

Arrival of the Steamship

Niagara.

Interesting Intelligence

LIVERPOOL TIMBER MARKET.

March 24.—The arrivals at Liverpool from 1st Feb. to 24th March consisted of 17 vessels, viz.:—One from Quebec, 7 from St. John, N.B., and 9 from other ports; in all 8,121 tons. During the same period last year, there were 17 vessels, 10,000 tons.

Pine and Spruce Planks.—One cargo of Magadan Spruce, including 25 standard Pine Boards, has been sold at £5 per standard. A small cargo of St. John Spruce at £7 15s per standard. A cargo of good St. John Spruce from the yard at £5 2s per standard, and two parcels, being portions of cargoes, at £7 7s. 6d per standard. A cargo of P. E. Island Spruce, at Birkenhead, brought by auction from £7 to £7 10s per standard.

Railway Sleepers.—A lot of 9,941 was offered by auction 16th March, but withdrawn.

IRELAND.

Irish news continues pregnant with excitement and interest. The "rite in aid" agitation has been marked with a violence of language wholly disproportionate to the importance of the alleged grievance. Noble lords in the peerage of Great Britain have been deluged with petitions couched in the most abusive and threatening language. Some of the leaders, however, begin to perceive that they have carried the excitement too far; and the Marquis of Londonderry, in a very plain address, tells his tenants in the county of Down, that although he has the most reason to complain, he will, as an old soldier, give his sword against them to execute the laws passed by a united Parliament. Any Irishman must be blind to the present temper of the times if he thinks that the Imperial Parliament will be allowed by the people of Ireland to go on voting sums for Irish relief any longer. The tax payers in England are too much oppressed with their own burdens. Accordingly, if the Irish people desire to avoid "a comfortable income-tax," they will "exert themselves" by finding employment for their own poor so as to preclude the necessity of a greater and more obnoxious impost. Many of the leading capitalists seem sensible of the necessity of some exertion. A very influential body has urged the chief Minister of the Crown to assist them indirectly by encouraging the formation of railways. Lord John Russell is evidently disposed to do as much as possible, consistently with the proper duties of a government, in order to further the views of the parties who are promoting these national undertakings. If a practical scheme of proceeding can be devised, nothing, we believe, would tend more rapidly to raise the country than the opening of new markets for produce by means of railway communication. The landed interest of Ireland has also made an application to the Chancellor of the Exchequer to authorize by law the Bank of Ireland to make advance on mortgages of land, following the example of the Bank of England in 1823. This, if practicable, might be of great relief to a large class and Sir Charles Wood as the subject under his consideration. However numerous these claims may be upon the English treasury, still, if it can be shown clearly that the industry of the country will thereby be promoted, there is a disposition to go beyond the strict bounds of precedent in order to relieve the necessities of the Irish people. But we really believe that any Minister will find it impossible to obtain the consent of Parliament to any further uncovered advances of money. The west and south of Ireland appear to be in a deplorable state. Several frightful murders are reported. The sheriffs are committing extensive ravages in the country. To compensate for these sad and distressing visitations the farmers have commenced tilling the ground to a vast extent, and the potato is again planted to a greater extent than heretofore. The attachment of the Irish to this, their precarious mode of subsistence, cannot be eradicated. It is hoped that as early sowing has been adopted generally throughout the country that the chances of failure may be diminished. The friends of Ireland, however, view with considerable alarm this recurrence to a system which has cost so much life and treasure. In spite of all the reports we have heard of want and carnage, to work the land, the seed has been produced as if by magic. Englishmen are led to believe that the distress, which undoubtedly exists to an alarming extent, has been, nevertheless, exaggerated.

The Southern and Western Railway.—We congratulate the country upon the result of this great experiment in our Irish railway system, so far as it is shown in the half year's report of the Directors of the great South-Western Railway. Considering the enormous cost of the country, the railway has made nearly £32,000 during the year ending the 31st of December.

In our opinion, in the highest degree encouraging.—Dublin Mail.

Mrs. John Mitchell.—A northern correspondent of the Southern Reporter states that Mrs. John Mitchell is about to proceed to the Cape of Good Hope to join her husband there. Her five children go with her.

