The Romance of a South African Trading Station.

CHAPTER LXVII.
LIFE'S RIDDLE.

Hugh was strong, strong as a giant; and he might have crushed the life out of the little, graceful body against his iron breast—and Grace would have been quite content, no doubt, to have been so crushed—had not a long-drawn sigh warned him in time. Loosening his grasp a little, he drew her to the couch, and there, seated side by side, hand in hand, they exchanged their first kiss.

In reality half an hour elapsed before Rebecca tapped at the door and disturbed them in their Eden; but the moments had flown on the wings of the dove for the two lovers who had so much to tell and so much to learn.

Hugh, with all a man's despotism, insisted upon hearing Grace's adventures first; and she, with additional blushes and many pauses and hesitations, told him everything—excepting the supposed foul play in regard to the squire's death.

That topic Rebecca had warned her to shun, at least for the present; so Hugh, with all the magnanimity of a brave heart, felt rather inclined to pity Reginald Dartmouth than otherwise, and actually urged one or two excuses for him—excuses to which Grace listened gravely, for she knew that, when the whole story was told, his noble clemency would be turned to a bitter and merciless thirst for vengeance.

But she put the dark thought from her for the present, and after giving him a hurried outline of her life since they parted, nestled closer against his broad breast and, looking up into his love-lit eyes, murmured:

"And that's all, Hugh! It seemed a great deal to do and bear, but now, lying here, with your arms round me and your love shining down on me like a sun, it shrinks into nothingness. Oh, Hugh, what am I that I should be so happy?"

"A brave, beautiful woman—my true-hearted darling!" he breathed.

Keeps Baby's Skin Healthy

If every mother could only realize the danger which lurks in the neglect of chafing and skin irritations she would not take chances on being without Dr. Chase's Ointment to apply after baby's bath.

It arrests the development of eczema and makes the skin soft, smooth and velvety.

passionately. She put up her little hand and laid it on his lips.

"I like to hear you say that—oh, so much, dear!—but I mustn't; you will make me vain and wicked. Hugh, now you are to tell me your adventures and troubles. I know some already, and so does all the world by this time, poor, noble-hearted Hugh! Hero of the 'Sclavonia,' they called you. Hugh, I read it myself, read it and dreamed of it, repeated it in my prayers, whispered it all day and all night. 'Hero of the 'Sclavonia!'' My hero, for though I didn't think you would ever love me, Hugh, I knew that you were mine, my heart's own, though I never saw you again. Can you believe me when I expected you to scorn me for what I had done—spurn me from you with some hard and bitter words—call me unwomanly, immodest—"

It was now his turn to stop her. "Hush, my own!" he said, his face a bright crimson. "You could not think me so vile, so base. Grace, in some future day the world will get hold of your story, and lift its hat to you and bow its knees to a real heroine! My darling, when I think of all you have undergone, all you have done and borne for me, my heart seems overflowing with love and gratitude. What are my poor, trivial exploits compared with yours?"

"Nothing!" she said, archly; "but let me hear them, Hugh!" Then he told her how he had been cut down by the pressgang, beamed to death, yet recovered; then gone back to the station and found it a heap of ruins, with no living soul near it to tell the story of its demolition or the whereabouts of the settler, Stewart.

He told her how, ever mourning and longing for her, though he could not understand exactly why—she blushed a deeper crimson than ever here and completely hid her face against his friendly breast—he had worked at the post until, utterly unable to overcome his longing to see her again, he had taken a work-out passage on the 'Sclavonia.'

With much adroitness he passed over his privations on board and his noble and generous self-sacrifice, and went on to describe his strange bondage at the docks.

Here she laughed with arch merriment. "Oh, how capably I managed it!" she cried, clasping her hands together—which he immediately took possession of and kissed. "Who would have thought I could have caught and kept my brave fellow for three weeks—fast and tight as a bird in a cage?"

"Capital, indeed!" he echoed, with his new happy smile. "Never guessed that you had a hand in it. The fellows of the dock played their part so well that it never occurred to me to doubt them for an instant. If I had known that my dear, sweet Cecil—I beg pardon; I mean Grace—was hovering over and about me like the angel she is, I should have been—"

"Wicked and naughty, restless and disobedient. Ah, I knew—I knew my man!" she interrupted. "I knew with whom I had to deal. You would have been interfering and spoiling all our plans—dear, good Rebecca's and all."

"Ay," he said, "most like. I am only a plain, simple stupid, not a clever lad—lady, I mean," he corrected, with a sly twinkle of the eye, that brought up the blush again, "like Miss Grace Darrell."

"And Rebecca—is it not delightful?" "What?" repeated Hugh, with all the denseness of his sex. "What?" repeated the beautiful girl. "Why, do you not see, you stupid boy?"

Can not you see that Rebecca will have her reward—if you can by a stretch of courtesy call it so? Sir Charles—"

"Oh!" said Hugh, with a look of intense satisfaction; "of course I see! How splendid! The very thing! Well, he's a good fellow, I can see by his face, and Rebecca's all that is good and enviable."

"Dear, sweet-hearted Rebecca!" echoed Grace, the tears springing to her eyes. "Oh, Hugh, if you only knew how good she is!"

At that moment Rebecca entered and, as is usual in such cases, the two happy individuals sprang to the far ends of the couch and tried to look as if they had been sitting as far apart all the while.

Rebecca's face had a shadow upon it, hidden behind the smile, and Grace was recalled to the consciousness of external matters in a moment.

Rebecca held out a hand to each, but said nothing, and while Grace, scorning such cold greetings, clung round her neck, Hugh took her hand and pressed it affectionately and gratefully.

Rebecca managed at this moment to whisper a word in Grace's ear, and the young lady quickly stole out.

Before she got beyond the door, however, two constables entered the room following a man-servant; and one, the inspector, walking up to Hugh, asked for his attention on a matter of moment.

"Yes," said Hugh; "speak out. What is it?"

The man opened his lips; but before he could speak Mr. Reeves hurried in.

"Stop a moment, Mr. Inspector," he said. "Don't worry Mr. Darrell about this matter. I sent for you and will give you directions. Step this way."

And much to Grace and Rebecca's relief he left the room, followed by the constables.

But Hugh, who had got an inkling that they were attempting to conceal something from him, gently pushed Rebecca aside and followed after.

Mr. Reeves saw by his face that it would be useless to attempt further concealment, and in a faltering tone he communicated all the details of the poor squire's death.

For a moment Hugh stood motionless and silent. Then his face turned white and his eyes hardened and grew fierce, as they had done in the old African days when some wild animal stood in his path.

He turned to Mrs. Lucas and the old doctor and gathered confirmation from their faces.

Then, in hard, unnaturally cold tones, he said:

"You have the warrant?"

"Yes, sir," said the inspector, tapping his breast pocket.

