Just take a dose of Chamberlain's Bile Beans and Liver Tablets—they make the liver do its work—they cleanse and purify the stomach and the whole digestive system. You'll feel like a new man. The Love of God.

Like a crane, rocking, rocking,
Pleasant, peaceful, in and fro,
Like a mother's sweet looks dropping
On the little face below,
Hangs the green earth, swinging, turning,
In truth, in wisdom, safe and slow,
Falls the light of God's face beaming
Down and watching us below.
And, as feeble babes that suffer,
Toss and cry and will not rest,
Are the cases the tender mother
Holds the closest, loves the best—
So when we are weak and wretched,
By our sins weighed down, distressed,
Then it is that God's great patience
Holds us closest, loves us best.—Bessie Mahan.

Conditions in Belgium.

A. S. Barnsted, Secretary of the Belgium Relief Committee has received from E. B. Eldredge, representing the Government of Nova Scotia in Holland, the following account of conditions there that will be read with interest by the people of Nova Scotia who have contributed so much by the timeliness of their aid to alleviate some of the distress the heroic Belgians are enduring:—
Westerstraat 2a, Rotterdam, Holland, January 15, 1915.—The Belgian Relief work now being done by Nova Scotians in company with other Christian peoples gives the observer a higher conception of the human character. The whole soulful manner in which the Hollanders are succoring the refugees in this country strikes one's admiration.

I have visited a civilian camp of refugees which is under military control at Houda. This was in wonderful contrast to the conditions existing in the various camps on the occasion of my first visit, when one takes into consideration the fact that the Dutch Government have over 450,000 soldiers mobilized and in training. Their commercial life is practically destroyed and their consequent distress because of unemployment. All this has to be provided for by the Government and private donations, and it makes one amazed at what they are doing for the Belgians.

At this camp there are 1,500 Belgians housed in what were formerly conservatories. These are now supplied with steam heat, electric light, baths, a shower bath, social halls, dining rooms and sleeping apartments divided for men, women and families.

They are very comfortable and everything is spotlessly clean. I have no doubt in my mind that for quite a large percentage of these people, the conditions are as good if not better than they had in their own country.

On Friday last I visited a camp near Utrecht, where 17,000 Belgians soldiers are interned. The expression on the faces of these people is widely different from that of those in other refugee camps. As one could readily see they feel the restraint and lack of possibility of doing that which is so much of their hearts' desire, viz., defending their country and homes. Their enforced idleness is having an effect on their natures and temperaments.

The American Commission is doing a wonderful work. They have it so systematized, that every need is recorded and what is being done or has already been done to relieve the same.

One thing that pleased me very much was the work of the Rockefeller Foundation Committee of New York, under the direction of Mr. Jenkinson. It has always seemed to me that the enforced idleness would be the most serious of the future lives of the refugees, but the above named committee are endeavoring to overcome this. As far as is possible they have provided a sewing machine for every woman. They furnish material for the making of various kinds of garments for men and women. They have cutters of various kinds and every department. The garments when made are the property of the committee, and they distribute them where they are most needed.

The remuneration paid to the operators is one guilder per week. They are allowed to give 50 per cent of this and the balance is placed to their credit, so that when the time comes for them to return to their own country they will have a little money in their pockets. In addition to this there is a prize to the value of five guilders, which is distributed monthly to the most efficient worker in each department. A woman who has made six suits of underwear, she is privileged to keep one suit for herself or any member of her family. They have the intention also to start a tailor shop, so as to give employment to some of the men. What is being done at this camp is being attempted at the others, so as to have them all eventually working time.

The committee are not buying the machines, but are renting them from dealers in Holland paying five guilders a month. This seems to me to be a charity taking its highest form, as it not only helps the people to be self-respecting, but also gives them something to occupy their minds as well as their hands. As occasion may offer I will visit other encampments and give you my impressions in future letters.

I had the opportunity of examining a great deal of the clothing brought over by the S. S. Dorie, and it is very creditable indeed. In fact much of it is of superior quality, with a very small percentage of inferior quality. In going through these warehouses examining these goods I was filled with pride and admiration for the people of my native province, and could those who have contributed come in contact with these people as I have done, they would be more thankful of the opportunity presented to them by Mr. Murray to help to ever so small a way this most worthy object.

Yours very truly,
E. B. ELDRIDGE.

