DISCARDS HIS WIFE FOR HIS AFFINITY

Artist Earles' Neighbors Objec to His Action and 500 Mob Him.

Had Prepared Tar and Feathers fo Him---He Tries to Justify Himself.

New York, Sept. 6.—Ferdinand Pinney Earle was mobbed by 500 angry fellow-citizens of Monroe, N. Y., and his carriage upset by them when he returned from New York after sending his discarded wife and son to Europe on the

His "affinity," whose name Earle says is Julia Kuttner, for whom he put away his wife, was not in Monroe to see the artist fight for his life with the throng. She hurried away from Monroe yester day morning at 11 o'clock.

Earle escaped without serious injury

Earle escaped without serious injury, but he was saved only by the efforts of Z. Paddleford, chief of police, and Policeman West Beatty, who threw themselves between him and the enraged men and women who sought to reach him. Armed with a heavy buggy whis Earle himself stood off five men who dodged past the police and attacked him. He dealt them blow after blow, yelling defiance as he stood bareheaded in a pouring rainstorm. Thomas Ryan, Earle's coachman, stood with him and fought his assaliants.

Before They Got Him.

Monroe waited last night for the man who set aside his wife for an "affinity" with all the avidity of a crowd aawiting the coming of a popular leader. A reception committee had arranged everything in advance. The road down which Earle would have had to drive to reach his magnificent home was blocked by a stout rope; near at hand in a field was a bucket of tar and a pillow of down, contributed by an enthusiastic housewife. Dry shavings were ready to be touched into a blaze. And at the station, from the time that night fell, a station, from the time that night fell, a crowd of several hundred watched and waited.

As each train pulled into the place the crowd would circle around the cars, guarding each exit, and scan each descending passenger in hope of coming across the man who sacrificed his wife. It was an irreverent crowd. Itlacked little of artistic temperament or affinities. Time was when those gathered there were wont to do Earle at least respectful homage. But tonight they eagerly demanded of the conductors:

"Have you got Whiskers on board?"

"Have you got Whiskers on board?"
And of the passengers who slighted

And of the passenger have a false-face coming? We have a little reception arranged for him to the h which it would be a puty for miss,"

Adown the road, to the dark turning where the rope was stretched across, pickets were stationed to give the signal of Earle's approach. But he came not. A wiser, if not a better man, he determined to remain in New York, confident that the night air of Orange County was not good for his health; and after waiting until the last train came and left, the villagers gave up the demonstration they had prepared.

But they did not abandon their purpose to make Monroe too hot further to hold Frederick Pinney Earle. Belated wayfarers out in the country a bit, not more than a mile from the Earle estate, on toward 11 o'clock, might have seen light streaming from a barn, and had they entered they would have found more than 100 of the farmers and not a few of the village folk assembled in meeting; and had they remained long enough they would have seen the passage of a resolution which calls on Frederick Pinney Earle to betake himself, bag and baggage, from Monroe and never return more.

At the Wharf.

Mrs. Ferdinand P. Earle, the discard ed wife of Ferdinand Pinney Earle, art ist, vegetarian, sonneteer, advocate of the freedom of love, socialist and all-around poseur, sailed for Boulogne-sur-Mer at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon on the Holland-American liner Ryndam with her two-year-old son.

But Ferdinand Earle himself did not But Ferdinand Earle himself did not wait to wave a farewell as the ship was pulled into the stream. Blanching at the hooting and threats of the crowd that had gathered at the pier, a more serious demonstration than the hissing of his neighbors that had speeded him from his country home in Monroe a few hours earlier, he hurried to a cab, and as a crowd of longshoremen and other workers gathered about, even seizing the harness, he shrank back into his seat as the driver whipped up his horse and got away with his fare.

Ferdinand Earle is tall, pale, shambling in his gait and empty featured. He wears a beard, a cross between the mode of Governor Hughes, of Bert Levy and that of the late lamented Elijah Dowie. His eyes are weak and watery, their lids

Justifies His Conduct.

Justifies His Conduct.

New York, Sept. 6.—Ferdinand Pinney Earle, the Orange County artist-socialist, who set his fellow townsmen at Monroe and other persons all agog by shipping his young wife and their little son, Harold, off to Europe, so that he may obtain the freedom he needs to marry another woman, has written to the World a lengthy defence of his action, his text being recent criticism of himself by a woman writer. He says:

"There is nothing brutal or immoral in our whole affair, except the attitude of the papers, which are the helplessly and hopelessly senseless and harmful servants of exploited millions.

"I regret this notoriety for the sake of the noble woman who is going partly out of my life, and for the sake of the families who do not necessarily share so ur views. As for Harold, he goes to loving and loveable frignds, and shall ever enjoy a father's portection and, we trust, shall live to vindicate his parents."

The crowd was orderly and kept on the sidewalk, so that the fire laddieshad no fear of causing bodily injury to any of the spectators. They kad a clear road and they made a brilliant showing.

The illumination was as bright as usual. The grand stands had their usual crowd. The throng of sightseers was happy. All in all it was another gala day, notwithstanding the fact that there was rain.

The military feature of McKinley day, consisting of a parade of regulers, State militia and Canadian militia, awakened the greatest enthusiam among thous ands of Buffalo people and out of town guests who thronged the sidewalks along the entire line of march and filled all wirdows and other coigns of vantage.

Are Some of the Gardeners Violating Their Contracts?

The market gardeners who signed contracts last winter with the canning companies to sell their crop of tomatoes at 25 cents a bushel are "kicking themselves," as the market price of that selves," as the market price of that commodity is very much higher and is likely to be much higher throughout the season. Tomatoes on the Central Market are selling at 20 to 30 cents a basket, and as three properly filed baskets make a bushel, the price in open market is from 60 to 90 cents a bushel. It is alleged that some of these gardeners are not carrying out their contracts to take their tomato crop to the factories, but instead are selling them on the quiet to dealers or on the market. In consequence of this some of the companies are threatening to take legal proceedings against some of them for breach of contract. There is some talk of getting out injuctions against them, to stop them from selling tomatoes to others that the canners.

The march made by the French troops on Tuesday was the longest one yet, and marks the utmost that General Drude an possibly do with the force, yet this strong force, made up of picked men, whose armament can be described as crushing as compared to that of the Moors, was heavily engaged throughout the entire encounter. "It is a fine job as far as it has gone, and although it will be rather costly, I think the sand sucker will do the work, if given a chance," he said. The Mayor says that the story that the sucker stopped work yesterday because something was wrong with the machinery was a false alarm. He was down at the basins last night and was informed that it was necessary when a strip was cleared to stop work and move the sucker. A startling story reached the sucker. One thing the Mayor insisted on was the shutting of the intake and plugging the conduit while the basin is being cleaned. He says it was all right when the sucker was working in one corner of the basin, but that there would be danger of some of the stuff being carried in by the cur-

And, as the waiters came in at that moment to lay the cloth, Doris had to stifle whatever curiosity she might feel until the meal was over, and dessert left them by themselves again. Then Charle began to grow mischevous and Gussie nervous, until, as the only alternative to having his news told for him with esphelishments such as he did not care to hear, the latter blurted it out himself without much attempt at introduction. "This is what Papillon is driving at," he said, with a scornful look a third without much attempt at introduction. "This is what Papillon is driving at," he said, with a scornful look a bifriend. "I—I am going to be married to Hilda Warren."

At was a surprise, certainly, and, alsa fore-humanity, rather a painful one to Doris! She had never entertained any sadtimental feeling for Gussie; but, at this: time, when she was stranded in the world, very badly off for affection, the beige in his constant and chivalrous devotion had a certain soothing quality which had caused her, while paying more attention to her other visitor than to high to feel an unacknowledged consolation; in his appearance at the time of her trial much stronger than any afformed by Charlie's lively chatter. So biff the sudden discovery of the rapidity with his passion founded on nothing startonger than sentiment can change its object was a shock to her. She congartulated him nevertheless warmly-more warmly, of course, after the first former and the summand the summand that a done if the amouncement had not had the resomewhat. Papillon, whose flirtation with Hilda had been known to be as serious as Charlie ever allowed his filtrations to be, should not only have the sang-froid to light to Doris's congratulations with whim interest, but to take quite a glee-fil view of his lady-love's speedy consolation for his own defection. He wanted to know when they would be married, where they proposed to live, and a hundred other things not usually decided off-hand in the first week of an engagement. Gussie began to get irritated and Doris to laugh at him.

"Have you then already settled the exact number of months of every year this you propose to spend in town and the color of the furniture of gery room in the house? You have been so busily

Exactly as he would have dropped from an animated and interesting discussion with a girl about Irving's acting to a 'dry and disagreeable discourse with his tailor about "that little account," Charlie from bright and excited became uninterested and off-hand in manner. "Thanks!" said he. "Oh, yes, she's a 'very nice girl! Have you ever met her?"

"If think so—once, at Mrs. Dryden's.

There was a short silence, Gussie say.

There was a short silence, Gussie saying nothing because what he would have liked to remark would have been too strong to be civil, and Doris because she was wondering how, with the example before his eyes of David's marriage with a rich woman he did not greatly cate for Charlie could boldly take a similar step himself. Charlie of course broke the silence himself.

