A QUESTION IS RAISED

. . . at the arts union meeting yesterday

Students' council enters $5,600 hole as Fitz sweats red ink over reserves

by ELLEN NYGAARD

The adoption of a deficit students' union budget this year means that the onus will be on students' council to consider seriously their electorate's opinions on priorities.

This was Treasurer Dennis Fitzgerald's warning Wednesday as he discussed the budget passed at council Monday night.

A tight operating budget this year has forced the students' union into a deficit equalling one-half of one per cent of the gross operating budget

The original $11,000 deficit, on a gross operating budget of $1,029,000, was reduced by council Monday night to $5,600, chiefly as a result of cuts in the yearbook budget.

The above figure of $1,029,000 does not reflect the impending takeover of food services, which will increase the gross amount to about $1,250,000. This figure will probably reach one and one-half million dollars next year.

Mr. Fitzgerald explained Wednesday, that in view of the operating situation this year, the union is not able to accommodate the loss in the initial takeover of food services.

One of the reasons for this year's deficit in food services, he said, is that the union is assuming the operation during the poorest six months of the year.

Partly responsible for the tight operating budget is the expanded operation of SUB, involving an increase in janitorial and supervisory

"We have to pay someone to clean up the mess left by the slobs in the theatre lobby" said Mr. Fitzgerald.

The treasurer emphasized that the costs of projected SUB expansion will have nothing to do with the operating budget.

Directory arrives

The Telephone Directories will be ready for distribution Friday morning at 10 a.m. They will be distributed down by the coat-racks on main floor SUB.

People will also be able to sign for their yearbooks at the same place. ID cards will be punched and the ID number recorded. Presentation of a punched card will entitle a student to a yearbook when they are available.

The deadline for signing for a book will be December 6. Students are reminded that they have already paid for their yearbooks. There will be a publicity campaign reminding students to sign until December 6.

Architects' fees and feasibility studies will be included in the costs and this amount will be capitalized; that is, the reserves will be depleted and gradually restored in following years.

Commenting on the results of Monday night's cuts, Mr. Fitzger-ald said "my feeling is that the normal procedure is to use it to apply against the original deficit.

"We're in a time when money is short and we shouldn't compound our miseries by spending more money than we have."

"Given the deficit situation I can't reasonably see how council could go ahead and spend money from the reserves without first holding a referendum to determine what the students feel are their priorities," he said.

"I think some of the members of council have carried the idea of being the 'leading edge' of student opinion to an extreme which is not warranted. I give students on this campus enough credit to realize the value of different programs and to decide what the emphasis of the union should be."

Regarding the proposed hiring of three full-time workers, Mr. Fitzgerald emphasized that due to the budget situation, there is no money for these workers.

"My personal feeling," he said, "is that the responsibility for education is properly thrown back on the councillors. They're going to have to find a way to do it themselves other than handing out sums of money for field workers.

"However, "I think there is a definite need for research to be carried out on problems such as students' assistance and tuition fees."

"It is a complicated and time-consuming job and I can see the possibility of grants to research specific issues, but I'm completely opposed to hiring someone on a full-time basis," he concluded.

ASA is alive

... and breathing as 700 students choose plenary governing system

by DOROTHY CONSTABLE

The Arts Students' Association came to life Wednesday as 700 attended its first meeting in SUB Theatre.

The association voted almost unanimously in favor of a plenary structure. The plenary system relies on the principle of participatory democracy, since it will be the responsibility of the general student body to attend meetings, and make policy decisions governing the association.

The other stucture suggested was a council system, with representatives elected either on a departmental basis or half from the humanities and half from the social sciences.

The plenary system also allows for an executive of five members to co-ordinate the association. The four arts reps on council will act as ex-officio members of the executive.

Though the plenary system was attacked as one in which most of the students would lose interest and leave only a few non-representative members to do all the work, students obviously preferred some of the criticisms of a council system to this.

"In a council system," said organizer Marion Snethlidge, "decisions are made and handed down with virtually no communication between the council and the student body. In the plenary system every student has an influence on decisions made."

"Students' council is an elitist organization because of the structure that put us there. A plenary system allows you to control the suggestions put forward to it," said Elizabeth Law, students' union vice-president.

There was some question of whether 700 could represent all of the 3,600 arts students on campus. However, students' council arts rep Jeff Caskenette pointed out that this was a greater percentage than had elected the arts reps to council or signed the year-book petition.

PRIORITIES

Suggested areas of priorities included the level of education in the faculty, arts students in the university, and arts students in society.