Held the Horse's Head.

In South Africa General French earned the title of "the shirt-sleeved General." General French was often to be seen walking about in camp in shirt sleeves. One afternoon a correspondent rode up to the lines, and seeing a soldier sitting on a bundle of hay smoking a dilapidated looking old briar pipe, asked where the General was.

"The old man is somewhere about," coolly replied the soldier.

"Well, just hold my horse while I go and search for him."

"Certainly, sir," and the smoker rose obediently and took the pipe.

"Can you tell me where the General is?" enquired the correspondent, but of staff officer further down the line.

"General French? Oh, he's somewhere about. Way, there he is holding that horse's head."

And the officer pointed directly to the smoker, still tranquilly patting his pipe and holding the horse.

The Nova Scotia "Lumber King" says: "I consider MINARD'S LINIMENT the best liniment in use. I got my foot badly jammed lately. I bathed it with MINARD'S LINIMENT and it was well as well as ever next day. Yours very truly,
T. G. McMULLEN.

The merchant, about seven years ago, arrears to a Junebore paper, lay dying. The publisher dropped in to see him.

"How do you feel?" asked the publisher.

"All looks bright before me," gasped the merchant.

"I thought so," replied the editor. "You'll see the biz in a few minutes."

"I had a dreadful fall last night," "Tell me of it."

"My wife was talking; I hung on every word, and then, and then—" "Yes, yes, and then?"

"He voice broke!"

She had risen several times to let a gentleman pass out from the acts. "I am very sorry to disturb you, madam," he remarked, apologetically, as he went out the fourth time.

"Oh, don't mention it," she replied, pleasantly. "I am most happy to oblige you; my husband keeps the bar."

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA
"Dis am de best time, Rastus, you been to prayer meetin' for a long time," said a colored pastor to a member of his flock.

"I had to come," replied Rastus. "I needs strength 'n' in. I've got a job white washin' a chile on coop and buildin' a fence around a watch melon patch."

The Aviator's Triumph.
I flew across an English town,
So peaceful and so fair;
I said, "Here is a chance for me
To show 'em Sbermanns dare."
I saw a vic-haired clergyman,
Vow walking with his frau,
I dropped a bomb upon his hat;
Vere is dot couple now?

I saw a wedding party, vick
Vas having lots of fun.
I picked de biggest bomb I got
Ud killed dem all but vun.
I saw a weeping funeral,
Close by de church's door;
I said, "Vas corpse is night genug,"
So I supply some more.

I saw a lovely liddle dog,
Some people's liddle pet.
I blow him up as quick as vink,
Dot makd dem sad, you bet.

And ven my bombs vas all used up,
I flew off fast and far,
I shot to dink dot I had shown
How brave ve Sbermanns are.

8 Boxes Cured Psoriasis.

Mrs. Nettie Massey, Concession, Ont., writes: "Three doctors described my trouble as psoriasis, and one said I could never be cured. The disease spread all over me, open to my face and head and the itching and burning was hard to bear. I used eight boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment and an entirely cured—not a sign of a sore to be seen. I can hardly praise this Ointment enough."

An English clergyman who has been holding concerts for the benefit of British soldiers in camp at Grandwood, has written a Scotch version of "Tipperary." The chorus is as follows:

It's a lang way tae Auchtermuchty,
It's a lang way tae Perth,
It's a lang way tae get tae anywhere,
Fise anywhere else on airth.
Guid be the Balaichuan,
Farwell but an'ben,
It's a lang way tae Auchtermuchty,
But we'll gang back again.

Whooping Cough.
Mrs. Charles Lovell, Agassiz, B. C., writes: "Seven of our nine children had whooping cough the same winter, and we attribute their cure to Dr. Chase's Syrup of Licorice and Turpentine. We always keep it in the house, and recommend it as the king of all medicines. It was formerly completely cured of protruding piles by using Dr. Chase's Ointment."

Some folks that we meet are wont,
When complaints are rife,
To join in and claim they don't
Get much out of life.

We must all meet we and strife,
Yet we need not put
If we'll put more into life
We will get more out.

