EIGHTEENTH YEAR

A FIGHT WITH MONMONDS

General B's Division Had a Sharp Encounter.

British Lost 140 Killed and Wounded.

The Enemy Was Found in Unexpected Strength in the Hills.

A Regiment of Sikhs Supported by Four Guns Was Sent to the Attack and Drove the Tribesmen into the Hills, But They Came Back With Reinforcements and the Tide of Battle Was Turned for a Time—Cavalry Charged Brilliantly and With Other Help Swept the Rebels Back—Lieut. Hughes, and Lieut. Crawford Are Among the Killed—Cable News.

Camp Anapat, via Panjkor, Sept. 17.—(6 p.m.)—Severe fighting has taken place between the second brigade of General Sir Bindon B's division and the Monmonds. The British loss was about 140 killed and wounded. The brigade had moved out to attack the Monmonds in the valley north of the camp, to punish them for the assault on Tuesday night upon the force of General Jefferys at the foot of Rawat Pass. The Bengal Lancers found the enemy entrenched on the hills, about eight miles distant.

A Sikh Regiment to the Attack. The 35th Sikhs were ordered to make the attack. The regiment was supported by four guns of a mountain battery and by six companies of Buffs. The Sikhs drove the enemy into the hills, but eventually fell back upon the Buffs before superior numbers. The enemy then advanced against the left flank, drove back the cavalry and the Buffs, and separated from the column, which passed them in the gloom. General Jefferys remained with the guns and took up a position in a village. The enemy then retired.

Presses at the Hills. A company of Sikhs on the hills to the extreme right were hard pressed and were running short of ammunition, when the general ordered the commanding guides forward to their relief, which was gallantly accomplished. The guides were separated from the column, which passed them in the gloom. General Jefferys remained with the guns and took up a position in a village. The enemy then retired.

Enemy Drives Back. The enemy had occupied a part of the village, and the escort, not being strong enough to retake them, they inflicted considerable loss on the little party before Major Wortledge, with two companies, each company with a machine gun, came up and compelled them to retire. A large body of cavalry and the 8th Dogras left the camp and brought in the whole detachment. Captain Birch and Lieut. Watson were killed. The 8th Dogras, Lieut. Crawford, Lieut. Watson, Lieut. Gunning and Lieut. W. J. G. were killed. The 8th Dogras, Lieut. Crawford, Lieut. Watson, Lieut. Gunning and Lieut. W. J. G. were killed.

The Daily News says: "It is very serious news and gives the greatest importance to the appointment of Sir William Lockhart to succeed Sir George White as Commander-in-Chief in India, on the latter's retirement, which has just been officially announced. There is little doubt that his name will be heard, with credit by the insurgent tribesmen."

THEY CALL IT A REVERSE.

London Newspapers Comment in a Rather Boleful Strain on the Fight. London, Sept. 18.—All the morning papers comment upon the British reverse at Anapat, and the result of the fight. The Daily Telegraph calls it "disastrous," and says: "Whether it was due to rashness or to some not yet explained wound, it will be a matter of unfeigned sorrow. When we read of the loss of so many valuable lives we can only deplore a casualty which, though it will doubtless be speedily avenged, casts a gloom upon the happier intelligence received from Fort Galistan."

In Every Way D-p-orable. The Standard says: "The interruption of the advance in every way deplorable. It is absolutely necessary to retrieve the reverse, and, meanwhile, the enemy, who were said to be disheartened and demoralized, will be encouraged to organize a determined resistance. Probably the 3rd Brigade, which has reached Anapat, will retrieve its steps in order to support Gen. Jefferys. It is impossible to offer an explanation of the mishap. We must remember, however, that it occurred in a country never before traversed by European troops and very little known, the country of the Monmonds, who also knew very little of the strength ultimately to be encountered against them. But there is a reason to fear once again that a lack of complete intelligence as to the disposition of the enemy's strength has led our commanders to undertake an operation that cannot be pushed through. Further details will be given when they are available. It must be hoped that the Indian Government will give Sir William Lockhart a perfect free hand to choose his own men. He must not be bound by done regulations. Much has yet to be done before peace and order will be restored."

