

PREMIER BRIAND MAKES AN EMOTIONAL PLEA FOR THE SECURITY OF HIS COUNTRY

Declares France Dare Not Destroy the Effectiveness of Her Army so Long as Europe Remains in Its Unsettled State—Old Imperialistic Party of Germany Is Still Covetously Teaching the Religion of War, Hoping to Turn Its Advantage at the Door of France 7,000,000 Trained Men—Britain and U. S. Pledge Support.

Washington, Nov. 21—In an emotional plea for national security pronounced by Aristide Briand, her premier, France informed the Arms Conference that however deeply she might be moved by the call to lighten the burdens of armaments, she dared not destroy the effectiveness of her army so long as the situation in Europe remains what it is. Summoning to the effort all the dynamic force of his eloquence, the "strong man of France" had the rapt attention of the conference for an hour as he recounted one by one the perils that beset his people.

Briefly, he declared the old imperialistic party of Germany still was covetously teaching the religion of war and hoping to turn to its advantage at the very door of France seven millions of men trained in the use of arms, while beyond lay Bolshevik Russia with her millions stirring in an unrest whose final course no one could predict.

British Pledge Support

When the French Premier had concluded, Arthur J. Balfour responded for Great Britain with a virtual pledge of British support, should the civilization of Europe be again threatened as it was in 1914. For the United States, Secretary Hughes declares the plea of France never would fall on deaf ears in the United States, and Italy and Belgium added their word of appreciation for the peculiar situation of the French well understood. Baron Kato, speaking in his turn, expressed the profound sympathy of Japan for the declarations of Premier Briand, and asserted that for themselves the Japanese desired to maintain on land only such military forces as seemed "necessary for national security and the maintenance of order within."

Premier Briand

"How can anyone ask France to disarm under such conditions?" he asked. Reverting to the possibility that the war parties of the Central Empires might some day be revived, M. Briand recalled that recently was an attempted restoration in Europe which might have set the whole continent on fire. "Fortunately for the contents," he added, "it was averted."

Physical Aspects

Coming to physical aspects, M. Briand said it was well understood that some persons took the viewpoint that as Germany was just emerging from the war, she was in no position to be dangerous. "Our soldiers had a place in the fight," said M. Briand, "and they know to what point the German soldier can carry his heroism. Germany still has 7,000,000 men who have made war. You ask is it possible to mobilize an army there tomorrow? The answer is yes."

"What is the German Army?" he asked. "Is it in conformity with the peace treaty? No, certainly not. According to secret instructions issued by some of the German military authorities these men are not only prepared for police service, but for war. The German Government itself has done its duty and is ready to recognize it. The German Chancellor is loyal and has applied every real evidence that he realizes the state of peace, and honors the signature of Germany, but the German Government is weak. The present German Government might fall at any moment."

Military Organizations

There was still another German organization, he said, comprising 150,000 former enlisted men with non-commissioned officers ready to undergo military service. "We demand dissolution of this force," he said. "Instead of this being a local police force it has become a general police force anywhere in Germany. It now comprises about 150,000 men."

Through the various organizations of former army men, Premier Briand said, Germany had grouped together its men available for military service "in a marvelous and ingenious way." Former combatants' associations were formed in Germany, he continued, and marshaled on occasional military anniversaries. "In Upper Silesia in a few weeks," he continued, "almost in a few days, there were about 40,000 men ready with machine guns and rifles. These are facts, gentlemen; I am not inventing them and bringing them here to make my case better. In a few weeks or, perhaps, in a few days, Germany would begin to raise 6,000,000 or 7,000,000 men."

Puts Case Up to U. S.

The Premier then put the case up to the United States. "Suppose that by your side," he said, "there was a nation that for years had been in bloody conflict with you. Suppose this nation should feel that she was ready to resume the struggle, when she had the material. Would you close your eyes and turn away? Would you not desire to do everything in your power to safeguard your life, your honor? Would you do anything to weaken yourself? No. "France does not exaggerate," the speaker continued. "She is only watching and waiting."

The question of war materials then

Demand Question of Prisoners Be At Once Settled

Cork, Nov. 21—The Cork Corporation, at a special meeting today, adopted a resolution urging the Dublin Executive cabinet to suspend peace negotiations until the question of prisoners is satisfactorily adjusted.

The resolution called on the Dublin Executive cabinet to make similar representations. The Dublin members present supported the resolution.

McGill Students Invaded Liberal Headquarters

There to Answer Complaints Lodged Against Their Right to Exercise Franchise.

Montreal, Nov. 21—Two hundred and ninety seven McGill students invaded the Liberal headquarters in St. Lawrence St. George division of this city today, as an aftermath of notices sent broadcast last week-end to registrars informing them that complaints had been lodged against their right to exercise the franchise in the coming general elections.

The meeting placed on record its "deep sense of humiliation and regret" that negotiations were taking place between the Government and persons steeped to the lips in an expressed policy of assassination. The resolution called upon the Cabinet to reiterate its pledges regarding the freedom of Ulster, and gave "its emphatic opinion that any suggestion to permit Ulster to enter into an agreement on the Irish question until the Sinn Fein not only swore allegiance to the Throne, but gave effect to the policy of assassination, and until the idea of a separate army for Ireland was abandoned."

The whole party of students, as noisy as they were strong, deserted their work at the university in order to attend the process of revising the voters' list. They all arrived at about the same time, and all apparently were inspired with a like determination to vindicate their rights and loudly expressed their indignation at being compelled to prove their qualifications.

The first case to be taken up was that of the inmates of a number of charitable institutions, who, it was claimed, were being maintained by charity, and therefore, were not entitled to the franchise. The most of these were women, and it was understood the majority were left on the lists. So much time was taken up with these cases, the students meant with standing on chairs and desks and crowding every available space, that the protests against the McGill men could not be heard and they will vote on December 6th.

Wolves Bold And Numerous In Province of Ontario

Stock Raisers Requesting Relief; Hundred Sheep Killed at McLean Last Week.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Nov. 21—So numerous and bold are the wolves becoming at McLean, just east of here, that stock raisers there are requesting relief. During the past two weeks about 100 sheep have been killed by wolves in a very limited area which have appeared since the bear epidemic subsided. It is estimated that at least 400 bears were killed within the city and its immediate vicinity during the fall.

Reports are coming in from the Algoma Central Railway today that the wolves are doing damage there particularly at Mile 95, where they are destroying the beaver and deer. The settlers here are demanding that a larger bounty be placed on the wolves, $25 not being sufficiently large to induce expert trappers to spend their time in an endeavor to exterminate them.

Privy Council Reserves Judgment In Manitoba Case

Petition Grows Out of Construction of Gov't Building of Province.

London, Nov. 21—(Canadian Press Cable)—The Privy Council today reserved judgment on the appeal of the Province of Manitoba in the case against Thomas Kelly and Sons, the contractors who constructed the parliament buildings at Winnipeg. The Manitoba court of appeal on the lower court's award down to $615,213 on October 4, 1918, thus reducing the total to about $1,000,000.

SUPPORTERS OF ULSTER MEET IN DEMONSTRATION

Call Upon Gov't to Insist Sinn Fein Swear Allegiance to the Throne.

SAY GOVT IS DEALING WITH ASSASSINS

Calls Upon Cabinet to Reiterate Its Pledges Regarding Ulster's Freedom.

London, Nov. 21—A "loyalist" meeting, held in London today as a demonstration by supporters of Ulster, passed a resolution calling upon the Government to enter into no agreement on the Irish question until the Sinn Fein not only swore allegiance to the Throne, but gave effect to the policy of assassination, and until the idea of a separate army for Ireland was abandoned.

The meeting placed on record its "deep sense of humiliation and regret" that negotiations were taking place between the Government and persons steeped to the lips in an expressed policy of assassination. The resolution called upon the Cabinet to reiterate its pledges regarding the freedom of Ulster, and gave "its emphatic opinion that any suggestion to permit Ulster to enter into an agreement on the Irish question until the Sinn Fein not only swore allegiance to the Throne, but gave effect to the policy of assassination, and until the idea of a separate army for Ireland was abandoned."

Attacked Government's Policy.

Among the speakers were Colonel John Grotton, Henry Page Croft, Brigadier-General Deane, Lord Antrim and other "die-hard" who bitterly attacked the government's policy in negotiating with the Sinn Fein delegates. The attendance at the meeting was not large, and the speaker, who wore the insignia of the Orange Lodge, had an easy task.

Flight Sooner or Later.

"The Indian revolution worked from the same room in New York as the revolution in Ireland," he declared. "Three we had the Irish revolutionaries by the throat, and three we were pulled off at the moment when we were about to apply the screw tighter. The Government made a mistake in the conference with men, some of whom are actually guilty of the murder of my police."

Recommends Two Years In Prison For Rum Runners

U. S. Federal Officer Says Punishment for Booze Smugglers Not Severe Enough.

Washington, Nov. 21—Prohibition director David H. Morris, in reporting today to Commissioner Hayes, took up the question of liquor reaching the United States from Canada via Mexico.

"Whiskey is shipped from Canada to Mexico as medicine," he said, "and is smuggled into this country for bootlegging purposes. Run-runners travel in high-powered cars, with women companions and perhaps several trips before being caught and then go free by paying maximum fines. This will be stopped by amending the federal smugglers' law."

Montreal Had Series of Burglaries And Hold-ups Saturday

One Clothing Store Robbed of $13,000 Worth of Goods—One Jewelry Haul.

Montreal, Nov. 21—A series of burglaries and hold-ups are reported by the police over the week-end. A man who slept Saturday night in the Mountain Street Methodist church, held up the caretaker when he opened the doors on Sunday morning, and after locking with a woman got away with $10 and Dominick's hat.

Dominique Cerouchi was attacked and severely beaten by four men last night on Church street. His assailants got away with $10 and Dominick's hat.

Thieves stole $4,000 worth of jewelry from the home of Mrs. Frank Lohale this morning.

