ADMITS THERE'S STATUTE FOR 2 CENT FARE ON THE GRAND TRUNK SILENT ON ENFORCEMENT

Hon. Mr. Emerson Goes on Record on Important Matter—Also He Inveighs Against the Principle as a "Dangerous Doctrine."

Ottawa, March 11.—(Special).—The house was visibly stirred this afternoon by the startling state of affairs disclosed through a few pointed questions by W. F. Maclean (South York), and the staggering attempts at answer perpetrated by the minister of railways. So embarrassing did the situation become that no one severely criticized Alexander Johnson (Lib. Cape Breton), who was in the chair, for feeding the signals of distress and declaring all further discussion "out of order."

The house was in committee on a private bill entitled "an act respecting the Grand Trunk Railway Co. of Canada." Artfully phrased and couched in verbiage, there had been inserted in this bill, a section repealing that part of the Grand Trunk Railway Act, passed in 1852, which in consideration of a grant of $3000 a mile, required the company to run over the length of its line at least one train a day, carrying third-class passengers at a penny a mile.

As reported to the house from the railway committee, this section was dropped. It had been withdrawn by the solicitor of the G. T. R. in committee, who did so at the request of the government.

Mr. Maclean demanded that the government should state its position. Terrified by public opinion, it had retreated upon the statute book the penny-a-mile clause. Did it now intend to enforce that clause?

Mr. Emerson replied that he was not the father confessor of the Grand Trunk Railway. He knew it had no right about its charter. He knew that any provision contained in its charter would be faithfully observed by the G. T. R.

Mr. Wilfrid Ingham, at this point Sir Wilfrid butted in, to the great embarrassment of his railway minister.

"On what authority do you say that this government had the G. T. R. withdraw this clause?" he asked the minister.

Mr. Maclean: "On the authority of Mr. Biggar, solicitor of the G. T. R., who was so noted for his verbiage of railways and canals."

Sir Wilfrid made no further interjection, but later on, Mr. Emerson, in a way impugned the verbiage of Mr. Biggar and then inveighed against the two-cent-a-mile as a "dangerous doctrine."

He put forward these two propositions: First, that the railways of Canada, at present only charged two cents a mile, second-class.

Second, that in Nebraska the passage of the two-cent-a-mile act had led to the railways abolishing all passes, excursion rates and other privileges.

Mr. Maclean said that Mr. Emerson was not the "father confessor" of the Grand Trunk Railway. He was, at least the minister of railways under a large salary, with clerks, assistants and lawyers to enforce the laws. But he had shown himself again to-day utterly incompetent for his position, first by his ignorance and second by his unwillingness to do his duty.

NOT SENSITIVE NOW TO PERSONAL HONOR

In Days of Duelling, Fowler Charges Would Not Have Gone Unchallenged.

Montreal, March 11.—(Special).—The Star's leader to-night says: "Criticism of Mr. Bourassa because he desires that the parliament should purify itself of the suspicion cast upon its most prominent members by Mr. Fowler's insinuation regarding the ministers and their supporters in connection with 'women, wine and graft,' will not attract much public sympathy. Mr. Bourassa is entirely in the right. Parliament cannot adjourn without an investigation into this matter. The ministerial inaction is a blot upon the conference in London ought not to depart with so grave an insinuation. It would be a national humiliation if some of these ministerial delegates of ours should be recalled from the midst of the festivities in London to play a part in so sordid and disgusting a drama. Mr. Bourassa is jealous for the honor and good name of parliament; and it is not at all strange that he should be so sensitive to this feeling. The last thing which appears of late to have occurred to the majority of the members of parliament has been to safeguard the honor and protect the good name of that body."

"These calumnies on this point could not be better illustrated than by the indifference with which they have permitted these Fowler insinuations to hang over him. Sensitive men would have demanded immediate action. In the days of duelling, they would have challenged without an hour's delay; and our boasted advanced civilization, which has done away with duelling, is a poor thing, indeed, if it has also done away with the sensitive personal honor which used to be so sacred."

