The Turk Proposals Are Not Acceptable

Council Meeting at British Embassy in Constantinople Decides, However, that They Are Such as Can be Discussed—Varying Reports About Evacuation of Neutral Zone.

(Canadian Press Cable.) Constantinople, Oct. 3.—The Kemal proposals which will be laid formally before the Mudanya conference today are "discussable but not acceptable."

STOCKS ON BOOM IN WALL STREET

Standard Oil Climbs to New High for Year.

Strong Opening on the Exchange This Morning—Firm on Montreal Market, But No Special Activity—Our Dollar is Above Par.

(Canadian Press) New York, Oct. 3.—(10.30)—The rapid advance in oil shares, which ranged from one to four points, featured the strong opening of today's stock market. Standard Oil was pushed up for points to a new high for the year and gains of 2 to 2 1/2 points were registered by Standard Oil of New Jersey, Associated Oil and Mexican Petroleum.

New York, Oct. 3.—(noon)—Prices continued their upward trend during the morning. The bidding up of several specialties to new high records indicated active resumption of pool operations, which apparently was influenced by the better tone of foreign and domestic news and the prospect of easier money rates.

Montreal, Oct. 3.—(10.30)—Prices were firm during the first half hour this morning on the local stock exchange but no issues were particularly active.

Albini was up a quarter at 99 3/4, while Brompton was down three quarters at 83 1/4. Spanish River, Bell Telephone and Quebec Railway were all fairly active and steady at 9 3/4, 116 and 27 respectively.

The Dollar. New York, Oct. 3.—Sterling exchange steady. France 107 1/4; Italy 426; Germany 26 1/2. Canadian dollars 1-32 of one per cent discount.

THE BRIDGE CASE

Before Chief Justice Sir Douglas Hazen this morning a brief hearing in connection with certain matters of the Attorney General as the C. P. R. took place the question as to being an application for discovery of plans, specifications and other information having to do with the new bridge over the reversing falls. The idea of the request was to endeavor to discover from the plans of the engineers whether or not it would be possible to raise the bridge. Objection was taken by the defendant that this was not a matter for the court in the present, that the issue should first be tried before a jury.

WOMAN TAKES PLACE IN SENATE

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 3.—Mrs. W. H. Felton of Cartersville, Ga., was appointed Governor Hardwick today to fill vacancy caused by the death of Senator Thomas E. Watson until the next election in November.

Report Conflict.

Paris, Oct. 3.—A Havas despatch from Smyrna, the Turkish nationalist headquarters, says it is announced that the Kemalists have evacuated the neutral zone along the Straits of the Dardanelles.

No mention of any evacuation movement by the Turks in the Chanak or other neutral zones has been made in official dispatches from Constantinople, comparatively near the scene.

Moscow, Oct. 3.—Soviet Russia's aims are all toward peace, General Daniloff, chief commissar of the Red army general staff, told a correspondent today in denying reports that Soviet artillery was being sent to the Turks.

Constantinople, Oct. 3.—Twenty-six Turkish irregulars, including one officer, were killed by Greek forces, following the Turks' invasion of the Chanak neutral zone yesterday, according to a communication issued by the Greek commander.

A Constantinople despatch yesterday said that a band of 800 Turkish irregulars crossed the border of Thrace at Sinekli, and attacked the Greeks' posts. The Turks were thrown back across the boundary after the arrival of Greek reinforcements.

All men between the ages of 30 and 50 in that part of Thrace, which is under Greek control, are being recruited for the Turkish army.

UNITED STATES AND NEAR EAST

Secretary Hughes' Reply to Methodist Episcopal Bishop Relative to Protection of Christians.

Washington, Oct. 3.—Secretary Hughes declared last night in a cable message to Dr. James Cannon, Jr., Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, who is in Paris, that the U. S. government in reference to the Near Eastern situation, "has not failed in any way to make the sentiment of the U. S. people understood" as to every appropriate action.

"The executive," Mr. Hughes added, "has no authority to go beyond this and there has been no action by congress which would justify this government in an attempt by armed forces to pacify the Near East or to engage in acts of war in order to accomplish the results you desire with respect to the inhabitants of that territory and to determine the problems which have vexed Europe for generations."

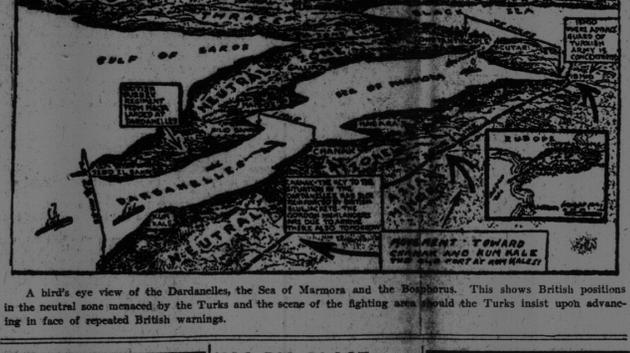

The message was in reply to one from Bishop Cannon, under date of Sept. 30, in which he declared his personal belief that "Christian America" would insist that the government of the U. S. co-operate actively to protect Christians in Asia Minor, not only diplomatically, but if necessary with arms and navy to secure this result.

Washington, Oct. 3.—President Harding was asked by a committee of the Near East relief association yesterday to support an appeal of that organization for funds to assist in caring for refugees from Smyrna. It is understood that the president has under consideration issuance of a public statement on the subject.

POLICE COURT.

There were three men before the magistrate this morning on charges of being drunk. All pleaded guilty and were fined $8 or two months each with the warning that they were liable to an additional fine of $200 or six months for taking the liquor from a stranger.

WHERE THE BRITISH FACE THE TURKS

A bird's eye view of the Dardanelles, the Sea of Marmora and the Bosphorus. This shows British positions in the neutral zone menaced by the Turks and the scene of the fighting area should the Turks insist upon advancing in face of repeated British warnings.

Mr. Phalen has lost the sight of one eye, but Dr. MacQueen thinks there is a chance that the remaining eye can be saved.

BIG CROWDS FOR WORLD SERIES

Babe Ruth Fails to Get Seats on Late Call

Weather Looks Good for the Week—McGraw Expects Higher Grade of Ball—Huggins Says Team Better Than Last Year.

(Canadian Press) New York, Oct. 3.—The New York Giants and Yankees, standard bearers of the National and American Leagues, were tuned to concert pitch today in final workouts in preparation for the opening of their second successive struggle for premier baseball honors tomorrow. The Giants were winners last year in a series that lasted eight games. The laurel this year will go to the team winning four out of seven.

With a shorter series, attendance records are expected to exceed last year's high mark of 269,977 paid admissions for eight games, but indications pointed to capacity demands. Club officials today announced a sell-out in reserved seats for the first six games, with thousands of unmet applications. This is exclusive, however, of 32,000 unreserved seats in the bleachers and upper tier of the grand stand, which will go on sale each day at 10 o'clock.

Babe Could Not Buy. Even Babe Ruth was unable to satisfy a last minute desire for tickets. The Yankee's slugger appeared at the Giants' office in his quest for seats. "Sorry, Babe, but there is not a hope even left," he was told. He was but one of the many fans who are expected to arrive from all parts of the United States and Canada were on hand early today. The influx was expected to reach its height tonight.

Promise of fair weather, with ideal temperatures, not only for the opening game, but probably for the rest of the week, checked many untoward moves by fans.

All New York this morning appears to be converted into a big debating society, and the subject of the debate is "Who will win the big battle." There are those who assert vehemently that the predominating pitching strength of the Yankees would be the decisive factor. They are emphatically answered by those who believed that the hard hitting, quick thinking and aggressive attack of the Giants would overcome any disadvantage on the mound. Neither manager had committed himself to a definite prediction of victory.

"I look for a higher grade of ball this year than we had a year ago," McGraw declared. "A year ago teams were a bit keyed up, and it took some time for the tension to lessen. This year both have gone through another pummeling winning campaign, and this, added to the experience they got in the series of 1921, should result in an absence of nerves. Both should play at their best."

Huggins was perhaps a little more outspoken. "We have a great lot of pitchers," he said. "We have a game, hard hitting, fighting ball club, a far better team than the one the Giants beat last year. All the men are physically fit, mentally primed. We have just come out of the toughest fight paced against a pennant. On paper we look stronger than the Giants, but the series is not won on paper."

Bush vs. Neft. While Huggins has picked up the series, has been handicapped for a while by a stone bruise on his left foot, but the Yankee manager asserted during the workout yesterday that his star pitcher has improved. He predicted that "Bullet Joe" would be in prime condition for the first game.

Southpaw Neft is expected to give McGraw's opening game a good showing, with experts inclined to regard Scott, who has done especially well in his last few games, as second choice.

ZAIMIS DECLINES POST AS PREMIER

Pleads Ill Health, Says Athens Report—London Express Criticizes Venizelos.

London, Oct. 3.—Alexander Zaimis, who was named as the new Greek premier by the revolutionary committee, has sent a message to the committee declining the appointment on the ground of ill health, according to Reuters Athens correspondent.

London, Oct. 3.—If the amount of space given by the press can be regarded as an index of popular concern, this country is on the tip of its tongue and curiosity concerning the meeting between representatives of the allies and the Turkish Nationalists, at Mudania today.

In anti-Greek quarters the activities of former Premier Venizelos in Paris and London continued to be viewed with the greatest suspicion.

The Daily Express says Mr. Venizelos has advised the revolutionary government in Athens to agree in principle to the evacuation of Eastern Thrace but to tell the allies that Greece will not evacuate the territory until the powers have decided the final peace terms.

The newspaper says the effect of this plan, if adopted, would be that the Greek army would remain in Thrace for many weeks longer and that the conditions arising from this inevitably would bring war between the British and Turkey. It calls upon the British government and public to put a stop to "this dangerous intrigue."

DANGER TIME IN WOODS OF NEW BRUNSWICK

(Special to Times.)

Fredericton, N. B., Oct. 3.—Donald Fraser, of Fraser Companies, Limited, predicts that there will be serious forest fires in October unless all people exercise uncommon care with regard to fires or unless heavy rains come in a few days. All streams are low and some springs and brooks have disappeared entirely. Vegetation was killed by early frosts and has been dried to tinder by the warm weather which followed. It is recalled that the great Miramichi fire occurred in October during a season much like the present.

TURK FORCES STEP BACK IN CHANAK AREA

Constantinople, Oct. 3.—The Turkish cavalry has retired from its advanced positions in the Chanak area, decreasing the danger of conflict there. This withdrawal, which is described in messages from the Dardanelles as "slight," was supposed here to be in consequence of news received by the Turks that the Mudania conference was in session. The Turks, however, were said still to be well within the neutral zone.

MOOSE VISITS THE CITY AND GETS A FALL

A large bull moose paid a visit to the city last night but found bright lights dazzling and as a result came near losing his life. The animal was first noticed on top of Fort Howe hill and soon afterwards started to make a descent to Main street, over the hill above the railing leading to Rockland road. At this section it is very steep and the moose lost his footing and fell forty or fifty feet. When it struck it lay still for some seconds and people who witnessed the mishap thought the animal would be killed, but it staggered to its feet and becoming frightened at the crowd, started off and headed up Elm street. Some followed the animal, but it soon disappeared in the rear of Lansdowne avenue and it was thought it found its way back to its native haunts in the woods back of the rifle range.

PARIS CASE TO JURY TODAY

Chief Justice Concludes His Charge This Afternoon—Attorney General Completes His Address.