BRITAIN OPPOSED TO TREATIES THAT ARE AGAINST ANY NATIONS' INTERESTS

Washington, Nov. 21—The present British attitude on the question of the Anglo-Japanese alliance, British spokesmen declared today, is not different from that recently expressed by Lloyd George, who said it would not be proper to say to Japan: "You stood by us during the war, but we don't need you now, good-bye." The British emphasized in this connection, however, that the prime minister also declared this did not mean Great Britain would continue the treaty against the interests of any nation, and certainly not against the United States as there was no other country with which Great Britain so strongly desired to act.

SIR GEORGE FOSTER GREETED BY LARGE AND ENTHUSIASTIC CROWDS AT TWO MEETINGS IN MONCTON

Irish Prisoners On Hunger Strike

Trouble Ahead For Canadian Farmers Says Manning Doherty

Can Only be Averted by Overcoming Inefficiency of Present Marketing Methods.

Toronto, Nov. 21—Hon. Manning Doherty, Minister of Agriculture, Ontario, sees trouble ahead for Canadian farmers if measures are not taken to overcome the inefficiency of present methods of marketing their products. "We are in the midst of a world-wide war for markets," he declared tonight, in addressing the Young Men's Canadian Club. Only through the development of strong co-operative marketing agencies, sufficiently powerful to force grading and reliable standardization of quality, could Canadian agriculture hope to meet the competition of other producing countries where co-operative organizations were already in operation, said Mr. Doherty.

The agricultural industry of the country was passing through the most critical period of its history. The situation was made worse by reason of the drift to the cities. Eastern Canada was feeling the strain "but in Western Canada is going to take government assistance in order to keep the farmers on the farms during another year."

Motorman Arrested Charged With Doing Bodily Harm To Wife

Became Angry Over Money Matter and Flogged Better Half With Cane.

Hallfax, N. S., Nov. 21—Charles Hardy, of Number 1 North Albert street, motorman, was arrested tonight, charged with doing grievous bodily harm to his wife. According to the wife's story, told to the police matron, Hardy being angry over a money matter made his better half divest herself of her garments and proceeded to beat her with a cane. When Hardy began to hit too hard she fled in a raincoat to the neighbors.

London, Nov. 21—Sixty-four of one hundred Moplah prisoners died with suffocation while being transferred in a closed railroad wagon from Tieurur to Bellory, in the Madras presidency of India, according to a dispatch to the Daily Mail from Madras.

PREMIER OPENS HIS CAMPAIGN IN TWIN CITIES

Prepared to Meet His Accusers on Any and All Grounds, He Declares.

OPPOSITION NOT UNITED ON POLICY

For Canada to Abandon the Protective Principle Would be Folly and Madness.

Fort William, Ont., Nov. 21—Canadian Press Staff Correspondent—The opening of what will probably be the most strenuous period of Mr. Meighen's election campaign was featured by two large meetings in the Twin Cities of Fort William and Port Arthur tonight. The Premier spoke first in the city hall at Fort William, going from there to the Armouries at Port Arthur, where several thousand people were waiting to hear him. "I am here to meet our accusers on any and all grounds, and perhaps carry the war into Africa a little as well," the Premier said.

Dealt With the Tariff and Ry. Questions and Policies of Three Parties.

NO TIME TO TRY EXPERIMENTS

Advices People to Choose for Their Leader Pre. Meighen Whose Works Are Known.

Moncton, N. B., Nov. 21—Sir George E. Foster, addressed two meetings here this afternoon and evening, being greeted by large and enthusiastic audiences. The afternoon meeting was especially for women and, notwithstanding Sir George did not arrive in Moncton until early five o'clock, a large number of women remained at the meeting called for 3.30 to hear him. Mrs. R. P. Dickson, and Mrs. A. J. Legere, president and vice-president of the Women's National Liberal and Conservative Association, presided. Sir George's address to the women lasted little more than half an hour in which time he dealt with the tariff and railway questions.

City Hall Crowded

In the evening the City Hall was crowded to the doors and hundreds of people were turned away. Captain J. E. Masters presided and for an hour and a half Sir George dealt with the policies of the three parties appealing for the confidence of the people of Canada in this contest. One point emphasized by the ex-Minister of Trade and Commerce was that three comparatively young men were at the head of the three parties appealing for support, and he advised the people to choose as their Premier, that leader who had the longest experience in managing the affairs of the Dominion and the man who, during the trying years of Canada in the war period, had occupied a foremost place in the councils of the country. That man was Sir Hon. Arthur Meighen.

Positive Policy.

"I want to say a little here on matters of positive policy," the Premier said. "That is something Mackenzie King didn't give us," shouted a man in the audience. "I'm quite sure he didn't," replied the Premier.

He went on to discuss what the government had done in regard to deep waterways development. The question on development of power and navigation on the St. Lawrence had, on the initiative of the government, been referred to the Deep Waterways Commission, and engineers were now engaged in preliminary work along these lines. It was the intention of the government to continue this so that when the time came for definite steps to be taken the preliminary work would be done.

Grain Profits.

Turning to a discussion of the grain question, Mr. Meighen reiterated his charge that profits gained from handling grain of the Western farmers had been used for political propaganda in Newspapers. It was a great advantage for a political leader to be the head of a number of grain companies, he said. He was not attacking Mr. Crozier personally, but the Farmer leader seemed to think that he and his party must be treated with "honeyed words," while they (the Progressives) on their side were using what they could gather against the government.

British Public Applauds Decision

London, Nov. 21—The Daily Chronicle applauds the Government's decision to suspend work on the new capital ships as a wise one, both nationally and internationally.

"Nationally," it says, "because every day that the contracts ran on would increase rapidly the material commitments of the firms engaged on them, and multiply the cost of eventual scrapping; internationally, because deeds speak louder than words, and the decision shows the world beyond cavil that when we declared at Washington our acceptance of the American proposal, we meant the whole of what we said. It is true that the United States herself is acting otherwise, and that Denby has announced he will continue her construction work until the conference reaches a definite agreement. Her choice is not our concern. It is entirely a matter for the American government. Our shipbuilding programmes have never been directed against America, and to that also we are glad to be able to testify by deeds, as well as by words."

New High Record Made In London Divorce Court

London, Nov. 21—(Canadian Press Cable)—A new high record was made in the divorce court here today, when Lord Justice Sir Henry Duke made absolute 297 decrees nisi—the highest number in any single day in the courts in this country. This record grist of home news in the sequel to the big rush to clear off divorce cases which was organized by the Lord Chancellor in April and May last.

The Daily News says the Government's decision is "a very wise and seemingly one."

Listen! Here's How To Get Thin

Follow "Doc" Copeland's Tip and Take a Great Weight Off Your Shoulders.

New York, Nov. 21.—A great many fat people in the United States and Canada avowedly want to become thin, but don't know how. By the hundreds they have been confessing this desire in letters to City Health Commissioner Copeland. Their selection of him as the person who might take a great weight off their shoulders was suggested by accounts of his recent mobilization of a reducing squad of fifty fat men and fifty fat women in New York.

These hundred heavyweights have been shrinking daily and the letters from outside New York inquire how Dr. Copeland does it. The answer is simple. Proper diet, regular exercise and proper living habits are all that is necessary.

"You cannot be happy unless you stomach full," the doctor tells the fat folk. Then he explains what foods they should eat to keep happy, eliminating all those which produce fat.

The greatest mistake people make is in the selection of the food. Dr. Copeland contends, "The average meal is poorly balanced. This is particularly so of breakfast. Imagine wanting to get thin on a breakfast like this: cereal and cream, hot muffins with butter and honey, sausage and possibly some fruit covered with sugar. This entire meal is made up of starches and sugar, which adds heat and very often an added offense it is washed down with tea, coffee or cocoa saturated with sugar."

Murder Case To Commence Today

Second Trial of John Paris, Charged With Brutal Murder of Little Sadie McAuley

The case of the King vs. John Paris, charged with the murder of nine-year-old Sadie McAuley, the child who was found buried under a pile of rocks in Riverview Park last August, and whose body showed traces of a brutal outrage, will be the first case to engage the attention of the petit jury after the grand jury has completed its duties, on the opening of the November circuit court before Mr. Justice Chandler this morning.

A statement to that effect was made yesterday by the attorney-general, Hon. J. P. Byrne, who will conduct the second trial against Paris, in person. H. Varnum, of Truro, who defended Paris at the first trial, will again plead his case when the second trial goes to the petit jury, which in all probability will not be fifth tomorrow.

First Fall Rally of The B.Y.P. Union

Interesting Address by Rev. A. J. Vincent at Central Baptist Church.

The first fall rally of the Baptist Young People's Union was held in Central Baptist Church last evening and was very largely attended. The evening's programme was opened with prayer by Rev. G. D. Hudson, of the R. H. Parsons presided and after he made a brief address there was a short song service led by Prof. A. U. Brander. All of the Baptist churches in the city were represented at the rally and the different Baptist pastors were also present. The roll was called by one of the secretaries, W. Edgar Campbell and the members of each society responded by standing. The banner which has been held by Tabernacle Church for some time was not in competition last evening and the chairman announced that Tabernacle would retain it until the next meeting.

The chief speaker of the evening was Rev. Arthur J. Vincent, now pastor of the Baptist Church in Sackville, N. B., and one of the leaders in the Young People's Union. An interesting fact noted in Mr. Vincent's address was that his grandfather Rev. Samuel Robinson was the founder and practically the father of Baptist work in St. John in almost all of the Baptist churches. Mr. Vincent during his remarks also related to many of the older and leading pioneer Baptists of the city and the reference to the pioneer days. The subject of his address was on the Power and definite consecration in the work of the church. The address was listened to with rapid attention by the large gathering. At the conclusion of the address Rev. A. J. Vincent made motion of the sinning table and the earnest and timely message delivered by Mr. Vincent and the motion was unanimously carried by a standing vote.

