 93, to monthly tenancies has been raised at Bar, and in my judgment the Section does not apply to monthly tenancies.

Judgment will therefore go to the defendant.
(Sgd.) F. J. MORRIS, Judge Central District Court.

Police Court.

A carman for a breach of the Street Traffic Regulations was fined $2. Two unfortunate children named Teens were sentenced to six months each in the penitentiary for the larceny of $5. These young girls have been residing in the Dardanelles and their morals have not been improved thereby. In view of the circumstances His Honor for their protection gave them a long sentence hoping that in the meantime some suitable place for juvenile offenders may be found.

A legal light and director of a Water Street business firm, charged with a breach of the traffic regulations, appeared on his own behalf and pleaded not guilty and called the Inspector General to prove the regulations. These he held were ultra vires and referred to Town Police Clause Act and Town Improvement Act 1847, Sect. 295. A second objection raised was that no evidence was submitted that notice was given to the defendant of the regulations. The questions raised by the defendant being very important, in that the doubt the legality of the regulations made by the Inspector General, the Judge reserved his decision.

Elevated to Bishopric.

Rev. H. T. Renouf Succeeds to Episcopate of St. George's--Splendid Testimonial to Rector of St. Patrick's.

His Grace Archbishop Roche was apprised from Rome yesterday that the Very Rev. H. T. Renouf, Rector of St. Patrick's, had been elevated to the Bishopric of St. George's, in succession to the late Right Rev. Doctor M. F. Power, of happy memory. The news was received everywhere with great rejoicing, and particularly in the West End, where the Bishop elect has presided as Rector for the last four years.

The elevation of Very Rev. Father Renouf is a splendid testimonial to a respected and worthy priest, who for a quarter of a century has given his best in the advancement spiritual and temporal of a stretch of Missions from St. George's to St. John's. His able work was his recommendation to the Holy See, and his elevation will be joyfully received in the many parishes in which he worked so assiduously and with such great success in Trepassey, where his name is a household word, it will be hailed with prayers and offerings; in St. George's where he labored as Priest, and over which he now becomes Bishop, they will recall his former labors and rejoice that he is worthy of his promotion; in St. Bride's, where his zeal and energy stood out so pre-eminently, they will delight that their support of his work was not in vain; in Harbor Breton, where he also labored, and at a time when his health was not too strong, they will respectfully offer the Ad Multos Annos; in Hr. Grace, where his brief mission was blessed with happy results to himself and people, they will cry out "How noble are Thy works, O God"; and in Manuels, the parish his ministrations will join in the united prayers, that he will be spared and given Grace to sustain the burden that he has been called upon to bear.

In the foregoing it will be seen the Bishop-elect Renouf has done missionary work in the three dioceses, and that his knowledge of Priestly duties as well as of Executive tasks was not overlooked when the appointment was made. Bishop-elect Renouf is a man of strong character, zealous, and sincere, and St. George's, with its growing population and its promising commercial outlook, will have a man and a Bishop at the helm who will see that her interests are not neglected.

A BRIEF SKETCH.

Bishop-elect Renouf is the 5th son of the late Dr. Charles H. Renouf and Anita Moore, and was born in St. John's, Dec. 28th, 1872, and spent his early studies in St. Patrick's Hall Schools, later entering St. Bonaventure's College, where he remained for three years. At fifteen he left for Rome, and for almost nine years studied at the Propaganda, and on March 30th, 1895 was ordained to the Holy Priesthood by the Rev. Edward Stoner, Titular Archbishop of Trebizond, in St. John's. Ordained for St. George's his health caused him to be transferred to the diocese of St. John's, serving at Manuels, St. Bride's, Trepassey, and St. John's. In St. George's diocese he ministered at St. George's and Harbor Breton. In the diocese of Hr. Grace he served at Hr. Grace. In every parish monuments are erected to his zeal. When appointed to St. Bride's the place was practically destitute of ecclesiastical buildings, but during his brief pastorate, Schools, Churches and a modern Presbytery were erected. At Trepassey a modern High School, Church additions and new Churches in contiguous places were built, and while Rector of St. Patrick's the interior of the Church was repaired, new pews erected, the grounds rebuilt and many other necessary changes and erections made. On the anniversary of his silver jubilee, March 30th last, the Bishop-elect was highly honored by his parishioners of St. John's West, and a handsome gift and address presented to him. To the Right Rev. Bishop-elect the Telegram extends cordial congratulations on the honour that has so worthily been bestowed upon him.

Protecting the Profiteer.

(Willingate Sun.)

When the Food Control Board was instituted under the Coalition Government, and re-created under the Squires-Coaker Government, everyone understood that, whether it ever did anything to achieve it or not, the aim set forth was to protect the public against the profiteer, to secure adequate supplies of food and to prevent hoarding and price boosting. That was certainly what the public understood, and if the F. C. B. never did much towards lowering the price of food—well the public simply considered it was in line with politics and that was all there was to it.

But the public has suddenly awakened to the fact that the Squires-Coaker Food Control Board has now assumed a new role and not content with lying supine and allowing the profiteer to get in his fine work, is actually playing off the profiteer at the expense of the public.

Here are the facts of the case which cannot be gainsaid.

The F. C. B. (a number of whose members are importers of sugar) have a large supply of sugar on hand secured at the very worst time when prices were high; so large a stock in fact that the F. C. B. has to keep on adding its price to meet the carrying charges. Moreover it's an open secret that this high priced sugar was purchased most obligingly to relieve some good government supporters.

To-day sugar is offered to Newfoundland importers at a price which would enable them to sell at 20 cents in St. John's. A. E. Hickman & Co. have 200 barrels in St. John's, for which they were refused entry, and on taking the case to court won out.

