General Provincial Elections Considered Nothing More Than a Possibility.

[Canadian Press.] Edmonton, Oct. 7 .- That a general provincial election will be held in this Careful Inquiry Shows That Killing province this fall is a possibility, but nothing more. While there has been some activity in Conservative circles, Liberals, who are supposed to be on the inside, are are making no preparations for a contest, and some, who claim to speak authoritatively, assert positively that there will be no contest before next summer. In support of this, they quote a statement of the Premier made during last session that the House would meet again before the Government went to the country. thal. While there has been talk of an election in some districts no active steps have been taken towards the selection of candidates, so far as known here. The strongest reason that the Conservatives present for the probability of the election of the near future is the fact that election petitions are gate all the phases of the Rosenthal pending against Hon. A week ago License Inspector A. R. Galpin, assisted by Sergeant Thomas Lucas, conducted a couple of raids on houses the occupants of which were charged with selling liquor without licenses. A keg of lager and many bottles of whiskey were taken in one of the places and were carted to the station in the police patrol to be held as evidence. The keg was placed in a corridor just outside the bars of the station cells, and remained there for some time. BEHIND THE BARS.

A few evenings later the police gathered in a number of men from the city's primrose paths and lodged them behind the bars. "Behind the bars" is right, for at least there was one improvised bar in front of the awaiting customers. It was then that one of the prisoners demonstrated his ingenuity.

As the night wore on and everything was peaceful, he extracted his shoe laces from his pedal protectors and arranged a noose, with the aid of which suddenly six shots rang out. The Dixon he lassoced the handle of a mop outside the bars. This valued instrument formed another important detail, and served admirably in hauling the keg close to the cells. London, Oct. 7 .- To judge by the appearance of the papers one might naturally think that the probability of war in the Balkans had been the only topic in London the past week. As a matter of fact the question most warmly discussed at every dinner table has been: "Would you save the picture or the baby?"

The problem arises out of the cerfain destruction which will begin this elevation of the great Assouan dam on the Nile. Protests against this act of "vandalism" were made by artists who declared that the destruction of the temples of Philas would be a crime. The materialists replied that to leave millions of Egyptians in a condition of semi-starvation through lack of irrigation would be a greater

DEMONSTRATION & SALE TODAY and Tuesday, of the Hall-Borchert Dress Forms SECOND FLOOR

Dressmakers and all others who are interested in the least degree in dressmaking should attend this demonstration and be instructed in the proper use of these Forms, which solve the problem of home dressmaking. It's easy to fit a dress on another, but diffifult to fit your own. A HALL-BORCHERT Adjustable Form may be altered to the measurements of almost any size or shape.

Adjustability in an Adjustable Dress Form is the vital point to be considered, and it is only in a dress form the various parts of which can be independently enlarged and set, that complete adjustable efficiency can be secured. All this is easily attained with the HALL-BORCHERT Adjustable Forms.

HOME DRESSMAKING MADE EASY—The greatest problem today in dress is in getting your garments made up, and you know perhaps how difficult it is, and how very unsatisfactory too, to try and be your own model and dressmaker at the same time.

Have you never wished at such a time you had some one the exact counterpart of yourself, who would relieve you from all the fatigue of standing, standing for the fitting, that you may see the effect as you proceed. In trimming, making over or repairing, much ripping, changing and doing over will be avoided by having a suitable Dress Form. Home dress-making will be made a pleasure with one of these forms, and will more than pay for itself in

HAD'NT BEEN ARRAIGNED

Peculiar Situation Arises in the Michigan Federal Court. [Canadian Press.]

Detroit, Oct. 5 .- After a jury in the federal court yesterday found George copp guilty of smuggling two Chinamen into the United States from Windsor, but before the judge could pronounce sen-tence, Copp suddenly remembered that he never had been arraigned. His lawyer so informed the court, a hurrled examination of the records confirmed the state-ment, and Copp's case was set over for the November term. After a whispered conference with Copp. his lawyer said:

The reciprocity agreement offered a solution of the difficulty by reconciling the farmers to the burdens of the tariff in consideration of the benefits of a free American market. No Canadian industry would have been jeopardized by proposed changes in the tariff schedules. Western Conservatives made it one of the grounds of attack on the agreement that it dealt too tenderly with the manufacturing interests. MR. BORDEN AND MR. CHURCHILL

