Voice Returned

Chicago, June 6.-After 21 years of silence, during which time he was unable to utter an intelligible word, Louis Mendelson suddenly regained his power of speech vesterday. The return of words was as mysterious as the affliction which silenced him so long. Mendelson is 38 years old, and until yesterday had not spoken since he was 17 years old. To the surprise of his three brothers and his friends he walked into their wholesale liquor store and said. "Hello, is this hot enough for you?" Samuel Mendelson, one of his brothers, was so shocked by the unexpected remark that he failed to answer the question. Louis told his brothers that he had felt a sudden tickling in his vocal chords, and the impulse to attempt speech had grown so strong that he could no resist it. When he tried he discovered that his voice responded. Mendelson lost his voice after an attack of fever when he was in his 17th

London Conference Calls New Liquor Law Unfair.

CO-OPERATION WITH W. C. T. U

Resolution Forwarded to Ottawa Protesting Against Jewish Exemption on Lord's Day Bill.

[Special to The Advertiser.] he temperance and moral reform committee, presented to the Methodist Conference this morning, the Whitney Government was criticised for curtailing the local option vote.

"We deplore the fact that Ontario Government have put such unfair conditions upon the local option section of the new liquor law as to make it well-nigh unworkable, and we hope that such steps will be taken as to put this law on a more equitable basis." The above paragraph formed on recommendation of the report.

It was also recommended that the Government be asked to close barrooms and liquor shops on Good Friday

Thanksgiving and Christmas. W. C. T. U. Commended. The work of the W. C. T. U. was commended, and it was recommended that their repeated requests for co-operation in regard to the cigarette evil, municipal franchise for women, and ban upon the bar be granted Another rather important recommendation was that only unfermented wine be used for sacramental purposes. The report was signed by T. B. Coupland, chairman, and A. J. Langford, secretary.

An Especial Evangelist. Some discussion was occasioned by the motion of Rev. M. Toll and Rev. Mr. Wallwin, that Rev. W. E. Millson be set apart for one year for special evangelistic work. Turning to Mr. Borden's most extraordinary amendment, asking for an investigation—the most extraordinary ever submitted to this or evidently been submitted with the expectation that it would be voted down, and the Opposition would be given another opportunity to talk about the wickedness of refusing an investigation when there was nothing to investigate. They had never condescended even to place before the House any reasons for the motion carry ing. the second largest Protestant comand country. Consequently, the gather-2he Presbyterian Church has appresiated deeply the great need of our fast-growing west to be supplied with Gospel ordinances, that our great material development and success may not blind us to the higher claim of that righteousness which alone exaltunder the able and inspiring leadership of Rev. The Presbyterian Church is intensely democratic. Her system of government provides that the ultimate power shall rest with the memlership. She the democratic, liberty-loving people of Canada, and her growth has been rapid and sure. Comparing the year 1875, when the several branches of Presbyterianism in Canada united, with horrors concealed in a tin box. the year 1904, we find that he number of ministers increased from 654 to 1. $53; congregations, from 706 to 1.687; communicants, from 88,288 to 232,734; and contributions for all nurposes from $982,672 to $2,538,810. This ratio of increase is manifestly beyond that of our growth in population, and proves that the Presbyterian Church is a living force in our national life.

the Assembly met in London, and evangel of Formosa, who was then to ancient custom preached the openfinance minister of the church, and Robertson, the apostle of the great West, and many other great figures of a recent day-men of broad outlook and statesmanlike vision-are now numbered among the mighty dead. Had the church foreseen such losses in one short decade she might well ahve quailed at the prospect. But the work has gone on. New men have been found to fill the breaches and to build wisely and well upon the strong and deep foundations laid by their predecessors. The Presbyterian Church is essentially a church militant. She rests not upon her past in idle complaisance. She realizes that in Canada there is yet much land to be possessed, and she is ready to go forward and conquer in the name of her great King and Head. Animated by this spirit it is safe to predict that the Presbyterian body. whether alone or in a larger alifance with sister churches, will continue to be one of the great factors making for righteousness in this formative period

[New York World.] Boston this week is to be the center of a remarkable pilgrimage. Visitors States. Steamships are bringing to New York distinguished foreign travelers on their way to the New England metropolis. The event with a call so wide is a Christian Science assembly, wth the dedication of a $2,000,000 Mother Church" as its leading feature. Christian Science as a "discovery" is 40 years old; as the creed of an associated body of believers it is 30. In 1876 there were one church and seven communicants. Now there are 657 chartered churches, 277 organized missions. 42,000 communicants and 1,000,000 adherents, according to the church