The conclusion of the attorney-general's address to the jury and the beginning of the judge's charge marked this morning's session of the trial of John Paris for murder. Hon. Mr. Byrne spoke for an hour and a half and the court took fifteen minutes' recess after which, at 11.45, Chief Justice H. A. McKeown commenced his charge to the jury. He purposely did not finish this morning's session upon the completion of his charge for the jury would have to retire to their chamber to bring in a verdict, so he delivered part of this morning and will conclude this afternoon so that the jury may have from then on to consider the evidence and find a verdict based upon it.

The court room was filled to capacity and there was a fair sprinkling of ladies. Interest was very keen throughout. The prisoner appeared very much composed. During the address of the attorney-general he sat with his knees crossed and his arms folded and kept his piercing dark eyes riveted on the speaker. He was frowning slightly but other than that gave no sign of the effect the wall of incriminating evidence the attorney-general was attempting to build about him was having upon him. When court adjourned at one o'clock he leaned over the dock and asked a newspaper man for a cigarette, which he received with a broad smile and profuse thanks.

During the delivery of the judge's charge, Rev. R. G. Fulton, pastor of Centenary church, occupied a seat beside the chief justice.

The Attorney-General. In opening his address, Hon. Mr. Byrne resumed where he left off last night when court adjourned.

Regarding the question as to why Luther Smith had not come forward with his evidence, he said that it was natural that a man should hesitate to take the stand and give evidence which might send a man to the gallows. It was a very different thing to give evidence on behalf of the prisoner.

As to why the crown had not produced the khaki riding breeches and other clothes the murderer was said to have worn, the attorney-general asked what it was probable that Paris would do with the clothes. Link by link he built up the chain of circumstances which the crown maintained connected the accused with the crime. He said the crown had offered the jury no fewer than six witnesses, who knew Paris and who said they had seen him on the morning of August 3. There was no evidence, he said, to show that Paris had been at the British fish shed fire. There had been a far more burning question in his mind, "Did I cover up that kid? Will they find her?" Referring to the mark on Paris' arm which the accused said was a bull, he said it was for the jury to say what the child would be most likely to do while being choked and strangled. They could draw their own conclusions as to the mark and its cause.

Speaking with reference to the accused's counsel's argument that there was not sufficient funds, he asked why those witnesses who lived in the city were not brought to court. There was no expense entailed by that. George Moxon was a druggist in Truro. Surely he had sufficient humanity to come forward even in the absence of paltry witness fees.

As to Walter Humphrey he said he might not be a model citizen but he tried to tell the whole truth, concealing nothing. Why had Paris taken Humphrey into his confidence? Crime made cowards of us all. Going across in the boat he had blurted the story out. Now Paris' counsel was trying to establish that no confidence could be reposed in Humphrey. After Paris had confessed in Humphrey he had gone to Truro in order to establish an alibi. Paris had tried to turn the alibi by saying that on the night of August 3 he had come from Truro to St. John. He had also turned the alibi in connection with the charge of stealing gasoline in Truro. Though Paris had lived in St. John for seven years he swore he did not know where River Park was.

It might be said that Humphrey and John McDonald had conspired to get the reward. This was disproved by the fact that a conversation had taken place between the two and a report made to Detective Power before any reward had been offered. He referred to the conversation between Mr. King of Sagua and the prisoner and the anxiety of the latter about the size of the reward placed over the child's head.

He asked the jury to contrast the evidence of the crown with that of McKeown, Miss McKendry, Dr. McKeown, Dr. Curry and others for the defense. A new batch of witnesses had been brought forward on the defense for the first time while the crown had carried practically the same witnesses from beginning to end and their stories had not varied.

Who was the man who had led the little girls through the wire fence on August 2 to help them get bigger berries? The mere production of witnesses did not raise a reasonable doubt, as some maintained. There could be no reasonable doubt that the man who had outraged and violated the child was the man who had led the children through the fence. Who was that man? Hattie Levine had pointed to the accused as the man. It was better to allow Paris to go free than to find him guilty of manslaughter.

In conclusion he said the crown thanked the jurors for the sacrifices they had made in this case. Did they see in the darkness and gloom which surrounded the accused and flash of light that raised a reasonable doubt as to his guilt? The crown did not seek vengeance, for that was the Lord's. The crown asked for justice to the prisoner and also to the murdered child.

The child had been choked and strangled until the spark of life had departed and her body buried like a dog's. The welfare of society and the love the jury bore their little ones demanded that the guilty be punished. The crime was worthy of death. The closing prayer of the crown was that if this man be found guilty that before night came he might make open and full confession of his horrible and brutal deed.

The Chief Justice. In opening his charge to the jury, Chief Justice McKeown read the indictment for murder. He told the jury that they were to consider only the evidence given from the witness box at this trial. He asked them to dismiss from their minds any preconceived opinions. He asked them to forget that Paris had been on trial before. This case involved life and death, and the jury's verdict must be recorded. A verdict must be arrived at solely upon the evidence they had heard.

The prosecution had alleged the guilt of the accused and must prove it. The evidence of the crown would seem to be conclusive if there was nothing to rebut it. He reviewed the circumstances of the case as given by the crown. He told them that they (Continued on page 12, fifth column)

MRS. FOLKINS DEAD

Police Magistrate of Sussex Bereaved by Loss of Life Partner.

(Special to Times)

Sussex, N. B., Oct. 3.—Mrs. Folkins, wife of Police Magistrate S. W. Folkins, died at noon today after an illness of several months. She leaves besides her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Ford Smith of Fredericton and Mrs. Everett VanWart of Sussex, and four sons: Oliver S. of Aker, Mass., Elbert H. of Jamaica Plain, Boston; Walter Harry A. Folkins of Ottawa who died four days ago was a son.

Mrs. Folkins was a woman of excellent qualities and was ever ready to help those in need. She was a life-long member of the Methodist Church in which she served faithfully until her death. She was in her seventy-fourth year. The funeral will be held from her late residence in Queen street on Thursday at three o'clock. Rev. George F. Dawson will officiate.

LEASE LAND FOR CULTIVATING BLUEBERRIES

(Special to Times)

Fredericton, N. B., Oct. 3.—At the crown land office today, two lots of crown lands were sold at upset price to the applicants. One of 46 acres in the town plot of Kedgewick, Restigouche County, was sold to Hermergilde Boulay for $50. A lot 39.7 acres near Four Mile Brook went to Charles F. Keefe of Vancorbo, Maine, at $250 an acre. A lease of 400 acres on the Magaguadavic River, south of McDougall Lake for cultivating of blueberries, was sold to the applicants, Norman A. Young and Melvin A. Young of St. Stephen at an annual rental of $50. The lease is subject to the approval of the Lieut. Governor-in-council.

The session of the chancery court was postponed today until Thursday inasmuch as prior duties of the presiding judge. For a similar reason the session of the Court of Kings Bench at Gagetown was postponed.

MAKE SURE OF LEGALITY OF THE SEIZURE

(Special to Times)

Fredericton, N. B., Oct. 3.—As a result of doubts raised concerning the legality of the office of sub-inspector Fraser Saunders as temporary official of the department of inland revenue another visit was paid on Monday to Scotch Settlement where a large still which was seized together with a sample of wash, John D. Chase of the Fredericton customs house accompanied the sub-inspector as an official of the department of inland revenue so that no question about the legality of seizure could be raised.

FIRES IN WEST ARE MENACING
Lethbridge, Alta., Oct. 3.—Residents of the coal mining town of Michel, B. C., in the Crow's Nest Pass spent an anxious and sleepless night on Saturday when a forest fire on a mountain adjacent to the village was fanned by high winds and threatened for a time to wipe out the town. Large forces of men were called out to battle with the flames while some stood at hydrants in the town all night in case the fire should invade the residential section.

Yesterday the wind fell and the fire was brought under control, but the timber was very dry and serious fires are raging further back from the town. Fires are also reported in the Elk River Basin.

The Carleton Cornet Band felt another successful evening last night with a good attendance. There was a band in attendance and tonight the City Cornet Band will handle the programme. The prize winners last evening were: Door prizes, ticket 311, Hiram Hornbush, ticket 352; devil-antennae-the-tailors, Roy Campbell; bagpiper, C. Maxwell; gun, Mrs. "Miss" King; ring toss, Roy Byles; bean toss, Roy Campbell; tennis, R. Goldie.

Burglars Loot Apartment While Mrs. Rolles is Hostess in a Restaurant.

New York, Oct. 3.—While Mrs. Thomas G. Rolles of 306 West Seventy-third street, was hostess at a dinner party to two couples from the south at the Colony Restaurant, Sixty-first street and Madison avenue, Wednesday evening about 9 o'clock, and her companion, a Miss Goodwin, was having her evening meal at the Hotel George Washington, on West Seventy-second street, two burglars entered the apartment and stole a large quantity of jewelry belonging to Mrs. Rolles.

One stepped here on the side of the face and the other bowed her over, and she landed on the next turn of the stairs five or six feet below. Although bruised about the face and legs, Miss Goodwin sprang up and ran after the burglars. Her screams were heard by the occupants of the house next door at 308 West seventy-third street, and they got out to the front stoop in time to see two men running away. Miss Goodwin has since been under the care of a physician at the home of a friend.

An examination of the apartment showed that the burglars had removed a door, frame and all, in the rear of the apartment. The door itself could not well have been "jimmied," as it was protected with a patent lock and had strong hinges. Jewelry was found in drawers and other places in the apartment. Mrs. Rolles said she had furnished the police a detailed description of the missing jewelry. The police also have a fairly good description of the robbers.

The house is an old-fashioned private dwelling and is being remodeled into apartments. The front is entirely open. The ground floor and the first floor are occupied while the renovation is in progress. Last night two watchmen were on duty.

Mrs. Rolles said that her husband was in Atlanta, Ga., and since he has been Miss Goodwin had been staying with her. Wednesday evening, Mrs. Rolles had as her guests Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Jones of Brownsville, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. John Warren of Atlanta, Ga., at the Colony Restaurant.

They stopped en route to leave Miss Goodwin at the George Washington, where she usually takes her dinner. Miss Goodwin returned home about 9:30 o'clock. Immediately after the discovery of the burglary Mrs. Rolles was notified by Detectives Kierman and Connors of the West Sixty-eighth street station. With her guests she hurried home.

Mrs. Rolles had lived in the apartment for the last four years. She is a native of Tampico, Mexico.

NO RENT OR TAXES PAID FOR YEARS
London, Oct. 3.—(By Canadian Press).—The City of Hull, Yorkshire, has a unique class of tenants—those who pay neither rent nor taxes. In a working-class neighborhood in that city there are sixteen houses and one shop for which the occupants have not paid any rent nor taxes for four years. This statement is given on the authority of the Hull correspondent of the London Daily News, who adds that the authorities on property law say that they have never heard of a similar case.

A conscientious tenant in the group became tired of waiting for the landlord's agent to call for the rent, and went to the agent's office about the matter. "Go away," said the agent. "Don't bother me about rent; when I want it I will call for it."

That was three years ago. Since then none of the tenants in question have seen the landlord, nor has any one of them been asked to pay the tax rates. The Hull authorities recently insisted on repairs to the houses being affected, but the occupants were not asked to pay for the work.

BOY WRITES OPERA
London, Sept. 21.—(By Mail).—Although only seventeen years old, Adrian Becham, the elder son of Sir Thomas Becham, has written an opera "The Merchant of Venice."