"Good! We will be on the road at once. He has the start, but it shall not avail him. I offer a reward of a thousand pounds to the man who catches him."

His stern words seemed to galvanize the two men.

They made a dash at the door, shouting for their horses and giving

THERE IS ONLY ONE GENUINE ASPIRIN

Only Tablets with "Bayer Cross" are Aspirin—No others!

If you don't see the "Bayer Cross" on the tablets, refuse them—they are not Aspirin at all. Your druggist gladly will give you the genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" because genuine Aspirin now is made by Americans and owned by an American Company.

There is not a cent's worth of German interest in Aspirin, all rights being purchased from the U. S. Government.

During the war, acid imitations were sold as Aspirin in pill boxes and various other containers. But now you can get genuine Aspirin, plainly stamped with the safety "Bayer Cross"—Aspirin proved safe by millions for Headache, Toothache, Earache, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Colds, Neuritis, and Pain generally.

Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets—also larger "Bayer" packages.

Aspirin is the trade mark (Newfoundland Registration No. 761), of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacid-ester of Salicylicacid.

hastened orders and directing as they ran.

Hugh, with no less haste but greater coolness, caught up his hat, and telling Mr. Reeves to acquaint the ladies of the pursuit, strode round to the stables, where the inspector had informed him several horses were ready saddled.

Doctor Toddy, in dismay, at the mere idea of such exertions on the part of the late invalid, ran down to the door to beg of him to remain; but Hugh, silent and stern, would only wait long enough to give Grace a farewell embrace and swallow a glass of wine, and dashed on toward London with the speed and untiring energy of an avenging Nemesis.

CHAPTER LXVIII. RETRIBUTION.

Revenge maintains her empire in the breast. Though every other feeling freeze to rest.—TREVANION.

On through the dark night sped the spurred and oft-whipped horses back to London, whence their wearied and jaded brethren had scarcely arrived.

The night gives place to gray dawn, the dawn to a glorious sunrise and a calm morning.

On still they sped, whirling the close carriage from side to side, dashing it over stones and through the ruts of the badly-kept road.

On, on still, till the dusk came again, and at last the light of the great city twinkled through the mist of evening.

Then the dull, monotonous hum of the great hive of industry and pleasure aroused the dim, dark figure lying hidden among the heavy cushions of the carriage.

All the long, tedious way he had lain thus, motionless, save for the constant and keen glare of his dark, angry eyes, save for the continual biting of his almond-shaped nails.

Motionless and silent he had lain, but with a brain busy at fresh plots and a heart all on fire with rage, hate, and disappointment.

He can scarcely think in this close, stifling carriage; he can scarcely realize the blow which has fallen upon him.

Over and over again he repeats, with scarcely moving lips:

"The will found! Hugh Darrell returned!"

But although he repeats the truth he can scarcely force its reality upon his hot and feverish consciousness, and he grinds his teeth with impotent impatience, muttering:

"Curse them! How slow! Why do they get on to London? Once there in my own room, quiet and undisturbed, I can think—think! But here—what are they stopping for? Changing horses! They are always changing horses—at every mile, the knaves! And Lucille may be waiting! Why don't you go on? Twenty guineas if you reach London within the hour!"

On they go, till the old carriage rattles and creaks over the round stones of the metropolis, and at last the jaded foam-covered steeds pull up, and almost fall before the great town house of Captain Reginald Dartmouth.

It all looks quiet and almost deserted.

He paid the men—over the stipulated sum—and entered the mansion. (To be continued.)

Local Yacht Club Willing to Celebrate.

BUT WANTS ASSURANCE OF FINANCIAL SUPPORT.

That the Royal Cape Breton Yacht Club will issue a formal challenge for the America's Cup as soon as the assurance is received from A. C. Ross, of Montreal, that the financial arrangements are completed, was the decision arrived at by the executive of the club at a meeting held on Tuesday afternoon.

Immediately after reaching this decision, F. E. Lucas, commodore of the club, sent a telegram to Mr. Ross telling him of the club's action in the matter. The telegram is as follows:

The executive agrees that a formal challenge will be issued only when the club is assured that satisfactory financial arrangements are completed and are further assured of the cooperation of the yacht clubs throughout Canada.

Commodore Lucas in a statement made to the Record on Tuesday afternoon, said that the members realized that the club, was not in a position to finance the scheme alone, but that they were more than willing to take the matter up for the other yacht clubs of Canada, providing that complete assurances was given that they would get the necessary financial support. "We do not want to commit the club as the matter now stands," said Mr. Lucas.

As the Royal Canadian Yacht Club, the Halifax Club and the Bras d'Or Club are the only clubs in Canada eligible to challenge for the historic yachting trophy of the world, and for which Sir Thomas Lipton has for many years been trying to wrest from the Americans, it will be in the name of either one of these clubs through whom the challenge would go backed by the other clubs of the Dominion. The challenge of Mr. Ross, which has been made to the New York Yacht Club, has already created a great deal of comment both in Canada and the United States, and if the local club should be the club chosen by Mr. Ross to make the challenge, it would mean a big thing for Sydney and Cape Breton.

According to telegrams received by Commodore Lucas from Mr. Ross on Tuesday, the present indications are that the $1,000,000 required for the undertaking will easily be raised, and he advises the club not to worry about the finances, as all the newspapers of Canada will give their support editorially and otherwise by boosting the project. Mr. Ross also advises that all of the trust companies of Canada will take the money subscribed and disburse it without cost. The local club will await a reply from Mr. Ross, and if the money is forthcoming, a challenge will be issued.—Sydney Record.

Watch Teeth Whiten When You Remove the Film

All Statements Approved by High Dental Authorities

Free

A Ten-Day Tube of Pepsodent to show you its effects. Send the coupon for it.

Look in 10 Days

See how clean the teeth look—how they glisten. Then you will know what film removal means.

This is to urge a ten-day test of a tooth paste which combats the film. High authorities have proved it. Five years of tests have placed it beyond question. Leading dentists everywhere are urging its adoption. Compare the results with your old methods, and let your own teeth decide.

Film Destroys Teeth

That slimy film which you feel on your teeth causes most tooth troubles. Every modern dentist knows that. Dental science, for many years, has sought a way to end it. That film is what discolors, not the teeth. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. So the major object in cleaning teeth is to keep them free from film.

Old-time methods fail to do that. Teeth still discolor, still decay, as millions of people know. The reason is that brushing does not end the film. The film is clinging. It gets between the teeth, enters crevices and stays. Day and night, month after month, it is a potential source of danger.

Now a Way to End It

Science now has found a way to end it. Five years of tests have proved this. The way is now embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. And we urge you to see what it does.

Pepsodent is based on pepain, the digestant of albumin. The film is albuminous matter. The object of Pepsodent is to dissolve it, then to constantly combat it.