The F. C. B. is appealing the case—partly to spite Hickman, partly to enable it to unload its high priced sugar on the public. With the usual dilatory methods of the law, it is quite likely that the export business man will be compelled to stock up his winter supplies before this case is concluded, at the F. C. B.'s present high price.

Then when the new year begins and the F. C. B.'s term expires, down will tumble the sugar, and the exports—especially the Northern ones—will be caught with 35 cent sugar, while St. John's and the southern exports, will be netting it around 20 cents.

These be thy gods, oh, Israel! What do you think of them?

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The afternoon session of the Synod was called to order at 3.30, the Lord Bishop presiding.
Prayers were read by His Lordship, and after roll call the House proceeded to business.
On introduction of Canon Bolt, the Rev. W. J. Bradbury, M.A., of the Diocese of Montreal, a lecturer of the Diocese of Montreal, now visiting the city, was accorded a seat in the floor of the Synod during its sessions. Mr. Bradbury, who accordingly took a seat in the House.
The minutes of Friday's session were then read and passed.
Canon Smart read the Report of the Board of Missions, 1918-20, and moved its reception. This was agreed.
The report shows that the totals of all money raised by the Church of England for all missionary purposes during the biennial period are as follows:

1918.
Home and Foreign Mission Fund	$13,656.54
Our Own Missionary Fund	3,177.50
Women's Home Mission Fund	1,146.00
Catholic Mission (from St. Thomas's Church, St. John's)	750.00
Total	$18,729.48

1919.
Home and Foreign Mission Fund	$18,576.00
Our Own Missionary Fund	2,605.01
Women's Home Mission Fund	945.50
Catholic Mission (from St. Thomas's Church, St. John's)	1,225.00
Total	$23,349.51

GA. total for 1918 and 1919, $42,078.99.
The report goes on to state that one of the principal aims of the Board is the dissemination of missionary literature with a view to encouraging the study of missions both in our schools and homes, as well as the issue of a fully prayer in behalf of missions for use with the children in schools.
In conclusion, the Board asks the Synod to give its assent to the following resolutions:

That the Synod relinquish its annual grant from the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel.
That a Field Secretary for Missions be appointed for this diocese immediately.
Dr. Blackhall read the Report of the Diocesan Board of Religious Education.
The reports reviewed the whole question of religious education in our schools and recommended a series of books for religious instruction.
Mr. H. S. Hayward, convener of the Board, moved the reception of the report, agreed.
Rev. J. Brinton gave notice that he would on to-morrow move a resolution in regard to Mission Priests' stipends.
Canon Bolt gave notice that he would on to-morrow move a resolution in regard to the Sustentation Fund of the diocese.
Mr. H. S. Hayward moved the adoption of the Report of Board of Religious Education, and on being seconded a discussion took place which continued until the closing hour, 5.15, when the House rose for recess.

NIGHT SESSION.

The House resumed at 7.30 when prayers were read by the President. The roll was then called and the House proceeded to business.
On the introduction of Canon Bolt, the Rev. Dr. Mullins, of London, Secretary of the Colonial and Continental Church Society, who is on his way to the Canadian North West on an extended visit, was received by the Bishop and Synod and accorded a seat in the House during the session. His Lordship also intimated that he would at a later session ask Rev. Dr. Mullins to kindly address the Synod. Dr. Mullins consented.
Mr. J. W. Withers read the report of the managers of the Sustentation Fund of the Diocese. The report noted with great regret a large mortality in the Board of Managers of this fund, and paid a tribute to the great and valued services of the Hon. John Harvey, Hon. Fred Goodridge and George Davey, not only as managers of this fund, but also as churchmen who were foremost in all church work, and whose places cannot easily be filled. The fund is indebted to Mr. Harvey and Mr. Davey for very handsome bequests. The managers report that the investments of the Fund show a substantial increase during the Biennial period, principally through a judicious investment in British War Bonds. On motion of Mr. J. W. Withers, duly seconded, the report was received and adopted.

Mr. J. W. Withers read the report of the Literature Committee which dealt with the many departments of the work of editing and publishing the Diocesan Magazine, in a very exhaustive manner, which was, on motion of Mr. Withers, after some discussion, received and adopted.
Canon Jeeves read the report of the committee appointed by the Bishop to enquire into the erection of the tower and spire of the Cathedral. To this report was appended the report of Giles Gilbert Scott, A.R.A., the architect who was invited here to study the structure and prepare a plan, together with estimates. The plan prepared by Mr. Scott which has been on exhibition in Messrs. Grey and Goodland's window the past few days, was submitted and Mr. Scott's report showed that owing to the fluctuating cost of labour and materials both here and in England, he could not give an estimate of what the work could cost, but mentioned a conservative sum, merely as a guide to the Synod and Diocese if they should decide to take up the project.
At the conclusion of the reading of the report Canon Jeeves moved the following resolution, viz:—"We respectfully request the authorization of your Honourable House to this proposal to complete the exterior of the Cathedral by the addition of a tower and spire in accordance with a sketch design by Mr. Gilbert Scott." This resolution was seconded by Dr. Jones in a very happy and able manner, and supported by several outport clergy on behalf of their people, and unanimously approved by the House.
The Secretary Treasurer of the Synod read a communication from the Inter-denominational Board asking it to receive a delegation from their Board. On motion of Mr. R. B. Job, seconded by Canon Bayly it was agreed that this delegation be received, it being expressly stated that in doing so it be recorded that the Church of England members on the Inter-denominational Board have been acting thereon without the authority of any governing body of the Church of England, as admitted by themselves, and that the Synod is not to be held responsible for anything that those members have done.

The Day of Atonement.

