PRIZES PRESENTED
AT CLOSE OF BABY
WELFARE CLINICS

$5 Postoffice Savings Orders
Are Awarded To Winners.

DR. W. J. BELL SPEAKS

Thoughtful Address by Dr.
Helen McMurphy Feature of Program.

The presentation of prizes for the best babies entered at the big baby welfare clinics held during the past week at the Technical School was the biggest feature of the closing evening of the exhibit. Baby Arthur Tanenman, 375 Central avenue, was the winner of the prize for the best baby under 1 year of age. Baby Margaret Meyer, 122 Wharncliffe road, north, baby between 1 and 2 years of age. Baby Constance Osbourne, 125 Wharncliffe road, south, the winner of the prize for the best baby between 2 and 5 years of age. Baby Walter and baby Albert Coulson, 114 Fullerton street, the best pair of twins, and there were five pairs entered. These Coulson twins also took the prize last year. There was also a prize offered for the baby in each regular city clinic, making the greatest progress since attendance there. Of these prizes, Baby Thomas Hammond, 457 Central avenue, was the winner at the Talbot Street Clinic. Baby William Sewell, 62 Gamble street, at the Rectory Street Clinic and Baby Kenneth Kernan, 42 Garfield avenue, at the Victoria School Clinic.

Postal Orders Are Prizes.
Several of the babies were presented to receive their own prizes, crisp $5 orders on the postoffice savings department, proudly borne away in chubby hands, but quickly confiscated by mothers for safe-keeping. The prizes were distributed by Mrs. David Williams, vice-president of the Child Welfare Association. Col. Gartshore, the president, had been conducting during the afternoon under the supervision of Dr. W. J. Bell of the Provincial Child Welfare Bureau at Toronto.

Dr. Bell complimented the city on its very fine babies, being especially pleased that the babies under one year were better even than the older ones, showing that child welfare methods were getting a hold on the community.

Debt of Gratitude.
"This town owes a special debt of gratitude to those who have been devoting their time to Child Welfare work," he declared. "It is the greatest work that was ever undertaken by any community or government, for no work will have such a wonderful effect on the nation and the people. A child may be worth $10,000 to the nation, you never can tell."

The principal speaker of the evening, however, was Dr. Helen McMurphy of the Dominion Child Welfare Department, Ottawa.

"We people in Canada must get down to brass tacks," she declared, "and a divine discontent is the first brass tack to which we must get down. Before the war we were perfectly satisfied. Babies had to die and mothers had to die. It was a sad thing, but it had to be."

War Awakened Nation.
There were others who didn't die and seemed to be all right. Then the war awakened Canada, when her recruiting agents found so many men unfit for overseas service, possessing defects which might have been corrected or prevented in childhood, and when many of her most perfect men were killed overseas. Then Canada began to realize that she must conserve her babies and her mothers.

About 230,000 children are born every year in Canada, and 113 out of every thousand of these babies die during their first year. London is a little better than the average, with 104 dying out of every thousand, but it is far behind such cities as Vancouver were, but 55 out of every 1,000 die. In England and Wales the rate is 80 per 1,000, and in New Zealand the rate has been brought as low as 40 per 1,000.

The speaker also mentioned one place in British Columbia, where but one infant death had taken place during 1920 and none so far in 1921. She was not sure of the births in that town, however.

Artificial Feeding Error.
"Artificial feeding was one of the greatest errors of the 19th century," she declared. "Every mother can nurse her baby. The fault lies with the doctors and nurses, who do not teach the mothers how. And it is the only way to give a baby a fair chance."

The speaker then went on to mention the great maternal mortality in Canada. In February last statistics show that Canada lost over three mothers a day in child birth. This means that for every 1,000 babies born about six mothers' lives are lost. In the United States the rate is about the same, and they are becoming very alarmed about it. In Great Britain the number of mothers' lives lost is but three in every 1,000. And all this can be prevented if the doctor is given a fair chance.

I am asking that when the new Dominion statistics are made out of the maternal mortality rate, the reckoned with the infant mortality."

Dr. McMurphy during her talk made an interesting contrast of two cities, the one depending on a mere pittance on the health of the community and the other maintaining a proper health department, with health officer, public health nurses, etc. It was the latter city which came safely through with epidemics and spent the least amount of money in the end.

"Child welfare means a chance for every child and to every mother," said the speaker. "The Prince of Wales put it very well when he said to the English people that what the people of the British Empire wanted was that every man and woman should be rewarded for their labor, and that every child born in the British Empire should get a fair, sporting chance."

In the afternoon addresses were given by Dr. E. W. Fuller on the "Care of the Babies' First Teeth," and by Miss Stewart of the Technical School on "Good Housekeeping."

BAPTISTS ENDURED MUCH

Stirring Appeal For Assistance For Denomination in War Areas.

Vividly portraying conditions in the poverty-stricken and devastated areas of war-torn Europe, Dr. Rushbrook of London, England, held the unbroken attention of a large representative gathering of local Baptists throughout a vigorous address last evening at the Adelaide Street Baptist Church. With headquarters in London, England, Dr. Rushbrook is Baptist commissioner for the entire churches of the world. Direct from the scenes of his recent labors in the interests of the Baptist Church, including four tours of investigation, embracing every country of Europe, excepting Soviet Russia, he has just lately arrived on this continent. He is now touring Canada and the United States appealing to the Baptist brethren for material assistance in the rehabilitation of the spiritual forces of the church in those countries so greatly disturbed by the late struggle.

In relating the determination of the recent conference in England of delegates from all the Baptist unions of the world, Dr. Rushbrook stated that the Baptist churches of Canada would be asked to co-operate in restoring life and organization to the Baptist movement in the newly-formed republics of Lithuania, Estonia and Latvia, those northern Baltic districts whose share of war, poverty and persecution had been manifold, he asserted.

Persecuted in Rumania.
In the course of the evening the speaker made many interesting references relative to his experiences as a member of a small mission which set out from England to report on conditions among the Baptist brethren in those countries with whom all communists had been eliminated directly by hostilities commenced. Not Guilty, the feature picture at the Allen Theatre yesterday and today, is one that holds the interest to the last foot of film and yet is neither full of blood-curdling scenes nor miracles performed by a six-foot hero. The story is of two brothers, one of whom is a murderer, the other a good man. In their childhood the other brother shot the supposed murderer while they were at play, and although the boy recovered, his physician stated that later in life he would have a weakness. The brother who shot him thus blames himself for the murder and succeeds in getting the fugitive to change identities with him, he taking the part of the fugitive. He goes to India and is not heard of for five years.

A girl whom he had loved dearly but who at the time he knew her was engaged to be married, does not marry and longs for him. Finally she meets him, but he is a changed man. He is told that he is her former adorer, she has a feeling that he is not. She and the sister of the two boys go to India on a tour and there by chance meet the fugitive brother, whom she finally discovers is the man of her heart. He is about to be taken back to face a murder charge, when another European, who is dying, confesses.

Besides an extremely interesting episode of "The Son of Tarzan," a Tootle Trolley comedy and news and educational films are on the bill.

Rumanian administration, which until last January had persecuted the Baptists of that country to such an extent as to forbid them holding meetings or practicing their belief under pain of death. Dr. Rushbrook assured his audience as a result of their relentless struggle, combined with untimely faith, the Government had restored to the Baptists of Rumania all the liberty and privileges allowed the other denominations.

In conclusion, the speaker stated that religious liberty was more pronounced than ever before the war in Austria, Hungary, and throughout Europe generally.

Nothing Further For Publication At Present, Says Union President.

Although T. A. Stevenson, representing the department of labor, Ottawa, interviewed both the officials of the London Street Railway and its employees Friday afternoon and evening, no further developments in the situation have been reported. The local officials of the company are waiting for President Charles Currie of Akron, Ohio, who is expected to arrive here at noon today before they take any action or formulate any plans.

The executive of the men's union held a session with Mr. Stevenson present last night. At the conclusion of the meeting, their president, John Colbert, announced that nothing could be given out for publication other than the men would go ahead with their plan for a board of arbitration. The men, he said, would just as soon have the matter settled by arbitration as any other way.

RED CROSS IS MAKING DRIVE FOR MEMBERS

Organization Plans To Extend Splendid Work Throughout Dominion.

The Canadian Red Cross Society is holding a campaign for membership during the week of May 22 throughout the whole of Canada. The special objects of this campaign, to which the governor-general has given his sanction and approval in a recent proclamation, are two-fold: First, the society has been permitted by act of Parliament to enlarge its original charter in order to enable its members to undertake, in addition to the work for soldiers in war and peace, all work which can in any way increase the facilities for public health in the community, and it is the main purpose of this campaign to link up all those who would so splendidly for the society during the "war years," with this new and equally important "peace program" by which it is hoped to counteract, to some extent at least, the terrible wastage of valuable life during the war. Second, to provide funds to carry on both a practical and an educational program for public health.

In full accord. With both these objects the local branch is, of course, in full accord. In addition to its extensive work for the soldiers still undergoing treatment in the local hospitals, our branch has established and financed, for the first year of its existence, the Day Nursery, which has already proved so valuable a safeguard to the health and well-being of those little ones whose mothers are obliged to earn their living, and yet have no one with whom they may safely leave their children during the day. When Dr. H. W. Hill established a course in public health nursing at the Western University last September, the local Red Cross undertook to pay the salary for the supervisor of the course for a period of three years, because it was realized by our executive that it would be of inestimable benefit to the cause of public health in this district to have such a course established at our own university. The success of the first year of this course has already proved its great usefulness and even better results are confidently expected in the future by those responsible for it.

Contributed $3,500. The local branch also contributed the sum of $2,500 for the relief of soldiers' families during the winter months, when unemployment was unfortunately very prevalent. This sum was distributed through the agency of the soldiers' aid commission, whose offices are equipped to do this work, in which the assistance to our returned men took the form of helping them to keep their wives and children in health at a time when many of them were, through no fault of their own, temporarily without work.

In these and various other ways, our branch has identified itself with the new peace policy, but we have never at any time forgotten that as headquarters for London and the Western Ontario District our first consideration must always be the soldiers' undergoing treatment in the hospitals of Military District No. 1, and that as long as we have sick soldiers in this district all other work must be secondary. This fact alone makes the position of our branch more or less unique, because in the majority of Red Cross branches and circles in this province the war work is entirely finished. In fact, a great deal of money was contributed to our branch after the Armistice from the district, because it was very rightly felt that the work of caring for the soldiers and giving them "cheer" and entertainment could best be done by our committees in London.

To this belief is also due another important fact which makes our position different to that of the majority of branches in Ontario. In January, 1919, a large sum was subscribed by the citizens of London for the express purpose of enabling the local branch to care for our soldiers in hospital. This sum, properly invested by the men's advisory board and carefully and economically administered by the executive, has been kept intact for the purpose for which it was subscribed, and it is hoped that it will prove sufficient for the hospital needs for several years longer. All other demands are met by a smaller, separate fund, left over from money subscribed for war needs and no longer required.

The generosity of our citizens in supplying with this large sum in January 1919, is fully appreciated by our executive, and, after careful consideration, the opinion was unanimously held that, with adequate funds at our disposal, we would not be justified in making a house-to-house canvass for membership as it is being done elsewhere.

