A Million a Minute

A Romance of Modern New York and Paris

By Hudson Douglas

"I don't know," the girl rejoined, "but he believed that he had been bitterly wronged. He was a strange man in many ways, very reserved and often moody, always most arbitrary. I am inclined to think that he was not a very good man for all I ever had, and yet I had no love for him. I was glad to leave his house to come here."

"Oh, my dear!" cried Miss Jane, much distressed.

"It may be wrong, but one can't help one's feelings, and it's best to be quite honest about it. Had I had any choice, I would have owned him nothing. No man can buy affection. He cannot be bought with gold and blood, nor can he sell either of these. Mr. Quantance believed he had bought me. He would have sold me too. Can you blame me if I feel fairly grateful to him?"

She paused, half wished of some assurance that she was so blame-worthy as she had sometimes deemed herself in spite of her strong innate sense of right and wrong, but the problem involved was all too complicated yet for the sisters, whose lives had always run in straight, well-charted channels.

"When Mr. Quantance died," she once more went on, "his lawyers sent me a long letter he had written me. It was a very cruel letter, and told me, in so many words, that he had already disposed of my future. I was to marry his brother's son, a man I had never heard of before, and whom he had never seen. And there was a penalty attached, which he no doubt thought too dreadful to be incurred by either of us."

"He had left a large estate, some millions, I think, which would be advanced on the sole condition that I should be married within a year of his death. Failing which, we would both be left penniless."

In other words, he had made up his mind to present me, his chattel, to an unknown man, and to pay him handsomely for accepting me. Would any girl have submitted to such unseemable degradation?"

She was breathing quickly, her eyes aglow with a wounded pride.

"I was powerless to alter the past, and I felt my position so keenly then that I didn't dare to ask your advice, in case you should seek to influence me against the decision I came to as soon as I had read the letter through. That was quite all right, and although I was quite determined that, under no circumstances, would I consent to any such monstrous arrangement, and although I was little more than a school-girl then, I felt that starvation would be far easier and less painful than—"

"You were quite right, my dear," Miss Jane commented, as she stopped at a loss for words in which to express the alternative decently. That epistle had all the respect of the shabby-genteel for wealth and position, but under her well-worn, old-fashioned bonnet, the heart of a plain-thinking, old-fashioned woman who did not believe that womanhood should be bartered for wealth and position, or that a harlot's bread could be sought but bitter.

"You were quite right, my dear, and I wish you had trusted me instead."

The girl bowed her head, in regret that was much more poignant than her friends could understand while there was still untold what might well prove the worst half of her misfortune. And as to that, she could not even now take them fully into her confidence.

"I wish I had, dear Jane," she said humbly. "But I ran away instead. I went to New York, and stopped there instead of crossing to San Francisco. I had not posted the letter you wrote telling Mr. Quantance's lawyers that I was leaving you. I didn't intend to have anything more to do with them, and my only ambition was to keep out of the nephew's way. But, at the last moment, I—I was so hurried that I had to leave some money in the bank here, and Panchette and I have come over to see about that."

Silence followed her somewhat abrupt conclusion, and she sat, with anxious eyes, awaiting their verdict on her behavior. Panchette was respectfully seated behind her, one of Miss Sophia's most cherished afternoon-tocups in her trembling, work-worn hands. Miss Jane was stiffly erect in her straight-backed chair, Miss Sophia gazed abstractedly out of the window, her mind occupied with the past but with future possibilities. And neither of them was inclined to misjudge the girl.

CHAPTER XV.
PLAISIR D'AMOUR NE DURE QU'UN MOMENT.

But, while events were thus conspiring against the rightful heirs to Miles Quantance's millions, the dead man's legitimate nephew, indifferent as ever to his uncle's wishes and the reward of compliance with them, had not been idle in the pursuit of his own expensive ambition.

No sooner had Stephen Quantance seen the girl whom he knew only as Dagmar from New York than he determined to follow her. Corroyer and he together crossed by the first available steamer. They landed at Curobourg and came on man to Paris in last night's train.

"You must come to my house to stop," said Corroyer affectionately, as the fast express sped through Cluhy-Levallois on its way to St. Lazare. "My mother will be much pleased to see you there."

"Sorry, old chap," said Quantance, "but I've got another engagement. You're very kind, and I'd like nothing better, but—some other time."

