TURKS IN GALLIPOLI SAID TO BE GETTING EXHAUSTED

LINER WITH 1,200 ON BOARD BADLY DAMAGED IN COLLISION

Nieuw Amsterdam on Way to Rotterdam From New York — Riding Safely at Anchor in Downs.

[Canadian Press.]

Deal, England, June 30.—The Holland-American Line steamship Nieuw Amsterdam, having a large number of passengers on board, bound from New York for Rotterdam, was run down in a fog by an unknown steamer while anchored in the Downs today.

The port quarter of the trans-Atlantic liner was damaged, but the vessel still is riding safely at anchor.

This make the eighth collision in the Downs within the past three days.

1,200 PASSENGERS ON BOARD.

New York, June 30.—The liner Nieuw Amsterdam sailed from New York June 15 with approximately 1,200 passengers and a general cargo for Rotterdam. She should have reached Rotterdam, if not detained en route, on June 26.

NORRIS WOULD NOT AGREE TO ANY SAW-OFF

Hon. V. Winkler Testifies His Leader Refused To Enter Deal.

CHARGES ARE WEAKENING

Fullerton Admits He Has No Evidence Against Some of Accused.

[Canadian Press.]

Winnipeg, Man., June 30.—F. H. Phippen will come to Winnipeg to give evidence before the royal commission investigating charges of an agreement between the old and new cabinets, Mr. Justice Perdue, the chairman of the commission, announced this when the commission resumed this morning.

C. P. Fullerton, who is prosecuting the charges, stated that when he named the cabinet ministers on Monday he named Hon. Valentine Winkler as connected with the second charge concerning the deal re a change of Government. He said he should have stated that Mr. Winkler was connected with the first charge, which involved the alleged agreement to drop the election protests, though his evidence did not show that Mr. Winkler had any knowledge alleged to be involved in that agreement. Mr. Fullerton also said that so far his evidence showed that neither Hon. T. H. Johnson nor Hon. A. B. Hudson, named by him in connection with the alleged bargain preceding the change in Government, had any knowledge of the money part of these charges.

Cannot Prove Up.

"In effect," commented Isaac Pitblado, Liberal counsel, "my learned friend has made charges he cannot prove."

Mr. Fullerton called Hon. Valentine Winkler, minister of agriculture, as the first witness.

Mr. Winkler said he had been Liberal Whip in the Legislature.

Mr. Fullerton named petitions filed on behalf of both parties against successful candidates after last year's election. Ten Liberal protests and seven Conservative protests were filed and there was a cross-petition on each side. Mr. Winkler's own seat was protested. He was served with a notice, but he did not know that anything more had been done. He had no knowledge of other protests in progress.

Arranged With Roblin.

"Did you ever make any arrangement with Hon. J. R. Coldwell of any kind with regard to election protests?" asked Fullerton.

"Never," replied Winkler.

Similar queries regarding other members of the former cabinet met a similar response, until Fullerton asked about Sir Rodmond Roblin.

"Did you ever make any arrangement with Sir Rodmond?"

"Yes," said Winkler. "I expected that I would have to go south, and I spoke to Sir Rodmond Roblin. I made the suggestion and said that if he would not prosecute the petition against me I thought I could arrange that the petition against him would not be pressed. Later on the same

SEVEN LINES OF TRENCHES TAKEN

British Success in Dardanelles More Than Was Expected.

AN OFFICIAL STATEMENT

Operations Took Place Southeast of Krithia, Establishing New Line.

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 30, 5:18 p.m. — A British official statement issued today dealing with the operations in the Dardanelles announce that two lines of Turkish trenches have been captured to the east of Saghir-Dere, and that other lines have been stormed to the west of that place.

The official statement says: "The plan of operations on June 28 was to throw forward the left of Gen. Sir Ian Hamilton's line, southeast of Krithia, and to establish a new line facing the east on the ground gained, capturing in succession two lines of Turkish trenches east of Saghir-Dere and five lines to the west.

"All and more hoped for from the operations has been gained."

REPORTERS LEAVE TO JOIN SERVICE

Two more members of The Advertiser staff have forsaken the editorial rooms to answer the call of King and country. Last night LeRoy Scott and Nelson Minhinnick joined the No. 3 Stationary Hospital reinforcement being recruited in this city by Capt. Hillier, late of the 7th C. M. R.

Both have been on the reportorial staff of The Advertiser for some time, and have been on the police and court house assignments respectively. They are truly Londoners, for both were born in this city. Their friends and comrades of the editorial forces of the paper are a unit in wishing them godspeed in their new sphere of service.

"Scotty" and "Bat," as they were known in the editorial rooms, were the most popular younger members of the staff, and they will be missed by editors and reporters alike. They are going in a good cause, however, and will be welcomed back when they return from the firing line.

THE WEATHER

LOCAL TEMPERATURES.

Following were the highest and lowest temperatures recorded in London during the 24 hours previous to 8 o'clock last night: Highest, 87; lowest, 47.

ITALY GETTING READY FOR HER 'GREAT SMASH'

First Eyewitness Story Says No Big Battle Yet.

CASUALTIES VERY SLIGHT

Everything Preparing for Great Attack on Trentino and Trieste.

[By William G. Shepherd, United Press Staff Correspondent. Copyright, 1915, by the United Press.]

The following story is the first eyewitness story from the Italian front:

Udine, Italy (Near the Austrian Frontier), June 30.—No really great battle is possible along the Austro-Italian frontier for many weeks. Troops are pressing forward occupying positions of vantage, important preliminary fighting is occurring almost daily, but Italy is not yet ready to launch her great smash to win back Trentino and Trieste.

Clock-Like Precision.

There has been no delay in moving the Italian armies to the front. Mobilization went forward with clock-like precision. Italian troops marched over the frontier and seized points of strategic importance within a fortnight after declaration of war. But Gen. Cadorna is determined that when the Italian offensive starts rolling down upon Austria, everything shall be in readiness. Italy is not "going off at half-cock."

The Italian losses in the preliminary skirmishing have been very light. Everywhere along the frontier I saw magnificently furnished, but idle, Red Cross trains. The hospitals at Venice, in Udine and elsewhere nearing the firing line are practically empty.

Commanders Elated.

The Italian commanders are elated at the brilliant performance of their troops to date. The accuracy of the Italian gunnery in particular has occasioned surprise. At Monfalcone, for instance, large guns are hurling shells twelve miles over a mountain peak, a mile high, with wonderful effectiveness, crashing upon the Austrian forts, every shot counting.

Gen. Luigi Cadorna, commander-in-

THAW PROSECUTION READY TO OPEN CASE

Alienists On Hand To Combat Testimony of Defence Witnesses.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, June 30.—Attorneys for the state were ready to begin their assault today upon the bulwark of evidence constructed by Harry K. Thaw to prove that he is sane and entitled to freedom. When the hearing before Supreme Court Justice Hendricks and a jury was continued the state took up the cross-examination of the last of the Thaw witnesses. It was expected that these witnesses would be disposed of in time to permit the prosecution to open its case today with the introduction of documentary evidence.

Dr. Charles K. Mills of the University of Pennsylvania, one of the Thaw alienists, was on the stand when court adjourned yesterday afternoon. Dr. Mills and his fellow experts, Dr. Charles P. Bencroft of New Hampshire and Dr. D. Percy Hickling of Washington, D. C., declared that Thaw was not insane. "He was never insane in his life," said Dr. Bancroft. Dr. Mills testified that he had reached his conclusion regarding Thaw after seeing the prisoner on more than twenty occasions and making a thorough physical and mental examination.

The state attorneys had their own alienists on hand today to combat the testimony of the Thaw medical experts and promised some startling new evidence regarding the prisoner's mental condition.

German Submarines Planning to Attack Munitions Carriers

Mass at Wilhelmshaven To Meet and Sink Vessels From United States to Britain — States Tightens Censorship on Wireless Messages.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Washington, June 30.—An expected new German submarine campaign caused a recent tightening of the American wireless censorship, it was learned here from an unquestioned source today. The objects of the undersea boats' attack, it was definitely known, will be the British and French cargo steamships which are about to begin carrying munitions regularly from Gravesend Bay, N. Y., the Delaware River and other Atlantic ports to Saint Nazaire, Havre and Bordeaux, France.

Information from Scandinavian sources was to the effect that Germany has been massing its most formidable submarines at Wilhelmshaven with a view of demoralizing this traffic.

Advices from this country to the German admiralty concerning these vessels' sailings, it was recognized, would be in violation of American neutrality. Consequently Tuckerton and Sayville wireless are being watched.

RUSSIA WAKES TO NEED OF MUNITIONS

New Board Given Unlimited Power Over all Private Industries.

FRENCH RETAKE GROUND

Recover All Trenches Lost to Enemy in the Vosges Mountains.

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 30.—Russia's reply to the series of Austro-German victories in Galicia is a law setting up a board of munitions empowered to spend unlimited money, and given vitually unrestricted power over all private industries in the whole of the country. It is reported from Petrograd that the creation of the board became law with a celerity that was absolutely asounding, which is taken to indicate that the country fully realizes that the recent disasters to the forces of Grand Duke Nicholas largely were due to lack of munitions and equipment.

With comparative quiet prevailing on all the fronts except that along the border separating Russia Poland and Galicia, the attention of the British public again is turned toward diplomatic and domestic problems.

Special dispatches from the Balkans declare that Bulgaria is not dissatisfied with the territory offered her by the entente allies. That Turkey has not lost hope of conciliating her dangerous neighbor, however, is shown by the news that Bulgar-Turkish negotiations looking to the delimitation of the frontiers of their respective countries will be resumed in Constantinople.

Rumors of a break in the diplomatic relations between Italy and Turkey again are afoot.

With the exception of the French claim that they have recovered all the trenches which the Germans had recaptured in the Vosges Mountains, no change in the military situation on the western battle line is reported.

FALL OF KRITHIA THOUGHT IMMINENT

Dispatch Says Turks Are Becoming Exhausted On the Gallipoli Peninsula.

ALLIES MAKING PROGRESS

Enemy Has Difficulty in Obtaining Reinforcements and Supplies.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, June 30.—A Havas Agency dispatch from Athens says the exhaustion of the Turks facing the French forces on the Gallipoli Peninsula is evident, and leads to the belief that the Turkish position at Krithia will soon be taken by assault. In a recent advance made by the French, it is added, 6,000 Turks were found dead in the trenches on the front taken.

Recent fighting in the Dardanelles has resulted in an appreciable advance by the Allies, the dispatch declares, the French troops, under the inspiring leadership of Gen. Gouraud, commander of the French expeditionary force at the Dardanelles particularly distinguishing themselves.

Facing the French, the Athens correspondent continues, the Turkish front does not exceed three and one-quarter miles, which artillery sweeps continually. The Turks are meeting with growing difficulties in bringing up reinforcements and supplies, while the Allies have every facility for supplying their needs.

It is reported from a reliable source, the correspondent adds, that German officers have left Jaffa in Palestine and an important port in a neutral state, for Tripoli to lead the natives there against the Italians. The Turks, the correspondent reports, are said to have gained to their cause a Senussi chief, who promises a general rising of the Arabs in Tripoli.

GERMAN PRESS NOW LOSES ITS BOASTFUL TONE

Begins To Realize Outlook Not As Promising As It Was.

SCENE IN DARDANELLES

Correspondent Paints Terrible Picture of Effect of Allies' Gunfire.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, June 30.—A cable to the Herald from London says: "The newspapers reaching London from Germany are particularly interesting just now. For the first time since the war began the old boastful tone seems to have subsided, and while in many quarters there are significant allusions to peace prospects—significant because they are made with official sanction—there is a general realization that the naval and military outlook is not so promising for the Fatherland as appeared a few months ago.

In the course of a lecture on the sea power of Germany's enemies, which was delivered by Herr Geheimrat Flamm at Berlin a few days ago, the following statement was made:

"Today the strength of the British fleet in ships of the line and cruisers is hardly less as compared with ours than at the beginning of the war, for they possess 95 of the first class and 65 of the second class, in spite of the losses which they have incurred, which amount to sixteen and thirteen per cent respectively. The reason for this is that Britain retained all the ships which she was building for foreign states. Our submarines still have a great deal to do."

Stronger Than Ever.

This, of course, is only half the truth. Since the warships have been completed in British yards, and the strength of the British navy is greater today than it was a year ago. It is becoming clear to the German critics that their submarines are not likely to conquer the sea for their country.

A German correspondent in the Dardanelles describes the terrible effect of the fire of the British warships. He visited the town of Tschanak Kaleh, which he found a heap of ruins. The forts are still standing just as complete and as strong as they ever were. But the whole town inside is a smoking mass of ruins.

"Where his shells could not reach, the enemy sent airmen to destroy any life that was still left in the town or any supplies that could be concealed in the deserted buildings. These unwelcome guests no longer throw the old-fashioned dynamite bombs, but cleverly devised machines which are the last word of technical science.

Maidos Bombarded.

"And now, on the other side of the straits, in the town of Maidos, a great flame shoots up from a cloud of smoke, for a great building is on fire. The place is burning at many other spots, and the reflection of the fire dances on the foam crested waves with ghostly movements. Above the hills on the European side the searchlights of the British warships play. Suddenly there is a flash of light as clear as day over the entire horizon and a terrible broadside is delivered at Maidos to be followed by two sharp detonations.

"A fresh fire starts, new and meaningless destruction is inflicted on the peaceful inhabitants, with the idea of making all existence as difficult as possible in the Dardanelles. And now, as the inhabitants, with the help of the soldiers, put out the fire, the rattle of the machine guns sounds on the ear, broken by the thunder of the ships' guns, which send a hail of shrapnel on the attacking ranks of the Turkish infantry, or attempts to destroy their camps. The roll of the machine guns sounds for an hour at a time without any break.

Deadliest of All.

"And if for an instant the guns are silent, then one knows that on the other side of the waters the night battle with the bayonet and the bomb, the revolver and sidearm, that bloodiest conflict of man with man, is going on and one recalls the fact that the Turkish troops have proved themselves the most terrible combatants with the bayonet in these night affrays. . . . In spite of all his efforts, the enemy still stands where he landed, under the fire of his ships. . . . What plans the allies have, what resources they may be able to develop, no one can say. Perhaps they do not know at Tenedos. No one can say what significance the illness of the French general, D'Amade, may have for the operations on the Dardanelles."

BRITISH TOMMY GREATEST THING IN THE WORLD

Calmly Smokes Cigarettes While Dying, Says Capt. George B. Watson of This City, Invalided Home From Firing Line—Learned of Col. Becher's Death in Montreal.

Back to London from the firing line and, after a severe illness in England, for a six months' furlough, Capt. George B. Watson, 1st Battalion, 1st Brigade, first Canadian contingent, was comfortably seated in a balcony of the Alexandra Apartments this morning, enjoying his first day at home and the summer loveliness and peacefulness of the view up and down Queen's avenue and along Wellington street to the park. It was his first morning in London since the memorable one last September when the 7th Regiment men marched down Dundas street and Richmond to entrain for Valcartier, led by the gallant Lieut.-Col. Becher, amide the tears and cheers of a pressing throng of onlookers.

Scarcely ten months! Ten months into which a lifetime of experience has been packed!

It was only when he arrived in Montreal a few days ago that Capt. Watson learned the leader had fallen.

CAPT. WATSON.

"It was an awful shock to me to learn Becher was gone," he said, adding, "It would be a great grief to every officer and man of the battalion. Everyone idolized him. He was absolutely unselfish. His first thought was always for his officers and men, and no amount of personal sacrifice mattered to him if they were to be benefitted. Under the most trying conditions he was always cheerful and bright. I spent Christmas Eve with him.

WAITED ON THE MEN.

"Campbell Becher, Chester Butler and I remained for the Christmas dinner with the men. In this case the established order was reversed, and the officers waited on the men. No doubt everyone in London has heard of that genuine, old-fashioned Christmas dinner at Salisbury. The only thing that marred the enjoyment of the soup, turkey and the rest of the good things, was the anxiety lest the big tent would blow over in the high gale that was blowing.

"Yes, we were all glad to get over to France. The soldiers are always eager to be off to the firing line, and the sick and wounded are invariably impatient to recover in order that they may have another crack at the Huns. The British Tommy? He's the greatest thing in the world. I've seen him calmly smoking a cigarette while he was dying. He knows absolutely no fear of death."

"How does a man feel when he first faces fire?"

DEPENDS ON TEMPERAMENT.

Capt. Watson smiled as he replied, "Depends upon his temperament. But there is one thing sure, after the first few minutes he gets calloused, no matter what his earlier anxiety. Bullets whizz over his head night and day in the trenches, but he goes on philosophically, attending to his business in life. Bullets never cease coming, and the greatest havoc in the trenches is wrought by rifle and artillery fire. A man must expose himself to a certain extent to take aim.

"No, I never used the periscope. I preferred field glasses, though we scarcely needed them at Armentieres, as the enemy's trenches were only 400 yards away, and at another point we were as near to the German trenches as 70 yards. That was the time the opponents shouted insults at one another to keep things lively."

The London officer dwelt with enthusiasm upon the splendid system that has been evolved for handling the wounded. A man wounded in the trenches during the day must remain there till evening in order to be taken with safety to the field dressing station. In the meantime he receives first aid treatment and his wounds are dressed with the "First Aid" supplies carried by each soldier in the inside pocket of his serge. During severe engagements the rescue of the sufferers goes systematically on as long as they can be reached by stretcher-bearers. Though there are suffering Canadians in every part of England, each one receives the best of attention and every comfort that the Red Cross and warm-hearted British people can supply. Nothing is too good for the Canadians, sick or well.

FAITH IN KITCHENER.

"What of Kitchener?"

"The faith of the British people in him is still absolute," came the prompt and emphatic response.

Several Toronto officers returned with Capt. Watson, who has been invalided home owing to a severe and prolonged attack of rheumatism.

PEACE IMPOSSIBLE UNTIL ALL RUSSIA'S ENEMIES CRUSHED

Manifesto Makes This Positive Statement As Answer To German Stories—Nation-Wide Assurance in a Brilliant Future For Russian Arms.

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]

Petrograd, June 30. — "With the help of God, Russia will continue the fight until her enemies are completely crushed. Until that time, peace is impossible."

Premier Goremykin made this statement in a manifesto issued today. The document was made public immediately following the remarkable conference participated in by the Czar and his ministers behind the great battlefront in Galicia.

Answer To Germany.

The manifesto was generally construed here as an answer to statements appearing in the German press that Russia was weary of the war and ready to sue for peace.

"On all sides we find assurance that cannot be shaken in a future for Russian arms," he declared. "Let us strengthen our hearts and our resolution to carry on the struggle with Divine help until our triumph is completed.

One Problem Only.

"With firm faith in the inexhaustible strength of Russia, I anticipate that Governmental institutions, Russian industries and the faithful sons of the Fatherland, without class distinctions, will work in harmony to meet the needs of the army. Henceforth this is our only national problem, to direct all our thoughts to a united Russia, invincible in her unity."

GERMAN SOCIALISTS WANT BEGINNING OF PEACE NEGOTIATIONS

Call On Their Government "In the Name of Humanity and Culture" To Initiate Move—Blame French and Belgians For Former Failure.

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]

Berlin, via Wireless, June 30.—The governing board of the German Socialist party, in a manifesto passed by the censor, today called upon the German Government "in the name of humanity and culture" to begin peace negotiations.

"The German Socialists expect that their friends in other belligerent countries will take the same steps," the statement declared.

The manifesto made public today amplified the statement recently published in the newspaper Vorwaerts. It placed the blame for the failure of the earliest peace efforts on the French and Belgian Socialists.

German Socialists in their peace efforts had some encouragement from British Socialists, the statement said, but none from French and Belgian.

KOLB'S IDEAS.

[Canadian Press.]

Berlin, June 30.—Among the items given out by the Overseas News Agency today was the following:

The Socialistic leader, Dr. Kolb, has published a pamphlet in which he says that the Socialistic party is at the parting of the ways. He declares the war has tied a new band around the whole German people and the monarchy. The Socialists he says, should cease to fight against so-called militarism, as they should be convinced their advocacy of a militia system for the army is no longer tenable. They should realize that their task is, above all, national; that they must become capable of parliamentary action, as the party is otherwise doomed to absolute and perpetual lack of influence."

SHOUTED GOOD-BYE AS THE TRAP WAS SPRUNG

Amelia Palma Hanged for Murder in Port Arthur Jail.

[Canadian Press.]

Fort William, June 30.—Amelia Palma, the Italian who shot and killed a Finlander named William Leightenen at Kaministiquia last October, and who was tried and convicted last April and sentenced to death by Justice Sutherland, was hanged at 7 o'clock this morning in the jail yard at Port Arthur. He was game to the last, and shouted out "Good-bye" just as the trap was sprung.

COMMITTEE WILL ORGANIZE THRIFT

Premier and Opposition Leader Head British Body To Promote Economy.

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 30.—The parliamentary campaign for national war thrift will be carried out under the auspices of a large committee of which the joint presidents are Premier Asquith, Bonar Law and Arthur Henderson. Its members will include some of the leading members of the House of Lords and the House of Commons. Public meetings will be held, a personal canvass will be made, and pamphlets bearing on the subject will be distributed.

ASQUITH WILL NOT TALK ABOUT PEACE

Not in Public Interest To Add Anything To Past Statements.

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 30.—Premier Asquith today made reply in the House of Commons to the question asked yesterday as to whether the Government would state the terms upon which peace would be possible.

The Premier said: "It would not be in the public interest to add anything to what I have already publicly stated on this subject."

The question was asked by David Mason, Liberal.

ANOTHER 500,000 MEN FOR FRONT

Borden Tells New York That Canada Expects To Send These.

New York, June 30. —"I have not been called to England by the war office," Sir Robert said just before sailing on the Adriatic, "but am going of my own volition for fuller conferences with the heads of departments. I expect to hold several conferences with the heads of the war department over the placing of orders through J. P. Morgan & Co., in America. These orders have nearly all been placed in the United States, and Canada seems to have been neglected.

"I expect that Canada will be able to muster about 500,000 more men to go to the front."

ANOTHER LONDON BOY "MISSING"

Horace Bryant, Who Enlisted Here, Reported So in Casualty List.

Pte. Horace Bryant, 1st Battalion, whose name appears in the list of missing in today's casualty list, enlisted in London. He was 20 years of age, and while here was employed by the Grand Trunk as a porter. He boarded at 132 Briscoe street.

His next of kin is Mrs. Lillian Bryant (mother), who lives at 101 South Church Beach, Southend-on-Sea, Sussex, England.

Rub On Magic "Nerviline."

Nothing on earth can beat good old "Nerviline" when it comes to curing rheumatism.

The blessed relief you get from Nerviline comes mighty quick, and you don't have to wait a month for some sign of improvement.

You see Nerviline is a direct application; it is rubbed right into the sore joint, thoroughly rubbed over the twitching muscle that perhaps for years has kept you on the jump. In this way you get to the real source of the trouble. After you have used Nerviline just once you'll say it's amazing, a marvel, a perfect wonder of efficacy.

Just think of it, five times stronger and more penetrating than any other known liniment. Soothing, healing, full of pain-destroying power, and yet it will never burn, blister or destroy the tender skin of even a child.

You've never yet tried anything half so good as Nerviline for any sort of pain. It does cure rheumatism, but that's not all. Just test it out for lame back or lumbago. Gee, what a right fine cure it is for a bad cold, for chest tightness even for neuralgia headache it is simply the finest ever.

For the home, for the hundred and one little ailments that constantly arise, whether earache, toothache, stiff neck, or some other muscular pain—Nerviline will always make you glad you've used it, and because it will cure you, keep handy on the shelf a 50-cent, family-size bottle; it keeps the doctor's bill small; trial size, 25 cents; all dealers, or the Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Canada.

MUST CALL HALT ON PUBLIC WORKS

City Will Have To Retrench On Improvement Policy Now.

BIG BILLS ARE PENDING

Year's Work Will Total 9 1-2 Mills, Declares City Clerk S. Baker.

City Clerk Baker has drawn the attention of the board of works to the necessity of calling a halt on pavements and other local improvements.

"The work now under way," he said, "will take 3½ mills on next year's tax rate, and the school board's work will take another 3½, so there is 19, to say nothing of all the other necessities."

The city clerk is preparing a report showing the tremendous jump in local improvement work since 1910.

"In addition to what is being done," he said, "you will have to consider pavements, sidewalks, etc., from the new annexed district, and that will be a big item."

GARDEN PARTY SUCCESS

St. Luke's Church, Broughdale, Enjoys Splendid Entertainment Yesterday.

The garden party of St. Luke's Church, Broughdale, was held yesterday afternoon and evening with splendid results. Despite the rain and the threatening weather there was a large, happy crowd throughout the spacious grounds of Mrs. Stockwell, Maplehurst, Broughdale. Myriads of electric lights and brightly-colored Chinese lanterns without number brightened the whole ground.

The 1st Hussars Band, under the leadership of Roselle Pocock, provided a splendid musical program, and Rev. Canon Tucker, rector of St. Paul's Cathedral, delivered an eloquent and instructive address on "Eminent Canadians from Small Beginnings."

Ice cream, strawberries and other good things were there in profusion, and were freely disposed of.

To the Ladies' Aid of the church, every member of which worked most faithfully, was due the success of the event, and they were well supported by the young people of the church. The financial returns were good.

UTILIZE SCHOOL ROOM

Garden Party of St. George's Church Moved, But Success Follows.

In spite of the somewhat inclement weather, the garden party held last evening by the members of St. George's congregation, West London, was very successful. With the threatening of rain, a number of the tables were moved into the schoolroom adjoining the grounds, and ice cream, strawberries, watermelon and lemonade were sold by the various committees in charge.