This opera is to be produced by Sir Frank Benson, at Brighton. A critic who was privileged to hear excerpts from the new work found many of its features genuinely dramatic, particularly Shylock's sarcastic outburst, while there is a lovely aria, "The quality of mercy is not strained."

The important part of Shylock is to be taken by Augustus Miller, who will be remembered for his outstanding success in Offenbach's "Goldsmith of Toledo."

Apart from the youth of the composer, a remarkable feature of this work is that it was done without the knowledge of Sir Thomas Becham, who at the height of his operative activities ad-

A New Charm

Came to millions in this way
Millions of people have gained new charm through whiter, prettier teeth. You see them everywhere. The reason lies in a new cleaning method. Careful people of some fifty nations are using it today.

Two ways found
To meet this situation, dental science searched for ways to fight film, and two ways were found. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Combats the film
One purpose is to combat film on teeth—tough viscid film you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. It absorbs stains, making the teeth look dingy. Then it forms cloudy coats. Tartar is based on film.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. The acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyrrroha.

No ordinary tooth paste effectively combats film. So, under old methods, these troubles constantly were increased, less often than today.

Other factors
But Pepsodent brings other effects which old ways did not bring. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids, the cause of tooth decay.

Watch the man
Men who smoke find that tobacco particularly stains their teeth. Such men see conspicuous results. But most people's teeth, of every age, are clouded more or less.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscid film. See how tartar, as the film-coats disappear.

That test will give you new ideas of what clean teeth mean. You will want your family to always have them, we believe. Cut out the coupon now.

charges used in modern mechanical warfare called more accurate fire. These corrections they are called the target computer and the battery computer. They are directed by two higher power telescopes located at fixed observation stations in the vicinity of the harbor defence. On sighting an enemy ship the observations are transmitted electrically to the two calculating instruments, where the exact location of the enemy ship is computed.

These new instruments, the fruit of several years' constant work and experiment, predict the advance location of the moving enemy, make allowances for the temperature of powder, type of shell, atmospheric pressure, direction and velocity of the wind and the drift of the shell caused by the big gun's rifling. Under the present system all these factors are added, subtracted and otherwise checked up and accounted for by human range finders.

A great advantage of the new system, which is called the Ford artillery computer system, is that provision is made for using airplane observations in the control, so the firing can be continued even though the enemy is obscured from the land observation posts by smoke screens or other causes.

MORNING NEWS
OVER THE WIRES
William J. Bowers of Amherst was almost instantly killed yesterday in Sussex when some stones dropped through the staging around the new school being built there. He was hurled to the ground, a distance of about fifty feet. He was thirty-nine years of age and leaves a wife and one daughter.

Sixty-five bottles alleged to contain cocaine were produced in court in Montreal yesterday in a case against Henri Lavole charged with being in illegal possession of a large quantity of them was analysed and found to contain the drug, but the defense maintains that the bottles are filled with innocuous powder. Adjudgment was made in order to have the other bottles analysed.

Three fishermen of Placentia Bay, Newfoundland, claim that they have found the submerged hull of the Cape Breton steamer Morien, which left Louisbourg in 1912 and has not since been seen or heard of.

Dan McIntyre of Dominion, Cape Breton, is in the hospital at Glace Bay as a result of being accidentally shot while out hunting. He was walking in advance of another man when the gun the latter was carrying exploded. It is said that McIntyre will recover.

Christopher Reed of Old Town, Maine, was killed yesterday when Fred Rotter mistook him for a deer. The hunting season in the Maine woods opened yesterday.

Sydney, Oct. 2.—Chief Engineer M. Martell, second engineer W. C. Bissett, first officer I. Burke and Seaman Charles Sampson of the revenue cutter Sagamore left the steamer here today.

ST. JOHN, N. B., OCTOBER 3, 1922.

AT MUDANIA TODAY.

The question whether there is to be an armistice, and if so upon what terms, will be decided by the representatives of the Allies and of the Turkish Nationalist government who meet today at Mudania.

After his sweeping victory over the Greeks in Asia Minor, Mustafa Kemal Pasha assumed an attitude that was regarded as distinctly threatening to the peace of the world.

Those who attend the world series in New York will have added interest in the presence of Christy Mathewson, one of the outstanding figures in baseball.

With loss of 3,000 lives and property worth a quarter billion of dollars in Canada in ten years because of fires, surely the efforts of those promoting fire prevention week are justified.

EXCELLENT SHOW AT OPERA HOUSE

First Class Musical Comedy Tabloid Presented—Dancing is Exceptionally Good.

The old familiar sight of a queue lining the block in Union street with the Opera House entrance as the objective indicates the welcome of the people of St. John to light variety entertainment.

Nothing is overdone but everything is well done. There are a well dressed pony ballet of six girls and along line-up of principals. The points are shapely and pretty. Their dancing is graceful and their singing tuneful.

It is Mr. Ott's intention to give playlets and keep some distance away from the ordinary "Tab" entertainment of the company is well equipped to do this and it is expected that the eight bills he will present during his month's engagement here will prove as good or better than the splendid entertainment with which he opened his Opera House season.

With proper care and adequate co-operation it should be possible to show a substantial reduction in the figures instead of an annual increase. As the population grows larger, the opportunities for fires are increased proportionately.

Lesson No. 120. RECTIFICATION BY THE CARBONUM CRISTAL.

Crystals used for receiving purposes may be divided into two classes, those which function directly in the circuit without a local current, and those which require the use of an external battery for efficient operation.

In figure 1, which shows a simple receiving circuit using a crystal of carbonum as a detector, the external battery has a potential of from four to six volts being shunted by a variable resistance, or potentiometer, of 400 ohms, which is provided with a sliding contact so that the proper value of current through the crystal may be obtained.

It is apparent that all equal values of voltage, namely (OB) and (OC) in the diagram, are impressed on the crystal without the use of an external battery, the currents corresponding to these voltages are impressed on the crystal in opposite directions it is apparent that the resulting current is unidirectional.

When varying voltages are induced in the antenna by the incoming signals and the external battery is properly adjusted as to potential and polarity, the currents due to the incoming signals will be considerably greater than currents resulting from equal voltages in the opposite direction.

Bouillon Looks For Agreement

Allies and Turks Begin Conference Today

Neutral Zone and Evacuation of Thrace the Important Questions—Turkish Officers in the Chanak Area Make Friendly Overtures to British.

Constantinople, Oct. 3.—Only military matters will be taken at the conference of allied and Turkish Nationalist commanders at Mudania today, the political aspects of the situation being disposed of at a later meeting, according to M. Franklin Bouillon, French envoy.

The two most important questions to be discussed today, he said, are the demarcation of a new neutral zone on the Asiatic side of the Dardanelles and at Ismid, and the evacuation of Thrace. He was confident that an agreement would be reached.

Steps had been taken to have only responsible representatives at this and the subsequent conferences, in order to prevent a recurrence of the repudiation of the agreement made last year with Behr Saime Bey, then Nationalist foreign minister.

The fact that there is common sense on both sides is the best hope for success, he said. "Naturally many difficulties will arise, but there is no reason why we cannot solve them amicably, as the allies already have pledged to the Nationalists all their legitimate aims. The whole question is one of form rather than of fact."

M. Bouillon referred to Kemal as "Mustapha Kemal the victorious" and said that if he, Franklin Bouillon, was selected to represent France at the negotiations it was because he was Kemal's best friend. He declared the chambers of commerce yesterday sent a memorial to their governments urging continuation of the so-called capitulations, at least with reference to the following important points:—

First, no discriminatory taxation of allied subjects; second, no preferential tariff; third, all disputes arising between allied and Turkish subjects to be adjudicated by mixed courts.

ROMANTIC CAREER OF INDIAN PRINCE

Lived in Poverty When Exiled by Brother, a Petty Chieftain.

London, Sept. 21.—(By Mail)—The death is announced of one of the greatest of the ruling princes of India, His Highness Maharaja-Diraj Singh, Maharaja Singh Bahadur, G. S. I. G. J. L. E., G. C. V. O., G. B. E., LL. D., of Jaipur, the head of the Kachhwaha Rajputs.

Born on August 28, 1862, and given the name of Kaim Singh, he was the second son of the Thakur of Isarda, a petty chieftain who was constantly at war with the British.

His Imperial service contingent comprised transport corps, organized in 1890, and consisting of 750 men and 1,200 ponies and carts. The corps saw active service in Cithral in 1894 and in the Tirah campaign of 1897, and he offered it again for the South African war.

A REAL SAILOR. The Maharaja's deep attachment to the Paramount Power was constantly shown. His Imperial service contingent comprised transport corps, organized in 1890, and consisting of 750 men and 1,200 ponies and carts.

ENCOURAGE MEN TO GET MARRIED

Marriage and Divorce Were
The Principal Subjects
Discussed as Conference Concluded.

London, Ont., Oct. 3.—That young men of today need to be encouraged rather than discouraged in matrimony was the view held by the majority of the members of the Lower House of the Provincial Anglican Synod, which refused to endorse the principle of making twenty-one years the age for young men entering the marriage state. Marriage and divorce were the principal subjects under discussion at the last day's session of the Synod, but resolutions were passed protesting against extension of the present system of separate schools and recommending the segregation and better care of mental defectives.

The resolution advocating twenty-one as the minimum age has proved a most contentious issue and it seemed very doubtful if it would be ratified. So many speakers spoke in opposition to the more and in favor of promoting marriages that the matter was referred to the provincial council for final decision.

"I think young men should be compelled to marry before reaching a certain age, and we should not place impediments in their way," stated Dean Tucker of Huron, the prolocutor.

Canon Piery of Sturgeon Falls voiced a similar feeling.

"We had no hesitation in asking our young men of eighteen to shoulder a wife and attendant responsibilities during the war," he said, "and I think it would ill-become us to prohibit them from setting up a home until they reach the age of twenty-one."

Archdeacon Warren held the same conviction of the matter.

"The young men of today are too canny as it is," he declared, "they don't need discouragement, but should have encouragement to enter the marriage row. It would be better if we told them to marry earlier instead of later. There are many of the most successful marriages the result of union when the parties were under the age of twenty-one."

stated that the intention was to bring Ontario into line with other provinces and other parts of the empire on the laws relating to marriage. He pointed out that marriage was the most serious thing a young man could undertake. Young folks come to the ministers with a hopeful look in their faces and a license in their hands and asked to be married when but eighteen years of age, he said, and they were totally unfit for the responsibilities which lay before them. He was confident that the Ontario government would welcome the support of public opinion as voiced by the synod on the subject.

Judge Sutherland of Owen Sound interposed that there were many cases where a young man ought to marry a girl in order to make amends and that the proposed resolution would put obstacles in the way.

The Epworth League of the Fairville Methodist church met last night in the church parlors with the Christian Endeavor president in the chair.

"Habits, Good and Bad," was the subject for the evening, and several papers, prepared by members, were read. The address of the evening was given by William McCavour, the superintendent. The meeting was largely attended.

The seats are free and there will be no collection.

To Make the Home More Attractive for Winter

Home should be the centre of attraction during the winter season. What more fitting than making the family living room as comfortable and cozy as possible for the "shut in"
months to come.

At a very small expenditure, you can add a piece or two of attractive furniture that will bring about a refreshing change.

We Have Lately Received a Nice Collection

The growing demand for these pieces is justified by their moderate pricing and artistic appearance.