"Shall we go for a walk, Doris. Do let us go for a walk! It's quite early, and it thin to be took of hair I promised you. It isn't a very big lock, because me' hair's coming out, and so I can't spare much; but then it's all the more precious, you know because the supply limited."

So Doris was prevailed upon to get restly for a walk on the cliff; and then, whether by his not unerring intention to by private arrangement with Charlie, Charlie could did, when they came to a knot of geople drop behind and get to all intents lost for a time, leaving Doris and the chattertox Papillon alone, Charlie suffered his flow of what he called conversation to slacken, and finally to cease when they got far enough up the cliff to be out to f the throng of people. Doris made no remark on Gussie's defection, and is suffered herself to be led-to the railing that protected the promenade, having a presentiment that these preliminaries were to lead to something. Charlie could never be silent, or almost silent, for almost silent, for almost silent, for almost without come altegedther grave and portentious object in raview. When, however, he fixed his roand blue eyes upon her and began to spath, there was no particular expression on his face to denote that he was about to discourse of anything more in transition. A single discourse of anything more in the count was taken to the purpose of settling a most delicate question with the count. these minutes at a time without some altegether grave and portentious object in naiew. When, however, he fixed his round blue eyes upon her and began to speak, there was no particular expression on his face to denote that he was about to discourse of anything more interesting than the seals at the aquarium.

"H. say, Doris," he began, colloquially,
"yan don't mean to stay here any long:
cr by yourself, do you?"
"Why not?" lasked Doris, in a serious and tremulous voice.
"Well your brown it locks so odd!"

Why not? asked Doris, in a scrious and tremulous voice.

"Well, you know, it looks so odd!"

"It is an odd circumstance that brings me, here—at least, it seems odd to me."

Yes; but you know your staying here conft do any good. And, on the other hand, perhaps, if you were to meet him, it would be very unpleasant for both of you, just now; sand he, being off his head as it were just now, and bothered and worried, he might—well, there's no saying how he might take it."

"Indeed it is very hard upon him that he, should be liable to the annoyance of meating his wife!" said Doris, with rising spirit.

"No, no; of course he's to blame; he has, done very wrong, and he deserves anything you could eay to him. But, Dorls, David is really—I must say it—ing for them ever since.

They were all rather subdued as they walked back to the Queen's, where they said good-bye, as the young men had to return to town early the next morning. return to town early the next morning.
On the following afternoon Doris returned to London. She called upon her grandmother in the evening, and was much relieved on discovering that the old lady did not attempt to take her to task for her escapade; she had even the self-restraint to abstain from any reference to David, so that the visit passed off quite tranquilly.

Doris lived through the next few days in a dream-like objectless manner, al ways hoping for some tidings, but almost despatring of the penitent return Charlie and Mrs. Edgeombe seemed to expect. At last tidings came.

ast tidings came.

She had been back in her own home a week when Charlie Papillon called upon her late one afternoon, and greeted her with a subdued excitement which made her draw back, look anxiously into his face, and whisper—

"Go and put your things on, Doris," he answered mysteriously, and not with out triumph. "Remember, it was I who found him."

found him."

He would not tell her anything more then; but, as they drove along a few minutes later in the direction of the city, he doled out, bit by bit, jealously, proudly, the intelligence he had for her—how, hearing a messenger had been sent David's office in Somerset House asking if there were any letters for Mr Glyn, he had waylaid that boy, and bribed him to disclose Mr. Glyn's hiding place, which proved to be a city lodging house; how he had further learned that nouse; now he had further learned that Mr. Glyn was ill, upon the receipt of which tidings he had at once resolved not to waste time by going to investi-gate for himself, but to take Doris with him.

"He is ill, then?" Doris said, in a low voice, when he had finished his recital.

"Oh, don't be alarmed about that, Doris! Providence has only sent him a little touch of indisposition to make him more amenable to good influences," said Charlie, who was getting hilarious in the belief that all would come right at last.

EXPORTS TO NEW ZEALAND. Canada's Trade With That Colony Has Increased.

Increased.

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—Reporting to the Trade and Commerce Department, Mr. J. S. Larke notes that while Canada largely shared in the general increase of the trade of New Zealand for 1906, imports to the colony from the United States have fallen off. New Zealand's imports from Canada for the year were £157,088, as against £96,119 in 1905, while New Zealand's exports to Canada decreased from £51,399 to £29,815, the falling off being altogether in direct exports of wool and skins. The New Zealand tariff maintains the preference to all Canadian goods except paper hang land tariff maintains the preference to all Canadian goods except paper hangings; but the new tariff on cheap boots and shoes will be almost prohibitive amounting to about 60 per cent.

Canadian brands of canned salmon have so far secured the bulk of the orders. In Melbourne alone, during the past few weeks, over 15,000 cases of British Columbia salmon have been placed.

Brockville Man Drowned. Buffalo, Sept. 5.—William Casey, a watchman on the steamer Clarion, was drowned in Buffalo Creek to-night while trying to release the steamer's lines. He was a young man, a native of Brock-ville, where his brother is proprietor of the Grand Central Hotel.

Through a Window.

Mrs. Sarah Lord, 19 Burlington street, east, had a narrow-escape from being badly burned this morning in a fire which started in a bedroom in the house. Mrs. Lord was cleaning out the room when she stepped on a "cracker" match, which set fire to some paper. She attempted to put out the fire, but it got beyond her control, and by the time neighbors came to her assistance had gained such head way that Mrs. Lord could not get out of the room by the door. Some clearheaded persons, though, smashed the window and pulled Mrs. Lord out. She received a bruise on her arm, and her hair was badly singed. The loss will not exceed $35 or $40.

ROBBERY OF SMITH.

Buffalo Police Have Arrested Two Men on Suspicion.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 6.—(Special)—If the allegations of the Buffalo police prove true, it is not so remarkable that Smith, a Hamilton fireman, was robbed here of $100, which he carried in his bed here of $100, which he carried in his trousers pocket on firemen's day of the Old Home Week celebration, for two men whom the police aver have international reputations for eleverness as pick-pockets have been placed under arrest and are held upon the specific charge of having robbed Smith. Their names are Charles Meyer and Abe Johnson, of New York City. They had considerable money when arrested: Their pictures, the police say, decorate the rogues' galleries of the big cities. They will be held until Smith has a look at them.

RELIGIOUS FRENZY.

Niagara Falls, Sept. 6.—Benjamin Tanner, an aged resident of Comanche, Ia., is confined at Memorial Hospital suffering from religious mania. He came ere last week to attend the convention of the Watch Tower Bible & Tract Soci ety, and during all of the sessions he was most fervent in Bible reading. At the general praise meeting last night, Tanner became greatly excited, Attempts to quiet him were futile. He was violent and raved about the Scriptures.

was violent and raved about the Scriptures.

It took the combined efforts of three men to subdue him, and Dr. Hodge was called. He ordered Tanner to the hospital. When Tanner arrived at the institution he was more quiet and he was put to bed. When the nurses were not watching he arose and tried to jump from a window. A patient saw him and cried out that the man was trying to escape, Another struggle to subdue Tanner ensued and he was placed in a restraining sheet. Throughout the night he was raving over the Bible.

One of the delegates to the convention said to-day that Tanner was one of the best posted men on the Bible in the country. He has spent years of study on the book and it is not uncommon for him to be deeply moved when the Bible is under discussion.

Stocks and Bonds

Noon stock letter received by A. E. Carpenter from Ennis & Stoppani:
New York, Sept. 6.—The market during the morning displayed resiliency with considerable profit taking and some offerings from London in evidence. The rumor that an extra dividend would be immediately declared by Northern Pacirumor that an extra dividend would be immediately declared by Northern Pacific was a stimulating factor. President Topping, of R. B. C., says that while current demand is not as pressing as earlier in the year, new business booked since July 1 has been up to the maximum producing capacity of the company. Mr. Heinze says copper has weakened in price because of general monetary conditions which have curtailed operations of consumers but that money the trip price because of general mole-tary conditions which have curtailed op-erations of consumers, but that money conditions are bound to improve in the near future and then consumers will buy copper freely. During the past two years earnings of the car foundry have shown a steady increase for each quar-ter, the report just received showing net earnings of over $2,500,000 for the July 31 quarter. James Speyer, returning from Europe, says the causes of finan-cial stringency are largely international and of more or less temporary charac-ter. New York city bond issue will, we believe, be an unqualified success. Some of the best buying to-day centres in Pennsylvania and Smelters' Pennsyl-vania sheet for July show fair net in-crease, and is a marked improvement crease, and is a marked improvement over recent monthly reports. The mar-ket is in the hands of powerful interests, and we anticipate further bettermen in -Ennis & Stoppani.

WHO SHOT HIM?

MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING OF A MAN IN INDIANA.

Wife Was Also Shot and Slightly Wounded-Man May Have Committed Suicide, But Suspicion is Directed Against His Wife.