During the evening a short program was rendered by members of the choir, including solos by Miss Elsie Smith, A. Green, and a quartette by Messrs. Green, Thompson, Dottridge and Copp. Gramophone music also added to the enjoyment of the evening.

SAW POYNER GIRL ON TRAIN, NEWS AGENT TELLS POLICE

Two Londoners Declare They Recognized Missing Young Woman—May Have Been Lured to Buffalo, Police Believe.

That pretty Wilma Rerick Poyner, the 15-year-old daughter of Mrs. E. Poyner, of 402 Dundas street, missing from home for over a week, may have been lured to Buffalo, is the latest theory on which the detective department is working.

Saw Girl on Train.

Robert Moore, a railway news agent, reported to police headquarters last night that he had seen a young girl, answering the printed description of Wilma, aboard a Grand Trunk train, bound for Niagara Falls. His statement was corroborated by I. R. Dowdy of Sackville street, who declared that he has seen the missing girl on the train at Brantford.

Immigration officers at Niagara Falls and Buffalo authorities have been notified and are keeping a sharp look-out for the girl. It is believed she is in the company of an elderly woman.

Says She Was With Soldier.

Another story told to the police by two girl friends of Wilma, is to the effect that they had seen her at a band concert in Victoria Park the Sunday night she left her home. They declared that she left the park accompanied by a soldier early in the evening. After that they lost track of her. Both girls stated that Wilma apparently was hesitating to follow the man in uniform who, they declared, was urging her to accompany him.

May Have Gone to Detroit.

Word has reached the police that the girl was seen on a train bound for Detroit, Wednesday night. Detroit authorities have been notified of this.

Another careful search was made in the city yesterday and last night, but without results. Police are practically certain now that the girl is not in hiding or hidden within the city limits. A careful inspection of rooming and boarding houses has failed to throw any light on her strange disappeaarance.

May Have Been Lured Away.

Police who are confident that the girl has been lured away, are apt to favor the theory that she has been taken to either Detroit or Buffalo. The girl's mother, who formerly resided in Detroit, does not hold their opinion, however.

Detroit Friends Helping.

"I have many friends in Detroit and also acquaintances in the police department," she told a reporter for The Advertiser. "I have wired them to investigate. None of our friends, with whom Wilma might have stayed, have seen her. No, I don't think she is in Detroit."

Regarding a printed story to the effect that Wilma had left for Texas to join a lover, Mrs. Poyner declared that the story had doubtless originated in the fact that Wilma had a brother there.

"The idea of the child having a lover there is ridiculous," she stated last night.

Not Fond of Dancing.

Wilma's father stated that she was seldom out after 9:30 at night. She had only attended two dances in her life, he declared, and on both occasions her parents had accompanied her. She was not particularly fond of dancing. She had not danced more than three times in her life, he was sure.

Mrs. Poyner is greatly worried over the strange disappearance of her daughter. "We are searching everywhere and tracing down every story, but without result," she declared last night.

Wilma had many friends in the city, but her parents believe they are acquainted with all of them. She was seldom discontented and never intimated that she intended to leave her home.

No Intention of Going.

From the fact that she was not dressed for the street when she disappeared, police believe that when she left the house she had no intention of leaving her home. The girl was bareheaded and wore tennis shoes. She had hastily pulled a winter coat over her dress when she went out, and told her parents that she would not be away more than a few minutes.

As a week has elapsed since her disappearance, without any word, the authorities discredit the supposition that she may have met with a serious accident. It is evident, they say, that she has either been lured from her home by some unknown, or that she has deliberately left the city, alone, or accompanied by a friend.

SOME PROGRESS NORTH OF ARRAS

French Report Says Two German Attacks Were Easily Repulsed.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, June 30—2:30 p.m.—The French war department today gave out the following official statement:

"In the region to the north of Arras last night saw a violent cannonade, together with some infantry engagements. To the north of the chateau of Curleu we made slight progress; to the south, at the Cabaret Rouge, a German attack was repulsed.

"In the Vosges German troops endeavored, at about 2 o'clock, to deliver a fresh attack against our positions to the east of Metzeral. This movement was easily checked."

GERMAN STATEMENT.

[Canadian Press.]

Berlin, June 30—Via London, 3:55 p.m.—The Russians have begun a retreat from the Vistula River, and in the district of Zamosc, southeast of Lublin, in Russian Poland, according to the official statement issued today by the German army headquarters staff. The text of the statement follows:

"In the western theatre: There were no enemy operations of great importance yesterday in the neighborhood of Arras. An advance made by the enemy in 'The Labyrinth,' north of Ecurie, was repulsed.

"In the Meuse hills, west of Les Eparges, the enemy has been attempting since the evening of June 26 to recapture the positions which we had taken. Their efforts were in vain. Yesterday they undertook four fierce attacks, all of which were repulsed with heavy losses.

Attacks Progressing.

"In the eastern theatre: There is nothing to report.

"In the southeastern theatre: Our at[illegible]ks on the Gnila Lipa are progressing. East and northeast of Lemberg the situation is unchanged.

"Between the Bug and the Vistula Rivers, the German and Austro-Hungarian troops have reached the districts of Belz, Kemanow and Zamosc, and the northern border of the forest plantations in the Tanew section. Also on the line formed by the banks of the Vistula, and in the district of Zawich, to the east of Zarow, the enemy has commenced a retreat. An enemy aeroplane was forced to descend behind our lines. The occupants of the machine were made prisoner."

King Victor Emanuel is continuing to tour the battle line. The Prime Minister passed through here Sunday in a private car en route to headquarters.

The Italian army quartered here is composed of the biggest men physically I have seen in any army. Through many of the regiments are distributed Italians from the United States and Canada. Cheery fellows with a love for fighting. One of them waved his hand at me and yelled: "Oh, you kid."

Correspondents are absolutely barred from headquarters.

Gen. Cadorna's secretary said: "If you stay here, you run the risk of being shot." Then, smilingly, "The Italian army won't be ready for correspondents for months."

SCHOONER CARRYING CARGO OF MUNITIONS BACK IN WASHINGTON

Dum-Dum Bullets, With Manifest to Mexico, Might Be For Europe.

[Canadian Press.]

Hoquiam, Wash., June 30.—Laden with a cargo of four thousand old-style Springfield rifles and 1,000,000 cartridges loaded with dum-dum bullets, according to the captain, the three-masted schooner Annie Larsen arrived at Hoquiam today, short of provisions and water. She was seized by Deputy Customs Collector Sebastian, and is in charge of deputies pending receipt of instructions from the customs collector at Seattle.

Some of the authorities believe, though her manifest cleared her from San Diego, Cal., for Topolobampo, Mex., the Larsen's cargo was intended for one of the European belligerents. The cargo, it was said, originated in Kansas City. It was to have been transferred at Socorro Island, a barren Mexican Island, 800 miles off the Mexican coast, to the former Standard Oil tanker Maverick, now under charter to the Jebsen Company.

Secret Orders.

While her manifest was for Mexico, Capt. Paul H. Schulter was instructed that a supercargo, Walter Page, would be aboard, and that he would get his sailing orders after he got to sea. The schooner was towed 200 miles offshore by a tug and after being out of port 24 hours, the supercargo took charge and told the captain to lay a course for Socorro, where his cargo would be transferred to the Maverick. The schooner reached Socorro in eleven days from San Diego, and lay there a month waiting for the Maverick, but the tanker did not arrive, and as the Larsen was running short of provisions, Capt. Schulter sailed for Acapulco, Mex., to replenish his supplies.

Narrow Escape.

At Acapulco the Carranza troops attempted to confiscate the vessel and her cargo and the captain was only able to clear through the assistance of the captain of the United States cruiser Yorktown, which was in port.

The Larsen's cargo from Kansas City was shipped to New York City; from there by steamer to Galveston, and then by rail to San Diego, and transferred to the Larsen. The cargo is valued at $300,000.

NORWEGIAN VESSELS SUNK BY SUBMARINE

German Raider Takes Eight of Kaiser's Subjects on Board.

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 30. — The Norwegian ship Cambuskenneth, which sailed from Portland, Ore., February 9 for Liverpool or Manchester, was sunk today by the German submarine U-39.

Thirteen members of the crew were landed. Eight other sailors, being German subjects, were taken aboard the submarine.

ANOTHER SENT DOWN.

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 30.—The Norwegian steamship Gjeso, of 1,094 tons gross, also was sunk by a German submarine today. The crew was landed at North Shields. The vessel was sent to the bottom by a torpedo.

The Norwegian steamship Gjeso was built at Trondhjem in 1912. She was 226 feet long, 36 feet beam and 15 feet deep.

The ship Cumbuskenneth was a three-master of 1,925 gross tonnage, and was built in Glasgow in 1893.

JAPANESE MINISTERS CHARGED WITH GRAFT

[Canadian Press.]

Tokio, June 30.—A searching judicial investigation has been ordered following the arrest of two members of the House of Representatives on charges of political corruption. The arrests have caused a sensation throughout Japan. The press declares that men accused are suspected of accepting bribes to desert the Seiyukai (or Conservative) party and vote for the Government's bill providing for increasing the size of the army by the addition of two divisions.

HUNGARY SUPPRESSES YOUNG CZECH PAPER

[Canadian Press.]

Prague, Bohemia, via London, June 30.—The newspaper Narodni Listy, leading organ of the Young Czech party, has been suppressed by the police.

There have been many reports almost since the war began of disaffection among the Czech element in Hungary and of a peace propaganda conducted by that party.

BERLIN RUNDSHAN JEERS AT STATES

Says Rejection of Proposal For Prize Court Not Justified.

LUSITANIA CASE SETTLED

Is Only Being Looked Over Again For the Sake of America.

[Canadian Press.]

Berlin, via London, June 30.—A Reuter dispatch containing a summary of the United States note asking Germany to reconsider her refusal to settle by direct diplomatic negotiations the claim arising from the sinking of the American ship William P. Frye, is regarded without comment by the Berlin newspapers, with the exception of the Rundschau. This paper introduces its article by saying:

"Along with the Lusitania incident, which it is true is settled so far as we are concerned, but is to be looked over again for America's sake, comes an exchange of opinions concerning the sinking of the ship Frye."

What More?

The Rundschau asks what more America wants than an offer to pay damages. The paper answers its own question by saying: "It wants here to influence the German method of marine warfare in favor of Britain, and absolutely nothing else can be said." Rejection by the United States of the proposal for prize court proceedings, the Rundschau contends, is not justified, for it maintains damages must be fixed by a prize court, and continues:

Cannot Be Considered.

"Finally, the American standpoint that Germany has not the right to hinder the shipment of contraband on American ships simply cannot be considered by us. Germany has this right unconditionally, for it is dealing in the protection of its most urgent interests. As to the means wherewith it sees fit to put this right into execution, it does not need any instruction from the United States any more than in the Lusitania case. We offer to pay full damages, and have said so. With that this case, too, is settled so far as we are concerned, at least in principle."

77 GERMAN REFUGEES ON WAY TO COPENHAGEN

Leave New York After Arriving From Kiao-Chow, China.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, June 30.—Seventy-seven German refugees from the Province of Kiao Chow, seized by the Japanese, were passengers on the Scandinavian-American steamship Frederick VIII., which sails this afternoon for Copenhagen. They arrived here last Saturday from San Francisco. The party included Frau Hedwig Meyer-Waldeck, wife of the former imperial governor-general of Kiao Chow, and Frau Maria Von Pappenheim, wife of the military attache of the German embassy at Peking, also ten German army and navy surgeons and fifty-two members of the German sanitary corps.

ARCHBISHOP SINKING

Chicago Prelate Not Expected to Live Out the Day.

[Canadian Press.]

Rochester, N. Y., June 30.—Archbishop Jas. Ed. Quigley of Chicago, stricken with paralysis at the home of his brother here, is not expected to survive the day, according to the announcement this morning of physicians attending him. The prelate is gradually sinking and death is only a question of a few hours. Dr. T. J. Conly of Chicago, who treated the archbishop before he left his diocese, arrived this morning. Dr. Conly went into consultation with the three attending physicians, and it was the opinion of the four doctors that the prelate could live but a short time.

The archbishop's temperature was 102.5, pulse 75, respiration 25.

EVELYN MUST TESTIFY.

NO SIGNS IN LONDON OF ANY RACE SUICIDE

Birth Rate For Month and Quarter Show Increase Over 1914.

No signs of race suicide are apparent in London according to the vital statistics at the city hall. These show that the number of births registered during June was 94, as compared with 86 during the corresponding month of the previous year. For the three months ending June 30 the registrations were slightly fewer than the quarter for 1914, the number this year being 309 and last year 312.

Unfortunately, the number of deaths also shows a slight increase over last year, both for the month and the quarter. In June, 1915, they numbered 79, as compared with 77 in June, 1914, and the total for the months of April, May and June was 247 this year and 227 in 1914. The chief causes of death were: tuberculosis, five cases; cancer, three; pneumonia, three, and diphtheria, two.

June, as usual, was a popular month for marriages. Seventy-nine were solemnized during the month, or almost half the total of 168 for the quarter. In 1914 the figures were 75 for the month and 168 for the quarter.

NO INTERFERENCE IN WORKS DEPARTMENTS

Chairman Donnelly Refuses To Stand For Any Aldermanic Influence.

Chairman Donnelly of the board of works made it very plain last evening, at a meeting of the board of works, to Superintendent Dodd that he will stand no interference from Alderman Lerner or any other alderman.

On complaint of Alderman Lerner, Superintendent Dodd discharged George Loney because it was stated he was a non-resident.

"When you asked me about the matter," said Chairman Donnelly, "I said not to take any action pending an investigation. You went ahead on what Ald. Lerner and others said, and discharged this man. Now we find that he is not only a ratepayer in the city, but a splendid workman. This sort of thing has got to stop."

The board reinstated Mr. Loney, and he started to work again.

NORRIS WOULD NOT

day Sir Rodmond came to me and asked if we could arrange some others. I spoke to some of the Liberal members and they seemed agreeable. I spoke to Dr. Armstrong, T. C. Norris and Molloy. Norris told me we had better not include him. The other two were agreeable."

Saw-offs were accordingly arranged, Winkler said, with protests entered against Conservatives. This was in September last.

"How did you happen to go to the Premier about this?" asked Fullerton.

"I always thought he was running this part of the business."

Norris Refused.

Some correspondence between Roblin and Winkler regarding the saw-offs was read. Roblin wrote on October 2 last calling attention to a lawyer's letter regarding petitions, and asking that Hart Green, the Liberal counsel for most of the petitioners, be properly instructed. It had been arranged, the ex-Premier said, that the protests against Norris, Armstrong, Molloy and Winkler were to be sawed off against protests against McFadden, Steele, Lauzon and Roblin. Winkler then wrote Roblin that he did not need to worry. Roblin replied that he would like to see Winkler to discuss the balance of the petitions, "because we have got to proceed or make some mutual arrangement."

Norris later told Winkler he declined to arrange a saw-off with anybody; Winkler so told Roblin.

"I had nothing more to do with the matter," said Winkler. "There was nothing more said about it."

At a caucus he had mentioned that something ought to be done about it.

Pitblado informed fullerton that A. B. Hudson had charge of election petitions.

"It used to be," said the witness, "that any arrangement of that kind was always made in caucus."

Mr. Winkler said he did not know who put up the thousand dollars necessary on each protest.

"Mr. Hudson knows all about that," remarked Pitblado.

"Sir Rodmond said he had a cash deposit for part of it. The lawyers would steal it all, he said," commented Winkler.

This concluded his direct examination.

NEW ORANGE HALL

An event of great importance will take place next Friday evening at the new Orange Hall on Egerton street, under the auspices of L. O. L. Langemarck, 2625, when its new hall will be formally opened and dedicated. The principles of Orangeism will be explained, and the public are cordially invited to attend. The militia will be represented by Capt. Peacock of the 33rd Battalion, who is also grand chaplain for Ontario West; the grand master, Dr. J. J. Williams; E. T. Essery, Dr. Knowles of St. Thomas, ex-Mayor Hocken of Toronto; the Imperial Male Quartette, and Bro. Chris. Pink will sing.

BATTERY GIVEN RECEPTION.

[Canadian Press.]

North Bay, June 30.—A great ovation was tendered the Yukon Field Battery by citizens this morning. The troops were allowed one hour's rest from travelling, and paraded through the town accompanied by a regiment from Victoria. The battery was entirely equipped by Joseph Boyle of the Yukon.

ASKED COMMISSION FOR JUDGE'S SON

Roblin Wired Rogers To See General About the Matter.

[Canadian Press.]

Winnipeg, June 30.—When the royal commission on the Parliament buildings inquiry met this morning, Wilson, senior counsel for the Liberals, read a copy of a telekram sent by Roblin to Rogers under date of April 30.

This message is as follows:

"Winnipeg, Man., April 30.

"(Confidential.) Close friends say it is very desirable that Geoffrey E. MacDonald, son of one of the commissioners, now with Strathcona's Horse, be given a commission, say lieutenant. See the general, as I have no cipher with me, and explain the situation, so he will understand and act. Am sure he will do this for me. Proceedings here already dragging. Anderson says important thing is to secure promotion. Kelly's son died yesterday.

"(Signed) ROBLIN."

Judge MacDonald said this was the first he had ever heard of the telegram or of any effort being made by Premier Roblin to secure his son a commission. He was only slightly acquainted with Sir Rodmond, and had never approached him in any manner whatever.

Chief Justice Mathers remarked that there was an appearance of an attempt to influence a judge, and said he thought the chief justice was mistaken in making this statement.

Edward Anderson then proceeded to make a statement in which he declared that his own son and a son of Justice MacDonald had gone to the front together with Lord Strathcona's Horse. Mr. Anderson had used his own influence to get a commission for his son, and he had remarked to Judge MacDonald that it would be nice if his son should have a commission also. The judge had stated that this was so. Anderson therefore had spoken to Roblin about it. This, however, was a long time before the royal commission had been appointed, and he had not heard anything of the matter in the meantime.

Sir Rodmond Roblin then went on the stand and explained his only object in sending the telegram was to please his friend Anderson.

STOLE HALTERS FROM MOUNTED RIFLE STABLES

Young Man Admits Charge and Sentence Is Deferred by Magistrate.

Charles Hamilton, a young man residing on Little Grey street, pleaded guilty before Magistrate Judd today on a charge of having stolen 24 military halters from the Mounted Rifles at the fair grounds. He was remanded for sentence until Friday while the magistrate has a conference with the prisoner's wife to find out how he treats her.

Hamilton admitted that last winter he was found guilty of stealing ducks. He also admitted that he figured in a watch stealing case some time ago. Hamilton asked for a chance, pleading that he has a wife and baby to support. The magistrate said he would give him a month in jail and then decided to reconsider the matter until he could find out more about the prisoner.

Hamilton said he took the halters, believing them to be old ones which were of no use to the soldiers, but which he could fix up and use for himself.

Disorderly Case.

Lewis Gibson, of 209 Bathurst street, was fined $10 for keeping a disorderly house. Mrs. Agnes Reidy and Leo Scott, frequenters, were fined $5 each. Gibson denied the charge, but on the evidence of P. C. McCullough, who visited the place late last night, he was convicted.

"Drink brought me to what I am," said Mrs. Reidy.

"Your little boy is going to the devil becouse of your conduct," said the court. "It's too bad. If you ever come up here again, I'll send you to the Mercer."

James Sullivan, an Indian lister, said he took a little liquor because he had the ague. He was fined $10.

Abusive Language.

Abram Hartman, a Dundas street merchant, for using abusive language towards Adam McGuire, of the Children's Aid, was fined $2.

NEED EXTRA CELLS

Change in Jail Accommodation Working Out Satisfactorily.

The recent alteration at the jail to provide for the incarceration of male prisoners in cells previously devoted to women has proved a decided advantage. That some such change was needed to keep pace with the large increase in the number of male prisoners committed is evidenced by the fact that one night last week no less than 70 men were guests of Governor Carter, whereas under the old arrangement only 49 could have been accommodated. Most of these were short-time commitments and within the last few days the number has decreased considerably.

SOLDIER OF PRINCETON SERIOUSLY WOUNDED

PRINCETON, June 29. — Rev. W E. Phillips has just received a letter from W. J. Brompton who went from Princeton with the first overseas contingent. He was seriously wounded at Ypres, in the head and arm. He is at present in the convalescent home at Mitcham, Surrey, England, making very satisfactory progress, the wound in his head having healed. His arm is injured so badly it will preclude his going to the front again.

Mrs. Phillips' brother, A. Chambers, started from Montreal last week with the Canadian army medical corps detachment.

PRINCETON'S DOMINION DAY.

PRINCETON, June 29.—There was a good attendance at the annual Dominion Day services held in the Methodist Church, on Sunday. Rev. T. R. Todd, B.A., of Grimsby was the preacher, and his earnest addresses were the subject of much favorable comment.

The annual sports and garden party will take place on Dominion Day on the church lawn, when Rev. C. R. McIrome of Berlin will be present.

APPOINTED BRIGADIER.

Lieut.-Col. Cohoe has been appointed infantry brigadier for the 33rd and 34th Battalions. Col. Shannon received word from Ottawa to this effect today.

LOCAL NEWS

JUSTICE AUDIT.—The quarterly audit of the criminal justice account for the county will be made by the auditors on Wednesday evening next.

CHIEF ENGINEER HERE. — Chief Engineer Safford of Montreal was in London for a short time today en route to Chicago on Grand Trunk official business.

SELLS PROPERTY.—The property of the late Wellington J. Barnes, corner Rectory and York street, was sold by auction yesterday to M. Hornstein. D. H. Porter was the auctioneer.

HE WANTED A RIDE.—In the juvenile court today a youth who wanted a ride and stole a bicycle he found standing beside the curb was allowed to go by Magistrate Judd, after being given a severe lecture.

FIRE STATISTICS.—The fire statistics for the month of June, given out by Chief John Aitken today, show thirteen alarms for the month. Of these twelve were for fires, and one to a chimney blaze. Ten came in by telephone, and three by signal box.

INFANT'S DEATH.—James Keeley, the 4-year-old son of John Keeley, 530 York street, died this morning in St. Joseph's Hospital from meningitis. The funeral will take place tomorrow morning from the father's residence to St. Peter's Cemetery.

LAMBETH CIVIC HOLIDAY.—Today is Lambeth's official holiday and, figuratively speaking, the village has been transferred to Port Stanley en masse. Races and a general sport program, baseball games and music are features of the day.

RAILWAY TRAFFIC HEAVY. — Traffic on the railways today was much heavier than for some time past as a result of the Dominion Day fares. Railwaymen reported that there was a considerable increase also in through business. As usual, a very large number of holiday visitors came in.

FINE WEARY WILLIES.—Two fine specimens of the Weary Willie genus who were found taking life easy in some G. T. R. flat cars in the East End this afternoon were placed under arrest by Constable John Hughes. They are charged with trespassing on G. T. R. property, and will come up for a hearing in the morning.

FORMER LONDON PASTOR AN AUTHOR.—Rev. T. T. Shields, formerly pastor of Adelaide Street Baptist Church, and now in the Canadian west, is the author of a book published recently dealing with the present struggle and entitled "Revelations of the War." The volume is a reprint of a series of sermons preached by Rev. Mr. Shields while pastor of Jarvis Street Baptist Church, Toronto.

YOU SHOULD ADVERTISE.—"The man who does not advertise simply because his grandfather did not, should wear knee breeches and a wig. The man who does not advertise because it costs money should quit paying salaries for the same reason. The man who does not advertise because he doesn't know how to write an advertisement should quit eating because he can't cook. The man who does not advertise because somebody said it did not pay should not believe the world is round because the ancients said it was flat." To which we might add: The man who does not advertise because he does not get free reading notices should quit drinking tea unless he gets a "silver" sugar bowl with each $1 package. Question: How much is the tea worth and is the sugar bowl worth having at all?

WEDDING BELLS

RAWLINGS—ROBISON.

A quiet wedding took place this afternoon in the parsonage of the Adelaide Street Baptist Church, when Miss Jennie Robison of this city was united in marriage to Arthur William Rawlings. They were unattended. After the ceremony the happy couple left for Leamington, Detroit and other points. Rev. James H. Boyd officiated.

AUSTRALIA GETTING BUTTER IN CALIFORNIA

[Canadian Press.]

San Francisco, June 30.—The liner Ventura, of the Oceanic Steamship Company will sail for the antipodes July 6 with approximately a half million pounds of California butter as a part of her cargo.

This announcement made by shipping men here today was accompanied by the explanation that a continued drought in Australia has interfered with a contract made by the Australian Government to supply the dairy product to England during the war in sufficient quantities, so California has been called upon to make up the deficiency. In the past, Australia and New Zealand have shipped annually nearly 3,000,000 pounds of butter to California, but in the last three months California has exported more than 1,000,000 pounds, valued at $290,964 to the antipodes.

DEFERS DIVIDEND PAYMENT.

NEW YORK, June 29.—At a meeting here today of the directors of the New York, Ontario and Western Railway Company, it was decided not to attempt to pay dividends, "in view of the uncertain conditions," according to a statement. The funds it was announced, will be used for the purchase of necessary equipment, bridge renewals and other work.

FORMER YARMOUTH MAN DIES IN RAINY RIVER

ST. THOMAS, June 29.—Peter Cameron, formerly a well-known Yarmouth farmer, died Monday at Rainy River. He was in his 62nd year, and is survived by one brother, Duncan Cameron, concession 12, Yarmouth, and two sisters, Mrs. Barbara, Yarmouth, and Mrs. Albert Russell, Rainy River. The remains will be brought to this city for burial.