"Then there is another point. Mr. Fowler is quite frank in saying that, if he is let alone, he will let his opponents alone. Now, if he does not speak—and if the ministerialists permit him to remain silent—what harm can come of it? He is not a dangerous man; he is not a 'saw-off' of the most dangerous description, and the degradation of parliament could hardly go deeper."

"Will it not be that Mr. Fowler's 'notice' has been noted, and that the time has passed? This would amount to a 'saw-off' of the most dangerous description, and the degradation of parliament could hardly go deeper."

From our interviews with the premier, Hon. Mr. Hanna, Hon. Mr. Beck and other members of the legislature, it appears, however, that the government is looking to the city council for guidance, feeling that nothing should be done until the citizens have voted on the matter of expropriation, and the question that is now being generally asked is: "Will the city withdraw its opposition to the demand for more capital?"

The impression has gone abroad that the mayor has been won over to the views of the company, and while his words do not openly strengthen this view, he has changed his attitude, his conversation by no means dispels the impression.

"I believe I have formed an opinion, but I do not care to say what it is until the matter comes up before the board of control to-morrow," he said, following upon an explanation of the process of negotiations. He added, however, that he was not in a position to say in his opinion, the amount of capital stock would not necessarily affect the amount the city would have to pay if expropriation proceedings were taken, as the compensation would be for the plant and the works.

"Necessary Works?" "The point we were trying to arrive at was if the city got the right to expropriate, would not the city have to go ahead with precisely the same work?" he explained.

The mayor's view was that if the company had sufficient of a surplus for the new works, there would be no further issue of stock desired, as it would be superfluous, and there would be an added drain in dividend. The board of control is not likely to take any action until Friday. Controller Ward will be absent to-day, and Controller Harrison to-morrow, while the mayor will be away at Ottawa on Thursday. The question being one of great importance, it is altogether probable that a decision will be reached until the whole board is prepared to sit down in discussion upon it.

The Negotiations. The negotiations, it is understood, will take place at the White House this week.

NOT THIS SESSION. Ottawa, March 11.—(Special).—In reply to a question by Mr. Maclean (York), the minister of finance stated that it was unlikely that any legislation respecting insurance would be introduced at this session.

IS CITY TO ACQUIESCE ALLOWING INCREASE IN CAPITAL STOCK IN LIGHT CO.'S PLANS? ANY INDUSTRY NOT A UTILITY MORE CHARGES NOT AN EDDY CASE

Mayor Coatsworth Says That Report of Government Engineer Declares Proposed Works Are Necessary—The Effect on Expropriation Proceedings.

"On Friday evening last I received a letter from Mr. Hanna, purporting to enclose a copy of Mr. Fairbairn's report, and expressing the opinion that, in view of this report, it would seem that the application of the company to the city council for permission to issue Light Co. for power to issue $1,000,000 new stock."

From our interviews with the premier, Hon. Mr. Hanna, Hon. Mr. Beck and other members of the legislature, it appears, however, that the government is looking to the city council for guidance, feeling that nothing should be done until the citizens have voted on the matter of expropriation, and the question that is now being generally asked is: "Will the city withdraw its opposition to the demand for more capital?"

Morgan Sees Roosevelt. Magnate Persuades Him to Confer With Heads of Companies.

Washington, March 11.—J. Pierpont Morgan, the New York financier, came to Washington in his private car to-night and went immediately to the White House, where he was in conference with President Roosevelt for the purpose of discussing the proposed amendment to the Railway Labor Act.

Mr. Morgan pointed out to the president that the financial interests of the country are greatly alarmed by the attitude of the administration toward corporations and particularly the railroads.

At Mr. Morgan's earnest request President Roosevelt agreed to confer with four leading railroad presidents, Messrs. McCrea of the Pennsylvania, Newman of the New York Central, Mellon of the New York, New Haven and Hartford and Huggitt of the Chicago and Northwestern, to determine if some agreement can be reached as to the relations between the railroads and the administration.