We believe and hope that the society

FIRST AMERICAN ORCHESTRA TO PLAY HERE.

A coast-to-coast tour, the first in its seventy-nine years of uninterrupted music-making in America, is now being completed by the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, the oldest symphonic organization in the country, and the third oldest in the world. The tour, which will bring the Philharmonic to London Monday, May 30, at the Winter Gardens, under the auspices of the Musical Art Society, is also the first trip further west than Detroit that the orchestra has made since 1915, when the Philharmonic successfully undertook an extended middle western and southern journey. For those cities, therefore, which are farther away from New York than the somewhat restricted district usually covered by the orchestra's short yearly trips, the proposed coast-to-coast tour will be not only a new opportunity, but one which may not present itself again for many years. The public sale of seats opens at Heintzman's next Thursday morning. Seats may be reserved by subscription now at the Institute of Musical Art.

A Great Future. Those who will join will have the double satisfaction of becoming members of a world-wide organization with an honorable history and a great future; and by helping to swell the number of London's members, of keeping the London and Western Ontario branch in the forefront in peace as it always was in the war.

Our boys and girls are to have an opportunity of joining the Junior Red Cross, which is to be organized through the co-operation of the board of education in the schools of the city during the week of May 22nd. A small fee of 25 cents will help to swell the building fund of the War Memorial Children's Hospital, and the youthful members will form a mighty little army in the fight for "better health" in our own city.

Membership tickets for Canadian Red Cross Society—$1.00—may be obtained from the honorary treasurer, Mrs. A. E. Cooper, 526 Waterloo street, telephone 850.

World-Recovery Sure If Germany Does Not Default

The start of real world-recovery is seen by many in Germany's eleventh-hour acceptance of the terms imposed by the Allied reparations commission—unless Germany defaults on her agreement. By this submission—delayed until the shadow of French invasion lay black across the Ruhr valley—"a tremendous menace is lifted from the world," declares the New York Herald, which bids the nations rejoice "at the new prospect of peace, tranquility, and stability." A Paris dispatch quotes Thomas W. Lamont, the American banker who, during the treaty negotiations, was financial adviser to the United States Government, as saying that German acceptance of the reparations program means "salvation for Germany, and a new era for the rest of Europe"; and the New York Daily News admonishes us that "this is an excellent time for the people of the United States of America to stop worrying and go back to work."

The leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST this week presents American public opinion upon the effect that Germany's surrender will have upon the peace and future prosperity of the world. It also shows the total amount Germany must pay to the Allied nations, how it is to be paid, and how it is to be divided.

AFTER THE PURCHASE PRICE-DEPENDABILITY

Dodge Brothers have never lost sight of the fact that dependability must be included in the purchase price of their car.

Because of its dependability, the United States Government, officially selected this car without solicitation, for the strenuous service which the battlefields of France demanded.

Dodge Brothers will continue to build their car so well, that it will always be dependable and the purchase price will be as nearly as possible the last expenditure.

his lordship has written to Sir Edward McKay Edgar, in which he admits that his remarks, which were made at the dinner of the American Drygoods men, held here a fortnight ago, were unwise and unwarranted. He hastens to express his sincere regret and offers an unqualified retraction.

Sir Edward McKay Edgar today handed the Canadian Associated Press a copy of the letter sent by him to Lord Northcliffe, in which he accepts this complete apology in the spirit in which it is intended.

"You will also, I am equally confident, agree that to refer slightly to a Canadian-born British subject as not of English birth was something that could not but be deeply resented, both by the person thus stigmatized and by all his countrymen."

Every woman's health is dependent upon the condition of her blood. How many women suffer with headache, pain in the back, poor appetite, weak digestion, a constant feeling of weariness, palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath, pallor and nervousness? Of course, all these symptoms may not be present—the more there are the worse the condition of the blood, and the more necessary that you should begin to enrich it without delay. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a splendid blood-building tonic. Every dose helps to make better blood which goes to every part of the body and brings new health to weak, despondent people. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are valuable to all women, but they are particularly useful to girls of school age who become pale, languid and nervous. There can be neither health nor beauty without rich blood which gives brightness to the eyes and color to the cheeks and lips. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood as is shown by the experience of Mrs. Jos. E. Veniotte, West Northfield, N. S., who says: "For several years I was in a bad state of health. I was pale and nervous, my appetite was poor, and I suffered from weakness, headaches and a feeling of oppression. I got so nervous that I was afraid to stay in the house alone. All this time I was taking medicine, but it only did not help me, but I was growing weaker. Finally I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after using six boxes I felt much better. I had a better appetite, slept better and felt stronger. However, I continued taking the pills for a couple of months longer and now I am feeling as well as ever I did. I give all the credit to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and hope that my experience may be of benefit to some other weak woman."

Stones were hurled at the police, who fired several shots in the air to disperse the crowd.

Before the reserves arrived the paraders, a group of negro firemen, were being held by the White Star Line. The disturbance had been quelled by the time the Aquitania's passengers were ready to leave the pier.

BASIS OF UNION BEFORE CHURCHES

Montreal Presbytery Considering Plan For Joining With Anglicans.

MONTREAL, May 20.—(By Canadian Press.)—A definite basis for church union between Anglican and Presbyterian churches was laid before the Montreal Presbytery today at a special meeting held in Knox Crescent Church, when a report on conferences held for some months past between two committees representing the churches concerned was presented by the Presbyterian convener, Rev. Prof. R. E. Welsh. The document is regarded as historic, since it represents the first successful effort to evolve a scheme on the lines of the Lambeth report. The presbytery deferred discussion on the report to the next regular meeting on June 28, and arrangements were made for the report to be brought before the assembly of the general assembly in Toronto early next month.

The basis for union adopted the Lambeth conference on faith and order and accepts a Presbyterian form of communion to Anglicans and an Anglican form of communion to Presbyterians.

GOT 63 CHICKS FROM 65 EGGS
Fergus, May 20.—Hens of Mrs. John Marshall of West Garrafrax hold what is believed to be a record for this district in the successful hatching of eggs. Five hens were each set in one night, each on 12 eggs, and they hatched out 63 chickens.

Wm. Cameron, a local electrician, is an admirer of guinea fowl, keeping several hens. He discovered a nest a couple of days ago in which the eggs were laid several rows deep and the pile looked as though it would fill a good-sized basket. The count showed no less than 77 eggs in the nest.

Thomas P. Grieve has received direct from Scotland, some seed potatoes. They are new varieties and are called Aaron Chief, King Edward, and Golden Wonder.

OLD BOARD WALK AT PORT STANLEY QUITE TRANSFORMED

New Cement Promenade Extends From Casino To Bathhouse.

ALL ATTRACTIONS OPEN

Two Cleveland Navigation Companies Are Arranging For Daily Service.

The summer visitor to "Port" will receive a great surprise when he lands on the board-walk for the first time this season. Nothing short of a revolution has taken place. In place of the old board-walk, with its broken planks here and there, is a new cement walk, which extends from the Stanley Beach Casino to the east end of the L. and P. S. bathhouse. Bordered along this walk have been constructed a number of very appropriate-looking wooden booths, painted in white and set off in green. The appearance of the board-walk has been improved 100 per cent since these changes have taken place.

Although the weather has been a little on the cool side, the concessionaires along the board-walk and the merchants of the town predict a busy season. Since the official opening of the season, the crowds who summer have opened their stands, and already the walk is assuming a busy look.

Going Full Blast.

Beginning with the opening of the bathhouse, the L. and P. S. Railway has added the board-walk refreshment booth, check-room and incline railway, so that the crowds that go to their summer resort on Saturday and Sunday will find everything going full blast.

Special fast and frequent service from London to Port Stanley is being given on Wednesdays, Saturdays and Sundays, with summer excursion rates. Special arrangements are being made for Victoria Day (May 24), the first holiday of the season, when summer rates will also be in effect. There will be an hourly train service from London to the beach. A fisherman's special will be run from London to Port Stanley, Saturdays and Sundays, leaving London at 6 a.m.

It is reported that two Cleveland steamship companies are negotiating for a daily boat service between Cleveland and Port Stanley. It is expected that a daily service will be given, with a two-hour stop-over in Port Stanley. Cleveland people are highly enthusiastic about the new service and accommodations of the resort.

Co-operative Scheme.
The concessionaires along the board-walk are developing a co-operative scheme to add to the attractions at the lake, and some interesting announcements may be expected shortly.

The village authorities claim that the summer cottage population will be greater this year than ever before, and that the demand for cottage accommodation is unprecedented.

With the finest electric road in America between London, St. Thomas and Port Stanley, pleasure-seekers are afforded splendid train accommodation, and it is expected that this season will break all records for attendance at the lakeside.

LAND AND BUILDING VALUES INCREASED LARGELY AT PORT
Advances in Two Years' Time Estimated At 300 Per Cent.

PORT STANLEY, May 20.—The value placed on building lots as well as residential property in Port Stanley has increased four-fold in the last two years, and prices of holdings, start to soar as the holiday season approaches. Several real estate men in town stated to The Advertiser that this is going to be a real season.

Parking Regulations.
In previous years there has been a great congestion of traffic in the vicinity of the casino after the dance and considerable difficulty has been overcome by the new system which is now in effect.

Constable Harry Phillips has taken the matter in hand and this season all vehicles parked on the statistics were exceptionally large. There were 80 attacks on the crown forces, while the police suffered 55 casualties, of which 23 resulted in death. Most of the attacks occurred on the day following the elections for the Southern Irish Parliament, and, according to the review, were the outcome of a plan long pre-arranged.

During the week there were 52 raids on the mails, and twelve attacks on police barracks. The number of persons interned now totals 3,056.

COL. COOPER AT INGERSOLL.
INGERSOLL, May 20.—Col. John Cooper of Toronto, former editor of the Canadian Courier, was the speaker at the third luncheon of the Kiwanian club held today. The attendance was large, and the speaker was accorded a splendid reception. During his address he discussed in a very interesting manner business and consular relations with the United States.

LAND AND BUILDING VALUES INCREASED LARGELY AT PORT
Advances in Two Years' Time Estimated At 300 Per Cent.

PORT STANLEY, May 20.—The value placed on building lots as well as residential property in Port Stanley has increased four-fold in the last two years, and prices of holdings, start to soar as the holiday season approaches. Several real estate men in town stated to The Advertiser that this is going to be a real season.

Parking Regulations.
In previous years there has been a great congestion of traffic in the vicinity of the casino after the dance and considerable difficulty has been overcome by the new system which is now in effect.

Constable Harry Phillips has taken the matter in hand and this season all vehicles parked on the statistics were exceptionally large. There were 80 attacks on the crown forces, while the police suffered 55 casualties, of which 23 resulted in death. Most of the attacks occurred on the day following the elections for the Southern Irish Parliament, and, according to the review, were the outcome of a plan long pre-arranged.

During the week there were 52 raids on the mails, and twelve attacks on police barracks. The number of persons interned now totals 3,056.

Although in his message to local authorities the father stated that his son was 19 years of age and the girl 16, both gave legal age in obtaining the license.

Y. W. C. A. SECRETARY
CARRIES OUT SPLENDID WORK AMONG JAPANESE

Visit of Miss Kaufman to Local Branch of "Y" Has Been Cancelled.