PLAN MEMORIAL SERVICE TO LCE-CORP. MURDOCH

CHATHAM, June 29.—On Sunday evening next a memorial service will be held in the First Presbyterian Church to do honor to the memory of Lance-Corp. Murdoch, who fell in battle on June 15. The city council will attend the service in a body.

WOULD-BE SUICIDE RECOVERS.

WABASH, June 29.—Joseph Young, who recently attempted suicide, is now confined in the Chatham jail. Councillor Archibald Phillips, at whose home the attempt was made, visited the jail and found that Young had recovered. The officials informed Mr. Phillips that he would be kept there until the fall assizes, when other arrangements would be made.

The Michigan Central Railway Company will continue to sell all local and interline tickets and make sleeping car reservations at their city ticket office as in the past. Passengers to points in Canada and United States will be given full information by applying to their office, 405 Richmond street. b

News of Men In Training For Great War

LONDON SOLDIER AT FRONT SCORES FREEDOM ACCORDED TO ALIEN ENEMIES AT HOME

Writes Stinging Arraignment of Way in Which They Are Allowed Freedom in England — Describes Murder-Policy of War Lord.

Interesting sidelights on what the Canadian soldiers fighting in France think of the alien peril in England are contained in letters written by Sergt. George Crisford, formerly of this city, who left with the first contingent. While here Sergt. Crisford lived at 29 Alexander street, with Mrs. E. Truman.

He says:

"I would like to say a few words to you on the alien peril in England and the recent barbarous act of the Germans in sinking the Lusitania. The latter has, we all know, evoked a spirit of bitter hatred throughout the British Empire towards our enemies, and has made the civilized world stand aghast at the tragedy perpetrated against non-combatants, with the destruction of a harmless vessel, used only (with the exception of a small amount of space) for passenger traffic. The crime was premeditated, so that there can be no excuse forthcoming from the German Government to smooth away the distinct aim to end the career of such a beautiful vessel, and the all-important lives of those on board. War is war, we all know, but not as Germany would have it, and, therefore, we are called upon to avenge the lives of those innocent victims. And I avenge them we will, on the battlefields of Flanders. The Germans have lowered themselves to such a state that they only think of the vilest plans with which to wage war against us. It is no wonder that anti-German riots are taking place throughout England, and a cry for all our enemy subjects to be interned has come from all lips. I am astonished to see the number still at large, and say it is a disgrace to our fighting men here at the front to know that the Government has allowed such people to mix with and have the same privileges to use our country as we have. Is it not a fact that if an enemy force had been allowed to land in England every enemy alien who is old enough would have used his mental powers to the fullest extremity to assist his Fatherland in some way or another? We know they do it now if only when Zeppelins raid our coasts. Intern every German, no matter what age or what his social position. If the Government does not see fit to intern the females and children they should send them back to their own country. A woman is quite capable of being a competent spy, and with influence can do more damage than a man. Let us rid the country of such a people.

SERGT. CRISFORD.

Makes Blood Boil.

"Only this week I read in the paper of some Englishmen who refused to work by the side of Germans. What a scandalous shame for an employer to put a German by the side of a British workman. It makes one's blood boil to think that at a time like this such things should be possible. No wonder there are riots. Why shouldn't the Germans know a little of what it is to have their homes and property destroyed, that they may have a little sympathy for the unfortunate people of Belgium and France. I am a Hastings man with the Canadians, and can state what our brave men have suffered here through the barbarous methods used against us in the big German attack which took place on the night of April 22nd. The poisonous gas made us fall back, and we had to leave a number of our comrades on the field to choke to death, and we were unable to recover our wounded. But when we attacked and advanced over some of the old ground we found many of our wounded had been bayonetted to death, and in one instance a sergeant-major was stuck on to a door with bayonets. Is this instance not enough to drive every enemy alien out of the country? Are we fighting here to protect Germans in England? Do not insult our fighting men any longer, but get rid of the pest. If conscription is necessary have it by all means, but remember that one volunteer is worth ten pressed men. That is the opinion of one who is at the front."

Every Man Needed.

Another letter, received earlier, describes a fierce artillery attack in which the Germans were repulsed and the British made an appreciable gain. In this one he writes as follows:

"The West Kents led the charge, and right well they did their work. From one of the Engineers I was told that after the mines had been exploded they jumped over the parapet, and went into it, and when the major reached the top of the hill he shouted out: 'Come on, my lucky lads; let them know the boys from England are here,' and they were right there by his side. We tried to sleep that night, but things were too much alive for us to do that. Two aeroplanes were brought down during the day, which helped to keep things lively. They are like flies round this part of the country. This is a big city, and one you have heard so much about; the cathedral is in an awful state. True, it has been severely bombarded, and one can see as one walks through it the remains of some splendid sculptor work. There is not one street in this city that has not got traces of the awful revenge the murderous Germans have had on this city. How can we forget and forgive such a barbarous nation as are now opposed to us, but the worst of all has happened these last three days, and several regiments have suffered severely through it. They could not regain the ground which we so recently gained from them, and like the Germans, they thought they would have revenge on this city again. So this three days have seen a number of buildings destroyed and also many men killed and wounded. They have bombarded us with 'coal boxes' and 'Jack Johnsons.' Yesterday was the heaviest of the three days; from the time they started the number of shells dropped averaged one every fifteen minutes. Sometimes three and four would follow in succession. The terrible effect they had is almost beyond description. Two shells fell in a house where were a number of Engineers which, I might add are Territorials from Hastings, St. Leonards, and Bexhill; they suffered rather heavily as the shells burst right in their rooms, their casualties being as follows: Eight killed, 24 wounded, one missing, and four suffering from shock. Among the wounded is Bert Beney, the old Hastings' footballer; several other Hastingers figure among the casualties. One other regiment had as many as sixty casualties, and others with smaller numbers, while we ourselves only had two wounded and three slightly bruised. There were a number of civilians killed and wounded; the exact figures I am not able to state. One piece of steel picked up afterwards weighed 63 pounds. That was a very small piece of the base, as it was a 17-inch shell.

Stream of Refugees.

"This morning, as I walked through the square, I saw pieces of the cathedral and houses blown to the other side, while here and there could be seen patches of blood. A stream of refugees was walking along the street to surrounding villages with what they could carry in their arms. Let this be a lesson to the stay-at-home; let him think what might have happened to his own mother and sisters, his home and everything that is dear to him had the Germans landed in England. There is no time to wonder whether their services will be required. Every man that can be spared is needed at the front, and not wonder after the war whether their services were required. No, now!"

GOING TO FRANCE.

Port Arthur, Ont., June 30.—Lieut.-Col. J. J. Carrick, M. P., leaves today for France with Major General Hughes.

HEADACHE?

Thousands of persons who have never known a day's sickness in any other form are subject to frequent attacks of Headache that almost drive them mad.

Whatever the nature may be and the cause, the immediate condition that produces the pain is a congestion or filling up of the blood vessels of the brain with blood, thus causing a pressure on the brain cells and nerve filaments.

In treating all forms of Headache the first thing to do is to relieve the congestion of the blood vessels of the brain. Abbey's Effervescent Salt in laxative doses does this promptly.

Sold everywhere at 25c. and 60c.

Full blooded people who are subject to frequent attacks of Headache can be entirely relieved by taking laxative doses of the Salt every morning. Headaches from Indigestion and Biliousness are also entirely banished by continuing the use of the Salt until the normal action of the liver and stomach is restored. a

FLANNEL SHIRTS FOR TRENCH WORK

I. O. D. E. Working on Supply for August Nights in France.

The Lord Roberts Chapter held a very successful meeting on Monday afternoon in Cronyn Hall. The members are beginning to work again on a supply of flannel shirts for the soldiers overseas, these to be sent forward within the next six weeks. It is stated that during August the nights begin to be very cool in France, and the members desire that a quantity of warm shirts shall be on hand when needed, for the men in the trenches.

The report of the treasurer was presented, and found very satisfactory. Twenty-five dollars was voted to Miss Joan Arnoldi, lieutenant, for soldiers' comfort fund in the trenches. Warm appreciation was expressed by the chapter for the work done by Miss Arnoldi and Lieut. Mary Plummer, both Toronto ladies, who offered their services to the military authorities for the distribution of comforts to the Canadian men at the front. These ladies have been working for some months under military command being stationed in the barracks at Shorncliffe.

Many contributions of material have been gratefully received by the chapter during the month, also the following gifts of money: Mrs. Waterman $50, Mrs. George Creasey, Oil Springs, $2, Mrs. Tilley $2, Miss Macdonough $5.

WOODSTOCK YOUNG MAN ILL WITH CONCUSSION

Pte. O. Snelgrove.

Pte. Oliver Snelgrove of Woodstock is reported to be ill, suffering from concussion. He was among the first to join the colors for the first contingent, enlisting in St. Thomas, where he was employed as a carpenter. Pte. Snelgrove is only 22 years of age, and was born in Woodstock, and has a wide circle of warm friends here, who are eagerly waiting for further particulars concerning his condition.

CAPT. NELLES CABLES

Wires Father of Safe Arrival of 33rd Detached Company in England.

J. A. Nelles, father of Capt. Harry Nelles, who commanded the special detached reinforcement company of the 33rd Battalion that left London some time ago, received a cablegram from him yesterday announcing the safe arrival of the company in England.

The cable was dated at London, but Mr. Nelles believes the local soldiers landed at Plymouth. They left via the Allan Liner Scandinavian.

BELGIAN EXHIBIT IS QUIETLY OPENED

No Music or Speeches at Panama Exhibition Formal Event.

[Canadian Press.]

San Francisco, June 30. — Without music, speeches or exercises of any kind in view of the war in Europe, the Belgium exhibit in the French pavilion at the Panama-Pacific Exposition was opened today. The only formal event on the program was given by Francis Drion, commissioner-general from Belgium, to the exposition foreign commissioners and exposition directors and officials.

The exhibit includes paintings of artists with worldwide reputations, photographs taken before the scourge of war swept Belgium, and a collection of statuary.

CANTERBURY ARCHBISHOP VISITS 18TH BATTALION

Opens "Sir John French Club" at Sandling Camp in England.

The following letter from Sandlingham camp, Kent, England, where the 18th Battalion is now stationed, is from Bandsman Fred Young. He says:

I have just been reading a bunch of Advertisers, and a fellow feels good to know that the home town has a paper that fills the bill re war news like the 'Tiser does.

Our colonel is still with us at Sandling Camp, and has established such a reputation for fair dealing among the men that every man feels sure that he gets a square deal, the net result being that not a man has deserted the regiment since we left London, Ontario.

We get lots of drill, physical exercise and good food. You can form your own opinion of Dr. Hale's ability from the fact that only ten men were on 'sick parade" today out of the whole battalion.

We had a visit this week from the Archbishop of Canterbury, who, assisted by Brigadier Denison and the 18th band, formally opened the Church of England recreation and reading room, known as the "Sir John French Club." The battalion has a regimental institute, where writing materials are all furnished free, and the camp postal clerks can bear witness that the boys take heed of the colonel's reminder that they have loved ones overseas watching for the postman.

I was pleasantly surprised on the parade ground last Thursday to see the smiling face of Mr. Foote, of the McClary Manufacturing Company. He is the first civilian I have met from London since we left.

Am glad to tell you that the boys are in excellent spirits, and many a longing look is cast across the Channel whenever they visit Folkestone or Hythe. We'll cross there one of these days. Yours as ever,

FRED YOUNG.

"Brighton, England, June 15.

"Mrs. Gauld:

"Dear Friend,—You will see that I am out of convalescent hospital and at Brighton summer resort on sick furlough. I am enjoying my time as much as possible, for who knows when I can have the chance again. I was very sorry to learn that George Terry was killed, for we chummed it a good deal; enlisted together in Petrolea; so that I have a score to pay back when again I meet the Huns, and I fancy it will not be very long until I am over there again.

"I see by the papers that our Highland Brigade have been in the thick of it and, of course, came out on top.

"It seems to take an awful time for mails to come from Canada. Ours go over in much shorter time; such piles to distribute, I expect. Have been without mail for a long time until this morning, having been moved about from one hospital to another. One letter received today had just six different addresses on it; had even been to France, and followed me back here.

"We have elegant weather, and everything possible is being done to help us recuperate.

"Am going fishing in the Channel this morning. Heard a great cannonading there early, but have not heard yet the cause of trouble.

"Hope to hear from you again soon. Yours, STIRLING TOBIAS."

BRITISH CAREFUL IN MAINTAINING CORDIAL RELATIONS IN FRANCE

Strict Adhemrence to All Courtesies of Discipline Prime Factor.

British Headquarters, France, June 17.—(Correspondence.) — One of the first considerations of the British army officials is the avoidance of all friction with the inhabitants of the occupied districts of France and the maintenance of most cordial relations with the French soldiers.

A principal factor in keeping on good terms with the allied army has been the steadfast insistance on the courtesies of discipline.

Military etiquette for example, demands that when a party of British officers are saluted by a British private, only the senior officer acknowledges the salute. When, however, the salute is given by a French private, the acknowledgment is made by all the officers. "The idea is," a staff officer explained, "that by this act of courtesy we daily show to the French our consciousness that if we are their allies, we are also guests in their country. And where the officers give the lead, the men are quick to follow."

STRATFORD MAN MISSING

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Stratford, June 30.—Private William Reid, of the first Stratford contingent, is officially reported today as missing.

WILL INCREASE GUARD NOW ON DUTY HERE

Special Service Company of 7th To Be Raised To 250 Men.

Capt. E. M. McLean, commanding officer of the 7th Regiment Special Service Guard Company, has received instructions to bring the strength of his unit up to 250 men, and is now recruiting them. The unit will be mostly engaged in home service, and will comprise five officers, 30 non-commissioned officers and 250 men. The 7th will be given command of the present guard company, which will be absorbed by the new unit. It will have charge of all camp duties except actual training. Police duties and all other duties of a like kind will be the office of the new detachment. Just about 150 men are needed. Mechanics and good husky boys who are afraid of nothing. Recruiting is going on now. The pay for married men will be $1.55, and that received for the single men will be $1.10.

The captain is sure he will soon have the requisite number.

36TH, "ASHTON'S OWN," REACH ENGLAND SAFELY

Recently Departed From Niagara-On-the-Lake.

BRANTFORD, June 29.—A cablegram was received this morning from Col. Ashton of the 36th Battalion, C.E.F., which stated: "Landed Plymouth; all well." This battalion, commonly known as "Ashton's Own," was one of the best stationed recently at Niagara. Much relief is experienced because of its safe arrival in England.

GOSSIP OF THE CAMP

Capt. McLean stated today that men are enlisting readily with the 7th Regiment for homeguard duty, and that the married ones are especially anxious to be taken on the strength. The captain is of the opinion that the requisite number will be signed on before very many days have gone by.

No. 3 Stationary Hospital Unit has about all the men it needs. Last night there were but about a dozen vacancies, and today these have been nearly all filled. The men are of an exceptionally high type, and are keen for getting to the front.

The military authorities have been loaned a city watering cart for use in the camp grounds at Carling's Heights. They will supply their own labor.

Lieut. J. A. Cantin has been transferred from the 7th C. M. R. and taken on the strength of the camp to assist the musketry instructor from today.

A court of inquiry will assemble today for the purpose of investigating the death of a bay mare, the property of the remount commission, and which was being used by the 33rd Battalion.

COTTON ALL NEEDED FOR PURPOSES OF WAR

German Order Forbids Making of Clothes or Other Fabrics.

[Canadian Press.]

Berlin, via London, June 30.—The military commandant of the Province of Brandenburg, in which Berlin is situated, has issued an order, effective August 1, prohibiting the manufacture of fabrics wholly or chiefly cotton for nearly all ordinary purposes, such as articles of clothing, bed sheets, pillowslips and tablecloths.

The presumption from this order is that Germany needs all the cotton available for use in the manufacture of explosives. zz z

TOBACCO HABIT EASILY CONQUERED

A New Yorker of wide experience has written a book telling how the tobacco or snuff habit may be easily and completely banished in three days with delightful benefit. The author, Edward J. Woods, 549 H, Station E, New York City, will mail his book free.

The health improves wonderfully after the nicotine poison is out of the system. Calmness, tranquil sleep, clear eyes, normal appetite, good digestion, manly vigor, strong memcry and a general gain in efficiency are among the many benefits reported. Get rid of that nervous feeling; no more need of pipe, cigar, cigarette, snuff or chewing tobacco to pacify that morbid craving and desire. b

11 STRATFORDITES DIE IN FESTUBERT BATTLE.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

STRATFORD, June 29.—Two killed in action, one wounded, and one ill in the hospital is this city's casualty list today, which brings the total of those who have given their lives in the fearful fighting of Festubert up to two officers and nine men killed, and one officer and nine men wounded.

Altogether since the first contingent went into action 61 have been killed, wounded or taken prisoner—about one-third of the first Stratford contingent.

Pte. Alex. Reid of Harrington west, killed in action, enlisted here. He was a cousin of Capt. J. L. Youngs, recently discharged from the hospital after being wounded. He was Canadian-born and a veteran of the South African war.

Pte. Frank Hawes, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hawes, this city, is suffering from a gunshot in the thigh, and is now in a French hospital, according to an official word from the militia department this afternoon. Pte. Hawes is 21 years of age, and before enlisting was employed at the Chair Factory. He is a member of St. Paul's congregation, which has suffered very heavily in the present war.

Pte. W. A. Murray, who has been admitted to Sheffield Hospital through illness, is a native of Granton. He had resided in this city for three years before enlisting, and had worked at the Grand Trunk. He was unmarried.

THREE MORE OF 29TH KILLED IN ACTION.

GALT, June 29.—The 29th Regiment's casualty list was increased today by the addition of three names of men killed on June 15.

Sergt. William John Pratt was a well-known Galtonian, a clerk in the postoffice previous to enlisting. He lived on Dumfries street. He was 39 years of age, and was born in Dalton, in Furness, England, and his wife is now living at Accrington, England. He was a South African veteran. When the 1st Battalion reached England he was held there for some months as an instructor, and it was not until a few months ago that he got to the front.

The other two men killed formerly lived in Preston, and both are unmarried men. Pte. James H. Reid is 20 years of age, and was employed as a farm hand.

Pte. Arthur Arber worked as a laborer at the Metal Shingle and Siding Works. He was 22 years of age. Both men were born in England. Pte. Reid has a sister, Mrs. Callan, living in Preston.

FOUR OUT OF ACTION JOINED IN ST. THOMAS.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

ST. THOMAS, June 29.—Mrs. J. M. Randall, 14 Cruise street, today received a telegram from the Adjutant-General at Ottawa, advising her that her son, Pte. J. C. Randall was suffering from concussion. Pte. Randall is nineteen years of age. At the time of enlisting he was employed at the Pere Marquette Railway roundhouse. He was of fine athletic build, and was well-known in the city. He was a member of the 25th Regiment, and resided with his parents.

The casualty list also shows three other men as wounded who joined the colors at St. Thomas.

Pte. Thomas Murray, reported as suffering from shock, lived at 7 Amelia street, and was employed as a locomotive fireman. He was unmarried.

Pte. Snelgrove, reported wounded, resided in the country, working on a farm. His father lives at Woodstock.

Pte. Yabsley, reported as being dangerously ill, resided at 235 Ross street. He was a South African veteran, and had been a member of the 25th Regiment for three years.

Pte. Brunning Insured.

Pte. Wm. Brunning, who was killed in action in the recent fighting, carried $1,000 insurance in the I. O. F. He was a member of Court Maple Lodge, this city.

Pte. Brunning was, when a young boy, employed as messenger boy for the G. N. W. Telegraph Company.

FESTUBERT TOOK ANOTHER CHATHAMITE.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

CHATHAM, June 29.—Word has been received in the city by Mrs. Joseph Gages, 248 King street, to the effect that Pte. Alex. McLeod, a former Chatham resident, was killed at the fighting at Festubert. The soldier was attached to the 4th Battalion and well-known here.

SECOND CREIGHTON BOY TO DIE IN SERVICE.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

SARNIA, June 29.—Two Creighton brothers of this city have died while serving their country. Fred Creighton died in Guelph of meningitis while in the 34th Battalion, and Pte. Chas. Creighton is reported as killed at Festubert. Both were well-known locally.

Pte. Peter Ford, the private from Sarnia, who is reported wounded in this morning's paper, is well-known in the city, where he has resided for some time. Pte. Ford is about forty years of age, and enlisted with the first men here at the outbreak of the war. He saw seventeen years' service in the British army at different points about the world.

PTE. JACK PEDDEN KNOWN IN STRATHROY.

STRATHROY, June 29.—In the casualty list published today the name of Pte. J. A. Pedden appears as wounded. "Jack" is one of the old Brownie boys of Strathroy, and lived near the town all his life. His mother lives in Vancouver.

PTE. HARRY COOMBES ENLISTED IN WEST.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

SIMCOE, June 29.—Pte. H. Harold Coombs, 1st Battalion, reported as wounded, is a son of Major Coombs of Simcoe. He is known here as "Harry" Coombs, and is in his early thirties. He enlisted somewhere in the West, where he had been for some years.

TWO TRANTER BOYS KNOWN IN PAISLEY.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

PAISLEY, June 29.—The two young officers, Lieut. J. S. Tranter and Sergt. Tranter of Southampton, who were recently killed in France, were well known to many here, and held in the highest esteem. The young men were cousins, and went overseas with the first contingent.

ST. MARYS MAN DIES; THREE OTHERS WOUNDED.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

ST. MARYS, June 29.—The casualty list has struck St. Marys heavier this time. Word came that Pte. Lavelle German, was wounded in the head. A later telegram has come announcing his death. He was a blacksmith by trade, having carried on business in the blacksmithing line in St. Marys for a time, and later worked for Wm. McLarty. He was a son of John German, who conducts a country blacksmith shop at Wellburn, West Nissouri, five miles south of here. He was a widower, his wife and son having predeceased him a short time ago.

Pte. Wm. D. Watson, wounded and in a French hospital, he has been a resident of St. Marys for about four years, previous to enlisting.

Pte. John Luce, suffering from concussion, is a young Englishman who came out four years ago and worked fifteen months at A. Burn's market gardens, at the east town limits, previous to enlisting last August.

Pte. E. R. Lant, wounded, is a young Englishman who worked around town before enlistment.

SWOBODA TO BE FREED.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, June 30.—Charges of espionage against Raymond Swoboda, who claims to have been born in San Francisco, will be dropped the Petit Parisien says, as no strong evidence of his guilt has been developed. The charge of being responsible for the fire aboard the steamship La Touraine already has been dropped. Witnesses who have been heard regarding accusations of espionage have failed to give testimony considered sufficient to establish his culpability.

THE DIARY OF MARS

The Germans and Austrians are pressing the Russians hard in their retreat through North-eastern Galicia and Southern Russian-Poland toward the River Bug. All the official reports indicate this, the Russians themselves speaking of "desperate German attacks" on rearguard positions, which are declared to have been repulsed. The energy of the pursuit of the retreating Russian armies, however, is costing the Teutonic forces dear, according to Petrograd statements, which mention "enormous losses" inflicted in the endeavor of the Austro-Germans to throw disorder into the Russian ranks during the withdrawal from the Dniester region north of Halicz.

Meanwhile Russia is endeavoring to compass the better organization of her munitions supply system. With unlimited money and virtually unrestricted power, the new board of military supplies is expected to remedy the shortness in munitions to which the Russian reverses in Galicia have been largely attributed.

The Austrians, although well occupied in the Galician campaign, are not neglecting to keep a sharp watch on the Italian front, reports from the Tyrol and Trentino districts, for instance mentioning notable activity of the Austrian artillery. Italy's forces are making slow headway on the Isonzo, unfavorable atmospheric conditions being mentioned as interfering with operations there.

German submarines have claimed two more victims, the Norwegian steamer Gjeso and the ship Cambuskenneth of the same nationality having been sunk by torpedoes.

Mytilene advices record an exploit of a British gunboat which bombarded the Turkish ports of Chesmeh, Lidia and Aglelia, destroying petroleum depots and several small vessels.

The diplomatic situation with regard to the Balkans is again widely under discussion.

The recent conference of the German chancellor and the German and Austrian foreign ministers is followed by assertions in German quarters that the hopes of the quadruple entente powers for military help from Roumania and Bulgaria have been materially lessened. In connection with this situation, the occupation of Scutari by the Montenegrins is an interesting development.

DOMINION DAY HOLIDAY FOR SOLDIERS AT CAMP

Only Morning Drill Will Be Held—Many Men Going Out of Town.

Men of the 33rd and 34th will take a day off tomorrow. Beyond the early-morning drill all except those detailed for duty will have the remainder of Thursday to themselves. In the afternoon sports of some kind will be held. The officers are holding a meeting this afternoon to decide just what will make up the program for the afternoon. Many of the men are going out of the city. A squad of 75 is going to Petrolea to take part in the celebration there. These men are from the 34th Battalion. Another from the 33rd is going to Strathroy.

Holiday for Band.

All members of the 33rd Band have a three-days' holiday commencing tomorrow. This was given them for the good work they have been doing in putting the band into excellent shape. Notwithstanding the fact that it has been but recently organized, the band is now in good shape. Only three more men are needed to bring it to full strength.

Good Shooting Eyes.

The recruit class of the 33rd was at the ranges this morning. The men are making a name for themselves as crack shots, despite the fact that all are practically green men with rifles. Very good scores were made this morning. Sergt.-Major Underwood made a possible. His was the best score.