Judge Armstrong had a strenuous time yesterday, the last opportunity to add names to the voting list for the city and county of St. John. The court sat all day and did not adjourn until after seven o'clock last evening. Over three hundred names were added yesterday, and in the time the court has been sitting eight hundred and fifty names have been added.

ROCKS LARGE AS SHIPS HURLED BY VOLCANO

Smoke Cloud from Kamichitka Eruption Extends Hundred Miles.

Tokio, Nov. 21.—Showers of rocks larger than ships were hurled from a raging volcano on Kamichitka, where a terrible and magnificent phenomenon occurred in August, recalling the primitive days of the formation of the earth.

In a report to the Japan Advertiser Mr. McCormick says: "On arriving at Hakodate, in northern Japan, I heard from a fisherman of an earthquake above Hokkaido and the appearance in the sea September 5 of a part of the island of the Kurile group."

"The earthquake extended from Hokkaido to the Aleutians and was but a prolongation of the seismic phenomena occurring in Kamachitka, where I was wrecked on the Kronotskiy Peninsula.

DELEGATES TO FIGHT SUBS AND POISON GAS

Baron Kato, Japanese Minister of Marine, in Sympathy With Plan.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—The New York Herald's editorial declaration that the submarine and poison gas—"the weapon of the viper"—should be abolished in the international agreement limiting the armaments of the nations of the world struck a responsive chord today in Washington.

The editorial attracted the attention not only of American delegates to the conference, but those of foreign nations as well.

It is necessary to breathe the atmosphere of Washington just at this time to realize the general hesitancy among those who are taking part in the conference about taking a determined stand on any subject.

Proposal for Reduction in Tonnage Aimed at France, They Say.

Paris, Nov. 21.—Opposition so strongly expressed yesterday in the French press to Mr. Balfour's proposal for the interdiction of submarines above a fixed tonnage has not abated today.

One of these two writers, Admiral Degouty, describes the submarine as the "arm of the plebeian" and on this ground bases his argument as to why France should be well provided.

From the standpoint of the general public, there will be special interest in the fact that the savings of the people of the country are again showing a tendency to increase.

ST. JOHN, N. B., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1921.

THE GOVERNMENT AND THE RETURNED SOLDIER.

Opposition orators and their subsidized press organs are doing their best to create the impression that the Government in its treatment of returned soldiers has not been as sympathetic as it might, or should, have been.

To begin with it spent $184,000,000 in providing a gratuity of $100 a month for a married man and $70 a month for a single one, for six months after their return. This was done to enable the men to get on their feet again; whether they in actual fact, needed it or not.

Secondly, the Government has incurred an annual liability of $33,000,000 for pensions, and down to the end of 1920 upwards of $100,000,000 had already been spent in this way.

Under such conditions as these, can France be expected to reduce her army and navy, particularly the former, to any great extent? After reading M. Briand's remarks one must certainly come to the conclusion, assuredly not, knowledge on the part of Germany, that if France is again attacked other nations will once more rush to her assistance, may cost more or less as a deterrent, but one is inclined to doubt it.

Fourthly, nearly 27,000 returned men have been established upon the land, the Government having granted loans to the extent of $85,000,000 to enable them to start in life as successful farmers.

Fifthly, insurance at extremely low rates has been provided for returned men, no matter what their physical condition, thus making it possible for any war victim to make provision for his family.

Sixthly, nearly 32,000 returned men have been provided with positions in the Civil Service.

These are some of the main features of the Government's programme for assisting returned men. Every field was explored, and the fullest consideration given to suggestions from whatever source, looking to the betterment of the condition of the ex-servicemen. It cannot be said that any man with a just claim was not given the fullest opportunity to present his case. During the sessions of Parliament a special committee on re-establishment programs sat almost daily hearing evidence and probing deep into every phase of the subject.

The generous attitude of the Government towards returned men provided an excuse for a certain element among them to make demands that nothing could justify. Not satisfied with what they had, they even showed a reasonable degree of gratitude for it, this noisy element by the course it pursued, only managed to alienate a certain amount of sympathy from its cause, and in fact did that cause more harm than good.

The Government's treatment of returned men has met with the fullest approval of the people, who feel that the criticisms that are being levelled at it, are wholly unjustified.

Having thus considered what the Government did, it is not out of place to look at the attitude of the Liberal party towards the soldier question. When the boys overseas were calling loudly for help to be sent them, the Liberal party condemned the sending of such assistance and said that the Military Service Bill was un-British and unfair. They fought tooth and nail to prevent another man being sent overseas, sparing no effort to attain their end, it is said stir up racial troubles. They maintained that as the men enlisted and went overseas of their own free will, they must put up with what they found there. And this, moreover, is the bunch that is now desirous of making trouble for the Government that has made these returned men their special care!

FRANCE'S POSITION.

No thoughtful reader of M. Briand's speech at the Armistice Conference yesterday can fail to be deeply impressed with regard to the situation in which France finds herself today. The French statesman is no alarmist; he has merely set forth in a precise and succinct manner conditions which those who have carefully followed the situation in Europe must recognize as absolutely correct. The keynote of his remarks is that there is no alternative to the present situation.

What absurdity of the Telegraph today to try to foist upon the public the absolute misrepresentation that the Conservative party is its ally in Vienna. Give Buxton a chance and St. John will yet get what it merits.

with which all but the rabid Germanophile will readily agree. It is probably true, as he says, that there is a certain element of the German people which is honestly anxious for the preservation of peace but unfortunately there exists, and it is to be feared there always will exist, another and more powerful element that will do its best at no distant date to provoke further warfare.

The German people as a nation cannot be trusted; the truth is not in them, neither is honesty nor sincerity. The spirit of resentment and the thirst for revenge for their defeat is too strong to be killed; while forced perhaps publicly to act up to the letter of their undertakings as laid down in the Peace Treaty, they are violating and will continue to violate, the spirit of these undertakings. Sooner or later their pent up activities will burst their bonds and the result will be another conflagration.

Under such conditions as these, can France be expected to reduce her army and navy, particularly the former, to any great extent? After reading M. Briand's remarks one must certainly come to the conclusion, assuredly not, knowledge on the part of Germany, that if France is again attacked other nations will once more rush to her assistance, may cost more or less as a deterrent, but one is inclined to doubt it.

THE CANADIAN PRESS LIMITED.

Value of the co-operative work the Canadian Press Limited is doing for its members, the daily newspapers of Canada, is well illustrated in the present election campaign. Time was, and not so very long ago at that, when the only source of the campaign available to the general public was through the partisan reports published in the news columns of newspapers supporting through thick and thin one or other of the two political parties.

Now there is available for every newspaper, and for the reading public, the unbiased non-partisan reports of the Canadian Press, whose staff corresponds accompany the political leaders on their speaking-tours and give a faithful report of their meetings. With this material before him, the intelligent citizen is enabled to form his own opinion.

It is interesting to recall that the Canadian Press Limited, as at present organized, came into being under stress of war conditions in September, 1917. For a number of years before that the idea of co-operative news service in Canada had been sectional rather than national. Thus, the Maritime daily newspapers had their own organization, known as the Eastern Press Association, Western Canada was served by the Western Associated Press, and Ontario and Quebec by two distinct organizations, one for morning and the other for evening newspapers. Normally, and for the purpose of securing access to the news reports of the Associated Press of America, these four organizations were united as several members of the Canadian Press Limited, which was formed as a holding organization in 1911 to take over from the Canadian Pacific Railway the Canadian rights to the Associated Press news reports, but in fact they were distinct and even at times hostile to the one to the other, and it was not until under the stress of war conditions that the need for a national Canadian organization, similar in scope and ideals to the Associated Press, became clearly recognized.

Difficulties that stood in the way of uniting these organizations into one association arose chiefly from the geographic conditions of the Dominion, these being chiefly the three great gaps of unproductive territory in the daily newspaper sense separating St. John from Montreal, Ottawa from Winnipeg, and Calgary from Vancouver. The situation was laid before Sir Robert Borden by the daily papers of Canada and his Government undertook to "bridge" these gaps financially by defraying the cost of the telegraph leased wire mileage covering them. This was in the spring of 1917 and six months later the new organization began active operations, including within its membership every daily newspaper of Canada, and connecting, by its leased wire mileage, Cape Breton with Vancouver Island, thus bringing every province into close news relationship with the others and making possible the free interchange of news and ideas from one end of Canada to the other.

Not the least valuable part of the work of the Canadian Press consists in the fair and impartial reports of the debates of Parliament it distributes throughout the country. Recently the association has established its own cable service out of London, removing to a great extent the reproach under which Canadian news papers long labored, namely that the bulk of their foreign news and British news comes through United States sources. A great deal more Old Country news, and news of the British Empire at large, is now finding its way into the columns of the Canadian daily press than ever before.

Enough perhaps has been said to show that the Canadian Press Limited, of which the St. John Standard is proud to be a member, is a virtue or praiseworthy, looking always ahead, and providing its members—who are indeed its owners—with a constantly improving standard of news service. There lies before it a great future so long as it continues to be animated with the ideals of accuracy in fact and fairness in statement which now characterize its news reports.

Pop started in talking politics at supper last night. He says: "I see in The Telegraph that Harry McLean told the folks at Hillsboro that he's no politician. He needn't tell St. John folks that, they know it." "Aw, g'wan," says me, "you're only jealous 'cause he's a smarter looking man than you." I see in the paper that the American Opticians' Society has come to the conclusion that eyeglasses, like clothes, should be suitable for the occasion, and that glasses that you wear in the office or street, are not the proper things for evening affairs. Like dress clothes, you must wear dress glasses, Neat!

I heard Uncle Dick swearing under his breath just now and so I asked what the devil was. "Oh, some blamed kid wants her name put on the birthday register, and she don't give the date." Pop Uncle, he has his troubles like the rest of us.

Benny's Note Book

BY LEE PAPE

Pop was smoking behind the paper after supper and me sed, Willyum I want to show you my new hat, now Willyum I want your candid opinion so don't say you like it if you don't, because if you don't there's still time for me to change it.

