VETERANS CALL ON GOVERNMENT FOR DISSOLUTION

Mass Meeting of G.W.V.A. and G.A.U.V. Insistent for General Election.

PLEDGES NOT KEPT

A resolution calling on the government to hold a general election was unanimously passed at the first open-air veteran mass meeting of the G.W.V.A. and G.A.U.V., with Controller Maguire in the chair.

Can, But Will Not. Comrade Marsh went on to say that it was admitted that the government could not deal with all the problem cases of re-establishment that arise from time to time, but there are many cases with which they can but will not deal.

The matter of unity among veteran associations was referred to by J. V. Conroy, district secretary of the G. W. V. A., who stated that it was time to bury the differences that existed between the various bodies.

A resolution calling on the government to hold a general election within the next six months was moved by Com. Stafford, first vice-president of the G. W. V. A. The resolution concluded as follows: "That we demand that our representatives in parliament from the various ridings in the City of Toronto and York county forthwith withdraw their support from the government in order that a constitutional government be elected."

INNOCENT MAN EXPIRES IN JAIL

Veterans Indignant at Treatment Awarded Comrade Arrested for Drunkenness.

No little indignation is felt among veterans in the city concerning the fate of Pte. Malcolm McDonald, who died at the General Hospital on Monday from hemorrhage of the brain.

During the journey he became separated from his escort and was arrested on May 31 on a charge of drunkenness. It is the general opinion that if McDonald had been acting strangely on that occasion, the wound he had sustained in France was responsible, and not liquor.

COLLECTOR OF TAX HAS HIS TROUBLES

Few Merchants Make Returns Under New Budget Rules.

June one was not a red letter day with either the officials of the inland revenue collection office or the merchants of the city who were due to hand over the luxury tax money they had collected on behalf of the government.

Not more than about one hundred merchants attended the collector's reception yesterday, and the majority only came in search of information and collection of official forms.

Only Twelve Dollars. One of the first merchants to pay over his collection handed it to a clerk in a sealed package, which on being opened was found to contain twelve dollars and seven cents.

Worth While to Cheat. This opinion was expressed by another merchant. "This tax makes it worth while for any dealer to cheat and you can't get away from it, there is going to be a whole lot of cheating. The taxes are so steep in some cases that they are simply making rogues out of business men."

Complex Questions. The World yesterday received the following letter of inquiry from a lady living in the city. She says: "Will you please answer the following questions, or tell me where I can get them answered: (1) My husband has a small repair garage, doing all the work himself, with the exception of perhaps a day or so a month, when he employs help. Is it necessary for me to keep a set of books—ledger, journal and day book—for so small a business?"

RELATIVES WILL USE DETECTIVES

(Continued From Page 1.) of Mr. Small was issued broadcast by Chief of Police Gassett yesterday, who stated the reward would expire on Sept. 1. Relatives Surprised. The trust company, in the order they obtained evidently did not take pains to employ private detectives to delve into the mystery surrounding the mysterious disappearance. The World yesterday made some inquiries among the lawyers who are acting for the estate of Mr. Small and found surprising results among the relatives themselves and the legal fraternity, that nothing in the line of inquiry had been done. The relatives of the missing man will now, thru their legal advisers, take a hand in the matter and will ask the court to authorize the expenditure of a sum from Mr. Small's estate for the employment of the Pinkerton's to thoroughly investigate the whole case from start to finish. The relatives will state that they do not care so much about the immediate distribution of the estate, their one and sole desire being to find Mr. Small, alive or dead, and if the latter, to bring his murderers to justice. Within the next few days, such an application, The World is informed, by those officially connected with the case will be made at Osgoode Hall. The relatives of Mr. Small and their legal advisers, whilst recognizing that the local police have done all in their power to both find Mr. Small alive or dead, and distinctly of the opinion that detectives who are used and trained in the higher branches of crime, should be called in to unravel a case which is by no means an ordinary mystery.

CAR SERVICE GIVES NO CAUSE FOR COMPLAINT

Chairman of Railway Replies to Charges of Over-crowding.

At a meeting of the Ontario Railway Board yesterday Assistant City Solicitor Fairly passed on a complaint about the Toronto street railway service. The chairman pointed out that while a count showed congestion at times, the board felt that it could not intervene, having regard to the standing capacity, and the insistence of the public to get on the cars and stand rather than wait. Mr. McIntyre also said that one inspector of the board had made counts as to morning rush hours and in a report presented on April 8 he stated on the main line are run at intervals which seem to preclude the inclusion of those additional cars. He added that their inspector's report was that there was no room for serious complaint at present, but the board would keep in touch with the matter.