It is probable that E. H. Harriman may also participate in the conference, which, it is understood, will take place at the White House this week.

One Clause of New Labor Bill Withdrawn—Railwaymen Fight for the Act of 1903.

Ottawa, March 11.—(Special).—Consideration of the bill of the minister of labor, to aid in the settlement of strikes and lockouts in mines and public utilities, was resumed to-day in committee of the whole.

The principal change effected was the withdrawal of the clause empowering the government-in-council to declare any industry a public utility within the meaning of the act.

The minister refused to have it enacted, that pending investigation of a labor dispute the employer may not alter the hours of employment or rate of wages any more than he may order a lockout.

Mr. Lemieux was inclined to make light of any advice from the Cigar-makers' Union, The Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, he claimed, supported the bill, as also did the street car employees of Toronto.

Mr. Hall said that he prefers the Railway Conciliation Act. Very well, under this amendment, continued the minister, he had little say for the time to come under either act.

Mr. Boyce (W. Algoma) read the correspondence between Harvey Hall and the minister, he had little say for the time to come under either act.

Mr. Lemieux had treated Mr. Hall unfavorably. He thought it singular that the minister should insist upon load-herd and cumbersome legislation, when only a few weeks ago he looked upon the act of 1903 as a very perfect one.

Claude Macdonell (S. Toronto) made a strong argument against Mr. Lemieux's amendment and Houghton read numerous telegrams protesting against the bill, from Railroad Brotherhoods at Barrie. Mr. Maclean (S. Toronto) read numerous telegrams from Railway Brotherhoods Toronto and from the joint committee of carmen and conductors of the Cigar Makers' Union, Toronto.

Adopted Son and Second Cousin Join in Suit for an Accounting of Funds From Christian Science Leaders.

Concord, N.H., March 11.—Fred W. Baker of Epsom, N.H., second cousin of Mrs. Mary Baker C. Eddy and Dr. Foster G. Eddy of Wilbury, Vt., Mrs. Eddy's adopted son, have become additional parties to the plaintiff, as "next friends" of Mrs. Eddy, to the bill in equity brought to secure an accounting of her property against leaders of the Christian Science Church.

Dr. Foster Eddy says in his petition that he has "become convinced Mrs. Eddy is, and for a long time has been, incapable of intelligently conducting or receiving an account of her business and property and that the same is being managed wholly by the defendants without giving a proper accounting thereof."

Fred W. Baker, in his petition, says: "That in September, 1896, he was sent by his employers, J. F. and W. H. Edmond, carriage makers of Boston, to visit Pleasantville to examine and repair and alter certain carriages of Mrs. Eddy."

That he made known to Mrs. Eddy his relationship to her, and she treated him with cordiality on his first visit, and also a few days later, when he finished work on her carriages.

That she asked him to live in the house during his work, which he did, and took his meals with Mrs. Eddy, and introduced her to the house over one night.

Invited Him to Home. That she showed him about the house and invited him to converse with Mrs. Eddy, with his wife and children at any time. Mrs. Frye, however, told him that he ought not to make that visit.

That not long after, in accordance with the above invitation, while still living in Boston, he prepared to visit Mrs. Eddy, intending to take his wife and little girl; that he wrote to Mrs. Eddy, as she had told him to do, and that he was coming, but received no reply, and therefore, with mortification and reluctance, gave up the visit.

That during the next three years he wrote to Mrs. Eddy twice, offering to avail himself of her invitation to visit her, but he received no reply, and he believes that she was not permitted to see either of the letters.

Justice Fitzgerald Rules That Only Effect of the Recital on Thaw, Not the Truth, is the Point at Issue.

New York, March 11.—To-day, the first day of the state's rebuttal in the trial of Harry K. Thaw, District Attorney Jerome came to a temporary standstill against a practically solid wall, the rules of evidence built around the story of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw.

Justice Fitzgerald upheld the rule laid down at the beginning of the trial—the story is admissible only as tending to show the effect it might have had in unbalancing the defendant's mind; its truth or falsity being immaterial.