New York had three recognized practitioners of the Scientist faith in 1889. Now it has 137, Chicago has 232 and Boston 149. In London there are 39 healers, and San Francisco before the earthquake had the same number. Of New York's six Christian Science church buildings one cost more than a million dollars and another more than a quarter of a million. Chicago has four churches, Buffalo and Kansas City have two each. Every Scientist edifice is paid for in cash as it is built. Out of its material progress Christian Science furnishes an interesting chapter to the religious history of the

JOHN BURNS' GOOD ADVICE.

[Brantford Expositor.] John Burns has been indulging some plain talk to the new Labor party in Great Britain. "I view with positive disfavor, and, if it does not cease, with some apprehension," he is reported to have said, "the tendency on the part of what is known as the Labor movement to isolate itself from men who are not manual laborers. For labor to deliberately, narrowly and foolishly cut itself off from the best and brightest spirit of mankind, simply because they have not been hewers of wood and drawers of water, is to cut off the path for their own advancement in the near future, and inflict upon themselves disability, which one day they will find the folly and mistake of doing." There is properly no dividing line between mental labor and manual labor. Both members of the industrial army are entitled to consider themselves "workingmen," and the interests of the two are so interlocked that In one of its blackguardly tirades the it is impossible to separate them. They

MUCK-RAKERS OF AN EARLIER DAY

[From the New York World.]

The "muck-raker" is by no means the publication of "The Jungle" is the semi-centennial of the appearance of Charles Reade's "It's Never Too Late to Mend," a book which the critics of the time found as "revolting" as they now find Mr. Sinclair's work, and for reasons much the same. Its fidelity to fact in the portrayal of prison abuses shocked a conservative sentiment which was later to demand the very reforms in the treatment of convicts of which it showed the need.

The novel with a purpose long ago became common in English fiction. Reade himself, Oxford don that he was and man of refin d culture, handled the muck-rake without gloves. In "Hard Cash" published in 1863), he exposed the evils of private lunatic asylums, and in "Foul Play," in 1869, gave the world that forcible arraignment of the traffic in sailors' lives by ship-owners which was said to have inspired Plimsoll's efforts for the protection of Brit ish seamen from the risks of unseaworthy vessels.

Even before Reade, Charles Dickens in "The Pickwick Papers," in 1836, had dealt a blow at prison evils. In "Nicholas Nickleby" (published in 1838), he laid bare the petty oppressions of school life in Yorkshire, with the thoroughness of a government inspector. In 'Oliver Twist," in the same year, h laughed away the incompetence of parish charity officials and greatly aided poor law reform. The Dickens gallery of grafters and swindlers is a full one.

In recent times in England Walter Besant's "All Sorts and Conditions o Men," by the light it threw on the deplorable social conditions of London's east side, was almost directly responsible for the institution of the People's Palace, and gave a strong impetus to settlement work for the reclamation of the submerged.

Our own great example of muckrake fiction of a former time is "Uncle Tom's Cabin," curiously enough, from a feminine pen. No one, least of all Mrs. Stowe herself, foresaw the extraordinary influence which this tract in the form of a romance, called forth by the fugitive slave law, was destined to exercise in securing the freedom of slaves. On its publication in book form in 1852 the author despaired of its success. "It seemed that there was no hope; that nobody would read, that nobody would hear." Within five years 500,000 copies had been sold, and its place at the head of all novels of moral motives established.

Talks on Orange Meat

Canadian from field to table.

ORANGE MEAT is made from the best wheat grown in Canada. That's the reason why it is the best cereal in the world. From the Western wheat fields, it is brought by rail and lake right to our elevators at Kingston. Then our experts cook, malt and toast it changing wheat starch to wheat sugars. From the time it enters our elevators as wheat-until it comes on your table as ORANGE

MEAT-it is never touched by human hands. The wheat is entirely handled by machinery. It is a Canadian cereal-perfected by Canadians-to build up the health and delight the appetite of Canadians.

ORANGE MEAT contains all the body, brain and vigor building elements of wheat. Analysis shows that ORANGE MEAT contains more wheat sugars than any other cereal.

It's not merely "something good to eat." It is a perfect FOOD. It contains the whole wheat—the outer shell omitted from flour and the wheat germ which supplies Phosp to the nerves and brain. ORANGE MEAT weighs 1/3 more than any other package.