5,000 Facts About Canada.
"Know Canada! make Canada known!" is a striking sentence in the War Year edition for 1915 of that popular booklet "5,000 Facts About Canada," compiled by Frank Veitch, of Toronto, who knows Canada as probably few Canadians do. It is true that he who would know Canada and its wonderful growth in any one year, will find this annual publication worth its weight in Yukon gold or Cobalt silver, while as a means of making the Dominion known in other countries, it is no less valuable. Fifty chapters are devoted to such subjects as Agriculture, Arts, Banking, Census, Immigration, Mining, Manufacturing, Trade, etc., and a page of Canadian War Facts show how up-to-date it is. British Maps are included of the Dominion in 1867 and 1915. Copies may be had from progressive news dealers, or by sending 50c to the Canadian Facts Publishing Co., 511 Huron Street, Toronto, Canada.

Every man with a plot of land should plant it this spring.

In the words of Hon. W. T. White war is Canada's first business until it is over.

When Germany needs an army of 12,000 special policemen to protect the bakers' shops in Berlin, it looks as if the British fleet's tremendous pressure was being felt.

We make no apology for the space used in referring to the excellent service rendered to the town by Mr. J. D. Chambers, who has just retired from the position of Mayor after a long and faithful occupancy of the position. During his administration many important public works and improvements have been undertaken which have drawn very largely upon his time and consideration. When we remember that there is no salary attached to the office, but much criticism, we must acknowledge that the town is under great obligation to Mr. Chambers for any other citizen who thus gives his valuable time for the benefit of us all.

In St. Peter's at Rome last Sunday Pope Benedict intoned a prayer for peace. The prayer was also read in all the Catholic Churches of England and France. A French cardinal, however, presiding over the ceremony in Notre Dame Cathedral in Paris, declared that "the peace which the Pope desires will not be signed until all the wrongs with which the war that is raging is attended are righted, and that can only be through a victory for our arms and those of our Allies." So far, therefore, as French and British Catholics are concerned, when they pray for peace they are also praying for victory which will ensure a lasting peace. Since the German and Austrian Catholics are also praying for peace with victory for their arms, the petition is not unanimous. Presumably the cause of right and justice will prevail in the end, however much of discord there may be in the prayers of men.

Far Superior to Castor Oil.

Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine a mother can give her little ones. They are absolutely safe, pleasant to take and never fail to cure stomach or bowel disorders. Concerning them Mrs. A. Savve, Sheer way, Que., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my three children and can truthfully say that I know of no other medicine to equal them. They are far superior to castor oil and I would not be without them." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers everywhere or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. Brockville, Ont.

German Frenzy.

It is clear that Germany has decided to disregard the rules of civilized warfare which have been accepted by the world for many years, and that in her frenzy she will strike right and left, slaying only at the destruction of anything and everything that is British. Such a course cannot have any other effect than to still further alienate the sympathy of neutral countries, and is made very clear by the expressions of feeling in the press of the United States. The greater the German disregard of the rights of non-combatants and of neutrals, and of treaty obligations, the worse it will be for herself, not only during the war, but when the day of settlement arrives. Prussian militarism stands revealed in all its nakedness as the hideous thing it is, the gravest menace of modern times to human liberty and progress. None would have believed a year ago that the German nation would have made such a revelation of itself, or sunk so low in the world's estimation. The developments from week to week make it all the more necessary for the people of the British Empire to rally around the flag that stands for national honor and the protection of the rights of the smaller nations, and steadfastly pursue this war until a complete and overwhelming victory has been achieved.

Men's Bible Class.

The attendance last Sunday afternoon was good. We were especially glad to greet some men for the first time. Next Sunday afternoon the lesson will be a consideration of the theme, "True Freedom and How to Get It." Read John 8:31 and following. We are sorry that the Seminary Quartette could not sing last Sunday but we confidently expect their assistance next Sunday, Feb. 14th, 1915.

What About Seed Oats for 1915?

SHOULD N. S. FARMERS PRODUCE THEIR OWN FLOUR THIS YEAR? Correspondence received from farmers of Nova Scotia indicates that in almost every county of the Province more land has been and will be prepared for seeding than for many a year. Moreover, farmers everywhere seem alive to the necessity of greater production in 1915, not so much because of a prospect of greater prices but because there is no more patriotic class of people and none who are more ready to join in a campaign of any kind which may prove "the staying power" of the British Empire in the present crisis.

These considerations lead me to present in this letter a few features of the situation which have been brought to my attention by farmers themselves in the hope that I may at least receive some correspondence and see some letters in the public press in regard to phases of next year's work which may be overlooked until it is too late.