Jerome tried to avoid this rule by declaring that he was endeavoring merely to show by inference—by circumstantial evidence as to the details of the story—that Mrs. Thaw could not possibly have told the story to her husband.

Altogether to-day sessions were spent in argument, and in nearly every instance Delmas won his point as to the law, while Jerome got before the jury a knowledge of what his witnesses would have testified to had they been permitted.

Ten Witnesses Called. The district attorney called ten witnesses during the day, but aside from obtaining from the state eye-witnesses to the tragedy the opinions that Thaw seemed rational the night he shot and killed Stanford White, little real headway was made.

Lining up all his forces in rebuttal, Jerome decided to open his fight upon the witness by attacking the story told by Evelyn Nesbit Thaw. He called to the stand Frederick Longfellow, and asked him first about the case in which Ethel Thomas is alleged to have sued Thaw for damages because of cruel treatment.

Delmas objected to questions along this line under the professional privileges of lawyer and client, but before Justice Fitzgerald's remarks, the objection and ruled out the evidence Jerome declared.

The story of the girl tied to a post and whipped by Thaw is the story of Ethel Thomas. This poor girl is dead. Here Delmas interposed an objection to the district attorney's remarks, and the latter began an attack along different lines.

He showed Mr. Longfellow the photographic copy of the affidavit Evelyn Nesbit is said to have signed in the office of Abraham Hummel, which alleged Thaw used her cruelly while abroad in 1908, "because she would not tell lies against Stanford White."

Dispersed Over Frames. Jerome followed this up by asking the witness if Mrs. Thaw did not turn over to him certain papers to which she had subscribed, and which she said she had. There was a long controversy between Jerome and Delmas.

"William O. Gillespie, 25 years old, a messenger in the employ of the National Park Bank for about six months, failed to return last Tuesday afternoon, after making his customary collections. He was last seen in Buffalo, N. Y., where he was said to be a native of Scotland, who came to the bank from Canada, about six months ago. His duties were to make collections on notes and drafts sent in by correspondents of the bank. He lived at a boarding-house on East 84th-street. Last Tuesday afternoon he is said to have gone to his rooms, where he was joined by another young man whom he had never seen before. The two men left the house together and on the corner met two young women.

The council finally agreed to refer the matter to the fuel committee. The Canada Screw Co.'s bylaw was passed, giving the company a fixed assessment of $150,000.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP

Of Vital Importance to Canadian Women.

That public ownership is a live question in Canada at the present hour there is no doubt, and that it is especially an issue of pertinent and personal interest to women is equally certain. It is the moral obligation of each and every Canadian woman to know something of this movement, that promises to safeguard against Canada's exploitation by capital.

Organized industrial life evolves the syndicate, then follows the corporation and after that the trust, all in the name of more efficient business management. The business of living requires great and wise management, public ownership stands ready to wrestle with the problem.

that if in the unity of the syndicate or the trust there was strength, then indeed must be the power of its control, for it includes all men and women. The public can outwit its enemies, for it is the greatest possible organization for protective and aggressive purposes. Such a unified force can defy the demagogic trust and its centralized management.

own particular franchise more effective. A limited municipal franchise is extended to women, and since municipal government is the first public ownership of such utilities as light and heat, an important field of reform is opened to them.

The public is tired of this, and is reminding us that it was, just this certain social conditions that certain work was delegated to these corporate managements, and that when this work is not done for the good of the people, the people can manage it for themselves. The public must own and operate those utilities, that have provided too much for private management.

Besides being of national importance this idea of government control is of world-wide interest to-day. For the present London has turned down public ownership, but Japan still goes on nationalizing her greatest industries at a furious rate, and New Zealand still maintains her reputation as the "best governed country in the world" and in New Zealand practically everything is government-owned.

First the individual struggled alone for what are considered life's necessities. Then a few combined to form the syndicate. These forces were joined in the corporation, and then the trusts, by compulsion, associated hordes of men together, for the benefit of a few, and lastly we see an economical to delegate certain functions to certain individuals.