Your grocer has ORANGE MEAT in 15c. and 25c. packages. 15c. size contains coupons good for new premiums. 25c. size contains 21/2 times the 15c. quantity. Write "Orange Meat, Kingston", for new premium catalogue.

Many Women Think That it is impossible to make good pastry from flour made of Manitoba Hard Wheat, and, consequently, buy one kind of flour for bread and another for pastry. Since the appearance of "FIVE ROSES" FLOUR on the market there is no need for any housekeeper to do this, as this brand is made by a process which renders it not only the ideal flour for bread, but which guarantees equally good results for pastry when used the "FIVE

"FIVE ROSES" FLOUR will make lighter and flakier pastry than any ordinary brands on the market, whether made from Manitoba or Ontario wheat.

All we ask is that you will give "FIVE ROSES" a fair and unprejudiced trial for pastry on your next baking day. The results will, we know, more than satisfy you.

LONDON HOMES TO BE THROWN WIDE OPEN TO 400 DELEGATES

Billets Secured for the Members of the Presbyterian General Assembly.

The homes of the Forest City will, for the next eight days, be thrown wide open to the delegates to the Presbyterian General Assembly, which opens this evening in the First Church.

Four hundred clergy and laymen from all points of the Dominion are expected. The task of billeting this large number was no easy matter, but it was successfully accomplished by an energetic committee, of which Mr W. C. A horse may only have one life, but some we know give a splendid imitation of death and resurrection, sure enough.

The Tecumsehs made a good impression in Montreal, but they cannot be dangerous when they are tossing the nice language at them.

This is the greatest season for sport in London since A. D. 32. We are as strong as Sandow making mind-bets on the races, and walking ten miles to catch a 2-inch shiner. Verily, this sporting life is hades.

Far be it from any of us to say a discordant word about the United States in relation to sports or otherwise, but some dyspeptic individual may try to justify an invidious comparison between our and Canada's reception of world's winners. Over the border, they loaded their champion down with a wonderful weight of wealth and lionized him beyond measure. Here in the United States, Martin Sheridan arrives, goes back "on the force," notes with surprise that his salary has been docked while he was away making fame and history for us, and then humbly betakes himself to the city hall to enter a plea for reimbursement. He is discovered and graciously given the privilege of the floor. And up to date, that is about all he has gotten out of it. Sherldan, of course, is satisfied. What is mere wealth compared to what he got? And if Sheridan is satisfied, why are we concerned?-Milwaukee Sentinel.

The reply was: "They have been matched 39 times and fought once. They wouldn't spar two rounds for points with sofa pillows." But the first promoter had a hunch. "They fought the 20th time they were matched. They are due again for the 40th."

The idea seemed to stick. The telegraph wires, as they say in sporting stories, were kept hot. Ryan said he would fight ten rounds against all the O'Briens in the world. O'Brien allowed that he knew one of that name who would be O'Brien said he would like to wear a few bandages if there were no ob-

Ryan added that, both men on their feet, a draw was his customary method of fighting. O'Brien replied with a message that it made no difference to him, as Ryan would be on his back long before that. Both insisted that hitting should be allowed in the clinches, between rounds and after the fight. The New York promoter was pleased. He said: "They are like two chained lions tugging to get loose and at each other. My only fear is that we won't be able to keep them apart until the day of the fight." The threat of the governor didn't worry the promoter. It only advertised the go. He spent $2,000 for advertising, put up $3,000 for the garden.

Chicago Tribune: If any one doubts the crying need for a thorough and inchanges in the past, made by men tween new rules added from time to the present code is provocative of a great deal of confusion in the minds of almost anyone except the trained and experienced umpire. One of the most frequent queries received has to do with the problem whether a base runner can advance on a foul tip caught by the catcher or must return same as he must on any other foul, whether he is caught or not. Major league umpires allow base runners to advance on foul tips which are caught, of the magnates, is not at all clear in ing of other rules the wording of the rules. The first section under rule 55 asserts that base runner must return to his base "if the umpire declares a foul tip (as defined in rule 46), or any other foul hit not legally caught by a fielder." According to in overlooking palpable conflicts betime and old rules or parts of rules, there is no such thing as a foul tip "not legally caught," as is specified in rule 55. That the latter rulemakers recognized the existence of a foul tip which was not caught is proved by a section of rule 73, which directs the umpire to call a strike on "a foul tip caught by the catcher standing within the lines of his position." Once more, to the base from which he started, the a section of rule 49 says "a foul tip the lines of his position," is a strike. Weather Unusually Dry-Last Ten Days Evened Up Conditions.