Parities on committees of "significant importance" to deal with such issues as curriculum, size of classes, compulsory courses and fees was suggested by arts rep Maureen Markeley as an area of prime concern.

She also suggested a role of the ASA in the university should be to "provide a unifying factor for arts students."

The association could act as a lobbying force, representing the student interest in both the civil and provincial government, she said.

Student opinion was rather divided on ASA taking a role in society at large.

Some people felt the organization would cease to be relevant to university students if it tried to "take on the world" and perhaps its aims were much too broad.

On the other hand, said one student, "problems in the university cannot be isolated from or solved outside the context of society." The major problem at Simon Fraser he said, is that there is no communication or understanding between the PSA department and the rest of society.

ASA FINANCING

Brian Kaliel, speaking on finances, said there is a "direct relationship between the amount of money we have and the things we can do." He estimated that $25,000 would be the minimum amount of money required to run the organization.

One suggestion for raising money was to make the association compulsory and levy fees (to be added to students' union fees). Another was to use entertainment as a means to raise money.

Bob Hunka suggested that in the future, meetings be held in a much more informal setting. "Here sit the happy masses alienated from each other, looking at the back of everyone else's head and the people on the stage. It's as bad as a bloody lecture. The least we can do is look each other in the face."

"What we've done today is definitely a political move of some consequence on this campus," concluded Jeff Caskenette

Tenure reps ask your help

Under - graduate representatives on the philosophy department's tenure advisory committee are asking their fellow students to assist them in the evaluation of seven professors.

Students who have taken courses at any time from J. King-Tarlowe, W. Eastman, E. Kemp, H. Hingert, M. M. Van de Pitte, F. V. Van de Pitte or M. H. Kelley are asked to fill in a questionnaire evaluating these professors who are applying for tenure.

Students not taking philosophy this year are asked to pick up copies of the questionnaire in Tory Building, room 13-26. Students presently taking philosophy will receive the questionnaires in their class-rooms.

Questions deal specifically with the ability of the teacher to cover the course work, his examinations, the class format, and his ability to get the material across to his students.

More general questions regarding tenure are also asked.

For further information of the questionnaires, contact Howard Hallum, 488-1396, or Penny Dudley, 439-8291.

Students are fodder

What is a university?

The Chancellor of the University of Western Ontario has suggested to persons attending the Henry Marshall Tory lecture that the university is an institution "whose sole concern is the fostering and promotion of art, the humanities, the social sciences, the natural sciences and the professions."

However, he finds it contradictory that such a community is run by a group of businessmen who call themselves a board of governors

Really, Mr. Chancellor. Do you really think that an institution designed to provide intellectual fodder for the socio-economic status quo could be run by anyone else? For if we examine what in fact (though not necessarily in theory) the various disciplines in the university accomplish we can only conclude that they provide the mulch which gets chewed up and digested by the economic establishment to form that massive pile of excrement we call modern society.

In fact, while many people claim the university should be an institution for the pursuit of knowledge and truth for its own sake, this is impossible when the seeker after truth must sell his soul to the people with money so he can do such irrelevant things as eat.

While modern man, like his Neanderthal ancestors, must spend the bulk of his waking hours providing himself with the means of physical survival, he cannot possibly undertake a detached search

What is of ultimate necessity in the present circumstances is that the directors of economic power (the business community and the government) be either persuaded or forced to channel economic, personal, and technological resources away from such non-productive endeavors as weapons and advertising into providing for the physical sustenance for the members of society -without work.

For it is only when the drudge jobs are eliminated, when the work ethic is abolished, when a man can "do his thing" without fear of economic coercion, that a free and disinterested pursuit of truth is Perhaps if Dr. Wyman's generation had expended its brilliant technological prowess on such a goal rather than on devices of mass slaughter and economic enslavement, wails against the sorry state of that great mirror of modern society called the university would be unnecessary.

A good start

Your association is off to a flying start, so don't let it go into a nosedive, arts students.

The organizers are to be congratulated for pushing as hard as they did to struggle through basic ways and means to make the association effective and for communicating to the entire faculty the urgent need for students' support.

Their success was evident at Wednesday's packed meeting in SUB Theatre. It was a good indication, we hope, that students are not only realizing they do indeed have a responsibility to their education outside attending lectures but are beginning to see student power as a legitimate channel of change.

A most important move by the fledgling association was its choice of the plenum as its decision-making vehicle. While there will still be an executive, the decision makers will vary as policy meetings are open to all arts students who will represent their own views instead of electing representatives.

It is an experiment in participatory democracy which bears close watching. We can only hope it will work with a body as large as the 3,000 students in arts.