Recruiting at the 29th Battery, C. E. F., is going on briskly. Major Coghlan stated this morning that practically the whole complement of men (150) was enlisted now, but that a few more would in all likelihood be taken on the strength.

Camp Pay Day.

Today was pay day at the camp. The men of the 29th received their first earnings, which amounted to about $2,000. The 33rd and 34th men received theirs also.

AUSTRIANS FAIL IN EVERY ATTACK

Make Repeated Attempts to Capture Position of Monte Civaron.

GIANT OFFICER IS SLAIN

Shot By Shrapnel While Leading Grenadiers In Successful Attack.

[Canadian Press.]

ROME, June 29, via Paris, June 30, 1:10 a.m.—The following Italian official war statement was given out here tonight:

"In the Tyrol and Trentino regions, especially along the eastern part of this frontier, the Austrian artillery continues very active. The enemy by repeated attacks tried to capture the position of Monte Civaron, in Val Sugana, but was repulsed.

"In Carnia we effectively bombarded the Austrian places of shelter at Stranginger, driving out the troops who were there. We also dispersed groups of troops who were sent out to construct positions for artillery near the defile of Giramondo.

"From this side the enemy bombarded the summit of Zellenkofel and afterwards attacked at different times, but unsuccessfully.

"In the region of the Isonzo River the atmospheric conditions remain unfavorable and have rendered very difficult, in view of the bad state of the ground, some isolated attacks which the Austrian columns directed, perhaps only to try our condition of resistance. The enemy has been repulsed on several positions recently conquered. Night alarms in enemy camps continued to be reported."

KILLED LEADING MEN TO VICTORY.

MILAN (via Paris), June 28.—The Corriere della Sera prints an account of a charge by an Italian force, a brigade of grenadiers, comprising the tallest men in the army, at the time of the occupation of the Carso heights northeast of Monfalcone. The grenadiers, says the newspaper, approached to within fifty yards of the entrenched enemy, when with the cry of "Savoy" they sprang with fixed bayonets on the Austrians, who broke and fled.

A showery of artillery obliged the grenadiers to change their position to protect themselves. The Austrians evidently believing the Italians had retired, advanced to reoccupy the lost entrenchment, whereupon the colossal Major Manfredi, taking the colors in hand, cried: "Grenadiers, Remember the Sardinian Brigade never withdrew."

The grenadiers, the newspaper adds, flung themselves upon the advancing troops, driving them back, but shrapnel carried away the left leg of Major Manfredi, who shortly afterwards died from loss of blood, his last words being, "Good-bye, my brave boys, long live Italy."

FEELS LIKE A NEW WOMAN

As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Dispelled Backache, Headaches and Dizziness.

Piqua, Ohio.—"I would be very ungrateful if I failed to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the praise it deserves, for I have taken it at different times, and it always relieved me when other medicines failed, and when I hear a woman complain I always recommend it. Last winter I was attacked with a severe case of organic weakness. I had backache, pains in my hips and over my kidneys, headache, dizziness, lassitude, had no energy, limbs ached and I was always tired. I was hardly able to do my housework. I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on one other occasion, and it had helped me so I took it again, and it has built me up, until now I feel like a new woman. You have my hearty consent to use my name and testimonial in any way and I hope it will benefit suffering women."—Mrs. Orpha Turner, 431 S. Wayne street, Piqua, Ohio.

Women who are suffering from these distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Austrians Lose 40,000 Men By Russian Counter-Attacks in Fighting Around Lemberg

GENEVA, Switzerland, via Paris, June 29.—4:55 p.m.—A dispatch to the Geneva Tribune from Innsbruck, Austria, dealing with the fighting in Galicia, says that, according to estimates made in Innsbruck, "in the Russian counter-attacks around Lemberg the Austrians have lost 40,000 men since June 23." The dispatch continues:

"The Russians are resisting strongly on the left bank of the Zelder. The Austrians have begun a general powerful offensive on the Dniester-Pruth-Sereth front. From the Dniester the Russians have been obliged to retreat, which is difficult owing to the rain and mud."

COL. CURRIE IS ILL FROM GAS; OUT OF ACTION

Commander of Forty-Eighth Highlanders Sent to Scotland For Two Months to Recuperate.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, June 29. — After three sieges with poisonous gases Col. John A. Currie, M. P., was seriously affected. He is now in the highlands of Scotland recuperating.

A cable received here today states that "the British medical board was alarmed at the effects of the third encounter of the gas fumes on Col. Currie's lungs. After the battles of Ypres, Langemarck and St. Julien he was ill. The medical experts in consultation concluded that Col. Currie's right lung was seriously scorched in the third gas-storm, and he was ordered out of the fighting for two months.'

The medical men prescribed two months in a high altitude for Col. Currie before returning to his regiment.

SHUTDOWN FOR ALL BUSINESS INTERESTS

Order in Chicago Will Throw 200,000 Men Out of Work.

[Canadian Press.]

Chicago, June 30.—A general shutdown of all allied building, construction and material interests will go into full effect tomorrow, it was announced today. All plants are to remain closed until a settlement is reached with organized labor in the building industry.

The order to shut down will throw out of employment more than 200,000 men, according to estimates. Several thousand teamsters engaged in hauling material, the building trades craft now at work and the employees of all allied industries will be out of work.

The material industries to close and the number of establishments are: Lumber interests, 70 yards; brick manufacturers, 44 yards; lime kiln companies, 24; sand, stone and gravel interests, 15 establishments; sash, door and blind mills, 48; planing mills, 10; terra cotta companies, 2; elevator operating companies, 3; hardwood floor manufacturers, 5.

The general shutdown is intended to force the 14,000 striking carpenters, who have been on a strike since May 1, to agree to a settlement by arbitration.

The carpenters went out because they were refused an increase of from 65 to 70 cents per hour.

WARNS BRITISH FIRMS TO GUARD THEIR TRADE

Government Calls Attention to Danger of Supplying Enemy.

LONDON, June 19.—Correspondence.—The British Government, through the board of trade, has warned all British commercial firms that they will be expected to exercise the most scrupulous care in the transaction of their business abroad, during the period of the war, so as to avoid any likelihood of making themselves agents for the supply of goods to hostile countries. "It is inadvisable" says the official circular, "that any new accounts should be opened by any British trader in neutral countries without the fullest inquiries as to the character of the business proposed to him."

SUN LIFE APPLIES FOR MILLION OF WAR LOAN

First Large Subscription Announced From Canada.

MONTREAL, June 29. — The first large subscription by a Canadian institution to the British war loan was announced today by Mr. T. B. MacAulay, managing director of the Sun Life Assurance Company, who stated that his company is applying for $1,000,000 of the new issue.

INQUIRES AS TO TERMS BRITAIN WILL ACCEPT

Liberal Member Will Bring Up Peace Question Today.

LONDON, June 28.—8 p.m.—David Mason, a Liberal member of the House of Commons for Coventry, has given notice that he will ask Premier Asquith in the House on Wednesday "whether in view of certain speeches by some members of the German Parliament, demanding a speedy and honorable peace, His Majesty's Government will consider the advisability of stating more specifically than heretofore the terms upon which a peace would be possible, with the object of hastening such a happy consummation."

COTTON FOR SWEDEN.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—The British Government announced through its embassy here today, an agreement with the Swedish Cotton Spinners' Association for the unrestricted importation into Sweden of 10,000 bales of cotton each month, if consigned to the association.

BORDEN WILL STAY MONTH IN ENGLAND

Premier Says He Is Going For a Personal Interview.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, June 30.—Sir Robert Borden, the Canadian premier, who is here awaiting a ship to take him to England, expects to discuss with the members of the British cabinet "certain important questions" which can be settled best by personal interviews. In a general statement regarding his mission, Sir Robert, who arrived yesterday from Ottawa, said: "During the war there has been very close co-operation between the British and Canadian Governments in respect to all matters relating to the war and touching the common interests of the Empire. This co-operation has involved incessant correspondence both by cable and by letter with the Colonial Secretary and with Sir George Perley, the acting high commissioner for Canada in London. It is considered that co-operation between the two Governments can be rendered more effective and the common interests more thoroughly safeguarded if certain important questions could be discussed at a personal interview."

The Canadian Prime Minister said that men were volunteering for the war in Canada faster than they could be trained, armed and equipped.

Sir Robert will have as his companion on the trip to England R. B. Bennett, M.P., from Calgary, who will join him here. He said he would be in England a month at least.

The Premier and Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, British ambassador, dined together last night.

"War Shock" Is Latest Affliction

Homeopathists Hear of Trouble With Which Physicians Have To Cope.

[Canadian Press.]

Chicago, June 30.—Treatment of "war shock," one of the newest afflictions known to medical science, was brought to the attention of the American Institute of Homeopathy at its annual convention here today.

Dr. James Searson, of London, a surgeon attached to the Anglo-American Hospital, the homeopathic war base in Paris, in a paper on the work of physicians in the European war, wrote that "war shock" had caused much temporary insanity among the soldiers.

"One of the great problems has been the treatment of the new disease," Dr. Searson wrote. "It is an undefined but real ailment, due in a large part to the terrible and incessant noises of gunnery, and the generally acute excitements and emotions accumulating and impressing themselves on the nervous system. Quiet and sleep are the great need of these men, but it is hard to get them in a condition where they can sleep.

"A most remarkable medical development is the way soldiers are able to stand up to their waists in icy water for stretches of 36 hours without visible injurious results. 'Trench foot' has been much in evidence, but it is almost incredible how splendidly the mass of men went through the experience."

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED

Boot and Shoe Workers to Meet Next Year in Philadelphia.

[Canadian Press.]

Buffalo, June 30.—The twelfth biennial convention of the boot and shoe workers of the United States and Canada has re-elected all its old officers and selected Philadelphia as the meeting place for 1917.

All questions coming before the convention regarding wages or hours of work were either referred to the executive board for action or were deferred until the next convention. Business conditions, it was said, made any action along this line at the present time undesirable.

Fleet Renews Bombardment In Dardanelles

Action Reported To Be Meeting With Great Success.

LONDON, June 30.—A Rome dispatch to the Daily News quotes the correspondent of the Piccolo as sending this message from Constantinople via Sofia:

"I have just received authentic news that the action of the Anglo-French fleet in the Dardanelles has been resumed with great violence and is meeting with important success."

The Mytilene correspondent of the Times sends the following:

"The British torpedo gunboat Hussar, on Saturday bombarded the ports of Chesmeh, Lidia, and Aglelia, opposite Chios, destroying some Turkish property, petroleum depots and small vessels."

MONTENEGRINS GAIN CITY THEY SOUGHT

Now Have Complete Control of Scutari, Albania — Merely Strategic Move.

[Canadian Press.]

PARIS, June 29.—9 p.m.—Describing the occupation of Scutari, Albania, by Montenegrin troops, the Rome correspondent of the Havas Agency says:

"Mussulmans, Catholics, members of the orthodox faith, the communal authorities, members of the Government, the police force, the schools and the population, preceded by flags and bands, marched out of the city. At noon came the triumphal entry of the Montenegrins, preceded by an advance guard. Following the advance guard were priests in the ceremonial robes, carrying the cross and religious standards; then came the main Montenegrin army, led by Gen. Vechovitch and the Montenegrin consul and bands of regular Albanians followed.

"The Austrian consul lowered the flag and placed the consulate in the care of the Greek consul.

"The general staff of the troops occupying Scutari have taken charge of the administration of the city, declaring that citizens must henceforth consider themselves subjects of Montenegro and be judged according to Montenegrin law and that disturbers of the new regime will be punished by martial law. Gen. Vechovitch addressed the foreign consulates announcing that he was taking possession of the city in the name of King Nicholas. Patrols guard the consulates and public buildings."

Scutari was an object of contention between Montenegro and the great powers during the Balkan war. The Montenegrins on April 23, 1913, captured the city after a siege which lasted from the preceding October.

Prior to this the powers had decided to include Scutari in the future state of Albania and had offered compensation to King Nicholas in money and land on condition that he give up Scutari. The Montenegrin King announced that he would hold Scutari against the powers, and as a result the international naval blockade of the Montenegrin coast was extended.

Eventually, on further demand of the powers, King Nicholas decided to evacuate Scutari, which was occupied by an international force on May, 1913.

A recent official note issued by the Montenegrin Government explained that strategic and political reasons impelled the Montenegrin descent on Albania, and gave as an additional reason that other powers had already occupied portions of Albania.

PATRIOTIC EFFORT WILL BRING PEACE OF WORLD

Premier Viviani Addresses Senate On Appropriations Bill.

PARIS, June 29.—7:15 p.m.—To put an end as far as possible to the criticism evident in recent sessions of the Chamber of Deputies, Premier Viviani, accompanied by eight members of the cabinet, appeared at the ministerial bench in the Senate today and, taking the floor, spoke on the appropriations bill for the third quarter. This bill, which would appropriate $1,120,000,000 to cover Government expenses for the three months beginning July 1, was passed by the Chamber of Deputies last Friday.

M. Viviani, speaking with impressive eloquence, explained that the Government had no desire to take the upper hand of the representatives of the people.

"Parliament has the control; the Government the execution," said the Premier. "That is the essential principle of all democracy. We wish neither the rapt optimism nor bitter disenchantment which breaks the springs of justice. We ask merely reasoned and methodical confidence. It required a great spontaneous exertion for this country, habituated to criticisms to become tractable. Now it is ready for the front, and patient effort which will be the ransom of the peace of the world."

BRITISH NAVY HAS A PLETHORA OF MEN

Fifty Thousand Men Added, Looking Well Into the Future.

LONDON, June 30.—2:05 a.m.—That the recruiting for the British navy thus far has been in excess of the actual needs came out in Parliament last night when the House of Commons voted a resolution adding 50,000 men to the navy.

Thomas J. MacNamara, financial secretary of the admiralty, explained that the Government already had all the men actually needed at present, but that in asking this vote the admiralty were looking well ahead. He said that so keen had been the desire to join the navy that more men had been enrolled than were required by the current estimates.

NEW DUTCH WAR LOAN THIRTY-SIX MILLIONS

To Pay Cost of Mobilization and Other War Expenditures.

LONDON, June 29. — 9:35 p.m. — An Amsterdam dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says that the Dutch Government has decided to issue a new war loan of 90,000,000 florins ($36,000,000), to pay the cost of mobilization and other war expenditures. The draft of the bill was sent to the council of state today.

SPRAY

But You Must Know

What to Spray With When to Spray and How to Spray

Here's the Book That Tells You How

An authoritative spraying calendar for the whole of Canada compiled by the chief horticulturist of the Dominion. It tells:

What insects and diseases to spray for, when to do it, and what to use for:

Apples, Cherries, Currants, Gooseberries, Grapes, Peaches, Pears, Plums, Roses, Raspberries, Strawberries, Cabbage, Cauliflower, Onions, Radish, Turnip, Potatoes, Celery, Asparagus, Tomatoes.

Gives formula of all the recommended insecticides and fungicides, with full directions as to proportions, preparation and use.
Tells how to use and care for spraying apparatus.

At this particular crisis in the history of Canada and the Empire, the paramount duty of the man who stays at home is to add as much as possible to the food production of the Dominion.

ITALY AS MIDDLEMAN.

FIGURES of United States trade with European countries from August, 1914, to April 1, 1915 (eight months), show what the entrance of Italy to the war means to German imports.

Germany imported from the United States in the year prior to June 30, 1914, nearly $350,000,000 worth of goods; in the first eight months of the war only $14,000,000. But at the same time Italy was doing the middleman's work for Germany to some extent. The United States exports to Italy for the year ending June 30, 1914, amounted to $75,000,000; for the first eight months of the war, to $135,000,000, or at the rate of over $200,000,000 a year. Through Italy alone, then, even allowing for the fact that Italy herself was preparing for war, and importing proportionately heavy quantities of raw war material, it is almost a certainty that Germany was deriving much of her normal importation from the United States, no doubt largely in materials useful for war, though even more in food supplies, etc.

But this is not the whole of the story. Copper and cotton have been selling at low prices, and the increase in value of American exports of those commodities to Italy, great as it appears, is not equal to the increase in the quantity of the exports. From 30,000,000 pounds of copper sent to Italy in the corresponding eight months of the year before, the amount rose to 70,000,000 pounds in the first eight months of the war. The number of bales of cotton similarly increased from 396,000 bales to 905,000, though the increase in the value of this exportation was only from $26,000,000 to $39,000,000.

The gates of the Alps have been slammed against Germany, and it will take more than Skoda guns to blow them open. When Holland and Scandinavia put up the bars, the hog will be shut tight into his pen. Even through the narrow avenues that remain open far less has percolated since Great Britain, in retaliation for the submarine piracy, began the complete blockade of Germany, both direct and indirect, in February last. Without let or hindrance on Britain's part, Germany exported $66,000,000 worth to the United States, or fully one-half the former amount, for the same time, in the first eight months of the war. She can't have been doing any of this open and direct business since March, but no doubt some went on through Italy. We are glad to have Italy with us.

A HISTORY QUESTION.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Toronto Globe joins the forces of the examination critics by an attack on the Honor Modern History paper. He particularly objects to the following question: "Describe the races, religions and languages of Roumania, Bulgaria, Servia, Montenegro and Albania." This question he characterizes as "highly technical and relatively insignificant," and he calls for such a question on the war as would test an "intensely loyal and practical" line of study. The paper in general, he complains, "is too difficult for still immature minds" beginning the study of modern European history.

However, the minds are not desperately immature. The paper was set for honor and scholarship candidates only; it plucks nobody. The candidates will be usually about eighteen years of age, most of them veterans of school study and examinations, and the very keenest intellects of the generation coming in.

This year, to the ordinary requirements in modern history, was added a study of the leading causes and issues of the war. In the question on the Balkan Peninsula the examiner kills three birds with one stone: (1) he gets into the roots of the eastern question, which runs through all nineteenth century history; (2) he comes right at the facts immediately underlying the great conflict and necessary to explain in part the attitudes at the present moment of Roumania and Bulgaria; (3) he tests the student's knowledge of the geography relating to the history, a knowledge explicitly demanded in the curriculum.

Is the above cited question too technical? Perhaps some teachers and pupils were expecting more to be asked to show that the war is one of democracy vs. militarist autocracy or of Christian vs. pagan ethics, or of commercial rivalry or of nationalism. The examiner evidently preferred to test the candidates' knowledge of the simple, underlying facts in the seed-plot of the war, rather than start them theorizing about or above the facts. He preferred to ask them what they knew about Servia and her neighbors, rather than for an analysis of the motives of the belligerents. Which is the more difficult sort of question for "still immature minds"?

As for the "relative insignificance" of Balkan facts, surely very few can agree to so preposterous a view. What might be called the Monroe Doctrine of Europe is Russia's claim to a general protectorate of the Christian states in the eastern peninsula, a claim lately challenged by the Teuton combination. Why does Russia make this claim? The answer lies in the racial, religious and linguistic conditions of the Balkan states. To ask the high school student to puff out second-hand opinions on more or less abstract matters if he does not know the primary elements of the eastern question, is like requiring a superstructure before the foundation is laid. There can be, possibly, too much of this windy, imitative and premature generalization, castle-in-the-air building and tall talk in the school work, never too much drill in fundamental facts, especially those of geography relating to events. Geography and chronology are the two eyes of history.

One happy circumstance for the examiner in these days is that the board of all the examiners revises and sanctions each paper. Not the individual alone whose name appears at the head of the paper is thus responsible, but the whole staff of examiners.

CAPTAIN GUEST'S WARNING.

A WRITER in the current number of the American Magazine in an article entitled "Kitchener's Big Bluff," declares that while pretending to have raised an army of 1,000,000 men Kitchener has really placed 4,000,000 in the field. And now comes Capt. Guest, M. P., direct from the firing line, by special permission of Sir John French, with the word that so many men will be required to defeat Germany that compulsory service will be necessary. Is the captain's warning another phase of the "big bluff," or is the situation really more serious than is generally supposed? Have we several millions of men in France and Flanders, or is the line too thin to stop such a drive as the Teutons have made in Galicia? It is worth noting that at the time of Capt. Guest's statement the public was informed that a measure to "provide for the registration of national resources" would be introduced in a few days. There is a hint of conscription in this, and it is certain that the British Government would not resort to the continental system, even in a modified form, if the need were not great.

Of course the call for more men and still more men, applies to Canada just as much as to the Motherland or any other part of the Empire. Canada is doing her "bit," and will continue to do it until the menace is removed. Australia has been asked to send every available man, and Canada must see to it that there is no slacking. It is not possible that there is a Canadian who does not realize what a tremendous task faces the Empire and its allies. The terribly long casualty lists have told of it only too clearly. The war, through the death and the wounding of thousands of the Dominion's sons, has been brought very close to us. But great as is the sacrifice we must keep sending a steady stream of men until freedom is assured full play.

ROOSEVELT "COMING BACK."

IT BEGINS to appear that Col. Roosevelt is about to come back as a presidential possibility. The breakup of the Progressives and the sweeping triumph of the straight Republicans in the New York State elections seemed to have placed the White House beyond his reach. It looked as if the Rough Rider were down and out, but this was reckoning without the Roosevelt luck. Just when his enemies were rejoicing over his "finish" along came the Barnes suit, and at once the colonel stepped into the limelight as the champion of the common people against the ruthless, plundering "interests." And when he stepped out he wore a brand new halo.

But if Roosevelt once more gathers up the reins at Washington, we believe that it will be due largely to the present war. As it looks just now that promises to be a great booster for the Bull Moose. Daily it is becoming more and more evident that the American people are realizing how helpless they are to back up demands that have grown out of the present war, or that may arise from any future conflict. The way matters are shaping now in the United States, the issue of the next presidential campaign will be an adequate army and navy, and it is quite on the cards that Roosevelt and Bryan will be the main contestants. It is generally considered that Bryan is already in the field, and as his peace-at-any-price policy will have the backing of the German-Americans, the rest of the American people will be driven to unite on a man who can be depended upon to place the nation in a position of safety. Than Theodore Roosevelt what American is there better fitted for the task?

There is no doubt but that the vast majority of Americans are with President Wilson in the stand he has taken against German outrages and atrocities, but it is equally true that they now know how unprepared is the nation to compel acquiescence to its perfectly fair demands, and they feel that the practical, aggressive, fighting Roosevelt, not the academic Wilson, is the man to bring security from attack and insult. Already many of the leading publications across the border have launched a campaign for a second-to-none navy, and an adequate army, and in some cases directly, and in others indirectly, they are suggesting that Roosevelt is the man to lead the propaganda. It looks as if the colonel may "come back" for the biggest and most important task of his strenuous career.

THE QUESTION OF WHEN.

[Washington Star.]

Oh, the man who is ready and facile of speech
Is the man who will dazzle the throng;
And the things that he says our attention will reach
Like the words of a beautiful song,
But life can't be tuned to a melody vast,
Whatever the vocalist's skill,
And we turn with a sense of dependence at last
To the man who knows when to keep still.

The man who is eager and quick to reply
To each question that time may present
We're forced to admire—yet how often we sigh,
And return to our old discontent.
The man with a courage and conscience devout
May be lacking in eloquent thrill,
But the man who knows when it is time to speak out
Is the man who knows when to keep still.

PRO-GERMAN.

[Exchange.]

"What do you think of him as a speechmaker?"

"That he's decidedly pro-German."

"What makes you think that? He hasn't even mentioned the war."

"I know; out in almost every sentence he murders the English."

INFORMATION.

[Kansas City Star.]

At an "information test" in a Baltimore high school a few days ago some of the answers were these:

"Watchful Waiting is a Christian hymn."

"The Bear Who Walks Like a Man is an orang-outang."

"Busy Bertha is prehistorio animal shown in moving pictures."

"Tommy Atkins is a famous baseball pitcher."

"Sir Isaac Newton invented moving pictures."

"Maid of Orleans is some kind of molasses candy."

"Lord Kitchener is some kind of an Englishman."

Second Villager—Well, neighbor, I didn't do as well as I expected—but to tell the truth, I don't think she did, either.

THE PRINCESS PATRICIA REGIMENT.

[Toronto News.]

For the love of a lady they came
From foundry and mine,
From the plains of the ultimate west,
From the foothills of pine.
For the love of a lady most noble and fair
They mustered in line.

In her regal, majestical home
By the Ottawa's tide,
In the heat of the long afternoons
Her needle she plied,
And the silken device of a Regiment grew,
She embroidered her Pride.

But the Colonel was buried in France.
He was torn by a shell,
And the Major was wounded full sore.
But he murmured, "'Tis well!"
And the Sergeants looked once at the fluttering silk
And went plunging through Hell.

For the foe was a ravening Wolf.
Fair virgins were found
In madness, in naked despair,
Pegged out on the ground.
And the soul of each "Princess Patricia" man
Was the soul of a hound.

For the love of a lady they fought,
For a lady they died.
Though hundreds of heroes be slain
Their names will abide.
And the tears of the lady are tributes of love,
And of holiest pride.

DOWN AMONG THE DEAD MEN.

By S. Ten Eyck Bourke.

"Then you'll not go to Newport?" the chief said. "I tell you, man, they need a diver badly. There's no government man to be had, and that submarine won't last another ten hours on bottom, locked fast. They can't get a local man to risk it; and it means money to you, Mac, let alone the mercy of it."

I could guess why the local divers would not take a chance at the sunken submarine and her imprisoned crew, but I did not mention it. I had had a bitter hard day in the harbor, clearing the ship channel, and that was excuse enough, let alone the other men hurrying homeward to help.

I am a violent but God-fearing man, or I would not be telling of the judgment that fell upon me, as a warning to others. I shook my head. The boat was down too deep, the divers said.