More land cultivated means more seed next spring. Will there be a scarcity of seed already advancing prices become so high as to prove a barrier to the seeding of land that has been already prepared? In regard to this let me say that all our experiments have resulted in bigger crops from well cleaned home grown oat, wheat and barley seed, etc., than from the imported article. Many of our best farmers realize this and have for years been growing their own seed, and the practice is gradually being taken up all over the Province. There are at least two additional reasons why this should be done in the present time—first, the advancing prices, and second, the fact that our eastern seed was well matured in 1914, where, as much of the western crop, which may be purchased, was frosted and will not germinate. It will unquestionably therefore be better practice for many farmers to put their ordinary oats through a fanning mill, or even sort out the best by the old fashioned wind method, and use the oats so selected for seed, than to depend upon much imported seed which they may buy. For those who prefer purchasing it may not be amiss to call attention to advancing prices which in all likelihood will go still higher. Now seems to be the time to purchase. Not a few farmers, influenced by the high prices prevailing for flour, are planning to grow their own wheat next spring. The policy seems a safe one, for, while there may be cheaper flour next fall the odds are against it. A couple of acres of wheat will produce enough flour for the average family and some bran and middlings thrown in. In times of cheap flour these two acres might, in many cases, be better devoted to oats or other crops. But should the worst happen the man with a big family who grows his own flour need not worry very much about food supplies, and in so far as no western flour will be required to supply his needs, he will save that much for the armies across the sea.

There are difficulties in the way. There is abundance of seed in some counties, Antigonish, Pictou and parts of Cochester and Cumberland for instance, but in many counties there is none. If, however, we had the means of knowing how much seed will be required, it would not be difficult to take measures which will insure an ample supply. Then there is the difficulty in some counties of getting the wheat ground, and this must receive prompt attention. In regard to this matter I can only say that this problem has been carefully considered by the government of Nova Scotia and I may add that should the wheat be grown this government is prepared to take measures to assist farmers in those parts of the province remote from mills to get their wheat ground. Several policies to facilitate this have been recommended. Readers of this letter can help in deciding upon the best policy by discussing the matter and bringing the results of their deliberations to our attention.

To revert again to the seed, especially wheat and oats, I may add that, should the situation become serious, no effort should be spared by the government of Nova Scotia to see that a sufficient supply is available. It is important, however, that farmers should have their plans well matured so that accurate information as to the needs of the country would be available long before seeding begins. There are still other phases of this production question which might well be considered by farmers, clubs, societies, etc., during these winter months. In this letter only a few matters have been taken up, but it is my hope that it may lead to a discussion of every phase of this greater production question. Farmers, I fancy, feel that they have heard about enough from the public men of the country. This letter is written in the hope that it may lead to our hearing more fully their side of the matter.

M. CURRIER, Secretary for Agriculture, Province of Nova Scotia.

A MISCHIEVOUS CUR SHOULD BE TIED SHORT

Suppose our civic parasites, such as mail order firms, should be refused accommodation at home? If their credit were cut off and the butcher, baker, and dairyman refused to serve them on the ground that they would not do their share towards good roads, schools and churches? Do you think it would cure them? They are certainly mischievous and should be tied with a short rope.

The destruction of the Academy Home incidentally furnishes a demonstration of the possibilities of modern photography. And that is going some!

A very pleasant time was had last Friday evening at the social given by the members of the Bible Class of the Methodist church. Faculty Recital of Acadia Conservatory of Music.

An especially fine recital was given by the members of Acadia Seminary Conservatory of Music in College Hall on Friday evening. The audience was large and most enthusiastic. Interest was further awakened by the appearance of two new artists, Miss Katharina MacKenzie, who appeared to advantage with Mr. McKee, the director of the conservatory, in Acadia's third suite for two pianos, and Miss Eleanor P. Sands, contralto, who was heard for the first time, with Mr. Richmond, in Orlis est Homo, from the Stabat Mater, and also in a most artistically rendered group of songs from Tosti, Lela, Brahms and other well known writers. Both of these new teachers constitute a musical asset to the conservatory. Mr. McKee's rendition of Chopin's ballade in G minor and Miss Langley's rendition of her violin group aroused an enthusiastic applause. Mrs. Richmond's pure soprano was never used to better advantage than in her rendering of Musetta's voice song from La Boheme. Miss Zaida Gaines, reader, read in masterly fashion, Poe's Raven, with musical setting by Max Heinrich, with Mr. McKee at the piano. Her further humorous sketches were most enthusiastically received. The accompanists of Miss Brown and Miss Front were especially good. As a whole the quality of the program was matched by the high quality of the work, and the concert was pronounced to be the best held in recent years.