Thomas McCarthy, Deputy Warden of St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, Suspended—Convict Still Shooting.

Montreal, Sept. 17.—Thomas McCarthy, Deputy Warden of St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, was suspended today. The news has created great indignation, as he was liked by both Liberals and Conservatives. The letter of suspension was handed him by the Acting Warden, and was written by the inspector, Mr. W. Stewart. The reason given was on account of the exigencies of the present situation and on account of his advanced age. The notice was not unexpected, for from the beginning of the investigation into the affairs of the Penitentiary, Mr. Foster, the Acting Warden, showed that Mr. McCarthy was not a person of high character. Mr. McCarthy's intention to resign as soon as the present trouble was over. Mr. McCarthy, who is a native of St. Vincent de Paul, was conscious of having done his duty all his life, but that if he did not want to have his name sullied, though he would much rather have had the chance to resign. The fact that Mr. McCarthy was suspected of being a person of high character, Mr. McCarthy was probably the principal reason for his suspension. It is expected that when the news becomes known among the convicts, as it will in an hour or so, it will have the effect of making them still more rebellious. Mr. McCarthy has been connected with penitentiaries in the capacity of head-keeper at St. Vincent de Paul since December, 1885. He commenced at Kingston and was transferred in the December, 1881, to St. Vincent de Paul. He was mainly responsible for the suppression of the revolt, and he worked under seven wardens. His name has time and again been favorably mentioned in reports. It is understood that the ring-leaders of the present trouble will be transferred to Kingston as soon as possible. They are still shooting. Mr. Joseph Contant, the chief keeper, has been appointed acting deputy warden, replacing Mr. McCarthy.

FREE GOLD DISCOVERED.

So Reports a Prospector for the Railway Syndicate From the Michipicoten District.

Sault Ste. Marie, Sept. 17.—The North Shore steamer arrived down Michipicoten this morning with about a dozen passengers. Thirty prospectors went in there yesterday. By to-day's date the railway syndicate, which has 11 40-acre locations on the north and south shore of the lake, received a letter from one of its prospectors, which stated that free gold had been discovered in the lake, and that the property on the south side of the lake. This assures them gold-bearing veins on either side of the lake, and that they have a mighty good thing there. J. L. Caverhill, the wealthy Montrealer, in whose interest the syndicate has the property, is said to have retained the Dickinson-Mackay claim, in which he has a 100-acre interest in the claim, for which he has a 100-acre interest in the claim, for which he has a 100-acre interest in the claim.

SAW ANDREE'S BALLOON.

People in Arctic Russia Gazed for Five Minutes on an Airship.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 17.—A telegraphic message received here from Krasnoyarsk, in the interior of Siberia, says that on Sept. 14, at 11 p.m., the inhabitants of the village of Anandrovskoe, in the district of Yeniseisk, Arctic Russia, saw a balloon, believed to be that of Professor Andree, the Swedish arctic explorer, who left the island of Tromsø on the 10th of August. The balloon was seen at about 1000 feet, and was seen for five minutes. The balloon, it is added, was in sight for about five minutes.

BEARING SEA CONTROVERSY.

London Times Publishes the Gist of it and Shows Clearly to Sherman.

London, Sept. 18.—The Times this morning publishes the gist of the correspondence between Secretary Sherman and Lord Salisbury in the Behring Sea controversy. The book covers a period beginning with 1885 and ending with July 30 of the present year. Altogether there are 107 dispatches which show that the United States has pressed for revision since January, 1888. The Times remarks: "Though Mr. Sherman so far forgot himself as to sign the famous despatch, we cannot suppose that he is actually wrong. Only the concluding paragraph of the despatch is republished, all the terms deemed discourteous being omitted."

BOTH MEN HURT.

Two Torontoans Get Into a Fight and They Are Now in the Same Ward at St. Michael's Hospital.