Corroyer's face expressed the extreme of dejection, but he said no more at the moment—so much had he learned of Quantance's lawyers, presently they rolled into the busy terminus.

ONE PIECE PROCK OF WILLOW GREEN CLOTH.

The long lines of the one-piece costume often present difficulties to the inexperienced dressmaker, and this graceful model offers a suggestion in smart, yet simple lines. The bodice and skirt are made separately, but the manner in which the skirt is carried up above the waist line in tabs at the front and a point at the back gives the effect of a frock all in one piece. The row of covered buttons down the overlapping side seams adds length to the skirt, which fastens at the front. The little bodice is sleeveless and opens in a deep V at front and back. Beneath it may be worn a fine lingerie blouse or a guimpe of tucked net.

MURDERERS WILL GO TO THE GALLOWS AT THE SAME TIME

Arosia and Seppelil to be Executed Early Tomorrow Morning—Both Men are Prepared for Death

Andover, May 2.—Less than thirty-six hours now remain to Tony Arosia and Leon Seppelil, who will be hanged Tuesday morning for the murder of Edward Green last November. They are resigned to their fate and were permitted to spend much of their time together today at their devotions. They are exemplary prisoners, and their guards, Jacob Kilburn and William Johnston, report that since their admission to the jail, 136 days ago, they have never given any trouble.

Sheriff Tibbitts received a telegram on Saturday from the secretary of state that the official papers authorizing the execution had been mailed to him and that the sentence of the law would be carried out on May 4. The death warrant signed by Rev. Father Ryan, who has offered to give them Christian burial at Indian Point. The day passed very quietly here. Quite a number of local people, impelled by curiosity, visited the court house and took a look at the scaffold, which is not yet completed. It is situated in the rear of the building, and except that a corner of the boarding which forms the enclosure is visible from the road, the passerby would not notice anything unusual. The window which lights the corridor, off which the cells are situated, looks out into this enclosure, but the lower half has been screened off and in any case neither of the condemned men can see the preparations as their cells are lighted from the passageway.

The plan for the scaffold differs in some details from that used by Radcliffe when he executed Collins at Hopewell Cape, a year ago last November. The floor, instead of being built eleven feet from the ground, is only raised six feet six inches and a square pit four feet deep has been excavated beneath the drop to give the condemned man a view of the gallows as he meets his fate at the same time, the opening for the drop has been made somewhat larger, and the catch is released by a lever and when the fatal moment arrives and the catch is released, the condemned man will swing downwards on three heavy hinges, which are secured to opposite sides of the opening. The lever and its attachments are being made and will be placed in position tomorrow morning. The procession will have to take a long and devious course to reach the scaffold, which is being payable on the first day of July, 1949, the said stock bearing interest at the rate of four per centum per annum, to be paid half-yearly at the said office of the Bank of Montreal in London, England, on the first days of July and January in each year until the principal falls due.

3. That a sinking fund of one-half of one per centum per annum on the principal of the said loan be paid annually by the province and invested in said New Brunswick government stock, or in other securities if the same is not procurable.

4. That the said Frederick W. Taylor, manager of the Bank of Montreal, London, England, be authorized to make all declarations and to take all necessary steps to record such indebted stock under the provisions of the Colonial Stock Acts 1877 to 1900, or any amendments thereof.

5. That the proceeds of the said loan be paid to the receiver general of New Brunswick.

6. That the said Bank of Montreal be authorized to issue and sell the said stock to the public at such rate as can be reasonably obtained, and that it be authorized to retain out of the proceeds thereof its disbursements in connection with the recording and floating of the said loan, including stamp, legal expenses, underwriting expenses, printing and advertising, and brokerage charges, and also a commission of one-quarter of one per cent, of the par value of the said loan for their

MR. FLEMING'S FAMOUS LOAN

Frederick, N. B., May 1.—(Special)—Just before the House of Assembly took place on Friday last, Provincial Secretary Fleming laid on the table the order-in-council making provision for the first issue of New Brunswick inscribed stock, amounting to $450,000 sterling. The full text of the order-in-council is as follows:

The honorable the provincial secretary, who is also the receiver general, submits the following recommendations for the approval of the committee of the executive council, the same being made under and by virtue of the provisions of chapter 4 of the acts of the Legislative Assembly of the province of New Brunswick, 9 Edward VII, A. D. 1909:

1. That the Bank of Montreal be appointed fiscal agents of the province of New Brunswick in the city of London, England.

2. That the Bank of Montreal and Frederick W. Taylor, manager of the Bank of Montreal in London, England, be authorized to raise a loan upon the credit of the consolidated revenue fund of the province of New Brunswick, and chargeable thereon to the amount of four hundred and fifty thousand pounds (£450,000) by the issue and sale of New Brunswick government stock, inscribed and registered under the Colonial Stock Acts 1877 to 1900 and transferable at the office of the Bank of Montreal in London, England, the princharges in underwriting, negotiating and advertising the same, and a further sum of one-eighth of one per cent, for redeeming at maturity.

7. That the said Bank of Montreal be allowed for its services in connection with the said loan, keeping the register, recording transfers and paying interest, one-half of one per cent, of the amount of interest payable, and that such allowance be paid out of the consolidated revenue fund, one year's installment on the first days of July and January in each year.

And the committee of council and his honor the lieutenant-governor concurring in the recommendation of the honorable the provincial secretary, it is accordingly so ordered.

CAPT. DAVIS AND WIFE ARE HOME

Commander of Bark Comet Arrives in the City After Perious Experience

Capt. W. J. Davis, of the barkentine Comet, and Mrs. Davis arrived in the city on Saturday after a voyage from Japan to the island of Banca. The voyage was eventful by the fact that the good ship was ashore for seven days on an island in the China sea had to force their way water unharmed. Though reluctant to speak at length on the experience Capt. Davis told a Telegraph reporter last evening the facts of the matter.

The Comet is a barkentine of 2,800 tons registered in London, and owned by the Anglo-American Oil Company. She left Japan on December 8, bound for New York with a good cargo. She was following the regular route through the Straits of Banca and round the cape. In the earlier part of the voyage heavy weather was encountered and on entering the China sea the weather cleared but was encountered during a spell of very thick weather, when near the northern end of Banca straits, the vessel ran ashore on the island of Banca. Fortunately the weather remained calm, otherwise she would have been broken to pieces.

The first thing the captain did was to send the chief officer with four men to cover sixty miles of open sea to the island of Banca to get the Comet. On hearing Banca they lost their boat in the surf, but managed to save themselves. After landing they had to force their way through mud and jungle for a distance of three miles or more to reach the town of Beling, where there was a cable station. A message was sent to Singapore asking for a tug, which was sent to the ship's aid immediately, and on the seventh day the vessel was rescued. The Comet was hauled off as sound as could be. She proceeded to Singapore for repairs and will leave for New York on Saturday. She arrived after a good passage of 108 days.

Captain Davis is well known in the city. Eight or nine years ago he married Miss Lizzy Thomas, of this city, and Mrs. Davis is visiting Mrs. Davis's home at Waterloo street. He will leave for New York to rejoin the Comet.

MILLIE COULDN'T DANCE IN COURT

Montreal Actress Arrested for Immoral Performance, Could Not Perform Before Judge.

Montreal, May 2.—Millie De Leon, who has been electrifying audiences at the Royal all week by her daring dance there until she was arrested for giving an indecent and immoral performance, was before Recorder Dupuis on Saturday to answer to the charge. The evidence was rather contradictory. Captain Landriault, the police constable, testified that she wore a surprising amount of clothes considering her occupation.

When Miss De Leon was called she electrified the court by trying to give a special performance of her dance in the witness box, so that the recorder could judge for himself. But Recorder Dupuis would not allow this, and stopped the dancer before she had made more than a few passes. She was committed for trial on Monday, and in order to ensure her appearance before court she was kept in jail. She became hysterical and created a very lively scene in court.

PARLIAMENT MAY BE QUARANTINED

Senator Comeau's Son Develops Case of Small Pox and Some Alarm is Felt.

Ottawa, May 2.—There is a good deal of alarm among the law makers of Canada over the disclosure today that they have been exposed to smallpox.

The ten-year-old son of Senator Comeau came to Ottawa last week and spent a day or two with his father about the precincts of parliament. On Friday morning he took breakfast with his father in the restaurant of parliament, which is largely used by both senators and members. On the same day he complained of feeling unwell and as there was rash on his face he was placed under medical supervision. Today the doctors pronounced the trouble a genuine case of smallpox and the boy was removed to the isolation hospital, his father was quarantined and the apartments made use of by Senator Comeau in the parliament buildings were thoroughly fumigated.