Furniture is staunchly made with frames of bamboo covered with woven sea grass. Finished in natural color; however, if you prefer,
it can easily be stained to any desired shade.

Realizing how important Baby's Sleep is—Simmons creates Cribs Built for Sleep

NO member of the family needs the kindly help of Simmons—maker of sleep—more than Baby.

So that tiny nerves grow strong and steady—and habits of sound sleep are formed right at the start of life.

A Simmons Crib does not rattle—it does not quiver and vibrate. It is built for sleep—the result of a deep understanding of the nature of sleep and baby nature.

Four-square, firm, noiseless and sanitary.

So that sleep comes naturally. Long hours of "growing" sleep, tranquil and undisturbed. Baby's mother will also note how good-looking a Simmons Crib is—as careful a piece of designing as one of the Simmons Period Beds.

COLONEL H. BROCK, TORONTO.

Head of the Associated Boards of Filipinos of Ontario.

FILIPPINOS WERE TERROR STRICKEN Tribesmen Thought Aviators Were Messengers from Allah.

When, in order to carry out a survey, aviators visited Zoho, Sulu Archipelago, Philippine Islands, it was the first time the natives had seen an airplane, and they were greatly terrified, according to a story in the Westminster Gazette.

Some of them were convinced that the machines were sent as emissaries from Allah, and others believed the occupants of the craft themselves—the pilots and the observers—were both all-seeing and all-powerful.

It was impossible to convince them otherwise, and the airplanes were viewed with dread and as supernatural things. Some of the natives even went so far as to declare the planes were dragons, flown out of the South Seas, and destined to wreck vengeance on all the Moros, according to an old Arabian legend.

There were thousands of Moros in the wilds of Mindanao who had never set eyes on a white man, and to whom the pilots, able to soar aloft like the birds, were altogether outside the sphere of ordinary mortals. The aviators were regarded as objects of great wonderment and to be held in the greatest awe.

Some of the pilots had most amusing experiences and were quite unable to make the natives understand how it was possible for them to fly "so near to the sun."

On one occasion Captain John Moore, of the American Flying Service, was surprised to find, on looking over the side of his machine during a short reconnaissance flight, that down below, riding along the highway at breakneck speed, and always pursuing the same direction as that taken by the airplane, was a native, who held aloft in his outstretched arms what appeared to be, seen from an altitude, a white sheet.

He told of the incident to Major Stephens, commandant of the local constabulary, who made inquiries. It appeared that in the district certain natives were allowed to arm themselves with barons and knives, provided they first of all obtained written sanction to do so.

The native seen by Captain Moore had the requisite permission to carry a baron which he had at the time in his possession, but fearful lest the strange and all-powerful "birdman" should suddenly swoop down upon him and carry away the instrument, he was holding aloft the written permit in order that the pilot might read it.

LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Claude F. Cassidy and their son Edward and Mrs. Cassidy's brother, Frank E. Cassidy, left on the C. P. R. train yesterday afternoon for California, there to make their home. A large number of friends were at the depot to bid them farewell and wish them good fortune.

Special comment was made concerning the many typhoid cases in the hospital at the present time when the board of commissioners met yesterday afternoon. There are now seventeen known cases of typhoid in the hospital and one case which is suspected to be typhoid but is as yet not fully diagnosed.

Last night in the Waterloo street Baptist church the pastor, Rev. J. A. Swetnam, commenced a week of special evangelistic services and gave an inspiring address on "Do We Need a Revival?" Many attended the after meeting which was held at the close of the service. These services will be continued all this week.

Brunswick Chapter, I. O. O. F., met yesterday at the home of Mrs. W. I. Fenton with Mrs. Herbert Wetmore in the chair. Plans were made for the Halloween tea and sale. Mrs. Courtland Robinson, delegate to the National Chapter convention in Vancouver, reported on the convention. It was decided to continue the assistance to the V. O. N.

Convenors for the various wards of the city were selected yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the tag day committee for the Victorian Order of Nurses. Mrs. George F. Smith presided over the gathering. Final arrangements are to be made at a meeting on Friday when the banks and tags will be assigned.

A visit of inspection was made to the Boys' Industrial Home yesterday by Premier W. E. Foster and other members of the board of governors. The annual distribution of prizes for the best kept gardens was made by the premier while at the home. He also presented them with a football and asked that they be allowed a half-holiday today.

At a meeting of the W. M. S. of Centenary church yesterday afternoon, at which Mrs. R. A. Sinclair presided, Mrs. H. A. Goodwin assisted by Miss Margaret Evans led a discussion on "The devotional services were led by Mrs. Charles Palmer. Other taking part in the programme were Mrs. Langstroth, Mrs. W. C. Smith, Miss Lawrence.

The question of placing the work of the W. C. A. on a better footing was fully discussed yesterday at a meeting of business men. T. H. Sommerville was elected president and F. W. Gilman, secretary of the meeting. The report of the lots committee was received. Among the new work done was the erection of a new fence on the eastern boundary, and the designation of a single grave section.

Authority was given to extend Oliva avenue to the old Westmorland road, and to build a new culvert on Dell avenue, where the recent rains had done some damage.

The girls' branch of the W. A. of St. John's (Stone) church held its opening meeting for the season last night with Miss Edith Skinner, the president, in the chair. There was an exceptionally large attendance and it was felt to be a happy augury for the season's work. Plans were made for the winter's activities, especially as regards work for Christmas. Arrangements were made for the supper meeting which will be held next week.

Before a large and appreciative audience in the Main street Baptist hall last night Rev. A. L. Fleming, rector of St. John's (Stone) church, gave a very interesting address on "The People of the Polar North." His address was illustrated with a series of slides and was much enjoyed. Rev. Dr. David Hutchinson, the pastor of the church, presided.

The annual fall rally of Ludlow street Baptist church which was held last evening in the school room was largely attended. R. J. Rupert presided and conducted the devotional service. Rev. W. A. Robbins, the pastor, gave the address of the evening, speaking on the work of the young people's society. The Misses Edna Robbins, Audrey Handl, and Margery Robbins were the participants in the social programme, while refreshments were served under the convenship of Mrs. John Black, Mrs. Clarence Currie, Mrs. James Mitchell and Mrs. William Gray.

NEW CANADIAN FACTORY PURCHASED BY N.C.R. CO.

Mr. F. B. Patterson, president of the National Cash Register Company, in an interview today, announced the purchase from Gibson Bros. of the five-story building located at 250 and Dufferin streets, by his company.

The new home of the National Cash Register Company of Canada, which is in the United States, since 1914, although the business has more than doubled in both the United States and Canada, our sales force in the United States accounted for, proportionately, a better business than was secured by the Canadian division.

"However, with the splendid crops and the return to Canada of prosperity on a sound basis we expect a large increase in our business, and know of no good reason why our Canadian organization should not soon again lead the entire American selling force.

"Possession of the new plant places us in a better position than ever before to serve our users in the real N. C. R. way."

DR. TOLD NURSE TO TAKE DRECO

Crippled by Rheumatism So She Had to Hold on to Banisters, Feet Swollen, Limbs, Ankles, Elbows Full of Pain.

"I am writing to say a few words in praise of your wonderful medicine, DRECO. I have often been asked to endorse this or that medicine, but always refused; but DRECO is different."

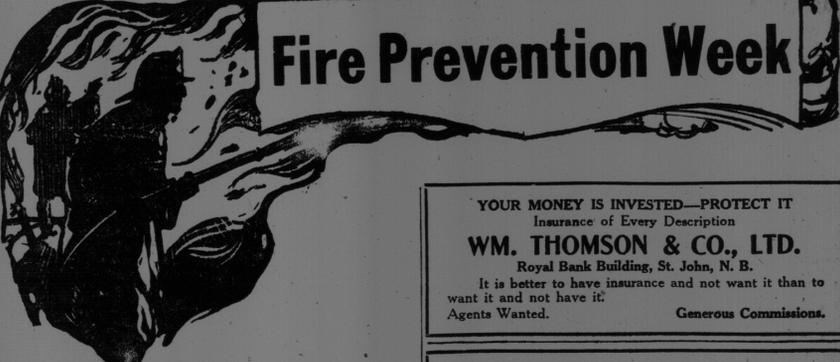

TEST THIS MEDICINE FREE Mr. Sufferer, have you ever heard of the wonderful medicine that talks, that really tells you itself what it can do for you? DRECO. Five minutes after you take it the medicine begins to unfold its virtues, and it will by actual demonstration, unfold to you more in regard to its merits in ten minutes than I could probably make you believe if I wrote you ten books as large as the dictionary.

"Words cannot tell how glad we are for DRECO," declares Mrs. DRECO. "The first bottle fixed me up." Says Walter F. Dixon, "A man changed his name now," states Rev. Joseph L. Butler.

You may know some of these people, but if anybody who knows them, I'll send you their full addresses if you want them, so that you can find out about my DRECO, and the wonders it has wrought.

Probably you are now thinking whether all this can be true; stop it. Come at once to the Ross Drug Co., and ask for the DRECO man; he will give you absolutely free a good-sized bottle of my DRECO. This offer is open to every man and woman in St. John and vicinity. There are no ifs, ands or buts attached to it, except that you come early, before the generous supply of free bottles has been used. You don't have to buy anything if you don't want to! I ask is that you step in and test this wonderful medicine and see for yourself what it can do for you. So please come as early as possible.

Go to the Ross Drug Company, St. John, ask for Mr. Ranson, the DRECO expert, and let him explain the merits of this great remedy. There is no charge and he will tell you honestly if he believes DRECO will benefit you.

WOMAN RANCHER'S STORY.

Mrs. Yearlan "Rides Herd" on 6,000 Ewes—Wool Clip, 50,000 Pounds.

"Ho, women! How about a ranch in Idaho?" This was the caption on the booth at the Women's Activities Exhibit, held recently in New York, showing what women in the Far West are doing. Mrs. Yearlan of Lehigh, Idaho, one of the exhibitors, gives an account of her experience in the Far West, where she is now raising sheep on a large scale.

"As a young girl raised in a Mississippi River town, I dreamed and read and thought of the mountains and cattle-camp and the call of the west," said Mrs. Yearlan. "I obtained a school in Idaho and later married a man who was a ranchman. I grew old enough to be sent away to school, I realized that something more than the income from my cattle would be needed to meet the growing expense. I have always felt that women could do almost anything their men were doing if they only would have faith in themselves."

"The men who were being most successful then, so it seemed to me, were those in the sheep business, and although this was a new departure for women and no sheep were being run in the vicinity, I bought a band of ewe lambs to start with and I have never regretted it."

"Each season I go out in the mountains to the camps, of which there are usually five—one for each of the bands of ewe and lambs—and I visit each one about two or three times, going on horseback and riding through thick and fallen timber, over slide rock, across rushing mountain streams and over the steepest trails. But joy comes in and soon all are bedded down, with now and then a ewe breaking the silence bleating for her lamb, or the lamb's plaintive call for its mother. Being so tired, I soon roll up in my blankets under the stars and am sound asleep, to be awakened in the morning by the tinkling of bells as the sheep leave the bed ground for their day's feed."

"Running sheep seems to necessitate the ownership of many ranches, so in addition to my sheep I have been looking after four different ranches which are mostly in hay. These ranches vary in size from 160 to 1,500 acres. I do all my own buying and selling and hire all my own men. At the present time I am running about 6,000 ewes. My wool clip runs around 50,000 pound each, and I have about 3,000 lambs I sell in addition to those I keep."