There was a lively scrap on Colborne street yesterday afternoon, the two participants eventually being attended in the same ward at St. Michael's Hospital. John Herson is a butcher at St. Lawrence Market, and he has a horse and rig. James Muldoon lives at 88 Colborne street, and he wanted to borrow Mr. Herson's horse. He applied to the owner, who, it is stated, refused the request. Notwithstanding this, Mr. Muldoon took the horse, and when he came back with it Herson was waiting for him. Muldoon's leg caught upon a jagged piece of iron and was very severely torn. Herson was angry, and he had to be taken to the hospital. ADRESSED AGAIN.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Had to Reply to More Congratulatory Expressions, French and English.

Montreal, Sept. 17.—(Special.)—Sir Wilfrid Laurier was presented with an address to-day by the French National Union and the British Empire League. Repeating to the letter, Sir Wilfrid said he was happy that his speeches in England had met with approval. They were all agreed that our present relations with the Mother country were satisfactory, and that we should not always remain as they were, and then there would be but one solution, and that is, to have a union with the Motherland. We all fondly believe the solution will not be separation, but closer union. It was, however, possible to keep our present legislative and fiscal independence and still have closer union.

Sir Wilfrid's Visit to Toronto.

There was a well-attended meeting of the Toronto Reform Association last night to discuss plans for a reception on the coming visit of Sir Wilfrid Laurier to this city. President J. A. McKenzie was in the chair, and it was decided to make the celebration and demonstration a public one. It was proposed to tender the Premier a banquet, but a communication was read from President Gurney of the Bo-35 Trade stating that the board would like to entertain him in that manner. It was decided to forego the banquet, and to allow the Board of Trade to honor.

THE PROVINCIAL ELECTIONS.

The indications are that the local elections will be held in November or December. The deal at Kingston has been completed, and the deal at Toronto is expected to be completed in the near future.

The details run about as follows: Ald. Preston of Toronto and Librarian of Ontario is to get the Wardenship of Kingston Penitentiary in place of James Metcalfe, ex-M.P., who is to be moved from that post to the Wardenship of the Penitentiary in Manitoba; and in consideration for the latter's head not going into the basket as a result of the report of the recent commission on the administration of the prison, Mr. Metcalfe and his friends are not to do any harm.

The Ottawa Government is appointing Mr. Preston and moving Mr. Metcalfe not removing him in order to help Mr. Hardy.

This is the story given out, and it is confirmed in several ways. Mr. Preston has got the warden's job, it yet remains to be seen whether Mr. Metcalfe will accept his removal or resign and contest Kingston for the local.

Other reports are that a session will be held in December and the elections in February, but the World is inclined to believe that the late session will be the last of the present Legislature.

Conservative s is at the junction. A political demonstration will take place in the Town Park Saturday afternoon, under the auspices of the Young Men's Central Conservative Club of West York, which will be addressed by Mr. J. F. Whitney, ex-M.P. in the last Ontario Legislature; Hon. N. Clarke Wallace, M.P. West York; W. J. Maclean, M.P. East York; J. W. John, M.L.A.; Conservative nominee in West York, Col. Tyrwhitt, M.P.; Mr. Macgregor, M.L.A.; Miss Campbell, M.L.A., and others. Great preparations have been made for the event. An arena will be erected at the entrance to the park, over which is the motto in red, white and blue, "Welcome." The procession to the park will leave Hummerdence at the junction with the city cars at 1:30 p.m., and will be headed by the City's Band. In the evening a banquet will be held at the Peyton House.

THERE IS NO COMBINE

Among the Wheat Dealers in Manitoba.

SO AFFIRMS MR. WM. SCOTT,

President of the McKay Milling Company of Ottawa.

The Rumor of Such a Combine Was a Fake, Pure and Simple—Wheat Must Reach an Export Price and the Farmer is in No Danger of Being Concocted—Hungarians and Galicians Done Well in the Northwest—Ottawa News.