The visit of Miss Kaufman, one of the Y. W. C. A. secretaries in Japan, to the local Y. W. C. A., announced for next week, has been cancelled. Still, it may be interesting to hear something of her work there, even though she may not tell it herself.

Miss Kaufman, whose home is in Kitchener, Ont., is one of the Y. W. C. A. secretaries in Japan, under the Dominion Council.

Fifteen years ago the Y. W. C. A. sent Miss Caroline MacDonald, daughter of Peter MacDonald of this city, to organize the first association in Japan. The work began with the students, of whom there are a large number. A great deal of the work is still carried on among the students, who are trained in Christian principles, so that they may become leaders to go on and teach others.

Miss Kaufman says that though generally people think Buddhism to be the chief religion of Japan, as a matter of fact, at the present time, Japan has no religion, and this should be a wonderful opportunity to make Christianity the national religion.

Come to Cities. A large number of the girls of Japan come to the large cities, chiefly Tokyo, every year as students, bookkeepers, stenographers, etc., and the Y. W. C. A. now has dormitories in Osaka, Kobe and Tokyo, where these girls away from home may have safe and comfortable lodging. These dormitories are always crowded and have long waiting lists.

As Japan is only about the size of Ontario and has only 20 per cent of the land cultivated, to provide for its 50 millions of people, it must become an industrial country, and the last few years have seen a sudden industrial expansion. Two-thirds of the 2,000,000 people now working in the factories are women, who work from 12 to 16 hours a day, and get very poor food to eat. In consequence, out of 200,000 recruited annually from the rural districts, 120,000 never return, 80,000 are broken in health, 14,000 are consumptive.

To Reach the Girls. The Y. W. C. A. can do very little as yet for these girls as they are shut up in compounds, but on the two holidays a month the secretary can get in to teach them some songs and to give them some small help.

Practically no effort has been made to provide wholesome recreation for the girls of Japan, and the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium is, therefore, filling a very great need in the lives of these girls who do not know how to play. They love the folk dances and rhythmic work particularly, as it is so entirely foreign to anything they have ever known.

The co-operation of the Y. W. C. A. Japanese Christian women, where the organization is operating by invitation, it has become a firmly established work in the hearts of all who have come into contact with its various activities.

Wants Correspondents.

Dear Miss Grey—I have been a silent reader of your page for some time, and enjoy it very much. Have also tried some of your recipes, and found them very good.

I see in your paper today where there has been a new supply of sachet bags sent in. I would like very much if I could get one, please.

I would like to correspond with Lonesome Bear, Siabtown Kid, Lonesome Sue and any others who would care to correspond if they would write first. My address is with Miss Grey.

Ans.—Am mailing a sachet, Mayflower.

Orange Lily.—Kindly send in your name and address, as it is not on file.

Dear Miss Grey.—As this is my first visit to your cozy corner, I will not tarry too long. I enjoy reading the letters very much. I see there is a discussion on books in the Mail-Box at present. Have any of the Boxites read "The Queen's Finger"? It is an excellent book. I am inclosing a stamp and mite for fund, and would like some flower seeds, any other than nasturtiums and sweet peas. What day did November 20, 1906, fall on? Will sign.

Ans.—November 20, 1906, fell on a Tuesday. Am mailing some seeds. Many thanks for seeds inclosed.

From Helper.

Dear Readers of the Mail-Box.—So many requests came to me in answer to my letter of some weeks ago that I was unable to answer all the letters. I was so sorry to see so many in need, but was glad to be able to help even in a small way. I am sorry, too, that I could supply only a few—I divided up as well as I could, but hadn't nearly enough to go to all.

During house-cleaning time some of the readers may find a few things which will help some. I am sure they will be rewarded by the thanks of those to whom they offer help.

Is One of Us.

Dear Miss Grey.—As this is my first visit to your Mail-Box, I do hope I will not take up too much space of your valuable corner. I sure enjoy your letters. I am sure you must be weary reading so many of them in a day, though some are very interesting.

I would like to correspond with someone who has taken music. If he sees my letter in print and wishes to write, my address is with Miss Grey. I have taken music for some time and will perhaps graduate in a year's time. I am preparing to try an examination in June and have to practice a great deal. Jack said he liked practicing Bach. I do detest Bach, although my teacher says she thinks it a lovely study. It always has such a lovely melody. I do love Mozart and Conconas studies very much.

As my letter is getting quite long, I will say good-bye to Miss Grey and Boxites before I reach the W. P. B. Inclosed find mite for house-cleaning.

HURON COUNTY LASS.

Ans.—The Boxite you refer to has taken a rather deceiving penname, as "Jock" is a member of the fair sex. Are you still interested? Many thanks for hospital mite.

Attention, Mother Pearl.

Dear Miss Grey—I read that Mother Pearl has some "dimes" for covering porches, and was offering some roots to Happy Mother. May I have some, too, Mother Pearl, and as you are wanting quilt patches will exchange with you. My address is with Miss Grey, so if you send direct to me I will send you quilt matches by first mail. Mite for hospital.

Ans.—Thanks for mite, Aunt Maggie.

An Easter Lily.

Dear Miss Grey.—How is this for a lovely spring day? I would like some flower seeds, if you have sweet peas, four-o'clocks or zinnias. I am sending a shipmate's card and you are wanting flower seeds. We can all exchange next year and send our mites to you. Good luck to all.

SUNFLOWER.

P. S.—Would any of the readers like an Easter bunny? I have one.

Ans.—Am mailing seeds, Sunflower.

Three Maids of Versailles.—Kindly send in a stamped, self-addressed envelope, repeating request.

Attention, Scotch Girl.

Dear Miss Grey.—Here I am again. I see where Scotch Girl would send anyone a pattern of a 14-year-old boy's pants. Would very much like to get one, also a sleeper pattern, and if I am not asking too much, would be glad if someone would send me a few quilt patches, and maybe I could return the favor in some other way. I will leave my address with Miss Grey. Please find inclosed mite for the S. C. H., which I think was a grand idea of the person that first started it.

I will leave my address with Miss Grey, and anyone wishing it could send patches direct, and I would send the postage if they wish it. I think Miss Grey's page is very interesting, and I think it a grand thing to be able to help one another. Hoping I will be able to help a little some other time, I will sign as before.

Ans.—Am mailing a sleeper pattern. Scraps. Thank you for hospital mite.

CO-OPERATIVE GUILD ORGANIZED AT BRANTFORD. A public meeting of ladies interested in the co-operative movement was held recently in Brantford with the view to the organization of a women's co-operative guild. There was a good attendance, and much enthusiasm for the project was displayed by the audience. Provisional President A. W. Hurt of the Industrial Co-operative Society was present, and spoke briefly.

General Secretary Keen of the Co-operative Union of Canada addressed the meeting, and explained in some detail the functions of the Women's Co-operative Guilds. He stated that the Guild in England was the strongest and most influential organization of women in the country, and not only protected them as consumers, but watched and advanced their interests on public bodies. He quoted statistics to show the considerable extent to which co-operative guilds would have secured representation on city and town councils, boards of education, poor law boards, and many other public bodies. He reviewed the progress and variety of activities of the Women's Co-operative Guilds in the Canadian movement, and gave credit for the valuable services they were performing for the co-operative societies with which they were associated.

Mrs. Ballachy urged that negotiations be conducted with Women's Institutes of the county with the view to the use of the proposed women's rest-room in the Brant Farmers' Building for the meetings of the guild. She thought it would serve a useful purpose by bringing the women of the city and the county into closer touch with each other, and promoting a better understanding between them. The suggestion was accepted by the meeting.

At the close of the organization of the Brantford Women's Co-operative Guild was proceeded with, Mrs. Williams being elected president; Mrs. Annie E. Cooper, treasurer, and Miss Grace Harper, secretary, the meetings to be held every alternative Wednesday evening.

HOME ECONOMICS

MRS. ELIZABETH KENT, MACDONALD COLLEGE.

It is more expensive, richer in color, and more durable than denim, which is inexpensive, heavy cotton cloth, serviceable, easily dusted, but likely to fade.

Cretones or chintzes come in an ever larger range of color, pattern and grade. They can be cleaned easily, or renewed without very great expense, and are therefore increasingly popular. Linen cretonne gives long service, and comes generally in particularly pleasing colors and designs.

Velours are, however, when all is said, the most satisfactory material for chairs, for color, cost and wear. It is a heavy little fabric, a velvet cloth of cotton or cotton and silk, and comes between tapestry and cretonne in cost.

Poor little Wiggles was too small and young to know that Pedro the monkey was not his friend. Pedro had such a funny little face and such a comical way the puppy had often been amused by his antics, so when Pedro carried him off Wiggles thought he was in for a good afternoon's fun.

"Where are you taking me?" Wiggles asked at last, after he had been carried far from the tent. Like the good puppy he was, Wiggles remembered that his mother did not like him to go far out of her sight.

"I know where there are some nice bones," Pedro fibbed in the very kindest voice he could put on—for the staid monkey did not want Wiggles to stay a cry before they were far on their way.

Wiggles, like any other puppy, liked bones a great deal, and he felt quite grateful for the monkey's thoughtfulness.

On, on, trudged Pedro, never seeming to tire, even though Wiggles was not a light burden.

Finally the puppy became uneasy. "I want to go back," Wiggles declared. "It's getting dark and my mother will wonder where I am."

"You'll never see your mother again!" the naughty monkey said gruffly. "I've stolen you."

"Stolen me!" barked little Wiggles as he wiggled out of the monkey's grasp and started to run away. "I'm going back myself, Mr. Monkey," and with that he ran off as fast as his little legs could carry him.

Alas for Wiggles! The bad monkey

XC.—APRIL'S APPEAL

Yes, everything was going wrong for April! She idly speculated as to whether or no there was any truth in some of the well-meant advice her friends had given her.

"Life isn't all 'take-it-easy' as well," someone had assured her.

Hitherto she had looked upon it all as "take-it-easy." But now the plan didn't seem to be entirely working. . . . She pulled herself together with a shrill little laugh.

Clothes were an excellent antidote to all this gloomy introspection! And April soon was busily occupied in arranging herself in various garments bought with Trevor's "borrowed" money.

"Things may go a bit awkward for some over that two thousand-five hundred dollars—if he insists on my repaying it," thought April. "But, at any rate, I saved poor Charlie, and those frocks I bought with the remainder are really very pretty and becoming."

She spent an engrossing hour or two in putting before the long-glass in her room.

"What a pity some of my New York admirers aren't here to see!" she ejaculated, good-humor quite restored. The psychological effect of clothes was marvellous on April.

It was drawing near the supper hour before this dress rehearsal came to an end.

"I'll run round to the hospital and have a chat with Jack," reflected April. His precious Miss Crowell will be having supper then. Possibly I may have a word alone with him. . . . I'd better hurry!

Carefully rouged and powdered, so that no trace of the worry of the last few days might show, April set forth.

On Lookout For Smashed Records At 2nd Annual Interscholastic Meet

Rain or Shine the Meet Under Western "U's" Auspices Will Be Held This Afternoon — Events Will Be Run Off On Schedule.

