LAURENTI MAY BE CHOSEN AS VATICAN HEAD

Claims Support of at Least Thirty Members of Sacred College.

BALLOTING ON THURSDAY

Name of Cardinal Ratti Heard Less Often—Maffi Group To Compromise.

Rome, Jan. 31.—Interest in the choice of a successor to Pope Benedict is increasing as the time draws near for assembling of the Sacred Congregation, and many attempts to find an indication of the result are being made.

Cardinal Laurenti, secretary of the congregation of the propaganda, although raised to the purple only last year, is understood to be favored by at least thirty members of the Sacred College, who believe in a rapprochement with the Italian government. At the same time he is said to be acceptable to those opposed to closer relations with the Quirinal.

The name of Cardinal Ratti, archbishop of Milan, mentioned previously as favored by the "peace group," headed by Cardinal Gasparri, is not heard so often now, and the action headed by Cardinal Merry Del Val, which had been credited with favoring Cardinal Maffi, archbishop of Pisa, is reported as ready for a compromise before the balloting begins.

The incident yesterday in the Sixtine Chapel, when a member of the pontifical choir became demented, has caused the Vatican officials to cancel all permits to enter the chapel this morning.

The suggestion made in some of the Italian newspapers, that the conclave may be postponed to permit the attendance of the American cardinals, who are now on their way to Rome, is not taken seriously by members of the Sacred College. The correspondent is informed that the conclave will convene Thursday, as was originally planned.

DEFEAT OF HYDRO BYLAW SURPRISES

Humberstone Voters' Decision Likely To Delay Proposed Plans.

Toronto, Jan. 31.—A special dispatch to the Star from St. Catharines says:

The defeat of the Niagara, St. Catharines and Toronto Railway acquisition bylaw, by so large a majority in Humberstone was a great surprise to hydro friends here, and they are unable to explain it. It was thought Humberstone would go solidly for the bylaw, and its defeat by over 200 majority is something that was not considered possible. The low majorities for the purchase in Crowland and Thorndale Townships, with additional surprises. Grant-ham's defeat was expected, and in view of what happened in the other three townships which voted, it is surprising the majority was not larger than 62.

"While no announcement is made it is believed this may put a stop for the present at least to the proposition by the municipalities to take over the railroad even though St. Catharines, Welland, Thorold, Merriton, Port Dalhousie, Pelham, Port Colborne, Louth and Niagara-on-the-Lake have voted by large majorities to acquire it."

London, England, Jan. 31.—A dispatch to the Times from Rotterdam quotes the Courier as saying that Lithuania is taking steps to bring the Polish-Lithuanian difficulties before the international court of justice, at The Hague.

STREET CARMEN DEMAND "NEW DEAL"

Expect Arms Parley To End Labors Within Week

DELEGATES TO RETURN HOME IN FEW DAYS

Reach Virtual Settlement of Shantung Question at the Washington Conference.

NAVAL BOARD MEETS

Far Eastern Committee Also Convenes To Wind Up Discussions.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Virtual settlement by the Japanese and Chinese of the long debated Shantung question and final agreement on the text of the five power naval limitation conference very near to the conclusion of its labors today with some of the delegates expecting to be on their homeward journey possibly by the end of the week.

Prediction that the last details of the plan for restoration to China of Shantung province would be settled at today's meeting was made by Dr. Koo of the Chinese delegation following an agreement reached last night between the Japanese and Chinese covering all principles required as a basis for disposal of the Tsingtao Tsinanifu railroad question. The basis of settlement is understood to have been the compromise plan supported by President Harding.

Meantime the naval committee of the whole was meeting today to give final approval to the text of the naval treaty as completed yesterday by agreement in the naval committee of fifteen on the Pacific fortifications article. The treaty tomorrow will be announced to the world at a plenary session of the conference.

The Far Eastern committee at the same time had been called in session today to clean up the collateral issues now remaining in that field, which, with Shantung out of the way, was expected to take but a few days. It was the expectation of conference officials that another plenary session would be called tomorrow afternoon, following that for the naval announcement to permit formal ratification of the done or more resolutions relating to China which have now received committee approval only.

The fortifications article, which has been holding up completion of the naval pact for several weeks, was settled yesterday by an agreement which hie fortifications "status quo" in the Pacific is to include the American Aleutian Islands, a part of Alaska, as well as the Bonin Island group of Japan.

SIR JAMES CRAIG TO VISIT COLLINS

Irish Leaders To Resume Conference Commenced in London.

Dublin, Jan. 31.—Sir James Craig, premier of Ulster, will visit Michael Collins, head of the Irish provisional government, in the Dublin city hall on Thursday of this week, it was announced today, to resume the conference opened in London recently, at which an agreement was reached between them on various matters concerning Ulster and South Ireland. It is expected that the railway situation, boundary questions and the position of the workers expelled from Belfast will be discussed.

The newspaper Irish Republic, in commenting today on the Craig-Collins agreement says: "Full compliance with this agreement is impossible until we know what is behind it. One definite fact emerges, that an order to stop the boycott on Belfast goods has been made by the Dail Eireann, and that on the strength of this pledge illegally given in London by Mr. Collins, not as a Dail minister, but as a free state leader, for this valuable concrete concession there is no definite quid pro quo on the part of Sir James Craig—only the shadow of a conditional promise about the reinstatement of expelled workers in the Belfast district, a hint about joint action on the railways and the prisoner question, and two clauses, the first and the fourth which strangely enough imply that the six counties are going to elect for partition. These clauses, moreover, necessitate an amendment, good in itself of the treaty," every word and line of which we nevertheless have heretofore been told is so sacred that even Eamon de Valera in the Dail Eireann could not move an amendment to it."

BARRIE CENTENARIAN DIES

BARRIE, Ont., Jan. 30.—Barrie's oldest citizen died yesterday in the person of Joseph William Cook, in his 101st year. When he reached the century mark, Nov. 23, last, he was remarkably bright mentally, and active physically.

Paris To London, Ontario In 17 Hours Via Airplane

LOUIS BREGUET (AT RIGHT) WITH A LOAD OF PASSENGERS IN A PLANE OF HIS OWN DESIGN.

BY MILTON BRONNER.
Paris, Jan. 31.—A world in the not very distant future in which it will be possible to fly from Paris to London, Ontario, in seventeen hours.
It will be possible to circle the globe in a non-stop airplane flight. It may be possible to travel so fast that you can beat the speed with which the world is whirling around the sun, so that passengers would see the sun rising in the west and setting in the east.

Looking Into Future.
I asked him to set forth something of the possibilities of the near future. Said he:
"The aviation of the future will be determined by the necessities of commercial aerial lines. These necessities are to know:
"1—How to effect without stop a flight of over 2,100 miles which would carry us in a single flight across the Atlantic from Cork to Newfoundland.
"2—How to secure a commercial speed of 120 miles an hour. This would battle high winds and avoid too great delays in time tables.
"3—How to possess a wireless installation permitting the crew to send and receive messages constantly.
"4—How to arrange for the comfort of passengers, especially night voyages."

"Such an airplane is possible, but its realization will not be easy. I can indicate the kind of airplane that in a few years may be able to go the distance from Paris to Buenos Aires in two and a half days.

"It would have 2,000 horsepower, its surface would be from 260 to 250 square meters and it would weigh from 14 to 15 tons. It would probably have a speed of 150 miles per hour. There would be accommodations equal to those of sleeping cars for twenty passengers.
"I figure the price of a ticket would be 9,000 francs, against 15,200 now charged for a cabin de luxe on a steamship.
"The principal lines I visualize are those from Paris to New York, from Paris to Buenos Aires via Dakar and Rio de Janeiro, and from Paris to the extreme Orient via Constantinople, Bagdad, Bombay, Calcutta, Hanoi, Shanghai to Yokohama. The passengers would save money and do the journey in one-eighth the time.
"Twenty Years Ahead.
"I foresee, say in 20 years, a giant monoplane to travel between Paris and Montreal or Toronto in which the plane will be of metal and the cabins for the passengers will be built inside this plane. The machine will have 5,000 horsepower and weigh 50 tons. In addition to the crew of 14 men, it will be able to carry 100 passengers with light baggage.
"With a commercial speed of 150 miles per hour, it would make the trip in 24 hours.
"In the meantime we are cutting down in the weight of airplanes, increasing the power of our engines and cutting down the consumption of petrol.
"Eventually it may be possible to build a machine capable of going at the rate of about 750 miles an hour. This means that, starting from Paris and traveling on the parallel of latitude on which Paris is situated, such a machine could in a single flight go clear around the world in 22 to 24 hours."

Business Conditions in Britain Improving, Wolvin Claims

HALIFAX, N.S., Jan. 31.—In an interview last night, R. M. Wolvin, president of the British Empire Steel Corporation, who returned on the Empress of Scotland Sunday, said that while in Germany and England he had been negotiating for sales of iron ore from the Wabana mines, and felt that negotiations would result in satisfactory business in the future.
"In Britain business conditions have improved very greatly during the year, and British export trade is increasing," Mr. Wolvin said. "In Germany there is little evidence of unemployment and the condition of the people seems reasonably satisfactory. The German steel industry is working to about sixty per cent of capacity and would do better if it were not that Germany has to make deliveries of coal to France. Skilled workmen in Germany now receive 109 marks per day, equivalent to 40c in Canadian currency."

SHILLINGTON TO BE BROUGHT TO DOMINION SOON

Former London Accountant Still Being Held by Edinburgh Police.

WILL SEND OFFICER

Major-General Elliott States He Will Direct Man To Make Journey.

Harold R. Shillington, former accountant of the London and Western Trust Company, alleged to have misappropriated securities to an approximate value of $70,000 and at present in the county jail, Edinburgh, Scotland, will leave for Canada within fourteen days.

Major-General H. M. Elliott, of Toronto, chief of the Provincial Police Force in the department of Attorney-General Raney, informed that London Advertiser early today that from present indications it will be necessary for an officer to journey from Canada to bring the Londoner back home for trial. The general asserted that there is but little doubt that a member of his force from this district would soon be directed to prepare for the trip.
Late Monday night the general explained, he called further instructions to Edinburgh in connection with Shillington's extradition. The latter's apparent willingness however, to waive all preliminaries will naturally facilitate his removal to Canada.
The department in Toronto has now the necessary credentials and following another reply from the Scotch authorities it is explained that nothing should then prevent the departure of a Canadian officer overseas.

$2,000,000 DAMAGES IN DOCK FIRE NEAR DULUTH

Superior, Wis., Jan. 31.—A spectacular fire at the Great Northern Ore Dock No. 2 at Allouez, a suburb, which for a time threatened other ore docks, was brought under control early today through combined efforts of Superior firemen and a crew from Duluth. The loss may reach $2,000,000.
The fire started last night from an unknown cause. The dock was of wood construction and burned rapidly. So intense was the heat that ice in Lake Superior was melted for a considerable distance about the structure. An added danger was the repeated explosion of what firemen said was oxygen gas in the ore pockets.

CLAIMS HAMILTON POLICE INACTIVE

W. B. Dixon Declares He Gave Information Concerning Buchanan Case.

Hamilton, Jan. 31.—Murder will out, but that it sometimes has tremendous difficulties and much delay in getting out is shown by the Buchanan poison case. Miss Carrie Robinson, the public stenographer in the Bank of Hamilton Building, who typed the original circular for James Buchanan from his pencil notes, told a friend on Jan. 19 to notify the police that she had typed the circular. W. B. Dixon, 199 Cannon street east, was the friend, and he insists that he notified the Hamilton police either on Jan. 19 or the following day. The question of why there was apparently no police action on that information is something for the police to answer.

Even yet she has not been called, though she identifies the circular as the one she typed and the picture of Buchanan as that of the man who gave her the order.
On Jan. 13, when the newspapers carried the reports of the death by poisoning of Anderson Buchanan, Miss Robinson thought of the circular which she had been asked to copy, and she told W. B. Dixon about it. It was either on the same day or a day later that Mr. Dixon told the local police of the occurrence and yet nothing developed until the finding of the printed circular more than a week later.
Today Mr. Dixon, while not desirous of being mixed up in the case, admitted that these facts were correct. He said that when he went to the local detectives' office he saw one of the officers who received the information and said that it was a matter for the Toronto police. However, he added, he would make a note of it, and he wrote the information down on a yellow slip of paper.

BOSTON POLICE USE RIOT GUNS TO SECURE MAN

Three Are Injured When Resistant Barricades Himself in Home.

FIRES ON ALL IN SIGHT

Renzy Murray Captured After Long Battle in South Side of City.

Boston, Jan. 31.—Sixty patrolmen, armed with riot guns, battled more than an hour early today against Renzy Murray, a negro, who barricaded in his home in the south end, shot and seriously wounded two patrolmen, a negress and a negro, and set fire to a bed in which an infant lay. Murray finally surrendered unharmed to a dozen officers, who broke down the door of the house and advanced on him in a body.
Shouts of "Lynch him!" were made from a crowd of bystanders as he was brought to the street. They fought to get at him, and he was roughly handled, but unhurt, before the officers were able to put him in a patrol wagon.
The trouble began, neighbors told the police, when Murray ejected Mrs. William Jackson, a negress, who was his tenant, and fired several shots after her into Wheeler street.
Patrolmen Dalton and McShane, attracted by the shooting, attempted to enter the house, but Murray bolted the door. McShane then tried to get in through a window. He was shot in the stomach. Another bullet wounded Dalton in the cheek.
Riot Calm Sounded.
A riot call was sounded. Every available policeman from station four was sent to the scene, all armed with riot guns. The house was surrounded and bullets were sprayed against it from all sides, while Murray, going from the second floor to the roof and back again, sent less frequent shots into the narrow street.
On the top floor Mrs. Jackson's husband was held in fear of Murray, holding his five-months-old baby in his arms. Murray shot him twice. The child fell on a bed and Murray set fire to it, Jackson said. The infant was removed to a hospital suffering from burns.
Occupants of nearby tenement houses peered from their windows until shots drove them to cover. Mrs. Julia Scott was struck on the hand by one bullet, which severed a finger and fractured two others.
As the battle progressed, firemen were called and lines of hose were laid to flood Murray out. Patrolman Edward J. Wynn, braving the negro's fire, smashed the blinds on a first-floor window so that the hose could be brought into play.
Offers No Resistance.
While Murray's shots were suspended for a moment, Police Sergeant Ryan and twelve officers battered down the front entrance. They entered in a body, the sergeant calling on Murray to surrender. The negro submitted without resistance. Patrolmen Dalton and McShane, and Jackson, the wounded negro, were taken to a hospital, where the names of Dalton and Jackson were placed on the dancer list. McShane's wound in the stomach was said to be serious. Jackson was suffering from two bullet wounds, one in the chest and another in the right leg. Patrolman Dalton, it was feared, would lose the sight of his right eye. No charges were placed against Murray, pending the outcome of McShane's injuries.

BEGIN BURIAL OF WASHINGTON DISASTER DEAD

Police Expect to Reduce List of Victims Killed to 95.

PREPARE TO RAZE WALLS

Building Commissioner Declares Accident Due to Defective Material.

Washington, Jan. 31.—While the city began the burial of its dead today, District of Columbia authorities pushed their investigation of the Knickerbocker Theatre disaster and the Senate was expected to take action on a resolution proposing an independent inquiry by that body.
A re-check of the death list by the police today showed that the final total, outside of the expected deaths of injured, of which there are now 95 from the total of 105 carried yesterday. Of the total of 133 injured, 62 remained in hospitals today, with a dozen reported in critical condition. E. H. Shaughnessy, second assistant postmaster general, although included among these, was said to be still showing improvement today.
Preparations to raze the walls of the theatre were under way today, the search of the ruins for victims having been completed yesterday.
Col. Charles Keller, engineer commissioner of the district held the option today, after a personal survey of a large expanse of interior where it is desired to avoid the use of girders and columns as supports. Practically all of the larger motion picture houses use the same design, he said.
INSPECT N. Y. THEATRES.
New York, Jan. 31.—Inspectors today began an investigation of all theatres on New York's famous "white way," as well as all motion picture houses in Manhattan. The survey was ordered by Borough President Julius Miller to forestall a repetition of the Washington theatre disaster.

Incurs French Ire

Medill McCormick.

MEDILL McCORMICK.

PARIS, Jan. 31.—Resentment against the United States is sweeping France like a prairie fire. It is being fanned by a great newspaper, Le Matin. This paper until recently supported M. Briand, but it now seems determined to show Premier Poincare that it can be more royalist than a king.
The immediate cause of the resentment against America is the resolution introduced in the senate at Washington by Senator Medill McCormick, of Illinois, demanding to know the exact state of European finances and the amounts being expended on armaments. It is realized here that behind this resolution lies an American public opinion blaming France for the failure of certain features of the Washington conference program.
The American public opinion in the city since Saturday last the union chiefs report that as yet the company has not to their knowledge made any further move relating to the proposed reduction of three cents. It is the general opinion, however, that the impending disagreement will eventually claim the attention of a board of conciliation.

HEAVY EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS RECORDED

Tremors So Pronounced That Seismograph Needles Are Displaced.

Washington, Jan. 31.—An earthquake of great intensity, probably 2,500 to 2,600 miles south of Washington, was registered early today at the Georgetown Seismographical Observatory. The quake began at 8:25 a.m., and ten minutes later the tremors had become so pronounced as to throw the registering needles off the scale.

The quake also was registered on the seismograph of the weather bureau, officials of which described it as "monstrous." The Rev. Francis Londoner, director of the Georgetown Seismographical Observatory, and one of the foremost seismologists of the world, said the "quake was 'enormous.' Both machines were still registering the 'quake' at 10 o'clock.
Cambridge, Mass., Jan. 31.—An earthquake shock so violent that it put the recording apparatus at the Harvard University seismographic station temporarily out of commission, occurred today. The scene was computed roughly at 2,778 miles from here, by Prof. J. B. Woodworth. The vibrations began at 8:24 a.m., and at 8:40 became violent.