Ottawa, Sept. 17.—Mr. William Scott, President of the McKay Milling Company of Ottawa, was seen to-day by a reporter in regard to the report that a gigantic combine of wheat dealers had been formed to defraud the farmers of Manitoba in connection with the wheat crop, and characterized the rumor as a fake, pure and simple.

"I cannot understand what can have given rise to such a report," said Mr. Scott. "I have heard of combines being formed to put up the price of wheat, but combines formed as this one is said to be, with the intention of keeping it down, are an impossibility. Wheat must," he went on to say, "in any case reach an export price, and when this is attained the farmer is in no danger of being coerced by a combine. The Chicago market regulates the export price of wheat in this country. Whether the railroads or the Elevator Company prevent any such combination, market in Liverpool it must compete with that of other countries. I was in Montreal yesterday and was talking with members, both of the Lake of the Woods Milling Company and of the True Company, and none of them had heard anything about the reported combine of the Manitoba wheat dealers."

Subsequently Mr. Scott sent a telegram to the Northwest Elevator Company, Winnipeg, inquiring for information respecting reported combines. The following reply came: "Your telegram received. Combines reports are humbug; any person who attempts to form such a combination, wheat knows that it is a practical impossibility to organize a combine to control either the buying or selling. The facilities provided by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company prevent any such combination. If you have any doubt about no competitor in this country come up and put our buyers will see you get plenty of elevator accommodation." (Signed) Northwest Elevator Company, Winnipeg.

THE PRESENT WHEAT MARKET

Some Reasons Why the Farmer Should Sell Some of His Wheat Now—A Review of the Conditions of Last Year and the Present.

A great deal of loose information and cheap advice relative to the wheat trade are going the rounds of the press. The world will endeavor, in the following statements, to place the actual position before its readers.

Review of the Trade in Europe, 1896-97.

Table with 2 columns: Quantity of wheat and flour, and Buels. Rows include United Kingdom, France, Belgium, Germany, and others.

Quantity of wheat and flour for Europe, Aug. 1, 1896... 10,400,000 Buels.

Quantity in store in above countries... 33,300,000 Buels.

Balance shows quantity of foreign wheat consumed in importing countries...

Table showing wheat consumption for various countries: United Kingdom, France, Germany, Belgium, Holland, Italy, Spain and Portugal, Scandinavia, Switzerland, Greece, Austria-Hungary, and Ex-European countries.

The shipments were made by the following countries: United States and Canada, Russia, Roumania, Bulgaria, Roumelia and Turkish ports, India, Argentina, Austria-Hungary, and Chili, North Africa, Persia, Turkey-in-Asia, Cyprus, etc.

These liberal shipments were barely sufficient for the requirements of the importing countries, as the stocks in and about Europe at the close of the season were over seven million bushels less than on Aug. 1, 1896.

Prospects for 1897-98. Liverpool, Aug. 17, estimates the wheat crop of Europe in 1897, 1,288,800,000 bushels, as compared with 1,483,980 bushels in 1896.

RECALLS THE OLD DAYS OF '37.

Toronto's Court House of Seventy Years Ago Exposed to View on King-Street—The Old Jail Walls Still Stand—Some Interesting Reminiscences.

Those who have had occasion to pass along King-street east during the past week have noticed the demolition of the old St. James' Building at the northwest corner of King and Church-streets, recently occupied by the Toronto Railway Company.

The cost of the two buildings was $2800. The plans were by Dr. Baldwin and Mr. Swait. The corner stones of the edifices were laid on Saturday, April 24, 1824, by the Lieut-Governor, attended by his staff and accompanied by the members of the Executive Council, judges, lawyers, magistrates and principal inhabitants of York.

A sovereign and a half sovereign, several silver and copper coins and some newspapers were deposited in the stone.

"The jail and court house were never torn down, but were remodeled and form part of the buildings now standing on their sites. York Chambers, at the corner of Toronto and Court-streets, comprises the old jail. In 1836, J. Young published among other pictures of old Toronto, lithographic views of the jail and court house, which may now and then be found in the possession of old residents.