Brazil, Ind., Sept. 6.-Dr. Edward Glas go, a physician, is dead from three bul let holes through his head, and his wife as a result of a mysterious shooting last night. is slightly wounded in the left breast, as a result of a mysterious shooting last night.

Glasgo and his wife had separated, Glasgo applying for a divorce, Mrs. Glasgo, accompanied by Attarney Charles Whitlock, of Terre Haute, drove to a brick plant, where Glasgo was to try to arrange a settlement of alimony. Whitlock got out of the buggy and Glasgo got in and started to drive back to the city when the shooting occurred.

When physicians reached the scene Glasgo was unconacious in the buggy and soon died. Mrs. Glasgo refused to talk of the shooting. A revolver with buggy.

...... MISS CULP'S CASE.

Charge Against Park Caretaker Withdrawn.

Toronto, Sept. 6 .- A suit claiming a thousand dollars damages instituted by Lawyer W. H. Irving, of Toronto, on behalf of a maid, Miss Culp, in his employ, against Caretaker Kendall, ploy, against Caretaker Kendall, of Grimsby. Park, for alleged assault, is to be dropped, it is said. This is an interesting case. When Mr, Justice Mulock ruled that owners of cottages were not to be mulcted of the entrance fee at the Grimsby Park gate, he also ruled that these cottagers were not entitled to any of the privileges appertaining to people who did pay the entrance fee.

One evening in July Miss Culp took two of the Irving children to the pavilion, and was there enjoying the concert, when Caretaker Kendall, who is also a special constable, appeared and cert, when Caretaker Rengail, who is also a special constable, appeared and asked her for her ticket. She told him she hadn't any. "Then you must leave," said Kendall. The girl refused to go, whereupon Kendall, after making the she hadn't any. "Then you must leave," said Kendall. The girl refused to go, whereupon Kendall, after making the request three times, to comply with the law, asked permission of a number of hadica scated between to walk over the backs of the chairs in order to eject the girl. At this the young woman, it is said, got up and left, daring Kendall to put his hands upon her. Kendall claims that though he might lawfully have done so, he never touched the girl. She says he took her by the arm. Hence the suit.

After the girl left, the caretaker went to the two Irving children, who were seated with their grandmother in another part of the pavilion, and asked them for tickets, and requested them to leave when they said they hadn't any.

The suit against the caretaker was brought by Silas Culp, father of the girl in question, but he has singe given orders to stop the action.

Mrs. Stewart, a resident of New York State, well known in Toronto, who owns a cottage at Grimsoy Park, is likely to be sued for 25 cents, the price of admission to the closing concert at the park last week. She at tended the concert without a ticket, it is claimed, though they were on sale at 25 cents.

Mr. Gripton appeared before Chief Justice Mulock yesterday morning, and announced that by consent the case had been dropped.

STOP WORK ON THAT SWITCH

Street Railway Serves Injunction the Grand Trunk.

Gang Protected Company's Track During the Night.

"War Party" Dissatisfied With Ont Railway Board's Action.

Work on the switch to the new city yards, which the Board of Works has been urging the company to hasten to completion, was brought to a sudden stop, yesterday afternoon, when the Grand Trunk was served with an injunction by the Hamilton Street Railway. The latter company contends that itself proper course is for the Grand Trunk: to approach the Dominion Railway Com: Illustrated to approach the Dominion Railway Com: Illustrated to the Properties of the Company Review Parton P mission for permission to cross Barton street with another track. The Street mission for permission to cross Barton street with another track. The Streets' Railway would be put to the expense of moving its derailers back some foether and it thinks the city or G. T. R. shoulding the cost. The gang was ready to all a street with the service of moving its derailers of the works stopped. The G. T. R. has already been put to considerable expense installing the switch, and it looks as if the city finght get stuck for the cost of moving the derailers.

There is quite a story in connection with the serving of the injunction. May J. O'Reilly, acting for the Hamilton's Street Railway, got out of hed about 3.30 this morning to serve it. The insigunction restrains the G. T. R. frome tearing up or interfering in any ways with the street railway's track without the consent of the street railway or that Railway Commission. The G. T. R. started about 3 o'clock this morning to put in the other track over the street, railway's tracks. Half an hour later! started about 3 o'clock this morning toput in the other track over the street railway's tracks. Half an hour later. Mr. O'Reilly was called to the telephone, and told what was going on. He calledoup the G. T. R. and ordered that their work be stopped. The request was regulated and then Mr. O'Reilly wrote out a writ of summons, and ordered Rosdomaster Haley, of the Street Railway. Company, with a gang of men to go down and stop the work. This was about 4 o'clock. Mr. O'Reilly went to Judge Monek's residence, but was unable to get him until near 6 o'clock. Judge Monek signed the injunction, and Mr. O'Reilly served it on the G. T. R. about 7 o'clock this morning. It will continue, until the 13th of September.

The City Solicitor received a letter from the secretary of the Ontario Rall way and Municipal Board this morning instructing him that the course to purious sue over the Herkimer street matter was in the same the company with notice, so to serve the company with notice, so that a date could be fixed. While Mr. to serve the company with notice, so that a date could be fixed. While Mr. Waddell would make no comments, some of the city officials affect to be dier, gusted with the methods pursued by this Board. They say there is none of what they call "this nonsense" when applying to the Dominion Railway. Board, and that things are done there, in a business-like way. They also say it is a funny thing that the stry was not notified a month ago, when it made the application, of the course it should take in getting the date arranged. The Board of Works is applying for an order to force the company to again narrow the devil strip on Herkimer street to four feet and put the roadbed back in proper shape. It does not expect that its request will be granted, but it hopost the Board will "compromise" by making the company pay part of the cost of paving not called for in the by-law.

Of course the Railway Board is pure.

Of course the Railway Board is purasuing its regular course in requiring the other party in the case to be served with notice, as its functions are that of a court of justice. A great many peopla are convinced that the aldermen by seeking to "use" the Board in their attempt to hold up the Street Railway are very ill advised, and are likely to gain nothing, while the people are put to much inconvenience.

Although it was announced on pretty good authority some weeks ago that them. Coal Oil Inlet matter was a dead issue, and politics was at the bottom of it, W. L. Ross, who was engaged as the solictor, to represent the private parties who it was promised would push the thing to a finish, intimated this morning that there would be something doing in a day; or so. The inference was that a High-Court action would be begun against the parties concerned at once. Mr. Ross said, he had not heard that matter was to be the had not heard that matter was to be dropped. How an action could be begun. contraction would be begun against the parties concerned at once. Mr. Ross said he had not heard that matter was to be dropped. The E. C. Atkins Company, the big industrial concern from Indianapolis, which has purchased the old Hoepfrer works and a big block of land, will begin, work on the buildings at once. It is expected the plant will be in full operation-by February, employing 250 hands. Through a typographical error, it was stated yesterday that the price paid for the land and buildings was in the neighbor borhood of $150,000. This should have been $50,000. Toronto, St. Catharinese and Niagara Falls were strong competitutes for the concern, and sent personalize tors for the concern, and sent personalize to get it. The Atkins people, however, decided Hamilton offered the best advangates. The E. C. Atkins Company, the big

THE COATS CASE.

THE COATS CASE.

Toronto, Sept. 6.—The Provincial Government, which is defendant in an action brought by Coats & Co., the London financial men, made a motion in the High Court asking that the plaintiff be required to furnish further particulars. Coats & Co. claim to have sold some temporary bonds for the Province under an agreement with Hon. Mr. Harcourt, whereby they were to handle the permanent issue. The Whitney Government, however, placed the issue with other brokers, wherefore Coats & Co. sued for $14,600 commission on the temporary bonds sold. The motion to-day was to require Coats & Co. to supply the names of the parties to whom the honds were sold and the prices paid. Judgment was reserved.

THE HAMILTON TIMES

FRIDAY, SEPT. 6, 1907.

TEACHERS AND SALARIES. The Board of Education last night re solved on a general increase in the remuneration of Collegiate Institute teachers, and also added $300 a year to Inspector Ballard's salary. Increases are found to be inevitable if good men are to be retained, and the advance made is probably not out of keeping with the general increase in salaries and the cost of living. But the total of the salaries bill will show a marked increase when the year's estimates are prepared. The cost of education increases annually, and it is important that good results should be obtained for the outlay.