FELT AT OTTAWA

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—A fairly severe earthquake shock was registered at the Dominion Observatory this morning. The first preliminary tremors arrived at 8 hours, 24 minutes, 30 seconds Eastern standard time. The distance to the epicenter was 2,420 miles.
FOUR MINERS DIE IN KENTUCKY EXPLOSION
Louisville, Ky., Jan. 31.—Four miners were killed, two were injured seriously and two are missing as a result of an explosion in the Layman-Calloway coal mine at Layman, Ky., 20 miles from here, last night, according to reports received here today.
Officials here of the company left early today for the scene of the accident.

Cupid Gets Away to Good Start But Stork Shows Less Activity

Cupid got away well during the first month of the year, when 61 marriages were solemnized in the city. It was a gain of six over the initial month of 1921, though two less than December of 1921.
Compared with a year ago, the birth total shows a decrease of 5, 117, 1921, 117. The births for January were equal as to sexes, there being 56 boys and 56 girls, December, 1921, was ahead of the two Januarys, with 120.
Deaths during the month just ended, numbered 86, 44 being women and 40 men. This is an increase of 10 over a year ago.
The building permits show nine new homes being started during the month. Mr. Piper states that this is quite an increase over other years. The total number of permits for the month is 38, with a value of $44,430, has been exceeded only twice in the last fifteen years; in 1910, when the total was $61,810, and in 1914, with a total of $44,735. Last January the total was $2,300 below this year.
Latest permits include: Silverwoods, a new tank support for the roof, $900; Mr. Coles, Edward street, repairing damage caused by fire, $400; E. T. Mallett, 724 Queen's avenue, new foundation, $300, and S. Liberson, 171 Maitland street, garage, $450.

MOVE TO QUASH AGREEMENT ON WAGE QUESTION

Sudden Development Follows Company's Notice of Reduction in Pay.

NEW PROVISIONS ADDED

Men Want Time-and-Half Pay For Sundays and Holidays.

The London street railway motormen and conductors, through their officials, at noon Tuesday moved to quash the existing wage agreement between themselves and the company.
This sudden development is particularly significant in view of the fact that President Currie of the railway company has but recently arrived in the city from Cleveland, Ohio, supposedly to view the situation at close range.
On Feb. 1 the company, in pursuance of the customary 30-day notice, stipulated in the agreement, notified the employees that a reduction of three cents per hour would become effective March 1. Since that time nothing definite was undertaken by the men.
At 12 o'clock Tuesday, however, representatives of the union formally submitted to the company's general office a communication to the effect that it was the desire of the men that in sixty days' time (April 1), the present agreement be "opened up" and certain clauses added and others altered.
The demands on the company is included provision for "time and a half for Sundays and holidays" and "at least one week's holidays with pay for each employee at some time during the year."
While President Currie has been in the city since Saturday last the union chiefs report that as yet the company has not to their knowledge made any further move relating to the proposed reduction of three cents. It is the general opinion, however, that the impending disagreement will eventually claim the attention of a board of conciliation.

MANITOBA GOVT. TO REDUCE SALARIES

Cabinet Ministers and All Other Civil Service Employees Affected.

[Special to London Advertiser.]

Winnipeg, Jan. 31.—A general reduction of the salaries of cabinet ministers, from those of cabinet ministers right on through the whole gamut of the civil service, is to be proposed by the Independent Farmer Party in the legislature as an amendment to the resolution of W. H. Spinks, Conservative member for Cypress, who is making a report that as yet the members' sessional indemnity from his present level of $1,900 to the old scale of $1,500 per session.
Mr. Spinks announced that the farmers would move a sweeping amendment. A regular schedule, it appears, has been drafted to meet the case. The farmers propose that salaries of $4,000 to $5,000 and up be reduced 20 per cent; those from $2,000 to $4,000, 10 per cent; those from $1,500 to $2,000, 5 per cent; with no reduction on salaries of $1,000 or lower.
The schedule, it is said, also will provide in the amendment that the reductions shall not apply to any civil servant, no matter what his salary, if he has not had an increase since 1914.

WILL RAISE HOGS AT GOLF COURSE

Chicago, Jan. 31.—Hogs vs. dancing as adjuncts of golf clubs came into the discussion of the meeting of the greens committee of the United States Golf Association, and the hogs won favor among the delegates.
J. T. Lutz, of Skokie Club, Chicago, where the national open championship will be held next summer, declared that the budget of his club called for $81,000 this year, and that only $17,000 of that sum was awarded to him for upkeep of the course, while dancing and other social activities would take much of the rest.
Another delegate then asserted that his club had gone in for economy, although not parsimony, and was scavenging what had hitherto gone to waste. The club had not only utilized spare ground to raise all needed vegetables for the clubhouse table, but had bought a pack of hogs, which fate rested on the table refuse. This credited the club with a neat sum, which helped keep up the greens without drawing on the dance fund.

REPORT MAYBEE IMPROVED.

BELLELEVILLE, Ont., Jan. 30.—The condition of M. E. Maybee, M.P., who was injured by a kick from a horse, is today reported as much improved. His physician thinks he is out of danger. Mr. Maybee is still at the farmhouse, five miles west of Trenton, where he was injured.

OFFICE HELP AT CITY HALL STAGE 'AT HOME'

Civic Employees Turn Municipal Offices Into Ball-room.

GIRLS PROVIDE SUPPER

City Clerk Baker Carries Off First Prize For Men in Card Playing.

A social event of high order was the little at home staged in the city hall on Monday night by the members of the staff and their friends.

To the women members of the staff of City Treasurer James Bell rests the responsibility for and the success of the event. It was held in the treasurer's office and was mirthsome and jolly from start to finish.

The treasurer's private office and the general office were given over to cards, twelve tables being engaged in a merry euchre battle. This had its surprises. Mrs. Garratt captured the ladies' first with the highest score of all. City Clerk Baker emerged at the head of the male cardplayers, while at the same time Mrs. Baker stepped to the fore and captured the ladies' consolation.

In the meantime, in the auditor's office, a different story was being told. This is a new addition to the building and is provided with an excellent floor. Its true worth was well tested out by a merry throng of dancers urged on by excellent music. First the younger frolicers had their innings, then following the cards, some of the old-time square dances provided an irresistible call for the old members and they once again succumbed.

The girls in the treasurer's office had worked hard to decorate the hall up with the result that it was a regular bower of beauty. The decorations were dainty and attractive. Beautiful flowers graced the various vantage points. All the girls at the city hall had combined to prepare supper and this part proved as enjoyable as the rest of the program.

During the evening Mr. Edward Wood of the city engineer's staff, and Mr. William Saunders of the treasurer's staff, entertained with well rendered songs. Both proved pleasing singers, possessed of excellent voices. Following the declaration of the card prize winners, Mayor Wilson, on behalf of the staff, presented suitable prizes.

REPORTS SURRENDER OF MOORISH TRIBESMEN

London, Jan. 31.—An important surrender of Moorish tribesmen to the Spanish forces in Morocco is reported in a Central News dispatch from Madrid, relaying Melilla advices. These state that Chief Benechael, with 3,000 Moors, submitted to Col. Riquelme, and handed over property that had been taken from General Navarro and other Spaniards held prisoner by the Moors.

BEGIN ANTI-BRITISH CAMPAIGN IN INDIA

Gandhi Lays Plan For Civil Disobedience Experiment.

London, England, Jan. 31.—Today having been fixed as the beginning of the "civil disobedience" campaign in India, several of the London newspapers discuss the outlook, which they regard with considerable anxiety.

The plan laid down by M. K. Gandhi, non-co-operationist leader, to try the disobedience experiment first in the two areas of Bardoli and Anand seems from various reports little likely to be observed, indications being that the scheme will be put into operation throughout a much wider area. The recent movement in the Guntur district is cited in support of this supposition.

Reports appear almost daily in the London press, showing that the non-co-operation propaganda is becoming intensified in the rural areas, where the peasantry is elated at the prospect held out by Gandhi's agents that they shall be exempt from taxation. There are also indications of serious unrest in some provinces, chiefly at Barabanki and Hardoi, in Northern Oudh, where it is reported with assertions similar to those which materially aided the cause of the Indian mutiny. Among these are statements that the British are mixing wines with the medicines issued at the public dispensaries, and are using pork fat in certain manufactures (both pork and wines are anathema to Mohammedans).

Similar stories affecting the religious prejudices of the Hindus are circulating with the purpose of influencing that section of the population. Official dispatches admit the seriousness of the situation, pointing out that "the mass of inflammable material is so great that the possibility of widespread disturbances in the near future cannot be ignored. The position for the moment is described by a writer in today's Morning Telegraph as "one of expectancy and preparation on the part of both the authorities and the extremists."

CLAIM BODY NOT FOUND AT SCENE OF SLAYING

Montreal, Jan. 31.—W. Amyot, K. C., representing the provincial attorney-general's department, arrived here yesterday in connection with the inquiry into the murder of Raoul Delorme, the 24-year-old Ottawa college student, found dead in an outskirt of the city on Jan. 7 last. Mr. Amyot at once got in touch with officials at work on the case. Information obtained by detectives yesterday established proof that the murder did not occur near where the body was found. The discoloration in the snow has been found on analysis to be animal matter and not blood, as was at first thought.

Efforts to have Rev. Father Delorme's automobile identified as the one seen on the night of the murder and claimed to have contained the victim and another man, broke down on Saturday, when the person who made the statement was shown the priest's car, and said it was a totally different make of machine.

DEBATE SCHOOL SALARIES AT SECRET SESSION

Board of Education Committee Closes Doors Against Press.

REASONS ARE OFFERED

Trustees Declare Opinions of Certain Teachers Not For Public's Ears.

The special salary committee of the board of education entered into business in real earnestness Tuesday morning. While the meeting was held behind closed doors and the press was promptly barred, it was explained by the department authorities that in the consideration of teachers' salaries, it must necessarily follow that personalities be indulged in, and naturally the trustees would not care to make public what might be their opinion of the respective teachers.

They assume this stand for obvious reasons, they assert. Principal W. H. T. Mooney of the Collegiate Institute and Principal H. B. Beal of the London Technical and Art School were both in attendance to submit the case for the various members of their staffs and offer suggestions, etc. The committee is endeavoring to base its findings upon considerable data that was amassed by Secretary W. A. Tanner, revealing the various salary scales in the centers of comparative size throughout the province.

It is fully expected that Trustee Bice's committee will have a report to submit at the next session of the board. This group includes Trustee Smith, chairman of the board, and the chairmen of the various committees.

ANGLO-SAXON IS LEADER IN THE MEDICAL WORLD

Famous British Surgeon Tells London Audience of Present-Day Needs.

CO-OPERATION ESSENTIAL

Albert Carless, Pleads For Closer Ideals Between Doctors and Public.

Education of the public to co-operate with the medical profession in an intelligent effort to ward off preventable diseases, was the keynote of an address delivered by Albert Carless, C.B.E., M.B., M.S. (London), F.R.C.S., medical director of Barnardo Homes, and noted English surgeon, before the Western Ontario Academy of Medicine and Faculty and students of Western University in the above institution Monday afternoon. The speaker is a medical director of Barnardo Homes, having given up the practice of surgery for charitable work.

Must Present Case. "I was horrified to come out to Canada and find you are just as bad as we are for tuberculosis," he informed his audience. "Until you doctors talk frankly to the people you are not going to get the death rate down. This might be said to be killing the goose that laid the golden egg, but so long as prejudice and ignorance live, so long will we have work to do."

In his opening remarks, Mr. Carless referred to "The Manual of Surgery," of which he is the author, and which is used as a surgical text book by medical students in all parts of the world. He traced its inception from the initial edition 23 years ago until the latest issue of 20,000 copies. He paid tribute to the late William Rose, his colleague, who assisted him in preparing the volume.

"I don't believe any of you have spent more hours over that book than I have," he said. "It is full of defects and 'childish ailments' but was improved by degrees until it has attained its majority. It went to the war and came back all the stronger. It has become well established, and is forming ideas for the young British student."

Has Been Translated.

"For this reason I take pride in that book, which has been translated into Chinese, Arabic and other languages. That book is my introduction to you."

Mr. Carless then outlined his early days as a surgeon, when 42 years ago he saw his first operation. This operation was performed by Mr. Joseph Lister, pioneer of antiseptic surgery, who later became Lord Lister. He stated that Lord Lister's assistance in that operation was Sir St. Clair Thomson, noted British laryngologist.

"Many years I had the honor of working with him," continued the speaker, referring to Lord Lister, which was the opportunity of very few men.

"I am here to tell you the results of my observations that during that whole time only on one occasion was a wound infected, and that through the fault of a nurse. That is a record."

Mr. Carless contrasted the early days of his surgery, when the surgeon wore no gown, no mask and no gloves, but did operations attended in linen collar and frock coat, with a mild solution of carbolic acid as the sole antiseptic.

Man Alone Counts.

"The results were just as satisfactory as those of today without the appliances of today. The lesson I would like to draw from this is that it is not the gloves or mask that is all important, not the white paint and marble which is essential in the long run; it is the man who stands behind these things, who is willing to give time to details and personal application to his work."

Mr. Carless stated that in his opinion the surgeon of today is apt to allow too much work to be done "out of sight," such as relying upon the X-ray or pathologist for a diagnosis, which he should make himself, and would make himself were these modern methods not available. He warned his audience that he was not belittling the work of the pathologist or radiologist, both of which are invaluable aides, but merely indicating that they are burdened with work, which is not their own, the patient, or the surgeon responsible.

Need Public Education.

"We want more public education," he concluded. "The biggest triumph in the war was in the prevention of diseases. In other wars, such as the Peninsular campaign of Wellington, disease claimed ten men to one by wounds; in South Africa it was five to one; in the Russo-Japanese war the Japs lost more than two to one, while in Flanders during the great war there was a transformation, with only one death from disease to fifteen from bullets and shrapnel. That means practically nothing from disease in the great war."

Anglo-Saxon Leads.

During the course of his address, Mr. Carless mentioned the fact that the greatest progress in medical and surgical progress has been made by the Anglo-Saxons, with the Germans noted for exploitation of the discoveries of others. He pointed out the fact that the house occupied by William Hunter, a pioneer in medical research, which is located at Folkestone, England, is now tenanted by Dr. Walter Crawford, a former Londoner, and a graduate of Western University.

Director Carless interspersed his address with witty remarks and anecdotes. Other speakers at the session included Dr. John Wishart, Dr. A. J. Grant and Dr. C. A. Harris, Dr. E. L. Hodgins presided at the meeting.

In addition to being medical director of the Barnardo Homes, Mr. Carless is consulting surgeon to the Eastern Command of the British Army, emeritus professor of surgery

Mexico City, Jan. 31.—Disturbances in Mexico City and suburbs, accompanied a series of demonstrations staged yesterday by chauffeurs against a recent order from the governor of the federal district requiring all automobile drivers to furnish certificates of good conduct before securing licenses. The order followed protests that numerous chauffeurs were in reality robbers or other criminals who plied their trade while driving taxicabs. Hundreds of drivers were unable to show certificates yesterday and were deprived of their licenses. Wild street scenes followed, in which the unlicensed chauffeurs attacked other drivers and wrecked several automobiles. There were numerous arrests. A policeman was shot and seriously wounded last night when he attempted to break up a demonstration in front of the chauffeurs' union headquarters. The belligerent attitude taken by the protesting drivers intimidated those holding licenses to such an extent that the capital early this morning was virtually without taxicabs or jitneys.

SHIP REACHES ENGLISH PORT COATED WITH ICE Plymouth, Eng., Jan. 31.—Covered from stem to stern with ice and snow, the American Line steamer Kroonland, from New York Jan. 21 for Plymouth, Cherbourg and Antwerp, arrived here today after a tempestuous voyage. The Kroonland was hoisted for ten hours last Tuesday when she ran into a hurricane, and for nearly a week she was obliged to buffet continuous gales, which sometimes blew at the rate of 90 miles an hour. Seas frequently swept the decks, and for days at a time they resembled raging torrents. No accidents on board, however, were reported. During her trip, the Kroonland passed the Belgian steamer Samland, from New York, Jan. 20 for Hamburg and Danzig. The Samland reported she had been driven out of her course by the hurricane.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear. If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless antacid is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs only sixty cents for a large case at all stores—Advt.

URGES LAYMEN TO ATTEND CONGRESS

Col. C. M. R. Graham Appeals For Support of Presbyterian Laymen's Convention.

At a meeting of the Presbyterian council in St. Andrew's Church, Monday evening, Col. C. M. R. Graham urged the support of the laymen in the Laymen's Convention to be held in St. Andrew's Church next Thursday.

The convention will commence with a luncheon prepared by the women of the churches throughout the city and will be followed by speakers from London and vicinity, whose subject will be the work of minimum stipend which, according to Col. Graham, a local paper declared was to be the subject.

A discussion will be held as to the various ways in which the minister may be benefited by the whole-hearted support of the laymen. The object of the convention is to promote a "get-together spirit" among the churches, that the ideas of laymen of the church may compare with those of the laymen of another church. The luncheon will be free and Col. Graham pointed out there should be in addition to a good local attendance a large number of laymen from the surrounding district.

URGES BETTER UNDERSTANDING OF CHILD MIND

Rev. Dr. Beattie Gives a Thoughtful Address Before Union Mothers' Club.

RESPECT AIR CASTLES

Declares All Beautiful Things Possible to Youth Through Imagination.