A great many people in Toronto are not quite sure either of how the word "Evangelia House" is pronounced, or of what "Evangelia House" stands for, after it is pronounced.

Public ownership is also the enemy and destroyer of the trusts and all preceding attempts at industrial organization. It is the embodiment of a great social and democratic spirit that cries down and annihilates its past sins or burlings. This spirit it was that kept humanity ever experimenting and moving towards the best possible control of life's necessities and utilities.

On the east side, girls and boys alike go to business very early, and it is no uncommon thing to see children 12 years of age, contributing their earnings to the home.

2431—A PRETTY BRETELLE DRESS FOR A MISS. Some of the most becoming of the dresses for young girls introduced by the bretelles, and one of these, suitable for home-making, is shown. The waist may be of the material of the skirt, with the bretelles contrasting, or of a different material, with the waist of a lingo or silk fabric. The skirt is in eleven gores and fully box-pleated. Box-pleated skirts are perhaps the favorite for young and older folks, as they fit the hips smoothly and yet have a wide ripple at the hem. The dress is very simple to make and sure to prove becoming. For the medium size 8 1-2 yards of 32-inch material are needed, or 2 3/4 yards of 32-inch goods for the waist if a different fabric is preferred. 2431—Sizes 12, 14 and 16 years. The price of this pattern is 10c.

ARTIFICIAL WINTER FOODS FAIL TO SUPPLY NEEDS OF BLOOD.

Hence the Thin, Watery Blood of Spring, the Weakness, Languor and Fatigue, the Loss of Energy and Ambition.

During the summer time the blood obtains from fresh fruits and vegetables the elements from which it derives its richness and life-sustaining properties. These blood-forming ingredients are largely lacking in the artificial foods of winter, and for this reason, together with the debilitating effects of indoor life, the blood is usually thin and watery in the spring, and the system in a more or less run-down condition.

SPECIAL FARMING & LIVESTOCK EDITION

THE OTTAWA LIVE STOCK SHOW.

It must be apparent to the people of Ottawa that they want something more than a fine building to draw a crowd to their show. It is lamentable from all standpoints that the show was not attended by more people. Here are several reasons for this, which assert themselves to the forefront. Firstly, we would say that the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association have been remiss in their duty, in not providing for encouraging a better and more liberal display of dairy animals. There was a very slim contingency of dairy cows at the show, although every comfort was provided for them in the magnificent new building.

Again, it looks as if the building of the arena was in the wrong spot after all. Had the building been placed near the business heart of the city, it is likely the results would always be more encouraging. Toronto should note this in building her proposed show building.

And the directors are severely to blame for the very poor—even extraordinarily negligent manner of advertising. Some people in government and quasi-official public positions seem to imagine that the rules of business are suspended in their case, and Providence will send the fly of success to their undertakings. In this case, no systematic advertising in the leading districts took place, and the parsimoniousness of the policy is now costing them dear. Ottawa should have had a good dairy exhibit in that centre of dairying.

THE SPLIT-LOG DRAG.

The spring time is coming, when the question of country roads will be bothering our farmers again. Much expensive machinery has been purchased by some municipalities to keep a good road. A very simple and inexpensive contrivance is known as the split-log drag, which consists of a 12-inch log being split in two and the two parts divided with rounds like a ladder. This is drawn by a team with a diagonal hitch, and it has been successful in leveling rough roads and filling ruts. It can easily be done by any farmer, and is very cheap. An esteemed contemporary is offering a prize for its use this season.

LECTURES FOR FRUIT GROWERS

Five Experts Will Visit About Fifty Localities in Province.

The Ontario department of agriculture, the Ontario Fruit Growers' Association, various local and district associations, and the Farmers' Institutes are at the present time co-operating in a very important campaign for the furtherance of the fruit-growing industry.

On Friday and Saturday of last week a convention was held at Hamilton, which was attended by a large number of the growers of Lincoln County. Professor S. G. Graham, Pennsylvania, and Professor Fletcher of Ottawa, gave addresses on spraying, and the best means of fighting the San Jose scale.