Both in Public Schools and Collegiate Institute, salaries of teachers are now regulated entirely by length of service. The teacher begins at a fixed minimum increasing by stated amounts annually up to a fixed maximum. We do not think the arrangement is a perfect one by any means. Of course something is properly allowed for length of service. A teacher can hardly do his best in his first year of teaching in a new field; mrocover, years of faithful service merit recognition. But no machine-like syscan grade brains, devotion and capa city. It is quite possible that many of teachers who have served but two or three years merit the maximum of the scale of salaries as truly as others who may have served several times as long. And it is in the interest of the of efficiency and progress—that something more than mere length of service should be taken into account in fixing the pay of the teachers. Payment by results is advanced as the true method by some: but results are hard to arrive at with certainty; the teaching of a roomful of pupils being very unlike toes or the nailing together of so many boxes. Much is made of examination and we should not minimize their value-but they are not everything; they may even be deceptive as an index of teaching capacity. Teachers may have indifferent material to work upon; pupils may try who have not had unding regarded as necessary by the teachers; and there may be other elements of weakness. It is even some times the case that the teacher whose work has the greatest and most beneficent influence in developing the minds average length of human life has advancand building up the character of the ed from thirty-three to nearly forty pupils under his or her care is not the years, and he predicts that within two most successful, judged by mere examination results. Yet who will say that The doctor may have his prediction or he or she has not served the better end?

think that, as far as possible, individralization of the staff should be kept in view, and that in addition to the slidscale of service, something-very much-should be allowed for special fitness and capacity as shown in the work of the teacher. There are difficulties in the way of basing salaries entirely on individual merit, but it is poor policy to ignore it. Confidential reports of headters and inspectors, carefully considered in the interest of the schools, cannot but be helpful. "By the day" has an evil significance in many occupations; "by the year" should not be allowed to have a similar deadening effect on the teaching staffs of our schools. And to guard agains it we should take measures to encourage, to stimulate, to a healthy pride in the work, backed by the sub stantial rewards given to special merit

> A contemporary boasts that Port Arthur's municipal power works have made a profit and that current is sold at $25 per horse-power. That, of course, is a very incomplete statement. But there is little wonder that is has a margin of profit at that price, if it applies to sales in quantities from a 2,500 horse-power plant, Steam or producer gas power would be much cheaper. With the possession of a cheap natural facility for production, and a monopoly of the field, there is no reason why even a very wastefully managed municipal service should not yield a profit.

SKIN SOFT AS A BABY'S AND WITHOUT A SCAR

"I have a cousin in Rockingham Co. who once had a skin disease from her birth until she was six years of age. Her father had spent a fortune on her to get her cured and none of the treatments did her any good. Old Dr. Gusugested that he try the Cuticura Remedies which he did. When he commenced to use it the child was almost in a solid scab. He had used it about two months and the child was well. I was there when they commenced to use your Cuticura Remedies. I stayed that week and then returned home and stayed two weeks and then went back and stayed with them two weeks longer and when I went home I could hardly believe she was the same child. Her skin was as soft as a baby's without a scar on it. I have not seen her in seventeen years but I havelseard from her and the last time I heard from her she was well. That is where I became acquainted with Cuticura. I hope this may be of some service to you in the future. Mrs. W. P. Ingle, Burlington, N. C., June 16, 1905."

A MILKMAN WAS FINED $20.

J. F. Bethune Found Guilty Charge of Assault.

Complainant Was Jas. Johnson, a Cut Rate Dealer.

Proprietor of the Arlington Fined $100 For Bartender's Act.

Much interest was taken in the "milkmen's assault" case at the Police Court this morning. The defendants were Jas. F. Bethune, Ryckman's Corners, and his driver, Ernest Franks. They were charged with assaulting James Johnson, and through their counsel, Mr. Geo. S. Kerr they pleaded not guilty.

Johnson said that he sold milk in the city for 6c a quart or one cent cheaper than the other dealers, and for this the "association" was sore at him. Beth-une's driver called him a "scab" and he une's driver called him a "scab" and he caught the boy and forced him to give his name. Bethune met him later on James street north and stopping him called him names and hit him. There was a mix-up, he said, but it was all over when he managed to get on his feet. Bethune denied calling names and said that before he struck Johnson, the latter hit him on the face with his whip. Then he went "to it" and Franks helped him. The Magistrate said he was satisfied that Johnson was assaulted, and he fied that Johnson was assaulted, and he fined Bethune $20 and bound him over in the sum of $100 to keep the peace.

Franks was fined $5.

George Midwinter, of the Arlington Hotel, pleaded guilty through Mr. George S. Kerr, to a charge of obstructing Inspector Birrell in the discharge of his duty. Mr. Kerr said that Midwinter's bartonder had alocad that Midwinter's bartonder had alocad that midwinter's duty. Mr. Kerr said that Midwinter's bar-tender had closed the door in the inspec-tor's face but that it was without his knowledge. The Magistrate followed the precedent of Judge Landis and imposed the maximum penalty which proved to be a fine of $100.

the maximum penalty which proved to be a fine of $100.

Peebles, Hobson & Co., pleaded guilty, through Mr. Hobson, to eelling liquor after hours on Saturday night. Mr. Hobson said that the man to whom the liquor was sold lived at the same place that one of his clerks boarded at and it was personal influence that caused the infraction of the law. The Magistrate imposed the minimum fine, $50.

Constables Bainbridge and Hawthorne were called to 49 Hughson street north about 4.30 this morning to take charge of three young men whom Norman L. Smith accused of theft. Henry Smith, Frank McGinn and Joe McGarr were the nafnes they gave and numerous addresses were given. Smith beards at Norman Smith's house and late last night took his friends to his 'room, and it is claimed that in the "wee sma" hours of the Smith's house and late last night took his friends to his room, and it is claimed that in the "wee sma" hours of the morning the men stripped the house from top to obtain. They were arrested in a room in the garret and it is enid a lot of the lost articles were recovered on them. The Crown Attorney asked for a remand till Wednesday, which was granted, and the three prisoners were refused bail.

John Badeau, 75 Robert street, was lined, $2, for being drunk and disorderly

John Badeau, 75 Robert street, was Jined $2 for being drunk and disorderly on King William street last night.

Thomas Johnson, 303 Mary street, was remanded till Monday to give the police a chance to find the owner of the rachet brace and bit found on him.

Frank Martin, Montreal, Mike Tucker, Jackeon street east, John Dougherty, Barton, and John Crossover, Waterdown, were fined $2 each for being drunk.

TORONTO DROWNING

Harry Brown, From Nassagaweya Fell Off Geddes' Wharf.

A drowning accident occurred at 7.15 last night at the foot of Yonge street, by which a young man, supposed to be Harry Brown, a visitor to the Exhibi Harry Brown, a visitor to the Exhibi-tion, from Nassagaweya, Ont., lost his life. Brown was seen to slip and fall into the water from the pier between the Ferry and Hamilton Steamboat Com-panies' wharves. His body was recov-ered fifteen minutes later.

The only document found on him which affords a clue to his identification is the receipt portion of a post office which affords a clue to his identification is the receipt portion of a post office money order issued last week at Nassagaweya to Harry Brown for a small sum of money to be remitted to C. Cox, II Barchester street, Poplar, England.

A photograph of deceased and three other men taken in an automobile in an Exhibition tent was also found on him. He is a man of about 27 years of age, 5 feet 10 inches in height, fair complexion and small, fair moustache. He was dressed in a dark tweed suit and light fedora hat, and looks like a laborer.

The body was removed to the morgus, where it awaits identification.

LIBRARY BOARD.

First Meeting of the Autumn Was Held Yesterday.

SOMEBODY IS WRONG

Borden Denies the Sworn Story of His Henchman.

(Montreal Herald.)

Mr. Graham, of the Montreal Star, said on oath, in the course of a trial that took place right after the elections of 1904s, that he had received certains instructions from Mr. Borden. "About the 24th of October—23rd or 24th of October—1 received a letter from Mr. Borden, the chief, telling me that moneys must not be handled by any person, I believe — I won't quote the exact words, but to the effect that money must not be handled by men in the party, in public life, or words to that effect, and that it was better to have, in oach Province, persons appointed who were in every way acceptable to the party, locally. I sent a copy of that to all the different Provinces where I was giving my assistance, if will be remembered, consistence in "making them gifts of means?" took place right after the elections of from first to last, and I absolutely dis-own any connection with them."

The word, as our French friends say, is with Mr. Graham. No doubt he will know how to meet this challenge of his Meantime, Mr. Borden must not expect to get rid of the business so lightly. "Something," he said, "has been said about some money spent in the Province in the fall of 1904. I know nothing about that sum of money. I do not believe that the Conservative party has any fund out of which any such sum of money could have been sent." That, to say the least of it, is ungenerous.

Borden talks electoral purity. Mr. Graham is in cipher communication with the local party managers, and is sending them four and five thousand a day each with which, no doubt, to give practical effect to Mr. Borden's fine talk It is quite an engaging ignorance, this ignorance of Mr. Borden's, but it won't wash.

Action Deferred by the Committee Till Next Meeting.

The Internal Management Committee of the Board of Education last night ecommended! that the salaries of several of the Collegiate Institute teachers be increased. On motion of Messrs. Howell and Lazier, it was decided to increase the salary of Principal Thompson from $2,200 to $2,500, beginning Sept. 1 and tp give him a yearly increase of $100 till $3,000 is reached. Chairman Howell remarked that the doctor's letter was very different from the letters generally received from employees of the Board. No action was taken on it, the secretary being simply instructed to acknowledge the receipt of it.

There was some talk with reference to the qualifications of some of the teachers, both in the Public and High Schools. Some time ago Inspectof Ballard was instructed to bring in a report to the committee of the qualifications and capacities of the Public School teachers, the idea being that any who were reported on unfavorably should be dismissed.

President M'Ewing's Statement Questioned---Northwest Crop Reports.

(Toronto Globe.)