Further precautions are not deemed necessary by the city health officers as the disease is of a very mild type. Should another case develop and the quarantining of the parliamentary precincts and of members and senators be required the work of the session, which is drawing to a close, will be seriously interfered with.

GRAIN INSPECTOR HERE

E. B. Eddy, of the seed inspection department, Ottawa, is at the Royal. He arrived on Saturday and will make a tour of the maritime provinces in the interests of seed inspection.

To a Telegraph reporter yesterday Mr. Eddy said he had just finished touring the west, Ontario and the eastern townships of Quebec. He said that he found the most trouble in Quebec. This arose not from impurities of grass or clover seeds, which were raised to a large extent by the farmers themselves, but by impurities in grain. The reason for this was that the dealers procured their supplies of seed, wheat, oats and other grains from Manitoba at feed prices and sold it for seed. The grain generally was plump and clean looking, but was filled with seeds of weeds such as mustard and cockle. Mr. Eddy said he expects to be in the maritime provinces about two weeks.

A rummage sale will be held in the Every Day Club hall on Friday afternoon next, the proceeds to go for fitting out the grounds on the Marsh road for a playground for the children. The hall will be open on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, and any wishing to make donations can send them on those days.

Dr. L. W. Bailey, of Fredericton, will be the speaker at the monthly meeting of the Natural History Society on Tuesday evening, in their lecture room, Union street. His subject will be "Mines and Mining." The lecture will be free to the public.

In St. Patrick's hall, west side, tonight Pinafore will be sung by a company of amateurs who have been rehearsing for some time.

Two United States schooners, the Cora Green and Hannah F. Carleton, both registered in this port for shelter. Both are bound up the bay.

REV. DR. GOULD TELLS OF WORK IN MOSLEM LAND

Large Audience of Men Attended Mass Meeting in St. John's Stone Church Yesterday—Forces for Good and Evil in the Turkish Empire

A large audience of men in St. John's (Stone) church yesterday afternoon, listened to an address given by Dr. Sydney Gould, B. A., M. D., C. M., on Mohammedan lands. The singing was led by a large volunteer choir of men, under the direction of Dr. Arnold Fox, organist. Dr. Gould said that it was not his purpose to discuss the Mohammedan religion from a theological standpoint, but from a practical standpoint, taking as evidence his moral, social and political characteristics and results as seen in the world today.

Mohammedanism was founded in the sixth century by Mohammed. He accepted the Old Testament teachings and, going farther, announced that he was the One who was promised to mankind by Jesus Christ just previous to His ascension. His religion was a religion of the sword, and had grown so that today the Mohammedan world stretched from the northeast corner of Africa to the East Indian archipelago. In this position to-day socially, commercially, morally, politically and ethnically the Mohammedan world lay right across the way of the world's progress, and threatened to check its every advance.

The speaker went on to note the similarity and the contrast between Christianity and Mohammedanism. The latter was the only other religion in the world that was spoken of in the same terms as Christianity. But every religion must be judged by its results and its products which flourished in its native soil unmingled with other religions. It was in such a position that Mohammedanism was found to be a failure.

Two steamers were damaged in the Strait of Canoe by ice on Wednesday—the John L. Cann, of Yarmouth, and the City of Ghent. The Cann lost her propeller while leaving Mulgrave for Canoe, and was obliged to dock to have another propeller put on. The Ghent had a hole punctured in her bow, and went to point Tupper to dock. The two Newfoundland schooners Argo and Snow Bird, the former from Britain and the latter from Grand Banks, while on their way home to Louisburg, C. B., for cargo of coal, ran into each other on Friday while working their way through loose drift ice, breaking a part of Argo's rail and stanchions and carrying away the Snow Bird's bowsprit. The necessary repairs will be effected and whichever ship will be found in the fault will likely pay damages.

Miss Annie McKenzie, a native of Shelburne county, lately residing in Boston, succumbed at Lockport beach last Friday morning. Miss McKenzie, who was visiting her sister in that town, was in poor health and somewhat despondent. On the morning above stated she announced her intention of taking a walk, and going to the beach, she was seen by some men working in the fields nearby, to throw herself into the surf at the extremity of a reef projecting from the shore.