The Ontario Fruit Growers' Association has arranged an extensive series of meetings in all parts of the province to promote the organization of co-operative fruit-growers' associations. This work began at Leamington four years ago, and has been followed up with much success. Already there are twenty-eight such associations.

The work of these organizations is, in part, as follows: Purchasing of power sprayers, plants and equipment of the same, erection or leasing of package and storage house, wholesale purchase of packages, modern packaging of fruits and the shipping of the combined products of the members of the association.

A. E. Sherrington of Walkerton, Harold Jones of Maitland, W. D. A. Ross of Chatham, D. Johnson of Forestburg, and H. Thompson of St. Catharines have been appointed by the Ontario Fruit Growers' Association to address the meetings, which have been arranged in at about fifty places in Ontario. These men all have had practical experience in such co-operative work. The co-operative associations at present are located at Walkerton, Forestburg, Trenton, St. Catharines, Oakville, Newcastle, Chatham, Belleville, Iderton, Grimsby, Arkona, Simcoe, Oshawa, Parkhill, Ingersoll, Meaford, Orillia, Burgessville, Burlington, Georgetown, Thornbury, Owen Sound, Randolph, Burford, Cowal, Grafton, Alton.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

THE ANNUAL SHOW OF THE HACKNEY HORSE SOCIETY OF ENGLAND was held at the Agricultural Hall, London, March 5 to 8. There were 667 entries and 583 horses on show, making the best exhibitors of the series. His Majesty the King, Sir Walter Gilbey, Sir Gilbert Greenall, Lord Rothschild, Sir Lee Knowles, Lord Middleton and other nobles were among the exhibitors.

TORONTO HORSE MARKET BUSINESS IS HUMMING

That is for Quality and Substance, But for Ordinaries the Market is Fair.

Supplies are fully equal to the demand in the Toronto horse market. It must not be understood from that remark that the market is not well sustained. It is; but horses are being sent in that will not fetch the prices which are asked at the country side, with the result that dealers' mark-down figures are not being fetched. Dealers are not infrequently for top-notchers and delivery horses, the demands are plentiful, and figures substantial, but for many that find their way to market it is as they say almost an exact average price, although in instances they fetch them.

Outside the auction marts there is a brisk trade in delivery horses, but only let their holdings be known, undoubted there would be a great deal more. There is a marked tendency of fashionable people to return to their first love, the horse, and it is a fact as true as it is strange, that for high-class and well-matched carriage pairs, there never was more enquiry just now. The latter are excessively hard to get and dealers say are getting harder and harder. For Hackney-bred horses there appears no limit to the demand except the price, and that is soaring higher and higher. Roadsters also of substance and speed are much sought after, but there are few of the kind to be had. There are bunches of short flighters around, but few that can go a journey without exhibiting a tendency to collapse. A good judge says short speedways will be found to be a nuisance. They are, he declares, useless and unprofitable, and there may be more truth than poetry in his declaration. However, for ordinary class horses, delivery, general purpose and drivers, there is no weakness in the market, while for classy animals of every type purposes appear to be open without stint, but there are exceedingly few coming. For race and at this moment, prices are so low as not to be worthy consideration.

Breeders and shippers report an abounding market and a market that is continually getting brisker, but everybody requires certificates of registration and pedigree. When these are forthcoming there is no difficulty in getting good prices, but weeds and cast-offs are not wanted at all. Enquiry from south of the lakes is constant and shipments there of breeding stock and high-class educated, well-mannered carriage horses are continually taking place. But quality is the incessant demand. When the stamp of blood is absent there is nothing doing, at least so far as our neighbors to the south are concerned. It is almost the same in Canada, importers doing the main part of the good type horse business. In fact, it keeps them constantly on the watch not only to sell but to buy. As an instance, the transaction of the Graham Estate, mentioned as mentioned, in one day last week they sold seven high-class delivery horses and a 3-year-old bay Clydesdale, on an imported black stallion, years by God as Gold, and the other a chestnut mare, years by Monerith Marquis, and two 2-year-old Hackney bay bitches, to the Oak Park Stock Co., Brampton. They also sold a 3-year-old brown Clydesdale stallion, by Rosette, and a dark brown Hackney stallion, by M.P., to Thomas Lester of Quebec, and a 3-year-old bay Clydesdale, by McQueen, to a Mr. Henry of Jerseyville, Ont. As a matter of fact, from all over the market for pedigree Clydesdales and Hackneys is exceptionally good, while for standard-breds of size and individuality there are within reasonable limits plenty of buyers.