There may be some records broken out at Queen's Park this afternoon, and as the time will be official, they'll stand. With weather such as appeared yesterday, the school athletes ought to be well loosened up for today's trials, and most of the marks ought to be closely approached at least with the talent that'll be present.

One of the features of the first meet held last May was the scoring methods used, in which the spectators could see at a glance what was happening. Another was the dispatch with which the events were run off on a split second schedule. These conditions will obtain again this afternoon.

TECS FORCE WOLVES TO THIRD STRAIGHT LOSS ON TIMELY HITS

Wendleborn Was Wild As Well As Hittable.

KUHN GRABS 4TH HOMER Scored Shay Ahead—Also Got a Double For Good Measure.

RAY CITY, Mich., May 20.—The Bay City Wolves and their third straight game Friday when London scored a 7 to 3 victory, due to Wendleborn's wildness, coupled with timely hitting. Shay, who got plenty of men on bases but could not score. In the first inning, Kuhn, visiting first sacker, drove the ball over the left field wall for a home run, scoring Shay, who had walked, ahead of him. Double plays by both teams prevented the contest.

Seasonable Pointers For Farmers

Taking Care of Chicks While On the Range

Largest Mortality Occurs in Brooder Stage, But Subsequent Care Important—Shade Is Essential During Warm Weather.

The care of the chicks while in the brooder stage is most important, for at that time the largest mortality occurs, yet the subsequent care of the chicks stage has very much to do with the success or failure of the birds later.

Plenty of Heat.
Do not cut down the heat too soon until the chicks are well feathered, and even after that, if the weather is cold and changeable they will require a certain amount of heat, whether they are raised naturally or artificially.

The hen will probably leave the chicks to themselves by the time they are feathered, sometimes even before, and it is well to have the chicks housed in a fairly comfortable coop or colony house, so that when the hen leaves them they will be quite comfortable and can get along without her.

Artificially Raised Chicks.
The same care as to heat and comfortable rearing quarters should be given to the chicks that are hatched and raised artificially and sometimes even more care is necessary. The removal of the heat, when nights are still cold, often results in the chicks becoming chilled, crowding into a corner and a number of them being smothered. Those that survive are more or less stunted because of the chill.

It is never advisable to rear chickens in the same yards or upon the same soil that the old hens have used. Give them new soil that is sweet and free from disease germs. Such a place as a cultivated orchard, potato patch, root or corn field, or, in fact, any place where there is a growing crop of such a nature that they cannot destroy it will be an ideal spot for the chicks.

During the warmer months shade is very important. This can be provided by the growing crop, orchard shrubs or even the raising of the house and in some cases, along with this, artificial shade made from boughs or cotton screens is an advantage.

Feeding.
The feeding of a flock of chicks during the growing season should not be laborious. Though plenty of feed is required it may be given in such a way that the minimum amount of labor is entailed. For this purpose, hopper feeding is very much to be recommended. A home-made hopper, in which mixed grains and mash, can be placed and to which the chicks can have access at all times, insures plenty of feed for the chicks with very little labor on the part of the attendant. If the chicks are late, and it is necessary to hurry them in order to get their growth in line with the time for the fall, a moist mash fed once a day will help them, and milk before them at all times is a decided advantage.

In feeding and caring for the growing chicks it should be borne in mind that the chief aim is to have matured pullets so that they will commence to lay before the winter season comes on. The feeder should keep this in mind and feed the birds accordingly. Early chicks may be fed so that they will mature too early for best all-round production, and though this is an exception, still it is well to keep in mind that the pullet that starts laying the latter part of October or the first of November is usually the pullet that gives the best yearly production and certainly yields a better revenue than the pullet that does not start laying until after the season of high prices for eggs is over. ## Using the Cultivator To Secure Good Crops

Surface Tillage by Shallow Cultivation Is Best in Area Occupied by Growing Plants—Field of Potatoes Increased by Proper Methods.

The cultivation of crops requires reasonable care. There is seldom gain from deep cultivation after the crop has been planted. Such cultivation is necessary in preparing the soil for all hood crops, but if not done then later cultivation will not make up for the neglect. Summer cultivation should be shallow, sufficient to destroy weeds and produce a fine surface mulch one to two inches deep.

It may be possible and is then advisable, to narrow the cultivator and cultivate deeply the space between the rows not occupied by growing roots. It should be remembered, however, that these roots penetrate the soil towards the center of the row very rapidly and frequent observations are necessary to determine whether the feeding roots are being disturbed or destroyed by cultivation, as so very often happens. The soil should be turned in order to get their growth in line with the time for the fall, a moist mash fed once a day will help the most plant food is being liberated, as a result of which roots will be found in this soil area in greater abundance than anywhere else.

Depth Pruning.
Although there seems to be no good reason for using care in selection of soil, the practice remains to be seen, but that it will be considerably less than last year is a certainty. In regard to potatoes, replanting will have to be done in many cases, as for tomatoes, practically the whole of the early plants were completely ruined. This is of course, a serious loss, but on the other hand, the smaller quantity of bush fruits available. In regard to apples, the question is not so serious, for there is not the least doubt that last year's crop in Ontario

Frosts Have Affected Fruits and Vegetables

Local Growers Maintain That the Yield of Small Fruits Will Be Cut in Two—Cabbage & Root Maggot Also Causing Apprehension in Some Quarters

As the pessimists foretold, the early advent of warm weather and spring-like conditions has not yet been to the advantage of the vegetable and fruit crops in this part of the country. The frosts of the first few days of the week have had a disastrous effect on tomato and other vegetable plants, which the genial weather had tempted to start growing to set out earlier than usual. Potatoes have received quite a setback, while beans, asparagus and other small vegetables have suffered to a large extent.

But perhaps it is to the fruit-growers that the frost following the mild conditions has caused the most serious consequences, and from local indications it is expected that the berry crop will be cut in half by the recent frosts. One local grower declares that on strawberries alone his loss will be in the neighborhood of $1,500. Plums, early cherries, grapes and apples are also seriously affected, owing to the fact that the inclement conditions caught them at a most critical stage.

How far the foregoing circumstances will affect the aggregate fruit and vegetable yield this season remains to be seen, but that it will be considerably less than last year is a certainty. In regard to potatoes, replanting will have to be done in many cases, as for tomatoes, practically the whole of the early plants were completely ruined. This is of course, a serious loss, but on the other hand, the smaller quantity of bush fruits available.

In regard to apples, the question is not so serious, for there is not the least doubt that last year's crop in Ontario was much larger than could be handled with profit. One aspect of the case is the matter of containers. The price of these has been steadily mounting for the past few years, and has become a serious problem with the fruit farmer, and doubtless, in anticipation of an average yield, the manufacturers have made fairly extensive preparations, but if the circumstances that the crop has been practically cut in half by the recent frosts have a tendency to create an increased demand for barrels and baskets, and a consequent lowering of the price, it may to a certain extent act as an offset to the smaller returns of the growers.

But not through cold alone is the weather which has lately prevailed likely to influence the return to the vegetable growers this year. The continuous spell of dry weather has encouraged the attacks of the cabbage root maggot and other insect pests, which have arrived at the destructive stage earlier than usual owing to the summer-like conditions of a few weeks ago. These maggots also attack radishes and other roots, and unless rain comes soon their depredations will continue.

Prof. Present, of the vegetable specialists' section of the Ontario department of agriculture, was in London last week and has been going around the district, with the object of reporting on how far the ravages of these pests will affect the crop. Mr. Present had also been investigating how far the weather conditions have favored the onion grub, which is another pest that has been very much increased in number, and it is hoped that conditions will improve as the season advances.

Trade in Dairy Products Between U. S. and Canada

United States Sent Out More Butter and Cheese Than Was Brought In—Canada Imported More Cheese Than Was Exported.

In 1919 the United States reached its peak in the export of butter, the amount going abroad that year being 33,739,969 pounds, of which 20,575,760 pounds came to Canada. In 1917 our neighbors exported 66,050,012 pounds of cheese, that year being their busiest in that commodity. Of this amount 460,089 pounds came to Canada. Our best export year in these products was 1920, where the quantity of butter imported by the United States, we supplied 10,692,311 pounds, and of 15,993,725 pounds of cheese imported by that country, we furnished 6,921,401 pounds. Last year was very exceptional for, in the first twenty years of the century our imports from the United States of butter amounted in all to 12,554,553 pounds and our exports to 5,384,981 pounds, and of cheese to 12,607,143 pounds in imports and 4,961,915 pounds in exports.

Interesting Comparisons.
Reverting to the year the world war broke out, namely 1914, we find that the United States imported 7,500,699 pounds of butter, of which we only supplied 500,623 pounds, and 55,477,041 pounds of cheese, of which 1,346,128 pounds came from this country, or less than one-fortieth. Taking the years 1910 to 1918, official figures issued both from Ottawa and Washington show that Canada imported practically 60 per cent more butter from the United States than she sent to that country. The greatest disparity, however, was in cheese, as in those years we imported from the United States no less than 10,314,524 pounds, while we only supplied to that country 2,743,653 pounds. In the last six years the United States has exported 245,196,425 pounds of cheese against 21,570,257 pounds in the previous six years and imported 108,655,646 pounds against 287,205,591 pounds. In the same period, that is in the last six years, Canada exported to the United States 6,724,939 pounds of cheese and imported from there 3,124,493 pounds, and in the previous six years exported to the United States 2,372,447 pounds and imported from that country 2,335,905 pounds. Thus in each case we imported more than we exported. Of butter in the last half dozen years Canada exported to the United States 16,277,598 pounds, and imported from that country 7,136,639 pounds. In the previous six years we exported to the United States 2,734,490 pounds and imported from there 3,121,412 pounds.

United States Trade.
That the trade of the United States in dairy products exceeds greatly in exports is proven by the fact that for the last four years the average value in exports has been $97,711,557, while the imports from all countries have only averaged $15,902,570, or less than one-sixth. The manufacture of condensed milk increased enormously in the United States during the war. The demand having since fallen off, it is evident that there must either be a lessening in the production of milk or the surplus must be used for the making of butter and cheese—Dominion Department of Agriculture, May 11, 1921.

may also be perforated. The dead larva or pupa will be stretched out along the lower wall of the cell. It will be dark brown in color and strikingly viscid, so that if a splint of wood is thrust into the dead larva, and then slowly withdrawn, the decaying mass will rope out in a fine thread to one or more inches in length. The dead larva dries up and forms a dark colored scale extending along the lower wall of the cell. These scales are difficult to remove without breaking the cell wall. A disagreeable odor is always present with the disease.

European Foul Brood.
European foul brood may be recognized by the fact that the larva usually dies before it is capped over. Affected larvae change from white to light yellow in color and assume unnatural positions in the cell. Later the color changes to grey or brown and the larvae sink down and form a greyish-looking mass in the bottom of the cell. Some of the larvae retain the curled up position and gradually dry up and form greyish-brown scales that have a segmented appearance. In some cases a slight viscidness may be present, but the dead mass does not stretch out as in American foul brood. The threads are lumpy and rubber-like in consistency. Scales formed by the dead larvae drying up are easily removed from the cells, therefore very few scales may be present. A putrefactive odor is sometimes present.