When the Borden Government produces its naval proposals it will probably try to convey the impression that they bear the official stamp of approval of the British Government. No doubt any Canadian naval plan will be accepted by the imperial authorities, with a show of cordiality. But if, as is likely, the Ottawa Government seeks to evade its "consult the people" pledge, by proposing an "emergency" grant of money or ships, and represents the British Government as asking for such aid, it will take a mischievous course. The British Government, too, will make a capital error if it puts itself in such a position. The London Nation frankly tells Mr. Churchill that he "cannot and must not put the Liberal Government in Great Britain into antagonism with the Liberal party in Canada." The Nation utlers this weighty warning and counsel: "It is no part of any Liberal Government's duty to assist in furthering a policy which is essentially Conservative, and this we believe the proposals that Mr. Borden and Mr. Churchill have concerted to be. Now it would not be impartiality, but levity, to approve of a Liberal navy policy, when it is put forward by Wilfrid Laurier, and when something like an opposite policy is put forward are causing a revolt among the rank and by his Conservative successor, to approve that, too, and help him to develop it. For the distinction between the two policies is not one of adopted by branches of the Amalgamated party nomenclature, but of principle. It is the first principle of Liberal imperial policy to seek union through the fullest development of local nationality, just as it is the essence of ize, wherever it dare, and to level necessity of such action we have no al- of the home rule bill under certain ternative but to withdraw our support variety to a uniform system. Sir Wilwhatever its imperfections of detail, ent methods are adopted. We consider frid Laurier's naval service bill, such policy to be detrimental to the best followed the lines of the Liberal polinterests of the workers, and in supicy. It set up a separate Canadian porting the same we are only playing navy under a separate Canadian admiralty. Such a navy, conceived as it into the hands of our opponents. was in the sentiment of loyalty to the mother country, was certain to be placed at her disposal in her quar-

Canadian Government not to employ

it in our support if she disapproved of our policy. The Nationalists, it is true, criticised this safeguard as

SONG FOR OCTOBER. [T. A. Daly.] Ho! for the frosty mornings, Gold and white and brown! One leap from bed to breakfast, And off we dance to town. Each heart a merry tabor, Sounds "cheer up" to its neighbor, And "God be thanked for labor And strength and will to strive." With heaven's sunshine o'er us, A fair day's work before us, Our spirits chant in chorus,

"Oh, joy to be alive!" Ho! for the frosty sunsets! Ruby, sapphire, chrome, Glow warmly in the beacons God sets to light us home. And though the colors splendid With shadows gray are blended Before our journey's ended, Our weary hearts revive. The nearer we are faring To home-lights, warmly flaring, And those with whom we're sharing The joy to be alive.

PORT BYLAW PASSED

City Agrees to Permit Port Stanley Council to Bulld Road.

At the meeting of the directors of the London and Port Stanley Railway, held at 11 o'clock this morning, the giving Port Stanley the right to build a roadway up to the Fraser Heights and another along the beach, provided the Port would close Smith street permanently, was read three times and finally passed Mayor Graham explained the proposi merely carrying out the arrangement last. The city secured Smith street, which ran through the piccross private property. In return the city gave a right-of-way along the beach across city lands, and gave the Port council the right to build a roadway up the hill at Fraser Heights.

Subsequently a meeting of the shareholders, represented by Mayor Graham, accepted the bylaw, and it was signed. Those present at the meeting were: Mayor Graham, Ald. Coles, Ald. Moore, Ald. Spittal, Ald. W ... ht and Secretary & Baker.

Sunshine Sketches

[By Special Arrangement With

"Sunshine Sketches of a Little Town," is probably the most interesting and the most unreliable description of Canadian town life that has yet been written. Mariposa is the name of the particular town which he attempts to describe; but he tells us in the preface that it is not a real place, although there are about 70 or 80 Mariposas between Lake Superior and the sea. As you read these sketches you realize that this is not a typical Ontario town; its edges are too rough for that; it has the crudity and rawholic beverages by the natives of Marmen in the Mariposas of Canada are powerless to resist the attraction of the beer keg. But this is the impression you get from the whole book - that Canadians are hard drinkers, Now, is this kind of Prof. Leacock to spill so much beer and whiskey on the pages of his book? Is he fair to our country towns? Are there seventy or eighty Canadian towns of 5,000 inhabitants, where the big man of the place is a truculent hotelkeeper, who is so ignor-

Mighty Muggsy McGraw as a Woman Sees Him New York Fans

Not a Happy-Go-Lucky, Rollicking Irishman, Says Idah McGlone Gibson, Who Went Right Up and Talked to Him, But a Serious, Aldermanic Person Who Is Getting Gray.

BY IDAH McGLONE GIBSON.

[Special Correspondence of The Advertiser.] New York, Oct. 7 .- I am here to state that baseball is on the level, and it was

"Muggsy" McGraw who unconsciously gave me a splendid illustration of this fact. McGraw is surrounded by more "buffers" to keep the public from him than Maude Adams, who is never interviewed, and that's going some.