But pepain must be activated, and the usual method is an acid harmful to the teeth. So pepain long seemed barred. But science has now found a harmless activating method. It is made use of in Pepsodent.

Now millions of teeth are daily cleaned as they never were before. Try the method ten days on yours.

Send this coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Use like any tooth paste. Note how clean your teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the slimy film. See how the teeth whiten as the fixed film disappears.

Watch the results for a few days. Read in our book how they come about. Then decide for yourself what tooth paste you and yours should use. Cut out the coupon now.

Half Yearly Report of Newfoundland Board of Trade.

Your Council have decided to re-peat the note of warning that appeared in their last report, and in their opinion great caution must be exercised during the next year or two if we are to maintain the position we so fortunately occupy to-day. There has undoubtedly been considerable inflation of business and credit, which condition may bring in its train serious difficulties during the period of readjustment, unless all branches of the business community adopt a policy of cautious but sound trading.

The energies of the Board of Trade in general and the Council in particular, have during the past six months been very much occupied in dealing with the Regulations of the Exportation of Codfish. The last annual report contained a synopsis of the events leading up to the issue of the Proclamation providing for the Restriction and Regulation of the Export of Codfish. It will be remembered that at the last annual meeting, it was agreed that a special meeting of Board should be held for the purpose of giving the members an opportunity of expressing their views on the subject of these Export Regulations. This meeting was held on the 5th February, was largely attended and adjourned until the 7th February and again adjourned until the 9th February when the following resolution was passed:—

(a) That the Newfoundland Board of Trade recognize that the Fish Export Regulations are essential; but those now in force do not entirely meet the requirements of the Trade of this country.

(b) It is the opinion of the Newfoundland Board of Trade that the Advisory Board, should if at any time it is essential that the prices are to be adjusted—and supplies regulated—meet the whole body of St. John's Fish Exporters, and as many Outport shippers as possible, and fully discuss the matter and recommend to the Government the necessary alterations.

(c) That the Newfoundland Board of Trade is of the opinion that shippers should have the right of offering their supplies of Codfish direct to the buyer in all markets excepting Italy at present, and Italy as soon as conditions will permit, providing they maintain the prices and regulations set forth.

(d) That the Newfoundland Board of Trade write the Government requesting them to grant the desires and wishes of the Trade.

The Regulations were very thoroughly discussed at these meetings and it was with much satisfaction that the Council were able to observe the great interest that the members of the Board of Trade were taking in this matter. The Resolutions were duly conveyed to the Government and your Council were able to note with pleasure that the Minister of Marine and Fisheries in a speech made by him in the House of Assembly expressed the intention of the Government to accede fully to the desires of the trade as expressed in the resolutions. An Act to regulate the Export of salt Codfish was subsequently passed by the Legislature, which, if properly administered should overcome many objections to the regulations as enforced last season. This Act calls for the appointment of a special Board for the Regulating of the Exportation of Codfish. This Board will consist of seven members, two of whom shall be appointed by the majority of Fish Exporters in general meeting, the others by the Governor in Council. Hon. W. B. Grieve, O.B.E. and R. B. Job, Esq., were elected by the fish exporters as their Representatives on this Board, and those appointed by the Governor in Council are, Joseph Sellars, Esq., G. M. Barr, Esq., J. T. Cheeseman, Esq., M.H.A., all of whom are members of the Board of Trade. There is so far no official information obtainable, as to the form that the regulations will take this season, but as the porters to be held in the first week in September when the Codfish Exportation Board will report on all matters relating to the export of fish for the ensuing season, we presume no definite action will be taken until after this meeting.

During the months of February and March a special Committee was appointed by the Fish Exporters to prepare a scheme for the improvement of the cure and the standardization and the inspection of Codfish. This Committee met on numerous occasions and prepared a series of proposals for the improvements of the cure, inspection and standardization of Codfish. These proposals were submitted to the Commission appointed by the Government, under the Codfish Standardization Act of 1920, and adopted by them without any material alteration. They have now been published throughout the Dominion. It is reported that already, much improvement has been made in the curing of this season's fish, and there is evidence that many of the fishermen are making every effort to carry out the suggestions made for the improvements of the cure.

Since the last annual meeting, the Board of Trade has been conducting an inspection of all Codfish shipped to Brazil. This inspection has been carried out under the supervision of our Secretary, with the assistance of a number of sub-inspectors, and has we believe given satisfaction. The Codfish standardization Commission propose and indeed have decided, that all cargoes and shipments of fish from Newfoundland must be inspected and certificates issued before they can be exported. This inspection is to be carried out under the control of the Department of Marine and Fisheries, and in consequence the inspection by the Board of Trade will not be required in future.

LOCAL TRANSPORTATION.

The Council are pleased to note that the Government propose to make a provision for an increased terminal facilities at both ends of the Risd Newfoundland Company Line, and that the Coastal Steamer Service appears to be meeting the present requirements of the Trade.

WATERING VESSELS.

The present and previous Councils have given considerable attention to the improvement of facilities for watering vessels, and the position as it now stands is fully disclosed in a letter received from the Municipal Council, dated the 28th March, reading as follows:—

No. 1.—The Council would request that the owners of each premises shall install water supply, at their own expense, consisting of a 4 hydrant with 2 steam pipe and hose.

No. 2.—The application for water to be as at present, and the water man or a man from the Water Department to be sent to the premises to turn the water on and off.

No. 3.—The water to be turned on by no other person, except by servants of the City Council.

No. 4.—The approximate cost of the installation for each premises is being prepared by the City Engineer. He is interviewing the principals of the firms interested regarding the details.

No. 5.—It is to be understood that if the owner of the premises does not agree to the proposals, the Council will not be able to supply the water to that particular premises.

Your Council approved of No. 1, 2, 3 and 4, but objected to No. 5, which they considered could not be enforced, and thought that the owner of the premises who does not agree to the proposals should get a supply of water as usual.

PORT OF CALL FOR VESSELS GOING TO MEDITERRANEAN.

Shortly after the appointment of Captain Walter Kennedy, as Government Agent at Gibraltar, he reported to the Department of Marine and Fisheries that in his opinion, much benefit would be derived by owners of vessels and cargoes making Gibraltar a port of call on the passage to the Mediterranean, if a supply of spars, booms and necessary gear, were kept at Gibraltar which would be available for Newfoundland vessels requiring repairs there. The difficulty of obtaining such supplies at that time necessitated the vessels lying in Gibraltar for many weeks. Since Captain Kennedy's return from Gibraltar, he has supplemented his report by a personal statement given at a meeting of Shipowners, called together by your Council. In this report he recommended,

- (1) That Gibraltar should be abandoned as a port of call, and that Malaga should be substituted as such.
  - (2) That all vessels making Malaga a port of call on entering the Mediterranean should immediately notify the Government Agent.
  - (3) That where possible ship business should be conducted through the Government Agent.
  - (4) That a sufficient supply of spars and gear be maintained at the port of call to be available when repairs are necessary for Newfoundland ships.
- It was also agreed that a scheme should be prepared for putting into operation Captain Kennedy's suggestion as to vessel supplies.
- The meeting of Shipowners, after thanking Captain Kennedy for bringing the matter to their notice resolved,
- (1) That Malaga, and not Gibraltar be made the port of call for orders for vessels bound to the Mediterranean.
  - (2) That Masters and Owners should place their interests in the hands of the Government Agent.
  - (3) That definite instruction should be given by the Custom Authorities (St. John's), that masters calling at Malaga as a port of call must report to the Government Agent on arrival.