Much Overcrowding. Mr. Fairly stated that on the Broadway route Mr. Harris reported a count showed 58 per cent. more passengers than seats. Chairman McIntyre pointed out that between 7:30 and 7:45 in the morning there were 20 cars on the Broadway route, and between 7:45 and 8 o'clock 16 cars. That was almost as close together as cars could be worked with safety. The unequal flow of traffic seemed to be the difficulty. Mr. Fairly said there was already an order against the company for 200 cars. Chairman McIntyre replied: "Our inquiry shows that the cars running on the main line are run at intervals which seem to preclude the inclusion of those additional cars. He added that their inspector's report was that there was no room for serious complaint at present, but the board would keep in touch with the matter."

RUSH OF CITIZENS TO SETTLE TAXES

Department Will Remain Open Tomorrow, Authorities Decide.

Owing to the rush to pay taxes, the city hall authorities have decided that there will be no holiday for the staff tomorrow, although Thursday is to be declared a national holiday by the house of commons in honor of the King's natal day. All day yesterday rows of men and women, clutching tax bills and bank bills, reaching from wickets to wall, crowded the corridor of the city hall. About a dozen wickets were open for the receiving of tax moneys and a taxpayer could not get near any one of them without waiting in line from ten minutes to half an hour. The discount for early payment is good up till June 4, but thousands of people are paying ahead of the required time.

NEWSPAPERS EVOLVE WITH CIVILIZATION

"We have evolved during the past forty years from the stage of the weekly newspaper as we have evolved from the stage of narrow influence in journalism," said Sir John Willison, addressing the York Institute yesterday afternoon at the institute building, College street. "The two great survivors of that weekly journal era now functioning as the daily newspaper and the Toronto Telegram," continued Sir John. "Village life has disappeared in consonance with this evolution from the crude to the diversified phase of civilization. The speaker recalled the days when the York Ledger functioned as the great exponent of the old regime, giving to the public a definite diversion in the shape of serials and interesting touches. However, the only weekly surviving today as such was The Montreal Family Herald. The present era was indeed a difficult one for newspapers, and partly because of the bilingualism which prevails in certain parts of the Dominion. In general terms, however, the newspaper of today was more independent in ideal than that of 40 years ago, due to the weakness of influence of political domination by party chieftains.

Asks if Sir Adam Beck Made Proper Returns to Government.

The vice-chairman of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, A. B. Ingram, has followed up his first attack on Sir Adam Beck with a second statement, which he issued yesterday. It is as follows:

"Sir Adam Beck, as a minister and as a government official, has had a good deal to say about the Ontario Railway Board, he knowing and believing that any statements he or his emissary might make from time to time would go unchallenged by the board. He approached me the other day in London, and said our board ought not to have made a report concerning the London Street Railway without first seeing his report. This was the second time he has exchanged words in several years. Of course, I resent his impertinence, and this led to the remark (that I thought his head was too big for his hat), and later on (that in my opinion the man was crazy).

Manipulation of Railway Finances. "Now, Sir Adam is a wonderful man, a great financier in a few years would have the courage to manipulate railway finances as he has manipulated the finances of the London & Port Stanley Railway. I will explain how he did it, as per 'Dominion railway statistics': Page 30, 1918, amount of stocks outstanding $37,158 Page 30, 1919, amount of stocks outstanding 1,382,854 Page 31, 1913, total railway capital $1,870,012 "The bonds were 5 per cent. 10 years, issued under Dominion statute, chapter 145, 1908. Further issues were enacted by Ontario Statute, 1913, 5 p.c., 40-year debentures $ 700,000 1915, 5 p.c., 40-year debentures 60,000 1916, 5 p.c., 40-year debentures 30,000 1918, 5 1/2 p.c., 40-year debentures 101,000 1917, 5 p.c., 30-year debentures 100,000 1917, 5 p.c., 40-year debentures 131,000 1918, 5 p.c., 30-year debentures 100,000 1918, 5 p.c., 10-year debentures 7,000 Total $1,138,000 "Add to this the bonds and stock outstanding as above total capital $1,870,012 Requirements of By-law by government $2,008,012 "Now turn to page 92 of the 1918 Dominion report, table 2, under 'summary of capital' at the close of the year ending June 30, 1918: London & Port Stanley Railway bond obligations, $1,131,000.