The horse committee of the Canadian National Exhibition, at a meeting held last week, restored to the prize list the competition of strings of ten in the breeding classes. Of all the interesting live stock features this was the most interesting two years ago, when ten strings of ten, each owned by one owner, competed in the ring at one time for the honors. The class was abandoned last year, because the judges complained of the hard work entailed in placing a decision. However, this year's committee decided that the pleasure of seeing so many splendid horses of different breeds in the ring at one time more than physicked the pain and so restored the feature. Hon. President Dr. J. O. Orr, guaranteed the first prize of $60—it should be at least $50—and George Pepper the second, of $40. There should at least be three prizes for such an event, namely, $50, $40 and $30. An increase was also decided upon in the case for Clydesdales, and the hunting classes were re-arranged. The exhibition prize list will be out in April. Meantime Dr. Orr will be pleased to receive applications for the list and for entry forms.

Returns just issued in Britain show that of 1317 pure-bred Clydesdales exported last year, Canada took 1048; the United States 207; of 71 Suffolks exported, the Argentines took 34. The export of Shires in 1904 was 271, in 1905 338, and in 1906 546.

There were 625 Shires, or 32 more than in 1905, on view at the twenty-eighth annual Horse Show in London, the week ending March 2. His Majesty the King, having had a clearing-out sale, recently was not represented, but the famous black stallion Ravenspur, for which Lord Winterstoke paid 800 guineas at the King's sale, took first prize and championship.

The annual show of the Hackney Horse Society of England was held at the Agricultural Hall, London, March 5 to 8. There were 667 entries and 583 horses on show, making the best exhibitors of the series. His Majesty the King, Sir Walter Gilbey, Sir Gilbert Greenall, Lord Rothschild, Sir Lee Knowles, Lord Middleton and other nobles were among the exhibitors.

The forthcoming general horse show to be held by the St. Lawrence Market building will commence on the evening of May 1 and extend over May 2, 3 and 4. Prize-lists will be out this week and can be had of S. F. Houston, Massey Hall, Toronto, Ont.

Chicago advice says that the receipts last week were 3896, and that 279 for the previous week and 2342 for the same dates last year. The arrivals were a much plainer quality than reported a week ago, and the excessive offerings of medium classes congest trade and weaken prices. Strenuous efforts are being made by commission firms to clear the receipts at the best prices possible. The over-supply of one grade of horses has eliminated the buoyancy and depression is pronounced in the trade the previous week when the bulk of the offerings represented high quality horses. Choice feeders are active at $160 to $215, with the bulk of the demand divided among Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania dealers. Light harness classes display firmer tone on easy spring orders, receipts being liberal and the clearance fee at $150 to $160. Farm mares and geldings, but all grades of the very type and quality, are a plain and medium offerings are weak and unevenly low at the following: Draughters $115 to $120 Loggers 70 to 125 150 180 Feeders 60 75 110 150 Light drivers 70 115 125 380 Artillery 110 140 150 375 Carriage pairs 225 275 290 825 Western (brand 15 25 60 95

J. C. Ross of Jarvis had a fairly successful week. His Clydesdales sold well, as they were reported in The Saturday World. The Shorthorn sale was very good. The people who get into good Shorthorns now stand to make money when the turn comes.

Spring work is approaching fast and those farmers who are requiring occasionally used grain or stock would do well to keep in touch with The World's farm pages, where they can find out the bargain spots.