Larvae dead of sacbrood will be found in both capped and uncapped cells. The position of the larvae will be lengthwise in the cells, with the anterior end turned towards the upper wall of the cell. The color may vary from light brown to almost black. After death the body wall becomes toughened, so that the larvae may be easily removed intact.

BROOD DISEASE BAD FOR BEES

Recognition of American and European Foul Brood First Step in Control.

[Experimental Farms Note.] Identification is the first step in the control and eradication of the brood diseases of bees. A wrong diagnosis, especially where American foul brood is concerned, may result in spreading instead of controlling the disease.

There are three diseases affecting the brood of bees and usually the main characters are sufficient to determine which disease is present. To be able to detect any unnatural condition in the brood, it is necessary to know the appearance of healthy brood.

The healthy larva, up to the time it is capped over, lies curled up in the base of the cell and is of a shining, pearly white color. As soon as it is capped over it assumes a lengthwise position in the cell preparatory to transformation to pupa. Cappings over healthy brood are uniform in convexity and color, the latter, however, may vary from yellow to dark brown, according to the age of the comb.

American Foul Brood.
Brood affected with American foul brood usually dies after it is sealed over. The cappings covering dead brood are darker and more concave than those covering healthy brood. These cappings

MACKENZIE RIVER OIL LIMITED

For years Geologists have reported the unmistakable indications of a great wealth of oil in the Mackenzie River basin. The Oil, according to geologists, is oozing from fissures in the cliffs, seeping through the ground, and standing in pools. Near Fort Norman the oil structure extends for 40 miles on one side and 60 miles on the other side of the river. The oil is reported to be the highest grade crude ever found in the world, testing 38 Gravity Baume, rich in light products. It is stated that it can be piped in a temperature of 70 degrees below zero.

Just before the close of navigation, and too late for further development work in 1920, the Imperial Oil Company brought in a well estimated at from 1,500 to 2,000 barrels, at a depth of about 800 feet, within 45 miles of Fort Norman.

1921 OPERATIONS

In 1921 the first attempt on a large scale to develop the resources of the Mackenzie River oil field will be made. The Mackenzie River Oil Limited has acquired leases, under the old regulations, of 3,840 acres or 6 square miles in this rich field. With the opening of navigation it is intended to commence extensive drilling operations on this property. An expedition will also be fitted out, for the purpose of securing additional oil leases from the Government.

ORGANIZATION AND EQUIPMENT

For the drilling operations, three complete rigs have been ordered, and should be on the ground about July 1st. Experienced drillers have been engaged to work under the direction of Mr. Frank H. Stover, one of Canada's best-known oil-drilling experts. From the locations already in evidence, and as oil is found at a depth of 800-1,000 feet, it is expected that each crew will bring in several wells during the season.

The exploration work will be personally directed by a man who knows the North country thoroughly—Mr. Frank E. Davison—assisted by a competent geologist and engineer. Mr. Davison first went over this ground in 1898, and for over twenty years has been engaged in work in the Yukon and Alaska. In view of the probable wealth of the country and the experience of the men engaged, the expedition should acquire many more acres of valuable oil and mineral lands in 1921. Twenty or more trained men have been engaged for this development work by the Mackenzie River Oil Limited.

TRANSPORTATION AND SUPPLIES

The Company has made full provision for the carrying in of rigs and supplies, transportation company operating boats on the waterways, and trucks, tractors and motor cars at the portage will take in all the freight required for this Company's operations.

PEACE RIVER OIL HOLDINGS

Mackenzie River Oil Limited, in addition to the 3,840 acres at Fort Norman, have 10,000 acres of oil leases in the Peace River District. Geologists claim that oil will be found at from 1,800 to 2,500 feet in these fields, so that some of the wells should soon reach the oil strata. In this case the Company's holdings will become extremely valuable.

OFFER

To finance the purchase of drilling rigs, supplies, cost of expedition and development work, the Company now offers the first one hundred thousand Treasury Shares at $5.00 per share (par value $10.00 per share, fully paid and non-assessable) and not subject to call. The entire proceeds of the sale of stock are to be used only in the development and exploration work outlined above.

These shares offer a speculation in oil that must appeal to businessmen.

It is a venture in what is known to be in a most promising field. It is being supported by well-known men of means and business experience, who will carry on the Company's operations in a good business way. This is a Canadian Company, the management and organization is sound.

The work will be carried on by men who know oil drilling and know the country.

The mistake is often made of sowing seeds too deep. None of the above seeds should be sown more than half an inch deep, and for most of them one-quarter inch is often too much. If seed is sown too deeply the young shoots will not reach the surface, and the seedlings are often injured or killed.

Although the above-mentioned plants are among the hardiest, it will be time almost immediately to sow any other seeds as danger of frost after the seedling has set up will soon be over and the ground will have warmed up soon. Warm soil is just as important for some seeds as prevention of injury from frost, as certain seeds will not germinate in cold soil, and if it is moist they will rot instead.

There is often a temptation to put plants which have been growing in the house outside as soon as there are a few fine, warm days. While it will not hurt to set the pots out on such days, if they are taken in at night, the plants should not be set in the open ground until the last week of May or early in June. Too often plants which have been nursed all winter are killed or badly injured by spring frosts outside. The geranium is a very popular flower, and too often considerable money is spent for plants for a bed only to have them badly injured, if not destroyed, by hard frost. In most parts of Canada the last week of May or even the first week of June is the best time to set out bedding plants that are liable to be injured by frost—W. T. Macoun, Dominion Horticulturist.

MODERN PUBLIC HEALTH

(University Extension Board of Western University.)
BY H. W. HILL, M.B., M.D., D.P.H.
Director, Institute of Public Health of Western University, London, Ontario, Canada.
A Column Devoted to Public Health in All Phases.
Questions Addressed as Above Will Be Welcomed.

THE BEST MEDICINE.

"At forty every man is either a physician or a fool." This is an old proverb that in the old days was probably truthful enough, because, in the old days, so little was known, even by the physicians, concerning the care of the body, that almost any observant man who thought much about it had a chance by the time he was forty to learn the very small part of it which was really any good.

But it is not true now by any means—although quite a large number of people still believe it. Medicine has expanded and discovered so much in the last fifty years that even the physician of today, work he never so hard at his profession, has his hands full in keeping with the advances.

PRACTICE CHANGING.

Do you realize that a business man who was lost on a desert island twenty years ago, or in some other way had a Rip Van Winkle role thrust upon him, would not be able to get into the modern business game if he were returned to his business in 1921? He would have to begin all over again in real earnest. Just so with a physician of twenty years ago; if he had been isolated from contact with his kind until this year, and then tried to pick up his work again, he would be completely bewildered. He would not be able to understand half he might read in a modern medical journal, or half he would hear at a modern medical society meeting. New tests, new methods, new understandings, new operations, new treatments, new ideas, new terms—he would probably give up in despair the attempt to resume practice—or he would take a couple of years' post-graduate work to get himself posted again.

MAKING ADVANCES AVAILABLE.
The citizen of today realizes very definitely that business has changed; he realizes also, but less definitely, that medicine has changed also. The fundamentals of both business and medicine are, of course, the same, but the developments and methods and applications are immensely different.

The citizen, realizing that these changes have occurred, in business in everything in fact, necessarily feels that he must adapt himself to the changes. In medicine, he feels the same need for changes, but does not quite know what changes are needed. He is uneasy over the old style—he wants something different and better—but what? Modern medicine is a science; the modern physician is a skilled, conscientious artist in his work; the modern citizen wants the best that it can do for his bodily health, as well as for other items of life—how should he go about getting it?

PERIODIC EXAMINATIONS.
Previous articles described the up-to-date modern method of "learning the patient's constitution," a matter of an hour or two now—a day, perhaps a week, in some cases—as against years of blind groping in the old days.

But why wait until the patient is sick before the physician "learns his constitution"? Why not have the proper studies made before the demand for instant action develops? More and more, modern citizens of progressive mind are asking this question. More and more modern physicians are intent on plans to meet these demands. It is not knowledge or science, apparatus or instruments that are lacking, but merely organization of the work—arrange-

WHEN BABY IS SICK

When the baby is sick—when he is cross and peevish, cries a great deal and is a constant worry to the mother—he needs Baby's Own Tablets. The Tablets are an ideal medicine for little ones. They are a gentle but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels, soothe the stomach, banish constipation and indigestion, break up colds and simple fevers and make teething easy. Concerning them, Mrs. Philippa Payne, St. Davion, Que., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets have been a wonderful help to me in the case of my baby and I can strongly recommend them to other mothers." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

ments that will make it simple and easy for the physician and the patient. Get together on this matter. Sick persons turn to physicians automatically now. The new idea is for well persons to do the same.

INSURANCE EXAMINATIONS.
Already people are in the habit of having examinations made for insurance, not to discover how sick they are, but how well they are. True, they usually look upon such examinations merely as a necessary gateway to securing funds for their families when they die. But why not do the same stunt for their own good, so that they need not die at all—or at least for a much longer period than otherwise would materialize?

PREVENTION BETTER THAN CURE.

This is an old saying, but few people act on it—although all believe it. Not one person, however ignorant or stupid, but does most faithfully adhere to this statement—but not one person in a hundred, however learned or wise, lives up to it systematically or carefully with regard to his own health or physical well-being. Why? It is hard to say—I suppose partly because the mystery of the old days has been lost most of us, and we still think our bodies are not really material substances or subject to ordinary common sense procedures. Furthermore, we are not used to the thought of medicine and medical men purely as patchers and repairers of more or less damaged bodies, and of course we wait for some damage to develop before we feel their services are needed. To go to a physician because you are sick and want to be cured is traditionally all right. To go to a physician because you are well and want to remain so seems at first sight quite absurd.

THE NEW CONCEPTION.
The physician as a man to keep you well rather than as a mender after you are sick, is an idea that strikes most people as rather funny—Chinese or something. But we have engineers who watch and care for and tend our engines, just so that they won't need repairing—we have managers of businesses just so that receivers won't be needed—we have pilots just so that the wrecking tug need not be called out. Why, then, not use the modern physician's broad scientific knowledge and ability for the purpose of staving off disease rather than merely to stave off its worst effects after it has a real good start?

"TOO LATE."

How many and many a physician must meet his patient with that phrase—the saddest in the world. Tuberculous cases average three years too late in coming to a physician—enough to seal their fate in an appalling large percentage of cases. Cancer cases come generally a year too late for anything but the most radical treatment, and often it is only palliative then. So with most things—the old idea of having something very definite to present to the physician before going to him at all seems uppermost in many people's minds.

HOW TO GET IT DONE.

The only thing necessary so to call up your physician on the phone and tell him you want to be examined for health instead of disease, to see how well you are instead of how sick. The real lie in the physician's hands—examination, analysis, etc., just as at present, only applied to well persons instead of to sick—overhauling the human "automobile" before it starts to knock, instead of after it is all shaken to pieces.

TORONTO, May 20.—Michael Struch was convicted at the assizes here today of attempting to murder Mrs. Michael Popolink, whose husband was shot and killed in a drunken orgy, and was sentenced by Justice Logie to the penitentiary for twelve years. The alleged slayer of Popolink has been missing since the tragedy occurred. Struch caught Mrs. Popolink by the hair and prevented her from informing the police just after the tragedy, and called to the alleged murderer to shoot Mrs. Popolink also. This was done, but he would not be serious.