The Freeman's Journal states that a letter has been received by Lord John Russell from Lord Clarendon, in which the latter gives his opinion that the rate in aid cannot be collected in Ireland, and strongly recommends an abandonment of the measure.

PARLIAMENTARY.

The proceedings in Parliament have been of the highest political interest. The second reading of the Navigation Bill took place in the House of Commons on the 12th March. Mr. Harris moved an amendment, that the Bill be read a second time that day. The Bill was rejected by a majority of 56.—There were 476 members present.

The proposal of Mr. Disraeli to make an enquiry into the peculiar burdens on land, with a view to their relief, has been carried in the Commons by a majority of 250 to 150.

The army and navy estimates have been carried by majorities quite as large as heretofore. The four threatened oppositions of Mr. Haume and Colclough have been defeated in the House of Commons.

Against the present alleged excessive number of troops and soldiers; the most insistent minorities have supported the financial reformers, the vast body of the nation perceiving clearly that Government, with the restricted power it has, is doing every thing to cut down expenses, without impairing the general efficiency of the public service.

The events in India have raised the British feeling so long kept in abeyance; and that same spirit of valour which has raised England to her present height of glory is breaking forth only with more ardour, because it has been of late years so much suppressed. It is quite plain that the cry of "ships, colours and commerce" was never more popular than at this moment; and Mr. Haume and Sir Wm. Molesworth, who think our colonies unimportant, have taken especial care to repudiate any insinuation whatever of parting with any of "the jewels of the British crown."

However they condemn the practice of keeping so large a military force for their defence and maintenance.

COMMERCIAL.

The commercial news is of a steady progressive character. The European Times says:—

The general tone of commercial affairs during the last fortnight, although not of acute character, has been satisfactory. Much of the gloominess which had been caused by the news from India, which reached London in the beginning of the month, has been dissipated by subsequent accounts from Bombay and Calcutta. The cotton market has been quiet, and prices are again a point lower.

From the manufacturing districts there are satisfactory reports, and, although there has been less activity in the market for manufactured goods, there is not any diminution in the extent of employment. The intelligence brought by the last Overland Mail is of an encouraging character. Trade between Bombay, Calcutta, and Canton improved, and the supply of goods in these places was in a healthy state. The supply of money continues abundant, and of late there has been less disposition to borrow. First class paper, discredited after, but of so little value as to be of no use, and the rates are 2 to 2½.

Royal Artillery.—The Artillery establishment left Woolwich, 16th March, for Halifax, with three companies of Artillery on board. This vessel is to call at St. John, N.B., to embark Captain Quinby's Company, ordered home.

Deaths.—At Valencia, 6th March, the Right Honorable Maurice Fitzgerald, Knight of Kerry.

On the 17th, in London, the Countess Dowager of Mulgrave.

On the 17th, at the Hague, William II., King of Holland.

On the 18th, in the Work-house of St. George's, London, Louis Christopher, son of the Prince of Hainault.

FRANCE.

France continues quiet internally. The elections commenced on the 19th May, and the Legislative Assembly meets on the 28th of that month. The deputies are expected to be taken from the anti-republican parties.

An expedition is fitting out at Toulon, and Marshal Bugeaud has departed to take the command of the army of the Alps.

The Presse, a Paris journal, possesses of very authentic sources of information, says:—

"The principle of the intervention in favor of the Pope, by France, Austria, Spain, and Naples, has been settled so that all to be decided upon now are the proportions to be assigned to each power in the work of re-establishing the Pope. To facilitate these negotiations the representatives of the four powers at Gaeta are to receive plenary powers, and the intervention may be according to the designs of the Pontiff."

The same post that brings this announcement carries intelligence which is tantamount to a declaration that the band of conspirators who upset order in Rome had dissolved their confederation volens, nolens, and adjourned their anarchical orgies sine die.

CONTINENTAL.

The importance of the news from the continent of Europe predominates still over all other intelligence. The King of Holland has been removed from the scene of impending strife. He expired on the 4th inst., in the 68th year of his age. His son, now King William III., was in London at the time, but has proceeded in a Dutch man-of-war to Holland, where, from all that we have learned, he will peacefully ascend the throne.