Neither his telephone number nor his home address is obtainable, unless you reach one of his close friends, and at the Polo Grounds he is never on view until you have passed all the police force and plain clothes men not at the graft inquiry or the Rosenthal trial. John M. Ward, who used to be captain of the New York club, but who is now a lawyer and devotee of golf, promised to introduce me to McGraw, and we went to the Polo Grounds to see the Giants play and to see the mighty Muggsy. It was after the game that I saw the Giants' manager, well-groomed, well-dressed, well-mannered. McGraw was evidently at peace with himself and the world. I imagine that most people who only see him in uniform think John McGraw is a happy-faced Irishman who smiles in the characteristic Celtic manner. This

He is the most serious ball player I ever talked to. He seldom smiles, and told me that he put one on to order when he had his picture taken with me. He doesn't look as large in mufti as on the diamond; in fact, he has the appearance of the average habitue of the Great White Way. His hair is growing white at the temples, and he is developing an aldermanic stomach.

I think that the shrewd manager of the Giants is hedging a little in his own mind, for when I asked him if he thought he was going to win the world's series "Of course, we are going into the game to win, not because of any glory attached to it, but because it is our business. However, I feel that I shall be able to live through the winter if we lose the world's championship. I am not able to get up that high-water enthusiasm which exhilarates the fans to whom the game is a pleasure and not a business."

"Is it true that you objected to the marriage of Marquard to Shirley Kellogg?"

"Indeed, I don't know whether he is married or not," he answered suavely, but his brown eyes narrowed and his lips came together firmly. "You know I have nothing to do with the private lives of my men."

Marquard's name and love affairs, however, did not bring a rosy glow to the manager's face, and I imagine McGraw has helped make the course of true love run a little crooked, as "the Rube" has lost the jump to his fast ball since his reported marriage.

McGraw thinks well of Tesreau, the boy who is touted as a second Joe Wood.

He jumped into the breach this fall after Marquard's slump, and played rattling good ball when it was needed most. He has another young pitcher from the Southern League, Dumaree, whom he is going to try out this fall, and of whom Southern League, Dumaree, whom he is going to try out this fall, and of whom he expects great things.

He told me that one of the finest games he had ever seen was in training camp.

He told me that one of the finest games he had ever seen was in training camp.

innings, 0 to 0.

Although McGraw did not say so, it is probable that Matthewson will pitch the first game against Boston, followed by Tesreau. Unless Marquard shows better form he will not be used, unless it is absolutely necessary.

This, of course, is not official, but you may trust a woman's intuition for that much, and also her prophesy that the world's series pennant will go to Boston.

Players and managers from all but three teams in each league are also gathering condition. It is understood that Mathewson, Tesreau and Marquard, who will do the brunt of the pitching for the Giants, will have a final workout. All the men are in fine condition. Wood has refused to take the threats seriously, but it is said President McAleer, of the Boston Americans, is annoyed, though he has taken no action to learn the identity of the writers. It is reported, however, that a detective agency has been engaged to provide escorts to and from the Polo Grounds for the Boston players.

HAMILTON TIGERS LOSE TO OTTAWA

Game Has Been Protested, However, on Decision by Umpire-Football Was Not of Stelar Variety.

Hamilton, Oct. 6 .- The first Rugby fixture of the season, played here yesterday by Ottawa and the Tigers, was not by any means of the stellar variety. The brand of football handed out by both competing teams was unsatisfactory, and, besides, a dispute over a decision of Umpire Brown during the last quarter came near ending the game before the timer sounded the final whistle. The protest, however, was entered by Capt. Isbester, of the Tigers, and the struggle proceeded, the umpire suggesting that it be allowed, and the game played at the end of the season. The game concluded a victory for Ottawa by a score of 21 to 17, and was characterized by some good in dividual plays. On the whole, Hamilton showed superiority over Ottawa, having the visiting team on the de-The line-up:

and Ten Runs Were Scored by

The Orients were defeated by Hymans by the score of 15 to 6 at Tecumseh Park on Saturday afternoon in the final game for the city championship. One bad inning was responsible for the Orients' defeat. In the second inning, Callahan, the Orients' star pitcher, who has been twirling great ball all season, went to pieces, and ten runs were scored off him. He was taken out when it was too late, the game being packed away on of two or three runs.

A Peculiar Feature.

One of the features of the game was a peculiar play in the seventh inning. Doherty, of Hymans, was at bat, and Parkinson was on first base. Doherty drove a hot one at Dwyer at short, the ball a hot one at Dwyer at short, the ball striking Dwyer on the foot and bouncing into the mitt of Thomas, who was covering second base, forcing Parkinson. Doherty was then thrown out at first, completing one of the funniest double-plays ever pulled off at Tecumsch Park.

Borland's three-bagger was the longest hit of the day, the ball going nearly to the fence in left field. The score:

Manager Stahl Writes On Red Sox Methods and Predicts Hottest Time Ever for Giants

"OUR TEAM WORK IS PERFECT. WE HAVE THE BEST AGGREGATION OF BASEBALL PLAYERS EVER GOTTEN TOGETHER," SAYS LEADER OF BOSTON CONTESTANTS

BY JAKE STAHL.