And she went out of the room and came back again with her new hat on, being a red kind of a hat with black and yellow things, ma saying, Now mind Willyum, don't say you like it if you don't, now take a good look at it first.

And she started to wawk around the room with the hat still on so pop could see it all around without wawking around it himself, pop saying, Well, it's a nice hat, I think, all things considered I think it's a nice hat.

What do you mean by all things considered, Willyum? sed ma, that sounds as if you had a secret reservation or a double meaning or something, and pop sed, Not at all, not at all, ony perhaps for one thing maybe it has quite a good oed of red on it, you mite say.

Wy Willyum the idee, you mite say rathing of the kind, one reason wy I took this partickler hat was because it was so inconspicuous, you don't know wat you're talking about, Willyum sed ma.

I suppose not, dot notice me, ony I thawt perhaps the hole hat, in a way of speaking, looks a little large for you, sed pop.

Large, well upon my wurd Willyum, you must be blind or crazy or something this evening, the hats small if anything, if you want to know the truth, sed ma, and pop sed, In a grate believer in the truth and in glad to know the hat is all rite and its bin a grate pleasure and a unforgettable experience to have you listen to my judgment with such an open mind.

O Willyum, do you reely and truly think its all rite? sed ma.

Absolutely and positively o. k., sed pop, and ma sed, O Willyum I think you're too sweet for anything, I knew I could trust your judgment, then ill keep the hat just as it is, so long as you say so.

Ma's grate life if you don't wooken, sed pop, and got behind the paper agen.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Protection in the United States. (Quebec Chronicle.) It is sometimes stated that, had Canada not rejected the Reciprocity Agreement proposed by the United States in 1911, the United States Tariff Bill last May, and would not be preparing a new permanent tariff, which will be strongly protective.

The absurdity of this statement is apparent on a moment's reflection, because the United States is passing the law which will be a general increase of its protective tariff against all the countries of the world and not particularly against Canada.

The United States is now framing a new tariff, which has passed the House of Representatives, and is being considered by the Senate. This is a protective measure and places high rates of duty on products from all countries entering the United States.

Obviously, the United States, in taking this action is not inspired by revenge and is not trying to punish Canada for Canada's refusal to adopt reciprocity in 1911. A great country does not determine its policies by such petty motives. The United States has raised its tariff to protect the industries of the country. In doing so, the policy which has been in effect in the United States for 132 years is simply being maintained.

Prior to the Revolution, the industrial development of the thirteen English Colonies on the Eastern Atlantic Coast had been very limited. This was due to several reasons, namely that the northern colonies were confined largely to overcoming the hardships of pioneer existence, while the southern colonies employed slave labor, and themselves to the creation and cultivation of extensive plantations.

There were no large cities; New York and Boston were only seaport towns. Raw material was shipped to England, where most of the manufactured goods needed were purchased.

During the Revolution, shipping to England was stopped, and the colonists had to depend for manufactured goods upon what they could secure from France and other European countries. After the Revolution, hostility towards England diminished in part of goods. Later, came the trade wars, when the Napoleonic wars in Europe suffered great interference. Consequently, they were forced to pay attention to manufacturing at home.

The first tariff measure passed in 1793 by the United States provided for the encouragement and protection of manufacturers. At first, the protection afforded was low, the duties ranging from 5 to 15 per cent ad valorem. When Europe began to recover from the Napoleonic wars, United States manufacturers suffered from European competition, and consequently, a larger measure of protection was afforded. From 1816 onward the character of the United States tariff has been distinctly protective.

After the civil war the protective tariff was again raised. The McKinley tariff of 1890 increased protection duties on articles in the United States. The Dingley tariff of 1897 made general increases, and finally the Payne-Aldrich tariff the protective system to the highest point which it had reached since the Revolution.

When the Republicans were defeated and President Wilson and the Democratic party were elected to power, a general reduction of the United States tariff was made on October 3rd, 1913, and the direct taxation was increased to provide for the revenue which was lost through the general reduction. It did not follow, however, that the United States departed from the protective system; the United States tariff was still protective in character. The new United States tariff, now before the Senate, is highly protective.

The United States is the great example of how a country can be developed under the protective system. It is now a self-contained country, producing practically everything that is needed by a population of one hundred and eighty millions.

It is interesting to note that the early manufacturers of the United States encountered the usual difficulties experienced in a pioneer country. They had to combat the lure of the word "imported" because it was difficult for those who had been accustomed to purchasing foreign goods to substitute for them the goods produced in their own country.

The expression "home-made" was a synonym for lack of quality, but with the passage of time, the point of view changed, and it was found that the manufacturers and producers of their own country, if given opportunity and encouragement could make articles equal or superior to imported articles. Now the tendency in the United States is to seek for "home-made" articles instead of "imported" articles.

From this brief survey of the fiscal history of the United States, it is surely obvious that those who have been guiding the policy of that country hitherto, have based it on a sure foundation that Canada will do well to emulate.

Obituary

Mrs. Fred S. Crosby. A great many friends will regret to learn of the death of Mrs. Fred S. Crosby, which took place yesterday morning at 8 o'clock at her residence, 1070th Street, after an illness of only about a week. Besides her husband and mother, she leaves four children: Jane, James, Charlotte and George; two sisters, Mrs. H. W. Schofield, Rotherham, and Mrs. Charles D. Schofield, Victoria, B. C., wife of the Bishop of Columbia; and one half-sister, Mrs. Frank Cans, Montreal; one half-brother, J. L. McAvity of this city.

Mrs. Crosby was a daughter of the late James H. McAvity and Mrs. McAvity and was well liked in social circles and the city. The funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon from her late residence to St. Paul's Church, Rotherham, where service will be conducted by Rev. A. W. Daniel of this city.

Mrs. Margaret Peters. Early yesterday morning Mrs. Margaret Peters, widow of Hugh Peters, passed away, after a lingering illness. She is survived by one son, H. H. Peters of this city; one daughter, Mrs. Leslie Steele, with whom she made her home; one brother, Henry McCaffery of Windsor, Ontario, and one sister, Mrs. Catherine O'Donnell, of this city. The funeral will be held on Wednesday morning from her late residence to Holy Trinity Church.

THE ORIGIN OF GALL STONES

They are simply dried bile made up of Crystalline constituents of that fluid. Very common is this disease among merchants, clerks, and those of sedentary habits. Prevention consists in maintaining correct action of the liver and bowels, and this is speedily accomplished by using Dr. Hamilton's Pills. No person using Dr. Hamilton's Pills will be subject to gall stones. Sound digestion, good appetite, a clear color, will evidence the health giving properties of Dr. Hamilton's Pills which are safest and best for general family use. When a gall stone is needed, when you feel out of sorts, that's the time to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butter-trees, sold by dealers or The Catarrh-cure Co., Montreal.

LOGGIEVILLE

Loggieville, N. B., Nov. 21.—Theater Sapper and Sale recently held at the Temperance Hall under the management of the Swastika Club was a most successful fete. The building was prettily decorated with colored tissue. The dining room was tastefully arranged with eight or ten small tables, these were daintily set, and attended by a company of active waitresses, who served their patrons in a most capable manner. There was a generous supply of fancy and useful needlework of sale in another portion of the building. Delicious home made candy was obtained for a small fee. The orange tree proved a great attraction to everyone, and from its branches the fruit was readily sold. The band was in attendance and their splendid services were much enjoyed by the large crowd present, who all spent liberally their greenbacks.

The funds of the Society were augmented by about $145.00 as a result of the evening's proceeds. In common with practically every city and town throughout the length and breadth of the North American Continent, the citizens of this town wore a "Flander's Poppy" on the 11th inst., in memory of the gallant men who gave their lives in the preservation of liberty.

The sounding of the mill whistle at 11 a. m. caused thoughtful ones to pause and during the moments of silence the memory of the noblest of citizens were recalled to that far off land "where poppies grow between the crosses."

James Marlock is ill at the home of his sister, Mrs. Isabella McDonald. Peter Manderson's many friends regret to learn that his condition remains unchanged. He has been in the Hotel Dieu Hospital for the past two weeks.

Dr. and Mrs. McKenzie, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Loggie, are spending a week in the woods in the vicinity of Blackville.

Mrs. Archie Patterson died on Tuesday last week at the home of her son John Patterson. Although she had not been in the best of health for some time, her death came unexpected. Mrs. Patterson had reached the advanced age of 78. She came to this town from Kouchibouguac some months ago. The funeral services were held on Wednesday evening. A most impressive address was given by the pastor of Knox Church. Knox Church choir was present and sang effectively the hymns, "Peace, Perfect Peace," and "Forever With The Lord." The funeral procession left town early Thursday morning for Kouchibouguac where interment was made in the family plot. The sympathy of the community goes out to the bereaved relatives.

Backache

Backache is the outstanding symptom of kidney disease. Women often make the mistake of attributing other causes and overlook the derangement of the kidneys until serious developments have made it difficult to obtain permanent relief.

This letter points to a treatment which has been so thoroughly tried and proven so effective in the great majority of cases that you cannot afford to overlook it when cause arises for its use.

Mrs. Albert Brunet, R.R. No. 1, Ottawa, Ont., writes:

"I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for the past two months, having been afflicted with kidney trouble. I used two doctors' medicine previous to this, without any good results. A friend told me to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and the second box made me feel a good deal better. I have now used about six or eight boxes, and am completely relieved."

Lunenburg's Fleet Had Third Largest Season in History

Lunenburg, N. S., Nov. 20.—The Grand Bank fishing fleet of Lunenburg caught 269,820 quintals of fish during the past season, the third largest catch in the history of the Grimsby of Canada. The fleet during the season just closed consisted of 94 schooners and one steam trawler, and the average catch per vessel was 2,840 quintals, a record for averages. Captain Albert Himmelman, in the big schooner Independence, with 4,750 quintals, was high liner of the fleet.