From the Duchies we have no authentic intelligence of the steps likely to be taken by the belligerent parties. The notice for the cessation of the armistice and of the blockade of the Schleswig-Holstein ports has been officially published; and, certainly, how sanguine we may be that the negotiations going on in London may lead to a pacification, if we turn our attention to the Austrian and Prussian proposals to give the sovereignty of Germany to Prussia, upon express conditions that she will declare war against Russia, we really must wait before we can conclude that a general pacification is at hand.

In fact, at Vienna, at Berlin, at Frankfurt, at Munich, Turin, and Rome, every thing is, at this time, disorganized.

Austria has taken a most extraordinary unlooked-for step. The Diet of Kremsier, which was convoked by the late Emperor, and has occupied the few months of its existence in "theoretical discussion," has been dissolved, and its task has been done for it.

The army and navy estimates have been carried by majorities quite as large as heretofore. The four threatened oppositions of Mr. Haume and Colclough have been defeated in the House of Commons.

Against the present alleged excessive number of troops and soldiers; the most insistent minorities have supported the financial reformers, the vast body of the nation perceiving clearly that Government, with the restricted power it has, is doing every thing to cut down expenses, without impairing the general efficiency of the public service.

California Gold-Largest Yet.—We learn that about $500,000 worth of California gold was deposited yesterday at the mint received from Baltimore, which was as good a lot as has yet been received, and contained one piece which weighed 87-100 ounces, which was no doubt one of those mentioned as having been found in the crevices of the rocks and is by far the largest specimen that has been seen at the mint, and is positive evidence that it is found in large pieces. Many other specimens were very good sized pieces, and would well pay the trouble of picking up or digging for a while.—Philadelphia Ledger, 22d.

INTERESTING FROM CANADA. Montreal, March 23.—Our private intelligence from the trading towns, represent the people mostly speaking, up in arms.—This intelligence can be relied on.

American ships continue to be held in various parts of Upper Canada, in relation to the "Rebellion Losses" bill.

The well known Wm. Lyon Mackenzie would have been ridden on a rail at Belleville, but for his fiery departure.

The Governor General was treated with a certain amount of disrespect, at the concert of the Philharmonic Society, held at Donaghy's Hotel. About eight hundred persons were present.

The Toronto papers are warmly engaged in discussing the annexation question. Affairs are approaching a crisis.

ILLINOIS RIVER.—Hill we hear in relation to this stream, but there was never known such an amount of suffering, and loss of property, as has taken place within the past few days, and must result from the flood. From various sources, we learn that the water at Peoria, on Monday, was twelve or fifteen inches higher than during the great freshet in 1841. Nearly all the buildings and towns on each side of the river, are completely inundated.

At Peoria, on Sunday last, the foundation of Messrs. Beebe & Brewster's extensive warehouse, situated immediately on the bank of the river, gave way, and the whole building, in a mass, with an additional loss of 20,000 bushels of wheat, stored in bulk. The building was said to have cost $50,000. The wheat which was equal in value to $10,000, was stored in line and not a bushel in its sack, will be saved. Mr. R. Tompkins' warehouse at Copper Creek, has also been washed away, with a very considerable loss of produce.

GALE AT THE SOUTH.—On Tuesday evening last, there was a very heavy gale of wind, accompanied with rain, on the American coast, and it is feared that much damage has been caused to the shipping. The schooner James Harvey, Thomas Smith, master, of Digby (N.S.) with a crew of four men, and six passengers, went ashore near Little Neck on Wednesday morning. Three men were drowned in a small boat, and after struggling some time with the waves succeeded in reaching the schooner, and bringing the Captain ashore. Soon after a Life Boat was obtained, and took off the remainder of the crew. The schooner was loaded with wood, and it is thought may be got off.

The Baltimore correspondent of the New York Express, under date of 29th March, says:—The steamer Herald, has arrived from Norfolk, and reports having experienced a heavy snowed snow, accompanied by a terrific rain, on 21st on the Chesapeake Bay and in the Cape, several vessels were seen stranded; the names of which were not ascertained.

GREAT SURGICAL OPERATION.—Prof. Washington L. Allen, of the new Pennsylvania College of Medicine, performed an operation on Thursday, the 15th inst., which stamps him as one of the ablest surgeons of the day.