"Ordinary railway financiers might ask what became of the difference in capital between the $1,131,000 and $2,008,012, the difference being $1,877,012. "Not so back," said Sir John Willison, addressing the York Institute yesterday afternoon at the institute building, College street. "The two great survivors of that weekly journal era now functioning as the daily newspaper and the Toronto Telegram," continued Sir John. "Village life has disappeared in consonance with this evolution from the crude to the diversified phase of civilization. The speaker recalled the days when the York Ledger functioned as the great exponent of the old regime, giving to the public a definite diversion in the shape of serials and interesting touches. However, the only weekly surviving today as such was The Montreal Family Herald. The present era was indeed a difficult one for newspapers, and partly because of the bilingualism which prevails in certain parts of the Dominion. In general terms, however, the newspaper of today was more independent in ideal than that of 40 years ago, due to the weakness of influence of political domination by party chieftains.

What the Penalty is.

"See Dominion railway act, chapter 68, 1919, section 87b. 'Every railway company shall annually prepare returns in accordance with the forms and classifications for the time being required by the board, of its capital traffic and works, such returns shall be dated and signed by and attested upon the oath of the secretary, president, or in his absence by the vice-president of the company.' "How did he do it? Was it done by making a false statement to the Dominion railway statistician? If so, let us see what the law is in regard to returns.

"(1) In the case of a by-law for granting a bonus in aid of a railway company, or for taking stock in, or for lending money to, or for guaranteeing the payment of money borrowed by a railway company, the assent of one-third of all the persons entitled to vote as well as a majority of all those voting shall be necessary. "No such bylaws were ever submitted to the people by the authorities of the city of London.

SOLDIER LOSES ACTION

The appellate court has dismissed the appeal of W. S. Raven, a returned soldier, against the decision of Judge Denton, who dismissed his action against L. Nadler for $237.80 cash paid on account of a second-hand car purchased from defendant, and upon which it was later found there was a lien for $488.50.

May Reply Later.

Sir Adam Beck, when seen by The World in connection with Mr. Ingram's statement, said he would deal with it later. He had not had time to read it carefully, and might consequently reserve for the present any remarks he might make.

An Unfailing Way To Banish Hairs

(Beauty Notes) Ugly hairy growths can be removed in the privacy of your own home if you get a small original package of delatone and mix into a paste enough of the powder and water to cover the hairy surface. This should be left on the skin about 2 minutes, then removed and the skin washed and every trace of hair will have vanished. No harm or inconvenience can result from this treatment, but be sure you buy real delatone.

DOES NOT APPROVE OF RIVERDALE ZOO

Of No Educational Value to Children, Says Alderman Hamilton.

"Evidence is constantly before us of the need of more thorough education of children in the real humanities of life," said Alderman Mrs. L. A. Hamilton, one of the most widely known women in Ontario, addressing the Toronto Humane Society yesterday afternoon at the Jenkins Art Galleries, College street. "It pains me, indeed," continued Mrs. Hamilton, "to see the great high-flying, wide-ranging type of eagles cooped up as they are at the Toronto Zoo. In general, I feel sure that the zoo forms for the children of the city no sort of education except as showing them that animals at this prison are just where they should not be. I take it that the value of education should lie in its capacity to fit one to become a citizen of the world, and undoubtedly one of the needs of the citizen today is education of the affections, not the affections of life. Children should be reared in an atmosphere of greater affection for animals in every month was given over to open meetings held in the interest of the general public. There was every hope, he said, that the membership of the society would be given over to the end of the year. The membership at the moment was 700. CITY MAY ANNEX TOWNSHIP BLOCK

Recommendation Due Before Board of Control on Friday.

A recommendation for the annexation of a block of township land in the Danforth district will likely come before the board of control on Friday of this week.

Some weeks ago three separate annexation propositions were made to the board. One came from the new owners of the Synod property on the north side of Danforth, adjoining Woodbine avenue, of whom the National Trust Company are the agents, in association with J. B. Harris & Co., owners of land immediately west of the Synod lands, the second from W. N. McEachren & Co., owners of property north of the Harris and Synod lands, and the third from R. Sharp, who asked for the annexation of the district west of Donlands avenue, as far north as Cronyn avenue.