Had the Great Corporation a Hand in Holding Up the Valley Railway—New Brunswick Liberals at Ottawa Express Surprise at Provincial Premier's Attitude

Ottawa, May 2.—Very general regret was expressed among the Liberal members from New Brunswick when it was learned from the newspapers that arrived yesterday that the Hazen government had failed to keep its promise to guarantee the bonds of the valley railway. Those particularly who represent the river counties felt after the cordial expression by Sir Wilfrid Laurier in favor of the project to a large delegation that came to Ottawa there was no serious obstacle in the way of the valley railway becoming at last an accomplished fact.

Said to be a National Curse!

That indigestion is responsible for more sickness than any other disease is certainly true. Some doctors go so far as to say it is a national curse. Repeated attacks indicate the lining of the stomach and cause the glands to secrete mucus instead of the juices of natural digestion.

SAVING THE FATHERS OF THE FOREST

By Wm. A. Du Puy

Forest Service Camp, Big Tree, Alexander von Humboldt in Background

When Congress passed, near the close of Roosevelt's administration, the bill which provides for the control of the lands on which grow the big trees of California, it saved from destruction the greatest curiosity of the world and thereby performed a notable service to humanity.

comprising South Grove, in Tuolumne county, and the Calaveras grove, in Calaveras county. The former is the larger of the two groves, but the latter is the more accessible, and contains the more famous trees. The two groves are separated but a few miles. They are on the direct line of travel from San Francisco to Yosemite Park and are the furthest north of all the big trees and the nearest to civilization and direct lines of travel.

and as a consequence a great cavity has rotted out of it as it stands. So great is this that one severe winter 16 head of oxen took refuge in it, were kept in by the snow until they were starved and their bones were found there the following spring.

day stumbled onto one of the giants in his pursuit of game. He was dumfounded and returned to camp and told the workmen of his find. They laughed at him and refused to believe his story. They even refused to come with him to see the alleged great tree. Dowd used a ruse to get them to see it. He came in the following Sunday, when there was plenty of leisure, and said he had killed a huge grizzly and needed all hands to help him bring the monster game into camp. They all accompanied him through the woods until he led them suddenly upon the Big Tree and said that it was his grizzly. They were appalled by the size of it and agreed the news of the find throughout the country.

NEWS AND VIEWS OF SPORT

Announcement from New York that Mrs. George F. Wagner, daughter of the late P. H. Goodyear, of Buffalo, N. Y., whose estate is estimated to be worth several million dollars, is engaged to be married to Charles M. Daniels, champion swimmer of the world, has caused a profound sensation there, inasmuch as Wagner, husband of the prospective bride, is in good health and there has been no divorce, and he is not dead, as the Detroit Tigers' first appearance in the same scrappy aggregation as of old, making a lot of noise and incidentally winning the game. Hugh Jennings chewed up the grass as of yore, stood on one foot, waved his hands, screamed his usual lot of gibberish, and rent the air with his piercing whistle at times. He kept this up to the finish, and had the satisfaction of seeing his club win in the ninth for his seventeenth time in three years.

Saturday for a purse of $10,000. If he starts there will be no figuring on the results of the race. He is as apt to croak just such another race as he is to chuck it. He seldom runs the same race twice in succession, and, as his last race was about as poor exhibition as any that New York has stood for in a long time, he is very likely to come out this time and run like a world beater. THE DAYLIGHT SAVING BILL

Why there should be any hesitation either in England or in Canada about ever, is willing to take it in a single sweep, to understand. One by one the objections that were made to the measure in the British House of Commons by Mr. Robert Pierce have been overcome. The most strenuous protest against the bill, frequently one of the deal by cable with New York. There is a great exchange of telegrams in the two hours, viz. from 3 to 5, Greenwich mean time, when the business hours of Liverpool and New York overlap. After trying to figure some way out of the difficulty of the bill, the Select Committee decided to let the bill pass on the exchange as short.

According to Sporting Life, Jim Barry, the Chicago heavyweight, has landed in Cherbourg, France, looking for trouble. Jim is out with a challenge to Joe Jeannette now, and doesn't care whether the thing is for a finish or not. Jim beat Jeannette in New York at the Princess club in a six-round go, and should be the favorite to make Joe hustle for the French fight fans.

