

FOR THE CHRONICLE.
THE SAILOR'S GRAVE.
And we laugh with the young and the brave.
But we weep, while we spy from the city,
To who sleeps near the glory wave.

Two more! and the rest in his glory wave.
While bright about his morning crest,
And the gallant bark lay safely moored.
In the stream, her water's not Happily sing, that work to sailor's joy.
While they chant the glories of day.
While the sailor-boy sings "cherish boy."
As the massive anchor they weigh.

The stars waft o'er the rippling sea.
And the snow falls firmly as yet.
And expand in the wind, while the sailor's mind
Clings to those who but late he had met.
As the wind whistles louder, the gallant bark tears
To kiss the height of the foam;
While the music swells, that the sailor greets,
Is the tune of the tempest moon.

How swiftly onward he glides his proud light,
And the skies in dim darkness now lower.
And the meteor bright, from the south of night,
Flash on 'tis the tempest power.
"Away!"—but the wind howl louder still!
"Away!"—but the sea now
But while elements rage, and a steady war wage,
The sailor stands brave and mill.

THE GREAT REMEDY.
Sharp's Balsam of Hoarhound and Aniseed.
An ever failing cure for Coughs, Colds, Asthma,
Shortness of Breath, &c.
The extraordinary efficacy which this simple, pleasing, and effectual medicine has attained, may be seen by the following proofs, or certificates, all of which persons well known—

TO MR. J. G. SHARP.
Sir,—One of my children has been suffering for years under a severe Cough. The usual remedies were applied without effect. Having heard of Mr.
J. G. Sharp's "Balsam of Hoarhound and Aniseed,"
I obtained some, and after using it for a few days,
I was surprised to find that the cough was entirely cured. I am, Sir, your obedient servant,
M. SMITH,
St. John's, Kings County, March, 1852.

Here is your Remedy!
HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.
A MOST MIRACULOUS CURE OF RHEUMATISM,
Extract of a Letter from Mr. Wm. Galloway, of 70
St. Mary Street, Westminster, dated May 15, 1851
To Professor Holloway, Esq.
Sir,—At the age of 15 my wife (who is now 55)
caught a violent cold, which settled in her legs, and ever since that time they have been more or less sore, and greatly inflamed. Her agonies were dreadful, and for months together she was deprived entirely of rest and sleep. Every remedy that medical men advised was tried, but without effect.
Her health suffered severely, and she was obliged to leave her home, and to try your Pills and Ointment, and as a last resource, after every other remedy had proved useless, she consented to do so.
She completed the course, and the result was entirely in your favour. Her legs are now entirely free from pain, and she is able to walk about in her usual manner, and to sleep soundly and undisturbed. I have witnessed the recovery of my wife during the last 48 hours, and can testify with the best present enjoyment of health, that you indeed feel delighted in having been the means of effecting the alleviation of the sufferings of a person so dear to you.

WILLIAM GALEY.
A PERSON TO YEARS OF AGE CURED OF A WOUND IN HIS CHEST.
Extract of a Letter from Mr. Frederick Turner, of Fenstanton, Kent, dated December 13th, 1850.
To Professor Holloway, Esq.
Sir,—I suffered for a period of thirty years from a wound in my chest, which was the result of an accident. The wound was accompanied by scabrous symptoms. I had recourse to a variety of medical advice, without deriving any benefit, and was even told that I could not be cured. I was, however, informed that you had cured a similar case, and I accordingly procured your Pills and Ointment, and after using them for a few days, I was surprised to find that the wound was entirely cured. I am, Sir, your obedient servant,
W. P. England, Kent, 13, Market Street, Huddersfield.