"For those in the sheep business the last three years have been hard indeed, and many of our sheep men have gone under, but I will not fall; they have a chance to say, 'Of course, woman would fail!' Business is a ready picking up, wool and lam prices are better, labor more efficient and not quite so hard to obtain, and feel that I have weathered the worst of the storm without faltering."

PROVINCIAL SAVING BANK PROVES SUCCESS

More Than 10,000 Depositors in Manitoba Institution With $4,200,000 to Credit.

Winnipeg, Oct. 2.—Since its establishment a little more than two years ago the provincial government savings bank, with two branches in Winnipeg, has made rapid progress, and today there are more than 10,000 depositors, with deposits totalling $4,200,000.

The bank was founded when the provincial government found it necessary to secure funds for rural credit societies, which the regular chartered banks of the country had refused to finance.

On the day of its first anniversary it had deposits amounting to $2,850,000, while the number of accounts was 6,200. Since that time deposits have increased at the rate of approximately 450 a month.

"We have taken care of all advances ever made by the government, have paid for all our equipment and still have a surplus," says E. A. Weir, chairman of the board of trustees. "In addition to paying the four per cent interest in deposits, it has not cost the citizens of Manitoba, or principally of Winnipeg, a dollar to maintain the office.

In order to ascertain the particular attractions this bank has for the people of Manitoba, Mr. Weir has conducted some investigation, with the result that he has found that in addition to the higher rate of interest, and the longer banking hours, the fact it is entirely a Manitoba institution, with the money being kept in the province for its benefit, has also been a deciding factor.

SANDWICH AND TEA; THEN OFF TO NORTH POLE

School Teacher at Wainwright Brings Out Word of Plans of Noted Explorer.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 2.—Word direct from Captain R. Amundsen that he and his pilot, Lieutenant Omdahl, will hop off from Wainwright, Alaska, in the latter part of May or the first of June to fly across the North Pole to Seattle.

Amundsen, who is a noted explorer, is accompanied by a school teacher at Wainwright, Amundsen plans, Ward said, to make the flight of approximately 1,700 miles across the polar solitudes in one jump, carrying for subsistence only a bottle of hot tea and a sandwich.

When he left Wainwright, Ward said, Amundsen and Omdahl were building their winter quarters, a cabin on the beach near the school house. They were well supplied with food and fuel.

The schooner Maud, Amundsen's exploration ship, according to Ward, is sailing northward in the ice off at such speed that the explorer was of the opinion it might cross the pole and reach Spitzbergen in a year, though it might take longer. The Maud is provisioned for seven years.

AT THE UNIQUE Excellent Comedy Drama, With Eileen Percy as the Star.

"Whatever She Wants," the latest Fox picture starring Eileen Percy, the versatile comedienne who always gets a laugh and a "come again" from every local film fan, was seen yesterday at the Unique Theatre.

The new Percy Picture is a wholesome comedy drama, packed to the brim with fun of a good clean sort and plenty of live action. It supplies an ideal role for Miss Percy.

As End North, a wealthy young fapper who is determined to go into business despite the protestations of her lover, Miss Percy successfully enacts the part of a young woman who gets into all kinds of trouble—including a highly innocent affair with a married man—in her efforts to prove herself right and her fiancé wrong. She keeps her audience in an uproar of laughter from the beginning until the end of the picture.

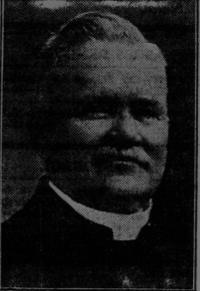

Clever acting, splendid photography, elaborate sets which please the esthetic senses of the beholders, combine to make this picture a triumph in comedy drama.

ROTARIANS FROM PROVINCIAL CITIES VISIT ST. JOHN

Rotarians from Moncton and Fredericton were the guests of the local Rotary Club at a highly enjoyable inter-city meeting and ladies' night in the Pythian Castle last evening and it proved such a success, that it will likely develop into an annual affair with a much wider scope.

The visitors arrived in automobiles late yesterday afternoon and at 6:30 o'clock, the assembly, numbering nearly three hundred, sat down to dinner with Rotarian John Bond acting as caterer. Dr. H. Barton, president of the local Rotary Club, was in the chair, and short speeches were given by him, by L. Phillips, president of the Fredericton club, and James H. Norton, president of the Moncton club.

This comprised the first part of the programme. During the banquet, Rotary songs were sung, the gathering being led by Dr. H. L. Spangler.

The second part of the programme opened with a strong address on Rotary principles by Dr. Spangler, past president of the local club. This was followed by an xylophone solo by William Putnam, a vocal duet, by Mrs. Guy; comic skit, Rotarians Lennox, Farquharson, McInerney and Nanson; a solo, by E. H. Anderson; quartet selections by the Rotary Quartette, composed of Rotarians, Alie Smith, Thomas Guy, DeWitt Cairns and Dr. Spangler. James Brown, of Fredericton, assisted. Miss Gibson gave an excellent reading and two colored boys cleaned away in short order and the remainder of the evening was very pleasantly spent in dancing. Those who preferred something quieter, played bridge downstairs.

Among St. John men who left yesterday for New York to see the world series baseball games were Charles A. Owens, J. L. Mullaly and P. J. Gorman.

COMMISSIONERS OF GENERAL PUBLIC HOSPITAL MEET

Tenders for Supplies are Opened and Accepted—Reports Received.

Tenders were opened and contracts awarded for the food supplies of the General Public Hospital at a meeting of the board of commissioners yesterday. The report of the medical staff was read. It was decided to give rates to children, receiving treatment through the Red Cross, from outside the county.

M. E. Agar, president. Other commissioners present were Mrs. J. V. McLellan, Alexander McMillan, W. E. Emerson, Dr. J. G. R. Crawford, J. L. O'Brien and Hon. Dr. W. F. Roberts, and R. H. Gale, superintendent. Mr. Gale reported 204 patients admitted during the month and 129 remaining at the end of the month. In the operating room seventy-two operations were performed and eighty-five operations in the out-patient department. Dr. J. E. Leeger had resigned from the interne staff. Mrs. Elizabeth Thurott applied for the position of interne and the superintendent was authorized to deal with the application. The report contained much information.

Miss J. Munroe had entered the hospital as a public dietitian. A new large candler light had been installed in the operating room. Changes had been made in the power house and an engine has been removed. Another boiler would be needed when the new epidemic department was in use. A patient blower had been installed up to the present no mixture of coal had been burnt with the blower in operation. Two rooms of the basement had been prepared for use as a splint room. Repairs were being made on the road to the hospital from Waterloo street. The retaining wall in front of the hospital was completed and the work of filling in behind the wall was being carried out.

Dr. Roberts referred to the work which the Red Cross Society is doing in paying for the correction of deformities in school children, discovered during medical inspection. He asked that the hospital give special rates to children from outside St. John county, who were receiving care from Red Cross funds. The special charges asked for included a $1.50 daily rate, half rates for X-ray work and splints free. The meeting agreed to make these concessions and Dr. Roberts said any laboratory work would be free to the children.

Authority was given to install in the nurse's home a disused reflector-scope now in the basement of the hospital. The cost was estimated at about $45 or $50. The reflector-scope was to be used for lectures in the nurses home. Reference was made to the progress in the remodeling of the epidemics department. The matter of securing a married pair to take the janitor's quarters, in the epidemic department, was discussed.

The case of two elderly employes was taken up. Mr. Agar, Mrs. McLellan and the commissioner of the month were appointed to look into the matter and report back.

Dr. Roberts said he had heard complaints regarding the cleanliness of some of the rooms. He suggested Mrs. McLellan have constant supervision of the cleanliness of the hospital, in cooperation with the commissioner of the month, as long as she remained a member of the board. He spoke most appreciatively of all that Mrs. McLellan had done towards improving the conditions at the hospital.

Mr. Agar said every commissioner had authority to report anything that was considered unsatisfactory. Dr. Roberts suggestion was made a motion and carried.

Tenders for the food supplies had been called for and on reading the tenders contracts were awarded as follows: Bread, McMurray Brothers; beef and pork, O'Neil Brothers; veal, lamb and mutton, C. F. Cunningham and Company; ham and sausage, Slipp and Fiddell; eggs, F. S. Fenwick; butter and bacon, Welsh Brothers.

SPANIEL ADOPTS RACCOON BABIES Call Creek, B. C., Oct. 2.—A cocker spaniel dog owned by C. Salmon of this town has adopted two baby raccoons. She recently lost her pups, and when the infant 'coons were brought in she took charge of them with every evidence of delight. The married pair to take the janitor's quarters, in the epidemic department, was discussed.

The report of the medical staff referred to the large number of typhoid cases, the average number of typhoid cases having been twelve. The report found much to praise and in this regard mentioned the blood chemistry service of the laboratory, the interne service in keeping records and case histories; diets served in the wards, warm and appetizing; X-ray service and the appearance of the grounds. The report expressed appreciation of all the commissioners had done in recent improvements.

Lack of Accommodation. The staff however reported that inadequate accommodation greatly hampered the work of the out-patient department, and that some of the private rooms were not attractive. In regard to the private rooms Mrs. McLellan recommended some readjustment of furniture and this was approved.

The dietitian reported raw materials of food had cost $2,834.44 and 21,281 meals had been served. Commenting on the report it was said that while it was apparent the meals were costing more, they were giving entire satisfaction.

The matron's report told of the illness of one maid and of the cleaning of windows. The report of Miss Belle Howe, social service nurse, told of fifty-seven visits leading thirty visits to tonsil and adenoid cases, nine of which were able to pay. Thirteen cases had been referred to the various hospital aid societies for assistance. Details of three needy cases were given.

Tenders for food supplies were considered and dealt with. Arrangements were made for a meeting of the coal committee. Dr. A. S. Kirkland wrote to ask that

He been given the use of a room adjoining the present X-ray department in order that it might be made a waiting room and stereoscopic room. He also asked for additional apparatus costing about $150. As it was thought the room referred to would be needed for typhoid patients in one season and pneumonia patients in another season, it was decided Dr. Kirkland's letter to a committee with power to act. The committee was appointed as follows: Commissioners Agar and Roberts and the commissioner for the month.

Dr. Roberts referred to the work which the Red Cross Society is doing in paying for the correction of deformities in school children, discovered during medical inspection. He asked that the hospital give special rates to children from outside St. John county, who were receiving care from Red Cross funds. FLEES PRISON BY TRICK. Ex-Hungarian Official Gives Dinner to Guards.

London, Oct. 2.—Martin Goldschmidt, formerly People's Commissar in the Hungarian Cabinet, escaped recently from a prison by a clever ruse, reports the Berlin correspondent of the Daily Express.

Goldschmidt, who had fled to Germany on the collapse of the ministry of which he was a member, had, since his arrival in Berlin, been actively concerned in a series of check forgeries. He was arrested and imprisoned pending trial.

While in prison he feigned toothache, and accordingly he was conducted under the charge of the chief jailer and two warders to the dental institution of the university.

On the way he invited his escort to partake of some refreshment in his company. The invitation was accepted and the four men went to Goldschmidt's lodgings in the Ansbachstrasse, where a choice repast, prepared apparently by his fiancée, awaited them.

The prison officials, charmed with their reception, enjoyed a hearty meal. Washed it down with copious draughts of wine and liquor. In the course of the banquet Goldschmidt obtained leave of his escort to wash his hands in an upstairs room, promising to return in a few minutes. When, however, after a prolonged absence, he failed to appear, the policemen became alarmed, and made their way to the upper floor, but the prisoner was nowhere to be found.