"Then let me tell you, John MacGregor," the chief cried in a rage. "I know why you will have nothing to do with the navy or navy men! You cast your own son off because he ran away to sea, and that Puritan stone that you have for a heart hates men of this kind—men that fight for their country—"

"Aye, and shed innocent blood, and make widows and orphans—I know the argument! With your permission, sir, having reported, I'll go home to my girl. Your submarines and your war engines must take their chance!"

Neither the chief of the divers nor the men with whom I worked side by side that day knew of the heart of lead inside me, nor the bitter hatred I bore for all men who wore the uniform. I had spoken of my daughter Jeanie with a smile on the lips. There was no reason why anyone should know of the letter which had struck me to stone that morning, or maybe the chief would have understood, and would have forborne to curse me for my hardness of heart.

Still dumbly unbelieving, I re-read the letter that I had received only a few minutes before I was summoned by the chief:

Dear, Darling, Cruel Daddy:

I am going to him—Lieutenant Gerald—isn't that grand, daddy? I have never dared to tell you. When everything is all right, you will forgive us both; but, darling, cruel, stupid, dear dad, I had to see him before he took his first command—a submarine at Newport; so we'll be together a little while, at least—

I had forgotten that. A submarine at Newport!

I did not fully realize yet what Jeanie had done—that she had left me for a villain in a uniform. I had not heard the name—never a rumor, till the letter struck me like a blow in the face. Lieutenant Gerald—a submariner! It seemed like a terrible jest of fate; but it was a jest that took me back to the chief's office with a hope and a vengeance gnawing in me.

The chief sat where I had left him, reading a telegram.

"The roster of that submarine—her officers," I said, as he glanced up with a scowl.

His face cleared wonderfully.

II.

To this day I do not know how deep the submarine lay; but below me, a man's height from the bottom of the ladder, I saw the grey floor of the sea, dotted here and there by moving black shadows that seemed to be prowling round a long, cigar-shaped vessel which rolled slightly in the ground swells. Only a strong man could live where my leaden shoes landed me, and I knew by the sluggish motion of the submarine that she was resting heavily, all her buoyancy gone from her. Beside her, on the bottom, another long, narrow shape showed that she had shed her keel—her commander's last desperate attempt to rise to the surface. The ship was helpless, dead already.

"Aye, Providence did a good game when at it, and left the finish to me."

Snarling at the helpless craft through clenched teeth, like a savage beast, I drew nearer. I saw now why the men within had been unable to save themselves when she sank. The blunt bow of the ship, like the stubby neck of a bottle, was jammed against a wall of rock, blocking her torpedo-tubes and preventing egress by that way.

"The hand of Providence!" I gloated.

In the implicit faith that all things were ordered, I had thought only for the man who had wronged me, none for the imprisoned crew, though I knew that five men besides the commander were within that steel shell. Over her glowed a pale nimbus of light.

I knew where I should be most likely to find Lieutenant Gerald. I made my way to the turretlike structure amidships, and peered through the thick glass band that circled the conning-tower. Within, I caught a glimpse of a distorted white face that stared out at me—the face of a man already dead and buried.

"He knows I'm here. I'll let the villain see me before I talk to him," I thought.

I was so deep down that a spring landed me on the lateral fin that ran round the boat. As I stood upright, glaring into the turret, Lieutenant Gerald's hand flickered up at salute and I shook my fist against the glass, anger mastering me.

"Wait—just wait!" I snarled.

Pressing my vizor against the thick glass, I could dimly see other forms in the submerged ship, some crawling on their hands and knees; and then I knew that the lights were still going in her. I could make out the swinging electrics, the brass staircase, and the sheen of machinery—even a box of cigars, drenched by the sea water that had rushed into the ship when she sank, so quickly and unexpectedly that the commander had hardly time to swing the lever that closed the trap cover when she dropped to the floor of the sea.

For hours the living death had mowed at them, had clutched at their throats. I knew well enough why some of them were crawling—it was from sheer weakness.

"They're almost out of compressed air. It's not hours they have to live now, but minutes!"

Moved by a will stronger than mine—the habit of saving life, I suppose—I grasped the long air-hose, which the men on the lighter had lowered beside the ladder, and made it fast to the brass standard that I had already located in the bow of the submarine. Signaling up top, I waited till the leap of the air in the hose told me the pumpmen were at work, and made my way back to the turret.

I could tell by the commander's face that the air was pouring into the ship. Suddenly my heart gave a great leap. Maybe it was the uniform cap, or the fair hair that curled on his head, but thought of my own lost boy leaped back to me, and now I knew why Jeanie had loved the villain. He looked like my lost Jerry!

They say that training makes most men alike; but it was more than that—it was the defiant courage that shone in the man's eyes, the courage that never gives up to the end, whatever the odds—that made me want to spring on the fellow and tear him down, to proclaim who and what I was and utterly destroy him, at the very moment when hope surged up in him.

He seemed puzzled himself at something—though he could only have had the vaguest sight of me through the vizor of my helmet. He was trying to motion with his lips. Suddenly he snatched up the headpiece of the turret telephone—the emergency instrument, used only in talking "up top" and to divers, when the ship is submerged.

He had seen the receiver inside my helmet, or he was chancing it; but I had come prepared—prepared to denounce that handsome, smiling scoundrel, and to put the fear of death into him, as I had already given him the breath of life.

"You're a dead man already, but I'll let you know that there's no escape from me or from the sea!"

I was growling at him like a wild animal, while I was working with the copper pegs that I had taken from my belt and screwed into the plate on the turret-sill. My last words must have reached him, for he stopped just as he was about to speak. Then, evenly and clearly, his voice came to me—the voice of a doomed man in a steel coffin, yet the voice of an officer talking to a sailor.

"Who are you? You are not a government diver! I am the commander of the Shark, Lieutenant—"

"I know who you are! And I am John MacGregor!"

III.

What else I said in the first rush of rage I do not know, only as I knew it by the change that seemed to pass over his face, as I glimpsed it staring at me through the wavering lights of the lenses and the sea. I left little to be said, when the cold cruelty of my forebears came upon me. I wanted to kill the man, but most I wanted to hear him beg for mercy; and he only smiled!

Just then a shadow, greyer in tone and closer to me than the warship's shadow, swung slowly athwart the sea, passing over the sunken submarine. It swayed aside the hanging cable and came back again, playing with the new toy. It was a shark.

My eyes raised to it as it passed between the air-hose attached to my helmet and the air-hose that rose from the sunken ship, swishing both lines with its tail. A voice filtered evenly and coldly into the receivers in my helmet, startling me.

"Better watch out for that shark, Mr. Murderer. He'll beat you at your own game if he takes a bite out of that rubber hose!"

It was Lieutenant Gerald talking, but somehow the man's voice affected me differently than before. The tone of command had gone out of it. It was not that the man was afraid; he was just waiting for what fate would bring forth. I heard him say something:

"It is on the knees of the gods," it sounded like.

It came to me with a shock, and it maddened me, too, that this man—knowing him for what he was—should trust himself to the hands of Providence. Then, suddenly, the most terrible thought of all came to me, and I hurled myself through the water, clutching at the swaying cable.

"If he will have it so, then he shall have it. Providence shall judge between us!"

Well I knew that the monster of the sea, wandering so far out of his range in the great deeps, had come to the sunken submarine by no chance of fate. Nor would he go without leaving a terrible mark behind—a mark that would spell life or death either to one John MacGregor, or to the smiling face that taunted him behind the plate glass of the turret.

The shark's rush had torn the threadlike wires of the telephone from my helmet, but I did not mind that. As the grey form melted away I seized the cable and sprang with it to the bow of the submarine. In the great pressure of the water my own weight and that of the hawser were nothing. Twice I passed the cable round the bottle neck of the sunken craft, doubling it back on itself, and finally making the great hook at the end fast to a huge ring-bolt in the bow. Once the powerful engines of the ship above strained on that cable, the submarine would go to the top, nose first, as easily as I myself could bound from the bed of the ocean back to the turret on top of her.

Suddenly the shark turned, in his own length, snapped, and missed the dangling air-hose of the ship. In my ears I heard that taunting cry:

"Two against one!"

Such cowardly odds never should stand in favor of John MacGregor! Besides, the madness in my brain was clearing.

The lunge of the shark brought his great side within a foot of me. I staggered, and felt the sawing rasp of his sandpaper hide tearing across my diving-dress. A great black fin flapped against me, and I flung out my arm to save myself, stabbing, stabbing, stabbing with the long diver's knife that I snatched from my belt.

"Ye black fiend!" I roared. "Ye'll come spoiling the work o' John MacGregor, when I've taught the likes of ye many times to keep off! Take that, and that, and that!"

A horrible red mist filled the waters, and a blow sent me rolling over on the bed of the sea. I braced myself for the rush of salt water in the air-tube, but it never came. I gave the signal to the top, and began to stagger up the rope ladder.

It must have been a fearful blow that next struck the armored back of my diving-suit. It threw me clean to the foot of the ladder, and as I recovered myself and caught at the bottom rung I saw the submarine slowly rising by the nose from the sea, hooked like a great fish on the derrick of the battleship above. We were both going up top!

IV.

I woke from unconsciousness with the hoarse chorus of sailors' voices in my ear.

"Down went McGinty to the bottom of the sea!" they were singing.

Then an officer spoke in a tone of authority.

"Keep those fellows from the submarine quiet, can't you?" he said. "They ought to be saying their prayers—praying for Diver MacGregor, at that!"

The officer was beside me, and his hand on my breast, when I struggled up. I saw that I was still in diving dress, save for the smothering helmet. Someone behind me was holding my head; and that made me angry, to be treated like a child, though the hands were soft and cold. The officer laughed.

"Didn't know me, dad, did you? I could see that the pressure had floored you, down at the turret, when you talked all that queer stuff. Steady! Hold him fast, Jeanie. You'd think we were murdering the man!"

It was Lieutenant Gerald — my own lost lad, Jerry MacGregor, speaking. Did I know him now, outside that awful turret in the deep? God's mercy, yes; and Jeanie, his sister, looked in my eyes, and laughed, and cried.

"Jeanie," I mumbled, gasping for breath with the wonder of my discovery, "why—why didn't ye tell me?"

"Tell you, when ye hated him, dear, cruel, stupid, daddy! You would have cursed him for going into the navy—your own Jerry; and maybe the curse would have counted against him. I'm sorry I ran away, but he sent for me to see him take his first command. Lieutenant Gerald MacGregor — isn't it grand, daddy dear, after all these years apart? We were coming home, when—when—"

"When you took me from the dead men, with your good MacGregor courage, in spite of an attack of diver's madness," said my son.

Our eyes met, and we gazed long into each other's faces, with a look of understanding.

"'Twas you proved the blood of the MacGregors, and mastered your old mad dad, son o' my heart!" I said. "Man, man, there's no fool like an old fool. Aye, my lad, 'tis a grand place for madness—down among the dead men!"

STRIKING N. Y. TRIBUTE TO CANADIAN VALOR

Loss of Ontario Battalion Brings the War Home.

One of the most striking tributes to Canadians in the war printed anywhere is the following heart-throb from the Evening Mail of New York. The editorial was captioned, "Our Neighbors in the War":

"Ontario Battalion All But Wiped Out."

That headline in a morning newspaper brings the war closer home to millions of Americans than all the accounts of desperate attack and heroic resistance between Germans, French and Russians.

These were our neighbors, these five hundred Canadian boys who fell at La Bassee. We knew them or their home folks. They spoke our tongue, read our newspapers, and, what is more, they thought our thoughts. We used to play together, and that is really the final test of friendship. We went over to their towns—Brantford, St. Catharines, London—and golfed with them. We used to troll for bass in Muskoka and shoot the rapids of the Nipigon with these, our Canadian neighbors, and they in turn used to come over to our towns—Buffalo, Detroit, Port Huron—and "see the sights" with us. We have married their sisters, and their brothers are merchants in our cities. We call them "Canucks," but we own them as friends and kin. We even play poker with them—and when a Canadian plays poker it is no game for an amateur to sit in.

Americans of German, French or Italian descent have a direct, personal interest in the war, of course. Their own people are fighting or dying. But these Ontario soldiers went over from this country to fight and die. They are not merely of a kindred race to most of us—they are our neighbors.

All along our northern border our people's chief interest in the war news is in such stories as that printed today:

"Ontario Battalion All But Wiped Out."

Letters From the Front Thank C.W.C.A. For Smokes

Grateful For Londoners' Gifts of Tobacco---Red Cross Depot On Richmond Street Successful Centre For Getting Funds.

Many people often ask us if we know that the tobacco, etc., from the trench fund really reaches our own men in the trenches. Mrs. Gates has received the following letters, which speak for themselves:

"Dear Mrs. Gates: Many thanks for the check of $200 which you tell me is the monthly subscription of the local branch of the C.W.C.A. We will see that it is applied as you ask, for tobacco, cigarettes, etc., for the Western Ontario men. I beg, on behalf of the association, to thank our London Ontario branch, for its generous contribution to our funds and for the very valuable assistance it has rendered to us in so many ways.

"Yours very truly,
"(Signed) J. G. COLMER."

A little later, the following letter was forwarded:

"To Major Coles, O. C. Headquarters Company, Divisional Train, C.A.S.C.

"Sir,—The N. C. O.'s and men of the headquarters company divisional train, C. A. S. C., have requested me to have you convey their warmest appreciation to the C. W. C. A. for their generous donation of tobacco and cigarettes.

"I have the honor to be, sir,
"Your Obedient Servant,
"(Signed) J. L. McCULLOUGH."

"With many thanks.
(Signed) WILLIAM G. COLES.

APPIN WOMEN'S INSTITUTE.

APPIN, June 19.—The June meeting of the Women's Institute was held in the home of Mrs. D. McIntyre. Twenty-seven ladies were present. The July meeting will be held in the home of the president. The following meetings are to be held in the home of Mrs. Jones, with the use of the institute piano, which will be removed to her home. An interesting paper on Red Cross work was read by Mrs. Loton. The sum of $5 was granted to the Y.W.C.A. of London. Garden party receipts amounting to $21 will be forwarded to aid the wounded soldiers. At the July meeting the afternoon will be spent in making bandages. At the tea hour the assisting hostesses were Mrs. J. Chisholm and Mrs. D. Langton.

LECTURE FOR RED CROSS.

WYOMING, June 29.—The lecture under the auspices of the Red Cross given in the town hall on Thursday evening was a success. The speaker, Walter MacRaye, in his "Road to Berlin," held the attention of the audience throughout, while a spicy musical program added variety to the occasion. Proceeds after all expenses netted the society the sum of $27.

Living in Hopes.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have been wondering if "Lonely" feels as lonesome now as he did before he found out that there were other lonely people in this world. It is certainly strange that he has not met any quiet girls. If he was to come around our way I could introduce him to at least six, including myself. I have a reputation of being a quiet and somewhat serious-minded girl, although I generally manage to have a good time myself, and also to give others a good time. I notice that the boys that generally pick out the jolly, popular girl, when things run smooth, find the quiet, sympathetic girl the one they want when things go wrong, and they have an attack of the "blues," so we are still living in hopes.

Well, Miss Grey, please answer a few questions for me.

1. I am 20 years old, and my friend is 39 years old. Do you think 19 years too much of a difference?

2. The meaning of the following names: Edith, Eileen, Vivian, George, Eloise, Elmer, Fred and Grace?

3. What do you think of my writing?

I am inclosing recipes for fudge and cream candy that I have found good:

Fudge—Two tablespoons cocoa, 1 lb. yellow sugar, 1 cup milk, piece of butter the size of walnut, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 5 cents' worth shelled and shredded walnuts; boil sugar, milk and butter till a little will harden in cold water, add nuts and vanilla, and beat until set. Pour on large plate and cut in squares.

Cream Candy—One lb. yellow sugar, 1 cup milk, piece of butter size of walnut, teaspoon vanilla, 5 cents' worth of shelled and shredded walnuts. Proceed same as in fudge.

Hoping I have not trespassed too much, I remain, sincerely yours,
SOMETIMES LONELY.

Ans.—1. As a rule, I do not like to see such a wide difference between the ages of husband and wife. Where there is practically twenty years' difference, the woman is still young and attractive, after the man has grown feeble and old. However, it's realy none of my business, is it?

2. Edith, means happiness; Eileen, means either light or beautiful; Vivian, lively; George, landowner; Eloise, devoted, worshipper; Fred, peaceful rules; Grace, favor.

3. You write an exceptionally neat hand, your entire letter is attractive.

Thanks for your recipes.

A Good Plain Red.

Dear Miss Grey,—I saw that "Red Rose" would like "We'll Never Let the Old Flag Fall." I have two verses and the chorus, so I am sending them. Hope they will be acceptable. I would like to ask a question. I have red hair and a fair complexion; what colors could I wear? It is a good plain red, too.
POPPY.

"Britain's flag has always stood for Justice,
Britain's hope has always been for peace,
Britain's foes have known that they could trust us
To do our best to make the cannon cease.
Britain's blood will never stand for insult,
Britain's sons will rally at her call,
Britain's pride will never let her exult,
But we'll never let the old flag fall.

"Britain's sons have always called her Mother,
Britain's sons have loved her one and all,
Britain's sons will show their true
love her,
The dear old flag laid on each manly breast.
Britain's ships have always ruled the ocean,
Britain's sons will serve her one and
all,
Britain's sons will show their true
devotion,
But we'll never let the old flag fall.

CHORUS—
We'll never let the old flag fall,
For we love it the best of all;
We don't want to fight, to show our might,
But when we start we'll fight, fight,
fight;
In peace or war you'll hear us sing,
God save the flag, God save the king,
At the ends of the world the flag
unfurl'l,
We'll never let the old flag fall.

Ans.—Thank you very much, Poppy, for supplying the words of this song for "Red Rose." If she wants the music, I think it can be obtained at any 15-cent store.

2. You should look exceedingly well in navy blue, dark green, and black. Pale clear blues, not too bright, and the Palm Beach linens, or raw silk, should look well on you; avoid shades of tan that may clash with your color of hair, also reds and pinks, unless the latter be of a very pale shade.

Sends His Address.

Dear Miss Grey: I sincerely hope that I am not using too much of your valuable page in The Advertiser, but I must thank the young ladies who have answered my letter for their kindly advice, and must not forget the great compliment "Laughing Water" paid me in her letter.

I quite agree with "Lonesome No. 2," and would like to have the pleasure of hearing her talk. I know from her letter that she would be very interesting.

As I do not care to have my address published I am sending it on a separate sheet, and you can send it to any of the girls who have answered my letter or send theirs to me, whichever is the proper way. I should write first, should I not?

Thanking you very much, yours sincerely,
"LONELY."

Ans.—Well, quiet girls, who have "just been dying to write to this Lonesome chap," now is your opportunity to send me your address so that the correspondence may begin. As "Lonely" suggests, he is the one to write first.

A New Reader.

Dear Miss Grey,—We have just started to take the paper. Excuse me for my writing.

Would you answer my questions?

1. How to make beads out of rose petals and out of cornstarch.

2. How to care for a calla lily.

3. What is the meaning of these names: James, Lloyd, Edgar, Hazel, Alice, Ida, Oswald, Ralph, Meta?

4. I am ten years old, and in the fourth book. Am I far enough on?

5. I have dark brown hair, blue eyes, fair complexion. What are my colors?

Hoping it will escape the W.P.B.,
A NEW READER.

Ans.—1. Three quarts of rose leaves are necessary for making a necklace of ordinary size. When the leaves are still fresh put them through an ordinary meat chopper eight times a day for three successive days, putting the paste so formed between times in a roaster or roasting pan or iron pot of some kind, to give them the rusty black look required. Then measure a thimbleful of the paste for your largest bead, or in proportion. Roll this to bead form on the hand, and run a pin or needle through it, sticking it on a large sheet of cardboard to harden. Graduate the other beads proportionately for your necklace. If you wish to make a roughened surface, prod them lightly while soft with a wooden toothpick.

The formula for cornstarch beads appeared yesterday.

2. Some folks keep callas growing all the time; others dry off root-bulbs during summer, and then repot in good soil and force them for flowering in winter, which seems the better plan. Try it for yourself and see how you succeed.

3. James, a supplanter; Lloyd, grey; Edgar, giver of happiness; Hazel, hazel-eyed; Alice, a princess; Ida, Godlike; Oswald, power of God; Ralph, famous wolf or hero; Meta, benefited of God.

4. Yes.

5. Little girls like you will look particularly well in nice plain wash dresses, such as mother chooses. Blue and white, or pink and white gingham, or chambray for everyday, and a white dress for best will be just the thing.

Two Readers Sent It.

An Old Song Request.

Does any reader chance to have the words of "Burns and His Highland Mary," of which the beginning is:

"In green Caledonia
There ne'er were twa lovers"?

Mr. Mac, a reader of this column, would like very much to obtain the same.

1316.—A Chic and Practical Dress.

Dress for misses and small women.

This style has several new and attractive style features. The plain-tailored waist in "shirt" style, has the fronts so arranged that they may be rolled back in open-neck style or finished with a close collar. The sleeve in wrist length has a band cuff. In short length, a jaunty turn-back cuff forms a suitable finish. The pattern is lovely for the new linens in white or any pretty shade of tan, rose, lavender or blue. Gingham, chambrey, linene, crepe, seersucker, batiste or lawn, are also appropriate. The pattern is cut in four sizes: 14, 16, 17 and 18 years. It requires for a 16-year size, 4⅞ yards of 44-inch material. The skirt measures about 2 2-3 yards at the foot.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

THE WHITE THROAT.

Shy bird of the silver arrows of song,
That cleave our Northern air so clear,
Thy notes prolong, prolong,
I listen, I hear—
"I—love—dear—Canada,
Canada, Canada."

O plumes of the pointed, dusky fir,
Screen of a swelling patriot heart,
The copse is all astir
And echoes thy part!

Now willowy reeds turn their silver flutes,
As the noise of the day dies down;
And silence strings her lutes,
The white throat to crown . . .

O bird of the silver arrows of song,
Shy poet of Canada dear,
Thy notes prolong, prolong,
We listen, we hear—
"I—love—dear—Canada,
Canada, Canada."

WHEN LAUNDERING EMBROIDERED WORK

There is a certain simple method of pressing embroidery which most of us use, yet there is one small but important item that is seldom considered.

The pressing is done over a heavy padding of toweling. Turkish toweling is excellent, but the imprint is apt to show, especially if the embroidered article is of delicate material, to avoid this place an old piece of fine muslin between the toweling and the embroidery.

The majority of people press directly on the back of the embroidered article with the iron. This is a great mistake, the iron may catch on a thread, cut or strain the stitches. Always place a thin piece of muslin over the wrong side and press over it, so the iron never comes in direct contact with any of the threads. You will find your embroidered centrepieces, etc., will last much longer, as it is largely due to careless laundering that many pieces wear out so quickly.

When the embroidery is in eyelet stitch or radio punch work, use a stiletto each time after laundering and the work will look like new. For the eyelets use the stiletto, pushing it through the wrong side, so the raised rim appears on the right side. In radio punch work the effect is better if the stiletto is pushed through the tiny openings from the right side.

MORE SOUTHPAW SLANTS PUT LONDON TO THE BAD

Cristal Sends In Harry Eccles, a Mere Youth From Jamestown, and Holds Locals Safe All Through—Final Score Was 9 to 0.

(BY BERT PERRY.)

OUR Tecumsehs gazed on the slants of another of William Cristal's army of left-handed pill-dispensers yesterday afternoon over in the local ballyard and there is nothing left for us to do now but write the obsequies with as much solemnity and decency as possible. Truly, it's a tough world, and to the London club it seems to be chuckfull of left-handers and lost ball games.

The latest member of Mr. Cristal's pitching pantry to jump on the puny frames of our local prides is a lanky youth named Harry Eccles. This Eccles party hails from Jamestown, N. Y., and they do say that Mr. Cristal plucked him fresh from the high school league. His debut in the Canadian League was something of an event. It was against "Doc" Reisling's club in Hamilton last week, and for seven innings the Jamestown Jay held the Tecumps without a bingle. They apparently reserved all their energy for the last two spasms, and in these sessions scored eight runs, Mr. Eccles having to retire in the ninth while the London players were going around the bases so fast that the fans in the stand got dizzy looking on.

Looks Like a Million Dollars.

But nothing like this occurred yesterday in Tecumseh Park. Mr. Eccles is but a mere youth and he looks to be as green as a St. Patrick's Day tie, but, believe us, he pitched some pretty good baseball just the same. "Doc" Reisling and the rest of the London boys tried to "kid" him out of the game, but the way he had the local clouters standing on their ears half the time, was no "kidding" matter. Possessed of good control and apparently as cool as the well-known cucumber, Eccles stood out there on the mound and pitched shutout ball for nine innings. In one or two spasms he got into difficulties, but he tightened up and London could not produce the timely wallop that was needed. They got nine hits off him in the first seven innings, but in only two innings were two hits bunched.

Dillinger Fanned Nine.

Harley Dillinger, handicapped by a badly-swollen elbow, went in to pitch for London and the former Cleveland southpaw yielded nine hits and struck out nine batters. He had no speed to speak of, but had something on his fast ones. He should not have been scored on until the eighth inning. The Hams got a gift run in the first inning, Schaffer trying to get a fly from Tiffany's bat that Reidy could have easily caught, the ball dropping safely and allowing Harris to score from second. The game was won right here in this inning, because London could never do enough to "Rube" Eccles to overcome that small margin. The final score was 3 to 0.

McGroarty's Triple Timely.