The spring catch of 72,000 quintals was sold at $6.75 per quintal, and the portion of the summer catch which has been sold brought $6.25. Six cargoes were sold in Gloucester at 31.2 cents per pound, green, but fifty-six schooners' catches remain unsold.

In 1912 Lunenburg had 138 schooners engaged in the bank fisheries, the catch being then 211,080, an average of 1,652 per vessel. The biggest catch was made in 1912 when 166 schooners took 285,150 quintals, and the next largest was made in 1920 when 117 schooners caught 291,475 quintals.

COLONIZATION PLAN FOR WEST BEING PUSHED

Departure of Useless Polish Emigrants Prevented—2,000 Britishers Sought.

London, Nov. 21.—Two important changes in Canada's immigration policy were foreshadowed by Hon. W. J. Black, deputy Minister of Immigration, on returning from his tour of the continental ports of embarkation. One of the changes is the arrangement concluded by him with the Polish Government whereby the departure for the Dominion of that class of Polish emigrants who can neither benefit Canada nor themselves by coming at the present time will be prevented. The other change will be the inauguration of the new plan of supervised settlement of British immigrants in Canada.

It has been pointed out by your correspondent and others that the present immigration legislation have of late been operating rather to discourage British immigration, while at the same time permitting the entry of an increased number from Central Europe, the latter being of a type which ready abundance in Canadian cities. It is hoped that the new arrangement will obviate this without friction.

At the same time the Canadian Government is anxious to provide as soon as possible a colonization plan for western Canada, whereby settlers will be selected, assisted and treated as an asset when they arrive. A system of supervised settlement, somewhat on the Board scheme, will be recommended, which would be in conformity with the joint Empire immigration plan recommended by the recent Imperial Conference in London.

2,000 Britishers Wanted.

The Dominion Immigration Department, however, is anxious to secure about two thousand Britishers possessed of small capital to inaugurate its new idea as soon as possible and demonstrate its practicability. They would be assisted to purchase land that had been selected after a soil survey by skilled appraisers, and in addition would be advised for the first ten years by agricultural experts.

Colonel Amory and other authorities, who are here on consultation, have expressed very favorable opinions of the plan suggested and as soon as the subject of conferences between Dr. Clark, of the Department of Public Health, and the British authorities, aims to establish a system of medical examinations of British emigrants to Canada before they leave this country. Lord Northcliffe and others have criticized the lack of such a measure. It is suggested that a number of decisions in the different countries here might be certified by the Canadian Government to pass on the suitability of intending new citizens. While Canada would not bind itself to accept their verdict this measure would practically ensure the acceptance of the immigrants on arrival in Canada.

U. S. and Germany Formally At Peace

Proclamation Signed by Harding Preliminary to Repeal of Wartime Laws.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Peace between the United States and Germany was formally proclaimed today by President Harding.

The President, in a proclamation signed at 3:52 p. m. today, declared the state of war between the United States and Germany, existing from April 6, 1917, to have terminated in fact July 2, 1921, when the joint peace resolution of Congress was approved by the executive.

The proclamation which followed exchange of ratifications of the treaty of Berlin, effected Armistice Day in the German capital, was considered the first of a series of three steps which when completed will return the United States to a complete peace status.

The second step probably will be the promulgation of a proclamation declaring the war with Austria terminated, and the third the issuance of a similar proclamation with respect to Hungary. The proclamation dealing with Austria is expected to be signed by the President and issued through the State Department within a few days, as ratification of the treaty between the United States and Austria were exchanged at Vienna last Tuesday. Ratifications between the United States and Hungary are expected to be exchanged soon and the proclamation issued soon afterward.

Until the third and final step is taken, the purposes of the formal proclamations will not be achieved in the opinion of the officials. These purposes are stated to be to put an end without doubt to certain war laws unaffected by the Congressional resolution of repeal approved last March 3. Notable among these war-time laws are sections of the Espionage Act, the Liberty Bond Act and Trading with the Enemy Act. Portions of the last named statute are preserved, however, through the treaty.

SOVIET CONTROL IN RUSSIA NOW SEEMS COMPLETE

Bolshevik Leaders Are Gaining in Power and Daily Popularity.

Moscow, Nov. 21.—Lenine and Trotsky, at all appearances, head one of the strongest governments of Europe.

That is one of the cardinal facts that stand out of a mass of changing and bedatable aspects of Russia.

The Soviet government controls Moscow absolutely. According to reports of American and other travelers in the provinces, Soviet officials enjoy varying degrees of autonomy, but the population takes orders from the Kremlin in important matters.

The Red army has strength to control food supplies—a supreme test in days of famine. Trotsky is perfecting a military machine that functions effectively—not primarily for war, because the army's principal duty is ordinary police work.

Moscow's garrison alone totals 200,000 men. Other important points are policed as strongly. Consequently, Russia is one of the most law-abiding countries on the continent.

The majority of the population are illiterate, indifferent to the political form of the government and alive only to things that interest them personally—principally, obtaining a livelihood.

The revival of capital is successful—the Bolsheviks will likely be popular throughout Russia.

Undoubtedly the communistic phase of the revolution is over. The change from communism to the bourgeois monetary basis has been completed. Russians pay for their food, clothes, rent, theatre-admissions and other things the same as Americans do; though employers are still obliged to pay their workers' house rent.

Petty trading is most active in Moscow. However, no big capitalists have resumed operations. Owners of petty small plants, employing twenty men each have restarted and a few government factories are operating. But the city's industrial life is still very feeble.

Soviet officials insist that capitalists will receive every protection, but they avoid precision regarding indemnification of America and other capitalists whose property was confiscated early in the revolution.

While economic freedom seems near realization, political freedom has not been restored. I have been unable in my talks with Soviet leaders to find any immediate prospect of such restoration, as opposition newspapers and parties are considered dangerous breeding-places of counter-revolution.

"The statement in a daily paper that the scheme for an Imperial wireless chain has collapsed is devoid of foundation. This scheme has been approved of by the government and endorsed by a committee of the Imperial conference itself in the following resolution: 'It is agreed that His Majesty's government should take steps for the erection of the remaining stations.' The statement that the post office scheme of an Imperial wireless chain has collapsed was made in the Westminster Gazette.

MAGIC BAKING POWDER

Contains No Alum

To reach the highest point of perfection in the manufacture of baking powder, many years of scientific experimental work by expert chemists are required to determine the exact proportions of the ingredients and the proper method of blending same to produce a baking powder of the maximum leavening quality and at the same time obviate the possibility of deterioration without the use of ingredients so frequently used as preservatives.

This is the reason that MAGIC BAKING POWDER has become so universally used from coast to coast and has earned by demonstration the reputation of being Canada's perfect baking powder.

FOR WOMEN

Daily Fashion Hint

A LOVELY AFTERNOON FROCK

Pearl brown georgette is used in the development of this dress of a soft, clinging charm. The front of the dress is gathered at the shoulders and joined to the back, which is brought over to form a yoke. The narrow vestee is of the same material, the only decorative touch being two narrow bands of braid about the armholes and on the flowing sleeves. The skirt is trimmed with an apron tuck. Medium size requires 4 1/2 yards 36-inch material.

Men Beginning To Understand Women

There are various signs that men are beginning to understand women better than they used to do.

One of the most conspicuous of these is the disappearance of the formal present.

There was a time when every lover offered gold and silver. Gold bangles and buckles were in a literal sense "the order of the day." They were "saved up" for; they were bought with great care; they were given at specially appointed seasons.

Thus, a birthday meant at least a bangle, and Christmas might not pass without the bestowal of an even more costly token.

Our mothers and grandmothers would have been disappointed if the formal present had not made its formal and scheduled appearance. But even they, in their hearts (as they confess) always preferred the present that was not formal and that came out of season, on the wings of enthusiasm and surprise.

What modern girls, believing in love, as modern girls do believe, wish to have accustomed to paid her on a set day by the man of her heart? It will give her present for him give them at all times, every day, as his means permit. Does he suppose that there is any value of it, that it should be necessary for him to save up and buy extravagantly—and give seldom?

A present, in the symbolism of love, is a song, not a set speech. It must metaphorically burst from the lips. It must come with a little of the wonder and surprise and glory of love itself clinging to it.

You cannot give presents of that sort on appointed days.

A single rose, indeed, is often more eloquent than beaten gold. It tells the woman who receives it that the impulse to make a gift came suddenly in the middle of life, and not by a set and thrifty planning.

It tells her that her image is swift and sudden in her lover's mind; that it haunts his mind and his thoughts as a sweet perfume will haunt memory.

When it rushes into his vision the most, there and then, express his joy of it in quick and simple action.

So the rose inspires a delight which birthday bangles and Christmas brooches never awakened. They are longed to custom and the calendar; but this belongs to herself alone.

Moreover, the joy can be repeated almost from day to day. There are no days except indeed, the official gift days, on which impulse and love may not join in some new expression.

This expectation is ever on tip-toe without the least shadow of sentimentality. The very fact that the gift has almost no money value—it may even be a few wild flowers gathered by the road side—is its crowning merit.

Reflections of a Bachelor Girl

By HELEN ROWLAND

The Serpent was the First Psycho-Analyst; and the First "Suppressed Desire" was a Woman's Curiosity and a Man's Desire for Food that He Couldn't Digest.

LOVE doesn't die half so often from a great disillusionment as from a million little disappointments from a violent wound as from a thousand little stings.

In the Beauty Parlor, every woman comes face to face with her own soul—and the secrets of a man's order are not more sacred than the secrets of a man's dispensary, where women are bound together in an inevitable pact for the conquest and deception of men.

Once a woman's heart has been broken, it may be mended; but the stitches never tear, again, in the same place.

Charm a man if you can; comfort him if you will; but, above all, AMUSE him. For a man that is bored will turn away from Venus, he will, to play with a little brown minx, who can make him laugh.

Love's Questionnaire: Do you love me? Don't you love me? Why do you love me? How much do you love me? When did you begin to love me? Will you love me forever? Don't you love me any more? Why don't you love me?—and then they wonder why love gives them "that tired feeling!"