To-morrow, September 22nd is observed as Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, by the Jews throughout the world. This is the greatest fast of the Jewish year. From sunset of the 21st till sunset of the 22nd the observant Jew neither eats nor drinks, but devotes the day to fervent worship. Yom Kippur is distinctive among Jewish holidays, for it is not associated with nature or with history. It is a day for the searching of the heart to find peace with God.
The fast originated in Biblical times, and is described in the sixteenth chapter of the book of Leviticus. In those days the people fasted and afflicted themselves while the high priest made atonement for the entire house of Israel. This atonement was made in ancient fashion by sacrifices, and especially by the symbolic rite of driving the scapegoat into the wilderness to bear away the sins of the people.
Now prayers take the place of sacrifices. In modern Judaism prayer is the right form of approaching God. Jews devote the Day of Atonement to prayers for the forgiving of their sin. They avoid all ordinary and sordid interests on this Sabbath of Sabbaths. The fasting is abrogated, however, for children, old people and the sick, or in times of famine and pestilence, or such contingencies as the incident to the deprivations of war.
The aim of Yom Kippur is atonement through prayer and repentance. These contain no element of mediation through either a redeemer or a sacrifice. The only true repentance comes through change of heart and an effort to do better. Each human being stands before his Maker seeking in honesty to make his record clean.
A feature of Yom Kippur is the Memorial service. Men and women think of their dear departed and of the great and good who served mankind. Especially in times of stress, when many brave men are offering up their lives, fervor animates these prayers by which their memory is honored and their ideals are preserved.
Special continuous services will be held and observed by the Jewish community in St. John's, from sunrise to sunset to-morrow, and after the obligatory fast thus imposed by canonical law, livelier festivities will take place. Foods and viands of the highest and most costly quality will be served at family tables and general conviviality will become the order of the evening, thus marking the close of the national day of abstinence.

To Compete in Halifax Marathon.

Our city sports will be glad to learn that Mr. J. Bell, our marathon runner, has been enabled to compete in the 10 mile marathon race which takes place at Halifax, Nova Scotia, on October 8th. Accompanied by the veteran sport, James Vinnicombe, who goes as manager, he leaves here on Tuesday next. The financial end of the undertaking is being backed by our local athletes. That Bell will give a good account of himself goes without saying.

C. L. B. Sports.

It is proposed that the C.L.B. Sports, which unfortunately had to be postponed on several occasions owing to wet weather, will be run off on Thursday and Friday evenings next, starting at 5 o'clock. If the Importers' Association—ever generous in support of a good cause—could manage to have the stores closed an hour or half an hour earlier than usual, it would assure the success of the financial end of the programme.

Machinery Parade.

A tractor and scarifier, imported by the Newfoundland Motor Association, attracted considerable attention at Harvey & Company's pier this forenoon. The other road making machinery at the Furness Withy pier, was being placed in readiness for removal to the Topsail Road. The parade of the machinery takes place shortly after 3 o'clock, the route being from the wharf to Cochrane Street, up Cochrane Street to Duckworth Street, thence via Duckworth Street, New Gower Street to Dunn's on the Topsail Road.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

A HABIT TO AVOID.

What an unattractive habit is the habit of continual complaint. I have a neighbor who seldom comes into my house without opening her conversation something like this: "Well, I had about the hardest day yesterday I ever went through."

Or, "I had a wretched night last night, the baby, etc."

Or, "Isn't it dreadful—the children have been exposed to the whooping cough."

I never knew this woman to come in on the most exquisite morning in June or the crispest, freshest October day with the heartening words, "Isn't this a wonderful morning."

She always opens her conversation on the note of complaint and self-pity.

The People Who Have the Hardest Times Often Complain the Least.

The two things, you know, almost invariably go together. The people who really have the hardest times seldom have so much to say about them. The very rigors of their lives help to develop the kind of character that consumes its own smoke.

This woman, for example, does not have an exceptionally easy life but she most certainly does not have an exceptionally hard one.

I suppose inadequate health supplies part of the explanation as it does of almost every failure or inadequacy, but I cannot help feeling that the wrong mental attitude has something to do with the aura of dissatisfaction and discontent and self-pity which seems to hang about this woman.

The older I grow the more I hate certain things both in myself and other people. And one of these growing hates is, as I have told you before, self-pity, and another is that most exasperating expression of self-pity—whining.

Wouldn't You Rather Hear a Child Howl Than Whine!

I would rather hear a child howl any day than whine. And I think I would rather hear a grown-up curse than whine. Job certainly had some pretty strong things to say about his bad luck but he never whined and I don't remember the Lord was willing to give him back "twice as much as he had before."

The complaining habit which so easily develops into the whining habit is one of the greatest joy killers there is. Though there is no legal penalty for joy killing there must be a moral one. And I think when it extends over many years, some forms of this crime come near to ranking with ordinary murders.

As If a Candle Had Been Put Out.

When a person like the one I have described enters one's house, instead of one's feeling as if another candle had been lighted one feels as if a candle had been put out or as if a cloud had drifted over the sun.

I believe I have written you about the little girl who had been reproved for whining and surprised her mother by adding to her prayer one night: "Lord keep me from whining. I'm no happier when I whine, therefore why whine?"

She might well have added, "I'm no happier when I whine and everyone about me is a great deal unhappier," mightn't she?

Fashions and Fads.

The evening gown has no sleeves. The bracelet is extremely popular. Jetted blouses will have a great vogue.

The fall blouse will have elbow sleeves.

Suit coats and skirts feature wide pleats.

White is most in demand for day-time dresses.

The black evening gown is losing in popularity.

Ostrich feathers will be used on blouse collars.

For dressy blouses Chantilly is the favorite lace.

The high, reversible collar is shown on blouses.

The cape continues to serve as the evening wrap.