MANY LONDON MASONS AT ILBERTON BANQUET

CAIRO RIOTS ARE SERIOUS

Police, After Three-Hour Fight, Call For Help of Cavalry.

CAIRO, Egypt, May 20.—Rioting, more severe than that which took place here yesterday, broke out today after the funeral of a student who was killed in Thursday's disorders. The police fought the mob for three hours, and unable to disperse it, called for help of cavalry forces. There were numerous casualties.

SOLDIER IS KILLED.
ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, May 20.—Many policemen and demonstrators were killed or wounded during rioting here on Thursday. One British soldier was killed. The trouble was the outcome of a political demonstration.

Cairo reports received Thursday told of serious rioting there, in which many policemen were injured and a demonstrator was killed. The disturbance was quelled only by the intervention of Egyptian lancers.

TOM MOORE IS HOWLED DOWN

Members of O. B. U. Make a Demonstration At Meeting in Winnipeg.

WINNIPEG, May 20.—Tom Moore, president of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, was shouted down to night by members of the One Big Union who flocked to a meeting in the board of trade building called by the Winnipeg Trades and Labor Council.

Mr. Moore made a plucky attempt to speak against the continuous interruptions, but after half an hour's efforts gave up the task, not, as he said, because he was intimidated, but because he did not feel it was up to him to persist in enunciating the policy of the international trades union movement to people who refused to listen.

"Keep the Red Flag Flying," was sung by the One Big Union supporters when the president of the trades congress arose to speak, and they cut short his remarks several times by striking up the same song. He was also jeered and booed every now and again.

He charged the One Big Union with creating a condition under which the employers were able to use two sets of workers against each other, under which men were quarrelling with each other, instead of quarrelling with their conditions, under which men were wasting valuable opportunities while their standard of living was being driven down.

A demand was made by some of the O. B. U.'s for a place on the platform for one of their representatives. This was met by Mr. Moore with the remark that the request was "the policy of the O. B. U. all through, which lived on the efforts of the international trades union movement and wanted something for nothing."

$1,000 REWARD FOR CAPTURE OF ASSAILANT

Town of Listowel Makes Offer For Apprehension of Kidnappers.

PALMERSTON, May 20.—No arrests have been made so far in the case of Miss Edna K. Lee, who was drugged, tied up, and after being driven about in an automobile, left lying in Nairn's lane Tuesday evening. The mayor of Listowel, where Miss Lee's parents live, notified the local police tonight that the municipality will pay a reward of $1,000 for the apprehension of the kidnappers.

For a time today Miss Lee's condition was serious. Dr. Coleman, her physician, says she cannot dismiss from his mind the shameful treatment she received, although every effort has been made to divert her thoughts into other channels.

VETERAN TREASURER RETIRING AT LISTOWEL

LISTOWEL, May 20.—Following a nervous breakdown and complications, necessitating a week's confinement to bed, W. E. Binning, who is now making favorable progress, has decided to give up the public office which he holds, and has tendered his resignation as town treasurer and secretary-treasurer of the board of education. With a view to taking a complete rest, Mr. Binning purposes, for the meantime, quitting his work as architect.

Mr. Binning has been town treasurer for upwards of twenty years and connected with the school board, most of the time as secretary-treasurer, for nearly forty years. It is also forty years since he started business as architect in Listowel, during which period he has erected, among other structures, about forty churches, seven Carnegie libraries and four banks.

Mr. Binning came to Listowel in 1881, and is reported to have resided in town longer than any other citizen now living. Next month Mr. and Mrs. Binning expect to celebrate their golden wedding.

BRIAND SILENT AS TO POLICY

Date of Meeting of Supreme Council Is Still Indefinite.

PARIS, May 20.—The Chamber of Deputies, which has been listening to interpretations on the foreign policy of the Government, adjourned this evening until Tuesday next, Premier Briand did not speak in defence of his policy.

It was asserted in official circles that adjournment of the chamber was taken in deference to the deputies, who were tired after the lengthy sessions of the last few days; and that there was not the slightest probability that Premier Briand could meet David Lloyd George, the British prime minister, as has been suggested.

NO DATE IS YET SET.
LONDON, May 20.—Uncertainty as to the date of the anticipated meeting of the supreme council still prevails. The unexpected adjournment of the French Chamber of Deputies until Tuesday appears to have still further postponed the meeting, as Premier Briand has insisted it shall not be held until the debate begun yesterday in the French chamber is completed, and until both countries are placed in possession of the necessary data for settling the Silesian boundary question.

According to a Paris cable report, a note to this effect has been sent to Mr. Lloyd George, but up to tonight it had not arrived in Downing street.

Rumors have been current, but they cannot be confirmed, of a possible preliminary meeting between Mr. Briand and Mr. Lloyd George, as the latter is spending the week-end with Sir Phillip Sassoon at Hythe, where such a meeting could easily be arranged.

DROPPED DEAD ON WAY TO HIS WORK

BLENHHEIM, May 20.—James Cantlay of Huffman's Corners in Harwich Township was found dead in his lane by his neighbor today. Mr. Cantlay had borrowed a team from Will Sieberow, his next door neighbor, and was going to his work in the field, and apparently dropped dead. He leaves, besides a widow, one son, William, at home, and two daughters, one at home and one married in Detroit.

William Stratton received a message today stating that his brother, sheriff of Brockville, had died suddenly, and that his brother-in-law, who lived about 20 miles out of that city, had also died. Mr. and Mrs. Stratton left today to attend the funerals.

HEARTBURN LIVER TROUBLE

When the liver becomes torpid and inflamed, it cannot furnish sufficient bile to the bowels, thus causing them to become constipated.

The stomach is also affected. In the case of heartburn there is a gnawing and burning pain in the stomach, attended by disturbed appetite, caused by great acidity. Whenever too much food is taken, it is liable to ferment, and become extremely sour, vomiting often occurs; and what is thrown up, is sour and sometimes bitter.

Other liver trouble symptoms are pain under the right shoulder, yellowness of the skin and eyes, floating specks before the eyes, coated tongue, and taste in the morning, foul breath, water brash, jaundice, constipation, etc.

Keep your liver active by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and you will have no heartburn or other liver troubles. Being purely vegetable they do not gripe, weaken or sicken like the old-fashioned purgatives generally do.

Mrs. Mary Strome, Glasnevin, Sask., writes: "I have used Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and they have cleared me of heartburn and liver trouble. I don't think they can be beaten by any other medicine, and I can highly recommend them."

Price 25c a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

FATALITY MAY HAVE BEEN DUE TO SECOND CAR

Full Investigation of Brantford Accident Is Being Made.

BRANTFORD, May 20.—Evidence that a second automobile was concerned in last night's motor fatality on the Cockshutt road, near Burch, was indicated in reports received here today. The fatality in which Harland Harper and George Bygrave, prominent factory heads, were killed, and Herbert Bygrave injured, is believed in some quarters to have been caused through a second motor car crowding Harper's car through the wooden railing at the roadside and sending the car to the bottom of a deep ravine. A portion of Harper's car was found upon the road, where it had been ripped from the chassis. A preliminary inquest was held today. Herbert Bygrave, the third man in the party, was still living tonight, and some light hope was held for his recovery.

At the annual meeting of the Y. W. C. A. directorate this afternoon Mrs. J. H. Oldham, former vice-president, was elected to the presidency of the association. Mrs. Oldham succeeds Mrs. W. S. Brewster, who held the office of president for two years. Mesdames D. J. Waterous, W. C. Livingston, J. L. Sutherland and George Matthews were elected vice-presidents. Mrs. W. B. Race is recording secretary, and Mrs. W. E. Mann is treasurer again.

General Secretary Miss Hume gave a very encouraging report of the work of the past year.

Face Serious Charge of Assaulting Constable At Ford.

WINDSOR, May 20.—Trial by jury was asked by Ray Battersby, Gregg Battersby, Eugene Cahill and Charles Southeraux, when they were brought before Magistrate Gundy at Ford today on charges of assaulting Constable Horace Noble of the Ford force on Sunday. According to evidence given by Noble, the four were in a gang which knocked him to the ground and kicked him when he ordered them to refrain from making a noise on a public street. The quartet was released on $1,000 bail.

HAD KIDNEY TROUBLE FOR THIRTY YEARS

Why W. J. Hampton Recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills

Manitoba Man Says the Pain Is Nearly All Gone and That Dodd's Kidney Pills Worked Wonders for Him.

Newdale, Man., May 20.—(Special).—That even the most chronic case of kidney disease and rheumatism can be benefited by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills is the belief of Mr. W. J. Hampton, a well-known resident here.

"Dodd's Kidney Pills certainly worked wonders for me," Mr. Hampton states. "My kidneys were so bad at times that I could not work, and I was also a sufferer from rheumatism. Mine was a chronic case of thirty years' standing. Now the pain is nearly all gone and I recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all sufferers from kidney trouble."

Rheumatism is one of the effects of kidney trouble. The weakened kidneys fail to strain the uric acid out of the blood and rheumatism follows.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills are not the best remedy for weak or diseased kidneys.

which to appear for a preliminary hearing on Friday next.

Lawrence Donnelly, steamboat engineer of Toledo, who was remanded for sentence by Magistrate Gundy on charges of forging United States money orders and cashing them to the extent of $250, has been turned over to the police of Cleveland, where disposition of his case will be made.

Clarence Brown, colored, a former employee at the Crawford House, was allowed to go on suspended sentence by Magistrate Gundy this afternoon, when Brown was convicted on a charge of appropriating $700 belonging to Elham Dourmani, proprietor of the hotel. Brown collected and sold 208 empty beer and ginger ale cases from various soft drink establishments, which held contracts with Dourmani. Brown promised to make full restitution.

HIGH HONORS FOR REAR-ADMIRAL SIMS

LONDON, May 20.—The admiralty is paying an unusual compliment to Rear Admiral William S. Sims, former commander of the United States naval forces in the war zone, who is coming to England to receive a degree of doctor of laws from Cambridge University. Destroyers will be sent out to meet Admiral Sims' ship and escort it into Liverpool.

Admiral Sims is immensely popular with the British navy, which desires to do all it can to show this.

Phenomenal Reductions in Cord and Fabric Auto Casing and Tube Prices

NOW AWAY BELOW PRE-WAR FIGURES

Effective May 16th, 1921

Because Dunlop Tires give exceptional mileage, motorists have been calling for them at prevailing prices, knowing the value was so great as to even preclude consideration of cheap tires.

Now that Dunlop Tires have been subjected to such a sweeping price reduction, no motorist can find an atom of reason for experimenting with shoddy or re-built tires.

Compared to a few years ago Tire Users are getting easily double—and even more than double—the mileage in the tires of today than they got from the best tires at that time. Ten, twelve and fifteen thousand miles are just average mileages today. And the records on the road show that Dunlop Cord Tires and Dunlop Fabric Tires are even exceeding these mileages.

Now with Dunlop big mileage you have rock-bottom prices and paramount tire quality—a tire quality that is accepted as standard today, and which other makers are vainly striving to duplicate.