Especially Written for The Advertiser by the Manager of the Boston Red Sox.] You ask me to write my ideas about the world's series games between the Red Sox and the Giants. I will begin by giving you the reason why we won the American league pennant. The reason is:

First-Because every man on the Boston team was after it from the start. Second-Because our team work is perfect. No man is for himself; every man is for the team, first, last and all the time. Third-Because we have the best team in the American league, and I think the best aggregation of baseball players ever gotten together. The fan may think that having the best men, the rest is easy, but every baseball manager understands how far good fellowship in a club will help toward

I am fully in sympathy with every one of the boys and they have always treated me like one of themselves. All through the season our conferences have been heart-to-heart talks. Every one of the men has not only given me the best service he could, but the best services that he could give to any manager in the

Don't forget one thing. No one man on the Boston team won the American league penhant. It was won by the Boston baseball team. Of course, Joe Woods helds the record for pitching in the American league, but if his support had not been as good as his pitching, he would not have established the splendid record

Some people may say our outfield is without flaw and that we shall depend upon Speaker, Hooper and Lewis to beat the Giants. Others may point to our batting averages when they discuss the probability of winning the world's series, but I depend upon the Red Sox's ability to PLAY BALL from the time the umpire calls "Play" until the series ends. Every nan on the tear, has played his position not only with credit, but with honor, and unless som Fung happens which we are not expecting, every one of the 22 will be fit and ready for the game of his life, when we enter the world's

QUEEN'S-OTTAWA

Ottawa Claimed It a Tie, While Queen's Claimed They Won It-Free-For-All Fight Ended It.

Ottawa, Oct. 6.—The Queen's-Ottawa College game at Varsity Oval yesclaimed a victory by 20 to 19, and Ottawa College claimed that it was a tie, 20 to 20, and that Queen's forfeited the game by refusing to play it out. The chances are that the match will be replayed at the end of the season in the event of the championship being affected.

There was bad feeling between the eams, and they mixed it up throughout. The weather was too hot for good football, and about 4,500 people witnessed the match. The match wound up with a free fight, in which the players and spectators took a hand. Lineup:

GUELPH FRANCHISE OFFERED FOR SALE

He Will Sell Club For Three Thousand Dollars,

Gue'ph, Oct. 6.—President Mahoney, in a letter to the press, advertises the local baseball franchise for sale to anyone in Guelph for the sum of three thousand dollars, which he says is the amount the team has run behind the past two years. If not sold by a specified date, he says the team will be transferred.

While this does not look any too rosy for Guelph's retention of the franchise, it is hoped that something will be done to keep the Royal City on the baseball map. Mr. Mahoney does not wish to drop out, but resents the lack of interest understood that he has ideas in to the team's management, and if he can-not have his way, would rather drop out.

When the St. Louis club arrived in New York for a series of four games, I decided to try to make a deal with McAleer for one of his outfielders. I knew McAleer was very fond of Anderson's ability to hit, but I was also aware of the fact that on several other points Anderson did not stand so strongly with Mc-

Prior to the start of the first game I made an attempt to put over the deal for Anderson. McAleer, realizing that I wanted the player badly, held out for all the best of the transaction. Anderson played great ball in the first three games against us, which only helped to make it all the harder for me to acquire his services. It seemed as if Anderson was lost to me, when a baseball classic, happening in the ninth inning of the final game, made him a New Yorker.

At the start of the first half of the ninth, New York had the Browns 5 to 0, and seemed to have the game cinched. All at once the Browns began to hit the ball, and before I could realize what had really happened the score stood 5 to 4, the bases filled and only one man out.

At the house they found the general with his usual inability to conceal a thing, explaining that they had no money, but wished to have a two-seated team and a driver to take them to the nearest town.

The farmer did not hail the proposition with unalloyed joy. He looked thoughtfully from one to the other while Bartlett explained earnestly who he was, who the general was, who they all were, in a vain attempt to undo the general's commendable, if mistaken, frankness. Upon promising to let the driver keep his watch as a guarantee of good faith, to be returned when the money they were to telegraph for arrived, Bartlett persuaded the man to give in and go to the barn for the horses. or arrived, Bartlett persuaded the man to give in and go to the barn for the horses. Billy drew her father aside, while the general, Henrietta and the Watermelon retired discreetly to the well for a drink. "Father," said Billy, coming directly to the point, and evading it with a skill that befitted her father's daughter, "Jerry wants to marry me. Oh, father, I love him so. I love him as much as you do Henrietta."

befitted her father's daughter, "Jerry wants to marry me. Oh, father, I love him so. I love him as much as you do Henrietta."