In the accompanying article on the business outlook it will be observed that President McEwing, of the Farmers' Association, bases his pessimistic forecast on the hypothesis that the crops are a third less in volume than they were last year, and that they are, therefore, worth a third less in money to the producer. The consumer of farm products knows that this is not the case, and that in very many cases the farmer will be as well off with the smaller crop as with the larger. Here are the highest prices quoted for some of the chief products of the farm on the local market yesterday and a year ago on the corresponding day:

		Price	Price a	Price in-	į
	ye	sterday.	year ago. o	rease, p.c.	į
Ontario white wheat, No. 2 (outside)	 	$0 87	$0 701/2	24
Manitoba No. 1 Northern (lake ports).	 	1 021/2	79	29
Oats, No. 2 (outside)	 	43	31	39
Corn, No. 3 yellow (Toronto)	 	72	571/2	24
Barley, No. 2 (outside)		531/8	481/2	10
Peas, No. 2 (outside)		7536	1 75	0 2-3
Hay (in bulk)		18 00	15 00	20
Straw		14 00	13 00	7 1-2
Hogs (dressed)	 	9 25	9 50	*2 3-5
Hogs (live)		6 25	6 40	*21-3
-Butter		27	25	8
Eggs	 	25	22	1.3
Export cattle (Toronto market)		5 10	4.90	6

It will be observed that the increase in the price of oats, the crop that shows poorest results, is over 39 per cent. This will go far to make up for the shortage in the crop to those who sell the oats. In the case of the farmers—the vastly greater number—who use oats for feed the increase in the selling price live stock that is almost inevitable will go far to compensate. The late grass and root crop may yet do much to save the feed situation as a result of recent heavy rains. The farmer of Ontario is many milestones this side of ruin.

McEwing's Statement.

Toronto, Sept. 6.—President McEwing of the Farmers' Association, made scatement at Tuesday's meeting of the speciation that has set every financial authority and mercantile expert in the country athirst for information. His prediction that the comparative crops abortage of the year would give the farmers of the Province 880,080,000 less to spend than in 1906 is regarded with alarm by some and derlaion by many. Here is the remarkable statement that has caused scarching of barns, pestures, grain bins, and pocketbooks in Tural Ontario for the past three days: of the Farmers' Association, made a statement at Tuesday's meeting of the association that has set every financial authority and mercantile expert in the country athirst for information. His prediction that the comparative crop shortage of the year would give the farmers of the Province $80,000,000 less to spend than in 1906 is regarded with alarm by some and derlision by many. Here is the remarkable statement that has caused searching of barns, pastures, grain bins, and pocketbooks in rivial Ontario for the past three days: 1. Tegret very much that, owing to the extraordinary season which we have experienced, the results of the year's operations are likely to prove disappointing to the farmers of Ontario. From the best ishformation available there is no doubt that the bay, grain, and root crops in Ontario for 1907 will be at least one-third less than the average crop for the last eight or ten years. This will mean less beef, bacon, mut ton, cheese and butter. It is also a matter of grave concern in many districts how the necessary food is to be provided for the farm stock during the coming fall and winter months. There is no doubt that large numbers will have to be sacrificed, to a large extent, to meet the requirements of the situation.

"It has been estimated by good au tion.

"It has been estimated by good authorities that the value of the products of Ontario farms for the year 1906 reached the enormous total of $250,000, 1900. If this estimate is a correct one, the partial failure of the crops of 1907 will mean a difference of over $87,000, 900 to the Ontario farmers; they will have that much less to compensate them for their toil, and they will have that much less to expend for the necessities and comforts of life for themselves and their families."

The Sun's Estimate Where the Farmer Gaina.

Mr. Madden, of the William Ryan Company, Limited, provision dealers, speaking in regard to the prices of dairy produce, pointed out that, generally speaking, they had been unusually high. He regarded the stateemnt of President McEwing as being a most extraordinary one, and utterly failed to see how anyone at the present time could be in a position to make such an estimate. As a matter of fact, he suspected President McEwing as having been doing some pretty tall guessing.

The Sun's Estimate.

The Farmers' Sun, which has certainly of been unduly optimistic, says in its not been unduly optimistic, says in its last issue:

"So far as Ontario is concerned the facts given in the report of the Department of Agriculture clearly show that the value of the grain crops in this Province is at least $12,000.000 below the average of the previous five years. By the time the returns from all crops are figured out, and account is taken of the decline in dairying, it will probably be found that the shortage in this season's operations as compared with the previous five, is between fifteen and twenty millions. It is absolutely certain that proportionate losses have been sustained in the west; if we have a really severe frost within two weeks the western losses may be still greater. There is no occasion for panie, but it is better to face the situation boldly than it would be to closs ation boldly than it would be to close our eyes to obvious facts."

Outrageous, Says Mr. Watts.

Outrageous, Says Mr. Watta.

The position he holds as Secretary of the Dominion Millers' Association entables Mr. C. B. Watts to speak with some authority in regard to the matter of the prices of cereals and his opinion with regard to possible returns from this year's crop may be regarded as also having some weight. When interviewed yesterday and asked his opinion as to President McEwing's statement, Mr. Wattastated at once, using no equivocal language.

haring some weight. When interviewed yesterday and casked his opinion as to President McEwing's statement, Mr. Watts stated at once, using no equivocal larguage: 'It is an outrageous statement, and should be contradicted. President McEwing, however, has made a definite statement. He has given figures, and I am not prepared to say anything wittout figures before me, but I am certain that he is wrong.'

After looking up statistics and making comparisons, Mr. Watts said: "I was astonished to see Mr. McEwing's estimate that there would be a reduction this year of $80-000,000 in the value of the form produce of Ontario. I cannot imagine how he arrived at those figures. The shortage has complained about principally is in the grain crop and dairy produce. I feel sure that he has greatly overestimated the position so far as the grain is concerned, and that the crops in Ontario are not nearly as bad as they were thought to be a few weeks ago.

"The value of the grain crop of Ontario, including hay, last year was roughly estimated at $110,000,000. Wheat to-day is bringing twenty per cent, more than it was a year ago, and yet the average yield is estimated at find two bushels less, according to the Government crop report. Onta are also twenty per cent, higher in price, and the average yield five andwa half bushels, or twenty per cent, higher in price, and the average yield five andwa half bushels more. While the yield of beans are fetching the same price as last year, it is too early to estimate the value. Rye will be considerably higher than last year in price, while the crop will average about a bushel and real protesses and the yield of beans are fetching the same price as last year, it is too early to estimate the value. Rye will be double what it was last year, it is not early to estimate the value. There is a shortage of oats. According to the reports, the crop will be short 40 per cent., and the barley crop will be a little short, but not much. The wheat crop, I believe, will be three quarters of an average crop. It must be borne in mind, however, that a very small portion of the oat crop is marketed, the farmers keeping it for feed, and, although the price is 25 per cent. higher than last year, the difference in price will not make up for the loss to the farmer entailed by the shortage of the crop. There has also been a shortage in the bay crop, and a serious shortage. Even having regard for that, 'I think that Mr. McEwing's statement is a gross exaggeration. The average oat crop of Ontario is 110,000,000 bushels at 40 cents a bushel instead of 20 cents, the loss entailed to the farmers would be $10,000,000, pasking that this year the crop was only 50,000,000 bushels at 40 cents a bushel instead of 20 cents, the loss entailed to the farmers would be $10,000,000, pasking in the statument made by Mr. Plews, are the statements made by Mr. Plews, are the statements made by Mr. Plews, are the statements made by for the purpose of seeing the exhibition. many destitute children that she could not support them in Scotland and was forced to find more room and cheaper food for the 300 growing boys and girls depending on her bounty.

The land of Exangeline, as pictured by Longfellow, appealed to her nature and, with her 300 waifs, she left England and senses the Atlantic, settling near Aylesford, Kings county, Nova Scotia. Her new home she called "Hill-foot Farm," and there, she added the cause of temperance to her work, organizing a branch of the W. C. T. U. in Aylesford. Through her efforts in this line Kings county, in 1894, went overwhelmigh "dry."

The following year one of her wards, a girl, became involved in serious trouble. Arrests followed, but through Miss Stirling's aggressive work in the case she incurred bitter enmity in this section, and finally, one cold winter night, her house burned to the ground. She and her children barely escaped with their lives, and were compelled to walk through the snow in their bare feet, previously bilistered by the hot embers of the burning building. In this pilight they traveled by rail to Halifox, clad only in their night clothes.

Feeling that the people of Nova Scotia were, against her, Miss Stirling disposed of her property there and came to this place, where she bought what is known as the old Miller place, the relic of an old Chester county family. Here for several years she educated and reared or phan children and found them good homes and started them in useful careers. Of late years, however, she had been forced to give up this work, on account of falling health, and for several winters had lived at Bonny Brae, Thonotossa, Fla.

SENT BY-LAW UP TO COUNCIL.

COMMITTEE DECIDES ON HOSPITAL

The Brantford & Hamilton Railway's Bond Discussed Again—Matter of Appointing a Plumbing Inspector is

The Finance Committee decided last night to send the by-law for a vote on a return to the ward system up to the City Council, although it was explained City Council, although it was explained that nothing could be done with it on the proposition to divide the city into about half the number of polling subdivisions, as at present, for the purpose of voting on the by-laws until it was seen what was going to be done about the electric pumps. A sub-committee is in the States now getting information on this question.