Blouses are being made of fine lace, kimono style.

White Georgette frocks are worn with colored sashes.

THE MAN KILLER.

WALT MARON

Along the pleasant highways, and by the rural homes, through cool and shady byways, the snorting terror roams. The auto with a driver who threatens as he drives, who cares no copper stiver for human limbs or lives. The auto, wisely driven, is not innately bad; it is a blessing given to man, to make him glad. When it is sanely guided along the teeming ways, it seldom is derided by bards or kindred jays. But oh, the looted chuffer who to the highway takes, nor cares how many suffer, so he some record break! And oh, the beardless striplings who joyride in the night! 'Twould take some seven Klippings to sew those lads up right. I hate to turn a corner when I drive out of town, for fear some speedlaw scornor will straightway run me down. The death car's always speeding to maim some helpless hick; and what this country's needling is law that has a kick. When once the fend, loon witted, some gent or cow has slain, he should not be permitted to drive a car again. Outlaw the reckless drivers, and let them drive no more; and we, the maimed survivors, will cry, "Hurroo! Hurroo!"

LINES TO A SECRET FOE.

I have a foe, a bitter cruel foe,
Who mocks at me wherever I may stray;
Makes little of my dreams from day to day,
And strives to steal the courage from my brow;
Plants doubts for me to find where'er I go,
And bids me flee when I have willed to stay;
Frightens me oft with failure's dread array,
And pales my cheek when fear should never show.

He wields no blade of bright and shining steel,
He is not mortal, yet this foe is real,
Relentless, heartless, aye and adamant,
I would dare much and climb life's parapet
Yet still I stay nor dare to move, beset
By one small voice which whispers low: "You can't!"

WORTH ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD, STATES FARMER.

Travel World Over And You Couldn't Find The Equal Of Tanlac, States Conrad. Feels Hundred Per Cent Better.

"If you travelled the world over I don't believe you could find a better medicine than Tanlac," was the emphatic statement made recently by James Conrad, well-known and prosperous farmer, living at Chezzet-ocke, Halifax County, N.S.

"I was troubled so bad with indigestion for four years, I couldn't eat a thing without suffering the worst kind of pains afterwards. I had a disagreeable feeling like a lump in my stomach after meals, and what I would eat and form gas that bloated me up till I was in perfect misery. I lost all desire for food and frequently had spells of nausea when I could not retain the little I did force myself to eat. Just as soon as I lay down at night I had a feeling like I was going to smother, and could get but very little rest on this account and always got up in the mornings feeling tired and worn-out.

"So many people advised me to try Tanlac that I decided to do so, and it proved just the right medicine for me. I can now eat a good hearty meal and never suffer a particle from indigestion. I sleep like a log all night, have lost that tired, worn-out feeling, and feel one hundred per cent better in every way. Tanlac has been worth its weight in gold to me, and I simply can't praise it enough."

Tanlac is sold in St. John's by M. Connors; by Reg. Sullivan, Pouch Cove; Sound Island Store, Sound Island; Dennis Flynn, Avondale; J. J. O'Brien, Cape Troyle; J. W. Smith, Baine Harbor; W. A. Burdock, Belleoram; John Morey, Fermeuse; Mrs. Jos. Quinn, Renewa.—adv.

CAPE RACE, To-day.
Wind N. N. W., strong, weather clear. The S.S. Stavangerford passed at 2 p.m. yesterday, and a three-masted schr. in at 6 a.m. to-day; Bar. 30.1; Ther. 57.

MONSTER COD.—There was good fishing outside the heads this morning, the fish being of large size; one monster weighing over a hundred weight, was sold at the East End fish market to-day for $100. The purchaser had it carted home on a truck.

To-Day's Messages.

BLOODY WAR RAGING.

WATERFORD, Sept. 20.
A huge battle was waged on Sunday morning at the Police Barracks, 12 miles from Waterford, where a large party of armed men attacked the police. There was a heavy exchange of rifle fire, but the police held off the attackers until they attracted the attention of the military station six miles distant, by means of signal-lights, when soldiers arrived and beat off the besiegers.

OTHER CASUALTIES.

DUBLIN, Sept. 20.
Civilians this morning ambuscaded a military lorry escorted by ten soldiers in Church Street and a battle ensued in which two civilians and two soldiers were wounded. In the report it is said that one of the soldiers later died from his injuries. Military reinforcements arrived and drove off the assailants two of whom are said to have been captured.

ELECTION CERTAIN.

PARIS, Sept. 20.
M. Millerand's acceptance as a candidate for the Presidency has virtually solved the presidential crisis, as it is conceded by all in the Chamber of Deputies and Senate that his election is a foregone conclusion, as he will receive more than seven hundred votes. No other candidate is entering the field.

SEISMIC SHOCKS.

VICTORIA, B.C., Sept. 20.
A well recorded seismic disturbance took place to-day. It left a record for two and a half hours on the seismograph on Gonzales Observatory, commencing at six forty-nine o'clock in the morning. Supt. Denison places the distance at 1600 miles, probably in the Aleutian Islands or northern Mexico.

IN THE NEAR EAST.

WARSAW, Sept. 20.
The Russians are concentrating a heavy fire along the Nieman River, beyond the Polish northeastern frontier and preparations for an offensive, which is expected to be within a few days, are being made, according to military attaches who have been at the front recently.

BELFAST MOBS FIGHT.

BELFAST, Sept. 20.
A rival mob clashed in the East End of the city last night, and fought with stones until the police arrived and dispersed them by firing. Last night was the last in which the Curfew Law was effective.

SOMETHING TO SHOW.