MARCONI WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY

During the month of April, Mr. A. H. Morse, Manager of the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Co. of Canada, was present in the city negotiating with the Government for an extension of the Wireless Telegraph Service, and during his stay gave a lecture to the members of the Board.

LEGISLATION.

When the House of Assembly was in session, the Council convened a meeting of those interested and made certain recommendations to the Government on the following Bills:—

- (1) The Survey of Foreign going and Labrador vessels.
- (2) The Act to Regulate the Exportation of Codfish.
- (3) The Act to provide for the standardization of Dried Codfish.
- (4) The Act to amend the Business Profit Tax Act.
- (5) The Act respecting the Certificates of Masters and Mates.
- (6) The Act to provide for the bettering of information respecting the Codfishery.

INCREASED WATER SERVICE IN ST. JOHN'S.

The Council are advised that the Government have decided upon the laying of a water main from Long Pond, Petty Harbor, to supply the Lunatic Asylum and Government Sanatorium. It is reported that this service will entail an outlay of from forty thousand dollars and will supply these two institutions only. Your Council think that an expenditure of this magnitude should provide something more than a supply for these two institutions, and that provision should be made to supply, if desired any property within the vicinity of the main with water.

It is also felt that the public should have had an opportunity of considering the proposal for the installation of this service before the scheme was definitely concluded.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

TO CHAPERONE OR NOT TO CHAPERONE.

RUTH CAMERON

I notice that the old discussions as to whether young girls ought to be allowed to go about unchaperoned as much as they are, is raging in one of our daily papers. A letter friend wants to know what I think about it. That is one of those things I hate to offer an opinion on because circumstances alter cases so much, and one hates to take the responsibility of having a general opinion applied in a case in which it might be a terrible mist.

But I have so often had this put up to me that I'll try to explain the general principle in which I believe.

Right Standards the Best Chaperone.

And that is that the best safeguard any girl can have, is the right sort of a background.

If a girl is brought up in a home where the right standards are made part of her character because they are taken for granted in the whole tone of the home life, she has a better defense against folly than the most rigid chaperone would be.

Then, conditions might come to pass—such as an infatuation for the wrong sort of man—that would break down this defense.

But even the most rigid chaperone—which, of course, is absolutely impossible anyway for 99 girls out of one hundred—impregnable? Of course not.

The Heir Died Like the Stom Child.

You remember all the talk in the newspaper of the way the McLean baby, adored grandson of two great financiers, heir of hundreds of millions, was guarded by trained nurses and doctors. And yet the same event befell him that befalls the unguarded child in the slums. He ran into the street and was killed by an automobile. If it had been possible—mind you, I do not say it was to have instilled carefulness into this child, would not that have been a better defense than all the guardians? Give a girl the right standards, make them part of the fibre of her character by instilling it into her

Ponzi Has Served Prison Terms.

Previously Convicted in Montreal and Buffalo.

Boston, Aug. 11.—Sensation followed sensation in the Ponzi case today. Charles Ponzi, who recently jumped into notoriety as a spectacular financier, admitted that he was the Charles Ponzi who served terms of imprisonment in Montreal and Atlanta some years ago.

At the moment that he was making a formal confession of his past, the Hanover Trust Company, in which Ponzi was a director, was closed by Bank Commissioner Joseph C. Allen. Mr. Allen declared that the reports of his agents indicated that the Bank was doing business in an unsafe manner. Ponzi resigned from the directorate of the Bank this afternoon.

The admission of Ponzi and the closing of the Trust Company were quickly associated in the minds of hundreds who had been waiting anxiously in the downtown streets for developments that had been hourly expected. A crowd soon gathered in front of the Hanover Trust Company at the corner of Washington and Water Streets, and presently the street was filled almost to the exclusion of traffic.

Ponzi, who organized the Securities Exchange Company and took in millions for investments from thousands of clients, said in his statement to-day that he took the blame for another person in Montreal. He also insisted that he was still solvent and could pay all notes now outstanding against him.

WOE IN THE WEST.

WIT MASCO

A deadly blight is sweeping along the Western Slope, and men give way to weeping and say farewell to hope. A dead heartick wives and daughters beneath those azure skies look out upon the waters with hard and stony eyes. The children, they are walling, their little bosoms sore, while in the dust they're trailing the toys they use no more. There's moaning in the cabin, there's groaning in the hall; the future's bleak and drab in the eyes of one and all. The daughters of an affliction are crouched beneath the stars, and in the choicest diction they curse their stranded cars. The tourist shakes his talons at heaven with a snort, for when he'd buy a gallon, he only gets a quart. In vain the plute is waving his wad of good long green, and futile is his raving—he can't get gasoline. "No gas!" The sign is hanging from stations everywhere, with travelers haranguing the dealers in despair. Talk not of grief or sorrow, of troubles you have seen, till you can't buy or borrow a quart of gasoline! Talk not of fortunes cruel, oh, vain and puffing man, till you can't buy the fuel to push your big sedan! Speak not to me of anguish, of pain of any sort, until you wait and languish two days to get a quart!

It Is When You Come to Think of It.

Among a squad of policemen who were being examined on ambulance work was one to whom the doctor put the following questions:

Doctor: "What would you do to a man who had a cut on the forearm?"
 Policeman: "Shure, sorr, I'd bathe it with warm, soft water."
 Doctor: "What do you mean by soft water?"
 Policeman: "Oh! Just soft water, sorr—wet water!"
 Doctor: "And what is hard water?"
 Policeman: "Ice, sorr."

WHEN MOTHER'S SEWING BUTTONS ON.

When mother's sewing buttons on their little garments, one by one, I settle down contented there. And watch her in her rocking chair; She's at the task she likes the best—Each little waist and undervest She fondles in a mother's way, And notes each sign of sturdy play And shakes her head and says to me: "I wonder how this came to be?"

There's something in her patient eyes, As in and out her needle flies. Which seems to tell the joy she takes In every little stitch she makes; An hour of peace has settled down, Hushed is the clamor of the town, And even I am different then, For I forsake the ways of men And see about the garments there Bright visions of a happy pair.