The game was devoid of any features. It was a pitchers' battle nearly all through. Three hits in the seventh inning, one a triple to right by McGroarty, gave the Cristal aggregation its last two runs. Harris had doubled to begin with, and Zeimer hit between short and third, Whitcraft stopping the ball, but not in time to get a play at first base. Then McGroarty came up and sent a beauty in right, the two runners scoring.

London Wasted Chances.

London had good chances in every one of the first seven innings to score. Lamy reached second base with only one down in the first, but was thrown out at third base when Whitcraft missed the ball in attempting to bunt. In the second frame, Eckstein led off with a hit, and Schaffer tried to bunt. He popped a fly to Cristal and Eckstein was doubled off first base. McEvoy followed with a single, but was nailed by Pembroke, trying to steal second. London was certainly playing in hard luck. Reidy got as far as second base in the third with only one down, but Dillinger and Lamy flew out. In the fourth, Eckstein reached second, but Schaffer could not bring him in. The fifth looked good. McEvoy led off with a nice bunt which he beat to first base. On Tiffany's bad peg he took second, and then Reidy hit a line drive right into McGroarty's mit and McEvoy was doubled at second base. In the sixth, both Lamy and Lusk singled with only one gone, but Whitcraft and Eckstein were helpless before Eccles. Cy Reidy's three-base punch in the seventh inning came after two men were out, and it did little or no good. In the last two paragraphs, the local went out in order.

FAVORITES DID NOT COME THROUGH AT CLEVELAND

Two Good Ones Trampled Underfoot by Darkhorses—Ima Jay Won 2:28 Trot.

CLEVELAND, June 29. — Two favorites were trampled under foot at the Lake Erie "Short Ship" circuit races, which opened here this afternoon. Ima Jay, the Cleveland trotter, won the 2:28 trot in straight heats and lowered her record to 2:13¼ in the second heat. All Wilkes was picked to win the 2:14 pace, but the Jersey skeeter, Ross Keith, again had his slinger out, and won in fast time, going the third heat in 2:12¼. Clifton, a fast one, was selected to win the 2:20 trot, but rain commenced to fall before he captured a single heat. Summaries:

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE HOLDS MEETING TODAY

New York, June 30.—Members of the International League held a meeting here today to act upon the request of the Newark baseball club that it be temporarily transferred to Harrisburg, Pa.

The invasion of Newark by the Federal League and the consequent slump in gate receipts at the International Club's park were said to be the leading reasons for consideration of the proposed transfer.

NO MATINEE AT ELMWOOD.

The Wednesday afternoon bowling tourney of the Elmwood Club will be postponed until Thursday afternoon because of the holiday. Play will commence at 2:30 o'clock sharp. All city bowlers are invited, whether members or not.

Federal League to Put Team in New York in 1916

Boston Is Also Eager to Get a Franchise In Outlaw Organization.

NEW YORK, June 29. — President James A. Gilmore, of the Federal League, at the close of a meeting here attended by representatives of all of the clubs, announced in a statement tonight that plans had been completed to put a team in New York city next year. The financial backing for this club had been arranged, President Gilmore said, although he added that details could not be made public at this time.

According to the statement, Boston men have asked the Federal League to add that city to its circuit. Bids have been made already for a Boston franchise, it was said.

"Speaking only for the Federal League," President Gilmore declared in his statement, "the baseball situation is better than at any time since the independents entered the field. In addition to reviewing thoroughly every phase of the baseball situation, we have arranged for the permanency of our organization as a factor in the national game."

NEWARK, June 29. — Chicago defeated Newark today 1 to 0.

Score—	R.	H.	E.
Chicago	1	4	0
Newark	0	4	1

Brown and Fischer; Moseley and Rariden.

BROOKLYN, June 29. — Two runs scored on a steal of home by Cooper, which caused Cullop to let loose a wild pitch, featured Brooklyn's victory over Kansas City today by a score of 5 to 2.

Score—	R.	H.	E.
Kansas City	1	6	5
Brooklyn	5	9	4

Cullop, Blackburn and Brown. Finneran and Land.

BALTIMORE, June 29. — Pittsburg took the opening game of the series from Baltimore today, 7 to 1, the locals' tally resulting from a homer over the fence by Jacklitsch. Konetchy started Pittsburg's scoring with a hit over the fence. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	7	11	0
Baltimore	1	4	4

Knetzer and Berry; Bailey and Jacklitsch.

BUFFALO, June 29.—Hal Chase's batting won the opening game of the series from St. Louis today, 5 to 4. He made two home runs, the first with one man on. His second drive cleared the bleachers in the deep centre by ten feet. Score:

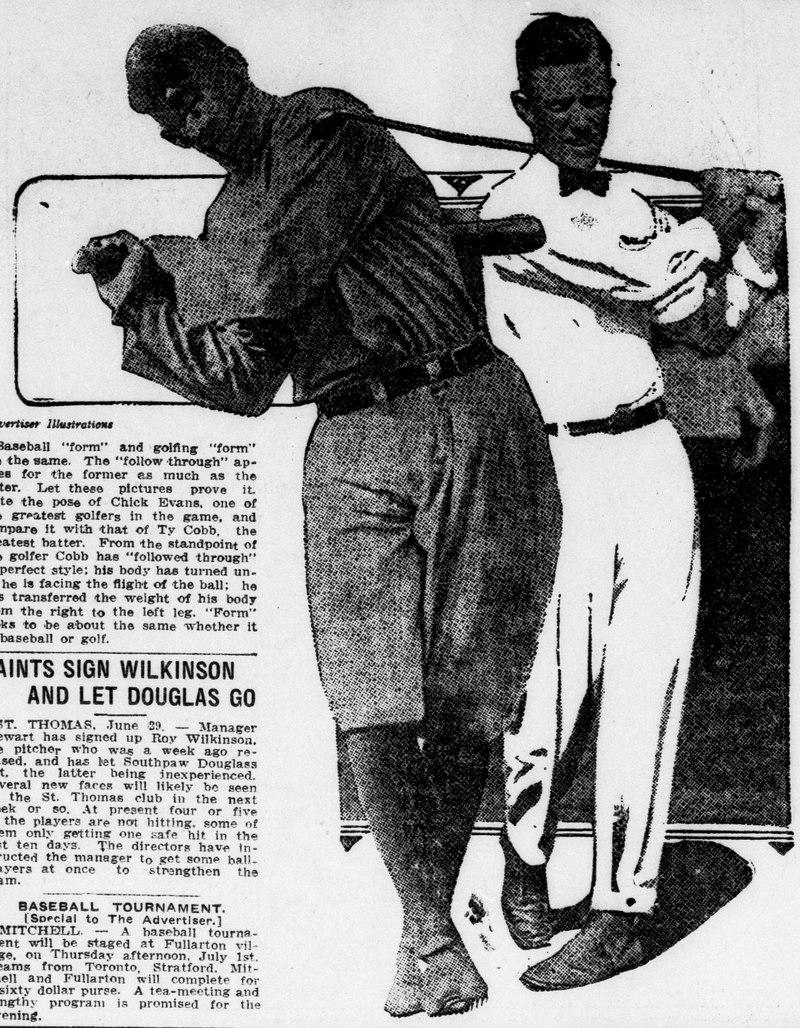

By innings—	R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	2	9	0
Buffalo	5	6	0

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN GOLF AND BASEBALL?, SWING THE SAME IN BOTH

Advertiser Illustrations

Baseball "form" and golfing "form" are the same. The "follow through" applies for the former as much as the latter. Let these pictures prove it. Note the pose of Chick Evans, one of the greatest golfers in the game, and compare it with that of Ty Cobb, the greatest batter. From the standpoint of the golfer Cobb has "followed through" in perfect style; his body has turned until he is facing the flight of the ball; he has transferred the weight of his body from the right to the left leg. "Form" looks to be about the same whether it is baseball or golf.

SAINTS SIGN WILKINSON AND LET DOUGLAS GO

ST. THOMAS, June 29. — Manager Stewart has signed up Roy Wilkinson, the pitcher who was a week ago released, and has let Southpaw Douglass out, the latter being inexperienced. Several new faces will likely be seen on the St. Thomas club in the next week or so. At present four or five of the players are not hitting, some of them only getting one safe hit in the last ten days. The directors have instructed the manager to get some ballplayers at once to strengthen the team.

BASEBALL TOURNAMENT.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

MITCHELL. — A baseball tournament will be staged at Fullarton village, on Thursday afternoon, July 1st. Teams from Toronto, Stratford, Mitchell and Fullarton will complete for a sixty dollar purse. A tea-meeting and lengthy program is promised for the evening.

SOME FOUL TIPS AND A FEW LINERS

Some day London is going to go out and give a left-handed pitcher an awful beating. The worm has got to turn some time.

Cristall will likely come back with Paddy Dougherty today, pitching all his left-handers against the locals.

Graham will probably do the pitching for London this afternoon. If Alex. is in good shape he ought to break London's losing streak.

London has lost the last three games and all of them have been against left-hand pitchers.

Outside of the pitching department, Cristall looks to have the weakest club seen here this season. And yet it is winning games right along. Sometimes it is better to be born lucky than rich.

As a lead-off man, Billy Cristall has every one topped. In the two games played here so far, the Hamilton manager has not reached first base once. He has fanned eight times, been thrown out once and fouled out the other time in ten times up.

The feature of the Hamilton series from a London standpoint is the fact that Cy. Reidy has started to hit them where they "ain't." Two safeties in three times up yesterday was his record. One of his blows was a nice triple to deep centre.

Pembroke looks like the best throwing catcher seen here this season. His pegs are always right to the base, and it takes a pretty slide to beat him. He has kept the locals hugging the sacks in the series so far.

Dillinger is pitching on his nerve alone. He has a swelling on his left elbow as big as an egg, and every time he pitched a curve ball yesterday, you could see him wince. His arm is not responding very much to treatment, and he may have to quit for a week or two before it gets right again.

Whitcraft played a nice game around short yesterday. He pulled down a lot of hard hit balls, and his pegging was good.

Eddie Lamy robbed McGroarty of at least a double in the second innings when he pulled in his long drive after a hard run.

With McEvoy on second base in the fifth inning yesterday and Reidy at bat with no one out, it is hard to understand why Cy. didn't bunt and put Mac on third. Cy. took three healthy swings at the ball and one the third one, drove the pill into McGroarty's hands and McEvoy was doubled at second. Had Reidy bunted, McEvoy would have gone to third, and there would have only been one out providing Cy had been thrown out at first. McEvoy would then have been in a position to score on any kind of a hit or infield out.

The Tecumsehs don't seem to have the old fight in them. It is doubtful if the latest change in the batting order is going to have the desired effect. The team has suffered from the lack of a timely bingle in the last two games. In each game, if somebody could have delivered in a pinch, the result would have been different. The team is hitting, but not hitting in the pinches.

JOHNNY EVERS BACK IN GAME FOR BRAVES

Team Marks His Reappearance By Beating Giants.

PIRATES WON AND LOST

Becker's Home Run Helps Phillies Win From Brooklyn, 5 to 4.

NEW YORK, June 29. — New York made it four out of six from the champion Braves by dividing a double-header here today. New York won the first game 3 to 2, and Boston got an even break, when Hughes shut out the Giants in the second game by a score of 2 to 0. New York won the first game when Rudolph weakened in the closing innings. Capt. Evers returned to second base for Boston in the second game, it being his first appearance in a National League game since he broke a bone in his left ankle last April. Evers drove out a home run, a double and a single. His home run came with Hughes on base, and resulted in Boston's victory. Evers was served with a warrant sworn out by a spectator at yesterday's game, who alleges he was insulted by the Boston captain. Scores:

First game—

	R.	H.	E.
Boston	2	6	2
New York	3	9	1

Rudolph and Gowdy; Stroud, Schauer and Meyers.

Second game—

	R.	H.	E.
Boston	2	10	0
New York	0	5	1

Hughes and Whaling; Perritt and Meyers.

PHILADELPHIA, June 29. — A home run by Becker, with two bases populated, in the fourth inning, proved the turning-point of today's game with Brooklyn, Philadelphia winning 5 to 4. Dell weakened in the fourth, when the home team tied the score and was taken out in the fifth, being succeeded by Appleton. The home team won in the seventh on Bancroft's double. Whitted's sacrifice and an out. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Brooklyn	4	7	0
Philadelphia	5	6	2

Dell, Appleton and Miller; Chalmers and Killifer.

PIRATES BROKE EVEN.

ST. LOUIS, June 29.—St. Louis and Pittsburg divided a double-header here today. The first game was lost by the locals, 5 to 8, when Pittsburg scored four runs in the ninth, chiefly through the poor work of Dolan in left field. Dolan redeemed himself by a spectacular catch in the second game. This contest was won, 6 to 4, by St. Louis' hard and timely hitting. Scores:

First game—

	R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	8	13	1
St. Louis	5	8	3

Batteries—Harmon, Conzelman, Adams and Gibson and Schang; Meadows and Snyder.

Second game—

	R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	4	8	2
St. Louis	6	11	2

Batteries—Cooper and Gibson; Robinson, Griner and Gonzales.

BIG QUOITING TOURNEY AT WOODSTOCK JULY 1

WOODSTOCK, June 29.—Big preparations are being made to make the quoiting tournament to be held on the grounds of the local quoiting club on Dominion Day, one of the biggest affairs of the kind that have ever been held in Woodstock. The main event is the competition for the Good Cheer Trophy, donated by the James Stewart Manufacturing Company of this city, and is open to all quoiters in Oxford County. Indications point to many quoiters from the surrounding districts competing, and local enthusiasts are already practicing in order that the outside entrants may not spring a surprise and find the locals napping.

BOSTON BEAT YANKS IN THE TENTH INNING

Scored Two Runs After Two Men Were Put Out.

WHITE SOX BEAT BROWNS

Faber's Triple In Fourth Brought In Two Runs—Mackmen Shut Out.

BOSTON, June 29.—New York tied the score in the ninth inning today, gained a lead of one run in the tenth, put out two Boston batsmen in the last half of that inning and then lost the game, 4 to 3. Ruth had not allowed a New York runner beyond second base until the ninth. Boston scored the winning run on Speaker's long hit to centre, his fifth hit in as many times at bat. Score:

By innings—	R.	H.	E.
New York	3	8	4
Boston	4	10	1

Caldwell and Nunamaker; Ruth and Thomas.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Washington batted Wyckoff and Davies hard today, while Boehling was invincible and the locals shut out the Athletics, 8 to 0. Score:

By innings—	R.	H.	E.
Philadelphia	0	7	1
Washington	8	15	0

Wyckoff, Davies and Lapp, Heffner; Boehling and Henry.

CHICAGO, June 29.—For the third consecutive time a triple with men on bases clinched the game for Chicago today. The locals defeated St. Louis, 4 to 2. Faber made the triple in the fourth inning after Roth and Schalk had walked. Score:

By innings—	R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	2	6	1
Chicago	4	5	0

Hamilton, Perryman and Severoid; Faber and Schalk.

LEAFS LOSE 11 INNING BATTLE TO MONTREAL 3-2

Newarks Win Twelve-Inning Game From Richmond—Buffalo Defeated Rochester.

MONTREAL, June 29. — The Royals took the second game of the series from Toronto today 3 to 2. The game went eleven innings and hard-fought all the way. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Toronto	2	10	1
Montreal	3	12	2

Maning and Kocher; Fullerton and Madden.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 29. — The Bisons were able to make only three hits off Hersche today, but combined these with errors and won by a score of 5 to 2. Bader allowed seven hits, but succeeded in keeping them scattered. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Rochester	2	7	1
Buffalo	5	8	0

Hersche and Williams; Bader and Lalonge.

RICHMOND, June 29. — Newark and Richmond battled for twelve innings today, the visitors finally winning 6 to 4. The Indians, by hitting O'Brien freely, took the lead by a score of 4 to 2 early in the game. In the last of the ninth the Virginians came through with two runs and tied the score, but the visitors got to O'Brien again in the twelfth and won the game by batting in two runs. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Newark	6	15	2
Richmond	4	9	3

Enzman and Heckinger; O'Brien and Schaufle.

Willard Insures His Arms for $50,000 Apiece

Heavyweight Champion Places a Valuation of $100,000 On His Hands.

Rochester, June 30.—Jess Willard, world's heavyweight champion, places a valuation of $100,000 on the two arms that gave him the title at Havana. He made application to a Rochester insurance agent yesterday for a one-year policy in that sum $50,000 for each arm. He also applied for an accident travelling insurance policy for a smaller sum in favor of his wife. He was in Rochester with a circus.

GUELPH BEATS ST. THOMAS WITH TWO OUT IN NINTH

Saints Threw a Couple of Easy Chances Away, Forgue Failing to Score From Third on Long Fly.

ST. THOMAS, June 29.—The Saints and Guelph battled away for eight innings today without getting a run, the visitors getting the only tally of the game after two men were out in the ninth inning, when Hunt beat out a bunt, stole second, Harris pegging low, and scored on Harkins' single. The locals threw two chances away to score in the eighth. Forgue was on third with only one gone when Kopp hit a fly to left field, but Forgue did not try to score. In the ninth, Stewart and Ort hit safely, but "Dad" was nipped at the plate. The next two men flew out. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Guelph	1	6	2
St. Thomas	0	4	1

Batteries—Kirley and Harkins; Rielley and Harris. Umpire—Deneau.

ASQUITH URGES ECONOMY UPON BRITISH PEOPLE

Personal Thrift Necessary To Provide Funds for War.

QUESTION IS IMPORTANT

Britain's Battle Is In Behalf of the Whole of Humanity.

LONDON, June 29.—Penny-wise economy heretofore has not been a strong feature of the gatherings at the Guildhall, so closely connected were aldermanic banquets of proverbial opulence, but Premier Asquith today chose this home of wealth to initiate a movement in support of the British war loan and to urge personal thrift throughout the nation so as to make it possible for the country to bear the strain of the expenditure of $15,000,000 daily entailed by the cost of the war.

Waste a National Danger.

"Waste on the part of either individuals or classes which always is foolish and short-sighted, is in these times, nothing short of a national danger," said Mr. Asquith.

The Premier then proceeded to inquire how a country which normally had only £300,000,000 or £400,000,000 pounds to spare yearly, could get this huge unprecedented draft out of its resources. He dismissed as impracticable the idea of selling investments in property or of borrowing abroad.

"The amount that could be raised abroad in comparison to the sum required" he said, "would be practically infinitesimal, and if it were possible on any considerable scale we should have to face the prospect of ending the war a debtor country."

The only other course, he declared, was that his countrymen should diminish their expenditures and increase their savings.

Indebtedness Growing.

"The state of the trade balance between ourselves and other countries at this moment affords grounds, I don't say for anxiety, but for serious thought. For the first five months of the present year our imports have increased by £32,500,000 ($162,500,000) while our exports and re-exports have decreased by £73,750,000 ($368,750,000). That means that for twelve months our indebtedness to other countries will reach over £260,000,000 ($1,300,000,000). The only way to counteract this is by reducing all unnecessary personal expenditure on imported articles, such as tea, sugar, wine, petrol, etc., and on goods made in this country, so that a larger quantity may be left to sell abroad."

Concerns Whole Humanity.

Remarking that it was not merely a question of self-preservation, Mr. Asquith proceeded: "There is not a man or woman who has seen what is hanging in the balance but who has during the past year become greatly conscious that the battle in which we are engaged touches interests and ideals far beyond the shores of these islands, beyond even the confines of our world-spread empire, and realizes that it concerns the whole future of humanity."

"Is right or force to dominate mankind?" asked the Premier, who, remarking that comfort, prosperity and a securely sheltered existence perhaps in some conventional type of religion could be purchased at a price, concluded: "but at what a price? At the sacrifice of what makes life, national or personal, worth living. Rather than make that sacrifice we shall fight to the end, to the last farthing of our money, to the last ounce of our strength and to the last drop of our blood."

Big Application.

As if to give the campaign a good send off, the first really big subscription to the war loan was announced simultaneously with the appearance of Premier Asquith on the platform. This was the application made by a London assurance company for £3,000,000 ($15,000,000) of the new loan.

Premier Asquith opened the meeting by stating that apart from many of its "other features" the present war was the costliest that ever had been waged, with the total prospective expenditure for the year approaching a thousand millions of pounds ($5,000,000,000) the daily expenditure being and likely to be for weeks and months to come something like $15,000,000.

First Democratic Loan.

The Premier emphasized that for the first time in the financial history of Great Britain this was a great democratic loan. The state, he said, was appealing to all classes, even those whose resources were most limited, to step in and contribute their share to meet the supreme national need.

"Under such conditions, Mr. Asquith said, "I am confident that the success of the loan as a financial instrument ought to be, and indeed is now, absolutely secure."

HINTED AT FORCED LOAN.

LONDON, June 29.—A. Bonar Law, secretary for the colonies, who followed Mr. Asquith, said that the country as yet could not tell to what extent it would be called upon. If investors held back the state would have their money if necessary by a forced loan.

"We are proud of our allies," Mr Bonar Law said, "but we must trust to ourselves."

Cycle Races Quarter Mile Without Rider

Machine Breaks Away On Road and Nearly Bumps Wagon.

DORCHESTER, June 29.—Riderless, and with its high-power engine opened up to the limit, a motorcycle dashed along the Elgin road for over a quarter of a mile, Saturday afternoon, before it skidded and plunged into a ditch, after narrowly escaping ramming a wagon. The forks and wheels of the machine were badly damaged.

Harry Cain, the owner, had dismounted to adjust a part of the mechanism, when in some manner the clutch "caught." The engine had been running at full speed at the time. In an instant the machine wrenched itself out of his grasp and taking the groove in the centre of the road, worn by the tramp of horses, raced away at a great clip. There were no obstructions in its path and the groove was level and straight ahead. There was nothing for the machine to do but maintain its equilibrium and streak for the winning post.

A farmer was driving down the road. He saw the motorcycle thundering down upon him, with no driver to control it. He pulled up his horse to one side, but the space was not sufficient for the machine to pass.

Directly ahead of him the front wheel of the cycle struck a stone. The machine skidded, and with terrific force plunged from the road into the deep ditch. Cain followed as best he could and rescued his speed-breaker, little the worse for its race.

FRANCE HAS INCREASED PRODUCTION SIX-FOLD

Munitions of War Are Now Being Turned Out Rapidly.

PARIS, June 29.—Speaking in the Senate today Alexandre Millerand, minister of war, gave an account of his stewardship.

"From August 1 to April 1," said the minister, "France has increased her military production six fold. The curve for munitions has never ceased to mount nor that representing the manufacture of our 75's. I can give satisfying assurances also regarding the heavy artillery and small arms. From the 1st of January to the 15th of May the production of mitrailleuses was doubled. The curve for other essentials of the war is equally encouraging. We are determined to pursue our enemies, whatever arms they may employ."

WAS COVERED WITH BOILS

Could Not Get Rid of Them Until She Used BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

When the blood becomes impure the first symptoms which manifest themselves are a breaking out of the various forms of skin trouble, such as boils, pimples, abscesses, ulcers, etc., and the only treatment you can use is some sort of a good blood-cleansing remedy which will put the blood into a perfect condition, and thus eliminate all the different poisons from the system which cause these different eruptions to occur.

The best blood-cleansing remedy on the market today is Burdock Blood Bitters. All we ask you is to try it and be convinced. Thousands have used it during the past forty years, and have nothing but praise for its curative powers.

Mrs. John Fitzgerald, Plantagenet, Ont., writes: "I am one woman who cannot speak too highly of Burdock Blood Bitters. I was covered with boils, and could not get rid of them. I was advised by a friend to try B. B. B., which I did, and I can truthfully say that it completely cured me. I have never had a sign of a boil since."

See that our name appears on both the label and wrapper, as there are many imitations placed on the market which are said to be "just as good."

Burdock Blood Bitters is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

To Keep Skin in Fine Condition All Summer

It would be much better for the skin if little cream, powder or rouge were used during the heated term. Mixed with perspiration, dust and grime, these things are anything but beautifying. Ordinary mercolized wax will do more for the complexion, and without giving an oily, streaked, spotted or pasty appearance. It is the ideal application for the season, as it not only keeps the pores clean, but daily removes particles of scarf skin which have been soiled by dirt or weather. By constantly keeping the complexion clear, white, satiny, it does more toward perpetuating a youthful countenance than any of the arts or artifices commonly employed. One ounce of mercolized wax obtainable at any drug store, will completely renovate the worst complexion. It is applied at night like cold cream and washed off in the morning.

To keep the skin from sagging or wrinkling, or to overcome such condition, there's nothing better than a face bath made by dissolving 1 ounce powdered saxolite in ½ pint witch hazel.

ENEMY CAPTURES TOWN IN POLAND

Claims Defeat of Russians Twenty-Five Miles From Lemberg.

GERMANS WANT RAILWAY

Aiming At Line Which Runs From Odessa To Lemberg.

[Canadian Press.]

LONDON, June 29. — 10:42 p.m. — Driven back over their own frontier north of Lemberg and forced to cross the River Gnila Lipa in southeast Galicia, the Russian armies continue to retreat before the Austro-Germans along a front of approximately 250 miles, about equal to the distance between Arras and the Vosges.

The Berlin official communication records progress by the Teuton troops in virtually the entire southeastern theatre, although violent fighting is still in progress beyond the Gnila Lipa, which joins the Dniester at Halicz.

Having forced a passage of this stream General von Linsingen's army is presumably astride the railway running from Halicz to Lemberg and Stanislau, and now doubtless is aiming at the line which runs from Lemberg to Odessa through Tarnopol.

According to an official statement given out at Vienna tonight, the Teutonic allies in their advance over the Galician border into Russian Poland, in the region of Tomaszow, have captured that Polish town, according to an Austrian official statement given out here tonight. The statement also says that strong Russian forces north of Kamionka, 25 miles northeast of Lemberg, were repulsed with great loss last night, after heavy fighting.