And only those students can make it work.

It will take some getting used to

WASHINGTON (my CUP runneth over) — People the world over were concerned today as the propect of peace loomed on the horizon.

Never having seen it before, most people found it quite disconcerting.

The threat first appeared when Arabs and Israelis agreed to bury the hatchet in the Suez Canal, closing it for trade.

After 2,000 years, it took another Jew to set the trend.

Nigerian leaders said they would cease their action against Biafra.

''We've been screwing the Ebu long enough," said one Nigerian spokesman.

The Nigerians have said the screwing will stop if Biafran resistance to it ends.

The Pope re-iterated his "make babies, not bombs" plea today, and said he was pleased with the settlement in Londonderry, in which Protestants, Catholics, a few self-styled prophets and some activists formed a new religious Prophylactics.

The danger has been poohpoohed by many.

"Dickie wouldn't do this to me," said General West-More-Land.

"We wouldn't know how to prepare for a peace-time economy," said a treasury department spokesman. "We've never had one before."

"Such a move would be un-American and pro-Communist,' said Alabama Governor George Wallass. Mr. Wallass is presently on trial for assaulting a youth who accused him of having an English name.

However, the move to peace has many adherents.

"We are all in favor of any action which will bring peace, said DOW chemical company president Nay Palm. He then uncrossed his fingers, put his head in his arms and wept.

"Ghift glack rosdebrotherman, yeah man," said Dr. Timothy Leary in one of his rare coherent moments.

"We pray for peace," said Harold Wilson, "but we pray even more that the Arabs and Israelites will get their damn hatchet out of the Suez Canal. Trade-routes are thicker than veins, you know.'

Black Panther leader Eldridge Cleaver gave the U.S. army new hope today.

'We're planning to open a new front in New Orleans this summer," he said.

This will provide employment He said, however, that he did for 2,000 city police, 91,000 national guardsmen, 412,000 diers, 3,112 doctors, and 12 black militants according to a Federal Bureau of Statistics estimate.

> American servicemen became so jubilant that 2,000,000 of them spilled into Canada to beat up on a draftdodger.

Prime Minister Trudeau said that, although he objected to being beaten, he realized that mistakes are made. A strong diplomatic note is now on its way to Washington, he said.

Student voices needed

A committee is being formed to represent student interests in the new Humanities Complex. One student representative is needed from each faculty to voice the opinions of the English majors. Committee members will make recommendations on the interior design and other accommodations in the new building. Interested students may contact Linda Koshure at 432-8570.

Why Do You Read So Slowly?

A noted publisher in Chicago reports there is a simple technique of rapid reading which should enable you to increase your reading speed and yet retain much more. Most people do not realize how much they could increase their pleasure, success and income by reading faster and more accurately.

According to this publisher, many people regardless of their present reading skill, can use this simple technique to improve their reading ability to a remarkable degree. Whether reading stories, books, technical matter, it becomes possible to read sentences at a glance and entire pages in seconds with this method.

To acquaint the readers of this newspaper with the easyto-follow rules for developing rapid reading skill, the company has printed full details of its interesting self-training method in a new booklet, "How to Read Faster and Retain More," mailed free. Simon Fraser striker pleads for SU funds

Students' council Monday night heard a plea from Guy Pockling-ton of the SFU strike committee for financial support in their battle against an injunction from the SFU administration.

The injunction charges three staff members, 11 students, and "others" with obstruction of the administration in the current PSA strike at that university.

The administration is also taking civil court action in an attempt to recover "damages" incurred by the administration. Included in these damages were fees refunded to students in these departments whose courses are now nonexistent.

The hunger strike, said Mr. Pocklington, was started partly in protest of the injunction.

Another expense still to be met by the strike committee is the fines and court costs of "the 114." Mr. Pocklington later stressed the importance to other Canadian campuses of the PSA struggle.

"The situation at Simon Fraser is being watched closely by both students and university admin-istrators across Canada" he said.

Meanwhile, despite objections that their chairman has prejudged the case, the Simon Fraser University Board of Governors said Friday it will go ahead with hearings into the firing and demotion of members of the university's Department of Political Science, Sociology and Anthropology.

The hearings into decisions made by an administration committee on tenure and promotions were sched-uled to begin Friday, but were postponed at the request of a lawyer representing Kathleen Aberle, one of the professors.