Buttons are closely linked to joy. Each little girl and little boy Who dare to climb the garden fence Buys that delight at their expense; Buttons are childhood's tattling tales—Swifter than telegrams or mails They fly to tell of moments glad That little boys and girls have had, And mother reads the stories there From every vacant space and tear.

She sweetly smiles and says to me: "How sturdy they have grown to be! It keeps me busy to repair The shirts and things they have to wear."

I chuckle as I watch her sew, For joy has set the room aglow, And in the picture I can see The strength which means so much to me.

The scene is good to look upon, When mother's sewing buttons on.

Roping Him In.

The widow was fair though faded, and the mother of a charming daughter.

"Do you know," she told the young man, "my dear girl is greatly impressed with you?"

"Really!" exclaimed the ardent, middle-aged swain, who loved the daughter much. "Then you think there is a chance for me?"

"Oh, yes," murmured the widow coyly. "Only the other day she said to me: 'Now, that is just the sort of man I'd like for a stepfather.' She'll be so pleased, dear. Kiss me, George, and then we will go and tell her!"

The full, flare skirt, belted below the waist, will be a fall feature.

Fish Regulations and the S. W. Coast.

Under present conditions it is practically impossible to do business on the South and West Coasts, and the mercantile community is so hampered and handicapped by Government control that fish buying in many places has been greatly curtailed, if not stopped altogether.

'Conditions serious. Fish deteriorating and business at a standstill. We have received cable from Lind and Couto, Oporto, as follows: 'We cannot guarantee 75/70 shillings, that price being positively unobtainable. New Norway fish selling at 69/70 shillings and a further large quantity expected. Our stores bare of British fish and want supplies. Have requested Coaker to allow you to dispatch parcel for sale at best possible price without guarantee. We, for our part, will guarantee to obtain the utmost market value.'

That is the situation at Burgeo and vicinity, and extends throughout the districts of Burgeo and LaPoile and Fortune Bay. Similarly it exists in Burin. In the face of such a condition, how can the Advocate truthfully declare that all cargoes from the West Coast have been dispatched on outright sales; and how can it defend its argument that 'West Coast shippers stand to gain considerably as a result of the Regulations.' Up to the time of writing, no reply has been received from Grand Bank, but we doubt not that Burgeo is an epitome of the whole West Coast.

The Railway Commission

Operations to be Under Their Control. The following announcement is reprinted from the Evening Advocate, of yesterday, the official organ of the Government: 'The Government has completed arrangements with the Reid Newfoundland Company respecting a Commission to operate the railroad and steamship service of the company. The Government has appointed Hon. W. F. Coaker and Mr. T. A. Hall, Government Engineer, to represent the Government on the Commission. A third Government Commissioner will be appointed later. It is the intention of the Government to secure the services of a professional railroad operator competent to become the general manager of the system and he may become the third commissioner. The Reid Newfoundland Company has appointed Messrs. H. D. Reid, R. G. Reid and J. P. Powell as the Reid Newfoundland Company's Commissioners. It has been agreed that no salary as Commissioner is to be paid Hon. W. F. Coaker, Messrs. H. D. Reid and R. G. Reid, each having agreed to serve as a Commissioner without salary. The Commission will hold its first meeting this afternoon when a chairman will be selected. The railway and steamship system of the Reid Newfoundland Company will therefore be operated by the above Commission for a period ending June 30th, 1921.'

From Cape Race.

Special to Evening Telegram. CAPE RACE, To-day. Wind East, light weather, dull and raining; nothing sighted to-day; Bar, 30.70; Ther, 70.

There may not be any cause for alarm, but there is cause for great uneasiness. Notwithstanding that a section of the Government press says that the situation is daily improving, there are evidences that this—unfortunately—is not so. We wish that it were correct, but first-hand testimony completely disproves the inspired statement of the Advocate on Saturday. This paper editorially commenting on the situation existing on the West Coast announces that 'all cargoes on the West Coast have been dispatched, and outright sales made in each case.' Doubting that ex parte statement the Telegram yesterday wired Burgeo and Grand Bank firms asking them if this were so. The Burgeo wire was sent via Anglo; that to Grand Bank by the Postal-Telegraphs. Promptly came back the answer from Burgeo signed by one of the principal exporters there—original of which message can be seen at this office—and reads as follows: 'All vessels in this vicinity tied up. No outright sales effected so far as we know.'

Archbishop at Odein.

COMPLETES VISITATION OF PLACENTIA BAY. ODEIN, via Argentinia, Aug. 15. His Grace Archbishop Roche with Fathers McGrath, Rawlins and Savin, arrived at Odein on Sunday afternoon. A splendid reception waited His Grace and party. Rev. Fr. Deo, the pastor, met them in his motor boat before entering Odein. Confirmation was administered to over 100 candidates. The first sod on the site of the new Presbytery was turned and the location for the building blessed by His Grace. The beautiful church has under gone extensive repairs on the outside, and the new Presbytery will be added to the buildings comprising the church plant. The Archbishop thanked the people for their very cordial reception and urged the importance and necessity of co-operation with their pastor in matters of church and schools in the parish. The people of Odein are well known for their excellent qualities, especially their devotion to the church at all times. Now that their new pastor, Fr. Deo, who has all his energies and time for the benefit of the parish, the new Presbytery will soon grace the beautiful site selected by the Archbishop. The party left again for Argentinia the same evening. This completes the visitation of Placentia Bay.—Com.

Police Court.

A resident of Torbay, at the instance of Head Constable Byrne, was charged with having in his possession a quantity of liquor contrary to Section 4 of the Prohibition Act. Mr. H. A. Winter appeared for the Crown and called Head O'Neill, who deposed to seeing the defendant with his horse and express on New Gower Street on August 2nd and having a conversation with him. He thereupon searched the wagon and found in a box under the seat three full bottles of liquor and one empty bottle; the defendant claiming that he had purchased them at the Controllers and at Stafford's. He then took the bottles to the lockup and visited defendant's house, where with Head Byrne and Constable O'Neill a search was made and some liquor found. One room that was locked had to be entered from the outside of the house with the aid of a ladder. Two jars and two bottles were found in this room. Two days after the seizure the defendant told the police that his statement about buying the liquor from the Controllers was wrong and that the liquor had been purchased from a man at the Long Bridge. Mr. Higgins in cross-examination elicited the fact that the information came from Constable O'Neill, and that the seizure was made because it was supposed that the liquor was being sold. The evidence of the assistant Government Analyst was given, but His Honor, wishing to have the evidence of the person who made the analysis, the case was postponed until Thursday at 10.30.

Exporting Ore to England.

The Dominion Iron and Steel Co. is undertaking the sale of Bell Island ore in the European market. Arrangements have been made for the shipment of some 24,000 tons to Middleburg, England. A 6,000 ton cargo steamer is at present en route to Sydney for the first shipment, and three others will follow. Heretofore the Dominion Company used all the ore mined, at their own plant, in the manufacture of steel.