Toronto, June 5 .- The Government's eport of May weather conditions in Ontario says:

The weather in this Province was somewhat cool in most districts and unusually dry, but with these exceptions the departures from the normal were unimportant. Much bright sunshine occurred during the first five or six days, also from the 14th to 15th and last three days of the month, but the sky was frequently overcast and showers and thunderstorms were recorded on or about the 2nd, 8th, 9th, 12th, 13th, 17th, 18th, 26th and 28th. Hall was reported from several stations on or about the 2nd, and snow occurred in President Roosevelt carried Nebras-ka, Bryan's state, in 1904, by 86,682, Mcand upon several dates they were general, causing some damage to plant life. During the last ten days of the month vegetation made rapid progress, and on the 31st conditions were normal.

TORONTO. Toronto, June 5.—The run at the city cattle market today was 83 loads, with 1,290 head of cattle, 386 sheep and lambs, 630 hogs and 540 calves. Trade was very active and the market higher all round. The demand for export cattle was particularly keen, everything in that class being picked up early at top prices. There were some very good qual-ity cattle offering, one or two very choice loads being as good as any seen in the market for some time. The T. Crawford arm received one very fine load, which sold at $5 30. It was stated that the present condition of the old country markets did not warrant the advance in prices here, but the fact that shippers had to fill boat space already contracted for, was sufficient to account for the extra de-

The spurt in the export trade sent all the market up, and the local butchers have to get in the market early to get their supplies, with prices on the jump. Some very choice picked butcher cattle were bought at $5. While these were the exception, the general run of butchers' prices were 10c to 15c higher than last

The stocker trade was unusually quiet, very little in this class offering, though there is a fairly steady market for good stockers and heavy feeders.

The sheep and lamb market was slow, with prices on the easy side.

The hog market is very firm, and 19c higher than last week.

> The county council met yesterday afternoon. The chief matters of discussion were the reports of the special committees regarding the building of bridges at Plover Mills and at Sylvan. It was decided to build a new bride at Plover Mills, to cost not more than $10,000. The matter of building a new bridge at Sylvan was not decided, as the committee did not come to an agreement with the County of Lambton. The full text of their report is as follows:

"Your committee met a committee from Lambton county council on Wednesday, Feb. 21, at Sylvan bridge. The Lambton committee requested that the new bridge be built 200 feet long, but subsequently decided to agree to a bridge 150 feet in the clear.

Spectacular Rescue by Brave Fire Laddies.

DETERMINED TO END LIFE

Stone curb, per foot, 44 cents; asphalt Fireman and Constable on End of Extension Ladder Dragged Him Resisting from Torrent.

> Niagara Falls, Ont., June 6.-Amos Sweitzer, of Toronto, 29 years old, was rescued from death at the brink of the American Fall at 2:06 o'clock yesterday morning by members of the Niagara Falls police and fire departments. The rescue forms one of the most thrilling incidents in the history of Niagara Falls.

It was about 1 o'clock that Sweitzer was discovered in the water about 500 feet back from the brink of the American Fall by colored waiters from Prospect Park before rettring. He was wading out from the shore. They called to him to come back, but he paid no attention to them. Word was hurriedly sent to Patrolman Dennis Blake, on duty at the foot of Falls street, and he ran to the river front. Securing a long pole, he waded out into the river. Sweitzer took hold of it and attempted to drag Blake with him. Then, throwing the pole aside, he was upset by the current, and was carried swiftly toward the brink. Time after time he managed to regain his feet, but it was not until he was within fifteen feet of the edge of the precipice and 35 feet out from the shore at Prospect Point, that he was able to withstand the course of the current, and stood knee-deep in the river, seemingly hesitating about taking the final step that would end his life.

word was sent to fire headquarters for an extension ladder, and with all street to the river, driving like mad. Officer Batts, from police headquarters, went with them. The big 40-foot extension ladder was fairly hurled from the truck when Prospect Point was reached. The firemen, police, and others ran it out from the point over the flood that was dropping over the cliff. At the shore end the ladder was weighted down with a load of humanity, all excited to the utmost point. When the great ladder was in flerce struggle.