When you can get a tire with a prestige back of it like DUNLOP, and with practically an unlimited guarantee, why chance your life on a second-rate tire at any price?

TAKING LOW PRICES BUT STOP GROWING

Tobacco Is Being Sold by Farmers Around Blenheim

Blenheim, May 20.—A shipment of tobacco was made from here yesterday by the Rock City Company. Some tobacco of very good quality is said to be in the shipment, and the prices are on the low scale of from 7 to 7 cents per pound. The Imperial Company also made a shipment. Representatives of the Macdonald Tobacco Company are in the field today, making purchases, but there is no report that prices offered are in advance of those paid during the past few weeks.

Quite a number of growers seem to have settled down to the idea that there is nothing better in sight and are letting the crop go at prices offered and bidding farewell to tobacco culture for a time at least.

TO RETIRE TREASURY BILLS. WINNIPEG, Man., May 20.—The province of Manitoba will dispose of a $2,000,000 ten-year 6 per cent bond issue next Monday, it was announced today. The purpose of the issue is to retire treasury bills.

PLAN TO MAKE LIVING COSTS WAGE BASIS

Conference With Striking British Miners To Be Held Next Week.

BUSINESS IS PARALYZED
Four Million Tons of Shipping Lying Idle in British Ports.

LONDON, May 20.—(By Canadian Associated Press).—Today marked the 50th day of the miners' strike. Unofficial parleys involve much running into the country by leaders of the miners to meet members of the federation. It is reported the mine owners have offered a new scheme through the Government, but it is believed that it will be impossible to appoint a meeting before next week.

The new proposals are a closely-guarded secret, but there is reason to think they will suggest that wages should be governed by the cost of living.

The Lanarkshire miners specially are examining with interest the idea submitted to the provost of Hamilton, Sir Henry Keith, embracing this proposal.

The owners generally continue to show distrust of suggestions involving amalgamation of collieries by districts with a view to economy. The Times, in an editorial today, protests against the owners' standpoint that only by reductions in wages can the industry be made to pay.

"Everyone is now beginning to understand that reform of the industrial methods on the one hand and better output on the other must accompany cuts in wages if the industry is to be put on its feet again."

Imported coal is being landed at Folkestone, Leith, Middlesbrough and Portland.

Concealing Truth. George Roberts, the Labor M. P. and former food minister, speaking last night, said the strike had been prolonged because of the cowardice of miners' leaders not telling the men the truth. The men will return to work within a fortnight with conditions they could have got long ago simply by going into conference.

Four million tons of idle shipping are lying in British ports. This dispute has knocked the bottom out of the London season, and a theatrical slump has occurred, which is the worst in many years.

AUDITORS FIND BOOKS CORRECT
Provincial Officials Complain Magistrate and Chief of Police.

ST. THOMAS, May 20.—The provincial auditors have completed the checking of accounts in the police department, and find the books and memoranda of the office finances to be correct in every detail. The auditors make an annual visit to the larger centres and examine into the class of crimes coming before the magistrate and the indictable offenses from the less important institutions. These are charged by the Government to the city, and the municipality will have to contribute some hundreds of dollars to the department because of a mistake view as to the corporation's liability to the Government. The auditors complimented both Magistrate Maxwell and Chief Armstrong on the satisfactory conditions prevailing in the police department.

Suspended Sentence. Richard Evans, charged with neglect of his children, who was brought back from Windsor Monday, was allowed to go on suspended sentence. The woman in the case was also given a chance to behave herself and keep outside the limits of the police court.

Police To Prosecute. The failure of the council to provide sufficient playgrounds for the children of the city has driven them to the streets, with the result that the police are being asked from many sections of the city to clear the pavements of the lads, or else prosecute them for a violation of the by-law. The police are young people were fined. They are out again in full force this season, and the police will be warned to lay complaints against the offending boys. The danger to the lads from being hit with passing autos, as well as the annoyance to the neighborhood, the police say that householders are justified in making a complaint.

CHATHAM MAY GET BIG NEW THEATRE
Proposition Was Discussed At Meeting Last Night.

CHATHAM, May 20.—This city may shortly have a new $25,000 theatre with a seating capacity of 1,500. The project was discussed at a meeting in the chamber of commerce tonight by W. Murphy of Detroit, and the matter will be gone into further. A site for the proposed new theatre has been selected and plans prepared.

While Gas Commissioner Harkness and former commissioner, E. S. Estlin, were making an inspection of the Tilbury oil and gas fields yesterday, they discovered a rattlesnake three feet long. It is an unusual thing to find rattlesnakes in this district, and is a mystery where this one came from. It was quickly killed.

TRINITY CHURCH IS GROWING STEADILY
Stratford, May 20.—At the annual meeting of the congregation of Trinity Methodist Church reports from all the departments of the church indicated healthy growth and much advance.

The treasurer's report showed a balance in the treasury of $452 after all expenses of the year had been paid. The Ladies' Aid raised $1,200; increases in the envelope offerings of two years, and now $805, and of one year ago $269; increases in the plate offerings of two years ago and now $425, and of one year ago $170; church membership 420.

The Sunday school raised $398 for missions and has a total membership of 475.

Mr. H. J. Near occupied the chair and stated they were closing an exceptionally successful year.

Expert Bombers Are Under Arrest

Gang Which Has Been Terrorizing Chicago Rounded Up By Police.

CHICAGO, May 20.—Nine men said by one of their number to be the organized clique of expert bombers, who have been responsible for most of the terrorism that has marked recent labor troubles, were under arrest tonight. A tenth member of the alleged clique, Cornelius ("Con") Shea, labor leader, who led the 1905 teamsters' strike in Chicago, in which 21 men were killed and 415 injured, also was being sought.

Shea returned to Chicago a few years ago after being released from Sing Sing, where he served a six-year sentence, after being convicted of second degree murder in New York for the killing of a waitress.

The arrests resulted from an alleged confession made by Andrew Kerr, a member of the stationary engineers' union.

Those under arrest include several union officials, an I. W. W. member, a chauffeur and two men known to the police as expert bombers.

In Kerr's police believe that they have Chicago's master bomber, the self-confessed go-between for union agents and the leader of a desperate band of criminals. He is declared to have controlled all the bombing outrages growing out of recent labor troubles in Chicago.

Kerr was inspired to make his confession, according to the police, because of the fact that he was not paid for several bombings in the recent laundry strike.

According to Kerr's confession as given out by the police, prices for bombings varied from $500 to $200 according to the size of the charge used. Sluggings were priced at from $50 to $100.

Mrs. Lane, the widow, today announced that the family had abandoned the plan, and that the remains will be held here, pending final disposition, which will not be made until friends of the family have been consulted, Mrs. Lane said.

GUELPH, May 20.—The tournament committee of the Guelph Lawn Bowling Club held their initial meeting today and completed their organization. From now on the committee will be actively engaged in planning for the big open tournament at the local greens, which this year will commence on July fourth. The following officers and sub-committees were elected: Chairman, Harry Mahoney; secretary, G. M. Yates.

The entries for tournament will close on July 2, at noon, and it was decided to change the order in which the three tournament groups will be completed for this year. The Partridge Cup will go to the rink capturing the first event; the George Wallace Cup will go to the winners of the second competition; and there is a possibility of a new cup being offered to the Scotch Doubles Tournament.

Hits Milk Wagon.
A street car bored through a milk wagon at the intersections of Ross and Erie streets today and scattered the cans and milk all over the pavement. The driver, J. Harris, escaped by jumping, but the horse ran away and was lost for some time on the back streets.

The horse apparently was the offender. He bolted across the street just as the car was opposite Erie street, making the milk wagon a sure target for the approaching car.

Water.
A popular notion is that the free drinking of water causes excessive perspiration. An error, for perspiration is the physiological means of cooling the body, and drinking cool water actually diminishes perspiration if you are thirsty. It is too true that the body makes sweat so much in warm weather. Especially excessive consumption of animal nutriment in form of vegetables and fruits.

There are two great hygienic and moral improvements which American cities universally want: First, comfortable, and second, free drinking fountains, where cold water and not just water may be had by the thirst.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Recurrence of Boils.

My son had just about recovered from one very bad boil on the back of his neck, when another one appeared in the same place. Is it a good idea to put on a drawing poultice? If so, do you advise a clay poultice, such as—
It is expensive, but usually anything to get the pus out of the neck. Is there any way you can suggest to prevent the recurrence of boils in this manner.—(Mrs. W. Ans.)

Ans.—The back of the neck is selected by boils because there is a place we do not get to, and because it is so close over, the neckband of the collar rubs the neck in such manner as to give the patient an infection of the skin.—(Dr. Ans.)

There is a medicine called the skin-destroyer, which is used to destroy the skin.

rence of boils is, of course, due to direct infection by the discharges from the first boil, through careless handling. The best recurrence preventive is to sterilize the region a direct sunbath of half an hour or more a day. Sunlight is our most powerful germicide. The cloths and mixtures are extravagant and worse than useless, in my opinion. The only use of medicinal materials, but apply large hot compresses, which do not supply food for the germs. Avoid poulticing unless the doctor orders it, because the poultice dry treatment may be more effective. Let the boil be surgically treated by the doctor, if prompt recovery is desired. Each day the skin of the neck should be washed with a little alcohol on pledgets of cotton prior to the sunbath.

'PEG WHEAT PRICES STRONG AND HIGHER

Conditions West and Southwest.

day. The outcome, however, resulted largely from bullish crop conditions both West and Southwest. The market closed strong at 3 1/2c to 7 1/2c net higher, with May at $1.58 1/2 to $1.59 3/4, and July, $1.23 1/2 to $1.24 1/4. Corn finished unchanged to 1/4c lower, oats gained 1/4c to 3/4c, and provisions noted 2 1/2c to 5c.

From the outset, bulls had the advantage in the wheat market. It appeared to be generally admitted that the winter crop has suffered materially, the Southwest in particular losing ground, notably Oklahoma, Texas and Missouri. Reports were also current that unless plentiful moisture came soon in Kansas heavy losses would occur in sections which at present look promising. But the main point is the fact that Russia had been buying wheat at Liverpool, and was in the market for more. Inasmuch as under normal conditions the bulk of the wheat retaining supplies from Russia instead of shipping to that country the inference was that continued export demand for United States wheat would remain an important factor. With such an outlook the market developed strength up to the last, closing at practically the same level of 100¢.

Predictions that corn receipts here would show a decided increase next week tended to weaken the market. It is estimated that the southern reports indicated that the condition of oats is below the average for this time of the year.

In the provisions market the effect of higher quotations on hogs was counterbalanced by the weakness in corn.

refiners reduced prices on sort grades 10c to the basis of $6.50, but otherwise no changes were reported. With first granulated listed at $5.30 to $6.60, there was a little better inquiry noted. Although business on the whole was lighter, in refined sugar futures only one lot of September was sold at 6.22, a decline of 7 points from last night's close.

LENINE DID NOT REPUDIATE TENETS OF RED DOCTRINE

Speech Before Tenth Congress
Indicated No Departure
From Communism.

PLEA FOR PATIENCE

Relations Between Working Class and Peasantry Present Difficult Problem
For Russia.