Bartlett flushed and dismissed Henrietta from the conversation. "My dear Billy, you have only known him a week."

"I know, father," agreed Billy, "but a week is long enough to fall in love in. Truly it is, father. And we both care so much, so very much."

Bartlett was secretly elated at the idea. He and Batchelor, with their differences reconciled, fighting together instead of each other, would become rulers of the Street, could attain to any height. Batchelor.

"Jero—what?"

"Jero—what?"

"Jero—what?"

"Jero—what?"

"But Batchelor," stammered Bartlett, confused. The power of suggestion had been so strong that, though he occasionally thought the youth a bit eccentric for a stockbroker, it had never entered his head to question his identity.

"Batchelor is in New York," returned the Watermelon. "I just telegraphed him, C. O. D., where he could find his blooming car. Don't suppose the police had sense enough to look for it at the hotel."

"A low, dirty trick!" sputtered Bartlett.

"We don't want the others to know," went on Billy guilefully. "Wait until we get to the town before you say anything, won't you, father?"

"But, Billy, a week."

"Now, father," advised Billy, "just forget it. And I will forget about you and Henrietta."

"About me and Herrietta."

"Street, he sneered. "Yah, it fairly reeks with the filth of money, your plan and mine."

"My plan?" Bartlett flushed and looked away. "Stung!" said he humbly, and crumpled the telegram in his hand as he gazed moodily through the open door at the village street, impotent to refute he words of the Watermelon.

The Watermelon nodded, without any undue elation—in fact, not thinking at all about Bartlett; he was too entirely absorbed in his own troubles.

"I suppose you are his partner—his friend?" questioned Bartlett, after a moment's painful readjusting of ideas.

"No, 1 am a stranger."

The Watermelon's face was very white, and he spoke slowly, carefuly, as he retoid the episode of the swimming hole and the estolen car, still leaning against the varied assortment of dressgoods. "I borrowed these clothes," he concluded, "to keep you away from New York for a week. That object may not sound original to you, and it wasn't. You were the one who suggested it to me through the telegraph clerk last Sunday."

"That boy would take candy from the baby," swore Bartlett gently.

After the third reading, Bartlett raised his eyes and glanced dully at the Watermelon, leaning against the counter, among the gay rolls of calico and boxes of rubber overshoes and stockings, watching him with thoughtful, wary eyes, and Bartlett wondered if he were going mad.

It was late in the afternoon. The general and the girls, having telegraphed for money, had gone to the hotel to wait for the answers, while Bartlett and the Watermelon had remained in the store, Bartlet eager to receive the answer to the joyful congratulations he had sent his broker on the success of his plan, and the Watermelon because he scorned to run away like a whipped cur, preferring Bartlett to know who he was.

"To ask me for Billy," Bartlett had at first decided, but changed his mind as the youth's gloom became apparently impenetrable.

Bartlett's jaw was set squarely, sternly, is every gleamed angrily, and a small. A Great Meeting. The Laurier meetings at Woodstock and the wonderful outburst of enthusiasm by the Liberals of many counties will long be remembered by those who were present from this town. It was freely admitted on all sides that the demonstration was the largest and most enthusiastic a political leader was ever accorded in the county of Oxford. There was scarcely a concession line not represented, and it will be many days before the interest has subsided Friends here learned with profound regret of the death at Welland of Mrs. Thompson, wife of Rev. Dr. Thompson, formerly rector of St. James Church, Mrs. Thompson had been seriously ill for several months, but few of her friends suspected the end was sorbed in his own troubles.

"I suppose you are his partner—his friend?" questioned Bartlett, after a moment's painful readjusting of ideas.

"No, I am a stranger. We met by chance, as you might say. I am a tramp."

"A tramp!" Bartlett's business chagrin vanished before the rush of his paternal alarm and surprise. But, by heavens man, I told Billy she could marry you!"

"The horror in his tones angered the Watermelon. The hot blood leaped into his face and his hands clenched.

"Well, why not?" he demanded. "I am a man if I am a tramp." The official board unanimously raised the salary of the pastor, Rev. Charles L. Davidson climbed upon the open trolley car, and fired a bullet that entered Zelig's head just back of the right ear. The murderer told the police later that he had killed Zelig because this afternoon Zelig had enticed Davidson into a doorway in Broome street, near Eldridge street, had beaten the fruit dealer with a blackjack, and had then robbed him of more than $400 in cash. Upon seeing Zelig riding alone in the open car in Second avenue about three hours later, Davidson, according to his own story, had chased the car for more than a block, and then had killed Zelig in punishment for the beating and loss of money he had suffered at Zelig's hands during the afternoon.

Davidson bore bruises about his eyes and on the jaw to substantiate his story of being beaten up by Zelig earlier in the day. When Zelig's clothes were removed from his body at the morgue shortly after he died in the ambulance, the police found $500 in cash in one of the murdered gangster's pockets.