"Emerson has said: 'The chief want in life is some friend to make us do what we can.' Are you that kind of friend to your child?" was the question which Rev. William Beattie, D.D., C. M. G., put to the members of the Union Mothers' Club Monday evening in an awakening address on "Understanding the Child," delivered at the January meeting in the Lord Roberts School.

Two general principles were developed: (1) "Our surest guidance for our training of the child is by observing the child," and (2) "All progress is a process."

"Know your child," Dr. Beattie urged, "not just that he is good in literature at school, which may be only something he has pigeon-holed into his mind. Know the whole child, the tendencies, interests of the boy or girl. Know what they are doing. Keep very close to them."

"Remember that the boy is growing in the process of progressing. He is not today what he was yesterday. Today is built on the foundation of yesterday, and the superstructure of tomorrow on today."

Emphasizing the importance of training, "If the child is allowed natural growth and that alone, nature will produce wild growth," said the speaker, "it is our part to supply the light, warmth, sights and sounds which will develop out of the natural, the mature and beautiful."

"Thank God, education is no longer regarded as the pigeon-holing of information in the minds of children; it is the training of human life; that is our task."

Physical Training Needed. In the training of human life, the speaker gave a place of prominence to the training of the body by the supervision of food and exercise, seeing that the growing boy and girl get enough sleep and exercise.

"These are commonplace things," perhaps, said Dr. Beattie, "but they are indispensable to full development of the highest possibilities. Too many children are sleeping with the windows closed at night when they need good, fresh air. Every boy and girl under 12 years should be in bed at 8:30 o'clock at night to get enough sleep. You say it can't be done? If it can't be done in the homes, have a care that your children go to the organizations are offering to the underprivileged."

In connection with the training of the mind, the speaker stressed the point that the supremely important faculty to develop is that of discrimination between what the mind should retain and assimilate for its strengthening, and reject as harmful. The lowest forms of animal life, he mentioned, in the instinctive reaching out for food, assimilating that which is needed, and rejecting what is useless, teach lessons with regard to the mind.

The factor of example in training was next emphasized. The father stands to the little child as God until the mind is sufficiently developed to transfer the idea to a supreme being.

Fidelity Menaces. In conclusion, the speaker urged, "with relation to every sacred thing, try to suppress the flippancy of the age." "Permit no flippancy with regard to the holy day or the house of prayer. Sometimes even the teaching in the Sunday school has a tendency to flippancy. More responsible, however, and much to be regretted, is a certain type of movie that presents family life always as a sort of burlesque. Teach your children to realize that life holds bigness and beauty of which they have not yet dreamed; teach them to value the sacred things of life."

A word of admonition was spoken with regard to respecting the castles in the air of the boys and girls, because "all beautiful things are possible through imagination. Our castles are still in the air. We have some of life before us. They have all of life."

John Rose, president of the London Union Mothers' Club, presided, and among the important business brought up was a communication from the board of education, asking that all requests from individual mothers' clubs be submitted to the school board through the union mothers' club and that all requests for supplies and improvements for schools from individual clubs be submitted through the union club not later than Feb. 15, early enough to be included in this year's estimates.

Comply With Request. Trustee (Mrs.) John I. A. Hunt, who was visitor at the meeting, stated that this method had been adopted in Windsor, saving the time of the school board and strengthening the individual clubs in their requests through the backing of the federation.

It was unanimously decided to comply with the request of the board.

The Hale Street Mothers' Club raised the point that the club had planned to send a deputation to wait on the next meeting of the board of education with regard to the building of a new school in the district. What action should be taken in order to get the matter, felt to be supremely important, before the

Expect Board To Approve New West London School Building

Shall West London tax-payers witness the construction of a new public school in 1922? The next move in that direction will occur at the next regular meeting of the board of education when the trustees will be asked to grant their approval to the proposal to secure options on certain sites in that district.

As the tract occupied by the Empress avenue school will hardly be adequate for a modern 17-room school, as desired, an inspection of West London has ensued with the result that two likely locations were picked out.

While practically all the members of the board have as individuals at some time or another expressed their opinion that West London needs a new school in the worst way, they have not as a board officially taken such action. This also will be done it is expected, at the next gathering.

PIPER PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO BIGAMY CHARGE

Denial of Accusation Obliges Crown To Bring Witnesses To City.

WIFE LAYS INFORMATION Claims Husband Was Previously Married to Girl in Windsor.

Stanley Piper pleaded not guilty to the charge of bigamy when he appeared in police court Tuesday. The charge was preferred by his wife, formerly Alice Dobson, Monday, and he was arrested at his boarding house Monday afternoon by city detectives and lodged in jail. His wife alleges that he married a Miss Laura Laureux on March 20, 1913, in Windsor, the marriage ceremony being performed by Rev. W. J. Sneygrove of Windsor.

The marriage to Miss Dobson took place in London on March 30, 1917. It is alleged that he married Miss Laureux prior to going overseas with the C. M. R. Upon his return he married Miss Dobson.

Crown attorney J. E. McKillop, K.C., stated that if Piper did not change his plea it would be necessary to obtain witnesses. These would have to be obtained from a distance and there would be considerable expense attached. The case was adjourned one week and if in the meantime Piper changes his plea, the case will be heard.

Piper asked the Crown attorney if he would be permitted to obtain witnesses.

"Certainly, if you want to," replied the crown attorney.

Piper made a statement to the detectives when he was brought to the station which will have an important bearing on the case.

COAL RING DOES NOT EXIST HERE, STATES DEALER

Consumers Are Strongly Advised to Purchase in Summer.

WOULD HELP CUT COST

London Fuel Merchant Explains How Prices Are Set.

The charge, freely made in Toronto papers, that a coal ring exists among the retail dealers and that prices are fixed, does not apply to London, according to Charles Martin of the Martin Coal Company. He points out that there is a range of 50 cents between prices here, it being possible to get standard-sized coal from some dealers at $16 while others charge $16.50. Mr. Martin says that the local dealers all fix their own prices.

Toronto reports cite the retail price at $13 in Buffalo as an evidence that the Toronto price is too high. But when London merchants were asked how this compared with the Buffalo price, it was found that the Buffalo price was actually selling coal at a higher rate than the London merchants. For, if to the $13 Buffalo price is added $1.55 exchange and $1.65 freight expense, the resultant price is $15.20, 20 cents higher than the London quotation of $16 a ton.

Coal laid down in London is costing the dealers about $12.25 to $13.50 today, and to this must be added unloading charges and the numerous other incidental expenses before it reaches the consumer.

"The solution for the present coal prices," said Mr. Martin, "is for people to realize that the coal business is not a seasonal business, but one that must be carried on the year around. If they realize this, and act upon it, the overhead of the coal dealer will be materially reduced, and the price of coal correspondingly.

To make his point clear, he said that at the start of a year a dealer might have to borrow $10,000 to buy coal. If he got a quick turnover, the interest on the loan would be negligible. If, however, he had to pay interest on five or six thousand for the year, it would add materially to the cost of the coal when it ultimately reached the consumer."

Coal buying during the summer, instead of waiting for the winter, is one of the solutions of the present coal cost, says Mr. Martin.

There were cases in point, one or two which had been brought to his attention where a soldier had had a hard struggle to raise money for necessities.

One returned man, who had what was known as an arrested case of tuberculosis, had come to Col. Coles to find whether the difficulty of access to the funds patriotic or Red Cross, could not be removed.

The man, who was unable to do hard work, was trying to keep going by raising chickens. His condition was extremely needy.

"I have only the words of greatest praise for the management of the patriotic fund in London," said Mr. Stuart, "and I am voicing the opinion of the Great War Veterans of the city. If that were done it would be a great benefit to all concerned. The money was collected for the soldiers, and why hoard it up and keep it back from them when this is the time they need it?" Col. Coles asked.

The president of the veterans went on to say that it was a shame that a soldier in need at the present time had to go from one organization to another, begging like a pauper to get five dollars or ten, the whereabout to buy food.

CITY SCHOOLS TO BEGIN BIBLE STUDY

Pupils Will Memorize Selected Passages of Scripture.

Commencing next week, the pupils of the city schools will be memorizing Bible passages as selected by a committee of the London Teachers' Institute. Following the suggestion by members of the latter body last October, an expression of opinion was sought from the provincial department in Toronto, and the local authorities were advised that no opposition need be expected in that quarter.

Since that time a committee of the Institute has been engaged in a selection of what they consider an appropriate Bible course, the same to be approved by Senior School Inspector V. K. Grear. The latter stated Tuesday that the course was practically completed, and copies of the same would soon be distributed to the teachers.

The committee suggests to the latter that there be six memory passages for each grade, with an additional list of passages divided into senior and junior divisions, from which the teacher may select for further study.

It is pointed out further to the teacher that the pupil should be able to quote the source of the passage learnt by verse and book. The committee was unanimous also in its opinion that no prizes or awards be given for the memorization of scripture. The teachers will keep a record throughout, however, and at the end of each term a signed statement will be forwarded home, showing the standing made by the pupil.

Reference to the provisions of the school act, as well as found on page two of the teachers' daily register, emphasize the fact that no child, whose parents or guardian enters a formal objection, can be compelled to participate in the course, and may be excused from the class during that period.

Mayor J. C. Wilson is now busy preparing the agenda for his conference of the heads of the various civic spending bodies, and when he is ready he will immediately announce the date for the gathering. He expects that the date set will be some time next week.

The mayor is not as yet ready to outline his proposals which he intends to lay before the meeting, but it is understood that he will outline a definite and concrete plan of procedure, and then let any definite proposals that might be suggested present themselves as they occur.

In the meantime the mayor has been doing a considerable amount of "missionary work" among the various officials interested in the proposals. He believes that his proposals for co-ordination and co-operation have been sympathetically received and has great hopes that a real benefit and saving to the city will be the outcome.

The mayor's scheme is really akin to a civic manager scheme, and he believes that in time, with co-operation, the affairs of the city can be brought to the stage whereby a great saving will be effected and a much better service given by all departments.

PRESBYTERIAN COUNCIL WILL AID CHURCHES

Promises Assistance to Chelsea Green and Chalmers Congregations.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

Members Decide On Effort to Redeem Forward Movement Pledges.

Special effort is to be made by the London Presbyterian Council to redeem the pledges made when the Forward Movement Campaign was at its height two years ago. A strong resolution was passed to the effect that during the next three months every effort be made to realize the $78,000 which has been subscribed. Only $58,000 of this will remain with Toronto headquarters. It is understood that the remaining $20,000 will be spent to the best advantage of London churches which are badly in need of extension and repairs.

The question of giving aid to Knollwood Park Church was one of the foremost raised. It was decided to pay $250 toward the minister's stipend and assume the interest of the mortgage on that church.

A delegate from Chelsea Green pleaded the cause of his church, and it was agreed that owing to the uphill work of the managers in keeping the church finances up to the requisite sum, the council would assume to pay $4 of the preacher's stipend per week.

St. Paul's Church, West London, put in a plea for a new Sunday school, the present school, about 29 by 20 feet in size, being considered wholly inadequate for the 130 pupils who regularly attended.

A delegate from Chalmers Church declared that his church stood as badly in need of repairs as any church in the city. It was decided that the churches be assessed in the usual manner to cover the expenditure which will arise from these obvious needs.

A survey committee was appointed to investigate and see in what direction various churches could be most helped.

The report of the nominating committee, which was unanimously accepted, suggested the following men for office: President, Rev. W. R. McIntosh; first vice-president, Lieut.-Col. C. R. Graham; secretary-treasurer, E. K. Coleman.

BIRD STUDENTS AWAIT RETURN OF SONGSTERS

Ornithological Club Members Keep Records of Feathered Migrants' Coming.

MOCKING BIRD ARRIVES

BY W. E. SAUNDERS.
The uncertainty of bird study is probably its chief attraction. While the experienced observer gets to know where and when certain species may be looked for, and migration schedules have been worked out so that one can tell within a few days when the feathered travelers will arrive on their journeys north and south, there is always the hope that some rare specimen may be found or some unusual happening chronicled, which keeps the field worker busy and provides an excuse for a walk in the country no matter how stormy the weather may be.

After the splendid year the McIlwraith Ornithological club had in 1920, the members were eager to start the 1921 list, but the winter birds, Redpolls, Crossbills, Grosbeaks, etc., which usually come south with the approach of cold weather (more or less irregularly it is true), were conspicuous by their absence. Had it not been that the present winter (1921-1922) is already showing up much better, the annual list which the club presents herewith would have been rather a slim one.

As usual a number of "records" were made, the first one being a Mockingbird taken near Coldstream on Jan. 6th. This bird is usually associated with southern climes, but when winter comes some of them seem to get the wandering spirit, and are not infrequently reported far beyond the usual limits of their range. Another unusual visitor was Henslow's Sparrow, which spent the summer here and probably nested, although no nests or mate was ever found. It is very inconspicuous in song, plumage and habits and might very easily be overlooked even by a bird student. It will be interesting to see if this little fellow returns next summer to the same grassy field south of the ponds.

Both the foregoing have been reported from Middlesex County before, but such is not the case with a Green-Crested or Acaadian Flycatcher, the first specimen ever recorded being one seen on May 26 by Mr. A. A. Wood of Coldstream, who also by the way was the one to get

Liver Pains

Pains under the shoulder blades tell of liver derangements.

Other indications are sallow complexion, indigestion, constipation, biliousness and bilious headaches.

The quickest way to arouse the liver to healthful action is by use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Continued use will insure lasting relief, correct the whole digestive system and purify the blood.

Mrs. Wm. Barten, Hanover, Ont., writes:

"For some time I suffered from liver trouble. There was a hard, beating down feeling in my back which I could not get rid of. Some one advised me to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I did so, and found them excellent. The dragging feeling in my back disappeared and I felt much benefited generally. I have great confidence in Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and always keep them on hand for general use."

MRS. HOOPLES GLOBE TROTTER HUSBAND COMES BACK HOME!

The Mockingbird in January. Judging by the rarities that fall to Mr. Wood's lot he has an excellent piece of country to hunt in and makes good use of his opportunities.

King Rail Seen.
The last bird to be mentioned is a King Rail, the largest of its kind as its name would indicate. It is an inhabitant of the large fresh-water marshes, and there being few suitable localities for it in the vicinity of London, it is correspondingly rare. The one under review was found running around in a wood on Dec. 29, the place, date and rarity of the species being a combination of circumstances hard to understand.

The club appreciates very much the courtesy of the local papers in publishing the Daily Bird Notes last spring, and with their kind co-operation will probably resume the same when the migrants begin to arrive. In fact, requests have already been received by the club asking that they be started again soon.

Seek Disqualification of School Trustee On Citizenship Law.

[Special to London Advertiser]

KITCHENER, Jan. 30.—There will be another election for school trustee in the center ward of this city as a result of a protest being made by J. H. Clarke, defeated candidate in the January elections, in connection with the qualifications of A. W. Augustine, the latter, according to Clarke, cannot qualify as a Canadian citizen. Augustine, who was elected, admits that he was born in the United States, but his mother was a native of this city, and returned to Canada shortly after his birth. NIPIGON SCHEME CHARGES PILE UP

TORONTO, Jan. 30.—With a serious situation developing as a result of the piling up of overhead charges on the big Nipigon hydro-power development, which is using but a small part of its ultimate capacity to supply the city of Port Arthur, the Ontario government has taken action looking to a showdown with the Great Lakes Pulp and Paper Company, the concern which was expected to use the great part of the Nipigon power, but fought clear of liability in an appeal to the courts. The company, which holds immense valuable pulpwood limits on the Pic and Sturgeon Rivers, has been served with notice to appear before the government and explain why its rights in the limits should not be cancelled.

The government is basing its actions on the provisions of the agreement between the company and the crown, under which, it is contended, the company is bound to have its mills in operation within one year from the time power is available. The Nipigon was not in a position to supply power until last spring, so that the full year has not elapsed. Inasmuch as the company has not made a start, however, it is obvious that it will not be in a position to comply with this condition, and it is upon this ground that the attorney-general is now acting.

OPEN SUIT TO DISSOLVE LITTLE MARY'S DIVORCE

CARSON CITY, Nev., Jan. 30.—Oral arguments on a motion by Attorney-General Fowler to have the divorce decree of Mary Pickford from Owen E. Moore dissolved as illegal were made here today before the state supreme court by Fowler and Miss Pickford's attorney, Gavin McNabb of San Francisco. Fowler attacked the divorce, which was granted by Judge Frank P. Langan in the district court at Minden, March 2, 1920, "in the interest of the state of Nevada," on the ground that Moore and Miss Pickford were guilty of fraud and collusion, and that Judge Langan had no jurisdiction, since the parties were bonafide residents of Los Angeles.

DIES AFTER AN ATTACK BY BULL

CORNWALL, Ont., Jan. 30.—Crushed against a wall by the sudden attack of a bull at the farm of R. Wylie, Taves Hall, Dundas County, on Sunday, Wm. Baird received injuries which resulted in his death today. It was found that Baird had suffered two broken ribs and internal injuries.

GRAND PRESENTS ATTRACTIVE BILL

Vaudeville and Pictures Both Good in Opening of New Policy.

Crowded houses, both afternoon and evening, greeted the Grand Theatre's change of policy, by which, without any increase in prices, one big show, including five acts of vaudeville, instead of two shows with only three acts, is to be given twice daily along with photoplays.

The present pictorial bill with Conway Tearle in "After Midnight," is offered in a four-day engagement, and the vaudeville offering will continue the same number of performances.

The calibre of the vaudeville numbers shows no appreciable falling off from the high standard set by the three-act bills for some time past. Indeed one act offered Monday night, the "Mimicry" act, of Fitzgerald and Laxton, is, if anything, one wilder and the other, a shade better than the majority of the other headline acts earlier in this season. Musical notes of many birds, calls of farm animals and poultry, bawling of cats, and dogs, are limited to a nicety that would receive the sharpest of ears.