The Russian statement says nothing about the fall of Tomaszow, but says several desperate German attacks in the region of this city were repulsed.

Germany Not Satisfied.

It seems evident that Germany is bent on further punishment for the Russians before relaxing the intensity of her Galician campaign, but, with the Russians across the frontier, the Germans will have to rely almost solely on road transport and their advance will necessarily be slower.

The British press is still voicing the hope that the Russians will soon find a tenable line and deliver a counter-blow, but there is a note of anxiety in nearly all the accounts, together with the warning that either the capture of Warsaw or the seizure of the great railway lines, which supply it, would be disastrous to Russia and would surely be followed by another general German offensive in the west.

Notwithstanding the French attacks around Arras, it is argued that the Germans must feel comparatively secure in the west, else they would not have risked their tremendous enveloping move against the Russians. The French are persisting in their assaults in the neighborhood of Arras, but without appreciable change in the situation.

ENEMY FORCE STRONG ON THE RIVER BUG.

PETROGRAD, June 29, via London, June 30—2:20 a.m.—The following Russian official statement concerning the progress of hostilities was given out here tonight:

"In the Shavli region we repulsed feeble German attacks. On the fronts of the Niemen and Narew Rivers and on the left of the Vistula calm prevails.

"The advance of strong enemy forces along the entire front between the sources of the River Vieprz, in the Government of Lublin, and the Western Bug, continues, and here on rearguard positions in the region of Tomaszow our troops on the 27th and 28th repulsed several desperate German attacks. The enemy army on the Dniester, reinforced by fresh German troops, quite recently thrown into this region, sought by the fiercest of attacks on the front Boukatchevttip to throw disorder into our retirement towards the Gnila Lipa River, but failed in this object and sustained enormous losses."

AUSTRIA CLAIMS TOWN OF BURSTYN.

VIENNA (via London), June 29.—The following official statement was given out here tonight:

"In East Galicia the Teutonic allied armies pursuing the enemy reached the Gnila Lipa River and the Bug River, near Kamionka. The Russian troops on this line are now being attacked. On Monday we captured Burstyn.

"Strong hostile forces standing near Sielec, north of Kamionka, were last night, after heavy fighting and with great loss, repulsed to Krystianpol.

"North of Rawa Ruska and north of Cieszanow the Teutonic allies advanced on Russian territory. We occupied Tomaszow.

"Monday night the enemy evacuated his positions on the northern Tanew River and on the north bank of the San and began a retreat in a northeasterly direction, everywhere pursued.

"In Poland and on the Dniester River, the situation is unchanged.

"In the Italian theatre no material events occurred yesterday. The enemy again wasted much ammunition against the bridge head at Gorizia."

Russia Follows Britain's Example to Get Munitions

Special "Board of Military Supplies" Will Supervise Work.

LONDON, June 30.—1:53 a.m. — An important step towards the removal of the drawbacks under which the Russian army is suffering has been taken by the formation of a special "board of military supplies," says the Petrograd correspondent of the Daily Telegraph. "Presided over by the Minister of War it will comprise the president and four members of the Duma, four members of the imperial council and four representatives of industry and commerce, all nominated by the Emperor, to whom alone the board will be responsible. The board has extensive powers for the production of munitions."

MUST HOLD WEST TO RETAIN EAST

Major Moraht Tells Germany British Armies Will Maintain Status.

AMSTERDAM, June 29, via London, 30.—1:23 a.m.—Discussing the war situation in an article in the Berliner Tageblatt, Major Moraht, military expert of that paper, says:

"On the tenacious maintenance of our war gains in the west depends our defensive in the east. It is not yet clear whether we ought to lay stress upon England's ammunition scarcity and the growing difficulty in recruiting up till now. We can only state that the waste of ammunition on the part of the enemy is still boundless and that the losses at the front all have been replaced. We should be well advised to believe that England will succeed in reorganizing the production of ammunition, and that the English armies in France will doubtless be able to maintain their present status."

RUSSIA WILL BORROW $25,000,000 IN ENGLAND

LONDON, June 29.—11:26 p.m.—An imperial decree authorizes the Russian ministry of finance, according to a Reuter dispatch from Petrograd, to place in the London market, short time treasury bonds to the amount of 50,000,000 rubles ($25,000,000).

SMILE WITH ME! TAKE CASCARETS

Feel bully! Don't stay bilious, sick, headachy, constipated.

Spend 10 cents! Remove winter's poison from your liver and bowels.

Enjoy life! Spring is here and your system is filled with the winter's accumulation of bile and bowel poison which keeps you bilious, headachy, dizzy, tongue coated, breath bad and stomach sour. Why don't you get a 10-cent box of Cascarets at the drug store and feel fine. Take Cascarets tonight and enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced. Give Cascarets to children now.

WHAT TO DO WHEN HAIR GROWS THIN

Parisian Sage Makes the Hair Grow.

If your hair is getting thin and causing you anxiety, you ought to read about Parisian Sage, the hair grower, that surely does grow hair.

Parisian Sage is guaranteed by the manufacturers to stop your hair from falling out, or refund your money. It will make the hair grow profusely if used regularly.

Hair falls out and stops growing because the hair root does not receive proper nourishment. If the nourishment entirely ceases for any length of time, the hair root will die and baldness will follow. It's the dandruff germs that steal from the hair root the nourishment that nature supplies it.

Parisian Sage soaks into the scalp, destroys the dandruff germs and furnishes the nourishment needed to stimulate a renewed growth of hair.

Parisian Sage grows hair, stops hair from falling out, eradicates dandruff and puts an end to splitting hair. It turns dull, lifeless, faded hair into bright, lustrous hair, and is used by women and men who take pride in beautiful and luxuriant hair. It is the most delightful and refreshing hair dressing ever put into a bottle and should be used by every member of the family.

Parisian Sage is sold by leading druggists everywhere for only 50 cents a large bottle.

For aches, pains, rheumatism, etc., try Parisian Mustard Cerate. Its effect is wonderful. Use in place of mustard plasters, poultices or hot applications; 25 cents a tube.

Beer and Temperance

If temperance reformers would only advocate the use of pure beer, like FRONTENAC BEER, they would do real lasting good to their cause. While mildly exhilarating, FRONTENAC BEER, is a splendid tonic, a body builder and a great aid to digestion. You can drink your fill of it without harmful results.

Frontenac

The Beer that helps Temperance

FRONTENAC BEER is made in exactly the same way as the high grade American beers in our Montreal brewery, which cost over two million dollars to build and equip. Why drink American beer when you can get Canadian beer just as good? Try it to-day.

Insist on FRONTENAC always

FRIENDLY WRESTLE ENDS IN A DEATH

[Canadian Press.]

Pittsburg, June 30.—Emil Kofts, an amateur wrestler, met his friend Wm. Berger on a north side street last night and challenged him to a wrestle. The challenge was accepted and the men struggled for ten minutes on the sidewalk before Kofts was thrown. He did not get up, and his friends hurried him to a hospital where he died. His neck had been broken. Berger and half a dozen spectators were arrested.

MAIN LINE OF C. N. R. READY IN SEPTEMBER

Sir William MacKenzie Believes Improved Business Will Warrant Traffic.

TORONTO, June 29.—"The main line of the Canadian Northern Pacific Railway will be ready for operation by September," declared Sir William Mackenzie today in an interview dealing with the present position of the line of the C. N. R. in the coast province. "Satisfactory progress is being made in the work of providing the necessary station and terminal facilities" he added, "and we expect that by the autumn improved conditions of business will allow the inauguration of a train service of permanent character."

SERGEANT COOKSON OF "PATS" PRAISED FOR HIS GALLANTRY

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]

London, June 30.—A member of the Princess Patricias, signing himself "One of Those Left," writes to the Times today to call attention to Sergt. Cookson's gallantry during the fierce fighting in May.

"This man," he writes, "deserves the greatest honor for his unflinching and conspicuous gallantry during the whole of those terrible days, as it was indeed chiefly owing to his coolness and indomitable courage that Lieut. Niven, after Major Gault, D. S. O., had been knocked out, was able to save the entire position.

"It was Sergt. Cookson who got the vital dispatch through for reinforcements and brought them up when volunteers were called for for this perilous task, and I guess no one living to tell the tale of those days of real hell will ever deny the justice of honoring this brave man who fought as a Gordon Highlander in South Africa with those you have given prominence to."

THINKS CANADA MIGHT PROVIDE MORE MUNITIONS

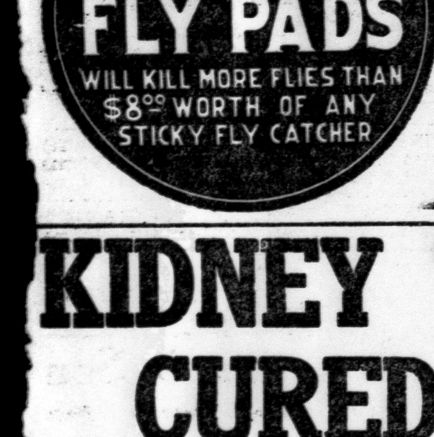

N. W. Rowell, M.P.P., Addresses Canadian Club at Winnipeg.

WINNIPEG, June 29.—N. W. Rowell, spoke before the Canadian Club this afternoon on Britannic and Germanic ideals of empire. He declared something was wrong in Canada, that the country was not making more munitions. Britain was straining every nerve, even drawing men from the front and putting women in factories to make munitions. Yet in Canada many men capable of making munitions were out of work and the production was away below what it might be. He urged a greater production of munitions.

FULLERTON CHARGE LIKELY TO FALL

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WINNIPEG, June 29. — Fullerton charges are expected to collapse tomorrow. Fullerton is booked for a crawfish speech tomorrow, when the commission resumes, admitting he has no evidence, merely hearsay and street rumors being his grounds for the charges.

SING SING WARDEN REFUSES TO ATTEND AN ELECTROCUTION

[Canadian Press.]

Ossining, N. Y., June 30.—As a protest against capital punishment, Thomas M. Osborne, warden of Sing Sing prison, did not attend the electrocution of Joseph Ferri at Sing Sing today. Mr. Osborne went to New York last night, and his place at the execution was taken by Deputy Warden Johnson. "I am leaving because that is the only way that I have to protest against the law which makes the execution necessary," said Mr. Osborne before going.

Ferri was put to death for shooting and killing his brother-in-law, Florentino di Giovani, with whom he worked at times as a gardener at their home in Inwood, L. I., on August 24, 1914. They had a dispute over a debt, and after a fight with fists on the street Ferri went home, got his revolver and joined the group which had gathered around Giovani, and shot him through the head. Gov. Whitman refused to show clemency to Ferri, although the jurors who convicted him signed a petition in the condemned man's behalf.

MEXICAN WARRIORS TO DISCUSS PEACE?

AMERICAN SUBMARINE REPORTED RUN ASHORE

[Canadian Press.]

San Francisco, June 30.—The submarine H-3, en route from San Diego to San Francisco, was reported ashore last night at Point Sur, Monterey County, Cal., according to wireless advices to the Government radio station here. The revenue cutter McCulloch has been dispatched to her assistance, it was said.

The H-3 was driven off her course by a stiff wind. At midnight a message received from Lieut. Newton gave the information that no one on board the submarine had been injured, and that the craft had not sprung a leak.

WOUNDED CHEER THE QUEEN AT MATINEE

New York, June 30.—A London cable to the Herald says: "The Queen and Princess Mary were greeted with a salvo of cheers from hundreds of wounded soldiers at the Duchess of Marlborough's matinee at the Palace Theatre yesterday.

The Queen wore a dress of pale blue over white, with a white and black hat. The Princess Royal and Princess Maud, Mrs. Lewis Harcourt and Lady Randolph Churchill also were present.

Miss Laurette Taylor, in the Marchioness Townsend's playlet, "The Monk and the King's Daughter," received the royal applause.

KIDNEY TROUBLE CURED AT 82

Intense Power of Dr. Cassell's Tablets Again Proved

Back pains so severe as to be like knife-thrusts.

Operation said to be the only chance of Cure.

So Weak and Wasted he could hardly drag about.

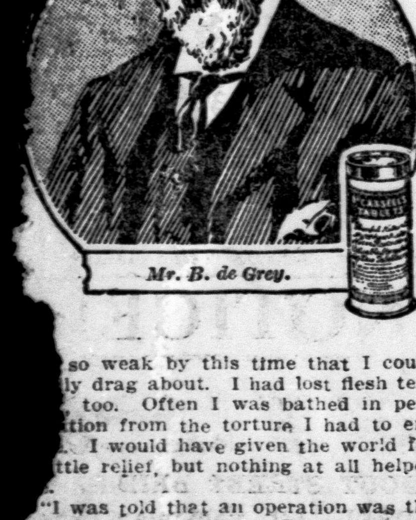

Now in Splendid Health through

DR. CASSELL'S TABLETS

Age makes no difference to the extraordinary curative power of Dr. Cassell's Tablets; they cure old or young, from the infant in its mother's arms to the white-haired grandparent bowed with the weight of years. That is the one conclusion to be drawn from the testimony to Dr. Cassell's Tablets, which grateful people in the mother country are constantly giving to their Canadian brothers and sisters.

Here, for example, is Mr. Benjamin de Grey, of 2 Clifton Terrace, Queen Street, Sparkbrook, Birmingham, England, telling how Dr. Cassell's Tablets cured him of acute kidney trouble when nothing else tried could even relieve. And Mr. de Grey is 82 years of age. He says:

"A few years ago I began to have a dull, heavy feeling after everything I ate, and this was very soon followed by gnawing pain across my back and other indications of kidney trouble. At all times this pain was with me, but it became sharp as knife thrusts when I had to straighten up from a sitting or stooping position. I was told it was kidney trouble. I knew that, but no sort of medicine I had did any sort of good. I cannot describe the suffering I underwent. I could not rest anywhere, and I was so weak by this time that I could hardly drag about. I had lost flesh terribly, too. Often I was bathed in perspiration from the torture I had to endure. I would have given the world for a little relief, but nothing at all helped me.

"I was told that an operation was the only thing left for me. But at my age I did not like the idea of that, so again I took medicine, which again proved useless.

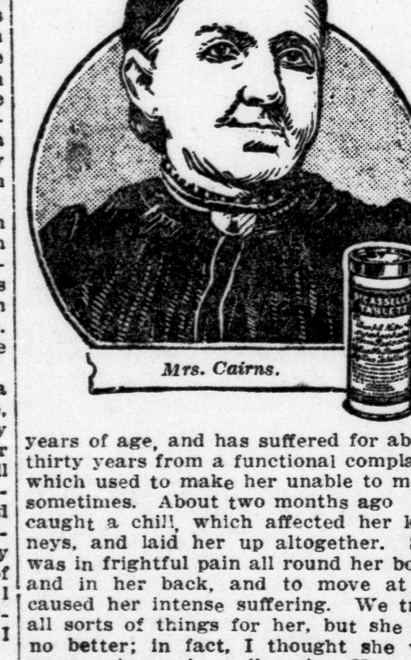

"I was worn out with pain and want of rest, when at last I got Dr. Cassell's Tablets; yet almost from the first they relieved me. I got better and better, and now I am cured and in splendid health."

Dr. Cassell's Tablets put new life and vigor into the kidneys by strengthening the nerves that control kidney action. That is why Dr. Cassell's Tablets cure even most severe cases.

LADY OF 67 CURED after 30 years' suffering.

Here is yet another instance of the intense revitalizing powers of Dr. Cassell's Tablets. Mrs. Walker, of 49 Kelburn street, Barrhead, Glasgow, Scotland, says:

"I am glad to tell you that my mother, Mrs. Cairns, and myself have derived very great benefit from Dr. Cassell's Tablets. My mother is now 67 years of age, and has suffered for about thirty years from a functional complaint which used to make her unable to move sometimes. About two months ago she caught a chill, which affected her kidneys, and laid her up altogether. She was in frightful pain all round her body, and in her back, and to move at all caused her intense suffering. We tried all sorts of things for her, but she got no better; in fact, I thought she was never going to be well again. However, reading about Dr. Cassell's Tablets, I decided to get her some, and from that time she improved wonderfully. She is now better than she has been for years, and it is all due to Dr. Cassell's Tablets. She was very rundown in health as well as suffering from kidney trouble, and the Tablets simply worked wonders.

Mrs. Cairns.

"I have taken them myself for severe backache brought on by strain, and they soon cured me, too."

Britain's Finest Remedy Popularity Now World-Wide

The world-wide reputation which Dr. Cassell's Tablets have achieved, as a really reliable Nerve and Body Restorative for young and old, must be due to merit and merit only. Mere advertisement will sometimes insure a reputation of a sort, but it is true worth that tells, and particularly is this so with Dr. Cassell's Tablets. This famous medicine is a true and tried remedy for Nervous Breakdown, Nerve Failure, Infantile Weakness, Neurasthenia, Sleeplessness, Anaemia, Kidney Trouble, Dyspepsia, Stomach Disorder, Wasting, Palpitation; and they are specially valuable for nursing mothers, and girls approaching womanhood. All druggists and storekeepers throughout the Dominion sell Dr. Cassell's Tablets at 50 cents. People in outlying districts should keep Dr. Cassell's Tablets by them in case of emergency. A Free Sample will be sent on receipt of 5 cents for mailing and packing, by the sole agents for Canada, H. F. Ritchie & Co., Ltd., 10 McCaul street, Toronto, Ont.

PREMIERS ALWAYS POOR IN CANADA

Former Toronto Man Tells British Court in Libel Action.

STRATHCONA'S DEBTORS

Question of Motives of His Money Transactions Discussed By Witnesses.

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]

London, June 30.—Several members of the Canadian community gave evidence today on behalf of Mackenzie, journalist, sued by W. T. R. Preston on account of his cabled comments to Canada on Preston's book, "Strathcona's Life." Col. Donald Armour, surgeon, said the book was regarded as a venomous attack upon the dead man.

Abraham May, secretary to Lady Strathcona, thought the general opinion here was the bitterness of the book defeated the object with which it was written.

Condemns Book.

Doctor Parkin, formerly of Toronto, told the court he thought the book "base and dishonorable." He first gathered this impression from reviews in papers, and it was confirmed when he read the book.

Preston's counsel, cross-examining: "Did you read the plaintiff's reference to the clause in Strathcona's will whereby he forgave debts to prominent Canadian statesmen?"

Witness replying: "I thought it strange Preston should record such facts against his own political friends."

Counsel: "Do you approve these statesmen incurring such loans?"

Witness: "My reading of history is that Pitt and Disraeli were up to the eyes in debt." (Laughter.)

Public Men Poor.

Counsel: "Are you going to say if there had been loans to statesmen, we are base if we comment on them?"

Doctor Parkins: "It is a very common thing in Canada for public men to be poor. Every prime minister we have had except one has been poor. Even the leader of the Opposition receives a salary because it is difficult to carry on public life without. I have heard of all kinds of men in difficulties turning to Strathcona for support. I cannot judge these cases now under review, but it would seem he was equally free to both parties in what one would call generosity, both in forgiving loans and lending. I cannot imagine Cartwright being influenced by a thing like this, but I can understand him going to Strathcona in difficulty and getting help."

The case is proceeding.

LIFE AGAIN NORMAL

Italians Soon Restore Good Conditions in Captured Territory.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, June 30.—A Havas dispatch from Rome by way of Geneva says that in seventy communes organized by the supreme commandant of Austrian territory occupied by the Italians, life has again become normal. Business is being resumed, the markets are going on regularly and physicians are proceeding with the work of disinfection. The authorities make daily distribution of food to the population.

The Italian Government, the dispatch states, has granted to the families of those mobilized into the Austrian ranks a continuation of the subsidies the Austrian Government had paid.

PRES. POINCARE VISITS FIRST LINE TRENCHES

Pins the Military Cross to Flags of Six Regiments.

PARIS, June 29.—President Poincare spent Sunday and Monday in the first line trenches talking with the officers and men.

The President watched a number of batteries in action, and then inspected the field hospitals just behind the lines. He pinned the military cross to the flags of six regiments which had been cited in the order of the day for valiant conduct.

HUGE STEEL ORDERS RECEIVED IN STATES

[Canadian Press.]

Pittsburg, June 30.—Steel mills in the Pittsburgh district have received within the past few days orders for projectile steel which aggregate 75,000 tons. Early in the year steel of this grade was offered at $31 a ton, but latest sales are said to have been made at $38.

Tin plate mills in the district also are receiving foreign orders for quick delivery, enough having been booked, it is reported, to keep mills in operation the remainder of the year. The McKeesport Tin Plate Company has commenced construction of a 20-mill addition to its plant, and the East Canonsburg Tin Plate Company has started work on a 12-mill addition.

DOCTOR SAID SHE HAD BRIGHT'S DISEASE

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED HER.

Bright's disease is a term applied to one of the most serious of all diseases of the kidneys, the symptoms of which are often of a severe character.

Severe pains in the back appear at first and are followed by disturbances of the urinary organs, which show that the urine contains a large amount of albumen. Dropsy is also another forerunner of the dreaded Bright's disease. On the first sign of any kidney trouble you should at once put the kidneys right by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. The pill that cures kidney troubles only.

Mrs. C. A. Heistand, Mooswa, Alta., writes: "Last May I was taken down sick. The doctor told me I had Bright's disease. My kidneys got so bad I could not rest day or night. The doctor's medicine did not give me any relief. I used four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, and they put me in good shape again."

Doan's Kidney Pills are the original kidney pill, so when you ask for "Doan's" do not accept any others with similar names.

Price, 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by the T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

When ordering direct, specify "Doan's."

EVEN GERMAN WOMEN WERE PREPARED FOR THE WAR

As Far Back As 1912 They Were Pledged To Contribute So Much Red Cross Supplies Weekly, Declares London Visitor Who Was in Fatherland Then.

A story which is further evidence of the long and thorough preparation on the part of Germany for war was told last night to a member of The Advertiser staff by a visitor in the city. The visitor, while studying music in Berlin, was glad to accept the invitation of a prominent German family in a town not far from the capital to spend Christmas of 1912 with them. One morning during the holidays, the hostess had a caller. In a few minutes she brought in something of interest to show to the Canadian guest, with the explanation:

"My caller wants to know what I will be prepared to give every week in the way of Red Cross supplies or money to support Red Cross work in case there should be war with some other nation. This is a list of what the people of the town are pledging themselves to give. I suppose I must make up my mind what I would do under such circumstances, though they will probably never arise," she ended laughingly.

In the midst of the novelty of holiday festivities in a German home, the incident was soon forgotten. It was forcibly recalled, however, when war rumors grew increasingly persistent the end of last July.

"I wonder now I didn't attach more significance to the occurrence at the time," says the visitor, adding the comment:

"Just think, eighteen whole months before war was declared, the Germans were busily engaged organizing their Red Cross forces. When the war finally did come, they knew exactly where to turn for support of this branch of warfare. All they had to do was to refer to their lists and notify the people who had pledged systematic support."

THE TWO VERSIONS

German and French Stories of Aerial Attack on Hangars.

[Canadian Press.]

Stuttgart, Wurttemburg, June 30.—The Wurttemburg Minister of War today announces that a French biplane on Sunday approached Friedrichshafen, where the Zeppelin hangars are situated, coming from Constance. The machine was bombarded by anti-aircraft guns, and it turned back, after dropping three bombs between the Lake Constance shore towns of Schnetzenhausen and Raggershausen, without doing any damage. The biplane returned to Switzerland, where it was compelled to land, and the aviators were arrested.

The French official statement issued on Monday last said that on the morning of June 27 (Sunday) "one of our aeroplanes succeeded in dropping, with success, eight shells on the Zeppelin hangars at Friedrichshafen. Motor trouble obliged the aviator to make a landing during his return. He succeeded in reaching Swiss territory, at Rheinfelden."

COMMANDEERING OF COPPER UNNECESSARY

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 30.—The spokesman for the board of trade, Walter Runciman, informed an inquirer in the House of Commons this afternoon that the Government had no intention of commandeering supplies of copper and zinc unless it should be found impossible to obtain sufficient quantities otherwise. The Government, he added, was arranging so that a sufficiency for its requirements would be assured.

GERMANY EXPROPRIATES THIS YEAR'S GRAIN CROP

[Canadian Press.]

Berlin, June 30, via London.—The German Government has decided to adopt the same measures for the conservation of this year's crop of grain as were employed last year, expropriating all grain and fixing minimum prices for its sale. The expropriation will be in the hands of the communes, however, and the maximum prices will not be fixed until it is seen exactly how the harvest turns out. The same measures will apply to fodder.

POLICE ON TRAIL OF DYNAMITE DEPOSITORS

Quebec Officers Think They Have Spotted Men Wanted.

[Canadian Press.]

Quebec, June 30.—The militia department and M. L. A. Parre Marsan, chief of police of Levis, are continuing today their investigation into the mysterious discovery of 50 sticks of dynamite buried underground in Shaw Park yesterday.

Just now they are of the opinion that they are on the trail of the supposed depositors of the explosives, and have the names of two citizens employed by another Levis company. Why the dynamite was buried is not yet known, but it was said today that it was taken as a precaution to avoid any serious accident.

EMERGENCY CURRENCY LAW DIES AT MIDNIGHT

Measure Passed in United States Reaches Its Time Limit.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, June 30.—The Aldrich-Vreeland emergency currency law under which nearly $400,000,000 was put into circulation during the first days of stress of the European war, dies at midnight by its own limitations. It was intended to expire last year, but had been extended by the new federal reserve law.