A resolution from the Parks Board, recommending that if the committee sawfit, a by-law to raise $10,000 for the proposed permanent art gallery at Dundurn Park, be submitted, was discussed, but it was decided to allow it to lie over until the municipal elections in January.

After reading a communication received from the Board of Health, stating that it had been agreed to leave the question of a site for the Southam Home for Advanced Cases of Consumption to the aldermen, the committee recommended the Council that it go on the City Hospital grounds.

City Solicitor Waddell advised the committee that he could see no reason why it could not collect the $10,000 bond deposited by the Brantford & Hamilton Railway to have the road completed by July 1st. One of the aldermen until irou poles were put up on Hess street, brick that nothing could be done with it on street satisfied.

Mr. John G. Gauld, the company's solicitor, said the railway had tried to live up in every respect to the by-law, and had pushed the work along as fast as possible. Every suggestion made by the City Engineer and Board of Works had been acted upon. It was impossible to satisfy the residents at the corner of Herkimer and Hess streets, unless the rails were taken up, and he had been told that by one of those interested. Mr. Gauld said he was prepared to meet the committee at any time and discuss any suggestions that might be made.

It was agreed to leave the matter over till the next meeting, and in the meantime the City Engineer will make a report on the condition of Hess street. The question of appointing a plumbing inspector was up again.

Ald Peebles said that both the men and master plumbers had strongly recommended the annointment of an inspector. Mr. John G. Gauld, the company's soli-

GRADUATION OF THE NURSES.

Interesting Function at the City Hospital Yesterday.

Need of Increased Accommodation Very Plainly Stated.

Congratulations and Advice to the Thirteen Graduates.

The closing exercises for the graduating class of the Hamilton Hospital training school for nurses were held at the Nurses' Home yesterday afternoon. There was a large attendance of the friends of the graduating class, and great interest was taken in the proceedings. Thirteen young ladies from all points in Ontario ere successful in taking diplomas and badges, and many were the words of congratulation poured in their ears.

Rev. Dr. Nelson presented the diplomas to the graduates. In his address to the ladies, Dr. Nelson said he was glad to be given an opportunity to say few words to those who werer ready take their place in the world in a a few words to those who werer ready to take their place in the world in a noble profession.

"Owing to the many advances made, in medicine during the past few years," said Dr. Nelson, "the trained nurse of today has many advantages placed at her disposal that were not given to the nurse of years ago, and for that reason she stands better equipped to fight the ravages of disease than her predecessors. Not that the task is made any lighter, in fact, her burdens have in all probability increased, but the trained nurse of to-day is in a better position to stand the hard work on account of her advantages. The tasks a nurse has to undertake are hard, and my sympathies and prayers are with you in the life you have now entered upon."

Dr. Nelson said that a nurse's ideal should be thoroughness in every detail, be it large or small. He was of the opinion that nurses should be paid well for their ardous work. He further adjured them to be faithful to their employment, and to give the best they had to it, and with it would come their enjoyment.

Dr. Fletcher presented the badges to the class, and his address, in part, was: "Trained nursing has become a very valuable profession, indeed, and you are choosing a very noble calling when taking up the work of a trained nurse. One thing I wish to impress on your minds, and that is try and be gentle and cheerful, and I am sure you will have no difficulty in reaching the highest place in the profession. I congratulate you sincerely on the completion of your three-year course."

Dr. H. S. Griffin spoke to the class on habeled works of a trained nurse on the badge to the last of the same and the completion of your three-year course."

year course."

Dr. H. S. Griffin spoke to the class or year course.

Dr. H. S. Griffin spoke to the class on behalf of the doctors and surgeons, as well as the hospital staff. He said that he had no doubt that he was expressing the sentiments of the Board of Governors when he said that he was well satisfied with the good results that are being obtained from the training school here under the able direction of Mrs. House, the later aumarintment. He believed under the able direction of Mrs. House, the lady superintendent. He believed that the citizens of Hamilton saw in the training school something worthy of support. Dr. Griffin said that if the nurses were tactful in all that they had to do they would have no trouble in making a success in their calling. They must at all times present a neat and attractive appearance.

The report of the lady superintendent,
Mrs. House, was read by Dr. Langrill. It stated that the training school had received during the past year 302 applications for admission. Last year there were 317 applications; of this number, 30 were put on probation, and of that number 16 were eligible. During the year a course of fifty lectures had been given by visiting physicians, as well as the members of the house staff. A course of lectures in dietetics, with practical work, was given by Miss White. The work of the present graduates in the kitchen showed very high efficiency, which reflected great credit on the teacher and pupils.

Col. A. H. Moore, of the Board of Governors, was the last speaker. His remarks were short and to the point.

"We are deeply indebted to Mrs. William Hendrie for endowing this school

"We are deeply indebted to Mrs. William Hendrie for endowing this school for nurses in training," said Col. Moore, "but the time has come when arrangements will have to be made for another building for the nurses. With the building of the new wing, there is bound to be more work, and that means more nurses. Even now we have had to rent two houses to the rear of the Nurses' Home, and there are twenty-six nurses in there. These crowded conditions are not conducive to keeping the nurses' health at its best, and we would like some assistance from some quarter."

The musical portion of the programme was: Solo, Mr. James Manton: recitation, Miss Jeanette Lewis; solo, Mrs. Perey Onderdonk; violin solo, Miss Ethel Gallagher; solo, Miss Bertha Carey; recitation, Miss J. Lewis; solo, Mrs. Clyde Green; solo, Mr. Vernon Carey.

In the evening a dance was held in the Nurses' Home by the graduating class to their friends. Anderon's orchestra provided the music.

AMUSEMENTS

New York, Sept. 6.-Gus Elen, the English coster comedian, is a stickler for details when it comes to presenting his act. Incidentally, he is also something of a daily expense to the New York The-atre. Mr. Ellen will present here in advanced vaudeville his series of London characters, the coster, the cockney, the characters, the coster, the cockney, the street sweeper, the day laborer, the "son of rest," etc. It is an act that, under ordinary conditions, would call for one rehearsal with an orchestra.

Not so with Mr. Elen. He began yesterday morning at 10 with Director Fred. Solomon and the eighteen musicians who constitute the orchestra at the New York, and the rehearsal lasted until 12. Every day now until Mr. Elen opens here, including Monday, there will be a morning rehearsal lasting two hours. "It's the details we've got to get, you know," Mr. Elen insists. "We must have the details to liave the act go right."

UNITARIANISM.

Eminent English Ministers Spoke Here Last Evening.

Three distinguished visitors from the Old Country occupied the platform at First Unitarian Church last evening and "Unitarianism at the Present Time." were delivered. The church was well fill ed and much interest was shown through out.

Rev. J. Bowie, of England, was the first speaker and he explained the principles of the Unitarian doctrines. He said that Unitarianism was becoming popular in Scotland, and intimated that the number of the old Scotch Presbytering was Juminishing. The new men were the number of the old Scotch Presbyterians was diminishing. The new men were more liberal minded and had left behind them a lot of the old creeds and bigotries. Canada, to his mind, however, was the coming stronghold of the Unitarian religion. It takes courage, independence and determination to become a thorough Unitarian, working with the lowly and sacrificing all social ambition in an endeavor to perfect the world and bring into it the harmony which is much desired.

among the Unitarians, he said, are to be found large-minded, public spirited people, whose one object is to further the Gospel and assist weaker brethren. The class which, for the most part, embraces this creed and for whom it is wonderfully applicable are those who in time of trial have cast off or are willing to cast off, all other creeds and are beginning to wonder what they have left. Rev. W. G. Tarte, London, England, spoke next. His work was to explain the teachings of the religion. It is a new statement of religion, he said; not a new religion any more than the gaining of new-life through endeavors to perfect yoursel!.

There is at hand a revolution in religious matters, he said, and Unitarianism would be found to be the religion of free thought. thought.

be found to be the religion of free thought.

Rev. C. S. Street, Sheffield, England, had only intended to speak a few words of greeting, he said, as he was to preach morning and evening in the church on Sunday, but the topic of a revolution in religion held forth strong inducements for him to offer his views upon. He spoke at some length and concluded by saying that the organized church will fall if it does not rise to and embrace the opportunities offered and adapt itself to modern views and usages, Religion has survived the fall of many churches large and small and will survive and witness and small and will survive and witness the fall of many more. "Unitarianism is a faith that fears nothing, no, not even God—it learns to love Him," were his

WHAT CAUSED THE WRECK?

Too Much Speed Said Some of the Witnesses.

Engineer Said He Was Not Running Too Fast at Horseshoe.