A Clever Pony.
Clarke's circus, which includes a well-trained pony and some clever canines is another exceptionally high-class act. Whether the pony actually reasons, counts and thinks, or whether it responds to code sounds, it has in any event mastered an alphabet of what can be scarcely less than 30 sounds or names, and the act is probably one of the best of its kind presented on a local stage for years.

Willis, the contortionist, is clever in his line; Reece and Rolland combine music and originality into a bright little act, and Hurst and Devans have a very fair comedy skit, "The Hat Shop."

The usually miscellaneous of news reels and snappy magazine features pads out the pictorial bill to lengthy proportions. "After Midnight," a photoplay of San Francisco's Chinatown, is unquestionably a genuine success, notwithstanding that the majority of Chinatown pictures are usually o-drawn. "After Midnight" is different from other Chinatown pictures. It is twice as graphic, tensely realistic and yet humanly possible. Buster Keaton in "Neighbors," a two-reel comedy, is uproariously funny. This comedy is clever, original and rapid. No pictures are repeated, one complete performance only being given each afternoon and evening, under the new Grand policy.

"NO WOMAN KNOWS" PLEASES PATRONS

Patricia Feature Film Involves Several Novel Situations.

Life in Main street of Winnebago, Wisconsin, where dwelt the humble family of Brandeis, marking time on the treadmill of existence so monotonous in such a centre, would not appeal ordinarily to the casual theatre-goer as an intriguing setting for a film that is fascinating. Yet, because "No Woman Knows," the feature at the Patricia the first half the week is the adaptation of the novel of Edna Ferber, "Fanny Herself," a writer, who, given the same setting, can pen a story that is read with avidity, and since this story of Miss Ferber's, changed in the film version to "No Woman Knows," has been skillfully produced, the Patricia's offering Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday is an enthralling one.

To send her brother Theodore from Winnebago, Wisconsin, to Dresden, Germany, where he might study under the European masters the violin, Fanny Brandeis, played by Miss Mabel Julianne Scott, with exceptionally good effect, led a life of sacrifice, that genius might come into its own. And then the brother, full of promise as a virtuoso, lost money, opportunity and future prospects through a misalliance with a Vienna chorus girl.

Here is the story was scope for all the talents of Miss Scott, when she must rise to emotional heights to portray the girl who had gone through so much for her brother, and then hearing of her brother's error, had realized that his conduct killed the mother. Several scenes of this nature, as when she is about to seek false happiness by eloping with the manager of the store where she had proved herself a success, only to find true love just around the corner, waiting to be given by a boyhood sweetheart, lend with the true-to-life acting of Miss Scott and an adequate cast, vividness, tension and reality to the film.

In addition to "No Woman Knows" there is on the bill a vaudeville act with two versatile comedians and singers, Miller and Vance, the best of whose turn is the impersonations given, a star comedy, featuring Bert Roach, and a two-reel western drama with Eileen Sedgewick playing the leading role.

WOULD GIVE TO RECOGNIZED FUND

OTTAWA, Jan. 30.—(Canadian Press.)—"The government is prepared to consider means of co-operating with voluntary agencies, should they succeed in effecting some responsible relief organization of which the government could approve," says a statement issued by Premier W. L. Mackenzie King's office tonight relative to extending relief to famine-stricken Russia.

A national organization, similar to the "Save The Children" fund in Great Britain, is suggested as a means of co-ordinating Russian famine relief efforts in Canada. "The Canadian government," says the statement, "does not feel that it would be justified in attempting to meet Russian famine relief by an appropriation of public moneys, unaccompanied by contributions from private sources and organized voluntary effort on the part of the Canadian people."

BEGIN BORINGS FOR BED ROCK OF BIG BRIDGE

Work On Windsor-Detroit Structure Actually Begun by Engineers Monday.

ADVERTISER TOLD NEWS Gave First Announcement of Great Scheme Now in Process of Fulfillment.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 30.—As announced exclusively in The London (Ontario) Advertiser on Nov. 21, last, first actual steps toward the bridging of the Detroit River between this city and Windsor, Canada, were taken today.

Engineers started borings at several points between Twelfth street and River Rouge on the American side, and between Windsor and Oldway on the Canadian side, to determine the location of the structure.

To Find Bed Rock.
The borings will find bed rock on which to place tower piers, on which cables will be anchored 100 feet below the surface of the Detroit River. Results of the borings will be known before the end of February.

The span will be 1,802 feet, the longest single span bridge in the world. The present record for length is held by the cantilever bridge at Quebec, which is 1,800 feet long, or but two feet shorter than the one to be built here.

Construction in Spring.

SHE DARKENED HER GRAY HAIR

Tells How She Did It with a Home-Made Remedy.

Mrs. E. H. Boots, a well-known resident of Buchanan County, Ia., who darkened her gray hair, made the following statement:

"Any lady or gentleman can darken their gray or faded hair, and make it soft and glossy with this simple remedy, which they can mix at home. To half a pint of water, add 1 ounce of bay rum, 1 small box of Orlex Compound and 1/4 ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair every other day until the gray hair is darkened sufficiently. It does not color the scalp, is not greasy and does not rub off. It will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger."—Advt.

Would Lash Guilty in Hold-Up Cases.

TORONTO, Jan. 30.—That the lash should be administered to persons convicted of hold-ups was among recommendations made by the grand jury to Mr. Justice Riddell this afternoon. Another recommendation was that revolvers be prohibited except for police and military purposes. The report was as follows:
"We recommend that revolvers and small arms be prohibited except for police and military purposes."
"During the past two or three years hold-ups and murders seem to have been on the increase, and in order to curtail this crime wave we urgently recommend individuals found guilty be given the lash as well as imprisonment."

The bridge will carry vehicular and street car traffic, and also afford walks for pedestrians.

New Inland Water Service Started

CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—Without waiting for action on the proposed Great Lakes-St. Lawrence deep water route to the sea, Chicago will have regular steamship service to Philadelphia next summer, according to officials of the Chicago Steamship Company.
Five ocean-going steamers have been purchased to start the line. All the ships come within the present dimensions of the Welland Canal locks, so they can pass from the lakes to the St. Lawrence.

One Vessel En Route.

One of the vessels, the George W. Clyde, left Philadelphia for Chicago several weeks ago loaded with sugar, but after being buffeted by winter gales off the Nova Scotian coast, was caught by ice in Lake St. Clair above Detroit, and is now held there waiting for a thaw.

The Clyde is able to plow through six-inch ice in the open lakes, but the narrow St. Clair has been jammed with thick floes.

Two other ships purchased from the shipping board at Seattle are outfitting there for the long trip via the Panama Canal and the St. Lawrence. The same trip was made last summer by the passenger ship Potosley, formerly in the Seattle-Alaskan service.

Buy Two More.

The Chicago Steamship Company has purchased two other tramp steamers, one of which is now at a Cuban port, and the other at Philadelphia.
The five ships will make regular ports of call, including Detroit, Montreal, Quebec, Boston, New York and Philadelphia, according to J. C. Hoskins, general manager of the line.

OPPOSE PLEA FOR INCREASED GRANT

Chatham Petition Asks Separate School Request Be Refused.

WOODSTOCK, Jan. 30.—A largely signed petition is in circulation here asking the provincial government not to grant the plea of the Roman Catholic Church of this province that a larger share of the school taxes collected in the municipalities for school purposes be given to the support of the separate schools.
The matter came up at a recent meeting of the ministerial association, and the promise was made by several of the ministers to bring it prominently before their congregations.

Accordingly, on Sunday, opposition to the request of the Roman Catholic Church was stressed by several ministers from the pulpit.
A local poultry exhibitor, Sergt. W. Jerry of the police force, has achieved outstanding honors at the Madison Square Garden Poultry Exhibition. Mr. Jerry sent over four of his rosemouth Buff Leghorns, and succeeded in winning a prize on each, first on cock, first on hen, first on pullet and third on cockerel.

SACRED COLLEGE READY TO ACT

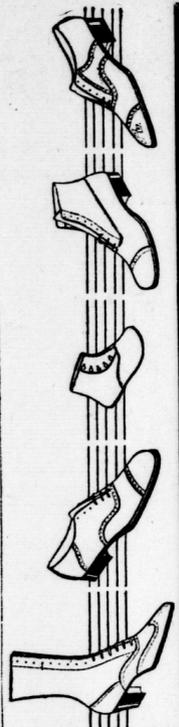

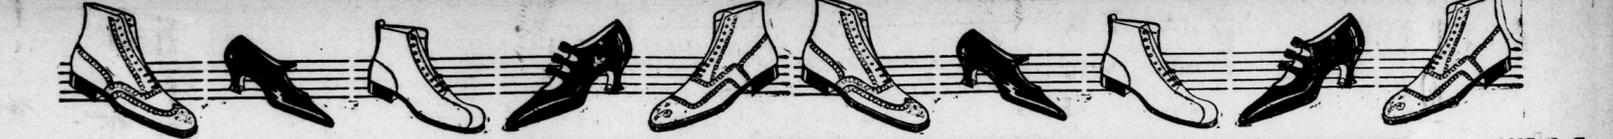

ROME, Jan. 30.—The Sacred College was completed today, as it will start deliberations on Thursday next to elect a pontiff. Fifty-three cardinals are now present in Rome, and they will compose the conclave at its opening session.

The arrival of Cardinal Logue, the primate of all Ireland, completes the list of electors for the early meetings, from which seven cardinals will be absent—Prisco, archbishop of Naples; Martin de Herrera of Santiago; D. Compostella of Spain, Archbishop of Rio de Janeiro; de Skrbensky of Olmutz; O'Connell of Boston, Dougherty of Philadelphia and Begin of Quebec.

On Thursday the 53 cardinals will enter the vatican, there to remain until they have chosen a successor to Benedict XV.
The Sacred College met today to adopt final rules governing the conclave.

GERMAN WAR CRIMINAL FLEES NAUMBERG JAIL

BERLIN, Jan. 30.—Ludwig Deitmar, whom the Leipzig supreme court recently sentenced to four years' imprisonment in connection with the sinking of the hospital ship Llandovery Castle, in 1918, during the war, has escaped from the prison at Naumberg, it became known today.
A reward of 50,000 marks has been offered for his recapture.

A Better Way Than Diets and Exercise For Reducing
Diets and exercise are sometimes helpful for reducing. But they are usually venient and unpleasant, and usually produce only temporary results. Then, too, they are merely corrective measures. A better way is to aid the digestive organs to turn food into muscle, bone, and sinew, and not into corpulent tissue. This method allows you to eat many kinds of food which others eat and does not require strenuous exercise.

Thousands have found that Marmola Tablets give relief from obesity in just this way. Marmola Tablets are made from the same formula as the famous Marmola Prescription. If taken after meals and at bedtime, they retard the development of fat by helping the digestive system to obtain full nutrition from food. When the accumulation of fat is checked, reduction to normal, healthy weight soon follows. All good drug stores the world over sell Marmola Tablets at one dollar per box. Ask your druggist for them, or order them direct and they will be sent in plain wrapper, postpaid.

Honorable Wounds.
THE DEATH occurred in Guelph of MAJOR J. D. DOUGHERTY. The passing of this fine young officer is just one more chapter to the story that tells of the price Canada's best paid to stop German domination. MAJOR DOUGHERTY received the wounds from which he ultimately died, away back in August of 1918, and ever since life has been a battle against troubles and complications of which the outside world knew nothing at all.

How many similar cases there are no one knows. Many of these splendid chaps carry their troubles with a smile, playing the game of everyday life with the same heroism that made the Canadian soldier equal to any and superior to most.

The man who stayed at home is apt to lose sight of these things. The only thing he got hurt was his purse. He is too apt to think that the war ended toward the close of 1918, and what has taken place since then is a matter that concerns only the returned men and the government dealing with them.

And yet for many of the men the war started all over again after they left the army. These are nervous systems that will never be healed; there are wounds, bravely borne, that still hamper every move, and may continue to do so until the very end; there are men who strive to speak, yet cannot raise the voice beyond a whisper. To these, and there must be thousands of them in Canada, the war has been going on ever since.

For such the heart of the country should be as great as the suffering. We should exercise a great deal of consideration and patient effort in our estimation of and dealing with these men. They are still bearing their honorable wounds.

The Ontario Town.

GOING THROUGH some of the figures shown by the latest census returns, it will be seen that Ontario towns are losing in many cases. One paper takes a few of the towns in the northern part of Western Ontario, and states:

"The last census returns indicate that many of the towns in this part of the province are losing population. For instance, Chesley has a population of 1,708, or 26 less than 10 years ago; Durham has 1,491, a loss of 90; Harriston has 1,253, a loss of 38; Mount Forest lost 136; Palmerston lost 144; Walkerton has lost 233, or 263 less than ten years ago; Wingham also lost 153, its present population being 2,085."

Small towns in Ontario are somewhat the same in many ways, particularly in that they have the same problems to meet.

A picture taken about 30 years ago of the pupils attending a public school in one of the towns in the north end of Middlesex, shows about 160 attending school then. Today there are five of those in the picture residents of the town, and the same thing has been taking place ever since. Where do they go?

Let us take a western town, Fernie, B.C., for instance. The owner of the newspaper there was JOHN WALLACE, a Parkhill boy; two of the printers came from Ontario; the WHALEN brothers were running a splendid hotel, having come there from Napanee; JACK GATES, from Harriston, was in the same business; HAMILTON, the plumber, came from Stratford, as did M. KASTNER, in the real estate business; JACK CRAWFORD, in the cartage business, was from Parkhill; the managers of all the banks were from the east; Dr. HONNELL and Dr. CORSON were both from Western Ontario; BLUNDELL, the grocer, came from Petrolia. Those are simply a few of many names that could be used. They are mentioned because they were the first to be remembered of Fernie, as it was a few years ago.

There are hundreds of places in Western Canada that can tell the same story. They are made up of men who come from Eastern Canada.

The cities of this old Ontario must also own up to the fact that they get many of their men from the towns, villages and farms. One could string off scores of names in London, Brantford, Woodstock, Stratford, or any centre, and in these names trace the movement that has kept the town small and made the city greater.

Look at it another way. What has the town to offer? Take a concrete case, and get down to facts, so far that purpose we mention Parkhill, in Middlesex county. When a boy got his entrance there, he had a chance to go to high school. At sixteen, let us say, he was through school. There used to be an occasional chance to learn a trade at the local foundry, printing office, or carriage and blacksmithing establishment; sometimes one of the stores had room for a boy, or one of the banks was prepared to take on a junior clerk. There may have been a few other openings, but in the main the above covers the lot fairly well.

What were the other boys going to do? The answer is so plain that one hardly needs to suggest, it, viz., get out and dig for a place in the big world, and that is exactly what the boys, and many of the girls, have done.

The smaller centres of Old Ontario have played a very big part in building up this country, including the city life and the smaller centres that are dotted all over the vast expanse of Western Canada.

So, when they have done counting noses, and compared the count with ten years ago, many of the towns may not find much satisfaction in finding out that they have actually slipped back 100 or so. But let their imagination go out a little, and see where the boys and girls from that town have gone. You will find them all over the country. They have become mechanics, foremen, superintendents, owners; they are the leading doctors and surgeons; they have fine legal practices; they are editing and managing some of your biggest newspapers; they are teachers and principals in schools and colleges; they are merchants, and bankers and salesmen. If it were possible to stand them all together it would make the old town proud to think it had contributed such a wealth of manhood and womanhood to the world.

So the towns do not need to be discouraged. They have made a memorable contribution to the national life of Canada, which, in the last analysis, consists entirely of the sterling worth and character of its men and women.

Farms and City.

LONDON Chamber of Commerce believes any measure that can bring the city and country closer together is well worth developing to the limit, and in that they are right. All that is necessary is to convince the city man there is no propaganda in it, and to make it clear to the farmer that it is not going to be dominated by city interest, and the thing is off to a good start.

It should not be a hard matter to clear up this point. London is the natural market centre for a very wide area. It is the splendid agricultural development of this area that has helped to make London what it is. London needs this district, and this district needs London as its natural buying and selling point.

That is a good point from which to start any movement, viz.: One of mutual need. Looking over a list of suggestions, which have come from the farmers themselves, it is easy to see that their mind turns at once to practical problems, the solution of which is going to mean better business for the farmer, and if for the farmer, eventually for the man in the city.

In brief, here are a few suggestions summarized: Farm help distributed from London instead of Toronto. Parking places for cars. Investigation of charge for weighing hay. Covered market and more ventilation in the present butter and eggs building. Cold and dry storage plants to help stabilize prices. Decreasing spread in price between what farmer gets and London man pays for milk. Manufacturers in city to provide trucks in season to cooperate in taking away apples and vegetables for factory employees, the farmer not having the help or facilities to prevent a waste here. Improving the leading roads running to the city. Extension of university training to bring schools closer to the people. Farmers and city people to discuss problems at mutual meetings. Using the press to make farm and city people get each other's viewpoint. Stop city auto owners from pilfering fruit from orchards. Well, that is not by any means the whole list, but it goes to show that when people start to work seriously they can soon get in shape to arrive at a desirable destination. It is the easiest thing imaginable for a lot of misunderstanding to grow up between the farm and the city, and there are those who find it suits their purpose to see that it keeps right on springing up. When the farmers of this district and the men of London come to the point where they can sit down together and discuss, as serious and sensible men, their various problems, they will have done a remarkably fine day's work.

Cruel and Foolish.