HAND-TO-HAND FIGHT WITH A GRIZZLY BEAR. Omineca, B. C., Oct. 2.—A hand-to-hand encounter with a grizzly bear is described by the U.S. B. C. correspondent of the Omineca Herald. J. Edgar of U.S. was boating in the Skeena when his attention was directed to two large bears on a bluff twenty feet above him. He shot one of the bears, inflicting only a slight wound. The bear jumped for the boat, missing it by a narrow margin. His gun empty, Edgar seized a pike pole and met Bruin, who was returning to attack, with a series of jabs. The sharp point of the weapon finally found a billet and the fight was over.

The three free night schools opened last night and the attendance, while no means as large as the need for the schools warranted, was quite satisfactory. It is urged that employers and those who know of boys and men who could attend the school with advantage should encourage them to make use of it. Those who cannot read and write are the ones who require the assistance of the free night schools, and are often not aware of the fact that the schools have opened. Because of their educational handicap they have no way of finding out unless friends will advise them.

Mrs. Mabel Francis

Tanlac helped me back to good health two years ago and I am still feeling fine" recently said Mrs. Mabel Francis, highly esteemed resident of 628 S. Linwood Ave., Baltimore, Maryland.

"Before taking the medicine I suffered from nervous breakdown and was in an awful condition. I scarcely had strength and energy to handle a broom and my housework was drudgery to me. The first bottle of Tanlac made such a wonderful improvement in my condition that I was both surprised and delighted. So I stuck to it and a few bottles built me up ten pounds and made me feel as if I had never had a sick day. My health has been fine ever since."

NOTE—The International Proprietaries Co., distributors of Tanlac, have on file in their offices at Atlanta, Georgia, over fifty thousand signed statements from representative men and women from every State in the Union and every Province of Canada. Many of these are from prominent people in this city and section and have been previously published in this paper.

Tanlac is sold by all druggists.

Enjoyable Evening in Carleton Methodist Church When Rev. Mr. Bertram and Mrs. Bertram Are Guests of Honor.

The congregation of the Carleton Methodist church gave a reception for the new pastor and his wife, Rev. P. T. and Mrs. Bertram, last night as one of the events in a rally week programme. The reception was attended by a large gathering and was a very pleasant and enjoyable occasion. The vestry was filled. Mrs. I. O. Beattie assisted Mr. and Mrs. Bertram in receiving their guests and Mrs. George Barrett was the convener of an able committee which had charge of the ushering and Miss Beattie assisted.

An excellent programme was given and Enoch Thompson acted as chairman. Several of the city clergymen were present and each brought the greetings of his own church or denomination and extended good wishes to the pastor and the congregation. Among the visiting clergymen were: Rev. E. C. Fulton, of Centenary church; Rev. Nell MacLaughlan, of the Queen square church; Rev. C. R. Freeman, of the Charlotte street Baptist church; and Rev. W. A. Robbins, of the Ludlow street Baptist church. The programme contained the following numbers: Solos by J. F. Punter and Mrs. Brunstrom and a duet by Miss Bisset and Mr. Punter.

Mr. Thompson gave the address of welcome to the new pastor and Mr. Bertram replied in an appreciative manner. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening by the ladies of the congregation.

The Sunday rally services for the Congregation were most successful. In the morning the scholars were seated in a body in the church and a pleasing pageant was presented by eight young ladies. At the rally in the afternoon there were 249 pupils present, a record in the history of the church.

Embarrassing Hairs Can be Quickly Removed

(Beauty Culture) Hairs can be removed from the under-arms, neck and face by this quick, painless method: Mix into a stiff paste some powder. Rub on the hair, spread on hairy surface and in 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and it will be free from the hair. Repeat every day. In very stubborn growths, one application is sufficient. FINE PICTURE AT QUEEN SQUARE

Admirers of that popular actor of stage and screen, William Farnum, particularly those who love a good western picture, were treated to a rare treat when "Moonshine Valley" with Farnum in the star role, began its run at the Queen Square Theatre last night. Fox production from the pen of Mary Murillo. Herbert Brenon, who is recognized as one of the foremost directors of the day, in addition another laurel to his wreath when he directed this strong western drama. The picture is one of the best shown here for many a day. Of course, Farnum holds the center of the stage throughout. His personality is always in evidence, and he has been favored with admirable support in the picture and captivating Dawn O'Day, the three-year-old comedienne, who plays the part of the lost child and effects the bad man's (Farnum) reformation. Sadie Mullen, a new face on the screen, and Holmes Herbert, an old favorite, are also in the cast. Jean, the famous moving picture dog, is also featured.

LIFE WAS MISERY!

"I was reading the other day about Neurasthenia, about the large number of people who are troubled with this disease. It is just what my wife had. She felt miserable all the time and was constantly depressed. She would waken in the morning and tell me that something dreadful was going to happen that day. Life was nothing but a weary, dreary, gray. She was so depressed that I expected she would lose her mind and have to go to a sanatorium. I kept wondering how would she get the money to pay for her. She could not eat and had no appetite for food. She was irritable and cranky most of the time. If she was crossed in any way, she would immediately work herself up into a violent temper. This was the case because she had always had a kind and gentle disposition and nothing which was said or done seemed to irritate her. I spoke to our family doctor about her and he said that her trouble was imagination and that if she would try and forget about her depression and look on the bright side of life she would be all right. Of course I didn't dare tell her this because I knew she would get into one of her tempers. When she got over these fits of temper, she was always weak and ill and more depressed than ever. The doctor said a tonic might help her but this did not do her any good. She tried all kinds of other tonics with the same result. Carol was recommended to me and I wish to state that it is the best I have ever used. Since taking it my wife has changed completely. Now she is always ready for her meals and work is no burden to her. I want you to accept my thanks for that wonderful tonic Carol is sold by Mr. J. M. Toronto.

"Tanlac helped me back to good health two years ago and I am still feeling fine" recently said Mrs. Mabel Francis, highly esteemed resident of 628 S. Linwood Ave., Baltimore, Maryland. "Before taking the medicine I suffered from nervous breakdown and was in an awful condition. I scarcely had strength and energy to handle a broom and my housework was drudgery to me. The first bottle of Tanlac made such a wonderful improvement in my condition that I was both surprised and delighted. So I stuck to it and a few bottles built me up ten pounds and made me feel as if I had never had a sick day. My health has been fine ever since."

NOTE—The International Proprietaries Co., distributors of Tanlac, have on file in their offices at Atlanta, Georgia, over fifty thousand signed statements from representative men and women from every State in the Union and every Province of Canada. Many of these are from prominent people in this city and section and have been previously published in this paper.

Tanlac is sold by all druggists.

Enjoyable Evening in Carleton Methodist Church When Rev. Mr. Bertram and Mrs. Bertram Are Guests of Honor.

The congregation of the Carleton Methodist church gave a reception for the new pastor and his wife, Rev. P. T. and Mrs. Bertram, last night as one of the events in a rally week programme. The reception was attended by a large gathering and was a very pleasant and enjoyable occasion. The vestry was filled. Mrs. I. O. Beattie assisted Mr. and Mrs. Bertram in receiving their guests and Mrs. George Barrett was the convener of an able committee which had charge of the ushering and Miss Beattie assisted.

An excellent programme was given and Enoch Thompson acted as chairman. Several of the city clergymen were present and each brought the greetings of his own church or denomination and extended good wishes to the pastor and the congregation. Among the visiting clergymen were: Rev. E. C. Fulton, of Centenary church; Rev. Nell MacLaughlan, of the Queen square church; Rev. C. R. Freeman, of the Charlotte street Baptist church; and Rev. W. A. Robbins, of the Ludlow street Baptist church. The programme contained the following numbers: Solos by J. F. Punter and Mrs. Brunstrom and a duet by Miss Bisset and Mr. Punter.

Mr. Thompson gave the address of welcome to the new pastor and Mr. Bertram replied in an appreciative manner. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening by the ladies of the congregation.

The Sunday rally services for the Congregation were most successful. In the morning the scholars were seated in a body in the church and a pleasing pageant was presented by eight young ladies. At the rally in the afternoon there were 249 pupils present, a record in the history of the church.

Embarrassing Hairs Can be Quickly Removed

(Beauty Culture) Hairs can be removed from the under-arms, neck and face by this quick, painless method: Mix into a stiff paste some powder. Rub on the hair, spread on hairy surface and in 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and it will be free from the hair. Repeat every day. In very stubborn growths, one application is sufficient. IMPERIAL GIVES A REGULAR JOLT

"Manslaughter" Thunders Terrible Warning to Gay and Giddy Youth.

Attesting in every scene to the genius of Cecil B. De Mille as one of the foremost motion picture producers in the world, "Manslaughter," his latest production, is a picture of luxe at the Imperial this week. It is one of those massive, splendid, beautiful cinema creations for which Mr. De Mille is distinguished, and the superlative qualities of "Joan the Woman," "Male and Female," and other of his achievements, are abundantly displayed in "Manslaughter."

In brief "Manslaughter" is one of the most pretentious picture productions with which the name of De Mille has been associated as a producer, and that it proves to be a magnet of undeniable charm and attractiveness. Lydia Thorne, a capricious wealthy girl, while speeding in her automobile, causes the death of a motor policeman, and is prosecuted by Dan O'Bannon, a district attorney, who loves her. O'Bannon is shocked by the guilty of modern society and mentally paints a picture of the downfall of Rome. This tremendous epoch is shown in all its splendor, O'Bannon impersonating Avarice of Goth, and Lydia the most beautiful and profligate woman in Rome. Lydia's conviction of manslaughter through O'Bannon's efforts, and her sentence to a term in prison, engenders in her a hatred for O'Bannon. When she escapes, she realizes that she loves him devotedly.

But O'Bannon, in remorse, dissipates, neglects his duties and gradually sinks into the depths. After her release she engages in humanitarian and upright work. One night, O'Bannon, covered with snow, enters a coffee kitchen she has established and recognizing her, she attracts him back and tells him of her love. He reforms and two years later regains his prestige and is a candidate for governor. When told that Lydia, as a former convict, can never become the wife of a governor, he resigns his candidacy despite her protests and finds happiness in her love.

"Manslaughter" is the attraction at the Imperial again today.

SEVERE ITCHING BURNING PIMPLES

Over Face and Neck. Face Disfigured. Cuticura Heals.

"My trouble began with a rash which later turned to pimples. The pimples were quite large and of a reddish color, and were scattered all over my face, neck and forehead. The itching and burning were so severe that I could not help scratching. My face was disfigured for about a year. The trouble lasted about a year before I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment. They afforded relief within two weeks, and at the end of six weeks I was healed." (Signed) Clarence J. Burnell, 474 Tyler St., Pittsfield, Mass., Jan. 4, 1921.

THE LOYALIST CHAPTER I. O. D. E.

The Loyalist Chapter of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire held its first meeting of the new season, and the part which the alumnae will have in the Cathedral high tea was discussed.