When a man takes a notion to marry, he doesn't start following it up, he merely stops running away.

Choosing a wife for her work is about as enticing a prospect to the average man as eating food because it is good for him.

Love is what makes a girl of twenty feel very old and wise, and a woman of forty feel very young and foolish.

The door to matrimony swings inward—and the lock clicks behind you.

WHY SHOULD WOMEN SUPPORT THE RT. HON. ARTHUR MEIGHEN

This is a time of supreme importance to the people of Canada. Never at any previous appeal to the nation have there been issues fraught with so much of weal or woe to the user as woman who constitute its citizenship. No longer does the decision rest with the men, but with the women who are called upon to exercise their right and privilege. Thanks to the Union Government the voters' lists of this year will contain the names of both men and women.

This pamphlet, written by a woman hitherto associated with neither of the old parties, is asking for public confidence, is addressed primarily to the women who will, at this election, exercise their newly conferred right of franchise. It has been inspired by the belief that our ballots should be cast, not because of party affiliations, but because of the character of the candidates who are submitted. These policies should be weighed by the present needs of the Dominion and by an intelligent study of future conditions, so as to establish the nation on a sure and stable basis. Much depends on the personal character, capacity, integrity and ability of the candidates who will be called upon to head the Government and who possess the decisive voice in shaping its policies and its course.

Women are the greatest and most universal buyers, women have more personal experience of economic conditions and know more of the effect of their purchases. They are domestic Chancellors of the Exchequer, Ministers of Finance, with the constant problem of administering the family budget so that the best returns can be obtained in food, clothing and other necessities; proper provision made for recreation and enjoyment, the care of health and strength, and a surplus provided to add to the family savings. Women are conversant with what is needed for the improvement of the home, with the current prices for maintenance and repairs, and in other countless ways they are in close touch with prevailing conditions and are dependent on the first place on the family income and on the industries of the nation their income depends.

Practical women, therefore, are intimately concerned with whatever affects national industries and the tariff is the most important of the economic influences. Canadian industries have been built on tariff. But for the tariff Canada, to use the words of ex-President, now Chief Justice Tall, would have been merely an adjunct to the United States. In a position of that kind, Canada's natural resources would be simply the fenders of the United States, and the Canadian manufacturer and Canadian nothing but a laborer of wood and drawers of water for the benefit of our neighbors across the line, whose policy has been and will be selfish regard for all interests except their own.

The tariff is essential to Canada under present circumstances, and every woman's concern is with the industries on which so many of Canada's breadwinners are absolutely dependent. Premier Meighen, as responsible leader of the National Liberal Conservative Party, has presented a tariff policy so clear and definite that all can understand. The Government's policy is the only one of the true policies submitted that is both certain and understandable. Both Liberal and Progressive leaders have varied their notes to suit the prevailing sentiment of the countries where they spoke, and have made it plain that not principle but expediency is their guide. Women who desire Canadian industries to be encouraged and developed cannot consistently support any tariff policy that will maintain Canadian trade and business and prevent the arrival of those tradeable conditions that are necessary for confidence and expansion.

In Premier Meighen Canada has a leader who in his brief career has already shown that he is a true Canadian.

When the liver becomes slow, sluggish and torpid it is not working properly and does not supply sufficient bile to thoroughly act on the bowels and carry off the waste products of the system. The bowels become clogged up, the bile goes into the blood, constipation sets in and liver troubles follow among which are, sick or bilious headaches, nervousness, water brash, jaundice, floating spots before the eyes, pain under the right shoulder, coated tongue, bad breath, yellow eyes, etc.

MILBURN'S LAX-LIVER PILLS quickly remove the obstructions, clear away the effete and waste matter by acting directly on the liver, and making the bile pass through the bowels instead of allowing it to get into the blood.

Mrs. Alice Merrill, Neponset, Ont., writes: "I was very badly run down for over four months. I tried several remedies, but got no relief. One day my husband brought me home a visit of Milburn's Lax-Liver Pills, and before I had used half of it I was much better. I only used two pills and I am a different person today. I can safely recommend Lax-Liver Pills to any one troubled with liver trouble."

Price, 25c a visit at all druggists, or by mail from The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Mrs. Pankhurst Says That Canada Offers Better Field Than England.

An appeal for public support for the Canadian National Council for Combating Venereal Diseases was made by Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst at a meeting held under the auspices of the Toronto branch of the Council yesterday afternoon at the home of Lady Flavell in Queen's Park.

The occupation of the Maraschino cherry being gone bakers gave it a job they did not ask it to go into a pie because other kinds of cherries would be just as useful in a cherry pie. They gave it a place in cakes and now one meets the old and more or less familiar Maraschino cherry in little fancy cakes and in sugared rolls in "quick lunches," dairy lunches and the like.

Lemon Pudding. 2 cups milk, 3-4 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 teaspoon lemon rind, 1 pinch salt, 4 tablespoons cake crumbs or soda crackers. Put the milk on in top of double boiler; add the cornstarch, which has been wet with a little cold water; the sugar and salt. Stir constantly until it thickens; set aside to cool and add the lemon juice. Put the cake crumbs or crackers in bottom of glass bowl or ice cream glasses and pour the cooled mixture over and serve.

Other speakers were Dr. Gordon Bates, Dr. E. Hardy and Mr. Justice Riddell. The problem, the last named, he said, is a disease problem but it is also more because it affects the happiness, normality and welfare of the community. Among other things, Dr. Bates mentioned unsupervised dance-halls as definite loci of immorality.

After the meeting was in the chair, present answered the request for volunteers to help the council in the movement.

Household Hints

Steamed Apples With Marshmallows. 4 medium-sized apples, 1-4 cup brown sugar, 4 marshmallows, 1 pinch salt, 1 little grated nutmeg.

Wash, pare and quarter the apples; put into small saucepan with 1-4 cup water; put on cover and cook slowly until soft. Remove the apples carefully with fork into ice cream glasses or sauce dishes. To the water add the sugar, salt and nutmeg; boil 5 minutes; pour over the apples (this will only be about 4 tablespoons). Cut marshmallows and put on top of each glass while the apples are warm. Put in cover in place until ready to serve. A couple of marshmallows which may be used in place of marshmallows.

A Quickly Made Apple Dessert. 3 cups apple sauce, 1 cup sugar, 1-2 teaspoon grated nutmeg, 1 cup whipping cream. To the cold strained apple sauce add the sugar and nutmeg, also add the whipped cream very lightly. Fill in ice cream glasses or in a glass bowl; garnish with red jelly. You can use cinnamon instead of nutmeg for flavoring. In that case, dust with cinnamon.

Caramel Apples. 1-2 cup seeded raisins, 6 tart apples, 1-2 cup brown sugar, 1 tablespoon butter, 1-2 cup water.

Pare, core and halve the apples and arrange in a shallow pan; cover with raisins, then sugar; add the butter, cut into bits; add water and cook slowly until apples are tender, and butter and sugar form a thick caramel. Serve cold.

Golden Glow Dessert. 1 tablespoon gelatin, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 cups boiling water, 1 cup canned sliced peaches.

Song: the gelatin in 2 tablespoons cold water to measure; dissolve in the boiling water, in which the sugar has first been dissolved, then add the lemon juice; set aside to cool. Put in a bowl of cold water and beat until light. When it is firm, pour into hot water and set in cold. Unfold on to shallow plate and put the sliced peaches around the edge. Garnish top with a few slices of peaches.

The Marschino Cherries And Pastry

The Banished Cocktail Sinker Has Bobbed Up Again in All the Restaurants.

The bright red cherry which was thrown out of employment as assistant to the cocktail has turned to another line of industry, it is now giving its cherry services to confectioners and pastry cooks. All persons who know this cherry in its field of activity will wonder it happens in its present less exciting calling.

Many of our acquaintances were on terms of friendship with this red cherry. Some of them perhaps were on terms of intimacy and familiarity. To them it was a genial fruit, so sweet, so pleasing, it floated in that ancient thing called a "Manhattan," with a piece of lemon rind as its companion. As the tide in the bath-stemmed and wide-bowled glass went down, the pretty cherry sank and when the fragrant tide was altogether out the rosy, crimson cherry rested on the bottom of the glass. Some of your friends would spear it with a toothpick; some would eat it with their fingers; some would hold the glass aloft, open wide the mouth, tilt back the head and lure the enchanting cherry to its fate.

Nearly always that cherry was called a Maraschino, which is an Italian word from the Latin "marum," meaning bitter. It was a cherry that was a bitter, or bitterish, and was soaked in a liqueur called also Maraschino, which was made by fermenting and distilling the juice of the bitter cherry. Very often the Maraschino was not a Maraschino but a plain white cherry turned red by artificial means and "put up" in a syrup of preserved cherries and put up.

The occupation of the Maraschino cherry being gone bakers gave it a job they did not ask it to go into a pie because other kinds of cherries would be just as useful in a cherry pie. They gave it a place in cakes and now one meets the old and more or less familiar Maraschino cherry in little fancy cakes and in sugared rolls in "quick lunches," dairy lunches and the like.

Craze For Black Now Extended

One of the most striking novelties in lingerie is the use of black. Crepe georgette and satin are the favored materials for the development of these interesting models. Sometimes they are finished with black ribbons and hemstitching, or a lovely touch of color may be introduced by the use of a cluster of handsome flowers or embroidered motifs.

The nightgown is made of black crepe. It is a steplike affair, but over the shoulders are pleatings of the crepe which extend to the waistline. A similar frill but of rather more generous proportions edges the gown, and it, like the shoulder frills, is pieced.

On the front is a delightful decoration of white beads, while the waistline is defined by a ribbon that is black on one side and white on the other.

Black georgette is chosen for the fashioning of the daily vestee and the step-in. Rather tailored in style, these garments are finished with hemstitched bands. Pastel-colored flowers made of satin prove an attractive decoration for these creations.