"Near the front of the jail stood the par-

alist here, also of the steps which should be taken to prevent the destruction in Quebec of historic landmarks, now proposed and urged.

Mr. Brant Sero, from Hamilton, a descendant of Thyendengee, spoke of the Indians in Ontario, giving some very interesting information, introducing Mr. Coyne, the President of the Provincial Association.

Miss Carnochan was rejoiced that the mantle of Canon Bull, who had done so much for historic societies, had fallen on such able shoulders.

Mr. Coyne, after complimenting this young society, read a very able paper in-hand with the library and be an educator as well, not a mere collection of curiosities, but objects to educate the young with regard to the past.

Writing a Drama. Mr. McKenzie of Toronto, who is writing a drama on the taking of Fort Niagara, by Sir W. Johnson, then read one act, showing eloquent powers and great historic knowledge.

Mr. Kirby read a motion, which was passed, to memorialize the Government with regard to the Quebec vandalism. A hearty vote of thanks was given to the speaker, proposed by Rev. J. C. Garrett, and carried unanimously.

Those at the lunch were James Coyne, St. Thomas; Mr. and Mrs. Brant Sero, Hamilton; Mr. D. Boyle, Toronto; F. B. McKenzie, Toronto; William Kirby, P.R.C.S.; Rev. J. C. Garrett, rector of St. Mark's; W. F. Seymour, E.K.; Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Sierros, and Miss Carnochan.

The second pamphlet of the society is now out, containing a poem by Mrs. Curzon; a paper by Canon Bull, on Fort Niagara; and the Loyal Rescue story, by Miss Carnochan. Another pamphlet is soon to follow, with a valuable paper by Major Cruikshank of Fort Erie. The vice-president, Mr. Telford, and the secretary, Mr. Alfred Gail, were unavoidably absent.

THE OLD COURT HOUSE AS NOW SEEN FROM KING-STREET.

ham Lyon Mackenzie is thus related by reading as occurring on the steps of the court house: "Sentence of death had been pronounced on a young man once employed in his printing office. He had been vigorously exerting himself to obtain from the executive a mitigation of the extreme penalty. The day and even the hour for the execution had arrived, and no message of relief had been transmitted from the Lieutenant-Governor. As he came out of the sheriff's room, after receiving the final announcement that there could be no further delay, the white collars on each side of his face were wet through and through with the tears that were gushing from his eyes and pouring down his cheeks. He was just realizing the fact that nothing further could be done, and in a few minutes afterwards the execution took place."

NIAGARA HISTORICAL SOCIETY. Second Anniversary at the Old Town Across the Lake-Luncheon and Speeches and Thanks.

Niagara, Sept. 17.—The second anniversary of the Niagara Historical Society was held here to-day. The speakers were entertained at Doyle's Hotel at lunch by the society, afterwards visiting Saint Mark's graveyard to strew with flowers the graves of several who were slain at the taking of the town, May 27, 1813.

The meeting was in the Music Hall, the president of the society, Miss Carnochan, in the chair, and the speakers of the day on the platform. Mr. Kirby, the patron of the society, spoke of their intention to erect a monument in commemoration of the United Empire Loyalist here, also of the steps which should be taken to prevent the destruction in Quebec of historic landmarks, now proposed and urged.

IT'S DIFFERENT SAUCE NOW

Robert J. Fleming as Mayor and as a Civic Employee

ARE TWO DIFFERENT MEN

Must Now Accept the Action of the Board of Control or Get Out.

Controller Graham Talked Straight to the Mayor Yesterday About the Decision of the Council Regarding Mr. Fleming's Position—A Visit to Ashbridge's Bay—Civic Matters.

These are troublous times for the City Hall politicians, as the nefarious deed whereby Robert J. Fleming became Assessment Commissioner and Ald. John Shaw assumed the Mayor's chair is not working out to the satisfaction of all parties concerned in the transaction.