He jumped up and grappled with Smith, getting him down; but Wilson rushed in, and together they overpowered him and took his pistol. Then they ran towards the vestibule with Craig after them, but they had secured a good start. Guard Round, in charge of the vertibule, was standing in such a position that they were able to get right behind him before he noticed them, and when he turned the stolen revolver was in his tace. They took his pistol, marched him through the tunnel leading from the vestibule under the wall to the brick rard, and with two pistols at his back compelled him to cross the brick yard as if they were being taken to some place to work.

In that manner they succeeded in approaching Guard Morrison, and were close up to him before he noticed there was anything wrong. This guard was in for the two pistols Smith was then carcharge of an excavating gang. Used Guard as a Shield.

existing for the happiness of the soul?" The above is the question which ran through Rev. Richard Whiting's sermon in First Methodist Church Sunday evening, the topic being, 'Heaven and Its People.'

"There is no compiled records in the books of the Old Testament which refers definitely to the existence of a heaven," said Mr. Whiting. "And the only reference that the Savior Himmade is found in the Book of Matthew xxii., 30, which has a reference to the angels in the celestial world. Christ does not even state what occupation the people have in heaven. We have been given a very meagre outline to base our conclusions

Has No Known Dimensions. "Heaven, as I understand it," coninued the minister, "is an imaginative picture, a painter's paradise, a poet's dream, and there is nothing more uncertain than a real heaven. No dimensions of length, width and heighth, can be given, and the man who would measure heaven in yards, feet and inches by means of a tape line, has a very elementary conception of the future world. The man is a foolish one, who would take such means to describe heaven. "The Apostle John describes heaven as a place where all tears shall be wiped away. John perceived this idea of heaven out of his own heart, and he illuminates the Celestial City as one of peace, truth and saintliness in direct contrast to tyrannical Rome which had so cruelly wronged him.

Heaven Is Real. "I, myself think that heaven is real place, but there are so many accessory parts to it, that even the imagination cannot fathom them to the full depth. I cannot state where that bright after-world is situated, and there may be dimensions concerned in addition to length, width and heighth, which our faculties cannot

The minister stated in closing, his belief that when a person died the ul was immediately transferred to The physical part was interred in the grave, but he could not be that the best part of a person would remain mute in the grave until the day of resurrection.

In the morning service, the pastor Rev. H. A. Graham, addressed the Greek Residents of Montreal Clamorchildren on the subject, "Builders." He took for his text, "Behold, I Build House For the Name of the Lord My God." "This was Solomon's message to Hiram, King of Tyre, when about to build a temple at Jerusalem." The minister then told them that each one of them might say that they were also dedicating a house to the Lord, and that they should be careful of the material they put in the house. The materials used should be truth, courage, purity, goodness and love.

Four hundred children attended the Sunday school services in the after- prospective scene of operations, and ground clear of the wreckage. Alig fell noon, which is now the high-water probably within the next few days anmark of attendance. The offering from other batch of about the same number the scholars amounted to $78.50, and this is placed in the treasury to be used for the erection of a new Sunday school next spring.

The official board of Sherourne Street Methodist Church some weeks ago issued a unanimous invitation to the Rev. Dr. Endicott, to come pastor of that church in June next. Dr. Endicott is one of the leaders in Methodist mission work in China, and during his stay in Canada has proved himself a preacher of unusual ability and attraction. The board felt itself unable, however, to yield him up for ordinary pasteral work in Canada.

It was decided that he be asked to ccept a position as travelling secretary in Canada for a time. Should he decide to accept this position his duty will consist largely in visiting the churches and awakening renewed interest in the foreign missionary operations of the church. Dr. Endicott is acknowledged to be one of the ablest the platform men in Canada today.

Petition Is Presented To Be Put in Bylaw Form by Township Council.

MANY PERSONS MISSED

Temperance People Sanguine for Sweep ing Victory at Polls in January.

The petition, asking that a vote on ocal option be submitted to the electors London Township in January, was abmitted to the township council at the meeting at St. John's. It was signed with more than 1,000 names, hundreds nore than were required by law. It was submitted to the council by Rev. Benj. H. Spence, secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, Toronto; Frank Whitehall, Broughdale, secretary of the committee or London Township, and Rev. W. L. Steeves, pastor of the Egerton Street Baptist Church. They explained the petition, and in-ormed the council that the names on he petition were bona fide electors. They urged the council to prepare the bylaw and submit it at once. Taken Up Next Meeting.

According to precedence, the bylaw vas laid over until the next meeting, nd will then be prepared. The bylaw ill undoubtedly be submitted. "We have more than a thousand names attached to the petition," Mr. Frank Whitehall informed The Advertiser.