A Woman's Rheumatic Lameness

Relieved by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it has done me as much good in relieving my lameness as I am very thankful to you for it. I can walk well now and go almost everywhere.

Before taking this medicine I was confined to the house for a year and a half. It strengthened my limbs. I advise my friends that are lame from rheumatism to take it.

My husband and son have also taken Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it has given all of us a good appetite. Mrs. Henry A. Wall, 31 Florence Street, Rockland, Me.

If you need a laxative or cathartic take Hood's Pills.

Cork Carpets Quiet Floors

Many home makers are seeking every means possible that will reduce to the minimum effort required to keep things spot and stain. This is particularly true with regard to floors, for they usually require a lot of planing and hard work to keep them clean, attractive and healthful.

In recent years the use of Cork Carpet has greatly increased, so that now many are finding use for this desirable floor covering, and reducing, in consequence, their own work. For once it is laid, Cork Carpet only needs occasional attention, and it may be cared for in precisely the same manner as a hardwood floor.

A few words relative to what Cork Carpet is will be in order. This product consists of ground cork, oxidized linseed oil, kauri gum and other ingredients. They are so combined as to make one of the most desirable of floor coverings, and in the initial stage of its life it is as soft and yielding as when passing through huge polished steel rolls, to a backing of heavy canvas burlap. The resultant product is known as Cork Carpet, and many quiet, attractive shades are manufactured, affording variety of choice.

Cork Carpet is possessed of several unique advantages not found in other floor coverings. It is useful to the tread, for the resilience it possesses, through method of manufacture, affords rest for weary feet, in the respect it is carpet-like, while having the added merit of being sanitary. For the surface is level and smooth, with no crevices to harbor germs or dust. All shades are worked out in a dull or flat tone, making for quiet, attractive appearance. This makes them desirable for use in libraries, dens, hallways, sun parlors, breakfast rooms, etc.

Liquid or paste floor wax may be applied to Cork Carpet and then polished with the weighted brush in the same manner as hardwood floors. After two or three coats of wax have been applied and the desired polish obtained the occasional use of the dry mop will maintain the covering in excellent condition.

Cork Carpet may be purchased in several grades, and a number of plain shades, at good floor covering stores.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Let's Think It Over.

There is such a thing as saying too much on any subject, and the "grand-stand" either sooner or later becomes a bore. The truth is always welcome, and the truth reiterated and confirmed is more than welcome—it reaches your innermost soul.

Fletcher's Castoria is all its advertising has claimed for it. Scrutinized by the microscope of public opinion and used for over thirty years it stands without a peer in the hearts of thoughtful, cautious, discerning mothers. And once used, mother love—there is no substitute for mother love—will scorn to try a "substitute" or a "just-as-good."

Masking under many names drugs that are injurious to the tender babe have found their way into some households, but the light of experience soon casts them out. Are they cast out before it is too late? MOTHERS SHOULD READ THE BOOKLET THAT IS ATTACHED TO EVERY BOTTLE OF FLETCHER'S CASTORIA.

MAILED CONTRACT
The mayor said there were a few spots which might require touching up. Otherwise he thought the street was well done.

On his last report Commissioner Frink said he had $749 left in Rock-wood playgrounds appropriation. He said there were twenty-one acres besides the area which has been leveled. J. A. Marven, Ltd., asked for permission to move an electric sign from Union street to Water street. The application was approved subject to inspection by the city engineer.

Marsh Road Contract
The Currie Construction Co., asked for an extension of time of ten days or two weeks in the Marsh Road contract.

Commissioner Frink said the work was held up by bad weather but a few days of fine weather would be sufficient to clean up the whole contract. He said there was 600 or 700 feet of the road to be done that the time be extended from day to day but not to exceed ten days, subject to cancellation by the road engineer at any time.

Replying to the mayor, Dr. Frink said that there was one small section in which the surface was not to his satisfaction but the work had not yet been accepted by the city.

The road engineer was of the opinion that this piece should be left to next year.

Cases Before Circuit Court
The November Circuit Court will open here today with Mr. Justice Clamander presiding. A number of serious charges will be tried, amongst them three for which the maximum penalty is capital punishment, namely the case of the King vs John Parks, charged with the murder of Sadie McAuley, a child of nine years of age; the case of the King vs Theodore Saunders, Harry Ketchum and Williams Reynolds, charged with a statutory offense against Margaret Josephine, a sixteen year old girl and the case of Edward P. O'Brien and James Thomas Spellman, charged with robbery with violence.

Other cases on the docket are Frink Zeberon and Clifford Ritchie, charged with acting suspiciously in the doorway of a shop; Fred Gallant, charged with breaking and entering the shop of E. R. Taylor, West Side; Elmer Osborne, charged with theft; Joseph Neaves, charged with theft; and George V. Parker, charged with receiving stolen goods.

The usual panel of twenty-one names with thirty additional has been summoned for the petty jury.

RETREAT ENDED.
The retreat to the French-speaking Sisters of the Monastery of the Good Shepherd, which began November 12, was brought to a close yesterday morning. His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc celebrated mass at 8 o'clock. The annual renewal of vows by the members of the Order, also took place, yesterday being the Feast of Presentation of the Blessed Virgin. Rev. Fr. Marie, who conducted the exercises of the retreat, returns to Church Point, N. B., this morning.

Business Before Common Council

Report on Water Main Renewals Which Would Provide Work for Unemployed

Commissioner Jones presented at the council meeting yesterday morning a report on the water main renewals which might be undertaken this winter to provide work for the unemployed. Among the proposed jobs is the replacing of the old cement main on the west side, the extension of the sixteen inch Easton Carmarthen street to Pitt. The total estimated cost of the work proposed is about $175,000. It was decided to hear the city engineer and Gregory asked the Hon. P. J. Veniot whether complaining that material had been left on the side of the road by the Canada Lock Joint Pipe Contractors for the Spruce Lake water extension and John O'Regan that debris from this work had been left on his land and done considerable damage. Commissioner Jones reported that the material complained of by Hon. Mr. Veniot would be removed and the contractors would not be released until the road was in satisfactory condition and that the conditions complained of by Mr. O'Regan had been remedied.

Commissioner Jones read a letter-in which Murray and Gregory asked the city to extend the 8-inch main down Prospect street to within 700 feet of their mill, which would enable the city to assess for fire protection the company undertook to complete the extension next spring.

The engineer reported that it would mean an extension of about 300 feet and would cost about $1,385 and the company would guarantee ten per cent on the cost. The extension would give better fire protection.

Mr. Jones said he would report further on the matter.

Commissioner Jones moved that he be authorized to extend the water main from Mill street to the intersection of Viar street, and that a previous resolution requiring the residents to guarantee ten per cent of the cost be rescinded.

In reply to Commissioner Frink, Mr. Jones said he would bring in a report on the number of streets in which extensions had been made on the ten per cent arrangement.

A report on the streets in which there was no water supply at all was asked by Commissioner Jones said he would also bring in that information.

Commissioner Jones read a report from the water superintendent, in which he said that thirty per cent of the laborers' time was spent in repairs to mains, while seventy per cent was taken up in cleaning up and repairing catch basins. He said that the catch basin cleaning was on paved streets and presumed that it was due to the flushing of these streets. He thought that additional work should be procured for sweeping paved streets and for cleaning the catch basins.

To the mayor, Commissioner Frink said that he thought that Douglas avenue was taken over from the contractors.

The mayor said there were a few spots which might require touching up. Otherwise he thought the street was well done.

On his last report Commissioner Frink said he had $749 left in Rock-wood playgrounds appropriation. He said there were twenty-one acres besides the area which has been leveled. J. A. ## Much Heralded Exodus of Mennonites Becomes Reality

Have Transferred Property to Winnipeg Land Company—Off for Mexico.

Saskatoon, Sask., Nov. 20.—The much heralded exodus of old colony church Mennonites from Western Canada to Northern Mexico is to become a reality, for arrangements have been completed whereby an advance party of 1,000 will leave the Hague district in the near future to do pioneer work on their new holdings. There are about thirty different sects of Mennonites and this is a distinct movement from that proposed by one section of Mennonites who have purchased land in South America.

Official statement, signed by Bishop Wall, of the Hague district, declares: "Our only objection (to staying in Canada) lies in the fact that the concession granted and ratified by the federal government giving us entire right to conduct our schools without molestation or restriction has now been repudiated." The original charter granted by the government was signed in 1873.

The transfer of property from the Mennonites to a Winnipeg land company is near completion and under the terms of the agreement all land must be vacated by Dec. 1, 1922. The holdings of the Mennonites in the Hague district comprise 85,000 acres.

This deal is also entirely independent of the Mennonite colonies of Swift Current and Manitoba, although these people have already contracted for the purchase of blocks of land in Northern Mexico. When the trek of old colony church sect has been completed, a total of 11,000 of these people will have left Canada for Mexico. Another 11,000 will be affected by the move to South America, but as it was pointed out by Bishop Wall, they are not members of the old colony church.

It is against the law of the church for any of these people to do any other kind of business except farming in Western Canada. It is estimated that the old colony church members leaving the west will take with them a total of some $14,000,000 in cash, or about $16,000 net cash per family on the average. The Mennonites are not, as a great many people believe, community farmers, each farmer owns and controls his own land within the block purchased by their church.

The land company that is purchasing the Mennonite farms in the Hague district will settle a colony of Poles and Ukrainians, brought exclusively from the United States.

Cases Dealt With In Police Court
Many a tenant has said things far from complimentary to his landlord or landlord's beneath his breath, and some have even voiced their opinion in no uncertain tones, but yesterday the Police Magistrate was called upon to hear a case in which the tenant is said to have committed his opinion to his landlord in writing, and writing accompanied by others derogatory sketches having been inscribed on the walls of a house which his landlord had caused him to vacate.

The house is situated at 74 Dorchester street, Harry Masters, the defendant, and Mrs. Ida Fuller, the complainant. Masters pleaded not guilty.