PARIS, Sept. 21.
The ninth session of the Council of the League of Nations adjourned yesterday, having smoothed out many difficulties between four nations, which once threatened war. Through its action, Poland and Lithuania agree to an immediate suspension of hostilities pending a settlement of the dispute which both agree to accept. Finland obviated its difficulties with the Council by accepting its report on the Aland Island question, with reservations. It is pointed out by League officials that although neither Finland or Sweden are legally bound to accept the Council's decision, they are morally amenable.

COLOR TROUBLE IN CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.
Squads of policemen, armed with rifles, rescued three negroes from St. Gabriel's Church, South Side, last night, where they were besieged by a mob of one thousand. The negroes were alleged to have killed a white man, Charles Barrett, who went to the rescue of an insulted white girl. Race riots were feared.

STILL ALIVE.

LONDON, To-day.
MacSweeney passed a restless night in Brixton prison, and was very weak this morning, according to a bulletin of the Irish Self-Determination League.

WHERE ARE THE INDIANS?

WINNIPEG, Sept. 21.
A herd of Bison, numbering over one thousand, said to be the last on the North American continent, has been discovered roaming in the MacKenzie River basin.

NO GUES.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.
Federal and police authorities to-day, were admittedly as far as ever from the solution of the mystery surrounding the explosion that spread death and destruction in Wall Street Thursday last. Edwin P. Fischer has been admitted to Bellevue Hospital for observation. Alexander Brailovsky, Russian journalist, has been unconditionally released.

SANGUINARY RETALIATION.

DUBLIN, Sept. 21.
Auxiliary police forces last night wrecked the town of Balbriggan near here, in retaliation for the shooting of two police officers. Two civilians were shot dead and several persons were wounded. Many houses were set on fire and the largest hosiery factory in Ireland was destroyed. This morning the town is in terror and streams of refugees are abandoning the place.

An Eloquent Appeal.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir.—Might I crave a little of your space in Charity's sweet name to remind our Catholic fellow citizens of the very great need of establishing a record collection next Sunday for the little orphans at Belvedere.

I need not point out to all fathers and householders, I am sure, how very difficult it is for most of us to keep the proverbial wolf about the feet away, even with a weekly check or a monthly dividend coming in, but here is an institution with no earnings, no father to work and pay; no bazaars or outings or garden parties, no self-supporting farms, no income of any kind, but still unflinchingly caring for numerous, fatherless little ones. Oh! the pity of it. Won't you—every Catholic father of the city—won't you please help alleviate as far as you can the many wants that such a tremendous household creates. Here is an immense helpless family of more than a hundred girls—many of them babies—with only the devoted care and love of the good Sisters who are, however, utterly unable of their own accord to bring in one dollar.

Catholic fathers, remember on Sunday. Give to the limit—give till it hurts—you yourselves know the reward. Let Monday's announcement be that Sunday's collection was better than the best. It's up to us.
Thanks, Mr. Editor, for your valuable space.
Sincerely yours,
L.

"A skin you love to touch"

You, too, can have this charm

No matter what other charms you have, they count for little unless you have the greatest of all charms—a clear, fresh skin.

An authority on the skin has said: "Whatever your difficulty is, you can remedy the trouble, if you will only give your skin intelligent care and attention."

The following treatment brings the blood to the surface and stimulates the small muscular fibres. Begin it tonight and see how it will improve your skin.

Just before retiring, wash your face and neck with plenty of Woodbury's Facial Soap and warm water. After rinsing your face with warm water, rub a fresh lather of Woodbury's into your skin, using an upward and outward motion. Do this until the skin feels just a little sensitive. Then rinse the skin well in warm water, then in cold, finishing by rubbing for thirty seconds with a piece of ice. Always be careful to dry the skin thoroughly.

Make this treatment a regular habit, and in a much shorter time than you would imagine, your skin will take on the greater loveliness that it can have.

Get a cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap and begin tonight the treatment your skin needs. You will find Woodbury's on sale at any drug store or toilet goods counter in the United States or Canada. A 25 cent cake will last a month or six weeks.

The Gas Company's Position.

The question as to whether the Gas Company will have to go out of business at the end of this month, rests entirely on the immediate decision of the Government. For the past six years (the war period and after) the Gas Company has paid no dividends, and for the past three years has maintained the gas supply to the City under extraordinary difficulties at a very serious loss, principally owing to the lack of good coal in sufficient quantities. The Gas Company has placed the position fully before the City Commissioners. They, whilst admitting the desirability of maintaining the supply of gas to the City, and expressing a desire to give all possible assistance in this direction, had no power to guarantee the Company's bonds, or to take over and operate the Gas Works as a Municipal enterprise. The present financial stringency under which the Gas Company is suffering has been brought about in no small degree by the fact that for many years past the Company has been paying a heavy tax on its raw material—COAL, which tax has gone into the treasury of the City Council. Since the fire of 1922 the Gas Company has paid in coal duties more than sufficient to liquidate its present liabilities. Repeated efforts had been made to have this coal tax removed or reduced but without avail.

To understand the difficulties under which the Gas Company was operating we may state the following figures:

The Manufacturing expenses for 1916 amounted to . . . . .	$ 60,542.05
The Manufacturing expenses for 1919-1920 amounted to . . . . .	116,287.82
An increase in manufacturing expenses of . . . . .	55,745.00

Much the greater part of this increase was caused by the extra cost of coal and oil, and also by the inferior quality of the coal received. It has become impossible for the Shareholders or the management to carry on under the same conditions as prevailing for the past three years, and it is only because of the fact that good local coal is really available, if the Government carries out its im-ed intentions, that the Company is encouraged to try and continue the gas supply to the City. To liquidate its liabilities and to provide for the Company's present and future operations, a bond issue of $100,000 is imperative, and to secure the successful and rapid flotation of the bonds the Government has been requested to guarantee same, both by the City Council and by the Gas Company. A largely signed petition from the Gas Consumers of St. John's has also been sent to the Government, urging that the Gas Company be given all help required in the circumstances. There is a well established precedent for such a Government guarantee, because in recent years the stocks or bonds of the Newfoundland Woolen Mills, the Harbor Grace Dry Dock, the Bell Island Transportation Co., etc., have been so guaranteed.