Special Committee Meet. These applications were referred for a report to a special committee, consisting of Commissioners Harris, Bradshaw and Foreman, City Clerk Littlejohn and City Solicitor Johnston. This committee has held one meeting and after viewing the property will hold a final one this morning. It is understood they will recommend that the north city limits be moved back approximately 1,250 feet north of Danforth avenue, which will bring Milverton boulevard continued, within the city limits. This line will also take into the city most of the land covered by the National Trust-Harris applica-

BOARD IS DIVIDED ON HOUSING ISSUE

May Relax Bylaw to Permit Erection of Cheaper Houses.

Mayor Church, who has just returned from a week-end trip to New York, left last night for Winnipeg to attend the good roads convention. Controller Cameron is attending the same convention and only Controllers Maguire, Ramsden and Gibbons will be on hand for the meeting of the board of control this morning. The board held a brief meeting in the mayor's office yesterday afternoon and discussed the question of going on with the housing commission proposal and other matters. Board is Divided. It is understood the board is very much divided on the wisdom of the city building houses at present. In view of the high cost of material, the mayor said after getting that he had difficulty in meeting suitable men to serve on the commission, and that Mr. H. H. Williams, a real estate expert and a member of the city housing commission which is now going out of business, has strongly urged the city not to continue housing operations. To meet the situation the building bylaws will likely be relaxed to permit the erection of a cheaper class of houses in the outskirts.

The board decided to try to induce the government, with the help of other Toronto bodies, to give the postal employees the back pay demanded and endeavor to avert a strike.

Something for the Treasurer. The city is not above learning something from the citizens, even in the payment of taxes, as to which nobody thinks it is more blessed to give than to receive.

There are many pay wickets, many papers, and long lines of patient people waiting their turn. It is quite an art to pick out the line the last place in which promises the earliest interview with the clerk.

Our son of Toronto wants to know why the people who have so many tax bills to meet, in their fiduciary capacities, should not have some special paying place, to their advantage, and greatly to the advantage of the scores of quiet but busy people who now feel that they are being fooled out of their clever calculations as to which is the fast-moving line.

Too Exclusive About Music.

It is pretty tough when a musician's union makes a noise like a strike against the Salvation Army band earning a little of the city's money, by giving concerts in the parks like any other band.

The exclusive spirit can be overworked in a trade union as elsewhere. The Salvation Army is not a suitable institution to work it on. There is room for largeness of mind in music, as in everything else.

DAY IN PARLIAMENT

Ottawa, June 1.—(Special.)—Hon. Mackenzie King and Hon. N. W. Rowell were the leading figures in the budget debate today.

The government forces were out in strength and cheered Mr. Rowell with great enthusiasm. He is a pleasing speaker, and the Unionist members seemed more than pleased with the way in which he went after the opposition.

Mr. King got good support from his own followers, who remained in their seats during the somewhat lengthy speech, which ran on for 15 minutes after 8 o'clock.

Of Mr. King's three-hour speech, the most indignant critic will have to admit that all it contained of any moment could have been better said in one-third the time.

There were brilliant passages and bursts of oratory that called for applause, but there were long, arid wastes between. The orator was loaded down with newspaper clippings and other documents, and his range of literary quotations extended from Goldsmith's "Deserted Village" to Willson's "Life of Sir Wilfrid Laurier."

Fully two hours and a half had been occupied before Mr. King approached the tariff question. He admitted there were differences of opinion on the tariff question among his followers, but said they could all line up in support of the Fielding amendment.

For himself, he never had been a free trader, but he would stand or fall upon the tariff plank adopted by the national Liberal convention last year.

Mr. King arraigned the government with having no policy in regard to the high cost of living. There was nothing in the budget to encourage production or decrease the cost of living, on the contrary by imposing tax upon tax the government was making commodities higher.

The result would be to restrict trade and commerce and to stimulate the manufacture of shoddy goods. The Liberal leader wanted more people back on the land and suggested that cottages might be built on farms which could be taken up by city dwellers in search of employment as farm help.

The farming community, he said, were more healthy than city dwellers. Tuberculosis was rife in this country, and the toll of infant mortality was appalling. Something more should be done for the conservation of human life.