Wrong Body in Coffin---Condition of Injured at Hospital.

onto, Sept. 6.—Excessive speed was nced as the reason for the horseshoe wreck by two witnesses at the med inquest held by Coroner A. s Johnston at the City Hall last , touching the death of Richard of Shrigley, one of the victims. Mr. Fairbairn, the company's divisional neer, stated that this was the only e he could suggest. He from iffteen to twenty miles an hour. He could give no reason for the engine leaving the track. An official stenographer was present on behalf of the Government. It was significant that before Emmeer Geo. Houge gave evidence his counsel, Mr. T. C. nobinette, K. C., asked the protection of the court against any inclininating statement which he might be supposed in the stenographer's notes, being used as evidence in criminal or other proceedings.

Made Dead Man's Will.

took eight minutes more.

Answering Mr. MacMurchy, witness and the special was five inmutes late finder the iresh orders leaving Orangefile. As a matter of fact, the special was scheduled to run slower than the ordinary train.

Saw Danger and Jumped.

Simon Mossop, foreman carpenter, brangeville, said he was engaged re-pairing a curvert, and stated: "As 1 Drangeville, said he was engaged repairing a curvert, and stated: "As I inought she was going at a rather night speed it tood my men to jump the fence. They did so. I saw the train give a Jifiny and then leave the track. We when went-towards the wreck. Before fint I saw the arriver in out of his find and get up again. After giving forms assistance, he remembered that No. Is was due, and started out to mag her, but was stopped by a section foreman, who said conductor frimes had gone to so it. Witness was about 200 feet south of the point where the engine left the track when he first saw the train. Stopped by the Coroner—Why did you get over the fence: "Because she was randing at an unusual speed, and I shouted Boys, jump the fence, that train can haven get round the curve."

"They the Coroner—Cound you tell whether she was being braked: "No, I could not say."

"You couldn't tell whether she was

Was a Level-Headed Conductor.

Superintendent Smith of the C. P. R. stated vesterday morning on his return from the scene of the accident: "The line is in operation the same as ever, and the come down, and that was the first Lime he had thought it necessary to jump the sence, but ne could give no estimate as to speed. He didn't know the grade.

at a slow rate."

Mossop added that it was about 9.30

When the accident occurred. About fif-feet miles an hour was the usual speed for coming round that curve. Sometimes they went a good deal slower.

Expert Evidence. John Fairbairn, C. P. R. divisional engineer, put in a plan of the curve and sesketch of the wreck. At the point of divewreck the grade was less than two per cent, and 1.8 was the greatest grade per cent., and 1.8 was the greatest grade the train had passed over before the week occurred. The grade at the point she train left the track was 1.6. The gurve was the greatest in his division. With regard to the safe passage of a frain many things would have to be taken into consideration, such as the weight of a train and its distribution. The slow board, he said, was just over the top of the grade, 1.9 miles away from the week. Answering Mr. MacMurchy, Mr. Fairbairn stated that when he examined the track after the wreck he found a number of ties broken, some in the middle and some on the outside of the curve. The ties were not broken at the point where the engine left the track. These facts signified that the engine had been flung outward by the centrifugal action. The standard gauge on a level track was four feet eight and a half inches, and the extra half inch was given on account of the curve. Nothing more could have been done to make the track stronger than it was, and no portion in his division, the Ontario division, was in better condition. There was everything to prove that there was no failure on the part of the track or running gear.

Whete would have been done to get the first part of the track or running gear.

By the Coroner—What would be you opinion as to the cause of the wreck? "I should be of opinion it was excessive speed. I arrive at that by a process of climination. The track was not responsible, and the running gear was not either."

The engineer, George Hodge, Toronto Junction, a good-looking young man of between twenty-three and twenty-four years of age, was then called, and Mr. Robinette objected to his giving evidence, of which shorthand notes would be taken, which in case of subsequent proceedings, particularly criminal, might be used

The coroner ruled that all questions must be answered, but any incriminating statement to which witness or his repre-sentative took objection could not be used against him in subsequent proceed-used against him in subsequent proceedings.

Hodge then proceeded to tell his story. He said he left Markdale at 7.45, and had a good run to Orangeville, reaching there at 8.55, without any undue delays. Three cars were added there and Orangeville left between 9.05 and 9.06. Caledon was reached at 9.20, and then he received the orders to run an hour behind his original schedule. He left Caledon at 9.21 and used steam up to 150 yards north of the slow board. There steam was shut off, and, running the first curve, the brake was applied, a seven-pound reduction in the air-brake being made, equivalent to seven pound a seven-pound reduction in the air-brake being made, equivalent to seven pound pressure per square inch on the rails. That was a quarter of a mile from the scene of the accident. The brake pressure he used was sufficient, in his judgment, to ensure the salety of the train. He was about to releasehis brake, when, he stated, "I felt the entine give a sudden lurch. My hand was on the brake valve. The jerk threw me to the other side of the cab, and naturally released the brake. I threw the brake over to the emergency point, and the next thing I knew the engine left the track. I was thrown out. My first thought was to clear myself of the wreek. When I found I was clear. I looked at my watch. It was then 9.32."

His Second Run, Replying to Mr. Robinette, Hodge said that he started running a freight engine on January last, and prajously had worked as fireman since December, 1902, on freight and passenger trains. He had only run one passenger train this year. The run on Tuesday was the first engineer over that line, although he had frequently been over it as fireman. He left Toronto on Monday night, and He left Toronto on Monday night, and got to Markdale at 2.15 a. m. on Tuesday, and took the engine to Owen Sound and back. He had not worked before that on Monday. Judging by his experience the train was travelling at fifteen or twenty miles an hour at the time of the accident, and he had control of the train. The train left Caledon one minute late, and was not attempting to make up any time, but was running to orders.

Answering Crown Attorney Macfadden, Hodge said that he took a train up from Toronto on Monday night. He had a good rest on Monday. After leaving Markdale he was running faster than he ought, but that was under special conditions. He had run a considerable number of freight trains over the section.

"Are there any special orders as to the horseshoe?" asked the Crown Attorney. "Only the 'slow board,' which means engineers are to run at a safe speed," remited the witness plied the witness.

Put Wrong Body in Casket.

The body of Robert Carr was expected to arrive at Shelburne at 11.30 Wednesday morning, but did not reach its destination till about 6 o'clock at night. The cause of this delay was traced to a peculiar mistake. The body of James Buller, Priceville, had been placed in the casket intended for the remains of Mr. Carr, and the mistake, was not discovered until the members of the Carr family failed to recognize the remains age those of 'their' brother. It was not until the body of 'Robert Carr had reached Flesherton that the mistake was made known to the arrailway was not until the body of Robert Carr had reached Flesherton that the mis-take was made known to the arailway authorities, and no time was lost in re-turning the body to Shelburne. "I know the train men who were in the wreck. You would go a long way to find a more level-headed set of men. As for the engineer never having passed over the road before, that's untrue. He has been over it hundreds of times. We considered him a competent man, too.

The Crown attorney—What opinion did you form of the speed? "I would not say more than threy-tive miles an hour. Trains usually came down there at a slow rate."

Mossop added that it was about 9.30

Mrs. James Ronson, of Tilsonburg, still lies in a precarious condition. The paralysis of her lower limbs remains and sustains the doctors' opinion that the spinal column has been broken. They sustains the doctors' opinion that the spinal column has been broken. They admit, however, that often in such cases life has been prolonged indefinitely, but in view of the age of Mrs. Ronson the probability of her recovery is thought to be remote.

Quebec, Sept. 5.-The Coroner's quest as to the cause of the collapse of the Quebec bridge has been adjourned pending the investigation by Gov ed pending the investigation by Government experts which is now in progress, and the result of which will be made known at the hearing before the Government commission, beginning Monday next. Before adjournment today, however, evidence was presented amply proving that grave faults had developed in one of the main chords, and that there were also defects in the aboc of the main pier. It remains, therefore, but to determine whether the defects admitted were sufficient to bring collapse when any special strain was put upon the outer end of the cantilever span.

Not the Real Danger. Not the Real Danger.

Mr. McLure, C. E., was recalled, and asked if he had noticed the crack referred to. He said that he had not, aleo that he had inspected the plate on different occasions. In reply to the Coroner he said the crack in question or any piece would naturally weaken the structure, but he did not consider it dancerous.

In reply to Mr. Davidson, he said that it required to be of sufficient strength to resist the wind. An Inspector's Evidence.

Mr. Kinlock, inspector for the Quebec Bridge Company, testified that he had made his last inspection fifteen minutes before the bridge went down. He found everything all right. The plate in question was crimped, but not cracked. He was entering the Phoenix Company's office door as the collapse came. The bridge was apparently going straight down.

"After it went a certain distance," he said, "I turned my back; I could not look at it any longer. It fell from panel 9 out." He said that he would not have been on the bridge had he considered it dangerous.

In answer to a question he said he had twice gone to the plate said to be cracked and had found it all right. He had seen No. 9 chord since the accident, and it was bent almost in the chape of an "S." The pressure must have been at both ends to cause that state. It was bent in the same direction as it was before the accident. He knew of the deflection having discovered it at a

Mr. Yenser and he considered it a serious matter. He knew that it should have been reported to headquarters at once. He had inspected that main chord probably a thousand times, and the day mentioned was the first time he discovered the trouble. He was employed as inspector when it was placed in position, and it was all right then. Not Immediately Dangerous. Later Mr. Kinlock, recalled, said he did not consider the matter of immediate danger, and did not suggest that the work be stopped. In answer to a juror he said he would have stopped the work on the bridge when he found the defect to chord No. 9 had he the authority. In response to another question, he said more steel was placed in position on the bridge the day it collapsed.