New York, May 20.—The text of the speech delivered by Nikolai Lenin, the Russian premier, before the tenth congress of the Communist party, as printed in the official Bolshevik newspaper Pravda of March 10, was made public today by A. J. Sack, director of the Russian information bureau in the United States, representing in this country the Russian democratic anti-Bolshevik forces. This is the speech which led to reports that Lenin had repudiated a world revolution and communism for Russia.

Referring to the question of world
revolution, Lenin said:

"Aid is coming to us from the Western European countries. It is not coming as fast as we should like it, but it is coming, nevertheless, and gathering strength. Of course, the world revolution has made a great step forward, in comparison with last year. Of course, the Communist International, which last year existed merely in the form of proclamations, is now existing as an independent party in every country. In Germany, France and Italy the Communist International has become not only the center of the labor movement, but the focus of attention for the whole political life of those countries. This is our conquest, and no one can deprive us of it. The world revolution is growing stronger, while the economic crisis in Europe is getting worse at the same time."

"But, at any rate, were we to draw from this the conclusion that help would come to us from there
within a brief period in the shape of a solid proletarian revolution, we would be simply lunatics. We have during these three years learned to understand that the staking of the game on the world revolution does not imply any figuring on a definite date, and that the pace of its development, growing more and more rapid, may bring us the revolution in the spring, or may not. We must, therefore, know how to adapt our activity to the mutual class relations existing within our own and other countries, that we may be able for a long time to retain the dictatorship of the proletariat, and at least, gradually, to cure all the ills besetting us. Only such a view of the problem will be correct and sober."

The most urgent problem now in Russia, according to Lenin, is the relations between the working class and the peasantry. "These relations," he said, "are not what we had believed. The peasantry represents a peril many times
greater than all the perils threatened by the Denikine, Kolchak and Yudenitch campaigns put together."

"The peasants are not satisfied.
They do not care for the economic forms we offered them. We must not conceal anything, but admit that a form of relationship which the peasantry does not care for will never exist. The peasantry has become far more middle class than ever before.
The village has been leveled down.
The middle class peasant now predominates. We must, therefore, see what this peasant wants. He wants:
(1) A certain freedom in his economic turnover; (2) opportunity to market
his products in exchange for goods."
In conclusion, Lenin recommended concessions amounting to granting the peasant the right to dispose freely of that surplus of his products which would be left him after giving to the Bolshevik Government what he had promised to give. "The state in kind. Besides 'freedom in local trade for small farmers,' nothing is mentioned in Lenin's speech about any other concessions or changes in the fundamentals of the existing Bol-shevist economic policy."

Commenting upon Lenin's speech, Mr. Sack said it was clear that the main Russian industries and Russia's transport system would continue to operate on communistic principles.

As the evenings lengthen out and summer approaches, the question of "What shall we do this summer?" is in the minds of many. A new publication on Algonquin Park, the wonderful Ontario Government reserve, has been issued by the Canadian National-Grand Trunk Railways. It is filled with information helpful to those planning their summer holidays. The booklet is a handsome one, beautifully illustrated and describes the many attractions to be found in the park. It also contains views of the country that are situated there, and information as to the rates. There is probably not another section of the country that compares to this extensive territory for the canoe cruiser, camper and angler. With an altitude of two thousand feet above the sea, the air is pure and bracing. Two hundred miles north of Toronto and one hundred and seventy miles west of Ottawa, it is easy
of access. For pleasure, rest and recreation there is no place like Algonquin Park. For full information and

FINDS OF GOLD IN SCOT REEF'S

Reports Come From Mining
Sections; Fail to Create
Rush of Prospectors.

GLASGOW, May 20.—Rumors of gold discoveries in Scotland are renewed,
but so far there have been no rushes
to spots where finds are reported.

That the precious metal is to be found in that country has from time to time been shown by discoveries in Kildonan, Sutherlandshire, and Lanarkshire, but the quantity has seldom been equal in value to the cost of extracting the metal.

Gold thus far has been found in alluvial deposits, but the miners believe that a gold-bearing reef exists somewhere in the country, as pieces of quartz containing gold have been picked up at different times.

In past centuries, notably the fourteenth and fifteenth, gold was found in Lanarkshire, sufficient to make crowns for monarchs, and bowls, sometimes empty, sometimes filled with coins mined from the same source, were presented to foreign and friendly sovereigns.

There was a rush to Kildonan in the sixties of the last century, and some hundreds of prospectors flooded the district.

The present gold rumors come chiefly from the Lowther Hills in Lanarkshire, where for centuries lead mining
has been the occupation of the villagers of Warlockhead and Leadhills. In ancient times the district was known as "God's Treasure House," because considerable quantities of gold were discovered there.

For some months a wage dispute has made the miners idle and they have spent their time in the burns and hollows searching for gold, washing the soil in wooden troughs and occasionally finding gold in small quantities.

AUTO WORKER BECOMES LORD

Stays at Job for Weeks Before Claiming Title—Says He Won't Use It.

DETROIT, May 20.—Francis B. Courtney, for years head of the foundry planning department of the Cadillac Motor Car Company, left Monday night for Montreal. From there he sails for England to assume the title of Baron Courtney, take a seat in the House of Lords,
and receive money and estates valued,
at the present rate of exchange, at more than a million and a quarter dollars.

Active in the affairs of St. Paul's Cathedral, of which he was communicant, and leader of Wednesday night
meetings at McGregor Institute, Mr.
Courtney was so reticent that, though he lived in Detroit a dozen years, even his closest friends did not know until
a week ago that for some time a title
and vast estates were waiting for him in England, when he chose to claim them. For several weeks Mr. Courtney has been living at the Crane Apartments, 4445 Third avenue.

Had to Search For Him.
The inheritance comes through the death of an uncle, Baron Francis B.
Courtney, whose two sons, it is said,
lost their lives in the world war. The death of Baron Courtney occurred some time ago, but his estate could not be moved to claim the estates, and this brought about a search in which a local trust company was successful. At the time of the death of Baron Courtney American newspapers carried a short cable, and Mr. Courtney's friends called his attention to this. To them he admitted that Baron Courtney was his uncle, but made no further comment.

Even when the news of his inheritance became known among his friends,
Mr. Courtney preserved his reticence.
The estates are at Chislehurst, he said,
and consist largely of lands. He would give no other details.
"It was my pride that kept me silent," said Mr. Courtney, just before leaving for Montreal. "I was feeling also that I would rather make my own way in America than have a great deal of money. I have been most fortunate in my friends here. My work has taken me among some of the best and I enjoyed my associations."

Won't Use His Title.
"My plans are to go to England, assume my title, which I assure you I will never use, take my seat, and just as soon as I can close up my affairs,
return to America and make my home here. It has been 20 years since I came here, and I have learned to love this country."

Mr. Courtney, who is one of several children, comes from a wealthy English family. While studying in England to become a physician, his health broke down. This led to a trip around the world, in which he spent some time in Australia. Having acquired a taste for travel, he visited India, spent months
on the Mediterranean, and traveled extensively on the continent.

One evening in Hull, England, he was with several classmates and someone proposed going to America. Mr. Courtney, after wiring his mother, sailed the next day, and has since lived in New York. He didn't like that city, however, and returned to his native country.
After two years he came back. His mother died about fifteen years ago,
and, being an orphan, he decided to remain in this country. Then he came to Detroit and has lived here since.

Silent as to Lordship.
After his uncle's death, Mr. Courtney —listed in the Detroit directory as
"auto wkr"—continued at his employment, without indicating to his associates that he could properly be addressed as "Baron Courtney." Up to the time he was summoned to the trust company's offices by a telephone message that gave no indication as to the reason, he did not know that his whereabouts had been discovered by the executors of the estate.

"There is nothing wonderful about that," said Mr. Courtney. "I was contented where I was. But, things having come about as they have, I believe it is better to settle the matter."

Fatigue - your enemy - don't let it down you!

Bread ranks first among the strength-producing foods. It nourishes without strain on any organ of digestion. It contains all the properties needed for health and vigor.
After a luncheon of bread and milk you rise up satisfied,
well-nourished, fit for the tasks that seemed forbidding before.

Have You Ever Thought How Much Further You Could Get In Life --- How Much More You Could Accomplish, If It Were Not That Your Strength and Energy Often "Give Out"
Just at the very time when you could best employ them.

The best answer is—double your energy.
It is proven that this can be done by attention to diet—the eating of simple,
wholesome foods.

Try a diet of more bread—and see how much longer you can work—or—play—without tiring.

The bread that releases most energy is that made from the purest quality ingredients—

JAZZ? NOTHIN' DOIN' FOR HIPPO

Caged Madame Ducks 'Music' That Humans Pretend To Like So Well.

NEW YORK, May 20.—Humans may like jazz, but animals don't. This was the conclusion reached by a group of scientists who recently assembled in the Central Park Zoo to see what a saxophone and traps would do to emotions of monkeys, lions, leopards, elephants
and other jungle beasts.

A quintet of musicians guaranteed to "rag" anything from Wagner down was massed in front of monkey cages for the first laboratory test to determine whether the line "music hath charms to soothe the savage breast" was, after all, only poetic license.

According to a corps of unscientific reporters who joined the zoo with scientists from Columbia University, American Museum of Natural History and New York Zoological Park, the monkeys registered emotion all right—
but of a rather savage kind.
When the latest jazz was banged into the ears of lions and their mates, all hopped to their feet, with fur bristling.

As for Mrs. Murphy, hippopotamus, she merely wrinkled the experiment by diving into her tank and shutting out the racket. The elephants seemed to tremble with rage.

Only one beast was found that apparently was able to endure, if not enjoy, jazz. That was Bagheeta, the leopardess. But when a hymn was played, she started a six-day race around her cage, spitting sparks. The scientists, however, put a question mark
after Bagheeta's test, for attention was called to the fact that, at the moment,
a keeper whom she chose to relish only as a potential meal, had just passed her cage.

A NATURAL ASBESTOS MONOPOLY.
[Providence Journal.]
As Dame Nature in scattering her benefactions laid down most of the potash in Germany, the nitrate in Chile, platinum in Russia, and diamonds in South Africa, so she was graciously pleased to bestow asbestos on Canada. Most of the world's supply comes from a long, narrow zone
of serpentine rock in the province of Quebec, and according to a Canadian Government report the value of the production last year, $11,758,234, was equivalent to more than 50 per cent of the value of the total output of all the minerals in that province, establishing a new high record.

Unlike petroleum, a use for which existed long before the discovery that the earth had vast lakes of it hidden away, uses have had to be found for asbestos to make its mining worthwhile. Modern man is ingenious in finding what he finds to service, as he is industrious in finding what he has need of. Asbestos is a curious mineral, being so soft and flexible that it is worked about as easily as textile fibre.

The pure white product of Quebec
is spun into thread, woven into rope, fabricated in cloths, as for the fireproof curtain of a theatre or for boiler and steam pipe coverings, mixed with paint to protect a building against sparks, and in countless other ways has become essential in industrial processes. The ancients had no other use for it than for wrappings, to hold the ashes of the dead on the funeral pyre.

SECRETARY TO REST.—Robert
Liddle, industrial secretary of the local
Y. M. C. A. was Thursday granted a vacation of three months by the board. He will take a trip to the west.
Mr. Liddle has been in person has been appointed to fill his position while he is on his vacation.