A WILD FOX was turned loose in the heart of New York City's most congested district. It was the scheme of a fur company's press agent, seeking free advertising by the circus method of doing the unusual. But the fox, terrified at the roar and confusion of traffic, covered against the side of a building. Its exploiters poked it out with sticks. The fox trembled with fear. It didn't run. No place to run to. Finally it tried to cross 42nd street. A limousine ran it down, broke a leg. The press agent is getting free advertising. But not the kind he wanted. The Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals goes after him with a warrant. There are some jackasses who never seem to get things straightened out. A wild fox is as much out of place on 42nd street, New York, as the limousine that ran it down would be in the haunts of the wild fox. The press agent who tried that stunt was just a plain jackass.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

Here We Have Items of Local and District Interest. As Recorded in The Advertiser of 1897.

TUESDAY, JAN. 31, 1897. Weather—Fair and milder.

Rev. Professor Burgess of the Western University preached in the Episcopal Church near Sarntia yesterday.

Rev. Andrew Moffatt of this city preached in the Walford and Knox Presbyterian Churches in Warwick on Sunday.

The Western University have decided to hold their annual convocation on Friday evening. A general committee of arrangements has been appointed, with Dr. James chairman, Misses Burns and Mabel Williams, treasurers, and Mr. Doherty, secretary. Dr. Sykes is convener of the program and printing committee; Miss Flo Fraser of the refreshment; Mr. Merchant, acting secretary; Mr. E. B. Smith, reception; Miss S. Blackburn, of invitation.

Miss Baldwin of this city, daughter of the Bishop of Huron is visiting her cousin, Miss Ethel Baldwin, on Louthier avenue, Toronto.

Chelsea Lodge, S. O. E., held a social evening in their rooms last night. After regular work Bro. George Gregory was elected chairman, and with a few remarks, introduced the following program: Song, Dr. Williams; solos, Bros. Major Woosley, Plewes, James Smith, Herbert Fountain, J. Fleming, J. Dealey, E. Russell, Victor Chamberlain, E. Fleming and George Tambling; recitations, Bro. C. Walker and A. E. Taylor; guitar solo, Bro. Williamson. Speeches were given by Wm. Bridgman, Bro. Wyatt and J. J. Carter.

The finance committee of the city council held a short meeting last night. The members present were: Ald. Bennet, chairman; Turner, Gerry, Douglass, Winnett and Secretary Pope.

Last evening a large number of the laborers of the city assembled in Labor Hall for the purpose of organizing a directory of the Industrial Brotherhood of the city. Mr. Joseph Marks, assisted by other members of the brotherhood, was the organizing officer. The following officers were elected: Past worthy director, H. McLaren; worthy director, Geo. Walters, Clow.

LITTLE 'TISERS

Ottawa is going to cut estimates to the bone. So spare ribs may yet be on the official menu at the financial department.

There has been so much talk of the "agenda" at Washington that some folks are wondering whether it's a new kind of smokeless powder or an old kind of poison gas.

Just before quitting for the day the Vancouver Province rises to remark that: "Tender-hearted passengers on the Italian liner that cut a whale in two could hardly keep from blubbering over the sad spectacle."

A correspondent, writing to the Quebec Telegraph, asks how to tan hides. Judging by the number of Tory hides that were tanned in the last election, the Telegraph might ask Hon. MACKENZIE KING how it is done.

An article appearing on the editorial page of Monday's ADVERTISER in regard to the appointment of Duncan Ross as Judge of Elgin, should have been credited to the St. Thomas Times-Journal, from the columns of which it was taken.

If members of parliament are going to see Western Canada the Halifax Chronicle wants them to come east also. Well, they have a great Grit swelling in the house from the east, and the chances are they would like a chance to show the rest of the boys where the Bluesnoses come from.

The Milverton Sun believes that small congregations and a pressure on finances are influences that will make churches think seriously about church union. The Sun says: "Rural depopulation, coupled with increased difficulties in financing is likely to have its effect in breaking down prejudice and bringing about church union more speedily than anything else. The first churches in this district to enter into complete union are the Methodist and Presbyterian Churches of Linwood. Both were struggling to keep afloat, but with the union the charge will be an excellent one. It will not be long before many other localities follow the good example of Linwood."

Some British firms face a peculiar situation in regard to the posting of letters abroad. One case in point illustrates a practice that is becoming common: A resident of London "received the other day a circular containing coal prices of a firm carrying on business in the suburbs in which he resides, and was astonished to note that the envelope bore a German stamp and the Hamburg postmark." A Budapest firm are sending abroad an offer to print and mail 10,000 trade circulars for 18,750 kroonen (about 25.175) which is cheaper by 20 than printing and mailing from England. Firms which do a great deal of follow-up work by mail are in a spectacular position, in wanting to use British stamps, and facing at the same time the action of competitors who are making use of cheap European postage rates and facilities.

A reporter on the Halifax Herald has at last drawn a real assignment, and for the next two weeks is going Nash; worthy vice-director, Thos. Whittaker; recording secretary, R. Eurligh; financial secretary and treasurer, W. Burrell, 691 York street; inspector, M. Williams; guard, R. Inch; trades and labor delegates, Geo. Nash, R. Eurligh and Thos. Whittaker.

At the regular meeting of Court Defiance of the Canadian Order of Foresters, Bro. A. R. Galpin, D.D.H. C. R., assisted by Bro. W. J. Element, P.C.R., installed the following officers: P.C.R., Bro. H. N. Fleming; C.R., Bro. A. Reid, P.C.R.; V.C.R., Bro. Wm. Harding, Jun.; Chap., Bro. James Moore, P.C.R.; R. S., Bro. J. W. Fletcher; F. S., Bro. C. Toon; treas., Bro. Thos. Burridge, P.C.R.; Con., Bro. George Harper, P.C.R.; S. W., Bro. Thos. Plack; J. W., Bro. A. Ferguson, P.C.R.; S. E., Bro. Wm. Bishop; J. E., Bro. N. Pratt; guards, Bro. A. E. Reid and F. W. Parkinson, P. C. R.; P.C.R., were chosen as trustees; Bro. Wm. Harding, Jun., auditor, delegate to the high court session Bro. W. A. Reid, P.C.R., was chosen at Niagara next February.

The skating carnival held Friday night at the Exeter rink was a most enjoyable affair, fully 350 people being present. The judges were: Messrs. Deputy Reeve Taylor, Joe Davis and Will Weekes.

The following is a list of the characters: Miss Christie, Shepherdess; Miss Smith, Highland Lassie; Miss McLaughlin, Stars and Stripes; Miss Gidley, Good Luck; Miss Gertrude Hicks, Sunflower; Miss Ida Newton, Queen of Hearts; Miss Sweet, Cream; Miss Vera Hawkshaw, Evening News; Miss Kinsman, Fairy Queen; Miss Dyer, April Showers; Miss Newton, Mother Superior; Miss Maggie Sweet, Sister Martha; Miss Creech, Mother Hubbard; Miss Dennis, Spring; Miss Kemp, Sunflower; Miss Hicks, Defender; Miss Brown, Evening Star; Miss Coxworth, Hensall, Shepherdess; Arthur Kemp, Gentleman of the Seventeenth Century; George Brooks, Colored Dude; Charlie Hyndman, the New Woman; Frank Bowden, Mason; Rus. to live in a haunted house. What with folks wanting to beat him up for putting their names in undesirable cases, and leaving them out at desirable times, with trying to please the public and not get fired by the editor, the reporter lives in a haunted house most of the time anyhow. Two weeks in one all his own should be like a holiday.

The Wheatley Journal of recent date contains a notice calling attention to the fact that "the village of Wheatley will shortly have for sale $25,000 school debentures and $1,700 drainage debentures, at attractive interest rates. For particulars apply to the Reeve or Clerk." No doubt the issue can be sold locally. Investors in Ontario villages, towns and cities are learning that there are better ways of investing money than buying real estate they have never seen. It is also better for the municipality to have the interest coupons cashed right at home.

HOW TO KEEP WELL
Sore Throat
BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

IMPLE sore throats are simple only to careful people. For the careless they are often tragic. Sore throat may be the first danger signal of any of a number of "serious" diseases, from tuberculosis to cancer. It may be due to tonsillitis, laryngitis, or it may be merely what is known as a smoker's sore throat of a clergyman's sore throat.

Often times, it is the first symptom of infantile paralysis. Its most common cause is tonsillar or laryngeal affection. When there is an epidemic of scarlet fever, there is often an epidemic of sore throat. There is chronic sore throat in cases of tuberculosis, cancer and ulcerated conditions.

Thus we see that we cannot afford to be careless with a sore throat. The first thing to do is to see a physician. You may have diphtheria or scarlet fever in the first stages. If diphtheria is caught in this early stage there is absolutely no danger, for an antitoxin can be administered which will keep the disease from spreading.

There is chronic sore throat in cases of tuberculosis, cancer and ulcerated conditions. Thus we see that we cannot afford to be careless with a sore throat. The first thing to do is to see a physician. You may have diphtheria or scarlet fever in the first stages. If diphtheria is caught in this early stage there is absolutely no danger, for an antitoxin can be administered which will keep the disease from spreading.

There are simple evidences of the bad blood within coming to the surface and just when you get rid of one, another seems ready to take its place and prolong your misery. All the poulticing and lancing you may do will not stop more coming. What you have to do is take BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS and the blood will be cleansed of all its impurities, and then every boll will disappear.

Mr. Roy McSwain, High Bank, P. E. I., writes: "I was troubled with boils for some time, and had as many as fifteen on my neck at once. After taking one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters they commenced to get better, and after I had taken two bottles I was relieved of them and felt much better. I think B. B. B. is a grand blood medicine, and can recommend it highly."

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY
TODAY'S word is DESPOT. It is pronounced—des-pot, with accent on the first syllable. It means—one who rules absolutely, an autocrat, a tyrant. It comes from—Greek, "despotēs," master. Companion words—despotie, despotism. It is used like this: "The czar of Russia was a despot."

LIBERAL LEADER

[Kincardine Reporter.] SHORTLY there will be another trying out for a Liberal leader for the province of Ontario.

What Liberalism lacks at the present moment in this province is an outstanding figure. Among the members elect are none that have the qualities to lead and whom the party would follow. Mr. Dewart was a brilliant man, a capable leader, but he lacked the support of certain factors of the party. They pilloried him but have not produced anyone who could take his place. In fact, few men today care to run the gauntlet of Toronto Liberalism. That bunch believe they know more than all the rest of the province combined, but with all their knowledge and wisdom, the Toronto men as they were in the last Dominion election shows that they are not taken seriously at home. It looks as if the Legislature will meet without a real fighting head, for Mr. Wellington Hay, the leader pro tem, is not a well man. Surely some big man can be found. It is not necessary that he come from Toronto.

[Goderich Signal.]

A PROVINCIAL Liberal convention is to be held at Toronto March 1 and 2. Four delegates are to be chosen from each provincial riding, and the Liberals of Center Huron will meet at Sturtholme on Friday, Feb. 2, to name the four representatives from this riding. The convention at Toronto is to select a provincial leader to succeed Mr. Hartley Dewart, who resigned the post a few months ago. The city papers, with their usual generosity, have been offering the party certain men as leaders, but the city papers are not in touch with Liberal opinion throughout the Province, and in one or two instances at least their nominations have approached the ridiculous. Without venturing on prophecy, we should say that the ready in active political life, has at least a fair chance against them. They probably want a leader who, if not at least a reputation as a working Liberal, and furthermore, one who is not under Toronto influence. This does not mean exactly that he must not be a resident of Toronto. Although Mr. Dewart is a Toronto man, there was no feeling against him on this account, for it was well known that he was not in line with the peculiar political interests represented by the Globe and the Star. There seems to be a feeling that the coming session of the Legislature will be the last before a Provincial general election, and the Liberals with a new leader will endeavour to improve their position in the Province.

[Winnipeg Free Press.] TO a provincial convention for the reorganization of the Liberal party of Ontario there have been invited all the Liberal candidates at the last Dominion election. Plainly the purpose is to make the provincial Liberal party a mere wing of the Dominion party. There is a growing opinion that too close connection between provincial and Dominion parties is not in the interests of the provinces and should be discouraged.

HOW TO KEEP WELL
Sore Throat
BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

IMPLE sore throats are simple only to careful people. For the careless they are often tragic. Sore throat may be the first danger signal of any of a number of "serious" diseases, from tuberculosis to cancer. It may be due to tonsillitis, laryngitis, or it may be merely what is known as a smoker's sore throat of a clergyman's sore throat.

Often times, it is the first symptom of infantile paralysis. Its most common cause is tonsillar or laryngeal affection. When there is an epidemic of scarlet fever, there is often an epidemic of sore throat. There is chronic sore throat in cases of tuberculosis, cancer and ulcerated conditions.

Thus we see that we cannot afford to be careless with a sore throat. The first thing to do is to see a physician. You may have diphtheria or scarlet fever in the first stages. If diphtheria is caught in this early stage there is absolutely no danger, for an antitoxin can be administered which will keep the disease from spreading.

READ YOUR CHARACTER
[By Digby Phillips.]
NO. 106—THE MENTO-VITALS.
Reading character is like most everything else. Theoretically, you can draw hard and fast lines. Practically, you'll find that not everybody fits entirely within the given classifications.

You have, for instance, the three types of character, mental, physical and vital. A great many people will fall entirely within one or the other of these classifications. But many also will partake of some of the characteristics of each of two of these types. You know that the vital type, for increasing the nourishing power of what you eat MASTIN'S VITAMON helps supply just what your body needs to feed the shrunken tissues, strengthen internal organs, clear the skin and renew shattered nerve force without upsetting the stomach, or causing gas, flatulency, bolts and skin eruptions seem to vanish as if by magic under its healthful, purifying influence. But it is not only a question of how much better you look and feel, or what your friends say and think—the scales and tape measure will tell their own story. A two weeks' test will surprise you.

Fresh Fruits Come From Afar To Satisfy Epicurean Taste

Where do you come from, strawberries dear? Tangerines, figs and pears that are queer? Mushrooms, persimmons, artichokes, too! Grapes of Malaga, new cabbage to stew?

Peppers both sweet and costly, I ween, Lettuce in head, alluringly green; Pineapples, cucumbers, fruits out of season? Much living is dear, but there's a good reason.

Aunt Maria, who goes to the week-end market, gazed into the inviting window of the fruit shop, and as she gazed, her wonder grew that this shop harbored more varieties of fruits than she had ever imagined would be assembled in London in mid-winter.

Where did they come from, those ruddy red strawberries, the one-quart box and the two-pint boxes that centered the picture?

How much?

Just $1.25 for the big box on the bargain Monday morning, and 65 cents for each of the small boxes. Where did they come from? Oh, merely from Florida.

Tomatoes? Seventy cents a pound this week. Last week they were only 50, but they have gone up again. Where were they grown? Travelling companions of the luscious strawberries.

Fresh figs, perhaps, lady?

A little matter of a few thousand miles, they have come from California and the Sunny Pacific, the kind of figs that were eaten in Palestine when the wise men journeyed to Bethlehem, following the star. But it's hard to get fresh figs in good condition in London, so says the vendor.

That Persimmon Tree.

What was that about "shaking the persimmon tree"? It wasn't out in any Western Ontario orchard, but away down in California that somebody with an eye to business up in the frozen north stripped off the delicious persimmons and packed them snugly to ship to London.

What is the queer-looking thing with thorny bulges as the tips? Why, it looks just like cactus.

Just what it is, cactus, but useful as well as decorative, and the bulges are nothing more or less than the far-famed prickly pear.

They, too, have made a mid-winter California-to-London excursion on commercial business bent.

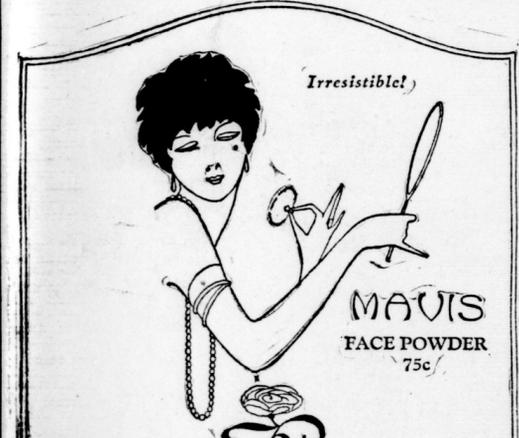

Tangerines, lady? The small boy thought they were "little oranges." Tangerines from California cost 40

Gowns Elaborate

BY MARIAN HALE.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—House gowns, in the hands of modern designers, are taking on something of the elaborateness of afternoon or evening gowns.

They venture to fur trimmings, to intricate decollete effects, and to bandings of gold and silver braid. They usually represent a lavish use of material. Unlike street gowns, they are exceedingly full and exceedingly draped.

This Paris house gown is of orange crepe over silver cloth and trimmed with black fox fur. It is unusual in its shoulder treatment, robbing the right side of quite all of the material, and giving the left side an over-draping.

What Women Are Accomplishing in London.

MAKE MRS. PACK LIFE MEMBER.

At the regular meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Grove Methodist Church Mrs. George Pack, sen., was presented with a life membership by the auxiliary. Following the business part of the meeting an excellent program was given, consisting of readings and music. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. George Pack, and a delightful supper was served by the hostesses.

A discussion on "What the World Owes to Missions," led by Rev. F. W. K. Harris, director of religious education, was an interesting feature of the Sunday social hour in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church for the Young People's Society at the close of the evening service. The devotional exercises were taken by Miss Buchner and Miss M. O'Dell.

DRAMA CLUB FORMED.

The first meeting of the Dramatic Club of the Catholic Women's League under the direction of Miss Topley Thomas, was held Monday evening in St. Peter's Hall. The first work to be undertaken by the club will be the presentation of three one-act plays.