Mr. King said conditions had changed since the National Policy was introduced by Sir John Macdonald forty years ago. Then our manufacturers had a small home market and no foreign market at all.

How they were able to do it, he asked, was a world in proof of this he gave a list of the vessels in and about the harbor and even then he approached it gingerly. He visited that port last January. These were waiting to carry Canadian cargoes to Britain, Scandinavia, Italy, Australia, South Africa and Brazil. The infant industries were now fully grown.

Hon. N. W. Rowell rebuked the Liberal leader for his long and rambling speech and pointed out that he had disregarded the Biblical command against cleaning every corner of the field. He had talked about many subjects, but had devoted only a minor portion of his address to the tariff question.

But, as sometimes happens, he was calling the kettle black, for Rowell spoke at very considerable length. His references to the tariff were brief and carefully guarded, excepting some things devoted to a defence of the Canadian "Record," published under his supervision during the war. Mr. Rowell took up the charge loosely made by several Liberals during the debate that $121,000,000 expended by the paymaster's office in London had never been accounted for.

The charge rested upon a statement in the auditor-general's report that no vouchers for this expenditure had yet been received.

The government ignored the charge, and made no explanation until tonight. Then Mr. Rowell seized upon the fact that Leader King had fathered the charge as well as his lieutenants and gave the explanation. The vouchers had not been received by the auditor-general at the time he made out his report, but they had since arrived in Ottawa. Five thousand boxes of them are now under examination. Up to date only one shortage of $300 has been discovered, and some discrepancy is unavoidable in accounts of this kind.

Mr. Rowell's principal contention was that the Liberals should have known that this huge sum could not have disappeared. They knew that this item of $121,000,000 included pay and allowances of officers and men in the Expeditionary Force and expenses incidental to carrying on the war. They could not have believed in good faith that all the Canadian officers and men went without pay during the year 1918.

On the tariff question Mr. Rowell was even more non-committal than Mr. King. He said the tariff needed revising and there would be a tariff revision by the government. Until

The new minister was for five years pastor of St. Andrew's Church, Sydney, N.S., coming to St. John's as assistant to Rev. J. McP. Scott, a few weeks prior to the death of that clergyman. Since then he has been in temporary charge of the church until his recent call to the vacant pastorate.

Weekly court, Wednesday, 2nd inst., from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m.—Big Sharp estate; Lindsay v. Currie; Kennedy v. Calder; Wah Tom v. Wong Sing; Boyle v. Boyle; Graham v. Dominion Express; Canada Flexible v. Monarch Brass.

Second divisional court: Peremptory writs for Wednesday, 2nd inst., at 11 a.m.—Tickenoff v. Bradley; W. Harcourt v. Hay; Milliken v. Macdougall; Pulvers v. Stern; Simpson v. Buchanan; Hawley v. Hand.

Before J. A. C. Cameron, Master. Annet v. Homewood Sanitarium—Plaintiff, in person, moved for directions to the defendant to "Deserted Village" to Willson's "Life of Sir Wilfrid Laurier." Fully two hours and a half had been occupied before Mr. King approached the tariff question.

He admitted there were differences of opinion on the tariff question among his followers, but said they could all line up in support of the Fielding amendment.

For himself, he never had been a free trader, but he would stand or fall upon the tariff plank adopted by the national Liberal convention last year.

Mr. King arraigned the government with having no policy in regard to the high cost of living. There was nothing in the budget to encourage production or decrease the cost of living, on the contrary by imposing tax upon tax the government was making commodities higher.

The result would be to restrict trade and commerce and to stimulate the manufacture of shoddy goods. The Liberal leader wanted more people back on the land and suggested that cottages might be built on farms which could be taken up by city dwellers in search of employment as farm help.

The farming community, he said, were more healthy than city dwellers. Tuberculosis was rife in this country, and the toll of infant mortality was appalling. Something more should be done for the conservation of human life.

Mr. King said conditions had changed since the National Policy was introduced by Sir John Macdonald forty years ago. Then our manufacturers had a small home market and no foreign market at all.

How they were able to do it, he asked, was a world in proof of this he gave a list of the vessels in and about the harbor and even then he approached it gingerly. He visited that port last January. These were waiting to carry Canadian cargoes to Britain, Scandinavia, Italy, Australia, South Africa and Brazil. The infant industries were now fully grown.