The election of officers resulted as follows: president, Miss Mary Chalmers; vice-president, Miss Annie Gossnell; second vice-president, Mrs. Arthur O'Neill; secretary, Miss Madeline Dwyer; assistant secretary, Miss Vera Waterbury; treasurer, Miss K. Gorman; additional members of the executive, Miss B. Mahoney, Miss McDade, Miss Beatrice Gossnell, Mrs. Deloy, Miss Ellen Reed and Mrs. McCann; auditors, Miss Rose Phillips and Miss Nan O'Neill. Delegates to the local council of women, the president, Mrs. James McMurray, Miss A. Gossnell, Mrs. B. B. Coffey, Miss Ella Reed and Mrs. James Deloy.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

A well attended meeting of the St. John branch of the Women's Institute was held yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. A. J. Mulcahy, with the president, Mrs. T. M. Vincent, in the chair. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved, and a report from the treasurer, Mrs. Hooper, who is now in Toronto attending the annual convention, was read by Mrs. Vincent. The institute has one of its nurses taking the public health course at Toronto University. Routine business was attended to and the work of the health centre was enthusiastically discussed. It was decided to hold a prize sale and tea in the near future, the proceeds to be given to the health centre. The secretary reported that she had read and approved, and a check had been received for the same. The institute is going to help the Victorian Order of Nurses in carrying out their tag day, and Mrs. Mulcahy was made convener of Wellington ward.

HEARS EXCELLENT REPORTS FROM THE CONVENTION

Brunswick Chapter of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire held its monthly meeting yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. W. I. Fenlon, with the regent, Mrs. Herbert Wetmore, presiding. The chapter heard of much good accomplished and planned for future activities with much enthusiasm. Financial support of the Victorian Order of Nurses was voted by the meeting. The reports of the various committees all showed that work was being carried on with excellent results. It was decided to continue the monthly contribution of $10 to the Victorian Order of Nurses and to supplement that support by a subscription of $25 towards the Tag Day of the V. O. N. this week. The chapter also voted to send its appreciation to the municipal chapter funds. Plans for the

RED CROSS WORK IN PEACE TIME

Bringing an irresistible plea for whole-hearted support of the peace policy of the Red Cross Society, Mrs. G. A. Kuhring, the war-time president of the St. John Women's Canadian Club, was given a royal reception by the members of the club last night, when she addressed it at its meeting in St. Andrew's church hall. Mrs. W. Edmond Raymond, the president of the club, was in the chair, and the meeting was one of the largest held for some time. Mrs. Raymond gave an interesting account of the annual meeting of the Association of Canadian Clubs in Hamilton, which she had attended. A short business session was held before the address of the evening, and at the close refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed. Mrs. Kuhring illustrated her appeal for the Red Cross by showing a splendid series of slides of the Red Cross at work in New Brunswick.

In the business session Mrs. G. MacDonald, the secretary, read an account of the transactions of the executive during the summer. Miss A. Tingey, treasurer, reported a balance of $88. Miss K. Bell, corresponding secretary, read communications. A. Machum, secretary of the G. W. V. A., wrote to ask the club to cooperate in selling poppies on Armistice day anniversary. The meeting was in favor of supporting this undertaking, and Mrs. T. H. Carter was appointed to represent the club in arranging for the sale of poppies.

The following nominating committee was appointed to draw up a slate of officers for the next year: Mrs. H. B. Peck, convener; Mrs. W. P. Lugden, Mrs. H. A. Powell, Mrs. C. B. Allan, Miss Mabel Gilbert, Miss A. Tingey and Mrs. R. J. Yanvart.

Halloween tea and sale, which is a big event in the chapter's year, occupied some time. Mrs. Cortland Robinson, the chapter's delegate to the meeting of the national chapter in Vancouver, gave an interesting report of the convention. Mrs. Robinson's account of the national chapter's meeting was an inspiration to all who heard it, and every one still more enthusiastic for the aims and ideals of the order. At the close of her report a hearty vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Robinson. A social hour followed the business meeting and the hostesses for tea were Mrs. Herbert Wetmore, Mrs. F. G. A Test Proves It Easy Starting—Powerful—Economic—The New Imperial Premier Gasoline meets every Requirement of Automobile and Motor Boat Engines.

Before the new Imperial Premier Gasoline was ever offered for sale in the Maritime Provinces, it had passed most exacting tests in our refinery laboratories at Imperoyal.

It remained, however, for automobile and motorboat users to make the final test as to its actual performance in their engines. The results have proved conclusively that the new Imperial Premier Gasoline is a superior motor fuel from every standpoint.

You will find that the new Imperial Premier Gasoline starts even more quickly than Queen Gasoline which some owners have been using in spite of the fact that it was manufactured primarily for use in lighting plants and was never intended as a fuel for engines.

You will also find the new Imperial Premier superior to Queen or similar gasolines in every other way—pickup, power, mileage, economy and dependability. Believing, as we do, that this is the best gasoline we can make, we have discontinued the manufacture of all other grades. You owe it to yourself to make a test of this new gasoline which is made right here at home. If it proves satisfactory (as we are positive it will) you can save from 3 to 5 cents a gallon over gasolines which will not give anything like the same results.

The proper way to make a test—Have your carburetor adjusted to use this new gasoline—then use it exclusively—and you will be able to operate your engine on a lean mixture and not only save gasoline but avoid operating troubles which often result from faulty fuel. The new Premier Gasoline is obtainable everywhere in the Maritime Provinces—at the Red Ball Sign.

RECOVERS MEMORY AFTER TWO MONTHS' WANDERING.
Los Angeles, Oct. 3.—A young man who was picked up by the police on the streets of Huntington Park, a suburb, apparently unable to tell who he was or how he arrived there, has recovered his memory. He is Cecil Smith, son of Francis Smith of 24 Rand street, Rochester, N. Y.

"I left my home about two months ago," said the young man, "and was taken from my bank by a musical instrument, went to two motion picture shows on the international circuit, and finally found that place closed and stood under an awning in the rain waiting for my street car. After that I remember nothing."
The police said they believed he had been struck on the head and robbed.

Snake That Kills Cattle.
For several weeks steers and cows were found dead in ranch in Tamaulipas, with their tongues very badly mangled, and at other times cut off and at a distance from the dead body. The owner could not make out what kind of animal was doing this mischief, work, till one day, while riding through the brush, he saw a cow which was turning all kinds of somersaults as if it was crazy. After a few minutes she fell down dead, there was no apparent reason for the wild behavior. When the man came close, and while looking at it, a very thin snake crept out—at least pulled out its head and part of its body—from the cow's nostrils and started to crawl away from the place, when the man killed it. When he examined the cow's mouth he noticed that the tongue was eaten and almost cut off by the snake, which was crawling up her nose, could work at ease, while the cow was driven mad and finally choked to death on account of the blood pouring out from the round, cows invariably will swallow their blood when bruised in the mouth. —Adventure Magazine for October.

FAMOUS JOCKEY
DIES IN ENGLAND

John Osborne, Well Known on English Race Courses, Dies at the Age of 89 Years.

London, Sept. 14.—(By mail to Canadian Press.)—John Osborne, one of the most prominent figures on English race courses and whose whole life had been devoted to the thoroughbred either as a jockey or trainer, died suddenly on Saturday at his home in Coverham, Middleham, aged eighty-nine years. His death has caused profound regret, especially in York, where he had been a familiar figure for many years.

"Old John," or "Pusher," as he was affectionately termed, because of his habit of never ceasing to ride his mounts until he had passed the winning post, was the son of a trainer and owner, and when only thirteen years old made his first public appearance as a jockey. During the following forty-six years, or until his retirement from the saddle in 1892, Osborne had a most remarkable career as a jockey. For thirty-eight successive years he had a mount in the Epsom Derby, attaining the supreme height of a Two Thousand Guineas when he won Osborne's mounts on six occasions, the One Thousand Guineas, the Oaks, and the Doncaster St. Leger twice.

In 1874 Osborne rode Apology, a chestnut filly owned by Rev. Mr. King (who raced under the name of Mr. Launde) and won three classics in that year, the One Thousand Guineas, the Oaks and the St. Leger. The filly's St. Leger victory was a sensational affair, as she was pulled up lame after an exercise gallop on the morning of the race. She traveled so badly in the early stages of the race that odds of 100 to one were shouted against her, but Osborne nursed her in character, and she won the race by a neck. It was the only time that a filly won the St. Leger.

Mr. Osborne witnessed the running of the "Cinderella" race two years ago, and it was just seventy years ago that he rode his father's filly Essex to victory in this important race for two-year-olds. One of his many qualities was his ability to handle two-year-olds, and during his long career in the saddle, he rode nine Ginterock winners, six second four times, twice third, and six times finished fourth.

On his retirement from the saddle, "Old John" was the recipient of an unprecedented compliment, for a subscription was opened in his honor by his numerous admirers and a purse of 3,000 guineas, together with an address was presented to him by the late J. H. Hindleworth, the then senior steward of the Jockey Club.

Mr. Osborne never had any real brilliant horses under his charge as a trainer, but he was distinctly successful with the moderate ones he had. His last big success was "The Guller," who won the Chester Cup in 1918. Despite his then eighty years, "Old John" was a man of activity, and on the day previous to the race he rode the Chester Cup he gave The Guller an exercise gallop over the full length of the course. He made no secret of his belief in his horse's ability to win the race and landed his biggest win, for he had his rods, and made the fire shillings each way on the horse, whose starting price was twenty to one against, plus an additional sovereign each way, which Mr. Crahan, the owner, put on for him.

The last winner that Mr. Osborne saddled was Fairy Girl, who won the Cleveland Plate at Redcar in May of last year.

Always a regular church-goer, Mr. Osborne attended service at the parish church on last Sunday, and later in the day, while attending the poultry and dogs at his home he was stricken with the fatal attack. Regarding his church-going habit, it is said that on one occasion he was the only member of the Coverham church present when the vicar ascended the pulpit. Rev. Hulton Hall, who used to tell the story, said: "I awoke in the early morning, but on beholding the great fall of snow, I thought it was of no use trying to conduct the service, expecting nobody to be there. However, I picked up my courage and went with difficulty to my surprise the only member of the congregation in evidence was John Osborne, who had been awaiting my arrival at the church door."

BATTLED SEAS
50 FEET HIGH

Waves Tore Away Coping 60 Feet Above Water Line of Aquitania and Flooded the Grillroom.

(New York Times)
The Cunard Aquitania, which arrived yesterday, twenty-four hours late, from Southampton and Cherbourg with 1,892 passengers and $5,000,000 in gold, had two steel doors store in on the "B" deck, her suite de luxe and grill room flooded by the captain described as "dangerous" seas which swept over both sides of the line during the hurricane last Monday. Thirty women passengers in the first cabin were washed out of their rooms on the "C" deck, through water coming down ventilators and the after companion way and slept in the lounge for two nights. Several of them were hysterical during the storm but no one was injured. The passengers thought so much of the conduct of the seaman that they subscribed $1,000 to be divided among them.

Captain Sir James Charles, R.N.R., the master of the Aquitania, said that he had never seen higher seas or known the wind to blow harder than it did from Sunday night till the following afternoon.

The windows of the "B" deck were fifty feet above the waterline and those on the "C" deck were forty feet above and it was estimated the waves were fully fifty feet high. Forty feet of the teakwood coping which encloses the windows on the shelter deck, sixty feet in the southeast and southwest and poured down into the grill room at luncheon time on Monday.