The Gas Company has been serving St. John's for the past 75 years, and is a utility of much greater public interest than any of the above mentioned industries. The failure of the gas supply in St. John's would be little short of a disaster, and nothing should be left undone to secure the continuance of its operations.

Up to the Government.

We understand that the Government has assured the Gas Company of a supply of coal from the Government coal areas, and that work is now proceeding at South Branch, and that coal may be available from this source during October. The South Branch coal is said to be of a friable nature, and runs to slack if exposed to the weather. On the other hand, the coal at the St. George's Coal Fields, especially that of the "Jukes Seam" is a good gas coal. The Government had entered into an agreement with the St. George's Coal Company to take over their areas, build a branch line of railway from Cartville to the mines, and proceed getting out coal this year. Some hitch has occurred in the negotiations, and the proposed development is not being proceeded with at the present time. Nothing should be allowed to stand in the way of the immediate development of this source of coal supply, and it is up to the Government to put the matter through without delay.

North Sydney Favors Railway Improvement.

Reid Company Need More Adequate Terminals.

There is a strong probability now that the long-needed reconstruction improvement and enlargement of the C.N.R. terminal at North Sydney may be undertaken in the immediate future, through the influence of the Newfoundland Government. The railway situation in Newfoundland is quite serious. The railway is not paying, and through lack of funds and falling off of business during the war the road in a good many places has got into disrepair. There is not enough rolling stock, and much of what is on hand is not in good condition. This condition of affairs has caused the Newfoundland Government to appoint a Royal Commission to make a thorough enquiry, which is now in progress, the first recommendations just having been made. The question of adequate terminal facilities at North Sydney for the Reid steamers has come up as an important one in connection with the Newfoundland railway service. The representative, T. A. Hall, now in Ottawa negotiating with the Canadian Government for the rebuilding of the terminal here and the removal of inconveniences that have largely contributed to causing congestion here. There is a good reason to believe that the representations of the Newfoundland Government will be effective in securing the immediate undertaking of this long neglected work, which should have been done long ago.

The Newfoundland Government, which is progressive and enterprising, has entered in earnest upon a policy of improving the railway and steamship service. A comprehensive scheme of improvement, involving the expenditure of a large sum, both by the Reid Newfoundland Company directly and by the Government by way of assistance to the company will be based upon the reports of the Royal Commission, and in the meantime various improvements will be started without delay, and it is likely that the Newfoundland Government will be able to stir up the Canadian Government railway department to prompt action in regard to improvement of the North Sydney terminal.

Among the recommendations in the first report of the Royal Commission are that all passes on the Newfoundland Railway be abolished and that a terminus for south coast traffic be built at Argyle. The terminus will also be used as a winter shipping port for the Anglo-Nfld. Development Company and the Alexander Bay Pulp Company. The company will ship 2000 carloads of paper from December to May that has hitherto been stored each winter at Grand Falls, thus tying up a large amount of money, as well as causing congestion at Grand Falls. The work of building the three miles of railroad will start immediately and the terminal pier or breastwork will be ready for shipping by January.

Accompanied by members of the Government and officials of the Anglo-Nfld. Development Co. the Royal Commission will visit Argyle to-morrow, when preliminary plans for construction of the new terminal will be decided upon.

The railroad commission recommended an increase in passenger and freight rates and it is probable an increase of one per cent. per mile will be added to first class railway fares. Through this increase, abolition of passes and the traffic to be secured from the Pulp Company it is expected to increase the revenue of the railway by $150,000 per year and make the road self-supporting. Six new locomotives, 100 box cars and a new rotary plow are being procured. The rebuilding of the terminal at Port aux Basques is being rushed.

The Government has resumed the work of boring for coal at the Grand Lake area, under the direction of Prof. Dowling, and good hopes are held of the discovery of an extensive deposit in the immediate future.—North Sydney Herald, Sept. 16.

The late Jas. P. Howley, in his report on the Jukes Seam, said in his booklet on "The Coal Deposits of Newfoundland," that "This seam is so situated that it can be stripped of its cover, which is comparatively light, and for a long time it could be mined by quarrying or open cast, as it is termed. Much of it lies above the Parachois River, and all the coal it contained down to that level can be easily won, and that fifty men could get out 100 tons per day at small cost."

Thus, the Gas Company can be assured of ample supplies of good coal, if the Government carries out the assurances which it has given the Company in this regard, and, with plenty of coal, there is no doubt but that the Gas Company will be well able to meet both interest and re-payment of bonds. So that it would appear that the whole matter really rests with the Government. If it is sincere in its intentions of supplying the coal, there should be no hesitation in its guaranteeing the Gas Company's bonds. The responsibility now rests with the Government as to whether the Gas Company is able to carry on or otherwise.

As to the security which the Gas Company has to offer, we understand that there are 16 1/2 miles of mains and nine miles of service pipes, supplying 845 customers. The greater part of these pipes has been laid down from 1892 to 1915, and would cost to-day $130,000 to replace. The total paid-up capital of the Company is only $160,000 and it would probably take close on $400,000 to replace mains and Gas Works at the present time. There are a very large number of essential industries using gas in St. John's, and the loss and inconvenience would be extremely great if the Company is compelled to shut down.

Let the City Commissioners, the Board of Trade, and the Gas consumers get together and take such steps as shall assure the continuance of the gas supply to the city, and thus prevent serious loss.