Clydesdales horses are good property and likely to be more so as the spring rolls on. People who attend that sale of McGeachy's at Coleraine, in Toronto God, on March 19, will have a chance to get the right kind.

Thomas Graham of Port Perry has a nice bull or two of choice strains of Shorthorn for sale. These animals are ready for service—good reds in color—smooth, low-set, even animals, and he will sell cheap. Write or see him.

If boys forget the little odd chores occasionally don't be hard on them. We have known boys that were more faithful and thoro than a great many men. Too many fathers do not appreciate their own help until they are obliged to hire.

Many of those who leave their wives and children at home to do the chores while they stay in town to discuss the child-labor question and other national questions, should study upon the duties of township trustee and school director so as to be able to fill the office if elected, says an exchange.

Robinson's sale of Percheron stallions and mares at Wichita, Kansas, recently brought an average of $320.454.80 for 61 head, or an average of $640.90. Hyatt, a black stallion foaled in 1904, brought $1000, the top price of the sale.

Robert Burgess & Son's sale of horses at Wichita, Kansas, recently secured an average price of $1236 for their Percherons, Shires, Hackneys, French draught and German coach horses. A 2-year-old Shire stallion topped the sale at $2425.

That there is need for more railways in Canada is most evident when one hears of the great piles of wheat in the Northwest barns, elevators and granaries. Dealers cannot get their orders made last fall. Trade with the old land in flour is therefore injured also.

The farmer who does not keep at least a small flock of sheep is losing money every year. Much of the feed consumed by a flock of sheep would be otherwise a total waste. A few sheep should be found on every farm. Good, comfortable sheds that are large and roomy are a necessity where sheep are to be wintered. These need not be expensive, but should be well ventilated, free from drafts, and opened on dry land. A large, open yard is also necessary. The sheep should be provided for exercise. Too much confinement in winter will do harm. A few sheep should be found on every farm. Good, comfortable sheds that are large and roomy are a necessity where sheep are to be wintered. GREEN BONE AND INCUBATORS. Agricultural Editor: Will you kindly answer thru your valuable paper where I could get fresh out green bone or poultry? Also if goose eggs could be hatched in an incubator? If so, how long do they take in hatching? Where can they be got without having to send away from them? A Subscriber.

Ans.—We do not know of any local people who sell green bone. Most poultry keepers buy a little machine and grind the green bones themselves. The machine is cheap and simple and can be purchased from the Wm. Rennie Company.

Goose eggs can be hatched in an incubator by being careful to observe ordinary intelligence. They take the same time to hatch as in nature, that is four weeks. Any dealer in poultry will likely supply you with your requirements.

A teaspoonful of fenugreek in the mash for ten fowls is highly recommended for indigestion. It is a fenugreek in all condition powders.

THE FARMSTEAD

Brimstone and treacle! Maple syrup and cinders are healthy.

Do not forget W. D. Amlin's sale of milk cows in Scarborough.

What about that incubator for the spring hatching? Now for Verral's big sale on Wednesday, near Highfield.

Ottawa, provincial sale came off fairly well on Friday last.

The poultry display at the Eastern Ontario show at Ottawa was good.

The Eastern Ontario Fair Association passed a resolution congratulating Lockie Wilson on his appointment.

We call attention this week to Braemar Farm sale of Holsteins at Watford, near the Holstein is gaining in farm usefulness.

Read our condensed ads, each week and write the advertisers if you want their goods or services, an attention that you saw in The World.

J. C. Ross of Jarvis had a fairly successful week. His Clydesdales sold well, as they were reported in The Saturday World. The Shorthorn sale was very good. The people who get into good Shorthorns now stand to make money when the turn comes.

Spring work is approaching fast and those farmers who are requiring occasionally used grain or stock would do well to keep in touch with The World's farm pages, where they can find out the bargain spots.

Clydesdales horses are good property and likely to be more so as the spring rolls on. People who attend that sale of McGeachy's at Coleraine, in Toronto God, on March 19, will have a chance to get the right kind.