The administration's tenure decisions, which overthrew recom-mendations made by a studentfaculty tenure committee within the PSA department, were instrumental in sparking the current strike at SFU now in its sixth week. A delegated committee of the board is the final appeal body for the university's tenure deci-

MONARCH WINGER DAVE GLASGOW ABOUT TO LEAD A RUSH UP THE ICE . . . during last night's Bear-Monarch tilt at Varsity Arena

Those nasty engineers are unsportsmanlike

As a flag-football official during the new completed intramural football season I would like to state my bitter disappointment in the disgusting performance shown by the Engineers 'E' team in their Division III final against Lower Res 'D'. Not only did the Engineers hold the opposition and officials in contempt, but their dirty play, fighting, bickering, and unsportsmanlike conduct as a whole made a complete farce out of what the Intramural Department had set out to accomplish by servicing flag-football. Such aspects as enjoyment, keen competition, teamwork, exercise and release of tension were lost entirely and the idea of winning at all costs (including the intent to injure) took

Now if winning an intramural flag-football game means that much to the Engineers and some other teams such that total disregard and consideration towards others is lost, maybe Hugh Hoyles the Intramural Director, should ʻcan' flag-football altogether. Ray Tomusiak sci 2

Dale Halterman solid in goal as club preps for trip East

By BOB ANDERSON

MONARCHS 2, BEARS 2

"Well, at least we didn't lose out there tonight.

Sounds like the laments of a losing coach, right?

Bear puck coach Brian McDonald summed up last night's game at Varsity Arena quite succintly in those few words.

And so the big mystery con-

Bears, defending Western Can-ada Intercollegiate Hockey League champions, were hard pressed to earn a 2-2 draw with the Edmon-ton Monarchs, currently in second place in the Alberta Hockey League, a Senior "A" circuit.

In normal circumstances, the Bruins should have taken the slower Monarchs by at least three goals. But as has been the case in each of the Albertans' five pre-season encounters to date, they just can't seem to get going.

Both goaltenders, Jim Knox of the Monarchs, and Dale Halterman of the Bears, came up with solid performances. Knox was particularly sharp in the second period, stopping several Bears from close Bear centre Gerry Hornby, returning after suffering a sprained ankle in Calgary ten days ago, perked up the rest of his sluggish offensive mates. However, he re-injured the ankle late in the second session and sat out the re-mainder of the contest.

KEY PLAYER

"There's no doubt that Gerry is one of the key players on this club," said McDonald as he surveyed the extent of the injury. "He can really move out there and gets the other guys moving too. His loss really hurt."

Hornby gave the hosts a 1-0 bulge late in the opening period. deflecting Sam Belcourt's corner passout past Knox. The Monarchs were shorthanded at the time.

The margin lasted until the early seconds of the sandwich session when Henry Hodgson picked up a Rich Healey relay, walked in alone on Halterman and picked the lower left hand corner. Bear defenceman Mike Ballash fell at his own blueline to give Hodgson all the space he needed.

The visitors went ahead 2-1 at the 4:20 mark of the final period when Hodgson was left uncovered in front of Halterman with each club a man short. Gene Achtymichuk made a perfect pass from the corner to set up the goal.

Both clubs then settled down to the type of hockey that senior clubs are noted for—lots of hitting and very little exciting bockey for the 1,200 onlookers. In fact, for a while it seemed that the game might erupt into a pier six brawl with players from both sides running at each other.

But the only serious altercation came when Jack Gibson of the Bears and Lou Halat of the Monarchs decided to go at it in front of the Monarchs' bench. Halat got in the most punches and picked up a major penalty for his efforts, while Gibson was rewarded with a two minute sentence and a cut on the bridge of the nose.

LATE MARKER

The tying goal as far as the Bruins were concerned, came with but 45 seconds left in the game. With Halterman on the bench in favor of a sixth attacker, Bear centre Bill Clarke won the ensu-ing face off in the Monarch zone, got the puck to Tom Devaney who fired at Knox. Gibson scooped up the rebound and just managed to slide the disc over the goalline.

Over the route, the Bears outshot the Monarchs 31-24, and were fingered by referee Bill Fletcher for nine of 19 infractions. Bears scored the only power play mar-

Despite the tie, the Bears were markedly improved over last weekend's double loss to the Calgary Dinosaurs. The forwards were skating both ways and the defensive corps were clearing out Monarchs from out in front of Halter-

But there are still many improvements to be made and the upcoming weekend should take care of some of those. The Bears leave Friday for the Lakehead where they will meet Lakehead University Saturday night in Port Arthur and Sunday afternoon in Fort William. They also will meet the University of Winnipeg Wesmen Monday evening in the Manitoba capital.