Hon. N. W. Rowell rebuked the Liberal leader for his long and rambling speech and pointed out that he had disregarded the Biblical command against cleaning every corner of the field. He had talked about many subjects, but had devoted only a minor portion of his address to the tariff question.

But, as sometimes happens, he was calling the kettle black, for Rowell spoke at very considerable length. His references to the tariff were brief and carefully guarded, excepting some things devoted to a defence of the Canadian "Record," published under his supervision during the war. Mr. Rowell took up the charge loosely made by several Liberals during the debate that $121,000,000 expended by the paymaster's office in London had never been accounted for.

The charge rested upon a statement in the auditor-general's report that no vouchers for this expenditure had yet been received.

The government ignored the charge, and made no explanation until tonight. Then Mr. Rowell seized upon the fact that Leader King had fathered the charge as well as his lieutenants and gave the explanation. The vouchers had not been received by the auditor-general at the time he made out his report, but they had since arrived in Ottawa. Five thousand boxes of them are now under examination. Up to date only one shortage of $300 has been discovered, and some discrepancy is unavoidable in accounts of this kind.

Mr. Rowell's principal contention was that the Liberals should have known that this huge sum could not have disappeared. They knew that this item of $121,000,000 included pay and allowances of officers and men in the Expeditionary Force and expenses incidental to carrying on the war. They could not have believed in good faith that all the Canadian officers and men went without pay during the year 1918.

On the tariff question Mr. Rowell was even more non-committal than Mr. King. He said the tariff needed revising and there would be a tariff revision by the government. Until

ETOBICOKE BUILDERS BUSY.

There are 15 houses being constructed in ETOBICOKE under the housing commission, two of these being $4,000 dwellings. The limit from $3,000 to $4,000 was raised this spring.

After a year's experience, the members of the commission are satisfied that the scheme works out as a helper to those who settle down and proceed to own their home. Money has been advanced according to progress in building, and the balance is payable in 20 years.

Building enthusiasm has spread along Dundas street westward until now there are no unoccupied areas between Jane street and 12 st. Residents at the latter point are asking for a stop between 12 and 15.

FRANCHISE NOT VALUED, SAYS REV. J. R. MACLEAN

At the regular monthly meeting of H. M. Army and Navy Veterans' Association, held last evening, in the S.O.E. Hall, it was decided to hold the annual picnic on Aug. 7 next, and a committee was appointed to make the necessary arrangements.

Comrade T. H. Proctor spoke as to educating the rising generation to fit them for efficient citizenship, and suggested appropriate moving picture productions by Canadians for Canadians. The association went on record as approving of the plan.

Rev. J. Russell MacLean urged all comrades to work in unison with the government, in an effort towards improving conditions generally in the country. He thought the public did not realize what our forefathers had sacrificed in obtaining the franchise, which, he said, the people of today valued so little.

SOCIETY NEWS

CONDUCTED BY MRS. EDMUND PHILLIPS.

Sir John and Lady Eaton have issued invitations to a garden party at Arwold on the 11th of June, in celebration of some of the family birthdays.

Mrs. Christie Clark (formerly Miss Gwyneth Shannon), received yesterday with Mrs. T. J. Clark, for the first time since her marriage, when she looked very lovely in her wedding gown of soft satin crepe lined with pale pink and draped with exquisite Carrio-ma-Cross gipsy and applique, and carried an arrangement of orchid pink sweet peas.

The marriage took place yesterday at Uplands, Scarborough, Mrs. C. Cummings' lovely house, of her only daughter, Margaret Jean, to Dr. Alexander Smith.

At the meeting of the property committee of the board of education last night, with Trustee J. McClelland in the chair, it was decided to go to work on the following schools: Runnymede, Gunn's Road, Dewson, John Fisher, Leslie, Balm Beach, Ledhill, Ryerson, Rose Avenue, East End Technical School, Queen Victoria, and to relieve Earlscourt, Hughes, Hillcrest and Brown schools.

Local builders explain the present high cost of houses partly by the shortage of first-class bricklayers and partly by the inability of many laborers to turn out a sufficient quantity of work.

Several small fires. Fire of unknown cause broke out in the home of Dr. McCormack, 16 Gothic avenue, at 5.45 last evening, causing $100 damage.

Wounded in brawl. Harry Slanshuk, 111 Baldwin street, got into a fight last night in a house on Baldwin street, where he was drinking, and was struck a blow on the head, which required 12 stitches to close.