Alfred Shrub, attired in a natty grey suit of the latest New York cut, arrived in Toronto on Thursday and will remain until Friday, when he will be on his way to Montreal for his race with Longboat. Seen by a correspondent, Shrub said: "I am feeling in the best of shape and I'm confident that I can beat the Indian. I do not think that Pat Powers will interfere with the race. The only comment I have to make on the arrangements there is that in my opinion the prices charged are too low." Asked as to what time he expected to go the distance at Montreal, Shrub replied: "I think I will run it inside the world's record time. I have seen the M. A. A. track, and in my estimation it compares favorably with the Stamford bridge track in London, on which I made most of my records, and I am sure that I shall have the pleasure of being handled by my old friend, trainer and manager, Tom Sinaoi, of London."

Tom Longboat is the busy bee these days. In addition to his training, Tom is engaged in domestic affairs. He has bought a house on Galley avenue, one of the new streets near High Park in the west end of Toronto, and with Mrs. Longboat, who is in Toronto with him, he is spending considerable time in the detail of furnishing it. Tim O'Rourke, his trainer says that Tom has as much speed as ever in his legs, and that his heel is in good shape. Tom, on Friday night, told the story of his day's work and his programme for the week as follows: "I ran five miles with Percy Sellen in 26.15. "I am a little bit heavy, perhaps seven

The Frank White Catering Company expect to have their opening in Rockwood park on May 24. It is probable also that the catering company will also take over the amusement and catering privileges at Seaside park.

Allan Line steamer Victoria which left port last Friday for Liverpool took away a cargo valued as follows: Canadian goods, $22,045. Foreign goods, $38,830. She had on board 10,000 bushels wheat and 1844 boxes cheese and other products.

With reference to a story in this morning's Sun to the effect that Sammy Lane, who was employed as a salesman for Ernest Friars, cigar merchant, had left the city after collecting considerable money from Friars' customers, Mr. Friars stated today that he had some security.

C. P. R. steamer Lake Erie, which left this port last Saturday for Liverpool, took away a cargo valued as follows: Canadian goods, $22,045. Foreign goods, $38,830. Total $47,216. Among her freight is 88,015 bushels wheat, 2830 boxes cheese and 400 sacks flour.

What would seem to indicate a crusade by the police against spitting on the sidewalk, was the arrest of William Cameron on Water street, between 11 and 12 o'clock this morning by Serge Bisset. He is charged with drunkenness and spitting on the sidewalk.

In the Queens Square Methodist church paragonage at 11 o'clock this morning, Rev. H. D. Marr officiated at the wedding of Mr. Stephen Bains and Miss Josephine Duguay. The happy couple were unattended and will reside at 125 Sydney street.

George Gibson was arrested at noon today on the King Square by Patrolman Ross for drunkenness. Gibson was only released from jail on Saturday. He is the man who threatened to shoot Louis Edie, brecht. The understanding was that he was to take the pledge, and his relatives entered into recognition that he would keep the peace.

LAST MEETING OF THE OLD COUNCIL

The last meeting of the present common council is being held this afternoon in the council chamber in the court house. One of the first matters to be taken up will be the reading of the election returns and formally declaring the successful candidates duly elected.

Among the communications to be dealt with is one from the tax collectors asking that their commissions be increased from 2 1/2 to 3 per cent.

R. B. Kessen, manager of the Bank of New Brunswick requests the city to construct an asphalt sidewalk opposite their new building on Union street, west side and offers to contribute half the cost.

Charles Hughes asks for a lease of a lot on Germain street, west side; E. W. Paul asks for the repayment of a sum of $14.00 spent by him for repairs in consequence of the state of a retaining wall; and the secretary of the League of American Municipalities invites this city to join the league.

A section of the salaries' committee report laid over from the February meeting will be taken up.

Among the recommendations from the board of works is one that the sum of $300 be taken from the amount appropriated for public squares and used for the purpose of purchasing trees, and also that $175 be expended for a street cleaner.

The reports of the various boards and committees, as already published, will be dealt with.