Flag-football champs now decided

After 250 games of men's intramural flag football in weather that ranged from sunny and warm to snowy and frigid, Lambda Chi "A," Arts and Science "B," and Engineering "E" emerged as the respective champions in Divisions I, II,

A total of 1,344 men took part in at least one flag-football game. Some individuals were highly skilled, while others were playing for the first time but all gave 100 per cent and had fun doing it.

DIVISION I

Lambda Chi "A" have to rate as a "dark horse" team that lived up to that reputation. While many knew that they had a wellbalanced team, no one figured them to win all the marbles—they went through the season undefeated, being tied once by Phys Ed

The Lambda Chi men met Phi Delta Theta "A" in the semi-finals and squeaked by their rivals 9-7. B. Hopipus scored the lone major for the winners, while Phil Unreau netted three singles. J. Duggan and B. Bradley did all the scoring for Phi Delts.

In the other Division I semi-final, Dentistry "A" knocked off Medicine "A" 10-0 on the strength of Pete Rieben's TD and singles by Frank Margetts and Joe Jones.

Dentistry went into the final against Lambda Chi as definite favorites. However, Irv Barros, Phil Unreau, Henry Pasemko and company had different ideas. Barros scored two TD's, Pasemko one, and Phil tallied two singles to lead the frat men to a 20-6 victory and the Division I title. The dentistry touchdown went to Guy Parrot.

The Division II play-offs were the scene of some excellently played contests. Arts and Science 'emerged as the champs but had to play good sound football en route. In the semi-final game between Arts and Science "B" and Phys Ed "B," the difference was a single by Harry Lutzer which gave his team a 16-15 victory over Phys Ed. Bob Balahura, Len Doty and Pete Van Bostelen completed the scoring for the champs. For the losers it was Hauler Hollingsworth, Pop Ivey, Frenchy Biennert, Giggle Laughy and Game

Ward who hit paydirt.

In the final, the Arts and Science "B" team made up of graduate students from the Dept. of Chemistry, beat the Ukrainian crew from St. John's 20-18. Lutzer and Balahura played outstanding ball for the Chem men. Crook Petruk, Shy Shymko, and Kobelack each scored a TD in a losing cause. DIVISION III

This playoff was a Residence-Engineering officio. In one semi-final, Lower Residence "D" defeated Upper Residence "F" 35-0.
Engineering "E" was not to be denied in the final against Lower Res "D." They came through 21-1 and are deserving of the Division and are deserving of the Division III title. Dave Schafer was good for 14 of Engineer's points while Bob Nyren got the rest.

Meds take first in track meet

Frank Sutton, Bob Burns, Ludo Scheunhage, and Drew Bremnes discarded their hospital whites last Saturday morning in favor of track outfits to lead the Faculty of Medicine to first place in this year's initial men's intramural track and field meet.

Based on a scoring system of 7, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1 for first to sixth places respectively in the nine event meet, these four athletes amassed a total of 38 points.

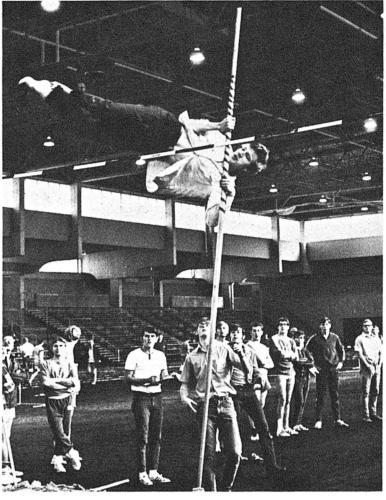

the 60 yard sprint, hitting the tape in 6:05 seconds and also third place in the long jump with an 18'½" leap. Bob Burns won the long jump scoring 19'½".

Ludo Scheunhage placed second in the high jump at 5'6" and fifth in the pole vault as a result of a nine foot vault. Bremness ran a 89.9 second 600 yards and a 6.4 second 60 yard sprint for a fifth and third place respectively.

Bob Brust of Theta Chi almost defeated the Medicine group singlehandedly. The meet's outstanding athlete had two firstsa 85.3 second 600 yards and a 4 minute 54 second mile run. Brust also took third spot in the pole vault, one position behind his fraternity brother, Arnie Loxam, who vaulted 10 feet. Bill Malmo's and Andy Nikiforuk's added efforts in the 75 yard hurdles gave Theta Chi second place in the meet.

St. Joe's finished third overall on the strength of John Scheunhage's pole vault of 10 feet and long jump of 17'4". Roger Nicholson, Tim O'Brien and Tom Cavanaugh showed well also for St. Loc's.

The top five team finishers were rounded out by Phys Ed and International Students.