Mrs. Ida Fuller testified that she owned the house in which the defendant had been living for two years. He moved out last week and on going into the house she found on the walls several personal remarks about her and some pictures to which her name was attached. One of the pictures was that of a cat's head.

Thomas X. Gibbons also told of the writing. The case was postponed until Friday.

Six men, charged with being drunk and disorderly and were remanded. A number of traffic cases were dealt with.

Potatoes Shipped To Havana, Cuba
Quality Shipped from St. John Good—No Immediate Reduction in Price.

The Board of Trade yesterday received the fortnightly circular from Acosta & Co., Havana, Cuba, covering the importation of potatoes for the period ending Nov. 15. In that fortnight there was imported 22,489 bags and 7,510 barrels. Of this amount 23,000 bags and 500 barrels were shipped from the port of St. John.

The quality of the later shipments was reported as being much better than those received at the first of the season. The demand was good and they did not look for any immediate reduction in the price, which is now $6.50 per 180 pound bag.

A Plumed Woodpecker, and a Cooper Hawk, in full adult Summer plumage, have been presented by A. I. Archibald. Both birds are natives of New Brunswick and are fairly rare.

A. R. Gorham of Gorham's Bluff has donated a copy of the London Times of 1795, in which is contained a report of the battle of the Nile,

CANDIDATES IN ST. JOHN-ALBERT CONSTITUENCY ATTENDED SPECIAL MEETING OF G. W. V. A.

Each Answered Series of Ten Questions Propounded by Vets Relating to Interests of Returned Men—Mr. McLellan Ready to Create Trouble in Parliament—Dr. Baxter Thought Business at Ottawa Would Go On in Much the Same Way if Mr. McLellan Were Member of Parliament.

Hon. Dr. J. B. M. Baxter, Canada's Minister of Customs and Excise; Dr. Murray MacLaren, Conservative candidate in the constituency of St. John-Albert; Dr. W. F. Broderick and H. R. McLellan addressed a special meeting held yesterday evening which crowded the G. W. V. A. hall to full capacity. The speakers dealt with a number of questions which had been submitted by a committee of the Great War Veterans' Association in regard to the interests of returned men. The returned soldiers accorded Hon. Dr. Baxter and Dr. Murray MacLaren a splendid reception on their arrival, and heartily applauded the candid and honest manner in which they answered and discussed each matter thoroughly. Dr. G. G. Corbett, acting president of the G. W. V. A., presided as chairman; and each speaker was limited to one-half hour.

Only one interruption occurred in the course of the evening, when one of the returned soldiers informed H. R. McLellan that the government had distributed a questionnaire to returned men asking for an expression of their desires in regard to the disposition of the canteen fund, and further declared that the government would properly carry out the wishes of the returned men. This information considerably non-plussed Mr. McLellan, who was apparently intending to embark on a rampage of some description in regard to the matter.

Questions Submitted
The following questions were submitted to the four candidates: 1. Will you support legislation which will grant pensions to ex-service men, completely compensating them for the loss of their earning power? 2. Are you in favor of granting pensions sufficient to enable the dependents of deceased soldiers to live according to the Canadian standard? 3. Are you in favor of setting aside an amount equal to one year's pension on the death of the pensioner, will be paid to those who have assumed responsibility for sickness and funeral expenses? 4. Are you in favor of giving preference to returned soldiers in appointments to the civil service, making such appointments permanent after six months' satisfactory service? 5. If No. 4 answered in the affirmative, will you support legislation, no matter by whom introduced, to bring the Canadian National Railway and Canadian Merchant Marine within the scope of the Civil Service Act with respect to appointments? 6. Will you support the appointment of a returned soldier to the Civil Service Commission? 7. What is your attitude towards the reimbursement of all ex-service men and women of the amount of the pay and allowance lost by fluctuation of currency while serving overseas? 8. Inasmuch as there are a number of men made cripples by reason of the war and their pensions are inadequate to support them, will you use your influence to have the federal government give them immediate employment in the capacity of clerks, watchmen, etc.? 9. Are you in favor of all ex-service men and women who may have received gratuity in lieu of pensions, being accorded the right of medical rebond? 10. Are you in favor of the erection and maintenance by the federal government of homes for aged and infirm veterans?

First Speaker
The first speaker was Col. Murray MacLaren who declared that he was glad to be present at a meeting presided over by an old comrade with whom he had served overseas. The subject of the interests of returned soldiers was a familiar one to him, and he regarded that question as a non-partisan one. It should be lifted above party lines and dealt with as a matter of justice to the men who had served their country and whose pensions were inadequate to support them. He urged that the federal government should give them immediate employment in the capacity of clerks, watchmen, etc.

Dr. Murray MacLaren then proceeded to review, in a brief and concise way, the acts of the Government in regard to returned soldiers. In regard to the Lands Settlement Act, the number of returned soldiers who had been settled on the land was 26,700. This had cost the country in the way of loans and otherwise the sum of $54,700,000. Overseas men were also given a grant of 160 acres of land, together with a civic grant of a stipular acreage, where they had been found fit to carry on such work. In addition to those who received vocational training, while undergoing hospital treatment, fifty thousand returned men had received vocational training. The total number of men placed in employment was 169,000. The Soldier's Civil Rehabilitation scheme, under which these men were trained and given medical treatment, had cost the sum of $102,000,000. The number of men who received pensions in Canada was 73,000, and the amount paid in this respect to the end of 1920 was $81,000,000. There was also a further sum paid in pensions to the 31st of August of this year amounting to $32,000,000. The number of persons who had benefited under the Pensions Act was 127,000.

Another scheme which had been brought into effect was that of the payment of War Service Gratuity. The sum of $14,000,000 had been paid by the Government in this connection. Many returned soldiers to the number of 21,333 had been placed in positions in the Civil Service. Dependents had also returned from overseas to the number of 7,000, and this had cost the country $2,000,000. Those were some of the main items which the Government had put into effect.

To the first question, the speaker answered that he considered it referred to those men who had been in receipt of an average income. A representative committee of the House of Commons had been appointed to investigate the scale of pensions and report to Parliament. That report had been put into legislation. If it was not on the basis that it did compensate the men for the loss of their earning power, he was in favor of the whole matter being placed before a committee of the House of Commons for full investigation, and he would support such report.

Dr. MacLaren favored the formation of a committee of the House of Commons to investigate this matter, which finding he would support. He was not sure if the suggestion in question 3 was a good proposal in the interests of the smaller pensioner. The general allowance could be granted if necessary, and this matter should also be referred to a committee of the House of Commons. The speaker declared that he would support the decision of such committee. His answer to question 4 was in the affirmative.

In reference to question 5, he did not know whether the Canadian National Railways could be brought under the scope of the Civil Service Act; but he did not see why the provision in the Act with respect to returned soldiers could not be applied. He believed that preference should be given to returned soldiers for clerical positions, watchmen and others. Men who had suffered disabilities should receive consideration. He favored the referring of the matter to a committee, whose report he would support.

Question 7 required some investigation to ascertain the legal terms under which men went overseas. There was also the question of the deceased men and those who had scattered in various parts of the country since demobilization. He was prepared to support the finding of a committee of the House of Commons, which might be appointed to investigate the matter.

The speaker answered in the affirmative in reference to questions 8 and 10. He did not consider the questions submitted covered all points. He also favored the appointment of returned men to the Senate, and said he strongly supported the recent appointment of Brig-General Macdonald. Dr. MacLaren declared that he and the Hon. Dr. Baxter had taken action with a view to the re-establishment of a medical centre here for the treatment of returned men. There were 20,000 returned men in the province and between 2,000 and 3,000 receiving pensions. This matter had been taken up at Ottawa and he felt it would be entirely satisfactorily looked after.

Nominations For The Farmer-Labor Ticket

F. A. Campbell and W. M. Calhoun Chosen as Candidates at Labor Meeting.

At a meeting of the New Brunswick branch of the Canadian Labor Party, held last evening in the Trades and Labor Council hall, Prince William street, F. A. Campbell was nominated as the Labor member of the Farmer-Labor ticket for the constituency of St. John-Albert, and he and W. M. Calhoun will be the candidates for that combination.

Pelix S. McMullin was in the chair and about seventy-five men were present. He called on F. A. Campbell, who reported on the trip to Albert and his interview with the farmers. He stated that W. M. Calhoun had been nominated as the Farmer member of the Farmer-Labor ticket, and that Mr. Calhoun and George Russell were present and would address the meeting.

Mr. Calhoun said the farmers of the county of Albert would support Mr. Campbell and would pump him if there was no farmer on the ticket. He had not yet made up his mind whether he would accept the nomination offered him by the farmers, but would work for the Labor candidate in any case.

Mr. Russell spoke along the same lines. After some discussion the meeting endorsed the candidature of Mr. Calhoun, and F. A. Campbell was nominated as the Labor member of the ticket and accepted the nomination. In the evening Mr. Calhoun announced that he would run, and the following committee were named to look after the nomination papers: James Sharp, G. R. Melvin, W. A. Searle, A. D. Colwell, Ira D. Farris, Joseph Nixon and Manfred Day.

Dragged In Water For About An Hour

Fred Olsen Had Narrow Escape from Death When He Fell from Mud Scow.

Fred Olsen an employee on one of the dredging mud scows had a narrow escape from death early yesterday morning. With a companion the scow which they were on was towed from a dredge to a position off Black Point where the mud was dumped in deep water. While on the return trip Olsen slipped on the deck and fell overboard. His companion acted quickly and caught Olsen with a pike pole as he was fast drifting astern to his death. The companion was unable to pull Olsen on board and their shouts could not be heard by those on the tug boat which was quit a distance ahead. With wonderful endurance Olsen hung onto the pole and was towed behind the scow in the cold water for nearly an hour and was not rescued until the tug and its tow reached the dredge in Courtenay Bay and when Olsen was finally landed safely he was considerably exhausted and could not have hung out much longer. It is felt by the workmen that for their safety there should be some means of giving a signal in case of an accident.