ASK LADY ROBERTS TO BE HONOR GUEST

According to Mrs. Gordon Wright, president of the Dominion W. C. T. U., it is possible the annual meeting of the national organization may be postponed this year until October. An invitation to be present has been sent to Lady Cecelia Roberts, eldest daughter of the late Countess of Carlisle, the former world president of the W. C. T. U. If she is unable to come in June it has been suggested that the meeting be postponed until October, shortly before the world convention in the United States in November.

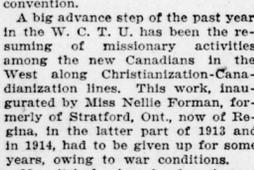

Lady Cecelia Roberts showed so much kindness to the Canadian delegates when they attended the last world convention in London, England, and is such a charming personality, apart from her relationship to the late world president, that, according to Mrs. Wright, it is believed she would be a very strong attraction to draw delegates from all parts of the Dominion to the Canadian convention.

A big advance step of the past year in the W. C. T. U. has been the resuming of missionary activities among the new Canadians in the West along Christianization-Canada-dianization lines. This work, inaugurated by Miss Nellie Forman, formerly of Stratford, Ont., now of Regina, in the latter part of 1913 and in 1914, had to be given up for some years, owing to war conditions.

Now it is forging ahead again, and splendid reports are heard from British Columbia, Mrs. Wright states.

The merging of the old Dominion organ "The Bulletin," with the Ontario provincial organ "White Ribbon Tidings," and making the latter the national official organ, under the editorship of Mrs. McAllister, has been another outstanding event of the year.

The next Dominion convention has been invited to Toronto, where the large addition to Willard Hall, the headquarters, will be completed in time for the event. Willard Hall, further, is said to be the largest W. C. T. U. headquarters in the world and the Toronto union the largest union in the world.

Russian Red-Tops Arrive in London.

JUST as The Advertiser predicted last week, the shiny red-topped Russian boots have arrived in London to oust the flip-floppy galosh, and the brogue with the heavy hose.

The "red-topped Russians" were spied for the first time in peaceful London streets late in the afternoon, and they created a near-riot in at least one street. Everybody wanted to get a window to look out of at them as they tripped blithely along, two pairs and no less, side by side. Just as "wherever Mary went, the lamb was sure to go," so, wherever those top boots turned, eyes followed them, and faces broke into broad smiles.

The boots were chic, and the boots were saucy, because the twinkling feet of the wearers can comfortably don something much less than a "perfect seven." And so, the heroic pioneers have broken in the fashion, and whole fleets and processions of red-topped Russian boots will doubtless dazzle the eyes of Dundas and Silver Street.

They usually represent a lavish use of material. Unlike street gowns, they are exceedingly full and exceedingly draped.

This Paris house gown is of orange crepe over silver cloth and trimmed with black fox fur. It is unusual in its shoulder treatment, robbing the right side of quite all of the material, and giving the left side an over-draping.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Henry, 77 Thornton avenue, spent the week-end with Rev. Dean Hanlon, Stratford.

The skating parties being given Tuesday and Friday evenings by the R. C. R. officers are proving very popular.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Givens and daughter Dorothy of Regina, are guests with Mr. Givens' mother, Mrs. Warren Givens, 75 Stanley street.

Miss Thelma Lauckner, 102 Wellington street, was the hostess of a delightful party Friday evening, when she entertained fourteen of her friends.

Mrs. L. D. Moore, Central avenue, and Mrs. J. S. Rankin, Erie avenue, were joint hostesses of a supper party given at the former's home, following a skating party Friday evening.

A number of friends gave Mrs. W. H. Oram, 554 English street, a happy birthday surprise party Sunday evening. Euchre was enjoyed, and after the distribution of prizes, a dainty supper was served by the hostess, assisted by guests.

Mrs. Gerald Pearson entertained at a bridge of four tables Monday afternoon at her home on William street, in honor of Mrs. W. J. Robinson's guest, Mrs. Kirtland of Toronto. At the tea hour Mrs. Robinson presided at a table fragrant with spring flowers.

Jean Anderson Thirde, formerly of Toronto, now of New York, known as "America's queen of Scottish song," accompanied by Mrs. W. H. Ellis of St. Thomas, mother of Piper Donald Ellis, paid a flying visit to this city on Saturday and spent a few hours with "Mack," the Scottish bard.

Child Welfare To Extend Work

Now Serves One-Fifth of London's Children of Pre-School Age.

It has been computed that London has 5,500 babies and children under school age. Of this number one-fifth have been reached with the service of the London Child Welfare Association during the past year, according to the report presented at the quarterly meeting on Monday afternoon, by the superintendent of Child Welfare nurses, Miss Bertha Smith.

To such an extent has the service grown, and coupled with this, the demand for the work, that the opening of new clinics in the east and south ends in the immediate future is an imperative need. Another clinic will be opened at an early date in the Hamilton road district, and if it is possible to finance a clinic in the Tecumseh Avenue School.

It was decided on Monday to temporarily withdraw for this year the annual baby week which has been held since the inauguration of the work through the first Child Welfare exhibit in February, 1917.

The annual report of Miss Smith for the year 1921, from January to January, states that 4,920 visits were made to children, including 139 visits made by assistants taking the public health course in the university.

Fifty-one sick children's clinics were held, with an attendance of 448, and 140 well baby clinics, with an attendance of 2,755, giving an average for the year at each clinic of 20, ranging from 3 to 45 at a clinic.

During the three days of baby week 4,430 attended, giving a grand total for attendance at the clinics of 2,655.

Forty-eight pre-natal clinics were held, with an attendance of 130, these representing 31 separate cases.

The well-baby clinics carried over on their rolls 233 children. There were added 352 babies, giving a total of 645 attending for the year. Of these 325 were dismissed. On the present roll there are 320 in good standing.

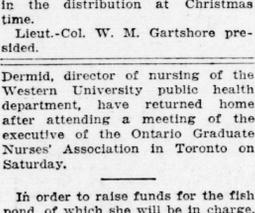

The number of families carried forward from 1920 was 429, with 498 new families added. In all 927 families were visited. Four hundred and twenty-four were dismissed, leaving 503 on the present visiting list.

Much appreciation was expressed by Miss Smith of assistance given in the distribution at Christmas time.

Lieut.-Col. W. M. Gartshore presided.

Dermid, director of nursing of the Western University public health department, have returned home after attending a meeting of the executive of the Ontario Graduate Nurses' Association in Toronto on Saturday.

LYOLA SENDS WORDS.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am enclosing the words of "Curfew Must Not Ring Tonight" for "Looking In," as noticed she was asking for them.

I would like very much to get the words of "The Tumble Down Shack," also "There is Someone More Lonesome Than You."

Hoping I am not asking too much, will close, wishing you a happy and successful 1922.

LYOLA.

I have placed your envelope on file, and as soon as the songs are sent in I shall forward them to you.

HAD TO GET OUT AND WORK.

Dear Miss Grey,—I would just love to see you all, but maybe you would not want me. I wrote to you when I was 14, but never saw my letter in print. It was about seven years ago when I first wrote to you. Miss Grey, I am a girl of 19, and I have no mother or father. I have two sisters. My mother died when I was 7, and my father when I was 8, so I had to get out and work for myself. I think all girls should do what their mothers tell them, as they don't appreciate their mothers until they are gone. I would like to correspond with someone in Dutton. Best luck to the Boxites.

You have been a member of the Mail-Box for a long time, haven't you, Kent? We will be pleased to hear from you as often as you care to write, and I sincerely hope you receive some interesting correspondents from Dutton. Did you live there at one time? What a busy, self-reliant girl you have been, and a brave, sensible one, too, I am sure.

How Ironized Yeast Fills Out Figure

And Puts New "Pep" and Energy in Thin, Nervous Rundown Folks

If you are thin and feel tired out all the time—or if you are nervous and your skin is marred with pimples or other humiliating blemishes—you need only to try taking two IRONIZED YEAST tablets with each meal for a few days to learn how quickly this splendid food- tonic builds new solid flesh, beautifies the complexion, and enables you to store up a seemingly inexhaustible supply of new "pep," energy and nerve force.

Hundreds of thousands of people all over the country are now taking IRONIZED YEAST tablets, and the results reported in many cases are actually astonishing. For thin folks to gain five pounds or more on the very first package is not unusual. Complexions blotched with pimples, etc., are very often entirely cleared up within 10 to 14 days. As for increasing "pep" and energy, apparent "miracles" are reported by folks who were formerly run-down, weak, and lacking in physical and mental vigor.

Here Is The Secret!

Nature intended that you should have a well-developed figure, with the clear skin, sparkling eyes, strong nerves and rugged strength that goes with it. If you are now thin and run-down it is because certain of Nature's laws have been disobeyed.

Nature requires that we get a proper amount of vitamins and iron into our systems. But these two essential elements, due to improper selection of foods and to modern methods of food preparation, are lacking in the modern diet. That is why so many of us are thin and run-down.

Results In Half The Usual Time

The thing to do, therefore, is to supply this lack. This you can do by taking with each meal two tiny IRONIZED YEAST tablets which contain in highly concentrated form, a specially cultured yeast grown under the strictest supervision for medicinal purposes—a yeast unequalled for its richness in the essential Water Soluble B-vitamins. In addition it contains the correct amount of the two other vitamins—Soluble Fat A and Water Soluble C—which are equally important to health, yet which are lacking in the average modern diet.

These three vitamins bring excellent results even if taken alone—but when taken with a proper amount of easily assimilated organic iron, as in IRONIZED YEAST, these results are secured often in just half the usual time!

Watch The Quick Improvement

You will certainly be amazed at the quick improvement IRONIZED YEAST shows in you. Note how it immediately increases your appetite—how it enables you to get real joy out of every morsel of food you eat. See how quickly it drives away pimples, blackheads, etc.—how rapidly your skin takes on a new freshness and charm. See how your energy increases—how this newly acquired "pep" makes hard work play a pleasure instead of a task. Try IRONIZED YEAST today! Pleasant to take—will not cause gas or in any way upset the stomach. Each IRONIZED YEAST tablet wrapped air-tight in a moisture proof in waxed sanitary when made, thus assuring 100% purity and strength. Special directions for children in each package. Go to your druggist or mail coupon today—NOW!

Money Back Guarantee

IRONIZED YEAST is sold at all drug stores on a positive guarantee that the first package will bring satisfactory results—or your money instantly refunded.

WARNING!

Not all yeast will give the desired results. There are certain types of yeast which have absolutely no medicinal value. By insisting on the genuine IRONIZED YEAST, and refusing cheaper imitations or substitutes you can be sure that you are taking a vitamin tonic treatment which is unsurpassed in effectiveness, convenience and genuine health-building value.

GUNSLINGER PASS

by WILLIAM MACLEOD RAINE

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

DAVE SANDERS, youthful range rider with the D Bar Lazy R outfit, is fooled into matching the speed of his pet pony, Chiquito, against that of a racehorse owned by AD MILLER, a gambler. Miller and his confederate, GEORGE DOBLE, the latter a half-brother of EUG GOLBE, the ranch foreman, race heavily from the cowboys when Chiquito is beaten. After the race, George Doble picks a bet with Dave. Dave's pal Dave interposes and is attacked by Miller. DOBLE separates them.

GO ON WITH THE STORY.

"What's eatin' you, Sanders?" he demanded curtly.

"He ripped me with his spurs," Miller said sullenly. "That's how come I had to turn him loose."

Dave looked down at the man's legs. His trousers were torn to shreds. Blood trickled down the lacerated calves where the spurs had roweled the flesh cruelly. No wonder Miller had suddenly lost interest in the fight.

The two gamblers packed their racehorses, saddled, and rode away without a word to any of the range riders.

CHAPTER IV.

THE next morning Dave roped his mount and rode out to meet Chiquito. The Pinto was an aristocrat in his way. He preferred to choose his company, was a little disdainful of the company that had no accomplishments. Usually he grazed a short distance from the remuda, together with one of Bob Hart's string.

Dave's whistle brought no nicker of joy, no thud of hoofs galloping out of the darkness to him. No answer came to his calls. At a canter he cut across the plain to Bob Hart.

"Found 'em," shouted Dave, when he was close enough to be heard.

"No, and we won't—no this side of Malapi. Those scoundrels didn't make camp last night. They kept travelin'." If you ask me, they're movin' yet, and they've got our broncs with 'em."

"This has already occurred to Dave as a possibility. "Any proof?" he asked quietly.

"A-plenty. Three-four times we cut trail of five horses. Two of the five are bein' ridden. My Four-Bits boss has got a broken front hoof. So has one of the five."

"Movin' fast, are they?"

"You're sure whistlin'. They're hivin' off for parts unknown. Malapi first off, looks like. They got friends there."

"Steelman and his outfit will protect them while they hunt cover and make a getaway."

"That's probably lyn'. You can't tell. Point is, we've got to get busy. My notion is we'd better make a beeline for Malapi right away," proposed Dave.

"We'll travel all night. No use wastin' any more time."

"Within an hour they were on the trail."

In the late afternoon they rode back to the trail through a draw, the jockeys wading tread deep in yellow, red, blue and purple flowers. The mountains across the valley looked in the dry heat as though made of paper-mache.

CHAPTER V.

THE two D Bar Lazy R punchers ate supper at Delmonico's. The restaurant was owned by Wong Chung. A Cantonese Celestial did the cooking, and another waited on table. The price of the meal was 25 cents.

Movie Titles Indicate Return To Old Sentiment

BY JAMES W. DEAN.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Dissatisfaction with many pictures is caused by their insincerity. Highbrow titles are employed as sugar-coating for doubtful episodes. Films are filled with villainy of every manner, yet end illogically with tin wings sprouting where horns had grown, if you'll excuse that mixed physiological metaphor.

Despite the growing tendency for big productions of historical significance, there is a reactionary tendency to return to the sentiment that was "extra" when "Bedelia," "Harvest Moon" and "In the Good Old Summertime" in song typified the national spirit of romance.

This sentiment is indicated in the titles of new movies—"Where Is My Wandering Boy Tonight?" "The Days of Buffalo Bill," "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" "On the Banks of the Wabash" and "An Aching Heart."

I have not seen any of those films as yet. Some of them that have been exhibited are proving boxoffice successes. The titles at least profess to be boxoffice titles. There is virtue in their frankness.

And if films bearing those titles prove popular it will be safe to wager that jazz music will soon be as dead as the vampire movie.

Atmosphere is one of the most essential elements in the success of a photoplay. Parlor action is incongruous in a kitchen. A hound-crier is not at home in a drawing-room. Von Stroheim spent several hundred thousand dollars for atmosphere of "Foolish Wives." A very small percentage of those who will see the film have ever been to Monte Carlo. I have never been to Monte Carlo. When I saw "Foolish Wives" I was accompanied by a man who had lived there seven months during the post-war period in which the film action took place. He said that every detail was as it had been when he was there. He couldn't pick a single flaw. Yet the director could have taken his company to Monte Carlo and filmed the scenes for less than it cost to build their replica.

Charlie Chaplin found a hound pup on the street one day. He fed him and then made him earn his keep by acting in "The Kid." The pup grew and grew and though Charlie thought it was a hound, it looks more like a bull. At any rate, the dog grew right up into a full-sized dog's part in "Penrod," which was recently completed with Wesley Barry as the star. And, by the way, Wesley is growing so fast he will soon have to have a man's-size role.

I have received notice that Henry B. Walthall, "the Mansfield of the screen," heads the cast of "One Clear Call." At the same time I am told that Guy Bates Post, "successor to the late Richard Mansfield," has started a film version of "The Masquerader."

The press agents of these two most capable actors should come to some agreement as to which shall be known as the second Mansfield. And there the matter will rest—with the press agent. Neither of them is a "second Mansfield," just as there has never been a "second Booth," nor a "second Caesar," nor a "second Shakespeare."

With the screen fast assuming a position of equal rank with other arts it would be more laudable for the screen player to work toward establishing himself or herself as a criterion of merit for coming generations.

This dog was the pup of Chaplin's "The Kid." Now look at him. He's the hound in "Penrod," starring Wesley Barry.

Spare Time Jobs for Father—

WHEN you keep your ice-chest in the back hallway during the winter months, it necessitates your going out there in the cold many times a day. Not very pleasant!

A simple way to avoid this is to build a box that fits just outside one of the kitchen windows. Arrange it so you can open the window and put in, or take out, food and drink that must be kept in the cold.

POLLY AND PAUL—AND PARIS

CHAPTER IX.—SOMETHING HAPPENS

By Zoe Beckley

LYING wakeful in her swaying bunk, listening to Paul's deep, regular breathing and the steady swish-swish of water rushing beneath the open porthole. Polly listened to Miss Rand's strange words:

"—equipped to court my husband—yes, to court and hold him.—French women are wise.—a wife must fascinate, must constantly court her husband or some other woman will.—some other woman will."

To Polly Newland marriage seemed the foundation of life and happiness. She had never thought of it as a "hard job" or something that called for a special brand of skill and management. Of course if you married the wrong man, like Charlie Briggs, or poor Alan Conger—

But Paul Dawson! With Paul for a husband, how could marriage be anything but happiness and success? He loved her—ah, how well she knew it! She loved him. Of that she had been certain since the day she first saw him. They belonged to each other by choice and by law—forever. What could be so difficult about it?

The more Polly thought of Miss Rand's philosophy and her desertion of her fiancé to enjoy this very—well, questionable career in Paris, the more beamworthy Violet Rand seemed, and the more virtuous seemed Polly Dawson.

The weather roughened during the night. The great ship lurged and rolled, making it hard to rest and sending loose properties sliding about the floor. Polly slept little and awoke feeling vaguely ill and depressed. Then, glancing across the narrow room at the long mound of bedclothes that was Paul, she smiled adoringly. All the Violet Rands in the world couldn't shake her possessive confidence that as Paul's wife she would be safe and happy forever.