A Good Man Passed Away.

Through the death of Mr. Edward A. Davison, which occurred on Friday evening of last week, the village of Gaspereau loses one of its best known and most highly esteemed citizens. Mr. Davison was a life-long resident of Gaspereau, where he was born 75 years ago on Jan. 30th. Early in life he married Miss Elizabeth Eagles, who predeceased him by less than a month. For a number of years he was a successful farmer but about thirty-five years ago he removed to Gaspereau village and started a general store, which he conducted with much success. He also filled the position of post master and was a faithful and obliging official. Of a most kindly and helpful disposition the deceased had many warm friends and he will be widely missed. Mr. Davison was a faithful and consistent member of the Baptist church and his hand was ever ready to help any need. His home was a most hospitable one and his heart ever open to the cry of those in distress. Since the death of his wife Mr. Davison had not been in good health but at the last his death came suddenly and unexpected by friends. The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon and the large attendance indicated the respect in which he was held. The service was conducted at the home and at the church, where an appropriate and feeling address was given by the pastor, Rev. A. T. Powell. The choir sang a number of selections and the service throughout bore testimony to the large place the deceased filled in the community.

Fire Investigation.

The investigation ordered by the Mayor with a view to ascertaining as far as possible the cause of the recent fire at the Academy Home on February 2nd was held with the co-operation of the University authorities in the College office on the evening of February 4th. Reports of a damaging nature being circulated regarding the efficiency of our fire protection service at this fire, this matter was also made a subject of inquiry. Promptness was desirable as some of the leading witnesses were leaving town for their homes, and further and more accurate accounts could be given while the affair was so recent and fresh in the memory.

Two witnesses were examined under oath before Councillors Hagook and Hales with E. S. Crawley, Recorder, and a number of interested citizens as well as prominent insurance men representing various companies concerned in the loss. Questions were freely asked regarding the construction of the building, its care, care of the fire, and all matters pertaining to the possible origin of the fire, and fully and satisfactorily answered, proving apparently that all diligence and foresight had been used in the construction of the building and that no repairs gave any sign of defects of any kind.

The evidence of several parties proved the sudden distribution of the fire throughout the dormitory by way of a wooden chute running from a room in the basement, near a furnace, to the ceiling of the top flat, but not open to the low attic above. The main query was as to the fire originating at the bottom, or at the top. The evidence of Mr. Kelly, a student, pointed conclusively to the great hallway where the fire must have obtained in the attic before making its appearance in the chute, and taken in connection with other evidence given regarding the discovery of the fire, and with that of observers outside, the conclusion appears obvious that early in the morning fire occurred in the chimney unobserved by the occupants of the building, and probably from some defect in the chimney caught in the attic and slowly spread above the rooms and corridors. All the occupants having left the upper flat at 8:15 a. m. to attend classes this was not noticed until the ceiling above burned through and flaming brands dropped down the wooden chute distributing the fire through the various floors and causing a strong draft to enter the burning attic where the flames increased at once and quickly broke through the roof. With this in mind and through distribution the rapid and complete destruction of the building was certain and beyond control.

The fullest testimony regarding the condition of the fire hose and hydrants and the promptness of the firemen in responding to the alarm was taken, and in the opinion of the undersigned no deficiency of the apparatus that could have been foreseen was revealed and no possible criticism could be offered as to the service given by our firemen.

The evidence was all taken down by a stenographer and a copy is now on file in the office of the town clerk and open to the inspection of any one. This brief summary is to furnish information to citizens who may not be aware of this official inquiry and to acquaint them with its general trend.

TORTURED BY CONSTIPATION

"Fruit-a-lives" Cured Paralyzed Bowels and Digestion

ST. BONIFACE DE SHAWINIGAN, QUEBEC, Feb. 27, 1914.