For Workmen's Homes.

Thirty new baths which will be installed in the new houses now in course of erection on Merrymount Road, arrived yesterday. The work of building is going on apace and some of the houses will likely be ready for occupancy about the end of September, or perhaps earlier.

Epworth League Picnic.

The Wesley Epworth League has arranged to hold a picnic on the Southside Hills to-morrow (Wednesday) 18th. Members are asked to provide in the usual way, and will meet at the church at 2.30 p.m. A programme of sports and games which will make the evening enjoyable has been provided.

McMurdo's Store News.

TUESDAY, Aug. 17. There is nothing better we know of for summer troubles than our Wild Strawberry Compound and in ordinary cases this preparation relieves after one or two doses. It is sometimes, however, requisite to take a dose of Castor Oil before beginning to take the remedy. The Oil carries away any undigested food or other waste matter which causes the diarrhoea, etc., and leaves the Wild Strawberry Compound a clean field to get in its remedial work. Every family should keep in the house a bottle of Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil (Price 35c and 70c a bottle) in the house, and (at the time of year at least) a bottle of McMurdo's Wild Strawberry Compound (Price 35c a bottle).

The Visiting Ball Team.

A RECORD OF THE PLAYERS. THE MANAGER. The Sydney Millionaire baseball team, now in the city, and which plays the home team this evening, is the strongest aggregation that has ever played outside of Cape Breton. Business Manager N. Nathanson, a Sydney merchant, through whose efforts the Millionaires made the trip, is a well known sporting man in the Steel city, and has figured prominently in baseball for many years. Manager Nathanson is handling the business end of the proposition for the visiting team, and with the excellent backing given by the local men, the series should be a complete success.

THE CAPTAIN.

Lewis Fulton, is another prominent Sydney sportsman. Mr. Fulton is with the team as field manager, and his past baseball experience will be invaluable to the Millionaires' team. Manager Fulton took a keen interest in the Sydney City League this season and was one of the Directors of the Y.M.C.A. team.

THE LINE UP.

The Sydney line up for to-day's match is a very strong one. Behind the bat Joe Nearing will perform. Nearing fills his position in a first class manner and is a heavy batter. Harold Buchanan, the star pitcher of the Steel City League, will hurl for the visitors. Buchanan's record of eight wins and two losses this season speaks for the brand of ball he can put up. Joe MacInnis, the heaviest batter in Sydney, will play at first base. MacInnis is death on pitchers and when he connects, a hit is sure to be the result. Big Alex. MacDonald, well known in sporting circles throughout Nova Scotia as a first class hockey, baseball, and football player, will be at second base to-day. MacDonald is a heavy batter and fields his position to perfection. Kenzie White has been selected to play the third base position. White has an enviable baseball reputation. He easily ranks among the best of Cape Breton's ball players. At short stop, Cap Bartlett, another fast player, will perform. Bartlett is a great little player and can be depended on to play a good game. In the field Ossie Hyndman, Bert MacLean and Roy McNabb are the selections. All are class players and if the report is true the local players will have to hit the pill out of their reach if they want to register runs.

THE RESERVES.

Other players with the team who will be used are: Kyrin Purcell, Norman MacLean, Ralph Pushie, Leo McKenna and John McInnis are two fast players. MacLean is rated as the best first sacker in Cape Breton.

A NEWFOUNDLANDER, TOO.

Others who made the trip with the team are Alderman Amos Martin, of Sydney, Angus Lannon, George MacNeil, Con Moore and E. Feder. Alderman Martin is a native of Newfoundland and is well known in St. John's. He formerly lived at Harbor Grace. He is one of Sydney's prominent men, and takes a great interest in sport.

HAD TRY-OUT.

The Sydney team had a workout at the field this morning, and quite a number of fans turned out to see them perform. By this evening they will be in first class shape for the match.—C.

Honesty Rewarded.

Last evening the lady cashier of one of the St. John's Meat Co.'s stores lost a wallet of money on Water Street. This morning the money was restored to the owner by a young lad named Flynn, a son of poor parents, he having picked the purse up shortly after it was lost. He received a substantial reward for his honesty.

Cattle Sale.

At the auction sale of cattle yesterday young pigs sold for from $2 to $3 each, the latter being well grown fellows. Calves sold for $11 to $16 each. The horned cattle fetched good prices, although the owners of several local reared animals removed them, being dissatisfied with the price offered. At the horse sale to-day the animals sold at fair prices, ranging from $60 to $120.00 each.

Big Three Want to Control Fish Market.

PROBABLE TROUBLE AHEAD.

At the meeting of the Advisory Board held last evening the prices of fish for Greece and Portugal, but not for Italy or Spain were settled. Brazilian conditions remaining unchanged. Mr. G. M. Barr at the meeting was anxious to have, Hawes handle the Italian situation, but it appears that Mr. Coaker does not seem inclined that way, the former gentleman seeing perfection in Hawes, the latter, Mr. Coaker appearing to have had enough of him. Mr. Coaker is inclined to handle the Italian market himself, selling all the fish to the Consorzio and charging the owners of the cargoes no commission. In conversation with a fish merchant on the above facts he said he was of the opinion that should the Big Three effect sales to the Consorzio of their own fish it is probable that they will repeat the tactics of last year and reduce the sale price. It is very evident that Mr. Coaker is top dog. The Brazilian conditions remaining unchanged, as a result of the embargo placed on the Brazilians by this silly enactment, it will be the end of November before they will get a meal of our succulent new codfish, at which time it will have lost considerable of its flavor and its quality will be impaired. As there will be few buyers of codfish this fall an effort will be made to induce the Banks to increase the limit price of their advances, and enable the trio to handle half the catch of the country on their own terms.

of No. 2417, Pte. Charlie Sharpe, aged 22 years, who died August 17th, 1917, from wounds received whilst fighting Somewhere in France.

'Over the distance, in a hallowed area Where wooden crosses mark the simple mounds; Quake unadorned except by railing He sleeps at last where quiet rest abounds. After the noise of war, the cold and hunger; The unaged horrors of each passing day; Serene and tranquil, peacefully reposing; Until, with joy, God's summons he'd obey. Where silent stars their vigil keep. He giveth His beloved sleep.'—A SHARPE.

IN LOVING MEMORY

of our darling child, John Henry Williams, who died August 17th, 1919.

Just a year ago to-day. But oh, it seems so long; Since our darling child left us, To join the heavenly throng. The heavenly gates were open wide, The gentle voice said come; And angels from the other side, Welcomed our loved one home. You suffered much, you murmured not. We watched you day by day; Until at last, with broken heart, We saw you pass away. —Inserted by his father and Mother.