Polly let the stewardess bring her some breakfast and with much difficulty persuaded Paul to go on deck without her. Then, when he had gone she began to wonder what he was doing and whether he would come back soon.

She tried to read, tossed about, felt lonely, and before an hour had passed scrambled desolately out of bed and dressed. The ship was pitching unpleasantly. Few people were on deck and she quickly—too quickly—distinguished Paul and Miss Rand in their chairs chatting.

For the first time in her life, Polly felt the shock of jealousy. Her immediate impulse was to run back to her cabin and cry—alone, in an ecstasy of misery. Her second was to go forward, push Miss Rand out of her chair, box her ears and carry Paul triumphantly away.

Her compromise was to go smilingly up to them with a cheery remark about the uncheery weather. Miss Rand was unresponsive. Paul was warmly welcoming, solicitous, for his little wife's comfort, swift and gallant in his attentions of rug-tugging, book-getting and what not. "My darling," he murmured, brushing her ear with his lips as he fastened her scarf.

Warmth and a sense of security returned to Polly's heart. Mingled with a little triumph, it shone from her eyes as she settled back happily, watching Paul off for a walk and a smoke.

Miss Rand was disinclined to talk. Probably she had had a bad night too and was nerve-jangled. Polly was in a mood to be charitable. She leaned her head back comfortably, listening to the rhythmic chug-chug of the engines.

Suddenly Miss Rand sat up with wide eyes, gripping her chair-arms. "Something's the matter—don't you hear? The engines are stopping! The ship's slowing down—look, look!"

"Surely it's nothing—don't be frightened."

"You little goose! Don't you know a mail ship doesn't stop in mid-ocean for nothing?" She started from her chair.

Stung by Miss Rand's sharpness and seeing that the ship had come almost to a dead stop, while passengers gathered questioning at the rail, Polly was unable to move.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS.

"THE SMALL VOICE"

[By Olive Roberts Barton.]

Buskins was sitting on it and smiling.

ONE day Nick ate a green apple and it made him sick. So after that he and Nancy were not allowed to go near their favorite apple-tree. That was very hard to bear, and more of a punishment than their mother knew, for without the magical elevator they couldn't see their fairy friend Buskins, nor could they make any more visits to the strange country of Up-in-the-Air.

The blossoms in the orchard had disappeared, so the-Twins could no longer play that it was a fairy bower. It was more fun down in the meadow under their beloved chestnut-tree, the place where all their adventures began. The first daisies were out, the weather being very warm, and Nancy started to pick a bouquet for the dinner table. Nick wasn't helping much, thinking it more fun to poke for bugs and beetles in the grass.

Suddenly a voice called out, "Hello, there!"

"Hello!" answered the Twins together, looking around in a puzzled way, wondering who had spoken.

But no one was to be seen. The voice was very small and far away. Indeed it seemed to come from the ground. Could it be Flop Field Mouse or Abigail Ant or one of the forest or meadow folk?

"Where are you?" called Nick.

"We can't see anybody."

"Look hard," came the answer, "and see if you can't find me. I'm not as big as I was. I suppose I've shrunk in the wash." The children could hear someone laugh at his own little joke.

"Oh, there he is," whispered Nancy. "It's Buskins," and she pointed to an old dandelion gone to seed. Buskins was sitting on it smoking his pipe and smiling.

"Would you like to go to Thistle-down Land?" he asked when he found he had been discovered.

Average walking pace of a healthy woman is said to be 75 steps a minute.

Lions and tigers in captivity require one day a week without food to keep them in good health.

Suspected of many crimes, he had been proved guilty of none.

A soft, low whistle stayed Dave's feet. From behind a bush Bob rose and beckoned.

"The 'dobe house over to the right," said Bob. "I been up and tried to look in, but they got curtains drawn."

They made a wide circuit and approached the house from the rear. Dave crept forward and tried the door. It was locked. The window was latched and the blind lowered.

"How about the roof?" asked Hart. Dave's eyes lit.

"What for the matter with taking a whirl at it?" his partner continued. "You're top-hand with a rope."

"Suits me fine."

The rope snaked forward and up, settling gracefully over the chimney. Dave slipped off his high-heeled boots and went up hand over hand. In another minute he was huddled between the chimney waiting for his companion.

As soon as Hart joined him, he pulled up the rope, and wound it around the chimney.

Dave moved down the roof to the nearest dormer.

It was a casement window, and at the touch of his hand it gave way. The heart of the cowpuncher beat fast with excitement. In the shadowy darkness of that room death might be lurking, its hand already outstretched toward him. He peered in, acustoming his eyes to the blackness. A pricking of the skin ran over him. For he knew that, though he could not yet make out the objects inside the room, his face must be like a framed portrait to anybody there.

Dave eased himself over the sill, and waited for a moment while he listened, the revolver in his hand. It seemed to him that he could hear a faint murmur of voices, but he was not sure. He moved across the bare plank floor, slid through the door, and again stopped to take stock of his surroundings.

In the Stove League

Funny things happen in baseball. It is always safest to take nothing for granted.
In a series at Boston last year between the Red Sox and Athletics, I saw two unusual happenings that changed the entire complexion of the game in which they occurred.

Both were entirely unexpected. One of them, a freak home run, won the game for the Athletics. Another drive that ordinarily would be good for nothing home run and turned out to be nothing more than a single, saved a game for the Red Sox.

At the Boston park the score board occupies a big section of the left field fence near the foul line. The figures used on the board are perhaps a few inches square. Since all the American League games, as well as the Boston National League games, are reported, there are probably 100 spaces on the board.

It is customary for the boy who is operating the board to remove one of the figures in the section allotted for extra innings, so he can view the game through the opening thus created.

Just before Moore came to bat in the eighth or ninth inning, the boy, getting interested, shifted his viewpoint from the lower section of the board to a spot near the top.

Moore obliged by hitting the ball through the opening for a home run. Had it simply struck the score board it would have bounded back on the field, and Moore would have been held to a single.

That hit of Moore's won the ball game. It was a fluke home run if there ever was one.
A drive over the left field fence at the Boston park is worthy of a home run. The fence is about three or four times as high as the ordinary barrier, and it is not possible to get over the field. In deep left center there is a big clock used for advertising purposes that extends high above the fence, perhaps six feet.

Welsh, playing center field for the Athletics, is a great "kicker." He had been kicking a number of the ball players throughout the game, and they had been returning the compliment. He kicked the ball into the left field, and drive to left center. It was labeled a home run from the very start.

Welsh was positive it would clear the fence. He jogged down to first base, where he said pleasant things to the players on the Boston bench. When he reached the base he stopped and passed the time of day. Then the unexpected happened.

The ball struck the top of the clock, bounded high in the air and came down into playing territory. Had Welsh run, he would have had a terrific home run, probably three bases. Instead, he only reached first.

Connie Mack spoiled a new suit on that hit. He slid from one end of the bench to the other.
Many of the things that happen in baseball are impossible of explanation.

One of the difficult things to explain is the ease with which some pitchers defeat certain teams, yet against certain aggregations they are unsuccessful.

This fact was forcibly brought to my attention last spring. Ed Rommel of the Athletics was the pitcher to play the leading role. I regard Ed Rommel as a mighty fine pitcher. He has the stuff and pitches intelligently.

No club in the American League boasted of more hitting strength than the New York Americans last season. A pitcher able to stop the Yanks was usually forced to turn in a high grade of pitching.

During the first month of the American League race, Rommel scored three wins over the Yanks. He looked like very real pitching in every game. The Yanks were going at top speed in the spring, making it a tough job for any pitcher to stop him.

Now for the funny part of it. In the first month Rommel made a number of starts against the other clubs in the eastern wheel of the American League circuit. Boston, Washington and Philadelphia all lack the punch of the Yanks.

During the first month of play Rommel was unable to win a single game other than the three scored over the Yanks. Worse yet, he failed to get by the first inning in any other club he faced. It was a case of the hook and the showers for Ed almost before the audience and finished his duties of letting the fans in on the batteries for the day.

"Red" Faber was the pitching sensation of the American League last year. In the spring he was the victim of a very real pitcher named Ed. He was twice shut out the Cleveland team, the world champions of 1921. In between the two shutouts, in which he allowed only two hits, Detroit knocked him out of the box in the first inning. The first five men to face him hit safely.

Acosta, the Cuban pitcher, who has been traded to Washington, is a right-hander. He was much used as a relief pitcher last year. Acosta, with his slow curve and change of pace, usually met with much success in the role of reliever.

Against the Cleveland club Acosta was a wonder. He always made trouble for the Indians. When pitching against Chicago, not nearly so strong a club, Acosta couldn't get the side out.

In a game at Washington last year, Cleveland got to Jim Shaw for seven runs in the first inning. Acosta was sent in as relief pitcher. He held Cleveland scoreless the rest of the game, stopping the Indians cold in the midst of a stupefied Washington won the game 3 to 7.

It is impossible to offer a solution for such things. They just happen.

ALERTS WANT TO SHOW FANS TONIGHT

Clash With Pan-Dried Youngsters Will Be Fastest Yet.

Alert Juniors will tackle Tillsburg Pan-Drieds tonight out at the Lyle street rink, and the local fans are due to see something new in the way of junior hockey dished up by these two outfits.
Pan-Drieds find that tonight's game is a very important affair with them, if the group title is to come their way, and Alert has given away all the games they intend to this season. The locals want this game to prove to the fans that the dope can't go wrong all the time.

Helps Morale.
The fact that they were beaten by Drumbo, who the locals won on Drumbo ice, helps the morale of the Alert Juniors considerably in their first clash with the Pan-Dried youths. They should therefore go on the ice ready to play at top form and at top speed.

WOODSTOCK BET ALERTS.
Although the local juniors are riding at the top of their O. H. A. group, they have not as yet clinched the championship. Tonight at the local rink here, and on Friday they play at Ingersoll. A double win will give the locals the district title, and the boys will tip the district with Tillsburg if the latter win in London tomorrow night.

DO THEY EVER COME BACK?
The Mills Suzanne Lenglen says it is possible in tennis, and she intends to prove it.
Mlle. Lenglen will be remembered as the tennis champion who came to this country and "glorified."

The coming of the French star to the states was the most widely heralded tennis event in years.
Advance notices made American tennis enthusiasts believe that in Mlle. Lenglen they were to see the Babe Ruth of tennis.

Then came the match with the American champion, Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, and the big explosion.
If she makes good her intention, it will wipe out a lot of unkind things that have been printed about her quitting cold to Mrs. Mallory.

It is just possible that Mlle. Lenglen was rather harshly handled because of the manner in which she defaulted to Mrs. Mallory. Her announced intention of coming back to this country for another meeting with Mrs. Mallory is, therefore, of interest.

EXETER AND GALT CAPTURE GROUPS

Both Teams Go Through Without Defeat On Records.

GALT, Jan. 30.—In the final game of the group here tonight the local intermediates defeated Ayr 4 to 1, thus making a clean-sweep of the group. The match was played on rickety ice, which made passing and shooting difficult, and, with the group title clinched, the locals took it easy, and the score does not indicate the play. Alex Watts opened the count for Galt on a rush in the first period. At the opening of the second period E. Hiller for Ayr, by following up a shot, batted the puck by Wilkinson. Then the locals came back, and in quick succession ran in two goals. N. Himes and Waty George were the scorers.

EXETER AGAIN.
CLINTON, Jan. 30.—Before a record crowd of about 300 spectators a second game was played here in the arena tonight. The combination team of Exeter and Zurich, which was quite a bit in the old days, were the victors over the home team, 9 to 2. Clarence Hoffman from Zurich played a star game. The Clinton goalkeepers starred. The line-ups:

JUDGE SEVERE ON LAX JAIL METHODS HERE

Tells Grand Jury Province Has Nothing To Be Proud Of In This Regard.

In addressing the grand jury at the opening of the winter assizes at the courthouse Monday afternoon, Chief Justice R. M. Meredith first mentioned the fact that there were no criminal cases to come before the court, a state of affairs which he hoped would continue, and then went on to speak of the safety of Ontario jails.

"This is most important," stated his lordship, "when you recall to your minds that a murderer escaped from the jail in Toronto, one from Woodstock, and that more than one man escaped from the jail at Guelph, and it is said caused the death of the jailer in making their escape."

The judge then referred to the flight of the Murrells from the county jail.

"Not Only Case." "This is not the only case of escape from your jail," he declared. "It may be that some of you will remember that not so many years ago a one-legged man killed a policeman in your city, and although a stranger and alone went through this province unmolested. A soldier was shot at the barracks, and the culprit shouldered his rifle and escaped."

Mention was made of the Murrell affair at Melbourne, his lordship stating that it must be exceedingly galling to the civilians of that village who captured the Murrells and Williams, that afterwards the Murrells had escaped.

Such things are distinctly discreditable to the advance of justice in this province," declared the chief justice, "and you will be quite within your right of doing or saying something that will prevent these things recurring."

"It is difficult for me to attribute these escapes to anything but inefficiency. It is not needful to revert to history when a man lost his own life if he let a prisoner go. It may be that you may consider that if a sheriff, jailer and all concerned were made to understand that such an occurrence would mean loss of office, there might be fewer, if any, escapes."

The proposed changes. His lordship then referred to the proposed drastic changes whereby a sheriff should take over the duties of jailer. He brought the matter to the attention of the grand jury in order that they might make comment on it before the government at Toronto passed it as law. They could investigate or not as they saw fit and might be sure that any recommendation made would carry weight.

Counsel in four jury and four non-jury cases had their actions transferred to the spring assizes, the reasons being in practically every case due to sickness.

"Looks to be an epidemic of sickness," said the judge, addressing J. J. McKillop, K.C., the last counsel to ask for a postponement.

"Yes, my lord, but my client is really ill," was the reply.

Cases Carried Forward. Actions that were carried forward or were pending settlement were Rendelhart vs. the Carling Brewing and Maltng Company; Hill vs. the city of London; Fox vs. Patrick; Schilze vs. Woollett; Cole vs. the Gore District Fire Insurance Company; Burrows vs. G. T. R.; Buckle vs. Ward, and Price vs. McCrimmon.

The case of Gooderham vs. Walker was transferred to the non-jury list.

FARMERS NEED CITIZENS' AID

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 30.—(By Canadian Press.)—Every citizen in Canada should devote attention to making farming profitable for the farmer, and if the produce men did anything to eliminate much of the overhead charges and the consequent loss between producer and consumer, they would have justification for their existence. Alderman F. O. Fowler, acting mayor, declared in addressing the opening session of the Canadian Produce Association here today.

The acting mayor, declaring the railways had recognized their mistake in increasing freight rates, predicted a voluntary decrease in the freight rates in the near future.

The eastern men must come to recognize that the three prairie provinces shortly would be among the best producing communities of Canada. A. P. McLean, Winnipeg, told the assembled delegates during his presidential address. Mr. McLean declared there were 50,000 farms that had no mules, cows, 200,000 without hogs and 200,000 that had no hens.

GUELPH RESIDENT DISCOVERED DEAD

John Kelly, Victim of Stroke, Found Dead in Bed Monday.

[Special to London Advertiser.] GUELPH, Jan. 30.—John Kelly, 55 years of age, who resided over the office of Dr. Willoughby on Carden street, was discovered dead in his bed shortly after 9 o'clock Monday morning, a stroke with which he had been taken some time during the night is given as the cause of his death. He was in his usual health all day and retired at the usual hour. His wife was out in the country on a visit to her daughter, and had not returned. There was just himself and three children in the house.

Mr. Kelly came to Guelph from Georgetown about four years ago and was highly esteemed by all who knew him. He was born near London, but lived in the vicinity of Action and Georgetown for a great many years. He is survived by his wife and four children, two sons, John and Frank, aged 17 and 19 years, Annie at home and Mrs. George Kloepfer of Waterloo County, residing near Little Germany.

Major Doughty Buried. With full military honors, befitting his rank, and with hundreds of citizens paying final tribute, the body of the late Major James D. Doughty was interred in the Guelph Cemetery this afternoon.

The funeral was one of the largest ever held in this city, and the auditorium of Dublin Street Methodist Church, where the public service was held, was totally inadequate to contain the crowds of people who were anxious to honor the dead soldier.

Service at the church and grave was conducted by the Rev. D. A. Walker, pastor of Dublin Street Church.

SHACKLETON'S BODY LIES IN ROUGH COFFIN

Soldiers Guard Remains of Late Explorer in Land He Loved.

END WAS SUDDEN

Passed Away Three Minutes After Calling For Medical Aid.

MONTEVIDEO, Jan. 30.—The body of Sir Ernest Shackleton, the British explorer, lies in a hospital here in a rough wooden coffin that was made for him by Norwegian whalers of the Island of South Georgia, where he died on Jan. 5. A squad of Uruguayan soldiers acts as guard of honor, and until the body has been sent to England, probably Feb. 11, the guard will be maintained by the Uruguayan government, which plans also to render other honors.

In this handwork of simple-living Antarctic islanders—a strong box of unplanned deal wood, lined with corrugated zinc—the famous explorer will be buried in England.

What He Would Like.

"I am sure that is what he would wish—in keeping with his own simplicity, and because these whalers of the south seas, whom he loved, made it for him," said Captain L. Hussey, meteorologist of the steamship Quest, and close friend of the explorer, who arrived with the body here last Sunday on the Norwegian steamer Professor Cruval.

As described by Captain Hussey to the Associated Press correspond-

Workless Force Mailed Mayor To Call Special Council Meeting

[Special to London Advertiser.]