Two of the chairmen of the divisions ald not get their lists of names down n time, or we would have had at least 200 more attached to the petition. "The township has been divided into 7 subdivisions. Each of the divisions is in the hands of competent persons, who ave organized them thoroughly. I night win hands down in spite of the aree-fifths clause or I am very much nistaken. We are going to make the effort of our lives, make no mistake." Mr. McDermid Here. Mr. D. A. McDermid, of the Dominion Alliance, Toronto, has been spending some time in the township, looking after the organization, and has about completed his work.

Series of meetings will be held during the campaign.

as Instructor in Canadian Diocese of Huron.

Miss Marjorie Nash, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Nash, 43 Beaconsfield avenue, has been notified that she will leave at the first of next month for Honan, where she will be kindergarten instructor in the Anglican Mission School. Early this year the Women's Auxiliary of the Anglican Church in Canada decided to send a kindergarten teacher to this school, and when Miss Nash heard of their decision she immediately offered her services. Last March Miss Nash received word that her application had been accepted, but at that time it was understood that she would spen a year in the training school in To-Four weeks ago she was notified that the plan had been changed. and that she in company with other Canadian teachers would sail from San Francisco on Nov. 9. The mission school in which Nash will teach is under the direction of Bishop White, of the Canadian Diocese in Honan. Miss Nash is a graduate of the public schools of the city, and of the Collegiate Institute. She attended the Ottawa Normal School in 1909-10, and since that time has been on the staff of the Worlty road school. Miss Nash will remain in Honan for five years fore here first furlough.

Favors Independent Support. Mr. J. M. McEvoy spoke briefly. If the delegates decided that it was unwise to have a candidate, the convention should come to some definite conclusion as to whether or not they should indorse the candidature of Mr. Wm. Sutherland, who had announced himself as an independent candidate, or proffer him independent support. Mr. McEvoy favored giving him independent support, which meant that the party would stand loyally behind Mr. Sutherland in the contest.

Dr. G. A. Routledge, ex-M. P. P., took the same ground as Mr. McEvoy. It would be unwise to support any candidate who was not strongly in favor of the policy of Mr. Rowell. Daniel McKenzie ex-M. thought they could do nothing better to show their appreciation of the late member, Mr. Robert Sutherland, than by supporting his brother, William. By giving him independent support it meant that every Literal would do his duty, and work and vote for him. Two Candidates Named.

CHELSEA GREEN IN FAVOR OF JOINING

Lieut.-Col. Gartshore Predicts an Increase in Values of Property.

TOWNSHIP IS OPPOSED

Advantages Outlined and Show Hands Indicates Strong Sentiment for Union.

A vote of the ratepayers of Chelsea Green at a meeting held Saturday night in that village might be regarded as conclusive proof that annexation to the city was a boon which they greatly desired. The show of hands was almost unanimous, and the enthusiasm displayed at the meeting in its favor was equal to that of similar meetings in Pottersburg, Ealing, and Knollwood Park.

A committee of five, whose personnel is Messrs. P. C. Aldrich, S. W. Haynes, J. Cummings, W. J. Gibling and Rev. Mr. Oliphant, was appointed to confer with the city council to arrange terms, and to decide the boundary

Lieut.-Col. W. M. Gartshore was th first speaker. He explained the terms of the agreement, which was similar in their case as that offered to the other suburbs. Particularly did he emphasize the advantages which would come of the union to manufacturers who would require sites for factories. In Chelsea Green there was plenty land, which could be utilized for this express purpose, and in that district was more reasonable in price than it was in the other suburbs, and in this way they would have a slight advantage over their neighbors.

Will Increase Land Value.

"If I thought annexation would detrimental to Chelsea Green and would gecrease the value of property, I would certainly be against it," the colonel. "I am the owner of considerable property in the township, and should certainly not like to see it lower in price. Property is cheaper here now than in any other place Canaoa, and it is up to the city to increase the value of it."

The speaker enumerated the numerous advantages which would accrue from the amaigamation. The residents would be benefitted by police and fire protection, city sewerage, street lights and hydro power, entrance to the hospital without getting a county permit, improved education facilities, public library, etc.

Ald, E. H. Johnston was present and spoke in behalf of annexation. He stated that no dissenting voice should be heard against the proposal, as the advantages were all on their side of the There was nothing in the re-

"NA-DRU-CO DYSPEPSIA TABLETS Proved of Great Value to Me"

There is only one explanation for the numbers of enthusiastic letters that we receive praising Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets, and that is that these tablets certainly do cure any kind of stomach trouble Here is a typical letter from Miss Eliza Armsworthy, Canso, N.S.:

"It is with pleasure I write to inform you that your Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsla Tablets have proved of great value to me. I tried remedy after remedy but without any lasting good. Having heard of your tablets curing such cases as mine I decided to give them a fair trial. They proved satisfactory in my case." The remarkable success of Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets is such a success as can only come to an honest remedy, compounded according to an exception-ally good formula, from pure ingredients, by expert chemists. FREIGHTER CHAMPLAIN RAMMED STEEL BOAT in Dense Fog at Port Lambton.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Sarnia, Oct. 6 .- The steel steamer John . Barlum, while rounding to her anchor, just off Harrow's Point, below Port Lambton, about 1 a.m., was rammed by the freighter Champlain. The bow of the Champlain hit the Barlum just in front of the rear bulkhead, a large, ragged rack being made down the side to the oottom of the boat.