IN LOVING MEMORY

of our dear husband and father, Martin Ryan, who departed this life, Aug. 18th, 1916, aged 68 years. Rest in peace. Softly at night the stars are shining, On thy lonely, silent grave; Where thou liest dearest husband, Whom we loved, but could not save. Four years have passed, Our hearts still sore; As time flies by we miss him more, Who was our best and truest friend; To part with one we loved so dear; God called him home, it was his will; But in our hearts he liveth still. —Inserted by wife and family.

 Finally Hawker chimed in with: "Ever heard of aeroplane poison?"
 "No! What is it?"

MILLEBAND SPEAKS.
 PARIS, Aug. 16.
 Any differences between the Allies, relative to the policies they will follow, have no influence upon their cordial relations, said Premier Millerband at Le Quesnoy town, in the devastated region, which the Premier visited on Sunday. "Divergencies of views," he declared, "are quite natural, even between the Allies, but they do not weaken the reciprocal deep esteem or the conviction that the maintenance of their Allies for Entente nations, is the moral duty and necessity of the hour. However painful are certain comments, when these divergencies become marked, at the same moment it is realized that next day the Allies will walk hand in hand toward the same purpose, which is the reign of liberty and justice."

BATTILING FOR WARSAW.
 WARSAW, Aug. 16.
 Fighting at various points on the Warsaw front is reported in to-night's official communique. Radzimin, northwest of the capital, is again in Polish hands, after an all day fight. The Russians attacked on both sides of Radzimin, at Zegzezi, and at Okuniew, less than fifteen miles due east of Warsaw.

NOT INCLINED TO GIVE WAY.
 LONDON, Aug. 16.
 Premier Lloyd George, replying to a question in the House of Commons today, concerning Labor's ultimatum against war on Russia, declared that any attempt to dictate the policy of the Government or Parliament by industrial action struck at the root of the democratic constitution of the country, and would be resisted by all the forces at the Government's disposal.

CLOUD BURST AT TOLEDO.
 TOLEDO, Ohio, Aug. 16.
 Damage, estimated at five millions of dollars, was done here to-day by a severe rainstorm, which floated away great stretches of the city having flooded cellars and paralyzed traffic. It was one of the most severe storms that ever struck the city and district.

JUST TO SHOW THEY COULD.
 DUBLIN, Aug. 16.
 Thirty armed men, after a strenuous avoiding the military guard, raided the Dublin Custom House. They went through the buildings and left in a few minutes without taking anything. The hail porter was made to face the wall by one of the raiders while the remainder hurried through the buildings or acted as sentries. The object of the raid had not developed to a late hour.

BOLSHEVIKS HAVE WARSAW.
 LONDON, Aug. 16.
 Russian Soviet troops have entered Warsaw, the Polish capital, according to the Kovno, Lithuania, correspondent of the London Times. The dispatch says the staff of the fourth Bolshevik army entered Warsaw Sunday.

NEGOTIATIONS PROCEEDING.
 LONDON, Aug. 16.
 An announcement that the Polish and Russian armistice and Peace delegates had met at Minsk, was made by Earl Curzon, Secretary for Foreign Affairs, in the House of Lords to-day. Negotiations were doubtless proceeding, he added.

BY MAJORITY VOTE.
 WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 16.
 Eighty-three per cent. of the members of the Street Railwaymen's Union have voted to join "One Big Union," according to an announcement to-day by C. Tannen, President of the Union.

U.S. ATHLETES AHEAD.
 ANTWERP, Aug. 16.
 Track and field teams of the United States continued to gather honors in the second day of the seventh Olympiad. It outclassed all other nations combinations, but its members were not strong enough, individually, to win all first place honors, particularly in the classic pentathlon, in which the Finnish star, Lethonen, proved to be the best all round athlete. In addition to the United States scoring the greatest number of points, the only world's record of the day was made by Frank Loomis, of Chicago, in the four hundred metre hurdles, with fifty-four seconds flat, a full second better than the time made by C. Bacon in the London Olympic. In other events of heats before the semi-finals in eight hundred metre run, all United States contestants retained their places, but it was generally conceded that a South African, B. G. Rudd, was a sure first in the final.

PARLIAMENT ADJOURNED.
 LONDON, Aug. 16.
 The House of Commons to-night, without division, agreed to the motion of Bonar Law, Government leader, and adjourned the House until October 19th, but empowering the Speaker to summon Parliament earlier, should public interest demand it. This, and Mr. Bonar Law's undertaking that in the event of Russia's armistice terms to Poland being materially altered, the Government would take no action without consulting Parliament, meets the Opposition's objections that the country should not be committed to any intervention against Russia without the consent of Parliament. Bonar Law confirmed that the armistice terms to Poland, as announced by Russia, had the approval of both Great Britain and Italy, and said that if they were sincerely adhered to, Great Britain would not interfere between Poland and Russia. Paragraphs in the newspapers recently, considered by some to have been inspired, had led the public to expect some new developments of the policy toward Ireland by the Premier or Bonar Law, on lines of dominion home rule, but this expectation met with disappointment. Lloyd George confined himself to repeating his previous offer that the Government would discuss settlement with any representative of Irish opinion, not excluding Sinn Feiners, provided they accept three stipulations, which he carefully defined, viz., that Northern Ulster's six counties must be treated separately; that there must be no secession, directly or indirectly of any part of Ireland from the United Kingdom and that the Government could not agree to anything that would involve any detraction from the security of the British Isles or of their safety in case of war. This guarded statement, although announcing no new policy, will probably be interpreted as an intimation to continue outside discussions of dominion settlement, which have made such unexpected progress recently, and enlisted support in hitherto antagonistic quarters.

Mrs. P. Hannaford Rejoices Over Recovery Of Health After Four Long Years Of Suffering — Tanlac Again Proves Merit.
 "I can't help rejoicing over what Tanlac has done for me, for it has enabled me to lay aside my crutches and I am now feeling just grand," recently declared Mrs. P. Hannaford, who lives on Waterford Bridge Road, St. John's, Nfld.
 "I haven't words in which to describe all I suffered during the last four years on account of neuritis and rheumatism. The pains seemed to shoot all through my body and my legs and feet swelled up to twice their natural size and became so painful I couldn't bear to use them. I had to get about on crutches all the time. Sometimes I suffered such pain I could hardly help screaming out at the top of my voice. I had terrible nervous headaches and slept so little at night I might as well not have gone to bed at all. My nerves got into such a terrible condition the least little noise or excitement made me tremble all over and I thought I would collapse altogether.
 "I never thought any medicine could overcome my troubles, but when I saw by the papers that so many people were being helped by Tanlac, I gave it a trial and it certainly has made a wonderful change in me. I haven't a pain of any sort in my body now, all the swelling has gone from my legs and feet, and I no longer need crutches to get around. I relish every mouthful of my food and it does me good for I have lost that tired feeling and am full of energy all the time. My nerves are as strong and steady as can be, I sleep like a child all night, and get up in the mornings rested and refreshed. I am more than grateful for the benefits I have derived from Tanlac and hope my experience will be the means of helping others."
 Tanlac is sold in St. John's by M. Connors, by Reg. Sullivan, Pouch Cove; Sound Island Store, Sound Island; Dennis Flynn, Avondale; J. J. O'Brien, Cape Broyle; J. W. Smith, Balne Harbour; W. A. Burdock, Belleoram; John Moray, Fermanuse; Mrs. Jos. Quinn, Renewa.—adv.