The cause of this is the action of the Board of Control in recommending that Mr. James Forman be made Deputy Assessment Commissioner, against the wishes of Mr. R. J. Fleming, who is very wrathful and is making all sorts of covert threats of what he will do if the Council endorses the action of the Board of Control.

Commissioner Fleming, in conversation with Controller Graham yesterday, was heard to say that he thought the Board of Control had acted in a very mean way, and that the members have a leg to stand on in justification of their action; and further, that Mr. Forman would never be made Deputy Assessment Commissioner while he (Fleming) is head of the department.

He was then told by the Controller that the Council would be sorry to lose his services, but if it came to that, the Council would have to submit.

While Mr. Fleming is busy marshaling his forces against the Council, he seems to forget that he is not now an official of the Council, and that he has no voice in the Council, and that he has no voice in the Council, and that he has no voice in the Council.

Several of the aldermen who were spoken to by Mr. Fleming, however, have no idea of resigning so lucrative a position, to obtain which he devoted much of his time, and look upon his threats as a mere bluff, in the hope that he can keep some of those in line who stood by him in his many deals while Mayor, but who now show signs of deserting him.

It is expected that there will be a warm time of it at the Council meeting on Monday night over this matter.

The Court of Revision discussed assessment appeals from division two of Ward Four yesterday. There were 60 appeals.

A BIG CONSPIRACY. Seattle, Wash., Sept. 17.—Six letters, produced in evidence in the preliminary hearing of the Chinese murder case, were seized by Collector J. C. Saunders at Port Townsend in the examination of Chinese "merchants" tempted to show the existence of a big conspiracy for the unlawful entry of Chinese into the United States.

The price paid to Gee for the landing of the men ranged from $150 to $200 each.

The authorities seem to have evidence showing that nearly a thousand Chinese have been fraudulently landed.

LAURIER STILL LOOKING TO WASHINGTON.

In his speech at Montreal on Thursday night last Premier Laurier gave us an insight into his future policy. In the first place he made the important announcement that he would continue to negotiate with the Government of the United States, with a view to securing closer trade relations between that country and Canada.

The Dominion Government has been repulsed every time it made overtures to the United States, but Sir Wilfrid is patient, and he will renew the negotiations. This is how he expresses himself: "Our sentiments, I know, have not been reciprocated, but because they have not been reciprocated I do not give up hope."

Later on in the course of his speech he referred to the St. Lawrence route, characterizing it as the natural outlet for the products of Canada alone but of the United States. He hopes some day to be able to expose these views to an American audience, and to convince them of the folly of fighting against the laws of nature.

Sir Wilfrid's neglect to adopt a manly policy towards the United States in regard to our saw logs, pulp wood and ores is explained by his announcement at Montreal that he still believes in the sunny ways of persuasion. The United States must not be coerced. This short sentence seems to express, epigrammatically, Sir Wilfrid's American policy.

We think his announcement in this respect will be received with regret in every province of the Dominion. The United States Government have been on record for decades, and their policy towards Canada is not a matter of conjecture. We know what their attitude towards us has been in the past, we know what it is now, and we know what it will be. The United States is opposed to the development of a strong power to the north of it. It objects on principle to any further increase of British power and authority on the American continent.

If there is any policy upon which the Americans as a nation are agreed it is this policy of opposition to the enlargement of British authority in North America. The policy of the United States towards Canada is based on the principle underlying the Monroe doctrine. Let Canada become an independent American nation and the attitude of our neighbors will assume an altogether different aspect.

Independence of Britain means confederation with the United States, which is exactly what they desire. We lay it down as an axiom, therefore, that the United States Government will not co-operate with Canada when such co-operation tends to strengthen the position of Great Britain on this continent.

The people of the United States are strongly convinced of this idea, that Canada is a plum, which, when ripe, will fall into the United States basket. We may take it for granted that they will adopt no policy which conflicts with this theory. So much for Sir Wilfrid's American policy.