Mr. E. A. Hoare, who was recalled, said he had never been advised of the plate wheel which had caused the discustion as having been broken. He said that if the defect existed it would not have been serious, nor have affected the solidity of the bridge. In answer to a juror he said that chord No. 9 had been reported to him as having the end damaged and subsequently repaired, and the report conveyed to him the impression that it was perfectly safe.

BRITISH SOLDIERS GET A TASTE OF ACTUAL CAMPAIGNING.

Officers and Men in the Blue and Red Armies on Salisbury Plain Drenched by Rain-Transport Service Broke Down-Men Hungry for Nearly Two

Salisbury, Sept. 5 .- As a result of the unfavorable weather, coupled with a fair degree of ill-luck, the soldiers of the two rmies, the Red and the Blue, which have been engaged in sham warfare on Salis-bury Plain since last Monday, have been engaged in sham warrate on scale-bury Plain since last Monday, have undergone some of the severe trials of actual warfare. The continuous rain has dreuched officers and men alike. Few of them have blankets, and the troops had to pass Monday night as best they could on the open battle field. Worse still, Tuesday night and Wednesday the Red transport service broke down, and the roads became blocked with veficles, which were lost in the darkness. The case of the 1st Royal Scots, at-tached to the 10th Infantry Brigade of the Red army, is interesting. This regi-ment took an isolated position on the extreme right of the defending line, and owing to the failure of the transport to-reach them the men were without feed for nearly two days. They had their last meal ten miles in the rear at 5 o'clock on Monday morning, and it was Tuesday afternoon before rations could be issued to them.

In the night some of the outlying pickets invaded a nearby village, aroused the inhabitants and demanded food, but the inhabitants and demanded food, but they were at once chased out by a patrol of the Blue army. In another village about two thousand soldiers raided a saloon and handed out beer in buckets, babins and jam jars. Fences in this village were pulled down and gates were unhinged, and with the wood the troops built fires in the streets. The villagers did not sleep the entire night.

Most stremuous efforts are being made this evening to get the transport moving, and it is believed that in the future the men will not be subjected to any preventible inconvention.

the men will not be subjected to any preventible inconvenience.

The field operations last night and to-day were rather tame and disappointing.

HINDUS BEATEN.

Police Were Powerless to Stem the Mob's Progress-Racial Feeling is Running High on the Coast-More Japanese Soon to Arrive in British Columbia.

Vancouver, Sept. 5 .- Six Hindus, badly beaten and maltreated by a mob, are in the hospital at Bellingham, Washington; 400 are inding sanctuary in the jail and public buildings, and 150 beaten, hungry and half naked, are on their way to British Columbia. These are the results of a savage outbreak of local centiment in the United States town sentiment in the United States town last evening.

The trouble started in the Pelly street district, which is filled with Hindustani lodging houses. These houses were cleaned out, and the occupants driven out of the town. From there the mob swept down to the waterfront and the lumber mill. After the lumber mill was visited the white employees swelled the mob, and every black man was hustled outside. Here the police suggested that the unfortunates should be taken to jail. The proposal was hailed with delight, and the Hindus were hustled along. The mob kept up its work till early morning, when Darson's mill at Watcom Lake was visited and hundreds. Watcom Lake was visited and hundreds of Hindus brought in from there. The police were helpless, authority was para-lyzed, and for five hours a mob of white white men raided the mills where the blacks were working and battered down the doors of the lodging houses where they sought shelter and dragged them from their beds.

Mayor Black has organized fifty armed deputies for the protection of the Hindus, and those of them who return to work will do so armed. S. O. E. CRICKETERS.

The Sons of England Cricket Club will close the season to-morrow afternoon with a match against the Hamilton team. Wickets will be pitched at 2 o'clock, and the Sons will be represented by the following players: Buchanen, Risebro, Back, Harford, Stewart, Reid, Baxter, Skedder, Smythe, Young and In the game between Brantford S. O.

E. and Woodstock at Woodstock the Telephone City team had the assistance of three crack players from the local S. O. E. team—C. N. Stewart, E. Risebro and A. Harford. The trio made 50 out of the total of 95. Stewart and Risebro also did good bowling for the Telephone City bunch, the former getting 5 wickets for 8 runs and the latter 6 wickets for 4 in the first in the second 5 for 12, performing the hat trick. AT BLUE BONNETS.

Race Yesterday.

Montreal, Sept. 5.—Five favorites were defeated at Blue Bonnets yesterday afternoon, and the one favorite that came home in front was the public choice only at the close of the betting. This was Pierre Lorllillard's Boh Murphy, which opened second choice to C. J. Murray's J. G. C. The latter was evidently not fit for the two-mile trip, and Bob Murhot of the favorite was evidently not fit for the two-mile trip, and Bob Murhot of the caster a stiff duel in the attech. The feature of the card was the St. Lawrence States, for two-year-olds, This brought out the full field of nine entries with De Thorpe as an added starter. The race was won in handy style by an outsider in the betting Burt G. Lewis, who completed to-day three victories in as many starts, was the only thing in the race. J. Dyment's clever two-year-old, Uncle Toby, made a good race of it, but could never catch the lesslers, and was forced to the limit at the finish to save the place from Louis Roederer.

Alfred Shrubb. "The Indian is very deceiving. From what I heard about him in New York I expected to find a great big man. From what I saw of him in his clothes I expected to see a big man, but he strips like a good man. He looks like a runner of great endurance—a man at his best in 15 or 25 miles. I like his legs. There is speed there, and tirelessness, but he is too big, to my mind, for a three or five-miler. I would like to run him a race."

Tom Longboat—"Gee! He's a little fellow, this Shrubb. I'm away bigger and stronger than he is. I thought I had small legs, but he has legs smaller than mine—just like a thorough. Fullike to go over to the Island and lock the gates and go fifteen miles with him. Either I'd lose my swelled head or he would. He is in great shape. I guess I'll have to get busy myself."

on Saturday morning as to the attitude of Australians towards the breezy game of lacrosse, which, though acclimatized for years, never was quite in front rank amongst our national sports. On Saturday evening all doubts had been removed. An international match between Canada and Australia was an attraction too good to be resisted, and 14,000 people of Montreal is being drained to ascertain whether a St. Vincent de Paul nonvict's story of two murders is true. This man told the detective that he knew the man who murdered Eller Quinn a few years ago, as well as a Chinese two months later. Both crimes have remained unsolved. The drapons with which the crimes are alleged to have been committeed were thrown into the quarry afterwards, according to the convict's story.

As an exhibition of different styles the match was very interesting. It was pace and wing play, as against cool central control, and the result was that the Australians had by far the greater number of shots for goal. In the outfield the Canadians exhanges were incomparable, but as they closed in on goal, and the players elumped and clashed the exchanges were less effective, and the Canadians did not throw for goal until the chance seemed a good one. It is a question whether, playing on our wide cricket grounds, they will not be compelled to readjust their methods—to adopt wing play, to lose less time in getting to readjust their methods—to adopt wing play, to lose less time in getting to range, absolute though their superiority may be while doing it. Their backs were particularly clever in stopping overhead shots. It was done so quickly that one could hardly follow the flight of the ball, but felt sure that the man trotting down the centre, rolling his crosse from side to side as a boy rolls his hand when the three is something particularly hot in it, must have it somewhere about hin. The short, tricky passing of the Canadians pleased the crowd immensely, and for this they were frequently cheered. In a small ground there is no doubt whatever that the Australians would have the first farmer in the west to hope.

Rugby problem in Quebec and Ontario.
While there is no reason why such a union should not be formed, like in most cases, hitches occur that are sometimes not easily

For instance in regard to the amateur standing. The rule on this point in the east is broader than in the west. But it is stated that Ottawa are tired of the old way of doing things and are willing to clean their team of all men who cannot qualify under the O.R.F.U. amateur rule.

However, with Montreal it is different. The Montreal team is connected with the M.A.A. and while it is claimed that none of the football team ere being paid for playing football, there are men who could not qualify for other reasons and it is questionable if Montreal will be willing to throw them overboard.

Then again the financial arrangement does not meet with the approval of the western clubs. It is as follows: "That $150$ be allowed the home team for expenses and the remainder of the gate split even with a guarantee for the visiting club."

Canadian Rugby football rules will govern the new organization, in which all the teams, with the exception of the Argonauts, are proficient. The Argos only played one game last season undes the new rules, that being with Varsity for the city championship. However, it is expected Chaucer Eillott will again coach the Argos this season, although many other clubs are said to be after him. Chaucer is one, if not, the best a spirit of open rebellion.

The Bishop of London, berore sailing on the Victorian, issued instructions to his clergy forbidding them to officiate any marriages which the new law authorizes, and other church authorities are taking the same attitude. The result, already apparent, is that the relations between State and church are considerably weakened and the campaign for disestablishment will receive a strong impetus.