Raiding Turnip Fields.
 Farmers are complaining of the raid being made on their turnip patches by boys and young men. The taking of a turnip or two is not complained of but it seems that when a raid is made dozens of small turnips are pulled up and discarded. One farmer in particular after a raid on Sunday night last lost what would be 3 barrels of turnip in this way. He has since placed a dog's house in his turnip patch and so far no further raids have been made.

Cunning dolman wraps have been designed for flappers, and are much in favor.

The long, tight sleeve and the haring three-quarter sleeve are equally popular.

Through Canadian Eyes . . . . .

(By J. R. Smallwood, Halifax Herald.)
Hot Weather!

Halifax, in common with all Eastern Canada, has been "enjoying" hot weather during the past three days. On Sunday it was above 80 in the shade; on Monday it was 83 in the shade, and yesterday it was 86. Most people who were not compelled to be at work spent their time in trying to keep cool, and every resort was filled. Silver Sands, Cow Bay, was dotted thickly with bathers, while on North West Arm hundreds enjoyed a cool breeze, canoeing.

Building New Hotel.

Halifax is shortly to have another new hotel—this time a million and a half dollar one. At present there are several hotels—the Halifax, Queen, Carleton, Prince George and others. The fact that another is deemed necessary is eloquent of the growing propensities of this city. In Halifax one beholds an inspiring example for St. John's. St. John's should have a tourist traffic twenty times as great as that of Halifax, and would have, were it not for the lack of sufficient accommodation. If there is one thing that an American or a Canadian tourist or traveller demands it is good hotel accommodation, and it is a waste of time to expect him to go where that accommodation is not.

$1,000,000 For Paving.

The city of Halifax at the beginning of this year allocated $1,000,000 to be spent in paving streets. Last year an enormous sum was expended and next year another will be spent. By then practically every street in Halifax will have been paved. The paving is of asphalt, with brick paving for the reception of street car rails. The street car line was extended several miles this summer, and it is now proposed to extend it some more.

Trying to Force New Election.

In Manitoba the political situation is a rather unique one. The recent election there gave the government a bare majority, and now it is having the time of its life trying to keep itself a government. In opposition are Laborites, Farmers and Independents. The latter are combining to make things hot for the government and thereby force another election, in which case the Laborites and Farmers would combine and go to the country together. That they would sweep everything before them seems, from all indications, to be likely. The Winnipeg Free Press, which is not a Labor nor a Farmer paper, admits the fact. That is significant. Still, one can never tell what may happen.

An Extraordinary Distinction.

Four men in the world to-day, besides the native ones, are chiefs of the six-Indian tribe of Indians at Brantford, Ontario. They are: the King, the Governor General of Canada, the Prince of Wales and—Labor Mayor! He is Mayor M. McBride, of Brantford, where he is head of the City Council, and a member of the Ontario Legislature. He was made a chief by the Iroquois Indians as a mark of their appreciation of a service which he had rendered them. He went through the same ceremony as the Prince did on his recent tour of Canada. Mayor McBride was in Halifax during the late election, and helped the Independent Labor Party in its campaign. The writer met him there, and heard from himself the story of the chieftanship.

Nova Scotia's Apple Crop.

The Annapolis Valley apple crop this year will be over 1,000,000 barrels. Though this will be 600,000 barrels below last year's bumper yield, experts say that the quality will be unusually excellent; some go as far as to say that the quality will make up in value for the loss in quantity. There is a big crop of small fruits over all Canada. In New Brunswick, however, the apple crop is only about 50 per cent. of last year's, and there is no advantage in quality to offset the loss in quantity.
Halifax, Aug. 11, 1920.

Hit It, Bill!

Soldier, golfer, footballer, and lawn-tennis champion, Mr. J. C. Parke, who created a sensation by beating the American tennis champion at Wimbledon, is a remarkable type of the all-round athlete. Thirty-nine years of age, he can give many years and a beating to most of his opponents.

Mr. Parke tells an amusing story of two soldiers who were playing golf. The first man teed up and made a mighty swipe, but failed to move the ball. Time after time he tried and missed. His pal could stand it no longer.

"For Heaven's sake, hit it, Bill!" he cried. "We've only got four days' leave!"

Archbishop Was Hurried Into London in Darkness.

London, August 10. — (Canadian Press)—Archbishop Daniel J. Mannix, of Australia, who was landed yesterday at Penzance by a British destroyer, which had taken him from aboard the White Star liner Baltic, off the Irish coast, arrived here at 6 o'clock this morning.

There were only a few reporters and a handful of priests present to greet the Archbishop, but a heavy police guard was maintained about the station.

There were no untoward incidents. A less impressive welcome for Archbishop Mannix could hardly have been staged than that which greeted him when he arrived at Haddington station.

Only the late editions of last night's newspapers published the fact that he had landed at Penzance and was coming to this city.

Therefore only a few knew that he was to arrive at an early hour to-day. Even the priests were not allowed to greet the Archbishop until he had passed the barriers into the station proper. Here the police had some difficulty in handling even such a small crowd, as nearly every one insisted on kneeling before the Archbishop and kissing his hand.

Efforts of those who took Archbishop Mannix from the station to evade the public seemed to lend strength to statements of Irishmen that the Australian prelate will attempt to go to Ireland, notwithstanding the government's mandate that he shall not.

He was first led to the subway platform and then suddenly hurried into an automobile into which his luggage had been placed. He was driven to the home of a priest in the suburbs.

Archbishop Mannix declined to say whether he had any plans for the immediate future, and would not disclose what he intended to do during his stay in England.

The HAY Situation.

Advices from Quebec (the great hay centre of Canada) indicate a fair average crop for this year and under normal conditions reasonably low prices should prevail, but on account of railroad disorganization and the possibility of increased freight rates we are inclined to think that quotations may be higher rather than lower as the season advances.

Fortunately for our customers as well as ourselves we were lucky in securing a low rate of freight on a shipment due to arrive at the end of the month and are booking orders for this lot at attractive prices for prompt delivery from steamer's wharf on arrival.

We would advise live stock owners to take advantage of this opportunity and secure their fall and winter requirements of hay while present low prices are available.