Practically all the currency issued has now been retired, and every dollar is expected to be redeemed during the next few days. For its operation $500,000,000 in notes have been kept on hand in the treasury.

The expansion and contraction of currency hereafter will be taken up in the federal reserve system by issues of notes at the regional banks issued on commercial paper.

MISS ARNOLDI IN INGERSOLL.

INGERSOLL, June 29.—An interesting address on Red Cross work, or particularly the branch pertaining to soldiers' comforts, was given by Miss Arnoldi of Toronto in the schoolroom of St. James' Church this evening. Miss Arnoldi appeared here under the auspices of the Soldiers' League.

GRAIN.

Chicago, June 30.—Bullish estimates on the domestic winter crop turned the wheat market up-grade today after an early decline. The total harvest for the seven principal states was figured at nearly 40,000,000 bushels less than the amount realized in 1914. A big reduction in the exportable surplus of India counted also against the bears. Opening prices, which ranged from ⅛c to ⅜c lower, were followed by a slight additional sag and then an advance to well above last night's level.

Winnipeg, June 29.—The local market opened higher. Following the opening there was further fractional advances, developing weakness later under considerable selling pressure. The improved weather conditions all over the American continent were the factors in the selling. July oats advanced again today. Flax was 1c lower on both months at the opening, and later the fluctuations were narrow.

In the cash department there was a little inquiry for Nos. 1, 2 and 3 northern wheat for the Ontario trade, but nothing doing in either oats, barley or flax. Exporters still report no inquiry for export, and little inclination on the part of the foreigner to contract for the new crop. Total inspections on Monday were 166 cars, of which 124 were wheat. In sight today only 60 cars.

Wheat futures closed 1⅞c to 2½c lower; cash wheat, 2½c to 2¾c lower; oats, ¾c to ⅞c lower.

Cash grain—Wheat—No. 1 northern, $1.29¾; No. 2 northern, $1.26¾; No. 3 northern, $1.23; No. 4, $1.19½.

Oats—No. 2 Canadian western, 58¾c; No. 3 Canadian western, 55¾c; extra No. 1 feed, 55¾c.

Flax—No. 1 N. W. C., $1.51; No. 2 Canadian western, $1.48.

Liverpool, June 30.—Wheat—Spot was steady; No. 2 Manitoba, 11s 4½d; No. 3, 11s 3½d; No. 1 northern (Duluth), 11s 3d; No. 2 hard winter, 11s 4d.

WALL STREET.

New York, June 30—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Further uncertainty was reflected in initial dealings on the stock exchange today, with fractional declines in a number of leading shares. The low-priced railways showed increased heaviness, Missouri Pacific falling ¾ to 6⅝, repeating its low record of the early year. United States Rubber was the only industrial to manifest strength, regaining 2 points of its recent severe loss. War shares were neglected, with a decline of a point in Goodrich. Reading soon recovered from its opening decline, with general improvement elsewhere. Every important stock in the international list was lower in London, declining a point in Canadian Pacific, St. Paul and Pennsylvania.

Noon.—Prices continued to fluctuate irregularly during the dull first hour, with increased apathy later. Reading, New York Central and Canadian Pacific were among the few railway issues to make any headway. Bethlehem Steel, Crucible Steel, General Electric, Westinghouse and Baldwin Locomotive rose 1 to 3 points. Amalgamated Copper, American Smelting and other metal stocks were fairly strong, also Mexican Petroleum. Rubber lost much of its advance, but other active industrials, notably United States Steel, were firm. Further weakness in foreign exchange exercised a restraining influence. Bonds were heavy.

1:30 p.m.—Stagnation prevailed in the early afternoon, when the reactionary trench became more pronounced. Minor railway shares showed increasing weakness, Missouri, Kansas and Texas, preferred, losing a total of 3½ points, and making a new low record at 24.

LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE.

London, June 30.—Money was quiet today. Discount rates were barely steady, despite the weakness of American exchange. American eagles amounting to £1,250,000 were received from Brazil and sold to America today. The gold, it is believed, will be transferred from Ottawa to New York.

Active dealings in the old war loan overshadowed the other sections of the stock market, but copper shares were offered, and they closed weak.

With the exception of selling Canadian Pacific to a lower level, business in the American section was confined to further sales of gold bonds at easier prices.

THINKS MEETING IN VIENNA SUCCEEDED

Correspondent Says Hopes of Aid for Entente Less.

[Canadian Press.]

Cologne, Germany, June 30, Via London, 12:30 p.m.—Discussing the interviews of Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg and Foreign Minister Von Jagow with Baron Burian, Austrian foreign minister, the Gazette's Berlin correspondent says it is impossible to state positively as yet how the future policy of Roumania and Bulgaria with regard to the war will shape itself. He asserts, however, that it can be said that the Quadruple Entente's hopes of military support from Roumania and Bulgaria have been materially lessened.

BRIDAL PARTY IN RAILWAY ACCIDENT

Train Ran Into Ditch—Champ Clark's Daughter's Fiance on Board.

[Canadian Press.]

Bowling Green, Mo., June 30.—The Chicago and Alton passenger train, carrying James M. Thomson, fiance of Miss Genevieve Clark, daughter of Champ Clark, and a large party en route to the Thomson-Clark welling, went into a ditch near here last night. No one was seriously injured.

The train was enroute from Kansas City to Chicago, and was crowded with guests to the wedding, including almost the entire bridal party, with the exception of Miss Clark. Four cars left the track and rolled into a ditch.

FRENCH RECAPTURE ALL POINTS LOST

PARIS, June 29.—10:25 p.m.—The official communication issued by the war office tonight says:

"In the Vosges we regained this morning all the positions which we had occupied to the east of Metzeral.

"On the rest of the fronts there is nothing to report except artillery actions."

The war office this afternoon gave out the following:

"In the territory to the north of Arras there was a continuance last night of the cannonading, particularly to the north and to the south of Souchez, and in the north of Neuville. An infantry engagement made it possible for us to make progress along the road between Angres and Ablain.

"In the Argonne, at Bagatelle, yesterday witnessed incessant fighting with torpedoes and hand grenades.

"In the Vosges, an attack by the Germans was successful in forcing back, for the moment, our advance posts located on the slopes to the east of Metzeral. We at once delivered a counter-attack and reoccupied part of the ground lost. ... the remainder of the front ... the ... quietly."

Voice of the People

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Since you saw fit to give such generous publicity in last Thursday's issue of your paper to the disgraceful episode of a certain company of young people, charged with trespassing and disorderly conduct, etc., may we ask at least an equal space in which to speak of certain features of the case not mentioned by your diligent reporter, but in which the public is more distinctly interested than in the personal details of the narrative and their bearing upon the reputation of the individuals mentioned, all of which might have been as creditably recited with more charitable allusion, and a more kindly, considerate feeling for the ones, though apart from the trouble, yet upon whom falls most heavily the odium of the disgrace.

In the first place no mention was made of drink, and the part it played in the affair, and that one of the company was a minor, etc. The Advertiser being classed as a temperance paper, it is passing strange that this feature of the case should have been omitted, even if the judge who passed the sentence should avoid mentioning it. It was a golden opportunity let pass to inform your readers that in the city of London youths are not debarred from purchasing liquor at hotel bars. In this city, filled with Christian people of every sect and creed, and with beautiful and costly church edifices adorning her thoroughfares, youths are allowed to roam the streets nightly, going in and out at the open bar, mingling with the drunken and vile, sharing with them the cup of shame and pollution, and with no one of authority to raise a protest or sound a note of warning. Then when the brain becomes fired, impelling its victims to commit acts of disorder, he is arrested and convicted of willful deeds of lawbreaking, etc. But being under age no mention is made of drunkenness for fear that there might be raised questions of embarrassing nature, as to how and where he procured the liquor. But no judge is competent to pass sentence on a case of this kind until such questions are answered.

For the hotelkeeper who serves liquor to a minor should be held responsible, for any act of criminality committed by such a one while under its influence. And a minor intoxicated when arrested should be forced to tell where he got his drink, and to identify the person selling or giving it to him.

If this was done in all such cases the hotelkeepers of our city would not be so bold and defiant in lawbreaking. Law enforcement is a matter in which all good citizens are interested, regardless of how wide they may differ on other issues. This is the only true basis of government built upon majority rule, and no officer of law should stand in the way of its operation.

Very sincerely, JOHN D. HOWELL.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Having listened recently to what I believe to be a misleading interpretation and application of Revelations xxi., 1-5, from two or three pulpits, permit me to make a few observations thereon from a layman's point of view.

The old theologians and the pulpit in years gone by took the view that the whole chapter from which the above reference is taken is intended to be a pictorial representation of the heavenly inheritance of the saints beyond the grave. This, it may be said, is the view that would naturally appeal to the ordinary unprejudiced reader with no ministerial or theological axe to grind. It is quite consistent, too, with what must have been the state and attitude of mind of the saintly John in lonely exile "for the word of God and the testimony of Jesus." In those times of fierce persecution, when the infant church was struggling for its existence and the individual life was held by a slender tenure, the saints continually buoyed themselves above despair by recounting the glories and permanence of the Father's house as they had it from the lips of Jesus on the eve of his departure.

How different it all is in these opening decades of the twentieth century. The church once despised and persecuted is now a dominating force, not merely in society, but even in the councils of the nations, and enjoys a large measure of peace and prosperity even in the throes of a world-wide war. But it is all too apparent that with the advent of peace and tranquility for the church she has in large measure lost her relish for meditation on the glories of the heavenly Canaan. Even the Christian pulpit is largely dropping the discussion and substituting such themes as "the new democracy of nations"—some taking the above chapter in its entirety as applying to the supposed heavenly conditions to be set up in the world when the ideals of Christ's kingdom are fully realized. Now, whatever we may think as to the wisdom of the pulpit in seeking to shift the centre of interest from the glories of a spiritual haven beyond the grave to the "glorious democracy of nations after the war," we want no captious handling of scripture texts in support of the new viewpoint. Two or three ministers recently, in expounding Revelations xxi., 2, first clause, declared emphatically that the words of the text referred to the kingdom of God on earth because the holy city was said to "come down" from God out of heaven. But, surely in the light of other passages it would be, to say the least, extremely hazardous to base such a view upon the mere form of a vision. The writer in the Acts, chapter xi., tells us how Peter, in order to justify his change of front in regard to his consorting with Gentiles, recounts a vision he had of a great sheet let down from heaven containing four-footed beasts and creeping things, with wild beasts and birds. "And (says the apostle) this was done thrice; and all were drawn up into heaven again." These unclean beasts and creeping things were "let down" from heaven and "drawn up" into heaven again, according to the form of the vision given to Peter—yet as sane men and women we would not infer that these beasts and creeping things were denizens of heaven! No, the mere "coming down" in each case merely suggests to us as it did to John and Peter that the vision was from God.

There is certainly a field in Scripture exegesis where wise and subtle penetration may find full scope, but there is also a field where sanctified common-sense is the best equipment.

NOT A GERMAN BOY.

With reference to a story sent from Simcoe and published in Saturday's Advertiser, telling of the appearance of Peter Peterson, a German, before the police magistrate on a charge of having a firearm in his possession, in which is was stated that Peterson claimed that the rifle belonged to "a German boy named Waffle," the boy's father, Homer Waffle, has taken exception to the statement calling the boy a German, and the parent's protest is gladly noted.

"HATE, HATE THE ACCURSED ENGLISH" TO BE GERMANY'S THEME FOR ALL FUTURE SAYS AN OFFICER IN LILLE NEWSPAPER

To what extent the Germans are going in their attempt to cultivate hatred for Britain is shown in a translation from the Lille War Gazette of March 3, 1915, a weekly newspaper issued by the Germans at Lille. A copy of the paper was found on a German prisoner captured at Neuve Chapelle.

The article in question is entitled "Fire," and was written by Lieut.-Col. Kaden. It is as follows:

As children many of us have played with fire: some of us have seen an outbreak of fire. First a small, tonguelike flame appears, it grows into a devastating fury of heat. We out here in the field have seen more than enough of it.

But there is also the fire of joy, of sacred enthusiasm! It arose from sacrificial altars, from mountain heights of Germany, and lit up the heavens at the time of solstice, and whenever the home countries were in danger. This year fires of joy shall flare from the Bismarck Columns throughout the length and breadth of Germany, for on April 1, just one hundred years ago, our country's greatest son was born. Let us celebrate this event in a manner deep, far-reaching and mighty! BLOOD AND IRON.

Let every German, man or woman, young or old, find in his heart a Bismarck Column, a pillar of fire now in these days of storm and stress. Let this fire, enkindled in every German breast, be a fire of joy, of holiest enthusiasm. But let it be terrible, unfettered; let it carry horror and destruction! Call it HATE. Let no one come to you with "Love thine enemy!" We all have but one enemy, ENGLAND! How long have we wooed her almost to the point of our own self-abasement. She would none of us, so leave to her the apostles of peace, the "No War" disciples. The time has passed when we would do homage to everything English—our cousins that were!

"God punish England!" "May he punish her!" This is the greeting that now passes when Germans meet. The fire of this righteous hate is all aglow!

You men of Germany, from East and West, forced to shed your blood in the defence of your home-land, through England's infamous envy and hatred of Germany's progress, feed the flame that burns in your souls. We have but one war-cry: "GOD PUNISH ENGLAND!" Hiss this to one another in the trenches, in the charge; hiss as it were the sound of licking flames.

Behold in every dead comrade a sacrifice forced from you by this accursed people. Take ten-fold vengeance for each hero's death!

You German people at home, feed this fire of hate!

You mothers, engrave this in the heart of the babe at your breast!

You thousands of teachers, to whom millions of German children look up with eyes and hearts, teach HATE! Unquenchable HATE!

You homes of German learning, pile up the fuel on this fire! Tell the nation that this hate is not un-German, that it is not poison for our people. Write in letters of fire the name of our bitterest enemy. You guardians of the truth, feed this sacred HATE!

You German fathers, lead your children up to the high hills of our home-land, at their feet our dear country bathed in sunshine. Your women and children shall starve; bestial, devilish conception. England wills it! Surely, all that is in you rises against such infamy!

Listen to the ceaseless song of the German forest, behold the fruitful fields like rolling seas, then will your love for this wondrous land find the right words, HATE, unquenchable HATE. Germany, Germany above all!

Let it be inculcated in your children, and it will grow like a landslide, irresistible, from generation to generation.

You fathers, proclaim it aloud over the billowing fields, that the toiling peasant below may hear you, that the birds of the forest may fly away with the message: into all the land, that echoes from German cliffs send it reverberating like the clanging of bells from tower to tower throughout the countryside: "HATE, HATE, the accursed English, HATE!"

You masters, carry the flame to your workshops; axe and hammer will fall the heavier when arms are nerved by this HATE.

You peasants, guard this flame, fan it anew in the hearts of your toilers, that the hand may rest heavy on the plow that throws up the soil of our home-land.

What CARTHAGE was to ROME, ENGLAND is to GERMANY. For ROME as for us it is a question of "to be or not to be." May our people find a faithful mentor like Cato. His "ceterum censeo, Carthaginem esse delendam" for us Germans means—

"GOD PUNISH ENGLAND!"

BROKEN IN HEALTH, ALSO IN POCKET AND OTTAWA DEAF

Gunner Warren Cannot Get Back Pay From Employer, Nor Back Pay From Government—Coming to London for Helping Hand.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

GUELPH, June 29.—Gunner Warren, the first invalid soldier to reach Guelph from the front, was a broken-down man when seen by The Advertiser here today. Warren has seen a lot of fighting in his time and he comes of fighting stock, having lost one brother in the present war and having two more in trenches now. His life has been a tragic one. Two years ago he lost his wife and five children in the floods at Dayton, Ohio, where they were going to visit.

He has three children living now with a sister at London, Eng.

Shipped Back Steerage.

When Warren was discharged from the hospital at Shorncliffe as physically unfit for further service he was sent to Canada via steerage in a party that was under guard with fixed bayonets. His feet had been badly frozen and he was suffering from other injuries. Only by a special favor was he ever allowed to get to a place where he could get a little fresh air. Arriving in this country, he made application to the company that had employed him previous to the war and by which he had been promised six months' pay at the time of enlistment, this promise being made to all their employees.

No Balm at Ottawa.

Here he found out that he could not get this until after the war.

He went to Ottawa and applied personally to the militia department to get his back pay which amounted to some hundreds of dollars, but he could not get that nor an advance of a portion of it.

In all, he has coming to him about $1,600, but is in the position now where he is absolutely dependent on what help he can pick up. His case is a sorry one and Warren is a broken-down man, unable to work.

Looks to London Friend.

There have been many sharp remarks made around town by men of both political stripes concerning the plight of Warren. He has all his discharge papers and doctor's certificate.

He is on his way to London, where he has a friend who will help him out until he gets his pay from the Government.

INGERSOLL TEACHERS ASK FOR SALARY INCREASES

Two Make This Request and Two Others Have Resigned.

INGERSOLL, June 29.—A few changes are certain in connection with the teaching staff of Ingersoll schools when work is resumed after the holidays. The resignations of two teachers, Miss Carroll of the Ward School, and Miss Hurd of the Central School, have already been forwarded to the board of education.

Miss McLeish of London, teacher of room No. 2 of the Central School, has applied to the board for an increase in salary, and a similar request has been received from Mr. Campbell of the Collegiate staff.

NEW POSTMASTER NAMED AT DORCHESTER

DORCHESTER, June 29.—Out of five resident competitors for the position of postmaster, John Talbot was successful in securing the appointment. The office will be removed from its present location as soon as a suitable building can be obtained.

The contracts for the masonry and ironwork of the new Elgin road bridge have been awarded to Richard Waltham of Kerwood, at an estimate of $2,900 and the Dominion Bridge Company of Toronto, at $3,685, respectively.

Some time ago the proprietor of the Dorchester Temperance House got a permit to equip a poolroom in the hotel. Of late it has been the cause of considerable comment, with the result that yesterday a petition was in circulation, asking the council not to grant the owner a permanent license. Decision was given in favor of the petition.

Thomas Kirkpatrick, who for the past 12 years had kept a general store and the postoffice, has sold his store, stock in trade, and dwelling to J. W. Reed of Toronto. Mr. Kirkpatrick and family purpose moving to Toronto, where he has purchased a large apartment house on Harriston avenue.

SHORTHORN BREEDER DIES IN SYLVAN TP.

PARKHILL, June 29. — Stephen Nicholson of Sylvan, township of West Williams, died at his home, Elm Dale Farm, today, after over a year's illness of heart trouble. He was in his 74th year and was born in England. He settled first with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nicholson, in the township of Pickering, in 1854.

Two years later they moved into the bush of the then township of Williams, now West Williams.

Mr. Nicholson was a noted Shorthorn breeder, having exhibited with success at all the large exhibitions from Chatham to Halifax. He is survived by a widow, three sons and three daughters. The funeral will take place on Thursday, July 1, to Sylvan Cemetery.

NO OFFICIAL WORD OF RUPTURE WITH TURKS

But Report From Rome Brings Satisfaction to France.

PARIS, June 29.—Announcement in the Italian press of a rupture between Italy and Turkey with the early intervention of the Italian army and navy alongside the Allies in the Dardanelles, has been received here with much satisfaction, although there has been no official announcement from Rome regarding Italy's plans.

HENSALL PASTOR BIDS GOOD-BYE TO FLOCK

Rev. R. Hicks to Return After Seven Years to Windsor.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

HENSALL, June 29.—Dr. Bean has disposed of his medical practice to Dr. Peck. The former has practiced here for several months and during that period has made many friends who wish him success wherever he may choose to locate. He and his bride arrived here this week after their wedding trip.

Dr. Peck has opened his office in the handsome residence he recently purchased from Thomas Hemphill.

Mark Drysdale and bride are visiting in Mariette, Mich. They are expected home this week.

Hensall people are talking up an "old boys" reunion to be held after the war.

Rev. R. Hicks preached the concluding sermons of his pastorate Sunday. In the evening the Presbyterians closed their church, and as a consequence the Methodist edifice was packed.

Rev. Mr. Hicks and wife leave this week for Windsor where the minister will assume the pastorate of the Second Methodist Church. This will be his second term with that congregation, after an interval of seven years.

The ladies of Carmel Church held the annual strawberry festival, last week. Though the evening was cold there was a good turnout and the receipts amounted to $100.

Jack frost has done much harm in this section, especially to beans and potatoes. Corn was also affected but the latter will grow up again.

While butter is not pentiful there is enough to supply local demands.

BRILLIANT METEOR IS SEEN AT KINCARDINE

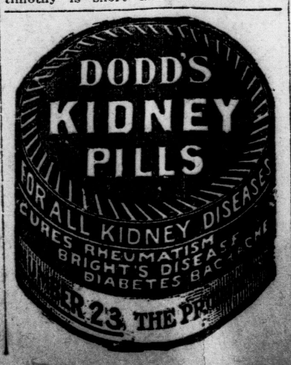

Visible About Ten Seconds Late On Sunday Night.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

KINCARDINE, June 29.—A magnificent meteor passed here on Sunday night about ten minutes to eleven o'clock. It appeared in the south and passed about 35 degrees east of the zenith. A part of it broke away and with diminished speed faded away. The meteor was visible between seven and ten seconds.

HAY SHORT AND THIN.

EXETER, June 29.—The farmers are busy these days cutting their hay, which is very light in this district. Alfalfa is a fair crop, but clover and timothy is short and thin.

"NON-RESIDENT" GETS CIVIC JOB BACK

George Loney Reinstated By Board of Works—Taxed For Watering They Don't Get.

George Loney, a South London man, who was discharged from the street cleaning gang because Ald. Lerner and others complained to Superintendent Dodd that he was a non-resident, was reinstated by the board of works at its meeting last night. He was able to show that he is not only a resident of London, but a property-owner as well.

Superintendent Dodd said that before laying Loney off he consulted with Mayor Stevenson. Chairman Donnelly scored the superintendent for not making sure, and said that such tactics will have to stop. Loney will be given his position back at once.

Residents of Ridout street complained that they are being charged in their tax bill for street watering which they have not got and cannot get, as the street is torn up. They asked for rebates, but before making any the board will see if any street watering can be done, and if not, rebates will be granted.

Chairman Donnelly and the city engineer were appointed a committee to see what can be done towards having a billboard at the corner of Stanley street and Wortley road moved back. As it stands now, it hides the view at what it is claimed is a particularly dangerous crossing, as both autos and street cars meet there after coming downhill.

O'DONOVAN ROSSA DEAD; IRISH REVOLUTIONIST

NEW YORK, June 29. — Jeremiah O'Donovan, better known as O'Donovan Rossa, Irish patriot and revolutionist, died in St. Vincent Hospital, Staten Island, late today. He had been ill for many months.

INGERSOLL.

INGERSOLL, June 29.—Mr. and Mrs. John Fairbank and daughters, Millie and Flossie, accompanied by Rubén Nancekivell of Ingersoll, motored to Belmont to attend the Knox Church graden party held on the lawn of A. A. Taylor.

PASTOR COMES TO LONDON.

PETROLEA, June 29.—Rev. H. D. Moyer preached his farewell sermon to a large congregation Sunday night. He has been here four years, and has been called to the Hyatt Street Church in London. Rev. Dr. Knowles of St. Thomas will succeed him.

PATRIOTIC CELEBRATION.

PARK HILL, June 29.—An interesting service was held at the Baptist Church on Sunday morning, when the Sunday school celebrated the annual flower service. The program arranged was of a patriotic nature, "Loyalty to God and King and Country."

NEWLY-WEDS AT EXETER.

EXETER, June 29. — Rev. Mr. McLauchlin and bride, of Omemee, are visiting the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Charles Tom, Carling street.

Herb Horell and bride have returned home and are now living on Station street.

CLANDEBOYE CHURCH REOPENED.

CLANDEBOYE, June 29.—The reopening services held Sunday in the Methodist Church at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. were largely attended, and the pastor, Rev. Mr. Barnby, delivered two strong sermons. The strawberry festival held on the church grounds on Thursday evening last netted about $95, which will go towards paying for the redecorating of the church.

125 FACTORIES NOW MAKE SHELL BOXES THROUGHOUT CANADA

Walkerton Firm Gets Contract for 25,000—Hold Two Shells Apiece.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WALKERTON, June 29.—The Knechtel Furniture Company's branch received today an order for 25,000 boxes to hold howitzer shells. Each box is made to hold two shells of the 45 size. The boxes are to be made of spruce with maple ends. To complete this order will take eight carloads of lumber and a car of hardware.

The order is worth about $20,000. It is stated on the authority of the shell committee of the war department that there are 125 wood-working factories in Canada working on shell boxes only. This order will take about six weeks to complete, and with their ordinary work will require an increased staff working overtime to complete.

CLANDEBOYE.

CLANDE... June 29.—Mr. and Mrs. Jack McClurg, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Glen and Miss MacKay of London visited Mrs. E. A. McKenzie, Sunday.

Frank MacGregor of Ridgetown is holidaying with friends here.

Miss Ina Bice is spending a week with her parents of this place.

"BLIND PIGS" SUPPLIED THROUGH EXPRESS CO.

Agent Loses His Position and is Fine One Thousand Dollars.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, June 29. — The Ontario license commission has announced that it has "got to the bottom" of the source of supply for the "blind pigs" in the Porcupine unlicensed district. Efforts in the past to locate the source have failed, but Chairman Flavelle announced yesterday that through the efforts of Provincial Inspector Rogers the board "has been able to trace and discover a large portion of the liquor that had been sent into the district."

The liquor has been sent by express without the knowledge of the express company. The agent of the company was fined $1,000 and lost his position.