At 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, the new common council will be sworn in and the retiring members will probably be present also to bid farewell to their colleagues, and welcome their successors, and incidentally to explain how it happened that they were not elected. The civic officials who are appointed yearly will also be sworn in tomorrow. It is altogether likely that the question of transferring the West Side strip to the C. P. R. will come up for discussion, and a committee will probably be appointed to deal with the matter.

A CASE DISPOSED OF IN SHORT ORDER

Margaret Francis, This Morning Fined $100 for Illegal Liquor Selling—Other Police Court Cases.

The general custom in the police court has been prolonged hearings of liquor violations, and Margaret Francis' case is probably the one that proves the rule yet within the space of five minutes this morning the treasury was enriched to the extent of $100 contributed by the said woman of color, with her habit, Sheffield street. Between 5 and 6 o'clock, Sheffield street, Lingo, Sergeant Scott and Patrolman Linton, espied John Fox and William Lingo intoxicated on British street, and accordingly lodged both in the South End lock-up. Incidentally it was gleaned from one of the men that they had been guests at the Francis abode during the afternoon and she was instructed to appear in court this morning, in consequence of the information.

The men were remanded prior to her appearance, and it was planned to place both on the stand for the prosecution in the event of the plea of not guilty, which was anticipated. The negro accompanied by another dandy of shabby hue, entered court attired in Frederickian raiment, shortly after 10 o'clock, and when charged with selling liquor yesterday to Lingo and Fox, pleaded guilty. The magistrate spoke in favor of clearing the liquor laws, a need that is more paramount now that the assessments are in force, and fined the women $100 or three months in jail. She took a crisp one hundred dollar bill from her companion, and passing it to the police clerk, departed. Fox was remanded for 30 or 30 days.

The case was taken into custody in a stipulated state on Saturday evening, hastily vouchsafed that he assimilated his case prior to 5 o'clock, which he subsequently modified to "I might have got it, but I don't remember it." In the course of his remarks the magistrate stated that he would rather see the one who sells liquor illegally haled before him than the four inebriates who decorated the bench. He was fined $8 or thirty days.

When arrested he was in possession of $10.42, which was turned over to his wife yesterday by the chief of police, to provide food for her and the children. His honor requested the police to report all saloon keepers from whose taverns intoxicating men emerge. In fine Michael Harding 88 or thirty days, the comment was "You're the sufferer and somebody else goes free."

Cicera Fredericksen, a dusky damsel, who defied the entire police force to arrest her at the foot of Union Alley on Saturday night, where she was creating a scene, forfeited a deposit of $8. Like Cicera she descended upon St. John from the north, but failed to conquer. His honor expressed a desire to gaze upon Cicera's historic profile.

Patrick Cunningham also forfeited an eight dollar deposit and Mary Welly was remanded for disturbing the peace.

Mrs. James Greer visited court this morning with the avowed object of obtaining a warrant for the arrest of her husband, alleging assault. She reached court by the usual route, and he followed her and branched off into the police department's quarters. While she was asking for the warrant he was gaining covertly from the stairs from some inmate. He urged an officer to direct his wife to the chief's office, where he would discuss a solemn charge of their marital felicities, but she balked when she espied the stairs leading to the guard room, and fled back to court. She was fined $5 or 10 days in jail.

THEY KEPT THE PIANO

Amusing May Day Farce in Which an Ex-Policeman, an Alderman and Others Figured

One of the incidents of May day in St. John was a decidedly interesting farce, the characters in which consisted of an ex-policeman, his son-in-law, an alderman, a cartman and some helpers. A piano was the principal "prop." The musical instrument so the story goes, was a gift from the father to his married daughter, with whom he lived. As the May day neared the chief, however, there was a "talking out," so to speak, and a "move," in the practical sense, was determined. The paths of both father and daughter were to be widely apart, and the parent determined that the piano would revert again to himself. This did not at all meet the views of the daughter and her hubby. The ex-blue coat consulted a legal man, who is a member of the board of aldermen, and both were present on the May day. The piano was taken out through a window, in spite of frantic protests from the alderman and his ex-policeman ally. Threats of danger did not thwart the "hirelings" in their work. Once on the cart the driver was solemnly warned that a further "move" would entail fearful things. He only had to be reminded by the daughter's hubby that the cartage was forthcoming from him, not from the alderman. The effect was marvelous, and followed by the protests of the alderman and ex-policeman, he hied away. Curtain first act. Further acts, if any, are awaited with interest.