The operation was performed in the presence of several eminent physicians. The tumor, consisting of the right ovary, was of a solid fibrous structure, and immovably attached to the bones of the pelvis. It weighed 3 lbs. and measured around its largest circumference 2 feet 3 inches, its smallest 23 inches, being the largest fibrous tumor ever removed by this operation. The incision through the walls of the abdomen, necessary to remove it, was 15 inches in length. The patient, aged 29 years, a married lady, and mother of four children, is now considered out of danger, no symptom having occurred to interfere with her rapid recovery. A mixture of chloroform and ether was used to an extent to destroy the sensation of pain, but not consciousness. This is the first time this operation has been performed in Philadelphia.—Philadelphia Pennsylvania.

THE GOLD COIN.—The ship Crusader, Capt. Miller, from Coquimbó, Jan. 12, arrived at this port, yesterday morning, with $55,000 in gold dust.—$22,080 to Capt. Wm. D. Phelps, of Lexington, and $32,920 to Mr. Henry Mellus, of Salem.

A little more than $100,000 worth of gold dust was entered at the Custom House, yesterday, brought by the Tasit and Crusader. There is a large quantity not yet entered. $20,000 worth of the dust was taken to Philadelphia yesterday, by Harnden & Co's Express.—(Boston Bee of Wednesday.)

SHERIFF'S OFFICE.—We are informed that D. Bennett, Esq., the Officer of H. M. Customs at Camp Bello, whilst in the discharge of his duties for the protection of the Revenue, was brutally attacked by a party of smugglers at Red Head, on the 1st inst. While in the act of boarding their boat, he was struck by all of the crew, at once, with their heavy rods, which rendered him insensible for some time, cutting his head in a shocking manner. But by his gallant resistance on recovering from the effect of the blows, he was enabled to capture 160 gallons of American Spirits, unfortunately the parties escaped, but as they are well known no doubt, they will be brought to justice for their daring attack on an officer in the execution of his duty. Great praise is due to Mr. Bennett for his efficient services, more particularly as he has no allowance for boardman, and pays for their services out of his private purse.

COMMON PLEAS. The Court of Common Pleas and General Sessions of the Peace, was opened on Tuesday, Justices Wilson and J. W. Chandler presiding. The usual preliminary and routine being gone through, Mr. Justice Wilson addressed the Grand Jury.

His Honor stated that in the absence of the senior Justice, the hon. H. Hatch, the duties of presiding devolved upon him, and in that capacity he would discharge those duties to the best of his ability. He congratulated the County upon the Jail being free from criminals and debtors—his Honor remarked that this circumstance was a volume for the morality of the County of Charlotte, that attributed this mainly to the spread and dissemination of temperance principles; that the cause of temperance was a noble one—in spite of the frowns and sneers of its opponents, would and must prevail. His Honor requested that all the efforts of former Grand Jurors upon the subject be recommended to the good cause, and that their efforts, when they would be to the justice of the law, should not be depressed state of our capabilities—the intelligence received in the "whole stock" market had been devolved upon the St.

The Steamship Niagara, arrived at Halifax on Thursday afternoon last, in 12 days from Liverpool. We are indebted to our contemporary of the New Brunswick, for a summary of the news. The intelligence will be found important. Notwithstanding the threatening aspect of affairs on the Continent, money continues abundant.

The Chert was fast disappearing. The total number of cases in 1848, of which more than 12,000 were in Scotland. Total deaths 2465. Linenrick has suffered severely, but no official reports are given.

The reports by the overland mail represent trade at Bombay, Calcutta and Canton, to be good, and business generally to be in a healthy state. The supply of money continues abundant.

During the past two weeks the corn markets of the United Kingdom have been dull and inactive as before the sailing of the last steamer.

Western rainfall has been at the reduced price of 23s per barrel, and is a fair quotation for the above description, as well as for Philadelphia and Baltimore, though for Ohio of prime quality 24s is demanded. Indian corn is in moderate demand, and sold at 27s for inferior white, up to 28s per quarter, for the best yellow. Indian corn meal 12s 6d to 12s. 6d per barrel. The prices in Liverpool and London is very steady.

The weather had been uninterruptedly fine and warm for the season.