"It is a pleasure to me to inform you that after suffering from Chronic Constipation for 2 1/2 years, I have been cured by 'Fruit-a-lives'. While I was a student at Berthier College, I became so ill I was forced to leave the college. Severe pains across the intestines continually tortured me and it came to a point when I could not stoop down at all, and my Digestion became paralyzed. Some one advised me to take 'Fruit-a-lives' and at once I felt a great improvement. After I had taken four or five boxes, I realized that I was completely cured and what made me glad, also, was that they were acting gently, causing no pain whatever to the bowels. All those who suffer with Chronic Constipation should follow my example and take 'Fruit-a-lives' for they are the medicine that cures."

Licensed to make the strong men weak;
Licensed to lay the wise man low;
Licensed a wife's fond heart to break;
And make her children's tears to flow.

Licensed to do thy neighbor harm;
Licensed to kindle hate and strife;

WOMAN IN TERRIBLE STATE

Finds Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Cape Wolfe, Canada.—"Last March I was a complete wreck. I had given up all hope of getting better or living any length of time, as I was such a sufferer from female troubles. But I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today I am in good health and have a pair of twin boys two months old and growing finely. I surprised doctors and neighbors for they all know what a wreck I was.

"Now I am healthy, happy and hearty, and owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies. You may publish this letter if you like. I think if more women used your remedies they would have better health."—Mrs. J. T. Cook, Lot No. 7, Cape Wolfe, P. E. I., Canada.

Because your case is a difficult one, and doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has remedied many cases of female ill, such as inflammation, obstruction, displacements, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, and it may be exactly what you need.

The Pinkham record is a proud and peerless one. It is a record of constant victory over the afflictions of women.

"I have decided that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has remedied my case. I have had it for several years, and I have been cured."

FORESTRY FACTS

Many engineers, well acquainted with the use of steel and concrete, have little knowledge of the advantages possessed by wood for certain kinds of structural work. This lack of knowledge is due to the lack of reliable tables showing the mechanical properties of various Canadian woods. To remedy this want, the Forest Products Laboratories at McGill University, will conduct a series of elaborate tests which will establish the strength of these woods, and make available for structural purposes many tree species whose value for this work is at present doubtful.

Quarriesmen in France still enormous blocks of stone by inserting wooden pins in small holes along the proposed line of cleavage and then soaking the pins with water.

The word "forest" was originally derived from the old High German word "forst," and, in the middle ages, meant a large tract of land, not necessarily wooded, on which the right to hunt was reserved to the king. Recent forest surveys conducted by the Dominion Forestry branch in the wooded region lying to the north of Edmonton in Alberta indicate the very large amount of valuable timber available in this region.

It was several days before the thinking men of Russia awoke to the fact that they had put into operation one of the greatest, most far-reaching and beneficial laws ever enacted. It all turned out on the matter of economics. The question was: We have this grain. Shall we use it for bread or shall we use it for whiskey?

And in Russia's time of trial there was only one answer to this question. The Russian people said: "We vote for bread!"

Now suppose we take this question home to ourselves.
In your pay envelope is twenty five dollars. What are you going to do with this money? Are you going to spend it for drink? If you are married man, are you going to spend this money for liquor or are you going to buy shoes for the babies; books, stationery, pens, ink, or paper for your boys and girls who are going to school? Are you going to buy a clock, a rug, a chair, a table, curtains for the windows, or are you going to spend the money for strong drink? Just a matter of dollars and cents, just a matter of deciding between this and that—is it bread or vodka?

Does liquor all to the length of your days, to your efficiency, to your thinking power? Does it make you employer prize your services more? Are you more apt to get an increase in wages if you drink? Are you a better citizen? Does your wife urge you to drink whiskey? Are you more to your old father and mother? How are you going to use the money in the envelope?

Is it whiskey, or bread, books, clothes, a savings bank account and a home?
Let your common sense decide, and then stand by your resolution.—From The Era, for January, 1915.

The Gift of Laughter.

Dr. Theodore L. Cuyler was once visiting the famous London preacher, Rev. Charles H. Spurgeon. After a hard day of work and serious discussion, these two mighty men of God went into the country together for a holiday. They roamed the fields in high spirits like boys let loose from school, chatting and laughing and free from care.

Dr. Cuyler had just told a story at which Mr. Spurgeon laughed uproariously. Then suddenly he turned to Dr. Cuyler and exclaimed, "Theodore, let's kneel down and thank God for laughter!" And there, on the green carpet of grass, under the trees, two of the world's greatest men knelt and thanked the dear Lord for the bright and joyous gift of laughter.