Storm Follows Calm.
Captain Charles said that the weather was fine on Sunday until 8 o'clock in the evening, when it came on to blow hard from the southwest and by midnight it had veered to the westward and reached hurricane force, which is "any thing over eighty miles an hour." "The barometer dropped," the captain continues, "to 28.25, the lowest I have ever recorded since 1908 on the Lucania when the glass measured down to 27.82 inches. I showed the Aquitania down twelve knots by the engines and for twelve hours she could only make five knots at the most against the terrific velocity of the wind and the high seas. It was impossible to see anything from the bridge and the superstructure with a force that it would be difficult to describe. That is the way the windows on the "B" deck were smashed. The ship behaved very well indeed under the severe pounding it received from the huge head seas, and there was practically no abatement to speak of for twenty-two hours. It was a rough sea really until Thursday afternoon. A part of the time on Monday the seas were confused, caused by shifting wind, but later when the wind came from the west they were regular but enormous."

"BLOODLESS" SURGERY
Dr. Lorenz Returns to U. S. With New Operative Method.

New York, Oct. 3.—Dr. Adolph Lorenz, the famous Austrian orthopaedic surgeon, arrived on the Reliance for his fourth visit in the United States. He came largely to present to the physicians of America, he said, "a new operative method which I feel will be my last contribution to orthopaedic surgery."

He explained the new method was so technical a matter that he considered it best to make the first presentation of it before medical societies and the medical press. He expressed a belief that this new "bloodless" operation would be helpful in cases that had hitherto been considered hopeless. Dr. Lorenz brought with him a number of motion picture films to illustrate the success with which the operation has been used in some cases.

Dr. Lorenz's two sons came with him. The older, Dr. Albert Lorenz, will work as his assistant, and Conrad Lorenz, who is 19 years old, will attend Columbia University during the winter and study medicine and surgery.

PRINCETON BEGINS YEAR WITH 2,150 STUDENTS
Princeton, N. J., Oct. 3.—Enrollment at Princeton will be the largest in its history, with 2,150 students, it was announced by President John Grier Hibben at the opening exercises. Of these more than one thousand applicants, 920 had been admitted as freshmen, Dr. Hibben said. This number will be increased to 960.

A feature of the freshman enrollment is that not a student will enter with a scholastic standing. Selection was made on the basis of scholastic standing.

Six hundred students applied for transfers from other colleges to Princeton. Of these only seventy-six have been accepted.

The Y. M. C. A. classes for the year opened yesterday afternoon with a good attendance of High School boys. The business men's business boys' and young men's classes all had good attendances.

BEGINS TO GROW
WEARY OF SIKI

Humor Creeping Into Comment That Has Been Stirred by Carpenter's Defeat.

Paris, Oct. 3.—Now that Georges Carpentier is likely to be confined to his house for a month and he may be out of the prize ring for good, his conqueror, Battling Siki from all available signs threatens to become so omnipotent that already one heartily wishes some real American fighter would take his measure.

Happily French nature refuses to let even an obnoxious jungle man with a white wife too seriously, so while the press still is filled with more fight comment than either politics or religion it is already in a lighter and sarcastic vein.

The Petit Journal gives what purports to be Siki's daily mail since he became the world's light heavyweight champion. It quotes a letter from a cinema director who addresses the negro as "dear great artist" and declares that having viewed the match he is convinced the negro is sufficiently photogenic to triumph in the movies provided the entire action of the piece takes place in a tunnel.

"You don't know how to dance but that does not matter, I'll give you lessons and we can open a new dancing palace and shimmy every night," it reads.

A letter from an old Colonial soldier congratulates the Senegalese on being a French citizen, despite the fact that he has taken a ring name that might be mistaken for either American or British, while the final letter from an important business firm offers millions if he will immediately advertise Siki in his coaters and silk casuals.

PEANUT CROP CUT
100,000,000 BUSHELS
Rain Interfered With Plantings in Virginia and North Carolina.

New York, Oct. 3.—The peanut crop this year is estimated by federal investigators to be 100,000,000 bushels less than that of last year. Rainy weather has interfered with work in the fields in Virginia and North Carolina and some peanut plantings became very grassy before they could be cultivated.

New crop peanuts will soon be available in the southeast and southwest and the new stock from Virginia will not come in until next month.

In the southeast the growing crop is in fair condition, say the government agents, but the acreage is materially less than that of last year. Reports from Texas indicate that the outlook for the growing crop is poor, because of continued lack of rain, and crop failures may result in some sections.

The good demand for shelled peanuts which prevailed in the Virginia belt in August fell off noticeably later in the month. Early in September the market was quiet with little activity in either shelled or cleaned goods.

The big cat pounded vigorously on the bars separating him from Queen-emitting roars that shook the building. His actions aroused Sarah, who struck him as he passed her. King roared in his impertinence, and with a blow from his forepaw, knocked her down. Lying on her back she used her long claws vigorously on the angry King.

Waiting his opportunity, Sherer stepped boldly into the cage, and with his good hand—the other having been injured in a fight with a giant ape some time ago—he opened the door separating King and Queen. At almost the same time the angry King discovered Sherer backing from the cage and moved for him. The keeper stepped aside and struck the beast on the nose with the iron pipe. A moment more and Sherer was safe in the outside aisle with King jutting the door through which he had disappeared.

KEEPER OF ZOO FACES
DEATH TO SEPARATE FIGHTING LIONS
Toledo, Ohio, Oct. 3.—Louis Sherer, Walbridge Park zoo keeper, faced almost certain death when, to save King, he stepped into the cage armed only with an iron bar, and separated the two.

The trouble started when King, who is not fond of his new mate from the Cleveland Zoo, decided to return to his old love, Queen, confined in an adjoining cage.

LIVE ALLIGATORS
IN PARCEL POST

Live Animals and Various Kinds of Barnyard Stock Entitled to Mail Privileges.

Washington, Oct. 3.—A few bleary-eyed crocodiles a yard or so in length, whose digestion enables them to chew up broken herrings as a man would delicately carved tooth pick, may be "harmless" in the legal sense of the word when shipped parcel post, but Postmaster A. L. Behrmer of Cincinnati has his own personal doubts about the matter.

In addressing the National Association of Postmasters here, Mr. Behrmer explained that live animals and various kinds of barnyard stock, under the law, were entitled to mail privileges, if, in transit, they were badged as "harmless."

The Cincinnati postmaster was inclined to doubt that women postmistresses or young women clerks in the home post office would look upon a crate of the mice as "harmless."

Behrmer appeared not to look with severity upon the prospect some day of being obliged to "attend" water and feed various fowls and irritated live stock" as a part of the daily postal routine.

The evolution of the egg, he said, was not so bad, explaining that first the parcel post handled crates of eggs, their deck admission from Canada, hatching, in the form of live chicks, only to be followed by full grown chickens and domesticated hens. But when alligators and other gruesome creatures happen along in the run of business, and as was the case recently at an Ohio post office, escape from their crates and wallow about the office, snapping broomsticks and other things at the heads of postal clerks, it is reduced to the official "harmless" stage, he declared it was about time to call a halt.

The convention failed to take any action upon the revelations of the Cincinnati postmaster, evidently feeling the "harmless" phase of parcel post management would in the future course of events be corrected or modified by the postal authorities.

Majority View in U. S. Congress is That 3 Per Cent Law is Working Well.

Washington, Oct. 3.—(By Canadian Press.)—Although opinion in this country is far from unanimous on the subject, the majority opinion in congress is that the three per cent immigration law is working well. Representative Cable of Illinois, in a recent speech in the house, made an analysis of the law and commended its operation. He pointed out that it had recently been extended for two additional years with amendments. One of the amendments is to penalize steamship companies that bring aliens here in excess of the quota, and another provides that instead of one year aliens must reside continuously for five years immediately preceding the time they seek admission from Canada, Newfoundland, Cuba, Mexico and countries of Central and South America or adjacent islands.

An opposite view from that taken by Mr. Cable is held by some who contend that the three per cent law is shutting out much labor needed in the United States and that one effect of the restriction practiced by this country is to encourage desirably and trade and agricultural competitors of the United States.

Mr. Cable, after commending the law in general, pointed out the justice of immigrants had improved, and workmen protected from competition, added.

"Because of the law we have been able to learn many characteristic facts concerning the nationals of other countries. For example, the people of southern Europe are more anxious to come to the United States than those of northern Europe. This is shown by the records. The people of Greece, Hungary, Italy, Poland, Rumania and such countries exhaust their entire quota and every person who, under the law, was permitted to come, did come to America. On the other hand, the countries of northern Europe were not inclined to permit their nationals to leave for our shores, and but a portion of the percentage allotted to such nations was exhausted. For example, the people of France used but 75.9 per cent; Germany, twenty-eight per cent; Norway, 48.7 per cent; Sweden, 43.8 per cent; and the United Kingdom, 35.2 per cent.

"Another interesting fact was disclosed in the operation of this law. While the nationals of the southern countries of Europe exhausted their full quota in coming to the United States, yet, instead of being a net gain, it was a loss in the number of immigrants from these countries for the entire fiscal year, because more nationals emigrated from the United States than entered here from these southern countries. On the other hand, when the English, French, Germans, Irish, Scandinavians, Scotch, Slovaks, and Welsh come to the United States they have the purpose of remaining here, making this their permanent home and the United States the new country of their allegiance, because but few of these nationals return to their own countries.

"The most peculiar result of the operation of the law is that our net gain consists entirely of women and girls. The number of male aliens who departed from this country during the fiscal year just passed exceeded those admitted by almost 12,000, while the number of females who were admitted to this country during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1922, exceeded those who departed by more than 98,000, so that the net gain in the number of aliens for the fiscal year last past, from both quota and non-quota countries, is 87,141—all females.

"In addition, the immigration laws have been better administered. The percentage of those annually declared as inadmissible has been cut in two, and the number of those who seek admission, while under the administration of the

OPINION DIVIDED

MOVIE STUDIO STYLE
SHOW ON THURSDAY

THE MOVIE STUDIO STYLE PARADE AND FASHION SHOW which Imperial Theatre will hold on its stage in connection with the regular picture programme Thursday and Friday evenings of this week will not only constitute a symposium of the latest Gowns, Street Apparel, Millinery and a Revue of Fur models, but will demonstrate to those present how moving pictures are taken. Director Hartford of the Ernest Shipman Corporation, who is in town to superintend the making of the St. John-Bay of Fundy movie fiction "Blue Water," will direct the twelve comely maidens who will act as mannequins while Walter Griffin, chief of the camera forces, of the Shipman Studios, will preside over the photographic equipment. Chief Technician Lawson will superintend the studio lighting and there will be numerous assistants. As the Style Parade progresses actual pictures will be "shot" and to be shown at the Imperial the week following. The Movie Studio Show will be given two nights. It should prove a distinct novelty.

DOCTOR PUTS END TO LIFE
Prominent Bar Harbor Physician Cuts Throat With Razor.

Bar Harbor, Me., Oct. 13.—Dr. Frank Freeman-Smith, who had practiced medicine in Bar Harbor during the summer months for the last thirty years, ended his life by cutting his throat with a razor at his home on Mt. Desert street. His body was found in a bath tub at his home here by his wife. He had left a note for her, the contents of which were not made public.

Dr. Smith, while spending his summers here, practiced during the winter in Washington, Boston, Palm Beach and Winter Park, Fla. He is survived by two sons, Dr. Maurice and Dr. Frank Freeman-Smith, Jr., of Boston and by one daughter, Mrs. Edward Preble Motley, also of Boston. He was a native of New Hampshire, a graduate of Dartmouth, and was for a time in the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania.

Friends here said that Dr. Smith had made a previous attempt to commit suicide in 1915. He was subject to periods of melancholia.