During the recent session of the Legislature a grant for $500,000 was passed for the purchase and development of local coal deposits. Surely the time is opportune for such development, and our energetic Acting Prime Minister should see that the necessary arrangements are made without further delay.

Coal from outside sources is not available. Sydney coal is quite unsuitable. Hereafter the Gas Company, we are informed, obtained its supplies of gas coal from Pennsylvania and Virginia, U.S.A., but after 1916 this market became more and more difficult, and for the past year and at the present time it is almost impossible to get good gas coal, and only at ruinous prices. Recent advices from New York state that the gas coal situation was very desperate in the States, and that it was practically unobtainable for export. Gas coal, obtainable in 1913 at $3.15 per ton f.o.b. Philadelphia, has been recently quoted at $21.00 to $23.00 f.o.b. Hampton Roads, the latter being one of the cheapest shipping ports in the U.S.

St. George's coal is low in sulphur, and is a good average gas coal, and is also suitable for ordinary domestic use. It is very superior to Sydney coal, does not clinker, and is well adapted for bunkering steamers. A set of furnace bars would last very much longer with this local coal than if Cape Breton coal was used.

CADETS WIN CHAMPIONSHIP FOR 1920.

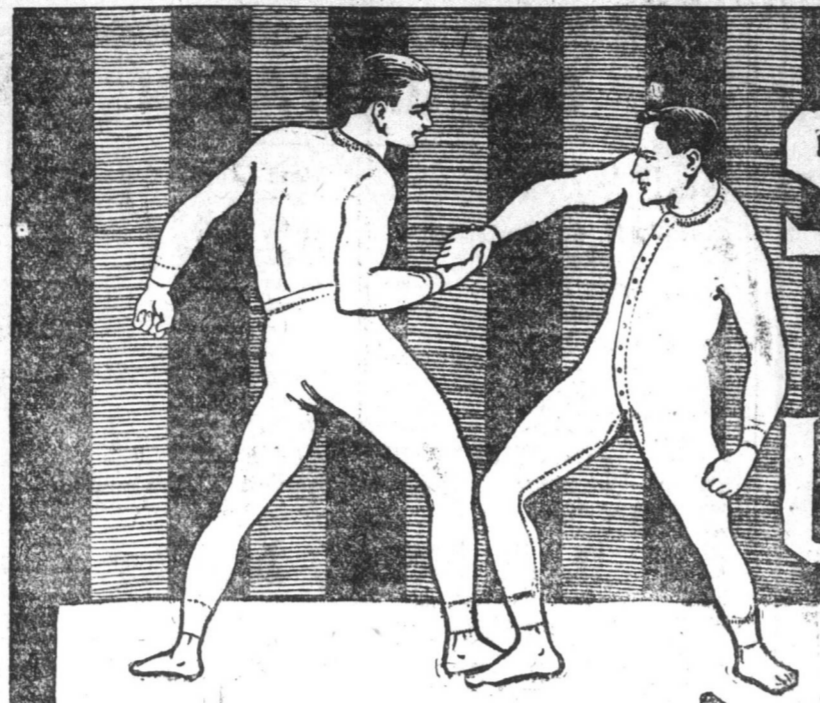

The second clash of the "Youngsters" and the Champions was awaited with interest, and it proved to be the fastest game of the series. The opening was all that could be desired in the game. The Scotias made a dash immediately into Cadet territory, and McEvoy and Connors cleared, and the Cadet forwards had a try at Ryan, who saved some hard shots. The Scotias again worked west and Farrell was called upon to clear some ones, which he did in his well known style, being quite "cool and collected" in the midst of the onslaught on his goal. "Jim" Connors was playing centre-half for the Cadets, cleared the ball well down field, and thereby taking a run pass to the Scotias, who in one of the prettiest shots for the season landed the ball in Scotia goal, after having cleared both George and Whelan. This was the only goal scored for the Scotias, and was notched up within minutes of play. The Cadets again did hard to land another and had luck in several attempts. For the remainder of the game play was not so much so that it was impossible to play good combination. In the second half the Cadets started off with a rush and for five minutes kept the Scotias on the alert. The Scotias put some vim into it, and for the remainder of this half assumed the offensive working with every ounce of strength to equalize. The defence of the Cadets was greatly strengthened by Frank Jackman, the young college player, who fell back with the Scotias and set up a line of defence that was as formidable as the famous Hindenburg line. "Jim" Connors also showed a tower of strength to the Scotias, and try as they might with the Scotias after shot the Scotias could not get the net. Towards the end of the game the Scotias, the Cadet right half, broke clear, and with a pretty shot from centre came within an ace of scoring. Darkness now set in and the game was not alone fast, but a little exciting. The excitement on the line was intense and nearly one thousand people witnessed the struggle. The Scotias made a last supreme effort to win the silverware, but Captain McEvoy and Gus Connors were game to the end, and with wonderful vigor cleared the Scotias from the goal. The Scotias still pressing the Cadets for the remainder of the game, but the Cadets were Champions for the year. Score, Cadets 1, Scotias 0.

The line-up was as follows:—
CADETS—Goal, M. Farrell, full backs, G. Connors, J. F. McEvoy; halves, J. Connors, F. Jackman, and J. Dulanty; forwards, J. Stone, E. Farrell, P. Murphy, M. Dobbin, and S. Carbage.
SCOTIAS—Goal, J. Ryan; full backs, P. Whelan, E. Rees; halves, A. Davis, E. Spencer, and G. George; forwards, J. Whelan, B. Searle, J. Mews, D. Rose, and G. George.

Bell Island Cadets Celebrate Football Championship — Victorious Team Entertained.