"God never gave a man a greater gift," says Marshall P. Wilder, "than the power to make others laugh, unless it is the privilege of laughing himself. We honor, revere, admire our great soldiers, statesmen and men of letters; but we love the man that makes us laugh. Laughter is a public benefactor, for laughter is the salt of life, and keeps the whole dish sweet."

At a time when it was thought that Germany wanted to get a foot hold in Holland, Bismarck and the Dutch ambassador stood watching a review of the German army. As a well set up body of men marched past the ambassador said, "Fine soldiers, but too short." Then came the German soldiers between six and seven feet tall; nevertheless the ambassador's comment was the same as before. "These are men, but too short."

"What does your excellency want to see?" asked the ambassador.

"I mean that we can find relief right here."

SIKHS AND HINDUS

Some Facts About the Brown Men of British India

Sikhism was founded in 1539 A.D. by Nanak, a Hindu, one of the soldier caste and a dweller in a village. Nanak was looked upon "as an incorporeal spirit," who had come to save the world, and, having enjoyed personal communion with the Lord, was straggling "Guru," and, moreover, being exalted himself was invested with the power of exalting others.

In order to bring peace and amity into his world, Nanak endeavored to reconcile the Hindu and the Mohammedans by teaching a religion which should retain the best of the teachings of both religions and casting away that which had become debased and impure. He failed, however, to reconcile the two latter antagonisms, and, by the purity of his doctrines, and the non-recognition of caste, himself antagonized the Hindu and the Mohammedans.

It will be seen that the Sikhs were originally a religious sect, pure and simple, and could not be developed as a race, although certainly the far greater number of them were of the Jat tribe, situated in the northern part of the Punjab.

Their Bible, known as the "Adi Granth," was compiled by a grandson of Nanak, in the year 1604. It is a "One soul, self-existing, the meaning and cause of all, who has seen numberless creeds and names come and go." They believe in one God, all, and through all, a personal God. Amongst other things they also "recognize the brotherhood of man, do not recognize caste, and insist on pure and simple ethics." In this they are also as the Free Masons, and include the many of them belong to that order.

The word "sikh" means "disciple," and at first they were seekers after a divine way of truth. Their sacred writings and our gospels are similar in their teachings and very many passages are identical. The Sikhs differ from all Hindus in that they are "not born but made," and when the community is ready, they themselves differ from us only in so far that they have not been taught to know God.

In 1721 A.D. the last Guru, Govind, established political independence. Guruship was abolished, and only military leaders were elected. Thus was fulfilled a prophecy that the Sikhs should have only ten Gurus. As has been said, the Sikhs are not a distinct race though chiefly Jats. They are a well disciplined, religious and military brotherhood, and in this respect somewhat similar to the Knights Templars of old. And indeed the Sikhs, together with the Gurkhas and the Pathans, are the three nations (sepoys) we have in India, and this they have proven on many a hard-fought battle, showing a bravery and trustworthiness second to none in number they are about ten million, and eleven-twelfths of these are in the Punjab—Church Times.

STRENGTH OF TEETH

Little Instrument Shows Extent of Pressure in Chewing

Scientific inventions have enabled us to determine accurately the amount of force exercised by many of our bodily functions. The strength of the heart's beats is measured with a precision that the stethoscope can never attain; the physical culturist can measure our breathing powers, and from the power of the automatic machine we learn, as accurately as we can expect for the fee, the extent of our gripping, punching and bicycling muscles.

A small instrument, with a big name, the Phago-dynamometer, has been used for testing the strength of our teeth, and some interesting results are shown in the records published by an eminent dentist.

A white man, who is the fortunate possessor of a good set of natural teeth, can exert a pressure of 250 pounds, while one whose teeth are a mere feeble set of 400 pounds which his colored brother can easily accomplish.

The Phago-dynamometer has upset a good many of our notions with regard to the mastication of food. Beef, pork and mutton are tough subjects to eat. Under its worst conditions it can be conquered by a pressure of 50 pounds, while one whose teeth are fastness yields to half that force. But our real foe has been unmasked in the smallest "tool" in the kitchen—a fork.

An artificial jaw is being made for electrical stimulation. The jaw is held in place by a magnet and a battery of cells. The current is passed through the jaw, and the jaw is held in place by a magnet and a battery of cells.