Now as to his policy for the development of our trade with Great Britain. On this point he proposes nothing further than what he has already done. He makes no announcement of his intention to address a British audience with a view to show them that it is in the interests of the Empire to encourage trade with Canada by the imposition of preferential duties.

Sir Wilfrid admits that Canada must look to Europe for a market for her produce. He says on this point: "We must find markets abroad. For example, it is impossible that the agriculture of this country can find a market here. We must find a market on the other side of the Atlantic."

How does Sir Wilfrid propose to find this market? He tells us he will co-operate with the United States to secure cheap canal transportation for the agricultural produce that is to be sold in Great Britain and Europe. The Canadians and Americans are to go hand-in-hand into the markets of Great Britain. That is Sir Wilfrid Laurier's policy. That is the policy of the Premier of Canada.

The people of Great Britain have shown in no ambiguous way that they prefer to deal with Canada rather than the United States. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies in the British Government, recently made a proposal, or at least suggested a proposal, which had in view the giving of a preference to colonial produce in the markets of Great Britain.

Mr. Chamberlain had unbounded faith in his policy of preferential trade. He favored the policy because, on the one hand, "it would be the strongest bond of union between the British race throughout the world," and, on the other hand, "it would open up to the colonies an almost unlimited market for their agricultural and other productions."

It would, in fact, fill the great desideratum that Sir Wilfrid Laurier attributes to Canada when he says "we must find a market on the other side of the Atlantic."

Mr. Chamberlain invited the colonial premiers to discuss this preferential trade proposal. He wished them to give their views on it in the same way as they gave their views on the German and Belgian treaties and the other questions that came before them at the five sessions of the colonial conference that were held during the Jubilee celebration.

Canada's Premier, he who is now declaring that "we must find a market on the other side of the Atlantic," treated Mr. Chamberlain's proposal with contempt. He said:

"What we give you by our preferential policy is not a market, it is a freedom under which we have prospered. It is a free gift. We ask no compensation. It is a free gift. We ask no compensation. We would not see you come under its banner, for what weakness you must weaken us."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier proposes to form a partnership with the United States, which repulses us as a hostile country, while he rejects the friendly advances of Great Britain, which is our best friend.

The Royal Victoria Life Insurance Co. of Canada is the name of a new candidate for public favor, with its head office in the City of Montreal and with Mr. David Burke, late manager of the New York Life Insurance Co., and one of the most able life underwriters on the continent, as general manager.

The Royal Victoria Life Insurance Co. is a company of exceptional strength and respect to which they attach their names. There is no man in Canada better qualified for the position of General Manager than Mr. David Burke. He has energy, he is thoroughly practical insurance man. The stock of the company is being rapidly liquidated. Where others failed to succeed, showing that our methods of selling shoes will win trade anywhere. It's not luck. It's hard, continuous, sleepless work. You know now that there is one store on Queen Street that sells as cheap as the biggest and cheapest shoe store on Yonge Street. SUNDAY LABOR QUESTION

Brought Out a Hot Debate and Some Sharp Cross-Firing.

Toronto's Own D. J. O'Donoghue Introduced a Resolution Condemning Sunday Work and Delegate Keyes of Montreal Led the Negative Side of the Debate.

Hamilton, Sept. 17.—(From The World's Staff Correspondent)—The Trades and Labor Congress opened the last day of its session this morning.

The house resolved that it was desirable for the interests of labor that labor candidates should be nominated in all districts where a possibility existed of their election.

Sunday Labor Question.—The introduction by D. J. O'Donoghue condemning Sunday labor changed the general prevailing into hot discussion once more.

Delegate Keyes of Montreal said the resolution was not in accordance with the spirit of progressive labor.

The Montreal contingent here raised a howl of disapproval and President Garvey had all he could do to prevent order.

They are After J. K. Kerr.—Delegates W. Todd and D. J. O'Donoghue moved that, in the consideration of the regular police and military forces of Canada be simply capable.