Upon the conclusion of the last football game, when the Cadets won the Football Championship, the victorious team, accompanied by several members of the Cadet Football Club and enthusiastic supporters, were driven in motors and carriages to the "Miner" building, where a celebration was arranged by Capt. J. M. Greene, President of the Football Club, and Commanding Officer of the Bell Island Company. Capt. Greene presided and after refreshments and an appetizing menu disposed of, an impromptu Toast list was taken up and gone through. The toast of the winning team, "The Cadets," being performed by Mr. Andrew Murphy, and responded by Mr. J. F. McEvoy, Sergt-Major of "C" Co., and Captain of the Football team and by Capt. J. M. Greene. The toast of the "Opposing Teams, Dominions and Scotias," was proposed by Major Leo C. Murphy, President of the St. John's Cadet Football Club, at the conclusion of which toast all rose and sang "They are Jolly good fellows." The toast of "Our Guests," proposed by Lieut. J. J. Murphy, was acknowledged by Revs. E. J. Rawlins and Wm. Casey; while the toast of "The Players," proposed by Dr. Viovanetti, was acknowledged by Mr. John Connors, one of the founders of the Bell Island C.C.C., who had two sons on the team. The toast of "The Old Comrades," proposed by Capt. Greene, was a well merited tribute to the spirit existing amongst all the different branches of the Corps. Lieut. J. L. Connors, of the Officers' Reserve, responded. During the evening musical numbers were given by Miss B. B. English and Sergt. F. Jackman, while solos were given by Rev. Fr. Rawlins, Major Murphy, Sergt. Jackman, and Capt. Greene. At midnight with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and "God Save the King," the gathering dispersed with loud cheers for all the teams and all connected with the Bell Island Football series for 1920.

Prior to the winning of the Championship, a re-union was also held at the "Miner" building, for the purpose of keeping up "the morale of the troops." On that occasion Major Wm. Lindsay, O.C. Church Lads Brigade of Bell Island, and Mr. C. F. Taylor, President of the Bell Island Football League, were present, as was also Rev. Fr. Rawlins by special invitation. A sumptuous menu was partaken of and various healths drank. Major Lindsay, C.L.B., being particularly complimentary to the Cadets in making special reference to the clean and sportsmanlike manner in which they were playing the series. Major Leo Murphy, in an eloquent address, expressed his delight in seeing the Cadets in the limelight, and hoped that victors or vanquished, they would earn on the football field the name of being true sports. Capt. Greene expressed his pleasure of the compliments of the previous speakers, and only hoped that the team would show always their brigade training to play the game and to play it like gentlemen. Mr. Taylor, as President of the Football League, was glad to see the entrance of the Cadets, as it infused new blood into the realm of sport and predicted for them a successful future. He pointed out that the sport can only be maintained by new blood

The End of "The Mayflower."

Some interesting facts with regard to the last days of the famous Puritan ship, The Mayflower, are given by a correspondent of the Times Literary Supplement. He says:—
"On May 26, 1624, an application was made to the Admiralty Court for the appraisal of the Jones' Mayflower, on the ground that she was 'in ruins' (H.C.A. Acts, 39/227).
"The appraisal was decreed, and took place the same day.
"The valuation, which had been asked for by Robert Child, John Moore, and the widow of Christopher Jones, owners of three-fourth part of the ship, was made by William Crayford and Francis Birkes, of Redriff (Rotherhithe), mariners, Robert Clay and Christopher Malym, of the same place,

(H.C.A. 3, 81/167.)
"This seems to be "the last of The Mayflower," so far as official records are concerned. To what use did her timbers return? Did they go to build the barn at Jordans?
"Sixteen years ago, in an article contributed to the English Historical Review, Mr. Marsden made it clear that the master of the Pilgrim ship was not Thomas Jones, as had been supposed, but one Christopher Jones. He cited Admiralty Court records which established the association of Christopher Jones and Mayflower as far back as 1609, when they made a voyage to Drontheim, in Norway, and from which he inferred that on one occasion, in 1616, they had been to one of the wine countries.
"Dr. Rendel Harris, in his recently published volume "The Last of The Mayflower," has given extracts from the Port Books, which show that in both January and May of the year in which the American adventure was undertaken Christopher Jones and his Mayflower brought cargoes of French wine to the Thames.
"In point of fact, we learn from the Port Books that the vessel was fetching French wine to London as early as 1640, and that she received some on board for the Norway voyage of 1609.
"Between the spring of 1610 and the summer of 1620 Christopher Jones's Mayflower finds frequent mention in the Port Books of London, always in connection with voyages to when she brought consignments of tafeta, satins, sarsenets, and lawns from Hamburg."
Mr. and Mrs. Goodall, of Oakland, Maine, have returned home after visiting the grave of their son, killed in the war in France. On the battleground they picked up a rifle, which they brought home with them. Examining it closely at home they found carved on the stock the initials of their son's name.

New Haven has within sight of Derby Avenue, on the road to Yale Field, a four-room house perched on the branches of a huge oak about twenty-five feet from the ground, with a ladder leading up to it. It is occupied by a number of boys who, with the help of their fathers, built it for fun.

don, who is 101 years old. Not now being able to read, and being also rather deaf, she spends her days looking back into those 101 years, and finds plenty to think about. Nothing now, she says, comes up to the early 'eighties, and people too have changed. They are so proud. A girl's dress in the 'eighties was neat and pretty. "But now, what sights they are!" she exclaimed. She spoke regretfully of the days when men wore knee breeches instead of trousers—and, on occasions, shoes with silver buckles. To attain a great age she advises people not to "racket" about. Her nephew, the Rev. C. H. Spurgeon, died in 1896, though members of Mrs. Spurgeon's own family are still alive.