KITCHENER, Jan. 30.—Mayor Greb crept into the city hall here on crutches this morning, the result of his recent accidental fall on a slippery sidewalk, only to be met by a crowd of 50 unemployed who demanded that the mayor give them work immediately to relieve their distress. Mayor Greb tried to reason with the men, who crowded him into a corner, but the delegation insisted that they would put up with no more promises. One of the crowd yelled: "We'll get relief, if we have to turn Bolsheviki." Others in the crowd, who had been working for the city, and who had money coming to them, demanded their pay, declaring that they did not have money enough to buy a dinner for their families. Owing to the pay sheets not being passed by the council, the treasurer was not able to make out their checks. This caused genuine anger, and hot refusals on the part of the men to accept charity from the city. One man threatened to stay in the city hall until he got what money was coming to him. The mayor finally mollified the crowd by promising to call immediately a meeting of the city council to handle the situation.

ent today, Sir Ernest's death was sudden. It occurred at 3:30 o'clock in the morning in his cabin the day after the arrival from Rio Janeiro at the principal whaling station of South Georgia, a place called Gryvickan, a town of 200 inhabitants. All the way from Rio Janeiro the explorer had suffered neuralgic pains in his chest and body, but he insisted that the attack was unimportant. He fought off all suggestions of returning for treatment, confident that the pains would disappear.

The Quest reached Gryvickan on the afternoon of January 4, and Sir Ernest immediately went ashore and arranged for provisions and coal.

Planned to Proceed.

The explorer planned to proceed direct to the ice barrier in a day or two for the first exploration trip in search of Enderby Land. He returned to the ship at 9 o'clock that evening in the best of spirits. He retired early, apparently in perfect health.

Shortly before 3:30 o'clock the next morning Dr. Alexander Macklin, the principal medical officer of the expedition, was summoned by Sir Ernest. The physician found him suffering severe neuralgic pains again in the back and chest.

Death Was Sudden.

"Give me something to stop this, and in a few minutes I'll be all right again," he said. At this moment, another medical officer, Dr. James McIlroy, entered the cabin. Before the two doctors could take any measures to relieve his pain he had died, three minutes after he had called for assistance.

"How long he had struggled that night against these pains we do not know," said Captain Hussey today; "but he died as he wanted to die—suddenly and without any lingering illness."

PASTOR REFUSES $400 INCREASE

ST. THOMAS, Jan. 30.—Although the board of his church unanimously voted to grant him an increase in salary of $400 a year, Rev. L. C. Hammond, the Disciples Church, this city, has refused to accept the offer. He thanked the members of his congregation Sunday for their confidence and consideration, but declared that he did not think he would be justified in accepting an increase at the present time.

Evangelistic services will be held in the Disciples Church beginning Sunday next. The church board has again selected James Fowler as chairman, and W. J. Steward as vice-chairman.

GRAHAM BACK ON OLD RAILWAY JOB

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 30.—(By Canadian Press.)—During the absence from Ottawa of Hon. W. C. Kennedy, Hon. G. P. Graham, minister of militia and defence, is acting minister of railways. Added interest is attached to Mr. Graham's appointment in that he was minister of railways in the government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

QUICK JUSTICE IN ST. THOMAS COURT

ST. THOMAS, Jan. 30.—Within just ten minutes after his arrest, John Edward Wall of this city was sentenced to not less than three months and not more than two years in the Ontario Reformatory on the charge of keeping a disorderly house. The charge arose out of a trial involving Mr. and Mrs. Fred Swick, also of this city, who were charged with the neglect of their three children. The complaint was laid against the couple on Saturday, Sunday afternoon Swick was arrested, and a few hours later Mrs. Swick was arrested in the company of her daughter and Mr. Wall in a room on West Talbot street.

Wall pleaded guilty to keeping a disorderly house, but claimed he had done no wrong. He argued when the magistrate said "Three months to two years." Mr. and Mrs. Swick were remanded until Tuesday.

LOWER ESTIMATES TO FURTHER TAX RATE OUT

ST. THOMAS, Jan. 30.—To aid in the reduction of the tax rate this year the board of education of this city will reduce their estimates from $156,000 to $144,000, it was decided at a special meeting of that body Monday night. The difference, however, will be made up by a debenture issue of $10,000, which the board will ask from the city council.

The $10,000 which was originally included in the general estimates was needed to cover many improvements made this year, including the installation of lights and in many instances new seats.

It was discovered that money for this purpose should be raised by debentures, rather than by the general tax.

BUCHANAN DEATH ENDS ACTION FOR ALIMONY

TORONTO, Jan. 30.—"Defendant dead: action struck from the list," was the finding of Mr. Justice Latchford this morning at the assizes when the alimony action of Buchanan vs. Buchanan was taken up. This was one of the skeletons in the family closet of James Buchanan, the defendant, who committed suicide by gas poisoning Tuesday last, and whose son, Anderson, died after taking a "beauty powder" sent in the mails to Mrs. Buchanan, the plaintiff in the alimony action.

ELECT BOARD CHAIRMAN.

[Special to London Advertiser.]

INGERSOLL, Jan. 30.—The inaugural meeting of the board of education was held tonight, at which George F. Janes was elected chairman for the year. Principally organizational matters were dealt with. J. J. McLeod was appointed delegate to the meeting of the Trustees' Association, at Toronto.

CHARGE WOMAN ALLOWED STILL TO GO TOO SOON

Kitchener Officer Threatened With Kettle of Boiling Water by Ruthenian.

ASSISTANT SAVES HIM

Revenue Inspector Makes Five-Gallon Haul in Another Home.

[Special to London Advertiser.]

KITCHENER, Jan. 30.—Revenue Inspector Feich of this city had a narrow escape from being scalded today, when with the assistance of other officers he called at the home of a Ruthenian woman on Guelph street for the purpose of searching for a still alleged to be on the premises. The woman, whose husband is at present serving a prison term for a breach of the act, met the inspector at the door with a kettle of boiling water, and was about to dash it into his face when an assistant officer's prompt action saved the inspector. The other man wrenched the kettle from the woman's hands before she was able to throw it.

Finds Five Gallons.

After an investigation of the district the inspector found five gallons of home brew in another house. The Ruthenian woman will be charged with doing away with a still, which should have been kept on the property for 90 days, according to the act.

The Kitchener-Preston road should be a modern paved highway within 18 months time if the plans of the highway department are carried out on schedule, according to a statement of Engineer Irwin, of the department, who was in the city today in connection with the work.

Will Pave Stretch.

It is intended to pave the stretch between here and Freeport this year, and to continue the grading between Freeport and Preston.

Trying to fight his way into an apartment in the Alexander House in Waterloo early this morning, a drunk got into more trouble than he bargained for. The janitor and some of the tenants got into a melee as the result of the invasion, which resulted in all coming before Magistrate Weir in the police court in Waterloo this morning. The case was adjourned until Tuesday, when the complaints will be heard. The drunk paid $20 for his part of the fracas.

KENNEDY MUM ON FLAVELLE INTENT

MONTREAL, Jan. 30.—Hon. W. C. Kennedy, minister of railways, is taking his initiation today in the railway situation as it concerns the Grand Trunk system.

With Sir Joseph Flavelle, chairman of the Grand Trunk board, and Major Graham Bell, deputy minister of railways, Mr. Kennedy has, in his own words, "started to get acquainted" with Grand Trunk officials and department heads.

He spent the morning with Howard Kelly, president of the Grand Trunk, and in Sir Joseph's office at Grand Trunk headquarters, meeting various officials. Coincidentally with the arrival of the minister and Sir Joseph, the rumor spread that Sir Joseph's retirement as chairman of the board would follow closely upon the conclusion of Mr. Kennedy's visit. Sir Joseph was, report had it, virtually turning over his stewardship formally. To this and all other matters concerned with staff changes or government policy Mr. Kennedy was silent.

SURVIVORS OF WRECKED CREW ARRIVE IN PORT

ST. JOHN, N. B., Jan. 30.—A grim tale of the sea was told today, when 23 surviving members of the crew of 33 of the Norwegian steamship Mod, which foundered in mid-ocean on Jan. 22, arrived in port this morning on the steamer Melmore Head, which rescued the survivors from the water where they had been pitched from the deck of their vessel. Chief Engineer Peter Iversen told of the eventful voyage, the loss of the new liner, and the lives of the captain, officers and men. He said the mishap was the result of the freight shifting when they encountered rough weather, and despite their frantic efforts, they could not cope with the situation.

Teacher Says She Found Them Good

Miss Thereault Praises Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Popular New Brunswick Lady Furnishes Some of the Reasons Why Dodd's Kidney Pills Are Suffering Women's Best Friend.

Upper Pokenouche, N.B., Jan. 30.—(Special)—"I can conscientiously recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all persons afflicted with any form of kidney trouble."

So says Miss Alice Thereault, the popular school teacher here. And Miss Thereault adds that she knows out of her own experience that Dodd's Kidney Pills are good. "I have experienced great benefit from this medicine since I have been troubled with kidney trouble. I always got good results from using them."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are known from one end of Canada to the other as suffering women's best friend. They are purely and simply a kidney remedy. They strengthen the kidneys to do their full work of straining all the impurities out of the blood. Sound kidneys mean good health.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not make sound kidneys.—Adv.

PRINCE'S INDIAN TRIUMPH GROWS AS TOUR LASTS

Hyderabad On Holiday To Welcome Heir and See Him Often As Possible.

WINS WHOLE CITY Again Prince Charming Overcomes All Obstacles in Way To Subjects' Loyalty.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—Reuter's correspondent with His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, cables from Hyderabad, India, today that the prince departed from there on the very crest of a wave of popularity which swept irresistibly over the place.

Ever since the arrival of his royal highness the great city has had a continuous holiday, one of the palpable aims of the masses being to see the prince as many times as possible.

Prince Edward, known throughout the world as the most democratic member of any reigning royal family, has done much to maintain the well-merited prestige of the British royal house.

His popularity in the British Isles is so great that statesmen have said he could run for any elective office and win over any candidate by a big majority.

The prince is as well liked in distant British possessions—Australia and New Zealand—as he is in the Dominion of Canada.

The prince was born June 23, 1894, while his great-grandmother, Queen Victoria, still sat on the British throne. He was christened Albert Edward Christian George Andrew Patrick David.

Shortly after his birth his grandfather, Edward VII, succeeded to the throne, leaving the prince's father as heir to the crown.

While Edward still was a boy his grandfather died, and his father, George V., mounted the throne.

At 13 Prince Edward passed an examination for the British Navy, later continuing to qualify for a naval career at Osborne and Dartmouth.

Becomes Prince of Wales. At the close of his course, in 1911—when he was 17—Edward was formally invested with the title of Prince of Wales.

By request of the Welsh people the ceremony was held on Welsh soil for the first time since 1816.

Shortly after his investiture the prince entered the British Navy as a midshipman on H.M.S. Hindustan.

He left the navy in 1912 to enter Oxford University. There he was a simple freshman without privileges.

His university course was interrupted in its third year by the outbreak of the world war. The prince was commissioned a second lieutenant.

But his father and Lord Kitchener refused to allow him to accompany his regiment to France. They feared the consequences if the royal heir were captured by the enemy.

Proves Hero in France. But persistent pleas by the prince finally won the consent of the king and his minister. On Nov. 29, 1914, Wales was sent to France as special aide de camp to Sir John French.

As a captain on the general staff, Wales showed himself a leader of men. Disregarding the safeguards placed around him, he continually ran into danger.

Recognition of his valor came in the form of the French Croix de Guerre, personally bestowed by President Raymond Poincaré of France.

A year after the close of the war the prince made a trip to Canada, being received with great enthusiasm.

In November, 1920, he started on his present trip through British possessions in the Far East, despite the growing hostility to British rule reported there.

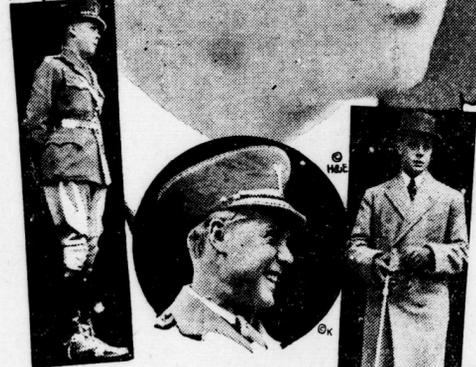

Rumors of romance between Wales and half a dozen European noblewomen have been frequent. But the prince persistently refused to marry.

Well-founded reports in England recently indicated that the prince's engagement to Lady Rachel Cavendish was to be announced upon the prince's return from his eastern tour.

Lady Rachel is a daughter of the Duke of Devonshire, former governor-general of Canada. Their connection is purely a love match, not dictated by diplomatic expediency.

Hundreds of anecdotes have been built around Prince Edward. Behind the lines in France, the prince picked up a tired private in his motor, it is told.

World's Most Democratic Prince!

PRINCE Edward of Wales, heir to the British throne—in British Army uniform and in civilian garb. It is rumored that upon his return from his present trip through India, the prince's engagement to Lady Rachel Cavendish, daughter of the Duke of Devonshire, will be announced.

Patronizes 'Two For One' Pastor And Escapes Fee For Marriage

[Special To London Advertiser.] HAMILTON, Jan. 30.—How two can live cheaper than one has been solved by some of Hamilton's unemployed.

A single man who sought relief from the city was turned down. He returned two days later with a wife. Relief Officer McMenamy reported another case of wedding bells. When he asked the man where he obtained the money with which to get married, the bridegroom explained: "A friend of mine was getting married, and the minister offered to do the two of us for the price of one," he said.

Still another unemployed man found himself a job by marrying a widow with eight children.

IMPORTED EGGS COME IN WITH NO INSPECTION

Canadian Produce Association Hears of Lack of Supervision. AMENDMENTS SUGGESTED

Looking Towards Protection of Home Market and Consumer.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 30.—(Canadian Press).—Attention was called by W. A. Brown, chief of the poultry division, department of agriculture, Ottawa, to the fact that foreign eggs had been arriving freely in Canada recently, without inspection or supervision of any kind, in addressing the convention of the Canadian Produce Association here this afternoon.

There had been general agitation for some legislation in this respect, he said.

Members of the produce association are now considering the following suggested amendments to import clauses:

1. Proof in some definite form that the quality of eggs imported into Canada for domestic consumption is such as would make them a desirable product.

2. That all cases of imported eggs be marked by the distributor with the name of the grade, in accordance with Canadian legal standards.

The Mixing of Products. Mr. Brown informally mentioned the mixing of foreign and Canadian products together as the fourth point.

The convention passed a resolution making 400 boxes the standard carload in the case of butter and cheese, and 450 boxes in the case of eggs, with 5 to 10 per cent "leeway" above or below this amount, according to the capacity of the car.

Professor Graham of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph; Professor John Brackin, Manitoba Agricultural College; C. E. McNeill, National Poultry, Butter and Egg Association of Chicago, and George H. Barr, chief of the dairy division, Ottawa, addressed the convention on various phases of the dairy industry. Papers were read by John Scott, provincial butter grader for Ontario; Arthur McKenzie, president of the Manitoba Produce Association, and J. A. McLean of the Canadian Packing Company, Toronto.

POLICE INQUIRY AT BRANTFORD LASTS ONE HOUR

Commissioners Adjourn For Week To Make Further Investigations in City.

INVITE PUBLIC CHARGES Mystery Girl Found in Radial Station Dies From Exposure.

[Special to London Advertiser.] BRANTFORD, Jan. 30.—The Royal Commission appointed to investigate the police force and the administration of justice in the city opened this morning with Walter Gregory presiding. The police inquiry started at 10:30 o'clock and lasted about an hour. It was then decided to adjourn until next Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock. It is stated that the adjournment was made to enable the officials to make further investigations in and around the city, inasmuch as Commissioner Gregory has issued a general invitation to all citizens who may wish to make written complaints and charges to the commission during the coming week.

Mayor Wedlake at the preliminary hearing of the commission this morning stated that he had tried to secure the court room in the county building for the purpose, but had not secured the approval of the county council. Commissioner Gregory stated this morning that he thought the council chambers would be suitable.

Others taking part in the inquiry are: William C. Coe, C. S. R., secretary; Frank Hughes, K.C., of Toronto, representing the police department; John Jennings, K.C., of Toronto, representing the city of Brantford; W. S. Brewster, K.C., Brantford, solicitor for Magistrate W. C. Livingston.

Mystery Girl Dies. Miss Mildred Horn of Port Rowan, who was brought to the Brantford General Hospital on Jan. 22, after being found in an unconscious condition near Waterloo, died in the institution Saturday afternoon. Miss Horn left her sister, Mrs. George Schumk, near Boston, Ont., to catch a radial car for Brantford, hoping to find work. She was taken ill at the radial station, and was brought in an ambulance to the same institution where she had hoped to find employment. Her death, not unexpected by the hospital physicians, was due partly to exposure. Had she not missed the 9:29 o'clock car, which she left home to catch, it is thought her life might have been saved.

Magistrate J. R. Blake of Galt presided over the short police court sitting this morning, adjourning for one week the one case on the docket, that of John Chacagan, charged with stealing two stoves from Sargos Agopian.

Woman Held In $4,000 Bail On Charge of Assisting in Operation. [Special to London Advertiser] CHATHAM, Jan. 30.—Mrs. McPhail, Zone Township, was committed for trial by Magistrate Arnold in the county police court this morning on the charge of assisting in an illegal operation on an 18-year-old Chatham girl. She was released on $4,000 bail. Courto Louis Romoe Trevan, 91, a Spaniard, held on a charge of performing the illegal operation, was the principal crown witness. He told the court that 52 years ago he had practiced medicine in Spain, and had performed similar operations at the request of well-to-do people, and even nobility. He admitted that he immigrated to Canada to get away from the practice.