The boat began to leak badly in spite of the false bottom and full steam was made for the Canadian shore, where she was beached so that she could not sink in deep water. The force of the collision sprung many plates and part of the flame, forcing the deck up for several feet each side of the opening. The bows of the Champlain were driven in, but she was able to continue to Cleveland after an examination of her condition had been made, The wrecking tugs Manistique and Reid worked on the Barlum all day Sunday before the hole had been repaired sufficiently to proceed. The Champlain was in command of Captain Fred Dupee, while the Barlum was in charge of Captain Murray McIntyre. Both vessels were bound for Cleveland from Du-iuth with cargoes of iron ore. The lumber barge Robbin, while turning around in the river here today ran foul of the dock of the Lebel Company. The lumber piles were scattered in all directions and the dock smashed in for twenty feet. The boat was backing up and could not stop in time to prevent the smash. Much lumber was broken and smashed, and the damage altogether will be nearly one thousand dollars.

1 PAROLING PRISONERS HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL

T. H. Preston, Ex-M. P., Points Out the Advantages to Askin Street Men's Club.

SOME REFORMS NEEDED

Advocates the ndeterminate Sentence as Most Likely to Deal Justly With Prisoners.

The first meeting of the Men's League of Askin Street Methodist Church since the summer holidays was held yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of the men connected with the church. Mr. T. H. Preston, managing editor of the Brantford Expositor, explained the work and aims of the parole board of Ontario, of which he is a member.
"The Ontario parole board is not composed of sentimentalists, but of successful business men of the Province, and our work deals with men who have broken the laws of the country mainly on ac-count of strong drink and environment," said Mr. Preston. "We hope to win them jail, has prepared his annual statement back to good citizenship by offering them for the year ending Sept. 30, 1912, and, although there were seven more immates at the close of the year than at the beginning, the total number of prisoners confined during the twelve months was less than the year previous.

During the year there were 659 prisoners, of which 37 were females, in custody, but of this number 256 were acquitted of the charges against them, 4 were allowed to go on suspended sentence, 365 were sentenced to terms of imprisonment varying from the ten-day sentence for Indian listers to a lifeterm for manslaughter, and 293 of the latter served their time in Castle Carter.

The total number dependence immates at the good and as much freedom as is possible.

"The old methods of justice, such as theread nothings of the past. In olden times punishment was inflicted by crule weapons of torture, and men were even hanged for stealing horses. Now we have come to realize that it is possible to protect society and still save the erring individual. Every male immigrant who arrives in Canada is worth $1,000 to the state, and we must try to keep them $50 that they will be a benefit to the country. "Several difficulties have been met with by the board," he continued. "Paroled risoners have to report to the sheriff the municipality once a month, and as of the municipality once a month, and as the majority of sheriffs are not in touch with the board, there is a certain amount of laxity that would not be present if there was a provincial parole officer appointed. Another thing is that when we think that a man deserves his freedom, all we can do is to make a recommendation to that effect to the department of justice at Ottawa. If the supervision at Ottawa was merely nominal, the work of the board would be of greater benefit to all concerned. Another and the greatest drawback of all is the present system of sentencing prisoners for various crimes.

UGH! HOW CHILDREN HATE CASTOR OIL

To Clean the Little One's Stomach, Liver and Waste-Clogged Bowels, Give Gentle "Syrup of Figs."

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the physic that mother insisted on-castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you ought against taking them. With our children it's different. The day of harsh physic is over. We don't force the liver and 30 feet of bowels now; we coax them. We have no dreaded after effects. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The chil-dren's revolt is well-founded. Their little stomachs and tender bowels are njured by them.

If your child is fretful peevish half sick, stomach sour, breath feverish and its little system full of cold; has diarrhoea, sore throat, stomach-ache; doesn't eat or rest well-rememberlook at the tongue, if coated, give a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs, then don't worry, because you surely will have a well, smiling child in a few hours. Syrup of Figs being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics simply cannot be harmful. sweetens the stomach, makes the liver active and thoroughly cleanses the little one's waste-clogged bowels. In a few hours all sour bile, undigested fermenting food and constipated waste matter gently moves on and out of the system without griping or nausea.
